

Hawks' Big Ten Title Chances Vanish In 78-75 Loss To Badgers

Wisconsin Hits 43.4 Per Cent; Darling Gets 34

By JACK JORDAN
Sports Editor

Wisconsin, playing the best basketball by an opponent in the field house this year, beat Iowa out of a chance for the Big Ten title Monday night, 78-75.

Chuck Darling put on one of his most brilliant performances, and added to his record number of Big Ten records with 34 points on 10 field goals and 14 free throws. However, even 34 points won't beat a shooting percentage of .434, and that's what seventh-place Wisconsin had.

End with 11-3 Mark

The Hawks, ending their season with a record of 11 wins and three losses in the conference, must now settle for second place after the 95-74 Illinois win over Northwestern. The Illini, who have one-

Name Thompson Captain

Herb Thompson was named as next year's basketball captain Monday night at a party in honor of the seniors from this year's team.

The party, attended by 3,000 students and guests, included short talks by Coach Bucky O'Connor, who introduced his team, and SUI Pres. Virgil Hancher. O'Connor said that Chuck Darling has been selected to two all-American teams, but he could not say which ones.

WSU Sports Director Jim Dooley arranged the party and was master of ceremonies.

game remaining, have clinched the crown with a 12-1 mark.

Five seniors started for the Hawks for the first time this year, and were quite effective as a unit. The five, including Darling, Skip Greene, Bob Clifton, Ev Cochrane, and Murray Rost, played together for the first quarter and led, 21-19, when Rost was removed for Deacon Davis and Cochrane for Herb Thompson.

The Hawkeyes played up to their previous average and hit 34.5 per cent of their shots, but that wasn't enough to stop the Bad Fester-coached Badgers.

Fans Resent Officials

Fans who had come to watch the Hawks put the finishing touches on the season and Darling add to his records were impressed with the Wisconsin attack, but were equally dissatisfied with the officiating of the game.

The first quarter Iowa lead was melted by halftime to a 44-41 deficit by the Wisconsin fast break and sharp passing. The Hawkeyes pulled ahead three times in the third period, the last time on a layup by Davis.

From that point on, though, Wisconsin dominated the play and coaxed the Hawks into numerous errors. The Hawks' widest margin was nine points, 76-67, with two minutes remaining. The game ended after the last whistle on a free throw by Greene.

Attendance at the game was 10,720.

Councilman Hints Parking Discrimination By Officials

Councilman Walter L. Daykin Monday night told other members of the city council that he felt discrimination was evident in the attitude of city officials toward parking violations.

Daykin, SUI professor of labor and industrial management, referred specifically to parking between curb and sidewalk on Burlington st.

"He said that cars, parked across the sidewalk in that area, 'forced school children to walk in the street.'"

Daykin said, "I'm concerned with having a policy and sticking to it. I can't pretend to be a member of a law-enforcing agency and allow such practices to continue."

Daykin said that he didn't believe that such violations should be allowed in some areas and not in others.

City Engineer Fred Gartzke said that the solution to the problem would be to widen Burlington st. He said that it would cost approximately $3,000 a block to widen the street seven feet on each side.

The council agreed to have traffic officers issue courtesy tickets to persons violating parking restrictions between curb and sidewalk in the areas under discussion.

The council adopted a final resolution calling for the addition of fluorine to the city water supply. No objections were raised at the public hearing on the fluoridation project Monday night.

The resolution provides that the state furnish the necessary machinery for the process.

City Manager Peter F. Roan said that the Iowa Water Service company had agreed to furnish the necessary chemicals for one year and the manpower required to install the fluoridation machinery.

Dr. Charles Henshaw, director of the division of dental hygiene in the state department of health, gave the council the background on the fluoridation movement and answered questions of individual council members.

Treasury Department Hit by McCarthy In Tax Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) called Monday for an investigation of reports that Under Secretary of the Treasury Edward H. Foley Jr. had intervened in tax cases and had advised the internal revenue bureau to "lay off" some of them.

Foley issued a statement saying: "I know nothing about the matter Senator McCarthy is quoted as talking about. I will make myself available to the committee to answer questions by Senator McCarthy or any other member."

