Allied Forces Stop Chinese In Fierce Fight

SEOUL, FRIDAY (AP)—Chinese Reds were hurled from a western front hill Thursday by an onslaught of Allied troops and tanks in a battle as fierce as any since the twilight war began last November.

In the sixth straight day of savage fighting, the Chinese still clung to a nearby knob in a tempest of Allied artillery and mortar fire.

The scene was the hills west of Chorwon, which is 48 miles north of Seoul on one of the ancient routes of invasion.

Allies Use Flame-Throwers
Furious fighting also broke out on the central front southeast of Kumsong. Allied troops with flame-throwers drove about 100 Chinese from bunkers. They reported most of the Reds were casualties.

In this grim maneuvering for better tactical positions in the event of a Chinese offensive, the Allies called in the air force from its major task of smashing Communist supply lines and bases.

Allied pilots still found time to stage a heavy raid on a Red supply base on the nearby Heaju peninsula. Pilots reported they destroyed 34 storage buildings and damaged 12 more.

Attack Wins Knob

The Allies won the knob west of Chorwon after 14 hours of attack and Red counter attack.

Eighth army headquarters made no estimate of the number of Chinese casualties.

Some Allied tanks which waded into the struggle in support of the infantry ran into Communist mine fields and were disabled.

Tanks Raid Chinese
Allied tank and infantry teams raided other Chinese hill positions about a mile west of the Chorwon battle. They reported killing or wounding about 600 Chinese in close quarter fighting.

The scene of the major battle is near two other hills which the Reds have tried to recapture since they lost them Saturday.

About 750 Chinese tried to recapture the hills Tuesday, charging behind 4,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire. This was one of the heaviest Red artillery barrages of the entire war.

President Is Silent On Gen. MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman took a hands-off attitude Thursday toward Gen. Douglas MacArthur's delivering the keynote speech at the Republican National convention.

But he left himself leeway to ring the bell on the General later should he wish to do so.

Truman told his news conference he regards the keynote assignment as political.

But on the question of whether army regulations forbid such political activity by a general who hasn't retired, the President said that's the army's baby.

He went on to say, under repeated prodding by correspondents, that he hasn't discussed the matter with army authorities, who have said they plan no action against MacArthur.

He wouldn't say, for instance, whether he plans to invoke the Taft-Hartley act in the steel strike, as the senate has urged him to do, though he did say no when asked if he would use the selective service act.

Parliament Member 1st Summer Lecturer

Clement Davies, member of the British parliament, will be the first of a series of summer session lecturers to appear on the SUI campus.

Davies, leader of the Liberal party since 1945, will speak on "World Government," Monday at 8 p.m. on the south campus of the Iowa Memorial Union. In case of unfavorable weather the lecture will be held in Macbride auditorium.

Davies was born in 1884 and began his career as a barrister in 1909. He practiced law in Commercial court, King's Bench division and Probate and Admiralty divisions. For six years he was a junior counsel to the treasury. In 1926 he was made a King's Counsel.

For many years he was president of a local congress of literary men of Wales, and in 1938 and 1939, of the Royal National Eisteddfod, a yearly convention.

His work in parliament includes membership on the commission on the dispatch of business at common law, the British Broadcasting Corporation Inquiry commission, the committee on third party insurance, the committee on the incidence of tuberculosis in Wales and the West African commission.

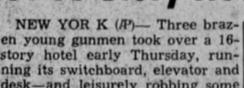

The public is invited to all summer session lectures, for which no tickets are required.

The next speaker in the series will be Robert A. Smith, editorial writer on the New York Times, who will speak on "What Makes Men Free," June 23.

June 30, Judge Harold C. Kesinger will talk on "How We Got Our Presidents." Hal Boyle, a columnist, will speak on "The Poor Man's Philosophy," July 7.

"This Changing World" will be the subject chosen by Harrison Wood, a radio commentator, July 14. The program will be changed for the last scheduled date, July 21. Nelson and Neal will present a piano duet.

This year's series of lectures is scheduled for Monday evenings, a change from last year when they were on Fridays.

Young Gunmen Take Control Of 16-Story New York Hotel

NEW YORK (AP)—Three brazen young gunmen took over a 16-story hotel early Thursday, running its switchboard, elevator and desk—and leisurely robbing some 25 guests.

The bandits held control of the 297-room Hotel Emerson on West 75th street in Manhattan for about three hours. Not a shot was fired.

A gunman on the switchboard carefully followed the schedule to wake up guests who'd left calls. Many of them came down from their rooms in time to get caught in the holdup in the lobby.

