Steelworkers Call Off Strike Until March 23

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The CIO United Steelworkers Thursday called off a threatened nationwide steel strike for at least another 29 days.

Leaders of the million-member union cancelled a walkout deadline of Saturday midnight but fixed a new date of midnight, March 23. The extension is to give the wage stabilization board time to draw up its suggested recommendation for settling the dispute. Steelworkers Ask for WSB Terms

The USW's wage-policy committee unanimously adopted a resolution — on recommendation of the executive board — which said in part:

"We call upon the wage stabilization board promptly to make its recommendation for fair and equitable terms of settlement of this dispute and to enable the board to do this we extend the present postponement of our strike until midnight, March 23, 1952."

Both union and major steel companies had agreed to submit the contract controversy to the WSB after their negotiations deadlocked. U. S. mediators failed to break the impasse.

The union wants wage increases of 18 1/2 cents an hour, a guaranteed annual wage, union shop, improved premium pay and other benefits. The industry has proposed that the union forego its wage demands if steel companies give up hopes of getting price relief.

Need Price Advance
The companies contended that no wage increase can be granted without price advances to match.

The resolution adopted by the 170-man wage-policy committee protested "the delay in the settlement of this dispute resulting from the filibustering of the steel companies" and added:

"We hope that a strike may be averted but the patience of our members is running out."

The union's identical contract with all major producers expired Dec. 31. Following the expiration, the union postponed any strike action 45 days. That is the deadline which now has been extended.

Expect Decision Delay
During the new strike deadline extension, the WSB will be working out its idea of how to settle the dispute. No decision is expected for a week or 10 days.

The recommendation will not be binding on either side. It may carry the support of public opinion and in that way bring pressure on both sides for acceptance.

Atlantic Pact Chiefs Study Defense Moves

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The Atlantic pact ministers pondered Thursday the possibility of revamping European defense plans in the light of the shift of Soviet pressure to Asia.

Foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 14 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) met here behind closed doors to hear top-level reports on the Soviet Union and its latest world policies.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was reported to have told the NATO council there are good chances for a Korean armistice before spring. But, far from cheering the NATO partners, Acheson's statement was said to have stirred up fears that such an armistice will free the Communists to undertake new adventures elsewhere in Asia.

Reds Oppose Screening
They said "it was evident the Communist leaders were determined to block this procedure and to attempt by violence to disrupt orderly screening of the civilian internees."

About 1,500 of the civilian inmates, numbering about 3,000, did not join in the clash.

Names of the American casualties will be released later.

The UN command's main prisoner camp at Koje confines about 170,000 persons. Most are prisoners of war, but there also is a sizeable group of Korean civilian internees.

An AP correspondent there said the U. S. security guards were experienced soldiers with a combat-tested outfit and could not be considered "trigger-happy."

Censorship, which held up the story for four days, would not permit identification of the outfit.

Harper, Agar Chat Before Lecture

AUTHOR HERBERT AGAR (right) chats with Prof. Earl Harper, director of the Iowa Memorial Union, before Agar spoke Thursday night in the Union. Agar called the past Marshall plan aid an example of "helping our Western neighbors with one hand, while slapping them down with the other." A Pulitzer prize winner, Agar appeared here in the university lecture series.

Riot Flames in Korean Stockade; 1 Yank, 69 Civilian Internees Die

PUSAN, Korea (FRIDAY) (AP) — Communist-led Korean civilian prisoners attacked U. S. troops guarding a Koje island compound Monday. Seventy persons including one American soldier were killed and 165 injured before the riot was quelled in intense fighting, U. S. authorities said today.

About 1,500 civilian inmates — irate over private screening of internees to separate loyal South Koreans from Communists — attacked their guards with a vicious array of homemade weapons, according to army officials.

Fought With Steel Pickets
They fought with steel pickets, wooden clubs, barbed wire flails, black jacks, metal tent pole spikes, iron pipe, rocks and knives.

The authorities gave this breakdown of Koje island casualties: Dead — one American soldier and 69 Korean civilian prisoners.

Injured — 23 U. S. soldiers (all but one were minor injuries) and 142 Korean civilian internees.

No Korean or Chinese Red prisoners of war took part in the riot, the authorities said.

The Communist-planned and led riot followed entrance of the U. S. soldiers into the compound to keep order while United Nations personnel proceeded with individual questioning which allows civilian internees "complete privacy of expression," said the authorities.

Less than one-third of the 5,000 civilian prisoners in the compound rioted. The compound is one of many on the Koje island stockade — off South Korea — which holds 170,000 military and civilian prisoners and interned persons.

Rep. Martin To Tell About His Korean Visit
DES MONES (AP) — Congressman Thomas F. Martin, Iowa City, who recently visited the Korean battlefield, will discuss the Korean war at a meeting of the American Legion's Argonne Post here March 3.

The meeting is open to the public.

Tokyo Reds Mass In Demonstration Against U.S. Forces

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP) — Communists in Tokyo and other Japanese cities Thursday staged the biggest series of riots and anti-American demonstrations since the outset of the occupation.

Simultaneously the Peiping radio broadcast what it called a Japanese Communist party manifesto declaring the "traitorous Japanese government" "must be overthrown."

Before order was restored at nightfall, thousands of Japanese Communists and sympathizers had stormed through Tokyo's streets. They battled police with rocks, tear gas and fists.

At least 14 Japanese policemen had been injured. Approximately 11,300 policemen were mobilized; few arrests were made, however.

There were no reports of foreigners being molested.

The tone of the demonstrations were violently anti-American. They were carried out with the slogan of "Anti-Colonization-of-Japan" by the United States.

Truce Talks Stalled By Neutrality Issue

MUNSAN, Korea (FRIDAY) (AP) — Communist insistence on Russia as a "neutral" inspector lightened the Korean truce deadlock Thursday.

In the gloomy atmosphere of fresh stalemates, staff officers agreed to return to the conference tents of Panmunjom.

The United Nations staff officers for the first time Thursday told the Communists why Russia was unacceptable as one of six neutral nations which would provide teams for supervising an armistice.

It was Russia's "record of past participation" in Korea. While this was not elaborated, it was obviously a reference to Russia's arming of the North Koreans for the war and its supply of guns, tanks and planes which have been flowing since into the conflict.

