Close Races In Campus Elections

'Why Can't We Do This?'

"I SUPPOSE THAT'S ALL RIGHT, BUT . . ." is what four SUI faculty and administration members seem to be thinking about Iowa's all-American center Chuck Darling, as he goes up for a basket. The group decided to take time out from practice for a coming basketball game between Hancher's Hawks, to be made up of faculty members, and Dean's Demons, composed of representatives from the administrative staff to be played at the all-campus carnival April 19. Pictured above are (left to right): Russell Ross, political science, and captain of Hancher's Hawks, one of the teams; Walter Geiger, business office; John Hendrickson, political science; Frank Burge, assistant director of the Iowa Memorial Union, and Darling.

Town Men Void One Election, Vote To Hold Another

Members of the Town Men association Wednesday night voted "null and void" to the recent mailed ballot election of three representatives to the student council and voted to hold a new election. The action occurred at a two and one-half hour session in Macbride hall attended by 26 members, 13 of whom joined the association during the meeting.

Presented by Bluestone
The "null and void" motion, which was presented by George Bluestone, G. New York, N.Y., called the mailed ballots "undemocratic" and "unfair and contrary to the best interests of town men."

The ballots were mailed last week to 81 town men who were members of the association. More than 750 men on campus are eligible, but they must sign the roster to be allowed, Adviser Richard Switzer said.

Protests arose that "those who voted for the motion were not members at the time of the election." The motion had carried by 18-5.

Motion Carries, 8-5
A motion was then made and carried that only men who were members at the time of the mailed ballot election could vote on the "null and void" motion. On the second vote the motion carried by 8-5.

To clarify the voting procedure, Virgil M. Hancher Jr., A3, Iowa City, proposed "that the words 'voting member' be substituted for the words 'eligible member' in the constitution, and that any vote taken for council representatives include all persons in town now defined as eligible for membership in the association."

The motion was carried unanimously.
3 Members Added
Hancher then proposed that three members from among the

Taft Beats Ike In Nebkaska, Kefauver Rolls

(By The Associated Press)

Sen. Robert A. Taft showed a new turn of speed in the race for the Republican presidential nomination Wednesday while Sen. Estes Kefauver surged farther in front in the Democratic field.

Hitting the comeback trail after earlier reverses, Taft rolled up a tight but impressive lead over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the Nebraska primary and scored a thumping victory over his other major rivals in Wisconsin.

Jubilantly, Taft commented: "Midwestern voters have demonstrated there is just as much of a ground swell for Taft as for Eisenhower."

Kefauver Ramps Ahead
Kefauver, the Democratic front-runner now that President Truman has definitely stepped aside, romped off with both the Wisconsin and Nebraska contests.

The lanky 48-year-old Tennessee promptly hailed his triumph in Nebraska as a victory "against the entire Democratic machine," contending he had overcome White House support and heavy cash outlays for his opponent, Sen. Robert S. Kerr.

In Wisconsin, Kefauver captured 85.3 per cent of the total Democratic vote against pro-Truman slates and won all of the state's 28 delegates to the Democratic national convention. Truman announced last Saturday he will not run again.

Kerr Won't Quit
In Nebraska, Kefauver far outdistanced Kerr, with 1,756 of the state's 2,058 precincts showing him ahead by 51,247 to 34,879. It was a jolt to Kerr in his first primary contest, but the wealthy Oklahoma oilman announced he will stay in the fight.

With nearly three-fourths of the Nebraska votes counted, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, a possible "dark horse" entry, had received 867 write-in votes compared with 684 for Truman and 443 for Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

In Nebraska, Taft had a plurality of 16,412 votes over Eisenhower. The score: Taft 64,731, Eisenhower 48,319, Harold E. Stassen 43,278.

Truman, McGrath Have Angry Words in Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman and his attorney general, J. Howard McGrath, engaged in what looked like an angry argument while they waited to greet Queen Juliana of the Netherlands at the National airport Wednesday.

Truman and his press secretary, Joseph Short, stood with McGrath at the military air transport service terminal and engaged in a heated discussion for about five minutes. They stood some distance away from the waiting dignitaries, and their words could not be overheard.

There was no explanation of what the three were talking about, but witnesses of the incident got the impression that no agreement was reached.

UN Officers Delay Korea Truce Talks

MUNSAN, Korea (THURSDAY) (AP)—Staff officers arguing prisoner exchange called off their secret session today—an indication that a new move may be under way to break a four months deadlock.

The scheduled meeting was postponed until Friday morning at the request of the United Nations command.

An Allied spokesman declined to explain the postponement, but said it was "for constructive purposes."

In the past, a recess of this type usually has indicated some new move in the armistice discussions.

A chance to visit the "home" of the kilt and the bagpipe this summer was assured for the SUI Scottish Highlanders Wednesday, when Pipe Major William Adamson announced that passage for a trip to Scotland had been assured.

The trip of the Highlanders, all-woman's bagpipe band, will not be limited to Scotland, however, as England and continental Europe are on the tour schedule.

For three years the Highlanders have had a standing invitation to perform at the world-famous Festival of Music and Drama in Edinburgh, Scotland, but the group has never been able to accept because ship passage was not available.

Now, with round-trip passage assured on the S. S. Arosa Kulm, some 50 to 75 Highlanders can plan their long-delayed tour.

Tentative plans call for the group to sail from Montreal July 15 for LeHarve, France, and then to Paris.

The Highlanders will spend approximately a week in Paris and vicinity, making several public appearances and visiting points of cultural and historic interest, Adamson said.

They will then go to London for 11 days, where they will be housed in the King's College hotel. The Highlanders will perform a few engagements for London audiences, but will spend most of their time in touring England.

Scotland Performance Scheduled
From London the group will go directly to Edinburgh, where between Aug. 11 and 15, thousands of Scots will see Iowa's bonnie lassies perform the pipe and drum routines which have delighted more than 4 million Americans and Canadians at football games, world fairs and concerts in 28 states and Canada.

The Highlanders will sail from Southampton for home Aug. 26. Their ship, the Arosa Kulm, is a Dutch liner chartered by an international student group for student and faculty travel only.

The entire cost of the trip will be financed by the Highlander members, Adamson said, except for money earned by the band in special performances, including a state tour, prior to their departure in July.

During their trip the Highlanders will be accompanied by Adamson and his wife and two other SUI staff members and their wives.

Possible Seizure Of Steel Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration disclosed Wednesday night that it is giving active study to the possibility of seizing the steel industry as a means of heading off the wage strike set for Tuesday.

The announcement was made by a spokesman for John R. Steelman, acting defense mobilizer, as the subject of possible seizure came to the fore in two developments in congress:

1. Chairman James E. Murray (D-Mont.) of the senate labor committee, aiming specifically at the steel situation, ordered the committee staff to draft a bill for "actual seizure rather than token seizure" when the government takes over in a labor dispute. He proposed it as a prod for quick settlement.

2. Sen. Robert Taft (R-O.) in a senate speech said he had heard that seizure of the steel plants was contemplated and protested any such move as "very high-handed and arbitrary."

Iowan, Interlandi Win Honors

The Daily Iowan and its staff cartoonist, Frank Interlandi, A2, Elmhurst, Ill., were named winners of two of the top 10 awards in the 1951 nationwide college newspaper contest for safety campaigns Wednesday.

SUI was the only school in the country whose students won more than one prize.

The Iowan was awarded a $100 third prize for its safety campaigns.

Interlandi, whose winning safety cartoon appears in today's issue on page 2, won a $100 prize for the best cartoon in the contest.

The Iowan was one of the many papers from colleges and universities in the United States, its possessions and Canada which cooperated in a national drive stressing safety.

During last November and December, the Iowan ran a number of stories, editorials, cartoons and features dealing with traffic safety.

Other winners in the daily publication field included the University of Southern California, first prize, and the University of Kansas, second prize.