Victims were forced to lie on the floor. Men guests were made to remove their trousers, apparently to discourage any break for freedom.

The trio got more than $500 in cash and $2,500 in jewels from guests, plus $102 from the hotel's cash register. They also smashed open a cigarette machine and doled out smokes to their victims.

One of the robbery victims thought the men seemed "hopped up" on dope. They kept their hats pulled low on their foreheads. They appeared in their 20's.

The gunmen walked into the Emerson's lobby about 4 a.m. They quickly made prisoners of night clerk Martin Henry, 55, and elevator operator Hilliard Jackson, 58.

Then one gunman took over the elevator, a second the switchboard and a third the desk.

As guests arrived or left, they were casually relieved of their valuables and made to lie on the lobby floor.

"This is a good thing," remarked one of the bandits. "We ought to do it more often."

One guest, Frank Curran, a radio and television artist, complained that he had a bad heart. The gunmen offered him water and cigarettes. One of them solicitously felt the area above his heart, seemed satisfied and ordered Curran to get ahead and lie down.

A red-haired night club singer, Judy Mallory, 31, walked in on the holdup and the men relieved her of her cash—a dollar bill.

They called her "Red" and let her sit on a desk instead of lying on the floor.

"They tried to date me up," Miss Mallory said. "I told them they were punks and asked why they didn't go to Park avenue for the big jewels."

Finally, the hotel switchboard became clogged with calls and guests began yammering about the elevator service. The bandit at the switchboard fanned himself in near exhaustion.

"Maybe it's time to go," suggested one of the men.

So the three of them left.

Capitol Pays Tribute To Sullivan Brothers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Down through the years there'll be a living memorial on the capitol grounds to the five Sullivan brothers of Iowa who gave their lives together in defense of their country.

Final tribute to the Waterloo sailors was paid Thursday, a few months short of a decade after they were lost at sea when their cruiser, the U.S.S. Juneau, was sunk by the Japanese on Guadalcanal in World War II.

Soviets Order Shoot-to-Kill Around Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The shoot-to-kill security measures the Soviet zone government instituted on the frontier between East and West Germany May 28 were ordered extended Thursday to include the border around West Berlin.

Deputy Prime Minister Walter Ulbricht, Moscow's most trusted East German agent, signed the order to the People's police, already squeezing hard upon the Allied sectors with roadblocks, gunplay and kidnappings.

It was another Communist move in open reprisal for the signing of West Germany's peace contract and military alliance with the West that Red leaders say will mean civil war.

Among other developments of the day:

The Western Big Three high commissioners served notice here the United States, Britain and France are ready to counter new cold war attacks and rush economic aid to the encircled city of 2.2 million that lies 100 miles behind the Soviet army's front line in Europe.

The Russians rejected an American protest against the wounding of a U.S. military policeman, Pvt. Wilfred R. Chenevert of North Grafton, Mass., on the Berlin border by a Communist policeman June 4. They declared the MP had penetrated East German territory and that only a warning shot was fired in the air. Chenevert was grazed on the left leg by a bullet that passed through his jeep.

The program will be changed for the last scheduled date, July 21. Nelson and Neal will present a piano duet.

This year's series of lectures is scheduled for Monday evenings, a change from last year when they were on Fridays.

SUI Will Accept Stadium Repair Bids Until 25th of Month

SUI is now accepting bids for approximately $100,000 worth of repairs on the SUI stadium.

Bids will be opened June 25, and work will probably begin June 30, if a contract is awarded, according to George L. Horner, superintendent of planning and construction at SUI.

Work must be completed by October 18 in time for the first football game, according to the specifications.

Repairs consist of pointing and waterproofing the brickwork; waterproofing all the cement treads and risers in the stadium where spectators sit; tearing down and rebuilding some parts of the outer stadium walls, especially along the parapet at the top, and some structural repairs underneath the stadium.

More Red Prisoners Transferred at Koje

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (FRIDAY) (AP)—Two of Koje's toughest prison compounds, cowed by the new Allied policy of stern discipline backed by force, submitted peacefully today to transfer to other and smaller quarters.

Marching five abreast in columns of 150 men, 2,700 officers and 650 non-commissioned officers began moving out of compound 66 at 10 a.m. They marched between shoulder-to-shoulder rows of Canadian and British soldiers into large trucks for transfer to 500-man compounds in another valley, one mile away.

Another group of 200 North Korean war crimes suspects moved out of compound 60 earlier today into a new and smaller enclosure nearby.

Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, who directed the operation personally, said earlier the compound leaders "guaranteed to me there would be no resistance." To encourage that attitude, the tough general took the leaders yesterday to the ruins of compound 76 where North Korean POWs fought futilely Tuesday against transfer.

Daykin to Speak At SUI Conference

Walter Daykin, professor of labor economics in the SUI college of commerce, will speak on "Labor's Attitude Toward Cost Reduction Work" Saturday morning during the 13th summer management course.

Sponsored by the college of engineering and directed by J. Wayne Deegan, associate professor of industrial engineering, the course has attracted participants from 21 states, Washington, D.C., and Ontario, Canada. It began Monday and will continue through June 21.

Congress Raises Snags In Truman Seizure Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress raised new snags against President Truman's drive for power to seize the strike-crippled steel industry Thursday as the house banking committee followed the senate's lead in beating down such a move.

At the same time, the senate battle over the issue collapsed when last-ditch advocates of presidential seizure authority gave up the fight, at least temporarily. They had been heavily out-numbered since the outset.

The senate then voted 58 to 18 to pass an economic controls law extension carrying a provision virtually demanding that Truman use the Taft-Hartley law in the steel strike.

Truman has denounced the T-H act as unfair and as probably an ineffective method of trying to settle the steel dispute.

Senator Maybank (D-S.C.), quarterbacking the pro-seizure forces, indicated that the issue would be sidetracked until late this summer after the July political conventions.

If so, it could mean another long-drawn struggle.

The house banking committee voted 15 to 10 to reject the first seizure proposal formally raised in that chamber, thereby serving to emphasize the senate demand that Truman use the Taft-Hartley law's anti-strike provisions to deal with the steel crisis.

Rep. Richard Bolling, a Democrat from Truman's home state of Missouri, brought up the seizure question in the form of an amendment to the house version of legislation to extend the Economic Controls law.

Union Executives To Hear Murray's Steel Strike Report

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The men running the steel strike meet today in a momentous session to hear Philip Murray's report on the walkout and to plan their future strategy—possibly relaxation of union shop demands.

Murray, president of the striking CIO United Steelworkers and the parent CIO, has summoned the union's executive board and wage policy committee for a joint session.

Murray hasn't tipped his hand on what he will tell the group or what future action he may be asking the leaders to approve. But the issue of the union shop is sure to be discussed.

A union shop is one in which all employees must join the union—if they don't already belong—in some stated time limit, usually 30 days.

Senate Also OKs Bill, Urges Use Of T-H Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house banking committee Thursday night approved by a 15-3 vote legislation to extend until June 30, 1953, the government's authority to control prices, wages and rents.

Committee Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) said he expects speedy house action on the bill. He said debate on the measure will probably start next Wednesday and finish by the end of the week.

Earlier in the day the senate had passed by a 58 to 18 vote legislation to extend through Feb. 28 the federal power to control prices, wages and rents.

Extended 1 Year
Under the senate version, authority for credit curbs and for allocation of scarce materials to industry would be extended for a full year, until June 30, 1953.

The bill okayed by the house group Thursday would do away with the government's power to impose credit controls.

The senate version of the legislation also contains language requesting President Truman to invoke the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act in the present steel dispute. These authorize the President to seek 80-day no-strike injunctions in work stoppages where the nation's security is involved.

Passage Comes Swiftly
Senate passage of the controls extension came swiftly Thursday after those advocating alternative proposals to deal with the steel strike gave up the effort to attach them to the bill, saying they would seek separate legislation instead.

Present authority for all the anti-inflation controls expires 2 1/2 weeks from now, at midnight June 30. Truman asked for a two-year extension, but the senate voted only an eight-months one. Many members argued that inflationary pressures are ebbing.

The house banking committee is now at work on a one-year extension. The house is due to start debate on its measure next week.

House Disagreement
Another potential point of disagreement is on the one-year extension of authority for credit controls contained in the senate bill. The house committee voted Wednesday to end all curbs on consumer and real estate credit on June 30.

Broadly speaking, the senate version extends control authority about as it exists now.

The senate bill would put congress on record as favoring selective lifting of price controls as soon as conditions permit on any commodity.

Among those retained was the provision named for Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.), which guarantees to producers that price ceilings will reflect their cost increases during the first 13 months of the Korean war, or until last July 26. No change in this cutoff date was made.

Taft Urges Allied Forces To Pull Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft said Thursday the United Nations should pull its troops out of Korea as soon as the South Koreans can be outfitted.

