Insurance Discussion Tonight

Employees to Voice Views on State Plan

A meeting of all state employees interested in the Iowa Old Age Survivor's Insurance program will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Community building.

State Representative G. M. Ludwig arranged the meeting "after being approached from many sources for information concerning the rather uncertain status of the state old age insurance program."

State Senator Herman Lord, chairman of the special committee created by the 54th general assembly to make a study of the OASI system, will be at the meeting. The purpose of this special committee is to investigate the proposal to unite Iowa OASI under the federal social security system.

Report to the Governor

The group will report its findings to the governor.

All state and city employees are invited to attend the meeting. This includes SUI employees (academic and non-academic), those at Oakdale sanatorium, all Iowa school teachers (city and rural), highway employees (city and county) and everyone affected by OASI.

OASI is compulsory for all state and city employees in Iowa. Under the program the employee pays four per cent of the first $3,000 of his salary to the state for as long as he is employed by the state or city.

This covers him with insurance and a retirement allowance.

Payable Only in Death

The insurance is payable only in case of death of the employee. The rate paid the dependents is based upon the number of survivors and the amount the deceased has paid into the plan. Benefits for widow with child usually amount to between $50 and $60 per month.

A person may retire at the age of 65 under the plan. Typical retirement benefits range between $40 and $52.50 per month.

When the state plan was set up, it was designed to go under the federal plan eventually. A change was made in the federal social security law in 1950 to allow this, but there has been opposition to the change.

Supporters of the OASI program list these advantages of the plan:

1. Benefits for certain groups are larger than the federal benefits would be under the same circumstances.
2. Permits a retired employee to draw from two systems rather than one.
3. Makes it easier for a retired employee to obtain employment after retirement without losing OASI benefits.
4. Average monthly wage is likely to be higher under OASI because only quarter years of employment are used to arrive at an average monthly wage.

Opponents of the present state insurance setup list these disadvantages:

1. High cost of coverage—4 per cent for OASI as compared with 1 1/2 per cent for federal social security.
2. Possibility of losing all credit.

British Rocket Takes Off on Test

FLAMES POUR FROM BOOSTER MOTORS attached to its rear shaft as Britain's high-flying guided rocket, with a speed rating well over 2,000 miles an hour, takes off from a launching platform on a performance test. The booster motors, which appear as tubes around the rocket's rear half, drop off when the missile reaches cruising speed and its own motors take over. The new rocket is claimed to have five times the maneuverability of a fighter plane, thus increasing its effectiveness against an enemy aircraft taking evasive action.

New Program Offered To Graduate Nurses

A new study program for graduate nurses leading to the degree of bachelor of science in nursing will be offered by the SUI college of nursing beginning in September, according to the college's dean, Myrtle E. Kitchell.

The program is designed to provide an enriched educational background for nursing service, and to prepare the student for advanced study in a specialized area of nursing, Miss Kitchell said.

At the present time, students enrolling in the college of nursing can choose between two distinct programs of study. They may enroll in a three-year program leading to a diploma in nursing, or they may select a four-year program leading to the degree of bachelor of science in nursing.

The new program will offer nurses with a diploma an opportunity to receive the academic training necessary to qualify for the degree. The program may be completed in four semesters, or two academic years, depending upon the credentials presented by the applicant.

Miss Kitchell said a portion of the program may be completed on a part-time basis while the nurse is employed, but certain nursing courses will require full-time attendance.

In addition to a number of professional nursing courses, the curriculum will include study in such areas as communication skills, mathematics skills, historical and cultural studies, literature, psychology and sociology.

Unidentified objects were spotted on radar screens at the Washington National airport this week-end.

Reports of the sighting reached the air force, and jet fighter-interceptor planes made a search of the Washington area. One pilot reported seeing lights which he was never able to overtake.

In the wake of the Washington development there were published reports that the air defense command had been organized on an emergency basis to pursue any unidentified objects in the skies.

An air force official Monday night said its defense command has been ready for many months to challenge any unknown object aloft.

Residents living along Iowa ave. presented a petition signed by 124 persons opposing the removal of the park areas along Iowa ave. They stated that removal of the park areas would create a speedway and also detract from the city's beauty.

The council pointed out that there were no specific provisions in the budget for work of this type and that a public hearing would be held before any action would be taken on the matter.

The SUI departments of music and dramatic arts will present a scene from the Mozart opera, "Così fan tutte," over station WOC-TV, Davenport, on Sunday at 2 p.m.

The televised opera will retain its six principal players — Charles Davis, Stephen Hobson, Harry Morrison, Marilyn Horstmen, Dorothy Krebill, and Marilyn Hungef — who will appear in their original roles.

SUI Develops New Drug for Heart Ailments

A new drug developed at the SUI college of pharmacy promises to be of value in treating persons afflicted with certain types of heart disease.

Dean Emeritus Rudolph A. Kuever of the college said the drug — dihydroxypropyl theophylline — has been used in more than 1,000 cases with considerable success.

Developed by Dr. Paul V. Maney of Cedar Rapids while he was a student in the college under the direction of Prof. James W. Jones, the drug produces two basic actions that make it useful to heart patients.

First, it dilates, or expands the blood vessels. This enables more food and oxygen-bearing blood to pass through the vessels and reach tissue damaged by the failure of its principal supply vessels. This dilation also lessens the pressure on the vessel walls, reducing the likelihood of rupture of the vessels.

Secondly, the drug aids in the elimination of excess fluids from the tissues, as evidenced by the increased volume of the patient's urine output.

Marketed under the trade name Neothylline, the drug "provides a form of theophylline which is very soluble in water, stable in acid media and far less nauseating to the patient" than other theophylline mixtures, according to Jones.

