Nunan Says He Could Be Indicted

CHOSEN CATHOLIC MOTHER of the year by the National Catholic Welfare conference in Washington Monday was Mrs. Macee A. Thomas, of New York city, Negro mother of 10 children. It was the first time a Negro has been designated in the 10-year history of the award.

Construction Workers Await Wage Decision

A decision is expected tonight on wage demands asked by 100 local striking construction workers, a spokesman said Monday night.

The workers, all members of the Cedar Rapids Buildings and Construction Trades council, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, walked off their jobs Friday when a wage dispute arose concerning their contracts, which expired May 1.

They are asking for an average 20-cent-an-hour wage increase and fringe benefits, while contractors are offering 10-cents, union officials said. Demands for the wage increase are based on the wage stabilization board's recommendation of a general 15-cent-an-hour increase throughout the country.

As a result of the walk-out, work has been tied up on the SUI mass communications building and the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children, the sanatorium at Oakdale and the local Baptist church.

The local work resumes soon, the cornerstone laying ceremony at the church, scheduled for May 25, may have to be postponed.

The strike only affects laborers, truckers, cement masons and iron workers. Not affected are carpenters and electricians, who have their own local unions.

Corruption Exposure Wins Post-Dispatch 5th Pulitzer Prize

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Post-Dispatch's exposure of corruption in the internal revenue department Monday won that newspaper its fifth Pulitzer prize. No other newspaper ever won that many.

The Post-Dispatch, published by the founder of the awards, the late Joseph Pulitzer, won previous prizes in 1937, 1941, 1948 and 1950.

It was cited again this year for disinterested and meritorious public service in its exposure of the shocking evidence of political immorality.

Said the trustees of Columbia University in honoring the Post-Dispatch:

"The work of the Post-Dispatch led to the indictment and prosecution of James P. Finnegan, St. Louis head of the internal revenue bureau, the resignation under fire of William M. Boyle Jr., Democratic national chairman, and the dismissal or resignation of over 160 employees of the internal revenue bureau all over the country."

John Robinson and Don Utang of the Des Moines Register and Tribune won the Pulitzer award for news photography.

Their sequence of six photos was taken at a Drake-Oklahoma A. & M. football game in which Negro player Johnny Bright's jaw was broken.

New Candidate Enters Race For Editorship

One more student filed for the editorship of The Daily Iowan and another dropped out of the running Monday on the eve of the scheduled selection of an editor for the 1952-53 school year.

Phil O'Connor, A3, Sharon, Wis., put in a late bid for the editorship, while Maurie Rosen, A3, Davenport, asked that he be allowed to withdraw "due to a press of personal affairs."

1 Approved Candidate

Rosen's withdrawal leaves only one approved candidate, Jack Bender, A3, Waterloo. The others seeking the editorship, Bill Clabby, A3, Waterloo, and O'Connor, filed applications after last Tuesday's deadline. Before they can become candidates, they must receive approval from the Board of Publications.

The Board of Publications is scheduled to make the appointment today along with the selection of an editor and business manager for Hawkeye yearbook, Donald Wallace, A3, Veneta, Penn., and Sally Bailey, A3, Ottumwa, are the editor and business manager candidates, respectively.

Man Critically Hurt In Highway Crash

A New London doctor was in critical condition at University hospitals Monday night following a crash of a car, a semi truck and dump truck 13 miles south of Iowa City on highway 218.

Dr. Robert J. Stolley, 31, suffered serious head injuries when the car he was driving was hit by the dump truck, which had just collided with the semi truck, highway patrolmen said.

Stolley's eight-year-old son, Peter, who was accompanying his father, also was hospitalized, but the extent of his injuries had not been determined Monday night.

Ray C. Adams, Tipton, driver of the dump truck, suffered minor bruises. The driver of the semi truck, L. O. Picart, Des Moines, was uninjured.

Steel Parleys Remain Halted Pending Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big steel labor dispute remained stuck on dead center Monday with negotiations suspended and a solution apparently as far off as ever.

All sides seemed to be waiting for an eventual supreme court ruling on the questioned legality of President Truman's steel industry seizure nearly a month ago. It may be weeks before the high court decides the case. Its hearings start next Monday.

The steel industry, meanwhile, slowly returned to full production after last week's three-day strike. Even though negotiations have collapsed, the men remained at work as Union President, Philip Murray, had promised.

Thirteen Republican senators introduced legislation to direct Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, government boss of the seized industry, to give up the steel plants and return them to their private owners.

Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.), one of the sponsors, urged early senate consideration. It seemed unlikely, however, that the senate would act while the issue is before the supreme court.

Any strike now that seizure still legally is in effect, could be enjoined by the courts, since the workers are technically government employees and as such are barred from striking.

While the mills generally reported good progress toward resumption of production, a complaint was made by Orval Kincaid, a union sub-district director at Gary, Ind., that the U.S. Steel corporation was dragging its feet.

"U.S. Steel is not making a genuine effort to get people back to work," he said. "Some people have reported for work at the (Gary) sheet and tin mill and have been told to go fishing for a week."

The company has said it will resume full operations as rapidly as is practicable.

Monday was supposed to be the day fixed by Truman for putting a government-imposed pay boost for steelworkers into effect. But the supreme court Saturday banned any government directed steel pay change until the court decided the constitutionality of the seizure.

