Compromise Brings Demo Platform

Factions Not Satisfied But Approve Plank

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats produced Wednesday night a campaign platform promising prosperity, peace and progress.

By and large, the document is an endorsement of and pledge to continue the foreign and domestic programs of the Truman administration.

The civil rights plank as adopted represented a compromise of the thorny issue that long has split northern and southern wings of the party. Neither side was entirely satisfied with it, though each decided it was acceptable.

The platform was adopted by voice vote. There was a sizeable volume of "noes" shouted but Chairman Sam Rayburn declared the "ayes" had it.

The Georgia and Mississippi delegation asked to be recorded as voting "no."

Compromise Was Main Subject
The compromise plank was the main subject of a final eight-hour session of the 108-member platform committee which produced the document. Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts headed the committee.

The draft document pledged the party to repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor act—legislation which President Truman has declared to be unfair to workers.

As had been forecast, the farm plank would promise to support producer prices of basic crops at not less than 90 per cent of parity. On the issue of taxes, the platform said the Democrats favor reduction of levies "as rapidly as defense requirements permit," especially for lower income groups.

Other planks in brief included: Education — urged federal contributions to states and local units to help finance schools.

Cushion Medical Expense
Medical care — advocated a "resolute attack" on the heavy financial hazard of serious illness.

Housing — pledged fulfillment of private and federal housing programs authorized by the Housing act of 1949.

Land and water resources — favored "sound, progressive" development of the nation's land and water resources for flood control, navigation, irrigation, power drainage, soil conservation, and creation of new, small family-sized farms.

It would dedicate the party to continue public development of power projects to "protect these resources from destructive monopoly and exploitation."

Atomic energy — promised to promote development of atomic energy for peaceful as well as military purposes, and to exert "every" effort to bring about bona fide international control of atomic weapons.

Old age pensions — favored strengthening of old age, and survivor insurance, and a "stronger" system of unemployment insurance.

Stevenson Is Silent On Talks With Chapman

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson had planned to attend the convention session Wednesday night to hear the speech by his second cousin, Alben W. Barkley. But late in the day an aide announced that he would stay in his temporary residence and watch the proceedings on television.

The governor is staying in the home of an administrative assistant, William McCormick Blair.

Stevenson had a long conference with a Truman cabinet member Wednesday — but neither disclosed whether the President had reserved a seat on the governor's bandwagon.

The Illinois governor talked for 2 hours and 15 minutes with Oscar Chapman, secretary of the interior who is regarded as Truman's emissary to the Democratic national convention.

Parley Raises Questions

The parley raised a number of questions. Did Truman give his blessing to Stevenson for the party's presidential nomination? Did Stevenson definitely make up his mind to accept the nomination by a convention that seems to be getting ready to offer it to him?

These questions — and they were the big questions of the day — went unanswered.

Stevenson said he does not want the top place on the national ticket, but he has not said he would turn it down.

Newsmen went into a brief huddle with Stevenson and Chapman when the parley ended.

No Special Message

The governor acknowledged they had talked "about the convention."

Chapman was asked if he had brought a special message from Truman.

"I didn't bring a message from anybody," he replied with an enigmatic smile.

Chapman was asked if Stevenson had given him his views about the nomination. "I didn't have to," Stevenson cut in.

The governor explained his meeting with Chapman this way, "Oscar called late last night. I had not seen him in a long time and asked him to join us for breakfast today."

Asked what they had talked about, Stevenson replied jestingly, "Mostly about the population of fish in the Illinois river."

Truman Calls Industry, CIO to Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman Wednesday called the union and industry leaders in the nation-wide steel dispute to a White House conference Thursday in a personal effort to end the crippled 52-day-old strike.

The White House said Truman summoned CIO President Philip Murray and President Benjamin Fairless of U. S. Steel to meet with him at 8 a.m. (CST).

Both Murray and Fairless promptly accepted the invitation. Defense mobilizer John R. Steelman will sit in.

1948 Act Mentioned

In announcing the President's dramatic new bid to bring peace to the strike-paralyzed steel industry, presidential secretary Joseph Short told newsmen that possible use of the 1948 Selective Service (Draft) act was being "re-studied."

The act permits seizure of defense plants under certain emergency conditions.

It was reported last week that seizure of a small portion of the industry under the draft act was receiving "serious consideration" at the White House. It would apply chiefly to plants producing special steel for guns, ammunition, tanks, etc.

Truman's decision to take personal charge of the long-stalemated negotiations came amid these related developments:

U. S. Defense Hurt

1. Secretary of Defense Lovett compared the impact of the steel strike on the nation's defense production program to a devastating attack by enemy bombers. He warned that it may soon have serious effects on the rate of U. S. fire power in Korea.

2. Unemployment directly stemming from the steel strike edged close to the two-million mark. Total loss to the national economy was estimated at $4 billion.

Meanwhile, the threat of a new major labor dispute arose—this time in the coal industry.

Hint Soft-Coal Termination

In Pittsburgh, a spokesman for western Pennsylvania coal operators said he had been informed that John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, notified the industry Tuesday that the UMW is terminating its soft-coal agreement in 60 days.

The spokesman said the expiration of the 60-day period would fall on Monday, September 22.

In Washington, Lewis sent word that he could neither confirm nor deny the Pittsburgh report.

Building Meeting To Feature Models

An exhibit of 24 prize-winning school building models will be a feature of the third-annual school building conference on the SUI campus July 29-30.

