Stevenson-Truman Huddle Termed 'Very Satisfactory'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential nominee, and President Truman reported Tuesday a "very satisfactory" discussion of political strategy.

Although there was little further public enlightenment from them, a highly qualified source said there were these developments in an hour-long White House conference:

1. Truman offered to make a whistle stop tour for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket such as the one he made successfully in 1948. But the President was quoted as telling the nominee, in regard to this and other political plans: "You are the one who has got to run the campaign—it's up to you."

No Final Decision

3. There was no final decision either on the whistle stop proposal or on conflicting tentative dates for Labor day speeches—Truman in Milwaukee and Stevenson in Detroit.

4. The nominee and the President seemed in general agreement on the issues to be emphasized in the campaign.

Publicly, Stevenson and Truman left unanswered in a joint appearance on the White House steps, the question of what role Truman will play in the campaign.

"Details," Truman said, "will have to be worked out at a later date."

Soft Pedal Indicated

All the signs in advance of the meeting had indicated that Stevenson wanted Truman to soft pedal any idea of a sledge hammer campaign up and down the country in behalf of the ticket. And there were no concrete indications after the meeting that Truman had any plans which would run counter to Stevenson's desires.

Truman has said repeatedly that he is now just a soldier in the Democratic ranks.

After their conference Tuesday, Truman, Stevenson and Sparkman stood side by side in front of the White House offices and made little informal speeches about the huddle.

Lunches with Truman

Stevenson said he had had a very pleasant opportunity to lunch with the President and cabinet, get a briefing in international problems and go on a personally conducted tour of the White House. Then he got around to the main business that brought him to Washington at Truman's invitation.

"I've had a very satisfactory, reassuring and gratifying talk with the President about the campaign."

Demos Plan to Open Drive on Labor Day

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson said Tuesday night the Democratic presidential campaign may be kicked off with Labor day speeches both by President Truman and himself.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, returned here in good spirits from Washington and a conference with President Truman.

If plans are worked out, then Truman would speak in Milwaukee while Stevenson would make his first major campaign address in Detroit. They now have tentative engagements to speak in those cities.

A Condensation of Late Developments

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Press dispatches from Goiania in central Brazil said a Brazilian passenger plane with 20 persons aboard caught fire in the air and crashed west of there Tuesday. The plane left Goiania, capital of Goiaz State, for Rio Verde, about 155 miles southwest of the capital. The dispatches said the plane crashed near Palmeira, about 62 miles west of Goiania.

MOSCOW (AP) — The British embassy announced Tuesday that sailor Stanley Brennan would be released from the Moscow jail Wednesday. He has been serving six months for hooliganism. Brennan was a crewman on a Finnish ship in a Russian port when arrested. He has been visited regularly in jail by embassy officials.

BENEVENTO, ITALY (AP) — The Appennine mountain town of Tocco Caudio sent an appeal to Rome for government aid Tuesday. It is sinking. Already the town church has split in two and 19 of the town's 2,000 families have seen their houses disappear into the earth. It is believed underground springs are undermining the area, creating huge grottos.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer Tuesday criticized "guesswork" forecasts of inflation. He announced a forthcoming survey to obtain "facts" on how the steel strike settlement is affecting prices.

AMMAN, JORDAN (AP) — Jordan's deposed King Talal I, mentally ill and no longer able to rule, has sent congratulations and good wishes to the new king, Hussein I, his 17-year-old son now in Switzerland with his queen mother. Parliament ended Talal's brief, troubled reign Monday and chose the boy to succeed him.

Dixon Chosen to Head Illinois Demo Ticket

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon was chosen Tuesday as the replacement for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson at the head of the Illinois Democratic ticket.

Dixon's selection by the 25-member Democratic State Central committee climaxed a heated intra-party row that began after Stevenson became the Democratic presidential nominee.

The outcome was a victory for Stevenson and a defeat for Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, who waged an all-out campaign for the gubernatorial nomination. Barrett remains on the ticket as the nominee for re-election to a third term.

To fill the vacancy left by Dixon's advancement, the committee selected Herbert Christian Paschen, Glencoe banker.

4 Iowa Plants Closed by Short Packers' Strike

By The Associated Press

Four big Iowa packing plants in Sioux City and Des Moines were closed temporarily Tuesday when nearly 4,000 union workers left their jobs.

The walkouts, following the expiration of contracts between the companies and the CIO Packing House Workers of America occurred at the Armour, Cudahy and Swift plants in Sioux City and the Iowa Packing company plant in Des Moines.

3,000 Out

Officials of the three Sioux City plants said an estimated 3,000 employees failed to return to their jobs after the lunch hour Tuesday and went instead to a union mass meeting.

