Oil Talks Near Deadlock As Plant Shutdowns Spread

DENVER (AP) — Effects of a nation-wide oil strike began mushrooming Friday as more key negotiations bogged down and plant shutdowns spread.

Deputy Administrator Bruce K. Brown of the petroleum administration for defense (PAD) said an order will be issued next week to limit flying in general. He said the strike has put the already tight supply of aviation gasoline "in a precarious position." Bruce estimated walkouts have cut that type of production by 35 per cent.

While little more than a third of the nation's refineries are affected, they include the big catalytic units, that make aviation gasoline. Among these are the world's largest at Port Arthur, Tex., operated by Gulf Oil, the Texas Co., at Port Arthur, Magnolia's refinery at Beaumont, Shell and Sinclair at Houston and the major ones in the Midwest.

More Picket Lines
Additional picket lines went up as members of 22 AFL, independent and CIO oil workers' unions began tightening their grip on the industry in support of demands for wage increases.

O. A. Knight, president of the powerful Oil Workers International union (CIO), promised cooperation "in every way possible" to see that public and emergency needs are met during the strike. The union chief said that when responsible officers of the armed services make certified requests for movement of oil products from strike-bound plants, the union will permit passage of picket lines. He asked that the products be moved by union men.

Gas for Public Institutions
Knight, in a statement, said all union locals were asked to permit gasoline for hospital, police and fire department, school and other public institution vehicles, to be moved through picket lines.

Air Force Orders Flying Activity Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The air force said Friday it has issued orders cutting down on flying activity outside the Korean theater because of the oil industry strike. In a two-sentenced prepared statement, the air force said: "Because of the strike in the petroleum industry, the U. S. air force has issued orders curtailing flying activity."

"Due to air force stock levels, all flying outside the Korean theater is restricted to the minimum required to continue training, perform essential command missions and perform absolutely essential administrative flights." Heretofore the air force has declined to discuss the fuel situation on the grounds of security.

You're Welcome, I'm Sure!

DAVENPORT, IA. (AP) — Marion Cooke of Davenport reported to police Wednesday that the hub cap of his 1951 automobile was missing.

Thursday it was returned to his back porch with the accompanying note: "I'm sorry, it won't fit. Thank you."

Taft Has Lead Over Ike in Popular Votes

By The Associated Press

Sen. Robert A. Taft took the lead over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Friday in popular votes tallied so far in eight state primaries, while Eisenhower had an edge in the race for delegates to the Republican national convention.

The new developments marked a complete switch for the two front-running candidates for the GOP presidential nomination. Previously, Taft had led in delegates, Eisenhower in popular votes.

Belated final returns from the April 8 Illinois primary put Taft out in front in the so-called state "popularity" contests, 1,897,044 to 1,850,718—a margin of 46,326. The figures are based on an Associated Press tabulation of delegates pledged, instructed, favorable or willing to state a first ballot choice, and on candidate concessions.

Meanwhile, the political spotlight swung to three more state primaries next week — starting Monday with a "popularity" test in Maryland and followed 24 hours later by elections in Ohio and Florida.

Encouraging Signs, But Stalemate Still Bogs Truce Talks

MUNSAN, Korea (SATURDAY) (AP) — Signs appeared today that the Communists had come up with some kind of armistice offer, but the old familiar air of stalemate still hung over the Korean truce talks.

The full delegation met for only 24 minutes Saturday and agreed to convene again tomorrow. The Communists at Friday's secret full-dress meeting apparently refused to agree to a United Nations command proposal designed as an overall solution for the three major issues barring a Korean armistice.

There was no way to confirm what went on Friday in the weathered tent at Panmunjom.

Truman Slaps At Tactics of Political Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman declared Friday that "political gangsters" are trying to pervert the government's loyalty program into "an instrument of intimidation and blackmail" as part of an unscrupulous campaign to sneak themselves into power "by the back door."

Truman said also that his political opposition — "growing frantic," he said, as election day approaches—is filling the air with "downright lies" about corruption in his administration.

"These tactics contain the seeds of tyranny," the President said in a fiery speech prepared for the National Civil Service league and the society for personnel administration.

"Can we be sure that people who employ such tactics are really loyal to our form of government, with its bill of rights and its tradition of individual liberty?"

"I believe such men betray our country and all it stands for," the President went on. "I believe they are as grave a menace as the Communists."

Truman named no names, but similar remarks of his in the past have been aimed directly at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and others in congress who have charged the Truman and Roosevelt administrations with harboring Communists.

The President also let fly at the many Republicans who have charged there is widespread corruption among government officials.

Truman declared the ethical standards in his administration "are higher than those prevailing in the American business community," and he added:

"It is a curious fact that those in the business world who shout the loudest about corruption are those who most often approach the government with their hands out."

Congressman Denies 'Drunkard' Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — A water-drinking congressman from New York state denied Friday that he had ever said fellow members of the house "were drunkards."

Rep. Edwin A. Hall, a Republican, accused some of his colleagues of having ganged up on him yesterday in "one of the most cowardly attacks on the house floor in history."

Hall, who neither drinks intoxicants nor smokes, was taken to task severely in the house because of published reports that he told his constituents he resents congressmen "who get genuinely plastered" at Washington cocktail parties.

These and other remarks about tipping legislators led to talk of a resolution of censure against Hall for having reflected on the reputation of the house.

State Turns Down Widening Project

A proposal to widen North Riverside drive in Iowa City was rejected Friday by the state executive council in Des Moines. The Iowa board of education had previously protested the move.

The city council proposed widening Riverside st. from River st. north to a point 80 feet south of Grove st. It wanted to widen the street from 20 to 30 feet.

The executive council suggested that curbs and gutters be installed on the street. Several fraternity houses located on Riverside drive have objected to the widening project.

U.S.S. ANTIETAM RETURNS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The U.S.S. Antietam, Essex-class airplane carrier, arrived Friday from Korea, to be placed in the Pacific reserve fleet. The Antietam, with a complement of 2,750 officers and men, will be deactivated after repairs and overhauls.

Steel Furnace Resumes Operation

FLAMES WHIP from the top of a 70-ton electrical furnace as production of steel was resumed Friday at the Allegheny Ludlum steel company plant in Brackenridge, Pa. Feeding the furnace at lower left is steel worker Floyd Fleming. The mill was the first in the Pittsburgh area to resume operations after the steel strike was called off.

Iowa City Included in State Water Fluoridation Program

Iowa City has been selected as one of 12 cities in Iowa in which a long range water fluoridation program will be conducted, the state fluoridation committee announced Friday.