Meanwhile, U. S. Sabre jets Thursday flushed 80 Communist MIG jets from the overcast over northwest Korea and shot down two, bringing their week's bag to 10.

SUI Announces Reduction In Boarding, Room Rates

2 Tugs Drag Broken Ship Towards Port

BOSTON (AP) — Two tugs dragging half a ship and 13 mariners toiled slowly portward Thursday night through wind and snow while in Boston an investigating board probed the disaster which ripped apart two steel tankers in Monday's gale and killed 14 men.

The captain of the tug M. Moran, with the stern of the Fort Mercer in tow, reported to his New York office late in the afternoon that he was 45 miles southeast of Gay Lead light on Martha's Vineyard.

With a 45-mile-an-hour north-easterly wind blowing and blinding snow falling, visibility was less than 1,000 feet. The sea was rough.

The captain indicated he might head into Jamestown, R.I. He said the tow was "following fine" on an even keel. The Mercer was using its propeller to help maintain headway.

The board heard a Puerto Rican seaman testify in broken English that when he tried to tell the captain of the Mercer that he had seen oil on the water and a ship's plate fall away he was rebuffed.

The witness was Julio Molina of San Juan, a crew member of the tanker Fort Mercer.

Five of the Mercer's men perished and nine men of the tanker Pendleton were lost, or presumed lost, when the two ships broke admiships in the same northeast-ern off Cape Cod.

Fifty-seven crewmen of the two ships were saved—largely through coast guard heroism. Of these, 13 doughty men stuck to the still-floating stern of the Mercer which rolled and tossed Thursday in choppy seas at the end of tow-lines hauling the hulk at 6 or 7 miles an hour toward a haven in Rhode Island or Connecticut.

14 Draftees to Report Monday for Induction

Fourteen men will go to Des Moines Feb. 25 for induction into the armed forces.

This group represents Johnson county's February draft quota.

Thursday morning 36 SUI students went to Des Moines for their pre-induction physical examinations. All 36 were transfers from other draft boards.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick It Was a Rush Job

Senate Unit Reveals Air Base Builders Getting Huge Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators discovered Thursday that mechanics have been drawing wages at a rate of $17,000 a year on a highly secret air base project near the North Pole, while laborers have been earning $13,000.

Questions by Downey Rice, counsel for a senate watchdog committee, also brought out that the workers collected more than $3 million in pay before even reaching the job.

Rice said the workmen drew most of this while en route north in aircraft or aboard a ship which spent 42 days working its way through ice 6 to 7 feet thick.

The North Pole project is so secret that only guarded references were made to it at a public hearing conducted by a subcommittee probing charges of waste in manpower and money on a chain of overseas bases being constructed for the air force.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of army engineers, testified the work known by the code name of "Blue Jay," was "something new, nobody had done anything like it before."

He indicated the project was a rush job and "hazardous beyond anything ever encountered in construction," but gave no other details.

Carefully screened workers were guaranteed a 70 hour week, Pick said, with everything over 40 hours at time and a half.

Rice told the senators that "Blue Jay" and another air force construction project in North Africa called "Atlas" already involved expenditures of about $100 million. Pick was called to report on his recent tour of overseas bases, including those in French Morocco.

MacArthur Does Not Give Ike His Support

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Thursday night that he does not support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's "candidate for political office" because he doesn't know how he stands on many issues.

However, he said in a statement, he has "a warm personal friendship for Gen. Eisenhower which springs from long military association."

Lewis Says UMW Will Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis served notice on congress Thursday that "We'll think of something to do" if federal mine safety laws are not strengthened.

The heavy-eyebrowed chief of the United Mine Workers gave no hint as to what the "something" might be. But some immediately thought of a work stoppage in the coal fields. Under its contract, the UMW may call "memorial" periods, during which members do not work, as a tribute to men killed in mine disasters.

Near the windup of his testimony before a house labor subcommittee, in which he applied again for stricter federal safety laws and called the mining industry "a mortician's paradise," Lewis said:

"If congress doesn't give us this, I don't know what we'll do." Then,

To Become Effective With Summer Session

A reduction in boarding and room rates in SUI dormitories—effective with the summer session—was announced Thursday by President Virgil M. Hancher.

At the same time, it was announced that boarding dormitories will increase the number of meals served from 15 to 20 a week.

The cut in dormitory rates will reduce the cost of a double room with board by $35, and a double room without board by $10 for the next academic year—Sept., 1952, to June, 1953.

This will mean that the double room rate in both the men's and women's boarding dormitories will be $595 for the next academic year, and that the double room rate in the non-boarding dormitory for men will be $185 and $200 for women.

Following is the breakdown of the new per student rates for the next academic year:

Men Students
Quadrangle (non-boarding) . . . $185
Double room . . . 240
Single room . . . 185
South Quad (non-boarding) . . . 185
Multiple room . . . 185
Hillcrest (boarding) . . . 600
Single room . . . 395
Double room, multiple . . . 600
Double room, bath . . . 600

Women Students
Carrier hall (boarding) . . . $305
Double room . . . 600
Single room, suites . . . 600
Eastman (non-boarding) . . . 300
Double room . . . 375
Standard Service . . . 375
Carrier hall . . . 545
Double room . . . 610
Single room . . . 610

*Meals will be served 15 days (20 meals) a week, when classes are in session, in boarding dormitories.

The lengthened board week, providing five more meals a week, will serve all but Sunday evening supper. During the current year, boarding has been on a five-day week basis.

Leaders Lower Rates
President Hancher said the rate reduction and the increased boarding week is possible only because the lenders who have loaned funds for the building of the self-liquidating dormitory system have agreed to lower the rate at which loans must be repaid.

The agreement with the lender will not become effective until the next fiscal year, he said.

Boarding dormitory rates have already been reduced by $10 a semester for the current year. This was announced in January.

This rate reduction, applying only to boarding dormitory residents, was made possible chiefly by a slowing down in the upward spiral of food prices and the fact that the installation of the 40-hour work week in the dormitory dining services had been accomplished with less expense than expected.

New Service Added
In addition to the reduced rates and increased boarding week, President Hancher also announced the offering of a new "standard dormitory service" in the women's boarding dormitory at a rate of $545 for the academic year.