Maney developed the new drug in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Ph.D. degree. United States and Canadian patents have been issued for the drug in the name of Maney and Jones.

Air Force Continues On Routine Schedule Despite 'Saucer' Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The air force said Monday night the current series of "flying saucer" reports has brought no change in its 24-hour-a-day program to challenge any unidentified and potentially hostile object in the skies over the United States.

Unidentified objects were spotted on radar screens at the Washington National airport this week-end.

Reports of the sighting reached the air force, and jet fighter-interceptor planes made a search of the Washington area. One pilot reported seeing lights which he was never able to overtake.

Reds Fed Up With UN War, Navy Man Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Admiral William M. Fletcher, chief of naval operations, said Monday he thinks there will be an armistice in Korea — "principally because the Communists want it."

He also reported that the Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa have become "a great potential" in the shifting fortunes of the Far East.

Fresh from a Far Eastern tour, during which he watched shore bombardments from the battleship Iowa and visited command headquarters in Korea, Fletcher said the Reds are getting fed-up with their war against the United Nations.

"Every time the Communists stick their heads up they get hurt," he told reporters.

Fletcher had warm praise for the Chinese army, navy and air forces on the anti-Communist island stronghold of Formosa. He indicated they would get more U.S. help in training for amphibious operations. Such training would be required if the Nationalists planned to return to the Communist-held mainland across the Formosa straits. But Fletcher did not mention plans for any such operation.

The naval head, who is a member of the joint chiefs of staff, top military advisers to President Truman, was expected to make a full report to the joint chiefs on his 17-day journey to Formosa, Japan, the Philippines and Korea. Fletcher's comments on Chiang's forces, and his hint that amphibious training would be stepped up, were likely to re-open speculation on the role of the Nationalists in the Far East struggle against communism.

President Truman gave the navy command over Formosa and its vicinity March 15.

Since the outset of fighting in Korea, the seventh fleet, part of the Pearl Harbor command, has maintained a "Formosa patrol" under presidential directions to prevent any Communist invasion of the island. At the same time, Truman asked Chiang to forego any attempts at operations against the mainland.

Chapman Fills Council Post

The city council elected Ansel C. Chapman to fill the council vacancy created by the resignation of W. V. (Pat) Pearson at a special meeting Monday night. Chapman graduated from SUI in 1936 and from the law school of Yale university in 1939. He is now manager of the Varsity theater in Iowa City.

The council also formally adopted the proposed budget for Iowa City for 1953 following a public hearing.

No objections were raised to the budget. The amount of the budget for 1953 as passed by the council is $987,412. The amount to be raised by taxation is $536,445. The expected millage rate for the city will be about 29.8 mills.

Residents living along Iowa ave. presented a petition signed by 124 persons opposing the removal of the park areas along Iowa ave. They stated that removal of the park areas would create a speedway and also detract from the city's beauty.

'The Doll's House' Opens Tonight

'The Doll's House' Concludes SUI Summer Theatre Season

By JIM GOLTZ

The University theatre's final presentation for the summer season, Henrik Ibsen's "The Doll's House," will hold its opening performance tonight at 8 p.m. in the dramatic arts building auditorium.

Four performances will be held running through Friday night.

The play, which utilizes the Victorian Norway of 1879 as its setting, concerns a woman's attempt to assert herself as an individual rather than as only a wife and a mother.

The production, under the direction of Carolyn Silverthorne, will star Mary Van Fleet, Upland, Cal., in the leading role of "Nora Helmer." Miss Van Fleet, a graduate drama student, has previously appeared in "Goodbye My Fancy," and in the leading roles of "Mary Stuart," "The Heiress," and "The Great God Brown."

Playing opposite Miss Van Fleet, as her domineering husband, "Torvald Helmer," will be John Dameron, Tahlequah, Okla. Others in the cast are Louis Giorfeld, Waterloo; David Ashburn, Salem, N. C.; Jean Bairnson, Dumont; Geraldine Billings, Lamoni; Barbara Hammond, Cedar Rapids; Terry Flanders, Iowa City; Stanley Flanders, Iowa City, and Genesa Marie Wehr, Iowa City.

The setting for the three-act play was designed by Arnold Gillette, SUI professor of dramatic art. Lighting is by Walter S. Dewey, lecturer in dramatic art, with costumes designed by Margaret Hall, assistant professor of dramatic art.

Students may secure free reserved seats at room 8A Schaeffer hall. Tickets for the public are available at $1.25.

New Polio Outbreak Occurs as Epidemic Spreads in Sioux City

SIoux CITY (AP) — Sioux City's polio epidemic took a turn for the worse Monday night as hospital authorities disclosed that 10 new patients had been admitted to two hospitals during the day.

The number of cases reported to the city health office so far this year reached an all time high of 295.

Of those cases reported, 127 have been among Sioux Cityans, 35 in Woodbury county outside of Sioux City, and 133 outside of Woodbury county.

The previous all time high here was set in 1948 when a total of 274 cases were reported.

The new admissions raised to 160 the number of patients being treated in Sioux City hospitals. Several others are being treated in their homes.

Lecturer Shows Pictures of Greece

DR. ROBERT MOYERS, (left) spent much time traveling in Greece during World War II while he was with the office of strategic services. During that time he visited Mt. Athos, a secluded peninsula in Greece that contains only monasteries. He photographed many religious and art objects, some of which are as old as 1,500 years. Moyers had to receive permission to do his photography, as women are not allowed there at all, and men must have permission. He showed colored slides of the objects Monday night in the SUI Art building auditorium. His talk was sponsored by the Iowa historical society, the SUI graduate college and the Archaeological institute of America.

