Eisenhower Coming Home To Campaign For GOP Nomination

4 Iowa Towns Evacuated As Water Rises

Considers His SHAPE Aims Accomplished

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced Friday Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will give up his European post by June 1, five weeks before the Republican national convention meets to nominate a candidate for the presidency.

At his own request, the five-star general will wind up his mission as supreme Allied commander in Europe and return to inactive military status — free to enter personally into the thick of the battle for the GOP nomination. There was talk he may come home even before June 1.

"As of now, I consider that the specific purposes for which I was recalled to duty have been largely accomplished," Eisenhower wrote Secretary of Defense Lovett in a letter formally requesting his release.

Promises Fighting Campaign
Meanwhile, Eisenhower promised in a letter made public Friday that if he is nominated he will conduct a fighting campaign to unseat the Democratic administration.

"If by any chance it should come about that the Republican party does name me as its standard bearer, I am determined to lead the entire organization into a fight in which there will be no cessation, no rest, and no lack of intensity until the final decision is made," he said.

The quoted paragraph was released by Col. Franklin D'Olier of Morrisstown, N. J., treasurer of the New Jersey Eisenhower campaign, who said a friend of his received the letter within the past few days.

White House Discloses Letter
The White House disclosed that Eisenhower wrote Secretary Lovett on April 2 asking Lovett to "initiate appropriate action" for his release by June 1. Lovett's reply, saying he had complied with the request was dated April 10.

Eisenhower wrote the letter exactly a year from the date he formally assumed the command in Europe on April 2, 1951. He was appointed to the post by President Truman on Dec. 19, 1950.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short said there was also an exchange of notes between Eisenhower and Truman and Eisenhower. The president wrote his in long-hand. Short said the letters were "personal and very cordial and will not be made public."

Still Subject to Regulations
Even though returning to inactive military status, Eisenhower may not be entirely free to speak out on all the issues. He will still be subject to some military regulations that could restrict him from discussing matters of high policy classified as secret.

Although technically on the inactive list, Eisenhower will still be a five-star general of the army and subject to recall to military duty in the case of national need. Presidential Secretary Short told reporters he had no news as to Eisenhower's successor in the European command post.

High on the list of potential choices are Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander in the far east, and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Eisenhower's chief of staff.

In Coma Here For 2 Years, Iowa Man Dies

University hospitals reported Friday the death of a 33-year-old Chillicothe, Ia., man who had been unconscious in the hospital for nearly two years.

He was Erwin Venator, who entered the hospital April 2, 1950, officials said. Cause of his death was not revealed.

Mr. Venator suffered a bruise on the head in a minor auto accident when he was 16. Several years later he became dizzy and fell from a train on which he was working as a fireman.

He suffered recurring dizzy spells and temporary losses of memory, according to his family. He underwent brain surgery at University hospitals on May 3, 1950 and had remained unconscious since that time.

His mother, Mrs. Marie Venator of Chillicothe and his grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Venator of Ottumwa, maintained a constant vigil at his bedside throughout his stay at the hospital.

Airman Faces Charge After Refusal to Fly

RANDOLPH FIELD, Texas (AP)—A 35-year-old reserve air force pilot with five children has been charged with disobeying orders of a superior officer because he allegedly refused to fly in the B-29 crew training program.

The pilot, First Lieut. James G. Bristol of San Antonio, faces a possible general court martial, Randolph air force base officials said Friday.

Five other air force lieutenants have refused to fly and officers say they are under investigation.

Served in World War II
Bristol served in World War II but did not see combat duty. He has been at the air base since April 1.

Prior to February 1, flying of fliers who requested suspension from flying was removed from flying status pending action by air force headquarters in Washington. The policy was changed in February to require continuation of flying training pending final action at the Washington level.

Drop in Applications

There was an immediate sharp drop in the number of applications for suspension from flying. There were only six applications at Randolph for suspension in February under the "tough" policy compared with 48 in January under the former policy.

Eight San Antonio-based B-29's have crashed since the training program was reactivated at Randolph in August, 1950. Fifteen airmen were killed when two planes collided north of San Antonio last month.

Masterson to Stay Here Until Trial

John A. Masterson, 24, who has been in Psychopathic hospital since he was charged with stabbing his former friend in Des Moines last Sept. 11, will remain here until his trial opens May 19.