The program, which will be conducted by the Iowa state department of health, will call for the adding of sodium fluoride or fluoride-rich chemicals to the public water supply as a means of combatting tooth decay.

The city council here recently voted to add fluorides to the water and made application to the state health department to be one of the test cities in the program.

Council Acted March 3
The city council's action was taken March 3 after a public hearing on the question. It was the end result of work by the Johnson County Dental society.

Approximately a dozen Iowa City organizations endorsed the public health measure.

In those cities chosen for the department's studies, the initial costs of purchasing and installing the equipment necessary to add the proper amounts of fluoride will be paid by the state health department from funds supplied by the children's bureau of the federal government.

Cities To Pay Costs
Each city will be required to pay the maintenance costs. Costs of the projects in the 12 cities will range from $800 to $5,000 each, Dr. Charles Henshaw, director of the dental hygiene department of the state department of health, said. The total budget for the state project is $36,450.

The test demonstrations in the cities will vary from 10 to 12 years. The programs will be under the constant supervision of the department of health, Henshaw said.

British Jet Airliner Begins First Flight

ROME (AP) — Britain's new jet airliner, the Comet, whizzed from London to Rome Friday in two hours, 34 minutes on its inaugural commercial hop. Then it pushed on toward South Africa.

On the next leg of the flight, the Comet picked up time it had lost to headwinds between London and Rome.

The Comet — opening the jet age of commercial air travel — left London with a full load of 36 paying passengers, a crew of six and 30 bags of mail at 2:14 p.m. Friday.

Industry Wants Assurances Of No Further Shutdowns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tens of thousands of steel workers found they had no immediate jobs to go back to Friday night after CIO President Philip Murray called off President Truman's request.

Appeals Court Queries Pines' Ruling on Steel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. court of appeals said Friday "there is at least a serious question as to the correctness" of a district judge's ruling that President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was illegal.

The five-man majority of the court made that statement shortly after the steel firms and the government, at odds on just about everything else, joined in urging speedy review by the supreme court of the seizure decision by Judge David A. Pine.

While agreeing the vital nature of the case calls for early action by the highest court, they disagreed diametrically on the correctness of Judge Pine's decision. The judge ordered the steel mills returned to their private owners, but the effect of his order was stayed by the appeals court, 5 to 4.

Besides asking the supreme court to overturn Judge Pine's decision, the government in another brief told the court that if it bars the government from giving steel workers a wage raise, there is danger of a new strike.

The companies had asked the court to freeze the wages while it considers the case, but the government said in reply that any change in the present status — which leaves the government free to hike wages — "would probably result in a new crisis, with danger of still another (work) interruption."

Other Communities Chosen
Other communities besides Iowa City chosen for the department tests are: Hartley, Harlan, Audubon, Creston, Perry, Indianola, Knoxville, Eagle Grove, Manchester, Ft. Madison and Fairfield.

Body in Peat Bog Dead 2,000 Years

COPENHAGEN (AP) — People from all over Denmark will flock into Aarhus, Jutland, this weekend to have a look at the body of a red-haired man sacrificed to a heathen goddess 2,000 years ago.

The body was found last week in a swamp near the small town of Solkeborg and taken to the prehistorical museum at Aarhus for examination by archeologists.

It is remarkably well preserved. The body was not embalmed. Its high state of preservation was due entirely to the tannic qualities of the peat surrounding it, a professor said.

Spring Revelers Paint Coed

A SMILING COED GOT A PAINT BRUSH applied to the seat of her blue jeans during the second night of spring reveling at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb. Thursday. The outbursts were marked by raids on sorority houses during which lingerie was taken and girl students were doused with water and subjected to other indignities. Dean of Student Affairs T. J. Thompson, who himself got the water treatment, announced the riots "will have to stop."

A spokesman for U.S. Steel, the giant of the industry, said the company's mills are resuming operations as soon as possible, but open hearth and blast furnaces, coke ovens and electric furnaces—all facilities where temperature is involved—will not re-open until "some reasonable assurance of continuing service"—is received.

It was expected that this question of "reasonable assurance" against another costly shutdown of the mills will figure largely in today's renewal of union-management talks at the White House.

Battle Rages in Court
Meantime, the great battle over the Truman administration's action of April 8 in seizing the steel industry to avert a strike raged on in the United States supreme court.

The industry sought to persuade the court to ban any government-ordered pay raise while the industry is in government control.

The administration opposed the move, seeking to keep its hands free to grant a wage increase.

There were reports the administration, unless stopped by the courts, would raise wages of the steelworkers if a union-industry agreement is not reached in the peace sessions opening today.

As the leader of the industry, U.S. Steel's position about resuming operations assumed top significance in the administration's struggle to get the steel plants back into full-scale operation.

Industry Excludes Some Facilities
A "big steel" spokesman told a reporter that U.S. Steel will open up everything except those basic facilities in which high temperature operations require long periods of time to shut down to prevent damage to equipment.

The spokesman said it had been "nip and tuck" whether the company would get its furnaces tapped and properly cooled down without damage in last Tuesday's wildfire strike by 650,000 CIO steelworkers.

He emphasized, however, that there is no defiance or lockout involved, but only a move to protect the company's property.

Union officials earlier had charged that some steel companies were balking at re-opening their government-seized plants after the union called off the strike this forenoon.

In the Washington legal struggle, the government told the supreme court there is "danger" of a steel strike if the tribunal should bar the government from granting a pay boost.

CIO Lawyers Enter Fight
"At the same time, lawyers for the CIO United Steelworkers union jumped into the court battle with a brief opposing any ban on a government-granted wage increase, as sought by the steel companies.

The CIO argued that if the government continues to control the mills but can't raise wages, the union would have "no employer with which it can bargain."

"It (the union) would be left, in short, in the middle and holding the bag," the CIO told the high tribunal.

Meanwhile, a report circulated that government officials had assured CIO President Philip Murray—before he agreed to call off the steel strike—that his men would get a pay boost.

Truman Calls Meeting
President Truman has called Murray and the presidents of six big steel companies to meet at the White House this morning. All have agreed to be there. There was talk that if no agreement was reached the government was ready to give the union a 12½-cent pay increase right away, with 5 cents in additional benefits such as improved holiday, vacation and shift allowances.

$200,000 Fire Sweeps Cedar Rapids Stores

INVESTIGATORS PROBED Friday into the cause of the fire that destroyed 15 business establishments in Cedar Rapids Thursday night. Water in the basements of stores was 6 to 8 feet deep. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

No, Kids Are Not Expendable

Kids aren't expendable. Ask any parent and he'll tell you it takes nine months to fill an order for one. After that comes an investment of devotion, patience, sacrifice and hard cash.

