

Keokuk, Marion, Roland, Spencer Win In Tourney

High Scoring Efforts Feature 1st-Round Play

By JACK JORDAN
Sports Editor

Keokuk, Marion, Roland and Spencer Tuesday advanced to the quarter-finals of the Iowa state high school boys tournament, which will be played Thursday.

Two star players scored 32 points to steal the spotlight in the first round action. Bill Logan of Keokuk hit that many in his team's easy win over Hull, 66-26, and Bob Carpenter hit most of his team's points as it advanced over Wales-Lincoln, 41-39. The 32 points is shy of the record 36 set by Ray Fontana of Ankeny in 1950.

Keokuk Convincing

The Keokuk squad was very convincing in its conquest. Although the scoring was dominated by Logan, the entire attack functioned smoothly as the Chiefs grabbed a 13-4 first quarter lead.

If there was any doubt as to the outcome at that point, it was quickly dispersed by Logan and company's 22 point second quarter. They led at the half, 35-12. By the end of the third period, the Chiefs had stretched the margin to 49-18, and the substitutes finished the rout.

Marion's win was nearly as one-sided, although it wasn't established as early. Ogdin battled to a 14-14 tie at the end of the first quarter, but ran out of gas for its deliberate style and trailed 35-24 at the half.

Big Third Quarter

A third quarter of 22 Indian points marked the end for Ogdin's title hopes, and Marion stretched the 57-37 fourth quarter lead to 72-32.

Leffingwell had big help from two teammates. Russ Seeks hit 21 points for second honors and Bob Christensen got 14.

Roland came through late in its game with Readlyn to squeak by on a 49-46 score. The Rockets, gunning for their 25th straight win, swept into a 27-19 half time lead but Readlyn rushed back to outscore Buck Cheadle's boys, 24-14 in the third period to take the lead.

Thompson Held Down

Kenny Lein came to Roland's rescue with two quick field goals at the start of the last quarter to get the lead back, and they were ahead from there on.

Gary Thompson, ace on last year's Roland team, didn't impress any one with his eight points, but he did with his improved rebounding and floor play.

In the first game of the tournament, Spencer beat tiny Wales-Lincoln, 41-39, on a basket in the last seven seconds.

The smaller boys from Wales-Lincoln outrebounced the Tigers in the first half and led 26-20 going into the third quarter. Carpenter had made 17 of those 20 points, and all nine of the Tigers' first-quarter markers.

In the last half, Spencer started rebounding and made the grade on guard Keith Pullen's thriller at the end.

Rock Island Line To Discard Steam Passenger Engines

DES MOINES (AP) — The last of the steam locomotives pulling Rock Island passenger trains will soon be gone.

J. D. Farrington, president of the road, said here Tuesday that passenger service would be "100 per cent diesel within the next few days."

Only two Rock Island passenger trains in this area still are steam trains. They are Nos. 6 and 9, local trains running between here and Chicago.

By the end of the year, Farrington said, all of the line's freight trains in this area will be powered by diesel engines.

Farrington was in Des Moines to attend the opening of a hearing before an interstate commerce commission examiner involving the railroad's motor freightline between Davenport and Omaha.

Sutton's Pal Testifies In Robbery Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — An old pal of Willie (The Actor) Sutton turned against the master bank robber Tuesday as his trial opened.

The state announced that a star witness against Sutton will be one of the men who allegedly helped him loot a Queens bank of $64,000 in 1950 — John De Venuta.

The 37-year-old Venuta reportedly has made a clean breast of his part in the Manufacturers Trust company holdup and is ready to help the state convict Sutton.

Winston Enters Race For Publication Post; Petitions Due Today

Harold R. Winston, A2, Griswold, Tuesday announced his candidacy for a post on the Student Board of Publications. He will seek one of the two-year terms on the board in the all-campus elections April 2.

Winston was on the Student Christian council last fall, and has been YMCA vice-president and was appointed to the book exchange committee last fall.

He is a political science major and will enter the college of law after graduation.

The only other announced candidate for the Board of Publications is Carl B. Zimmerman, A2, of Waterloo, who is seeking the only one-year post open.

Students wishing to run for positions on the board must file petitions by 5 p.m. today at the office of the school of journalism, in East hall, where petition forms are available.

In other all-campus election news, it was announced that officials for the elections will be members of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity and University Women's association.

The count of the votes will be supervised by Prof. Robert Ray, director of SUT's institute of public affairs.

The ballot will be made up by a campus elections committee, composed of representatives of the various campus organizations. Co-chairmen of the committee are student council representatives, Ralph Cocksfoot, A4, Atlantic, and Marilyn McMullen, A3, Dubuque.

Other members and the organizations they represent are:

Francine Appleman, A4, Elm-hurst, Ill., Union board; Ann Wells, A3, Story City, Student Board of Publications; Virginia Vavra, A3, Cedar Rapids, Panhellenic association; Kathryn Beckman, A3, Grundy Center, University Women's association; Sally McCormack, A4, Marshalltown, Women's Recreation association; Louise Bekman Larew, A4, Ottumwa, YWCA, and Bill Merner, A3, Cedar Rapids, Interfraternity council.

