

8 Teams Open First Round Play Of 1952 State Tourney Today

The boys' state basketball tournament, an event which annually drives otherwise normal citizens a little crazy and attracts thousands of persons here from all over Iowa, opens this afternoon in the field house.

Wales-Lincoln, a class B team from western Iowa, and AA Spencer start the proceedings at 1:30 p.m. Following that Roland plays Readlyn, Marion opposes Ogden and Keokuk meets Hull to complete the first day.

Then on Wednesday it's Grundy Center vs. Glenwood, Dubuque vs. Dinsdale, Davenport vs. Danville and Cherokee vs. Ames.

Davenport As Usual

As has been the case for recent years, the big question is who can stop Davenport. A majority of participating coaches polled Monday answered that no one could beat the Blue Devils who are bidding for an unprecedented third straight title.

A few others didn't think that Davenport should be regarded as unbeatable but also admitted that the Blue Devils would be tough to eliminate.

That seemed to sum up other

Read The Iowan's Tourney Supplement

thought on the eve of the tournament. Once again it's to be Davenport against the field.

In this field are 15 other teams who have battled their way in some cases through as many as six tournament games. Some of the class AA entrants had to win only three games for admittance but in the process sidelined some strong teams.

Town Will Be Packed

Regardless of the trend of the tournament, the town will be clogged all week with adults and high schoolers alike who come to see the games first of all but also to sample the holiday atmosphere. All hotel rooms have been reserved for weeks and finding a place to eat down town will be a feat. Traffic, both automobile and pedestrian, will be heavy.

Parking regulations have been set up to ease the traffic burden around the field house but even so there will be congestion. All of these things, plus the unbridled enthusiasm of the crowds, go into making the state tournament one of the year's biggest events.

The climax will come Saturday night when the best team in the state is determined and also the second, third and fourth best.

Before that Saturday night climax, 14 games will be played.

Few Challengers Present

Experts feel that the strongest challengers to Davenport's supremacy probably will be Keokuk, Roland, Marion, Grundy Center and Dubuque. Two of these teams — Keokuk and Roland — were finalists last year.

Roland is probably the most publicized B team in the state since Diagonal was making an almost annual challenge. Roland was the team that came to the tournament without much publicity and then took everybody's fancy and almost the championship before being halted by Davenport.

In the march to the championship games, Roland whipped Hull — another repeater this year — and then disposed of West Waterloo and East Des Moines.

This season Roland has lost only one game and may get another crack at the Blue Devils.

Grundy Center brings the only perfect record into the tournament. The team has won 24 straight.

Keokuk has a 23-2 record and is led by all-stater Bill Logan. In last year's tournament, Logan set a tournament scoring record of 86 points in four games.

Marion, at 23-1, meets Ogden in the first round. Hugh Leffingwell, Marion forward, is averaging 27 points a game. Dubuque took a pair of one point decisions in the sub-state tournament at Waterloo to qualify.

Whatever the outcome of the tournament, it should be interesting.

Tourney Events . .

Iowans who attend the basketball tournament finals Saturday have a full day's activities in store for them as guests of SUI.

While awaiting the evening games, visitors may take part in a number of events scheduled for the morning and afternoon. The Iowa Memorial Union building will be the gathering point for the fans and will serve as "entertainment headquarters."

Open house in the college of engineering will feature demonstrations of a geiger counter, wind tunnel, electronic watch-timing device and other laboratory equipment.

Guided tours of radio station WSUI, the school of fine arts, University theatre and Currier hall are also planned. Other sightseers will have an opportunity to visit the university museum, Old Capitol and other campus buildings.

Most activities will shift to the Union in the afternoon, where arrangements have been made for an afternoon of dancing, movies, television, a ping-pong tournament and bridge. Radio station KXIC's "Rumpus Room" program will be broadcast from the Union from 2-4:30 p.m., and tournament guests are invited to listen and dance.

