SUI Receives Gifts, Grants Of $12,985

The finance committee of the state board of education has accepted $12,985.61 in gifts and grants for SUI, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Tuesday.

In addition to the cash grants, sent 30 volumes on orthopedic nursing to the college of nursing in memory of the late Carmelita Calderwood Heast.

Largest single contributor was the National Science foundation with three separate grants totaling nearly $10,000. The botany department received $7,700 of this sum for research on the chemical structure and physiological activity of plant growth regulators.

$2,000 for Panama Study
A second grant from the foundation is also to be used for research in botany. Prof. George Martin of the department received $2,100 for a study of the fungi of Panama to be made in that country this summer.

The remainder—a $800 grant—will be used for research on the anatomy and physiology of the kidneys and placenta of the mammalian embryo. The research will be performed in the college of medicine's department of anatomy under the direction of Dr. Jack Davies, assistant professor of anatomy.

The school of religion received $1,000 from George Frazer of Chicago to help publish a book about the school.

Geology Receives $550

The department of geology received a total of $550. A $500 grant from Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Thompson, Des Moines, is to be used to finance a paleontological research trip to England, France and Africa by Prof. A. K. Miller this summer.

During the trip Miller will attend the International Congress of Geologists at Algiers. He will succeed Prof. Arthur C. Trowbridge as head of the geology department July 1.

Dr. M. A. Stainbrook, Brandon, contributed $50 to the A. O. Thomas Memorial fund in geology to be used for the purchase of geology materials.

The committee also accepted a grant of $367.79 from the student council at the university for the establishment of an International center for foreign students on the campus.

The Field Foundation, Inc., gave $650 to apply toward the expense of bringing Ann C. Tattersfield of Newcastle-on-Thyne, England, to the university for work in speech pathology.

A $17.82 grant from the Hoffman-LaRoche company is to be used to pay the costs of printing an article on anatomy produced under one of the company's research grants.

Elections Committee Says Publicity Signs Must Be Approved

Campaigning will not be allowed within 100 feet of polling places on all-campus election day, April 2, and candidates or their representatives found destroying rival publicity material will have names stricken from the ballot.

These and other rules governing the coming election were released Tuesday by the elections committee.

Campaign literature to be posted on campus must be approved by the president's office and cannot be larger than 11 by 14 inches. These must not be glued or pasted on any property.

Literature may not be posted on the Cranadic viaducts, Memorial Union or trees leading to the Union or distributed in University housing without written permission.

Signs may not be painted on any buildings, streets or sidewalks. All candidates will be responsible for cleaning up their own campaign posters within one week after election, subject to a $10 fine by the university.

Tax Groups To Meet Friday On Revaluation

Bids on a proposal to revalue Iowa City's real estate will be considered at a meeting of the city's three taxing bodies Friday night.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the city hall, Mayor William J. Holland, chairman of the taxing bodies, said.

100 in Air ROTC Await Call to Duty

Approximately 100 students in the air force ROTC at SUI will be commissioned reserve second lieutenants and called to active service within 120 days after receiving degrees in June.

The army ROTC unit announced earlier that an estimated 130 of its commissioned graduates will enter active service between June and September, making a total of 230 reserve officers to come from SUI this summer.

Graduates with prior service will not be called, said Col. George A. Bosch, head of the air force ROTC department. Delays will be granted students accepted for graduate study in technical fields vital to the air force, he said.

Those entering the air force may apply for flight training and civilian training in meteorology, languages and physical sciences.

Air Force Unit To Be Inspected

The annual federal inspection of the air force ROTC unit at SUI will be Thursday and Friday.

The inspection will be highlighted by a parade and review to be held Friday at 3 p.m. in the armory. All air-force ROTC students will participate.

The inspecting officers will be Col. Kermit D. Stevens, military department commander at the University of Minnesota; Lt. Col. J. S. Smith, director of operations, headquarters 10th air force, Selfridge, Mich.; and Capt. Steven W. Connors, College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn.

Interest Is Urged In World Government

Dave Stanley, L3, Iowa City, told the SUI Young Republicans that he thinks there will be world government soon and that people of the free nations may choose whether that government will protect or take away freedom.

Stanley, a United World Federalist and Young Republican, speaking at Schaeffer hall Tuesday night, almost completely ignored the national political scene as he urged his listeners to take an immediate and active interest in world government.

He outlined a program set up by the UWF to give the United Nations power to build a UN armed force, control national armies, prosecute war promoters and place a taxing power on member nations to support the armed force.

Stanley said a nationwide poll has shown that a majority of Americans favor a limited world government.

IRANIANS GO TO MOSCOW

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Sen. Martin Datar, a son-in-law of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, said he is leaving today for Moscow as leader of a group of Iranian businessmen who will attend the Soviet Union's economic conference.

Gruenther Says War Can Be Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief deputy testified Tuesday the Soviet threat is "much less" now than it was a year ago and said World War III can be averted altogether.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther said he does not expect the Russians to attack within the immediate future, and he told the house foreign affairs committee:

"It is in our power (by helping U.S. allies to re-arm) to prevent a war from ever taking place."

In response to a question by Rep. Judd (R-Minn.), he agreed it would be a "smart thing" for Russia to delay attacking Europe until she felt capable of also striking at the United States directly.

Thieves Get $600,000 from Unguarded Car

A POLICEMAN STANDS by the armored car that was looted of $600,000 Tuesday while its three guards were inside a drug store having a cup of coffee. The car is pictured in rear of Danvers, Mass., police station. At the time of the robbery it was parked on Maple st., main street in this village about 22 miles northeast of Boston. Police believe crooks either found a side door unlocked or used a key to get inside and then opened rear doors from inside.

Thieves Still at Large Ransom Tells New Approach To Literature

DANVERS, MASS. (AP) — Three robbers rifled an unattended armored car of some $600,000 here Tuesday while the driver and two guards slipped coffee in a nearby drugstore.

The thieves were still free late Tuesday and police said they had no clues since the robbers' stolen car was found abandoned.

The men had been delivering money to banks and business houses in other communities of Massachusetts' north shore. After making a delivery to the Danvers National bank, they turned the truck around and parked across the street in front of a drug store.

Investigators said the robbers apparently entered the truck through the driver's seat and then gained entrance to the rear, or money, compartment.

They evidently left the the armored car, owned by the United States Trucking company, by the rear doors which can be opened only from the inside, because these doors were unlocked when the three men hastened from the drug store.

The robbery was the second largest of a dozen in New England in a little more than two years with total losses of more than $2 million.

The largest New England robbery was the $1.2 million a group of masked hoodlums gained in a holdup of the Brink company's supposedly burglar-proof office and garage in Boston's north end Jan. 17, 1950.

SUI Art Exhibition Will Open Tonight

The SUI art department's fourth annual design exhibition will open at 8 p.m. today in the main gallery of the art building.