Senate Denies Morris Power To Subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate judiciary committee Tuesday refused to give Newbold Morris power to subpoena witnesses and documents in his hunt for corruption in government. Instead they approved a plan to set up an independent investigation.

Swiftly following on these developments:

1. House investigators voted to ask President Truman to give them the income tax returns of Attorney General J. Howard McGrath and 19 senior officials of the justice department.

2. McGrath was invited to appear in person March 26 at an open hearing of the house judiciary subcommittee investigating his administration of the justice department.

3. Morris announced that he had requested McGrath and 595 top officials of the justice department for detailed information about the financial affairs of themselves and their immediate families.

4. Joseph D. Numan Jr., former commissioner of internal revenue, was closeted with house tax scandal investigators in a close-guarded secret session today. Numan, who headed the bureau from 1944 to 1947, has come under the fire of Sen. John Williams (R-Del.) for his subsequent legal efforts in behalf of clients in tax trouble with the federal government.

Morris, President Truman's No. 1 cleanup man, made it plain to reporters a month ago that the subpoena power was the basic tool in his investigation and said he would have to have it "to accomplish the mission."

Truman Not Impressed

The President was represented as saying that Europe had been through so many ups and downs that "I am not impressed with the cursory glances of oratorical members of the famous 'cave of the winds' on Capitol Hill."

Capehart said Wheeler told Truman in the 1945 White House conference: "Get out your little memoranda book and write down what I am telling you today. You are too damned optimistic about Russia."

"Of course," Capehart said, "we all know that the President knew nothing about Russia because of the fact that he never studied anything about Europe or about Russia, and somebody in the state department, or in the group around him, had evidently given him the wrong information with reference to Russia and the Communist crowd."

Capehart Blames Truman

He added that if Truman "had followed the advice that was given to him at that time by Sen. Wheeler and concurred in by the rest of us and had stood up to Russia at Potsdam, we would not be in the mess we are in at this time."

Capehart Says Truman Feared England, France

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) told the senate Tuesday that President Truman said in 1945—before the Potsdam conference—that he was "more afraid of England and France than he was of Russia."

Capehart told his colleagues that former Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, advised Truman after a tour of Europe by four senators that "Mr. President, you had better stand up to Russia."

Wheeler and former Sen. Hawkes (R-N.J.) to the White House on the 1945 visit, told reporters he couldn't remember whether Wheeler made the statements attributed to him by Capehart.

Capehart Was a Member

Capehart, one of the four, said "The President replied that he was more afraid of England and France than he was of Russia."

"Senator Wheeler then said to him, 'Mr. President, you are too optimistic about Russia.' The President shook his head vigorously and said, 'No, I'm not.'"

Capehart's statement was made in commenting on a passage in a new book, "Mr. President," which says Truman noted in his diary that he was not impressed by the views of four senators who had reported to him on a European survey.

Jury Probes Iowa Crime; Kitts Testifies

WATERLOO (AP) — Kenneth Kitts, convicted bank robber and jail escape artist, was the first to give testimony before the federal grand jury investigating organized crime in northern Iowa.

The jury, composed of members from all over northern Iowa, elected William L. Robinson Jr., of Hampton as its foreman and Mrs. Stella Sanford of Sioux City as deputy foreman.

Kitts, arraigned Tuesday morning on a charge of entering the Granville, Ia., bank with intent to rob, started his testimony after the jury went into secret session. He currently is serving a term in the Nebraska state penitentiary as a habitual criminal and also is under federal sentence for the burglary of the Laurens, Ia., bank.

He was sentenced to 20 years for the Granville robbery, the term to be concurrent with his Laurens sentence.

Kitts escaped from the Linn county jail while awaiting trial on the Laurens case, and later fled from Nebraska officers after he started serving time there.

Federal Judge Henry N. Graven, in giving his instructions to the panel of 22 jury members, said they had been drawn from all over the northern district of Iowa because a representative cross-section would be more likely to have heard of any violations of federal laws.

He urged the members of the grand jury themselves to give evidence and to call anyone they knew who might know of any federal violations.

New Premier Strikes 1st Blow at Ousted Egyptian Nationalists

CAIRO, EGYPT (AP) — Two key members of the recently ousted Wafdist party cabinet were arrested Tuesday and spirited out of town.

Political circles termed the arrests "the first major blow" by Independent Premier Ahmed Naguib Hilaly Pasha against the powerful Nationalist party which ruled Egypt for two years.

Seized and packed off to villages in northern Egypt were Fuad Serag El Din Pasha, interior and finance minister in Mustapha El Nahas Pasha's anti-British regime, and Abdel Fattah Hassan Pasha, who served as social affairs minister.

Police swooped down on the homes of the two men before dawn. Serag El Din is considered one of the Wafdist party's policy makers.

No charge was filed against the two men, but both had been questioned by Egypt's prosecutor general during his investigation of the Cairo torch riots of Jan. 26 which took 67 lives and caused millions of dollars fire damage. King Farouk threw out Nahas Pasha's government the day after the riots.

The prosecutor recently accused Serag El Din, who controlled the police as interior minister, of "administrative responsibility" for the January riots. Hassan has been accused by anti-Wafdists of making an inflammatory speech the day of the trouble.