McCarthy said he had a "sizeable number" of questions to ask Foley, who is second in command at the treasury department.

He asked the senate expenditures committee to summon the under secretary to a private session, saying the question would be "unfair to him if the information I have is incorrect."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) agreed to hold a closed session of the committee today to determine if the Foley matter is pertinent and, if so, whether to hear him publicly or privately.

The Wisconsin senator brought Foley's name into the final stages of the committee's hearing on President Truman's plan to reorganize the internal revenue bureau in the wake of a long series of tax scandals.

H. C. Christy Dies; Was Noted Illustrator

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard Chandler Christy, 79, one of the nation's best known magazine illustrators for many years, died Monday, presumably of a heart attack.

His illustrations of American girls were famous.

Christy also was a portrait painter of note, capturing on canvas such men as Presidents Harding and Coolidge and Italian dictator Benito Mussolini.

His pen and brush were put to the service of his country in three wars — the Spanish-American war and World wars I and II.

An Ohio farm boy, he was interested in drawing from childhood. He studied design in New York and showed great promise as an artist. But he turned to illustrating because he found more money in it.

He made his early reputation in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, with some notable sketches of Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

His army, navy and liberty posters were homefront landmarks of World War I.

In the last war, Christy turned out a number of paintings for service organizations.

Little Hope For Forming French Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Antoine Pinay agreed Monday to try and put together a Conservative French cabinet that could collect the increased taxes for both European defense and Indo-China war.

Political experts predicted the 60-year-old businessman-politician would merely go through the motions and then give up the task today.

Hints Aid To Be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Tom Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee suggested Monday that U.S. aid to France may be slashed unless the French do their "utmost" to share in the burden of re-arming Western Europe.

In blunt terms, Connally raised the issue in talking with newsmen after his committee heard Secretary of State Dean Acheson testify for nearly two hours at a closed-door session.

"If France does not do her utmost in her own defense, she cannot justify large appropriations from the United States for both economic and military aid," Connally said.

agreed to contribute 12 divisions to the projected six-nation European army under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Originally she had been scheduled to contribute 14.

Faure Suggests Tax Increase

Premier Edgar Faure returned from Lisbon and told parliament France would have to increase most taxes by 15 per cent to carry out her agreements at Lisbon. The national assembly balked at the particular tax increases proposed by Faure, and overthrew him Friday on a vote of non-confidence.

The result has been to cast doubt on whether the hopeful program for Europe's defense, that was outlined at Lisbon, can be realized.

French Plane Crash Believed Caused by Flight of Seagulls

NICE, France (AP)—A four-engine French airliner, possibly wrecked on the takeoff by a flight of seagulls, crashed in an olive grove Monday and killed 37 persons, including an American ballet dancer.

Two French actresses were among the dead, and a French dancer—the only survivor—may lose her legs.

The only other person taken alive from the wreckage — an Italian woman—died en route to the hospital. Airline officials gave French, British and Italian addresses for all the victims.

Nice airport employees said the big French-built Languedoc airliner may have run into a flock of seagulls, causing two of its four engines to conk out as it struggled to gain altitude for its regular flight from this Riviera resort to Paris. Wings and feathers were found in the engine air intakes. But airline officials, who sent an expert from Paris to investigate, would not confirm that this was the cause of the crash.

Among the charred bodies of the victims was that of Brooklyn-born Joan Harriet Katzman, 21, who last night had danced the Spanish ballet "Del Amor Y de La Muerte" (of love and death) with the Marquis de Cuevas company at Cannes. Using the stage name of Harriet Toby, the young dancer — discovered by de Cuevas in New York two years ago—was to have performed tonight in Brussels, Belgium. It was believed she had taken up residence in Paris.

The surviving woman is Miss Marguerite Delpy of Paris, who had just completed a dancing tour of Italy. It was feared both her legs would have to be amputated.

9 Iowa Veterans Enter on $10 Million Hospital's First Day

Nine Iowans became patients at the Veterans hospital here Monday — the first for Iowa City's new $10 million building.