That was the ruling Friday of District Judge Dring D. Needham of Des Moines, who set the trial date after discussing with state and defense attorneys their personal checks on a report from the hospital that Masterson is sane and ready for trial.

Masterson was found insane by a district court jury last November.

Miss O'Connor was stabbed in the back, head, and arm last Sept. 11 in St. Ambrose Cathedral in Des Moines. Arrested at the scene, Masterson told police Miss O'Connor had broken off their two year courtship and told him she didn't want to see him anymore.

CLOTHING FIRM CUTS PRICES
PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—H. Daroff and Sons, Inc., manufacturer of men's clothing, Friday announced that its wholesale prices are being cut to permit reductions of from three to five dollars on current retail prices.

12 Die, 39 Still Missing In Puerto Rican Crash

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A Pan American Airways plane carrying 64 Easter holiday tourists and a crew of five crashed Friday in the sea outside San Juan harbor shortly after taking off for New York.

Rescue workers reported early Friday night that of the 69 aboard there were 18 known survivors, 12 killed and 39 persons still listed as missing.

Names of survivors were not available immediately. The plane was piloted by Capt. John Burn, 37, husband of singing star Jane Froman, whose life he had saved in a thrilling rescue from a similar plane crash at sea in World War II.

5 Crewmen Safe
First reports said there were between 18 and 23 survivors — among them Burn and his four fellow crewmen.

Coast Guard seaplanes searched that area of the blue Caribbean after dropping life rafts. One plane landed on the water and sent out boats to pick up survivors while three others hovered overhead to direct operations.

At least 11 bodies were recovered and rescuers continued to bring in more bodies and survivors. One copilot said the loss of one of the plane's engines had caused the craft to crash.

4 Iowa Towns Evacuated As Water Rises

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
SIOUX CITY, IA. — "It sounds like a train roaring under a bridge — it scares you just to look at that water pouring past here."

That's the way Jim March, Daily Iowan staff member from Kingsley, described the sight and sound of the Missouri river as it slowly tightened its grip on Sioux City Friday night.

March drove to Sioux City from his home Friday night and in a telephone conversation with the Iowan told of the plight of western Iowa residents as they wage a terrific battle against the worst Missouri river flood in history.

March said all traffic into Nebraska and South Dakota had been halted and thousands of people, many of them homeless because of the high water, were milling about in Sioux City's streets.

"There's no panic here tonight," (Friday) March said. "but the worst of it hasn't hit yet and nobody knows what will happen by Monday night."

March said rain was falling in Sioux City Friday evening and by 10:30 p.m. it had turned to snow and sleet, thus adding to the misery of the thousands who were working all night on rescue operations and building dikes.

SIOUX CITY, IA. (AP) — The mightiest Missouri river flood of all time rolled slowly toward this second largest city in Iowa Friday and all that could be done to get ready was being done.

All up and down the river the story of the size of the disaster grew apace with the steady rising of the water. The river moved toward the 20-foot mark in Sioux City and meteorologists expected a 20.8 reading sometime today with a 24-foot crest Monday night or Tuesday.

Downstream from Sioux City the villages of Whiting, Blencoe, Mondamin and Modale were becoming places of emptiness, people only by a few hardy men who remained behind to keep watch and do what they could.

Water Covers Farms
And on a hundred thousand acres of Iowa bottomland south of Sioux City — between highway 75 and the river — a vast lake of muddy flood waters engulfed rich farm lands.

Harold E. Murrey, public information director of the Red Cross disaster committee here, said Friday about 5,700 persons in 12 Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota counties are flood sufferers.

These States Distressed
In a breakdown by counties, Murrey released the following figures:

Iowa — Woodbury county, 350 families or 1,200 persons.

Nebraska — Dixon county, 5 families; Dakota, 386 families; Burt, 245 families; Knox, 35 families; Cedar, 30 families; Washington, 40 families, for a total of 741 families or 2,900 persons.

South Dakota — Charles Mix county, 40 families; Bonhome, 4 families; Yankton, 150 families; Clay, 5 families; Union, 206 families, for a total of 405 families or 1,600 persons.

