Hancher Vetoes SUI Pay Hike

SUI Pres. Virgil M. Hancher Monday turned down the request from non-academic SUI employes for a pay increase of at least 10 cents per hour.

Hancher explained that funds available for the operation of SUI during the fiscal year 1952-53 will not be sufficient to provide such an increase.

Members of local 12 of the state, county and municipal employes union, AFL, had asked for the increase effective July 1, when the SUI fiscal year begins.

President Hancher said the university is aware of the need for adjustment in wage and salary scales, both for academic (teaching) and non-academic employes, and pay scales are under constant survey.

Funds Will Be Used
"Consistent with the needs of the university as a whole, funds available for non-academic wages and salaries will be utilized for that purpose to the fullest extent," Hancher asserted.

Before the present (1951-52) fiscal year began, the president explained, the university estimated all sources of income — including appropriations, estimated fees and tuitions, unexpended balances and gifts and grants — and allocated its funds so as to end the biennium of June 30, 1953, with no unexpended balances or with only very small ones.

It was by this procedure, Hancher said, that SUI was enabled to raise wages and salaries last July 1 to the full extent for both years of the 1951-53 biennium.

He explained that the university might have made a smaller pay increase last July and might thus have held over until this year funds which could have been applied to an increase in wages in 1952-53.

"Amounts to the Same"
"Inasmuch as this could not have increased the total amount available to the non-academic staff, we believed it preferable to determine the additional amount which could be paid out in increased wages and salaries of non-academic staff for the entire biennium and spread it evenly over both years," President Hancher said.

While the university will have "rather substantial" unexpended balances on hand June 30 of this year, these will necessarily be used to offset declining fees and tuitions and other declining income in order to balance the 1952-53 budget, he explained.

"On June 30, 1953, the end of the current biennium, it is expected that there will be no unexpended balances available except for working funds so small as to be inadequate for operations of the magnitude of those carried on by this university," President Hancher concluded.

He explained that he is bringing the request for pay increases to the attention of the Iowa state board of education.

Acheson Met on British Arrival

SECRETARY OF STATE DEAN ACHESON is greeted on his arrival at London airport by Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden as he arrived for high-level talks on the East-West struggle over Germany.

Blakely Says We Need New Leadership Basis

An appeal for a vastly broadened basis of leadership in America was voiced here Tuesday by Robert Blakely, veteran newspaper editor and now vice-president of Ford foundation's fund for adult education.

Blakely, speaking at the final session of an SUI conference on the role of speech in education, viciously attacked the "narrow basis of leadership" now existing and charged that "we are not seeking to draw people up."

The ex-Des Moines newspaperman advocated an "elicitative" form of leadership in which those talents given by birth and learned through experience are given full recognition.

New Sources and Kinds
"I'm thinking of a society," he continued, "that constantly provides new sources and new kinds of leadership in meeting the challenges of society."

In contrast, he referred to the totalitarian or "manipulative" type of leadership, exemplified by Russia, which is served by an all-type leadership — the expert in economics is also the expert in art.

He assigned to the mass media of communication a major role in the creation of an "elicitative" leadership pattern in this country. The mass media are able to present life with a great dramatic intensity and consequently are possessed with great persuasive power.

He predicted:
"We are in the United States in 1952 at the beginning of the most rapid, most widespread movement in history—adult education. In 15 or 20 years, it will be the rule rather than the exception for Americans to continue their education throughout life."

But he warned, "Let's not have our imagination stunted by the lack of imagination we've had before."

Voters Turn Out For Senate Race In N. D. Primary
FARGO, N.D. (AP) — Despite threatening weather, voters appeared at polling places in large numbers in Tuesday's North Dakota state primary election, highlighted by a hotly-contested race for a Republican senatorial nomination.

A spot check in the state's largest cities at noon showed heavy voting. Some predictions placed the possible vote at 215,000, only 10,000 less than the record.

Sen. William Langer, leader of the non-partisan league faction of the GOP, is seeking his third term. He is opposed by U.S. Rep. Fred G. Aandahl, head of the Republican organizing committee, second faction of the Republican party in North Dakota.

Langer has often voted with Democrats in the senate. Republican nominees are virtually certain of election in North Dakota.

The presidency did not figure in the primary.

Korean Police Foil Attempted Killing of Rhee

PUSAN, KOREA (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — An attempt to assassinate President Syngman Rhee failed today when police grabbed the would-be assassin before he could fire at the South Korean leader.

The attempt on Rhee's life was made during ceremonies marking the second anniversary of the Korean war.

As the 77-year-old president addressed a crowd of 6,000, a man moved quickly from the rear of the speaker's platform.

Police Grab Man
Police and others on the platform quickly grabbed the man as he leveled a pistol at Rhee's back and hauled him to police headquarters.

On Tuesday Rhee told a reporter he would defy his enemies, friends and Korea's constitution in order to build "a firmer base of democracy" in South Korea.

Rhee also stated publicly for the first time his views on attempts at intervention by the U.S. and other western powers after 12 opposition assemblies were arrested by Rhee's police.

Friends Make Mistake
The stubborn old man said he thought friendly powers made a serious mistake in judging the Korean situation and acted hastily in writing him strong notes of "grave concern." But he blamed himself for any misunderstanding.

"The Korean government didn't give the United Nations the full facts," Rhee said. "I don't blame them for taking the stand they did."

Cherokee Area Gets $1 Million Damage In Monday's Winds

By The Associated Press
Damage estimated at approximately $1 million in the Cherokee county area was caused Monday night by a tornado and high winds which struck northwestern Iowa.

The full extent of the destruction on farms and in rural areas where the tornado hit was not determined until many hours after the funnel-shaped storm had passed.

But the farm bureau and other officials said the $1 million estimate only covered the damage in the Marcus-Cleghorn-Larrabee area northwest of Cherokee, which bore the brunt of the storm.

The destruction toll will be higher after there is an official count of the destruction caused farther north along the Minnesota border counties from Estherville to Rock Rapids. This area includes Lake Okoboji and Arnolds park where winds of tornado velocity destroyed or damaged cottages, homes, boats and docks.

In Des Moines, Gov. William S. Beardsley placed the 50 members of Cherokee National Guard company L on active duty in the county's damage area.

The power of the tornado, which cut a path 400 yards wide over a distance of 15 miles, was so great that it sucked corn and soybean crops into the air, leaving fields bare and farm buildings flattened.

House Group Isn't Satisfied by Navy, Air Force Reasons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A house subcommittee said Tuesday it isn't satisfied with reasons given by the air force and the navy for military projects at Lincoln and Omaha, Neb.

The services had asked funds to move a navy air reserve training unit from the Lincoln air field to the Omaha Municipal airport and to establish an air force heavy bomber wing at Lincoln. This called for $3½ million for the navy and some $10 million for the air force.

Britain's Labor Group Protests Yalu Bombing

LONDON (AP) — The massive United Nations bombing of Yalu and other Communist power plants in North Korea stirred up a noisy storm in the house of commons Tuesday.

At the moment, Secretary of State Dean Acheson was here trying to fortify the British-American alliance against Russian diplomatic wedges.

A team of Labor opposition leaders, including former prime minister Clement Attlee, leftwing Aneurin Bevan, former defense minister Emanuel Shinwell and Sydney Silverman denounced the raids as a threat to world peace.

They said the action might extend the war because much of the power from the plant is used across the border in Manchuria, a part of Red China.