The collection is composed of top entries in the 1951 national "Competition for Better School Design," sponsored by the School Executive magazine.

At their general meetings the conferees will hear talks by William Caudill, research architect from the Texas engineering experiment station. Designer of a number of school buildings, one of his plans is among the top five models in the national exhibit.

Today's Convention

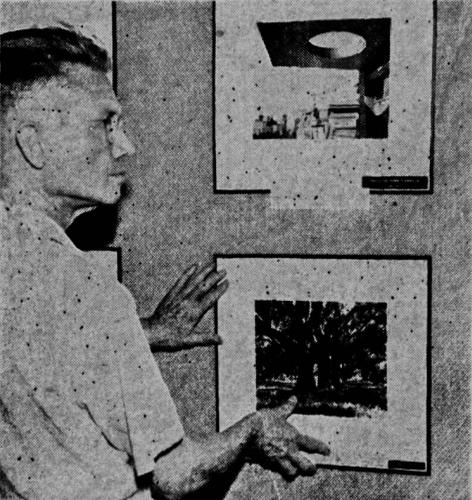

CHICAGO (AP) — Present plans are to pick the presidential candidate tonight then adjourn the convention until Friday night.

National Chairman Frank McKinney, said President Truman will introduce the nominee to the convention Friday night after the Democrats pick his running mate.

Today's plans still are a little indefinite. Tentative arrangements call for the start of the nominating speeches at 11 a.m. (CST).

If a deadlock develops in the presidential balloting, the schedule probably will be changed. McKinney said such a deadlock could carry the balloting into the early hours of Friday. Then a recess would be called to resume balloting about noon Friday.

Photo Display to Open in Union

PREPARING A PHOTO EXHIBIT in the Iowa Memorial Union is Prof. Edward F. Mason, head of the photography sequence in the school of journalism. The pictures are part of an exhibit of 33 photographs by Edward Weston, noted American photographer. They are being shown in conjunction with the fifth annual news photography short course being held today through Saturday.

SEN. OLIN JOHNSON OF SOUTH CAROLINA (right), confers with members of the Georgia delegation on the convention floor. Both states were expected to "take a walk" over the loyalty oath asked of all state delegations. Wednesday night, however, they joined the other states in a rousing 24-minute demonstration for Vice-President Barkley prior to his speech.

WSUI Will Broadcast 'Cosi fan tutte' Tonight

A complete broadcast of tonight's performance of "Cosi fan tutte" will be carried by WSUI, according to Richard C. Setterberg, the station's program supervisor.

The Mozart opera is sponsored by SUI's school of fine arts and co-produced by the departments of music and dramatic art as a feature of the 14th annual fine arts festival.

The program will originate in MacBride hall, beginning at 7:55 p.m., Setterberg announced, with Mark Munn, WSUI director of in-school broadcasting, and Dave Hall, Iowa City, station music librarian, announcing.

The English language is used in this version of the opera, Setterberg pointed out. A synopsis of the action will also be given before each of the two acts, so listeners can easily understand and follow the action.

WSUI will remain on the air until 10:45, 45 minutes later than usual, so the entire opera may be broadcast. A special feature will be an intermission interview with Earl Harper, director of the school of fine arts.

This year's opera is the first to be broadcast since the last war, although two other operas have been given since then.

Iowa Records 20th Polio Death in '52; Epidemic Spreads

Iowa's 19th and 20th polio deaths for 1952 were recorded Wednesday as the epidemic showed signs of spreading.

At University hospitals, 16-year-old John Lee of Dubuque died. His was the first case of polio reported in Dubuque county this year. There are 14 polio hospitalizations here at the present time.

Frank Brienza, 23, of Sioux City died at a hospital there, marking the 16th fatality in the Sioux City area where hospital cases now total 143.

In Des Moines, six new polio cases brought to 55 the number of Des Moines area cases since June 30. Peggy Reynolds, 14-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Reynolds of Mount Airy, was among those hospitalized in Des Moines.

Rayburn Hints Loyalty Pledge Not Required

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (AP) — Alben W. Barkley, doughty Democratic patriarch, summoned the schism-threatened party legions Wednesday night to unite in a renewed "crusade" for victory over the GOP.

And for the moment, the Democratic national convention closed ranks in a tremendous throbbing ovation for the 74-year-old vice-president who hid the hurt in his heart over being forced from the presidential nominating race.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois was out ahead in that race, still saying he wasn't running. President Truman was, for the moment, keeping hands off.

Dixie Delegates Parade

Here in this tremendous convention amphitheater, Dixie delegates who had seemed ready to bolt in a rage over a loyalty oath, grabbed state banners and paraded with all the rest in a long, roaring demonstration for Barkley.

For a while it had appeared that South Carolina, at least, and probably Virginia and Louisiana would take a walk. They talked of it openly.

But then Sam Rayburn of Texas, taking over as permanent chairman of the convention, dropped a hint that so far as he was concerned the loyalty pledge would not be forced upon them.

Rights of Delegates

"It is my thought," Rayburn said, "that every delegate seated here has a right to be here and each and every one of them shall have decent and courteous treatment."

Wednesday night in convention hall, the show was all Barkley's. "I am not here," he said, "as a candidate for any office the convention can offer. If I were, I would not be here at this hour because I recognize the proprieties of those who seek office."

Many delegates took that as a transparent rap across the knuckles for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, one of the rivals for the presidential mantle. Kefauver, a convention delegate like Barkley, twice has shown up on the convention floor.

