Ike Says GOP Can Better Win Durable Peace

DENVER (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday he believes the Republicans generally can do a better job of winning durable world peace than the Democrats.

The GOP presidential nominee made the remark at a news conference when he was asked for comment on John Foster Dulles' statement last week that Eisenhower believes the Truman administration foreign policy is placing America in the greatest peril in history.

Dulles was chief author of the foreign policy plank of the GOP program.

World Peace Overshadows

Eisenhower said he still feels world peace overshadows all other issues in the presidential campaign, and he went on to say:

"I think the Republicans generally can do a better job than the Democrats."

Eisenhower met with newsmen after conferences earlier in the day with a group of supporters from eight southern states, and a meeting with Republican farm leaders.

At the news conference, the general said that at some time during the forthcoming campaign, he definitely would make speeches "within the borders of what is called the south." Details have not been worked out, he added.

Will Crack South'

Earlier, a key Dixie supporter of Eisenhower, said the general apparently is confident "we will crack the solid south" in November.

John Minor Wisdom, Republican national committeeman from Louisiana conferred with Eisenhower and later told a news conference he believes Texas is most likely to line up in the GOP column.

Wisdom and 20 other Eisenhower supporters from eight southern states sat down with the general

University of Maine Hears Lecture Series By SUI's Moehlman

Prof. Arthur Moehlman of the SUI college of education is delivering a concluding series of lectures on comparative and international education this week before classes at the University of Maine.

Summer school classes at the university, located in Orono, Me., have been using Moehlman's new book, "Comparative Education," as a text.

His lectures will emphasize the current changes in education in Europe and Asia with special emphasis on the trend toward free, public school education through the secondary level.

Preceding Moehlman as guest lecturers were educators from Canada, Sweden, France, Netherlands and Britain.

He will remain in Orono next week to keynote the annual conference of school superintendents. His topic will be, "New Horizons in Education."

A Condensation of Late Developments

MUNSON, KOREA (AP) — The Korean armistice talks entered their third week of recess Monday after a brief session in which neither side gave ground on the bedrock issue — prisoner exchange. Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior United Nations command delegate, told the Reds bluntly there was "nothing to discuss" inasmuch as they kept harping on the same old propaganda arguments.

HONOLULU (AP) — The Honolulu Star-Bulletin said Monday Madame Chiang Kai-shek will leave shortly for San Francisco to seek a cure for the skin condition which caused her to leave the Chinese Nationalist island of Formosa last week. There was no immediate indication where she would go for treatment. Madame Chiang arrived Sunday.

CHICAGO (AP) — At least 3,750 CIO United Packinghouse workers walked off their jobs at four Armour & Co. plants Monday, protest against working without a contract. The walkouts were not authorized by the international union. UPW officials said they told Armour authorities Sunday night the union did not plan to call out workers, but that it could not guarantee the actions of its local unions.

TEHRAN, IRAN (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh was handed unprecedented powers Monday to rule his troubled country by decree for the next six months. The senate gave final approval to a single article bill—already passed by the lower house majlis—giving Mossadegh authority never before concentrated in the hands of one man in Iran since the adoption of the nation's modern constitution.

Draft Step-Up Expected for 19-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective service may have to dip into its pool of 19-year-olds soon, a spokesman said Monday.

Eisenhower aides have emphasized that all possible steps will be taken to prevent a repetition of the Democrats' success in the farm bill states in the 1948 presidential election.

Hvasta Hiding, Refugee Says

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A Czech refugee said Monday he escaped from a Communist prison Jan. 2 with John Hvasta, the American ex-sailor jailed by Prague authorities on spy charges. The Czech said he believes Hvasta still is alive and hiding in some Slovavian village.

The story, told by Jaroslav Burec, 30, a former Czech newspaper reporter, supported the long-delayed report by the Czech government Aug. 8 to the U.S. embassy in Prague that Hvasta had escaped with several other prisoners.

State department officials in Washington said they had no way of confirming the report.

