

Russia Publicly Protests U.S. Military Aid To Iran

Declares Oil-Rich Neighbor Violating 1921 Soviet Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia, in a stiff note, has protested Iran's acceptance of American military aid and warned that it works against good relations with Moscow.

The note was delivered by foreign minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to the Iranian ambassador here Thursday. It charged that by taking American military aid Iran had violated the Soviet-Iranian treaty of 1921.

The Soviet note was published in all leading newspapers Thursday.

Under U. S. Control It declared that "by this token the Iranian army loses its character as a national army of an independent sovereign state" and said acceptance of the aid "is putting the Iranian army under the control of the United States government."

Russia accused Iran, her neighbor to the south, of cooperating with the U. S. "in the implementation of the latter's aggressive plans directed against the Soviet Union."

Iran To Help It came just four weeks after the U. S. announced resumption of military aid to Iran. This aid had been cut off Jan. 14 when Iran refused to sign an agreement under the terms of the U. S. mutual security act. That act requires the recipient to pledge to help increase "the defensive strength of the free world."

The Russian note said that "these actions of the Iranian government cannot be viewed in any other way but as actions incompatible with the rules of good-neighborly relations."

House Makes Aid Plan Cut Of $1.6 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house cut $1,626,200,000 from President Truman's foreign aid program in a series of votes Thursday.

The decision meant that house supporters of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio had won a round in their fight for sizeable reductions. Rep. John Vorys (R-Ohio), a Taft backer, led in the demand for cuts. Supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft's rival for the GOP presidential nomination, came out for smaller reductions.

The reductions are tentative, since they will be subject to roll call votes when final action on the bill is taken.

The President has asked for $7.9 billion to give direct military aid and economic assistance to countries aligned with the United States against the threat of Communist aggression.

By a standing vote of 163 to 116, the house approved a total cut of $797.2 million from funds earmarked for economic aid to Europe.

A total of $1,812,200,000 had been requested by the administration for this purpose during the next fiscal year. The house foreign affairs committee lopped off $181.9 million and a second big cut of $615.3 million was made on the floor.

Direct military aid to Europe was tentatively approved at the figure of $3.316 billion. This was the amount recommended by the committee. It is $829 million less than the President requested.

The economic program for Europe now stands tentatively at $1,022 billion — the same figure voted last year. Most of this will be for "defense support" funds to provide raw materials to prime Europe's war industries. Some direct economic support is included for Austria, Yugoslavia and Spain.

The Democratic leadership moved to adjourn the house and five times the Republicans defeated the motion. Finally, in mid-evening, Republican leader Joseph Martin called off the session, which had lasted 10 hours.

14 'Raiders' Put On Probation

John Whinery Resigns Post In Dentistry

Dr. John G. Whinery, assistant professor and acting head of dental surgery and anesthesia of the SUI college of dentistry resigned effective June 30 to enter private practice in Amarillo, Tex.

Whinery has been with the department since 1948 and has been active head since Dr. Ralph A. Fenton retired in July, 1950.

He is a native of Iowa City and received his B.S. degree from SUI in 1943 and a doctor of dental surgery degree in 1944. He interned in oral surgery during 1944-45, and was a lieutenant junior grade with the U.S. dental corps from 1945-47.

Following his discharge from naval service, Whinery received an M.S. degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1948. He is a member of the American Society of Oral Surgeons, American Dental Association, American Academy of Oral Pathology, and is secretary of the Iowa Society of Oral Surgeons.

Truman Declares Nobody Can Remove His Seizure Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman declared Thursday that nobody — neither congress nor the courts — can take away from the president his power to seize industry in an emergency.

Yet he readily agreed that if the supreme court rules his steel industry seizure is illegal, he will promptly restore the plants to their private owners. He will turn the mills back and see what happens, he said.

He promised that the nation's railroads, having reached a wage settlement Wednesday after 21 months in federal hands, will be returned to private management as quickly as papers can be signed.

Truman asserted his claim to inherent seizure power in the strongest terms he has used to date. He implied at his news conference that he would veto any act of congress seeking to outlaw the seizure technique.

Questions fired from every angle failed to reconcile fully the seeming conflict between his claim to inviolable power and his ready promise to bow to a possible adverse ruling by the supreme court, now studying the case.

The President said he did not believe the questions of constitutionality were before the court, and he didn't expect the court to declare the seizure illegal.

The president has the power to seize, he stated, and they cannot take it away. Who is "they," congress or the courts? he was asked. Truman replied that nobody — and he emphasized nobody — can take the power away because it is inherent in the constitution, because the chief executive has the responsibility to see that the national welfare is met.

Hippchen to Take Iowan Job

GEN. MATTHEW RIDGWAY told joint session of congress Thursday that there is a possibility of the Reds using germ warfare against UN troops in Korea.

Reds May Use Gas, Germs In Korea, Ridgway Warns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told congress Thursday Communist charges that the Allies used gas and germ warfare in Korea should serve as a "monumental warning" of deadly danger to the free world.

In a voice harsh with scorn, Ridgway denounced the Communist propaganda trumpeting as "false in their entirety."

And without saying so explicitly, the four-star general clearly implied that the non-Communist world must be on guard against the Reds' technique of charging others with crimes they plan to commit.

Addresses Joint Session Addressing a crowded joint meeting of the senate and house — with the scene broadcast from coast to coast by television cameras — Ridgway told his listeners: "In the whole black record of false propaganda, these charges should stand out as a monumental warning to the American people and the free world — a warning as menacing and as urgent as a forest fire bearing down upon a wooden village."

"The extent to which Communist leaders have gone in fabricating, disseminating and persistently pursuing these false charges should impress upon the brains of those who yet fail or refuse to see the purpose of communism, the deadly danger with which it confronts us and the free world."