Barkley Confident

Speaking "from the heart," the vice-president confidently told the assembled delegates:

"If we can get our cause and the truth before the American people in 1952, they will again respond as they did in 1948."

Only passing references did he make to the fact that he was being passed by for the presidential nomination — because he was too old, the union leaders said.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

LONDON (AP) — The European press paid scant attention to the Democratic national convention Wednesday. In contrast to the long stories that detailed every blow of the Taft-Eisenhower Republican battle, newspapers in Britain and the continent contented themselves with brief items on the civil rights fight and the Democratic party drift toward Gov. Adlai Stevenson for president.

MUNSAN, Korea (THURSDAY) (AP) — Korean truce negotiators meet in their 17th secret session today with scant hope they will bring peace any nearer. The meeting at Panmunjom was scheduled, for 11 a.m. (8 p.m., CST, Wednesday). Their fourth successive quickie session Wednesday lasted only seven minutes. That made a total of 44 minutes devoted this week to seeking a way to end the fighting.

SEOUL, Korea (THURSDAY) (AP) — Two hundred Allied warplanes blasted a well-stocked Communist supply depot into an exploding inferno Wednesday, the air force reported today. Other planes fire-bombed determined Chinese infantrymen clinging to the crest of "Old Baldy" as fighting for the scorched and barren hill on the Western Korean front quieted after a week-long battle. Target of the stunning mass air raid was Osan, a Red supply point on the east coast 10 miles south of besieged Wonsan.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A bus, believed to have 34 aboard, has blown up and burned in Newfound Gap on the Tennessee-North Carolina line in the Great Smoky Mountains National park, the state highway patrol said Wednesday night. Numbers of burned persons have been sent to North Carolina and Tennessee hospitals from the remote point. The Asheville patrol radio station said it has no reports of any fatalities as yet.

SUI Graduate to Show Slides of Ancient Relics

Colored slides of art objects and religious relics on secluded Mt. Athos, a peninsula of Greece, will be shown by Dr. Robert Moyers Monday evening, July 28, at 8 in the art auditorium of the art building.

Moyers is head of the department of orthodontics, college of dentistry, University of Toronto. His talk is sponsored by the Iowa Society, Archaeological Institute of America and the graduate college.

Moyers, born in Sidney, Iowa, received his B.S. and D.D.S. from SUI in 1942 and his M.S. in 1947.

During World War II he traveled widely in Greece as an Office of Strategic Services liaison officer working with the Greek resistance movement. After the Greek civil war, he was decorated by both the British and Greek governments for his work in negotiating exchange of several hundred members of the Royal Air Force who had been captured by Greek leftist forces.

To get his photographs, Moyers had to obtain permission to visit the peninsula from the Holy Synod in Athens. The peninsula, which has only monasteries on it, is a special province in which women are not allowed to travel and in which men can travel only by permission.

Moyers visited the monasteries and photographed in color the art objects and religious relics which date back 500 to 1500 years. He is the first man to have systematically photographed these works in color.

editorial Let's Follow the Rules

One of the most popular sports for both men and women this summer at SU is, as usual, golf. Each weekend SU's 18-hole layout, Finkbine course, is full of students seeking relaxation from school studies.

The game, however, is being threatened by some of the golfers themselves as a result of a wanton disregard of the common courtesies and rules that make the game of golf a pleasant one.

One of the rules which has been so often violated at Finkbine is probably the most important one. That is the rule which states that the golfers in front of a player must be out of range before that player may hit his ball. The object of the rule, of course, is obvious. A hard-driven golf ball is dangerous and could easily cause a serious injury if it were to strike someone.

Yet some golfers persist on "shooting into" the group in front of them.

The ideal solution to the problem is to station a "ranger" at the first tee, and on the shorter holes throughout the course where a crowding up of golfers is likely to occur. This is a common practice among the larger golf courses in the nation. These "rangers" would then make the decision when it was safe for the player to drive.

Finkbine course, however, like many of the other departments of SU, is operating on a limited budget which makes the hiring of this extra help impossible.

The solution then lies only in the hands of the golfers. Each player has a sufficient knowledge of his own capacities and the task of judging when the players in front of him are out of range is far from a difficult one.

GOP, Demos Operate Under Different Rules

CHICAGO (AP) — Except for two important differences, the Democrats and the Republicans run their national conventions under pretty much the same rules — those of the house of representatives.

When something comes up that isn't covered by those rules, the ancient rule of precedent applies. That means that each convention usually follows the rulings of preceding conventions when a question arises that is not covered by a specific rule.

The Democrats and the Republicans part company on their rules governing unit voting and obtaining roll-calls by state delegations. The Republicans have no so-called "unit rule." The Democrats have one. It says that all the delegates of a state must vote with the

Tariffs Stage Comeback In Political Scene

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., Associated Press News Analyst

There used to be a time when the tariff was to American political conventions what civil rights and contested delegations are today.

Definitions varied. A tariff was a charge you levied against imports to keep foreign countries from dumping the products of their cheaper labor on markets which by rights belonged to Americans. Or it was a device to help the rich get richer.

At least the fairly well-off folks always seemed to favor high tariffs. The less well-off frequently took the view that the tariff merely made them pay more than they should for what they needed.

As American industry overcame the head start held by Britain and others, the tariff became less important and gradually faded out as a major political issue.

Right now, however, it is staging a comeback as an international issue which may yet have its impact on domestic politics.