Burec, who managed to slip across the heavily-guarded border into West Germany, said the escape party split into two groups at a river two miles from the prison and planned to meet later. But he said he never saw nor heard from Hvasta after that.

75,000 Balls to — Float Raft On Voyage

LYONS, FRANCE (AP) — Four men and a girl — three of them Americans and two Britons — set off Monday on the first leg of a voyage of adventure aboard a Robinson Crusoe-like raft floated by 75,000 ping pong balls.

The raft—called the Ken-Tooki—will float down the Rhone to Marseilles, and then drift through the Mediterranean.

The four men and woman have no more specific goal than to study their own reactions while at sea. Unlike the epic Pacific voyage of the Kon-Tiki, piloted by daring Scandinavians, it seeks to prove no anthropological point such as the migration of humans from one continent to another.

The highest call thus far this year was for 58,814 last January. It was 31,000 for July and 29,000 for this month, with 30,000 listed for induction in September.

In noting the 47,000 call-up for October, Hershey commented that last month the armed services had said they expected to call 54,000 men a month during October, November and December.

'SAUCER' IN ITALY ROME (AP) — Italy got into the flying saucer act Monday night. Leghorn Airport employees said they saw an object flash out of the stratosphere, stop for about 20 seconds, then disappear.

Highlanders Tour 4 European Countries in 1 Week

Continental Europe probably will have only a fleeting memory of its invasion by SUI's 60 Scottish Highlanders.

In seven days the 60 Iowa coeds visited Paris, Geneva, Amsterdam and the rural countrysides of France, Switzerland, Holland and Belgium.

Belgium, where the Highlanders landed after 10 days at sea, was a source of surprise and delight. As they rode south by bus through rural Belgium and the industrialized north of France, the Iowa girls noted the distinctly European features of their surroundings.

They were intrigued by the Europeans' ability to make use of every square foot of ground.

See Bomb Shelters

Jubilance turned to seriousness when they first caught sight of World War II pillboxes and bomb shelters and noticed whole blocks of newly-built homes covering bomb scars.

Because they landed in Europe a day ahead of schedule, the Highlanders spent their first night in France in temporary accommodations at a trade school. Early the next morning they sampled their first French student breakfast, bread and coffee. That afternoon they moved to more comfortable housing, a girls' dormitory operated by the Cite Universitaire, received their first mail, and streamed forth to see Paris.

Army Takes Over

The U.S. army took the Highlanders in hand during the second day and escorted them to the city of Orleans. There the Highlanders presented their only performance in France, for the benefit of American troops and French civilians.

The few Iowa servicemen stationed in Orleans rallied around the Highlanders, eager for news from home. They were quickly joined by other Iowa servicemen who traveled from all parts of France to see the Hawkeye girls perform.

In Geneva, they saw the jail where Mussolini was once held prisoner for unauthorized political activity while a refugee; the house where the immortal English poets, Byron and Shelley stayed; the League of Nations buildings, and the church where John Knox preached for three years while translating the Bible from Latin to English.

Holland Delights Them

Storybook impressions came true to life in Holland for the Iowa girls who were delighted with the picturesque customs and dress of the Dutch people. The girls toured the little island of Marken by boat and then visited Volendam, a city built on a dike. The Highlanders missed few places of cultural or historic interest in Paris. All of the girls visited the Eiffel tower, many riding its elevators to the top for a breath-taking view of the Paris basin. They all visited the Arc de Triomphe, and they paid homage to the Unknown Soldier of France.

Visit Pantheon Crypts

Others conquered their self-confessed "creepy feeling" to descend into the echoing crypts of the Pantheon, where the bodies of France's great are entombed.

They spent hours in churches and cathedrals — Notre Dame, where many went to Sunday services, the Madeleine, Sacre Coeur, and others. They visited the Luxembourg, Tuilleries and Trocadero gardens, Versailles, and the tomb of Napoleon.

They walked the Left Bank and other student sections, bartered with shopkeepers for souvenirs, learned to order from hand-written menus in small, back-street French restaurants and even braved Paris' man hatter taxis.