Ridgway backs Lovett Ridgway's warning underlined a recent statement by Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett that the Communists may be seeking to build a defense for planned crimes by first accusing others of doing the same thing.

The former Far East commander, who led UN forces in turning the tide of battle at the height of the Chinese Communist offensive in Korea in the winter of 1950-51, received a warm ovation as he entered the house chamber. He spoke from the same rostrum where his predecessor, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, delivered his historic farewell address to congress a year ago.

Council Delays Action

Final decision on matters of conflicting jurisdiction between the student council and its member groups won't be decided until sometime next fall, following action at a special meeting of the council Thursday afternoon.

The council appointed a 15-man committee to consider and make recommendations on the problem of instruction and recall of council delegates.

Temporarily Ends Battle Appointment of the committee temporarily ended a short-lived battle between the student council and several member groups, led by the Quadrangle, over the two issues.

The first meeting of the new committee is expected to be held May 31, chairman George Feiwel, L3, Chicago, said. No report of the committee findings is expected to be presented to the student council until next fall, since Thursday's meeting was the final one this semester.

The conflict over the instruction and recall problem lies in the fact that the constitution of the student council and the constitutions of some of the member groups provide for different methods of recalling delegates.

All constitutions, however, were originally approved by the office of student affairs and the committee on student life, to whom the council and most of its member groups are responsible.

Compromise Amendment The job of the new committee will be to agree on a compromise amendment acceptable to all the groups involved — an amendment which will have to be incorporated into the constitutions of all the organizations.

The situation was clarified by a statement from Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce in a letter to council president Peter Van Metre, L3, Waterloo.

"Housing councils and other student governing groups, including the student council, are directly responsible to the university on student life and administratively responsible to the office of student affairs with the exception of the central party committee and student union board, both of which are administratively responsible to Union management."

"In the same vein, the university has always proceeded with the understanding that the student council is responsible to the university on student life and administratively responsible to the office of student affairs with the exception of the central party committee and student union board, both of which are administratively responsible to Union management."

"The situation was clarified by a statement from Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce in a letter to council president Peter Van Metre, L3, Waterloo."

International Student Center To Open; Money Still Needed

International house, new foreign student center at the corner of Capitol and Market sts., is nearly ready for occupancy. But with just the barest necessities installed, it needs funds.

The house will open next week, and a house warming party will be held about commencement time.

A grant of $375 from the student council has almost been exhausted in the purchase of coffee-making equipment, dishes, silver, drapes, a vacuum cleaner, towels, soap and mops.

The center is in immediate need of an ice-box and of funds for the day to day expenses it expects to incur.

The administration allocated a sum of $200 solely for repairs and alterations. Money from this fund has been used to purchase paints, polish and other materials for refurbishing the house.

Pledges from fraternities and sororities on the campus volunteered their help for the job of cleaning and painting.

Surplus furniture and equipment have been contributed by the university. The center has thus obtained chairs, tables, desks, rugs, lamps, davenport and a radio.

The Manse, married students cooperative housing unit on Market st., has contributed a ping-pong table.

The center will welcome gifts of pictures and phonograph records, current issues of popular magazines, and anything else of a similar nature. Gifts may be made at the office of student affairs.

SUI Officials Still Checking May 13 Incident

Fourteen students have been placed on conduct probation for their "active participation" in the May 13 raid on SUI women's housing units, university officials announced Thursday.

Officials declined to give the names of the students or to say whether both men and women students were involved, but it was learned both had been questioned.

Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce said the investigation is continuing, but gave no indication of what further action would be forthcoming.

WASHINGTON (FRIDAY) (AP) — Agreement in principle on a settlement of the 50-day strike of 30,000 Western Union telegraph company workers was reported early today.

Persons attending a prolonged closed session said the parties had started drafting the exact terms of a final settlement and predicted the job would be finished sometime before dawn today.

None of the participants — federal mediators or company and union representatives — was willing to talk for the record, and no details of the agreement were disclosed.

An end to the dispute would mark the finish of the first nationwide Western Union strike in 33 years.

Pantie Raiders Provoke Anger of Nation's Cops

Police and professional patience began to wear as thin as the coed panties being snatched by collegiate roisterers Thursday.

Oklahoma's public safety commissioner Dixie Gilmer laid the law down: "If anyone thinks riot is going to run rampant in Oklahoma they have another think coming."

Gilmer was one of many peace officers irked as students continued a widening series of midnight forays against girls' dormitories on campuses scattered throughout the country. Ostensibly, the boys wanted to scare a few screams out of the not-too-frightened coeds and carry off lingerie.

Students Throw Eggs But some 2,000 male students got out of hand at Norman, Okla., and the sortie ended in a wild egg-throwing disturbance. Police from Shawnee, Seminole and Pauls Valley assisted by 15 cars of state troopers were hard put to quell the riot. A dozen students were arrested.

Gilmer said if his troops were called out again he would file charges of inciting a riot against the disturbance leaders. The charge carries a possible sentence of two to 20 years in prison.

He Likes Baseball and Raspberry Pie

But Hancher Doesn't Care For Picnics

By PHIL O'CONNOR

Nearly every school day morning at about 8:30, a scholarly looking gentleman in a gray suit leaves his home at 102 Church st. and begins walking down Clinton st. towards Old Capitol six blocks away.

This is your university president — Virgil M. Hancher. He arose at 6:30 this particular morning — just as he does every school morning. Before breakfast, he went into his study and worked on a speech for an educational conference to be held this month.

Morning Activities Upon arriving at his office, he read correspondence and began dictation from 8:30-9:30 a.m. Then he gave an opening speech for a history conference which was beginning at SUJ. After the speech, he returned to his office to finish dictating letters and make several phone calls.