Meanwhile, he suggested we "drag our feet" in the Korean truce talks until American arms production gets rolling at a speed necessary to outfit South Korean forces.

Taft said bombing of China above the Yalu river would have worked a year ago when it was favored by Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Now it's too late, he added, because the Reds have too much land and air superiority.

The Ohio Republican, in a whirlwind invasion of generally pro-Eisenhower territory here, found himself more or less in agreement with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the Korean issue.

At about the same time Taft was outlining his views in a recorded radio interview for Friday morning, Eisenhower was saying much the same thing to a visiting group of New Jersey GOP delegates.

Taft flew in last night for a one-day visit here. He spent a part of the day trying to make hay with the strongly pro-Eisenhower Jersey delegation.

Ike Says Partition Of Germany Taken Against His Advice

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said Thursday the decision to partition Germany into separate zones of occupation—leaving Berlin cut off inside Russian territory—was taken against his advice.

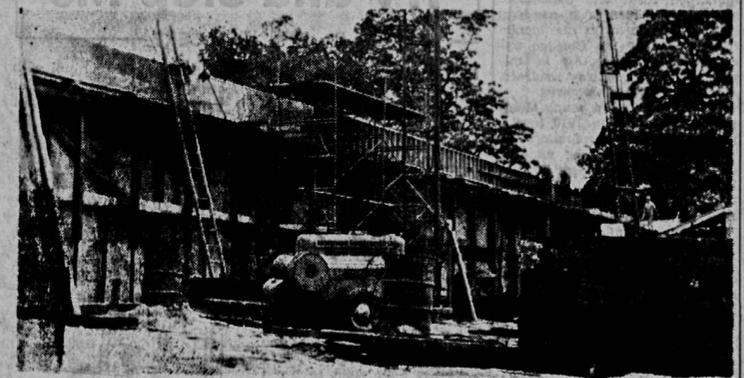

"That was one of the pieces of advice they didn't accept," he said in a long and searching conference with more than 100 Republican convention delegates and prominent party-members from New Jersey.

In the course of the questioning, Eisenhower also said: He would have invoked the Taft-Hartley Act in the steel strike dispute.

He considers the seizure of the steel industry by the President to have been illegal.

He would not favor bombing the Yalu river, the accepted boundary between Chinese-held Manchuria and Korea.

New Journalism Building After 1 Year

(Daily Iowan Photo)

THIS IS THE WAY the new SUI Communications building looks after nearly a year's construction. Work was started in July, 1951, but was halted in November due to a shortage of material. Construction was resumed in February of this year. Most of the concrete for the second floor had been poured when this picture was taken. The building will house the school of journalism, including The Daily Iowan news and advertising staff, Hawkeye Magazine X, a typography laboratory, a newspaper production laboratory, photography rooms and radio and television teaching facilities.

Hottest June 12th — Temperature Soars to 97

— Since 1918

The temperature in Iowa City climbed to 97 degrees Thursday, breaking the all-time high of 94 for this date set back on June 12, 1918.

To make matters worse, the humidity was 75 per cent. Iowa faces two more days of the same unseasonable weather. But the temperature is scheduled to go down a little by Sunday or Monday, the weather bureau said.

The younger set hauled out wash tubs and hoses to keep cool, and oldsters set out for swimming pools, rivers, lakes, beaches and shady spots throughout the state.

The mercury hit official peaks of 99 degrees at Council Bluffs and 98 at Sioux City Thursday afternoon, while unofficial readings of 101 to 103 were being reported.

In Des Moines, the official high of 97 was the hottest June 12 on record — and the highest the mercury had reached since the summer of 1948.

able 79 at Dubuque Thursday afternoon.

Even the Des Moines weatherman was wringing wet when he predicted:

"There's no hope of any change through Saturday. The readings Friday may run a degree or two higher than those of Thursday."

The heat wave, said forecasters, is caused by a flow of broiling air from the southwest.

A strip across northern Iowa may get a few scattered showers in the next 24 hours, said the weather bureau, but these will mean no real relief for the other sections of the state.

Who Minds the Heat?

HUGA HICHTOTZKE, 42, Green Island, seems to have found a way he thinks he can beat the heat. His idea is to take off as many of his clothes as he can, get a large glass of ice water, find a large, soft pillow and stretch out in front of a window. The reason he wants a window is that maybe a cool breeze will come wafting in. At the last report he is still waiting for the breeze.