Entitled "New Forms of the 20th Century," the display will feature exhibits of modern hand-screened fabrics, graphic designs, industrial designs and late architecture.

Tonight's program will include talks by department head Lester Longman, design director John Schulze, and art education director Frank Wachowiak, all of the university art department. A color movie will also be shown.

Humor Magazine X Will Poke Fun at Required Courses

SUI core courses will start getting their just desserts when Magazine X, new campus humor magazine, goes on sale April 2.

Editors of the new magazine have dedicated a corner in the first issue to a thorough panning of a liberal arts core course, introduction to mass communications.

And the "not-so-far-far-far-as-you-might-think" satire, as Editor Dean Norman puts it, "is only the first of a regular series of features on core courses to appear in the magazine."

The first "hatchet job" is built around the liberal observations and interpretations of Amos Two-Point, A2, What Cheer. Two-point, the perennial sophomore, satirizes somewhat bitterly on the journalism course's "honor system" spelling tests, instructor and impossible assignments.

"You won't find Two-Point in the directory," Norman explains, "for he represents the composite of hundreds of frustrated sophomores and freshmen struggling with the old core course dilemma each year."

"That's why Amos Two-Point will do a hatchet job on some deserving SUI core course in every issue of the magazine. Amos and the things that happen to him are not too different from everyday life; it's just that Amos is a little funnier. After all, since he is a composite student, everything has to happen to him. And it does."

The new magazine, in which the series of satires begins next week, will go on sale April 2 for 10 cents.

John Crowe Ransom, American literary critic, said Tuesday night that the average critic is bound to arouse protest because of the varied impressions and interpretations given a work.

Ransom, speaking in the house chamber of Old Capitol, is editor of "The Kenyon Review" literary magazine, and was introduced by Prof. Paul Engle as being "one of America's few men of letters."

Ransom has established a reputation as an explorer and an innovator of a new approach to literature. His approach is essentially a change from the traditional scholastic criticism, which emphasized the historical content of the poem.

Ransom, who terms poetry "a type of religion," declares that the critic's prime interest should be on the poem as an object of art, an end in itself regardless of the time and circumstances under which it was written.

His new idea is that: "Meter is by nature something of a Platonic essence. It is the form or closest mathematical expression of music."

"As a Platonic essence it symbolizes the best single expression of man's highest religious aspirations. Thus when meter is applied to verbal expression, by its nature it gives the thought a certain authority it would not otherwise have."

5 Students Enter Hancher Oratory

Five students will be contestants in the annual Hancher oratorical contest here Thursday night.

They are William Skafie, A3, Dubuque; Milton Brown, A2, Council Bluffs; Richard Thomsen, A2, Charles City; Bradford Burns, A2, Muscatine, and Mohammad Khalili, E3, Shiraz, Iran.

The contest will be held at 8 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The winner will receive $25 given by President Virgil M. Hancher and will represent SUI in the Northern Oratorical league finals in Ann Arbor, Mich., in May.

Dulles Quits Truman Job To Campaign For GOP

11 File Papers For County Primary Race

Eleven men, nine of them incumbents, filed nomination papers for the Johnson county primary elections before the Monday night deadline.

The only county offices for which more than one candidate seek nomination are the sheriff post and a one-year term on the Johnson county board of supervisors.

Sheriff Albert J. Murphy, Republican, and John L. Stahmer, Democrat, have filed for that office, while Harry H. Zizkovsky from Jefferson township, and incumbent Robert Mahoney, Democrat, seek the supervisor nomination.

Stahmer, 534 S. Lucas st., and incumbent Dr. George D. Callahan, Democrat, the lone candidate for county coroner, filed papers Monday.

A party grouping of the other candidates filing for county offices is as follows:

Democrat: J. E. Pechman, supervisor; Ed Sullik, county auditor; Lumir Jansa, county treasurer, and R. Nelson Miller, clerk of district court.

Republican: R. J. Jones, county recorder, and William L. Meardon, county treasurer.

All are incumbents.

For offices in Iowa City, only incumbents filed papers for the two justice of the peace offices, and three candidates will seek nominations in the primaries for two constable positions.

J. Newman Toomey, Republican and C. J. Hutchinson, Democrat seek reelection as justices of the peace.

Running for nomination for the two constable offices are Preston Koser, former mayor of Iowa City, Pat Gilroy, incumbent and Glen G. Helmer.

Fraternities Open Joint Charity Fund

Fraternities at SUI will activate a joint charities donation program this week for the first time with a $50 check for the all-university Red Cross drive.

Under the plan, approved by the Interfraternity council March 1, every member of SUI's 19 fraternities is assessed $1 to cover all charity drives which occur during the school year. This sum, about $850, is divided between each charity.

Today the band will play at Algona, Emmetsburg and Spencer. Thursday it will play at Storm Lake and Carroll. Concerts at Benjamin Franklin junior high and North high of Des Moines will conclude the tour Friday.

Prof. C. B. Righter, director of SUI bands, is in charge of the tour, the 12th annual trip around the state for the band.

All concerts are being held in high school auditoriums under the sponsorship of the public school systems. Meals and housing are provided by schools where the band is playing.

Bids Open April 26 For Airport Work

Bids to construct a concrete street and plane loading aprons at the Iowa City airport will be opened April 26. Estimated cost of the project is $64,000.

A public hearing will be held at 1:15 p.m. on April 26 and bids will be opened at 1:30, Graham Marshall, new chairman of the airport commission said Tuesday.

The construction of the roadway and loading aprons is in connection with the new $130,000 administration building at the airport.

Amos Hits the Books

(Daily Iowan Photo)

AMOS TWO-POINT, A2, What Cheer, struggles through another impossible assignment for introduction to mass communications. Two-Point, the battle-scarred soph who has fallen victim to every core course on the campus, is gathering material for a series of satires on well known SUI courses, to be published in the new campus humor magazine, now called "Magazine X." The first satire, on introduction to mass communications, will appear when the magazine goes on sale April 2.

Wants Freedom To Criticize U.S. Policies

KEY WEST, FLA. (AP) — John Foster Dulles Tuesday gave up his post as an adviser to Secretary of State Acheson in a move designed to give himself a free hand in the coming presidential campaign.

In a Washington statement, he said he looked forward "to the possibility of expressing my views about foreign policy under conditions which will not risk embarrassment to the administration or to any presidential candidate."

Being a Republican, he said he naturally believes his party can "provide a leadership in foreign policy which the country will want to follow."

He added that in debating foreign policy issues he would seek to avoid hampering "bi-partisan accord on basic foreign issues."

Letters With Truman
Dulles' decision to sever formal connection with the administration was announced at the "Little White House" here by release of an exchange of letters with President Truman.