Standard dormitory service, as contrasted with the regular "complete service" in SUI dormitories, provides a room with basic furniture but does not provide linens, spreads, drapes, laundry service, maid cleaning service, nor individual room telephone service. All these are provided in "complete dormitory service."

A fourth type of service available at SUI is the cooperative dormitory facilities in which women students share the work of co-op dormitory and pay a rate of approximately $375 per academic year for room and board.

Following is the breakdown of the new dormitory rates per student for this summer's session:

Men Students
Quadrangle . . . $ 44
Double room . . . 56
Single room . . . 44
South Quad . . . 44
Multiple room . . . 44
Hillcrest (boarding) . . . 144
Double room . . . 158
Single room . . . 158
Double used as single . . . 175

Women Students
Carrier hall (boarding) . . . $144
Double room . . . 158
Single room . . . 158
Double with bath . . . 175
Double used as single . . . 175
Cooperatives . . . 180

POSTAL SERVICES HALTED
The Iowa City post office will be closed today for Washington's birthday, and only special delivery service will be in operation.

Johnson county and city hall offices will also close today.

Truman Given Masonic Life Membership

(AP Wirephoto)

"I LIKE IT," the President said about his job during a chatty talk to a group of fellow Masons at a hotel breakfast. He was in a happy mood as Frank Land (center) Kansas City Masonic leader and DeMolay founder and William Jacobs (right) Almas Temple potentate presented Truman a life membership in the Washington Almas Shrine Temple Chanters. Such gatherings, the President remarked, gives him rare opportunity "to be myself." Truman didn't elaborate on why he likes his White House job, nor how long he would like to keep post.

editorial Applause for SUI's Music Department

Prof. Phillip Greeley Clapp, head of SUI's music department, won more praise for himself and his department recently when the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra played his Symphony No. 8.

Prof. Clapp was encored several times after the orchestra played his composition and New York newspaper reviews were as enthusiastic as the audience.

Dimitri Mitropoulos, conductor of the famous orchestra, recommended SUI's school of music to James Dixon, now an SUI senior, as an excellent training center for persons interested in conducting.

The famous conductor, returning to Iowa

City occasionally to give special guidance to Dixon, has spoken highly of the training offered to music students and has even participated in two SUI orchestral concerts the past two years. Many of the department's alumni and instructors have been successful in the music world outside college. Some have become very successful teachers and others have developed into well-known professional musicians.

Prof. Clapp's recent conquest in New York adds one more laurel to another SUI college which is already famous for its fine training of prospective musicians.

New York's applause for Prof. Clapp's symphony can well be interpreted as applause for SUI's music department.

Illiterate Scot Was Washington's Match

Wouldn't Sell Land Wanted As Capitol Site

By CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON—George Washington in his day was a man that few people cared to stand up to, but "the obstinate Mr. Burnes" was not one of them.

The story of the feud between the Father of His Country and the irascible, illiterate Scotsman comes to light again as the nation celebrates the 220th anniversary of Washington's birth today.

The year is 1791 and congress has finally agreed to locate the capitol of the new nation on the banks of the Potomac river, but before work can begin agreements must be reached for the land with the private owners.

David Burnes, a farmer, owned a considerable portion of the land on which the capitol is now situated. His holdings comprised the heart of today's city of Washington and his property line ran through what is now the White House.

Also—Burnes did not care to sell his land. He did not want to have "a capitol at his front door." This, despite the fact that competition in those days was keen between the landowners over the location of the capitol, then designated as the Federal City.

Those who owned property near the mouth of the eastern branch of the Potomac river wanted the capitol there, while equally strong claims were put forward by the owners of property on the river below and adjacent to Georgetown, then a thriving community.

Burnes' land was right in the center of the lower river site. Washington instructed two representatives to approach the independent farmer, but "so conduct themselves as to excite no suspicion that they are acting on behalf of the public."

Washington's agents subsequently notified him they planned to offer Burnes $32 to $48 an acre, a good price in those days. Washington told them to bid as high as $65 if necessary.

President Devised Trick
They did, but Burnes sat tight, figuring he had a good thing. So the President decided to use a ruse in an effort to frighten Burnes into selling.

He instructed L'Enfant, the French engineer and architect who had been entrusted with the task of preparing the design for the new capitol, to limit his work to the eastern branch area.

The idea was to give the impression that the capitol would be located on Burnes' land. The ruse failed—Burnes continued to sit tight.

Finally, on March 29, 1791, Washington called a showdown meeting of landowners in Suter's tavern and told them that a compromise must be reached. He predicted after the meeting in a letter to Thomas Jefferson that "even the obstinate Mr. Burnes" would agree to the terms offered by the new government.

Burnes Finally Agreed
He was right. Burnes was the second of the landowners to sign the agreement. It provided that the landowners would donate to the government land for streets, parks, etc., but would be paid $125 an acre for land sold for public buildings.

The remaining property was to be divided equally between the owners and the government and sold to the public.

After the agreement was signed, Burnes still proved a thorn in the side of the new government. The sale of the public lands was slow and the Scotsman continued to press the government for payment.

With Certain Conditions
In an effort to mollify Burnes, the government advised him that they would keep Pennsylvania avenue closed from the President's house to the Capitol "while your crops are on the ground."

They also agreed that when they laid out the streets of the new city, his home would NOT be disturbed.

According to legend, Burnes stood up to Washington on more than one occasion. He is said to have once crustily told the President that he owed his eminent position in the country to his marriage to the wealthy widow Mary Custis.

The "Obstinate Mr. Burnes" died at the age of 60 on May 1, 1799. He did not live to see the Federal City rise on his land. His frame house survived him for almost 100 years.

When it was torn down in May, 1894, a newspaper noted the passing of the old structure with this eulogy of Burnes:

"His Scotch nature bowed to none. He lived a czar on his great tract, allowing not even the foremost man in the country to oppose him."

Interpreting the News —

Allies Should Emphasize War Preparedness

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., Associated Press News Analyst

The North Atlantic Treaty organization opened its Lisbon meeting with emphasis on its defensive nature.

With critical times ahead, during which Russia might strike out either in a "preventive" war or to try to drive through her objectives before it is finally too late, the obvious diplomatic desire is to impress her that she has no war to fear except one that she creates herself.

That has, of course, always been the case. But sometimes I wonder if the Allies don't stress it too much, with too much emphasis on their own unreadiness for war now.