At 10:30 a.m., Provost Harvey H. Davis met with the president and discussed new faculty appointments. An air force inspection team called on the president at 11:30, and he lunched with them at noon. About 1:30 p.m., Registrar Ted McCarrel came to confer with Mr. Hancher.

He was followed at half-hour intervals by Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism, and Prof. Frank R. Kennedy of the college of law and president of the University council. At 3 p.m., President Hancher met with Fred W. Ambrose, SUJ business manager, concerning items to be considered at the next meeting of the state board of education.

Administrative Dean Allin W. Dakin arrived at 3:30 p.m., and discussed budget matters with the president. From 4:30-5:20 p.m., Mr. Hancher signed more mail, dictated letters and made phone calls.

Depart for Home President Hancher departed for home at 5:30 — walking the six blocks, as usual. At 6:30 p.m., he was a guest and speaker at the annual Finkbine dinner at the Iowa Memorial Union. He stayed around and guests until about 10 p.m.

As you can see, much of Mr. Hancher's working day is spent in the presidential office in the southeast corner of Old Capitol. Many of the decisions that affect the SUJ student body, faculty and the whole state are made in this walnut paneled room with the 20-foot ceilings.

His Office A globe-shaped microphone, the size of a small fan, stands on top of his desk. Directly behind his desk is the official presidential calendar on which all future lectures, concerts, athletic events and campus activities are logged.

A long bookcase containing university catalogues from as far back as 1885 blankets the south wall of his office. Conservative grays are his working clothes, but to break from the usual ritual and relax a bit, he wears sport clothes on weekends. On Saturdays, he often wears them to the office.

The president enjoys wearing a checked sport coat which he bought for his son in Canada last summer. Virgil Jr., a liberal arts junior at SUJ and a member of the student council, has accused his father of buying it a little large so that he could wear it himself.

Favorite Hat Mrs. Hancher said that her husband also has a favorite brown hat he insists on wearing. She has been "trying to have him get rid of it for years."

Since Virgil Jr. has returned (he attended Harvard college last year), Mrs. Hancher has had to mark all the men's shirts in the house, because both son and father wear the same shirt size. Like all university presidents, Mr. Hancher must do a great deal of traveling. To some presidents this duty becomes a chore, but he has cultivated an interest in travel and enjoys visiting historical places.

He doesn't collect souvenirs on his trips and must have pressure placed on him by his wife before he will buy gifts for the family on a distant trip.

Family Arguments When the president and his wife have an argument, he usually puts on his hat and coat and goes for a walk. He said that some days he has gone for more than one such walk. Mrs. Hancher says that she "is the explosive, argumentative type, and my husband isn't."

She said, "While he's out walking, I sit at home and fume about the things I'll say when he gets back, but after awhile, I begin to worry about him and cool off." The Hanchers have a policy of never letting the sun set on a family argument.

The president is an excellent conversationalist and because of his wide background is able to talk interestingly to people in all fields. His sense of humor soon converts nearly all who meet him.

Center of Activity Mrs. Hancher says that she must often entertain at social events which the president is not able to get to until after the event has started. She says that her nervousness and uneasiness disappears as soon as the president arrives, because he soon takes over as the center of activity with his jokes and conversation.

A 1951 gray Buick four-door is the Hancher family car. Mr. Hancher enjoys driving and goes about 60-65 miles per hour on the open road.

President Hancher enjoys all types of athletics—as a spectator. He follows SUJ teams closely and tries to attend as many home football and basketball games as his busy schedule will allow.

Follows Baseball He watches the baseball standings, but hasn't any special team. Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is his central baseball interest.

When Mr. Hancher was practicing law in Chicago and lived at Evanston, Ill., he had to travel 20 miles to reach a golf course. He played the game religiously then, but at SUJ it's so difficult for him to know when his time's going to be free that he seldom visits a course that's only a few blocks distant.

PRES. HANCHER at a Mother's day tea. From left, Mrs. I. S. Lodwick, Ottumwa; Mrs. Hancher; Peggie Lutz, A3, Des Moines, representing Mortar board, and the president.

He said that his wife chides him for not playing golf with the comment that "the only reason you don't play here is because it is too easy to get to a course."

Walks Are His Exercise President Hancher limits his exercise to walking, and nearly always walks to university buildings on the west side of the river. He doesn't work in the garden and makes no attempt at being a handyman.

Mr. Hancher enjoys trips to the wilds of northern Minnesota where life is still rather primitive. He hikes through the wilderness and catches up on reading in the quiet atmosphere.

He doesn't particularly care for picnics, because, in his wife's words, "he doesn't like to eat with the ants." Mr. Hancher would rather eat the food inside and then go out to enjoy the climate.

The Hanchers often eat at home with a background of symphony music, and frequently at dinner listen to WSUI dinner hour music. If they eat late, Mrs. Hancher puts a long-playing symphony record on the phonograph.

Enjoys Late Snacks Mr. Hancher enjoys eating a late snack before going to bed. This is usually a dish of red raspberry pie with ice cream.

Because of the president's many luncheon and dinner engagements, the whole family seldom gets to eat together. After lunch, Mr. Hancher usually lies down and sleeps about 10 minutes. Mrs. Hancher said that her husband is able to drop right off to sleep, and it must be a Hancher family trait, because Virgil Jr. has the same capacity.

The president often combines his brief noon rest with a sun tan application by lying down on one of the home's two sun decks. Dictaphone in Den Mr. Hancher's den is a comfortable looking, 15-foot square room. His desk is situated near the south windows, and at one end of it is a dictaphone which is often used by him early in the morning to get a head start on his day's work or on weekends.

