SUI Employee Asks About Insurance Plan

EDWIN MORLEY, ONE OF MORE THAN 700 state and municipal employees who jammed the Iowa City community hall Tuesday night at an Old Age and Survivor's Insurance discussion, rises to ask a question concerning the Iowa program. Morley is a janitor in the Dental building. On a "stand up" vote taken at the meeting, more than two-thirds favored dropping the Iowa OASI program and going over to the federal social security program.

State Insurance Program Attacked As 700 Attend Spirited Meeting

By DON MAPES

More than two-thirds of the estimated 700 persons that jammed the Community building to discuss the Iowa Old Age Survivor's Insurance program Tuesday night, expressed desire to leave the state program in favor of the federal social security program.

The meeting was arranged by state representative G. M. Ludwig in response to demand from state and municipal employees for information concerning the "rather uncertain status of the Old Age Survivor's program."

Call for Vote
State Senator Herman Lord of Muscatine, chairman of the Iowa legislatures' study committee of Iowa OASI and seven other committee members from the Iowa legislature were on hand to answer questions from the state and city employee crowd.

Two-thirds of the crowd expressed their wish to drop the Iowa OASI in favor of the federal social security when Ludwig called for a "stand up" vote on the question.

Ludwig then asked the group how many would prefer going over to the federal plan, but at the same time adopting a new state supplementary program. Less than a third of the crowd favored this.

When Ludwig asked the group if they would like to continue under the present OASI program, only 11 stood up.

Reads from Iowan
In reference to the present program, one member of the crowd read from a Daily Iowan article saying there was some opposition to going over to the federal program and asked where that opposition was.

State Senator W. C. Molison of Grinnell replied, "We (the Iowa legislature) wanted to keep our hands on a lot of money — but now it seems we can't afford that."

The state had $33 million in the OASI fund on June 30 according to Louis Cook, executive secretary of the committee.

Prof. William Knoke of the SUI department of marketing climbed the platform and told the crowd the Iowa OASI was "socially undesirable and morally wrong."

He said it "freezes a man to his job."

Knoke cited as an example a man who worked for the state for seven or eight years and was forced to go to another state for his health. The man would get no benefit from the plan even though he had paid into it all through the time of employment, Knoke said.

Must Work 10 Years
A person is not covered by the plan if he leaves state employment unless he had paid into it for a period of 10 years or more. Neither is he granted a refund on the money he had paid in.

Referring to the 4 per cent taken from state and city employee checks, one spectator asked, "If there is no hope of getting any money refunded, can you deduct this as a charitable deduction on your income tax?"

Lord told the group that there was some talk of substituting a supplementary program for state and city employees if they should go under the federal social security plan.

Iranian Parliament Leaders Demand Withdrawal Of U.S. Military Missions

Classes, Practice, Seasickness Mark Highlander Ocean Trip

ZEEBRUGGE, BELGIUM — The first transatlantic voyage of the Scottish Highlanders, all-girl bagpipe band from SUI, was marked by practices on the pipes and drums, class sessions on European customs, studying French, entertainment and a sprinkling of politics.

All of these activities were accompanied by slight touches of seasickness here and there. By the time they landed in Zeebrugge, Belgium, last Friday, the 60 girls had found their "sea legs," and had practiced to perfection the musical and marching routines which they will present in three European countries.

Students on Ship
The Highlanders' practice sessions aboard the S.S. Arosa Kuhl attracted many of the students and faculty members from other American and foreign universities who were their fellow passengers. The ship is booked for the summer by the Council on Student Travel, a non-profit organization supported by various religious and educational institutions.

On one occasion, the Highlanders presented an entire evening of entertainment, during which William Adamson, director of the band, was drafted as a surprise soloist. At other times, individuals or small groups of girls took part in variety shows, dramatic skits, verspers services and discussion groups.

Like many of their fellow passengers, a number of the Highlanders felt the effects of the first day or two of sailing on the open sea. Others claimed no ill effects, proudly insisting that they "never missed a meal."

Some Foggy Days
Several days of fog and damp weather kept Arosa Kuhl's passengers to the enclosed decks and recreation room, but the Highlanders were able to practice on the open deck during most of the trip.

The ship was originally scheduled to land at LeHavre, but it was announced early in the trip that it would put in at Zeebrugge, since the relatively small passenger list of approximately 200 made it uneconomical to dock at the large French port. The change enabled the Highlanders to reach Europe a day earlier than planned.

While the girls considered their 3,198-mile ocean trip to be restful, they found it far from boring. Within a few hours after sailing from Montreal a full-scale orientation and recreation program was organized, after which there was nearly always at least one activity inviting participation.

Many Classes Held
Breakfast at 8 a.m. was followed by a class in photography. An hour-long discussion on some phase of international understanding began daily at 10, then came a review class in shorthand. The afternoons were filled with classes in French, German and Italian, and quiz programs or discussions on European countries.

Classes in political philosophy, logic or scientific method were held during the latter part of each afternoon, and motion pictures, variety shows or other entertainment were presented each evening. A masquerade ball was the feature the last evening before reaching port.

The Highlanders enjoyed the novelty of "high tea" served each day at 4 p.m. They agreed that the bracing sea air made a fourth meal welcome. As souvenirs of their first ocean voyage, the Highlanders will bring home the paper hats and noisemakers which they found at their plates on the night of the traditional captain's dinner.

Premier Mossadegh

Paper Reports Decision Made On Expulsion

TEHRAN, IRAN (AP) — Demands for the withdrawal of U.S. military missions erupted in parliament Tuesday, and the Nationalist newspaper ASR said Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government has decided to end the missions' services.

The newspaper, which occasionally gets tips from sources close to the government, said Iranian officials reasoned they did not need a strengthened army since they "have no intention of attacking anybody."