On Friday, the pool in the field house will be open from 1-3 p.m. for the convenience of the visitors. A gymnastic exhibition is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Easter Suspension Of No-Cut Rule Gets OK Of Deans

The no-cut rule has been suspended for Easter vacation—and perhaps permanently. And again it's up to the students.

This note of optimism came Monday from liberal arts Dean Dewey B. Stuit, who said, "We will suspend the no-cut rule for the Easter vacation and if class cuts are not excessive, we might feel inclined to suspend permanently the no-cut rule."

Students will have an opportunity to make the "third time a charm" following earlier tests at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Previous Tests 'Inconclusive'

The deans' committee investigating attendance found those tests "inconclusive."

Instructors did two things when making up attendance reports: first, they listed the names of all those absent, and second, indicated the average rate of absences for other days in the semester.

These reports were then tabulated in the registrar's office.

Pre-Christmas Cuts Heavy

On the basis of these reports, Stuit said absences before and after Thanksgiving, and after Christmas, were not excessive, but they were excessive before Christmas.

He said he hopes the Easter vacation will be a final criterion by which to measure fairly the success of suspending the no-cut rule.

That rule requires class attendance 24 hours before and after regularly scheduled holidays. Penalty for failure to comply with the rule heretofore has been the addition of one hour per cut to the student's graduation requirements.

Political Poll To Highlight SUI Elections

The annual all-campus elections April 2 will feature a straw vote to determine student preference in the coming presidential election.

The Young Republicans and Young Democrats will each choose five candidates, one of which may be checked in answer to the question, "Which of the following would you want to be the next president of the United States?"

Candidates will be elected to the following campus positions:

- 1. Student Board of Publications. Three posts are open on the board, two for two-year terms and one for a one-year term.
- 2. Student council representatives. For the first time, no representatives-at-large will be elected, under the council's recent reorganization plan.
- 3. Union board. Students in the colleges of liberal arts and commerce will choose representatives to this board.
- 4. Officers for Young Men's Christian association, University Women's association, Women's Recreation association and class officers for the colleges of liberal arts and commerce.

The only offices for which all students may vote are the three positions on the Student Board of Publications. Candidates for these positions are the only ones who may actively campaign and they must limit money spent to $18.

All other candidates for positions will be chosen by members of the particular groups for which they are campaigning.

All groups holding elections April 2 must submit the list of candidates by 5 p.m. next Monday to the office of student affairs or the student council office.

An election committee will meet that afternoon and make up the ballot.

Webster Named Head Of School Board

Irving B. Weber was elected president of the Iowa City school board at a reorganization meeting Monday night. He succeeds Alva B. Oathout who held the position for the past year.

Weber's selection as head of the board came two weeks after his reelection to the board for a second consecutive term. Oathout was elected to a second term in the March 3 election.

Weber, 51, who has lived in Iowa City all his life, is vice-president and manager of the Sidwell Ice Cream company, and lives at 421 Melrose court.

He is a graduate of SUI and former staff member of The Daily Iowan.

Weber's mother, Mrs. Edward Weber, served as head of the school board from 1925-26.

1 Killed, 12 Survive Texas Plane Crash

DALLAS, TEX. (AP) — Fourteen servicemen bailed out of a flaming marine transport plane on the Dallas outskirts Monday, but one was dragged to death and another was missing.

An hour after the crash, officers had searched for the body of one man, whose parachute apparently failed to open. They found the body of another who had been dragged by his parachute.

The craft was en route from the Torro, Calif., marine base to Cherry Point, N. C., and had 12 navy, marine and air force personnel aboard. It was attached to headquarters, 2nd marine air wing, Cherry Point.

DISPLAYING THE EVIDENCE that Irish shamrocks will flourish in Iowa loam just as heartily as in the Old Sod is Allin W. Dakin, SUI administrative dean. Dakin's shamrocks, grown from seeds purchased in Ireland last summer, were worn by many SUI faculty members St. Patrick's day Monday.