The issue now is how far do you go in helping foreign countries which the U.S. already is helping to support to get markets which might be held by Americans so that the countries can do a better job of supporting themselves. It's just that kind of ring-around-the-rosy.

The foreign delegations have been trooping to Washington recently, following some changes in the rules by congress, to beg reprieve on this or that tariff.

German Witnesses Testify at Trial Of Former Iowan

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Three German club women were called as defense witnesses Tuesday in the black market trial of Mrs. Katherine Reed, wife of a U.S. air force colonel formerly of Ottumwa, Ia.

The trio — all members of the German-American women's club here — said they had held frequent meetings in Mrs. Reed's home and added "we have the greatest respect for her."

Mrs. Reed, wife of Col. Allan Reed, former commanding officer of the Wiesbaden military post, is on trial before a U.S. court charged with dealing in coffee, gasoline coupons and currency on the Wiesbaden black market.

In reply to defense counsel questions, the club women said they never saw any evidence of black market activities during their visits to Reed's home.

Defense counsel Earl Smith then called Mrs. Reed's servants, hair dresser and masseur to testify that they were always paid in German marks, in compliance with the law.

Barkley Withdrawal Called 'Tragedy'

CHICAGO (AP) — The tragedy in this rough-house 31st Democratic national convention Tuesday was the story of that old party faithful, Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

For in the presidential stampede, Barkley was deeply and badly hurt. The proud old fighter who charged through so many campaigns at last was run down in the rough realities of politics.

Perhaps it was inevitable. There are many who thought they saw it coming from the day Barkley announced he was in the race for his party's nomination. They saw his age as a handicap too great to overcome despite his vigor and popularity.

Sadness Evident
But wherever you go among the milling thousands in this political turmoil there is sadness and regret that this day had to be for Barkley.

How was Barkley — the 74-year-old "veep" — put in the position where he felt forced to withdraw from the presidential race with bitter words for those he believed responsible?

There are three men who know the whole story. They are Barkley, Sen. Earle Clements of Kentucky and Kentucky's youthful Gov. Lawrence Wetherby.

They were beside Barkley through the whole trying ordeal. But they aren't talking because Barkley asked them not to talk.

Friend Angry
Many of Barkley's friends are angry. Some of the wanted to go before a news conference and unfold the story as they saw it. But Barkley finally told them no — don't do it.

One of the vice-presidents' friends said: "The truth is that Alben believed he had the support of people who didn't stand with him. He thought he had reason to believe that President Truman was on his side — and he thought there was reason to think that labor would be with him."

In his statement withdrawing from the presidential race, Barkley said he never believed a single group could dominate the Democratic party.

Accuses Labor Chiefs
And then he added: "But now, certain self-appointed political labor leaders have taken it upon themselves to announce their opposition to me as the Democratic nominee for president."

The CIO's political action committee said Barkley in "his great and understandable disappointment" had distorted the facts. A committee statement said Barkley had asked for the support of labor union leaders but "we felt that he was too old to undertake the tremendous burdens of the campaign and the presidency."

Behind these bitter words there remained the harsh fact — and for Barkley the cruel fact — that youth is moving to the front in American politics.

Lewis Blasts Leaders Opposing Barkley For Demo Nomination

CHICAGO (AP) — John L. Lewis Tuesday blasted leaders of the CIO and AFL for "small time political intrigue" in opposing Vice-President Alben Barkley of Kentucky for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In a statement dictated from Washington, the head of the United Mine Workers, praised Barkley as a friend of organized labor who "deserved the gratitude of every man in America who works for a living."

And then he lashed out at Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers and vice-president of the CIO, at George Harrison, a member of the executive council of the AFL, and at Jack Kroll, director of the CIO political action committee.

He said: "The self-appointed political leaders of labor who took it upon themselves to attempt to disqualify him (Barkley) from the presidency by reason of his age obviously were engaged in a small-time political intrigue with other candidates."

STRIDING ALONG CHICAGO'S MICHIGAN Boulevard with his wife, Jane, and trailing a motorcade of rooters that met him at the railroad station, "74-year-old" Alben Barkley, looking every inch the confident candidate, arrives for the Democratic convention.

Kroll was with Reuther when a group of union leaders told Barkley at a breakfast Monday they could not support him because of his age.

Barkley withdrew angrily Monday night from the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Lewis statement was the climax to a bitter fight among union leaders over the selection of a Democratic presidential nominee.

Helicopter Captures Red Fighter Plane

EAST HARTFORD, CONN. (AP) — A big American helicopter captured a Russian-built jet fighter plane behind enemy lines in Korea and brought it back for study like a pelican carrying a fish, it was reported Tuesday.

The story of how the MIG-15 was snatched from the ground was told in the United Aircraft corporation's house magazine, The Bee Hive.

More than 50 fighter planes served as a cover for the United Aircraft H-19 helicopter in the thrilling episode. The date was not disclosed.

Landed For Study
The magazine gave this account: When the MIGs appeared against U.S. air force planes, Allied air experts knew a lot about them, but not everything. They wanted one for study. Reconnaissance disclosed that one was down deep in enemy territory to the north.

Lt. Gen. E. E. Partridge, commanding the fifth air force, summoned Capt. Joseph Cooper, a helicopter pilot, and gave him a plan for dismantling the MIG and getting it back to territory held by the United Nations.

Cooper, with Capt. Russell Winnegar as co-pilot, took off with six Korean soldiers and an office of strategic information (OSI) officer in the cargo space.

