Fairfield Colonel's Wife Guilty

Convicted of German Black Market Dealing

A U.S. war crimes commission, which was overtly formed to investigate the first mass murder of the German people, has just released its findings. According to the report, Mrs. Hermione G. Hotz, 44, of a German farm, has been found guilty of being a member of the German Black Market Dealing (GBMD) organization. The commission, which has been investigating the case for over a year, has found that Mrs. Hotz was a key member of the GBMD and was responsible for organizing and conducting black market transactions.

Mrs. Hotz is expected to be sentenced to 10 years in prison, which she is likely to appeal. The case is seen as a significant victory for the commission in its efforts to bring to justice those responsible for war crimes.

Lewis Dealing For New Pact, Reports Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Right in the middle of a round of negotiations, John J. Lewis, the head of the United Mine Workers, said yesterday that a major roadblock to a new labor agreement is the issue of black and white miners working together.

Lewis made the statement as he and his team were preparing to meet with company representatives for further discussions. The union and the coal industry have been negotiating for several months on a new pact to replace the one that expired last year.

3-Hour Attack By 66 Planes Rips Key Spot

BEIRUT (AP) — A major air attack has been launched against key installations in the Bekaa Valley, where the Bekaa Valley Communications Center, a major installation for the Israeli military, is located.

The attack, which involved 66 Israeli planes, lasted for three hours and caused significant damage to the center. The attack was in response to a recent operation by the Lebanese army, which was supported by Iran, in which several Israeli positions were hit.

In a statement, the Israeli armed forces said the attack was a response to the Lebanese army's attack and was aimed at nullifying its capabilities.

Price Offers Officials Higher Cost of Living

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has said it will raise the price of gasoline to help offset the rising cost of living.

The decision comes as inflation continues to rise, with the consumer price index up 5% in the past year. The increase in prices has put pressure on the government to raise prices on gasoline, which is a major factor in the overall cost of living.

The new price will go into effect next week and will be in line with the increases seen in other commodities.

The Kiss for a Nominee

HOW COULD A MUSICIANS UNION SELL HANNAH A. MOORE, 32, of Des Moines, Iowa, the 35-year-old presidential candidate, a $1,000 bill to pay her debts? The answer is: "for a kiss!"

Moore, who is running for president on the American Labor Party ticket, was given the money by a group of musicians who wanted to show support for her campaign.

The musicians raised the money through a concert in Des Moines, which was attended by thousands of fans. They presented the money to Moore at a press conference held later in the day.

The money will be used to pay Moore's campaign expenses, which are expected to reach $50,000 by the end of the year.

A Condensation of Late Developments

SOMERSET IN KOREA (AP) — Top military commanders have ordered the withdrawal of all American troops from the Korean peninsula, the government has announced. The decision, which was made after a series of meetings with top military officials, was taken in response to the growing threat posed by North Korea.

The withdrawal will be complete within the next two months and will involve the撤回 of all U.S. troops from the peninsula.

Those Objects Are Back Again

Alas, a short lapse in their interest in "flying saucers" are back on the American scene. This time, however, it is not the dimensionality of the "saucers" which puts them in the national spotlight as the American citizen is becoming rapidly accustomed to these "unknown" objects. But instead it is the fact that the U.S. air force has finally made some important admissions, the most recent of which is that it does not believe in "flying saucers".

Just last week the air force admitted that something that could be a flying saucer was picked up on radar in the national's capital. Then Monday the air force made it known that some of its radar operators actually spotted an object in the sky.

But instead it is the fact that the U.S. air force has finally made some important admissions, the most recent of which is that it does not believe in "flying saucers".

The air force also said that these objects could even be space ships from another planet. These admissions seem to be a realization of the many Americans who reported seeing the objects. At first the reports were ridiculed and called "hallucinations" or "idiot freaks" by the press. They continued to spout psychologists stripped to offer their explanations of the fact that the whole affair was just an optical illusion or something of the same sort.

The number of these reports and admissions only one thing is certain, and that is that the air force is giving as much information as possible on the subject. Meanwhile the nation sits with fingers crossed waiting for the answer to the mystery.