In his letter, dated March 21, Dulles noted that the task he primarily assumed — that of handling the Japanese peace treaty and three Pacific security pacts — has been completed with their approval by the senate.

Dulles engineered not only the peace pact but a series of related Pacific security treaties. He also set up the Japanese peace conference in September, 1951, at San Francisco, where Acheson and Dulles defeated every Russian move to wreck the project.

Speeches Oppose Policies
In recent months Dulles has delivered a number of speeches expressing dissatisfaction with various foreign policies of the administration.

He has called for a more aggressive policy along the whole anti-Communist front, built on the idea of warring Russia against any more limited wars of the Korean type. He helped develop the alliance between the United States and western Europe.

Replying Tuesday the President said Dulles had conducted the Japanese negotiations "with devotion and outstanding skill."

The state department in Washington also released an exchange of letters between Dulles and Acheson in which Acheson told the Republican foreign affairs expert: "It has been a joy to work with you over these past years."

Official Connection Ended
Dulles, whose headquarters will hereafter be in New York, said in his Washington statement that senate approval of the Japanese and related pacts last Thursday had brought his official connection with the state department "to its normal and anticipated end."

He said differences of opinion about foreign policy "do not enter into this (severance with the Truman administration) as far as I am concerned."

Joseph Short, press secretary to the President, said there will be no appointment of a successor to Dulles.

In our haste to pat several groups on the back for their efforts during tournament week we overlooked at least one vital organization.

The University Housing service, under the direction of Gerald E. Burke, is to be congratulated for its part in the weeks activities also.

The Housing Service not only arranged nearly 600 beds in the field house, but also loaned hundreds of blankets, mattresses and cots to the Jaycees for accommodating high school athletes Friday and Saturday night.

This year's reservations exceeded anything we have had here before, for a two-day period, and from all we've heard everything was accomplished without any slip-ups.

This shows how the success of many local projects rests in the joint efforts of university and local groups.

As in the above instance, the operation could not have been nearly so successful if either group had tried to do it alone.

Russ Plan Foils Goal Of a Federated Europe

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

One of the great issues between the Allies and Soviet Russia in Germany is whether Western Europe is to remain free to establish itself as a community rather than a group of competing states.

The Allied note replying to Russia's suggestion for a peace conference takes this into account. Russia has suggested a newly nationalized Germany. She has upset her Communist followers throughout Europe by proposing to let Germany have a national army. She would, however, bind this army to neutrality between Germany's former enemies.

This would almost surely nullify the effort, led by France and supported by Western German Chancellor Adenauer, to establish a cooperative if not yet federated Europe.

France, of course, would reject any peace treaty which allowed Germany to have an army. The Russians know that, and merely injected the idea to stir up the Germans against the international army to which Germany is now expected to contribute.

Wants To Interfere
That was the real motive behind the Russian proposal at this time - not to get a peace treaty on Germany, but to interfere with Allied planning.

The Allies have come right back, saying no deal can be made except with a central German government established through free elections in the Russian zone and Berlin as well as in the West.

On the matter of elections, the Allies and Russia ran into an impasse aside from the peace conference business. The Allies want any election to be supervised by the United Nations.

Russian Demand
Russia sticks to her old contention that everything concerning Germany must be a four-power action. They barred a UN survey of their zone to investigate the possibilities of free elections.

One thing to be remembered in all of this is that neither side is laying its case entirely on the table. The whole business is a part of the constant maneuvering incidental to a situation in which war between them is a constant danger if not an immediate prospect.

Both are determined, if anything like that happens, to have Germany, or as much of Germany as possible, on their side.

Iowa Has Not Felt Liquor Sale Slump

DES MOINES (AP) - The slump in liquor sales throughout the country hasn't been as noticeable in Iowa as it has in almost every other state, the Iowa liquor control commission said Tuesday.

"We haven't felt the pinch nearly as much as have the surrounding states and other monopoly states," commission chairman Harold E. Wolfe commented. "There's a money pinch on you know."

"The reason why we are doing more business than the surrounding states is that we undersell them. That helps some, as to the other monopoly (state sales) states, many of them make a greater markup than we do."

Wolfe said commission sales in January and February of this year are relatively comparable with business done in the same months of recent years. However, he added, 1951 appears to be the peak year for January and February sales.

He explained that January sales usually are comparatively low because they follow heavy year-end holiday buying.

Republicans To Seat 26 in Iowa House Without Opposition

DES MOINES (AP) - Twenty-six Republican candidates for the 1953 Iowa house of representatives and two for the state senate are going to be seated without even an argument.

Also indicated is another heavy Republican majority in both the house and senate. There will be at least 11 new faces in the 50-member senate and 22 in the 108-member house.

These outlooks are based on filings for the 30 openings in the senate and the 108 positions in the houses. The filings were made with the secretary of state, by candidates in the June 2 primary election.

The 26 Republican candidates for the house and two for the senate have no opposition. Three are new, the others incumbents. However, Democrats still could fill places on their legislative tickets by getting 5 per cent write-in votes for some candidates in the primary election.

The Democrats are contesting for only 20 of the 30 openings for the senate, the Republicans for all. There are 17 holdover Republican senators. Thus unless something else happens Republicans will hold 27 of the 50 seats. A senate majority is 26.

Democrats are contesting for only 77 seats in the house, the Republicans for all except one of two going to Dubuque county. The Republicans, with 26 seats uncontested, thus go nearly half way in winning a majority in the house, which is 55.

Eleven present senators are dropping out. Twenty two current members of the house are not seeking reelection. However, eight of the 22 are out for places in the senate.

GETTING THE LEAD OUT
CASTOR, Alta. (AP) - A total of 120 shotgun pellets struck Reginald Quantz when a shotgun carried by a companion on a hunting trip accidentally discharged. He is recovering.

TO THE EDITOR:
Was somewhat dismayed upon reading in the Iowan of another correspondent letting loose a loud yelp in a letter to the editor, wherein he decries the unkind but honest criticism of your critic's review of this year's Panacea.

It is time that writer realizes that in that nether land stretching inevitably beyond these elysian fields lies a grossly materialistic world; a world interested only in the quality of an item's production, not in its birth pains; a world that just doesn't pay off on "nice tries."

And we of the suffering public, when we let 75 cents out of our claws, want something for our money besides feeble explanations for deficiency. Strange as it may seem, when we pay to be entertained, we expect to BE entertained, not subjected to weeping and wailing about hours spent in production, sacrificed Christmas vacations and like lament.

World's Oldest Library Observes 5th Centenary

CESENA, Italy (AP) - The Malatestian library, one of the oldest in the world, will celebrate its fifth centenary this spring.

The library was founded in 1452 by Prince Domenico Malatesta, and was kept by the Franciscan brothers until 1866 when the Italian state took over the property. The books have been kept with almost religious care for the past five centuries.

