Probes Begin In Baltimore Bleacher Crash

BALTIMORE (AP) — An aroused Baltimore, from top officials to the man on the street, began trying to find out Friday what caused the collapse of a section of bleachers at Sonja Henie's ice show Thursday night.

Scores of the 275 persons injured in the 20-foot drop were hospitalized or under doctors' care. Thirty-two remained in serious condition. About 7,000 persons were in the audience when the section collapsed before the show started.

Within 18 hours after the mishap, a Baltimore couple filed suits amounting to $25,000 against Miss Henie, her husband, Winthrop Gardner Jr., and the ice revue.

Damage Suit Filed
Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Strumbrowski claimed they were injured in the collapse of the bleachers and were asking damages.

Three separate investigations were under way—by the state, the city and the management of the ice show. Public works director Paul Holland said they would go through the wreckage "timber by timber and joint by joint."

The section which collapsed was the last to be put up, and spectators said workmen still were hammering on it as they stepped up to their seats.

Mayor Blames Construction
Mayor Thomas D'alesandro said "filmy construction" was to blame. Buildings inspector Paul Cohen said "these rows of seats were in addition to the seats usually erected in haste (and) not properly braced and the uprights were not nailed securely."

Gov. Theodore R. McEldin termed it "an outrage."
Miss Henie, after conferring with her attorney and manager, called off Friday night's show. She said it probably would go on Saturday night after every seat had been checked and double-checked.

Boy Relates Beatings Administered by Dad

WEBSTER CITY (AP) — Robert Fischer, on trial for the rifle slaying of his father, said in his own defense Friday he was often beaten and cuffed and he felt his father didn't love him.

The 15-year-old youth described several beatings administered by his father, A. W. Fischer, 42, a school superintendent at Jewell. He said his father never took him fishing or hunting and never complimented or encouraged him.

Robert took the stand late Friday after his mother had been cross-examined by the prosecution. He will continue his testimony when the trial is resumed this morning without the usual 300 persons who have jammed the small room daily since the trial opened.

District Judge John M. Schaupp ruled Friday that no spectators would be allowed in court today because the jury of six men and six women had difficulty in leaving the court room when onlookers left their seats first. The jury had been instructed not to mingle with the crowd.

The youth testified one of the beatings he received was because he hadn't got water from across the street. It was explained that the Fischers often drew water from a well across the street from their Jewell home to make coffee, because it tasted better.

Acquittal Denied In Finnegan Case

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Federal Judge Rubey M. Hulien Friday denied a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal for James P. Finnegan, former collector of internal revenue.

The motion was made after the government ended its case. Defense attorney Harry C. Blanton then asked the jury in an opening statement to find Finnegan innocent on all five counts of a federal indictment.

He said Finnegan "didn't make a dime" illegally from his outside activities while he was collector. Judge Hulien ordered a recess until 10 a.m. Monday when the defense will present testimony.

Finnegan, who served as collector here for seven years, quit the job under fire last spring. The 51-year-old defendant sat calmly through most of the five-day-old trial.

23 Persons Indicted In Million Dollar National Dope Ring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Twenty-three persons were indicted Friday charged with conspiracy in a "multi-million dollar," nationwide heroin distributing racket, with a New York convict, Waxey Gordon, named as the source of supply. Bail was set at $10,000 for each.

Ernest Gentry, federal narcotics bureau supervisor in this district, said, "This is the biggest collection of important narcotics law violators ever included in one indictment in the United States."

This group, he added, has been operating in nine states — New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Missouri, Minnesota, Arizona, Nevada, California and Oregon.

At the time the indictment was voted, six of the defendants were in custody, either awaiting sentence or serving sentences for other narcotics law violations. The other 17 were still at large.

Gordon, 63, prohibition era "Beer Baron," with a criminal record going back to 1925, now is serving 25 years to life in Sing Sing. He was sent up last December after being caught peddling heroin. He was indicted as a conspirator.

CORRECTION

The woman student whom two men students attempted to throw into a shower in the Quadrangle Feb. 28 was a campaigner for the Pi Beta Phi candidate for Miss SUI, and not the candidate.

The victim of the prank was incorrectly identified in Friday's Daily Iowan.

2 Bandits Escape In $100,000 Holdup From Air Station

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP) — Two armed and masked bandits risked gunfire from three U.S. marine sentries and snatched $100,000 in cash Friday from the Naval Air Station Credit Union manager and an armed civilian guard.

The gunmen raced their car through the only entrance at more than 50 miles an hour and almost ran down one of the marine guards attempting to wave them to a stop.

It was the biggest New England robbery since the $1,219,000 Brink's armored car service hold-up in Boston on Jan. 17, 1950.

The credit union manager and the guard were about to carry the funds from their parked cars at the rear of the banking building when the bandits drove up and seized the money at gunpoint.

The bandits' car, stolen at a base parking lot from a civilian employee, later was found abandoned and ablaze about five miles from the air station.

This was the second robbery in little more than a year from the Credit Union, which banks savings and makes loans to civilian employees at the naval station. In February, 1951, burglars cracked a safe in the office and escaped with $40,000.

Joy Holds Tongue About Tokyo Visit

MUNSAN, Korea (SATURDAY) (AP) — Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief United Nations truce negotiator, returned Friday from Tokyo conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway but was non-committal on whether he had brought any new formula to ease the tight deadlock on the Korean armistice talks.

An Allied spokesman at this advanced UN headquarters would not comment on the Tokyo talks or the possibility Joy had received new instructions. Only developments in the conference tests at Panmunjon would disclose this.