The contest was sponsored by Lumbermens Mutual Casualty company.

Telegraph Workers Told to Walk Out As Negotiations Fail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Union President Adolph Brungs Wednesday night told 30,000 Western Union employees to walk off their jobs at midnight (11 p.m. CST) at Western Union offices across the country.

The strike call almost certainly means a crippling tie-up of the nation's telegraph system.

'Absolutely Unproductive'
Brungs messaged all members of his AFL commercial telegraphers union that last-ditch media-

Local Office Affected
Western Union workers in Iowa City walked off the job at 11 Wednesday night in conjunction with a nationwide strike of AFL Western Union employees.

The local office did not answer any calls after that hour, but local manager Conrad J. Kaiser remained on the job to dispatch a backlog of telegrams accepted earlier in the evening.

Last night Kaiser did not know if striking Iowa City workers would picket the local office today, or whether the Iowa City office would be in operation.

tion efforts to settle the union's fight for more wages had been "absolutely unproductive."

"There's still no offer from the company," the union chieftain's strike message said.

"Nor is there evidence of the slightest interest by Western Union management to resolve this dispute."

Brungs told newsmen he was certain the union would heed his strike call. He refused to speculate how long the walk-out might last.

No Wage Offers
W. L. Wilcox, Western Union vice-president, said the company plans no wage offers to the union. He said a wage boost at this time would "cripple" company operations.

Meanwhile, the CIO communication workers went ahead with this morning's strike plan for 40,000 telephone workers in Ohio, Michigan and Northern California.

There was cautious optimism these walkouts might at the last minute be stalled.

NEED STUDENT NURSES
DES MOINES (AP)—A total of 500 vacancies for student nurses now exist in the 27 nursing schools in Iowa, Marjorie Perrine, chairman of the Iowa State Nurses association planning committee, said Wednesday.

Comments Favorable, Magazine X Sells 2,625

SUI's new humor magazine made a successful debut Wednesday—a thumping sale of 2,625 copies.

The magazine, the first issue of which is called Magazine X, will be on sale again today at numerous campus spots. It sells for 10 cents.

Will Zuck, A3, Ft. Dodge, circulation manager of the magazine, said the first day total was "higher than expected."

"We consider this quite a day's showing," he said.

Here are some of the opinions of students about the first issue:

Herb Fainstich, A2, University City, Mo.: "Interlandi's cover was clever as were the professor pictures."

Marilyn Falk, A1, Washington: "The student infirmity article was the best feature of the magazine and I enjoyed the jokes much more than those which appeared in Frivol."

Bernice Ekstein, A1, Davenport: "The magazine was good on the whole but it could use a lot more jokes and humorous articles."

Ken Fawcett, A3, Huntington Valley, Pa.: "SUI finally has a good humor magazine."

Lee Fenton, N1, Bloomfield: "I think they tried a little too hard to put over some of the articles."

Arlyn Moeller, A3, Belle Plaine: "Magazine X is what the students want."

Sally Carbaugh, A1, Charles City: "I hope future issues of the publication will continue to be as good as this one."

Eileen Addison, G, Many, La.: "It looks pretty good to me."

David Hart, A1, Council Bluffs: "It could stand a hard finish cover and more subtle humor."

Jay Tuchsher, A2, Newark, N. J.: "Frivol was a much better magazine."

Donald Davis, A2, Kanawha: "It contained a lot of good humor and cartoons."

Betty Veceera, A3, Marshalltown: "The humor was terrific."

Bill Hetherington, A2, West Liberty: "The new ad angle was quite clever."

Donna Bittle, A3, Harlan: "The dramatic arts major who posed as the professor provided a good chuckle."

Carl Wenzholz, C4, Clinton: "Definitely better than Frivol in its humor."

Light Voting; One Incumbent Loses Post

Sharp clashes in nearly every race marked SUI's all-campus elections Wednesday, despite the fact that only 1,800 students went to the polls.

When the scramble was over, a student council incumbent had been defeated, two students had won two posts each and another had lost out by one vote for a post on the Union board.

Jack Wesenberg, G, failed to regain his seat on the student council, as married students elected Mrs. Barbara Gibson, A4; Peter Van Metre, L3, and David Stanley, L3, as their delegates.

In the other council race, Richard Gleichman, P1, Rockford, Ill.; William Skaife, A3, Dubuque, and Dale Haworth, A2, Champaign, Ill., won seats.

Also on Panacea
Skaife also was elected to the Panacea board, along with Charles Applegate, A3, Jefferson.

Carl B. Zimmerman, A3, Water-

Other Selections
Three more housing units have elected representatives to the student council outside the all-campus elections.

South Quadrangle elected Gordon Holcomb, A2, Swea City.

Hillcrest chose James Turk, A3, Waukegan, Ill., and Dale Razez, C3, Harlan.

Currier hall elected Marjorie Livengood, A3, Des Moines, and Margaret Hibbs, A2, Clarinda.

Other units which have not yet announced representatives are Westlawn, Town Women's association and Panhellenic association—to elect two each.

Women's cooperative dormitories, Union board and University Women's association—to elect one each.

Those units which elected delegates and announced their last week are Quadrangle, 3, Law Commons, 1, and Eastlawn, 1.

Town Men elected 3 representatives but an election squabble resulted Wednesday night in a decision for a new election (see story on this page, cols. 1 and 2).

loo, raced past three other candidates to win a one-year post on the Student Board of Publications.

Elected to two-year terms on the Board of Publications were John Stewart, A2, Cedar Rapids, and Robert Ballantyne, A2, Iowa City.

Ballantyne also was chosen to the Union board as a liberal arts representative. So were Ted Hutchinson, A2, Algona; Bruce Gibson, A3, Lehigh; Jo Ann Evans, A2, Moline, Ill.; Jo Beth Shoeman, A2, Atlantic, and Mary Joyce Allison, A3, Olathe, Kan.

Commerce Winners
Elected college of commerce representatives to the Union board were John Hays, A3, Iowa City, and Shirley Smith, C3, Witten.

In the battle for senior class officers for next year, juniors Herb Thompson, Forest City; Peter Van Oosterhout, Orange City; Mary Ladd, Iowa City, and Juanita Bethke, Cherokee, were the top vote-getters.

They will become president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of next year's senior liberal arts class.

Ike Easy Winner in Straw Vote

By JOE MEYER
SUI students put the "I Like Ike" stamp on Wednesday's presidential preference straw vote.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower walked away from nine other candidates with 827 votes out of 1,729.

The official count in the straw vote totaled 1,708 for the 10 candidates on the ballot and 21 write-ins.

Sen. Robert Taft (R-O.) ran second to Eisenhower with 291 votes, followed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) with 164 and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois with 104.

Gov. Earl Warren of California received 102 votes, Harold Stassen of Minnesota, 88, and Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), 53.

President Truman received 44 votes despite his announcement last week that he would not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Truman's name remained on the ballot here because printing had been completed at the time his announcement was made.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur got 25 votes and Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) was low man with 10.

Although no provision was made for write-in candidates, 21 voters marked their ballots for persons not listed.

Write-in voters gave two votes to Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla.) and three to Vincent Hallinan, Progressive party candidate.

Among those receiving one vote: Alfred Landon, former governor of Kansas; Vice-President Alben Barkley; FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover; Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.); Sen. Karl S. Mundt (R-S.D.); Henry A. Wallace, former vice-president; Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.); Ralph Bunce, Nobel prize winner; Gov. Sidney S. McMath of Arkansas, and Gov. William S. Beardsley of Iowa.

Previews

New Ideas Could Help Soap Operas

A GRAND AVALANCHE of "soap operas" seems to have fallen on living-room radios in the past 10 years. Being the opiate of the housewife, the serials have their merits, but one prime objection is that each one seems turned out by the same mimeograph machine.

They're so slow-moving that an ordinary 15-minute conversation, when transcribed on one of the typical "Life Can Be Nauseous" hours, may extend over three years.