Maj. Gen. Wayne Zimmerman, head of the army mission, called on Mossadegh Tuesday and U.S. ambassador Loy W. Henderson made his second visit to the premier in three days.

Didn't Discuss Americans
Zimmerman said in an interview he did not discuss current anti-American manifestations with Mossadegh.

The army mission trains the Iranian army. A military assistance advisory group advises and supplies the army.

It would not be determined what the ambassador and the premier discussed, but a usually reliable source said it had nothing to do with the situation of Americans in Iran.

Expulsion Result of Fear
Demands for the expulsion of the missions undoubtedly result in part from a fear of provoking Russia, a big neighbor to the north. Russia contends that Iran's acceptance of U.S. military aid violates the 1921 Russian-Iranian friendship treaty.

The demands were voiced in the majlis, the lower house of parliament, in debate that preceded a vote of approval, 68-0, for economic and social reforms advocated by Mossadegh's new Nationalist government.

"We don't need the American military missions," shouted deputy Moatamed Damavandi. "They only bring us headaches. I demand that they be kicked out, starting tomorrow."

Demands That All Leave
Another deputy leaped to his feet and screamed: "Not only them, but every American in every office must go."

The attacks against the military missions reflected anti-American sentiment that surged up among Iranians last week during the riot-studded crisis that dethroned Premier Ahmed Qavam and restored Mossadegh to power. The anti-American feeling was based on a belief that the United States was backing Qavam, advocate of a settlement of the British-Iranian oil dispute.

Contracts for the military missions expire in October. It is an open fact Americans are worried at the prospect this strategic nation will not extend the contracts if the anti-American sentiment continues.

U.S. Denies Plea For Aid to Boost French Factories

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has turned down an urgent plea from France for some $439 million additional aid to enable French factories to step up arms production.

Diplomatic authorities said Tuesday that a note delivered at Paris July 25 promised only approximately $186 million toward a $625 million three-year production program.

The United States authorities said, expressed willingness to finance the production of a late model of a new French-designed fighter plane and some artillery shell output. But because of the cut in aid funds made by the recent congress and existing priority arrangements, this government turned thumbs down on any heavier commitments at this time.

The newly-pledged $186 million is in addition to the commitment of some $600 million which the U.S. underwrote for France at this year's Lisbon conference of the North Atlantic treaty organization.

French May Revise Defense Production

PARIS (AP) — Consternation gripped the French government Tuesday in the wake of a United States note turning down a plea for more arms aid.

Defense Minister Rene Pleven announced he would meet today with Gen. Pierre Koenig, head of the national defense committee, to consider the consequences.

The press and public, too, were shocked. Afternoon newspapers declared France would now be unable to equip and raise 10 new divisions, as promised at the Lisbon NATO conference. They said some French armament factories would have to close and at least 25,000 persons would be thrown out of work.

California City Rocked By Damaging Tremors

BAKERSFIELD, CALIF. (AP) — Sharp jolts continued to rock this quake-weary city Tuesday after early-hour tremors caused considerable minor damage and drove hundreds of families from their homes.

A severe shock at 12:52 p.m. (PDT) forced abandonment of Kern county courthouse. Superior Judge Robert Lambert moved a criminal trial to a vacant lot. County Clerk Vera Gibson set up her stand in a parking lot.

Eight days of quakes have jarred loose a section of concrete and brick facing 60 by 7 feet on a wall of the three-story courthouse. Engineers feared the section might give way.

Heavy jolts also occurred Tuesday at 12:05 a.m., 1:02 a.m., 8:49 and 10:37 a.m. They were the sharpest since the big one of July 21 which cost 13 lives and seriously ly damaged the towns of Tehachapi and Arvin.

Seismologists said the afterquakes will continue for some time. Several hundred, mostly minor, have occurred since July 21.

Tuesday's were felt as far as the Los Angeles area, 120 miles south. However, damage was confined to Bakersfield.

Hundreds of jittery residents spent the night in their yards. Magnitude of the first big shocks Tuesday were 6 1/2 and 5 1/2, compared with 7 1/2 July 21.

Polio Toll Climbs As 1 Dies, 24 Hit In New Outbreak

By The Associated Press
One polio death and 24 new cases of the disease were reported in Iowa Tuesday.

Richard Calhoun, 8, son of Alfred Calhoun, New Hampton, died of polio Tuesday in University hospitals. His was the third polio death of the year at University hospitals and the second from New Hampton.

Twelve new patients were under treatment at University hospitals Tuesday, in the sharpest case rise of the current polio season. Six patients have been discharged, leaving 27 patients in the hospitals. Twenty-two of these are considered active cases.

About 67 polio patients have received treatment there since Jan. 1.

There were 170 cases under care in Sioux City hospital polio wards Tuesday night. Nine new cases were reported Tuesday, against four discharges.

Three more patients were listed at Council Bluffs, Tuesday, bringing to 32 the number of polio patients under treatment there. Council Bluffs has received 44 polio patients so far this year, compared to 11 at this time last year.

2 Concerts, Recital Set for Final Week

Two concerts and one recital have been announced by the SUI music department for the final week of the summer session.

A junior music concert featuring orchestra music will be given Thursday at 9 a.m. in north music hall. A second junior music concert presenting band and choral music will be given Friday, also at 9 a.m. in north music hall. Friday at 7:30 p.m. in north music hall Betty Jean Pauls, Newton, will give a piano recital.

Rain Confines Action Along Korean Front

SEOUL, KOREA, (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Three small but lengthy fights erupted in drenching rains along the western Korean front Tuesday.

Counterattacking Allied infantrymen engaged Reds in a battle lasting more than five hours on the front between Yonchon and the truce conference site of Panmunjon. The Reds touched off the battle in a company attack before midnight.

To the north Chinese slogged down from the crest of Old Baldy second division infantrymen off the southeastern slope of the strategic hill west of Chorwon. The Reds were beaten back in a two hour fight.