City to Seek Reduction in Utility Rates

The city council in a lengthy three-and-a-half hour meeting Monday night authorized City Manager Peter F. Roan to enter into negotiations with the Iowa-Illinois Power and Electric company concerning a possible reduction in utility rates in Iowa City.

The action came after Roan asked for the council's authorization. He cited the annual report of the utilities company, filed last week, which showed that common stock holders in the company received an 18 per cent dividend for last year. The amount paid out by the company was approximately $3.4 million.

Calls Rates 'High'

Calling the Iowa City utility rates "high," Roan pointed out that residents of the city were now paying about 15 per cent more than residents of Rock Island, Ill. In addition the Illinois commerce commission has ordered the Iowa-Illinois Power and Electric company to reduce rates in Rock Island by 5 per cent.

The capital surplus of the company has risen from about $1 million to almost $7 million in the last six years, Roan added.

Okays $130,000 Paving Project

Besides taking the utility rates, the council passed a $130,000 paving project after a public hearing on the matter was held earlier in the evening.

More than 80 persons crowded into the council chambers to discuss the proposal.

Involved in the proposal were paving projects on (1) Lucas st. between Iowa st. and Bloomington st., (2) 900 block of East Bloomington, (3) W. Bloomington st. between Capitol and Madison sts., (4) W. Benton st. from the third block to the city limits, (5) Bloomington st. from Governor st. to Union st., and (6) an area on Kirkwood and S. Linn sts.

Riverside Drive Work Postponed

The council postponed action, however, on the disputed N. Riverside drive widening proposal. The resolution called for the widening of the drive from River st. north to the top of the Riverside hill.

Opposed to the resolution were six SUI social fraternities whose property faces Riverside drive. Only last Friday the state executive council announced that they opposed the plan. In doing so, the group upheld the earlier findings of the Iowa state board of education.

Gen. Clark Off to Assume Far East Post

GEN. MARK CLARK says goodbye to William C. Foster, deputy secretary of defense, at national airport Monday, just before boarding a plane for Tokyo. Clark has been named supreme commander in the Far East as successor to Gen. Matthew Ridgway. Left to right: Foster, Army Secretary Frank Pace, Clark, and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff. Ridgway is going to Paris as successor to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, who has asked to be relieved.

Wedemeyer Says MacArthur Has Thrown Support to Taft

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer claimed Monday that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has thrown his support to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

In New York, a MacArthur spokesman said the former Pacific commander knew of Wedemeyer's statement but had no immediate comment.

Wanted Him as Chairman

Wedemeyer told a news conference in Washington that MacArthur called him a week ago and urged him to accept the chairmanship of a national Taft-for-President citizens' committee "for the good of the country."

He said that was "quite a clear indication" that MacArthur is supporting Taft.

Wedemeyer served as commander of U.S. forces in China late in World War II.

Meanwhile, the national spotlight turned to Monday's Florida "popularity" primary where Sen. Estes Kefauver collides with Sen. Richard B. Russell in a critical test of strength.

First Southern Test

It is the first time the front-running Kefauver and the late-starting Russell have come to grips — and the only such test of their vote-pulling prowess in the south.

A victory for Kefauver would mean a big boost in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination and severe setback to the stop-Kefauver forces in the north.

On the other hand, Russell virtually has to win to be regarded as a major figure in the nationwide picture.

Russell was generally rated the favorite.

Also on tap Monday was a somewhat less exciting primary in Ohio, Taft's home state, where Taft boosters predicted that senator would capture at least 52 of the state's 58 delegates to the Republican national convention.

The latest Associated Press tabulation shows Eisenhower leading Taft, 278 to 275, although Taft claims he holds a margin of 80 votes over the five-star general.

Lower Oil Union Demands Hinted

DENVER (AP) — The leader of a striking oil union dropped a broad hint Monday that the strike could be settled on wage terms well below the union coalition's initial demands.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO oil workers international, which has its headquarters in Denver, said in a statement: "Anytime an oil company will offer us 18 and one-half cents in cash, the strike at that company's plant would undoubtedly end in a short time."

Knight was commenting on reported terms of a settlement in California involving a union which is not among the 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions which called the strike last Wednesday.

Warns of Rationing

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gas rationing may be just around the corner for civilians if the oil strike continues, James H. Knudson, administrator of the defense transportation administration, warned Monday.

"If the oil strike goes on a few more days, we may have to put some restrictions on civilian transportation, Knudson cautioned.

The strike was ordered to back up the union's demands for a wage increase of 25 cents an hour plus higher extra pay for night work. The current scale averages $2 to $2.10 per hour.

The Los Angeles agreement between the Independent Union of Petroleum Workers and Standard Oil of California included benefits worth 18 and one-half cents an hour, a union spokesman said.

But at San Francisco, a company official said they figured it amounts to a 15-cent boost.

The Standard Oil agreement covers 5,000 employees in oil fields, refineries and offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Bakersfield, Calif. The union had not been on strike.

Ex-Tax Chief Won't Answer Income Queries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph D. Nunan Jr., former commissioner of internal revenue, told house investigators Monday he thinks there are "possible crimes" for which he could be indicted.

The acknowledgment came as Nunan sparred with members of a house ways and means subcommittee over details of his six-figure personal income. He refused to answer a series of pointed questions about the sources of it.

Cites 3 Amendments

After Nunan had cited the fourth, fifth and sixth amendments to the constitution in support of his position, Adrian De Wind, committee counsel, asked him if he thought there were "any possible crimes for which you could be indicted?"

