Teller Alone Knew of Holdup

ONLY THE TELLER KNEW when a 55-year-old bandit held him up at the Central National bank in Des Moines Monday and escaped with an estimated $15,000. Shown above is teller Paul Martin, 21, who was accosted so quietly that only he of the 30 bank employees and 35 patrons knew a holdup was taking place.

DES MOINES (AP) — Police have been unable to find any trace of a middle-aged bandit who calmly robbed the Central National Bank and Trust company of about $15,000 Monday.

The man, described as about 55 or 60 and wearing a white shirt, dark trousers and gray felt hat, obtained the loot from teller Paul Marvin, 21.

He threatened to kill Marvin "and half a dozen like you" if any alarm was sounded.

Marvin put a bundle of bills into a paper sack the bandit handed him. The man walked out with the money and was gone before anyone else on the busy banking floor knew what was happening.

There were about 35 customers and 50 employees in the bank at the time.

Not a word was spoken during the robbery, which occurred at 9:55 a.m.

The bandit handed Marvin a note scrawled in pen and ink, saying he was wanted for murder and would start shooting if the teller sounded any warning. He kept his hand in his right trouser pocket as though he had a gun.

Patron Witnesses Robbery Mrs. Belva Scoles, a patron who stood directly behind the hold-up man said she was unaware of what was going on but said later she noticed that Marvin was "fiddling around behind the teller's cage."

"When I saw him (Marvin) hand the paper sack over the top of the cage to the man I knew there was something wrong but I didn't know it was a robbery," Mrs. Scoles said.

The loot consisted of $20, $10 and $5 bills. In the cage was another $12,000 in bills of larger denomination which the bandit did not get.

Teller Was Nervous "He wasn't one bit nervous but I was," Marvin said. "After reading that note and noticing his hand in his pocket I was convinced he meant business."

The cage was only a few feet from the Fifth st. entrance to the bank. As the bandit walked out Marvin pressed the burglar alarm.

Mrs. Scoles said the teller kept "getting more agitated" as he stood behind the cage and seemed to have a hard time convincing anyone he had been robbed.

Bandit Described Marvin and Mrs. Scoles both described the man as between 55 and 60 with gray hair and weighing from 155 to 170 pounds.

The teller said he first noticed him at a writing table in the center of the bank.

"He just walked over and shoved the note under the cage metal grill and didn't say a word," Marvin said.

Supreme Court Upholds Bus Music WASHINGTON (AP) — The supreme court ruled Monday that (A) it's all right to broadcast music and commercials to street car and bus riders, and (B) it's unconstitutional for a state to ban a movie on the grounds that it is sacrilegious.

But the court said nothing on the biggest question before it: Did President Truman exceed his powers when he seized the steel industry? It adjourned until next Monday without a hint as to when it would be ready with the steel decision.

Movie censorship came to the court in the case of the Italian movie "The Miracle," produced by Roberto Rossellini, husband of actress Ingrid Bergman.

It was banned in New York after strong protests were made by some Roman Catholics, including Francis Cardinal Spellman.

The street car rider case involved the Capital Transit company of Washington, D.C. The company has signed up with a local radio station, WWDC-FM, for a program which includes music, commercials, news and weather reports.

This is broadcast through loudspeakers in street cars and busses. The court voted 7 to 1 that no constitutional rights are violated. But Justice William O. Douglas, in a sharp dissent, said he thinks the broadcasts to a captive audience are a violation of a man's privacy.

Bar Seizures By Presidents, Senator Asks WASHINGTON (AP) — A constitutional amendment which would bar the president from seizing any private property except under specific laws was urged in congress Monday by Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.).

McCarran, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, has long been at odds with President Truman, whose seizure of the $8 billion steel industry to avert a strike has ignited one of the hottest constitutional debates of recent years.

(The supreme court again delayed Monday any ruling on the controversy. It held an opinion day session, its second since taking the case under study, but did not rule and gave no sign when it will.)

McCarran's proposed amendment, he told the senate, is aimed at the administration contention that the president has broad, inherent powers under the constitution which justify such actions as the steel seizure.

"The purpose of this proposed amendment," McCarran said, "is to eliminate not only all doubt, if doubt there be, but also all argument over the question of whether the president has any right, inherent or otherwise, to seize an industry or any other private property when he has not been authorized to do so by a law passed by the congress."

Allied-West German Treaty Signed

WEST GERMANY'S CHANCELLOR Konrad Adenauer signs the Allied-West German peace contract in the upper house of the German parliament at Bonn, Germany, Monday. The pact, which links West Germany with the free world, was signed by ministers of the U.S., Great Britain and France. Ratification of the pact by the West German parliament is required before the treaty becomes effective. In the background is Hans von Herwarth, chief of protocol.

$100,000 Bid Accepted For City Street Paving

A bid of $100,524.78 was accepted by the city council for an Iowa city street paving project expected to be completed by the end of the summer. Five bids were opened by the council at a special meeting in the city hall Monday night.