Postoffice Work Follows Prayer

NASHVILLE, TENN. (AP) - Brief scripture readings followed by a prayer now form a regular prelude to the day's work in Nashville's postoffice and substations.

Postmaster Lewis Moore said the practice started in 1950 shortly after he'd asked employees to stop work for a minute of silent prayer on United Nations day.

The brief services are conducted, on a voluntary basis, by the employees and, says Moore, "It's a revelation what it's done for morale."

Spies Could Enter U.S. Disguised as Seamen

WASHINGTON (AP) - The coast guard, which is responsible for port security, acknowledges it can't do much about the possibility that saboteurs, spies and spy couriers could be landed in this country disguised as seamen.

The AFL seafarers union newspaper, the Log, pointed out last week that laws put a strict check on the comings and goings of American seamen and on foreign ship and plane passengers - but that there is no provision for checking on foreign seamen.

A coast guard spokesman said "not much can be done about it under present law."

No Doubles for These Daring Actresses When It Comes to Dangerous Circus Feats

BETTY HUTTON spent months learning trapeze. World famed Antoinette Concello is shown teaching her difficult routines.

GLORIA GRAHAME had to learn to mount an elephant, and later let the giant animal step on her face - and she had to pretend to like it.

DOROTHY LAMOUR had to dangle by her teeth. It took weeks of jaw muscle strengthening, tutored by Antoinette Concello.

FOR THESE THREE ACTRESSES, "The Greatest Show on Earth" is probably their greatest acting job from a purely physical standpoint. They had dangerous circus specialties which they agreed to perform without "doubles" from the array of Ringling professionals who taught them. Betty Hutton emerged a fully qualified trapeze performer. Dorothy Lamour learned to spin high in the air while hanging by her teeth. Gloria Grahame had to lie down and let an elephant lower its foot to her face. To gain confidence, they performed before huge circus audiences.

Help Others In Order To Be Happy

The way to be great is to serve others. This was the main cornerstone in the life philosophy of Prof. Walter Daykin, of the labor and industrial management bureau, who spoke at the YWCA Philosophy of Life lecture series Tuesday night.

"By helping somebody along to success, you can achieve happiness," Daykin said. This philosophy resulted, he said from his early religious and childhood training. He is a member of a family of 14 children.

The valuable things that he learned and incorporated in his life's philosophy are:

All American citizens can expect a chance, an opportunity in life.

Success doesn't mean obtaining the top position, but success means doing a job well.

The "spark of divinity" in all of us gives us the philosophy of being "our brother's keeper."

If you have a problem, approach it from an optimistic point of view rather than the pessimistic view of a person who wears both "suspenders and a belt."

Never pass a problem on to another, because there is no solution obtained by doing so.

Subordinate the unhappy events of life in order to enjoy the happy ones.

University Hospitals House Cancer Study Laboratory

By JO ANN PACKEY

Three cytologic diagnostic technicians in the cytology laboratory of the University hospitals determine the destiny of approximately 60 people a day.

Three women, employed by the United States government through the public cancer fund, determine by their study whether or not a person has cancer.

Their diagnosis of sputum, bronchial secretions, or vaginal smears can discover cancer in cases where the tumor could not be visualized or biopsied (examination of a piece of tissue or bone removed from a living subject).

Edna Pixley, L3, Iowa City, the first cytology technician at SUI, was trained by Drs. Bradberry and Plassus who began the cytology laboratory in 1945. Miss Pixley works a 40-hour week in the laboratory and carries a full schedule as a junior in law school.

One of approximately 30 cytology laboratories in the U.S., SUI also employs Mrs. Delores Wallen who has done cytology work for over a year. She attended SUI for three years.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shelton is the third member of the SUI cytology laboratory.

Mrs. Bobbie Barrett, secretary for the laboratory for the past year, has just started the study and work in the reading of slides so that she can take over in Mrs. Wallen's place when Mrs. Wallen's husband graduates from SUI in June.

There is no formal training for this type of work. The work as cytologic diagnostic is learned by an apprenticeship which lasts about six months. The people trained in the laboratory are free to establish cytology laboratories of their own in other cities.

Laboratories are located now in Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, and Council Bluffs.

Interpretation of cytologic smear preparations is often difficult. Twenty minutes will sometimes reveal a malignant cell and can-

WHAT'S COMING OFF NEXT ?

A JOB IS A JOB IS A JOB When you get it

OR

The Case of the THREE-CENT PATSY

Once there was a Senior who faced the grim prospect of Graduation. With Social Security 42 years away, he recognized the need of a job.

So he burrowed manfully through Classified Sections, under "Help Wanted," in search of the Right Niche. Spotted it, too, one day. A honey. Good Money, the right field, nice location, pensions and benefits up to here. The ad asked for Brief Histories from applicants.

So he wrote. Not quickly, but convincingly. A masterpiece that took four nights and filled six pages with Deathless Prose. It left no doubt that here was The Man for the Job. He slipped on a 3-cent stamp.

P.S. — he didn't get the job. His epistle wound up as 334th in the pile, and they never got down that far. Hired one of the first eight, as a matter of fact—all of whom had Enough Brains to flash the Data by telegram and land on Top of the Heap.

Whether you're canvassing Personnel Managers or just looking up with a Hon Back Home, you can count on a Telegram to get there first. A Point Point to remember, too, when sounding out Pop for Passes, remembering Mother's Day, or working up a Weekend. Two words to the Wise are "Western Union."

Calls Cobb Off Base

(AP Wirephoto)

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE'S BEST hitter, Stan Musial, came into the news again recently when he refuted the statement by Ty Cobb that the only two great modern ball players are Musial and Phil Rizzuto. "Cobb's crazy," Stan said. "There never was a day when I was as good a ball player as Joe DiMaggio at his best. . . He was the best, the very best, I ever saw in my life." Cobb has received wide-spread criticism for his derogatory remarks about modern players.

Loss of Wheeler Jolts Runners' Chicago Hopes

By LEE CANNING

Iowa's Big Ten champion mile relay team makes its second showing in two weeks in the Chicago Daily News relays Saturday night but the Hawks will have to run without sophomore Ted Wheeler. Coach Francis Cremeyer revealed Tuesday that Wheeler would miss Saturday's meet due to sickness. The Hawkeye coach said that time trials held Tuesday afternoon put DuWayne Dietz in Wheeler's place.

The rest of the Hawkeye squad will have three members of the original four who won the conference title and set a new Big Ten record. That means Chuck Boylan, LeRoy Ebert and Gary Scott will team with Dietz.

Hawks Face Best

Iowa will be running against the best mile relay outfits from Drake and Oklahoma in the Champion of Champions relay. Drake is champion of the Central Collegiate conference and Oklahoma won the Big Seven title.