Young Man Promotes UN and World Peace

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst
Porter McKeever is a young man of high capabilities, a crusader for the theory that nations as well as people should do what is right, who has done an excellent public relations job for the American delegation to the United Nations.
He is leaving that job in disillusionment, feeling that the United States is bypassing the UN. He says there is a trend in Washington to ignore the organization.
Yet his speech might have been more timely if made three years ago. At that time the UN ROBERTS had just demonstrated its complete inability to handle such matters as the Berlin blockade, although it did provide the lounge in which settlement negotiations eventually began.

U.S. authorities felt at the time that the UN was merely a facade for an idea which would have been fine if it had worked; that it was important as a meeting place for East and West which might some day prove of value, but that it was no good in the cold war except for propaganda.
McKeever argues that this might not have been true had the UN not already been weakened through being by-passed on such matters as the Truman doctrine (the beginning of the containment program), the Marshall plan, Point Four, the North Atlantic Treaty and the like.
He thinks the trend has continued in refusal by the U.S. out of deference for her allies, to let colonial problems such as Tunisia and Morocco come up for discussion. He now has the agreement of practically everybody that this was wrong.

Old Time Melodrama Now Showing

THE SHOWBOAT "GOLDENROD" advertises the feature of the evening as "The Switchman's Daughter" in this picture of the craft taken at its dock in St. Louis, Mo. The Goldenrod is the last of a fleet of showboats that furnished entertainment for the people of the river cities in early days.

Last of the Showboats Playing 'Catfish Circuit'

ST. LOUIS, MD. (CP)—Moored at the foot of Locust st., on the Mississippi here, is a unique boat, the last of its type in America. Immortalized in song and story, Capt. J. W. (Call Me Bill) Menke's "Goldenrod" is the sole remaining showboat of an historic era.
Sixteen years ago, the "Goldenrod" docked at St. Louis, for a two-week stay. Strangely, it's been there ever since. Built in 1909, the boat is 220 feet long, 45 feet wide and 40 feet high, and accommodates 600 people in its theater auditorium, with 16 double rooms for the cast.
As late as 1930, there were still an even dozen showboats plying the rivers in America. Today, the "Goldenrod" is the only remaining boat afloat.

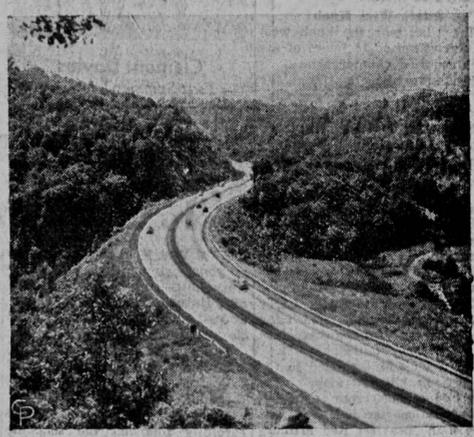

Back to St. Louis
When the "Goldenrod" steamed up to St. Louis, back in 1937, Captain Menke was met by a contingent of police and several of the "legitimate" showmen of the city who didn't relish any competition from the catfish circuit, and told bluntly to move on.
Menke simply floated his boat down river for some distance, then anchored, and walked into town. Soon he was in possession of a

Detours to Plague Season's Motorists

DETROIT, MICH. — When the nation's 75 million licensed drivers sally forth on vacation trips during the next few months in the country's more than 50 million automobiles, many will echo the puzzled question of an early motorist: "Who is this Frenchman who builds the worst roads — that guy DeTour?"
The fact that summer is best both for touring and road-building has plagued the motorist for a half century.
In the name of progress, they have more or less cheerfully detoured countless times while hard surface was expanded from a mere 2,151 miles to today's estimated 3,322,000.
Predictions Refuted
Thus the sprawling United States refuted gloomy predictions in 1901 by the leading auto racer of the day, Henri Fournier, who came from France to set a new world's speed record for one mile.

IN THE 10 YEARS since the building of the Pennsylvania turnpike (above) nearly 23 million cars have traveled two-and-a-quarter billion miles over the famous road. The turnpike is the keystone of a 600 mile system which is the pride of several states building stretches of the dual-lane concrete.

Fournier could find only one stretch good enough for his speed trials in a 40 hp Mors, the old Coney Island boulevard at Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn. Twenty-five thousand lined the right-of-way to see him cover the distance in 52 seconds — more than a mile a minute!
"Your railroads are so good and your distances so great, that you never will build the roads we shall have in Europe," said Fournier.

Fournier Was Right
However, he was right about one thing: the future of the automobile was linked with the adequacy of the roads. The first crisis was met, but the experts say that a more acute situation faces roadbuilders today.