THE PRESIDENT at his desk in Old Capitol, using the dictaphone. He arrives at his office at 8:30 a.m., after a six-block walk from home.

and occasionally is called upon to give the Sunday sermon when the pastor is out of town. President Hancher enjoys public speaking, and is in constant demand. He puts hours of time into constructing and perfecting important speeches, such as the one he gave at the Carnegie foundation conference for educators at Skytop, Penn., early this month.

Reading Varies Mr. Hancher's reading covers an immense range, taking him from Plato, to Pickwick Papers to pluvionium. Recently, his reading has become centered on theology and political lines. Mystery stories by Dorothy Sayers is his favorite type of light reading. He deplores the popular women's magazines and best selling novels which Mrs. Hancher reads.

Representative books he has read in the last year are: "God Was in Christ" Baillie (Lent); "This American People," Johnson; "The Caine Mutiny," Woolfs; "Around the Bend," Neville Shute.

"The Bride of Newgate," John Dickson Carr; "French Literature and Its Masters," Sainsbury; "The Great Rehearsal," Van Doren; "John Maynard Keynes," Harold.

He is currently reading "The Works of Plato," Modern Library volume.

Favorite Radio Shows Symphonies, Groucho Marx's show and "The Halls of Ivy" are the president's favorite radio programs.

The president's wife, Susan, a graduate of Northwestern university and was married to the president in 1928. She likes to cook, and has taught her daughter Mary, a senior at University high school, how to bake cakes and cookies.

Mrs. Hancher is active in church work. Sewing is one of her main pastimes. She says that the Hancher family doesn't live as formally as many people think. If the president has an important speech in the evening, he just goes upstairs, takes a nap and eats dinner off a tray in his den.

Clarification Asked In Suit by Former Night Club Owner

DES MOINES (AP) — A request by the defendant for more specific information was filed with the clerk of Polk county district court Wednesday in the damage action of Al (Babe) Bisignano against P. L. (Pinkie) George.

Bisignano, a former Des Moines night club owner, is asking $80,000 damages to his reputation and business for statements he alleges George, well known sports promoter, made in an article and orally to various unnamed persons.

Attorneys for George want the court to require Bisignano to provide more specific information so they can prepare their defense. Their petition asserts that while Bisignano attached a copy of the article by George to his petition, a reading of the article fails to disclose any mention of Bisignano.

"We claim therefore," said George's lawyer, "that it is pretty superfluous on the part of the plaintiff (Bisignano) to say that he was meant and that, actually, it is he who is naming himself in connection with the article and not George, who didn't mention any name in it."

The article referred to noted that wrestling and boxing were often targets for racketeer infiltration attempts and said "Des Moines had been free from this so far." It went on to say that "if the organization (known as the Big Six)" obtained entry here in sports promotion, you can bet "that it would result in attempts to circumvent state liquor and gambling laws.

The request for particulars also asks Bisignano to name the persons to whom George is alleged to have spoken of him and to state whether or not he (Bisignano) has ever had an interest in a gambling establishment or where liquor was sold.

Iron Works Still Makes Flatirons

BOYERTOWN, PA. (AP) — One of the oldest iron works in the country still is turning out flatirons for faraway places. The Colebrookdale Iron Co. was founded in the early 1700's and the blacksmith shop that is still used was one of the original buildings. Until 1929 Colebrookdale's principal product was the old-fashioned iron that must be heated on top of the stove. With the introduction of electricity-heated irons Colebrookdale turned to other products.

But orders still abound for irons from women who live in parts of this country where there is no electrical service, and from many foreign countries. A boon to the flatiron business has been a recent fad to use the irons for door-steps, book ends and desk ornaments.

William B. Keely, head of the firm, recently emptied his warehouse of irons to fill orders from gift shops in New York and other cities. There the irons were painted black and decorated with Pennsylvania-Dutch symbols.

Iowa Must Wait For TV Priority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big cities now without a local television station will get first call in the processing of applications for new stations. No Iowa or Nebraska cities were listed on top priority. The federal communications commission, which will begin processing applications July 1, issued its priority list Thursday.

Cities without local TV service were listed in order of population according to the 1950 census and that is the way the applications will be processed, the commission said.

SUI'S PRESIDENT chats with two visiting army officers and Col. Walter F. Sevell, professor and head of military science, and tactics at SUJ. The visiting officers were at SUJ to inspect ROTC units.

Cooking Most Popular Job Of Russell House Women

By JO ANN PACKEY

The most popular house job at Russell house, cooperative dormitory, 3 E. Davenport, is cooking.

"Even those women who don't know how to cook enjoy learning and won't trade their cooking job for another," said Marge Rink, P3, Cedar Rapids, who is the proctor of Russell house. Other house jobs at Russell include cleaning and dishwashing.

The menus, for which the proctor orders the groceries, are made each week by one of the ten cooks who prepare the meals. If a certain dish is requested by a resident of Russell, she gives the suggestion to the cook assigned to making the menu or to the proctor.

There are six dinner cooks, three lunch cooks, and one breakfast cook. Three dinner cooks work together every other day and every third Sunday to prepare the dinner meal for the 24 women residents.

One cook prepares the dessert, another the meat and potatoes, and the third cook, the vegetables and salads. Every week the three cooks alternate and prepare a different part of the meal.

The dinner cooks are Joelle Wahl, N1, Council Bluffs; Norma Townsend, A4, Roanoke, Va.; Anne Saxton, A4, Clinton; Perry Cornwell, A2, Pompano Beach, Fla.; Kay Henning, N1, Decorah; Carolyn Hornbaker, A1, Bonaparte.