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEOUL (TUESDAY) (AP) — A Chinese Communist probing force stabbed at Allied western front positions on Old Baldy in driving rain and early morning darkness today in an apparent attempt to drive UN infantrymen completely from the height. The attack was repulsed with Allied soldiers still holding the southeast end of the hill, the eighth army said. Chinese Reds hold the crest, west of Chorwon and overlooking important communication lines on the main route to Seoul.

PERTH, AUSTRALIA (AP) — The British naval vessel, Tracker, loaded with top-secret atomic equipment, arrived Monday en route to Britain's south Pacific atom-test ground. Deepest secrecy shrouded the ship and no reporters were permitted near it. The explosion of Britain's first atomic bomb is expected to take place in September.

MUNICH, GERMANY (AP) — The teen-age American mother of two infant daughters said in a written statement Monday she accidentally shot and killed her soldier husband during an argument over "other women." With tears streaming down her face, Mrs. Martha Joan Wage, 19, of Red Wing, Minn., was ordered by a U.S. court to be held in military custody pending arraignment August 6 on charges of first degree murder.

Stevenson Assures Springfield Crowd He'll Fight to Win

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson rode in triumph from Chicago to Springfield Monday where he told cheering thousands he will fight for the election to the presidency with all his heart and mind and soul.

An estimated 25,000 people jammed into the courthouse square here and stood under a blistering 97-degree sun to give a hero's welcome to the reluctant winner of the Democratic party's highest honor — nomination as its standard bearer.

"My heart is not light and I have no elation today," he said, "I have been running away — not toward that job."

610 to Graduate At End of Term

Approximately 610 students will receive degrees at the SUI summer commencement Wednesday, August 6, according to Ted McCarrel, director of convocations.

President Virgil M. Hancher will deliver the charge to the candidates at the exercises to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the university field house. The invocation will be given by M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, while William D. Coder, coordinator of the veterans' service, will be master of ceremonies.

AFL Sailors Call Off West Coast Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AFL sailors Monday approved an agreement ending their two-month strike against west coast shipowners.

More than 100 vessels have been tied up by the sailors strike against the Pacific Maritime association representing 24 shipping firms.

Harry Lundeberg, head man of the AFL sailors union of the Pacific, said that six locals had voted 1,800 to 0 to accept the strike-ending agreement. The locals are at San Francisco, Seattle, San Pedro, New Orleans, Galveston, and New York.

The agreement, reached just before midnight Saturday, gave the sailors a flat 5 per cent wage increase, overtime pay for work over 40 or 44 hours — depending on jobs — at sea. The old work week was 48 hours.

editorial Iowa's Tax on Tax

By now Americans are becoming accustomed, although not particularly happy about it, to paying heavy taxes, especially on such things as luxuries.

There is hardly an item sold in the country today which isn't taxed by some unit of government, either directly or indirectly.

Last week, however, it was brought to light just how far our tax system has been extended, at least here in Iowa. It was shown that Iowans are paying a "tax on tax" whenever they buy a new car, or any new vehicle for that matter.

For the last 15 years Iowa has been charging a two per cent "use" tax on new cars based on the "delivered" price of the car. The "tax on tax" comes in here since the delivered price of the car includes about $540 federal tax on a vehicle costing around $3,000.

The city of New York only last week eliminated a similar discrepancy in its tax system. It passed a resolution which provides that only the actual value, before federal taxes, can be taxed.

Iowa could, and should, follow the example set by New York city. The extra amount collected from this "tax on tax" is relatively small as taxes go these days and its elimination, besides doing away with a bad principle, would ease somewhat the burden of the already inflation-hit consumer.

GENERAL NOTICES

GENERAL NOTICES should be deposited with the city editor of The Daily Iowan in the newsroom in East Hall. Notices must be submitted by 2 p.m. the day preceding first publication; they will NOT be accepted by phone, and must be TYPED, OR LEGIBLY WRITTEN and SIGNED by a responsible person.

TV Films Replace Many Live Shows; Win Public Approval

NEW YORK (AP) — Television is turning to film for its shows at a much faster rate than radio did to the recorded program—or transcription.

There was strong belief in some quarters that the public would insist on live performances for TV, but this has been pretty well dispelled by the high popularity ratings won by shows filmed especially for video.

Among the first to move up among the leaders was Fireside Theater, originally produced by Bing Crosby who a few years earlier had led the drive that brought acceptance of recorded radio programs.

Subsequently others joined the ranks, such as the Groucho Marx show and I Love Lucy, which moved into first place in popularity ratings during the past season. Numerous other filmed shows have moved in, including Amos 'n' Andy, Beulah, Gangbusters, Dragnet, Rebound, Gene Autry, Roy Rogers and Foreign Intrigue.

Films have a number of advantages over live programs that help offset their higher cost. Those cancelled during the political conventions, for instance, could be shown later. They can be shown at the most convenient viewing hour in each time zone. They can be rerun at later dates at only a fraction the cost of a repeat live performance.

There are other advantages. For instance, Lucille Ball expects a visit from the stork in January so she and husband Desi Arnaz are rushing production of enough films of I Love Lucy to tide the show over her enforced vacation.

SUI Scientist Does Research on Tadpoles

Tadpoles are hardly misshapen frog-monstrosities to David G. Barry, instructor in zoology. Tadpoles are Barry's favorite pets, complex organisms — the subject of intensive research.

Scientist Barry, who will receive his Ph.D. from SUI next month, specializes in developmental embryology, with emphasis on amphibias, tadpoles. For his doctoral dissertation Barry worked on "Amphibian Metamorphosis." He was concerned with the question "How do bodies grow?" In his research he was able to isolate the gut of a frog and speed up internal development, while the rest of the body remained in its normal stage.