Most of the nation's highway and traffic development is surprisingly recent, indicating how short is the memory of a happy vacationist for a bumpy road, after all. Not until Nov. 11, 1926, did the American Association of Highway Officials launch the uniform highway numbering system.
It deserves celebration as "armistice day" between drivers and the "local yokels" they pestered for directions. The first stop-and-go lights — admittedly a mixed blessing! — were installed in New York city only 32 years ago.

Those who like to mix adventure with their vacations can lament the passing of the days of unmarked roads and impassable stretches. In 1906, a 10-day trip by a sportsman in his Locomobile from New York to Chicago excited as much interest as this year's Panama highway roadrace.
Tour Affects Motorist
In fact, the tour a young Memphis lawyer took in 1910 to Poland Spring, Me., profoundly affects every vacationing motorist this summer. The present Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee had just bought a shiny new Packard, and discovered that he had to ship the car by rail to Washington, D. C., even to start his journey. So he teamed with congress and Senator John Bankhead, famed actress Tullulah's grandfather, to author in 1915 the first federal highway aid program.

President Woodrow Wilson, who doubted its constitutionality, signed the bill largely because a few weeks earlier a German U-boat had surfaced off Baltimore, and he thought roads were needed for national defense.
Roadbuilders Learn
By trial and error, the nation's roadbuilders learned that the life of the average pavement has been 25 years. They still seek the perfect surfacing material, and currently are experimenting with rubber mixed with concrete.

It is calculated that $40 billion and 10 years will be needed to modernize the present system; by then, new obsolescence will have accumulated requiring $15 billion more!

Motorists this summer will channel many of their trips into the 600 miles of new toll road turnpikes which are the especial prides of the states building them. Keystone of this system is the Pennsylvania Turnpike of 327 miles.

This peerless road is newly linked with the New Jersey Turnpike of 118 miles. Maine has its 40-mile pike from the New Hampshire Turnpike to the Massachusetts border. Colorado has a new pike from Denver to Boulder, and Oklahoma has the 80-mile Turner Turnpike from Tulsa to Oklahoma City.

Possible to Produce Food from Sewage

BERKELEY, CALIF. (AP)—Food produced from sewage is a possibility for the future.

Small amounts of high protein substances already have been harvested from shallow tanks into which had been put only sewage and one-celled plants called algae. Sunlight did all the work.

This process, started by engineers at the University of California, is rated as 15 times as productive as rich agricultural land planted to soybeans. It still is in early experimental stage.
The edible product of this experiment is relatively large amount of protein. It is clean and fit for human consumption but psychological factors are against its being used that way. More likely it would serve as feed for livestock and poultry.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE first railroad that attempted to span the Mississippi with a bridge found its right of way questioned by a combine of river steamboat operators who sought to prove in court that such a bridge was illegal.
Judge Mead, leading legal authority in Missouri in those days, spoke so eloquently for the steamboat people that he left the courtroom audience in tears.
Then the lawyer for the railroad spoke for one minute. "I must congratulate my opponent on his great oration," he said, "but it had nothing to do with the issue. The only question the distinguished gentlemen of the jury must settle is whether a man has more right to travel up and down the river than to cross it."

"Don't worry about finding your station in life," counsels New York's Mayor Impellitteri. "Somebody will be sure to tell you where to get off."

Out-of-town boy camp members will be housed in Hillcrest, while girls will stay in Currier hall. Paul Behm, director of instrumental music at Mason City, will act as music's counselor, as well as instructor. Dorothy Johnson, instrumental supervisor at West Waterloo, will be girls' counselor.

Camp members will give a public concert Friday June 27 at which all three bands and the orchestra will appear. A public baton twirling contest will be presented Saturday morning, June 28, with nearly 30 contestants taking part.

Back Home with the GoSox

YOUNG CHARLES COMISKEY, erstwhile vice-president and secretary of the Chicago White Sox came home from the walk he took last January, on an assist by his family that re-instates him as an official of the club. "Chuck," 26, hangs up his hat to go to work as vice-president. His mother is president and his sister, Mrs. Grace Comiskey Rigney, now is club secretary.

Brosch Leads Hogan By 1 Stroke in Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY
DALLAS (AP) — Al Brosch, 39-year-old home professional from Garden City, N. Y., shot a two-under-par 69 Thursday to take the opening round lead in the National Open golf tournament. He had a one-stroke edge over defending champion Ben Hogan, who registered a 69 earlier in the day.