Churchill Surprised
Prime Minister Winston Churchill, apparently caught by surprise by the Labor attack, defended the action of the UN commander, U.S. Gen. Mark W. Clark, but said he had not been consulted about it beforehand.

He fought off a demand for an immediate debate on the raid, but promised an early statement to the house. This may come today or Thursday after Defense Minister Earl Alexander returns from his visit to Korea and Washington.

Britain Consulted
In the house, Attlee declared Britain previously had been consulted "on every point on which there is a political consideration impinging on the military," and asserted that "Surely this is one of the occasions when there should have been consultations."

He said the bombing appeared not to "go beyond the discretionary authority vested" in Gen. Clark, as the UN commander.

He added that he did not wish to make any statement that would embarrass Clark. "But we naturally reserve all our rights as a friendly ally for making any representations which may be thought desirable."

Gas-Filled Navy Tanker Afire in Gulf of Mexico

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Mission Carmel, a navy-owned tanker carrying 135,000 barrels of gasoline, was afire in the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday night about 150 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The navy and coast guard said they had no report of any casualties.

The extent of the blaze was not known, but an intercepted message said that the fire had been put out in the cargo holds.

500 Bombers Strike Again

CARRIED OUT BY A COMBINATION of navy and air force planes, the second raid in two days by Allied forces on four power stations along the Yalu river (upper left) was reported to be very destructive to these all-important North Korean electric power sources. The arrows (lower right) point out the front along which UN forces are finding the tension growing as a result of the Yalu power station bombings.

School Officials Discuss Physical Education Role

The history of elementary school physical education, and a report on current activities were featured Tuesday in two addresses at a luncheon of the SUI workshop in physical education for elementary schools.

Jessie Parker, Iowa superintendent of public instruction, described the early physical education programs in state elementary schools. She explained how physical education was separated from health education, and how the program was eventually formalized into law.

Turning to the future, Miss Parker expressed a hope that outdoor living will become a part of elementary physical education. She stated that the demand for physical education teachers for girls exceeds the supply.

Gas-Filled Navy Tanker Afire in Gulf of Mexico
Elsa Schneider, consultant from the U.S. office of education, Washington, D.C., said the 24,000 elementary school pupils now enrolled in the nation's schools receive physical education instruction of a quality directly related to the teacher's ability to convince parents and community of its worth.

Americans tend to confuse physical education with competitive sports, she said, and added that, where this concept is shown to be false, proper facilities for physical education are usually obtained.

The workshop began June 16 and ends Friday. Its purpose is to aid elementary teachers of physical education and those in college who train such teachers. Twenty-two persons are enrolled.

Education Leaders Speak at Luncheon Here

Navy, Air Force Continue Blasts At Generators

SEOUL (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Allied warplanes heaped destruction on four big hydroelectric plants in northeastern Korea Tuesday for the second straight day of assault on the sources of power for Communist war factories.

The new blows fell at the end of the second year of the bloody, bitter, and now stalemated, war on this devastated Asiatic peninsula.

U.S. fifth air force and navy fighter-bombers again teamed up in the renewed mass pounding of hydroelectric power houses on Fusen and Changjin reservoirs in northeast Korea.

Smoke and flame mushroomed from the stricken plants. Pilots said destruction was complete.

The huge generating plant on the south bank of the Yalu river at Suho dam, blasted into a flaming shell Monday when all five plants were bombed, was not a target Tuesday.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark congratulated the air force and navy for their massive raids which a defense department official in Washington described as a "get-tough" military policy.

The defense department official said the blow at the power sources for North Korea and parts of Manchuria was a direct result of Communist stalling at the Panmunjon truce talks.

Communist Radios Silent
Communist radios at Peiping and Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, made no mention of the raids.

Pilots returning from Tuesday's strikes at Fusen and Changjin reported they had wrecked even more the four big plants.

U.S. Sabre jets, flying protective patrols far to the northwest, exchanged firing passes with five Communist MIG-15s, but reported no damage to either side.

On the 155-mile battlefield, patrols' clashes increased Tuesday in western and eastern Korea. A two-hour scrap was reported west of Chorwon — scene of heavy fighting during the past two weeks.

Battlefront Is Stable
Except for Allied seizure of advance hills northwest of Chorwon early in June, the battlefield has remained generally stable since the armistice talks began at Panmunjon July 10, 1951.

Twisting from south of parallel 38 in far western Korea, the front extends northeastward to a point some 30 miles north of the old political boundary on the east coast.

Korea thus is divided between north and south, as it was when the Reds launched their invasion of the United Nations-sponsored republic June 25, 1950.

Robert Euston, AP Tokyo bureau chief, reported that unless a truce is achieved soon, military observers there feel certain full scale fighting will break out again all along the line.

Key Official Shot In Pentagon Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Francis G. Brink, veteran of two world wars and a key figure in U.S. aid to embattled anti-Communists in Indo-China, was found fatally shot in a defense department office Tuesday.

A pistol lay by his side and authorities said he apparently committed suicide.

Brink, 58, was rushed from the Pentagon to the army's Walter Reed hospital but died before he reached there.

He was chief of the American military mission to Indo-China, where the French and their native allies have conducted a long, bloody struggle against the Reds.

Friends said the general had been badly depressed, but officials declared affairs in Indo-China had nothing to do with his low spirits.

Only last Wednesday, Secretary of State Acheson said Communist aggression in Indo-China has been checked and "the tide is now moving in our favor." Acheson promised at a news conference that the United States would provide increasing assistance to the anti-Communist forces.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEOUL (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the eighth army, said Tuesday that if the Communists launch another major offensive, it would probably be the decisive battle that would end the Korean war.

Reviewing the current battle situation for reporters on the second anniversary of the Korean war, Van Fleet said:
"We hope he (the Reds) comes. We would pile him on the (barbed) wire and maybe end the war."

However, the eighth army commander declared, "I don't think the enemy has the stomach to fight another offensive."

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The first shipments of defense-vital steel since the start of the 23-year-old nation-wide steel strike moved out of steel mills in Pittsburgh and Indiana Harbor, Ind., Tuesday in a company-union joint effort to aid the military program.

A batch of finished steel destined for the U.S. navy was trucked out of the Pittsburgh works of Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, to end the log jam.

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Korean demonstrators waving anti-American banners clashed with Japanese police and injured an American general with an acid bomb Tuesday on the second anniversary of the Korean war.

The rioters hurled a bottle of acid at the staff car of Brig. Gen. Carter W. Clarke, five miles north of the city. The bottle shattered the windshield and splattered acid inside.

Television Facilities Expanded to Include 65 Major Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — If television had its own calendar, July 1 would be a red letter day.

That's the target date set by American Telephone and Telegraph company for extension of its network facilities to 10 more cities. Thus all but one of the nation's 66 TV cities can be hooked up for the Republican convention July 7 and Democratic convention July 21, and will continue to get network service thereafter.

On the same date, the Federal Communications commission will start considering applications for licenses for new stations after a freeze in effect since Oct. 1, 1948.

The network expansion will be one of the biggest since A. T. and T. started building its Bell system coaxial cable and microwave relay facilities designed primarily for telephone service but capable of carrying TV programs between cities. It will add about 5,000 miles of TV circuits to the 24,500 now in service.

Cities that will start receiving network service are Miami, Fla., New Orleans, La., Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio, Tex., Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla., Seattle, Wash., and Phoenix, Ariz.