It will be the first time that an Iowa team has appeared in the Champion relay race, although Hawkeye squads have competed in a matched mile relay each year since 1938. Iowa won its division in 1939, 1946, and 1950.

Last Saturday, the Hawkeye relay team went to New York to run in an invitational meet in Madison Square Garden. Iowa placed third in a three-team race behind New York Pioneer club and Fordham. The winners' time was 3:18.8 while Iowa was clocked in 3:22.

Also Drops from Mile

Wheeler also was scheduled to enter the famed Banker's Mile in the Chicago relays. Don Gehrmann, ex-Wisconsin star, Dewey Johnson of Drake and Dennis Johansson of Purdue were the other milers invited.

Ira Murchison and Glen Hessel-tine also will represent Iowa Saturday. Both Murchison and Hessel-tine will run the 50-yard dash.

Ferguson Injured, Too

Another Hawkeye, two-miler Rich Ferguson, had been invited to run Saturday but a pulled leg muscle forced the Canadian freshman to decline. Ferguson posted his best indoor time of the season last Saturday in the Canadian Legion track meet in Montreal but injured himself in doing it.

Ferguson was timed in 9:09.9 for the two-mile and still was second to Michigan's Don McEwen, who set a new Canadian record in 9:04.

The Hawkeye freshman had made his best previous indoor time in taking second in the Big Ten meet. He finished with a 9:19.5 time in the conference championships.

Arrangements Made For 1st National TV Showing of Derby

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP) — Churchill Downs announced Tuesday the 1952 Kentucky Derby will be televised from coast to coast.

It will be the first "live" telecast of the racing classic outside the Louisville area.

Bill Corum, president of Churchill Downs, said an agreement had been reached with the Columbia Broadcasting system to carry the May 3 running to viewers wherever its cable facilities reach.

The sponsor will be the Gillette company, which has been sponsoring a radio broadcast of the Derby for several years.

Corum declined to divulge the terms of the television contract other than to say "a substantial sum" was involved. Churchill Downs is believed to receive $50,000 a year for radio rights.

Corum emphasized the television agreement covers only this year's race.

"We are going to study the effect on crowd, betting, etc., before committing ourselves to future contracts," he said.

Last year's Derby was televised on films several hours after the race.

Since there is no outgoing TV cable from Louisville, CBS will have to lay one, probably to Indianapolis, the nearest connection with the east-west hookup.

8 Iowa Swimmers To Enter NCAA

Iowa's top eight swimmers will leave today for Princeton, N. J., and the 1952 NCAA swimming championships.

The Hawkeye team will fly to New York and take a train the rest of the way, arriving in time to rest up for Thursday's opening event, the 1500-meter. Buddy Lucas and Don Watson will be Iowa's entries in that race.

Although he hopes his squad will improve its showing of last year, Iowa coach David Armbruster does not expect the Hawkeyes to make a strong bid for first place.

Buckeyes Strongest

Ohio State's powerful Buckeyes and Yale, the 1951 champions, should dominate the meet, according to Armbruster.

Iowa's coach also expects Michigan and Michigan State to finish among the leaders.

Leading the Hawks will be co-captains Bowen Stassforth, and Wally Nicholson. Stassforth, one of the nation's leading breaststrikers, rates as Iowa's best chance for points. Nicholson will swim in the sprints and on the free style relay team.

Hawks 8th in '51

Last season, Iowa finished in a tie for eighth place with Washington. The Hawks scored 10 points as two individuals and a relay team placed.

Watson was sixth in the 1500-meter and Ron Johnson was fourth in the individual medley. Iowa's free style relay team took fourth.

With three members returning from the free style relay team, Iowa should be among the top contenders for a high finish. Keo

Mana, Nicholson and Dick Labahn all swam on the 1951 team and have returned. Freshman Dick Pennington will take the place of graduated Rusty Garst.

Broeder a Top Diver

Diver Otto Broeder also could rank among the leaders on the basis of his performance in the Big Ten championships. The Hawkeye junior placed in both the high and low board diving and was edged only by Ohio State's polished performers.

Both Lucas and Watson might help Iowa in the distance events. Lucas was third in the 440-yard race in the conference meet and both placed in the 1500-meter.

Iowa's physical condition should be good except for Stassforth and Watson who have been suffering from colds and flu. Neither have been able to hold lengthy workouts this week.

Thomson's Homer Decisive

Giants, Indians Win

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP) — A home run by Bobby Thomson off southpaw Joe Hatten with one out and none on in the eighth gave the New York Giants a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

It was the sixth straight victory for the Giants and snapped the Cubs' six-game winning string.

The Giants trailed 6-2, at one time, but tied it up with a four-run rally in the seventh.

Indians 7, Chisox 5

TUCSON, ARIZ. (AP) — Goose-egged until the sixth, the Cleveland Indians broke loose with three homers in that frame and went on to beat Chicago's White Sox, 7-5, Tuesday.

Until the homer barrage, the Tribe's Early Wynn was behind, 2-0. Wynn yielded two runs on four hits and fanned six in the six innings.

Bob Chakales, who hurled the last three for the Tribe, walking one run across and was tagged for a two-run homer by catcher Sherm Lollar in the seventh.

Brooklyn 9, A's 5

MIAMI (AP) — Brooklyn made it three in a row and nine out of 13 with a 9-5 exhibition baseball victory over the A's Tuesday.

Most Valuable Illinois Loses To St. John's In 61-59 Upset

Chuck Darling, Iowa's all-American center, completed his monopoly of basketball awards over the weekend by winning the Chicago Tribune's award as the Big Ten's most valuable player.

The tall Hawkeye center was named on 20 of 23 first place ballots. Illinois' Rod Fletcher got one vote as did Wisconsin's Ab Nicholas and Purdue's Carl McNulty.

Darling was the second Iowa named as the Big Ten's most valuable. Bill Reichardt won the most votes for the football award, and it was only the second time in history that two men from a school have won the honor in a single year.

Darling made every major all-American team for the past season, besides being a unanimous selection for the Big Ten's all-conference squad. He also rewrote the record books of Iowa and the Big Ten.

SEATTLE (AP) — Bob Zawoluk led the Redmen of St. John's to an upset 61-59 triumph over Illinois Tuesday night in the opening game of the NCAA basketball championship semifinals.

Zawoluk was held to four points in the third period as Illinois, led by Rod Fletcher and Jim Bredar, rallied strongly after trailing, 33-27, at the half.

Three times the Illini pulled even in the second half, and once they took a brief lead at 40-39 on a long toss by Bredar.

Zawoluk Breaks Tie

But Zawoluk connected with a hook shot early in the final period to crack a 45-45 tie, capped that with a free throw and the Redmen were in front to stay.

Zawoluk scored 10 points in the final quarter and 24 for his evening's work.