The Red Cross said at the peak of the flood in Woodbury county 688 homes will be in water, including 193 in North Riverside, a suburb of Sioux City; and 495 in the stockyards and south bottom areas of the city.

Shelters in Sioux City
Two shelters were in operation in Sioux City — at Central high school and at Sacred Heart school in Riverside. A third was being set up in the suburb of Morning-side and 13 others can be set up if needed.

Southeast of Sioux City a shelter was in operation at Mapleton for evacuees from Whiting and Blencoe, both Monona county villages. A big dike was being thrown up at Onawa, the Monona county seat, to prevent backwaters from creeping into that town.

Mobile Red Cross canteens were operating out of Council Bluffs, Sioux City and Turin. Eight Iowa national guard companies — three from Sioux City and one each from Cherokee, Le Mars, Sheldon, Glenwood and Red Oak — were on duty at various points between Glenwood and Sioux City.

Eisenhower Steps Out at SHAPE

GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER steps from his car in Paris Monday as he arrives for opening of blackboard maneuver sessions by the staff of his SHAPE organization. Eisenhower's request to be relieved of his NATO command was announced by the White House Friday. He will step down June 1.

Steelworkers Brandish Another Strike Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers union brandished a new strike threat Friday night over the seized steel industry as government contract talks were recessed until Monday.

The union's 170-man policy committee, reviewing fast-moving events in the steel labor situation during the past several weeks, adopted a resolution saying:

'Time Is Overdue'
"The time is overdue for a settlement based on the (wage stabilization) board's recommendations. The patience of the steelworkers is not inexhaustible."

The union's talk of fading patience led to speculation that it might strike even while the industry is under government operation or that Murray may press for a wage deal with the government over the heads of the steel industry.

For the moment, however, the Truman administration's policy appeared to be to continue seeking to get the industry and union to agree to new contract terms so the industry could be turned back to its private owners.

U.S. Steel Joins Suit
Meanwhile, the giant U.S. Steel corporation joined in the suit already filed by four other major steel firms contesting legality of the government's Tuesday night seizure order.

The other four companies in the suit are Republic, Bethlehem, Jones and Laughlin and Youngstown sheet and tube. They have been unsuccessful in getting the federal courts here to rush through an early test.

Production generally was becoming normal throughout the steel industry. It had been partially closed down in anticipation of a Tuesday midnight strike threat — a walkout which never came off because Murray agreed the workers would continue at their jobs under seizure.

World Prepares For Easter

By The Associated Press
Holy Week mourning ends at noon today.

Christians throughout the world — Protestants and Catholics alike — looked forward today to Easter celebrations hailing the Resurrection of Jesus Christ.

His death on the cross at Calvary was commemorated Friday in traditional Good Friday services, the most solemn of the week.

The anniversary of the final agony of the Prince of Peace found a twilight war still on in Korea and civil warfare spilling blood in Indo-China, Malaya, the Philippines and Bolivia.

The Holy Land itself, the goal of more pilgrims than at any time since the Palestine war of 1948, remained under the shadow of an Arab-Jewish conflict that an armistice muted but did not settle.

Aside from religious observances, stock exchanges of the United States, Canada and many other countries closed. The spring tourist season got under way in earnest in Europe. Late shoppers for Easter finery thronged department stores.

Good Friday was observed in thousands of American churches with special prayers and devotional services.

Most of the services were from noon to 3 p.m., marking Christ's three hours of agony on the cross. Hundreds of U.S. business firms excused employees to attend church, or closed their doors during the three hours of passion services.

Thousands of Europeans and some Americans made the Good Friday pilgrimage in the Jordan-held old city of Jerusalem along the winding Via Dolorosa, where Christ carried His cross. Praying and singing hymns, many of the pious bore crosses.

Jordan officials said the total of pilgrims was the largest since the Palestine war, but only about one-tenth that of the prewar years.

Visitors thronged Rome for services at St. Peter's Basilica and other churches.

In Roman Catholic, Anglican and Episcopal churches three-hour services were held.

Jane Froman and Pilot-Husband

CAPT. JOHN BURN, chief pilot of the Pan American airliner which plunged into the ocean Friday near San Juan, Puerto Rico, is pictured with his wife, singing star Jane Froman, on the set of a Hollywood movie which depicted the story of their love affair. This picture was taken about eight months ago. Capt. Burn was reported to be one of the survivors of the crash.