During a one-hour, 58-minute session Friday, Chinese Red Col. Pu Shan, a Harvard-educated member of the Red negotiating team, sent truce supervision talks off on a new tangent. He proposed striking out specific references to Korea in a paragraph covering withdrawal of naval forces during a truce.

Allied staff officers quickly diagnosed this as a new Communist attempt to broaden the scope of the Korean armistice agreement to cover Formosa, the Nationalist Chinese-held island off the Chinese Red mainland.

Truman Leaves for Key West Vacation

Senate Unit 'Charmed' By New Price Czar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wonder is still mounting over the way Ellis Arnall, new boss of the office of price stabilization, charmed the senate banking committee while plugging for an extension of price controls.

Arnall's testimony resounded with "You're so right, Senator!" and "Senator, I tell you, sir, you speak the truth when you say that!"

Michael DiSalle, Arnall's predecessor, was a recognized expert in smooth and humorous chatter. But old-timers on Capitol Hill said Arnall beat just about anything they'd seen. They said he won a firm beachhead Thursday on his first invasion of often unfriendly congressional committees.

Even Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.), author of the Capehart amendment to the defense production act, was friendly and relaxed as Arnall's persuasive voice and airy manner called for a two-year extension of price controls—minus the Capehart amendment.

Arnall, fearful of giving offense, didn't mention the amendment by its customary name. He called it "Section 402 (D) (4)"—and Capehart roared with laughter.

But when Capehart left the hearing Arnall lapsed into the familiar phrasology. He called the amendment—which allows certain price increases to compensate for increases in cost—a "barriade" and said the "Capehart amendment" must be taken out of the law.

President Appeals For Aid Program; Leaves on Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Making a third appeal within 24 hours for his $7.9 billion Mutual Security program, President Truman told congress Friday that in Western Europe "the year 1952 may well be the critical time in the defense buildup."

KEY WEST, FLA. (AP) — President Truman returned to his favorite vacation retreat here Friday and began unpacking his loud sports shirts and swimming trunks.

The President left the Capital after being assured that his mother-in-law, who has been seriously ill, was improved enough to sit up in her Blair House sick-room.

Truman Denies Probers Government Records

52 Years Later — Aged Doctor Tells Crime

CHICAGO (AP) — Investigations showing non-workers on payrolls, double jobholding and other irregularities have prompted city officials to screen everyone in the city employ.

Friday an 80-year-old physician returned to the screening committee a questionnaire in which he admitted he once had been arrested.

Fifty-two years ago, he confessed, he had been arrested and fined $12 for riding his bicycle on a wooden sidewalk.

Taft Backers Sweep Kansas Convention

HAYS, KAN. (AP) — The backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft for the Republican presidential nomination smothered the "favorite son" movement for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Kansas' sixth district by making a clean sweep of the convention here Friday.

In the first delegate election in Eisenhower's home state, Taft forces elected two delegates pledged to the Ohio Senator and recommended another with the same labeling for the district's delegate-at-large.

The delegate-at-large recommendation must be ratified at the state convention in Topeka April 10, when Kansas' 22-member delegation will be completed.

While the three successful delegate candidates are publicly committed to Taft, the district convention unanimously adopted a resolution leaving them uninstructed.

Morris' Partner Says Tankers Took Oil to Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newbold Morris' law partner testified Friday that a foundation headed by Morris, the government's cleanup chief, had the power to halt a subsidiary company's oil trade with Red China, but did not exercise it.

The oil shipments have come under the fire of the senate's investigations subcommittee. Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) has denounced what he called "the blood-soaked profits" made in the traffic.

Witnesses have testified the shipments began in 1949 and continued into early 1950. They ceased before the fighting began in Korea.

Foundation Controlled Ships
Under questioning before the committee Friday, Houston H. Wasson acknowledged that the China International Foundation, Inc., could have stopped the shipments because it controlled the tankers operated by United Tanker corporation.

Wasson testified that his law firm has received about $158,500 in fees for representing two of the shipping firms involved in the oil trade.

The committee announced that Morris will be called to testify next Tuesday. Morris has denied any impropriety and expressed a wish for an opportunity to tell his side of the story.

Nixon Condemns Shipments
After listening to Wasson's testimony Friday, Sen. Richard Nixon (R-Calif.) commented that "the morality concerned... is about the equal of that of international pirates."

Wasson had testified previously that two of United's tankers had hauled oil to Red Chinese ports until a month before the outbreak of fighting in Korea. The Chinese Communists entered the war about five months later.

Morris is president of the China International foundation and Wasson is secretary and treasurer. It is described as a philanthropic organization financed by Nationalist Chinese money and dedicated principally to aiding the education of Chinese students in the United States.

Oil Strike Averted By Truman Proposal

DENVER (AP) — An oil and gas industry strike set for midnight Sunday was called off Friday when union officials agreed to a postponement proposed by President Truman.

The threatened strike had been called by 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions in support of their demand for a wage boost and other benefits for some 250,000 workers.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO union, was the last to agree to the postponement.

Independent and AFL unions had agreed to the postponement earlier Friday but Knight said he was sending out telegrams to locals of his union and the Wage Stabilization Board that the strike deadline still was in effect. He said he had had no official communication from the WSB regarding the postponement.

Later Friday he said his group had agreed to a postponement. He said the agreement came after consultation with the heads of the AFL and independent unions.

The strike, had it come off, would have interrupted production of fuel for industry and motorists and for some house heating.

The unions are asking a wage boost of 25 cents an hour, plus increased shift differentials and other improvements. The estimated average wage now is about $2.10 an hour.

Filing Deadline Monday For April Draft Test

SUI students eligible to take the draft deferment test here April 24 must file their applications by midnight Monday.

Application blanks may be obtained from any local draft board. This will be the last deferment test given during this academic year.