The red-haired easterner, who can't see the tee without his thick-lensed spectacles, shot an even par 35 on the outgoing nine but blazed home in 33. Hogan, seeking his fourth open championship in as many successive tries, fired a 36-33-69 over the 6,782-yard, par 35-35-70 Northwood course, which defied all other contestants during the long, hot day.

Dick Mez, 44-year-old cattle rancher from Maple City, Kan., matched par with a 37-33-70 but no one else could equal regulation figures. Seven professionals were tied at 71 and five others at 72. The rest of the field, with a few still on the course, stretched all the way back to the 91 by John C. Owens, Lexington, Ky., amateur who was the first man off the tee Thursday morning.

Sam Snead, playing in the late field came in with a 70, two strokes back of the leader. Slammin Sam, still aiming for his first open win, had a one under par 34 on the front nine but slipped to a 36 coming in. One of the prime co-favorites, former champion Lloyd Mangrum, took a 75 after going five strokes over par on the first nine.

These miseries fell particularly on such highly-rated contenders as Mangrum; Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, the 1949 champion; and Jackie Burke Jr., of Houston, the year's leading money winner.

Cards Take Bums Again, 15-10

3d St. Louis Win In Series; Chase Preacher Roe Early

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals reached a new high for the season in both hits and runs as they walloped six Brooklyn Dodger pitchers and defeated the National league leaders 15-10 Thursday. It was the third Red-bird triumph in the four-game series.

One of the Dodger aces, Preacher Roe, undefeated and in search of his sixth victory, failed to last the first inning as the Cardinals overcame a four-run Brooklyn lead obtained at the expense of Gerry Staley.

With the thermometer at 97 degrees, perspiring hurlers arched to the mound, six for Brooklyn and three for the Cards.

The last of the Redbirds' trio, Bill Werle, entered the game in the fifth inning with the score 10-7 in his favor and held the Dodgers except for two tremendous home run blasts by Gil Hodges.

Cubs Beat Phils

CHICAGO (AP) — Hank Sauer, the Chicago Cubs' muscular home-hitting outfielder, had to settle for a single run batted in with a routine fly Thursday as the third place Bruins defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-1.

The Cubs swept the three-game set along with capturing their 15th victory in the past 19 games. Sauer, who smacked six homers in the past five games — three of them Wednesday — went hitless and struck out twice in four times at bat against Robin Roberts and Jim Konstanty.

Sauer's first inning fly to Johnny Wyrostek enabled Bob Addis, who collected three of the Chicagoan's 11 hits, to score the first Cub run.

Thereafter the Cubs' power department was manned by rookie catcher Toby Atwell and winning pitcher Warren Hacker.

Braves 11, Bucs 2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Catcher Paul Burris drove in six runs with a homer, double and two singles, and relief hurler Lew Burdette pitched one-hit ball for eight innings Thursday to lead Boston's Braves to an 11-2 victory over Pittsburgh.

Burdette was called to relieve Ernie Johnson in the second inning with nobody out. Three Buc hits had scored two runs. He allowed only one hit in eight innings — a single to George Metkovich in the fifth — to rack up his third win against one loss.

Joe Jurr, one of four Pirate Pitchers, was the loser, giving him a 2-2 slate. Eleven Bostonians went to the plate in a wild six-run fifth inning, driving Forrest Main from the mound.

Yanks 3, Tigers 0

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Morgan's three-hit shutout pitching gave the New York Yankees their sixth straight victory Thursday, 3-0, over Detroit, to hold first place in the American league.

Morgan, going the route for the first time this season, was in complete charge of the Tigers who dropped their seventh in a row and eighth in 10 starts since the big deal with Boston.

All five ex-Red Sox players were in action for the Tigers. Lefty Bill Wight was cuffed for 11 hits, and his second straight loss in a Detroit uniform. Johnny Pesky, Walt Drogo and Don Lenhardt went hitless and Fred Hatfield, the other ex-Red Sox, had a single.

Hank Bauer's seventh home run of the year in the first inning gave young Morgan all the lead he needed. Morgan himself smashed a 400-foot triple to open the third. He scored when Cliff Mapes and Vic Wertz let Bauer's high fly fall for a fluke double.

Feller Wins, 7-4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland blasted Frank Shea for six runs in the third inning that featured Pete Reiser's 3-run pinch homer and went on to defeat Washington, 7-4, Thursday.

Bob Feller, shelled in two previous starts, went the distance to register his sixth triumph, yielding 10 hits.