Ridgway Calls Defense Of West 'Inadequate'

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED POWERS IN EUROPE (AP)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway said Monday the military means for defense of the West are "seriously inadequate in several vital categories" and that the 1952 targets for men and material might not be met. And, he said, the threat of war is still as big as ever.

But the supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe was full of praise for the progress that already has been made in putting together an effective machinery for defense. He said he was certain all of the problems could be solved "on the basis of mutual confidence created in the last year and a half."

Ridgway told correspondents at his first news conference at SHAPE there is "no reliable evidence known to me" that the menace of aggression has diminished.

Ridgway said he still thought it possible for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners to reach their goal of 25 active divisions, 25 reserve divisions and 4,000 aircraft by the end of 1952.

This statement was at slight variance with that of Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, who said in a broadcast from Washington Sunday night the NATO powers would not reach their 50-division goal by 1952 but would "approach it."

GI Accused of Slaying Need Not Return to Italy

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A federal judge refused Monday to order an ex-GI back to Italy to face a murder charge in the "deuce of spades" slaying of a wartime cloak and dagger major.

District Judge John Knight refused Italy's request for extradition of Carl G. Lo Dolce on the ground that Italy was not in control of the place where the crime was committed with him.

Lo Dolce, a 30-year-old former army sergeant from Rochester, was accused of shooting Maj. William V. Holohan during a secret OSS mission in northern Italy in December, 1944.

Attorneys said the annulment involved no financial settlement.

The couple met at a soda fountain near Los Angeles. After a whirlwind courtship, they were married in a civil ceremony at Quartzsite, Ariz., last Nov. 14. Then he whisked her on a continental honeymoon and they returned in full ceremony at Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris Nov. 22.

RULES TREATY VOID

Judge Knight held that the Treaty of 1868 providing for extradition was not effective inasmuch as the place where the crime was committed was occupied then by German armies.

In Washington, the Italian embassy said it was referring the decision to the Italian department of justice in Rome. That office will decide whether to appeal to a higher court.

Lo Dolce is a patient in a veterans hospital at Buffalo with a back injury suffered in Italy.

OFFICER ALSO ACCUSED

Also accused in the slaying was former Lt. Aldo Icardi of Pittsburgh, a third OSS man on the target was north of Namok about 30 miles northwest of the bombed wreckage of Wonsan on Korea's northeast coast.

High School Professor Predicts Election Results

PROFESSOR TAUBENECK SELLS UP his forecast for November, 1952, before depositing it in Bronxville bank's safety deposit vault. It's nine-to-one it contains the correct name of our next president.

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (CP) — The November presidential election is all sealed up, literally speaking, in a small white envelope on deposit in the First Westchester National bank.

Wiry, bespectacled Ignatius D. Taubeneck, chairman of the history department of the local high school, whose avocation is long range prognostications in the field of national affairs is fulfilling his role as the Nostradamus of Westchester county.

Judging by past predictions, the odds are nine to one that Professor Taubeneck has picked our next president. His thorny role of political prophet has proved his extraordinary ability as an analyst.

Roosevelt Prediction

It was an envelope deposited January 1, 1940, that turned out 11 months later to contain a prediction that Roosevelt would run for a third term and win.

In his own words, Professor Taubeneck is "no seer at all. Just a citizen who knows history, keeps informed and uses horse sense."

This county doctor of political predictions knows his history. In the past 24 years he has scored only two misses. It's just sheer weight of knowledge that enables him to make accurate predictions, he says.

However, while there are a lot of voters who follow Professor Taubeneck's formula for keeping ahead of the November election, not many hold his international score card.

In 1937 he announced that Europe would be at war by September 1, 1939. A month after the war

Ike Confident GOP Will Crack South in Election

By The Associated Press

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, described as apparently confident the Republicans will "crack the South" in November, mapped strategy Monday for a swing through Dixie in his bid for the White House.