"Yes, sir, I think there are," Nunan answered, flushing. He did not go into any details.

The house committee, which has spent the last six months digging into a series of tax scandals, has been told by treasury agents that Nunan received $161,000 in unexplained income between 1945 and 1950 and did not report it on his income tax returns.

Nunan was the nation's chief tax collector from 1944 to 1947.

Against Doctors Orders

He told the committee he was disobeying his doctor to make an appearance Monday.

Reminding the investigators that a grand jury investigation of his affairs is still pending in New York, Nunan said "I do not believe that I or any citizen should be submitted or should submit to a procedure which would strip me of each and every one of these constitutional rights in wholesale fashion."

The witness claimed "It is not at all the legitimate function of this committee to attempt to try here such questions as whether I have properly reported my personal income, and to seek to put me on trial here as a defendant, and then call me as a witness against myself."

The fifth constitutional amendment says "No person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself."

Refused to Produce Records

Nunan readily admitted that he had not produced his personal records in response to a committee subpoena, basing his refusal on the fourth amendment, which protects persons against "unreasonable searches and seizures."

He also cited the sixth amendment, guaranteeing persons a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury.

Nevertheless Chairman Cecil King (D-Calif.) ordered the questioning started.

Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) asked Nunan whether he received any fee, compensation or remuneration for services rendered while he was commissioner, other than his government salary.

"The answer would be no," Nunan said.

He also declined to talk about a $25,000 stock fee paid him by Charles Ward, president of Brown & Bigelow, a St. Paul advertising firm, for expediting a tax ruling after he left the revenue bureau in 1947 and re-entering private law practice in New York and Washington.

Truman Urges Bill For Flood Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A system of government insurance against flood damage, backed by a 1½ billion dollar fund, was urged upon congress Monday by President Truman.

Proposed legislation which Truman sent to Capitol Hill would allow the reconstruction finance corporation to issue such insurance directly or to reinsure policies written by private companies.

The RFC initially would be authorized to commit up to 500 million dollars. With presidential approval, it could be increased by 500 millions on July 1, 1953, and by a like amount a year later.

"The lack of such an insurance system," Truman said in a special message, "is a major gap in the means by which a man can make his home, his farm, or his business secure against financial loss."

Rain Brings Relief From Heat Wave

A warm rain tried in vain Monday to bring an end to Iowa City's premature summer, and in doing so brought temporary relief to record-breaking temperatures.

The showers totaled only .04 of an inch, but that was enough to bring a 15-degree drop in readings which have hovered in the 90's for the past week.

The cool weather is expected to remain here at least until Wednesday with some light showers forecast.

Temperatures the past eight days have lingered near the 90-degree mark for one of the longest stretches on record for this time of the year.

The readings for those days are: April 28—85; April 29—92; April 30—89; May 1—90; May 2—87; May 3—87; May 4—90; May 5—87.

Singer Takes First Check To Pawnshop
BUFFALO, N. Y. — When singer Bobby Lucas cashed his opening week's pay for $1,000, he had with him a pair of pantysocks that were less than a month old. One was for his overcoat, the other for his only spare pair of shoes.

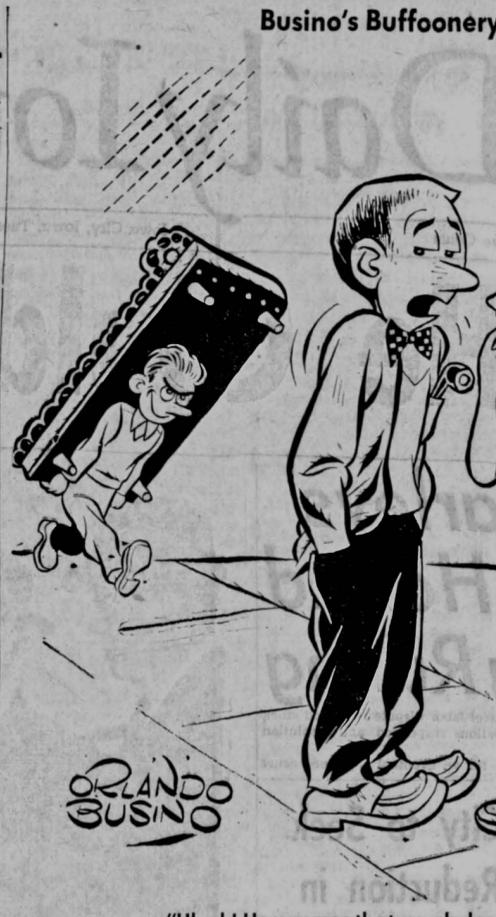

The 19-year-old had parted with these valuables a few weeks before Christmas to buy himself food and another week's shelter. At the time, he was singing in a small New Brunswick, N.J. night spot, gathering tips, an occasional free meal and heavy circles under his eyes.

But then the tall, athletic-looking Negro baritone got his break and moved into the spotlight of one of Buffalo's most successful after-dark clubs. Inside his installment-plan tuxedo on opening night were the two pantysocks — objects of an affection which can only be felt by someone who has suddenly touched the golden ladder of show business after sweating out lunch and train fare.

The awesome salary and stardom may have come to Bobby overnight, but the development of his vocal talent has been going on since he was 12 years old. Bobby pestered the theater manager into letting him run errands and do odd jobs for Miss Carpenter, who was then interpreting the tunes of World War II to uniform-dotted audiences.

