Michigan Prison Mutineers Give Up

Demands of Convicts Accepted by Governor

JACKSON, MICH. (AP) — Convict rebels at Southern Michigan prison, their five-day mutiny won, surrendered their fortress cell-block Thursday. They released eight groggy but unharmed hostage guards.

The 169 mutineers discarded a pile of weapons—knives, cleavers, ball bats and clubs—outside their cellblock, a monument to the worst riot ever to sweep a Michigan prison.

A roaring cheer broke the tense silence of the vast prison as the last of the rebels walked out of isolation cell block 15 with the guards at 3:47 p.m.

Gov. Williams Gives In Governor Williams gave in to the rioting convicts' demands Wednesday night rather than further risk the lives of the prison guards.

He bowed to 11 demands covering such points as alleged brutality, lack of proper medical care and over-rigid administration of the parole system.

The governor also promised there would be no reprisals by prison guards against the rioters.

Wives Meet Hostage Guards Wives of the long imprisoned guards — some with babies clutched in their arms—screamed hysterically in a mad dash into the arms of the freed but badly shaken hostages.

Warden Julian N. Frisbie, visibly torn with emotion and strain, said the brawling, hot-tempered block 15 convicts "wrecked the place." They had given themselves up until Friday morning to surrender. But apparently they couldn't bear the thought of another night together.

Mutineers Get Steak Dinners When all were out, they marched quietly into the prison mess hall for an elaborate steak dinner, thrown in by prison authorities as a condition of their surrender.

Armed prison guards kept a respectful 25 yards away from block 15's entrance as the touchy surrender terms were carried out. State police showed up once in the yard but were banished by prison officials. However, they massed in strength under cover, their ranks bristling with every type of riot weapon.

Rolling stretchers were in readiness against any last-ditch outbreak but the block 15 convicts came out quietly, some of them with a jaunty air about them. The guards shuffled groggily, however, unshaven and more dead than alive in their reaction.

Bandit Hyatt Started Riot The man who touched off the riot Sunday night was Jack (Crazy Jack) Hyatt, dangerous bandit with a twisted mind. He once tried to flee another prison at knife-point with Gov. Williams as a shield.

Williams then was on a visit to Marquette prison in northern Michigan. Hyatt's bid for freedom failed.

The 29-year-old Hyatt tricked a rookie guard into opening his cell Sunday night, then slammed the bars shut on the guard. Hyatt then joined forces with Earl E. Ward, a handsome but equally vicious criminal. However, one of the first of the eight guards to march out the mutineers, had a good word for Hyatt.

"I don't know why they call him Crazy Jack," said guard George E. Brown.

Brown added that Hyatt looked out for the guards' safety during their imprisonment within cell-block 15.

NO DATE FOR TRUCE MEET MUNSAN, Korea (FRIDAY) (AP) — Allied and Communist staff officers debating the explosive prisoner exchange in a Korean armistice adjourned their meeting today without setting a date for another session. The United Nations command did not elaborate immediately on the failure to set another meeting time.

Brooder Burns Here; 50 Small Chicks Die About 50 small chickens were killed in a fire which destroyed a brooder house at the Edward Ipsen residence, 1130 1st ave., Thursday night.

The fire is believed to have started in the frame structure shortly after 10:30 p.m. Firemen were unable to save anything but one side of the building.

Asst. Fire Chief H. T. McNabb said the fire probably started from an electric heater.

Ohio Educator Advises On Fund Procurement through political appointments.

He said the main weakness of faculty's program of participation in university government was that faculties had not knit into theory the gains they had already made in university administration and those they still wished to gain.

Old and New Student Council Presidents

Peter Van Metre, L3, Waterloo, (right) newly-elected president of the student council, received the gavel from the retiring president, John Bunce, L3, Des Moines, at the first regular meeting of the new council Thursday night. Van Metre will head the largest student governing body in the school's modern history. The group was enlarged this semester from 17 to 28 members as part of the council reorganization.

White House Clarifies Truman's Statement On U.S. Ultimatum

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman stirred up a short-lived sensation Thursday by saying he sent Premier Stalin an ultimatum — backed up by the presence of U.S. troops and ships in the Middle East — and forced the Russians to get out of Iran in 1946.

Truman's "disclosure," which he volunteered at a news conference, startled and even amazed official circles until the White House, some three hours later, announced officially that:

1. The President did not send a personal note to Stalin that led to Russia's evacuation of the Middle East country, and

2. Truman used the word ultimatum in a "non-technical, layman sense." That is, he didn't mean to imply he told the Russians to get out or we would go to war.

The President meant, it was explained, that U.S. leadership exerted in the United Nations, and "through diplomatic channels," was a major factor in bringing about Russian withdrawal from Iran.

The President brought up the Iran matter himself in outlining some of the actions he and other presidents have taken to meet national emergencies.

He said the country right now is faced with an emergency as great as any in its history. He said it is trying to keep free nations armed, and keep our forces in Korea from being shot in the back.

And that, he declared, is why he felt it necessary to take over the strike-threatened steel industry.

He said also that he never has given any thought to taking over the nation's newspapers and radio stations, despite a lot of published hoaxes to that effect.

Peter Van Metre Elected President By Student Council

Peter Van Metre, L3, Waterloo, was elected president of the 1952-53 student council at an organizational meeting Thursday night in the senate chamber, Old Capitol.

Van Metre defeated the only other candidate in the race, David Stanley, L3, Iowa City, for the presidency.

Other officers elected were: Kent Forney, A2, Sibley, vice-president; Anne Saxton, A3, Clinton, corresponding secretary; Margaret Hibbs, A2, Clarinda, recording secretary; and Lue Cramblitt, L3, Ottumwa, treasurer.

William Skafie, A3, Dubuque, and Dale Razez, C3, Harlan, were elected to serve with the officers on the council executive committee.

In its first order of business, the council expressed its "sincere appreciation and congratulations to the 1951-52 student council for its excellent progress toward a strong and reorganized council, and for the fine example of student government which it has set."

The council empowered the executive committee to appoint a committee to include at least one married student council representative, to study married students' housing and submit a report at the next council meeting, Thursday, May 1.

This action followed a protest by Everett Reflor, G, 115 Riverside park, that some married students are handicapped by an administration rule which provides that they must be enrolled for at least 5 semester hours during the summer session to maintain residence in married students quarters.

Refior said that the summer was the only time students studying under the GI bill could leave school without relinquishing benefits.

25,000 Red Youths Riot in West Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — About 25,000 Communist blue shirts stormed West Berlin's frontier Thursday night in a professed peace rally that resulted in a few cracked heads and 14 arrests.