The lunch cooks are Lucille Bigalk, A4, Cresco; Sandy Blazek, A1, Marion; Kathy Haub, A3, Lohville. The breakfast cook is Carol Hansen, N2, Wesley.

"The recipes for the dishes that are served are the recipes of the cooks preparing them," said Miss Rink. "Usually, the recipes are from the cook's collection. It's not surprising to find that each cook already has her favorite collection of recipes."

This is the recipe that Norma Townsend, dessert cook this week, used Thursday night when she made pie.

Mrs. Kathleen Lenoach Rathjen, N3, Williamsburg, was elected secretary of the fifth district Student Nurses Association of Iowa at a meeting Tuesday at St. Luke's hospital, Cedar Rapids.

Joyce Lenz, of Mt. Vernon, a nurse at Mercy hospital, was named president of the association.

Other officers, nurses at Mercy hospital, Cedar Rapids, are: Marilyn Mahacek, vice-president, and Arlene Arp, treasurer.

3 tablespoons cold water
6 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
3 egg yolks
2 tablespoons milk
1 8-inch baked pastry shell

Meringue:
3 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Combine sugar, water, and the butter; heat until sugar dissolves. Add cornstarch blended with cold water; cook slowly until clear, about 8 minutes. Add lemon juice and peel; cook 2 minutes. Slowly add egg yolks beaten with milk; bring to boiling. Cool. Pour into cooled baked shell. Meringue: Beat egg whites stiff but not dry; add sugar gradually; add lemon juice at the last. Spread over cooled filling, sealing to edges of pastry. Brown in moderate oven (350°) 13 to 15 minutes.

SUI Musicum to Perform Little-Known Suite Tonight

The Collegium Musicum will present a 17th century musical selection in what may be its 20th century premiere as a part of the group's concert in North Music hall at 8 p.m. today.

Lawe's "Fantasia Suite in D Minor," composed in the 1600's, was not available for performance until Abram Plum, G. Oskaloosa, edited the score for modern use.

Three parts of J. S. Bach's "Musical Offering" will be played. The selection was improvised at the keyboard on a theme given by Frederick the Great.

The program will also include two cantatas by Dietrich Buxtehude, a Danish organist who lived in Germany, and two of the lesser-known works of Handel.

Members of the Collegium Musicum are Prof. John Simms, piano; Stephen Hobson, G, Iowa City, tenor; music instructor Carl Lederer, James Peterson, G.

WILLIE MAYS, FLEET GIANT OUTFIELDER, ignores the outstretched leg of Cardinals' catcher Del Rice as he slides home with the game's first run in the second inning of the Giants-Cards battle at New York Thursday. Mays scored on a fielder's choice when Card shortstop Solly Hemus elected to throw home after fielding Alvin Dark's grounder. Umpire Al Barlick prepares to call the play.

Dodgers Keep Circuit Lead; Giants Deal Cards 6-0 Loss

Brooks Win, 8-7

BROOKLYN (AP) — Brooklyn's league-leading Dodgers snatched a game out of the fire Thursday, rallying for four runs in the eighth inning to overcome a three-run deficit and nip the Cincinnati Reds, 8-7. The triumph enabled the Dodgers to maintain their half-game edge over the New York Giants.

Roy Campanella, returning to the lineup after missing three games because of a swollen hand, struck the big blow for the Dodgers, a game-tying home run following singles by Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson in the eighth inning.

Starter Frank Hiller was the victim of this blow but Frank Smith came on to lose the game. Andy Parko smacked Smith's first pitch into left field and by daring base running, made it a double. Duke Snider sacrificed and Gil Hodges drove in the winning run with a fly to Bob Borkowski in left field.

Joe Black, Negro rookie right-hander and fourth Brooklyn pitcher, was the winner. He took the mound in the eighth and allowed a single in two innings to be credited with his first major league triumph.

Giants Top Cards

NEW YORK (AP) — Monte Kennedy, second line New York hurler, won himself a regular starting turn Thursday by pitching the Giants to a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Kennedy yielded only four singles while his teammates routed Redbird ace Gerry Staley and two aces with an 11-hit attack that included a home run by Davey Williams and triples by Alvin Dark, Willie Mays and Don Mueller.

The victory gave the Giants the rubber of the three-game series with the Cards but it left them still in second place, a half game behind the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Dark had a pair of singles besides his three-bagger. He droye in two and scored once.

The Giants opened the scoring in the second when Mays tripled to the left-center field wall and scored on a grounder by Dark. They added two more in the fifth when Dark tripled to right center, Wes Westrum flied out, Williams was hit by a pitched ball, Lockman singled and Tommy Glavin fumbled a grounder by Bobby Thomson.

Cubs, Braves Split

BOSTON (AP) — After Bob Rush cut down the Boston Braves with a four-hit pitching performance to give the Chicago Cubs a 3-0 triumph, the Tribesmen, Sam Jethroe and Bob Thorpe especially, rebounded to provide lefty Warren Spahn with a 5-0 shutout in the last half of Thursday's doubleheader.

The burly Rush never was in danger as he clicked off his fifth win, the last four in a row, against two losses. He also contributed to the Cubs' offense, collecting two of the nine hits against Vern Bickford and driving in the first Chicago run in the second inning.

Nats Beat Browns

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Porterfield's pitching and home runs by Eddie Yost and Mickey Vernon helped the Washington Senators beat the St. Louis Browns, 4-2, here Thursday night in the rubber game of a three-game series. Cagers Will Play 22 Games, Meet Entire Big Ten Twice

A 22-game schedule, including eighteen contests with Big Ten opponents, has been completed for the Hawkeyes' 1952-53 basketball team, Director Paul Brechler has announced.