When he went to New York two years ago, it was the same Thelma Carpenter who eased some of the rockier moments in the life of a stagebound newcomer in the big city.

It was in the New Brunswick club where young Lucas finally found himself holding the right sweepstake ticket. A performer on the same bill, an ex-vaudevillian, was convinced Bobby had everything to carry him into the ranks of the top song stylist of America.

Soviet Army Deserter Tells Of Return to Red Authorities

MUNICH — What happens to a Russian soldier who deserts to the West, and is returned to Soviet authorities?

A Soviet artilleryman now a refugee here had it happen to him. It's not a pretty story.

Valentin S. is from the Don river country of Russia. He's 27 years old. He looks 40.

Valentin was a hero in the Red army during the war. He won numerous decorations for high valor. These stood him in good stead later, when he was a Soviet secret police prisoner.

He first became dissatisfied with communism when he went on occupation duty in Austria after the war. He said he saw people who were the defeated being treated with more consideration than the Russian soldiers who helped win the war.

Deserted, Returned
So one night he slipped away and got to Salzburg in the U.S. zone. As he wandered the streets of the old Austrian city, an American military police patrol picked him up. He was taken to jail and the Russian authorities notified. In those days it was a routine practice for the Allies to return Russian deserters to a Soviet repatriation mission.

"They were nice to me there," he said with a crooked smile. "Too nice. They held me one night, then shipped me back to where I came from."

"I went into the guard house as soon as I got back. The next night I was taken to the cellar of an administration building. There were four NKVD men waiting for me.

"First, they asked me countless questions, whether friends helped me desert, why I deserted and where I was headed. I answered them as best I could. Finally one of them pulled out a paper with a lot of writing on it. He told me I couldn't read it, but I had to sign it."

Refused, and Paid Price
Valentin, a man with a determined chin and steady brown eyes, refused to sign.

"That made everybody angry but me," he said. "I think the paper would have been my death warrant. I don't know. Two of them, big and husky, grabbed me and took me to the door. They opened it, put the fingers of my right hand in the crack of the door where it hinges with the wall. One of them said 'Will you sign?' I told him I wouldn't. Then slowly they shut the door on my fingertips."

Valentin held up his right hand. The ends of his fingers were misshapen and flattened. The nail on the first finger was nothing more than a ragged scar.

"Yes, the left hand too," it was garbled, too.

"After they got through with the door they took turns beating me up." He pointed to scars around his eye brows. "I tell you, I was a stupid man for a long time after that night. But I didn't sign the paper. They told me that it would have gone harder if I had not won so many decorations. They said that if I hadn't been such a good soldier I probably would have been shot."

They shunted Valentin into a prison cell, "with filthy straw in it that must have been put there when Hitler went into Austria."

His days and nights were filled with interrogations.

"They didn't abuse me much anymore. Maybe it was because I was sort of touched in the head for awhile. Then one day they told me I had been sentenced to six months in prison."

Valentin did his time in prison quietly. Then one night he was hauled out for interrogation again. It was rough. The questioning was interrupted and he was left alone. In a corner stood an old German carbine, with bayonet attached. He took the bayonet and slipped it down a trouser leg. He used it to dig handholds to a window which was guarded only by a heavy mesh. He crawled out and went to the quarters of an officer under whom he had fought at Stalingrad.

Rescued, Caught Again
"He looked at me. He saw those hands and my face. And he said to me: 'Valentin, it is possible that our own Soviet regime has sunk so low.'" This man, my friend, hid me. He gave me money and he helped me."

But Valentin was caught again, served the rest of his term, then went underground after his release. Eventually he learned that Allied policy no longer called for a return of Russian deserters.

"So I finished the journey that I started, so long ago," Valentin said. "I am here. I ask for nothing except the chance to live like a human being. I hope soon to get a job. But I would like to say this: if you people knew what Russia is like, what the Communist regime is really like, you would run away screaming I know."

German-U.S. Wrangle Delays Peace Contract

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

Estimates of the target date for completion of the peace contract between the Allies and West Germany have now been pushed back from May 12, May 15 and May 20, and now there is more trouble.

Various German factions want more concessions in the way of sovereignty, or are maneuvering for domestic political position by withholding their logs from the Adenauer logrolling. The chancellor is in no position to drive, having recently lost some of his strength in parliament and now being abandoned on some points by coalition elements which represent his balance of power.

The Allies reply that they have made all the concessions they are going to.

Adenauer and the Allied high commissioners are pushing right ahead with the drafting, meeting again today. But nobody can be sure just how things are going to work out.

Red Propaganda Works
Russian propaganda about a united Germany has affected these negotiations, as well as those connected with formation of the European defense community. That treaty, incorporating German military strength into Allied plans for the general defense, is expected to be signed simultaneously.

Many Germans want to see what the Russians are up to before anything more is done.

France, Britain and the United States obviously are having difficulties in framing a reply to the latest Russian note regarding her proposal for four-power negotiations.

U. S. Modification Reported
There are reports of at least some modification in U. S. policy on the subject. The U. S. has been putting EDC and the German peace contract ahead of everything else. Now Washington is reported ready to go as far as a four-power conference at the high commissioner level — Russia proposed a foreign ministers meeting — to gauge Russian sincerity regarding free German elections.