These 10 and the 55 already with network connections have 107 of the 108 stations in the United States. That will leave only Albuquerque, N.M., still not connected unless you count Brownsville, Tex., which receives programs from a station at Matamoras, Mex., just across the border.

Thus the lineup for the convention telecasts will be: 65 cities with 107 stations in range of more than 17 million sets in an area with 61 per cent of the nation's population. By contrast, four years ago the conventions were telecast in seven cities over 16 stations, and about 400,000 sets were in use.

The resumption of licensing of stations by the FCC means television areas more can expand to new areas. But probably less than a dozen new stations can go on the air by the end of 1952, with the pace quickening to 100 or 150 in 1953.

Korean War Began 2 Years Ago

By H. D. CRAWFORD
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A Communist "Pearl Harbor" brought war to Korea on June 25, 1950. You will recall the electric shock that encircled the world when men and women learned that grim news.

Casualties of 109,000
Two years later, with United States casualties in Korea exceeding 109,000 men, with military armistice talks dragging on for nearly a year, with Communist fanaticism boiling over in prisoner-of-war compounds, and with varying speculations regarding Communist preparations for a new armed offensive, we can view with better perspective the events before and since 1950's Korea Sunday.

The Communist armed blitz took the South Korean Republic, the United States congress, and the United Nations completely by surprise.

ROKs Not Concentrated
Republic of Korea troops, said the observers, were not concentrated at any point and were engaged in rounding up guerrillas. They were reported as "entirely lacking in the armor, heavy artillery and air support necessary to carry off an invasion in North Korea."

John J. Muccio, United States ambassador to Korea, recently threw some new light on the pre-1950 Communist activity in South Korea. "From 1945 to 1950," said

Top Brass of the Far East UN Command

Events Recalled
Three events reported on Korea Sunday take on coincidental interest as we look back on them:

1. Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo rejected a Soviet Union protest regarding MacArthur's measures to curb communism in Japan.

2. In Paris the government of Premier George Bidault was overwhelmingly defeated, during preliminary talks on the Schuman Plan.

3. Fifteen hundred Communist spies from Soviet-dominated Eastern Germany were reported by West German officials, who said the Communists were attempting to arouse sentiment against the West.

Truman Holds Conference
President Truman hurried back to Washington from Missouri and held a three-hour secret conference with top state and defense department officials. Secretary of State Dean Acheson held all-day consultations with his top aides, before hurrying to Blair House to confer with the President.

British Offer Support
British government officials announced at London their full support of United States proposals for an immediate cease-fire and the withdrawal of North Korean forces.

Ten members of the United Nations Security Council hurried back to Lake Success. The Soviet Union's representative did not join them. Yugoslavia's member did

Ike Assumes Command of Own Campaign

DENVER (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moved into full command of his presidential campaign this week — and his close advisors admit a major mistake was made in not letting the general run his own show earlier.

Eisenhower has become his own speech writer. He has tossed out set, prepared speeches written by others. Beginning with Detroit, the general took command. That was the turning point.

The general decided to throw out the prepared speeches and he himself — say and do things in his own way and if that wasn't good enough, it was just too bad.

His advisors were jittery about this decision. But reaction generally was so much better than after Abilene, they agreed the general knew what he was doing.

"The Texas speech was all Eisenhower," one lieutenant said. "And the speech on foreign policy Monday night was his own."

Galleries

In case you of my reading audience (to coin an old joke — both of you) may or may not have noticed, the title of this here column has been changed. It has been changed from "Previews" mainly because it was a preview of nothing but the innermost mechanisms of a foggy mind — "Galleries" for two fundamental reasons:

1. All persons mentioned by name or otherwise in this rectangular area would be appropo only in a "Rogue's Gallery."

2. I am trying to give this column an "arty" look and art seems really at home only in a "gallery." Also, I will attempt to reveal the blackest secrets of any and all kinds of art currently at work on campus.

Therefore, it will be a conglomeration of the SUI underworld and SUI art — which is also "underworld" to most of normal mankind.

It is being written strictly for the "eccentric set" on campus, so if you are not one of the "eccentric set" you will not obtain much from it.

If any stray Bohemians are reading this and wish to enroll in my "set," the following rules will kindly be noted and mimeographed with your Ajax Home Counterfeiting Kit:

1. Sandals and togas are the accepted dress, but, please, no laurel wreath.

2. Sandals with things will be politely, absitively, not permitted.

The weird creature staring at you from above is myself, thanks to Frank Interlandi, who always was good at cartoons. As one of my dearest and oldest friends recently remarked: "People may read your column, but if a sketch of you is enclosed, it won't be read over the breakfast coffee."

This beloved friend is now recuperating at the Mercy hospital, where I hope they won't be too liberal about that "mercy" business.

Any resemblance between any Neanderthal Men I may choose to mention and actual persons living or dead is purely and completely intentional. Kindly proceed at your own risk.

WITH INCREASED ATTENTION being paid in America to the social problems of the aged, gynecologists would do well to add to their studies the unique case of 89-year-old Adeline DeWalt Reynolds.

Currently an actress despite her years, Mrs. Reynolds is now playing in the new field "Lydia Bailey," her 30th picture since she began an acting career at 80 — (Gaylord Hauser claims her as one of his most devout advocates.) A native of Iowa, she was graduated from the University of California at 70 after working her way through school tutoring students in French.

The spry thespian learned self-reliance when her husband died in 1905 and she started her first business, a secretarial school, to support four children.

Korean Conflict Reaches 2nd Year; No Peace Yet

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Two years ago today Soviet Russia violated her most fundamental obligation to the United Nations by sending her puppet North Korean army trampling into South Korea, a republic sponsored by the UN itself.

To the Kremlin, South Korea was an outpost of the free world, a barrier on the road to Japan. The North Koreans, faced unexpectedly by United Nations troops, failed to do the job. Their Russian-made tanks were destroyed. Then the Kremlin called on its Chinese puppets. They failed to do the job. Russia was faced with the prospect of having to do it herself or get out of it some way. When the war had been going for one year, she asked for a truce. But it soon became obvious that, instead of wanting an actual armistice, she wanted to talk while the Communist forces pinned down in Korea an important part of Allied fighting strength. She wanted to keep the Korean sore running, just as she tries to promote the festering of every spot she cannot conquer.

ed their sincerity by practically calling off the ground fighting. It seemed reasonable at the time, but proved to be just what the Communists wanted. They escaped "operation kill," which was decimating them, but made sure to avoid peace.

New Factors Enter In
As the second anniversary arrives, new factors again enter into the situation. But this time the trend is not toward peace, but toward war.

Communist forces have been probing up and down the more or less static battle line for several weeks, feeling out Allied defenses. UN troops have been watching for changes in Red deployment which might indicate a new blow. The Yalu power installations are prime military targets in any resumption of all-out war.

War correspondents are cautiously warning America to be prepared for just that.

BANK ROBBERS CONFUSED
CENTERVILLE (AP) — Three would-be bank robbers barged into what they thought was a bank at nearby Cincinnati, Ia., Monday — and found themselves in a doctor's office. They fled with no loot. The men, two of them armed with guns, walked into what formerly was the Citizens State Bank building. The building now is occupied by Dr. C. H. Mitchell, who has occupied it since the bank moved out a couple of years ago.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ADD THIS story to the saga of the wacky Brooklyn Dodger baseball squad that tolled without signals (because they couldn't remember any) under the indulgent management of the late Wilbert Robinson.