The regimented youths of East Berlin were sent to stir up trouble with shouts of "Ami, go home!" and "we demand a peace treaty." It was the first time in months that Communist street-fighting tactics have been employed in divided Berlin.

West Berlin police estimated 15,000 youths infiltrated the shopping area of the French sector. At a prearranged signal, they broke into their "peace" demonstration just as the normal work day was ending.

About 10,000 others — deployed along the Soviet frontier—shouted above the din of their own loudspeakers, threw bricks and, in one case, kidnaped a West Berlin policeman and dragged him into East Berlin.

Dikes Weather Flood Waters At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City stood the strain Thursday as the upper Missouri river's greatest flood surged past on its way to the sea.

"I'm smiling because it looks awfully good," said Brig. Gen. Don G. Shingler of Omaha, Missouri river division engineer. "But when the record flood on the Missouri is passing your door, and you're sitting behind dirt, you have to be careful."

An emergency fence of lumber and sandbags — flashboarding of the kind that saved Omaha and Council Bluffs last week — was built on top of the dikes. But the river didn't come close to that height.

Shingler explained the Missouri is carrying about 400,000 cubic feet of water a second—much less than the paralyzing flood of 1951. Last year the rampaging Kaw river in Kansas dumped more than 500,000 cubic feet into the Missouri at Kansas City.

Far to the east on the flooding Mississippi, the crest cleared Wisconsin and reached Dubuque, Ia., as Gov. William S. Beardsley toured the flood zone by air. Upstream in Wisconsin the river was falling.

The little village of Sabula, Ia.—partly below the river's level—reported "things look much brighter today." The town fought successfully Wednesday to close a major levee break caused by three-foot waves.

Both interstate bridges at Clinton remained open and Muscatine levees were holding. Heavy rains ended in southeastern Iowa where clearing skies cheered the flood fighters.

All Male Students Must File for Status

All male students who wish their class rank and student status for the current academic year certified by the registrar's office and sent to their local draft board after spring semester grades are recorded should file a written request with the registrar's office sometime between May 15 and the close of the present school year.

Students who filled out request blanks a year ago stating their desire to have similar rank in class forms sent to their draft boards must file a request again this year. The registrar's office will send certified forms only for those students who file requests this spring.

IC Farmer Wounded In Hunting Accident

Ralph Lumpa, 22, R.R. 5, Iowa City, was in critical condition in Mercy hospital here Thursday night after being wounded in a hunting accident.

Lumpa was shot by Wayne Lumpa, 16, as the two men were hunting Thursday afternoon on a farm near Oasis, about seven miles northeast of Iowa City. Wayne Lumpa is believed to be a cousin of the wounded man, police said.

Lumpa was accidentally shot by a rifle about 1:40 p.m. as he was picking up a squirrel, the police reported.

Welfare Speaker Says Democracy Should Offer Freedom, Security

Our democracy must offer freedom to the individual, but we should also offer our industrialized, urban society a minimum of security, Joseph P. Anderson, executive secretary of the American Association of Social Workers, said Thursday night.

Speaking at a banquet meeting of the Iowa Welfare institute at SU, Anderson took this stand in answer to the question of whether or not we can achieve both freedom and security in any society.

He said it is inconceivable that in a country as wealthy as ours we cannot provide a minimum standard of living for all people. By doing so we free the people to achieve a greater sense of enterprise, initiative, self-reliance and self-respect.

Denies Increased Cost Questioning the value of our welfare programs, he said, is an outcome of a period of confusion and uncertainty when our economic, political and social institutions are undergoing change. The resulting anxiety prompts some people to question such basic concepts as public welfare, federal-state-local relationships and support of public schools. Anderson denied that social

High Schools to Open Art Conference Today

Students from 35 Iowa high schools will exhibit art at the 22d annual high school art education conference which opens on campus today.

Conference manager Frank Wachowiak, assistant professor of art at the university, estimated that more than 150 high school students and teachers of art will register before the opening day was over.

Guest artists speaking at the conference are F. Louis Hoover, director of art education, Illinois State Normal university; John Walley, Institute of Design, Chicago, and Arnold Blanch, painter from Woodstock, N. Y.

Included in high schools who have registered exhibits are City high and University high of Iowa City.

This Is Muscatine; Iowa City Guardsmen Are on Duty Here

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD WATERS lapped at the Rock Island railroad's right-of-way in Muscatine Thursday where 50 Iowa City national guardsmen have been on emergency flood duty since Sunday morning. If the water reaches six inches on the tracks, diesels such as this will have to stop running. The flood stage is presently at 19.4 feet. The picture, taken atop the Hotel Muscatine looking north, was snapped by Daily Iowan photographer Leo Zeithamel, A4, Iowa City, who is a Sgt. 1st class serving with 45 other members of the 34th reconnaissance company and four members of the 109th medical battalion.

Judge Surprised at Contention Of Attorney in Steel Seizure

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. District Judge David A. Pine indicated surprise Thursday at a government attorney's contention that the courts have no authority in time of emergency to interfere with such actions as President Truman's seizure of the nation's steel mills.

The judge put off until today completion of legal arguments on the steel industry's plea for an injunction which would void Truman's seizure. He said that when arguments have ended, probably today, he will rule as promptly as possible.

Industry attorneys urged immediate action, contending that the government is about to take action which they said will result in "almost incalculable" damage to the steel companies.

Holmes Baldrige, an assistant attorney general replying for the government, argued that the President has unlimited power in time of declared emergency and that the courts have no authority to review his executive orders. The steel seizure was such an order.

Judge Pine expressed surprise, noting that the President himself declares the emergency.

He told Baldrige that under his theory, the government could seize him, Baldrige, and order him executed and that he would have no recourse to the courts.

"I'll have to think that one over," Baldrige replied.

Truman defended his seizure of the steel mills, telling his news conference he acted because the country was in what he termed its greatest emergency. But new challenges to his seizure order were voiced on capitol hill.

Ohio Educator Advises On Fund Procurement

How do you get the state board of education to be more aggressive in seeking appropriations for SUI from the Iowa legislature?

"By putting on a good show for the board of education when they visit your school" was the answer of Arthur J. Klein, dean emeritus of the college of education at Ohio State.

Klein is a committee member of the Strayer report, and he answered the question in a discussion session after speaking before about 60 SUI faculty members of the local American Association of University Professors Thursday night in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Dr. Klein went on to say that educators have not made enough use of emotional devices in seeking funds from legislatures.

He said, "You must treat educational boards just as you do children; give them human stories that may not be significant in education and then move on to more important things."

In his prepared speech, Klein said, "Faculty interest in educational institutions is not as deeply rooted as many school administrators think." He believes that faculty interest in institutions is primarily to protect their jobs.