Entering the lowest bid was the William Horrabin Contracting Co., an Iowa City firm. It was $11,000 below the next lowest bid and about $13,000 below the estimated cost of the project.

The bid was accepted and placed on file for one week by the council, and, barring further developments, the contract will be officially awarded to the Horrabin firm at the regular city council meeting next Monday.

Accept Resignation In other action the council officially accepted the resignation of W. V. Pearson from the city council. Pearson resigned because of ill health a week ago.

A city ordinance raising city scale fees was also passed by the council. The charge for weighing was boosted from $.25 to $.35 on the first 2200 lbs. and from $.05 to $.15 on each ton weighed thereafter.

The council sent to the city attorney a communication from the zoning and planning commission which charged that the Russell Steak Cafe on Riverside Drive had violated a zoning ordinance when it made an addition to the previous structure. The commission's letter called upon the council to take legal action against the cafe.

Reds Send Money To Agitate Koreans

PUSAN, Korea (TUESDAY) (AP) — A government spokesman today disclosed that the Communists were sending secret funds across the border into South Korea to stir up discord.

He said several national assemblies were involved in the handling of the Red slush fund. Four assemblies were arrested Monday. Others may have escaped the crackdown.

President Syngman Rhee summoned his cabinet into session to discuss the growing political crisis.

Rhee proclaimed martial law after one woman was injured fatally and 150 persons were hurt Saturday in a riot. A mob stormed the capital and demanded the arrest of 14 anti-Rhee assemblymen.

The crisis stems in part from a bitter dispute between the president and a majority of assemblymen who voted to free one of their colleagues accused of slaying a South Korean army captain.

Prime Minister Chang Talk Sang, in office only three weeks, submitted his resignation.

East German Reds Bolster Borders

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist East German government announced Monday night it was "strengthening" immediately its forces facing now virtually sovereign West Germany.

The announcement by the Communist zone government came on the heels of demonstrations by organized mobs of blue-shirted Red youths along the edge of West Berlin Monday. The youths howled prepared slogans against the peace contract signed at Bonn by West Germany and the Western Big Three powers.

Ignore Reds' Last-Ditch Try To Split West

BONN, Germany (AP) — The United States, Britain and France signed with Western Germany Monday a historic peace contract welcoming 48-million former enemies as new allies in a gamble to avoid World War III. But a perilous road lies ahead before the contract can take effect.

While the Russian Bear growled, the three Western foreign ministers met with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the federal parliament building here.

They signed documents which—when and if ratified—will end the Allied occupation, bring West Germans into the European community as an all but sovereign nation, and permit the Germans to contribute about 400,000 troops to Europe's western defense army.

"Must Succeed" "Our work will succeed — it must succeed if we are to avoid another catastrophe," said French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, speaking on behalf of himself, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The peace contract, signed over the repeated and vociferous protests from Moscow, becomes effective upon ratification by the four parliaments.

When—and if—this comes about, the split of Germany will be finalized unless Russia and the West at some late date can agree on how the West Germans and the 18-million of the east zone can be reunited. Meanwhile, Allied troops remain in Western Germany as part of the Western European defense setup.

To Okay Rearming Along with the related European Defense community treaty to be signed today in Paris by six nations, the peace contract enlists the West Germans as rearmed allies of Western Europe in what the statesmen called "the fight for peace and freedom."

At times during Monday's solemn signing ceremonies, the ministers appeared to be speaking directly to Moscow. They vowed that their unanimous intent was to unite all Germans, including the 18-million in the Soviet zone, by peaceful means. Peace, said Acheson, was the binding theme.

The U.S. is proceeding on an assumption that all four nations will ratify without undue delay. Possibly President Truman may send the peace contract to the senate for ratification next week, so that senate committee hearings might start at once.

At the same time the President would send along a protocol providing for an exchange of security guarantees between the North Atlantic Treaty organizations and the European army countries, as an amendment to the North Atlantic treaty.

Left for Paris Immediately after the signing ceremonies in Bonn, Acheson, Schuman, Eden, and Adenauer flew to Paris. Acheson will witness there the signing today of the EDC treaty by France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Like the peace contract, the European army treaty becomes effective on ratification by the parliaments of the signatory nations.

In a last-minute attempt to influence the European signatories, Moscow called again Sunday for a four-power conference to draft a peace treaty for a united Germany.

But a high American source here suggested that the latest Soviet note was surprisingly weak, even to the extent of helping the Allies over the final hurdles toward the signing.

Peace Makes Quick Return To Canal Zone

By ED POLLAK

ISMAILIA, Egypt (AP) — The Suez canal zone has made quick recovery from four months of bloody battles and bitter guerrilla warfare.