Barry proved what had previously been only suspected: that the intestine could be changed into an adult form while the body remained juvenile. Next year Barry will be on the faculty of Wisconsin State college, Eau Claire, Wis., where he will teach biology and embryology. He said that the college has an unusual appointment system. Professors are not assigned a specific rank.

Barry has been an instructor at SUI since 1948, when he received his M.S. from the university. Previously he had been a graduate assistant.

Before coming to SUI, he was a wrestling coach and science teacher at Traer high school. He received his B.S. from Iowa State Teachers college in 1946. During World War II he served with the 101st airborne infantry division and the 82nd airborne. His hometown is Belmond.

Mrs. Barry, formerly Eunice Pettis of Wapello, is also an SUI graduate, B.A. in sociology, 1948. She was a supervisor at the University psychopathic hospital. The Barrys have two daughters, Janice and Barbara.

Barry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Barry of Cedar Falls.

ZOOLOGY INSTRUCTOR DAVID BARRY examines slides through his microscope while studying the complex organisms of frogs and tadpoles. Barry will receive his Ph.D. from SUI August 6. Next year he will be a member of the faculty at Wisconsin State college. He has been an instructor here since 1948.

Interlude with Interlandi

"Have you got something that can change a drab, uninteresting existence into a world of beauty and enchantment?"

Korean Conflict Upset Progress Of Armed Forces Unification Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Korean war has engulfed the armed forces unification program which congress approved five years ago. Plenty of money for the military (more than some of the services could spend immediately), a revival of old rivalries and the plain fact that in any war the armed forces cooperate as a matter of course — all have helped overshadow the project.

On July 26, 1947, congress passed and sent to the White House the bill to integrate the policies and administration procedures of the armed forces, to provide "coordination and unified direction under civilian control of the secretary of defense" and give the air force equal status with the army and navy.

Development Takes Time
Advocates said it would take time for the advantages of the program to be developed fully and for any money savings to start showing.

By mid-1950 the unification machinery was beginning to run smoothly. Some overlapping operations of branches of the armed forces were eliminated by setting up single agencies and some new and needed agencies were formed.

Staff Chiefs Included
One of the unified department's outfits is the joint chiefs of staff. Except for the fact it has a chairman and a joint staff to do the spade work, it's the same agency that came into existence early in World War II. Its job is to make strategic plans for current and foreseeable wars.

Because each of the three members of the joint chiefs — army, navy and air force men — represents the ideas and requirements of his own service. Some sharp arguments and protracted statements have been generated.

In the beginning, the persuasion of the late Defense Secretary James Forrestal and the iron hand policy of his successor, Louis Johnson, helped suppress the jealousies and competitions of the services and their chiefs. An even greater moderating factor was the economy trend in government—the sentiment for a tight purse for the military in peacetime.

Korean War Began
But the Korean conflict broke out. The military appropriation bill skyrocketed from its original estimate of $15,272,000,000 to more than $41 billion by the end of the first year of war. The budget has been even bigger in subsequent years.

Competition Renewed
The competition of World War II days for money, for material, for manpower was renewed.

With a step-up in preparedness for a possible Communist expansion of the Korean aggression into full world war, there has been revival too of the rivalries over the missions of the armed forces. The air force got money for more long range, heavy, strategic bombers and won its plea for expansion to a 143-wing force. The navy, seeing this, reopened the case for super-carriers. With congressional backing, it has authority to build two 60,000-ton flat-tops—and now advocates construction of at least eight more.

If savings were achieved by the consolidations during the first three years of unification, they have been at least diminished by the harsh demands of the Korean war and general rearmament.

TO THE EDITOR:
Evidently, Mr. Proctor (Letters to the Editor, July 25) either misunderstands Fair Trade laws or has forgotten his Economics. Federal and State laws on fair trade all stipulate that no article may be fair traded unless it is in free and open competition with similar articles. Therefore, if a manufacturer under fair trade sets too high a price on his product, consumers simply won't buy that product, since there are similar products on the market, some under fair trade, some not. A manufacturer may "fix" the price of his product at any figure he pleases, but consumers aren't compelled to pay that price. If they don't think that the article is worth the price asked for it, they don't have to buy that article. For example, a certain brand of electric mixer has a fair trade minimum price of $49.50. If you as a consumer don't think that this electric mixer is worth that price, then you are free to buy other mixers. If other consumers feel the same way, the manufacturer of this mixer will have to lower his price or go out of business. On the other hand, if you feel that the trade mark on this mixer is a symbol of high quality and dependability that sets it apart from other electric mixers, you may decide to buy it. You might grumble a bit, but if you pay $49.50 for it, that proves that you would rather have that electric mixer than the $49.50 you had in your pocket.

Speaking of consumers, remember, I am a consumer, and always will be, no matter what else I may be. And as a consumer, I have no qualms about paying $49.50 for a $49.50 article. It is interesting to note that according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor statistics, the cost of living has risen 87% since 1939, while the prices of fair traded drug items have risen only 10 1/2% during the same period. It is also interesting to note that a survey of 26 items in 770 drug stores showed that the prices of 26 items averaged lower in the states which had fair trade than in the states which did not. Seventeen of the 26 items sold at lower prices in the fair trade areas.

Finally, if Mr. Proctor or anyone else thinks that we pharmacists are getting rich because of fair trade, he is perfectly free to organize a manufacturing concern and go into competition with the fair trading manufacturers. And if he can manage his factory so efficiently as to produce an electric mixer as good as the certain brand I mentioned, to retail at $24.95, he will soon drive the "incompetent and incompetent" businessmen producing said article out of business!

TO THE EDITOR:
Another resident of Hawkeye Village feels several facts should be brought to Mr. Brugger's attention.

First of all there are a great many people living in this housing area. In order that all may live together under the most favorable conditions everyone has to cooperate with each other.