A welcome change would be had if some ingenious scribe would revolutionize the Monday-through-Friday heart-tugger by inventing one in which the heroine made up for lost time by narrowly escaping loss of life and limb three or four times a week.

Imagine how exciting the change would be if "Our Mary Smith," a naive, young ingenue from the residential district of Oilville, Pa., eloped with a Belgian Congo tribal chieftain, was divorced and remarried to an Argentine samba dancer, guillotined her third cousin, fled to the Riviera, was hit by a steam roller and saved by the most famous surgeon in southern Timbuctoo, parachuted from the top of the Empire State building, and was stampeded by a herd of wild boars — all in one week!

After hearing a month's worth of our heroine's adventures, continuous in length to the ancestral heritage of the Khan dynasty, the listener would become so numbed to the program that life would be absolutely unbearable without it.

It's a clever idea for someone out to "make a mint", the only catch being whether or not the Supreme Court would rule it off the air-waves.

THE STUDENT ART GUILD will show a French film and two American "silents" on Friday night. Playing will be de Maupassant's "Boule de Suif," Mary Pickford, "America's sweetheart" in "Friends"; and Chaplin in "In the Park."

A BONANZA WEEK is now in progress for Iowa City moviepatrons. Now showing are "The Red Badge of Courage," "The Hamilton Woman" and two superior foreign films, "Passionelle" with "Torment," while due here this weekend are "Death of a Salesman" and "Blithe Spirit." All are superb.

GOOD RADIO LISTENING: today ABC's broadcast of Queen Juliana's address of congress from 11:30 to 12 p.m. . . WMT's Hallmark Playhouse at 9 p.m. . . Friday; WHO's Martin and Lewis show at 7:30 p.m., followed by the Mario Lanza show featuring guest star Ginny Simms. . . WMT's 8 p.m. "Politics Is Your Business."

AN 1890's CHORUS LINE of "can-can" girls will be offered by the D.A. department in its May production of "Streets of New York." Among the chorines will be dance-minded Liz Engraver, Shirley Highland, Peggy Van Paten, and Mary Patterson.

Manager Plan Starts 2d Year In Iowa City

Wednesday marked the end of operation for Iowa City's council-manager form of local government. It was on April 2 last year that the present city council took over the reins of the city government.

The swearing in of the council followed a long and heated battle over whether the council-manager plan should be adopted by Iowa City.

More than 5,000 voters went to the polls on April 17, 1950, in one of the largest votes in local city election history.

The total vote was 5,417 with 3,132 voters favoring the adoption of the plan and 2,285 opposing it.

Then on March 26, 1951, the voters went to the polls again, this time to choose the members of the city council which would head the government under the council-manager plan.

Chosen to serve were Prof. Walter L. Daykin, SUI college of commerce; William J. Holland, Iowa City's present mayor and an insurance agent; Clarence A. Parizek, grocery store owner; Dr. James M. Hottel, optometrist, and W. V. Pearson, drug store operator.

Daykin, Parizek and Pearson were chosen for 3-year terms and Holland and Hottel for two-year terms. After the first election, all members will be chosen for four years.

For the first five months of the council's control, the city was without a city-manager.

On last Aug. 1 Peter F. Roan took office as the city-manager.

Purchasing System Since that time several changes have been made in city administration. A major one has been installation of a central purchasing system.

Free Bridge Lessons To Be Given Saturday

Free bridge lessons will be given at 2:30 p.m. Saturday on the Iowa Union sun porch. Don Eitzman, M2, Cedar Falls, will be the instructor. The Goren system of play is used.

Duplicate bridge will be played at 2:30 p.m. Sunday on the Iowa Union sunporch.

Peter F. Roan Here Since Aug. 1

mer assistant city clerk Max Kane, was instituted a little more than five months after Roan took office and was one of the leading issues of the council-manager election.

Under the system all city purchases go through the central purchasing department. Similar materials are then coordinated by Kane and the resulting larger purchases mean savings, Roan said.

Officers Trained At the beginning of this year a police training program was begun. It is a continuing project with each officer attending the school four hours each week.

Subjects taught and discussed in the school include application of Red Cross first aid, criminal investigation, general police work, and criminal law. In addition, police officers are required to maintain pistol shooting skill.

To ease the city's parking problem, three lots near the business district have been purchased since the council-manager plan took effect. The lots are located on Iowa ave., College st. and Burlington st.

Space for 130 cars has been provided at an average cost of $850 for each stall.

Speed Analyzer Adopted Another innovation was the purchase of a speed analyzer which "very definitely lowers the percentage of speeders," Roan said. The analyzer works with a photo-electric cell to determine whether a motorist is traveling over the speed limit.

More than 60 drivers were arrested for speeding during the first nine days of the analyzer's operation.

Other changes brought about by the administration include the making available of fire protection to residents outside city limits and installation of a city gas pump, which is expected to save the city about 2,600 each year.

A solution to the city garbage disposal problem and the city dump problem, along with the problems of Ralston creek and the old Park road bridge, still face Iowa City's year-old council-manager administration.

Savings also result in the elimination of the purchasing procedure in each department since previously each department made its own purchases.

Economy Added At the same time a new cost-accounting system was put into operation. It was coordinated with the central purchasing department and besides adding economy, this system is expected to be of great help in planning the city budget because it shows how the city's money is spent.

One of the first changes made after Roan took office was establishment of a central complaint and service request office.

A definite routine for handling and assuring complaints correction was instituted. All telephones in the administrative offices were centralized. Complaints and requests for service are received at this station and then routed to the proper department.

At the beginning of this year a police training program was begun. It is a continuing project with each officer attending the school four hours each week.

Subjects taught and discussed in the school include application of Red Cross first aid, criminal investigation, general police work, and criminal law. In addition,

police officers are required to maintain pistol shooting skill.

To ease the city's parking problem, three lots near the business district have been purchased since the council-manager plan took effect. The lots are located on Iowa ave., College st. and Burlington st.

Germany Must Line Up To Insure Defense Goal

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst General Eisenhower's first annual report on the progress of unified European defense serves several purposes.

By the same token that it warns Europe that American patience and money are not unexhaustible, so it states his policy to the American people on an important political matter.

European commentators were quick to point out that the report was not only from the commander of the Allied forces in Europe, but also from an important candidate for the American presidency.

In Britain, particularly, the general's emphasis on the importance of economic security to a sound military establishment was well received. A large section of American opinion undoubtedly feels the same.

Russia, however, will not be able to infer weakness from the general's report. He said that Europe could fight now, whereas last year it could not, although he admits that even now the stand might have to be made west rather than east of the Rhine.

But that was a needle, too, to spur arrangements for German rearmament. With Germany in line, he said, a firm front would be established from the Baltic to the Alps. And there he touched something that runs through the prospects for 1952 and 1953 like an exposed nerve.

Will Russia wait for the establishment of such a line? Or will she strike for Germany, for the mobilization of the Ruhr and the rest of German military might, as the prelude to world war?

Part of the Eisenhower report, discussing the application of new weapons to tactical arrangements in Europe, suggests this may be the key to defense of Germany pending her own participation.

Atomic tactical weapons already being supplied to NATO forces, are "instantly available" to some units now.

Eisenhower reiterated his belief in the American policy of establishing "positions of strength" from which to negotiate for disarmament and peace.

Do what we have to do now, he says, and "we may see fulfilled the universal hope expressed in the United Nations charter to reduce the diversion for armaments of the world's human and economic resources." In other words, stick it out a little longer and maybe there will be no war.

Remember...?

One Year Ago . . . Iowa City had undergone its first day of a council-manager form of government. The five-man council was composed of Prof. Walter L. Daykin, W. V. Pearson, Clarence A. Parizek, William J. Holland, and Dr. James M. Hottel. The council-manager system replaced the mayor-council form of government in Iowa City.