Operating with a limited staff of 275, including 14 doctors and 31 nurses, the hospital will receive about five or six patients a day for the next two weeks.

The 490-patient capacity is not expected to be reached before fall, when the hospital will be operating with a full staff of between 500 and 600 workers.

The hospital's first patient, Marilyn Edwards, 33, McGregor, arrived Monday morning by ambulance from his home.

He has been paralyzed from the waist down since he was wounded in 1944 in Europe. Hospitalized in England until 1945, he was discharged a year later.

The other eight patients to arrive Monday were Joseph F. Balik, Cedar Rapids; Harry V. Buckridge, Waterloo; Thomas G. Conrad, Ft. Madison; Harry A. Dietz, Davenport; Lloyd Funk, Edgewood; Robert W. Roy, Tama; Chester R. Shaffer, Mechanicsville, and Harold H. Vest, Davenport.

Patients admitted to the hospital will come from an area covered by eastern Iowa, western Illinois and a section of northern Missouri. Service-connected disabilities are given priority.

The hospital will be dedicated March 16.

North Japan Reported Hit by Tidal Wave

TOKYO (TUESDAY) (AP)—The newspaper Asahi said today a heavy tidal wave that followed an earthquake caused extensive damage in northern Japan.

The central meteorological bureau said the earthquake rocked the northern island of Hokkaido and the northern half of Honshu at 10:24 a.m. (7:24 p.m., Iowa time Monday).

A blowing snow totaling more than 5 inches ripped through the Iowa City area for nearly 11 hours Monday, leaving streets and highways extremely hazardous and cutting travel to a minimum.

There was no sign of a letup for at least this morning.

Court Upholds Law Barring Red Teachers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme court, splitting 6 to 3, Monday upheld a New York state law designed to bar Communists and other subversive persons from working in the public school system. In an unusually busy session, the court also:

1. Dismissed an attack on a New Jersey law which requires daily reading of portions of the Bible in the schools of New Jersey, but indicated it might consider a case brought under different circumstances.

2. Upheld the Georgia county unit election system, under which state officials are elected in somewhat the same manner in which the electoral college picks the president of the United States.

3. Threw out the first test to reach it of the new federal tax on gambling.

Minton Gives Opinion

In the majority opinion on the New York teaching law, Justice Minton said:

"School authorities have the right and the duty to screen the officials, teachers and employes as to their fitness to maintain the integrity of the schools as part of ordered society . . ."

The decision brought separate written dissents from three justices, one of which — by Justice Douglas — said the law "inevitably turns the school system into a spying project."

The law, generally known as the Feinberg law, is designed to bar subversive persons from working in the school system.

8 New Yorkers Oppose Law

Eight New York taxpayers contended it violates freedom of speech and assembly.

Enacted in 1949, the Feinberg law is aimed at enforcing a 1939 state civil service law which says anyone who advocates violent overthrow of the government may not work for the state.

Those who made up the Supreme court majority, besides Minton, were Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed, Jackson, Burton, and Clark. In the minority were Justices Douglas, Black and Frankfurter.

The effect of the court's ruling in the New Jersey Bible case is that the state's law remains unchanged. In 34 other states the Bible is read in public schools either by option or by requirement.

5 Verses To Be Read a Day

The New Jersey law says at least five verses from the Old Testament must be read each school day. It permits, but does not require, the recitation of the Lord's prayer. Pupils who don't wish to participate in the prayer or the verse may leave the room.

10 Legislators Discuss Public Affairs Here

Ten Iowa legislators, members of the legislative advisory committee to SUI's institute of public affairs, met Monday on campus.

They discussed services and functions of the institute of public affairs and the ways and means by which they could be improved by all members of the state legislature.

The 10 legislators were Sens. LeRoy S. Mercer, Iowa City; Carl T. Anderson, Wellman; E.K. Bekman, Ottumwa; Jay C. Colburn, Harlan; Herman B. Lord, Muscatine; Ames H. Nesmith, Kellogg, and Reps. G. M. Ludwig, Tiffin; Mrs. John M. Crabb, Jamaica; E. E. Poston, Corydon, and Clifford M. Strawman, Anamosa.