"Uncle Robbie's" particular problem child was Babe Herman, who could whack that old apple a mile, but never learned big league holding or base running finesse.

Herman could always melt Uncle Robbie's wrath with a wise-crack, and Herman's little son also had a special spot in the rotund manager's heart. One day, however, when the kid climbed trustfully on to Robbie's lap, he was crushed unceremoniously to the Ebbets Field turf. The manager pointed an accusing finger at the six-year-old, and barked, "Why ain't your old man hitting?"

Psychologists Devise Self-Test To Determine Accident Chances

CHICAGO — What are your chances of having an auto accident the next time you go for a drive? Are you "accident-prone?"

Although a simple and sure-fire method to find the answers hasn't been devised as yet, two psychologists have prepared a self-test of 20 questions they claim will give you a pretty good idea of whether you are an accident-prone or not.

The psychologists are Dr. W. A. Eggert, chief psychologist for the Kemper group of insurance companies, and A. H. Malo, consulting psychologist for Lumbermen Mutual Casualty company.

Their test is based on the results of more than two years of scientific research they conducted on the psychological make-up of good and bad drivers.

The study disclosed that drivers with high accident records all have certain emotional characteristics in common.

If you have some of the same characteristics, beware, Dr. Eggert says.

3. Do you get eight hours sleep a night most of the time?
4. If tired or sleepy when driving, do you take medical preparation to stay awake?
5. If the car or cars in front of you don't move as soon as a traffic light changes to green, do you blow your horn or feel irritated?
6. Will you pass a car that is moving slowly and "weaving" over the road?
7. Do you dim your lights even if the driver of an approaching friend, girl friend) hard to get along with?

8. In your personal financial affairs, do you have any kind of a budget?
9. Are you inclined to worry?
10. Do you get angry or upset easily?
11. Do you signal a turn if no other cars are in sight?
12. Were you bullied or picked on by older brothers and sisters or playmates?
13. Did your parents dominate you?
14. Do you tell your personal troubles to customers or business associates?
15. Are you annoyed when other drivers try to take advantage of you on the road?
16. Do you like to show others how well you can handle a car?
17. Can you get your own way

Score 5 points for each answer that checks with the above list. If you score 100 per cent, chances are about 98 in 100 that you have an accident-free record as a driver and will continue to do so. If you score 95, take heed. You have at least one characteristic in common with high-accident drivers, and that may be all it takes. If you score 80-90, you have several characteristics in common with drivers who have frequent accidents, so your chances of having an accident go up. Below 75, if you haven't had any accidents, you've been plain lucky. Your luck may not hold out. You may need some overhauling emotionally. Do not be upset by a comparatively low score—there's still hope for you. And people having ideal emotional patterns are scarce.

Wedding Invitation May Be Written

If you are having a small, informal wedding, don't overlook the desirability of handwritten wedding invitations. Handwritten notes are perfectly proper for this type of wedding.

Write in the first person and be as gay and excited as you wish. The bride writes to her friends and close relatives, and the bride's mother invites the groom's family. The following note is typical of this kind of invitation:

Dear Betty, John and I have set a week from Saturday—that's the 28th—as the wedding date, and of course it won't be complete if you and Fred aren't there to wish us well. It will be a very simple ceremony at 2:30 in St. James church on 37th st. Afterwards we all go back to the house to cut the wedding cake. Love, Mary.

Writing paper should be of good quality in cream or white, using either note paper or folded informals.

J. Dresselhaus of New Albin.

Mr. Dresselhaus is doing graduate work at SUI.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Warm Baths Cool Body on Hot Days

Taking a warm bath during the hottest hours of the day and following it with a hot drink of tea or lemonade is one way of beating the heat.

The warm bath opens the pores and thus enables the body to dissipate heat more rapidly. The hot drinks aid perspiration.

A warm-bath "cooler" is, of course, not practical for everyone. Other suggestions offered by doctors for withstanding the heat are to eat sensibly. Light, easily digested food in moderate quantity will aid in keeping down production of excess body heat.

Go easy on fats and sugars, but don't skimp on protein foods such as meat, eggs, milk and cheese. Protein consumption in hot weather should remain at the normal, year-round level.

Scarves for Casual Dress

TIE THIS PURE-SILK BUTTERFLY SCARF the versatile new way. You simply knot one corner of the 36-inch square to your handsomest neck chain. Fold the bottom into a waist-cinching cummerbund. Wear it for sunning or for casual evenings. Buy a scarf in a bright, fresh color for about $3 and it will go with many outfits.

Portable Closets Hold 40 Garments

Do you know about those grand plastic "closets"—actually huge zipper bags holding up to 40 garments—that are set on roller frames so you can move them around easily? Just one will probably hold most of the clothes you want to put away for the season.

And like all the wonderful plastics, this closet itself can be kept as clean as your clothes. All you need do is wipe it inside and out with a soapy cloth, put the clothes in, zip it up, and set it anywhere there's space for it.

Mary Rifa Walsh To Wed This Fall

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Walsh of Williamsburg announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Rifa, to William Barron, son of and Mrs. Charles B. Barron of Vinton. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

Mr. Barron attended St. Ambrose college and is employed by the Vinton State bank.

Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher In Charge of Reception

Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher and Mrs. Dean M. Lierle will be in charge of the reception Friday for the ordination of the Rev. Arthur Fippinger at the new parish house of Trinity Episcopal church.

Mrs. Alexander Popov, Mrs. Gerald Elise, and Mrs. Joseph Wayner will pour.

DR. ROSS RECEIVES DEGREE

Dr. Mabel Ross, 1932 graduate of the SUI school of medicine, received a Master of Public Health degree from Harvard university at commencement exercises June 19. She received her B.A. degree from SUI in 1930, and is director of the Prince Georges county mental health clinic of the National Institute of mental health and a mental health consultant to the U.S. public health service.

Santa Figures In — New Market Products

— Also Motor Heaters

NEW YORK (AP)—Summer has just arrived, and the season is being rushed by new products for wintertime.

There's some Santa Claus stuff on the market this week, together with a couple of devices for quick starting of motors in cold weather.

For community and store decoration the General Plastics Corp. of Marion, Ind., has a huge plaque of lustrous tenite plastic showing Santa Claus in three dimensions going down a chimney. It has either a single or double face lighted with electricity.

To go with it is a group of three red candles, the tallest five and a half feet high mounted on an aluminum base and topped with white flames, all in extruded tenite. The candles burn with 150-watt bulbs.

Here's a ribbon for gift packages that won't slip or fray. It is made with lustrous viscose rayon bonded to transparent cellulose plastic film. It is made by the Vistex Corp. of New York, which says it curls readily "with the application of a blunt edge to either the yarn or film side, and its non-woven construction gives it special capacity to hold its flat shape under tension with reduction in wrapper cutting."

Kim Hotstart Mfg. company of Spokane, Wash., has developed an auto engine heater that works like a coffee percolator. It draws off cold water, heats it, and squirts it back into the engine. The Robert Reichhelm company of Stratford, Conn., has an engine heater that works in temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero. A small quantity of fuel is burned in a pre-combustion chamber and then pulled into the cylinders as a priming charge to start the motor.

A powder lubricant that won't soil hands or clothes is packaged in the form of an over-sized pencil for easy carrying and use. It is recommended for slide fasteners, locks, door latches, typewriters, guns and similar devices. The maker is Reardon Products of Peoria, Ill.