But when the parents of some children of Hawkeye Village turn their children loose for the day without supervision of any kind, the children are going to follow their own desires and get into trouble.

The bathrooms are not playgrounds where the children can throw papers around and splash in the water of the toilets and wash bowls.

A young child should be supervised in the bathroom or the mother should be willing to clean up the mess. Some child in our area has consistently used the floor instead of the toilet.

Just because they are children gives them no right to crawl all over peoples cars, indulge in stone fights and get into other peoples things. I always thought children were supposed to be taught that other persons had rights too and that everyone respects other persons possessions.

We are all here primarily for education purposes and children, and children's parents as well as other adults should realize it and make conditions as easy as possible instead of forcing us to live like animals because they turn their children loose and inflict them on everyone.

Small Experiment Brings Big Explosion in Italy

ROME (AP)—The Italian defense ministry announced Monday night that an explosion had been touched off in this country in an attempt to transform "a very small amount of hydrogen into helium."

While the ministry did not emphasize the point, this is the same reaction which scientists and military researchers in various parts of the world have been trying to build up to the proportions of the dread hydrogen bomb.

First reports on the Italian experiment, appearing in the newspaper in Giornale D'Italia earlier Monday, said an Italian scientist had actually exploded an H-bomb sometime Saturday night.

Reports Are Denied
This was categorically denied by Defense Minister Randolfo Pacciardi, who said such reports "were completely without foundation." Actually, Pacciardi added, it was an experiment "regarding the possibility of transforming a very small amount of hydrogen into helium."

The value of the experiment will not be known until a detailed scientific examination has been made, the minister said.

Atomic scientists in New York said that the Italian explosion was obviously aimed in the direction of achieving an H-bomb but that the value of the experiment is apparently not known yet, even in Italy.

Helium Is End Product
The object is to fuse hydrogen, which has an atomic weight of one, with an isotope and get as an end product helium, which has an atomic weight of four. In the process a tremendous amount of energy is released which would have great destructive power.

This is the exact opposite of the method used in producing the A-bomb. In that case atoms of a radioactive isotope of uranium are split, also with the release of great energy.

The New York scientists pointed out that more energy comes from splitting atoms than from fusing them. However, atomic bombs cannot be made beyond a certain limit in size or they will shoot themselves off. Theoretically, there is no critical limit on the size of an H-bomb.

Iowa Airports Receive Grants Of Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics administration Monday announced allocation of $184,000 in federal funds for construction work on six airports in Iowa under the federal-aid airport program for the year ending June 30, 1953.

The CAA said the local sponsors will also contribute $184,000. No funds were provided for new airport construction. All allocations were for the improvement of existing facilities.

Following are the allocations for the state for the year ending June 30, 1953 including the type of airport, the federal funds, sponsor's funds, the total, and the proposed work.

Ames — feeder, $7,000; $7,000; $14,000; install medium intensity lights; beacon and lighted wind cone.

Centerville — secondary, $12,500; $12,500; $25,000; construct apron, pave entrance road, install medium intensity lights.

Des Moines — express, $24,000; $24,000; $48,000; install sump pump in boiler room of terminal building, pave plane parking area, stabilize and light entrance drive.

Dubuque — trunk, $12,000; $12,000; $24,000; pave apron and taxiway.

Eagle Grove — secondary, $4,000; $4,000; $8,000; pave plane parking apron.

Officials to Poll Highway Patrol On Radio Choice

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa executive council decided Monday to poll highway patrolmen and state agents on their preferences before buying 46 mobile radio sets for patrol cars.

The action was taken on suggestion of Gov. William S. Beardsley. Secretary of State Melvin D. Synhorst said he thought the purchase should be made from the Motorola company without further delay. But he and other council members agreed to accept the governor's suggestion.

Last week the council spent considerable time discussing bids entered by Motorola, General Electric company and Radio Corporation of America. Motorola was high, GE second and RCA low.

Public Relations Expert Advises Superintendents

ARTHUR H. RICE, (left) editor of "The Nation's Schools," gives some tips on public relations for schools to a trio of Iowa school superintendents at a session of the school-public relations workshop which began at SUI July 25. Talking with Rice are (left to right) M. F. Whitney, Elkader; Vernon Huderson, Mallard, and La Vier L. Staven, Jordan. Rice has had 28 years experience in the newspaper and educational public relations fields. The two-week workshop ends Aug. 1.

Senator Brien McMahon Dies; Was Atomic Energy Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut, an ardent crusader for peace and one of the nation's top authorities on atomic weapons, died of cancer Monday. He was 48.

Ironically, he was struck down by a disease which scientists believe may yet be cured by the medical by-products of atomic energy.

As chairman of the joint senate-house atomic energy committee, McMahon helped speed the country's post-war preparedness for a possible atomic World War III and at the same time raised his voice eloquently in a call for universal disarmament.

Urged Speed on H-Bomb
When Soviet Russia turned a deaf ear to his pleas for friendship, McMahon urged full speed ahead in developing a hydrogen super-bomb. He warned that if Russia won the race to create the so-called "hell bomb," such a weapon in Soviet hands might "incinerate 50 million Americans in the space of minutes."

The Connecticut senator had been his state's favorite son candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and received 16 votes at the national convention in Chicago last week. Illness had prevented him from campaigning.

McMahon died at 9:10 a.m. (CST), in Georgetown hospital, surrounded by members of his family. The end came after a rapidly accelerating illness that developed following a spinal operation in June.

Lung Cancer Spread
His physician, Dr. Philip A. Caulfield, said McMahon was afflicted with cancer of the lung which spread to his back and pelvis.