Klein said that the public has come to regard university faculty members as high class hired help, the president as their manager and the average citizen as a stockholder.

In actual practice, he believes political committees control education boards and all their influence

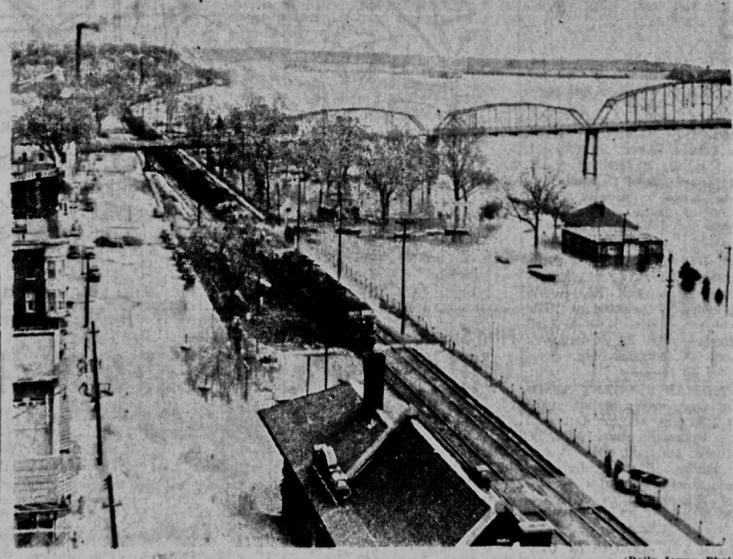

No Beef About the Horsemeat Dinner

Film Stars Too Scared of Role, So — Will Rogers Jr. 'Forced' to Play His Dad

HOLLYWOOD (CP)—They were all scared to do it. Bing Crosby, Gary Cooper, Joel McCrea, Spencer Tracy, Chill Wills, James Stewart, John Wayne, Stuart Erwin and Noah Beery Jr., to mention a few, wouldn't risk their professional standing portraying Will Rogers in the screen version of the great American's life. So meet the guy who's just as scared, but who is now acting the part. He's Will Rogers Jr. And he's as good a physical resemblance as you could hope to find. Bill, as he prefers to be called, should also have inherited his dad's famous alarm clock. We had a 12:30 appointment and we didn't get together till three. He forgot all about it. Finally found him on a far-off corner of the studio lot where he was practicing rope tricks.

"Oh, no!" he realized his forgotten as we approached, "I plumb forgot. Y'know, I got so wrapped up in this thing (the rope) that I just kept on working."

Will Rogers Jr., former congressman, army officer and newspaper publisher, blushed a bright crimson and awkwardly dangled his arms about his sides. It was frightening. He looked, acted and sounded too much like his dad.

He twirled the rope deftly and commented, "This is incredibly difficult. Dad was the best." On Bill's insistence, much roping will be included in the film. He's been a pretty good roper all his life, but knows he can never attain the finesse Will had. "I hope I do him justice," he said.

Not an Actor Will Rogers Jr. is not an actor. Ten years ago the Rogers family agreed to let the studio make the film. During that time all the aforementioned actors were asked to portray Will. They knew they couldn't do justice to the part.

Bill, too, was scared. However, he had an easy excuse. First he was busy in Washington, then he enlisted, and after the war, he was busy with his weekly newspaper. Finally, director Mike Curtiz talked him into doing it. "I'm doing it all on Mike's say so," is Bill's admission. Curtiz is a fortunate choice for director. He was a close pal of Will's—played polo with him and was a friend of the family.

"Just Roped or Sang" "Why, I've never acted in my life," Bill continued. "Cept maybe in high school or college. I just roped or sang. I never spoke anybody else's lines."

"You ought to hear me," he laughed. "They say I sound too sing-songy. Brother you should hear some of that sing-songy talk I heard in congress! Yeah, they really had to talk me into this."

There will be no attempt to force Bill to assume the famous Rogers attitudes. "If some of my father's mannerisms come out that's fine," he chewed deeply. "And that's what a lot of people say."

However, the film will be more authentic than most film biographies. Too many of us remember so much of his life, his actions, his famous radio programs and philosophy to toy with this story.

The emphasis in the film life, according to Bill, will be placed on his pre-aviation activities, drought relief speeches, national tours, and the way he constantly bawled out "city slickers."

The important role played by Betty Rogers and the three children will also be depicted. Jane Wyman plays Mrs. Rogers.

It is a tough role for a beginner. A hero portrayal is difficult enough. However, in this one there are no battles to be fought, cities to be founded, formulae to be discovered or games to be won. This is a story of a man who talked himself into the hearts of a nation. And Bill has little to do but talk — and rope.

Will once said of himself: "I'm just an old country boy in a big town trying to get along. I have been eating pretty regular and the reason I have been is because I have stayed an old country boy."

As his close friend, Fred Stone, said: "Will Rogers remained unconfused in a world of confusion." "So remember," Bill added for insurance, "they just talked me into doing this." He walked away, twirling his rope and mumbled something about "this is incredibly difficult..."

Interpreting the News —

Great Britain Accused Of Neglecting Europe

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

Great Britain is being accused these days, both in the United States and continental Europe, of failure to cooperate in European affairs.

By this is meant her refusal to join the Schuman plan for international control of Europe's coal and steel industry; her interest in the union of Europe for everyone except herself; her refusal to join the now-forming European defense community; her refusal to yield the slightest bit of sovereignty to the various international control bodies being established.

Paul Reynaud, former French premier and leader of an important faction in the French national assembly, says that with France tied up in Indo-China, the European army may be dominated by Germany because Britain refuses to join.

Britain now has mutual defense treaties with all Western Europe which are binding in every way except that she does not submit to control by popular vote.

She has been at some pains recently, through statements by her leaders, to explain why she does not feel she can go any farther than that.

She points out that the British commonwealth is still a great binding force in the world. Within it there is a special relationship under which each member of the family has both a right and an obligation to consult the others before coming to decisions that concern them all.

The other face of this is that Britain has to walk very softly these days with a large number of her commonwealth associates. If they get the idea she is carrying them into something dangerous, or that she is spreading too thin the power which makes her the key to the whole, the commonwealth might come apart.

The Marquess of Salisbury, secretary of state for commonwealth relations, says that if Britain transferred control of her military and economic affairs to any European supranational organizations, "Britain would cease to be a sovereign state and as a result she wouldn't be able any more to play her present part in the association of independent sovereign states which together make up the commonwealth."

ROBERTS JR. is getting after them. They are accused of "bourgeois objectivism"—a Communist phrase meaning listening to the other side of the argument.