Landed On Hill
While fighter plane cover hovered above, Cooper landed his flying windmill beside the MIG on a hillside. Then a hitch developed. The crew was unable to dismantle the MIG with the tools at hand.

The OSI officer, unidentified, solved this by breaking the plane in strategic places with hand grenades. Every last piece of the MIG was loaded into the cargo space.

Cooper got the helicopter into the air though it was 1,000 pounds overweight. The OSI officer jammed into the pilot's compartment. The story didn't say where the Koreans rode.

The 'copter brought the MIG in safely through a hail of ground fire. Cooper and Winnegar won the Silver Star for their exploit.

Cooper, a native of Sacramento, Calif., now is stationed at Eglin air force base, Fla. Winnegar's address is not known here.

Film Industry Charged With Illegal Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government went to court Tuesday to try to force the motion picture industry to release newer and better feature films for the nation's 18 million sets.

A suit filed in federal district court in Los Angeles charged 12 major motion picture firms with an illegal conspiracy to keep feature films off of TV.

The justice department civil suit says the companies agreed to prevent television films from competing "with established motion picture theaters."

One official here estimated the average feature film released for TV now is about 10 years old. If the suit is successful, he added, films would be released for TV after a short "reasonable" time for showing in theaters.

This official, declining to be quoted by name pending settlement of the case, would not estimate the proposed new "reasonable" period but indicated six months to a year might be sufficient.

Purpose of the suit, he added, is to give the public "recent instead of ancient" films on TV.

Attorney General McGranery, announcing the suit, said it is "part of the continuing program of the antitrust division to prevent businessmen and others from combining to place restrictions upon what members of the general public may see on their television sets."

Technically, the suit charged conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce in films of 16 millimeter width, the width used on television. Theaters use 35 millimeter films which are then converted to 16 millimeters for use on TV and also in private clubs, hospitals, schools, churches etc.

Egyptian General Installs New Premier

Employs Army To Oust Hilaly

CAIRO, Egypt (P) — A thrice-wounded Egyptian war hero, avowed foe of corruption in the government and armed forces, seized control of the army in a lightning coup Wednesday and forced a man of his choice into the premiership.

While most of Cairo slept, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib proclaimed himself army commander in chief and surrounded the royal palace and government buildings with tanks and armored cars. Twenty high ranking officers were arrested.

Hours later, Premier Ahmed Naguib Hilaly Pasha and his cabinet resigned.

Took Over Tuesday
They had taken office only Tuesday, forming the fifth government to serve since anti-British mobs swept Cairo in disastrous riots last January.

Naguib demanded that former Premier Aly Maher Pasha take the premiership again. Soon after, as jet fighters flew low over the capital, King Farouk I asked Maher Pasha to try to form a government. The premier-designate resigned last March because, he said, "mysterious influences" were working against him.

In a nation-wide broadcast, Naguib said corruption and bribery were "the main reason for our failure in the Palestine war (in 1948); they are the main reason for troubles in Egypt's political and economic life."

New Spirit Wanted
"Therefore, we thought the steps we have taken were necessary to inspire the Egyptians with a new spirit and determination to go ahead and work toward fulfilling Egypt's national aspirations."

The 51-year-old soldier-deposed commander in chief Gen. Mohamed Haidar Pasha.

King Farouk was in Alexandria, the summer capital.

There apparently was little bloodshed in the coup.

The general, a dark, stocky graduate in law and holder of high decorations for his service in the Palestine war said he had given assurances to the United States, British and other foreign embassies that foreign residents "will be protected regarding their security and their interests."

Egypt has been under martial law since the bloody anti-British riots six months ago.

State Pays $4 Million Unemployment Aid In Last Fiscal Year

DES MOINES (P) — In the fiscal year ended July 1, a total of $4,030,157 in unemployment compensation was paid to 26,300 persons for a total of 250,869 weeks, the Iowa employment security commission reported Wednesday.

The number of initial claims for benefits totaled 50,269 and the average check for the year was $19.61.

The funds are obtained from a tax on 10,695 liable Iowa employers' payrolls, and cover 573,941 workers.

The commission said Iowa has the lowest average employer contribution rate for unemployment insurance in the United States, and also leads the nation in adequacy of jobless compensation funds.

A commission representative said Iowa's lowest rate average of four-tenths of one per cent means that liable employers have stabilized their employment to a point where they need pay only that low average on their payrolls to make benefits available.

This also means, the spokesman said, that major employes in Iowa

'Shipshape' Highlanders Begin Counting Calories

ABOARD THE SS AROSA KULM — The SUI's Scottish Highlanders are fast developing a fear of becoming "shipshape."

According to Webster's definition, the term means trim, tidy, orderly. But the 60 European-bound Iowa lassies have added a new, contradictory synonym that is spelled F-A-T.

When the Iowa coeds speak of becoming shipshape, they are thinking of the calorie dangers that lurk in every heaping plateful of food served aboard the SS Arosa Kulm.

The girls, who melted off any excess pounds in extensive pre-embarkment drills at SUI, are afraid of gaining them all back and more during their days at sea.

Menu Is Heavy
A glance at the first day's menu indicates the girls have a worrying point. Here's what they were served:

Breakfast — choice of porridge or dry cereal, deep-fried eggs and bacon, fruit juice, French bread, and a choice of coffee, cocoa or tea.

Lunch — lamb stew, potatoes, string beans flavored with tomatoes, fruit and coffee.

Dinner — fried sole, potatoes, butter cauliflower, green salad, ice cream and coffee or tea.