Eisenhower conferred with reporters from eight Southern states and was reported to have emphasized that he is anxious to seek development of a two-party system in the traditionally Democratic south.

John Minor Wisdom, GOP national committeeman from Louisiana, told newsmen after the meeting in Denver that both Eisenhower and his vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, will probably campaign in the south.

After meeting the Dixie group, Eisenhower conferred with Republican farm leaders — seeking advice on means to prevent a repetition of Democratic successes in the farm belt in the 1948 presidential election.

On the Democratic front, an Illinois newspaper partly owned by Gov. Adlai Stevenson editorially questioned his ability to clean house in Washington if elected.

The newspaper, the 106-year-old Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph, had this to say:

"We wish we could endorse him, Stevenson, without reservation for the presidency of the United States."

"But Adlai Stevenson has one great handicap. He is the candidate of a party which has been in control of our national government for 20 years — a party which under Harry Truman has set all-time records for spending, scandal and inefficiency and has dragged respect for government to its lowest point in our history."

Repair Payment Frees Russian Ship

GENOA, ITALY (AP) — An impounded Russian training ship has been allowed to leave this port after a Soviet embassy emissary rushed here from Rome to pay a $1,280,000 repair bill, it was learned Monday.

The 6,492-ton craft — reconstructed from a former German tanker confiscated in World War II was seized by police after a Russian official refused to okay payment of bills for installing cabins, magnetic compasses, anti-aircraft guns and other equipment.

The picture was noticed by Capt. M.A. King, a 1949 SUI graduate who is stationed with the air force in England.

The picture shows the Highlanders in full uniform marching through the streets of London on Wednesday Aug. 6.

The picture caption says:

"Do you see anything wrong in the picture of the Iowa university girls' pipe band playing in London yesterday? No? well, Mr. J. B. Robertson does."

Former Pipe Major Raps SUI Highlanders

In the August 7 issue of the London News Chronicle, a picture of the SUI Scottish Highlanders was printed along with a criticism by a former pipe major of the Scots Guards and vice-president of the Piping Society of London.

Girls should never wear spats, but full-length socks and buckled shoes.

Their kilts are the wrong length. Kilts should be just on the knee bone. Some are above it, some look on it, but that is because they are marching.

The girls are wearing regimental sporrans. They should be wearing lighter ones. The sporrans are the wrong length. They should reach to the bottom of the kilt.

Look at that man. He's wearing the woman's light sporan — and at the wrong length, too.

Bonnets on Wrong

Only the drum major and the man have their feather bonnets tilted correctly.

The drum major should be wearing a proper waist belt — wide with braid on it — instead of that army warrant officer's cifort.

Worst of all, look at the way they are playing their pipes — out of the sides of their mouths, instead of the center. You might play a lollipop that way, but not pipes.

Anthony Eden Plans to Marry Churchill Niece

LONDON (AP) — Britain's urbane foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, will be married soon to a niece of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Clarissa Spencer-Churchill, a vivacious blonde with blue eyes, it was officially announced Monday.

He is 55, she is 32. He was married once before, to Beatrice Helen Beckett, whom he divorced in 1950 on grounds of desertion. The former Mrs. Eden now lives in New York.

The announcement did not say when the marriage will take place, but colleagues of the foreign secretary expected it would be "in a matter of weeks."

Daughter of Spencer-Churchill

Miss Clarissa Spencer-Churchill was the daughter of the late Maj. John Spencer-Churchill, who died in 1947. Her mother, Lady Gwendoline Churchill died in 1946.

Miss Spencer-Churchill was hailed in London society in 1938 as the most beautiful debutante of the year.

Millions regard Eden as the embodiment of the more charming attributes of the ideal English gentleman. His manner is polished without any suggestion of affectation.

Known Her For Years

He has known Miss Spencer-Churchill for years. During the war, while Eden was controlling grand strategy at the Foreign Office, Miss Spencer-Churchill worked in the department's communications section. She decoded telegrams and many confidential documents.