3 New Department Heads Approved by Board

Three new department heads, approved by the state board of education Friday, will assume their duties this spring and summer in SUI's departments of geology, biochemistry and obstetrics and gynecology.

The appointments are A. K. Miller, as head of geology; Henry C. Bull, professor and head of biochemistry, and Dr. John H. Randall, head of obstetrics and gynecology.

Miller, whose appointment is effective July 1, succeeds Prof. A. C. Trowbridge as head of geology. Miller has been on the geology faculty since 1931, when he came here as an assistant professor. He was named an associate professor in 1935 and to a full professorship in 1940.

Miller received his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from the University of Missouri in 1924 and 1925, and was awarded a doctor of philosophy degree from Yale university in 1930.

Trowbridge Head Since '34
Trowbridge, who reaches retirement age this year, has been head of geology since 1934. He came to the university faculty as professor of geology in 1911 following a year as instructor at the University of Chicago.

Bull, currently professor of chemistry at Northwestern university medical school, will succeed Henry A. Mattill as professor and head of biochemistry effective July 1.

A native of Stateburg, S.C., Bull received his bachelor of science degree from the University of South Carolina in 1927 and his master of science and his doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Minnesota in 1928 and 1930.

During the years from 1930-36, Bull held the positions of instructor and assistant professor in biochemistry at the University of Minnesota, going to Northwestern in 1936 as an assistant professor of chemistry. He was named an associate professor there in 1939 and professor in 1944.

Mattill Came to SUI in '27
Mattill, who also reaches the retirement age this year, came to the university as professor and head of biochemistry in 1927. Prior to that time he held the positions of professor of physiology and biochemistry at the University of Utah; assistant professor of nutrition at the University of California, and assistant professor and associate professor at the University of Rochester.

Randall, who succeeds Dr. E. D. Plass as head of obstetrics and gynecology, has been at the university since he received his doctor of medicine degree here in 1928, except for a year's post-graduate work in Vienna, Austria in 1930. He successively held the positions of interne, resident, assistant professor, associate professor and professor, a position to which he was named in 1944.

Randall to Assume Duties April 1
He became acting head of obstetrics and gynecology in 1950 when Dr. Plass relinquished his duties because of ill health. He will assume his duties as head of the department on April 1.

Plass, now on a leave of absence, was professor and head of the department of obstetrics and gynecology since coming to the university in 1926. He was on the faculty of Johns Hopkins university medical school from 1912-22, and was obstetrician-in-chief at Henry Ford hospital in Detroit from 1922-26.

7 Others Approved
The board of education also approved the following appointments:

1. Dr. Charles D. May as head of the department of pediatrics succeeding Dr. P. C. Jeans, who reaches retirement age this year.

2. Dr. Kenneth R. Cross as clinical associate professor in the department of pathology. This appointment is in connection with his appointment as chief of pathology in the Veterans hospital here.

3. Dr. Bernard I. Lewis as assistant professor of internal medicine.

4. Dr. Charles B. Pittinger as associate in pharmacology and surgery, effective July 1. He is now a resident in anesthesiology.

5. Dr. Duane W. Lovett as clinical professor in oral diagnosis, roentgenology and infirmary practice. This appointment is in connection with his appointment to the staff of the Veterans hospital as chief of dental service.

Accuses Some Senators of Playing Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman Friday barred any "dragnet" grappling for evidence of corruption in federal agencies.

And he accused some senators of trying to hold onto "political patronage" plums at the expense of his plan to revamp the internal revenue bureau.

Just before leaving for a vacation at Key West, Fla., the President sent two letters to Capitol Hill in which he:

1. Disclosed he had ordered all government agencies to refuse a house subcommittee's request for data on cases they have sent to the justice department for prosecution. The subcommittee has opened an investigation into the justice department, which has been charged among other things with laxity in pushing prosecutions of tax law violators. Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath has already refused to supply a long list of data demanded by the subcommittee, and Truman backed McGrath up Friday with his blast against "dragnet" methods.

2. Accused critics of his internal revenue reorganization plan of seeking to "play politics" with the nation's tax-collecting system and of being "more interested in their political patronage" than in clean government.

Collectors Under Civil Service
The reorganization plan would, among other changes, abolish the system under which the jobs of collectors of internal revenue are political plums. Instead most of the tax bureau's officials would be put under civil service.

Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.), one of the leading foes of the President's plan, took the senate floor to reply angrily to Truman late Friday. He declared the President was trying "to remove the issue of corruption from the 1952 campaign."

George said the President, in his latest statement, "confesses that he has not been able to appoint clean, efficient and honest collectors of internal revenue."

Resolution to be Voted On
The Georgian is author of a resolution which would reject the internal revenue reorganization plan. A vote is due next week.

Truman had scarcely left Washington when the White House disclosed his order backing McGrath's shutdown on information sought by a house subcommittee headed by Rep. Frank Chelf (D-Ky.).

The committee had requested a list of all cases over the last six years in which the justice department had either failed to prosecute, delayed action or sent the cases back to the agency which originally recommended action.

In reply, the department said Wednesday that would mean digging into half a million cases. It turned down the request with an assertion that the executive branch of government is "independent" of congress, and said the committee was going beyond its authority.

Chelf said the President's action will "effect or alter" plans to complete his group's inquiry within six months, but he said "I am not falling out with him because I know that he has done what he thinks is right."

Grand Jury Hits Boxing, Asks Anti-Trust Action

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal grand jury investigating boxing on a nation-wide scale recommended Friday that the government take anti-trust action to end "restraints of trade in the promotion and broadcasting of championship fights."