William J. Holland was elected mayor of Iowa City by the new five-man city council.

The Iowa river poured over its banks north of Iowa City. The river measured 11 feet and was expected to reach a crest of 13 feet by night.

Five Years Ago . . . Iowa City school teachers received a raise of $225 a month teacher with a B. A. degree to start at $2,200 yearly. A teacher with an M. A. would begin at $2,300.

B. D. McWilliams replaced R. V. Shrader as municipal airport manager.

Briton Opposes Free False Teeth LONDON (AP)—A woman member of parliament said Wednesday foreigners in alarming numbers are coming to Britain for false teeth, wigs and glasses issued under the National Health program.

"Really," Conservative M. P. Irene Ward said indignantly, "this is preposterous. The people of Britain are quite annoyed."

She said she would propose an amendment to stop give-aways to non-Britons, and declared she was especially indignant about posters in British seaports inviting tourists to come ashore and collect free false teeth.

Juliana Defies Tradition, Gets Her Job Done

By the Associated Press

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Juliana, the 42-year-old queen of the Netherlands who started a whirlwind three-week tour of the United States this week, is one modern monarch the average American will understand and appreciate.

In the four years she has been on the throne, this easy-mannered, no-nonsense matron has quietly junked many of royalty's traditional trappings and ceremonies without disturbing the affectionate relationships between the Dutch people and the crown.

She has turned her inherited position into a real job and become her empire's best salesman. The schedule of her state visit is convincing evidence of how hard she works at her job.

Her Trip Her itinerary includes Washington and a speech to congress, Philadelphia, a weekend with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at Hyde Park, a call on Dutch-founded Kingston, N. Y., the full New York treatment, a quick look at the Tennessee Valley Authority, Detroit and its industries, the Dutch colonies in Grand Rapids and Holland, Mich., a visit to Ann Arbor and then several days in California.

This jam-packed schedule, including plenty of attention to Americans with Dutch ancestry, is typical of Queen Juliana. She picked up the scepter as a strong individual, not a pale carbon of her mother who ruled for more than 50 years.

There is a strong parallel between the Netherlands' two modern queens — Juliana and Wilhelmina — and Britain's — Elizabeth II and Victoria. Wilhelmina, who inherited the throne at 10 in 1890, was much like the imperious widow of Windsor, almost a contemporary. Both had passionate convictions about the symbolism and meaning of sovereignty and they worked under long-established rules, etiquette and forms.

Juliana, like Elizabeth, was brought up to inherit the crown and has shown her desire to be known as a hard-working "careerist" and a successful mother.

She has eliminated much of the pomp and circumstance of rank, with the approval of the thrifty, hard-working Dutch. Juliana has abolished the curtsy. The other old rules don't hold. No longer do liveried lackeys stand behind each chair at state dinners.

When Juliana meets people, she is much more a gracious hostess than a sovereign. She has surrounded herself with able and intelligent young assistants, picked more for their ability than for family background.

In spite of the difference between the ideas of mother and daughter, Juliana is the product of her mother's wise and liberal old queen saw to it that Juliana rubbed shoulders with the people during her younger days, permitted her to attend a university as "Miss Van Buren" and even spend summer vacations in a seaside resort with a group of non-titled friends.

Chose Own Husband Long before Juliana took over the constitutional reins of government from her war-weary, aging mother, she showed signs of breaking with tradition. She made her own selection of a husband, Bernhard of Lippe-Biesterfeld, a minor German princeling whom she first met at the Olympic winter games at Garmisch-Partenkirchen. They were married early in 1937 after he had become a Netherlands national.

The first of their four daughters was born a year later. Juliana and Bernhard immediately broke the iron-clad royal tradition of naming their children after relatives. They called the child Beatrix.

Their next girl, born in 1939, was called Irene — which means peace. Margriet, born when Juliana was in Canadian exile in 1943, is the Dutch name for Daisy. The fourth daughter, now 5, is Marijke, a popular form — almost a nickname — for Maria.

Faced 3 Emergencies When Wilhelmina and her family returned to their little country after the war. The once-tidy motherland was faced with three major emergencies: A reconstruction of a grievously ravaged nation; restoration of a disrupted economy and a bloody revolution in the Dutch East Indies, treasure chest of the empire.

Wilhelmina's last official act before she carried through her determination to abdicate in favor of her daughter was to sign a constitutional amendment giving commonwealth status to the East Indies, after 300 years of Dutch rule.

Juliana's first, unhappy job was to preside at a semi-liquidation of an important portion of her birthright. She carried it off with composure and dignity.

Good-will Tours She plunged immediately into her job of salesman. First came a ceremonial state visit to the British isles, host to her government during the war years. This was followed by a visit to France and then a neighborly visit to nearby Luxembourg.

Now comes her whirlwind tour of the United States, an all-plane trip in which she'll run the gamut from a presidential dinner to wreath-laying and receptions, all designed to promote Dutch-American relations while expressing gratitude for American help.

Her formal visit to Canada was cancelled by King George's death. She'll visit that country, where Margriet was born, as a grateful friend, not a sovereign. She'll get back home in time to participate in a national holiday — her birthday — on April 30, when she'll be 43.

UWA to Recognize New Campus Officers Today at Union

"Full House" is the theme for University Women's association recognition day to be held at 4:10 today in the River room of the Iowa Union.

All women on campus who have been elected to offices will be recognized and awards will be presented.

Sue Orsborn, A4, Red Oak, president of UWA will be in charge of the program.

Officers to be announced for the first time are UWA, YWCA, home economics club and Westlawn.

Will Introduce Presidents

Susan Starman, A3, Cedar Rapids, new president of the Women's Panhellenic association will introduce the newly elected sorority presidents and the Panhellenic executive council. The council consists of the president, vice-president, Jo Ellen Lane, A3, Boone; secretary, Helen Roseberry, A3, LeMars, and treasurer, Joan Fuller, A3, Centerville.

The outstanding event will be the presentation of the Adelaide L. Burge award to a junior woman for her scholarship, leadership, service and contribution she has made in financing her own education.

Mrs. Burge was dean of women at SU for 26 years. The award, a bond, is furnished by Mrs. Burge's sister, Katherine La Sheck, instructor of voice and music.

June Marken, A4, Des Moines, winner of the 1951 award will present the bond to the junior winner this year.

Will Award 4 Women

Ann Gilson, A4, Kirkwood, Mo., will present the UWA scholarship awards to four women, one from each class, with the highest grade point. There will be honorable mention of those women who have won before and would otherwise be eligible.

UWA officers will be introduced by Norma Bode, A4, Webster Groves, Mo. June Marken, A4, Des Moines, will present the YWCA officers.

Presenting the home economics club officers will be Mary Ruth Offringa, A4, West Branch. Charlotte Hess, N4, Des Moines, will introduce the Westlawn officers.

Currier hall officers will be presented by Marianne Craft, A4, Hudson.

The Union board and senior class officers will be recognized.

Alma Miller, A3, Des Moines, will introduce the Independent Town Women officers.

Orientation leaders and assistants will be announced.

Poodle Cut or Pony Tail?

AS UNPREDICTABLE AS THE WEATHER THIS SPRING, are the new spring hairdos. Perhaps two of the most popular hair styles are the poodle cut as worn by Gaye Morton, N1, Rantoul, Ill. (left) and the pony tail as worn by Marcia Mary Healy, A4, Duluth, Minn. You can decide whether to wear a pony tail or poodle by determining the style that best flatters your features and the condition of your hair. A poodle requires a permanent curl and the pony tail requires firm hair.

Leadership Society Invites Application For New Members

Omicron Delta Kappa, upper-classmen's leadership honor society, will elect new members in April. All candidates should present activity lists on or before April 18 to be eligible for membership.

The election of candidates is based on character, leadership, and service in campus life and scholarship.

The basic requirements are: junior or senior classification in colleges of liberal arts, commerce, engineering or pharmacy; or junior classification in all other professional colleges; or registry in graduate college.