Visibility on highways in the area was reduced to almost zero, but by early this morning only two minor accidents had been reported here.

Under the snow-packed streets lay ice brought by a slushy weekend snow of 5 inches. Police and highway patrol warned motorists to delay out-of-town trips, if at all possible.

Highways to the north, east and west were still open to traffic, but those to the south were partially blocked by considerable drifting.

The Iowa City bus depot reported that no buses were getting through from the south. A bus bound for Iowa City from Burlington, scheduled to arrive here at 9:30 p.m., was forced to turn around at Mediapolis (near Muscatine) and return to Burlington.

Otherwise, most buses on other highways into Iowa City were running from 15 minutes to an hour behind schedule.

Road crews remained on duty on highway 218 north to Cedar Rapids until midnight Monday to help motorists returning from the Iowa-Wisconsin game. All other highway crews were called off the roads until today.

Most of the main county roads were still open to traffic, but the secondary ones were closed.

Cleanup Hampered

City Street Commissioner Willard Irvin said the blowing snow hampered cleanup operations throughout most of Monday. A sanding crew worked most of the night, however.

Trains were reportedly 15 minutes behind schedule.

The storm, which began about 1:15 p.m., brought a dip in temperatures, and by early this morning the mercury had dropped to 27 degrees.

The weather picture for today calls for continued snow flurries and colder. High today will be about 20.

In other parts of the state, the story was about the same.

Heavy snow and a cold air blast reached northwest Iowa first, before it pushed southward. Roads were snowy and generally slippery south of a line from Council Bluffs to Boone, to Waterloo, to Elkader.

A number of trucks were reported stalled all day Monday on highways 34 and 49 in the Corning area, where there was 6 to 7 inches of new snow.

Snow was falling at almost all reporting points, lightly to heavily, and fog also was noted at some places.

Navy Defends Buying Before House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice Adm. Charles W. Fox testified Monday it would be false economy for the navy to buy a 43-cent compass bearing instead of a $4.38 bearing. He said the cheaper item might endanger a multimillion dollar ship.

Defending the navy's buying policies against charges of extravagance, Fox told a house armed services subcommittee that the navy buys a lot of "look alike" articles which carry different price tags but which are not identical at all.

Fox, chief of navy material, handed committee members a set of steel bearings which he said appeared to be identical but were not.

Fox said one of the samples cost $4.38 and was precision-made for use in gyro compasses. The other, he said, cost 43 cents.

"But if the 43-cent bearing were used," he went on, "serious damage to a $12,500 gyro compass would result and erratic operation of the compass could endanger the safety of a ship."

STATEHOOD DELAYED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate voted Monday to take up the controversial submerged oil lands bill ahead of the Hawaii statehood bill. Backers of Hawaii statehood sought vainly to set the submerged land legislation aside temporarily.

1st Patient, VA Hospital Head Chat

TALKING WITH THE NEW VA HOSPITAL MANAGER, Dr. Leland E. Stilwell, is Marilyn Edwards, first patient to be admitted to the $10 million structure. Although not officially opened, the hospital is expecting about six or seven patients to be admitted each day until dedication ceremonies March 16. Eventually, when operating at full capacity, the hospital will care for about 500 patients with a staff of 600 persons.

Interpreting the News —

Reds Show They Want Talks, But No Truce

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst Communist maneuvers at Panmunjom over the weekend indicate that they still want truce talks, but not necessarily a truce.

When the Allies laid it on the line cold that Russia would not be accepted as a member of a neutral truce supervisory team, the Reds backed down on their brief contention that their choice could not be vetoed.

But they rejected the Allied suggestion that the supervisory problem be solved by going ahead with the two neutral nations on each side already agreed upon.

Observers immediately accepted this as an indication that Russia herself was insisting upon participation. In Washington it was suggested that Russia was so determined to step into the role of peacemaker, J. M. Roberts Jr. that she might be willing to wreck the talks otherwise.