The special body, which has been probing ring practices since Oct. 8, made the recommendation in a short presentation to Federal Judge William Bondy.

Boxing thus became the third major sport to be threatened with an anti-trust suit since the war.

1st Baseball, Then Football
Baseball's reserve clause was challenged by the famous Danny Gardella suit, which never reached the courts. An anti-trust suit is now pending against the National Football league for its restriction of television on professional games.

No specific organizations were mentioned in Friday's presentation but the International Boxing Club, which controls the sport in the big arenas of New York, Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis, took cognizance of the action.

Jim Norris, IBC president, declined comment until he could examine the jury's recommendations.

Contracts Cost Millions

The IBC has contracts, estimated to run more than a million dollars, for broadcasts of Wednesday and Friday night fights.

The Wednesday fights are broadcast and televised by Columbia Broadcasting System under the sponsorship of a beer company. Friday night fights at Madison Square Garden are broadcast by American Broadcasting company and televised by National Broadcasting company under the sponsorship of a razor blade company.

The broadcasting companies and the fight sponsors declined immediate comment on the grand jury recommendation.

The jury questioned about 30 witnesses, including Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson, many other fighters and managers.

It is known that the group made a thorough study of supposedly exclusive contracts held by the IBC for the services of various champions.

John Bright Signs With Canada Team For $12,000, Bonus

DES MOINES (AP)—John Bright, outstanding Drake half-back, said Friday he had signed a contract to play professional football with the Calgary Stampeders of the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union.

Bright, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and the No. 1 draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National league, declined to reveal terms of the contract. It was reported here, however, that Bright was to receive $12,000 a year and a $2,000 bonus.

Bright, holder of the all-time college total offense record, said that he had never received a definite offer from the Philadelphia club.

After being contacted by C. E. Chesher, president of the Calgary team, Bright said he wired the Eagles Tuesday that he wanted a definite and immediate bid and that he was considering other offers.

The Drake star also had been contacted by the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Canada league.

This brought no bid from the Eagles, Bright said, only a telegram stating they did not want to impair his amateur ranking until after the Olympics. Bright had been reported in January as a possible Olympic decathlon performer.

Bright said Friday he felt he was under no obligation to the Eagles since they had not made him any specific offer since obtaining him in the draft in January.

Will Arrive In Iowa City About April 1

The nomination of Henry (Whitey) Piro as end coach at Iowa has been approved by the state board of education, it was announced Friday.

Piro, at present end coach at the University of Utah, is in the process of winding up his work there and is expected to arrive in Iowa City about April 1. Spring practice is now scheduled to start April 15.

Piro, 34 years old, has been at Utah since 1949. Before that he served as end coach at Syracuse in 1942 and at The Citadel, Charleston, S.C., from 1946 through 1948.

He graduated from Syracuse in 1941 with a B.S. degree in business education. He was a varsity end for three years at Syracuse under Ossie Solem, who coached Iowa teams in the mid-1930's.

Piro played one year of professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1942, leaving to take the Syracuse job. While in the air force, he played on and helped coach the third air force's grid team.

Piro served at Utah under the regimes of Ike Armstrong, now athletic director at Minnesota, and Jack Curtice.

The appointment brings to four the number of assistants on Coach Forest Evashevski's staff. Previously hired were Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, Bob Flora, and Wally Schwank. It has been indicated that there is one more vacancy, either freshman or junior varsity coach, depending on Schwank's status.

Ohio State Controls Big Ten Swim Easily, Smashes 4 Records

EAST LANSING, MICH. (AP)—Ohio State ran away with five of the six final events and racked up 70 points to 32 for second place Michigan State as the Buckeyes surged toward their fourth consecutive Big Ten swimming championship here Friday night.

The classy field pushed Ohio State to new Big Ten records in four of the five events. The only place the Buckeyes didn't set a new record was in the one meter diving—where none exists.

Michigan, in third place with 29 points, was the only school to break the Buckeye monopoly. Michigan's Joan Davies won the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:15.3 and in doing so set another new conference mark as he bettered the old record of 2:16.4 by Keith Carter of Purdue in 1948.

Ohio State picked up a bundle of points by sweeping the first three places in the one meter diving.

The Buckeyes gathered more points by edging out Michigan State in the 400-yard free style relay. The Ohio combination was timed in 3:25.4.

This bettered the old Big Ten mark of 3:27.5 set by an Ohio State team last year.

Other teams gathering points were Iowa, 14; Northwestern, 10; Purdue, 8; Indiana, 4; Minnesota, 4; Illinois, 2, and Wisconsin, 2.

2 Magazines Place Darling On 1st Teams

Chuck Darling was placed on two more major all-America basketball teams Friday, those of Collier's and Look magazines, and it was announced that the big Iowa center was runnerup to Dick Great of Duke for the United Press player of the year award.

Clyde Lovellette, huge Kansas center, who has been the top choice of several polls, was placed on Look's second team, thus leaving only Darling and Great with perfect records on the four major teams picked. In addition to the magazines, the Associated Press and United Press had previously announced their selections.

Clifton Gets Look Votes
Bob Clifton of Iowa also received recognition on the Look list, taking third team honors. Three Big Ten guards were picked in that poll, Rod Fletcher of Illinois on the first team, Ab Nicholas of Wisconsin on the second, and Clifton.

Look's first team selections, in addition to Darling, Fletcher, and Great, are Mark Workman of West Virginia and Walter Dukes of Seton Hall.

Second team selections include Bob Houbregs of Washington, Don Meineke of Dayton, Lovellette, Glen Smith of Utah and Nicholas.

Big Ten Well Regarded
Penn's Ernie Beck, Johnny O'Brien of Seattle, Dick Knostman of Kansas State, Clifton and Duquesne's Jim Tucker made up the third squad.