In one way it is necessary to show the need for the defense programs now being conducted.

But it wouldn't do to make it a habit. Russia might believe it.

In my book, the Western reaction to Korea was a far more potent deterrent of general war than all the statements that we are arming for defense of the peace.

The realistic Kremlin might be more impressed if Acheson had emphasized what is the truth—that the West is ready enough to fight now if necessary, and that it certainly will do so if pushed.

The truth of the matter is that, properly organized, the West has the men, guns, butter and guts to take this only semi-modern enemy at any time. Russia doesn't have, and won't have for 10 years, half the capacity of the United States to make the wheels upon which a modern war must be fought.

She's lucky if she has one fifth of American steel production, not to mention that of Europe. She'd be lucky to start a war with one tenth of the number of American atom bombs or the ability to produce them.

Instead of assuring Russia that, if she decides to make war she can have the initiative, the Allies might make more progress toward her surrender in the cold war by giving her a little clearer blueprint of the awful things they intend to do to her if she turns it hot.

It is designed to describe a few light and heavy sides of prison life by an inmate — No. 7615 — who will soon be seeking newspaper work on the outside.)

JACKSON, Mich. — When he came to prison, he wasn't a twisted character—just a little bent.

"Outside," he sported a drape shape and lambrquin hair cut. His "Who's Who" was the Racing Form—and they say he was worth his weight in dollar signs.

Gus had little formal education before he was delivered here COD. However, he didn't need any. With his iron jaw and brass knuckles he simply beat his way into the ranks of marketeering shlyocks who demand their pound of flesh at black market prices.

ABC's at 27
To gain entry to this resort, I hear, he ventilated another character in a one-sided game of Russian roulette. However, it's hard to believe now. How the guy's changed! . . . And it all began with a prison haircut. And his ABC's, at 27!

Scientist Says Peacetime Causes Suicides

VIENNA (AP) — Dr. Victor Frankl, noted Austrian scientist and Vienna university professor, maintains suicides decline in hard times. The professor believes that human will power toughens under pressure or strain.

In a recent lecture Dr. Frankl maintained that the ages of the migration of nations, of the religious wars, of witch-burning and the big plagues were no less free from anxiety than the era of the atomic bomb.

"In Sweden and Switzerland, both holding the longest peace record in Europe, the suicide rates have been for many years the highest on the entire European continent," the professor said.

ALASKAN ICEBOXES

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The super-salesman who sells iceboxes is not just a myth. H. A. Faroe, proprietor of the Northern Supply company, recently sold six 11-cubic-foot food freezers here where temperatures drop to 60 degrees below zero.

Miss Englert Honored at Quadrangle Bridge Finalists Compete

Elizabeth Englert was honored at a surprise party Wednesday night by the Quadrangle dormitory council in commemoration of her sixth anniversary as manager of the dormitory.

President of Quadrangle Bob Newman, C4, West New York, N. J., said the party was held "as an expression of our appreciation of her unlimited cooperation to the council and her interest in the men as individuals."

Colleen Alexander, A2, Burlington, selected Quadrangle queen last fall, and Mabel Walther, dining service manager of the dormitory, assisted the council by serving cake and coffee.

T. M. Rehder, director of the SUI dormitory and dining service, said "We want to join with the Quadrangle in expressing their appreciation of Miss Englert's sixth successful year at the Quadrangle."

Following her graduation from SUI in home economics in 1930, Miss Englert taught in Cedar Falls. She was employed in 1945 at Younkers tea room in Des Moines before coming to the Quadrangle in 1946.

Sowers Says Trend To Economy Shown On New York Stage

"There is a trend for economy of production in New York plays that will affect the type of plays that will be produced on Broadway next year," said Prof. W. Leigh Sowers of the English department in an Information First lecture Thursday.

He said that this economy probably will be evident by the number of husband-wife teams in plays which require less elaborate stage settings than "circus" productions.

Sowers said serious drama, musicals, and comedies enjoyed the best season in New York last year.

"Pawn all the family silverware to get a $6.00 seat to see Lawrence Olivier and Vivien Leigh in 'Antony and Cleopatra,' he said, "because the emotion of the spectacular production seems to be carried by the number of feet you are from the stage."

He observed that one of the trends in the New York theatre was reviving old plays. He mentioned the revival of "Pal Joey" as a "delightful musical with superb dancing."

Albrizio to Lecture At Women's Club

Prof. Humbert Albrizio of the art department will give a demonstration and lecture on sculpture to the fine arts department of the Iowa City Women's club Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the club room of the Community building.

Mrs. M. M. Crayne will read the poem "They Kept the Faith," as a tribute to brotherhood. Mrs. D. G. Oshner and Mrs. Glen Swails are hostesses. Mrs. Gordon Nielsen is general chairman of the meeting.

TWO OF THE FOUR TEAMS competing for regional honors in the international intercollegiate bridge tournament Wednesday night are Adam Gniadzowski, C4, Warsaw, Poland; Virgil Hancher Jr., A3, Iowa City; Edith Summa, A3, George and Robert Goodwin, C4, Beaver Damm, Wis. The other two teams competing at another table in the Iowa Union included Lloyd Grant, D3, Indianola, and Floyd Starr, A3, Ft. Madison; Wilmer Robinson, C4, and Jerry Padzensky, C3, Cedar Rapids. The two highest pairs in eight regions will play in the finals in Chicago in April.

Loras College Dean To Preach at Retreat

The Rev. Edward P. Sullivan, dean of men at Loras college, Dubuque, will preach the annual retreat at St. Thomas More chapel beginning Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

There will be two conferences everyday, one at 6:45 a.m. and the other at 7:30 p.m. The retreat will close on the evening of Wed., Feb. 27.

While the retreat is being conducted primarily for Catholic students it is open to anyone who cares to attend. Father Sullivan will also be available for private conferences during the days of the retreat.

Father Sullivan has done graduate work in art at SUI and obtained his M.F.A. in August of 1931. For the past 3 1/2 years he has been retreat master at the Trappist abbey of New Melleray, Peosta. In this capacity he has preached retreats for laymen almost every weekend.

During the war he served as chaplain with the 32nd infantry division and spent 42 months in the South Pacific area. He was discharged with the rank of major.