Synchronized sound for home movies now is possible with a device of the Revere Camera company of New York. The synchronization is achieved by using a metal mirror on the projector to flash light from each frame of film on to the "scotch" recording tape.

Prestoseal Mfg. Corp. of Long Island City, N.Y., has perfected a method for cutting and splicing quarter inch magnetic recording tape without scraping, cementing or use of adhesives. The tape is joined by the splicer in a plastic butt-weld through what the company describes as a "combination of electrically produced heat and precise pressure, applied within an accurately controlled time cycle to produce strong, perfect, diagonal splices."

Cub Losing Streak Stretched To Nine

Senators Drop White Sox To Fourth Spot

CHICAGO (AP) — The Washington Senators Tuesday night clubbed five Chicago White Sox pitchers for a 6-2 victory and sent the Sox reeling from third place to fourth in the American League race. Julio Moreno, Cuban right-hander, holding Chicago to five hits, allowed only one safe blow after the third inning.

A sweltering crowd of 24,045 watched the Senators register their second consecutive triumph over the Sox.

Three White Sox pitchers were paraded to the mound as Washington ran up a 5-0 count in the first inning.

Joe Dobson was on his way to the showers after he had pitched to three batters. Eddie Yost walked on four pitches. Gil Coan walked his homer into the right-field stand and Jackie Jensen singled to left.

Bill Kennedy pitched to only two batters. Mickey Vernon singled to left and a walk to Pete Runnels filled the bases.

Then Howie Judson relieved Kennedy. Jim Busby fled out, but a walk to Floyd Baker sent Jensen across the plate and Mickey Grasso singled to score Vernon and Runnels.

Tom Wright drove Nellie Fox home with a run in the Sox first and Minnie Minoso's walk and singles by Wright and Eddie Robinson gave the Sox their second run in the third. Yost's homer into the upper deck in left field in the sixth left the Sox four runs behind.

Red Sox Whipped By Trucks, Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Virgil (No-Hit) Trucks, sweltering in near-record 88-degree temperature, pitched the last-place Detroit Tigers to a 7 to 1 victory that tumbled the Boston Red Sox out of second place Tuesday night before 38,698 shirt-sleeved fans.

Jerry Priddy's one-run homer and two singles and Johnny Pesky's two-run homer sparked a 12-hit attack on loser Bill Henry and two relief hurlers. The Sox dropped their eighth game in 12 starts on this road trip.

Trucks hurled his first victory in a month and four days and his first complete game since his May 15 no-hitter. He gave up six hits and struck out seven in getting his third victory against eight defeats.

Cards, Dodgers Split In Day, Night Games

BROOKLYN (AP) — A four-run outburst, climaxed by Del Rice's fourth home run of the season, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday night and earned them a split in their day-night twin bill. Unbeaten Preacher Roe scattered six hits for his seventh straight win and a 6-0 Dodger triumph in the afternoon.

The Cards, trailing 4-3, kayoed Chris Van Cuyk with their winning sixth-inning rally. It was the fourth time the Cards had beaten the big southpaw who has lost to no other club.

Stan Musial began the attack by beating out a slow roller through the box.

Enos Slaughter doubled to score Musial. Peanuts Lowery, whose first inning home run had accounted for the first three Cardinal runs, lined out, but Billy Johnson came through with a single that scored Slaughter with the lead run and sent Van Cuyk to the showers. Rice greeted right-hander Clem Labine with his fourth homer of the year to complete the scoring.

Cloyd Boyer was credited with the victory although he needed help from Eddie Yuhas in the sixth. Yuhas took over with two out and the bases full and whipped a called third strike past Gil Hodges.

Brooklyn had tallied once in the first and third and twice in the fifth to overcome a 3-0 deficit and appeared on its way to a double win until the Cards erupted in the sixth.

Boston Braves Win Over Pirates, 4-3

BOSTON (AP) — Pitcher Jim Wilson scored the deciding run in the ninth inning Tuesday night while hurling the Boston Braves to a 4-3 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Gus Bell's eighth inning homer accounted for both Pirate tallies. Dick Groat, Pittsburgh's reputed $50,000 bonus shortstop, started a triple play in the third inning while playing his fifth major league game.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Russ Meyer of the Philadelphia Phillies, with an assist from reliever Jim Konstanty, edged the Chicago Cubs 2 to 1 in the nightcap of a two-night twin bill Tuesday night after Robin Roberts had whipped the Cubs 6 to 0 in the opener with a two-hit performance.

Indians Stop Bobby Shantz Streak at 11

CLEVELAND (AP) — Slugger Al Rosen's two-run homer snapped little Bobby Shantz' victory streak at 11 straight Tuesday night as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 2 to 1. Early Wynn won the pitching duel. Al Clark homered for the A's.

Rosen connected in the fourth inning for his 13th home run of the season, giving Wynn the margin of victory in the battle with the midget southpaw, who had numbered three victories over the Indians in his winning streak.

Shantz, whose record now is 12-2, permitted only five hits, walked no one and struck out eight. Bob Avila singled for his second hit just before Rosen clouted the game-winning homer.

Wynn also surrendered five hits. Clark's eighth-inning homer spoiled his shutout bid. Before Clark connected, the Indians' righthander retired 17 men in order. He struck out three and walked one for his eighth victory against six losses.

Barnes Defeated In NCAA Meet

SUI's Norman Barnes, Big 10 tennis singles champion, was eliminated Tuesday, 6-1 and 6-3, in the second round of the NCAA championship meet at Evanston, Ill.

He was defeated by Don Kaiser of Miami.

The other two SUI entries, Roger Kroth and Bruce Higley, lost in their first rounds Monday. Higley was defeated by Jerry Glade, Utah, 4-6, 8-6 and 6-3; Kroth lost to Roger Coad, Kansas State, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Giants Whip Reds In Double Header

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's Bobby Thomson and Hank Thompson were the big guns on attack Tuesday night as the Giants swept a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1 and 7-4 to climb within four games of the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Hank cracked a home run and single in the opener and Bobby his 14th home run and a double to drive in three runs in the nightcap.

Neither Giant starter went the distance, but fine relief pitching carried them through to their double win.

Jim Hearn, starting the first game, posted his fourth win in a row and his eighth of the season against a single defeat. He got in a jam in the eighth inning, however, and had to be rescued by Max Lanier.

Thompson paced the seven hit attack of Harry Perkowski and Phil Haugstad with a single and his seventh homer. Perkowski was the loser, making him 5-5 for the year.

Larry Jansen started the second game for the Giants but failed to go beyond the fourth inning. Hoyt Wilhelm stopped a Cincinnati uprising in the fourth and yielded only one run thereafter to receive credit for his fifth victory in seven decisions. Frank Smith, Ewell Blackwell's reliever, was charged with his fourth loss against six wins.

A single by Sal Yvars with the score tied at 4-4 in the sixth drove in Bob Elliott with the run the proved to be the deciding margin.

Konstanty came into the game in the eighth with the lone Chicago run already across, men on first and third and only one out. Big Jim got Sauer to foul out and Phil Cavarretta to ground out to first baseman Eddie Waitkus.

And in the ninth, Konstanty—the relief mainstay of the Phillies' pennant drive in 1950—tossed out Dee Fondy himself, fanned Bill Serena and forced Roy Smalley to ground out to Waitkus.

Meyer had held the Cubs to four scattered hits and no runs until the eighth when he gave up singles to Hal Jeffcoat and Gene Hermanski after walking Eddie Miksis.