Under the new conference schedule plan, each team will meet every other team in two games, one at home and one away. Since this is an increase of four games over the 1951-52 card, it means that conference play starts in mid-December instead of the first week of January.

Eleven of the Iowa games are set for the Hawkeye field house, including one with California. Hawkeyes also play Oregon at Madison, Wis., as one section of a double-header, with Wisconsin vs. California in the other game. The teams exchange opponents for the double-header at Iowa City the next evening.

This is the complete schedule:

- Dec. 1 — Butte at Iowa City
- Dec. 6 — Oklahoma at Norman
- Dec. 13 — Michigan at Iowa City
- Dec. 15 — Wisconsin at Madison
- Dec. 22 — Indiana at Iowa City
- Dec. 26 — Oregon at Madison, Wis.
- Dec. 27 — California at Iowa City
- Dec. 29 — Wisconsin at Iowa City
- Jan. 10 — Michigan State at East Lansing
- Jan. 12 — Michigan at Ann Arbor
- Jan. 17 — Minnesota at Minneapolis
- Jan. 19 — Northwestern at Iowa City
- Jan. 24 — Purdue at Iowa City
- Feb. 9 — Michigan State at Iowa City
- Feb. 14 — Illinois at Champaign
- Feb. 16 — Ohio State at Columbus
- Feb. 21 — Illinois at Iowa City
- Feb. 23 — Ohio State at Iowa City
- Feb. 28 — Northwestern at Evanston
- Mar. 2 — Minnesota at Iowa City
- Mar. 7 — Purdue at Lafayette
- Mar. 9 — Indiana at Bloomington

Sewell Miffed

Reds Claim Some Credit

BROOKLYN (AP) — Luke Sewell is not exactly the jealous type but he's a little miffed that Brooklyn is getting all the credit for that record-shattering 15-run first inning last night.

"Cripes!" exclaimed the square-jawed Reds manager Thursday after sleeping off the nightmare. "Where do they get that murders row stuff? What's this about them knocking us dead with base hits?"

"What Was It?"

"Why, we were as much responsible for that inning as they were. Just look at the play-by-play. What was it? Seven walks, wasn't it, and two hit batters. And Jackie Robinson got that hit-and-run double and Al Walker hit a crazy bouncer that hopped over the infield."

"That home run by Duke Snider was a good blow but the rest of them were scattered singles. You have got to give a nod to our pitchers. They had awful control. We had a big hand in that record."

Set New Records

- The Brooklyn outburst, starting the Dodgers off on a 19-1 victory, set a batch of modern Major League records:
1. Most runs scored in a single inning since 1883 when the Cubs tallied 18.
 2. Most times facing an opposing pitcher in one inning, 23.
 3. Most runs scored in one inning after two were out, 12.
 4. Most runs batted in one inning, 15.
 5. Most men reaching first safely

'Juggle Our Strength —

Harriers Test Title Hopes

— Work Men Harder —

The triangular track meet with Michigan and Northwestern at Evanston Saturday will be used mainly as a proving ground by Iowa coach Francis Cretzmeier.

"I realize that we cannot hope to score more points than Michigan although we might make the score closer if we juggled our strength and worked some of our good men harder," Coach Cretzmeier said.

Test the Best

So, he explained, the plan is to use men in events in preparation for the Big Ten championship of May 30 and 31, to test them against some of the Wolverine indoor champions.

As examples, he cited Gary Scott, who will run the 440-yard event against John Carroll, the indoor champion. There is a chance that Scott will run both the 220 and 440 in the conference meet.

Ted Wheeler will run both the 880 and mile in the three-way meet. Michigan's John Ross has run a half outdoors in 1:53.1 and is the indoor mile champion in 4:09.4 and Coach Cretzmeier wants to check Wheeler's performances against a top-flight to help him decide where to race the big sophomore in the title meet.

Maple Leaf 2 Mile

Instead of running both the mile and two mile, Rich Ferguson will go only in the two mile. Here he will meet a fellow Canadian, Don McEwen, winner of numerous Big Ten and NCAA titles. Ferguson was second to McEwen in the Big Ten indoor, about nine seconds back.

Ira Murchison, who has a .096 100 to his credit, will run the 100 and 220, along with Len Sykes and possibly Glen Hesselstine. In the low hurdles, DuWayne Dietz will be a favorite and Clyde Gardner will duel with Fritz Nilsson in the discus. Bob Henard and Stan Levinson, both capable of better than 23 feet in the broad jump, will try to beat Horace Coleman, indoor champion.

Finkbine Hosts Preps' 18-Hole Golf Tourney

The 1952 Iowa high school champion golf team and individual will be decided on the university's course Saturday as 18 schools and 82 players compete in an 18-hole medal play tournament.

Frank (Bucky) O'Connor, Hawkeye golf coach, is meet manager of the affair sponsored by the Iowa High School Athletic association. It is the first time the prep tournament has been held on Finkbine field, the university's 18-hole course.

West Waterloo is the defending team champion. A new individual champion will be decided, since the 1951 titlist, Dale Kniss, is now a freshman member of the Hawkeye golf team.

These are the schools which qualified in district meets: Red Oak, Council Bluffs (Jefferson), Boone, Des Moines (Roosevelt and Lincoln), Cedar Rapids (Franklin), West Waterloo, Knoxville, Cherokee, Spencer, Hampton, Decorah.

Ottumwa, Fairfield, Davenport, Davenport (St. Ambrose), Dubuque and Ames. Five-man teams have qualified for each school except for St. Ambrose and Ames which will have one player.

From 9th Place in Loop — Hawks Can Tip Illini Crown

About the only satisfaction remaining for the Iowa baseball team would be to spoil the title hopes of the Big Ten leader.