This assessment, however, seemed to ignore a fact which is basic to the entire conflict between East and West. That is the involvement of national interests in Korea, and at every step in any negotiations between the contending parties, which far transcend mere propaganda attitudes.

A Means to an End Russia places so much emphasis on propaganda, on appeals to peoples who still remain neutral in the cold war, that there is at times a tendency among Allied diplomats to forget that every bit of propaganda is a means to an end rather than an end in itself.

When Russia suggested truce talks in Korea there was reason to believe that she really wanted one. The Reds had started a war for South Korea thinking they could capture it without real opposition. The United States had said, in effect, that Korea wasn't important.

The U.S. quickly found this to be a miscalculation, and the Reds had a bear by the tail. They wanted to get out of it with as little loss of face as possible. As they negotiated on this basis, they found the Allies willing to cut the inflictions of casualties down to almost nothing, to accept a stalemate in the field.

Convenient for Reds It is hard to think of anything that could have suited the Reds better. They had something very closely approaching a cease-fire. They had a new situation of chaotic contact with the West similar to the one they had exploited so frequently in Berlin, and it wasn't costing them much.

Continuation of the war in the air might be considered a valuable testing ground as Russia sought to develop a modern air force, which she by no means had in World War II.

By tying up Allied divisions in Korea, the Kremlin interferes with Western preparations in Europe for what will be, if it comes, the decisive war.

In regards to your "From other Colleges" in last Saturday's edition, and particularly in regard to your statements about my alma mater, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, I would like to say that the dormitories at the university do have doors, and that in itself is something.

Further, while we're at it, I should like to clarify a few opinions about the Decadent Southland (long may her confederate flags wave). Chapel Hill is a town of irresistible charm where people are friendly and courteous; women thank men for holding doors open; the taxpayer's fire equipment is used only for fighting fires; the merchants are courteous and thank customers for their business; students are trusted and do not have to sign contracts for rooms; peoples' lives are not threatened by those who are thrilled by having their first motor-car; the university has a high scholastic average in every department; and good football is played in a picturesque stadium; there are Negro students at the university; running water and electricity are available; and get this, the University of North Carolina is the only university in the world which has a planetarium. Pharmacy College Wins Window Display Contest

SUI was named winner in the college division of the 1951 National Pharmacy Week window display competition last week. The contest, sponsored by the American Pharmaceutical Association, was held Oct. 21-27. SUI also won first prize in the 1947 competition and placed second in 1938 and 1949. In a letter to Dean A. R. Kuever of the college of pharmacy, Robert P. Fischel, secretary of the American Pharmaceutical Association, congratulated the college of pharmacy and said that an inscribed plaque would be sent to SUI. The display was prepared by Bruce Beekman, Atlantic; Harry Wesley Brown, Keokuk; Orville Daecker, Frederika; Donald King, Manchester; John Moes, Galena, and Margery Rink, Cedar Rapids. They are all juniors in pharmacy and members of a course in administrative pharmacy. This course is taught by Prof. Louis C. Zopf and Wendle L. Kerr. Students working in sections develop a new display each week in the model window inside the east entrance of the chemistry building as part of their class work. Each year one of these displays is entered in the National Pharmacy Week contest. The winning display had three pedestals on which were placed instruments and prescriptions. An ophthalmoscope used for viewing the interior of the eye, a sphygmomanometer for measuring blood pressure and a stethoscope for listening to sounds within the body, were on one pedestal. On another pedestal were a prescription, balance, prescription weights, a spatula, a conical glass graduate and a glass mortar and pestle, representing the equipment used by pharmacists. Items for the patient were on the third shelf — an ice bag, a liquid prescription, a spoon, an atomizer, applicator sticks and a bottle of tablets. Pictures mounted on light blue paper were placed behind each pedestal over which were mounted the words "Better Community Health" in white letters. The background was in national blue and the floor was white. A dark blue drape was hung over the center with white drapes at each side. The contest was judged by members of the public relations committee of the American Pharmaceutical Association. Winning displays were chosen from photographs submitted by competing organizations. In addition to the college division there was a retail division in which the winners received cash prizes.

on the Sports Scene
with Jack Jordan

1 OF '90' SPEAKS

A biologic necessity to sports writers, it seems, is sitting around talking shop. The Daily Iowan sports staff is no exception.