Rev. Edward P. Sullivan

MOVIE AT UNION SUNDAY

The Union board will show free movies Sunday at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of the Union. "David Copperfield" and selected short subjects will be shown.

Worthley to Preach At Unitarian Service

The Rev. Evans Worthley, minister emeritus of the First Unitarian society of Iowa City, will preach Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. church service on "Point of No Return."

Immediately following the church service there will be an informal coffee hour to which the Rev. Mr. Worthley's friends are invited. He was the Unitarian minister at Iowa City for 20 years.

The Unitarian Fireside club will discuss "Is Marriage Really Necessary?" at 8:30 p.m. Sunday. Prof. Harold Eastman of the department of sociology will speak. Supper will be served at 5:30.

8 Students to Join In Panel Discussion With Canham Monday

Eight SUI students will join Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, in a discussion of "What Is the Responsibility of the Press Toward Making Democracy Work?" at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Shambaugh lecture room of the SUI library.

Students in the discussion will be: Thomas Olson, A4, Red Oak, economics department; John Christiansen, A4, Davenport, sociology department; Marvin Summers, G, Iowa City, political science department.

James MacNair, G, Newton, Daily Iowan editor; Hobart Duncan, A4, Mason City, editorial journalism; Jacquelyn Malloy, A4, Marshalltown, radio journalism.

John Crustinberry, G, Brookings, S.D., advertising journalism, and George Everett, G, Sand Springs, Okla., magazine journalism.

Charles Barnum, instructor in the school of journalism, will serve as discussion moderator. Lenard Strasburg, A4, Iowa City, is general chairman for the meeting.

Following the discussion a coffee hour will be held in the library lounge. A committee from the University Women's association will serve. Committee members are: Joan Fuller, A3, Centerville, chairman; Sarah O'Brien, A2, La Grange, Ill.; Jo Evans, A2, Moline, Ill.; Barbara Clark, A2, Dubuque; Jo Ellen Lane, A3, Boone, and Marjorie Hahn, A1, Cedar Rapids.

Preceding the discussion there will be a vocational meeting with Canham for journalism students only in the Shambaugh lecture room.

SUI Graduate Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Prather of Rockford, Ill., have announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Patricia Ann, to Mr. Robert D. Rinnan of Gilman.

Mr. Rinnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rinnan of Gilman, received his bachelor of science degree in commerce from SUI. He was affiliated with Delta Sigma Pi and Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce fraternity. He is working on his master's degree at Denver university.

His fiancée is a graduate of Northern Illinois State Teachers college, DeKalb, Ill., and was affiliated with Sigma Sigma Sigma.

University Club to Have Tea, Exhibit Hobbies

Crafts and hobbies of the members of the University club will be on exhibition at their meeting which will be held Tuesday from 3 to 5 p.m. in their club rooms in the Iowa Union.

Mrs. Dorothy Scheldrup will play the piano during the tea of which Mrs. Edward Mason is general chairman.

Committee members for the hobby day meeting are: Mrs. George Hittler, Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, Mrs. John M. Russ, and Miss Lula Smith. Mrs. Ralph Shriner and Mrs. J. Howard Croly will pour.

Blosser Elected Theta Xi President

Bob Blosser, C3, Des Moines, was elected president of Theta Xi, fraternal fraternity, at a recent election.

Darling Misses Practice But Should Be Ready

Cold Worse, Won't Drill Before Game

By JACK JORDAN
Sports Editor

Iowa's chances for a win at Illinois took a turn for the worse Thursday along with Chuck Darling's cold.

The cold, which has hampered Chuck on and off for three weeks, had apparently disappeared Tuesday, but came back with a rush Thursday and Darling was withheld from practice. It was announced that a doctor will accompany the team on its trip.

"We think Charlie will be able to play all right, but I thought the rest would do him more good than the practice today," Coach Bucky O'Connor explained Thursday night. He doubted that Chuck will practice at all before Saturday's game.

Tires Him Easily

He added that Darling's cold is aggravated by faulty bone structure in the upper region of his nose, and that doctors haven't been able to agree on whether the bone should be altered.

The big center said earlier this week that the cold, which bothered him the most in the Ohio State game Monday night, had apparently been whipped. "The only effect it has on my playing," he added, "is that I tire much more easily." At any rate, he'll have to be at top shape to cope with Illinois' two big centers, Bob Peterson and Red Kerr.

The rest of the Hawkeyes held a short practice, their last on the home floor before the game. They plan to leave by plane for Champaign this morning, and will hold a drill there this afternoon or tonight.

Jarnagin, Too

Chuck Jarnagin has also contracted a cold, though it doesn't seem too serious now. And Deacon Davis was knocking on wood Thursday after shedding one earlier this week.

O'Connor said he is satisfied with the appearance of the team, both physically and mentally. "The boys aren't cocky about the game, but are terrifically determined. We know that we have to play our best ball to stay in the race and we'll do everything in our power to do it."

Maybe the Joke's on Illinois

ONE BIG REASON for Iowa's basketball successes this season has been the psychology employed by Coach Bucky O'Connor. When the going gets tough and things look tight, Bucky's there with a joke. Thursday Chuck Darling was withheld from practice to rest a bad cold, and the other top five men got a joke and it looks like a good one. Left to right, the group includes Skip Greene, Deacon Davis, O'Connor, Bob Clifton, Herb Thompson and Ev Cochrane.

When asked about the Michigan State game Monday night, Bucky said, "We're just not even thinking about that one until approximately 10:30 Saturday night. We know that they shouldn't be disregarded, but this is the big one, the only one right now."

Holds Only 6,900

The game at Champaign will be covered by a record number of writers and broadcasters, as was the one here. The group includes 35 writers and representatives of 26 radio stations. The field house there holds only 6,900, so approximately one-third of the students will see the game.

In Champaign, Coach Harry Combes expressed the belief that the play of centers will decide the balance of the game. The Illini have Peterson and Kerr, 6-8 and 6-9 respectively, and the Hawkeyes, of course, depend on 6-8 Darling.

In the last game between the two teams Darling outscored the combination by two points. Peterson is relied on mainly for his roughness work, but his apparent roughness sometimes puts him in a hole with too many fouls to operate effectively.