Hilaly's predecessor, peace-bent Premier Aly Maher Pasha, sought to settle Britain's quarrel with Egypt by negotiation and at the same time seek Wafdist co-operation through compromise.

Stassen Still Holding Lead In Home State

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Gen. Dwight Eisenhower built up surprising write-in strength against favorite son Harold E. Stassen Tuesday in first scattered returns from Minnesota's presidential primary election.

Stassen and a political unknown were the only candidates with their names printed on the Republican ballot. A last-minute state attorney general's opinion saying write-in votes were illegal touched off a drive in Eisenhower's behalf.

Returns from 1,640 of Minnesota's 3,769 precincts gave Eisenhower 58,635 votes to 72,746 for Stassen. The votes were well distributed among rural areas and smaller cities.

Most political observers had believed Stassen, former governor, would easily sweep all areas of the state.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) was the only name printed on the Democratic ballot. In 1,641 precincts, he polled 77,384 votes. Closest write-in candidate was Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) who got 14,747.

The first returns did not include any figures from big city voting machines. Write-in votes from machines will be tabulated after the ballot votes.

It was the state's first presidential primary since 1916. Contesting for the state's 25 Republican delegates are two ballot candidates — former Gov. Harold Stassen and Edward C. Slettedahl, St. Paul school teacher who says he supports both Gen. MacArthur and Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio). Slettedahl is a political unknown.

Unopposed for the 23 Democratic delegates is Senator Humphrey who is in the field with President Truman's blessing.

Most credit for the increased interest went to backers of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower. Encouraged by his New Hampshire victory, they organized a strenuous last-minute write-in campaign. There were also write-in efforts on behalf of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) on the Democratic side.

The write-in vote promised to complicate the picture of early returns from four Minnesota cities with voting machines — St. Paul, Duluth, Rochester, and St. Louis Park, Minneapolis suburb. There the voters were being allowed to pencil in write-ins on paper scrolls in the machines themselves. It was possible, however, that first returns from these cities would include only the machine votes, with write-ins not counted until later.

Other candidates showed: Republican ballot, Slettedahl, 13,085; MacArthur, 834; Taft, 13,345; Warren, 2,483. Democratic ballot, Truman, 3,061; Douglas, 37; Russell, 30; Stevenson, 14.

Coed Chorus Line Rehearses for 'Shy Guy'

Red Is King

But TV Comic Can't Understand It

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television's newest star would rather not be king.
On television only a few months, Red Skelton already has displaced such longtime favorites as Milton Berle, Old English movies and Gorgeous George. At the recent awards dinner of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, Red went home with gold "Emmys" for the best comedy show and best comic.

Even President Truman — but of many a Skelton joke — watches the famous redhead on TV.
Skelton will earn close to $10,000,000 in his seven-year video contract. He makes millions more from radio and motion pictures. CBS and NBC executives are engaged in an open tug-of-war for his services. His fan mail has tripled and little children hug him when he appears in public.

"I can't understand it," Red shrugs. "I'm still using the same jokes that used to pay me $10 a week."
Good Friends
When he first nudged the long-established Berle off the TV throne, Skelton ordered no publicity on the feat. He and Berle are good friends and the loyal Skelton hates competing with a friend. But he gives a more logical reason:

"I don't like it, because when you're on top there's only one way to go — down."
(Red's fears are well grounded. The latest polls had him slightly off the pace, with Berle back in front.)

Can't Kid Republicans
"I'd like to kid the Republicans, too," comments Red, "but how can I? None of them are in office."
One of the Democratic party's most influential members — a close friend of the Skeltons — told them of a Sunday night visit in the White House. The party bigwig and the President watched Skelton on TV. That was the night Red cracked:

"Why is everybody picking on Truman? He ain't doing nothing." The politico told Red that the President laughed and commented: "That Skelton sure doesn't pull any punches."

TO THE EDITOR:
Regarding Emanuel Bodanove's letter of protest against the WSUI "dinner hour" and what he terms Marcia Healy's "abuse of a program designed for our 'listening pleasure'":

Letters-to-the-editor columns seem favorite battlegrounds for some frustrated souls who, in denouncing others, justify themselves as valiant upholders of the right to dissent. If this is the case, both Mr. Bodanove and myself fit the pattern, and if he can describe Miss Healy's selections as "potpourri," I can apply the same word to his letter.

I consider myself only one among many who regularly enjoy the variety of Miss Healy's choices and I cannot see how she could consistently fail to satisfy even such a dyspeptic listener as Mr. Bodanove, unless he has a preference for works like those of Red Klee, not ordinarily included in the "bell-shaped curve of random chance."

As a would-be music critic, I humbly beseech Mr. Bodanove to unlock the door to the nature of music's inner sanctum. Apparently he has the keys to this elusive problem and it seems only fair that he should share them with his fellow music-lovers.

If he cannot provide us with an absolute standard by which to judge "music that is worth listening to," perhaps the physical disorders of which he complains stem from a source other than the "dinner hour." It is suggested that he try to toil them with some healthy muscular activity, such as making use of the switch on his radio.