Shamrocks SUI Lapels Sport Irish Plants

Sure an' many a true Irish shamrock was seen sproutin' from SUI faculty lapels on St. Patrick's day Monday — thanks to Allin W. Dakin, administrative dean, and Dean Walter F. Loehwing of the graduate college.

It all started last August when Dakin bought a pack of shamrock seeds while he was touring Ireland.

Just for a joke, he gave them to Loehwing, who is also head of the botany department.

Loehwing planted them in the university greenhouse on the west side of the botany laboratory, and with true Irish luck, the seeds sprouted and began to spread.

Loehwing gave the delighted Dakin a flower pot full of shamrocks, and Dakin in turn gave "runners" to his friends at a recent party.

Several of the guests planted the "runners" and on St. Patrick's day sure an' many a student smiled to see his professor proudly wearin' of the green.

U.S. To Speedup Assistance to Chiang

TAIPEH, FORMOSA (TUESDAY) (AP) — The U.S. plans to double its military advisory group this year to speed the training of 500,000 troops for the defense of this Nationalist Chinese stronghold, American experts said Monday.

Now at 360 officers and men, the military assistance advisory group (MAAG) needs more specialists to get field teams out with combat troops. Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, chief of MAAG, has returned to the U. S. to select more men.

That step and more military equipment are the major requirements in whipping Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's army into shape for a sustained defense of Formosa against Communist forces on the mainland.

The Reds repeatedly have asserted their determination to cross the 100-mile Formosa strait and wrest the island from the Nationalists. However, this has been discouraged by the U. S. seventh fleet which has patrolled the strait since early in the Korean war.

New York Tax Collector 8th To Be Ousted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Monroe D. Dowling was ousted as an internal revenue collector in New York City Monday because of what officials called an irregularity in one of his personal income tax returns.

He was the eighth collector to get the ax in the current investigation of scandals in the nation's tax collecting service, and the third in the New York City area.

Dowling, a Negro, was appointed by President Truman last August to take over from another ousted collector, James W. Johnson, and conduct a housecleaning in the revenue district embracing upper Manhattan. Johnson is also a Negro.

In the upper Manhattan district, one of the biggest sources of tax revenue in the country, several employees had been fired, suspended or indicted for irregularities when Dowling got the $11,500 a year job.

Revenue commissioner John B. Dunlap, in announcing that the President had accepted Dowling's resignation, added only that it had been requested "in connection with an irregularity in one of his income tax returns."

The bureau said an investigation into Dowling's tax status is continuing.

TOM W. DUNKER, 41, CEDAR RAPIDS, driver of the car shown above, was injured seriously Monday night when his car collided with one driven by John Sheets, also of Cedar Rapids, on highway 218 six miles north of Iowa City. Deputy Sheriff Don Wilson said. Sheets suffered cuts and bruises of the face. Dunker was taken to University hospitals and officials there said he would undergo surgery. Damage to both cars was estimated at $2,500, Wilson said.

Seeks Advance in Rank SUI Military Department Master Sergeant Has Chance to Become Lieutenant Colonel

A master sergeant in SUI's military department may become a lieutenant colonel in the air force—if he can pass a physical examination.

He is M/Sgt. John F. Mandeville, assistant professor of air science and tactics, who went to Chicago Monday to take the physical.

Mandeville who has been a master sergeant in the regular air force for the past five years has also at the same time been a lieutenant colonel in the air force inactive reserve unit.

About 2½ years ago he applied for active duty again in the reserves.

Recently he was called for the physical examination and if he passes, chances are that he will be activated to lieutenant colonel again.

Mandeville first enlisted in the armed forces in 1941. In 1942, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the quartermaster corps.

He was separated from the service as a major in 1946. At that time it was possible for an officer to reenlist as a master sergeant in the regular air force.

Mandeville did this while at the same time holding his rank of major in the air force inactive reserves. While serving in the regular air force he has been advancing in the reserves until now he has reached the grade of lieutenant colonel.