By the time the child is three or four years old he or she has become a golden storage bin of parental hopes, dreams and happiness.

In the light of those rather emotional observations it seems strange that children in the married student housing areas should be forced to play tag every day with death or mutilation.

The heavy right foot and preoccupied mind of car drivers in Finkbine or Riverside park combine to make a deadly aggressor. And the sorry fact is that the foot and mind usually belong to a resident of the housing area. He has kids of his own.

The speed limit in the housing areas is FIVE miles per hour. Notify Clarence Heavyfoot that you think he is driving too fast for safety and chances are he'll get indignant and inform you that he is the father of two boys himself — "Mind your own business, Buster. I'm a careful driver!"

It is impossible to police the housing areas with traffic officers. Each resident must be his own and his neighbor's restrainer. When that system breaks down or is refused, a kid's life is in danger.

If you drive in the housing areas, observe the speed limit — FIVE. If someone yells "FIVE" from the edge of the road, SLOW DOWN. That's how the system works.

Don't fight it with a prideful jutting lip. And suppose you aren't exceeding the limit? Slow down anyway. You may be doing the yelling tomorrow because your kid's life isn't expendable either.

SUI Engineers —

Slow Ball Is No Illusion

— Explain Why

There's news about the grand old national pastime of baseball this week to warm the heart of sandloters and major leaguers alike all over the country.

A scientific study under way at SUI has proved that the slow ball, or change-up as it is sometimes called—that tantalizingly deceptive offering of many a smart pitcher, that elusive target of the power hitter—really does slow down suddenly and drop as it approaches the plate.

This assertion is made in the April issue of Transit, student engineers' publication at the university, where the methods used in the study and some preliminary results are reported by Albert Sill Jr., E4, Manchester.

Pitcher Can Control It

Prof. Elmer Lundquist, acting head of mechanical engineering, cautions that the study will not be complete until this summer. Early results, however, indicate not only that a slow ball does slow down and drop, but that a pitcher with a real knack for throwing the ball can partially control this action.

Many a diamond veteran has snorted contemptuously at the frequently-heard suggestion that a slow ball doesn't really slow down and drop, but that this "action" is only an optical illusion. The argument is reminiscent of the controversy a few years ago between photographers and pitchers as to whether or not a curve ball really curves.

When Prof. C. H. McCloy of the Iowa physical education department, himself a former baseball pitcher, first attacked the problem of the slow ball, he used motion picture cameras and stop watches to try to resolve the long-standing argument. They were not enough, however.

He then put the problem to Lundquist, with the aid of Paul Schneider, G, Minneapolis.

set to work with more complex equipment.

Used Wooden Ball

Together the two men designed a wooden test ball to be used in the university's wind tunnel, and sent the five-inch sphere to a major sporting equipment company to be covered exactly like a regulation baseball. A set of pressure gauges were then fastened at several points on the surface of the ball to measure the effect of air at different speeds.

Although detailed accounts of what happens to the ball at each speed, and diagrams showing the exact path of the ball from the pitcher's hand to the catcher's mitt await completion of the study, a great deal has already been learned.

Roughly this is what happens:

When the ball leaves the pitcher's hand it runs head on into a "wall" of air. This air pushes at the front of the ball and pulls at the back. The air also tends to "pile up" on the seams and rough surfaces, a particularly important factor in reducing speed since the slow ball is thrown without any spin.

Strange Things Happen

At this point, the action is much the same as for any pitched ball. However, if the pitcher has thrown the ball slow enough the ball slows down to a point where strange things happen. The forces holding the ball back build up so fast that the ball slows down more suddenly than under normal conditions and also drops unusually fast.

This usually happens just a short distance in front of the plate and causes the batter to swing "where it was, not where it is."

No one has suggested that the batter of tomorrow will be wearing a slide rule on his belt, but the fact remains that baseball is becoming more and more a science.

Such Monkey Business

RALPH HELFER (left) and Irvin Freeman found chaos compounded when they opened their Los Angeles pet shop one morning this week. They discovered that George, a monkey, had unlatched his cage during the night, freed another monkey, a great horned owl and five guinea pigs; overturned five cages of canaries and two of parrots; flower racks and pet supplies; and eaten a $25 breakfast of rare tropical fish. Helfer holds George while Freeman retrieves a guinea pig.

MICHIGAN STATE

A check at Michigan State college showed about 45 to 50 per cent of all MSC students show their faces to the student loan director during their stay at college. About 10 or 15 per cent use the college loan fund as a "right elbow," according to the director, because they "always lean on it."

The director said that there are as many different types of persons applying for the loans as there are reasons for wanting them. Many a fellow who moans of destitution is later seen touring the area in a convertible. In the course of lending the $35,000 in the fund, the director has found that students who really need financial help rarely pay up on time. But students who borrow "weekend money" to tide them over a short period usually always return it on time.

Every term, many students who forget to bring money for tuition and housing fees apply for loans. To ease the traffic burden on his office, the man in charge has decreed that students who live within a 125-mile radius of the college must go back home, get their money, and register later. But, the one fact that keeps the director in peace with humanity is that only about one per cent of the student borrowers renege on their loans.

CALIFORNIA

At the University of California, two students just couldn't resist sudden impulses after being involved in an automobile accident. After the bumpers of the cars were untangled, the male driver of one car attempted to get the name of the girl driving the other car.

She said she would give him her name when she found out his, then proceeded to climb in the male's car in search of a registration card.

The man asked her to get out of his car, whereupon she slapped him. He then slapped her and allegedly tossed her from the car. No charges have been pressed in either case as yet.

UCLA

The professor of criminalistics at UCLA has spent five years perfecting his "density gradient" in the university of criminology. The simple, inexpensive device measures and compares the density of solid materials in order to show whether samples of the material come from the same source.

The use of the device will be mainly concerned with burglary analyzing. It is able to compare segments of tools left after burglary attempts with others found in other crimes, and has already been used in convicting one man of committing two crimes.

OHIO STATE

Two Ohio State university students are year-around residents of the university's stadium press-box. They are apparently well satisfied with their new home but living in the glass structure creates some problems also.

For instance in order to reach their home, 125 feet above the ground, they must climb 112 steps. One of the men, a member of the Ohio State track squad, said, "I don't mind, it helps me keep in condition." The water situation is also a problem. The water is shut off during the winter months to prevent frozen pipes.

Despite the problems, both men agree that the advantages of their living quarters far outweigh the disadvantages. During the football season they have a seat on the 50-yard line and have a chance to meet outstanding sports writers.