Radio RIAS Needles East German Soviets

AP Newsfeature

BERLIN — Uncle Sam has made the Communists cry "uncle" in Soviet-occupied East Germany. One branch of Uncle Sam's propaganda is a howling success. The Communists are doing the howling.

RIAS — Radio in the American Sector — is now being called all the foul names in the Communist lexicon. "Stinking news ulcer owned by foreign monopoly capitalists and criminal warmongers in the heart of Germany," screamed Neues Deutschland, official newspaper of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party.

"The miserable RIAS will be blown apart by the lies they tell and the pitiful remnants of their poor brains will some day be swept up from the streets of West Berlin into the refuse dumps of history," shouted the Magdeburger Volksstimme.

"Everyone who feels as a German will regard RIAS as superfluous and wish it in hell," cried the Halle Freiheit.

It seems clear from all this that the Communists don't like RIAS. They have good reason. It is hurting.

RIAS sticks needles into the Communists around the clock, to the delight of a vast audience in the East zone still not dissuaded by Communists threats from listening to the West Berlin station.

Reaction Growing But the Communist reaction is getting stronger all the time, and there are hints now that regime may even invoke the "law for peace" against listeners. The law — similar to the "anti-warmongering" law of all the captive Communist nations — already has been invoked for those who passed on what they heard on RIAS.

Even Communist party people listen to RIAS, but the party now is getting after them. They are accused of "bourgeois objectivism"—a Communist phrase meaning listening to the other side of the argument.

Meantime, the Communist radio took up the cry against RIAS, an unusual step, because it has avoided in the past giving any publicity to the American station.

The Red radio is hammering hard and ominously at the "warmongering" theme, in an obvious attempt to frighten away the listeners.

Began in 1946 But it is the Communists' own fault that RIAS was started. Official station of the U. S. high commission, it came into being in early 1946, when the Russians refused to give up their sole control of Radio Berlin.

From small beginnings RIAS has grown to a powerful 100,000-watt transmitter, plus a 40,000-watt transmitter at Hof and a 3,000-watt frequency modulation station. The German-language broadcasts are directed by the radio branch of the high commission's office of public affairs.

The response to the station from the East zone is tremendous. Thousands of letters pour into RIAS every month, singing its praises and breathing hatred for the Communist regime; telling how RIAS bolstered morale.

Warns Farmers From its underground sources in the East zone, RIAS gets reliable reports of the actions and the plans of the Communists. Frequently it warns farmers that there is to be a sudden inspection of their storage rooms or mills, and the farmers act accordingly.

RIAS instructs the listeners on how to oppose the regime and still stay out of jail.

RIAS is the only western station reaching the entire Soviet zone and competing effectively with the Soviet-controlled network.

The 'K' in K-1 Stands for 'Killer'

NEW LONDON, CONN. (CP) —It is said of modern warfare that for every weapon of offense, a defensive one is created. In the air, speedy, fast-climbing jet interceptors head off bomb-laden planes before they can reach their destination.

On land, small groups of soldiers—on occasion, even a single man—equipped with bazookas or light recoilless artillery destroy an enemy armored force.

By the same token, atomic artillery shells can break up and eliminate an enemy concentration of troops.

Now an antidote has been provided for the submarine—in this instance another underwater killer. Already one of them, a prototype of many to come, has been built in our shipyards and has been commissioned.

Dubbed the K-1 ("K" for Killer), it is a normal-looking submarine except for the absence of several familiar deck protruberances such as guns and lifelines.

Pros Houses Solid Gear What makes this one different from former subs, aside from its snorkel, or underwater breathing device, is the strange swollen prow that houses delicate sound gear.

With these "ears" the submarines of the K class can feel their way underwater far out at sea or lie in wait, sending out sound impulses and listening for echoes indicating the presence of enemy submarines.

Once a contact is made, they will launch lethal and intricate torpedoes that will "home" on the sound of the enemy and destroy them before they approach near enough to our shores to lob guided missiles into our coastline cities.

Devices Still 'Top Secret' Several of these detection devices in the new ship are still "top secret," and several of them can only be described as fantastic in their ability to make contacts under worst possible conditions—without a human ever actually seeing the enemy.

Necessity dictated the creation of a sub like the K-1. The navy, realizing that it takes as many as three modern destroyers to seek out and kill an enemy underwater boat, looked to its own subs for defense.

To this end, the sum of $175,000,000 was spent modernizing its existing fleet. This work consisted mainly of adding snorkels and more powerful batteries to propel the craft under water.

Atomic Sub Started Although the K-1 is a model of efficiency and comfort, it is not the "ultimate." At this moment experimental work is being done at a shipyard in Groton, Conn., on our first atomic submarine.

It can be revealed that it will resemble our present-day craft but will be longer and chubbier and will be propelled by powerful, almost noiseless atomic engines that will give it an estimated speed of almost 30 miles an hour and an ability to cruise for an indefinite period.

It is expected that in 1953, if all goes well, we should have the first working model for an entirely new underwater fleet.

Try This Rich Rum Cake For Special Occasions

Spring turns a woman's fancy to all thoughts of sweetness.

Housemothers on the SUI campus find that true because the dishes which reign as favorites now are desserts.

Mrs. Robert Edelson, house-mother of Sigma Delta Tau for a year, likes to serve a Southern dessert called rum cake.

Served on special occasions, guests term this dessert "luscious." "It is really a rich dessert," Mrs. Edelson said, "and one that goes a long way."

The recipe for the cake is Mahala Hughes, cook for Sigma Delta Tau for a year. It was compiled by Mahala from many years of cooking experience and several different recipes.

"Mahala also makes a delicious Blackbottom pie," said Mrs. Edelson. "But she doesn't let the recipe be known, and no one can watch her while she makes it."

Blackbottom pie consists of graham cracker, chocolate, custard, plus secret ingredients. It is a favorite in the South, especially around New Orleans. "In the South if you want to make it, you experiment and add or detract ingredients until you reach the right combination," Mrs. Edelson explained.

The recipe for a dessert favorite at Sigma Delta Tau is made by Mahala Hughes. This is her recipe for:

RUM CAKE
2 dozen lady fingers
2 dozen marshmallows
1 cup strong black coffee
1/2 cup pecans
1 pint whipping cream
1/4 cup rum or table spoon rum flavor
Dissolve marshmallow in hot black coffee. Chop nuts fine. Whip

WE NEED THREE U. OF IOWA SENIORS!