Immediately after Egypt's abrogation of her treaties with Britain, last October, this stretch 104 miles long and 20 miles wide, running along one of the world's most strategic waterways, became the scene of daily clashes between British and Egyptians.

The British strung miles of barbed wire around the area, set up check posts on all roads leading into the zone and fortified main points inside the zone.

Dockers Went on Strike

Egyptians countered with raids on British camps, sniping from ambush and all sorts of guerrilla attacks. Some 40,000 Egyptian workers employed by the British army were withdrawn. In Suez and Port Said harbors, dockers went on strike.

Commerce and business throughout the zone came to a complete standstill while British royal navy units helped the handling of ships at Port Said and Suez. Traffic of vessels through the canal continued, somewhat diminished, during the months of crisis.

The changeover of Egyptian government after Cairo's January 25 fire-riots and renewed attempts to solve the Anglo-Egyptian dispute through negotiation, have permitted a return to normal in the canal zone.

Traffic Flows

Road blocks have been removed. Traffic into and out of the zone runs freely. Only here and there a British military policeman armed with a submachine gun, directing traffic near a camp, reminds of the grim days of the crisis.

At Suez, the southern end of the canal, a reporter can find no trace of several battles that broke out in December between British soldiers and Egyptian police and civilians.

At Ismailia, halfway between Port Said and Suez, the scene of the bloodiest battles, life has returned to normal. British personnel, barred from the city for several months, now are allowed to visit the town on weekends for shopping and other errands. They walk the streets unarmed and unmolested.

'I don't know who he is — but he turns in some of the darnedest science fiction!'

What to do at the Polls — Voting Procedure Described For Iowa's June 2 Primary

(Editor's note: This is the final article of a series prepared by the Institute of Public Affairs at SUI to explain the laws and procedures which you must follow in order to vote in the state's primary election June 2. Previous stories described residence, registration and absentee voting requirements.)

Voting in a primary election in Iowa is one of your most important duties and privileges as a citizen—and it's also an interesting experience.

The purpose of the primary is to nominate candidates of the political parties for state, district and county offices. Also, party delegates to county conventions and precinct committeemen and committeewomen are selected by the voters in the primary.

The difference between the primary election, which will be held on June 2, and the general election, which will be held on November 4, is that in the general election candidates are elected to offices, while in the primary election candidates are nominated to run for offices.

Let's assume you are a duly qualified voter and it's June 2 and you go to the polling place in your precinct to vote in the primary election.

First you must tell the election officials your name, address and party affiliation; you may be asked to sign a certificate or a poll book.

The names of persons seeking your party's nomination for state, district and county officers will be printed on the ballot or the voting machine. You may be given stickers with names of delegates and committee members printed on them; you may vote either for the people on the stickers by pasting them on the ballot or write in the names of others.

There will be sample ballots and instruction sheets posted in the polling place. If you have any questions, you can ask the election officials for information.

If printed ballots are used in your precinct, one of the election judges will endorse a ballot with his initials and hand it to you. After marking your ballot in the voting booth, you fold it and return it to the judge who drops it in the ballot box.

When marking your ballot remember to vote for only one candidate for each office unless the ballot says to vote for more than one. Mark your ballot with an "X" in the square before the name of each candidate you wish to vote for. If you want to vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write that person's name in the proper space and mark an "X" in the square in front of it.

Be sure to mark your ballot with an "X" in the proper space; do not put any other marks on your ballot or it will not be counted. If you make a mistake in marking your ballot, do not try to erase or mark out the mistake; take the spoiled ballot back to the election judges and tell them you want another ballot.

If voting machines are used in your precinct, you can ask questions about how to operate the machine; there will be people there to answer your questions.

If you live in a precinct where permanent registration is in effect, you must fill out and sign a certificate before getting a ballot or being permitted to use a voting machine.

If your vote is challenged because some one believes that you are not a qualified voter, the judges of the election may question you regarding your qualifications. You may be asked to take the following oath:

"You do solemnly swear that you are a citizen of the United States, that you are a resident in good faith of this precinct, that you are 21 years of age as you verily believe, that you have been a resident of this country 60 days, and of this state six months next preceding this election, and that you have not voted in this election."

Changing Affiliation Voters who wish to change their party affiliation also can do so at the polls, or they can make the change by filing a written declaration with the county auditor any time up to 10 days before the date of the primary.

In this way you become affiliated with the political party of your choice. You are then a member of that party and are eligible to help nominate its candidates,

Water Safety Plea Directed Toward Iowans

By JIM GOLTZ

DES MOINES (AP)—Special appeals for water caution were sounded Monday after a tabulation showed Iowa has already had 21 accidental drownings this year.

Nine of the 1952 drownings occurred on a single warm weekend in early May.

Now, with the end of school at hand and the summer sports season beginning, the possibilities for death by drowning are multiplied.

72 Last Year Last year Iowa had only 72 accidental drownings. This was the smallest number in five years and was well under the toll in the early 1940's when drownings passed the 100-mark three years in a row.