The Collier's first team choices are Darling, Lovellette, Great, Cliff Hagan of Kentucky and Smith. On the second team are Fletcher, Houbregs, Workman, Bob Zawoluk of St. John's and Larry Hennessy of Villanova.

Look's teams were selected by a poll of 435 sports writers and radio and television announcers. Collier's took the votes of 200 members of the National Association of Basketball Coaches for its selections.

Basketball with No Ball

Clinton, Davenport Win District Titles

St. Ambrose had defending state basketball champion Davenport poised for a knockout blow in the district tournament at the field house Friday night but couldn't muster enough strength in the second half to deliver it as the Blue Devils won, 50-47.

Clinton defeated City high, 51-48, in the first game to advance along with Davenport into next week's AA sub-state tournament.

It appeared at halftime of the Davenport-St. Ambrose game that Iowa would be assured a new champion in one of the season's major upsets. St. Ambrose was leading, 33-22, and had Davenport tottering.

But the Blue Devils, led by center Carl Widseth and forward Frank Sebott, came back with a rush in the third period.

Widseth led Davenport with 18 points. John Kelso was high for St. Ambrose with 15.

In the City high-Clinton game much the same situation existed. The Little Hawks were leading by nine points at the half but couldn't check Clinton in the last two periods. Jim Freeman led Iowa City's scoring with 20 points.

Illinois Leads Big Ten Track, Iowa Ranks 4th

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP)—Heavily-favored Illinois topped qualifiers in the Big Ten indoor track and field preliminaries Friday night by winning 12 places while Michigan captured eight.

The finals will be held at the University of Illinois army club this afternoon with Illinois shooting for its second successive indoor crown.

Indiana and Michigan State each took six places for today's competition which, in addition to finals, includes semi-finals in the 70-yard high hurdles and 60-yard dash.

Hawks Place 5
Wisconsin and Iowa won five places followed by Purdue with four. Ohio State and Northwestern, with two each and Minnesota with one.

Iowa qualifiers are Glen Hessel, time and Ira Murchison in the 60-yard dash, Stan Levison in the broad jump, Gary Scott in the 440-yard dash and Duwayne Dietz in the 70-yard low hurdles.

Defending champion Joe Gonzalez of Illinois and his No. 1 challenger, Jim Golliday of Northwestern, led 60-yard dash qualifiers.

Both speedsters stepped the distance in .063 to top a field of 11 qualifiers entering today's semi-finals of the event.

Truex Sidelined
The time was two-tenths of a second off the conference record. Sophomore William Williams of Illinois and freshman Ira Murchison of Iowa won their sprint heats in .064.

Ohio State's Len Truex, defending mile and 880-yard champion, did not make the trip to the big indoor carnival. He is bedded down with mumps at Columbus.

Heading 12 qualifiers for today's semi-finals of the 70-yard high hurdles was Joel McNulty, an Illinois junior, who turned in .088, four-tenths of a second shy of record time.

More Gadgets Now — Robots Threaten Baseball

TAMPA, FLA. (AP)—Any day now we can expect a robot to go clanking out to shortstop and field the position perfectly, barring a short circuit or a power failure.

The mechanical age really is catching up to baseball, with every training camp equipped with more gadgets than a modern kitchen. The clubs don't need trainers any more; they need engineers.

We were hunting for Eddie Stanky in the Cardinal clubhouse at St. Petersburg. We finally found him, sitting placidly in a corner puffing a pipe and looking very much like a mischievous little boy. Was he resting? Of course not. He was exercising.

Why Run?
He was slowly rolling the soles of his stockinged feet over two round balls which were violently agitated by some electrical impulses, the agitation shaking Eddie's leg muscles like jelly and making him tttalk lllike tthis. Why go out under the hot sun and gallop around when you can get the same results without moving?

Over at Bradenton Paul Waner has set up a pitching machine at the Braves' camp and is instructing Tommy Holmes' crew in the art of hitting a baseball. We understand he has several such machines set up along Florida roadides to give Gus Fan a chance to slug a ball, and that he is his own best customer. He swings until his hands are blistered.

He was telling Sibby Sisti how to hit, and Sisti asked him why he hadn't told him those things long ago, when Paul was still playing.

Just Learning
"To tell the truth," Big Poison replied, "I never thought about how to hit a baseball then. I'm just beginning to make a study of it now."

He made only 3,000-plus hits during his career, *and hadn't started to learn yet!

Grapefruit League Opens Play Today

The grapefruit league swings into action today as major league clubs begin their first 1952 competition against each other.

For the next 37 days, until the National and American leagues open their seasons April 15, exhibitions are on schedule every day as the 16 major league clubs either play one another or some minor league team.

The opening grapefruit schedule: Florida — New York (A) vs. St. Louis (N) at St. Petersburg; Cincinnati (N) vs. Boston (A) at Sarasota; Detroit (A) vs. Philadelphia (N) at Clearwater; Philadelphia (A) vs. Washington (A) at Orlando; and Boston (N) vs. Brooklyn (N) at Miami.

California — Chicago (N) vs. Chicago (A) at Pasadena; Pittsburgh (N) vs. St. Louis (A) at Burbank.

Arizona — New York (N) vs. Cleveland (A) at Tucson; Chicago (N) "B" vs. Cleveland (A) "B" at Mesa.

PCL To Relax Ban On Big League Tilts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Clarence Rowland of the Pacific Coast league intimated Friday that the league might relax its ban on major league clubs playing each other in Coast league parks next year.