City Milk Prices Take Rise, Fall

Iowa City milk prices both increased and decreased Monday. Pasteurized and homogenized milk went up from 20 to 21 cents per quart. Half-and-half increased one cent per pint; coffee cream, one cent per half pint, and whipping cream, four cents per half pint.

Buttermilk went down from 19 to 18 cents. Skim milk dropped from 18 to 17 cents per quart, while chocolate milk went down one cent on half pints. Twelve ounces of cottage cheese dropped from 20 to 19 cents.

Communists Continue To Press Germ Charges

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst
Why are the Communists making such a big play of their totally insupportable charge that the United States is employing germ warfare in China and Korea?

You might expect them to reason that the ultimate backfire would weaken rather than strengthen their whole propaganda campaign. It is almost inconceivable to the western mind that the deputy foreign minister of a great power, the same who was responsible for starting the Korean truce negotiations, should stand before the United Nations and make such charges.

Yet Russia is making a great do in every way about the Chinese Communist charges. Protest meetings are being staged in Europe. Western diplomats long ago found it unprofitable to attempt to read the enemy mind. But some speculative answers, even though seemingly shortsighted, appear easy.

The Communists are conducting a hate campaign against the United States. This fits it. Jacob Malik, Russia's UN delegate, was faced at Paris with the necessity of countering the Allied disarmament proposals which threatened to take the "defender of the peace" title away from the Russian propagandists.

There probably are epidemics in China — although Chinese troops in Korea generally seem to be well-fed, well-clothed and in good shape. The Reds can use the propaganda campaign to explain away their inability to control the spread. The Reds used this system in Germany to explain an epidemic of potato bugs.

There is always the possibility that these seemingly simple estimates of Russia motives will be accompanied by deeper and less evident motives.

James D. White, veteran of many years of reporting for the Associated Press in the far east, is wondering if this may not be one of those times. Let us suppose, he says, that Russia really wanted a truce in Korea — that she does not yet trust the Chinese Reds to the point of giving them enough arms to really clean up Korea, and also that she does not want to run the risk of general war now. But the Chinese say, "OK, but you got us into this. But how are we going to get out without appearing to cave in before the imperialist warmongers, without losing face, if not our political shirts?"

No satisfactory answer came along until the epidemics offered a possible out. Why not stir up a lot of fear and antagonism, and then appeal to the fatalism of the oriental mind with the question, "How can you combat such barbaric methods?"

It's an interesting speculation.

Roberts' Suit Asks $2,500 from Vertrees

Wayne W. Roberts filed a lawsuit Monday seeking to collect a $2,500 commission from Vertrees Motor company, in district court.

Roberts claims that Lawrence Vertrees, general manager of the firm, asked him to come to Iowa City from Chicago in 1950 to manage the motor company's retail sales department.

He further alleges that his contract gave him a monthly salary plus 50 per cent of the profit after expenses and after payment of six per cent interest on the capital Vertrees had in the business.

Roberts says he was employed from Nov. 11, 1950 until Dec. 12, 1951 and that he was paid his salary, but only $500 on his share of the profits.

He asks $2,500 plus five per cent interest from Dec. 12, 1951.

Meet 'Alli and 'Gator'; They're Pets

PAULA HASSEL, 19, of Chicago, poses with her tough-looking pets, a pair of alligators aptly named Alli (left) and Gator. The 'gators were only eight inches long when she got them 12 years ago. Now they're tough playmates, weighing about 50 pounds each. They're more than four feet long. Paula keeps the pets in a heavy tin vat in the basement of her home during cold weather. During the summer the 'gators are often kept in a large concrete vat in the back yard.

Thompson's Back to Hunt Readlyn

GARY THOMPSON, ROLAND'S ace in its tournament successes last year, spins for a shot from his post position Tuesday afternoon as his team beat Readlyn, 49-46, to advance to the quarterfinals. Thompson's eight points in the game were far below his average but his rebounding and floor game were excellent. Guarding for Readlyn is Roger Wolff (13), as Ervin Fortsch comes up to help.

Roland Rallies To Win, 49-46

Roland fought off a third-quarter rally to slip by Readlyn, 49-48, in the second game of first round competition here Tuesday afternoon at the field house.

The win moves Buck Cheadle's Rockets into the quarterfinals and keeps alive their hopes of winning the crown which so narrowly eluded them last year.

Roland jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first seven seconds of play when forward Stan Tjernagel tapped in a rebound, and held that lead until, with 20 seconds left in the third quarter, Readlyn's high-scoring star Dale Kuethe hit from the side to put the Warriors ahead, 43-41.

Roland substitute center, Ken Lein then popped in two baskets in the first minute of the final quarter to put the Rockets ahead and give them the ball game.

No Scoring Duel
The expected scoring duel between Kuethe and Roland's Gary Thompson failed to materialize. Kuethe threw in six baskets and five free throws to take game scoring honors with 17 points, but Thompson was bothered by Readlyn's man-to-man defense and particularly the close guarding of Warrior guard Roger Wolff.

Thompson, who scored at an average of over 20 points a game during regular season and tournament play this season, was limited to only four baskets, but displayed a new-found rebounding talent and a fine floor game.