A Chinese platoon probed another Allied position west of Chorwon for nearly five hours before giving up.

Most warplanes were grounded by the steady downpours — the start of Korea's summer monsoon.

Tots' Parents Plan Speech Clinic Visit

Parents of children attending SUI's 1952 summer speech clinic will meet on the campus Thursday and Friday to discuss their child's problems and progress with clinic officials.

The program for the parents' conference will include talks by Boyd McCandless, director of the Iowa child welfare research station, and Wendell Johnson, chairman of the council on speech pathology and audiology, according to Frederic L. Darley, director of the summer clinic.

Air Force Declares Saucers Are Thin Layers of Cold Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air force experts declared Tuesday they were satisfied that the recent "saucer" sightings over Washington were derived from natural causes.

Maj. Gen. John A. Sanford, director of air force intelligence, further stated that an analysis of mysterious object sightings for six years revealed "no pattern that shows anything remotely consistent with any menace to the United States."

Experienced radar operators at the civil aeronautics administration traffic control center reported scores of unidentified objects flitted about the capital sky from 1:30 a.m. to 5 a.m. EST.

It was the third time in 10 days that radar—an electronic device which tracks only physical objects, not imagination—picked up signs of something unknown packing through pre-dawn skies.

On the two earlier occasions, sightings were confirmed by more than one radar set.

But Tuesday's sightings — little spots on a fluorescent radar screen — were unconfirmed by other radar sets in the area or by visual sky watchers.

And the air force threw lots of cold water on any chilling specu-

Stalin Says Reds In U.S. Can Rise Only by Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long secret FBI report says Russian Premier Stalin has decided Communists can climb to power in the United States only by "forcible destruction" of the government — never by peaceful means.

The report was released Tuesday by the senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. Pat McCahon (D-Nev.).

The FBI quoted Stalin as saying that Karl Marx, one of the founders of communism, thought there was an outside chance for a peaceful Communist revolution in the United States and Great Britain.

Stalin's writings and speeches now insist that conditions have changed and only force and violence can achieve the Communist goal, the FBI said.

The report was published with permission of J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director.

A letter from Hoover described it as a monograph "based primarily on the writings of Communist leaders" compiled by his office and until now classified as confidential material.

Mysterious 'Lights' Seen in Des Moines

DES MOINES (AP) — At least four persons said they saw one or more mysterious "lights" flying in the vicinity of Des Moines between 9 p.m. and 10 p.m. Monday.

"It looked like a milky light shining down on clouds from up above," said Lloyd T. Cook, night operator at the sewage treatment plant.

A police car was dispatched to the plant and patrolman Stanton T. Rodgers said he also saw the lights.

A Condensation of Late Developments

LONDON (AP) — Britain will sell more than $123,200,000 worth of arms to the United States and other allies to earn critically needed dollars, Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler said Tuesday. At the same time Butler hinted in a house of commons speech that the government may be forced to stretch out or cut back its present $13 billion, four-year domestic rearmament program to help boost the nation's lagging drive to export goods.

NAPLES, ITALY (AP) — The fabulous Farouk broke into tears Tuesday night as he stepped from a royal yacht into foreign exile. Emotion of a dark journey from Egypt welled up in the portly ex-king as cheers from officers and crewmen of the yacht Marhoussa. Farouk lost his throne Saturday. The ex-king told a European travel agent he probably would spend the next three weeks on the Isle of Capri, and then might fly from Rome to the United States.

VIENNA (AP) — Reliable Western sources reported Tuesday night that Romanian Communist police recently arrested a group of teenage children and carted them to prison, through the streets of Bucharest. The report said eye-witnesses saw the children tied back to back and packed into open army trucks. The report said it could not be determined how many children were under arrest.

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Juan D. Peron announced Tuesday night the body of his wife, Eva, would continue to lie in state for one or two months if necessary to give all mourners a chance to see it. Since Sunday lines of mourners at least a mile long day and night have waited their turn, unmindful of rains and cold. Despite government pleas for them to stay at home, thousands from the provinces came Tuesday by trains, buses and cars.

$2,200 for Cancer Research

PRESIDENT VIRGIL M. HANCHER (right) hands a $2,200 check to Dr. Reinhold Enesch, university biochemist. The money, to be used in the study of cancer, comes from the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research and the Fraternal Order of Eagles. State Sen. DeVere Watson (left) presented the check to President Hancher on behalf of the university. The grant was made possible by the Eagles' annual charity frolic program which netted thousands of dollars for the Runyon fund.

editorial Paddle the Parents

The majority of college students who consume alcoholic beverages started to do so before they got to college.

At least that is one of the conclusions reached by Yale university researchers who polled 17,000 students in 27 colleges of all types across the U.S. in an effort to answer the question "Why do people drink?"

Yale researcher Robert Straus reports 80 per cent of men students and 65 per cent of women students started drinking before going to college.

Straus' report shows the influence of the parents on college drinkers. If both parents drink, 90 per cent of their sons and 83 per cent of their daughters also drink; whereas if both parents are non-drinkers, so are 49 per cent of their sons and 81 per cent of their daughters.

The researchers found that beer is the usual drink of 72 per cent of college men, but only 47 per cent prefer it to other intoxicants. Then why does the other 25 per cent drink beer? Straus concludes that they cannot afford hard liquor.

All of which brings us around to the researchers' findings that family income is a big factor in the drinking life of students. Sixty-three per cent of men students and only 30 per cent of women students who come from families with incomes of less than $2,500 a year are drinkers; while from families with more than $10,000 a year income, the figures are 86 per cent and 79 per cent.

No one can blame the parents for earning over $10,000 a year, but it is apparent that the drinking habits of the parents are the biggest factors in determining the drinking habits of America's college students.

It has become common sport to criticize our colleges and universities for "starting students to drink," but let's put the blame where blame is due.