Illinois, now on top with a 9-3 mark, is the opponent of the Hawkeyes at Champaign in a double-header Saturday, the day after Iowa meets 1951 champion Ohio State at Columbus in a single game.

Last Hawk Games

These games close the season for the Hawkeyes and offer some chance to rise to a more respectable spot in the final league standing. Iowa now has a 3-7 mark and stands in ninth place.

Bob Diehl, the tall right-hander who has won three of four conference games, may get his chance to curb the Illini hitters. Diehl has hurled four-hit victories over Minnesota and Wisconsin, first division teams.

Illinois' hurler Jerry Smith is tied with Minnesota's Paul Giel for the conference limelight. Both pitchers have four wins and no defeats.

Smith has given up 31 hits in 36 innings, 11 walks and has fanned 20.

Since 1896, Illinois has won 17

baseball pennants and shared four others.

Brandt Leading Hitter

Iowa now has a season's record of 10 wins and 13 losses and a batting average of .238. Leader at the plate is Duane Brandt with .316, followed by Jack Lundquist, 3b, .313; Ed Lindsey, outfielder and pitcher, .301; and Bill Vana, catcher, .282.

Jerry Hilgenberg, 1b, who has a .263 batting average, leads in RBI with 15, followed by Brandt with 12 and Lindsey with 10. Lundquist is the top extra base hitter with nine.

Iowa has a fielding average of .931. Jerry Hilgenberg has handled 103 chances at first base and right field with only two errors.

Commissioners End Work on Peace Pact With West Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the three Allied high commissioners Thursday wound up their work on the peace contract to give West Germany virtual sovereignty and bind her to the western world in the face of widely propagandized Red threats.

They left two important but essentially technical points to be settled by the U.S., British and French foreign ministers when they arrive here this weekend prior to signing the pact with Adenauer Monday:

1. The date when the pact becomes effective.
 2. The name by which the contract will be known.
- The document is under fire from the Communist bloc outside West Germany and from Adenauer's socialist opposition within the country. U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was flying to Bonn Thursday night.

5 Faculty Men Elected To University Council

Five faculty members were elected to the SUI university council Thursday in the annual election.

John C. Gerber, professor of communications skills and English, was elected as professor-representative at large, while Wendell D. Lindstrom, mathematics and astronomy instructor, was elected instructor-representative at large.

Professors Ray V. Smith, college of dentistry, Gilbert P. Maynard, college of commerce, and Dan H. Cooper, college of education, were elected to three terms from their respective colleges.

Composed of 15 faculty members, the university council is designed to facilitate communication between the president and the faculty. The council considers and discusses questions raised by faculty members and matters of university policy, and serves in an advisory capacity to President Virgil M. Hancher.

Baby's Life Saved By Speeding Oxygen To Transport Ship

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. navy sped bottled oxygen to a transport ship 800 miles out in the Atlantic Thursday night and saved the life of a two-pound, five-ounce baby.

The U. S. transport Washington radioed to London that the Bluejacket, a refrigerator ship, had arrived with the oxygen just a few hours before the Washington's supply would have been depleted.

The baby girl was born prematurely three days ago to Mrs. Janet Rozelle of Dallas, Tex., aboard the Washington.

The Washington had messaged earlier that it needed oxygen to keep the tiny girl alive. The London headquarters of the U.S. navy's sea transportation service went into action, diverting the Bluejacket for a rendezvous with the Washington and sending off a B-29 superfortress to drop emergency oxygen by parachute.

Rumored Tornado Ends As 'Just A Lot of Wind'

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP) — Rumor put some fancy twists on a non-existent twister Thursday.

Near panic overtook the twin cities of Champaign and Urbana as the report spread that a tornado was headed their way. Schools were dismissed; streets were deserted; newspaper and radio station switchboards were jammed with queries.

It all happened this way: Ozark airlines in Decatur put a message on its private teletype Thursday afternoon, saying it had a report there was a tornado 60 miles west of Springfield. (Champaign and Urbana are about 90 miles west of the capital.) The message asked the airline's other offices to attempt to get official confirmation.

Meanwhile, the University of Illinois airport gives a weather report every hour to the university police. In its 2 p.m. report, the airport mentioned the Ozark message. The police, under a university disaster plan, notified key personnel in student residences and one student telephoned the superintendent of schools in Champaign (on his own, not as part of the plan.)

By this time, the story was that an airline pilot had seen a tornado headed for Champaign and Urbana.

School superintendent E. H. Mellon ordered all schools dismissed, and the kids ran home and told their parents a tornado was coming.

That did it. Everyone started telephoning the newspapers and radio stations. Mothers kept their youngsters indoors and streets emptied of traffic.

N. Carolina Demos Back Sen. Russell

By The Associated Press

Georgia's Senator Richard B. Russell picked up speed Thursday as a third-place contender in the nationwide race for delegates to the Democratic national convention in July.

Russell got a big boost when North Carolina Democrats, meeting in state convention, endorsed him for the presidential nomination.

The state's 32-vote delegation will go to Chicago without any binding instructions, but the formal endorsement plus the known leanings of delegates strongly indicated that Russell would get the lion's share.

9 Favor Russell

All of the first nine delegates willing to state a choice said they favored Russell.

Previously, Russell had trailed far back behind the front-running Senator Estes Kefauver and foreign aid chief W. Averell Harriman.

Not counting the North Carolina results, the Associated Press tabulation showed Kefauver with 116 delegates, Harriman with 83½ and Russell with 47. Nomination requires 616.

If, as seemed likely, Russell could bag a major share of North Carolina's 32 votes, it would put him close on the heels of Harriman.

Truman Plugs Harriman

Harriman got a plug from President Truman Thursday when newsmen asked if Truman thought Harriman was immodest in tabling himself the best man available for the presidency.