Iowans Wrote to Lincoln

2 Letters From Settlers Are Now On Display In Bollinger-Lincoln Collection

"There has a question arose in our vicinity that draws out various opinions, the Democrats taking one side, the Republicans the other."

Sound familiar? No, it doesn't concern the coming presidential race, but is taken from a letter written by an early Iowan to President Lincoln in 1861, now on display in University library.

From the old town of Moneek in Winnebago county, one Daniel D. Webster queried Lincoln on the argument over whether or not slaves in slave states were assessed and taxed as personal property.

The Slave Issue Introducing himself as a "humble and retired citizen of the northern part of Iowa, Winnebago county," Webster expressed the hope of Iowa Republicans that the president would not yield to the slave interests in his effort to preserve the Union.

Webster's is one of two original letters written by Iowans to Lincoln which have been added to the University library's Bollinger-Lincoln collection. Along with a number of other original letters.

Judge Bollinger's Wishes

According to Clyde C. Walton, university curator of rare books, addition of these letters to the Bollinger-Lincoln collection is in accordance with the wishes of the late Judge Bollinger that the collection continue to grow.

His article advocated states' rights, saying "leave to each state separately, which chooses to do so, the encouragement of 'American Production' or 'Home Industry'—and leave the federal government very little to do, outside its own business."

posts and Lincoln documents, they were purchased at the public auction of the Oliver R. Barrett collection in New York last winter.

Ike Expected to Outline Broad Program Soon

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Well, the date of General Eisenhower's return home is now on the books, but it hardly means that he is preparing to go down in the hustings for a great whirlwind reconvention campaign.

At present the general is expected to make three or more speeches containing his broad general thoughts on national issues before the GOP convention meets July 7. But there will be nothing like the personal appeals of other candidates for delegates to the Republican convention.

Responsibility of Labor The general is keenly interested in the broad relationship of labor-capital to the national interest, though not professing familiarity with or any particular stand on specific points of legislation either now in force or proposed. He almost surely will talk about that. Previous speeches have indicated he believes labor just as responsible as management for business welfare.

He already has expressed himself as against what he believes is excessive federal taxation, centralization of government, encroachment of federal power into local fields, and the like. He probably will talk about that.

From his general attitude it seems very likely that the general will grab with both hands the corruption in government and "need for a change" line that is being used by all Republicans this year. He may have some ideas about reduction in government expenses, including personnel, which will be disturbing to politicians even in his own party.

On foreign policy his ideas are not likely to prove very different from those now being followed. One factor believed to have been involved in his final decision to enter the campaign is his fear of such isolationism as still exists in some quarters of his own party.

Will Stick to Broad Principles So his campaign, in general, can be expected to stick to broad general principles, rather than special appeals.

He will return to find his admitted popularity heavily discounted by the facts of politics, which have already given Taft a vast lead in the early delegate count. The fixing of the date, however, does serve to "set" the form of the campaign more firmly.

The great national figure, now something of an Olympian, will become more touchable, and thus may lose some of its aura. That one change in the situation he will have to combat.

Gambling in Britain Cut by $140 Million

LONDON (AP) — Either John Bull is getting more cautious or austerity is really hitting home. Britons' cut down their gambling by an estimated 50 million pounds ($140 million) last year.

The Churches' Committee on Gambling estimated Britain's get-rich hopefuls invested 600 million pounds ($1,680,000,000) on horse and dog tracks, football pools and fun fairs in 1951. This fell $140-million below estimates.

Accreditation to Mercy Hospital

The Mercy school is the second in Iowa to receive this recognition, Sister Brigid said. The hospital school now has 75 enrollees and between 20 and 25 nurses are graduated each year.

Too Many Councilmen —

Governor May Be Called into Oxford Election Dispute

By STAFF WRITER

OXFORD — A petition asking a clarification of an election mix-up in this town 15 miles west of Iowa City was being drawn up by residents here Friday for presentation to Gov. William S. Beardsley.

The mixup started last Monday night when newly-elected Mayor Eldon Cook and his five councilmen went to city hall and prepared to take over their offices.

But members of the outgoing council, headed by Mayor John Kinney, informed the new officers that they could not take office because they had not qualified themselves within 10 days after their election last November.