We want three top-flight University of Iowa graduates — men with the potential to handle, after a reasonable period of training, positions of responsibility in our banking, trust, bond and administrative departments. As one of the nation's largest, most progressive bank and trust companies, we need college men for such varied activities as market-research, sales, management and investment of trust funds, purchase and sale of government and municipal bonds, advertising, public relations, personnel management and investment and credit research.

If you have poise, a pleasant personality and believe you will enjoy contacts with leading businessmen, The Northern Trust Company offers you exceptional opportunities. You will work with friendly people in modern, pleasant surroundings in the heart of Chicago, the second largest city in the nation and the center of highly diversified industry, commerce, transportation and finance. Draft eligibility does not eliminate you from consideration. Investigate these opportunities.

Contact Miss Helen Barnes, Placement director, to obtain a copy of our descriptive booklet, "Big City Banking," and to arrange an appointment with E. L. Hall, vice president who will be on the Iowa Campus May 6.

Until Bell Laboratories scientists design an electric mouth that can pucker, the human model is here to stay. But we have built a machine that can imitate human vocal characteristics—from the slate-pencil squeal of a girls' cheering section to the basso rumble in a men's dining hall.

Sound being a basic raw material of the Bell System, we have pioneered in the science of speech. Measuring the properties of your voice leads to better and cheaper ways to transmit it.

Keeping the world's best telephone system growing for our country is a big and challenging job. There are opportunities for college men with the right qualifications not only with Bell's corps of research scientists, but also in engineering, operations, and administration, with the Bell Telephone Companies and Western Electric, the System's manufacturing and supply unit.

Braves Score 3 in 10th Inning To Beat Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Ed Mathews' double was the big blow of a three-run outburst by the Boston Braves in the tenth inning Thursday for a 6-3 win over the New York Giants.

Chunky Max Lanier shut out the Braves for the first seven innings but was torn loose from his moorings in the eighth when Boston scored three to tie the score.

Dave Koslo, who struck out with a man on second and one out in the Giants' ninth, was the victim of the Braves' winning spurt in the tenth.

Walk Starts Trouble

Sid Gordon walked to open the tenth and rookie Pete Whisenant ran for him. When Bobby Thomson charged in for the expected bunt, Jack Daniels slashed a double past him to left. Walker Cooper was walked intentionally to load the bases.

Mathews' double to right knocked in Whisenant and Daniels, bringing George Spencer to the scene. After Roy Hartsfield went in to run for Cooper, who took third on Mathews' hit, Jack Cusick scored him with a fly to Don Mueller.

The Giants loaded the bases on their last chance, but Al Dark popped up for the final out.

Leo Chased

Lew Burdette, who replaced starter Warren Spahn in the seventh after the lefty went out for a pinch hitter, was the winner. Koslo was the loser in the three-hour-five-minute struggle.

Manager Leo Durocher was chased by plate umpire Art Gore for abusive language as he walked from the coaching lines to the dugout after the Giants' fifth. Gore chased Vern Bickford off the Boston bench in the third.

Bosox 'Walk' Into 3-2 Win

BOSTON (AP) — Relief pitcher Bob Kuzava forced in the winning run by walking Billy Goodman in the 11th inning Thursday to give the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

That pitching miscue came after catcher Sammy White, who had homered for the first Boston run in the fifth inning, beat out an infield roller, Dom DiMaggio singled and Jim Piersall walked to load the bases with one out.

Kuzava took over for starter Ed Lopat in the 10th. Two innings previously, the world champions' tricky southpaw had fallen into a 2-2 tie when Gene Stephens, running for Don Lenhardt, who had singled, reached third base on Johnny Mize's wild throw and scored on Clyde Vollmer's fly to left field.

The Yankees did all of their scoring against southpaw Maury McDermott during the first three innings. Singles by Phil Rizzuto, Gerry Coleman and Mize accounted for the Yanks first inning run. And Coleman and Gil McDougald bashed consecutive two-baggers for a third inning tally.

McDermott gave the Yanks 10 of their 12 hits before being replaced by righthanded rookie Ivan Delock in the 11th.

Darling to Oilers

BARTLESVILLE, OKLA. (AP) — The Phillips 66 basketball team next year will be bolstered by Chuck Darling, 6-foot 8-inch Iowa center of last season, Coach Cab Renick said Thursday.

Renick said Darling would join the Phillips Petroleum Co. June 6 after his graduation.

Loy Doty, former Wyoming ace who has played the last two campaigns with the club, has retired from competition, Renick said.

South Knocked Out Of North-South

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Frank Stranahan and Al Galletta, both of New York state; Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., and Harry Haverstick Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., Thursday knocked the south completely out of the North and South Amateur golf tournament.

Each eliminated a Dixie hopeful, to gain today's 36-hole semifinals which sends Stranahan against Haverstick and Stranahan against Galletta.

Haverstick furnished the major surprise, a 1 up victory over last year's runner-up, Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., in a well played match that saw the 33-year-old Haverstick shoot 1-under par golf.

Stranahan spotted defending champion Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., the first two holes and then pulled his game together, playing brilliantly at times for a 4 and 3 victory.

Big Ten Has Share Of Relays' Leaders

By LEE CANNING

DES MOINES — The annual Drake Relays, with an OK sign from the weatherman, will go into the first of a two-day run today, and the Big Ten has its share of contenders.

Rain and cool weather which had threatened to slow the field

Scott Hesselbine has given way to sunny skies, leaving the Drake track in good condition.

Topping the list of today's events is the University four-mile relay which might produce an American record. Both Kansas and Georgetown have entered teams that are capable of lowering the mark of 17:16.1 set by Indiana in 1937.

The schedule of events also lists

Dietz Golliday

Coleman Berschet

TED WHEELER, IOWA'S TOP miler, is shown practicing in the Iowa field house Wednesday for the Drake Relays, which start today. Wheeler will run the open mile and on three of Iowa's relay teams.

three other finals to be held today.

Iowa's Rich Ferguson and Herb Semper of Kansas rate as favorites in the two-mile run, another feature on today's schedule. Semper, NCAA cross country in 1951, won the Big Seven conference indoor championship with a 9:07 time.

Ferguson, runnerup for the Big Ten's indoor title, turned in a 9:09.9 performance at the Canadian Legion games in Montreal.

The University sprint medley final also will be run today. Iowa ranks among the favorites in this event. The Hawkeye team of Gary Scott, LeRoy Ebert, Ted Wheeler and DuWayne Dietz or Ed Moore might cover the distance in 1:25. This time should place Iowa among the leaders.

The team which saw the major part of the offensive action was made up of: ends Bill Fenton and Dan McBride, tackles Dick Frymire and Phil Cummins, guards Jerry Clark and Tom Ellis, center Bud Lawson, and backs Burt Britzmann, Clyde Kitchen, Eobby Stearnes, and Bernie Bennett. Kitchen, a promising sophomore from Oskaloosa, filled in at the left halfback position for Dusty Rice.