Charles T. Cownie, water safety chairman of the Polk county Red Cross chapter, warned swimmers against "over-confidence" during the coming Memorial day weekend.

"Many drownings are caused by over-confidence," Cownie said. "People who know how to swim 'a little' venture out beyond their depth."

The Red Cross makes the following recommendations for safe swimming:

1. Select a safe place, preferably one supervised by a life guard.
2. Don't try to demonstrate abilities you do not possess.
3. Don't go beyond your depth unless you are a seasoned swimmer.
4. Don't stay in the water too long.
5. Before diving be sure the water is deep enough and free of obstructions.
6. Don't enter the water when tired or overheated.
7. Never go swimming alone.
8. Don't go swimming until two hours after eating.
9. Know how to save a person from drowning and how to apply artificial respiration by completing a Red Cross life-saving course.

The conservation commission, in addition to endorsing the Red Cross rules, voiced a special caution concerning boating mishaps.

There are more than 10,000 pleasure craft on Iowa's inland waters. Iowa law requires that all boats for hire must pass annual inspection and bear a small metal tag showing the capacity of the craft. The commission has this advice:

Boating Rules "Do not use an unseaworthy boat. Do not go on the water when a storm is approaching or when the water is rough. Don't wear boots or other hampering clothing when in a boat. Do not purposely rock a boat or permit any horseplay by other boat occupants."

"If you capsize, stay with the boat. Secure a firm hand-hold and wait for help or drift ashore with the craft. If there are two persons when the boat capsizes, hold hands across the bottom of the boat."

"If you lose an oar, do not jump overboard to retrieve it without first dropping the anchor. Do not put a large motor on a small boat."

New Picnic Grill, Cabana Now on Summer Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Some red hot and cold new products hit the market this week.

A picnic grill with a vertical firebox is being marketed by Hobbs by Aces of Charleston, W. Va. The grill holds the red hot charcoal upright in front of two hanging side broilers. That lets the grease drip to the bottom without falling into the fire. Ashes do the same thing without hitting the broilers. And there is a big frying pan on top. You can use it for cooking or for controlling the draft over the charcoal.

Your deep freezer is supposed to remain deeply frozen, and if it doesn't the "thaw alarm" made by Sperti Faraday of Cincinnati will buzz and wave a little red flag up and down. A rise to 15 degrees above zero sets off the alarm operated by flashlight batteries. It does the same thing if a fuse is blown or power fails.

Do you ever get tired standing up to take a shower bath? Well, here's a sit-down shower bath. It is a rubber hose running around the tub and connected to the faucet. Turn on the tap and water comes out with shower spray intensity all around the tub on to you. It comes from Sit-Down Shower of Chicago.

As a portable cabana this summer at the beach, Bilnor Corp. of Maspeth, N. Y., is offering a vinylite plastic shelter. It has an eight-foot hexagonal base and tapers to the top of a nine-foot center pole. The base inflates, and the front is closed with a vinylite slide fastener operated from either side. The vinylite resists sand, salt water and sun, among other things. The cabana weighs 14 pounds and folds to suit box size.

Your Armed Forces Still Need 300,000 Pints of Blood Every Month!

Maybe you, too, wonder why the blood quota for your Armed Forces stays the same each month. There are two urgent reasons:

1. Regardless of events in Korea or any other part of the world, our wounded veterans in military hospitals need a continuous supply to save their lives over the months—or years—that lie between convalescence and recovery.

2. Your Armed Forces' dangerously low reserve supply of blood must be built up quickly to be ready for any possible future emergency.

The need for your blood has never been greater than it is today. If you haven't given blood for some time, phone for your appointment now. And keep that appointment to save a life.

THIS IS THE END

At times it looked as if the time would never come, but it's here.

This is the last night I'll spend putting out the sports page of The Daily Iowan, and the last time this column will appear on this page.

Amid shouts of celebration, I'd like to point out some of the highlights and sidelights of my brief career on the Iowan. I'm not straying far away and will probably be here for a majority of Iowa's athletic events from my new place in Cedar Rapids.

Jack Bender, who's already known at Iowa for his fine cartoons, will take over this department, and will continue to give the students the reading they want.

First among the highlights is the fine help I've had on this desk. No sports editor could ask for better help than Lee Canning and Jim Cooke. Both gave unselfishly of their time and talent, and did the really hard work for the page.

Next most helpful is the fine cooperation that Lee, Jim and I received from the coaching staff and all our news sources. It has long been my conviction that the best public relations man in the school are the coaches. Buckley O'Connor, for one, sells Iowa every time he smiles.

Forest Evashevski makes a wonderful impression on everyone he meets, and is a very polished speaker and mixer. No one can underestimate the amount of good will built up by Francis Cretz-meyer, who's also built up a track team from dormat to dominant in the Big Ten.