This would show the Allies are closing no doors on eventual German unity, and presumably would allay some of the German suspicion which is working against Adenauer.

It might, at the same time, serve to prove the Allied belief that Russia doesn't really intend to trade her bird in the hand — East Germany — for the uncertainty of a neutral whole Germany under any sort of terms that would be acceptable to the West or to Germany herself.

Ball, Arnez To Make Feature Movie
By JIM GOLTZ

20th Century Fox picture is staging a blow-out for its new book-dramatization "Lydia Ballew," which includes the picture's star, Anne Francis, traveling to the island of Haiti, along with 30 press-agents, for the world premiere of the picture and a 96-hour May-day fete of official festivities.

Fox has taken an option on screen rights to the story of Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe, who twice served as a physician in the Greek army during its war with Turkey in the 19th century. The biography of Howe, husband of Julia Ward Howe, who wrote "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," is being readied by novelist John Jennings.

Lucille Ball and Desi Arnez will make a feature-length movie, "I Love Lucy," based on their hit TV show. Metropolitan Opera soprano Patricia Munnell will play the lead in a film biography of the famous Australian diva, Melba. The film will be shot in Europe and Australia.

Snoozers: Try This Remedy

WACO, TEX. (AP) — Students do you have trouble staying awake during boring lectures? Then listen to this from Dr. C. G. Strickland of Baylor University's school of education.

"When the teacher starts lecturing, write down the first word he says beginning with the letter 'A.' Then listen for a word starting with 'B' and write it down.

"If by the end of the class you still haven't reached 'Z,' you lose the game."

New Eye Glass Expected to Aid Air Force Flyers

AP News Features
SAN ANTONIO, TEX. — For the airman who wears spectacles, a new type of eye glass for night flying has been developed.

The air force plans to adopt it for many World War II pilots, recalled to duty, who no longer can meet the strict eye standards established for young air cadets.

Civil airlines are interested too, because they've recently had to grant certificates to older, experienced pilots whose night vision isn't as sharp as it used to be.

Lt. Wayne E. Gully, a young optical researcher at the air force school of aviation medicine at nearby Randolph field, designed jumbo-size spectacles of clear glass that fit into standard air force sunglasses frames and cover the pilot's whole range of vision.

He coated the lenses with magnesium fluoride, a substance used on costly camera lenses to reduce the loss of light by reflection. Each face of an ordinary lens reflects about 4 per cent of the light it should transmit.

Round-Up Time on the Highway

OFFICER D. R. SHELDON spied this bull wandering down the highway in Los Angeles, borrowed several ropes from nearby residences, gave chase afoot through neighbors' yards and strawberry patches, and finally lassoed the animal as it ran across the highway again. The bull was tied to a pole where it awaited its owner, Luigi Benedetti, to come to claim it.

$20,000 Woodpile — Maybe

"PROSPECTED" by Helen Reed. This woodpile is believed to contain $20,000 worth of gold. It's flooring torn up from the Schaeffer Pen company's gold nib department when the Ft. Madison, Ia., firm moved into a new factory. The pen makers believe the 10,000 square feet of boards contain that much gold dust, dropped for 32 years during grinding of 14-carat gold pen points and trimmings. The wood will be burned and the gold refined from the ashes.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"YOUR HAIR looks as though it's been in the rein, deer," a campus Caribou told Sheedy. "If you want to horn in on the sororities, it might behoof a man of your ilk to try Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes moose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now no girl wonders whether he's man or moose!

If your moose is cooked by unruly hair, collect a little doe and take a taxi-dermist to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hair at the barber shop so your deer won't think you've let herd down. (What she'll say will be moose-ic to your ears!)

ACCEPTING A PLAQUE FOR 25 years of "meritorious service to college baseball" is Iowa coach Otto Vogel (left) between games of the doubleheader with Michigan State last Saturday. Making the presentation on behalf of the American Association of Baseball Coaches is Spartan coach John Kob. The Hawkeyes split the doubleheader, winning the opener, 4-1, and dropping the second, 1-0.

Hawks Split Twin Bill

Ed Lindsey, Iowa righthander, gave up only one hit Saturday against Michigan State, but lost, 1-0, as the Hawkeyes split a doubleheader with the Spartans. Big Ed was within two outs of a no-hit, no-run game in the seventh inning of the second game when first baseman Moose Ciolek drove a triple deep to right field. Lindsey then got Dick Moser to Wheeler also set a meet record.

Gardner's discus toss of 154 feet, 5 1/2 inches broke Cecil Mau's SUI record of 153 feet, 3 1/2 inches set in 1927.

Wheeler's new Iowa mark came in the mile when he was timed in 4:18.1. The old record was 4:25.9 by Leo Campisi during the 1933 season.

Scott got into the record book in the quarter-mile. He beat the old record of 49.3 seconds with his time of 48.8 seconds.

Scott, Chuck Boylan, Stan Levinson and LeRoy Ebert teamed to set a new record in the mile relay with a time of 3:18.8. Wisconsin's 1948 team held the old record of 3:19.8.

Ira Murchison was the only other double winner besides Wheeler. The Iowa freshman won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

9th Net Win for Iowa

The Iowa tennis team moved into the role as contender for the Big Ten title Saturday by beating Bradley 9-0, for its ninth straight victory of the season.