St. John's, upsets Saturday of mighty Kentucky, appeared a bit tense at the opening of the action and was five points behind before hitting the scoreboard with a Zawoluk free throw.

The count was tied four times in the opening quarter, which ended 18-18, but the Redmen clearly had the upper hand and it was close only because they were missing their shots.

Redmen Control Boards

All through the first half Zawoluk and the St. John's forwards, Jim Davis and Jack McMahon, dominated the boards. The shots began to fall for the Redmen from Brooklyn in the second quarter and they hammered quickly to a 28-18 advantage.

They had Illinois a bit frantic but the Big Ten champs settled down toward the end of the period and narrowed the count to 33-27 by halftime.

Bredar, at 5-11 the tourney's smallest starter, led the Illini in a defensive show and teamed with Capt. Fletcher in scoring as the midwesterners staged a last half rally. Each got 14 points.

The two of them got all but one of their team's points in the third period.

It looked as if St. John's might be in trouble when Zawoluk picked up his fourth foul early in the last quarter but he survived the route although the team lost guard Dick Duckett with four minutes of play left.

Shutout pitching by young Billy Loes for the last three innings after the A's had reached Preacher Roe for 11 hits in six frames featured the Brooklyn triumph. The A's got 16 hits.

Browns 6, Bucs 2

BURBANK, CALIF. (AP) — The St. Louis Browns bunched six hits that were good for six runs in the second inning Tuesday to close their training camp schedule with a 6-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bob Cain and Satchel Paige pitched for St. Louis and held the Bucs to six hits.

The Browns' exhibition game record is 10 victories and five losses. St. Louis starts eastward today.

The following games were rained out Tuesday: Philadelphia (N) vs. Washington (A); St. Louis (N) vs. Boston (N); Boston (A) vs. Detroit (A); New York (A) vs. Cincinnati (N).

KEOKUK CAGERS APOLOGIZE

The three Keokuk high school cagers who quit their team on the eve of the final game of the state tournament, apologized to their fellow students Tuesday. There was little, if any, reaction to their speeches. They are Jim Breakbill, Jack McIntyre and Dick Bragg.

— Ted Gets More Chances

By WHITNEY MARTIN SARASOTA, FLA. (AP) — We have just received an early report from Lou Boudreau's laboratory on his latest experiment, which might be called the Boudreau Shift No. 2.

The No. 1 Boudreau Shift was developed when he was the Cleveland manager and it was designed to hinder Ted Williams as much as possible. The idea was to herd as many players in right field as possible, the athletes gathering there as if to start a crap game, hoping Ted would hit the ball in their direction, which he frequently did.

The No. 2 shift is being tried to help Teddy Boy, and consists of shifting him up to the second spot in the batting order and moving the pitcher up to seventh. Someone called it a de-ranked lineup.

Anyway, Boudreau has been keeping a fever chart of the operation, and reports as follows on the first 10 exhibition games in which his Red Sox participated:

The ninth man in the lineup led off an inning 13 times, and the No. 1 man led off 16 times, including the 10 times he led off to start the games.

Williams in the 10 games was at bat four times more than he would have been batting fourth, or in the cleanup spot, and two times more than if he were batting in his customary No. 3 spot.

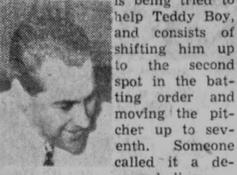

That would mean that Ted would be at bat 64 more times than the cleanup man in 100 games (sure, we know the season is only 154 games), and 32 more than if he were batting third.

The idea of the whole thing is to get Williams at bat often, and if Ted leaves for the services all bets are off and the team goes back to the regular lineup, with the pitcher batting last.

If all this isn't quite clear just forget about it. It isn't clear to the Red Sox, either, who somehow managed to find ways to lose games just as efficiently as ever, no matter who is batting where.

Italian Students Stage Bloody Riots, Seek Return of Trieste

ROME (AP) — Thousands of students battled police Tuesday when Fascist and Communist agitators turned a demonstration over Trieste into a bloody brawl with anti-American overtones.

Shouting for the return of Trieste free territory to Italy, other thousands milled through Naples, Milan and Trieste.

A rash of anti-American slogans appeared. Rioters marched on U.S. diplomatic missions in Rome and Naples. In Milan, police halted another student march against the British legation.

Police hurled tear gas bombs and charged crowds in red riot jeeps before the worst Rome outbreak was quelled. Scores of students were injured, one critically. Thirty police casualties were led away.

More than 130 persons were arrested in Rome and 70 in Naples. The Trieste rioting broke out last Thursday. In the past six days 180 have been injured and 74 jailed in Trieste.

The wave of demonstrations was touched off in Italy by Italian feeling that the British-trained Trieste police were too severe in quelling Thursday's outbreak.

Some Military Planes To Use Newark Airport

NEW YORK (AP) — The port of New York authority agreed Tuesday to reopen Newark airport on a limited basis for military planes.

The big airport has been closed since Feb. 11, when the last of three airliner crashes in neighboring Elizabeth, N.J., boosted the death toll to 119 lives in less than two months.

The port authority said it was ready to reopen Newark partially as soon as the air force sets the date.

Truman Expected To Intervene In Bitter Steel Wage Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman was expected Tuesday to intervene soon to halt a bitter free-for-all over steel wages—a fight which threatens to wreck the government's price-wage control machinery.

The row split top echelons of officialdom, and found labor leaders swapping hot statements with industry. It also prompted the house rules committee to vote, 7-4, for an investigation of the wage stabilization board, center of the controversy.

The fight started when the board, with industry members dissenting vigorously, proposed 17½ cents an hour pay boosts plus other major benefits for 650,000 CIO steelworkers.

This aroused Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson. Returning Tuesday night from a talk with Truman at Key West, he declared that the proposals were a "serious threat" to the anti-inflation program.

Then these developments followed in swift order:

1. CIO President Philip Murray, who also heads the steelworkers union, called Wilson a "biased and uninformed" big businessman and refused flatly to meet with him on the steel dispute. The union is threatening to strike April 8 unless a settlement acceptable to it is reached.

2. Industry members of the 18-man wage board said the board "should go out of business." They said it was "causing inflation and creating disputes."

Rites To Be Held For Mrs. O'Connor

Services will be at 9 a.m. Thursday at St. Patrick's church for Mrs. Mary O'Connor, 92, 529 S. Clinton st., who died Monday evening at her home after an illness of one month.

She was born in Johnson county on Dec. 16, 1860.

In 1886, she married John O'Connor and the family lived in Washington county until 1922, when they moved to Iowa City. Mr. O'Connor died in 1935. An infant son, George, died in 1892 and another son, Frank, died in 1924.