But, in a lengthy prepared statement, Rowland, thinking of the revenue from exhibitions, said: "However, if it would embarrass the clubs from the American and National leagues to play our clubs, we feel sure the directors (of the PCL) are broadminded. They wouldn't want to do anything to cause this embarrassment, even though they did vote unanimously against it."

9 Thoroughbreds Lost in Stable Fire

PLEASANTON, CALIF. (AP)—At least nine thoroughbred race horses were lost and $50,000 damage was caused in a stable fire Thursday night at the Alameda county fair grounds. Cause of the blaze was unknown.

It appeared that the horse owner hardest hit was Henry J. Monaghan, of Denver, who believes six of his thoroughbreds were lost.

Monaghan figured the nine destroyed had an aggregate value of approximately $65,000.

The fire raged through a barn where some 60 horses were stabled to await opening of the spring meet at Golden Gate Fields in Albany March 19. Firemen controlled the blaze in an hour.

Limon to Appear Here

Broadway Dancer, Choreographer, Teacher To Perform Concert in Macbride Monday

Jose Limon, who will perform at a concert with his dance troupe at Macbride Auditorium at 8 p.m. Monday, is considered one of America's most distinguished dancers and choreographers.

While still a studio beginner, his physique and strength were "discovered" by agents and he was given roles in such Broadway shows as "Lysistrata," "Americana," and "As Thousands Cheer." He later did the choreography for "Flying Colors," "Roberta," "Keep Off the Grass," and "I'd Rather Be Right."

In 1937, the Bennington School of Dance offered Limon a summer fellowship for the creation of an original dance work. At the Bennington Festival, he presented his solo suite, "Dansas Mexicanas," which still ranks as one of the finest works in the Limon repertory.

This was acclaimed by the press, who agreed that he had "endless resources both of choreographic power and dramatic expression."

In 1941-42, Limon returned to New York as guest artist of the opera at the Studio Theater, assuming leading roles in many compositions. At this time he also composed and performed a long solo to Bach's "Chaconne in D Minor for unaccompanied violin."

In spite of this intense concert schedule, Limon was also appearing on Broadway in the leading dance role of Rosalinda. In March, 1943, he was inducted into the army and spent 32 months double-figuring himself as both soldier and dancer.

While stationed at Camp Lee, Va., he won nationwide acclaim for a dance-drama he directed entitled "We Speak For Ourselves."

Since his discharge from the army, Limon has taught at Bennington and Sarah Lawrence college, New York university, Columbia university, the University of California and Connecticut colleges.

Last year, Limon received an invitation from the government of Mexico to spend several months with his company to produce new works at the Palacio de Bellas Artes.

So successful was the presentation of his new works there that he has achieved the stature of a MOUNTAINEER TRAVELOGUE

The Iowa Mountaineer travelogue by Comdr. Donald B. MacMillan, veteran Arctic explorer, will be presented at 8 p.m. Sunday in Macbride auditorium.

Tickets may be purchased by the public for 80 cents at the door.

national hero and has been invited to spend several months in Mexico each year to continue work at the National Academy of Dance.

Limon's company includes guest artist Pauline Koner, former Jooss Ballet star Lucas Hoving, Betty Jones, Ruth Currier, and concert pianist Simon Sadoff, who is musical director of the company.

The artistic director is Doris Humphrey.

Tickets are on sale for the concert for $1 at the Union desk and Whetstone's drug store. ID cards are not good for admission. Admission to the concert will be limited to 1,000.

The 26-year-old Sebring gave them to burn-haired Linda Aaron, a pretty stenographer. He also gave her a cigarette lighter. That was when Bill had romantic ideas — ideas Linda later squelched.

"I guess she just wasn't ready for marriage," Sebring sadly informed Magistrate Corning McKenney. "Really I'd like to get that stuff back from her."

"I gave it to her and I want it back," Magistrate McKenney asked Miss Aaron how she felt about it.

"Well," the 23-year-old woman replied, "I'd like to keep the cigarette lighter, your honor, just as a token of fond recollection. But if he wants the panties back, I'll give them to him. I didn't wear the panties."

Case closed, ruled McKenney.

World Government Discussion Sunday In Senate Chamber

"Why World Government?" is the topic of a public forum, sponsored by the SUI and Johnson county chapters of the United World Federalists to be held Sunday at 3 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The Rev. L. L. Dunnington, Atty. William L. Meardon, Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism; David M. Stanley, L3, Iowa City, and Atty. J. Newman Toomey are members of the panel discussing the topic.

Meardon will direct questions to the panel and Toomey will act as moderator. Meardon's questions will include: Is a world government possible at all? How would a world government prevent another Korea? Wouldn't a world government provoke Russia to war? and What happens if Russia won't join?

The forum culminates World Government week in Iowa City. There is no admission charge for the panel and the public is invited.

Man Loses Girl — She Returns Lace Panties

NEW YORK (AP) — Advertising salesman William Sebring's love got away Friday. But he hung onto the bait—three pairs of black lace panties, worth $25 apiece on Fifth Avenue.

The 26-year-old Sebring gave them to burn-haired Linda Aaron, a pretty stenographer. He also gave her a cigarette lighter. That was when Bill had romantic ideas — ideas Linda later squelched.

"I guess she just wasn't ready for marriage," Sebring sadly informed Magistrate Corning McKenney. "Really I'd like to get that stuff back from her."

2 New Quakes Hit Japan, 1 Dead

TOKYO (SATURDAY) (AP) — Two earthquakes, one light and one fairly heavy, shook the area northwest of Tokyo Friday, killing one Japanese, injuring seven, and causing damage to buildings and rail lines.

The Japanese government meanwhile listed the toll of Tuesday's heavy quake and tidal waves on Hokkaido island in northern Japan as 27 dead, 570 injured and 3,353 homes wrecked.