The win boosted Iowa's two-season victory streak to 13 and kept the Hawkeyes undefeated during 16 matches during the 1951 and 1952 seasons.

Bob Richards and Norman Barnes, Iowa's one-two combination, continued to show top form. Richards whipped Dave Markin, 6-1, 6-3, and Barnes topped Dave Muir, 6-2, 6-3.

Bruce Higley, Iowa's No. 3 player, stopped Tom Regan, 6-0, 6-4, and Roger Kroth the No. 4 singles match from Don DeLong by 6-4, 6-3 scores. Dusty Rice defeated Bradley's No. 5 player, Wendell Childs, 6-0, 6-0.

Iowa's last singles man, Dave Van Ginckel, took his match, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, from Steve Steinke.

Robb Quits As NL Umpire

Action Follows Pushing Scene 2 Weeks Ago

CINCINNATI (AP) — Umpire Scotty Robb, who was accused of pushing manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cards during a game here April 22, resigned Monday.

In a short letter to Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, Robb wrote:

"Please accept this as my resignation from your umpiring staff, effective as of today."

Giles, in a statement, said: "Robb is a splendid gentleman and I told him we would like him to continue as a member of the staff if he felt he could work efficiently. Since he feels there is an existing situation which prevents this, we accept his resignation.

"Anything further on this matter must come from Robb. It is a closed matter with the league office."

Stanky Surprised

In St. Louis, Stanky was greatly surprised by Robb's decision. "I'm very, very sorry to hear that," Stanky said. "I always regarded Scotty Robb as a close friend. We were as close as a player and an umpire can get in baseball, and the incident between us didn't affect that friendship.

"He was a fine umpire," Stanky added, "and a fine fellow — on and off the field."

Giles, at a hearing following the argument with Stanky, disciplined Robb and fined him an undisclosed amount. Stanky was fined $50, and Solly Hemus, St. Louis shortstop who started the rumpus by tossing his bat away when he was called out on strikes, was fined $25.

Robb came to the National League from the International league in August, 1947.

'A Closed Book'

"My resignation as a National League umpire speaks for itself," said Robb, when reached several hours after Giles had announced acceptance of the resignation. He refused to elaborate on the situation.

"There is absolutely nothing more I will say. As far as I'm concerned the matter is a closed book," Robb said.

Robb refused to state whether his resignation was caused as a result of his having been fined by Giles following the dispute with Stanky.

The umpire owns a commercial printing establishment in his home town of Cedar Grove, N.J.

He said that his future plans are indefinite.

Sugar Ray, Maxim Agree to Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champ Sugar Ray Robinson and light heavyweight champ Joey Maxim finally were matched Monday in a 15-round fight for Maxim's title Monday, June 23, at Yankee Stadium.

After months of hemming and having over terms while Robinson's resistance to the bout was being worn down, the attractive match of two champs was announced by Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing club. Norris also revealed there was a return bout clause, calling for another fight within 90 days if Robinson won the title.

The actual contract signing will take place today or Wednesday when Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, returns from a trip to Memphis.

'Will Do Million'

Norris estimated the first big bout of the New York summer schedule will draw "from $500,000 up" and managers Jack Kearns (Maxim) and George Gainford (Robinson) smilingly predicted "it will do a million." No decision was made on television plans for the bout. Theater TV, movies and live TV probably will do some lively bidding for the rights.

Robinson shied away from the match for weeks, at least in public statements, while Gainford and Kearns continued to bat the breeze with Norris, hoping for the best.

No Difficulties

No difficulties were expected in connection with Robinson's middleweight title. He probably

Veteran Dawson Decisions Webb

CHICAGO (AP) — Freddy Dawson of Chicago, lightweight veteran of 97 pro fights, had too much experience for 21-year-old Norman Webb of Detroit Monday night and won a unanimous eight round decision at Rainbow arena. Dawson, 140, managed to connect with solid rights several times during the slow first five rounds, but Webb shook off the blows without much effect.

The pace picked up in the last three rounds. Webb, 139, threw his best punch in the eighth—a right to Dawson's chin that jolted him.

Homer, Triple Wreck Minner's 4-Hitter, Giants Dip Cubs, 3-2

By JIM COOKE

Iowa's 75-man football squad opened its final week of spring practice with an hour-long drill here Monday afternoon. The 20 spring practice sessions will be climaxed by an intrasquad game between the "Whites" and the "Blacks" at the stadium Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

Yesterday's practice was featured by a half-hour scrimmage. Head coach Forest Evashevski took personal charge of his black squad for passing and running offense from both the single wing and T formation.

Evashevski, beginning his first year as head Hawkeye football coach, singled out four men for praise after Monday's drill. Those coming in for special mention were George "Dusty" Rice, Bill Fenton, Dan McBride, and Andy Houg.

Rice, who has been dividing his time this spring between football and tennis, has looked good with his running, passing and pass receiving from the left-halfback post.

Fenton and McBride have been the top two offensive ends on Evashevski's No. 1 offensive unit since practice first began on April 15.

Houg, who earned a letter last season as an end, has been shifted to an offensive guard spot in the spring drills. He continues at end on defense.

Evashevski has nothing but praise for Houg, a sophomore from St. Ansgar. "We've got two excellent ends in Fenton and McBride, but Houg is just too good a football player to keep off that first team," said the former Michigan great after Monday's practice.

Castoffs Continue To Shine for Nats, Beat Browns, 13-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Players obtained by Washington in recent trades continued to sparkle Monday night as the Senators mauled the St. Louis Browns, 13 to 1.