On the tennis scene, Don Klotz is ever ready to give his boys the best possible word. Don is a real hustler who wants to make sure that his boys get their just credits for the fine play that he's taught them. Dave Armbruster is also very amiable, and gives out with the straight story for the papers.

Mike Howard likes to talk about nothing more than his wrestlers, and, as everyone knows, Otto Vogel is strictly baseball. In fact, Ott has written one of the best books on the market on how to play the game.

Eric Wilson and his staff in the sports information office have been invaluable for material and leads. Space forbids the mention of all the assistant coaches and field house workers who have contributed help, but they know that their work has been appreciated.

For example, Bump Elliott, Bob Flora, Wally Shwank and Whitey Piro of the football staff have been ready and willing to give out information for the students to read. They, like Bob Schultz of the basketball team and Jim Counsilman of the swimming squad, have sat in their back seats and sold Iowa to everyone who met them.

Also, the veteran Maury Kent has added to his host of friends during the year. And Frank Havlicek was always around with his "official estimate" of crowds and tips on stories.

If there is anyone I've omitted, I'm sorry. But one thing is sure, and that's that cooperation was present at every news source.

There are athletes that no student is likely to forget from the 1952 Hawkeye teams. Every team has its stars, and since it is impossible to name every one, I'd like to mention those which impressed me the most.

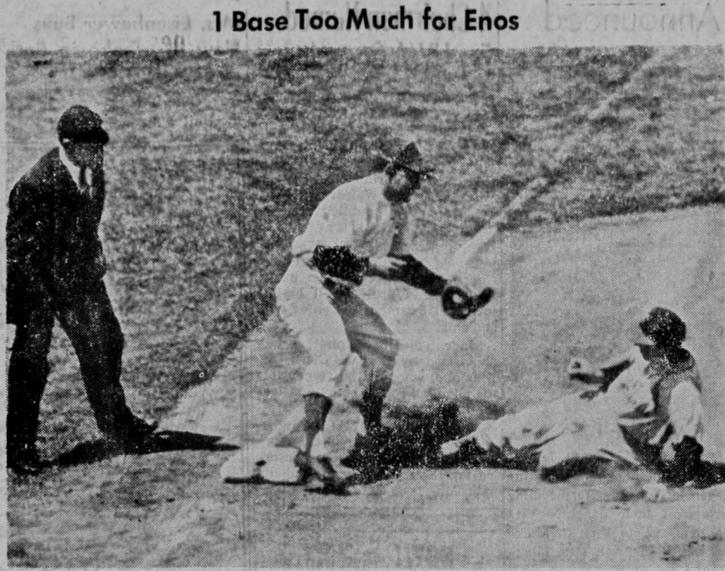

In basketball, there will only be one Chuck Darling, but even Charlie had help as the record indicates. Darling was head and shoulders above everyone in the Big Ten, and in many Iowans' opinions he had the edge in the entire country.

Working with him were veterans Clifton and Greene, steady rebounder Herb Thompson, future star Deacon Davis and that invaluable sixth man, Ev Cochran.

In baseball, Ed Lindsey, Bill Vana, Jerry Hilgenberg and Jack Hess have stood out in my mind. Lindsey was capable of pitching one-hitters and hitting the long ball, Vana was both a good catcher and hitter, Hilgenberg played nearly errorless ball and drove in several timely runs, and Hess was a sharp fielder around second despite his hitting lapses. Whitey Diehl, Al Lenski, and Merle Jensen all turned in good pitching performances.

Bowen Stassforth is one of the brightest swimmers to compete at Iowa and should do well in the Olympics. In gymnastics, Frank LaDue consistently took firsts and won the national collegiate to stamp him as the best trampolinist man in the country. Wrestlers George Myers and Phil Duggan were topflight and helped make Mike Howard's last season a good one.

In track, Cretz developed such outstanding men as Ted Wheeler, Gary Scott, Ira Murchison, and others, all of whom stand chances of making the Olympic squad. The tennis team was full of good stories and Norm Barnes and Bob Richards rank with the best in

Trackmen Smash Records — Over the Weekend

— Baseball, Net Teams Win

Rich Ferguson set a new national collegiate freshman record to lead a Hawkeye record-smashing spree at their triangular meet Saturday against Michigan and Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.

The Hawks turned giant-killer in setting three new SUI marks and finished second to Michigan, 85½ to 62½.

Iowa's Canadian freshman flashed the two-mile run in 9:08.9 to hand Michigan's Don McEwen his first collegiate defeat.

His effort far surpassed the recognized N.C.A.A. freshman record of 9:21.6 and bettered the Big Ten conference varsity record of 9:10.4 set by Walter Mehl of Wisconsin in 1938.

Other speedsters who fell before Iowans Saturday were John Ross, Big Ten indoor mile champion, and Jack Carroll, conference indoor title-holder in the 440 yard dash.