Eden had two sons by his first marriage. The elder, Simon, was lost in Burma in 1945. He was navigator of a bombing plane which failed to return from a mission. His younger son, Nicholas, is an aide to the governor general of Canada.

Assisting the hostesses were Miss Colleen Elliott, Mrs. Kenneth Meyerhoff, Miss Ruth Button, Miss Sheila Flynn, Miss La Nelle Harvey, Miss Barbara Stum, and Miss Joan Clabby, sister of the bridegroom.

Joann Carroll Weds William Clabby

Miss Joann Carroll became the bride of William R. Clabby Aug. 9, at 9 a.m. at the Sacred Heart Catholic church in Waterloo. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Roskoph.

Mr. Clabby is the editor of The Daily Iowan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carroll of Waterloo. Mr. Clabby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Clabby, also of Waterloo.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace and white satin. The strapless gown was covered with a white Chantilly lace jacket designed with a mandarin collar and cap sleeves. She wore matching fingerless lace gloves. A finger tipped veil of imported illusion net fell from a seed pearl crown. She carried a cascade of yellow roses.

Miss Marilyn Carroll, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a gown identical to that of the bride's, only in yellow.

Richard Clabby, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Cletus Bloes, Gilbertville; Richard Davis, Carroll Etringer, and Donald Colter.

Mrs. Carroll, mother of the bride, wore a navy nylon net dress with white accessories and a yellow glaciola corsage. Mrs. Clabby, mother of the bridegroom, wore a grey scatter-rib dress with black accessories and a yellow glaciola corsage.

The reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors. Hostesses were Mrs. A. H. Bos, Marshalltown; Mrs. Sylvester Schilling, Dewart; Mrs. Matt Etringer, Waterloo, all aunts of the bride; Mrs. P. J. King, Waterloo, and Mrs. Ralph Mishak, Waterloo.

Assisting the hostesses were Miss Colleen Elliott, Mrs. Kenneth Meyerhoff, Miss Ruth Button, Miss Sheila Flynn, Miss La Nelle Harvey, Miss Barbara Stum, and Miss Joan Clabby, sister of the bridegroom.

Reynolds Tops Red Sox, 7-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Allie Reynolds shut out the Boston Red Sox with two hits Monday night to earn his 150th major league victory, 7-0. The win boosted the New York Yankees' American league lead to 2½ games over the idle Cleveland Indians.

Mickey Mantle backed up Reynolds' fourth two-hitter of the season with two homers and a double. Mantle's 17th homer came with the bases empty in the first and his 18th with Phil Rizzuto on base in the fifth.

It was Reynolds' 14th win of the year and Sid Hudson's ninth loss.

A's, Nats Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics jammed three of their six hits off Randy Gumpert and Don Johnson into the eighth inning to produce the winning run as they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1, in the second game of a double-header Monday night after the Senators won the opener, 6-5.

Alex Kellner held the Senators to seven hits in the second game to capture his ninth decision.

Sandy Consuegra, who replaced Walter Masterson in the ninth of the opener, won his sixth game. He has lost none.

Roberts Wins 18th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Brooklyn bats exploded with fury in the sixth inning of the second game in a twin-night doubleheader with Philadelphia Monday night as the Dodgers scored six runs on three homers and a triple to win, 9-5. The Phils won the opener, 7-2, as Robin Roberts hurled his 18th victory.

Despite the split the Dodgers increased their National league lead to nine games over the New York Giants who lost a doubleheader with the Boston Braves.

Brooklyn, on the short end of a 4-3 score going into the top of the sixth in the nightcap, turned the full force of its hitting power on three relief pitchers.

Pinch-hitter Bill Nicholson's three-run Homer put the Phils ahead temporarily in the fifth.

Braves Sweep 2

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's improving Braves made it four straight victories over second-place New York Monday as they took both ends of a doubleheader from the Giants, 11-10 and 4-2. The Braves copped the opener with Bob Thorpe's eighthinning single scoring Sam Jethroe.