They can also eat in the press box cafeteria, which is open during every home game. Both men agree that their quarters is a fine place for studying, because of the lack of distracting noises.

MICHIGAN

The go-ahead signal was given for preparations of final plans for a $1,000,000 women's swimming pool at the University of Michigan. The structure will have a seating capacity of 794. Construction will begin late this summer.

'Streets' to Include Fire Scene

By JIM GOLTZ

CAPSULE REVIEW: George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra," a made-in-England reissue film showing in Iowa City, stars Vivien Leigh and Claude Rains in a version faithful enough to please even Shaw.

Also showing is "On the Loose," which stars brilliant, young actress Joan Evans on the loose.

A record crowd attendance at the student art guild's showing of "Day of Wrath" offers proof that SUI movie-goers are ready and willing to accept adult film-fare.

"STREETS OF NEW YORK," the dramatic art department's next and final production, will be the most stage-shaking, knock-down, drag-out production of this season.

Slated for a May 9 opening, the 1890's melodrama will contain a blizzard scene, the death of an aged sea captain (played by Larry Sine) of apoplexy, the attempted suicides of two Chicago belles (played by Marilyn Hart and Sue Marrs), and a fire scene which will, complete with smoke and flames, demolish several buildings, only needing the addition of Mrs. O'Leary's cow to make it the biggest fire in stage history.

Various effects will be used to retain an 1890's air of authenticity to the play, which was actually written during the 19th century, such as giant-size, ornately-decorated programs, and "entire acts" between the acts such as a chorus line of can-can girls and a line-up of Keystone Cops.

More than 50 actors are being used, along with director Lewin Goff's four children and two dogs. Seventy-five costumes will be worn, all designed by Frances Umland, G, Hampton, under the supervision of costume mistress Margaret Hall. Don Powell, G, Memphis, Mo., will do all of the scenery, which includes several dozen scene changes.

Also tentatively scheduled by the D. A. department is the making of a film on the SUI engineering department for television consumption. Photo directors Elizabeth Engrav and Dale Gould are planning the project.

Emphasis, in the SUI drama department, is placed on the practical application of TV rather than TV acting, students being concerned with script-writing and camera focus rather than on-stage emoting. Several highly-successful programs produced by students have been telecast from Davenport's WOC-TV, with the documentary on SUI's training of engineers as a possibility for the future.

Soon available to SUI students will be a collection of Interlandi cartoons in book form. Issued by a Cedar Rapids publishing house, the book will contain a thousand and one belly-laughs for the price of one dollar.

IN THE PUBLISHING are "Paradise Island," a novel by probate-court judge Charles G. Ciska concerning romance and adventure on a Pacific island. "Man, Money, and Goods," a lively treatise on economics which spoofs the deadly subject while explaining some of its knotty problems. An examination of the growth of public relations by Edward L. Bernays. A Fireside theater combination volume of Shakespeare's "Anthony and Cleopatra" and Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra."

Dr. McClintock Enjoys Many Handwork Hobbies

DR. JOHN T. MCCLINTOCK, EMERITUS PROFESSOR of physiology in the SUI college of medicine, began hobbies as a means to occupy time and now finds them fascinating.

By MARY JO GARVEY

Knitting and needlepoint are often considered to be part of the woman's domain, but Dr. John T. McClintock, emeritus professor of physiology in the SUI college of medicine, has found them to be most rewarding hobbies.

The 78-year-old physician taught himself these skills after he was forced to slow down his active teaching career when he contracted a cardiac ailment.

The physician received an award of merit this week from the Iowa State Medical Society for his years of service to humanity and the society.

He headed the department of physiology here for more than 20 years and served as junior dean of the college of medicine from 1913 to 1933.

"When I first became ill, I began needlepointing more as a means of occupying my time than for the pure enjoyment of it," said the doctor. "The more I worked at it, the more it fascinated me and now, pieces of my work are seen all over the house."

In the McClintock living room there are examples of the doctor's hobby. The seat and back of an antique rocker are covered with pieces of needlepoint done in gaily colored yarns. Other chairs throughout the house also boast seat covers done by the hobbyist. Many of his pieces have been given to friends and relatives as gifts.

When asked about his knitting, the doctor replied, "I almost bit off more than I could chew when I started teaching myself how to knit. Though I don't believe I had any more trouble learning than the average woman."

Dr. McClintock has always enjoyed working with his hands and before his illness spent a great deal of time in a basement workshop at his home. He refinished pieces of furniture for practically every room in his house, a task to which Mrs. McClintock points with pride.

"My living room has really taken on a new glow because of the doctor's variety of hobbies," she says.

In the woodwork line, Dr. McClintock has made several end tables and cabinets.

Metal work is also among the physician's many talents although he is unable to do it now.

Dorm Presidents Attend Conference in Madison

The dormitory presidents of Westlawn, Currier and Hillcrest will represent SUI at the annual Big Ten dormitory conference to be held in Madison, Wis., this weekend.

They are: Joy Paris, N3, Sloan, Westlawn; Dale Razez, C3, Harlan, Hillcrest; and Juanita Bethke, A3, Cherokee, Currier. The quadrangle will not be represented.

The conference is held at a different school each year. Its purpose is to discuss such problems as rules, social activities, and judicial systems. The conference will end Sunday noon with a dinner.

Moeller Tells Need For Informed Citizens At Dental Senior Day

The scope of a professional man's responsibilities is such that he must work at being a citizen just as he works in his own field, dental students at SUI were told Friday.

Speaking at the dental college's annual Senior day exercises, Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the SUI school of journalism, said the basic responsibility of the professional man as a citizen is that of being aware.

He must realize, first, that something is going on and secondly he must understand the nature of what is going on. He must also encourage awareness in all of his fellow citizens, Moeller said.

"It is no longer possible for an individual to be merely a citizen of a given community . . . or even of a nation; today the citizen must take the world view," he said.

A number of awards for scholarship and professional excellence were presented during the assembly.

Seven students were elected to membership in Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national honorary dental fraternity. They are William H. Schlegel, D4, Bloomfield; Verner S. Hinds, D4, Clear Lake; Burton C. Bickford, D4, Corning; John P. Hand, D4, Davenport; Bruce W. Higley, D4, Iowa City; Clarence L. Singsank, D4, New Vienna, and Ellsworth Butler, D4, North English.

Hand was also given the Alpha Omega scholarship award.

John H. Hogeland, D4, Marshalltown, received the certificate of merit and journal subscription from the American Academy of Dental Medicine.