The home floor advantage (Iowa hasn't won at Champaign since '28) is expected to give the Illini the edge, but the Hawks have an edge in statistics. Some of their superior points are:

1. Iowa has the second best scoring average in the conference, 73.6. Illinois ranks third with 70.9.
2. The Hawks have the best field goal shot average in the Big Ten, .357. Illinois is fourth with .339.
3. Iowa has the best scorer in the league, Chuck Darling. The Illini's best is Kerr, who is No. 12.
4. The Hawkeyes have committed the lowest number of fouls in the league, 198, compared to Illinois' 246.

Ex-Wildcat Star Paroled Following Grand Jury Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Hirsch, Kentucky basketball captain in 1950-51, appeared before the New York grand jury Thursday and later was paroled as a material witness until Feb. 25 when he is to post $500 bail.

After his grand jury testimony, Hirsch was arraigned before General Sessions Justice James G. Wallace as a material witness in the basketball fixing scandal involving former Kentucky players.

The district attorney's office said merely that Hirsch, now a resident of Dayton, O., had been "cooperative."

LBS Sues Ball Clubs, Prexies For $12 Million

CHICAGO (AP)—The Liberty Broadcasting system Thursday filed a 12 million dollar anti-trust suit against 13 major league baseball clubs and heads of the American and National leagues.

Liberty said it had been frozen out of the 13 ball parks even though it offered more money than other bidders for broadcast rights.

Charges Trust Violations

The damage suit was filed in federal district court in Chicago. It charged the defendants with violation of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust laws. Judge John P. Barnes was assigned the suit, but no date was set for a hearing.

In New York, Gordon McLendon, president of the network, told a news conference Liberty was being forced to discontinue its "Game-of-the-Day" radio broadcasts for 1952 because it had been denied access to the 13 club parks despite higher offers for broadcast rights.

He said Liberty suffered more than 4 million dollars loss in profits and damages. Under the law, it may ask for treble damages, he said.

'A Continuing Conspiracy'

The suit charged the defendants with a "continuing conspiracy to monopolize and restrain competition in broadcasting and recreating play-by-play accounts of professional baseball games."

Listed as defendants are the Boston Braves, Chicago Cubs, New York Giants, Philadelphia Phillies, Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals of the National league; Warren C. Giles, president of the National league, and Ford C. Frick, baseball commissioner.

It also listed, he said, the Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers, New York Yankees, Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns, Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators of the American league, and William Harridge, American league president.

Darling Ranks 3d in National Scoring Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Aroused by the one-week loss of the major college individual basketball scoring lead he had held all season, Clyde Lovellette of Kansas was back on top of the heap Thursday.

Chuck Darling of Iowa advanced to third place in the standings. The Big Kansas star bombarded the hoop for 63 points in two games, and shot his season's average to 26.1 points per game, figures of the NCAA service bureau disclosed. Four others are still very much in the scoring race, however.

Lovellette warmed up with 36 points against Nebraska last Saturday, and came back Tuesday night to tally 27 against Oklahoma A & M. He has scored 521 points in 20 games.

The other four close on Clyde's heel are Bobby Pettit of Louisiana State, with a 25.6 average; Darling, with 25.5; Mark Workman of West Virginia, with 24.8; and Dick Groat of Duke, with 24.6. Pettit and Workman shared virtual co-leadership last week.

Button Wins 2d Title In Olympic Skating, Bolsters U.S. Chances

OSLO (AP)—Dick Button, king of the figure skaters, won his second Olympic championship Thursday and became the first repeating titlist of the 1952 winter games.

The 22-year-old Harvard university senior from Englewood, N.J., completed his skating conquest with a series of improvised whirls and jumps that brought repeated rounds of applause from the small crowd of 5,000 at Bislett stadium.

The United States has accumulated a total of 73½ points and further cut into Norway's commanding lead for unofficial team honors. The Norwegians held first with 101.

Button's triumph brought a bright glow to a day otherwise marred by defeat and near tragedy for American forces.

The U.S. hockey team, rated with Canada as a favorite for the championship, suffered its first setback of the round robin tournament—a 4-2 loss to Sweden's European champions.

And over on Frognerstern's icy chute a team of American four-man bobsledders was saved when the steel stirrups of the United States' No. 2 sled snapped at the first curve. The pilot, Jim Bickford, had to drive the rest of the way with his feet jammed against steering wires.

Will Try for Records

Bowen Stassforth, co-captain of Iowa's swimming team, will attempt to break four American long course records for the breast stroke during the Minnesota-Hawkeye dual meet here Friday, Feb. 29.

He will swim the regular 200-yard race as part of the meet and then will continue over the longer distances of 400 meters, 440 yards, 500 yards and 500 meters.

She Plays Tennis

GORGEOUS GUSSIE MORAN, who reached fame with a fair tennis game and a better-than-average flair for lace-trimmed panties while on the courts, has been signed for a movie with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn.

8 Wrestlers Picked for Trip

Iowa Wrestling Coach Mike Howard has announced an eight man traveling squad for the trip to Lafayette, Indiana, where the Hawk matmen will meet Purdue's Boilermakers for their sixth Big Ten conference meet on Monday night.

Heading the trip squad will be undefeated Captain Phil Duggan who will be looking for his sixth straight victory at 130 pounds.

Don Heaton, who owns a 4-1 record in competition at 167 pounds; George Myers, who came through in the evening's final bout last Monday to give Iowa with Illinois, and Arnie Bolen, who will be looking for his second intercollegiate victory at 157 pounds, are other stalwarts making the Purdue trip. Iowa's lineup will be completed by John Engelby at 123 pounds, Dick Salome in the 137 pound division, Chuck Woodruff who at 147 pounds, and Dean Lane who will go at 177 pounds. Coach Howard expects the squad to have its best chance the season to pick up the conference win against the Boilermakers.

2 Iowa City Buildings Willed to 3 Citizens

Mrs. Elta E. Hanlon, an Iowa City woman who died Feb. 18, has bequeathed ownership of two local theater buildings to three persons. Under terms of Mrs. Hanlon's will, the Englert theater building goes to George B. Unrath, a nephew, while the Varsity theater building was left to Leo Chopek and his wife, Mary Chopek. A $5,000 bond was bequeathed to each of seven persons: Alice C. Curtis, Henrietta Osburn, Carl A. Unrath, Helen I. Rushek, Mary A. Schmidt, James H. Schmidt, and Edna L. Englert. A total of $500 was left to each of two friends, Mrs. P. J. Justen, Lansing, Mich., and Hattie Schmidt, Iowa City.