Stearnes turned in another sparkling running and passing exhibition. The freshman speedster from Gary, Ind., who earned a letter last fall as a halfback, has been one of the most consistent performers in the spring drills which began April 15 and will end about May 10.

The Britzmann to McBride passing combination also continued to click for consistent gains, and McBride broke loose twice on Evashevski's tricky end-around play.

Coleman Berschet

last year took the Penn Relays title. His best mark to date is 14 feet, 6 inches.

Finals in the discus also will be held today. Bill Forester of Southern Methodist, George Holm of Minnesota and Marvin Berschet of Illinois are rated as the best in this event. Berschet also is a probable point getter in the shot put.

Jim Golliday, Northwestern's sensational sprinter, will go after his first Drake Relays title this year. The Wildcat sophomore cleaned up in the conference indoor meet this season and will make his outdoor debut at Drake.

Iowa Tops Luther, 11-7

12-Hit Attack Rushes Hawks To 5th Win

(Special to the Daily Iowan)

DECORAH, IA. — The Iowa Hawkeyes warmed up for their Big Ten opener by stopping Luther, 11-7, with a 12-hit attack here Thursday.

Iowa opens its conference season today in Minneapolis with a single game against Minnesota's Golden Golghers. The three-game series will finish Saturday with a double header against Minnesota.

Coach Otto Vogel's Hawkeyes took a 2-0 lead over Luther in the second inning and boosted it by five markers in the third frame.

Iowa sent nine men to the plate in the big third. Doubles by Jack Lundquist, Bill Vana and Don Waldron were the main blows. Iowa also got two singles in the third.

The Hawkeyes scored another tally in the fifth and added three more runs in the eighth for the winning cushion.

The victory hoisted Iowa's season record to five victories and six losses.

Luther's big inning was No. 4, as it picked up five runs. The home team picked up one run as Jim Iding led off with a 450-foot homer. Don Bolter, Roland Gullickson and Danny Schweikert doubled for Luther in that inning as the Norsemen had nine batters.

Luther closed its scoring with singletons in the seventh and eighth.

Both teams had bad days in the field. Iowa was guilty of four errors and Luther was charged with five miscues.

Bob Getting started on the mound for Iowa but needed relief help from Don Westcott. Luther reached this combination for 11 hits.

LOUIS TO VENEZUELA

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis, former world heavyweight champion, will leave by plane tonight for Venezuela where he will referee two boxing bouts this weekend.

Bruce Higley follows in No. 3 and Kroth fills No. 4. Dave Van Ginkel will play as the Hawkeyes' No. 5 man.

The remaining singles spot will be filled by either Don Olmstead or Gordon Chapman. Olmstead played as the No. 6 man against Normal and won his match. Chapman is more noted as a doubles player but has been used in singles matches.

The doubles lineup may be changed for both the Wisconsin and Illinois meets. Chapman and Higley are set as Iowa's No. 1 team but the other two are still uncertain.

Stearnes, McBride Shine in Grid Drill

Coach Forest Evashevski and his staff sent Iowa's 75 football candidates through a brisk scrimmage in Thursday afternoon's session of spring football drills on the practice field.

Passing and running plays were given about equal attention in the workout.

The team which saw the major part of the offensive action was made up of: ends Bill Fenton and Dan McBride, tackles Dick Frymire and Phil Cummins, guards Jerry Clark and Tom Ellis, center Bud Lawson, and backs Burt Britzmann, Clyde Kitchen, Eobby Stearnes, and Bernie Bennett. Kitchen, a promising sophomore from Oskaloosa, filled in at the left halfback position for Dusty Rice.

Stearnes turned in another sparkling running and passing exhibition. The freshman speedster from Gary, Ind., who earned a letter last fall as a halfback, has been one of the most consistent performers in the spring drills which began April 15 and will end about May 10.

The Britzmann to McBride passing combination also continued to click for consistent gains, and McBride broke loose twice on Evashevski's tricky end-around play.

IT'S NO SECRET . . .

You Can Still Buy Something for 1946 Prices

THERE'S NO INFLATION AT THE LAUNDROMAT! While other prices have soared way up, a tub of laundry still costs just 35c.

When you use the LAUNDROMAT . . .

YOU ECONOMIZE ON TIME:

No more packing a laundry case, addressing it, lugging it to the post office and waiting days for its return. It's just as EASY to drop it off at the LAUNDROMAT—and much EASIER. In 1 1/2 hr. your laundry is washed; in 1 1/2 hrs. it is washed and dried.

YOU ECONOMIZE ON MONEY:

Compare our prices with the $3.00 or $1.00 it costs to mail laundry home and back.

LOUIS TO VENEZUELA

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis, former world heavyweight champion, will leave by plane tonight for Venezuela where he will referee two boxing bouts this weekend.

Bruce Higley follows in No. 3 and Kroth fills No. 4. Dave Van Ginkel will play as the Hawkeyes' No. 5 man.

The remaining singles spot will be filled by either Don Olmstead or Gordon Chapman. Olmstead played as the No. 6 man against Normal and won his match. Chapman is more noted as a doubles player but has been used in singles matches.

The doubles lineup may be changed for both the Wisconsin and Illinois meets. Chapman and Higley are set as Iowa's No. 1 team but the other two are still uncertain.

Garner Tells Rotarians Education Is Growing

Education in this country is stronger today than ever before. It is here to stay. Everything points to its becoming bigger and better.

That was the keynote of an address by Buford W. Garner, newly-appointed superintendent of public schools here, before a meeting of the Rotary club Thursday at the Jefferson hotel.

Garner emphasized that education is among the youngest of the professions; it dates back a mere 170 years to the time when nationhood was first achieved.

There has not been enough time for the ideas of educationists to coagulate into a uniform body of opinion, "but though we may be running from one idea to another we are moving," he said.

Garner laid down three assumptions on which our system should be built: we must assume that the child is the most precious possession we have, that education must be brought within the reach of all, and that our system is as good as we make it.

Laymen must learn more about their schools and what goes on in them, Garner said, adding they must recognize that, next to God, education is the most important business, and must see that their communities have first rate schools.

Tribute to Opstad

Paying a tribute to Iver A. Opstad, his predecessor in office, Garner mentioned that Iowa City could be justly proud of the school system Opstad had developed. It is, to his mind, one of the best in the state, he said.

Garner indicated briefly that he will carry through the long-range plans laid by Opstad, and will strive to maintain the high standard reached by the system.