Survivors include three daughters; Mrs. Blanche Gibson of Iowa City, Mrs. Mae Valentine, Casey, Iowa, and Mrs. Maude De Vilbiss of Waukegan, Ill.; two sons, Lyle, of Iowa City and William of Riverside; 16 grandchildren, and 18 great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Mt. Olivet in Riverside. The rosary will be recited at 8:15 p.m. today in the Hohenschuh mortuary.

House Rules Group Approves Limiting Marine Corps' Size

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over administration opposition, the house rules committee Tuesday approved a bill giving the marine corps representation on the joint chiefs of staff and putting a ceiling of 400,000 officers and men on the size of the corps.

The committee's action clears the bill for house consideration. It probably will come up in the house immediately after the Easter recess.

A similar measure passed the senate last year but never came to a vote in the house.

The present strength of the marine corps is about 300,000. There is now no marine on the joint chiefs of staff. The chief of naval operations represents the navy and the marines, a branch of the navy, on the top military command.

Brannan Criticized In Grain Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Williams (R-Del.) said Tuesday that while President Truman is out of town, Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan "is playing president and practicing up writing letters."

Williams' latest comment on Brannan — the two have been feuding for months — came as the senate agriculture committee began hearings on government grain storage at Camp Crowder, Mo.

The committee wants to know why the government leased its surplus army buildings to private companies which then leased them back to the agriculture department to use as grain storage bins.

Williams Lashes Profit

Williams said previously that the Midwest Storage and Realty company of Kansas City, Mo., had made a 1,400 per cent profit on the deal. Tuesday he said he may have been too cautious in his estimate.

The company got a profit, Williams said, before its founders "even put a dime in it." His conclusion: "I could correctly have called the profits 14,000 or even 20,000 per cent."

Brannan wrote Williams Monday that he was "utterly amazed" at what Williams has been saying. Brannan said the senator is "ignoring" and "distorting" the facts.

Brannan Defends Midwest

Brannan's conclusion: Midwest will make around $40,000 on the deal, which, he said, he doesn't think excessive. Another company, Brannan declared, stands to lose more than $300,000 on its Camp Crowder operations.

It took Brannan 11 pages to make his points—and it took the senators considerable time Tuesday to complete their comments on his letter.

Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) looked on it as "an attack on Sen.

Sutton Is Named As 'Mastermind' Of Bank Robbery

NEW YORK (AP) — Bank bandit John De Venuta betrayed his old friend, Willie (the Actor) Sutton, Tuesday, tapping him as mastermind of a $64,000 bank stickup.

"I'm doing this for my wife and unborn child," he said of his testimony against the nation's king of bank robbers. De Venuta hopes to win a lighter sentence for his part in the holdup.

Sutton glared briefly at the stocky, mustached De Venuta as the latter advanced across Queens county courtroom to lay a hand on Willie's shoulder.

De Venuta also identified Thomas (Scup) Kling as the third man with him and Sutton in the March 9, 1950, stickup of a branch of the Manufacturers Trust company in Sunnyside, Queens.

Willie has insisted he didn't have any part in the bank hold-up. De Venuta testified otherwise, and stuck to the story during a long cross examination.

De Venuta won himself a separate, later trial by turning state's evidence and taking the witness stand against his cohorts.

Police Investigate Death

DES MOINES (AP) — Investigation continued Tuesday evening into what Polk county Coroner A. E. Shaw describes as the "very strange death" of Winfred Vincent, 73-year-old Des Moines carpenter.

Williams. Aiken wondered if 90,000 copies of the Brannan letter were sent out to the farmers who advise the department.

Senator Hits Letters

Aiken also said Williams should have the right to send replies to these persons at government expense, but Williams said he would not ask for this.

(At the agriculture department, an information officer told a reporter that 2,200 copies of the letter were made. Many of the copies, he said, went to newspaper reporters and magazine and radio editors.)

Sen. James Kcm (R-Mo.) said Brannan should be called before the committee so that he could be questioned.

Houston Man Jailed For Trying to Sell Daughter for $500

HOUSTON, TEX. (AP) — A Houston butcher was arrested Tuesday and charged with trying to sell his 2-year-old daughter into adoption for $500 and an automobile.

Steve Ribnikar, 27, was jailed at Pasadena, Tex., after two probation officers posed as wanting to adopt the child, Sharon.

Not until then did Ribnikar know that the "Mr. and Mrs. McDonald" with whom he was negotiating were officers H. W. Mann and Mrs. Virginia McDonald.

Ribnikar was jailed under a statute which forbids selling, bartering or exchanging children.

Police entered the case after Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Spradling of Pasadena advertised March 11 in the Houston press for a baby and reported getting a letter from a man who said he had a baby girl he would "sacrifice for $500 and a new car."

Pasadena Police Chief John Gaines notified the county probation department which inserted answering ads giving Mann's telephone number. Mann said Ribnikar called the number Monday. Mann and Mrs. McDonald met Ribnikar Monday night.

Tuesday the couple picked up Ribnikar, drove to Pasadena and pretended to buy Ribnikar a new car after he signed an adoption agreement. He was then arrested.

"I wanted to get out of Houston and wanted my girl to have a home," Ribnikar said. "I owe board and her doctor bills that I wanted to pay."

Ribnikar and the child's mother, Mrs. Agnes Ribnikar, were divorced in 1951 in Pittsburgh, Pa., Ribnikar said.

2 Rockford Papers Crippled by Strike

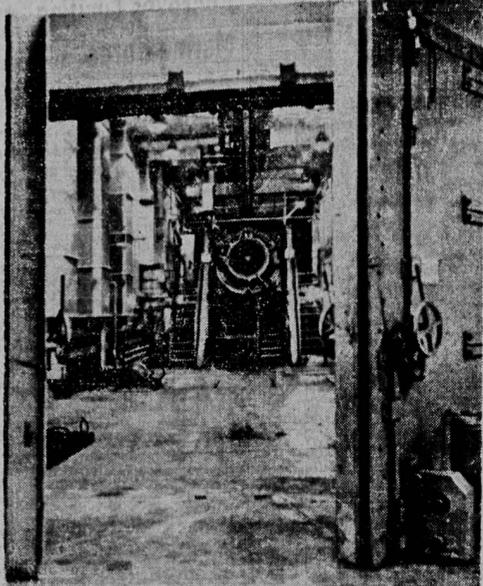

ROCKFORD, ILL. (AP) — Rockford's two daily newspapers, the Morning Star and the Register-Republic, were crippled Tuesday by a labor dispute.

Rockford Consolidated Newspapers, Inc., publishers of both dailies, said more than 70 AFL printers struck late Monday in a dispute over handling of press association teletypesetter perforated tape.

The Rockford Typographical union termed the work stoppage a "lockout" and set up picket lines.

The publishers said "a limited number" of members of the CUI Rockford Newspaper guild, consisting of newsroom employees, went to work this morning on the Register-Republic, the afternoon paper. The others were reported holding a special meeting to decide a course of action.