Thompson's scoring slack was taken up by Dave Peterson, who alternated between center and forward and finished with 15 points.

Roland Hits Well Early
First quarter score was 13-11 in favor of Roland and the Rockets built that margin up to 27-19 by halftime.

Shooting percentages show Roland with a .317 average while Readlyn hit at a .296 pace.

Roland's quarter-final opponent will be Spencer, 41-39 conqueror of Wales-Lincoln in the tourney's opening game. The Roland-Spencer clash will be Thursday afternoon at 1:30.

Keokuk Smashes Hull

Takes 66-26 Game on 32 By Bill Logan

By JIM COOKE

Sparked by Bill Logan's 32 points, the Keokuk Chiefs completely outclassed a game Hull squad, 66-26, in a first-round tourney game at the field house Tuesday night. Keokuk now moves into a quarterfinal berth opposite Les Hippie's fast-breaking Marion Indians for what should be one of the tournament's best games.

Logan's 32-point total, garnered on 13 baskets and six free throws, threw him in a tie with Spencer's Bob Carpenter for first round high scoring honors, and is only four points under the tournament single game mark of 36 set by Ankeny's Ray Fontana in 1950.

Gunnick Led Hull

Closest Chief to Logan in the Keokuk scoring race was Jim Gannon who picked up eight points. Forward Norman Gunnick was top pointmaker for Hull with four baskets and a free throw for nine points.

Keokuk rang up seven points before Hull was able to score midway through the first quarter, and led at the end of the period, 13-4.

The Chiefs, champions of the tough Little Six conference, really began to warm up in the second quarter when they outscored coach Les Foreman's Wildcats, 22-8, to give Keokuk a commanding 35-12 halftime lead. Logan and Gannon led this second period spurge with eight and six points respectively, although Logan sat out the final minute and a half.

Keokuk Dominates Floor

The third quarter was almost the same story, as Keokuk threw in 14 points to the Wildcat's six and completely dominated floor play. Hull's John Van Sloten opened up the period with a tip-in, but Keokuk countered with baskets by Logan and Gannon, and a free throw and basket by Larry Koch. Score at the three quarter mark was Keokuk 49, Hull 18.

Both coaches substituted freely during the final quarter as Keokuk coasted in to its 24th victory against only two losses. Reserve forward Dick Prunty threw in a last-second set shot to give the Chiefs their final 40-point margin, 66-26.

Shooting percentages show Keokuk hitting at a red-hot .406 average while Hull was able to connect at a .166 pace.

IBC Lawyer Attacks Anti-Trust Suit

CHICAGO (AP) — A lawyer who is secretary of the International Boxing club Tuesday contended that the government's suit against the IBC was an effort to wipe out a 30-year precedent holding sports exempt from the Sherman anti-trust law.

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, said the suit filed in New York Monday charging the IBC with conspiracy to monopolize boxing was a turn-about from a ruling by Supreme Court Justice Holmes.

Gibson said Holmes held that sports promotion was a form of entertainment and was not included in the nature of business and commercial monopolies as affected by the Sherman anti-trust law.

SNEAD LEADS GOLF

PALM BEACH, FLA. (AP) — Sammy Snead, apparently unimpaired of strong March winds that played freakish tricks with many a golf ball, stroked a steady two under par to grab the first round lead in the $10,000 Seminole pro-amateur tournament. His score although well above the West Virginia slammer's competitive average, was near sensational Tuesday, for Snead had to combat not only the gusty winds but the scheming of tournament officials who thought up many new ways to toughen the course.

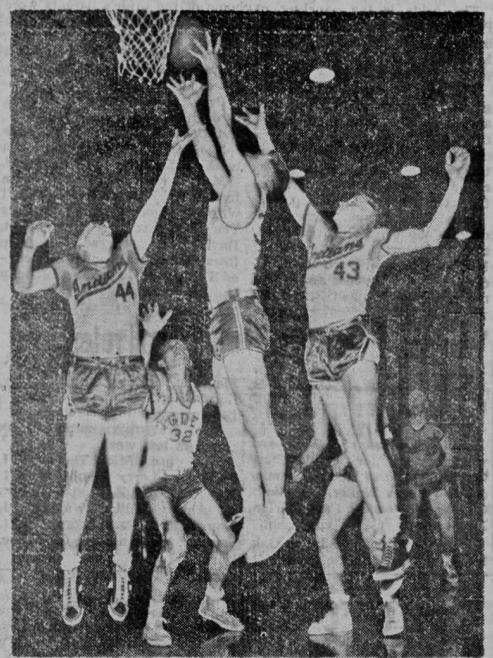

Thursday afternoon at 2:45, with the winner earning the right to meet the victor of the Roland-Spencer game in the semifinals.

Not Nearly Enough for Ogden

CLOSE ENOUGH FOR FIRST GRAB on this rebound is Harley Saunders (center, in air) of Ogden, but it was one of few that Ogden came down with in its 72-42 loss to Marion in the first round of the state tournament Tuesday night. Up with Saunders are Hugh Leffingwell (44) and Bob Christensen (43), both of Marion. Ogden's Harold Plath waits.