Wayne M. Hopp, D3, Iowa City, was presented the class of 1923 cash award.

John R. Lecoq, D1, Des Moines, received the freshman Rudy E. Minger memorial cash award. Charles W. Tucker, D2, LeMars, was awarded the sophomore Rudy E. Minger memorial cash award.

Hinds was also given membership in the American Society of Dentistry for Children.

Merle D. Bean, D4, Yale, was presented membership in the American Society of Dentistry for Children and a subscription to the journal.

Fraternity Elects Sherman President

James Sherman, C3, Sioux City, was named president of Alpha Beta chapter of Phi Epsilon Pi, social fraternity, in a recent election.

Alan Stern, C3, Des Moines, was elected vice-president; Jerry Passer, P2, Council Bluffs, pledge trainer; Martin Rich, A2, Rock Island, Ill., treasurer; Gordon Newman, A2, Sioux City, corresponding secretary; Larry Engman, A1, Marshalltown, recording secretary, and Allan Rovner, A2, Des Moines, housemanager.

Weird Costumes Create Costume Ball Sensation

By JIM GOLTZ

The annual Students' Costume ball, held in the main gallery of the SUI art building Friday night, was a mixture of surrealism, fantasy, and ingenious art majors.

The gallery was decorated, under the supervision of Bob Randolph, G, Centerville, with huge, painted murals on all four walls. The murals satirized surrealistic art, comic strip characters, primitivism, and the general field of art.

One wall was decorated with an enlarged cartoon by Frank Interlandi depicting a caveman sketching on the wall of his cave.

The motif of the costumes varied from the apparel worn in historical periods to satirical versions of 20th century luminaries.

Bob Becker, Iowa City, dressed as a "Knight" in black with silver sequins, wore an eight foot headpiece and was surrounded with a bevy of lute-players and Nubian slaves, who carried him in a sudan chair.

As Medusa, the fabled Greek woman, was Bob Smith, completely covered with green dye and wearing papier mache snakes in his hair and a putty nose.

Art Guild president Jean Witte, G, Cedar Rapids, and her escort, British actor Steven Joseph, G, London, England, were attired as characters from the Buck Rogers comic strip, complete with antennas, wires, tights, radar guns, plastic wings, and banners reading "It's always summer on Mars."

Bob Randolph's entrance into the ball room rather overwhelmed the spectators — he was on nine foot stilts.

Les Burford's dixieland jazz combo supplied music for the ball.

Favorite Summer Dish Is Chocolate Pudding Cake

A "just right" dessert for hot weather meals is a chocolate pudding cake.

Mrs. M. H. Anderson, house-mother of Kappa Alpha Theta, social sorority, for 18 years, says this is the favorite dessert of the sorority after light summer meals.

Kappa Alpha Theta employs two cooks. Mrs. Nellie Stutsman has prepared meats and vegetables for one year. Mrs. Augusta Lantry has made salads and pastries for nine years.

This is Mrs. Anderson's recipe for chocolate dessert.

CHOCOLATE DESSERT

Sift together:
1 cup flour
¾ cup granulated sugar
1½ tablespoons cocoa
2 teaspoons baking powder
Pinch of salt
Mix and add to first mixture:
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

2 tablespoons melted butter
½ cup nuts
Put in greased pan and cover with the following:
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar
5 level tablespoons cocoa
1 cup hot water

Mix this but do not cook. Pour over batter and bake about 40 minutes at 325 to 350°. Serve upside down with whipped cream in a 10 by 15 inch pan. Do not over-bake as the chocolate underneath will run.

ENGINEERS' PROGRAM

A discussion of the chemical engineering department will be heard on "Information Engineering," at 8:45 a.m. today over station WSUI. Participants will be Prof. Karl Kammermeyer, Prof. Coleman J. Major and Prof. James O. Osburn of the chemical engineering department.

Party Line

ALPHA CHI SIGMA — A party will be held from 8 to 12 p.m. today at 114 E. Market. Chaperons will include Dr. and Mrs. K. E. McCulloch, Dr. and Mrs. A. I. Popov.

SIGMA DELTA TAU — A formal dinner dance will be held at the chapter house, 223 S. Dodge, from 7 to 12 p.m. today. Chaperons for the dance will be Mrs. Robert Edelson, sorority housemother, Mrs. Dora Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Glassman, Mrs. Sonia Sands, Mrs. Elsie Levin.

10 Errors Choke Off Hawkeyes, 10-3

Pave Way To Easy Win By Michigan

By JACK JORDAN Sports Editor

Iowa's hitters and pitchers outplayed Michigan here Friday afternoon, but the fielders mistook their feet for their hands enough times to commit 10 errors and allow the Wolverines to take their fourth straight conference win, 10-3.

The Hawkeyes outthrew the Wolves, eight to seven, and the pitchers, Al Lenski and Merle Jensen, outdid Michigan starter Dick Yirkosky in nearly every department. But the Iowans displayed a gift at finding the most inappropriate times to boot the ball or make a bad throw.

Only three of Michigan's runs were earned, but one of those was a home run by centerfielder grounded to Bok.

2 More in 8th
The following batsman walked to load the sacks, and a walk and a double scored the two lead runners. That was all for the seventh, but the Hawks had three more errors ready to hand Michigan two runs in the eighth.

Jensen, who had relieved Lenski in the seventh, got the first hitter to fly to center field, but a two-base error on substitute first baseman Dick Roeder and a ruling by the umpire put the following batter, Howell, on third.

On the next grounder, Howell was caught in a rundown between third and home, but a bad throw by catcher Bill Vana caught him in the back and he got back to third safely. The man who had hit the grounder advanced to second on the play.

1 Throw, 2 Runs
The next pitch was a line drive to Roeder, but, in trying to double the runner off third, he threw wild and both runners scored.

It was the last half of the eighth before the Hawks started scoring. Gus Brandt singled to open the frame and moved to second on a walk to Ed Lindsey. A subsequent single by Jack Lundquist scored Brandt and moved Lindsey to third. Big Ed scored a moment later when the Wolverine pitcher balked.

The Iowans picked up their last run in the last of the ninth when Hess walked and scored on Brandt's long double. The rally ended, though, when Gus was tagged out in a rundown after rounding second.

Michigan showed a very good fielding team, and committed only one error on a bad throw by the catcher.

The season's highest attendance, 700, saw the game.

Breakup Attempt Fails for Young

BACKING INTO SECOND in an attempt to break up a double play Friday is Bob Young (5) of the St. Louis Browns, as second baseman Ted Lepcio of the Red Sox leaps to complete the throw to second. Lepcio got the ball (lower right) off in time to catch Marty Marion at first. Marion had grounded to Jim Piersall (left), who initiated the play. The umpire is Ed Rommel.