The returns were in combat with the first marine division and the first marine air wing. Iowans on the passenger list are all marines.

McCarthy Invited to Challenge Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decision was made Friday to seek a senate showdown on Sen. Joe McCarthy's challenge of the authority of a subcommittee which has been inquiring into his fitness to serve in congress.

The rules committee voted 8 to 3 to seek a vote within a reasonable time, which was not specified. Under the terms of a resolution the committee approved, McCarthy will be invited to force the issue; if he does not, the committee itself will do so.

Senator William Benton (D-Conn.) is seeking to have McCarthy (R-Wis.) ousted from congress. A rules subcommittee for some six months has been conducting a preliminary investigation.

McCarthy has questioned the jurisdiction of the subcommittee and, the group says, has "impugned the integrity" of its members.

Last Wednesday the subcommittee voted 4 to 1 to ask the senate for a vote of confidence. The full rules committee instructed Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) to ask McCarthy to raise a question of the subcommittee's jurisdiction by offering on the senate floor a motion to discharge the committee from further consideration of Benton's resolution.

If McCarthy does not do so within a period agreed upon by him and Hayden, the committee itself will do so. The idea, the committee said, is "for the purpose of affirming the jurisdiction of the subcommittee and the integrity of its members."

Sen. Gillette (D-Ia.), who heads the subcommittee, has said that senate defeat of a discharge motion would be in effect a vote of confidence in the group and a direction to continue its inquiry.

FBI Arrests Pair In Army Burglary

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI Friday announced the arrest of an army sergeant and a civilian kinsman for the $48,000 burglary of a post exchange safe at Ft. Belvoir, Va., on Feb. 3.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the two men were taken into custody at Belvoir, a military reservation near Washington, late Friday afternoon and were ordered taken before a U.S. commissioner at Alexandria, Va.

The two men were named as army sergeant Richard Charles Klow, 33, and his brother-in-law, Billy Gene Mobley, 22, both of Alexandria.

Hoover said they were arrested after an extensive joint investigation by FBI agents and army officials at Ft. Belvoir.

5 Run in Monday's School Election

Voters go to the polls here Monday to elect two members to the Iowa City school board. Five candidates are seeking the positions, both three-year terms.

Two candidates, Alva B. Oathout and Irving B. Weber, are finishing first terms on the board. The other three candidates are Prof. Karl Kammermeyer, head of the chemical engineering department; Dale Welt, local real estate dealer, and the Rev. Alfred J. N. Henriksen, pastor of the Unitarian church.

Committee Selected Candidates
All five of the candidates were selected by the Iowa City school board election bipartisan committee.

Polling places for the election will be at the Hawkeye Awning company, 29 W. College st., and at the Community building.

Oathout, operator of Oathout funeral home, and chairman of the board, has said his primary reason for seeking reelection, was to aid in the selection of a replacement for Iver A. Opstad, who will retire at the end of the school year.

Oathout, 47, has been in business here since 1927. He and his family live at 627 Bradley st.

Weber, 51, who has lived in Iowa City all his life, is vice-president and manager of the Sidwell Ice Cream company, and lives at 421 Melrose court.

SUI Professor Runs
Kammermeyer, a native of Germany, has been in this country 25 years. He came to Iowa City from Baltimore in 1949. He and his family live at 116 Ferson ave.

The Rev. Mr. Henriksen, has been pastor of the Unitarian church since June, 1951, coming to Iowa City from Augusta, Maine. He spent three summers doing educational and recreational work in camps for high school children. He was active in initiating a citizens' committee for education in Maine. He and his family live at 1033 Woodlawn.

Welt, 602 Fifth ave., is an SUI graduate and has been in Iowa City since 1927.

Ike Arrives in Paris After Inspection Tour

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower returned Friday from his four-day inspection flight to Greece and Turkey. He said he found "wonderful spirit and morale" in those newest members of the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

The supreme commander's Constellation landed at Orley Field after a flight from Naples, where Eisenhower conferred with his southern front commander, U.S. Adm. Robert B. Carney.

Guilty Verdict Marks End of First Mock Trial

(Editor's note: This is one of a series of mock trials being held at the college of law. The case is a fictitious one constructed to give law students courtroom experience. The names of the witnesses used at the trial and in this story are fictitious. The jury is made up of students. Atty. Albert Habbah and George McBurney are law students.)

Joseph Crosby was found guilty of manslaughter in law college court Friday afternoon. The jury which had earlier polled 7-5 in favor of the charge returned with a unanimous decision at 4:50 p.m.

The state concluded its case early in the afternoon after testimony from two physicians of the University hospitals.

Pathologist Takes Stand
The first was Dr. William Miller, pathologist who performed the autopsy on the body of the deceased. He established before the court that the "death or Peter-son could not be attributed to natural causes."

Dr. Robert Brandon, SUI physician who said he frequently takes blood tests for the state highway patrol, followed Miller to the stand. He said that he had given Crosby by a blood test after the accident and had found that the defendant was intoxicated.

He also testified that at the time he had questioned the defendant as to whether or not he was in the care of a doctor, if he had diabetes, or was taking any medicine. Miller said the defendant gave a negative answer to all three questions.

The state rested its case. Defense asked for dismissal and was refused.

Atty. George McBurney opened the case for the defense by calling Pat Jones, operator of the tavern where the defendant was allegedly drinking the night of the accident.

Jones Fires Johnson
Jones told the court that he had discharged his bartender Dale Johnson at midnight the day of the accident.

(Johnson testified Thursday that Crosby was intoxicated on the night of the accident.)