A cumulative grade point average of 2.6 or rank in the upper 35% of the class is essential. At least 30 credit hours must have been completed at SU.

Forms for listing activities of candidates are available at the office of student affairs or at the Iowa Union desk. Completed forms must be turned in or mailed to O. D. K., 111 University hall, on or before April 18.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Earl Naylor of Traer announce the approaching marriage of their daughter Jo Ann, A4, to M. Sgt. Jack C. Lansinger, son of Mrs. Sarah Lansinger of San Antonio, Tex.

The wedding will take place May 25 in the Traer Methodist church.

Miss Naylor is affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha, social sorority. Sgt. Lansinger is an instructor in air force ROTC at SU.

There will be an election of welfare department officers. A sack luncheon is planned for noon.

The sewing committee members are: Mrs. Paul Kennedy, Mrs. Cleo Allman, Mrs. Guy Chappell, Mrs. J. W. Anderson, Mrs. J. E. McCollister, Mrs. Edith Williams.

Local Fire Chief Issues Permit to Burn Trash

A general permit for burning trash this spring was issued by Fire Chief Al Dolezal Wednesday. The permit is for a limited time and will allow residents to burn trash or rubbish without notifying the police department.

Dr. Dawson Gives Philosophy of Life In YWCA Lecture

Dr. Helen L. Dawson, professor of anatomy, in a YWCA "Philosophy of Life" lecture Tuesday night said happiness, freedom, and peace of mind are the three goals that give life meaning. These three goals cannot be attained by chasing them, she pointed out. "It is by giving happiness to someone else that an individual can attain it."

The ability to live with himself is one of the things that a person should have in his personality. "You can get away from other people and things, but you can't escape yourself," Dr. Dawson said.

Integrity and honesty with oneself should be incorporated in a successful philosophy of life. "Don't agree to do anything that you don't want to do," she elaborated, "because you won't be honest with yourself."

Dr. Dawson also stressed that a loyalty to the things that an individual believes, an enthusiastic attitude toward life, and an intellectual curiosity can give life "a glow" instead of a "drippy" feeling.

"University students," she said, "Sometimes take the 'Uh huh, uh huh attitude' that can kill their original curiosity of life."

"The silly facts with no significance with which the cubbyholes of the brain are sometimes stuffed can destroy an individual's power to think and to question the why and importance of the information that is being learned."

A belief in something bigger than you, not exactly a religion, she said, but a creed for every day life can help an individual meet the problems of life.

Dr. Dawson said that she acquired one factor for her personal philosophy in the opening sentence of a differential equations book which read "What one fool can do, another can." Or, "You can do anything you want to do if you want to do it badly enough."

Sue Starman Named Panhellenic President

Susan Starman, A3, Cedar Rapids, Delta Delta Delta, took over as new president of the Women's Panhellenic association at the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The offices of president and vice-president rotate among the sororities. Jo Ellen Lane, A3, Boone, Alpha Chi Omega, is the new vice-president.

The elective officers, secretary and treasurer, were chosen at the meeting.

Helen Roseberry, A3, Le Mars, Pi Beta Phi, was elected secretary and Joan Fuller, A3, Centerville, Chi Omega, is the new treasurer.

In an election in the chapter houses, Jean Metzger, A3, Davenport, Chi Omega, was elected as the Panhellenic representative to the central judiciary committee from a list of candidates composed of the judiciary chairman from each house.

TITLE MINUS 7

Make the comment to George Myers that seven seconds is a trifling, unimportant amount of time — and then duck.

Not that George is the kind of guy who'd take a swing, but he's a guy who could, and that seven seconds isn't trifling to him.

Myers is a good heavy weight wrestler. Also a reserve guard on the football team, George started the season slowly this year because his conditioning was off.

He lost three of four Big Ten matches, then rallied to take two wins against a draw in further conference competition. With the added confidence that came with the late-season wins, Myers breezed through the Big Ten championships to the 191-pound crown, avenging his conference defeats.

Upsets Defending Champ
Then in the big show of collegiate wrestling, the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) tournament, the Iowa wrestler fought his way to the final round. During that drive, George upset defending champion Brad Glass of Princeton, who had never lost a match before. The Princeton grappler was heavily favored to win the title until the match with Myers.

In the championship match, Myers showed plenty of aggressiveness and was leading Harry Lanzl of Toledo, 5-4, with 15 seconds remaining in the nine-minute bout. "Then," as George tells it, "he just backed off and stood there, so I followed suit."

'So Fast...'
"After eight seconds at that, he moved on me so fast I hardly saw him, and in seven big seconds I lost the national title."

Since then Myers has been working hard in preparation for the Olympic district meet in Omaha, and will leave for that competition this afternoon.

But being only a junior, George can't help looking forward to next year's nationals — with particular focus on both his opponent and the clock.

Three other Hawks who gained reputations as both wrestlers and football players were Bob Geigel, who graduated in 1949; Wilbur Nead, National AAU heavyweight wrestling champ in 1940, and Joe Paulson, 1950 captain of the matmen.

CORRECTION

In Wednesday morning's paper I picked the New York Giants to win the pennant in the National League. I would like to take this opportunity to change that prediction after reading of Monte Irvin's broken ankle. Monte not only hit .312 and led the league in runs-batted-in, but was an excellent fielder as well.

I previously explained that the Giants could fill Willie Mays' vacancy when he goes to the army, but with the added loss of Irvin, Leo Durocher should find it too much to mend.

I think the change will throw the Giants into a class with Philadelphia, and below the power of Brooklyn. Therefore, I'll say Brooklyn will win, followed by New York and the Phillies in that order.

Olympic Coach Could Field Starting Team That Averages 6-9

NEW YORK (AP) — Those who were shocked by the size of the 1948 U.S. Olympic basketball team will be amazed at the average of this year's outfit.

Four years ago the team averaged an awesome 6 feet 4. This year's crew, with 7-foot Bob Kurland the only repeater from '48, averages almost an inch taller — exactly 6 feet, 4 3/4 inches.

In '48, the 14-man squad was composed of five players from Kentucky's collegiate champions, five from the AAU champion Phillips Oilers, and four other players. The latest edition is made up of seven from Kansas' college Kingpins, five from the AAU champion Peoria Caterpillars and two from the Phillips Oilers.

Head coach of the 14-man squad is Warren Womble, 32-year-old leader of the Caterpillars, who will be assisted by 67-year-old Forrest (Phog) Allen, Kansas mentor. Peoria won the amateur championship of the U.S. Tuesday night by nipping Kansas, 62-60, in the Olympic trials in Madison Square Garden.

If Womble feels the urge to give the Helsinki fans a shock, he will be able to trot out a starting five that will average a whopping 6-9 — yes, 6-9.

Monte Irvin Breaks Ankle, Weakens Giant Flag Hopes

Led National In RBI's in '51, Hit at .312 Clip

DENVER (AP) — The New York Giants suffered a heavy blow to their pennant hopes Wednesday when their brilliant Negro left-fielder, Monte Irvin, suffered a double fracture of his right ankle sliding into third in an exhibition game here against the Cleveland Indians.

The accident occurred in the second inning. Leading off for the Giants in the home club half, Irvin drew a walk and raced around second when Willie Mays shot a long single to right center.

A Needless Slide
It was evident that Irvin would beat the throw-in to third, so shortstop Ray Boone cut it off and trapped Mays between second and third. Most of the big crowd was following the ball, so only a few saw Irvin make his needless and tragic slide.

Manager Leo Durocher, who was coaching at third, was the first to reach his stricken star, who was lying on his stomach just short of the bag and obviously could not get up.

Attendants put Irvin on a stretcher and carried him to the dressing room. Shortly after, an ambulance was heard rushing him to the hospital. Long minutes passed before the players returned to their positions. Chuck Diering went in to run for Irvin and the game resumed under a pall of regret.