900 Refugees Flee Red Rule In East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A record number of refugees — 900 — arrived in West Berlin from Soviet ruled East Germany in the last 24 hours, it was officially announced Monday. Most of them were young people in their teens or early 20's, German officials said.

The Communist regime of East Germany is viruously campaigning to get boys and girls into the people's police, which is in the nucleus of the East German army and last week compulsory service in a labor corps was decreed.

So far this month 10,000 people have fled Red Germany into West Berlin despite armed guards and a barbed wire net along the Iron Curtain border.

CURTAIN TURNING GREEN HANNOVER, GERMANY (AP) — The Iron Curtain set up by Communist East Germany is turning green.

West German police said Monday shortage of barbed wire has forced eastern police to halt the extension of barbed wire fences on the border and to plant green hedges instead.

MORE SAUCERS?

NEUVITAS, CUBA (AP) — Four strange, luminous objects were reported over this north coast Cuban port Monday. The objects moved in formation, at great speed. Hundreds of citizens reported seeing them.

Former Red Hunter Loses at Texas Polls

DALLAS, TEX. (AP) — Former Rep. Martin Dies, one of the nation's first Communist hunters, lacked only a few thousand votes late Monday to clinch his bid for congressman-at-large from Texas. Early returns from Saturday's Texas Democratic primary had indicated Dies, original chairman of the house committee on un-American activities, might win over a seven-man field without a run-off election.

But as additional returns trickled in Dies lost a majority he held until early Sunday night. By mid-afternoon Monday Dies had garnered only 49.64 per cent of the votes counted at that time, and needed 7,600 more to get him over the 50 per cent mark.

In Texas, a candidate must poll a majority of votes or face a runoff contest with the next highest man.

In Dies' case his opponent in the Aug. 23 run-off election would be former Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith of Lubbock.

More than a million Texas votes swept Gov. Allan Shivers back into office and elevated Atty. Gen. Price Daniel to U.S. senator.

Politicians Help Motorists

CHICAGO (AP) — Politicians in town for the Republican and Democratic national conventions did a favor for motorists who violated parking rules—they kept the violators from getting tickets.

Only 4,729 parking tickets were issued last week, compared with 8,000 the previous week. A similar situation existed during the Republican convention. The temporary manpower shortage caused by police details at the conventions was responsible for the drop, police traffic chief Michael Ahern said Monday.

"Why shouldn't there have been a drop in tickets issued when we had 550 men tied up on convention details?" Ahern asked. "Now it will take us another week to get back in shape with the men who worked on the convention getting time off due them."

2 Wounded As Feud Flares In West Virginia Mountains

BLUEFIELD, W. VA. (AP) — This southern West Virginia mountain area waited tensely Monday to see if it had a 20th century version of the Hatfield-McCoy shooting feud in its midst.

Gunfire already has broken out three times between the mountain clans of Howerton and Blankenship. A man of each family has been wounded.

The shooting reminded old West Virginians and historians of the mountain state's celebrated Hatfield-McCoy family war which flared intermittently for 19 years before the turn of the century.

The Hatfields and McCoy's fought back and forth across the West Virginia-Kentucky border about 90 miles northeast of here. Deaths of about 100 men and women were attributed to the feud.

The fighting in that famous battle of the clans was said to be over ownership of some pigs.

The rifles, shotguns and pistols of the Howertons and Blankenships are smoldering across a piece of property. It's owned by 50-year-old Howard Howerton.

The Blankenships claim the right to travel through the property to get to their homes. They started fixing the access road Saturday. A few hours later the guns were blazing and police said from 100 to 300 shots were exchanged. When word of the shooting Saturday reached Mrs. Pearl Patterson in nearby Princeton she hurried to the scene. She waited until dark and sneaked out with her 84-year-old mother, Nora Howerton, to take her to Princeton.

Uprisings in Egypt, Iran Sponsored by Moscow

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

The Middle East seems heading hell-bent for disaster. Each new development in Iran and Egypt must be causing the men in the Kremlin to rub their hands in anticipation.

In Iran, Communist Tudeh party members are getting bolder. Heavily supported by Moscow funds and substantially aided by a small army of agents, the Tudeh party has paid Moscow dividends for its subsidy.

The Nationalists, tools of the Communists whether they are aware of it or not, have created an atmosphere in which the Reds can virtually dictate from behind the scenes. By fanning the Nationalists' extreme passions, the Reds have made it not only unpopular but even unhealthy for anybody to utter a rational proposal. The big weapon is terror.

Facing Bankruptcy

The country is facing bankruptcy and chaos. But in his struggle to cope with the situation Premier Mohammed Mossadegh is finding himself the prisoner of the extremists to whom aid, comfort and alliance were afforded by the ever-alert Communists.

Mossadegh even now may be too late. His program calls for higher taxes, land reforms and works projects for the unemployed, but he can be sure the Communists mean never to let him succeed. Reform is anathema to the Communists, and they are not going to let their significant—though underground — victories slip easily away from them.

Soon, the Reds reason, Iran will be ripe for plucking, and if so it will fulfill the Moscow predictions of "liberation" of what it calls "the colonial and dependent peoples of the Near and Middle East." Moscow has been talking about this since the end of the big war. Stalin himself has predicted it. And "liberation" in Communist lingo means only one thing: domination by Moscow.

Kremlin Eyes Egypt

The Kremlin also is eyeing Egypt with great interest. Always willing to play the long, waiting cat-and-mouse game, the Kremlin is not thinking in terms of tomorrow or next week, but in terms of relatively few years, when the Middle East, in utter ferment, will be ready for Moscow's brand of liberation — the revolution from inside, without Soviet interference appearing on the surface.