One of the more interesting talkers is Jim Cooke, who is in his first year at Iowa after transferring from the army's academy at West Point.

First point of major interest is that Jim, a cadet for three years, did not transfer of his own volition, because he was one of the publicized "90" who were accused of "cribbing" and asked to leave the premises.

Student Manager at Army
Second point is that Jim was student manager of Army's football team, not one of the lesser machines in the country. As such he was in close contact with many names in the news, including Col. Earl "Red" Blaik, coach of many Army powerhouses, and his son Bobby, all-America candidate at quarterback. He was also manager of the hockey team.

Third point of interest is the interesting stories Jim, a Cedar Rapids native, tells about the school and the people at Army.

As for the scandal, Cooke said that it was just a matter of the present bunch getting caught, because it's been going on for years. When asked who was giving and who was getting, he expressed the belief that no one gave without receiving something in return.

Subject: Red Blaik

The stories about Army's football greats mostly concerned Blaik, who has stuck with the school and started rebuilding despite the expelling of his entire starting football team before the season of 1951 began.

"The greatest tribute to Blaik," Jim said, "is the fact that every last member of the football squad, without exception, followed his advice and counsel to 'tell the truth' when it was sought during the August scandal. The fact that so many men were willing to sacrifice what they had been working so hard for during three years on the opinion of one man is something!"

He mentioned Al Conway and Harry Loehlein, two of the brightest stars on Army's great 1950 team, and said their frequent brushes with the tactical department (resulting from pranks) kept them in constant supply of demerits and Blaik in a quandary lest they be declared ineligible.

Punishment for Pranks
Loehlein, he said, walked a total of 22 hours of punishment in four days (normal time: 4 1/2 weeks) in order to be ready for football season.

Conway at one time had the astonishing total of 98 punishment hours staring him and Blaik in the face. The average number of punishments awarded to a cadet during a year is two to four. A visit by Prime Minister Auriol of France erased that and all other punishments charged to cadets, and, says Cooke, there are many who will never believe that Blaik didn't arrange Auriol's visit.

Blaik was held in highest respect by everyone who worked for and with him. Although his nickname has been "Red" since his childhood, Jim says he has never heard anyone address him by that name to his face. To his wife, he's Earl; to his son he's Dad, and to the coaching staff and players he's always "the Colonel."

Married with Buddy
Cooke's closest friends on the team were young Blaik and Loehlein, who hail from Minnesota. It was with the latter that Cooke came back to the midwest and got married in a double ceremony.

Another interesting item is that Blaik, who has gained a reputation as a taskmaster and hard loser, spent his mourning hours following the 14-2 defeat by Navy in 1950 as "chief console" for the team.

Jim thinks of his life at West Point as a "terrifically interesting part of my life with an unfortunate ending." And although not quite as colorful as his army connections, he likes Iowa just as well as a school. He concluded, "I guess I'm just an Iowa boy at heart, after all."

10 Iowa Athletes Get Grade Awards

Ten Iowa athletes who had their first varsity competition last year, Monday night, were given scholarship awards between halves of the Iowa-Wisconsin game.

The awards were in recognition of grades made in the 1950-51 school year, when the men were freshmen. They made the top grades of any sophomores in the various sports in which they participated.

Leading the list was Bill Fenton, an end on the football team last fall. He had a straight "A" university average in his freshman year.

Others included: Richard Bellinger, golfer; Bob Klaus, fencer; Donald Miles, gymnast; Bruce Nolf, cross country; Gene Saunders, baseball; Leroy Ebert, track; Robert Fletcher, tennis; Dick Wiese, basketball; and Al Higgins, swimming.