Johnny Klippstein, who was relieved by Joe Hatten in the eighth, was the loser, with Dutch Leonard hurling the last one third of the eighth.

The two defeats ran the Chicago losing streak to nine.

In the twilight half of the twin bill, Roberts had things under control throughout—except for a slight slip in the fourth inning, when Gene Hermanski and Toby Atwell got to his offerings for singles.

Roberts set down the last 15 men to face him in winning his ninth victory against five defeats.

Yankees Whip Browns 8-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two old-time New York Yankee trademarks—power hitting and good pitching—protected their American League lead Tuesday night as Allie Reynolds made it four straight over the St. Louis Browns, 8-3, for his 16th consecutive complete game and his ninth victory of the season.

The Yankees swung freely for 12 hits off loser Duane Pillette and relief pitchers Ken Holcombe and Stubby Overmire. Included in that attack were three doubles and two triples as New York gained a two-night total of 29 hits off St. Louis hurling.

Reynolds scattered nine hits to avoid serious trouble and only one of the St. Louis runs was earned. The big righthander, who has lost only four times this year, has yet to be lifted from a game in 13 starts this season. He carried over a string of three completed games from 1951.

PGA Finals to Pit Turnesa vs. Harbert

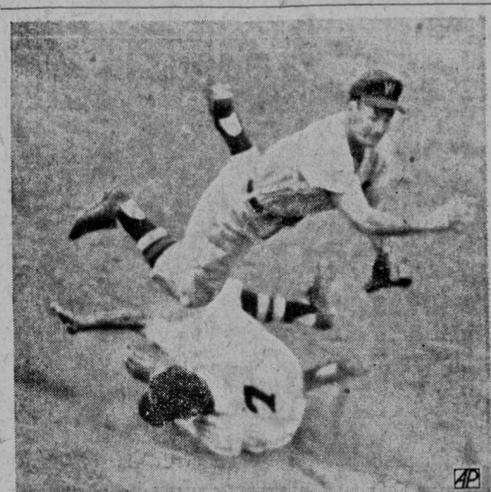

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Jim Turnesa, nervous sixth son of the famous golfing family, and Melvin (Chick) Harbert, a husky fighter of the links, shot through 110-degree temperature and inspired opposition Tuesday to gain the finals of the PGA championship.

The bronzed, 39-year-old Turnesa knocked off Ted Kroll, the little upsetter from New Hartford, N.Y., in a sensational birdie duel, 4 and 2.

Harbert, son of a retired Detroit professional, came from behind with a brilliant scrambling exhibition to oust Bob Hamilton, cigar-chomping ex-champion from Evansville, Ind., 2 and 1, nine.

Harbert and Turnesa clash today over the 6,620-yard, par 72 River Spring golf course for the $3,500 first prize which neither won, although both have swept within a notch of it.

COMISKY WILL FILED CHICAGO (AP) — Miss Grace L. Comisky, 31, who died June 15, left 968 shares of Chicago White Sox baseball club stock to her mother, Mrs. Grace R. Comisky, president of the club, her will showed Tuesday. Each share is worth $100.

Odds Favor Robinson Over Maxim In Title Go

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Joey Maxim and Sugar Ray Robinson sweated it out in the gym Tuesday, awaiting today's once-postponed light heavyweight title bout at Yankee Stadium.

As luck would have it, a warm sun, wilting humid New Yorkers, turned up 24 hours late. The weather man promised more of the same Wednesday, but he also forecast scattered thundershowers late in the day.

Strong Robinson support, appearing shortly after Monday's original weigh-in, changed the odds from 6 to 5 and "pick 'em" to make Sugar Ray a 13 to 10 favorite in his bid for a third title.

Sugar Ray, the middleweight champ, weighed 160 to Maxim's 174, Monday but they must weigh again Wednesday.

Because Maxim must make 175 pounds or less and Robinson has no weight problem, many feel the postponement will be more of a strain on the champ from Cleveland. The two-day wait is bound to have some effect.

The 15-round bout, scheduled for 8 p.m., will not be carried on home television or radio in the United States. It will be beamed to some 39 theaters in 25 cities on a closed theater-TV circuit.

Too Many Homers—Short Fence Boomerangs

BOSTON (AP) — The last place Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday decided to ask the club to remove "Greenberg Gardens"—the home-run hitting paradise at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh.

The players requested Howie Pollet, their representative, to convey their wishes to General Manager Branch Rickey when the Bucs return to Pittsburgh Friday.

"We've been losing too many games when players on other teams dump fly balls into those bullpens," Pollet said as he discussed "Greenberg Gardens"—named after Hank Greenberg.

"That fence is doing other teams in the league a lot more good than it does the Pirates."

The fence to which Pollet referred was erected 30 feet in front of the Pirate scoreboard in left field back in 1947 when Greenberg came to the Pirates from the Detroit Tigers. Originally the fence was eight feet high all along its length to left-center field but before the 1943 season it was increased to 16 feet.

Without the fence, the distance from home plate to left field is 365 feet. With it, a home run hitter only has to smash the ball 335 feet.

This year Pirate sluggers have dropped 16 homers into the "Gardens" while their National league opponents have collected 21. (In Pittsburgh Rickey could not be reached for comment.)

A team spokesman said Ralph Kiner, the home run hitter of the Bucs, voted in favor of removing the fence despite the fact that 64 of the 138 homers he has hit at Forbes Field have been of the "Garden" variety.

NEW STYLE UNIFORMS TO SHOW STRIKE ZONE

DENVER (AP) — "Strike zone" uniforms will be given a try by the Denver Bears of the Class A Western League on July 4.

The uniforms, tailor-made to each player's measurements by a Denver firm, will be white from the armpits to the knees, and blue across the shoulders and on the portion of trousers below the knees.

The theory is that any pitch crossing the plate between the two blue sections of the uniform will be called a strike.

Preventive Psychiatry's Target Is Environment, Gottlieb Says

The big task confronting the preventive psychiatry movement is to reduce mental disturbances brought about by some factor in the individual's environment, according to Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb, professor of psychiatry at SUI.

Dr. Gottlieb spoke on the causes of maladjustment Tuesday to teachers, administrators and mental health workers attending the 4th workshop on education in human relations and mental health on the SUI campus.

He said most of the preventive progress in mental disturbance has been in the physiogenic area — the area of preventive medicine. This includes mental disturbances that have some physiological cause, such as aging, disease or birth injury.

Far more people, he said, suffer disturbances that have their roots in the person's environment. He listed such conditions as psychoneurosis, psychosomaticism, psychopathic personality, behavior disorders in children and alcoholism in this class.

The great need, and the purpose of preventive psychiatry programs, is to develop ways to alter the person's psychological and social environment and eliminate the causes of this type of disturbance, according to Dr. Gottlieb.

He said the schools play an extremely important role in such thinking because many of the forces that operate toward such disturbance have their most pronounced effect during the first 10 years of a child's life.

Today the workshop attendants will witness a demonstration of the "casual" approach to child behavior as developed through the university's preventive psychiatry research project. Ralph H. Ojemann, professor of educational psychology and parent education in the Iowa child welfare research station is chairman of the project and coordinator of the workshop.

Joiner was promoted from major and handled public relations. He will be in charge of the comptroller option in the AFROTC unit at SUI. Other officers pictured are (left to right) Maj. E. P. ROTC Instructor Receives Promotion

Lt. Col. R. W. Joiner, assistant professor of air science and tactics in the SUI air force reserve officers' training corps program was promoted Tuesday from the rank of major.