The events in Egypt in the wake of Farouk's abdication must interest Moscow greatly. Wafdist leaders are rallying to the new government installed by military force, and the Moslem Brotherhood is hailing the coup as "a blessed movement undertaken by the army of Egypt." The Moslem Brotherhood, easy prey to infiltration similar to that which took place in Iran, is another example Middle East nationalism which seizes any weapon at hand, however dangerous to handle.

Moslem Power

Powerful Egyptian leaders speak of Egypt leading all Islam to exert the latent power of the vast Moslem world. Such leaders add fuel to the flames. Such predictions bespeak a future gable and a perilous one. Not too long ago high leaders of the powerful Wafd party—now busily climbing back to authority — spoke openly of playing east against west for Arab benefit.

These leaders advanced the idea that Egypt should enter military, political and economic agreements with the Communist nations, to frighten the west into concessions. They may try again to drive such a bargain. If they do, they won't win. Moscow will.

TO THE EDITOR:

In conjunction with Mrs. Frank Bohac's letter to the editor (July 29) pertaining to the freedom of children in the students housing areas, the children in Stadium Park have fewer restrictions to playing in the street than they should have.

The University has erected signs as a warning to drivers to watch for children who dash blindly into the streets. The parents have taken advantage of this precaution and now let their children use the main streets as a playground. I understand that the driver must proceed slowly and cautiously, but when he has to honk his horn, yell and sometimes completely stop his car so the children will get out of the street, that is going too far.

The parents should also teach their children to watch for cars before going into the streets and if the children are too young to understand they should be kept from the streets by some other method. A section of chicken fencing would be much cheaper than the cost of a physician or mortician.

Just such an incident happened to me as I was leaving Stadium Park. I rounded a blind corner and approached two cars parked closely together, when all of a sudden I saw a small child dash from between the two cars and into the path of my vehicle. If I hadn't been observing the speed limit and hadn't been an experienced driver I would have hit the child. Hearing the squeal of tires the father of the child ran from the barracks and reprimanded me for not observing the speed limit nor driving carefully.

It seems the parents of this particular child and many other parents have become negligent in watching their children at play.

When these parents move to a residential district, motorists are not going to drive five miles an hour just because some parents let their children use the streets as a playground.

If the student parent will instruct their children now, they won't have to mourn the death of their child later. R. E. Caldwell 134 Stadium Park

Delay Pullman Rate Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce commission Monday ordered a two-months' postponement of newly authorized increases in minimum charges for Pullman sleeping-car accommodations.

The increases, under an ICC order of July 10, actually became effective Monday. However, the commission announced that the authority has now been re-dated for Sept. 22, to permit study of a plea for reconsideration, filed by the secretary of the air force. Commission officials said that purchases of accommodations at the new rate Monday will be entitled to refunds.

The changes granted Pullman authorized an increase in the cost of a lower-berth accommodation in a standard Pullman car from $4.05 to a flat $5, with proportionate hikes in all other types of sleeping-car accommodations.

Democrats Fear Dixie Switch To Ike

Harmony Increases For Midwest GOP

Flashes of southern static blurred the Democratic harmony picture Tuesday amid talk that some Dixie segments might bolt and throw their support to the Republican candidacy of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Rumblings of revolt came loud-est from South Carolina, Virginia and Mississippi.

Meanwhile, the Republican harmony chorus grew stronger as two leaders in the unsuccessful drive to nominate Sen. Robert A. Taft for the GOP prize sang out for Eisenhower.

Butler Supports Ike
In Denver, Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska pledged wholehearted support to Eisenhower and predicted the general will carry Nebraska in November.

Butler took the initiative in arranging a conference with Eisenhower. The general's aides said they regarded it as an important move to wipe out the party-splitting bitterness which flared wide open at the GOP national convention in Chicago in the struggle between pro-Taft and pro-Eisenhower forces.

The second gesture came from Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the Republican senate committee and leader of Taft forces at the convention.

Dirksen's office announced he will fly to Denver Saturday for a campaign huddle with Eisenhower.

Discord Seen in South
In the Democratic camp, hints of jarring discord came from below the Mason-Dixon line.

Still angry over the call for a party loyalty pledge at the Democratic national convention in Chicago last week, some Dixie Democrats said there was considerable uncertainty in the south about Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic standard bearer.

A possible straw in the wind turned up when the Richmond, Va. News Leader came out for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket—marking the first time since 1896 that a Richmond newspaper has supported a non-Democratic presidential candidate.

Paper Likes 'Change'
The News Leader said the Republicans offer "one vital thing: change. New faces, a fresh approach."

In South Carolina, the Democratic state convention will be reconvened August 6 to decide whether to go along with the national party in the November election.

In Mississippi, former Lt. Gov. Sam Lumpkin announced Eisenhower's name will be placed before the state convention when it reconvenes next month. However, Gov. Hugh White has pledged support to the Democratic ticket.

In Georgia, the state Democratic committee will meet Monday. It is pledged to the national ticket. Gov. Herman Talmadge expressed complete approval of Stevenson, but said he is dissatisfied with several points in the platform involving civil rights.

On a broader scale, the threat of a Dixie revolt raised a puzzling question for both major parties: how to woo the south and yet win the big northern cities.

Scottish Highlanders Nominate Clinton Man To Run for Presidency

ZEEBRUGGE, BELGIUM—Add the name of Clinton attorney E. C. Halbach to those of presidential nominees Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson.

Halbach was nominated in the middle of the Atlantic ocean last week in a shipboard mock campaign masterminded by SUI's 60 bag-piping Scottish Highlanders.

At the time of his nomination aboard the SS Arosa Kalm, the Iowa attorney was attending the Democratic national convention in Chicago. His candidate, Vice-President Alben Barkley, fared less successfully.

Unknowingly, Candidate Halbach led a "reform" ticket organized by the Highlanders "in protest against pressure methods attempted by over-zealous student campaigners for other candidates."

In case Candidate Halbach is interested, he is the nominee of the "Sunshine" party and won on the second ballot.