TWO MORE POINTS ARE ADDED to the Darling till during the third quarter of Monday night's game against Wisconsin, which Iowa lost, 75-75. Darling ended the game with 34 points which ties his previous high. Up to block the underhand scoop shot is Paul Morrow, Badger center. Others pictured are Ab Nicholas (8) and Chuck Siefert (34). Hawkeyes Rank 7th In Final Poll

Kentucky Tops Country Again In AP Balloting

NEW YORK (AP) — Kentucky again ranks as the No. 1 college basketball team in the nation for 1952, just as it was in 1949 and 1951.

For the third time in four years, Kentucky's Wildcats won the top rank in the final Associated Press ranking poll of the 1951-52 season, easily holding the place they assumed six weeks ago.

Iowa, currently second in the Big Ten, picked up one first-place vote on its 20-2 record to wind up in seventh place in the balloting with 377 points.

The Wildcats, who breezed through to their ninth straight Southeastern conference championship and ran their winning streak to 22 straight when they beat out Louisiana State, 44-43, last Saturday in the conference tournament finals, won by a comfortable margin. They polled first place votes of 39 of the 121 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the final poll and a total of 1,033 points.

The University of Illinois, one of the few teams to challenge Kentucky's right to the No. 1 position this season, finished second with 750 points and Kansas State third with 672.

Completing the first ten in the final poll were Duquesne, the University of Washington, Iowa, Kansas, West Virginia and St. John's.

With Victory Over Wildcats —

Illini Win Big Ten

CHAMPAIGN (AP) — Illinois rolled up its biggest score of the season in drubbing Northwestern, 95-74, Monday night and won its second successive Big Ten basketball title as Wisconsin upset Iowa, 78-75, at Iowa City.

The Illinois victory, one of the team's most impressive of the season, was its 13th against one loss, Iowa, ending its Big Ten campaign, wound up with an 11-3 mark to take second place.

Illinois closes out at Wisconsin Saturday.

The Illini, ranked No. 2 in the national Associated Press poll this week, was paced by center John Kerr. Sophomore Kerr funneled in 34 points while playing only three full quarters. It was the best sharpshooting of his collegiate career.

With the 6-9 Kerr flicking in 12 points in 5 1/2 minutes of the first quarter and adding seven more in the first six minutes of the second, Illinois made a fast start and never was headed or tied in the game.

The Illini hit 21 out of 47 field goals in the first half for a 47-39 edge.

Hoosiers Top Spartans

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) — Fourth-place Indiana edged fifth-place Michigan State Monday night, 70-67, in the Big Ten basketball windup for both teams. Indiana refused three free throws in the last minute after breaking the tenth tie of the game.

The 70 points gave Indiana a new one-season Western conference record of 1,035. Illinois made the old mark of 989 last season.

Too many personal fouls cost Michigan State the game. It hit four more fielders than Indiana and its forward Keith Stackhouse was high scorer of the game with 16 points.

Michigan State led, 24-20, at the end of the first quarter, trailed, 35-34, at the half and led again, 59-57, at the end of the third. Indiana took the lead at 67-66 on Don Schlundt's free throw and Bob Leonard's field goal provided a three-point cushion in the wild last three minutes.

Michigan Wins, 68-60

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP) — Michigan bested Purdue, 68-60, Monday night in a battle to stay out of the Big Ten basketball cellar. The win left Michigan with a final conference record of four wins and 10 defeats and Purdue, its schedule also complete, with a 3-11 record.

Only in the first quarter did Purdue make a battle of it. That stanza ended 17-16 in favor of the Boilermakers but it was Michigan the rest of the way.

Jim Skala, playing his last game at forward for the Wolverines, played a vital role in bringing his team from behind. He got 23 points for top scoring honors of the night.

Carl McNulty, Purdue's big center, needed 23 points to set a new Boilermaker scoring record but was held to 15 by Michigan's close guarding.

Darling's Records

Chuck Darling ended his collegiate basketball career Monday night, having made the greatest collection of records in the history of the Big Ten. Including Monday's game they are:

1. Most points one season: 364 in 14 games. Old record, 227.
2. Best point average one season: 26 per game. Old record, 22.67.
3. Most field goals one season: 132 in 14 games. Old record, 97.