Frank Shea, from the Yankees, permitted only four hits before retiring in the eighth inning with a cramped finger. Archie Wilson, another former Yankee, led the Senators' 15-hit attack with a double and two singles and batted in five runs.

Wilson and Jackie Jensen, also from the Yankees, and Jim Busby from the Chicago White Sox, all continued to shine. Jensen slammed a double and single, while Busby got two singles.

The Senators routed Ned Garver with seven runs in the first two innings to deal him a second loss. He had won two. Washington continued its assault on Cliff Fanning to win its fourth straight game while handing the Browns a fifth successive defeat.

Too Many Hits

Bob (Moose) Ciolek hit a triple to spoil Ed Lindsey's one-hit game Saturday, but was thrown out Saturday night by the local constabulary for trying to hit another one in the Hawks' Nest tavern.

Ciolek was arrested for fighting at the tavern, and was fined $5 for the rhubarb.

Runners Upset Badgers

Coach Francis Cretzmeier's track team opened its outdoor dual season Saturday by upsetting Wisconsin, 73-59, at Madison.

It was the first time an Iowa track team had beaten the Badgers in an outdoor meet. Wisconsin had won all eight previous outdoor matches. Saturday's victory also avenged a 61-2/3 to 52-1/3 defeat Wisconsin handed Iowa during the 1952 indoor season.

Clyde Gardner and Ted Wheeler set new Iowa records and Gary Scott and the Hawkeye mile relay team established new meet marks against the Badgers.

Tribe Nears 1st On 10th Inning Win over Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Avila's homer was followed immediately by a pair of triples and a single as the Cleveland Indians staged a three-run uprising in the 10th inning Monday to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 4-2, and move to within a game of the American League's top place.

The Indians pulled into a 1-1 tie against lefty Mel Parnell in the eighth inning.

Kinder had two out and the bases empty in the 10th when Avila belted into the left field screen. Then Al Rosen lashed a three-bagger off the center field wall and Ellis Kinder replaced Parnell, Ray Boone connected for a triple into right-center to score Rosen and then romped home as Dale Mitchell beat out an infield dribbler for a single.

Pafko Gets 7th Home Run as Bums Win, 5-1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Andy Pafko held to his deadly home run pace by sending a 400-foot line drive over left field fence in the fifth inning to help the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 5-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Monday. Rain halted the game at the end of eight innings.

The home run was Pafko's seventh of the season and maintained him as the top circuit clobberer in the National league.

Ralph Branca hung up his second victory against one loss as he held the Pirates to four hits and fanned seven batters.

Mothers Describe Their Problems With Handicapped

Three Iowa mothers told attendees at the first statewide meeting for parents of handicapped children at SUU Monday how they solved problems resulting when they discovered that their own children were handicapped.

The mothers — Mrs. O. A. Rife, of Anamosa, Mrs. Oliver Kolstoe of Iowa City and Mrs. George A. Buechler of Coralville — appeared on a panel with Dr. Leslie B. Hohman, Duke university psychiatrist who addressed the group earlier.

Attending the one-day meet were some 125 parents of handicapped children, professional workers and university students interested in working with the handicapped.

The meeting was sponsored by the Iowa City Parents Club for Handicapped Children and the Iowa Hospital-School for Severely Handicapped Children.

The three mothers discussed the shock and the emotional problems that come with realization that a child is handicapped, and told how they had helped their children to achieve the greatest degree of accomplishment possible.

Local Jaycees Win 5 Awards For Projects

The Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce was presented with four first place trophies at the state Jaycee convention in Davenport Saturday night.

The awards were won in the divisions of Christmas activities, community welfare fund drives, traffic safety and sports activities. The local group also won second in the extension division for starting a Jaycee chapter at Marengo.

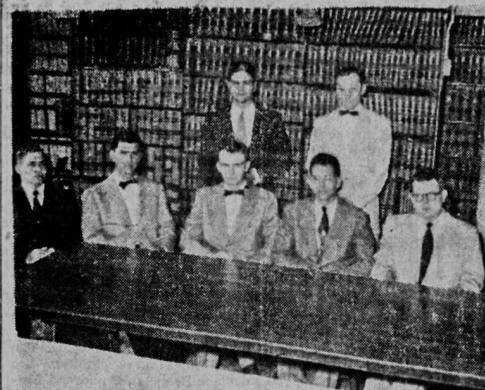

Ten projects were entered in the judging by the Iowa City chapter. The Christmas activities included a party for patients at the Iowa Hospital School for the education and treatment of physically handicapped children, collecting of food, repairing of toys and distribution of baskets for needy families, and the home decoration contest.

The trophy-winning welfare fund drive was the porch light campaign for the March of Dimes made in February.

The traffic safety project is the auto inspection safety lane conducted in the summer and the sports activities are the local group's softball and bowling teams and a golf tournament.

Iowa Assessor Says Uniformity Vital in Appraisals

Approximately 50 persons attending a luncheon given by the Iowa City Real Estate Association Monday heard Bert L. Zuver, Des Moines city assessor, call uniformity the most "vital" thing to be achieved in appraising for taxation.

Calling the appraisal of property the basis for all taxation, Zuver pointed out that uniformity alone would not bring about a perfect tax system, but that correct values play an important part, too.