Halbach will not find it necessary to "carry" his vice-presidential running mate in the 1952 general election, a regrettable fact. The vice-presidential nominee was shapely actress Marilyn Monroe.

This brief, successful fling at shipboard politics interrupted a 10-day routine for the Highlanders that included extensive rehearsals, learning European customs and studying French.

When they docked last Friday, Iowa's bag-pipe queens had practiced to perfection the musical and marching routines with which they will entertain Europeans of three countries.

The girls have spent the past week sight-seeing in Paris with side trips to Geneva, Switzerland, and to Amsterdam, Holland. They leave Friday for London and a 10-day visit in England. Welcoming ceremonies have been scheduled for the Highlanders by the city of London for Saturday night.

Price Data Inquiry Sent to Publishers

The bureau of newspaper service of the SUI school of journalism has completed mailing questionnaires to Iowa newspaper publishers to secure data for the 1952 survey of printing prices in the state.

Wilbur Peterson, head of the bureau of newspaper service and instructor in publications management in the school of journalism, is in charge of the survey.

A questionnaire was sent to newspapers in all circulation classes to determine the average prices charged for a number of standard printed items, such as letterheads, envelopes, and statements, from which price trends can be estimated.

The printing prices study has been made annually since 1946 when it was originated by Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, former publisher and ex-president of the Iowa Press association, now director of the SUI school of journalism.

Grocer Inherits Bell He Enjoyed Ringing

GEORGETOWN, KY. (AP)—Roy McFarland enjoyed ringing a customer's doorbell when he was in the grocery business.

"I wish you would please stop ringing that bell. It gets on my nerves," Mrs. Ida Jones often told him.

"I enjoy hearing it," McFarland would reply.

Mrs. Jones will direct the bell be given to McFarland, just as she had promised many years ago.

History Professor Gets $4,000 Grant

Prof. William O. Aydelotte, chairman of the SUI department of history, was announced Tuesday as being the recipient of a $4,000 Rockefeller foundation grant.

The grant is for the purpose of continuing Aydelotte's research on the British house of commons for the period 1841-47.

Appropriations by the foundation during the second quarter of 1952 totaled more than $7 million, it was revealed, and those of the general education board amounted to about $3 million during the same period.

Guesswork Gone in Building Of Schools, Architect Says

"Today we can measure the performance of an automobile." Appearing before more than 100 school administrators Tuesday night, William Caudill, school architect, explained that good lighting, heating, ventilating and sound conditions in school buildings need no longer be a matter of guesswork.

"We are now able to predetermine from the blueprint or design stage exactly the amount of light which will be available, the flow of air and sound characteristics of a classroom," he said.

Caudill told the group that careful and expert planning can make the desired environment available without extra cost to the community. He supplemented his talk with color slides of "climate controls" used in modern school buildings.

His talk was the main feature of first of a two-day school building planning conference which opened on the university campus Tuesday. It was also attended by administrators enrolled in the two-week school-public relations workshop.

In an afternoon meeting, the public relations workshop group heard N. D. McCombs, superintendent of the Des Moines public schools, describe the role of the superintendent in school-community relations.

"Public relations are personal relations," he said. "There is no 'bag of tricks' involved."

Pirates Finally Win Over Brooklyn, 7-1

THE TRAGIC CLOWN—

There's nothing more tragic than a saddened clown.

About six weeks ago we had a column about the Boston Red Sox and, in particular, Jimmy Piersall, their screwball rookie short-stop-outfielder.

Since then Piersall, who had genuinely endeared himself to fans for his colorful antics, was sent down to the minors by Manager Lou Boudreau because he was too hard to handle.

And last week he subsequently entered a state hospital for a short time for observation being termed by the superintendent as "a very nervous, very tense, very sick boy."

Jimmy Piersall
Nobody's Laughing Now

Little did I anticipate such a weird turn in the career of a great young chaser when I watched him make fine catches in between clowning antics a few weeks back against the White Sox at Chicago.

A story out of Boston appearing in the current issue of The Sporting News says, "Prior to this year Piersall had never shown a tendency to clown on the field or brag off it."

"His clowning was carried to such extremes that the Red Sox, in spite of the fact they needed his remarkable defensive ability, sent him to Birmingham in a futile attempt to calm him down. The move was unsuccessful, for Piersall went to even greater extremes to attract attention."

No specific incident caused Piersall's commitment to the hospital. He placed himself in medical hands at the suggestion of General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox. Piersall had flown to Boston from Birmingham after having been suspended for three days there for showering the plate with a water pistol, and then heckling an umpire after being ejected from the game.

The doctors who examined Piersall would not elaborate, of course, but it was understood that the player was really the victim of too much fan popularity. The realms of publicity that resulted from his antics, both on and off the field, gave him an abnormal viewpoint concerning his own importance, it was believed.

The following also appears in the current Sporting News. "One of the first persons to fear that Jimmy Piersall, versatile Red Sox-owned rookie, was a 'sick boy' was Frank R. Corkin Jr., sports editor of the Meriden, Conn., Journal.

"A friend of Piersall's for many years, Corkin wrote: 'Having umpired behind the plate for all games in which Piersall played as a member of the Inslico (semi-pro) team in 1947—the year before he joined Scranton, I know the boy was NOT a showboat, but rather a sick man.'"

"Having spent the last two training seasons in Florida with the Red Sox, Corkin said, 'His actions in Florida and his antics in Boston were not of the same person.

"Blessed with abnormal ABILITY, it now develops that he has subnormal STABILITY," Corkin pointed out in a recent column. "We sincerely believe that the time has come to stop laughing and to stop scolding.

"The Piersall case is no longer funny, it is tragic and pathetic. We believe Jimmy, busting with talent and the picture of health, is a sick boy. A very sick boy."

I was one of many who became Piersall fans—here's hoping that the clean-cut young athlete can recover completely and return to the BoSox within a short period of time.