Ted Wheeler, sophomore miler, beat Michigan's Ross in a 4:17 mile to establish a new all-time Iowa outdoor record.

Gary Scott brought in a great surprise victory with 49¼ quarter to win over Carroll of Michigan.

Clyde Gardner bettered his own Iowa discus mark, established earlier this year, with a throw of 157 feet 3 inches, good for second place in the meet.

Jack Hess laid down a bunt to squeeze Don Waldron home in the sixth inning. Waldron had singled and reached third on Hilgenberg's walk and Bill Vana's sacrifice.

Illinois and Wisconsin will enter a four-team playoff with Ohio university and Western Michigan to determine the District No. 4 representative in the NCAA tournament. The national meet will be played at Omaha June 10-16.

The best three-of-five games series will begin Friday with Ohio at Illinois and Wisconsin at Western Michigan.

Wisconsin became eligible for the playoffs when Michigan declined to participate.

Netmen Drop Gophers

Coach Don Klotz' tennis team brought its season to a successful close Saturday at Minnesota, defeating the Gophers, 6-2, to bring their season's record to 10-3.

The Hawks won three matches and lost three in the singles, but swept the doubles. Bob Richards, the Hawkeyes' No. 1 man, dropped his match to Means, 7-5, 6-8, 7-5, but Norman Barnes quickly evened things up by downing Korn of the Gophers, 6-2, 6-3.

Iowa City's Bruce Higley, No. 3 Iowa man, lost to Thommen of Minnesota in straight sets, and Harold Hill dropped a close match to Albert to give the Gophers a two-match edge. However, both Roger Kroth and Dave Van Ginkel came through with wins to even things up going into the doubles.

Richards and Barnes teamed to drop Means and Korn, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4. Then the teams of Higley and Conrad Chapman, and Kroth and Van Ginkel won their matches in straight sets to cap the victory.

The Iowans' next competition is in the Big Ten championships at Evanston Thursday through Saturday.

Illini Held to Split

Iowa kept Illinois from an undisputed Big Ten championship Saturday by beating the Illini, 4-3, after dropping the opener of a doubleheader, 4-1, at Champaign.

The win over Illinois, coupled with Michigan's split with Wisconsin, led the conference race in a deadlock between the favored Wolves and the Illini. Iowa finished with a 5-8 record in the conference, good for ninth place.

In the first game, Ed Lindsey got a rocky start and Illinois hitters got to him for four hits and three runs in the first inning. He was replaced by Merle Jensen, who allowed three hits and one run in 7 1/3 innings.

The Hawks' only tally in that game came when Jerry Hilgenberg hit a 340-foot homer over the left field fence.

In the second game, Whitey Diehl, who ended the conference season with a 4-0 record, also got off to a poor start. The Iowa Citian gave up five hits and three runs in the second inning. However, he regained his control and allowed only one more hit, that in the seventh frame.

The Iowans won the game when

City Sweeps Tennis

Iowa City high's tennis team made a clean sweep of the state high school tournament here Saturday, winning the singles and doubles titles without losing a set.

Jamie Andrews defended his singles title and Art Andrews and Ted Dunnington combined to complete the Iowa City domination. Jamie Andrews defeated Ed Hoffman of Council Bluffs, 6-1, 6-1, for his title, and the doubles team edged Ron Sley and Jim Murphy of Clinton, 6-3, 6-4.

In the state track meet, City high and U-high both finished in eighth place in their respective classes. Gardner Van Dyke of the Little Hawks established a new class B record in the pole vault with a leap of 11 feet, 5½ inches, and took second in the broad jump to account for all of the Hawkeyes' points.

City's Jim Freeman remained undefeated in the shot put this year as he took the state class A crown with a toss of 52 feet, 3¼ inches. Fritz Hageboeck took third in the 120-yard hurdles and John White got fourth place in the discus throw.

Rifleman Elect Officers

Stan James was elected varsity rifle team captain for the 1952-53 season at the rifle marksmanship banquet Saturday night.

ROTC captain Don Green was also elected at the dinner held at the Mayflower.

Rifle team members presented Lt. Col. Harold E. Dilley, director of rifle marksmanship a gift in appreciation for his work this season.

$500-Bargain Shantz Runs String to 7

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back in 1947, a little guy was standing batted against the Philadelphia Phillies of the National league for a reported $65,000 bonus. The Souder-ton peevish outpitched the much publicized Simmons and Souder-ton.

Then along came a scout from the Philadelphia Athletics, who signed the kid to a contract with the A's Lincoln, Neb., farm team in the Western league for about $400.

Shantz won 18 games for Lincoln in 1948, won six and then eight for the Athletics in 1949 and 1950. Then last season he picked up 18 victories, ten of them over first division teams, four over the world champion New York Yankees.