2 Games Here Today

Iowa faces Michigan State in a doubleheader on the Iowa field today. The Spartans, who have a 2-2 record in conference play, beat Minnesota Friday, 7-5, and are now tied for fourth place.

Coach Otto Vogel indicated Friday that he will start Bob Diehl and Ed Lindsey or Merle Jensen against the Spartans.

Admission charge is an "I.D." card or 60 cents.

Frank Howell in the seventh inning, the second of the year on the Iowa diamond.

The loss gives Iowa a Big Ten mark of 1-3, with a chance to improve that in a doubleheader with Michigan State here today at 1:30 p.m.

Miscues Start Early

As early as the top half of the first, the Iowans started the miscue parade. The first man up in the game, Bruce Hayman, singled and advanced to second on another single by Bill Mogk. In trying to catch the runner off base, Lenski threw wild and Hayman took third.

Then Gus Brandt, who had backed up second from his centerfield spot, kicked the ball long enough to allow the runner to score.

After Lenski settled down, he retired six men in order, but a pair of bobbles in the fourth kept him in hot water and the Wolverines hot as they batted around and picked up four runs.

Can't Kill Rally

Only one of those errors, however, was responsible for runs, but it also kept the Michigan attack rolling at a time when an out would have helped Lenski out of a hole. After the first man up had singled and advanced on a walk to the next batter, Jack Hess made a sensational stab of a tough grounder and threw to first baseman Frank Bok, but Bok dropped the ball for the first of four misplays.

In the seventh, the Wolves picked up another three tallies, one of which was the homer by Howell. The circuit blow was a hard, low liner that hit the ground just behind first and rolled all the way to the stadium in right field.

The other two runs came when the second man up reached first on an error, and was hit in the back by a throw for an attempted double play after the next man

A's Break Chisox Victory Streak, 13-12, On Majeski's Blow

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Hank Majeski's dramatics single with one out and two men on in the ninth inning gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 13-12 triumph Friday night over the Chicago White Sox in a wretched contest that saw 11 pitchers go to the mound — seven by the losers.

The defeat ended a five-game win streak for the White Sox. Majeski's game-winning hit, following a double by Dave Philley, a walk to Gus Zernial and a fielder's choice by Ferris Fain, came off the slants of Charlie Stobbs. That made Stobbs, who came in the seventh, the loser and the A's Carl Scheib, who hurled two innings, the winner.

There were 23 hits, 12 by Chicago. Of these there were four doubles, two triples and one homer — by White Sox catcher Sherman Lollar in the sixth with two on.

Lowrey's Hit in 9th Wins for Cards, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey's single with one out in the last half of the ninth inning drove in Solly Hemus with the winning run Friday night for the St. Louis Cardinals, giving 21-year-old Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell a four-hit 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The rangy left handed Mizell's first major league triumph came in a duel with righthander Russ Meyer, who yielded six safeties, three of them to Hemus. The Cardinals' shortstop has had 15 hits in his last 30 times at bat.

Hemus' line drive single off Meyer's right knee, momentarily felling the Philadelphia pitcher, led to the game-deciding run. After Red Schoendienst sacrificed and Stan Musial was passed intentionally, Lowrey lined a "3-2" pitch to left that sent Hemus across.

Connie Ryan hit his third home run of the season in the second and Gran Hamner batted a run-scoring double after the last of Mizell's three walks in the fifth inning. Philadelphia's only other hits were singles by Nippy Jones and Ryan in the ninth.

Giants' 2 in 10th Drop Pirates, 5-3

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The New York Giants scored two runs in the 10th inning, one of them a homer by Whitey Lockman, to beat the last place Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3 Friday night before a crowd of 17,111. Bobby Thomson accounted for two of the Giant runs with a homer in the fourth.

Hoyt Wilhelm, who relieved starter Dave Koslo in the ninth received credit for the win. The defeat was charged to Ted Wilks who relieved Howie Pollet.

Wilson Stars as Braves Hand Raffy 1st Loss, 2-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jim Wilson drove in both runs and pitched seven-hit ball Friday night to lead the Boston Braves to a 2-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Wilson's single in the second with the bases loaded and two out was the blow that handed Ken Raffensberger his first pitched defeat of the season.

Raffensberger, who had won his first three pitching starts, allowed Boston only six hits but three of them came in that fatal second.

Hill Gail Top Choice in Derby Running Today

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP)—Ben Jones shoved an added-starter, Top Blend, into the Kentucky Derby Friday to keep the favored Hill Gail company, as 17 3-year-olds were entered for today's $100,000 classic at Churchill Downs.

That was just about the only development in a town whirling like a merry-go-round waiting for some horses to grab the brass ring in America's most glamorous horse race. Hill Gail just didn't score many others out of the race, as would have been expected after he broke the track record in winning Tuesday's derby trial.

This year there will be two betting entries, the Calumet Farm's Hill Gail and Top Blend, and the Myelny's stable's Master Fiddle and Jack Amiel's Count Flame. The last two are trained by Sol Rutchick, the Russian immigrant who handled Amiel's 1951 derby winner, Count Turf, but missed his plane and didn't see the race.

The field jelled down after Alfred G. Vanderbilt's eastern Derby horse Cousin and Gift Silver, owned by Odie Newell, an Iowa railroad engineer, were withdrawn.

Derby Dope

Here are the facts and figures on today's 78th running of the Kentucky Derby.

Place: Churchill Downs. Post time: 3:30 p.m. (CST). Number of starters: 17 3-year-olds.

Purse: $100,000 added to nominating and starting fees; total $125,350 if 17 horses start. Net value to winner: $97,300 if 17 horses start.

Favorite: Hill Gail, owned by Calumet Farm, 7-5. Last year's winner: Count Turf. Distance: One mile and one quarter.

Record time: 2:01 2/5 by Whirlaway in 1941. Crowd: About 100,000 expected. Broadcasts: Radio (CBS) at 3:15 p.m., (CST); television (CBS), 3:15 p.m., (CST). Weather: Fair and cooler.

Rosen Hits 3-Run Homer as Tribe Whips Nats, 6-2

WASHINGTON (AP)—Al Rosen's three-run home run in the seventh inning which scored two runs, land defeated Washington, 6-2, Friday night behind the seven-hit pitching of Mike Garcia. Dale Mitchell also homered for the Indians, with none on in the second, as Cleveland pounded Julio Moreno and Tom Ferrick for fifteen hits.