The Indians got to Shea and Don Johnson for six of their 11 hits in their decisive outburst. Reiser batted for Dale Mitchell, who left the game with an ailing leg, and lofted a home run over

Duke Rallies to Take Opening NCAA Contest

OMAHA (AP) — Duke, the tournament favorite, staged a rousing comeback to rout Oregon State 18-7 in the NCAA baseball meet Thursday.

After firing a first inning 4-run blast the southerners saw their lead wiped out in the next inning when Duke scored six runs.

Duke's triumph followed a 5-3 victory by Penn State over Texas, the opening game of the eight-team, elimination tournament.

the rightfield fence with two aboard. Washington picked up a run in the fourth inning and three in the eighth.

BoSox Top Browns

BOSTON (AP) — Righthander Sid Hudson, obtained from Washington two days ago, made his Boston Red Sox pitching debut a success Thursday by gaining a 7-5 decision over the St. Louis Browns in rather rocky fashion.

Owner Bill Veeck protested the game because of manager Marty Marion's decision to play shortstop against the Red Sox as they closed a 20-game home-stand with 13-7 record. Marion had placed himself in the official starting lineup. He was forced to withdraw when notified of his suspension. Joe DeMaestri was inserted.

Hudson was romping along with a 6-1 lead until the eighth, when he became rattled after hitting Joe Delsing's right arm with a pitched ball with one out. After two Brownies singled and Delsing scored, Hudson nicked Jim Rivera's left ankle to load the bases.

Tom Wright then connected for a two-run pinch-hit single to left and when Hoot Evers fumbled the bounce and then threw wide, Rivera crossed the plate. Catcher Clint Courtney added to the Brownies' woes by suffering

White Sox to 4th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Chicago White Sox climbed into fourth place in the American league Thursday with a 10 to 4 win over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Sox featured a 14-hit attack topped with a pair of tipples by Chico Carrasquel and a two-run homer by Sherman Lollar.

The Sox moved ahead of the Washington Senators, who dropped a 7 to 4 decision to the Cleveland Indians.

Chicago took a 3-0 lead in the second as Lollar belted him homer after a walk to Eddie Robinson with a single by Hector Rodriguez, an infield out and pitcher Marv Grissom's safety accounting for the other tally.

Philadelphia wiped out this deficit with a four run spurge against Grissom in the fourth. Ferris Fain started the ball rolling with a double for one tally.

Elmer Valo's single filled the bases with but one out, and Chico Carrasquel booted Hal Bevan's grounder to let two runs cross.

Haerner Included In Big Grid Trade For Les Richter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams, in one of the biggest deals—numerically—in the history of the National football league, Thursday announced that they have acquired California's all-America linebacker Les Richter from the Dallas Texans in exchange for 11 players.

President Dan Reeves of the champion Rams announced the deal after a lengthy conference in Dallas between Ram Coach Joe Stydahar and Jimmy Phelan, coach of the newest team in the league.

Reeves' announcement said his club receives Richter "and other considerations" for the Ram players. The other considerations were not made public.

Heading the list of Ram regulars to Dallas are fullback Dick Hoerner, formerly of Iowa, and Tom Keane, an end on offense and halfback on defense.

ing a split finger on his right hand during the fourth inning. He will be out of action from two to three weeks.

Will Harridge Suspends Marion; Veeck Protests

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Veeck, St. Louis Browns president said Thursday he would protest to baseball commissioner Ford Fick the indefinite suspension of Brownie Manager Marty Marion. Marion, whose name was announced in the team's starting lineup was ordered suspended by a wire from American league president Will Harridge to Veeck just before Thursday's game with the Boston Red Sox.

Veeck immediately said the game would be played under protest.

Run-in With McGowan The suspension was ordered because of a run-in Marion had Wednesday night with umpire Bill McGowan.

The two bumped as Marion argued with McGowan after the latter called DeMaestri out at third in the eighth inning, over ruling umpire Hank Soar.

Marion termed the suspension, on his third day as manager of the club, "the biggest disgrace in baseball."

'Biggest Disgrace in Baseball' — Will Harridge Suspends Marion; Veeck Protests

Warrant a suspension? "In the meantime," added Veeck, "we are deprived of our manager and shortstop. "I'll be in Chicago (American league headquarters) Friday to present our side of the case. I think that we are entitled to do so. "It shouldn't," he concluded, "be decided on the umpire's story alone."

What if the report does not

"I did not," he told baseball writers, "bump him (McGowan). He tried to walk through me. Protested Veeck, "Why not wait until the umpire's report is received before ordering a suspension?"