'Uncle Tom's Cabin' Part of Collection Loaned To SUI

A portion of the world's most complete collections of the works of Harriet Beecher Stowe, including an 1852 edition of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has been loaned to the SUI library. The display was loaned by Mrs. T. Henry Foster, Ottumwa, whose late husband collected "Stowiana" numbering over 800 volumes printed in nearly 100 languages. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is one of the most popular books ever printed and was published in nearly every country in the world within two years after its first publication in 1852. Greek and Japanese editions of the book are included in the display. Original notes and sketch sheets of George Cruikshank, a famous illustrator of the 1850's who did art work for Harriet Beecher Stowe and Charles Dickens, were also loaned by Mrs. Foster.

Bartley Rejects Bid As Demo Candidate

Atty. William H. Bartley of Iowa City said Thursday that he will not be a candidate for nomination as lieutenant-governor of Iowa on the Democratic ticket. Bartley expressed appreciation to Democratic leaders who recently mentioned his name in connection with the nomination. "I'm sorry I cannot be on the ticket," Bartley said, "but I am unable to because of obligations to my firm and our law practice." Bartley is a member of the law firm of Messer, Hamilton, Cahill and Bartley.

Instructor's Prints Shown at Tulane

Eighteen intaglio prints drawn by SUI Prof. Mauricio L. Lasansky, art department, are now being shown at Tulane university, New Orleans, La. The prints were previously shown at a one-man exhibit at Louisiana State university, Baton Rouge, La.

Committee Plans 16th Police School

Preliminary plans were made Thursday for the 16th annual peace officers' short course to be held at SUI July 7-11. Twenty-one committee members from throughout the state met with Prof. Richard Holcomb, director of the course and chief of the bureau of police science in SUI's institute of public affairs. The course is one of the few of its kind given in the U.S. A number of universities include police training in their curricula but most of them include only specialized areas such as traffic control. The short course was designated as the official training course for Iowa peace officers by the 48th Iowa general assembly. The Code of Iowa allows local governments to send officers to attend the course at public expense.

High School Musicians To Attend Workshop

More than 400 music students and teachers from Iowa high schools are expected to attend the opening session Saturday of the fifth annual SUI music workshop series. Saturday's program will be devoted to auditions and evaluations of selected vocal ensembles, with Eugene Hilligoss, Iowa State college choral director, as discussion leader. A demonstration on "Learning a New Song" will be given by Prof. Herald I. Stark, SUI chorus director. The workshop will include auditions of vocal ensembles from the following high schools: Centerville, DeWitt, Dike, Fairfield, University high of Iowa City, Kinross, Marion, Muscatine, New London, Tama, Toledo, Victor, Wapello and West Liberty.

Oldest Identical Twins in U.S.

FULL OF PEP applies to Jennie McGill (left) and Lizzie Ward, the nation's oldest identical twins who will be 89 March 3. They live in Urbana, Ohio. Jennie has seven children. Lizzie had one child who died in infancy. She has outlived two husbands.

Persons wishing to do volunteer work for the new Veterans Administration hospital have been invited to attend a training session in the hospital recreation lounge at 2 p.m. today.

3 Music Recitals Set for Weekend

Patricia Oberlander, G. Galesburg, Ill., will present the first of three weekend recitals by SUI music students on WSUI's "Recital Hall" at 11:30 a.m. Saturday. The program will include "Partita in C Minor" by Bach and "Sonatine" by Ravel. Lavon Holets, A3, Cedar Rapids, Cellist, will play selections by Brahms, Schmitt, Ravel and Boccherini in North Music hall at 4 p.m. Sunday. Ruth Nickelsen, A4, Clinton, pianist, will play selections by Brahms, Bartok and Mendelssohn in North Music hall at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Polio Fund Nets $1,251, County Is Short $2,732

The porchlight polio campaign, sponsored Wednesday night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, collected a total of $1,081.88, an increase of $48 over the figure released early Thursday. The Iowa City Elks added $170 to the March of Dimes after holding a seafood supper Wednesday. The Johnson county total is now $7,168.22. The goal is $10,000.

'Shy Guy' Goes Into Rehearsal

(Daily Iowan Photo)

Author Directs SUI Musical

Rehearsals are underway for the fifth Panacea production "Shy Guy," which will be presented Mar. 19 to 22 in Macbride auditorium.

The SUI musical-comedy is being directed by Robert Randolph, G, Centerville. Randolph also wrote the script, designed the sets, and wrote the song lyrics, with music written by Dick Caplan, M1, Des Moines.

The scene of the musical is set on the contemporary mid-western campus of Gladbrook college. The plot revolves around the attempts of a new student on campus to win the presidency of the student body against strong opposition.

Leading roles of the production will be taken by Jack Ritschel, A3, Peoria, Ill., as the "shy guy" of the plot; Rosemary Wayland, A1, Tipton, as a popular campus "queen"; Bety Kanzell, A3, New York, N.Y., as a "phys ed" major; Jerry Mason, A1, Milwaukee, Wis., as a "good guy" on campus. Bob Ballantyne, A2, Iowa City, as a rich "stuffed shirt;" June Rotman, A1, Dubuque, as a sophisticated art student, and Tom Moffit, A4, Tipton, and Angeline Thomas, A3, Cedar Rapids, as two inhibited college freshmen.

In the supporting cast are Joe Williams, A2, New Providence; Lora Jackson, A1, Clinton; Paula Bartunek, A1, Knoxville; Donna Vicari, A1, Des Moines; Olga Diachok, A2, Rauch, Minn.; Jim Beer, P2, Centerville.

Candy Kane, A3, Des Moines; Sue Stokely, A2, Perry; Norrine Fenner, A3, Cedar Rapids; Marilyn Hart, A4, Keokuk; Sharon Kriens, A3, Sioux Falls, S. D., and George Gliva, A4, Chicago, Ill.

Scenes in the musical will take place on the college campus and include a corner drugstore, a school library, a museum and a room in the girls' dormitory. Music for the songs will be supplied by Larry Barrett's orchestra.

SUI Commerce Week Attracts 1700 Students, Ends Tonight

Attendance at sessions of SUI's careers conference swelled to more than 1,700 Thursday, as the commerce week moves into its final day today.