Already this season, Shantz, who stands five feet, six inches tall in his bare feet and weighs 145 pounds soaking wet, has seven victories to his credit, six in a row. When you look at the standings and find the Athletics have won a total of 12 games you begin to get the idea of just how important this little fellow really is.

Smart, Good Fielder

Shantz not only has developed into one of the best left handers in the game with a sharp breaking curve and a good fast ball, but he's rated as one of the best fielding pitchers in the game.

Manager Jimmy Dykes says there isn't another hurler in the league capable of duplicating the Shantz glovework and headwork.

Shantz won 18 games for Lincoln in 1948, won six and then eight for the Athletics in 1949 and 1950. Then last season he picked up 18 victories, ten of them over first division teams, four over the world champion New York Yankees.

Already this season, Shantz, who stands five feet, six inches tall in his bare feet and weighs 145 pounds soaking wet, has seven victories to his credit, six in a row. When you look at the standings and find the Athletics have won a total of 12 games you begin to get the idea of just how important this little fellow really is.

Giants Tip Bums, 4-2, Take 1st

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers Monday night, 4-2, to climb into first place in the National league and dropping the Brooks into second, a half game behind. Bobby Thomson drove in three Giant runs with a home run and a long fly and Whitey Lockman scored thrice via a walk, triple and home run.

George Spencer, who relieved starter Jim Hearn with the scored tied at 2-2 in the second, turned in a brilliant three-hit performance through 7 2/3 innings to receive credit for the victory. The loser was Carl Erskine, who took over in the second after Brooklyn starter Preacher Roe bowed out for a pinch hitter in the Dodgers' half of the inning.

Even Split

A crowd of 40,456 cash customers, largest in the National league this season, saw the Giants boost their won and lost mark to 24-9 for a 75.0 percentage to Brooklyn's 23-8—74.2.

The triumph gave the Giants, who made only four hits, an even split in their first four games with the Dodgers. Brooklyn took the first series, at Ebbets' field, two games to one. The interborough rivalry move over to Brooklyn tonight and Wednesday for the second and third game of the current series.

Snaps 8-Game Streak

The defeat snapped Brooklyn's winning streak, longest in the National league, at eight. Thomson started the Giants off to their fifth consecutive triumph, getting hold of a Roe serve in the second inning for a home run with Lockman on base. That put the Giants in front, 2-0.

It was Thomson's first at bat

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Bob Rush hurled his fifth straight victory with a six-hitter as the Chicago Cubs beat the St. Louis Cardinals and Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, 3-0, Monday to maintain their brisk third-place pace in the National league.

Rush, who now has a 6-2 record, was backed by a seven-hit attack which included a homer and a two-bagger by third sacker Bill Serena, and a two-run single in the seventh by Bob Ram-

Bright Admits He Is Father Of Girl's Child

DES MOINES (AP) — Johnny Bright, star Drake university half-back the past three years, admitted in district court here Monday he is the father of a baby born last Aug. 20 to a 19-year-old girl.

Bright, 21, was graduated Monday morning from the university, with a degree in education. His attorney filed a stipulation with the court this afternoon admitting Bright is the father of the boy and agreeing to pay the hospital expenses of the girl, Miss Wilma Mae Kemp, of Des Moines.

Suit to establish Bright as the father of the boy was filed by Miss Kemp's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Madison of Des Moines.

At Bright's request, he was given sole care and custody of the 9-month-old boy. The baby was to accompany the girl star to his home at Fort Wayne, Ind., today.

Missouri Democrats Show Slight Trend To Stevenson

By The Associated Press

Democrats in President Truman's home state of Missouri began picking delegates to the Democratic national convention Monday with a minor trend toward Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

Four of the first 26 delegates chosen came out for Stevenson. Nineteen were silent on their choice. The other three were split, with one vote each for Sen. Estes Kefauver, Vice-President Alben Barkley and New York's favorite son, W. Averell Harriman.

The 4-to-1 choice of Stevenson over others in the field prompted some speculation Truman might have quietly passed the word to Missouri Democratic leaders that he would like to see Stevenson become the party's standard bearer.

Truman is reputed to favor the Illinois governor, and he never denied it. The President has said that like any other citizen he reserves the right to name his choice, although he has said he does not intend to dictate to the convention.

Stevenson 'Open'

Over the weekend, Stevenson himself appeared to have left the door wide open by saying in a radio broadcast that he would be "presumptuous, arrogant and conceited to say now what I would do in the event of a draft."

Meanwhile, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia will bid for Florida's 24 Democratic convention delegates in today's primary with a handicap of having too many candidates running as Russell supporters.

It looked like a case in which too many cooks could possibly "spoil the broth" for the Georgian by watering down his vote in his delegate fight against Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. But Russell was confident he would capture at least 18 delegates.

Three weeks ago Russell beat Kefauver by 82,600 votes—54.5 per cent to 42.3 per cent—in the Florida presidential popularity contest which gave the Tennessee his first primary defeat. This primary had no direct bearing on the selection of delegates.