President Truman, Vice-President Barkley and many other notable joined in expressions of sorrow at McMahon's passing and praise for his brilliant record achieved in a comparatively few years in congress.

The senator's body will be taken to Norwalk, Conn., his birthplace, tonight. The funeral will be Thursday at the Church of St. Thomas the Apostle in Norwalk. Burial will be in St. John's cemetery there.

Suggest Contributions
McMahon's family suggested that instead of sending flowers, friends send contributions to the American Cancer society.

In New Haven, speculation arose that Gov. John Lodge might appoint former Rep. Clare Booth Luce or Prescott Bush as interim successor to McMahon to serve until the seat is filled at the November election. Both are Republicans.

Connecticut Democrats will have to nominate a candidate for the November election to fill McMahon's term, which expires Jan. 3, 1957. McMahon was first elected to the senate in 1944 and re-elected in 1950.

Dean Winter's Son Wins Driving Contest

Sidney Winter, 17, son of Dean and Mrs. Sidney G. Winter, 517 Templin rd., won first place in the state Teen-Age Road-E-O driving contest in Iowa City Sunday.

Dean Winter is head of the SUI college of commerce.

Young Winter had won the Iowa City contest here Saturday. A total of 13 entries from seven Iowa cities competed in the state contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The contest consisted of a written test on driving laws and practices and then driving over an obstacle course, and lastly there was a road test of driving through traffic.

Points were awarded for various phases of the contest event, Winter won with a total of 674 of a possible 775. As winner, he will receive an expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., to compete in the national Road-E-O, August 20-23.

A $1,000 college scholarship will go to the winner of the national contest, with cash prizes for other contestants placing in the top brackets.

OPS Increases Ceiling Prices On Pork 1 to 8 Cents a Pound

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Monday night boosted ceiling prices on hams, chops and other lean pork cuts from one to eight cents a pound.

The office of price stabilization said the increases, effective at once, are necessary to comply with an amendment that congress recently tacked on to the economic controls law. This provides that processors must be given higher ceilings to make up for higher prices paid to farmers.

OPS said the increases are seasonal and will continue through October. After that the ceilings may possibly be reduced.

Applies to Fresh Pork
The new ceilings provide a boost of one cent a pound for pork shoulders; three cents a pound for ham, bellies, Boston butts and neckbones, and eight cents for pork chops, loins and spareribs. The increases apply to fresh pork along with smoked or other processed cuts.

Retailers are permitted to pass along the increases to the consumer. Retail prices vary greatly throughout the nation, depending on the basic OPS markup approved for each individual dealer.

OPS said the lean cuts were selected for the increases because housewives customarily pay a premium for them during warm months. They account for about 40 to 45 per cent of pork sales. They do not include cuts usually used in making sausage. Sausage ceilings therefore will not be affected.

Differential Is Customary
OPS also authorized slaughterers and wholesalers to add $1.20 per hundred pounds.

Rotary Governor To Visit Local Club

Clarence R. Off, North English, governor of the 1934 district of Rotary International, will make his annual official visit to the Iowa City Rotary club Thursday, according to Dorris Hudson, president of the local club.

Off will confer here with Hudson, Graham E. Marshall, club secretary, and with officers and directors of the club.

The district governor will attend the Thursday noon meeting at the Hotel Jefferson.

SUI Chorus Will Present Final Concert

The SUI summer chorus and brass ensemble will present their final concert Thursday at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

The 50-voice chorus includes the chorus for the opera "Così fan tutte," presented last week. Among the choral works will be Alec Rowley's lilting "Jig for Voices," Hayden's stately "Great and Glorious is the Lord," and "Babylon," by Milhaud.

Solos will be sung by soprano Esther Smith, Swea City and tenors Robert Borg Des Moines, and Ronald Rogers, Ainsworth. The chorus is conducted by graduate students William Rice, Baldwin, Kan., and Marvin Thostenson, Pella.

The brass ensemble will play "Brass Suite" by William Boehle, graduate music student from Chadron, Neb.

Betty Debban, Ames, tympanist, will be featured in "Concerto for the Tympani," by Weinberger. This composition is written for four trumpets, four trombones and tympani. The ensemble is conducted by William Gover of the music faculty.

Tickets for the concert are free and may be picked up at the main desk in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Robber Charged With FBI Killing

NEW YORK (AP) — Bank robber Gerhard A. Puff, 38, was arraigned in a hospital Monday on a charge of murdering FBI agent Joseph Brock in a hotel gun battle Saturday.

Puff, on the FBI's 10-most-wanted list, lay in bed reading a pocket-size murder mystery when officials arrived. His left leg, the thigh fractured by a bullet, was suspended by a pulley.

Puff was captured in a blazing gun battle in the Hotel Congress as G-men sprang a trap.

Argentineans Mourn for Eva

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA

(AP)—Army troops were called out Monday to help control sorrowing throngs crowding to pay final tribute to Argentina's first lady, Eva Peron. Eight persons reportedly perished and thousands were hurt in the crush.

Hundreds of thousands of mourning Argentineans surged around the ministry of labor, where the glass-topped casket of President Juan D. Peron's wife and powerful political helper lay in state.

The number injured in the two-day crush reached uncounted thousands. Many of them suffered nervous collapse and some had broken legs or arms.

Crowds Become Patient

As troops moved in to help the harried police, the crowds stretched out more patiently into mile-long queues to file slowly past the orchid-blanketed bier. Many of them saw the President, who took turns with high government officials at standing half-hour watches over the casket in the improvised chapel.

Peron granted a request by the speaker of the house of deputies to permit Mrs. Peron's body to be carried to the congress building for another day of lying in state.