A total of 27 speakers representing various fields of business have outlined since Tuesday jobs for college graduates.

Activities will conclude tonight, when a dance, "Principles of Pleasure," will be held at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union. Tickets are still available at $1 a couple in University hall and the college of commerce office.

Among the speakers at Thursday's sessions were Ben E. Summerwill of the Iowa State Bank and Trust company in Iowa City.

He said that those graduates desiring to enter the banking field should first start in a country bank, where they can gain a broader understanding of banking operations.

He stressed courtesy, the ability to meet people and familiarity with mathematical and accounting procedures as basic qualifications for prospective job hunters in this field.

John E. Cosgrove, Des Moines, director of education research for the Iowa State Federation of Labor, said those wishing jobs with labor unions need experience in such fields as sociology, law, journalism, and education as well as commerce.

Scott McIntire, president of the United Fire and Casualty company, Cedar Rapids, asserted that a commerce degree is highly preferred for those interested in insurance work.

Robert Armstrong, president of Armstrong, Inc., said that job opportunities in department stores are about equal throughout the country, but that there is now a greater demand for women.

Those attending the career conference sessions included students from other Iowa colleges and 15 from Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill.

Chatauqua Collection On Display in Library

Prof. H. J. Thornton of the SUI history department has obtained for the SUI library the Chatauqua booking agency collection which will make possible an important expansion of historical research on the early American theater.

For many years, Thornton tried to persuade the Chatauqua Redpath agency in Chicago to open its files for historical study and when he succeeded, he wrote and published extensively on the subject.

The agency was well known in the early years of this century because it handled tours for such well-known personalities as William Jennings Bryan, Eugene Debs, and more recent figures, Gladys Swarthout and Edgar Bergen.

The collection, which is being displayed in the library lobby, includes company records and letters received from these and other clients.

The best known and most popular part of the Chatauqua collection was the circuit movement. A dozen or more communities within a certain area would constitute a circuit and the Chatauqua company would travel with tents and other equipment through every town on this chain. In this way the great lecturers and stage personalities of the day were presented to the inhabitants of small villages throughout the country.

Providing a variety of talent to the traveling companies were Chatauqua agencies established in the large cities of the country, the most famous of these agencies being the Chicago Redpath bureau.

Council Asks Students To Claim Unsold Books

Unsold books from the student council book exchange may be picked up from next Tuesday through Friday. Accident Suits Ask $25,886 Damages

An auto accident damage suit and counter-claim amounting to $25,886 is scheduled for trial next Tuesday in district court, Judge James P. Gaffney said Thursday. C. E. Mathes seeks $3,700 for injuries and damages to his truck against Mr. and Mrs. Vernard Moore.

Moore, in a counter-claim, asks $4,784 for damage to his auto and injuries received in the crash on highway 1, southwest of Iowa City May 8, 1951.

Included in the $17,401 that Mrs. Moore claims is a $15,000 request for pain and permanent injury. She asks the remaining $2,401 for a broken leg, broken ribs and other injuries.

24 Cadets Compete Today For Award

Final drills in the competition for the Tribune award will be held at 4 p.m. today in the Iowa field house by the air force ROTC unit. Eight freshmen and sophomores will take part in the finals.

Winners of the army ROTC awards will be determined at 4 p.m. Monday in the field house. Twenty-four cadets, two from each company, will compete.

Judging the drills this afternoon for the air force will be Col. George A. Bosch, professor of air science and tactics, and two other members of the air force ROTC staff, M/Sgt. Elbert S. Lomax and M/Sgt. Jack C. Lansinger.

Appearance, movements and general overall performance will be the basis of the judging.

Portable Piano

PIANISTS no longer can use the excuse, "I'd love to play but I left my piano at home," thanks to Berlin engineer Karl Baessler. He built a miniature piano that can be carried under one arm. His Pianophone (electric piano) is about 3 feet long and 1 foot deep. Its sound resembles that of a xylophone.

Wesley Club Plans Discussion Series

A series of six discussions concerned with basic Christian beliefs will be conducted by the Wesley Supper club under the direction of the Rev. Robert Sanks. The series will cover six consecutive Sundays and will commence at 5 p.m. Sunday in the north lounge of Wesley house.

It is the conviction of the organizers that there are certain beliefs which are fundamental to a Christian's faith, no matter what his particular denomination.

These fundamentals may be expressed in a variety of ways, but their affirmation is what is important as a foundation of Christianity. The series is entitled "Born to Believe" and the first discussion will be on "God the Father Almighty."

Also at 5 p.m. Sunday, will be a meeting of single students in the main lounge. Six students will participate in a panel discussion on "War and Christian Responsibility" and Ray Keller, G, will be the moderator.

Major Whitesel, Former Instructor, Leaves for Japan

Maj. R. G. Whitesel, formerly an instructor in the SUI political science department, stopped in Iowa City this week en route to a position in the far eastern headquarters of the army in Japan.

Whitesel has been assistant deputy chief of staff at fifth army headquarters in Chicago since June 20.

Whitesel became a member of SUI's political science staff in 1947, and served through the spring semester of 1951. He taught comparative foreign governments, introduction to public law, current legislation, and government and social welfare.

He served in the 363d infantry division in Italy during World War II. At the war's end he was assigned to teach at the army university in Florence, Italy.

Whitesel reentered service at the same time as Hugh E. Kelso, also a member of the political science department. The men had been in the army together during World War II.

Court Awards $1,350 In Car Accident Suit

Frank M. Hunt Jr., was awarded a $1,350 claim in district court Thursday as result of an auto accident Feb. 22, 1951.

The jury's sealed verdict, delivered Wednesday, was opened by Judge James P. Gaffney Thursday.

Hunt had asked $1,352.75 damages to his auto caused in an accident with a Spencer's Harmony Hall truck at the corner of Dodge and Burlington sts.

In other district court proceedings, Eugene and Lois Stanfield, Coralville, were given until 6 p.m. Feb. 26 to vacate their residence leased from Vern Moore.

Moore claims the couple moved into the property in Aug., 1951, and agreed to pay $80 a month. Moore claims overdue rent on the house amounts to $106.50.

A writ of possession or execution will be issued Wednesday if the property is not vacated by Tuesday.