Trackmen, Gymnasts Win —

Over the Weekend

— As Wrestlers Lose

Runners Slam Wildcats

Iowa's track team won its second indoor dual meet of the season Saturday by defeating Northwestern, 75-33, at Evanston.

The Hawkeyes showed surprising strength in the hurdles, taking first, second and third in both the high and low. DuWayne Dietz placed first in the lows and freshman Jim Milani took the high.

Iowa's Ted Wheeler was a double victor, winning both the mile and half-mile. Hawkeye Rich Ferguson copped his specialty, the two-mile.

Gary Scott in the 440, John Hall in the shot put, and the mile relay team were Iowa's other winners.

The Hawkeyes close their indoor schedule this weekend with the Big Ten championships at Illinois.

Gymnasts Beat 3 Foes

Iowa's gymnastics squad defeated three foes in two triangular meets at Madison and Chicago over the weekend.

At Madison on Friday night, the Hawks downed Wisconsin, 49-47, and Chicago, 58-38, and whipped Navy Pier and Chicago again Saturday afternoon.

Co-captain Frank LaDue, Bernie Westfall and Bob Hazlett led Iowa with four wins apiece in the two days' events. LaDue remained undefeated with his victories on the trampoline, while Westfall and Hazlett grabbed their wins in the flying rings and tumbling divisions, respectively.

The Hawkeyes' four wins give them a season record of nine victories against only one loss, a 50-46 setback at the hands of Minnesota. Iowa will next participate in the Big Ten championships to be held March 7 and 8 at Bloomington.

Wrestlers Lose 5th, 15-9

Iowa's wrestling squad finished its 1952 dual meet schedule at Minneapolis Saturday with a 15-9 loss to the Minnesota grapplers.

The defeat was Iowa's fifth in Big Ten conference against two ties.

Captain Phil Duggan won his seventh straight match at 130 pounds and Don Heaton won his sixth against one defeat. The other Hawkeye win was turned in by George Myers, who decisioned Willis Wood, 5-3, in the heavy-

2 Students To Attend West Point Celebration

John W. Brake Edward F. Diekmann

John W. Brake, G. Sioux City, and Edward F. Diekmann, E4, Ottumwa, have been invited to attend the celebration of the 150th anniversary of West Point academy to be held April 24 to 27 at West Point.

The naming of the two men came in response to an invitation received last week from Col. T. W. Hammond, sesquicentennial director at the academy.

Brake and Diekmann were chosen because of their high scholastic qualifications, both in military and other subjects and because of their successful participation in extra-curricular activities.

Brake, a lieutenant colonel in the army ROTC unit here, is deputy commander of the combined ROTC units at SUI.

Diekmann, an ROTC platoon leader, is delegate-at-large on the student council. He is also a holder of the Distinguished Military Student medal given semi-annually by the ROTC for outstanding military students.

The two SUI cadets will join 110 more ROTC senior students representing colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Transportation to and from the academy will be paid by the ROTC unit.

While at West Point, the ROTC students will eat, sleep and attend classes with the regular cadets at the academy, the invitation said.

ROTC Unit Awards 10 Student Medals

Ten army ROTC students were awarded distinguished military student medals Monday. Six members of the infantry and four from the engineers received the awards.

The medals are given annually to outstanding military students from the army ROTC with the approval of the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled.

High standards in academic and military grades and in extra-curricular activities are the basis for the awarding of the medal.

Col. Walter Sewell, head of the SUI military department, presented the awards to the winners at their regularly scheduled drills Monday.

Winners of the medal were: Richard A. Christenson, A4, Cedar Rapids; Herbert J. Cooke, A4, Iowa City; Marvin C. Kjellberg, A4, Ruthven; Henry W. Louis, A3, Iowa City; Albert A. Montgomery, C3, Stuart.

Paul E. Olson, C3, Mitchell, S.D.; Edward F. Diekmann, E4, Ottumwa; Ronald B. Fairchild, A4, Iowa City; John S. Galvin, E4, Iowa City, and Donald W. Thomas, E4, Sioux City.

Services of the volunteers included working in the Johnson county hospitals, aiding in home services, working in the fund drive, sewing, knitting and making gifts.