The town clerk then swore in the old council and mayor for another two-year term. A study of the Iowa code found that the old council was no more qualified to serve Oxford than the new one because they too had failed to qualify within 10 days after the date that the new council should have qualified. In effect, then, none of the officers, mayor included, were in office legally.

The whole controversy arose over a change in Iowa town elections made by the last general assembly. At that session the town elections were changed from March to November. Elected officers, however, would still take over their duties in April.

SUI Hires McCuskey, Kodros

McCuskey To Head Wrestling, Kodros Grid Aid

The state board of education has approved the appointment of Dave McCuskey and Archie Kodros to the athletic staff of SUI, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Friday.

McCuskey will replace Mike Howard, retiring after 31 years to part time duty this summer, as the head coach of the wrestling team. McCuskey leaves a highly successful job as wrestling coach at Iowa State Teachers college.

Archie Kodros, head football coach and athletic director will be reunited with two former Michigan teammates when he comes to SUI next fall as assistant football coach to Forest Evansheviski.

McCuskey's appointment becomes effective June 13. He started coaching the Teacher's Panthers when he was 24 years old. Now, 20 years later, his teams have a dual meet record of 102 victories, 31 defeats and seven ties.

His wrestling teams won the National AAU title in 1949, 1950 and 1951 and the NCAA crown in 1950. Individuals on his squads won 13 national AAU championships. This year's team won second in the NCAA meet and two varsity men won individual championships.

Archie Kodros, 33, was line coach at Whitman college of Washington in 1948 and then head coach and athletic director in 1949. He went to Hawaii in 1950 as head football coach and athletic director.

Captain at Michigan
Kodros was captain of the Michigan 11 in 1939, a teammate of Forest Evansheviski and Bob Flora, another football star. A fourth former Michigan star on the Iowa coaching staff is Chalmers (Bump) Elliott.

Kodros was in the air force for four years. He is married and the father of two children. His salary, according to Hancher, will be $6,500 per year.

McCuskey will receive $6,200 for a nine-month year. He was a physical education instructor in the navy for 38 months during World War II and attained the rank of lieutenant commander.

McCuskey was a three-sport star at Teachers, graduating in 1931. He received his masters at Columbia university two years later. He is married and has two children, Jon, 16, and Dave, 12.

Iowa's Tennis Team Wins

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
ST. LOUIS — Iowa's tennis team won its tenth consecutive meet Friday by defeating Washington university here.

It was the fifth consecutive victory this year for the team as they remain undefeated. All games so far have been played on the opponents' courts.

Last year, they had racked up five consecutive wins before the season closed, accounting for their present 10-game streak.

Hampered by Cold
The players were hampered by playing on outside courts in unseasonable cold, spring weather. The teams were evenly matched throughout the meet and three matches ran into extra sets.

Iowa won five of the six single matches with Dave Van Ginkel having the most difficulty and going four sets to beat Jim Liebergobel. Wally Cunnach was the only triumphant Washington singles player, beating Norman Barnes, 6-3 and 6-2.

Bob Richards won rather easily over Allan Cohn, 6-2 and 6-2. In the third match, Bruce Higley beat Ned Pfeifer, 6-4 and 6-4.

Dusty Rice, Iowa's football player converted to tennis, ran into trouble before finally defeating Dick Lieber, 7-5 and 8-6. Roger Croath beat Howard Lesser, 6-2 and 6-1.

Four Sets Required
Jim Liebergobel made Van Ginkel win four sets before conceding defeat. The scores were 6-5, 6-2, 5-7 and 6-4. Iowa's Charles Thompson had to go three sets to beat Elvin Siegfried, 4-6, 6-2 and 6-2.

In the doubles, Iowa broke even with Washington each taking two matches. Cohn and Pfeifer teamed up in the first match to defeat Iowa's Barnes and Croath, 6-4 and 6-1.

In the second match, Dudlock and Lieber, Washington, beat Richards and Rice, 6-4 and 6-1.

In the last two matches, SUI's Cahman and Higley, and Thompson and Van Ginkel beat Lesser and Liebergobel, and Edgings and Bottini, 6-0 and 6-2.