This indicated there was a possibility the funeral may be postponed beyond the original time set for this afternoon, but officials said plans still were unchanged for the temporary burial in the new headquarters of the General Confederation of Labor (CGT), the master labor organization which Mrs. Peron led and championed.

All Bow Heads

In the round, columned hall where the bier stood, men, women and children bowed their heads as they silently shuffled past the bier to pay their respects to the woman who had become one of Latin America's most powerful figures before she died in her early thirties last Saturday.

At a special session Monday, the house of deputies decided to declare July 26 — the day of Eva's death—a day of national mourning each year. All members will wear black ties at all sessions for the rest of this year and will observe one minute of silence at every meeting. They will set up a commission to send flowers each week to a mausoleum to be built later for the permanent burial of the President's wife.

Stoppage Partially Lifted
Although the powerful CGT ordered a two-day stoppage of all work throughout the nation, the restriction was partially lifted Monday to allow food shops to open.

The government has ordered a 30-day period of mourning, and all members of the President's Peronista party have been ordered to wear black ties at party functions for the rest of their lives.

Marshalltown Girl Drowns in River

DES MOINES (AP) — A 7-year-old Marshalltown girl drowned Tuesday afternoon while playing with her brother beneath a bridge over the backwater of the Iowa river.

The body of little Helen Louise Ayers was found by her father, Alva J. Ayers, who with his wife came running to the scene from their home about a quarter of a mile away.

A fire department resuscitator squad administered artificial respiration for an hour and a half before Dr. Harold E. Sauer, Marshall county coroner pronounced the girl dead. He said the body had been in the water from 10 to 20 minutes.

Woodbury Decision Reversed by Court

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa supreme court ruled Monday that the Woodbury county board of supervisors cannot collect a tax on property in Correctionville to support a county library, for the year under contest.

In so ruling the high court reversed a decision of the Woodbury county district court. G. C. Isbell of Correctionville appealed the district court decision to the supreme court.

The supreme court sustained Isbell's contention that the tax should be annulled. This, he said, was because the board of supervisors did not transmit to the Correctionville town council an estimate of the amount needed from Correctionville property owners for maintenance of the library.

Marciano KO's Matthews In 2d Round

2 Left Hooks Earn Rocky Title Chance

NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Marciano crumbled Harry Matthews, the pride of the Great Northwest, with two crunching left hooks to the jaw Monday night to score a spectacular knockout win in 2:04 of the second round at Yankee stadium.

Earning a September title shot at Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott, 27-year-old Rocky, unbeaten in 42 straight fights, dumped Matthews flat on his back in his own corner — almost in the lap of his manager, Jack Hurley — with the two thundering hooks.

The 29-year-old Matthews from Seattle, unbeaten since 1943, wore a bewildered expression on his pain-drawn face as he went down with his head against the ropes.

Collapses on Ropes
Gently trying to gather his numbed senses, Matthews clawed at the ropes as he tried to pull himself off the deck. As the West Coast fighter started to rise, he collapsed over the bottom rope like a limp rag doll. Referee Ray Miller tolled off the final 10 count.

Weaving low in a Dempsey-style attack, the pride of Brockton, Mass., drove to the attack from the opening bell. A scowling slugger, with mouth agape, he beat a crushing attack on Matthews' jaw.

With an eight and a half pound advantage in the weights, Marciano bullied the counter-punching Matthews around the ring with his wild, but numbing punches.

Matthews Punched Sharp
For the first minutes of this battle, fought in 85-degree heat, Matthews' sharp counters ripped to Marciano's body and head. Yet they never once slowed the attack of the aroused Rocky.

The tipoff came midway in the first round when Matthews struck three straight jabs to Marciano's face then caught him lunging in with a beautiful straight right to the jaw. Marciano never blinked but continued his bull-like march.

Just before the bell ended the first, Rocky shot home two stiff right hand punches that seemed to hurt Matthews. There was a hurried consultation in the corner between the fighter and Hurley.

Marciano was made to look like a novice at times in the first as the stylish Matthews jabbed straight and true while his opponent's gloves cut only the air. But it seemed all the while, it was only a matter of time until Rocky caught up with him.

NEW YORK (AP) — "I can lick anybody 1 step in the ring with," yelled happy Rocky Marciano in the bedlam of his dressing room a few minutes after he pole-axed Matthews.

"I'm ready for Jersey Joe Walcott," he added as he posed for photographers. "I don't say how I'll come out with Joe. I never make predictions. But I'm ready for him."

In the other dressing room, Matthews had nothing to say. As usual, Hurley did all the talking. "He went amateur on me," said Hurley. "He pulled back three times and each time he got nailed." "He should have beaten him and he can beat him any time but he didn't. I gave him the opportunity and he just didn't make it. He just went amateur on me."

Former Trainer At SUI Dies; Rites Today

William Martin (Bill) Frey, 50, former trainer for SUI's athletic department died at 5 a.m. Sunday at Mercy hospital where he had undergone surgery.

He lived at 219 Chapman st. in Coralville.

The funeral has been planned for 4 p.m. today at the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. P. Hewison Pollock in charge.

Burial will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday at Bureau Junction, Ill.

Mr. Frey was born June 3, 1902 at Depeu, Ill. He moved to Iowa City in 1937 where he was trainer under Irl Tubbs, then SUI's head football coach.

Previously, he was trainer at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Miami.

Mr. Frey also was a development engineer for the Johnson Outboard Motor Co., of Waukegan, Ill., and at one time held a majority of outboard racing records in the United States.

Among the survivors are the widow, Edith Turner Frey; two sons, Frank and William Frey of Iowa City.

Manager Says Feller May Lose Starter Role
CLEVELAND (AP) — Manager Al Lopez conceded Monday there is a possibility that Bob Feller will be dropped as a starter for the Cleveland Indians for the first time in more than 13 years of pitching.