The group will march in the parade and serve as an honor guard for the relays queen. A drill exhibition will be presented in the afternoon with units from Drake and Iowa State college.

WSUI to Broadcast Methodist Reports

A series of 15-minute news reports on the General Conference of the Methodist church, opening April 23 in San Francisco, will be broadcast by WSUI April 25, May 2, and May 9 at 11:15 a.m.

Bishop Charles W. Brashers, resident in charge of the Des Moines episcopal area, will speak on each program, and Walter Van Kirk, religious news analyst, will give a 10-minute summary of conference action.

The conference meets every four years as the church's supreme law and policy-making body. Attending will be 746 elected lay and clerical delegates from the U. S. and 23 foreign countries, and hundreds of Methodist officials and visitors.

Produced by the Methodist Radio and Film commission, the transcribed news reports will be sent by air express to 400 radio stations.

Campaign Pays Off For Jim Frudenfeld In Ugly Man Contest

Jim Frudenfeld, A2, Inglewood, Calif., garnered 5,881 votes of the 13,768 total, to become SUI's "Ugliest Man" of 1952 in the contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

Frudenfeld, who represented Phi Kappa Sigma, was presented a trophy at the all-campus carnival Saturday night. He used 3 burros in his campaign program.

Second in the contest was Alan Stern, C3, Des Moines, Phi Epsilon Pi, with 3,585; third, Dick Surface, A1, Cedar Rapids, Delta Tau Delta, with 1,985, and fourth, John Chateaufort, A1, West Des Moines, Sigma Nu, with 1,074.

A total of 1,543 votes were distributed among the remaining four candidates. They were Norman Bernstein, A2, Sioux City, Alpha Epsilon Pi; Robert Blosser, C3, Des Moines, Chi Omega; Hank Weinberg, A2, New York, Quadrangle, and Mary Luehrs, C4, Sheboygan, Wis., Theta Xi.

This year's vote exceeded last year's by about 5,000 — many of them being cast at the carnival in the final minutes of the contest. Votes cost one cent and there was no limit on the number of times a person could vote.

Alpha Phi Omega will use the money earned in the contest in its service work which includes operation of the SUI lost and found department, hospital visitation, boy scout work, and campus projects.

Riverside Eats Horsemeat

400 Attend Dinner to Boost Weekly Paper As Trio Plays "The Old Gray Mare"

By STAFF WRITER

RIVERSIDE — Even in the days before the tractor, the horse was never as popular in this small community 15 miles south of Iowa City as it was Thursday.

Some 400 judges of horse flesh flocked into town but it wasn't to attend a sale. Instead they came to eat horsemeat and there wasn't any scandal involved either.

Everyone of the 400 who ate the meat knew what it was and paid $1.50 for the opportunity.

The Lions club here hit upon the idea of serving horsemeat to help finance the weekly newspaper which is trying to reestablish itself. Apparently the horsemeat controversies raging in neighboring states didn't frighten the people from Riverside and surrounding territory.

They came to taste horsemeat and few were disappointed. The meat was more tender than beef and tasted much like it. Quite a few of the patrons weren't so sure they hadn't eaten it before, only under another name.

About 700 pounds of the meat was available to the diners. All of 200 pounds were donated by a packing company in Nebraska and the remainder was bought from various packers in Iowa.

A large dining hall was set up in the community building here and the serving continued from 4:30 in the afternoon through the evening.

While the people ate, a local trio played music, one of the favorite selections being "The Old Gray Mare."

Mrs. Mearl Crippen, proprietor of a cafe here, was in charge of the cooking. F. E. Schnoebelen, president of the Lions, headed all arrangements.

California Minister To Speak Here on Jews, Palestine

Dr. A. U. Michaelson, founder and minister of the First Hebrew church of Los Angeles, and known for his nationwide broadcasts of the Hebrew Christian hour, will speak in Macbride auditorium Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Michaelson, who has recently returned from a tour of Europe and Palestine, will tell of the development of Palestine and the position of the Jews in the present world crisis.

Formerly a judge and attorney in Germany, Michaelson was reared in orthodox Jewry but later embraced Christianity. He is a director of a world-wide missionary enterprise with representatives in Europe, Australia and Palestine.

$50,000 Suit Initiated Against Burlington Man

Glenn C. Sandell, Burlington, was named defendant in a $50,000 auto accident damage suit filed Thursday in Johnson county district court.

The plaintiff, Ira Sidney Baldwin, charges in his petition that Sandell was at fault in a collision June 1, 1951.

Sandell, driving a panel truck, allegedly failed to dim his lights when approaching the Baldwin automobile. The defendant is also accused of driving on the left side of the road at the time of the accident on highway 218, three miles south of Iowa City.

Baldwin says that he received a compound fracture and a nerve injury to his left arm resulting in permanent 75 per cent disability.

The plaintiff seeks the judgment for hospital and medical expenses in Iowa City and St. Paul, Minn., for diminished earning capacity, for permanent injury and for damages to his auto.

Johnson County To Call 5 Men

Johnson county's May draft call as announced by local officials Thursday is one of the smallest since the beginning of the Korean war.

Only five men will be inducted May 13 from the Iowa City area.

A bulletin from federal headquarters reminds all 17-year-olds that they are required to register within five days after their 18th birthday.

Recreation Workshop Begins Here Today

The 13th Iowa Recreation Leaders workshop will be held here today with 250 Iowa recreation leaders attending.

Meetings will be in the community building from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. and are open to dues paying members of the association. Dues are $1 annually.

The workshop, sponsored by the Iowa Recreation Workshop association, Des Moines, will include training in all recreation activities to volunteers and professionals. Cooperating in the program are SUI and the state playground and recreation commission.

Sessions will be conducted by 40 recreation leaders. The program will stress playground activities, teen-age centers, Golden Age clubs, arts and crafts, square dancing, day camps, church programs, hospital recreation, picnics and Iowa's park facilities.

Roan to Speak at Luncheon

Special features of the day-long conference are: a luncheon program from noon to 1:45 p.m. with welcome speeches by Mayor William Holland, Peter F. Roan, city manager, and Forrest W. Wakefield, Council Bluffs, president of the association; a square dance promenade from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the ballroom with guest callers and dancers from northeast Iowa.

Exhibits and visits to the SUI women's physical education department, an adult craft class, and the "Paper Doll" teen-age center are planned.

Conference registration will be from 9 to 9:30 a.m. in the ballroom with a general session from 9:30 to 10:15 a.m. Workshop session will be held from 10:15 to 11:45 a.m.

Recreation to Be Discussed
The following topics will be discussed during the sessions: social recreation, crafts, church recreation, hospital recreation and community recreation.