Big in Giant Plans
At New York, Garry Schumacher, the Giants' publicity director, announced that Irvin would be flown home in a few days.

Big Monte is the player whom Durocher and all the other Giants were counting upon to slug them to a pennant. He was the main-spring of their batting attack last season.

He hit .312, led the National League in runs-batted-in with 121 and has been brilliant all field. Durocher made no immediate announcement of his plans for replacing Irvin.

Dave McCuskey Reported in Line For Mat Job Here

Dave McCuskey, present wrestling coach at Iowa Teachers college, Wednesday was reported in line for the position as Iowa's wrestling mentor.

McCuskey would succeed Mike Howard who will retire this year after 31 years as Iowa's wrestling coach.

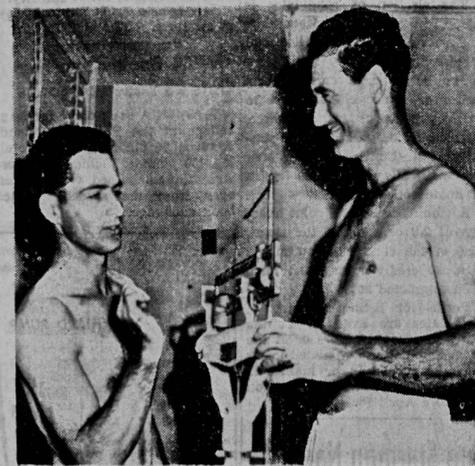

Reports from Des Moines indicated that members of the state board of education would not approve of McCuskey's switch but statements from board members changed this feeling.

The Teachers college coach has produced top teams and is rated as one of the top wrestling coaches in the country. His 1952 team finished second in the NCAA tournament, one point behind Oklahoma's champions.

In 1950, McCuskey directed his squad to the NCAA and National AAU wrestling titles.

The change in positions would mean a boost in both pay and prestige for McCuskey. He is receiving $5,566.67 at Teachers. Iowa reportedly has offered him a salary between $6,500 and $7,000.

Yanks, Red Sox Aren't Laughing

BEFORE GERRY COLEMAN AND TED WILLIAMS found that they will be called to active service with the marine air corps, they indulged in some horseplay during a physical examination in Jacksonville, Fla. Coleman (left) second-baseman of the New York Yankees, checks the weight of Williams, Red Sox outfielder and the highest paid ball player. Both are reserve captains.

Loss Cripples Red Sox —

Williams, Coleman Called by Marines

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Slugger Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and second baseman Gerry Coleman of the New York Yankees — both veteran fliers of World War II — Wednesday were found fit for duty in the marine air corps. They will report May 2.

Williams, 33, highest salaried player in baseball with an estimated $100,000 contract, and 27-year-old Coleman, veteran of 57 dive bombing missions in the Pacific, are captains in the marine reserves.

Both men are expected to play out the string of exhibitions and regular season games until they go.

'A Severe Blow'
Lou Boudreau, manager of the Red Sox, said Wednesday the loss of Williams was "a severe blow to our pennant chances."

"We can't interfere with the war effort," he declared at Houston, Tex. "But with him we would be a contender, without him it will be troublesome."

"Coleman is my second baseman until he goes," said Stengel at St. Petersburg after hearing the news. "I'm going to miss him. His loss will hurt us."

For Williams, this probably means the end of his brilliant baseball career. After his 17-month tour of duty he will be 35. It is doubtful if he will try to pick up the pieces on his return.

Williams Philosophical
"Well, I'm back in the marines," said Williams after the two-hour examination at the Jacksonville naval air station. "I'll try to be a good one. After that? Who knows?"

Whether Williams and Coleman actually fly planes again will be determined at some future date. The air corps physical examination found them fit to do so.

Williams, top active hitter in the American league with a 10-year lifetime batting average of .346, has been one of the top gate attractions of the league since the days of Babe Ruth.

Coleman is a slick-fielding infielder with a lifetime average of .273. Rookie of the year in '49, Coleman was a regular with manager Stengel from the start.

Yanks Can Fill Gap
The Yanks expected to lose Coleman and revised their infield this spring to meet the emergency.

Williams' orders call for him to report to the marine air detachment at Marine Air Reserve Training command at Willow Grove, Pa., near Philadelphia, May 2. After an eight-week refresher course, he will go to marine air station at Cherry Point, N. C. Where he will go from there is not revealed.

Coleman, a Californian, will report for his refresher at Los Alamitos, Calif., shifting to the El Toro station at Santa Ana, Calif., after eight weeks.

Both players are married and both have daughters.

Stassforth, Lucas To Swim in NAAU
Co-captain Bowen Stassforth and freshman Buddy Lucas will be Iowa's entries in the National AAU indoor swimming championships at New Haven, Conn.

The meet will open tonight at 7:30 with the 1500-meter freestyle race, and continue through Saturday.

Stassforth will swim the 100 and 220-yard breaststroke. The Hawkeye co-captain placed fourth in the 220 and third in the 100 last week in the NCAA meet.

Lucas is entered in the 1500-meter freestyle. The Australian freshman swam that distance in 19:25.3 in the NCAA but failed to place. His time is a new Iowa record.

Lujack Quits Pro Football, Seeks ND Job

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Lujack, 27, star quarterback of the Chicago Bears, Wednesday quit pro football in an apparent salary squabble and eyed an assistant coaching job at his alma mater, Notre Dame.

The 1950 all-National Football league quarterback said he was too busy with his insurance business to meet the heavy time demand of pro football, even though he had "two or three good football years left."

Lujack said he planned to confer soon with head coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame regarding a vacant Irish backfield coaching job. The job had been held by Bernie Crimmins, now head coach at the University of Indiana.

Lujack's decision to quit the Bears was announced after a conference with the club's owner-coach, George Halas, who presumably told Johnny his old $20,000-a-year contract was due for severe pruning.

Both Lujack and Halas asserted that money did not enter the discussion. Lujack's former contract was for four years — his entire pro career — through the 1951 season.

Lujack joined the Bears in 1948 after winning all-America honors at Notre Dame and being acclaimed the 1947 Associated Press Athlete of the Year and honored with the Heisman trophy the same year.

A shoulder ailment hampered Lujack's passing the past two seasons and gradually shunted him into the background as the bellwether of the Bear attack.

Lujack said Wednesday he had conferred with Leahy a week ago about the Notre Dame job, but that the Irish boss declined to commit himself while Lujack still was in the Bear employ.

70 Spring Events On Iowa Schedule

Spring schedules in four sports, totaling 70 events between Saturday and June 28, have been drawn for Iowa teams.

Only 18 of the contests are set for Iowa City, as Hawkeye teams range around the midwest and as far afield as Arizona and California.

The baseball team has 27 games, starting April 7 at University of Arizona; the tennis squad plays 16 meets, opening Saturday at Missouri, and there are 15 golf and 11 track meets.

Accrediting Agency Threatens School Expulsion for 'Abuses'

CHICAGO (AP) — The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools, largest of the nation's regional academic accrediting groups, Wednesday proposed to crack down on collegiate athletic abuses by stripping offenders from its accredited list.

Iowa is a member of the agency.

The get-tough policy was the first to be offered by an accrediting group in support of the American Council on Education's recently-adopted program of rigid athletic reforms. There are six such associations in the country.

However, in promising to put teeth in an athletic house-cleaning, the North Central, accrediting agency for 19 states from West Virginia to Wyoming, shied away from the ACE's proposed ban on out-of-season football practice and bowl games.

Plan Campus Cleaning
"Those things will take care of themselves, if we clean up the evils of recruiting, proselyting and over-emphasis of athletics on the campuses," said J. B. Edmonson of the University of Michigan, chairman of a North Central committee on athletics.

Among other things, the North Central program would eliminate athletic scholarships, "snap" courses for athletes, "over-emphasis on winning, and hiring of high-salaried coaches whose sole faculty qualification is production of winning teams."