Joiner, who has handled public relations, will be in charge of the comptroller option in the SUI program.

He received his B.S. degree from the University of Denver in 1948. He also received a M.A. degree from the American university in Washington, D.C., in public administration.

Joiner spent three and a half years in the air force comptrollers office in the Pentagon. Another appointment announced was that of Maj. E. P. Ratti to be assistant professor of air science and tactics in the SUI ROTC program.

Ratti was attached to the inspector general's office at Tinker air force base in Oklahoma with the 33d air division.

He graduated from Butler university, Indianapolis, Ind. in 1951, majoring in English.

Air force ROTC assignments are normally four years in length.

20 Iowa Girls Selected for Nursing Class

The names of 20 more Iowa women selected as members of the 1952-53 freshman nursing class at SUI were announced Tuesday by Dean Myrtle E. Kitchell of the college of nursing.

Four other students were listed as transferring to the college of nursing after having previously been registered at another school or in SUI's college of liberal arts.

Miss Kitchell said the names of other members of the class will be announced as soon as possible after completion of the necessary administrative procedures following formal acceptance.

Admission Based on Record
Admission to the college is based on motivation for nursing, past academic record, personal qualities, intellectual ability as shown by examinations, and physical health, she said.

Students accepted will enter the college next September. Nursing students at SUI have the option of enrolling for either a three or four-year program.

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, all are awarded the diploma of a graduate nurse. In addition, those students enrolled in the four-year program are also awarded the degree of bachelor of science in nursing.

Men May Apply

Both men and women may apply for admission to the college of nursing, Dean Kitchell pointed out. Students with previous college credit may transfer to the college's four-year degree program. Graduates of an accredited high school may apply for admission to either the four-year degree or the three-year diploma program of the college.

Students whose acceptances were announced Monday are: Helen M. Staver, Afton; Doris Joann Larson, Cedar Rapids; Marjorie Joan O'Harrow, Charles City; Ruth Binkerd, Colfax; Nancille Ann Anderson, Crawfordsville.

Betsy Joann Whitmore, Cresco; Jeanette Mae Dunagan, Des Moines; Jacolynn Pelsler, Griswold; Patsy Ann McCrabb, Hubbard; Kay Lynn Van der Sluis, Ida Grove; Joan Carol Lehey, and Donna Lou Munson, both of Independence.

Burrack, Ready; Shirley Ann McCorkle, Sac City; Bonnie Lou Erickson, Sioux City; Meridian Speas, Union; Janice Louise Meyer, Ventura, and Gwendolyn Jean Chestnut, Waverly.

Mattill Receives Honorary Degree For Science Work

Henry A. Mattill, retiring head of the department of biochemistry at SUI, was one of two "distinguished alumni" to receive honorary degrees at the Western Reserve university's 126th commencement this month.

Recognized for his work in vitamin research, he received an honorary doctor of science degree at the ceremonies. According to the citation, "his career has been devoted to science, but a science viewed in the setting of social and aesthetic values which are at once within and beyond science itself."

He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees at Western Reserve in 1906 and 1907.

Mattill, who has been engaged in teaching and research in the field of biochemistry for over 40 years, has been head of the university's department since 1927. He will retire July 1.

In 1950 he received the American Chemical society Iowa award for significant contributions in the field of chemistry.

Wage-Profit Ratio Discussed by Daykin

Computing wages and profits is a difficult problem Walter Daykin, SUI professor of labor and industrial management, told the Iowa City Kiwanis club at an informal luncheon in the Hotel Jefferson Tuesday.

In his talk on "The Steel Controversy," Daykin outlined some of the questions which have come out of the steel issue.

He said that he was not in favor of any plant seizures by the government, adding that the President might have resorted to fact finding or evoking the Taft-Hartley law as possible methods of solving the steel problem.

In dealing with wages, Daykin pointed out the compromise reached by General Motors on the closed shop as an example of what can be done through labor arbitration.

House Unit Cuts AEC Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A house appropriations subcommittee Tuesday approved a $1.45 billion atomic expansion program, designed to make nuclear weapons available to all the U.S. armed forces.

This was less than half the supplemental appropriations of $3.19 billion which the atomic energy commission had asked for its vast expansion program during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Rep. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), who often acts as subcommittee chairman, told a newsman that the subcommittee action and at the same time said it approved the full budget request of $150 million asked for the Tennessee Valley authority to construct steam-electric power plants to support the atomic program.

A "complete family of atomic weapons," suitable for use by all the U.S. armed forces, will be turned out under the proposed expansion, officials disclosed. The program includes a new production plant and expansion of facilities now existing or being built.

Some details of the projects were disclosed with the release of testimony on the bill to provide the money recently requested by President Truman.

Chairman Gordon Dean of the atomic energy commission told the appropriations subcommittee that the whole concept of how atomic weapons can be used in warfare has been drastically revised.

"It is now possible to have a complete 'family' of atomic weapons, for use not only by strategic bombers, but by ground support aircraft, armies and navies," Dean said.

Police Summon 20 In Speed Check

Twenty motorists were issued summons during a four-hour speed analyzer check, the Iowa City police department announced Tuesday.

Violations decreased sharply soon after the speed analyzer was introduced last fall, but have increased since the cold weather forced the department to take the analyzer out of service last winter.

The device is now back into service and will be put into use wherever conditions deem it necessary to curb violations, Police Chief Edwin J. Ruppert said Tuesday.

Six of the twenty given speeding tickets have appeared in court and were fined $12.50 each.

Photo Course Will Feature Exhibition

An exhibition of pictures by Edward Weston, unofficial "dean of American photography," will be a special feature of the news photography short course to be held at SUI July 24, 25 and 26.

The Weston exhibition, a group of 35 to 40 pictures, was recently shown in Grand Central exhibition hall, New York city.

Weston, who started out as a portrait photographer about 1911, later turned to the photography of landscapes and inanimate objects. In 1937 he was awarded a Guggenheim fellowship, the first photographer ever to have received this distinction.

Made Documents

He was commissioned to make a series of "photographic documents of the west."

The photography short course, organized by SUI's school of journalism in cooperation with the Iowa Press Photographers' association, will be the fifth of a series which was discontinued during World War II. The first four were held in 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941.

This year's short course will also feature a picture contest for which there are five classes of entries: spot news pictures in dailies, spot news in weeklies, features in dailies, features in weeklies and salon pictures.

July 21 Deadline

July 21 is the deadline for entries which should be submitted to Prof. Edward F. Mason, of the SUI school of journalism, in care of the school of journalism.

George Yates, head photographer of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, will be chairman of the course.

Truce Teams Meet; No Sign of Break

MUNSAN (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Truce delegates meet again today on this second anniversary of the Korean war with no sign of a break in the prolonged and bitter deadlock.

The top-level session at Panmunjom was scheduled for 11 a.m. (8 p.m. Iowa time, Tuesday).

Once more Communist negotiators made vague threats of intensifying the war in Korea, as they did last month.

The armistice talks soon will mark their first anniversary—probably one of the longest attempts in history to achieve a military truce. They began July 10, 1951.

Agreement has been reached after exhausting argument, interrupted by sporadic incidents, on the physical aspects of an armistice—ports of entry, a provisional cease-fire line and neutral inspection.