Truman Book Angers 2 Ex-Cabinet Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman stirred up new controversy with two of his former cabinet members by the publication Monday night of a book "Mr. X" in which he says among other things that there is no indispensable man in a democracy.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina termed "absolutely untrue" a Truman story that he roundly scolded Byrnes in 1946 when the latter was secretary of state.

Henry A. Wallace, former vice president, said that if Truman ever acknowledges that a "Mr. X" referred to in the book is Wallace, "I shall charge him with the same deliberate character assassination which he finds so despicable in others." From the book's context, it is apparent that "Mr. X" is Wallace.

President Confers

KEY WEST, FLA. (AP) — President Truman called in his top political chief Monday for a two-day conference which may determine whether he will run again.

Frank E. McKinney, Democratic national committee chairman, arrived aboard his own 50-foot cabin cruiser, the Merry Mac, in which he has been vacationing along the Florida coast.

In connection with his statement that there is no indispensable man in a democracy, Truman says he has worked to organize the government so that it could function efficiently no matter who is president.

The new book is by William Hillman, former Hearst newsman now a commentator for the Mutual Broadcasting system.

The volume also contains criticism of Bernard M. Baruch and John L. Lewis, but neither man could be reached for comment.

The book puts the president on record six months after the close of World War II as vigorously opposed to "babysitting" the Soviets.

It quotes his "terrible" fears that a third world war was imminent on two occasions in the last four years.

Though the book is packed with much that is new, it still represents a selection of materials. Hence it is noteworthy for its omissions as well as for what it says.

It makes no mention of many "incidents" seized upon by critics over the years, such as the Truman-Wallace fumble, the firing of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson in another cabinet row, the brush that led to the angry resignation of Harold Ickes as secretary of the interior, the "hot" letter, and apology, to the marines, etc.

Not all of the President's private notes and papers were made available to Hillman. He told the author nearly all of them were intended to remain in his personal files, but he concluded after much thought that "for the historical record and a broader comprehension" by the public of their 32nd president and the presidency he should release "some of them" for publication now.

Relay Team Set For Garden Date

Iowa's Big Ten champion mile relay team, which set a conference record of 3:18.3, will leave by plane next Friday to keep its date in the Olympic carnival in Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

Coach Francis Cretzmeier's team will be the first Iowa relay quartet to appear in the Garden since 1939 when Iowa finished fourth in the National A.A.U. championship 1600-meter relay.

Iowa has been matched against Fordham University, the present National A.A.U. indoor champion; and New York Pioneer Club, which won the event at the New York A.C. and Millrose games earlier in the winter.

"The same combination which

Darling To Get Watch From Look Magazine

A wrist watch, symbolic of selection on the all-American basketball team of Look magazine, will be presented to Chuck Darling here next Saturday evening.

The presentation will be made between halves of the state high school championship game in the field house, Coach Frank (Bucky) O'Connor will give Darling the engraved Benrus watch with which Look honors each of its first team all-Americans.

Darling has been placed on four all-American teams, in addition to Look's. Others are Associated Press, United Press, International News Service and Colliers. Look brought him to New York City last Sunday to appear on a television program with the four other all-Americans.

2-Way Battle Seen For Tank Crown

A battle for points between Iowa and Iowa State college is the team prospect for the Iowa A.A.U. swimming championships in the Hawkeye field house pool Saturday.

Some 60 swimmers will compete, with preliminaries set for 10 a.m. and finals at 2 p.m. Since the meet will be held over the long course, 150-foot length of the pool, for the first time, the fastest mark in each event will constitute a meet record.

In conjunction with the Iowa A.A.U. championships, the National A.A.U. junior 400-yard freestyle relay title will be decided. This is one of the championship events awarded to the University of Iowa during the December meeting of the A.A.U.

Although Iowa and Iowa State will dominate the meet, numerous other entries are expected before Wednesday, the closing date for reception of entries. They include high school swimmers from Des Moines, Davenport, Cedar Rapids and Clinton.