In today's voting, Kefauver will have only 26 candidates running for 24 Democratic delegate posts—but there will be 41 candidates on the ballot pledging support to Russell.

Russell has recognized the danger in this situation. He stumped the state last week urging voters to mark their ballots for the 24 candidates of his choosing, and in effect repudiating the candidacies of 17 others.

Other Developments

In other political developments: Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was busy campaigning in South Dakota, with an eye on the 14 GOP delegates to be chosen in a primary election there June 3. He is opposed by a slate of delegates committed to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his chief rival for the nomination.

Taft told a GOP rally he would be a good deal stronger candidate with both labor and farmers than any other Republican "including General Eisenhower."

In Texas, Taft supporters won the first round in a battle that could make the Texas delegation to the GOP national convention a hot potato.

With the state GOP convention scheduled to meet today to name 38 national delegates, the state executive committee voted 45 to 14 Monday to seat a Taft delegation over a rival Eisenhower group.

Eisenhower leaders have threatened to bolt the convention and send their own delegation to Chicago if the executive committee resorts to "steam roller" tactics in favor of the Taft group.

Pentagon Warns Against Military Spending Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Pentagon officials told congress Monday the United States is lagging far behind Soviet Russia in the production of warplanes, and declared that house-approved curbs on military spending would jeopardize the nation's safety.

They also testified that the military high command believes Russia is aiming toward a peak strength by mid-1954.

Secretary of the air force Thomas K. Finletter and chairman John D. Small of the munitions board were the latest witnesses in the administration's long and continuing battle against congressional cuts in defense spending.

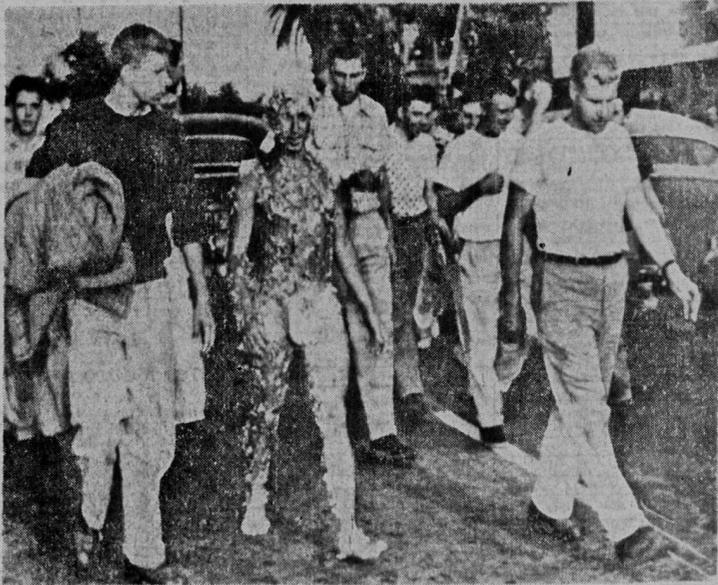

After listening to Finletter testify before a senate appropriations subcommittee, Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told newsmen: "Congress and the country have got to make up their minds whether, because this is an election year, they are going to be willing to expend the funds necessary for defense."

At issue is a house-approved limit of $46 billion on military spending for the next fiscal year beginning July 1. It would set a ceiling of approximately $6 billion less than the minimum needed for the mobilization program.

Raiders Practice Up on USC Editor

(AP Wirephoto)

EVEN THE MEN seem to be getting abuse on campuses these days, as shown by Fred Harper, editor of the University of Southern California yearbook, who was daubed with molasses and feathers and marched down a Los Angeles street recently. The incident reportedly occurred because of disparaging remarks in the yearbook concerning a fraternity. What happened shortly afterward? You guessed it—the men turned to panty-raiding some sorority houses at USC.

Presbyterians Take Steps to Restore Rule on Remarriage

NEW YORK (AP) — Presbyterians Monday launched steps to restore a church law requiring a waiting period for remarriages — and said they hadn't intended to void the rule in the first place.

"But for the next year at least, it's technically out," said Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, stated clerk of the Presbyterian church.

The mixup came at the church's 164th annual general assembly, its supreme governing body.

"We didn't intend for it to happen, but it happened," Blake said. Only last Friday the assembly, without discussion voted final approval of a new section in the "directory of worship" replacing one which contained a one-year waiting period law.

The new section, which a majority of local presbyteries had approved before it came before the assembly, does not specify a lapse is needed before a divorced person can remarry in the church.

Monday, when the Rev. Albert G. Butzer of Buffalo, N. Y., head of a commission on marriage and divorce, explained that the one-year provision was officially nullified, a volley of protests came from the floor.

Blake explained that under the church's constitution, however, a new amendment must be submitted to the local presbyteries for their approval during the ensuing year, before it can come back to a general assembly for final action.