Peddler Dies in Debt: Police Find $61,000

KETTERING, OH. — A ragged peddler who said a friend of his named Jeffrey had found the money needed to start a fruit and vegetable store was found dead not far from where he lived in a room at 11165 Woodmont Lane.

The man, Rembert Woolley, of 1746 N. State St., died July 17 in a hospital. It was learned that the man had been in poor health for some time and his death was expected.

An investigation into the man's business showed that he had been in debt for a long time and that he had left the store unattended.

Utility Attacks Illinois Rules Of Accounting

CHICAGO (IP) — The Illinois Commerce Commission has issued a report for utility rates and has recommended that the rates be increased.

In this case the commission has been asked to increase the rates by 10 cents per month for each kilowatt hour of electricity.

The commission said it has issued orders for an increase in rates for utility service at six large hotels.

In addition, it is required that the companies file an application with the commission at least 30 days in advance of any rate change.

"We may pay 18 of these hotels $8,000 a month in rates," said E. Stewart Jones, manager of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"The companies have not enough capital to meet the increased rates," said Jones. "Therefore, if a rate increase is granted, they may have to charge more to the consumer." The commission has not yet decided on the matter.

Senator Suggests Using Tax Money For Campaigning

"It is the opinion of the Senate Finance Committee that the use of tax money for campaigning is not in the public interest," said Senator Robert B. Hill, Democrat from Illinois.

Senator Hill said that the use of tax money for campaigning is not in the public interest.

"I believe that the use of tax money for campaigning is not in the public interest," said Senator Hill. "Therefore, if a rate increase is granted, they may have to charge more to the consumer." The commission has not yet decided on the matter.

President Bant Will Support Eisenhower

DEP'T 9 — The White House today announced that President Eisenhower would support Senator John F. Kennedy in the 1964 presidential election.

President Eisenhower, who is running for a second term, said that he would support Senator Kennedy in the 1964 presidential election.

"I believe that the use of tax money for campaigning is not in the public interest," said Senator Hill. "Therefore, if a rate increase is granted, they may have to charge more to the consumer." The commission has not yet decided on the matter.

Employee Strike Cripples Service At St. Louis Hotels

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Unions are playing a crucial role in determining the success of hotel service in St. Louis.

"If the labor unrest continues," said union leader John Doe, "we will have to shut down the hotels."}

Pittsburgh Has 'Flying Canopies'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh has been bought by the "flying canopies" as the city is now officially known.

Frank King was planning the outside of a house in the suburbs. He says that he has been asked to charge him $40,000 for a separate cabin that is to be on the bank of the river.

"We will call on the general soon after the canal is back in business," said Mr. King. "It will be a place for the people to relax and enjoy the beauty of nature."
ARNALL OK's Steel Price Increase; Emphasizes It Was Not His Choice

WASHINGTON — Price chief, Arnall OK's, was answering reporters' questions about free press policy paying the way for a $30-per-ton increase in steel prices. He emphasized the practice of a 'sensible' price increase for the 'benefit of the public.'

Arnall emphasized that the increase was not the moving force behind the price hike, as prices have been in a fluid state for some time now. He further stated that the increase was a necessary adjustment to meet the current economic conditions.

WICHITA — News reports have indicated that a group of Arnall OK's employees has been organizing a campaign to oppose the price increase. The group, led by a local union representative, is protesting the increase due to its impact on local businesses.

MINNEAPOLIS — A local Arnall OK's plant has been experiencing a rise in production. The increase is attributed to the higher prices, which are expected to result in increased profits.

BOSTON — There have been reports of a similar price increase in the Boston area. However, the local Arnall OK's plant has not yet announced any price changes.

NEW YORK — The New York office of Arnall OK's has been receiving an increase in phone calls regarding the price increase. The company has assured its customers that the increase is only temporary and is intended to stabilize prices.

LOS ANGELES — In Los Angeles, the local Arnall OK's plant has reported a decrease in production. The decrease is attributed to the higher prices, which are expected to result in reduced demand.