Snack Served
Just to keep up their strength between meals, the Highlanders return to the dining room late each afternoon for "teatime" when they are served as much tea and as many cookies or pieces of are close to having the most stable employment in the United States. The over-all average employer contribution in the U.S., he said, is 1.6 per cent.

Net collections of unemployment insurance in Iowa total $134,790-373 since the program began July 1, 1938, with an additional $15,827,749 accumulated in interest.

Payments since that date total $45,394,460, leaving a reserve of $105,223,662. The commission spokesman said this is the most adequate in the U.S., based on the ratio of payments to income and reserve.

The average yearly payment of unemployment compensation the past four years has been $3,171-032.

The 1933 quake which centered at Long Beach did approximately $75 million damage but replacement costs have risen greatly since then.

The death toll rose to 12 when Ramon Pescadero, 62, of Arvin, died in a Bakersfield hospital. He suffered fatal burns when a gas stove in his cabin exploded during the quake. The other 11 victims were crushed by falling structures here.

Another strong aftershock was recorded by California Institute of Technology seismologists at 11:14 a.m. Wednesday. Scientists say more than 50 aftershocks have been recorded since the big temblor.

The aftershocks brought down more bricks from already damaged buildings at nearby Arvin.

Anti-U.S. Feeling Rises in Tehran

TEHRAN, Iran (P) — Anti-American feeling rose Wednesday in many parts of Tehran with the easing of a domestic crisis that saw rightist Ahmed Qavam ousted from the premiership and nationalist Mohammed Mossadegh returned to power with increased prestige.

A belief developed among Iranians that the United States had supported Qavam, advocate of a British-Iranian oil settlement, against Mossadegh, the guiding spirit of Iran's oil nationalization program. Qavam himself was variously reported under arrest or a fugitive.

And the vote Tuesday of an American judge on the International Court of Justice at the Hague against a majority decision disclaiming jurisdiction in Britain's oil suit against Iran angered many Iranians formerly friendly to the United States.

GOP Leaders Visit Ike at Vacation Cabin In Colorado Rockies

FRASER, COLO. (P) — Tanned and chipper, Dwight D. Eisenhower cooked breakfast Wednesday for a trio of Republican leaders at his vacation retreat in the Colorado Rockies.

The Republican presidential nominee, well rested after a week of trout fishing and loafing, was on hand at the front door of his cabin early Wednesday morning to welcome the first visitors he has had since arriving here last Thursday.

"Hi, Ike," he was greeted by Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania; Ralph Cake, GOP national committeeman from Oregon; and Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado.

They were accompanied by Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver Post. The party and a caravan of newsmen drove the 72 miles from Denver to the cabin, situated high in the Rockies on the western slope of the continental divide.

The general said he has not listened to the radio to the Democratic national convention in Chicago where his opponent in the presidential race will be nominated.

The nominee asked newsmen not to put any political questions to him, saying there would be time for that when he returns to his Denver headquarters, probably next week.

Home Economics Sorority Initiates 5 SUI Students

Five SUI students have been initiated into Omicron Nu national home economics sorority.

They are Mary Joy Rasmussen, Forest City, Ia., Vesta Eileen Addison, Florien, La., both are graduates in nutrition at the University hospitals, and Eileen Yvonne Heye a graduate. The two seniors were Mary Ruth Offringa, West Branch, and Margaret Elaine Ross, Kenilworth, Ill.

Election to membership is based on scholarship, leadership and general ability.

Initiation was held in the home economics dining room in MacBride hall.

Cedar Rapids Home Ruined By Explosion

CEDAR RAPIDS (P) — The year-old home of Elmer Doskocil was wrecked by an explosion Wednesday afternoon, but no one was in the building and no one was hurt.

While Doskocil made no estimate of the damage, spectators guessed it might be about $10,000. The frame home contained four rooms and an attic.

"It just blew up," was the consensus of several witnesses. Assistant Fire Chief Bud Thompson theorized that the blast was caused by gas. He said a construction company bulldozer was grading the street nearby, that it apparently caught a gas line, jerking the pipe loose from the Doskocil home.

Gas company workmen shut off the gas in that area, and police barricaded streets to keep people away, particularly smokers.

Miss Mary McCarthy, a neighbor of the Doskocils, said she glanced out of a window, saw the sides of the house blown out and the roof collapse.

W. H. Flickinger, another neighbor, said he felt the jar from the far side of his home. Leo Johnson, a street department workman, and Ira Smart, who also was working about a block away, said they saw the home collapse and Smart added the blast sounded like a couple of artillery shells going off.

Doskocil is a teller at a bank and his wife works at a hospital. Both were at work at the time.

5 Local Persons See Bright Meteor

Five persons reported to C. C. Wylie, SUI professor of astronomy, that they had seen a meteor about 9:42 p.m. Tuesday.

It was seen in a west-south-westerly direction from here, Professor Wylie said, and was described to be a bright bluish-green with pink and red embers dropping from the end of the meteor trail.

The professor said they were probably meteorites, or small fragments of the meteor body.

Witnesses said the sky lit up like a lightning flash. Reports of seeing the meteor in Ottumwa also reached the professor who is doing meteor research.

Professor Wylie said he would welcome reports from any others who may have seen the meteor.

A Texan Blasts Seating Vote

FOUNDING HIS FOREHEAD FOR EMPHASIS, Joseph Steadham, Austin, Tex., who is a Maury Maverick pro-administration delegate to the Democratic convention, is shown as he bitterly denounced the credentials committee's decision to seat "regular" delegates from Texas. In his speech he predicted that Texas will go Republican.