SUI-Arizona Rained Out

TUSCON—The game scheduled for Iowa with the University of Arizona here, was called off Friday due to a heavy rain that made the field muddy and slippery. The game was postponed until 9 p.m. tonight as the second game of a double header between the two university squads. The first game will be played at 2 p.m.

Jensen Gets Joe's Job

From Rosebowl —

NEW YORK (AP) — From the Rose Bowl to the World series and into Joe DiMaggio's man-sized shoes in three years is a success spiral that should jar an average human, but it hasn't turned a hair on Jackie Jensen's head.

"Somebody had to play centerfield when DiMaggio left, and I figure it might as well be me," the 25-year-old New York Yankee flychaser said Friday just before he took the position in an exhibition game against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

An eleventh hour announcement by Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees gave the big job to Jensen after a brisk spring fight among a handful of candidates. Young Mickey Mantle at first had figured for the post.

"No, I'm not nervous or conscious that I'm filling DiMaggio's shoes," Jensen said. "I don't think anybody can play centerfield as well as Joe did. I'm just out there trying to do the best possible job."

Halfback in Bowl
Jensen, halfback of the University of California football team which lost to Northwestern, 20-14 in the Rose bowl Jan. 1, 1949, said until DiMaggio retired he'd never thought about playing center for the Yankees.

— To World Series

"I played left and right at Oakland and I thought I had too many faults for center," the Oakland, Calif., athlete added. "But I've been working on these faults and now I think I can do it."

While patterning his fielding after the Yankee Clipper, Jensen said he went elsewhere to improve his hitting, which reached a .353 mark in spring training.

"I went in to more of a crouch, more like Stan Musial," he said.

McDougal Cleanup
Apparently on the assumption that two feet were not enough to fill DiMaggio's shoes, Stengel nominated third baseman Gil McDougal, the American league's rookie of the year last season, to bat in Joe's old cleanup spot.

Gil, an angular, 23-year-old sophomore whiz from San Francisco, said he was very much surprised when told he'd bat fourth in the Yankee order.

Rocky Irked at Ratings, Plans to Whip Sugar

CHICAGO (AP) — A taut and edgy Rocky Graziano Friday threatened to scramble "with one sock on the jaw" the latest National Boxing association ratings which buried him 10th in the middleweight class.

As a challenger who next Wednesday night meets the 160-pound king, Sugar Ray Robinson, in 15-round title bout at the Chicago stadium, Graziano was plainly irked by the NBA's cold shoulder.

The listing released Thursday stamped Randy Turpin, Gene Hariston, Laurent Dauthuille, Robert Villmain and Dave Sands as the most proper challengers to Robinson.

In the "outstanding boxer" class, Charles Humez, Norman

Hayes, and Paddy Young got the call ahead of Graziano.

"The ratings are always subject to change," snarled Graziano, "one sock on the jaw change them a lot. About 9:30 Wednesday night (the bout starts at 9 p.m., CST), they'll be counting out that No. 1 guy and I'll be champion."

Graziano's manager, Irving Cohen said Graziano now weighs 161 and easily will make the 161 weight limit Wednesday.

"He's in real good shape," Cohen continued. "He could go 10 rounds, but that isn't our plan. Don't ask me our plan, because never yet has Rocky fought a planned battle. But you can be sure he'll try to nail him first."

Giants Victors, 4-3 In 3 Extra Innings

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Early Wynn and Sal Maglie put on a midseason pitching duel for five innings Friday but fielding lapses marred the latter part of the game as the New York Giants bested the Cleveland Indians 4 to 3 in 12 innings.

Wynn, who went seven innings for Cleveland, held the Giants to four hits and one run. Maglie struck out five and allowed four hits and one run in his five-inning stint.

Alvin Dark, Giant shortstop, scored the winning run with one out on a single by centerfielder Chuck Diering.

Evers Breaks Thumb

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Left fielder Pat Mullins' double in the second inning was the only Detroit hit Friday against three Cincinnati pitchers as the Reds took a 5-0 exhibition decision at Red Bird stadium.

Centerfielder Hoot Evers of the Tigers suffered a broken right thumb in the fourth inning after being tagged with a pitched ball that first hit his bat. Team Manager Fred Rolfe said Evers will be out of action "for an estimated minimum of four weeks."

Jackie Takes Over Yanks Centerfield