BROOKLYN (AP) — Murry Dickson Tuesday night gained the honor of pitching Pittsburgh's first victory of the season over Brooklyn after 13 straight Pirate losses to the Dodgers.

The little righthander, supported by home runs off the bats of Gus Bell and Joe Garagiola, limited the slumping Dodgers to eight hits and whipped them, 7-1. It was the Dodgers' fifth straight loss and their seventh in the last eight games.

Cubs 4, Giants 2

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Brown and Bill Serena rapped home runs, each with a man aboard, to give the Chicago Cubs a 4-2 triumph over the New York Giants Tuesday night and rookie Warren Hacker his ninth victory of the season. The loss prevented the Giants from picking up ground on the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who were beaten by Pittsburgh for the first time this season.

Phillies Win 2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A ninth inning single by Johnny Wyrostek with the bases loaded and two out gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 win Tuesday night over the Cincinnati Reds in the second game of a two-night twin bill after the Phillies had won the opener, 6-1, behind the seven hit pitching of lefthander Curt Simmons with deposed manager Luke Sewell sitting on the Reds' bench for the last time.

Yanks 10, White Sox 7

CHICAGO (AP) — The New York Yankees Tuesday night came from behind with a dramatic seven-run ninth inning rally — topped by Mickey Mantle's grand slam homer — to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 10-7 before 38,967 fans after the Sox had led, 7-0, going into the seventh.

The Yanks scored three runs in the seventh and then boomed with seven more in the ninth when Mantle cleared the bases off relief pitcher Chuck Stobbs.

Manager Casey Stengel rushed five pinch hitters into the fray in the last three innings to avert defeat, and the White Sox used three relief pitchers, Harry Dorish, Stobbs and Bill Kennedy, trying to save the game.

Indians 4, BoSox 1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Early Wynn fanned a dozen Boston Red Sox batters Tuesday night, a season high for Cleveland pitchers, as he hurled the Tribe to a 4-1 victory that increased the Indians' hold on second place to a game and a half. Luke Easter clubbed a game-tying homer and Dale Mitchell a two-run single to pace the winners' attack.

The Red Sox drew first blood, scoring once in the fourth. Easter tied the count at 1-1 in the fifth with a home run over the center field fence, his 14th of the season and third since his return from exile to Indianapolis two weeks ago.

A's, Tigers Split

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers battered over six runs in a fifth inning, come-from-behind spurge to edge the Philadelphia Athletics 10-8 in the homer-plattered second game of a two-night doubleheader Tuesday night. The Athletics won the first game, 5-0.

Ferris Fain's one-run homer and Eddie Joost's two-run homer gave the A's all the scoring they needed. Joost also homered in the second game.

The nightcap's home run barrage kept 30,654 fans screaming. Joost, Dave Philley, Pat Mullin and Joe Ginsberg hit four baggers.

Browns 7, Senators 3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Browns won their sixth decision in seven games Tuesday night as starter Ned Garver and reliever Earl Harrist pitched a 7-3 victory over the Washington Senators. Garver, turning wild, left the game in the seventh.

Frank (Spec) Shea, who had won six straight for Washington, also had trouble with control and gave way to a pinch-hitter in the sixth.

SEEKS 31st STRAIGHT

CHICAGO (AP) — Undeatable welterweight Johnny Saxton of New York seeks his 31st straight victory against Virgil Akins of St. Louis, No. 3 lightweight contender, in a 10-round at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Iowa Citian Wins in National Tennis Play

Special to The Daily Iowan
Art Andrews, Iowa City, defeated Alan Silverman, Brooklyn, N. Y., 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 in the second round of the boy's singles competition in the United States Lawn Tennis association meet in Kalamazoo, Mich., Tuesday.

Dickson, registering his eighth victory against 15 defeats, had little difficulty after the first inning when the Dodgers scored their lone run.

Pittsburgh tied it up in the fourth off Billy Loes, Brooklyn starter and loser, then scored twice in the fifth, once in the sixth and twice in the eighth.

Cards 6, Braves 5

BOSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals continued their blistering National league pace by topping the Boston Braves, 6-5, Tuesday night in a 13-inning game. The Cards bunched two hits with a sacrifice, a base on balls and a Boston error for their winning marker against relief pitcher Lew Burdette.

With the bases loaded and two out, Del Rice hit a slow roller down the third base line that Sibby Sisti bobbled as Solly Hegman streaked across the plate with the winning tally.

The Cardinals banged out four hits for two runs in the third and in the fifth Musial homered before starter Jim Wilson was replaced by Burdette.

Managers Discuss

Walcott-Marciano Championship Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Norris, International Boxing club president, Tuesday opened negotiations with the managers of heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano for a September 16 or September 23 million dollar title bout.

"This bout will draw all eyes as put in the park," said Norris as he sat down with Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, and Marty Weill, manager of the unbeaten Marciano.

"It will do a million dollars at the gate," said Norris, "not counting home television or theater television, whatever we decide to do. It's the biggest match IBC ever had."

Norris' preference is for Sept. 23, a Tuesday, at Yankee Stadium. That also meets with Marciano's approval. Bocchicchio would like an earlier date and is not sold on the site.

Both managers and Norris had an open mind on television. They probably will listen to bids and make a decision. Norris admits "We threw $75,000 out the window Monday night by turning down theater TV."

The unofficial financial figures for the show at Yankee Stadium Monday night showed $1,188 paying a gross $215,707.84. Each fighter's purse was tentatively set at $51,078.87.

Fight Action on Olympic Court

V. GIBSLINKAS (left) of the Uruguayan basketball team, squares off against referee Vincent Farrell of Newark, N.J., during rhabarb in Olympic game between France and Uruguay at Helsinki. France won the game, 68-66. The riot started when South Americans, incensed at what they believed to be unfair call of a foul on one of their players, rushed onto the floor. A beefy Uruguayan spectator kicked Farrell in the groin, knocking him to the floor. He was carried out by police and given emergency medical aid.