Shupe To Succeed Hawkins at Keokuk

KEOKUK (AP) — A salary raise for teachers and appointment of a new director of athletics were announced Tuesday by the Keokuk school board.

The salary boosts will average $273 and mean an increase of about $40,000 a year in the payroll, the board said.

Don Shupe, high school basketball coach, will succeed Harry Hawkins as athletic director at the beginning of the next school year. Hawkins and Shupe came here five years ago. Hawkins said he has no definite plans for a future of teaching, and probably will take over management of a northern resort he owns.

It was at the start of the third period that the taller (6-foot average) Spencer team started rebounding as it should, and only Fuller's seven markers kept the Wolves in the lead.

Marion Gains, 72-32

The state's top scorer, Hugh Leffingwell, hit his average of 27 points Tuesday night against Ogden as his Marion team advanced to Thursday's quarterfinals, 72-42.

Marion was very impressive against the Bulldogs. When Leffingwell wasn't scoring, forward Russ Seeks was, and he ended the game with 21 points. The Indians' fast break was the starter of most scoring plays.

Ogden Ties Score

Ogden kept pace in the first quarter and had the score tied, 14-14 going into the second. But then Marion served notice of what was to follow by notching 21 points to lead, 35-24, at halftime.

Marion wasn't wasting any shots, either, as the team hit on 41.4 per cent of its shots to earn the right to meet Keokuk at 2:45 Thursday afternoon. Ogden, which entered the tournament with a 19-5 record and a win over powerful Lake Mills, couldn't match either that or the Indians' rebounding.

Quarter Ends 14-14

Seeks got the first basket of the game on a setup shot to put the Indians ahead 2-0. After that the lead see-sawed back and forth with Leffingwell hitting six points and Christensen getting four. The quarter ended, 14-14.

Ogden's deliberate style of ball bogged down in the second period, though, and Marion's sliding zone defense started picking the ball up for fast break scoring plays. The half ended with Marion ahead, 35-24.

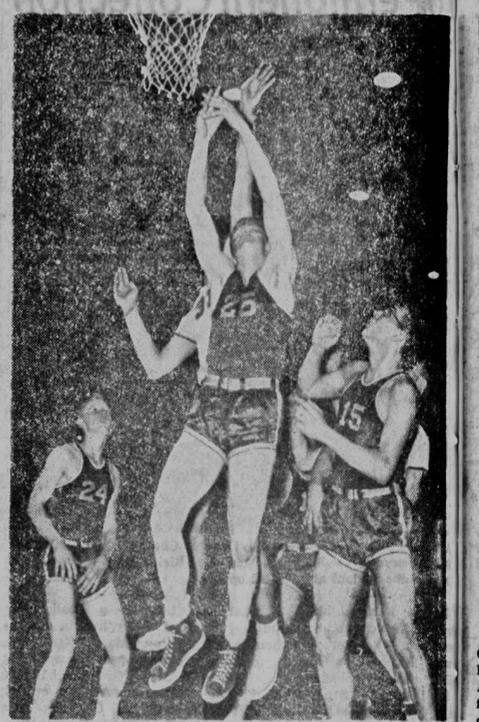

During the second quarter, Leffingwell and Seeks each got eight markers. Harley Saunders, Ogden mainstay, appeared way off form and got only six points, four of them coming in the first half. Also an excellent rebounder, Saunders was overshadowed by Leffingwell and his mates.

Van Pelt Fouls Out

Seeks started fast in the third quarter too, and hit four of Marion's six points before Ogden could score a basket. He kept moving on the end of the fast break and ended the quarter with another eight points. It was during that period that Bob Van Pelt, Ogden's high scorer with 11 points, fouled out and Saunders followed him early in the fourth quarter.

Going into the last quarter with a 57-37 lead, Marion established a 67-39 margin before turning the game over to the substitutes. The entire last quarter Ogden refused free throws, electing to take the ball out of bounds, but had no hope of catching the Indians.

Daily Iowan Salesman of the Week

Jim Miller, A4, Cedar Rapids, received a merchandise award and recognition as Daily Iowan Salesman of the Week at the regular meeting of the Advertising Sales and Promotion class Monday afternoon. The presentation was made by Ellis Newsome, Advertising Advisor of the Iowan.

The Daily Iowan has introduced a program of recognition for those individuals that make the publication of a newspaper possible, the advertising salesmen. Without advertising no newspaper could long remain in business. Unless advertisers get results from their advertising they will soon stop advertising. Support your newspaper, The Daily Iowan, by patronizing those merchants using the Iowan advertising columns.

IC Disaster Groups To Test Facility Of Amateur Radios

How effective would an amateur radio relay system be if disaster should hit this area today? Members of the Iowa City Amateur Radio Emergency corps and the Red Cross will try to find the answer this weekend.

From 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, members of the corps will operate a mobile relay system in a series of public demonstrations at 110 Iowa ave.

The corps will receive messages from the Tall Corn Radio Amateur network, which is composed of persons interested in relaying messages across the country.

A simulated emergency demonstration will be given of measures that would be taken if Ralston creek — a trouble spot in southeastern Iowa City — were to rise 5 feet higher than ever before.