Rosen's blow, delivered after Harry Simpson had tripled and Bobby Avila walked to start the seventh inning, sealed Garcia's second victory. He has lost two.

The burly right-hander was nursing a 3-2 lead at the time as the result of Mitchell's homer and Larry Doby's pinch single with the bases loaded in the sixth inning which scored two runs.

Gil Coan's single and Irv Norren's double boosted the Senators into a 1-0 lead in the first. Mitchell's homer tied the score, but Washington again grabbed the lead in the fifth when Garcia wild-pitched Eddie Yost across from third base.

No Hits Until 9th Inning, Lown Loses to Bums, 3-1

CHICAGO (AP)—Omar (Turk) Lown, Chicago Cubs' righthander, was within three outs of a no-hit game Friday when Brooklyn spanked his first two pitches of the ninth inning for whistling hits and went on to score three runs for a 3-1 victory.

First up in the ninth, Billy Cox slashed a clean single to left field. Jackie Robinson stepped up next and slammed Lown's first pitch, past first into right field for a double, sending Cox to third.

Lown issued the fifth of his six walks to Roy Campanella, filling the bases.

Ramazotti Error Fatal
There was a chance for a possible shut-out by Lown when Duke Snider bounced to Bob Ramazotti. With a soft try for a force play at the plate, Ramazotti juggled the ball and had to throw to first. That scored Cox with the tying run although Snider was out.

Andy Pafko was intentionally walked, again filling the bases. Gil Hodges' long fly to right scored Robinson. An insurance run was scored when Carl Furillo belted a single to right shoving across Campanella.

The Cubs made a total of six hits, five off Clem Lapse and one off Loe, but their run in the first inning was produced on a double steal.

Addis Scores
Bob Addis came dashing across from third base when Robinson dropped the throw from Campanella on Frankie Baumholtz's theft of second. Addis had scratched a single and gone to third on Baumholtz's single to right.

Lown had faced 28 Dodgers without a hit through the first eight innings. Only two Dodgers had advanced as far as second before the big Brooklyn ninth. Peeewe Reese walked to open the game and stole second. In the sixth Cox raced to second when Ramazotti dropped his infield pop.

Iowa-Badger Track Meet Rated Tossup

The Iowa track squad, strong in the sprints but weak in the field events, will meet Wisconsin today at 1:15 p.m. at Madison in the first outdoor dual meet of the season for both teams, with the meet rated as a tossup.

Coach Francis Cretzmeyer has named 23 men to participate against the Badgers.

Wisconsin defeated the Hawkeyes, 61 2/3 to 52 1/3, indoors this season. Upset victories by Wisconsin in the quarter, half and mile plus strength in the high jump and pole vault gave the Badgers the victory.

Iowa's showings of two victories in the Drake Relays has boosted Hawkeye track stock around the Big Ten and the Hawkeyes will have a decided edge in the sprints against the Badgers.

Cretzmeyer figures his squad could capture almost every track event but the high hurdles and past performances by both squads back him up.

Iowa's Ira Murchison and Glen Hesselstine are better than anything the Badgers have in either the 100 or 220 and Gary Scott and LeRoy Ebert should boost the Hawkeye point total in the 440.

Wisconsin's LeRoy Collins upset Scott in the 440 in the indoor dual meet but Scott easily outran the Badger in the conference meet.

Ted Wheeler and Ebert could pace the half-mile field although Sam Greenlee gave Wisconsin a victory in that race in the dual meet. The Hawkeyes' distance aces, Wheeler in the mile and Rich Ferguson in the two-mile, should cop first places.

Wisconsin's edge will come in the high jump, pole vault and high hurdle events where the Hawkeyes are weak.

Reserve Netmen Beat Burlington JC, 9-0, For 2d Straight Win

Iowa's reserve tennis squad took its second victory of the season Friday by defeating Burlington JC, 9-0, here.

The reserve outfit played its first dual match of the season Monday against Augustana when the Hawks won, 8-1. Norman Barnes and Dave Avn Ginke, regular varsity players, were used in the Augustana meet, but Coach Don Klotz withheld all regulars from Friday's matches.

Harold Hill and Don Olmstead, who have seen limited action with the varsity this season, led the

Last Home Tennis Today
The Iowa tennis team will meet Bradley here today at 1 p.m. in the last home showing of the season for Coach Don Klotz' undefeated Hawkeyes.

The Hawkeye victory string now stands at eight straight for 1952 and 12 consecutive victories over a two-season period. Klotz will have his usual lineup topped by Norman Barnes and Bob Richards, in today's matches.

reserves in Friday's victory. Hill played as the No. 1 singles man and took 6-0, 6-0, wins from Doyle Adams.

Olmstead held the No. 2 singles spot and dropped Burlington's Chuck Pauley, 6-0, 6-0. The Hawkeyes lost only one set during the nine matches. Iowa's Bob Soll and James Stickley lost to Yager and Pleke, 5-7, in the first set of their doubles match but the Hawkeye pair recovered to take the next two sets, 6-3, 6-1, and the match.

Singles
Hill (I) defeated Adams (B), 6-0, 6-0; Olmstead (I) defeated Pauley (B), 6-0, 6-0; Johnson (I) defeated Bomser (B), 6-0, 6-2; Fletcher (I) defeated Luth (B), 6-1, 6-0; Stickley (I) defeated Yager (B), 7-5, 6-1; Soll (I) defeated Pleke (B), 5-2, 6-0.

Doubles
Olmstead and Johnson (I) defeated Adams and Pauley (B), 6-2, 6-0; Hill and Fletcher (I) defeated Luth and Bomser (B), 6-1, 6-1; Soll and Stickley (I) defeated Yager and Pleke (B), 5-7, 6-3, 6-1.

Lopat's 2-Hitter Leads Yanks Past Tigers, 4-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Lopat hurled a nifty two-hitter Friday as the New York Yankees topped the Detroit Tigers, 4-1, before a small crowd of 7,540. George Kell made both safeties, singling to right in the first inning and to deep short in the eighth.

The decision squared the series at a game apiece and was the first victory of the season for the southpaw Lopat, a 20-game winner in 1951. Lopat walked only four but one of the passes led to third as Kell laced a hit-and-run ball through the right side of the infield, and came home as Vic Wertz grounded out.

2 Yank Runs Unearned
Only one Tiger passed first base after that, Kell getting to second on a wild pitch after rapping his second hit.

The Yanks, still in a hitting slump, could get only six hits off Ted Gray and two of their runs were unearned.