The President, who has hailed Harriman as a "great liberal," replied tartly that a candidate should consider himself the best man or he doesn't belong in the race. And with a grin, Truman cited himself as an example of that in the 1948 campaign.

Truman told his news conference he wouldn't care to comment on a published poll of political writers which showed that most of those answering expect the Republicans to nominate Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Democrats to pick Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

2 Receive Prizes In Prints, Drawing

Irving Marcus, G. Minneapolis, Minn., a student in the SUI art department, was awarded a first prize and a "purchase prize" at the Minneapolis Institute of Art's second biennial exhibit of prints and drawings.

Donn Steward, an instructor in the art department, was awarded a $50 "purchase prize" at the San Francisco art institute's annual print and drawing show.

Other members of the department with works entered in the San Francisco exhibit are Ann Diddy, G. Nye, N. Y.; Nancy Brorby, A4, Iowa City; Jeanne Richards, A4, Alexandria, Va.; John Talleur, G, Oak Park, Ill., and Prof. Mauricio Lasansky.

2 County Youths Released on Bond

Two Johnson county 20-year-olds, who were arrested late Sunday night for allegedly breaking into a house north of Iowa City, have waived preliminary hearings and have been bound over to the grand jury.

The pair, Lawrence C. Lemme, 20, 803 South Capitol st., and Max D. Wheatley Jr., 20, Hills, are free under $2,500 bonds, after being arraigned in police court on charges of breaking and entering.

They were arrested through the combined efforts of the county sheriff, police and the highway patrol, after they reportedly took two guns and a radio from the house.

121 Years Old — TV 'Scair' Centenarian

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You think you're too old for insurance?

Well, Joseph Dawn Louzier says he's 121. Lloyd's of London gave him a $10,000 policy under a newspaper's travel and pedestrian plan offered to subscribers.

Louzier is sharp, alert and does not look a day over 90. But he says he was born near Ridgetown Hill, Pa., April 30, 1831. He's never been able to get a birth certificate, he concedes. His father, he says, was a Mohican Indian, his mother half French and half Mohawk Indian.

For reporters, he had such recollections as:

Sleeping in a bed for the first time in Washington, D.C., "before he was 30" and chatting a few minutes with President Lincoln.

Serving as a paid scout for the Union army, meeting General Custer, but: "I didn't care much for him. He was bullheaded."

Meeting the outlaw James boys and Cole Younger while riding the range in the southwest — "socially, y'might say. Never did business with them. I was always an honest one."

Of television: "Scairt me at first. Now it keeps me up 'til 12."

Of marriage: "I'm a widower now, but I ain't given up. I'm looking for a fat gal so I can walk in the shade on sunny days."

Formula for long life: "Just keep breathin', son. Just keep breathin'."

Man Selected to Be In Fall Nursing Class

An SUI male student is among those selected as members of the 1952-53 freshman nursing class.

Names of the first group of students selected were announced Thursday by Dean Myrtle E. Kitchell of the college of nursing. The list included five other SUI students.

The male student is John R. Holmes, A1, Ames. Other SUI students accepted include Janet M. Connolly, A1, Cresco; Donna B. Hammersly, A1, Gilmore City; Ruth Nelson, A1, Humboldt; Ruth Wegner, A2, Luverne; and Wanda Lee, A1, Moorhead.

Miss Kitchell said other members of the class will be announced as soon as possible after completion of the necessary administrative procedures. Those selected will enter the college next September.

Child's Ambition May Be Realized

FOUR-YEAR-OLD EILEEN DEWAR, Chicago, may realize her ambition to play the piano by Christmas if everything goes well at Wesley Memorial hospital. The little girl, daughter of Mrs. John Dewar, (left) has been undergoing a long series of grafting operations to replace fingers missing from both of the tot's hands since she was born. The girl's hands are immobilized under her dress during the process.

dent council responsibilities rested in the area of campus-wide student interests and that the housing councils are concerned with the affairs of the individual housing units."

Ralph Fretty, C3, Des Moines, president of Quadrangle, told the council at the special meeting that the Quad will not be bound by a ruling interpreting the student council constitution which was made last Thursday. That ruling prevented member organizations from instructing or recalling their delegates.

Fretty said, however, that the Quad will cooperate with the committee in its attempt to resolve the dispute.

Other members of the committee, in addition to Feiwel and Fretty, are: Joseph Venaglia, C3, Missouri Valley; Bill Skalfe, A3, Dubuque; Joseph Warnell, G, Des Moines; Connie Hastings, A2, Iowa City; Anne Saxton, A3, Clinton.

Lue Cramblit, L3, Ottumwa; Violet Gordanier, N3, Postville; Virgil M. Hancher Jr., A3, Iowa City; Dale Razez, C3, Harlan; Gordon Holcomb, A2, Swea City; Margaret Hibbs, A2, Clarinda; Jo Ellen Lane, A3, Boone, and Van Metre.

Iowa City Man Gets Medal

Former marine, Cpl. Clarence L. Poggenpohl, Iowa City, has been awarded the marine commendation medal for bravery while fighting in Korea.

The letter accompanying the award said that on September 22, 1951, Poggenpohl and three other volunteers carried a dummy on a stretcher over an exposed ridge-line to draw fire from, and thus help locate, an enemy sniper. The volunteers later sighted and killed the sniper.

"With complete disregard for his personal safety, he performed his duties admirably in the face of impending danger. His courageous efforts were an inspiration for all who observed him," the letter said.

Poggenpohl began active duty with the marine corps in January, 1949, and was stationed in Korea from December, 1950, to December, 1951. He was placed on inactive duty on April 8, 1952, at San Diego, Calif.