The North Central commission on colleges and universities which recommended the new policy said it expected to have the program activated by next Sept. 1. Any schools previously committed to athletic scholarships may fulfill such obligations, it said.

Call for Investigation
The method of enforcement, the thorn in the side of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's similar codes in past years, would be achieved by fingerprinting by members and "some actual investigation."

Edmonson said the association had the promise of many of its high school principals they would report instances of prep athletic stars getting huge financial lures to enter certain colleges, or low entrance standards made for such athletes.

Two similar associations, the Middle States and New England, recently said it would be difficult to enforce the American Council on Education's new "purity code."

Myers, Duggan Go to Olympic Trials at Omaha

Coach Mike Howard and two Hawkeye Olympic hopefuls will leave by train this afternoon for the district Olympic wrestling meet at Omaha, Neb. Competition in the tourney will be held Friday and Saturday.

The two Iowa matmen making the Nebraska trip are Phil Duggan and George Myers.

Duggan who normally wrestles at 130 pounds, will be entered in the 125.5-pound class, and Myers will wrestle at 190.5 pounds. Myers has already won the 191-pound title in the Big Ten championship meet and was runnerup in the same weight class in the NCAA tourney held recently at Fort Collins, Colo.

The champion and runnerup of each weight division in the Omaha district meet will earn the right to compete in the Olympic wrestling finals at Ames on April 17, 18, and 19. There are 16 district tournaments being held in the country this year.

Should Duggan and Myers fail in the Omaha tourney they will probably enter one of two other district meets being held April 11 and 12 — the tournament at Iowa State Teachers in Cedar Falls or the meet at Mankato (Minn.) State Teachers. There is no limit as to the number of district tournaments a wrestler may enter.

Toughest competition for the two Hawks is expected to come from members of the mat squads of Iowa State and Nebraska.

Ottumwa Dethrones Burlington for Little 6 Track Championship

Ottumwa surprised defending champion Burlington to win the Little Six high school conference indoor track championship Wednesday night in the field house.

The Bulldogs got 80 1/2 points with Burlington in second with 64 points. Fairfield with 51 1/2 grabbed third and Muscatine placed fourth with 45.

It was the first time in seven seasons that Burlington had not taken the conference indoor title. Burlington also has won the league's outdoor crown for six straight years.

The rest of the field finished well back of the top four. Ft. Madison picked up 18 points for fifth and Keokuk got 17 for sixth. Washington was seventh with Mt. Pleasant in last place.

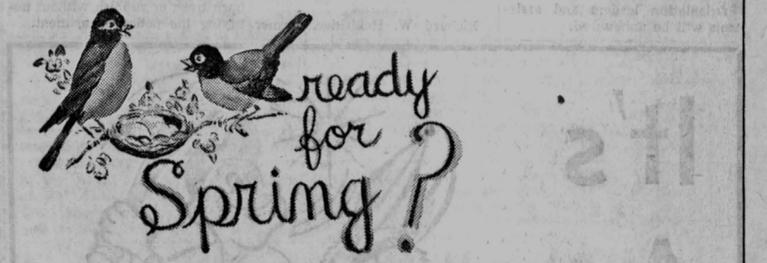

Two meet records were established and another tied. Burlington's Sid Wolber set new marks for both the 60-yard high and low hurdles. His time for the lows was :07.6 and he was clocked in :08.8 for the highs. It was the first time that either the high or lows had been run over four hurdles.

Keokuk's Bob Leahr tied the record for the 50-yard dash with a time of :05.6. The mark also is held by eight other runners.

Wolber finished as the meet's high individual scorer. The Burlington star linked a third in the shot put with his victories in the hurdles for the honor.

600 River Valley Boy Scouts To Participate in Scout Circus

Six hundred boys will take part in the Iowa River Valley Council Boy Scout circus to be held April 26 in the armory of the SUI field house.

An act in the circus will be assigned to every pack, troop and post in the River Valley council. Each act will be featured just like the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey show.

The grand entry and finale will include all members of all units. Music, clowns, concessions and a ringmaster will be part of the circus.

Those planning the event include Frank Havlicek of SUI, director; Frank Burge, also of SUI, assistant director; Dr. Charles W. Beckman, Kalona, safety and first aid; Ray Bywater, Iowa City, programs.

E. K. Jones, Iowa City, tickets; Ray Phillips and Robert Ballantyne, of SUI, physical arrangements; Prof. Robert F. Ray, of SUI, publicity; Alex Fidler, Cedar Rapids, concessions; Gus Pushtin, Iowa City, finance; Carl Mershel, Amara, and E. R. Williams, Iowa City, participation.

Serving as ringmaster will be William Coder of SUI. He will introduce such acts as Rope Spinning, Pioneer Engineers, Building Men and a Pet Parade.

Public Library to Hold Weekly Music Program

3 Month's Fines Total $6,232 Here

A total of $6,232.55 was collected by the Iowa City police court from Jan. 1 to March 31, Police Judge Emil Trott said Wednesday. This is $969.13 more than was collected during the same quarter last year.

City fines this year accounted for $4,746.55; city costs, $172.50 and city bonds forfeited, $214.50. State fines collected totaled $926.50 and state costs totaled $172.50.

City fines during the first three months of 1951 accounted for $3,971.42; city costs, $196.50, and city bonds forfeited, $195. State fines collected then totaled $750; state costs, $145.50 and state bonds forfeited, $105.

REDECORATE PALACE

Space Rates Hiked For 1953 Hawkeye

Rates for campus organization space in the 1953 Hawkeye will be increased to $50 for a full page and $27.50 for a half page, it was announced Wednesday.

This year's rates are $40 for a full page and $20 for a half page. Rising prices of materials and labor and a decreased income from the student activity fund was the reason for the action.

Ted Seldin, business manager of Hawkeye, said, "The decision was reached only after careful and close consideration and it is with reluctance that we must announce this change."

The price for the book will remain the same.

Twins Twice

Davenport Couple Will Be Busy

DAVENPORT (AP)— Mr. and Mrs. Radech of Davenport, Wednesday had reason to believe they will be extremely busy in the months to come.

Tuesday night the stork stopped by Mercy hospital, bringing them twin boys. But that isn't all — it was only 14 months ago that Mrs. Radech gave birth to another pair of twins — Barbara and Bobby.

There are no sets of twins in the ancestry of either side of the family, as far as can be traced.

Rites Will Be Friday for Mrs. Ida Hedges

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida L. Hedges, 75, 319 Iowa ave., will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Zion Lutheran church.

Mrs. Hedges died at her home Tuesday after a long illness.

She was born July 19, 1876, in Germany and came to Johnson county at the age of 5 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Amelion. The family resided on a farm near Windham.

She was married to William J. Hedges on Aug. 13, 1902. They made their home in St. Louis, Mo., for two years, before moving to Iowa City where they have lived since.

Mrs. Hedges was a member of the Zion Lutheran church.

Survivors include the husband; three daughters, Mrs. Arthur Luethey of Iowa City, Mrs. J. B. Jenkins of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. E. Harold Woode of Iowa City; four sons, Irving, of Iowa City, Elmer, of Hammond, Ind., Donald, of Rock Island, Ill., and Wilson, who is with the armed forces in Germany; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Bulman of Marjono; one brother, Otto Amelion of Mankato, Minn., and six grandchildren.

The Rev. A. C. Froehl will be in charge of the funeral services. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

County Delegates Leave Today For State GOP Convention

Johnson county delegates to the Republican state presidential convention leave at 9 p.m. today for what promises to be "a good hot meeting," County Chairman William Morrison said Wednesday.

A total of 37 delegates, including two SUI Young Republicans, will attend the convention in Des Moines. They are Ralph Cocksfoot, A4, Atlantic, and David Stanley, L3, Iowa City.