Four places will be scored in each event, with points awarded on the basis of 5, 3, 2, 1 for individual events and 8, 6, 4, 2 in the relays. There are ten Iowa A.A.U. events.

Iowa State will enter athletes who won nine of fourteen events in the recent Big Seven conference meet and set nine records. The Cyclone team was second in the league affair.

The state university swimmers won five previous Iowa A.A.U. titles, with Iowa State second each time. It was close last year at Ames, 54-51.

Iowa's Ross Lucas can swim the 400-meter freestyle in 4:55 here Saturday, he will qualify for the New Zealand Olympic swimming team.

Lucas will compete in the 440-yard freestyle in the Iowa A.A.U. championships and also will be timed officially over the 400-meter distance. He was third in the Big Ten meet in the 440.

New Zealand rules are that the qualifying time must be made in March. The nation has no final Olympic tryouts but picks its team on a time basis. Coach David Armbruster said that the mark made by Lucas will be cabled to Auckland, and if he makes the team he will go to Helsinki, Finland, from Iowa City in July.

Big 10 Expands Schedule

— 18 Loop Games

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten has become virtually a closed corporation in basketball with the adoption of an 18 game conference schedule for next season with only four non-league contests permitted.

The new slate, mapped Sunday by Big Ten coaches and approved by the athletic directors, sends every conference team against every other member twice, on a home and home basis.

This season Big Ten members played only 14 conferences apiece, leaving eight games with outsiders. The limit on number of games for a season remains at 22.

The conference games under the new set-up will begin Dec. 13 and finish March 9. This season the title race started the first week in January.

The 1952-53 schedule must be approved by the athletic committees of each university before being released.

Meantime, school presidents of the Big Ten gave a vote of confidence to their athletic leaders while at the same time neatly sidestepping the controversial issue of spring football practices.

At an unprecedented meeting, the presidents ignored spring drills completely in an official statement.

Faculty representatives and athletic directors returned to their home bases to order football workouts to continue as scheduled.

The drills will follow the national collegiate athletic association rule which permits 20 days of work in a period of 30 calendar days.

Thus, the main issue between the Big Ten's athletic program and that proposed by the American Council on Education apparently was dissolved, not by action of the presidents but by lack of it.

The presidents said they were "impressed with the substantial area of agreement between the A.C.E. report on athletic policy and the regulations of the Big Ten."

Authorities File Suit Against Boxing Group

NEW YORK (AP) — The government filed a civil anti-trust suit Monday against the International Boxing club of New York and Illinois, charging the group with conspiring to monopolize championship fights in the United States.

Charges were brought against James D. Norris of New York and Arthur M. Wirtz of Chicago, owners of the IBC, and the Madison Square Garden corporation, of New York. Both Norris and Wirtz contended their business was "strictly legal."

Wirtz said: "From a purely personal angle, I can't understand why we should be sued for putting our bouts on television, while the National Football league was sued for not putting their games on television."

A government anti-trust suit is pending against the National Football league for restricting television of its games.

The IBC is accused of controlling the sale of radio, television and motion picture rights to the contests and of obtaining exclusive use of principal arenas in New York, Chicago and other large cities.

The complaint further says the defendants obtained contracts from champions and leading contenders in all major weight divisions requiring the fighters to box exclusively for the IBC.

Saddler Triumphs With TKO in 5th

BOSTON (AP) — World Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler of New York was knocked off his feet for the first time in his 43 fights Monday night, but came back with a furious attack to floor Irish Tommy Collins of Boston four times and win a technical knock out verdict in the fifth round of a St. Patrick's Night Donnybrook in Boston Garden.

Saddler weighed 130½, a quarter pound more than Collins for the scheduled ten round non-title bout.

Referee Joe Zapatas stepped in to stop the wild action at 2:20 of the fifth round.

Collins, a confident 23 year old, stunned the featherweight champion with a two fisted attack and then dropped him with a solid left about halfway through the first session.