He said Johnson had been

Audience Misinterprets —

3 Hours of Potpourri

— 'Great God Brown' —

By JIM GOLTZ

"The Great God Brown" opened Friday night to an audience of normal theatre-goers, more than half of which must have misinterpreted Eugene O'Neill's cynically "modern" cycle of life and death.

The play symbolizes the struggle between materialism and spiritualism, or man seeking God and man fleeing God. One man has found himself but is unable to admit it, while the other finds himself only in death. Both are self-destructed through frustration and disillusionment.

As interpreted by the University theatre, the dividing-line between realism and surrealism is not clearly defined. It is too difficult to discern between the characters' reality and imagination.

'One Man Show'

John Harkins makes an adequate transition between a fumbling high school senior to a middle-aged businessman who attempts to absorb himself in the soul of his deceased rival.

In the process, he is forced to become two people at the same time, and amidst the confusion of mask-changing and slam-bang entrances and exits, almost seemed to be doing a "one-man" show.

By the time he got around to being shot in the fourth act, one wondered why he hadn't collapsed from exhaustion in the prologue. Mary Van Fleet, in the role of "Margaret," might have been doing a take-off on "Rebecca, of Sunnybrook Farm."

Miss Van Fleet is a talented actress, a fact proven by her previous appearances for the University theatre, but this talent is obvious only in her opening scenes when she appears as a young girl, hopelessly infatuated with the mystery and glamour of romance.

Wife-Part Is Monotonous

The role of a neglected wife does not allow much room for interpretation, but this chin-up, stout-hearted, and fight-back-the-tears routine becomes monotonous after the fifth round.

Neighbors, who complained about her home, said she roams the streets of upper Manhattan in the wee hours of the morning, scrounging bones for her dogs from garbage cans.

On these nocturnal wanderings, she has an escort of four large dogs on rope leashes.

Friday windows of the house were cracked or broken, with wads of paper stuffed in the holes. Summer screens still were on the upper windows.

Dirt crusted the windows. Behind them flapped shredded and tattered curtains and blinds worn away to ribbons.

From the door, Patrolmen Arnold Smith and Thomas Doyle saw a litter of boxes, crates, newspapers, rubbish and refuse.

Dogs barked and snarled. Cats meowed in the background.

Miss Moesch said she retired as a high school teacher in 1941. Apparently, she receives a pension.

The patrolmen tried to talk her out of some of the animals. She finally gave up four — a boxer, great dane, spitz and a mongrel.

"I don't want my dogs hurt," she admonished the cops as she surrendered the four.

Why World Government?

Doubtless some of your friends have asked you this question recently. Perhaps you have seriously pondered this question yourself. Both you and your friends can gain some insight into this question very soon.

Sunday, March 9th is the day. On this day a very capable group of men from Iowa City will discuss the reasons why we should have World Federation.

This group will include:

Grand Jury Accuses Illinois Health Official In Horsemeat Scandal

CHICAGO (AP) — A grand jury investigating illegal horse meat sales Friday reportedly accused Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Chicago's top health officer, of improper conduct in office and failure to perform his duties.

Bundesen is president of the Chicago Board of Health, a syndicated health columnist, a nationally known authority on baby care and once an unsuccessful candidate for governor of Illinois.

He was reportedly named in a Cook county grand jury true bill accusing him of malfeasance and nonfeasance.

Maximum penalty, if convicted, would be $20,000 in fines and removal from office.

Racketeers Got Huge Profits
Investigators charge that racketeers reaped huge profits by selling from 20 to 25 million pounds of horse meat as hamburger in Chicago in 1950 and 1951.

The horse meat was ground up and mixed with beef and sold for human consumption at OPS ceiling prices for hamburger.

Bundesen's name figured in several phases of the investigation.

Hermann Was Offered
Gustav Hermann, who resigned as chief food inspector for the board of health, reportedly testified before the grand jury that four board inspectors offered him bribes to ignore illegal horse meat sales.

Hermann was reported to have said he spurned the propositions, reported the incidents to Bundesen and to have claimed that Bundesen took no action.

The state's attorney's office said it suspected that health department records figuring in the investigation were altered when returned to the department at the end of each day. It refused then to return the records. Bundesen threatened to sue for return of the records but took no action.

Deadline for Displaying 1952 Plates Is March 21
DES MOINES (AP) — The state safety department said Friday it will ask law enforcement officers to pick up all Iowa motorists who do not display a 1952 license plate on their cars and trucks by March 21.

Ordinarily the pickup order goes out earlier, but it was delayed this year because of the delay in issuing licenses in Polk county.

The 1952 licenses went on sale in all counties last Dec. 1.

Legislator Charges Public Relations Figures Inadequate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Edward Hebert (D-La.) suggested Friday that the Pentagon "re-examine its conscience and confess a few more names" on its roster of public relations officials.

The Louisiana legislator said the Pentagon admits to only 72 P.R. workers in the department of defense—and he said that figure is at least 211 on the shy side.

Hebert accused the Pentagon of giving his house armed services subcommittee an "inadequate and incomplete list of officers and civilians engaged in public relations work" in reply to the house group's request for that information.

Deputy Secretary of Defense William C. Foster promptly reported that the mixup was caused by a misunderstanding between the Pentagon and the subcommittee as to just who is a P.R. officer.

Foster said if Hebert wants a list of those in P.R. work, he'll be happy to supply it.

Hebert has demanded a "thorough exploration" of the Pentagon staff of "alibi artists, propagandists and phrase makers" whom he has accused of pouring out reams of publicity designed to hoodwink American taxpayers.

Hebert said he realizes public relations officials are necessary, but he complained they "perjure their talents" by trying to discredit the subcommittee's investigation into alleged waste in military buying practices.