The champions grabbed three tallies in the third frame, with the aid of poor Detroit fielding. After Hank Bauer singled, Friddy booted Lopat's easy grounder. Phil Rizzuto followed with a liner to left and Steve Souchock misjudged the ball, letting it go over his head for a double. Bauer scored on that blunder and Lopat stopped at third. Gil McDougald's single delivered Lopat and Rizzuto.

Carey Makes Debut
Gray donated the other New York tally during a burst of wildness in the fifth inning. Walks to Rizzuto and Bertha, the latter intentional, surrounded a single by Mickey Mantle and filled the bases. The Tiger southpaw then hit Johnny Mize on the right arm with a pitch, forcing over Rizzuto.

Andy Carey, a $65,000 bonus player, made his Yankee debut at third and was visibly nervous. He made two errors, dropping a foul fly and bobbling a soft grounder.

Golfers Face Test In Quadrangular Today at Purdue

Coach Bucky O'Connor's golf squad will get a chance today to show its Big Ten potential as the Hawkeyes meet Purdue, Ohio State and Northwestern in a quadrangular meet at Lafayette, Ind.

Ohio State is the defending conference champion and is picked as one of the top squads in the Big Ten again this season. Purdue took runner-up honors behind the Buckeyes in 1951 and also has a good nucleus of veterans returning.

The Hawkeyes already hold a 30½ to 11½ decision over Northwestern this season and should repeat in today's matches.

O'Connor has picked a squad of seven golfers, headed by letterman Tom Crabbe, for today's meet.

Finkbine Dads Ready Playground for Spring Opening

BUILDING A SANDPILE for the playground at Finkbine park is fine work on a warm spring day, especially when the neighborhood kids pitch in with spoons, scoops and grubby hands. Shown with shovels are (left) Ray Finkle, 417 Finkbine park, and Norman Springer, 414 Finkbine park. In the background Mrs. Finkle rides herd on six unidentified neighborhood children.

With the coming of spring, the Finkbine playground will be opening for the second year. Last year at this time the playground, which was in a state of disuse, was cleared of rubbish by the fathers of Finkbine park. Then, by hard work and with the help of membership fees, the men built a slide, teeter totters, a ladder climber and other equipment. The playground is supervised for member children from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 3 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. At other times it is open to all children. Officers of the playground council are: Mrs. Mary Springer, chairman; Mrs. June Pries, treasurer; Mrs. Laura Richardson, supervisor; William McBride, equipment; Mrs. Mary Haskell, membership and Mrs. Marjorie Counsellman, toys and supplies. Membership fees are $1 a family for the entire season, May through October, or 50 cents a family for those who will be here only until June. Further information can be had by calling Mrs. Mary Springer, telephone 6222.

Trials of 8 Men Postponed by Judge Until Later in May

Eight men, previously arraigned on nine counts, have been granted postponements in Johnson county district court until the May term by Judge Harold D. Evans. One of the defendants, James Robert Beeler, was arrested on two charges, manslaughter and operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Beeler was arrested Sept. 29, 1951, following the Iowa-Kansas State football game when an automobile he was driving collided with one driven by Walter John Smith on highway 216 north of Iowa City. The collision killed Smith.

Among the other cases scheduled to come up is the one in which Robert L. Dahne, bartender at the since-closed Brown Derby, allegedly made beer available to a minor on Feb. 6, 1952. Four pleas of not guilty, plus one case in which no plea was made, but in which a demurrer was entered, to charges of operating motor vehicles while intoxicated were given May term trials. According to court records, this is the third offense on the OMVI count for William H. Binz. Binz entered his plea of not guilty on Dec. 14, 1951, after being arrested earlier on highway six west of Iowa City.

Scientist Fights Cancer SUI Researcher G. S. Christiansen Employs Chicken Embryos in Growth Study

Embryos from half-baked chicken eggs are being used at University hospitals in the fight to conquer cancer. Dr. G. S. Christiansen, SUI cancer scientist, uses heart tissue from chicken embryos in biochemistry research on the normal growth of animal tissue in culture. The chicken eggs are incubated for seven days, about one-third the normal time for hatching baby chicks, and then cracked open and the embryo removed. Only heart tissue from the embryo is used. A strip of heart tissue about two or three millimeters long is placed in a prepared culture where normal cellular growth takes place. Christiansen believes the problem of cancer can definitely be solved. "Because of my interest in this particular type of research, I feel that the best approach is to understand normal growth and then find out what causes abnormal growth and how one can control it," he said. Christiansen's work in this area of cancer research was considered significant enough by national headquarters of the American Cancer society to award him a $6,000 grant-in-aid to continue his work. The award plaque was presented to Christiansen by M. L. Huit, chairman of the Johnson county cancer society and men's counselor at SUI, at a cancer kickoff meeting Monday evening in the Iowa Memorial Union River room. The 32-year-old scientist is connected with two other cancer research projects at SUI. They are in the fields of physiology of ocular tissues and growth reactions in plant tissues.

'Streets of New York' Play to Open May 9

"An entirely original, sensational, scenic and domestic melodrama" will bring the hearts of audiences here May 9-17, when "The Streets of New York" is presented at the University theater. Written in the 19th century by Dion Boucicault, the play is in five acts. Nine tableaux will be presented during and at the end of the acts, to illustrate such philosophies as "Keep your gold, it would soil my 'poverty'" and "The wretched always have one resource — they can die." Scenes of the play take place in the New York of the 1890's and include the "Bloodgood Banking House," Tammany Hall, Union square and New York's tenement district. Included in the plot for the melodrama are a raging blizzard scene and a tenement fire scene. Between the acts will be "entre acts" such as an organ solo, several voice solos, numerous dancing numbers including a "beach-side" act titled "Sirens of the Sands," and dramatic readings. Included in the cast are Lawrence Stine, G. Iowa City; Gerald Tippit, A3, Iowa City; Jerry Mason, A1, Milwaukee; Richard Gillespie, G. Ellicott, Md.; Jerry Silberman, A1, Milwaukee, Wis.; Arthur Whitman, Iowa City; Robert Smith, A1, Iowa City; John Swartz, A1, Iowa Falls, and Robert Largent, G. Iowa City. The production, employing more than 50 persons in its cast, is under the direction of Prof. Lewin Goff, with costumes by Frances Umland, G. Hampton, and scenic effects by Don Powell, G. Memphis, Mo. Students may obtain tickets by presenting identification cards at room 8A, Schaeffer hall. The regular admission is $1.25. The University theater has made two requests: "Our patrons are cordially invited to join in song if they are inspired" and "the audience is respectfully requested not to mar the performance by untimely preparations for departure."