Lemon 6-Hits New York, 7-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians bounced back behind six-hit hurling by Bob Lemon Wednesday night to defeat the New York Yankees 7-3 and cut the Yanks' first place lead over the Boston Red Sox to four games.

Bob Lemon Gives Only 1 Earned Run

The victory, coming after the Tribe's double loss to New York Tuesday, was Lemon's 10th win against eight defeats.

He didn't allow an earned run until the ninth inning when Phil Rizzuto led off with a homer—his first of the season—into the left field seats.

Tom Gorman, the Yankees' bespectacled rookie righthander, suffered his first major league defeat. He won his first two decisions.

Nats Win in 16

DETROIT (AP)—The Washington Senators pushed over three runs in the 16th inning to whip the last place Detroit Tigers, 5-2, Wednesday and even the series at a game-apiece.

Pinchhitter Cliff Mapes' homer had tied it at 2-all for the Tigers in the ninth.

Eddie Yost walked to open the 16th, took second on Jackie Jensen's single and came home on Pete Runnels' single to center. Jensen moved to third on the hit and Runnels took second on the throw to the infield. Mickey Vernon then singled to right, scoring both Jensen and Runnels.

Frank Shea pitched spectacularly for 14 innings for the Senators. He should have won by a 2-1 score in regulation time. But a costly Washington error gave the Tigers a run and Mapes' pinch hit home run gave them another to send the contest into overtime.

BoSox Get 7 in 9th

CHICAGO (AP)—Exploding for seven runs in the ninth inning, the Boston Red Sox walloped the Chicago White Sox 10-4 before 8,321 in Comiskey park Wednesday.

After relieving starter Hal Brown with two out and three runs home in the opening half of the first inning, Joe Dobson had shut out the Sox with five singles until the start of the ninth.

Then 11 Red Sox, including four pinch hitters, marched to the plate against Dobson and Chuck Stobbs. Dobson took his seventh loss against nine wins.

U-High Grid Coach Takes Job in East

Bob Weber, University high football coach for the past three seasons, is moving on to State Teachers college in Cortland, N.Y., as an assistant football coach and instructor in the teacher training program, it was announced Wednesday.

Weber receives his doctor's degree in physical education from SU in August.

Donald Hartness, a graduate of Northwest Missouri State college at Marysville, Mo., has been named to succeed Weber.

Browns Fall Again

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Philadelphia's Athletics came from behind for the second straight night Wednesday night to defeat the St. Louis Browns by a 3-2 score as the Browns bowed to their seventh consecutive defeat.

It was their fifth one-run loss in the last six games.

Bums Finally Lose

BROOKLYN (AP)—Harry Perkowski, Cincinnati southpaw, became the first lefthanded starter to beat the Dodgers this year as he went the route for a 6-4 victory Wednesday which ended Brooklyn's nine-game winning streak.

It was Cincinnati's second win in 15 games with the league leaders.

Perkowski, registering his eighth victory against six defeats, allowed 10 hits with Billy Cox's fifth inning double and Gil Hodges' 19th homer in the sixth driving in all the Brooklyn runs.

Home runs by Joe Adcock, Andy Seminick and Bob Borkowski off Carl Erskine gave Perkowski a fine early cushion. Erskine, losing his third game against 10 wins, also gave up three doubles in his five-inning tenure.

Rush Takes 10th

BOSTON (AP)—Righthander Bob Rush turned in his 10th win for the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night by holding the Boston Braves to five hits for a 6-2 victory. The Cubs pounded Max Surkont and Ernie Johnson for 13 hits, one of them a third inning homer by Tommy Brown.

The Cubs clinched matters in the fourth inning when, with two out, they clouted Surkont for four consecutive singles for two runs. Those blows were made by Dee Fondy, Bill Serena, Brown and Rush in that order.

Rush kept the Tribesmen scoreless until the bottom of the sixth, when a base on balls, a double and a single accounted for Boston's two runs.

Phillies Win, 4-1

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A fifth inning homer by Del Ennis with one on helped the Philadelphia Phillies grab a 4-1 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night as righthander Steve Ridzik, making his second start of the campaign, held the losers to five hits over the first seven innings before Robin Roberts took over the mound chores from the tiring rookie.

Ennis, who had pitched well in his first start, struck out three batters in the fifth and sixth. He was replaced by Robin Roberts in the seventh.

Sioux City Open Preview - Zimmerman 8-Under Par In Pro-Amateur Meet

SIoux CITY, IA. (AP)—Three teams turned in 625 Wednesday to tie for first place in the pro-amateur golf tournament which preceded today's opening of $15,000 Sioux City Open.

The three pros of these teams, Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore.; Al Besseling, Denver, and Milon Marusic, Herkimer, N. Y., each shared $420.

Four teams tied for the next places with 63s. The pros of each team got $57.50.

Zimmerman toured the Elmwood course in eight-under-par Wednesday for the low pro-amateur score of 64. He picked up $75 prize money for his brilliant round.

Besseling and Doug Ford, Yonkers, N. Y., tied for second, each with 66. They split $75 in prize money.

The low individual amateur score was fired by Wally Cott, who had a 62. Bill Briggs turned in a 63 and Don Hall a 64.

The four-day, 72-hole open begins today with 117 entries expected to tie off. Buck White is the defending champion.