Kurland Scores 15 in 86-58 Rout As—

U.S. Cagers Humble Russians

HELSINKI (AP) — America's giant basketball team smothered the highly touted Russian team Monday in the Olympic tournament, 86-58.

In the unofficial battle for team honors, the United States scored 49 points against only six for Russia to narrow the lead held by the Soviets. Russia, however, was still in front 50 1/2 to 42 1/2.

Russia never had a chance to upset the American basketball squad, composed chiefly of the first fives of Kansas university and the Peoria Caterpillars. Big Bob Kurland was high scorer with 15 points, and 10 came at the start of the game to take the heart out of the Russians. Russia and the United States played a rough game of much bodily contact in which six Americans and four Russians went out on fouls. The United States led at the half, 39-22, and, although the American bench was cleared, the scoring pace never let down.

There was one tense moment in the game. Big Clyde Lovellette of the United States and Otar Korkkia of Russia, the Soviet's best player, fell to the floor in a scramble for the ball. When Lovellette seemed slow in rising, another Russian player, Kazis Petkjavichus, slapped him on the back.

But when the teams left the court at the end the players walked off together, arm in arm. In another game, referee Vincent Farrell of Newark, N.J., was set upon by players and spectators and knocked unconscious. The attack on Farrell, one of the best known American referees, came at the end of a game in which France defeated Uruguay 68 to 66.

First, several Uruguayan players charged Farrell and then a stocky spectator rushed out and kicked him in the groin, flooring him. After receiving medical treatment Farrell said he believed he would be able to continue working in the tournament.

Track and field competition ended Sunday. The bulk of the United States' track and field team, which won 14 gold medals in dominating the Olympic games, left Monday for Stockholm. They will compete in an international meet there today and Wednesday.

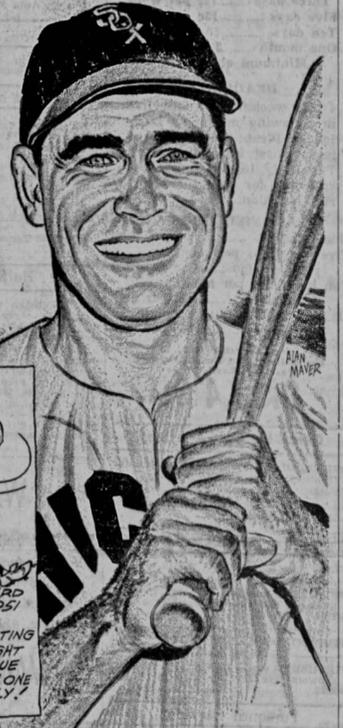

After competing in various events, the team will leave Sweden August 2 for London and the Empire games, beginning August 5.

Hornsby Named Manager of Cincinnati Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, recently ousted manager of the St. Louis Browns, Monday night was named to succeed Luke Sewell as pilot of the Cincinnati Reds.

In announcing the change of pilots, Gabe Paul, general manager of the Reds, said Hornsby will not take over the reins until the club returns to Cincinnati August 5 for a series with the Chicago Cubs.

"Hornsby will continue to scout for the Reds in the meantime," Paul said. "Sewell will continue as manager of the Reds through the Philadelphia series that closes Wednesday night."

Paul did not explain why Hornsby could not take over immediately.

Only Thing To Do
Sewell, who earlier Monday said he had resigned because "when you don't win in baseball, the only thing to do is get out," agreed to serve "as long as Gabe Paul wants me to."

Paul added that Hornsby will be manager through the balance of the season and through 1953. The former great slugger was fired by the Browns last June although he still had 2 1/2 years' remaining in his three-year contract to manage the Browns.

"Mr. Crosley (Powel Crosley Jr.) and I decided on Rogers Hornsby to lead the Reds because we feel him to be the type of manager best suited to lead for our particular situation," said Paul.

Opposite of Sewell
Hornsby, now getting his sixth chance as a big league manager, is generally regarded as the exact opposite of Sewell in temperament. Hornsby drives his players, Sewell, a soft-spoken southern gentleman, believes in kind and fatherly measures.

Paul said it was not certain who would direct the Reds during the period from Wednesday until Hornsby takes over August 5, but that one of the coaches — probably Earle Brucker — would be the temporary manager.

The Reds won steadily in early season, driving into the first division in an inspired start. But they soon settled into the second division and now are seventh, 25 games behind the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Sewell, 51, is the third National league pilot to step out since the 1952 season opened. First was Tommy Holmes at Boston. Then Eddie Sawyer resigned from Philadelphia, June 27.

In the American league, Hornsby and Red Rolfe of the Detroit Tigers departed this season.

Mathias Defends Decathlon Title

BOB MATHIAS of Tulare, Calif., is shown throwing the discus for 153 feet, 10 inches Saturday as he successfully defended his Decathlon title in the Olympic games at Helsinki, Finland. Mathias became the first athlete to repeat in the most grueling of all Olympic contests.

Dropo Homers Twice As Tigers Beat Yanks

DETROIT (AP) — The lowly Detroit Tigers pulled the giant-killing act again Monday and slapped down, 12-2, the leading New York Yankees — who only a week ago looked like near certain pennant winners — for the fourth time in five games.

The lopsided loss came with the help of two homers by Walt Dropo and one by Steve Souchock — his third in the series — and veteran Hal Newhouser's seven hit pitching.

A startled crowd of 8,046 saw the Tigers slap New York with its sixth loss in nine games on this western road trip. The Tigers shelled Harry Schaeffer, making his first major league start, and two other pitchers for 15 hits.

Dropo, who now has 18 homers, hit one with no one on in the third inning and another in the fifth after Johnny Hopp singled.