In the nightcap, Boston swept to a 2-0 lead against Dave Koslo to

All-Star Notes —

This is the week of the All-Star football game.

Iowa's only representative on the 1952 team, Bill Reichardt, is reportedly doing all right in the collegians' pre-game scrimmages and probably will see quite a bit of action in the annual contest with the professional champion which is coming up this Friday.

Don Winslow was the Hawkeyes' last player to see action in the Chicago Tribune game, getting in for about eight minutes in 1950. That was the year that Dr. Eddie Anderson coached a brilliant team, led by little Eddie LeBaron and Choo Choo Justice, to a decisive win over the Philadelphia Eagles.

It's a safe bet, though, that Reichardt will surpass Winslow's eight-minute stint. With the West Coast's Hugh McElhenny moved to right halfback, Bill is battling Maryland's Ed (Mighty Mo) Modzelewski for the starting fullback berth.

This game just barely missed having an extra play in Iowa newspapers. Reichardt almost got the chance to play against Dick Hoerner, probably the Hawkeye all-time fullback until Bill came along.

LARGEST HOOKUP

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifty-five TV stations will handle a coast-to-coast telecast of the college All-Star-Los Angeles game Friday and 400 Mutual radio stations will be fed the broadcast in the largest hookup ever arranged for a sports contest, it was announced Monday.

season for the Los Angeles team, which plays the All-Stars Friday.

Hoerner, who had one more year of college eligibility remaining, became the Rams' regular fullback and was the National League's leading ground-gainer at least once.

However, Dick this summer was traded to the new Dallas, Tex., club for high-priced linebacker Les Richter, ruining a good feature story angle.

Quarterback Bob Waterfield is the only member of the 1952 Los Angeles team who was in the lineup when that outfit was beaten by the All-Stars in 1946.

He was expected to pass the Rams to an easy victory. Instead the All-Stars rushed him so violently that his passing skill was completely smothered.

And it looks like it's just the Rams' luck to run into another exceptional All-Star squad. Reports indicate that this team is one of the better collections of talent and again, as in 1946, well loaded with defensive men.

Nobody is in a better position to tell a person how it is with a given All-Star team at a given time than Bob Voigts, head football coach at Northwestern.

Ever since becoming head coach at the Big Ten school, he has been a regular member of the college All-Star coaching staff. Here is what Voigts has to say about this year's team as reported by Dick Cullum in the Minneapolis Morning Tribune. It bears out that Waterfield will go into the game plenty cautious.

"This 1952 team does not have a weak position. It is one of the strongest I have seen. The coaching has been brilliantly organized and the boys have responded with good spirit."

Voigts qualifies it by pointing out that the professional champion always has the advantage in hand-picked personnel, smooth organization carrying over from the year before, and man-for-man playing experience.

"But the All-Stars win one once in a while," he adds, "and this squad resembles the kind that have won in the past. All I am afraid of is that the Los Angeles Rams do not resemble any professional team that has ever lost in the past."

This reporter is happy to say that he will be among the 100,000 people that are expected to jam Soldiers' field Friday night to witness the All-Star spectacle and Western Union's night press collect service willing. The Daily Iowan will carry a first-hand report of the game.

Kentucky Cagers Suspended

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — Kentucky's powerhouse basketball team was suspended from all Southeastern competition for one year Monday.

This action came after a seven-hour session of the SEC executive committee, called into special session to consider charges of rules infractions by Kentucky. The committee gave no details in its decision.

No fine was assessed by the executive committee. Monday's ruling will not affect other sports at the school, nor will it prevent Kentucky from playing a 1952-53 basketball schedule against non-conference opponents.

A brief statement from the executive committee said that body found that "between October, 1946 and the close of the basketball season of 1951 that the University of Kentucky participated in inter-collegiate games and tournaments in violation of the rules and regulations of the Southeastern conference."

The basketball suspension, effective Monday, ends Aug. 11, 1953.

"I am looking forward to continuing my association with Yale as a coaching consultant and scout."