City officials and the Muscatine and Davenport amateur radio emergency corps have been invited to observe the demonstrations.

Theodore A. Hunter, Johnson county Red Cross emergency disaster director, and Lee Blodgett, emergency coordinator for the Iowa City Amateur Radio Emergency corps, are in charge of the demonstrations.

Col. Walter Sewell, professor and head of military science and tactics, will speak on Latin America's place in the world at the Engineering Faculty Luncheon club in the Iowa Union cafeteria alcove at noon today.

Summer School, Arts Festival Set for June 11 to August 6

Dates for the 1952 summer session at SUI have been set at June 11 through Aug. 6.

Students, teachers and administrators registering for the program will find a full selection of courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Each of the 10 colleges and more than 60 departments will offer courses.

Work equivalent to half of one semester, or eight or nine semester-hours, may be earned by attending the eight-week session.

More than 20 workshops and special programs will be offered on the campus and the Iowa Lakeside laboratory at Lake Okoboji, providing concentrated study in such fields as adult education, audio-visual aids, music education, economic education, remedial reading, library work, physical education and child development.

Campus Carnival To Name SUI Man, Woman of Year

Plans have been completed for the all-university carnival to be held April 19.

The event will feature presentation of awards to the Hawkeye Man and Woman of the year.

Each campus housing unit or organization has been asked to nominate a senior candidate who fulfills the grade point requirements and has done outstanding work in extra curricular activities.

Members of Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kapa are not eligible.

The housing organizations are asked to turn in their letters of recommendation to the office of student affairs not later than March 28.

Pontoniers Finish Model Timber Bridge

Pontoniers to Build Bridge

SUI ROTC Engineering Students to Drill Against Pershing Rifles for 'Jug'

The SUI Pontoniers will turn from building models to full-sized bridges as soon as ground conditions are suitable.

Present plans call for the construction of a full-sized, 10-ton timber trestle bridge on a farm on the outskirts of Iowa City.

Several sites have been proposed and some have been surveyed but the actual site of the project has not yet been selected, said Capt. V. B. Smith, faculty adviser of the group.

The bridge construction will be the first full-sized one undertaken this year by the group of 30 students. Previously, they built a model timber trestle bridge and not too long ago completed another model made of steel.

Members of National Group

The Pontoniers are members of a national honorary military unit which carries the same name. Its members are selected from students in the college of engineering who are members of the army ROTC.

The main purpose of the Pontoniers is to provide extra-curricular military activity. Through this activity the members of the unit have an opportunity to become swift and precise in engineering maneuvers.

The actual building of a full-sized bridge plays an important part in this aim, Smith said.

Drill Stressed

But the development of proficiency in close order drill also is a principal purpose of the group.

This year the drill squad from the Pontoniers will meet a squad from the Pershing Rifles, another military organization, in drill competition to be held during Governor's day next May.

The winners will receive the "Little Brown Jug," a coveted traveling trophy.

The social side of the Pontonier unit has its place, too.

At one time the Pontoniers, in conjunction with the Pershing Rifles, held a military ball, usually in the fall. But World War II caused a cancellation of the event. Plans are now being laid, however, to begin it again sometime next fall.

Began with Napoleon

How did the Pontoniers get their name? The answer is found in Napoleon's retreat from Russia in 1812.

With Napoleon was a group of 400 men called the Pontoniers. It was their job to see that Napoleon's 500,000 troops were transported safely across any rivers that stood in the way of retreat.

All 400 of the group were killed while hastily building bridges in the icy waters. But they had successfully completed their job.

Pontonier activities at SUI, however, do not include such unpleasant risks.

Such duties as honor guard for the governor at Governor's day, pre-game flag raising ceremonies, participation in Armistice day parades, and exhibitions of skill during half-time at some of Iowa's basketball games are on the list of the activities of the organization.

C of C Proposes City Extend Area Of Parking Meters

A proposal to extend the parking meter area in Iowa City has been made to the city council and Mayor William Holland by the Chamber of Commerce.

Included in the proposed parking meter extension is the hill on W. Washington st. between the engineering and physics buildings.

The proposal came in a letter to the mayor and city council along with a recommendation to install a permanent surface on the municipal parking lot on College st.

Both the Chamber of Commerce board of directors and its parking and traffic committee approved the recommendations.

The letter also called for the installation of pay meters in the College st. parking lot, the 200 block on S. Capitol st., the 300 block on S. Clinton st., and the half block immediately south of Iowa ave. on Linn st.

Juniors To Vote For Mortar Board

Junior women will vote for next year's members of Mortar Board, national senior women's honor society, in the senate chamber of Old Capitol at 4:10 p.m. Thursday.

A complete list of junior girls is posted on the bulletin board outside the office of student affairs, and a star appears before the names of those eligible for membership.

Mortar Board members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership and service. The required grade point this year is 2.66.

All junior girls are asked to vote.

'Ike Campaign Hat' Launched for Gals

NEW YORK (AP) — "Ike's official campaign hat" — for ladies — was formally launched Tuesday.

The hat which the well-dressed female campaigner for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower may wear is a light blue faille pillbox beret, with red faille piping and a red ribbon cockade on the left front.