Topics included in the afternoon workshop sessions, from 2 to 3:15 p.m., are: social recreation, crafts, "Let's Talk" about recreation, and family outdoors recreation.

A general session from 3:15 to 4 p.m. in the ballroom will feature a report of summarizers.

The afternoon program will conclude with a coffee hour in the SUI Women's gymnasium from 4 to 7:30 p.m.

Dentists to Hear Prof. Moeller

Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism, will be the speaker at the annual Senior day exercises of the college of dentistry May 2.

ROTC Mock Trial Teaches Procedures To Future Officers

Pvt. George I. Pilot, U. S. air force, was convicted by a mock general courts-martial of larceny and AWOL Thursday after a two-day trial.

Pilot was found guilty on the lesser charge after first being accused of deserting and larceny.

The decision was made by 10-man board, consisting of senior students in the air force ROTC program at SUI.

The mock trial was developed as a guide to aid the senior ROTC students in understanding the general procedure and the methods which are used in actual military courts, Maj. Charles A. Birk, course instructor, said.

Members of the courts-martial board included William D. Wallace, C4, Manchester; Charles A. York, C4, Sioux City; John W. Mortensen, C4, Royal; Bill Reichardt, A4, Iowa City; Richard S. Scott, C4, Albia; Jack Jordan, A4, Des Moines; David Story, C4, Cedar Rapids; Raymond C. Scott, C4, Albia; and John R. Scroggs, C4, Des Moines.

City Employee Files $25,000 Injury Suit

An employee of the City of Iowa City, Joseph Malone, filed a $25,000 damage suit Wednesday for injuries received while spreading sand on icy Burlington st. Feb. 15.

Malone's petition claims he was adjusting the mechanical sand-spreading device on the back end of a city truck when an automobile driven by the defendant, Verion Snyder, was unable to stop on the ice and collided with the truck.

The plaintiff allegedly suffered two fractures and chipped a bone in his knee in his left leg in the resulting accident.

Malone has been unable to work since the accident and he seeks $60 a week for the unemployed period. The $25,000 is being sought to cover pain, suffering, disability and hospitalization.

Rites for Roy Edwards Will Be Held Today

Funeral services for Roy Edwards, 76, 421 S. Dubuque st., will be held at 1:30 p.m. today at the Oathout Funeral chapel followed by graveside services at 3:15 in the Hillcrest cemetery at Brighton. Mr. Edwards died at his home Wednesday.

TO ATTEND PRESS MEETING

The Iowa Press Telegraph Editors meeting in Des Moines Saturday and Sunday will be attended by three faculty members from the SUI school of journalism. They are: Prof. Walter Steigleman, head of the editorial sequence; Charles Barnum, instructor and assistant publisher of The Daily Iowan, and Robert Cranford, instructor.

UMOC Helps Fraternity

Hideous Male Students Receive $137.68 To Finance Alpha Phi Omega

There is nothing ugly about the SUI ugliest men contest to its sponsor, Alpha Phi Omega, campus service fraternity. For the contest this year netted the fraternity $137.68—a penny for each of the 13,768 votes cast — which represents the group's only source of income to carry on its services.

The contest, which Alpha Phi Omega hopes to make an annual affair, was begun last year in conjunction with the SUI all-campus carnival. Winner of the first contest was Dick Turchen, A4, Sioux City, who garnered approximately 3,000 of the 8,949 votes cast.

Jim Frudenberg, A2, Inglewood, Calif., became the ugliest man of 1952, and was awarded the winner's trophy last Saturday night at the all-campus carnival. He represented the Phi Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

The 7 Who Lost
Others in this year's contest and their sponsors were: Alan Stern, C3, Des Moines, Phi Epsilon; Dick Surface, A1, Cedar Rapids, Delta Tau Delta; John Chateauvert, A1, West Des Moines, Sigma Nu; Norman Berstein, A2, Sioux City; Alpha Epsilon Phi; Robert Blosser, C3, Des Moines, Chi Omega; Hank Weinberg, A2, New York, Quadrangle; and Marv Luehrs, C4, Sheboygan, Wis., Theta Xi.

The money obtained from the contest is used to help perform several student services, such as running the lost and found department located in the Old Dental building, and sending out letters to prospective SUI students.

None of the money however, is used as payment to members of the group, since all of their services are donated. Bob Soll, A3, Adel, co-chairman of the contest, emphasized. Soll was assisted in the contest supervision by Hoyt Hart, A1, Ft. Dodge.

Group Conducts Tour
Besides lost and found department duties, members of the group conduct tours around the campus for visitors and new students, and also makes daily visits to University hospital patients, bringing them reading materials and performing errands for them.

Alpha Phi Omega also has a hand in putting up Iowa City's Christmas decorations each year. They help, too, in policing and arranging the order of the floats in the Homecoming parade.

On the social side of the fraternity, its activities are usually limited to one function each year. This is a banquet held annually, this year on May 4, in which Iowa City's "Best Citizen of the Year" is named. A plaque is then awarded to the winner.

Kelly to Be Honored

This year a distinguished service key is to be awarded at the banquet to Tom Kelly, M1, Charles City, for the service he rendered to the fraternity when he was president of the group last year.

Requirements for the joining of the group include former membership in Boy Scouts, and having a desire to help others.

3 Music Recitals To Be Performed This Weekend

The first of three weekend recitals will be given in North Music hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

Soprano Sharla Kvidera, A3, Toledo, and tenor Ronald Rogers, A3, Ainsworth, will sing a variety of selections. Accompanists will be James Taggart, A2, Des Moines, and Pat Oberlander, G, Galesburg, Ill.

Baritone Wayne Jipson and soprano Patricia Jipson, both of Iowa City, will present selections by Schubert, Hagerman, Mozart and others at 4 p.m. Sunday. Malcolm Westly, A4, Manly, will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Jipson.

Lillian Bittner, A1, Omaha, Neb., will play works by Bach, Brahms, Beethoven and Debussy in a piano recital at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

SUI Attains 87 Per Cent of Red Cross Goal

SUI is within $562 of making its total Red Cross fund drive goal of $4,290.

No time limit has been set on the drive because of recent tornado and flood damages throughout the country, but $3,728, or 87 per cent, has been collected since the start of the drive last month.

The faculty and staff group leads other SUI departments in the money race with a total of $2,317 collected to date. This is 96 per cent of the group's goal of $2,400.

The faculty and staff doesn't include the hospital, however, and this group is second highest with $743 donated toward its $1,000 goal.

The men's housing group now has completed 72 per cent of its drive quota, by donating $145 toward its goal of $200.

The total received so far from all Johnson county donors is $17,757. The goal with the additional tornado relief quota is $21,059.