In Wednesday's driving contest, defending champion Andy Anderson, St. Andrews, Ill., professional, won again this year with a drive of 341 yards. He earned $75. Pete Fleming, St. Andrews, was second with a drive of 317 yards.

Over 3,500 persons turned out to watch the golf clinic held in conjunction with the pro-amateur tournament.

ISTC's Smith Only American Mat Champion

HELSINKI (AP)—The United States took only one Olympic free style wrestling gold medal Wednesday night as Russia, Turkey and Sweden each carried off two titles and Japan won the other.

The lone American grappler to cart away a gold medal was Bill Smith of Cedar Falls, Ia., and he was so surprised he started to step up on the third place winner's stand when the honors were handed out for the welterweights.

The United States' lone defending champion, Henry Wittenberg, finished second in the light-heavyweight division. The New York policeman won in the 1948 games at London.

There was a brief minute or two when Wittenberg—who wasn't even on the mat at the time—looked like he had a chance of also winning.

Under the complex scoring system in use in the 236 matches, the result of the bout between Wiking Palm of Sweden and Adil Atan of Turkey determined Wittenberg's placing.

If Palm lost, Wittenberg would get the gold medal, but the Swedish grappler held off a furious attack from Atan in the final minutes of the bout and won. This put Wittenberg second with Atan third.

The Soviet showed up at its first Olympic games with good big men. David Gimakuridze took the middleweight championship without much trouble and Arsen Mekokishvili annexed the heavy-weight crown.

For the Turks, who are rabid wrestling fans, Hassan Cemici won the flyweight crown and gold medal.

Besides Palm's win in the light-heavyweight division, fast and aggressive Olle Anderberg handily picked up the lightweight gold medal for Sweden. Tom Evans of Norman, Okla., lost to Anderberg and received the silver medal for second place.

Josiah Henson, a Tulsa, Okla., boy representing the Navy Olympic squad, lost a tough scramble to Nasser Guivetchi of Iran for second honors in the featherweight division and took third place.

Olympic Totals

HELSINKI (AP)—The battle for the unofficial Olympic title remained a two-country affair Wednesday with Russia still showing the way to the United States by a margin of 266 1/2 points to 202.

Team standings are strictly unofficial, because only individual victories count in Olympic records. But it has become the custom of awarding a country 10 points for first, with the next five places counting 5-4-3-2-1 respectively.

On this basis, here is the standing of the 10 leaders after four days of competition:

1. Russia 266 1/2
2. United States 202
3. Hungary 59
4. Switzerland 58
5. Sweden 54 1/2
6. Japan 46
7. Great Britain 42
8. France 35
9. Finland 31 1/2
10. Germany and Turkey 31 (tie)

U.S. Gets 61 More Points But Russ Still Lead Olympics

By TED SMITS

HELSINKI (AP)—Cy Young and Bill Miller scored an amazing one-two victory for the United States in the javelin Wednesday and Andy Stanfield led an American slam of the 200 meters, but Russia maintained its total point lead over the star spangled forces after the fourth day of the Olympic games.

For the first time, the United States temporarily surged ahead of Russia in the unofficial battle for team honors as Uncle Sam's boys continued to dominate the track and field competition. But the Soviet athletes came right back to pile up big totals in women's gymnastics and wrestling.

At the end of the day the score was Russia 266 1/2, United States 202.

U.S. Over Russia

In track and field and rowing Wednesday the U. S. outscored Russia 61 to 35 1/2 but the Soviet had a 34-26 margin in free style wrestling and picked up 60 1/2 points in the women's gymnastics, in which the Americans were shut out.

America continued its domination of the Olympic eight oar rowing event as Navy's undefeated crew beat Russia by a length and a half.

Adhemar Ferreira Da Silva of Brazil and Shirley Strickland of Australia smashed world records in track and field as five new Olympic marks were set and two tied.

Records Fall

In all, three world records have been bettered and 12 Olympic records have been broken and three tied at the half way mark in track and field competition.

In men's track and field—the games' blue ribbon sport—the United States has won 10 out of 13 finals with 11 more to be decided. At London in 1948 Americans won 11 gold medals. These games could become the greatest American triumph since the pre-established Olympic program was established—but Russia has shown an all-around power that has amazed everyone.

The result of the javelin came as a shock to the Finns, and a surprise to the Americans. The home team had even hoped for a slam. But Bill Miller, on his first toss, whipped the spear out 72.46 meters (237 feet, 8.832 inches) and record. No one could better these marks.

Dillard's and Ashenfelter's marks were both made in trial heats, and while Dillard's performance came as no surprise, everyone was talking about the way Ashenfelter, an FBI man who once competed for Penn State, ran away from Mikhail Saltykov of Soviet Russia—a rather unusual thing for an FBI man.

America's victory in the eight-oared rowing was its seventh straight in this Olympic event. Navy's magnificent unbeaten crew represented the nation and did it magnificently, surging into the lead at the start and increasing its margin to full length by the half way mark in the 2,000 meter course, roughly equivalent to a mile and one quarter.

The British shell, expected to be the chief rival, began to fade and then the red-shirted Russians, at a furious beat, came up. The Annapolis boat, however, continued to pull away and won in the good time of 6:25.9. Russia was clocked in 6:31.2.

The American sweep in the 200 meters was an impressive one. Stanfield had only had a single yard over Thane Baker of Kansas State, who was timed in 20.1, and Jim Gathers on leave from the air force was inches behind Baker in the same time.

Stanfield is a graduate of Seton Hall university.