GE Builds Jet Engine Test Room

(AP Wirephoto)

THIS FORTRESS-LIKE super-cell, or test room for jet engines, is one of the installations at the General Electric company's new jet center at Lockland, O., which was dedicated Tuesday. The room was designed to withstand jet engine exhausts which even now send cell exhaust temperatures to 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit within eight seconds. It is capable of housing turbojets far more powerful than any now in production, the company says.

15 Stassen Delegates Asked To Support Ike

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Harold E. Stassen announced Tuesday night he has asked half his 30 delegate candidates in the Wisconsin April 1 GOP presidential primary to support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the first ballot at the Chicago nominating convention.

Stassen said his delegation agreed to this unprecedented move. The former governor of Minnesota made the announcement Tuesday night in a speech prepared for a Sheboygan rally.

Say Mac Backers Sought

In another pre-election development, a supporter said Gen. Douglas MacArthur's campaign organization has been approached with — and had rejected — a proposal to throw the general's strength behind Sen. Robert A. Taft.

A Taft man promptly replied his telephone conversation with the MacArthur backer was "misinterpreted."

A total of 30 Republican delegates will be elected in next Tuesday's primary. Taft, Stassen, and Gov. Earl Warren of California are the main contenders for their votes. Eisenhower's name is not on the ballot.

15 Agree to Ike

Stassen said that if his 30 delegates are elected, 15 have agreed to his urging that they vote for Eisenhower on the first ballot in the July Chicago convention.

He did not indicate whether the promise would hold beyond the first ballot. Nor did he say whether it would apply if he gets fewer than the total 30, as most observers here believe he will.

Observers saw Stassen's action as an open bid for votes from Eisenhower's admirers in Wisconsin.

Wisconsin's state law does not permit the electorate to write the general's name in on the ballot, as was done in Minnesota.

Taft-Mac Story

The Taft-MacArthur story, as related by Marshall C. Graff, of Appleton, a MacArthur backer, was this:

He said a Taft delegate-candidate, Harlan W. Kelley, telephoned him and said Taft's organization "figured they need 10-

000 more votes to win next Tuesday's election."

"He wanted us (the Ritter delegation) to announce we were voting for Taft," Graff continued.

Believes Taft Fearful

Lansing Hoyt, Milwaukee headquarters director for the Ritter organization, said he saw the action as an indication "the Taft crowd had cold feet."

Kelley, however, said Graff "apparently misinterpreted" the intent of his telephone conversation.

"I told Graff that in any political campaign, even with a landslide in sight, a candidate liked to get all the support he could. I told him also that Taft is the only friend MacArthur has at court."

Big Primary Vote Seen in Nebraska

OMAHA (AP) — Bad weather appeared to be the only threatening factor against a heavy primary vote in Nebraska next Tuesday, for road conditions will be a determinate of the size of the vote in this rural state.

Topping the factors pointing toward a big primary turnout are the feverish write-in campaigns now in progress for Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, plus the first direct clash between Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Nebraska's biggest primary vote in a presidential year was in 1940 when Republicans polled 184,164 votes and Democrats 157,705 for a total of 341,869.

Southern Tornado Took 238 Lives, Red Cross Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Red Cross reported Tuesday a survey of the tornado-ravaged south has disclosed that 238 persons died in the six-state disaster last Friday. The injury total stood at 1,202, of whom 732 were hospitalized.

The Red Cross said 3,052 families were affected, 1,190 homes destroyed, 1,499 damaged.

The tornado, worst in six years, ripped through Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi, Alabama and Kentucky. The government has cleared the way for emergency relief under the disaster setup of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

News Blackout Screens Work Of Negotiators

MUNSAN, Korea (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Armistice negotiators bargained in a news blackout Tuesday on the shopworn issue of prisoner exchange. There was no apparent progress.

In an adjoining tent at Panmunjom, staff officers reached general agreement on the secondary question of ports of entry, but the Reds renewed demands that Russia be one of six neutral inspectors.

By keeping the proceedings secret, the staff officers debating the prisoner exchange issues hoped to break a three-month deadlock. The United Nations command promised to announce promptly any results.

The UN command added that the news blackout would be lifted immediately if there was the slightest indication of information leaking out on the Communist side. Communist newsmen said Tuesday the Red delegates had given them no news on the prisoner talks earlier in the day.

Major issue in the prisoner exchange talks is whether prisoners should be given a choice of being returned, as demanded by the Allies, or forced to return, as demanded by the Reds.

Reds Throw Flak In Rail Defense

SEOUL, Korea (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Pilots returning from strikes deep in North Korea reported Tuesday night the Reds are trying desperately to defend their battered rail system with anti-aircraft fire.

"The Reds threw an awful lot of flak up at us, but it didn't do any good," said Capt. John R. Roy Jr., of Willimantic, Conn., leader of a flight of F-80 Shooting Stars.

The U.S. fifth air force reported 76 new cuts were made in the Communist rail network, which has been blasted day and night for months. Elements of three air wings cut the line in 56 places between Chongju and Sinanju, in northwest Korea — the main Red lifeline to Manchuria.

Rare Coins

Strange Pieces Found In Meters

CHICAGO (AP) — Some people proudly put their rare or foreign coins in a strong-box; others — to save a nickel or a dime — slyly slip them into parking meters.

Among coins found in New York city's 10-cent parking meters were a 10-kopek piece bearing the Soviet hammer and sickle, several 3-cent U.S. coins minted in 1867 and transit tokens from various cities.

New York realized a profit on the tokens, since they were redeemed at 15 cents each.

Detroit's nickel meters produced Hong Kong 5-cent pieces, Philippine 25-cent pieces, French 10-centimes, Mexican 5-centavos, German coins, tool checks, bar checks, and washers.

SHE LEAVES MEN COLD

After a moment's pleased inspection, the average man would pass up this picture.

But not the average woman!

She sees what the man misses: a fascinating new accessory — the "glove stole." With hat to match!

No matter where she first picks up such news tidbits — about clothes, food, beauty, home decorating — only the newspaper gives her answers to "Where can I get it? For how much?"

So she watches the newspaper every day. Sometimes for a definite purchase—a new rug, or refrigerator, or a topcoat for Daddy. Often for any one of a dozen half-conscious wants.

Like men, women have found from experience that if they miss a single issue of their local newspaper, they miss something important.

• Why do advertisers spend more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising?

Because everybody reads the newspaper every day! So, why advertise only to fractions of the people who can buy?

Radio and TV programs reach fractions of anybody's market — sport fans, homemakers, kids, or whatever. And even they can't all listen when a commercial is broadcast.

Magazines reach only fractions of a market. For each one appeals to some people — not to others.

The Newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody.

Only the newspaper is first with the most news... the most people... the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"