Stability is another major aim of a good assessment system. In fact, Zuver said, more than ordinary restraint against the pull of any fluctuating situations must be used.

In referring to a period of rising prices such as exists today Zuver called it abnormal. "If possible," he said, "stability of assessments from year to year is preferable to frequent changes."

"The income for city revenue should not be predicted on the ebb and flow of real estate prices," Zuver concluded.

The luncheon concluded a successful campaign by the Real Estate Association to have the real estate assessments in Iowa City revalued.

The contract for the revaluation of the city's property has been awarded to the Clemenshaw company of Cleveland, Ohio.

Rites to Be Today For Jacob Miller, SUI Janitor 29 Years

Funeral services for Jacob B. Miller, 72, janitor at the SUI Engineering building, will be held at 2 p.m. today at the Oathout funeral chapel. He died at 2:45 a.m. Sunday at Mercy hospital.

Mr. Miller had been employed by the grounds and building department of SUI since 1923.

He was born Sept. 8, 1879 in Shipshewana, Ind., the son of Benjamin and Catherine Hostetler Miller.

Mr. Miller entered the Spanish-American war at the age of 21 and served in the Philippine Islands. He lived in Hydro, Okla., when he returned from service.

He married Esther Kreider and the couple made their home at Hydro until 1913 when they moved to Kalona. They moved to Iowa City in 1923.

He is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mrs. Lewis Maske of Downey, Mrs. Oatis Mayberry of Eureka, Calif., Mrs. Roy Peire of Farmersburg, Mrs. Albert Vedepo of Iowa City.

Two sons, Ted of St. Peter, Minn., and Dale of North Liberty; 19 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Katie Yoder of Garnett, Kans.; two brothers, Newt of Hydro, Okla., and William of Topeka, Ind., also survive.

The Rev. A. C. Proehl will officiate at the services and burial will be in Memory gardens.

Federal Board Lifts Restrictions on Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal reserve board, noting a slackening of inflationary pressures, Monday suspended its program for voluntary restraints on loans and other credit.

But the board ordered the program kept on a standby basis so the curbs can be imposed again if needed.

A spokesman said the danger of inflation has eased, at least for the time being, and that this prompted the board's decision to abandon the 13-month old program.

This official added that the volunteer program, calling for widespread cooperation among bankers and others in withholding loans, could be fair and effective only in a period of a "critical inflationary emergency."

A reserve board spokesman said the suspension of voluntary controls is no sign that action is also imminent on compulsory credit regulations on installment buying, called regulation "W."

Some board members have said they are not in favor of lifting "W" now. Others have said the board will be ready to suspend "W" after it sees what congress does to its control powers — barring changes in the picture by then.

Engineers Enter Papers in Contest

Three SUI electrical engineering students have entered papers in a contest sponsored by the Cedar Rapids section of the Institute of Radio Engineers to be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Cedar Rapids.

They are Warren Essler, E4, Davenport; Francis Long, E3, Oxford, and Bernard Schiffman, E3, New York city.

Essler's paper is entitled "Sinusoidal Pulsed Generator."

Giant Banana Split Kicks Off Dairy Month

DES MOINES (AP) — A banana split ice cream sundae about three feet long by a foot wide and high got a lot of attention in the governor's office Monday.

The huge delicacy was the feature of an Iowa dairy industry sponsored dairy products snack served to about 125 state department heads and others. The sundae was made of four gallons of ice cream and several pounds of bananas, plus other dressings.

The dairy industry put on the feed as the kickoff event of the annual "June dairy month" in which sales of dairy products are promoted. Joining in sponsoring the event were half a dozen organizations representing producers, processors and distributors.

In addition to the sundae, which went down fast, the serving included 18 pounds of various types of cheese and about 125 small paper cups of ice cream.

Disciplinary Action To 'Skip' Drinkers

RED OAK (AP) — An investigation into "skip trip" drinking on the part of some members of the senior class last week has been completed and disciplinary action taken, School Supt. E. B. Lynch said Monday.

He declined to say what discipline was imposed or who were the students involved.

"It's a closed incident and the sooner it's forgotten the better," said Lynch.

The school board held two meetings on the subject, its president, Merrill Olson, said. He also declined comment. The board secretary said no mention of the episode was made in official records.

Some students said that at a class meeting, school officials said that those involved in the skip trip incidents could not attend the annual senior-junior prom later this month and would have to attend classes the final week of school, contrary to senior custom.

2 Get 30 Days Each In Attempted Gas Theft

Fred Knowing, 25, and Howard D. Suiter, 17, both of Iowa City, were sentenced in police court Monday to 30 days each in the Johnson county jail on charges of injuring or tampering with a motor vehicle.

The jail sentences were in lieu of fines of $102.50 each. The charges grew out of a semi-truck trailer fire here early Saturday.

Authorities said charges of larceny in the night time still are pending against the pair and probably will be handled in district court.

The two had attempted to siphon gasoline from a truck in the yards of Scott's Transportation service on S. Linn st., police said.

A fire occurred while Knowing and Suiter were at the scene, apparently caused by a match or cigarette thrown on the ground near some spilled gasoline, authorities said.

The truck and the trailer were extensively damaged by the fire, they said.

The pair were tracked down from a description of a car seen near the truck before the fire occurred. Knowing and Suiter had been driving the car Friday night and early Saturday, police said.

Authorities said Knowing formerly had been employed by the transportation firm.