Browns-White Sox Deal Angers Indians' Owner

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hank Greenberg angrily accused Bill Veeck Tuesday of trying to knock his Indians out of the pennant race by dealing "good" players to the Chicago White Sox.

Greenberg said Veeck's sending outfielder Jim Rivera and catcher Darrell Johnson of the St. Louis Browns to the White Sox will immeasurably strengthen Chicago. The Indians, he pointed out, have to play the White Sox 11 more games.

Veeck, who owned the Indians in 1948 when they won their second pennant, now owns the Browns. He said in St. Louis that "Henry is seeing ogres."

"I am not lying in the tall grass trying to snipe at Cleveland's pennant chances," said Veeck. "It certainly takes a lot of pressure off Greenberg when he can point to me as the villain who is blocking the Indians' pennant chances."

The deal which got Greenberg peeved, completed Monday, also moved outfielder Ray Coleman and catcher J. W. Porter from Chicago to St. Louis.

Greenberg said Veeck seemed determined to prevent him from winning a pennant in this, his third year as Cleveland's general manager.

The players were claimed or swapped by waivers. Cleveland wanted both Rivera and Johnson, Greenberg told a reporter, but couldn't claim them because Chicago, being lower in the standings, could choose first.

Greenberg complained that both

Rivera and Johnson were better than waiver price ball players and said Cleveland would have paid more than the $10,000 waiver price for each if it had been given the opportunity before June 15, the deadline for trades. After that, no team may pay more than the waiver price for any player.

Bringing up another point, he said the Indians tried to get Coleman from the Browns last season. Veeck refused, he said, even though the Browns "were a cinch for last place," then sold him to Chicago.

Ex-Oregon State Star Joins All-Star Squad

DELAFIELD, WIS. (AP) — John Thomas, 220 pound end who was 1951 captain at Oregon State, Tuesday joined the College All Star football squad in training for its game with the Los Angeles Rams at Chicago's Soldier Field August 15.

Thomas was invited to join the squad by head coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech who has been hard pressed for material at the end spots on the All-Stars' two platoons.

GRIDDERS PROTEST 'Too Much Work'

CHICAGO (AP) — Guard John Hancock of Baylor and another guard, Wade Mtsgrove of Hardin-Simmons, left the Chicago Cardinals training camp at nearby Lake Forest Tuesday in protest over too much work.

"Two practices daily for six weeks are too much," they told Coach Joe Kuharich. "And when we have to work two sessions on Sunday, too, we figure that professional football is not for us."

Kuharich said Cliff Anderson, an end from Indiana university, also had departed but had given no reason for doing so.

"ROCKY NEXT CHAMP"
LONDON (AP) — Gene Tunney, former world heavyweight boxing champion and here on a vacation visit, said Tuesday he figured Rocky Marciano would be "world champion very soon. He is the hardest hitter in the world — really first class."

U.S. Gains Ground on Russia In Olympics; Score 514-440

HELSINKI (AP) — The United States gained ground on Russia Tuesday in the unofficial battle for Olympic team honors, boosting its total to 440 against the Soviet's 514 1/2.

America scored 15 points, 10 of which came in a spectacular victory over Japan in the men's 800-meter swimming relay in which Jim McLane of Yale out-swam Teijiro Tanikawa in the home stretch. The United States quartet set a new Olympic record of 8:31.1, 11 seconds faster than Japan's old mark.

Russia scored only 12 points during the day. If the United States wins as expected in swimming, and picks up points in boxing and equestrian events as well, it might overhaul Russia by a slender margin before the games end Sunday.

Olympic swimming records took the same kind of pounding that track and field marks received last week.

Geertje Wielma of the Netherlands did 1:13.8 in a 100-meter heat, as compared to the old mark of 1:14.3; Jean Botteux, France, did the 400-meter free style in a heat in 4:33.1, as against the old record of 4:38.6, and Eva Zekeley of Hungary won the women's 200-meter breaststroke final in 2:51.7. The Olympic record was 2:54.

The 800-meter swimming relay was the blue ribbon event of the day.

Japan led from the start and the two anchor men, McLane and Tanikawa, started off with the Japanese only slightly ahead.

Up and down the 50-meter pool they battled as the crowd of 10,000 went wild.

U.S. Basketball Team Sets Record In Smothering Chile, 103-55

HELSINKI (AP) — The United States and Argentina emerged Tuesday night as the class of the Olympic basketball tournament and almost certain contenders in the gold medal game scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

America's combination of Kansas college kids and working men cagers from A.A.U. ranks smothered Chile Tuesday 103-55, and set a new Olympic scoring record in doing so.

Argentina kept its winning streak going by out-driving a rugged French five, 61-52. The six other teams left in the semi-final series have lost at least one game.

All teams play one more game in the semi-finals Wednesday before moving into the final series of three games Thursday.

The United States and Argentina are in different groups and on the strength of their play so far are destined to battle it out for the championship at the weekend.

Chile was a hapless victim of America's length and strength. Big Clyde Lovellette, high scoring center from the University of Kansas, hit his regular form for the first time since the tournament opened.

The rest of the United States team played heads-up ball all the way and drove through with a couple of last-minute field goals to crack the scoring mark of 100 set earlier this week by Argentina.

Russia, decisively beaten Monday by the United States, came back from a four-point deficit at halftime to squeak past Brazil, 54-49. Uruguay beat Bulgaria, 62-54, in the fourth game.

The Uruguayan basketball federation suspended the two players involved in kicking and slugging of referee Vincent Farrell of Newark, N. J., Monday night.

The Uruguayans also apologized to the International Basketball Federation and to Farrell for the conduct of the two men, Wilfredo Pelaez and Carlos Rossello.