The delegates met Tuesday night for a course of instruction, but by the time the meeting was over, became involved in an argument over first district delegate candidates to the national convention.

They also recommended that Johnson county votes at the state convention be apportioned in accordance with presidential preference votes cast in the county convention March 14.

Eisenhower won the straw vote by a 2 to 1 majority over Taft and other candidates.

Convention Delegates

Other convention delegates are: Morrison, Mrs. George Hunter, D. C. Nolan, Rep. G. M. Ludwig, George Nagle, R. J. Phelps, Dean Mason Ladd, Mrs. Claudia Day, Mrs. V. A. Gunnette, Edward F. Rate.

J. W. Barrows, Kenneth Dunlop, Harold Clearman, T. G. Specht, Lon Adams, Stuart Bell, R. M. Work, Ben S. Summerwill, H. D. Evans, Olive P. Ritter, Jake Swisher, Ida Murphy, Mrs. Anna M. Janney, Robert Carvuto, Mrs.

E. L. DeGowin, Mrs. Howard Crew.

William Aston, Ruby Glocker, Melvin Gottlieb, John Wilson, William Spear, Joe Negus, Mrs. Marcus Powell, Lester Proctor and Robert Ballantyne.

Alec MacKenzie, L3, Iowa City, state chairman of the Young Republicans, will go to the state GOP convention today as a candidate for one of Iowa's 10 delegates-at-large at the national convention.

The Young Republican group is expected to get one of the delegate-at-large seats.

MacKenzie has said he favors the nomination of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for president. He emphasized he was speaking as an individual and not as chairman of the Young Republican group.

City High Seniors To Hear Professors At First Career Day

Iowa City high school seniors will have an opportunity to discuss their college plans with representatives of SUI at a "Career day" Tuesday.

Under the supervision of Eugene Peisner and Elizabeth Winkler, boys' and girls' counselors at the high school, the afternoon program has been divided into three sections.

At a general session in the high school auditorium Registrar Ted McCarrell, L. Dale Faunce, dean of students, and William Coder, university coordinator of high school relations, will discuss admission requirements, college costs, scholarships, ROTC and other topics of general interest to incoming freshmen.

108 Voices —

Easter Concert 'Pleasing'

By JIM GOLTZ

The combined talents of the University chorus and symphony orchestra provided a pleasing offering of the Mozart "Requiem" Wednesday night at the annual Easter concert in the Iowa Memorial Union.

An interesting and solemn note was added to the evening with the notice that the "Requiem" was presented "in memory of those members of our University family who have given their lives in the service of our country."

Two years ago, one of the solo parts was sung by a student named Offie Leeper, the son of an army officer, who was killed in Sept., 1951 in Korea. The dedication of the "Requiem" to the war dead will become an annual tradition with the chorus.

— 80 Musicians

often lacked necessary strength. The same weakness was obvious in tenor Stephen Hobson who was quite competent when he could be heard.

Charles Davis' diction, striving against miserable acoustics of the Union main lounge, was faultless. The orchestra seemed best playing the "Recordare" section of the "Requiem," skillfully interweaving the string and horn sections.

On Brahms' "Song of Fate," the violins were overly strident in the opening passage. The closing was most effective, mingling rhapsodic phrasing with a muffled drum-beat.

The soprano section was unpleasantly strained on Wagner's "Chorale," while Hobson and Davis, as soloists for the "Prize Song," again lacked the volume necessary for Wagner.

Prof. Herald Stark's direction was most skillful on the "Finale" which was magnificently resounding.

Both groups performed well, taking the difficulties into consideration.

During the second period the seniors will confer with university faculty members representing their main vocational interests. A third session will allow the high school students to meet with those educators from the field of their second choice, as indicated on a questionnaire which they recently completed, Coder says.

University faculty members taking part in the career program will include Frederick D. Leach, art; Camille J. LeVols, foreign languages; Margaret Keyes and Lois Lund, home economics; Leslie G. Moeller, journalism; Himie Voxman, music; Walter Schwank, physical education.

Clayton Gerken, psychology; M. Willard Lampe, religion; Eleanor Taylor, social work and sociology; Harold C. Crain, speech and dramatic art; Orvis C. Irwin, child welfare; Wendell Smith, commerce; Dr. George S. Easton, dentistry; J. I. Routh, medicine; Eloise Teller, nursing, and J. W. Howe, engineering.

The overwhelming power of so many voices is extremely impressive, but too often the competition between 108 voices and some 80 musicians was overly-bombastic.

The orchestra's string section is its weakest, being cluttered and off-key when required to perform a difficult passage.

Among the soloists for the strenuous and requiring "Requiem," Marilyn Horstman's soprano voice had the clearness and loveliness of quality which has identified her singing in the past.

Her vocal ability is distinguished by an ability to maintain perfect tone while singing a conflicting theme by the orchestra, her ease with both octave ranges exceptional.

Joan Charlson's contralto retained a "bell-like" quality, but

Richard Finley, 8, Injured by Auto

An eight-year-old Iowa City boy who suffered bruises and face lacerations when struck by a car near East Lucas township school Wednesday morning, is doing "satisfactorily," Mercy hospital officials said.

The boy, Richard Finley, son of Charles Finley, R.R. 6, was struck when he stepped from his father's car at the school, which is located about one-half mile south and east of Iowa City on lower Muscatine road.

Highway patrolmen said the driver of the car which struck young Finley was Gerald Lenz, 18, who lives further out on lower Muscatine road. Lenz was on his way to school in Iowa City.

3 SUI Professors At Nursing Meet

Three members of the SUI nursing faculty are attending a nursing administration conference at Battle Creek, Mich.

They are Myrtle Kitchell, dean of the college of nursing; Louise Schmitt, assistant professor of nursing service administration, and Sara C. Washem, assistant professor and administrative assistant in nursing.

The conference, sponsored by the W. K. Kellogg foundation, began Tuesday and will continue through Friday. Participants are discussing problems and progress of nursing service administration courses established in U.S. colleges of nursing through the assistance of the Kellogg foundation.

Fine Art Students Have 3 Basic Study Areas

The fine arts section of the SUI art department is composed of 120 students working in three media — painting, sculpturing and prints.

All undergraduate students are working for B. F. A. degrees, which differ from the B. A. degree in that a great number of hours in the specialized art field are required in addition to liberal arts courses.

In preparing for his degree, the student is given a combination of studies in studio work, history of art and art theory, so that he will have an all-round approach to art.

Given Broad Preparation

The fine arts area of the department attempts to prepare the student for both the professional world and the teaching field by offering him the required technical knowledge for both.

Prerequisite to all art courses are beginning drawing under Prof. Byron Burford and Richard Truyp, and line drawing under Prof. Helen Cox and Calvin Gross. These courses teach the basic fundamentals of all three media.

Following these courses, the art major selects the painting workshop under Prof. James Lechay, Eugene Ludens and Stuart Edie, sculpture workshop under Prof. Humbert Albrizio or the print workshop under Prof. Maurice Lasansky and Donn Stewart.

WORKING ON A SCULPTURE in the SUI art department's sculpture studio is Mrs. Eugene Ludens, wife of the department's painting instructor. The fine arts area of the department attempts to prepare the student for both the professional world and the teaching field by offering him the required technical knowledge for both.

Long Hours Spent

The average student, studying in one of the workshops, spends 25 to 40 hours a week in the studio and 8 hours a week in art history class.

The workshops have few regulations or enforcements. The beginning student sets his own goal, painting whatever subjects and in whatever style he chooses. It is the job of the instructor to discover his goal and to discuss this goal with him, offering him criticism and advice on his works.

Undergraduates are not encouraged to enter their works in exhibits. Graduate students, however, often submit their finished

Elections . . .

Recreation association were also chosen, but will not be revealed until today as special ceremonies are to be held by each group.

Election officials called the estimated 1,800 vote "light," since the presidential straw vote was expected to bring out more students.