But for the past two months both sides have been deadlocked on a moral issue involved in the exchange of prisoners of war. The Allies refuse to return any prisoner to Red rule against his will. The Reds want all North Korean and Chinese military prisoners back, regardless.

Book Display Being Held Here

EVERY YEAR MOST OF THE MAJOR BOOK PUBLISHERS that travel in Iowa come to SUI and display their grade school, high school and college textbooks so that the many teachers that come to SUI to summer school have a chance to see them. This year the exhibit started Tuesday and will continue today and through Thursday on the second floor of East hall. The exhibit gives the teachers a chance to see what new books have come out in their field. Pictured above inspecting some of the books are (left to right) Virginia Victorine, A4, Cedar Rapids, and Jim Norris, A1, Grinnell.

Ingrid Bergman's Plea For Pia's Visit Denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A woman judge Tuesday denied Ingrid Bergman's request for a visit with her 13-year-old daughter in Italy this summer and rebuked any attempts to barter for the child's respect, love and affection.

In a lengthy statement Superior Judge Mildred Lillie dealt sympathetically with the problem of the teen-age Pia, caught in the middle of a bitter wrangle between the Swedish actress and her ex-husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom. "A child is not a piece of property to be bought and paid for, to be delivered under contract and to be shelved until it is convenient to seek its favor," stated Judge Lillie.

'Not Proper Environment'

Miss Bergman petitioned the court to allow Pia to spend half the summer with her in Italy. Dr. Lindstrom opposed this, emphasizing that he did not believe Miss Bergman's home with her new husband, film director Roberto Rossellini, is the proper environment for Pia.

The actress' attorney, Gregson Bautzer, told a reporter after the ruling that no appeal is planned. He said that by the time it could be carried through Pia's school term would be starting again.

In delivering her ruling Tuesday, Judge Lillie issued a plea for Dr. Lindstrom and Miss Bergman to mend their relations for the benefit of Pia. Pia had told the judge in conference that she doesn't love her mother but that she still likes her. The daughter, who graduated recently from a Beverly Hills elementary school, said she doesn't want to go to Rome this summer but would prefer a vacation in Hawaii with her father.

Divorced in 1950

Dr. Lindstrom divorced Miss Bergman after she gave birth to a son, fathered by Rossellini, in February, 1950.

Lindstrom charged in court that Rossellini has a reputation as a libertine and a narcotics user. The Italian film director, father of Miss Bergman's twin girls born June 18, wanted to come to this country to answer the charges but he was held in Rome waiting for the delayed births.

In Rome, Rossellini expressed surprise and disappointment when he learned the court had rejected his wife's plea.

Communism Fear Gives Bad Results, Eleanor Maintains

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said Tuesday there have been some bad results from instilling Americans with a "great fear of Communism" instead of teaching them "what they are fighting for."

She said: "Instead of feeling we had time to educate our people to what they are fighting for, we felt it was necessary to build up great economic and military strength and to make people afraid of Communism."

"We had, perhaps, to do it," she added, "as a result, people 'label' everything they don't like as Communism. That is dangerous. It makes people afraid to think."

CIO Workers Postpone Strike At Plane Plant

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers Tuesday heeded a government request not to strike four plants producing Sabre jet fighter planes for Korea.

Federal conciliator Harry Malcolm announced the union leaders agreed to postpone the strike, scheduled for midnight tonight. Some 25,000 workers are involved.

Meanwhile, negotiations between the union and North American Aviation Inc. continued Tuesday night. The union is asking wage boosts totaling 28 cents an hour for workers in three plants in the Los Angeles area and one at Columbus, Ohio.

Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation service director, sent messages Tuesday night to the union requesting a strike postponement. He asked North American and the UAW to send representatives to government-sponsored bargaining sessions beginning here Thursday (noon, CST).

Ching's message said: "The defense department has informed me that a stoppage would cut off the sole producer of the F-86 Sabre jet which has been assigned the highest priority on the department of defense master urgency list."

"The air force has today advised me that the loss of even a single day's production of the Sabre jet would have a serious effect on air force operations in the Far East."

House Group Okays West German Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate foreign relations committee Tuesday approved an agreement making West Germany an ally in the defense front against Soviet aggression.

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Ia.) cast the one "nay" ballot in the 9 to 1 vote for the protocol to the North Atlantic Treaty organization pact. He lost 8 to 4 in a fight for an interpretation denying the President the power to send troops abroad without the consent of congress, and indicated there will be another battle when the agreement comes up in the senate itself.

Hickenlooper's proposal has the same aim, he said, as the one which he succeeded in tying onto the West Germany peace contract before the committee approved that document Monday.

Without actually making the new German republic a member of the NATO organization, the agreement approved Tuesday provides for extending to the European defense community army the reciprocal security guarantees now in force among NATO members.

Taft Raps Truman; Ike Eyes GOP Foreign Plan

Ike Hopes, Doubts GOP Will Agree

DENVER, COLO. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower voiced a "fervent hope" Tuesday for a GOP foreign policy plank — acceptable to him and to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio — which will avoid a bitter fight in the Republican national convention.

The general told a news conference: "I really fervently hope that comes about. Makes no mistake — I want to see no great and bitter fights in the convention, on this particular point."

But then he repeated what he has said before — that he didn't think his views could be reconciled with those of Taft, his chief opponent for the GOP presidential nomination. Eisenhower has attacked Taft as an isolationist.

Deride Taft's Claim

These other developments came during the day: Senator Carlson (R-Kan.), one of Eisenhower's advisors, derided the Taft claim that he now has 604 delegates backing him for the presidential nomination but may not use them on the first ballot.

In Massachusetts, Eisenhower picked up two more delegate votes. That assured the general of 31 of Massachusetts' delegation, with 3 for Taft and 4 uncommitted.

The Associated Press chart of delegate strength shows Taft with 478, and Eisenhower 395, with 604 needed to nominate.

John Foster Dulles, GOP foreign affairs expert, has the tough job of trying to draft a foreign affairs plank for the GOP platform to be adopted by the Chicago convention which starts July 7.

Ike Wrote Dulles

Eisenhower released a letter he wrote to Dulles on June 20 in which he outlined his basic foreign policy principles. He said in part:

"We must face facts; which means that any thought of 'retiring within our own borders' will certainly lead to disaster for the U.S."

"All of these policies must conform to the yardstick of our own enlightened self-interest."

"The minimum requirement of these programs is that we are able to trade freely, in spite of anything Russia may do with those areas from which we obtain the raw materials that are vital to our country."

Lightning Causes City Power Failure

Lightning struck and splintered utility poles on highway 1 southwest of Iowa City early Tuesday as power went off for one minute in Iowa City.

One of the Coralville feeder lines to the city went out at 7:18 a.m. Robert H. Lind, manager of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company, said it is not known what caused the failure.

The splintered highway 1 utility poles left a number of farms without power.

NPA Eases Ban on Color TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government eased its ban on color television Tuesday, but mass production of the new sets is still a long way off.

Government officials and leading manufacturers agreed that the demands of the defense program on the electronic industry will prevent anything more than a trickle of color TV machines into the market for about two years.

The blackout on color TV was imposed by the national production authority last Nov. 20, just as the Columbia Broadcasting system began making sets commercially and experimenting with a limited program of color telecasts. NPA said at the time the move was necessary to save materials and facilities for the defense effort.

Tuesday's order removes the outright ban on manufacturing. But it provides that no company can make color TV if it interferes in any way with its defense commitments.