As displayed Tuesday by Mrs. Davis Lodge, blonde wife of the governor of Connecticut and an active Eisenhower campaigner, the hat also had a big "I Like Ike" button on its peak.

The hat was made up by designer Sally Victor, who said it would be available for $5.

No Parade Circus Won't Tour This Year

CHICAGO (AP) — A spokesman for Cole Brothers circus said Tuesday the show will not go on tour this year. The road tour was discontinued last year for the first time.

W. B. Horstman, vice-president of Cole Brothers, said the show recently sold its 29-car train and was substituting motor trucks. He said more than $50,000 has been spent in the last 18 months modernizing equipment and improving the show's winter quarters at Peru, Ind.

Horstman said the modernization program was designed to give the circus better utilization of its equipment when not committed to a tour.

He said the management's policy now is to accept advance engagements rather than gamble on tours.

Horstman said most of the show's parade menagerie has been sold and only performing animals retained.

Sales of the show's train marks the end of another of the nation's few remaining railroad shows. Those remaining are the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey circus and the Clyde Beatty show.

$50,000 Suit Goes To Jurors Today

A $50,000 auto accident damage suit that began in Johnson county district court Monday is expected to go to the jury today.

Plaintiff's testimony was heard Tuesday in Thomas D. Martin's suit against Elmer Thomas, Moline, Ill.

Martin asks $50,000 judgment for injuries he allegedly suffered when riding in a car on highway 6 west of West Liberty, July 1, 1951.

Thomas' attorney, John McCracken, Davenport, told the jury in his opening statement that his client admits negligence in the collision.

In the defendant's original answer to the charge, he denied any liability, but Tuesday the defense asked the court's permission to change its answer.

According to McCracken, the jurors' only job now is to determine the amount of money to be paid to the plaintiff.

RANSOM'S TALK CANCELLED

The talk by John Crowe Ransom, scheduled for Tuesday night, was cancelled. The date for his speech will be announced later.

3 Alumni of SUI Earn Commissions In Reserve Corps

Three SUI graduates have been commissioned second lieutenants in the organized reserve corps, according to word received from Camp McCoy, Wis.

They are Calvin A. Kuenzel, Orville R. Miller and Eugene C. Rembe.

Rembe, who enlisted in September, 1951, received a B. A. degree from SUI in June, 1951.

Kuenzel also received a B. A. degree at the same time.

Miller enlisted on July 27, 1951, shortly after receiving a B. S. degree in physical education.

Miller enlisted on July 27, 1951, shortly after receiving a B. S. degree in physical education.

Student's Condition 'Good' After Crash

Thomas W. Dunker, A1, Cedar Rapids, was in "good" condition Tuesday at University hospitals.

Following an automobile accident Monday night in which he received severe body injuries.

The car he was driving crashed nearly head-on with one driven by Mathias John Scheetz, also of Cedar Rapids, on highway 218, six miles north of Iowa City.

Scheetz suffered head bruises and a cut on the chin. He was taken to University hospitals where he was treated and released.

Deputy Sheriff Don Wilson said the accident apparently occurred when Dunker, driving north, attempted to pass another vehicle and his car crashed into the Scheetz car, coming south.

VOXMAN TO ATTEND MEET

Prof. Himie Voxman of the SUI music department will attend the biennial national conference of music educators in Philadelphia, March 21-26.

Voxman will serve as a member of the national committee on contemporary music for American schools.

Mayo Scientist Suggests Air Safety Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Mayo foundation scientist Tuesday advocated use of big parachutes to break the fall of a disabled airplane and allow it to descend in an upright position.

Dr. Edward J. Baldes said this would help eliminate deaths and injuries among passengers and also reduce destruction on the ground, such as occurred in recent crashes at Elizabeth, N. J.

In a report to the annual international convention of the Aero Medical Association — made jointly with Prof. James J. Ryan of the University of Minnesota — Dr. Baldes also advocated these other measures as possible means of preventing injuries:

1. Constructing the forward third of a plane and also the belly of girder material, so arranged that it would collapse under a constant force, like a pressed-in accordion, thus reducing the force of impact in nose or belly landings.

2. Universal use of carbon dioxide fire extinguishers, placed in breakable bottles attached to the wings so that a fire generated upon crashing could be smothered long enough to allow passengers to escape.

3. Backward seating for all passengers, and locating the pilot himself towards the rear of the plane, the better to withstand the shock of impact.

As an alternative for backward seating, the report advocated forward seating with wider "lap belts" than those now used, shoulder harnesses and possibly padded flexible bars across the chest for each passenger.

4. Placing the airplane's wheels at some distance from the engine because of the ready inflammability of rubber, thus reducing chance of fire spreading to the wings. Also, have engines placed below the wings, rather than built into them, so that if engines catch fire in flight, they might be jettisoned.

Finally, always keep the nose wheel lowered somewhat during flight so that if it becomes jammed there still will be some support for a nose-up landing.

To Revise Constitution

The Iowa Law Student association will meet at 4:30 p.m. today in room 5 of the law building to consider a revision of the organization's constitution.

Proposed amendments would change the representation of the organization, the method of certifying representation and amending the constitution. It would give the council full power of interpreting the document.