Curtis Thompson, vice-president of UPWA Local 89 in Des Moines said the Iowa Packing company employees quit work to hold a special meeting. This firm is a subsidiary of Swift & Company. Thompson said the purpose of the meeting was to discuss contract negotiations underway in Chicago. He said the employees would return to work Wednesday.

Until Tuesday morning only the Armour company at Sioux City had been affected by walkouts, which started Monday after the expiration of the old wage contract. But at noon the work stoppage spread to the other two plants.

Others Not Affected

Meanwhile, operations continued without interruption at the Rath Packing company at Waterloo and the John Morrell & Co. at Ottumwa.

Union and management representatives at the Morrell plant announced jointly Tuesday that the old contract would be extended indefinitely pending negotiations for a new one.

The plane crashed Aug. 7 northwest of Manila on the Bataan peninsula. It carried a crew of 13 naval reservists from the Alameda, Calif., station on duty in the Philippines.

The team slogged in monsoon rains through tropical jungles up the slopes of 2,900-foot Mt. Santa Rosa in the Mariveles Range.

Groom Gives Bellhop $100 Tip

NEW YORK (AP) — Marine Cpl. Kenneth Bergsohn of New York wed Janet Beecher Saturday and the put up at the Statler hotel for a quickie honeymoon.

Checking out Tuesday Bergsohn tipped bellhop Gus Milton and rushed off for a train to his Cherry Point, N. C., camp.

The bellhop, paying for a cup of coffee later, took out the tip, and, in the words of a superior at the hotel "almost dropped from fright" to find it a $100 bill, instead of a dollar.

Milton turned it over to hotel officials who were still filling out forms when the harried Bergsohn returned.

He retrieved his $100, gave Milton a $5 tip, and went off again in the direction of the depot.

U.S. Marines Hold Bunker Ridge Despite Fierce Red Attacks

SEOUL (AP) — U.S. marines repulsed a fierce new attack by a battalion of Chinese Reds who struck early Wednesday under cover of a 6,000-round artillery barrage in a bloody attempt to recapture Bunker Ridge.

It was the second Communist assault in less than 12 hours on the strategic western front position a few miles east of the truce talk town of Panmunjon.

The leathernecks seized Bunker Ridge and nearby Siberia Hill early Tuesday morning in a sweeping attack powered by artillery, tanks and planes.

The Chinese Reds struck back the first time late Tuesday afternoon behind a withering artillery barrage.

But the marines, firing from prefabricated bunkers spotted along the ridge during a few quiet hours Tuesday, hurled back the Reds.

This was the first mention of prefabricated bunkers being used to replace destroyed fortifications.

The second assault came in the pre-dawn dark. Waves of Chinese pushed up the hill. The action raged for four hours.

The marines had been waiting for the attack.

"We have stopped them cold," a frontline officer told AP correspondent Sam Summerlin. "Bunker Ridge is a piece of real estate we have to have, but the Chinese want it very bad, too."

IC Junior Chamber Plans Safety Check For August 20-22

The Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored safety lane will be conducted again this year in Iowa City Aug. 20 to 22 to give motorists a chance for a free checkup of their cars.

The checking lane will be open from 6 to 10 p.m. each of the three days on Clinton st. between Iowa ave. and Jefferson st.

A voluntary procedure, the lane will enable motorists to have their cars checked for mechanical defects.

Most of the defects found last year were faulty tail, parking and stopping lights. Cars will be checked for such safety factors as lights, brakes, horn, wheel alignment, steering apparatus, windshield wipers, window glass, mufflers and loose and worn parts.

Windshield stickers certifying the car is mechanically safe to drive will be given to drivers whose vehicles successfully complete the safety check.

An itemized list of repairs will be received by drivers whose cars are found to be defective.

Ike Criticizes Stevenson For Tie-in with Truman

DENVER (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday the meeting of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois with President Truman's cabinet means the Democratic presidential nominee "is subservient to the political forces which have too long been in power in our country."

Eisenhower, the Republican presidential candidate, sharply denounced the White House session a few hours after his running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, declared that Stevenson's attendance at the cabinet meeting made him "part and parcel of the Truman gang." Nixon called it "a fatal campaign mistake."

'Far Reaching Implications'

In a prepared statement, Eisenhower said the meeting "between the President, the cabinet and defense officials and the Democratic national ticket has far reaching implications."

Then, in his hardest-hitting attack on the Democrats since he was nominated, Eisenhower said: "In the first place, the inclusion of military and national security personnel presented an unusual spectacle. It implied a decision to involve responsible non-political officers of our government who bear heavy responsibilities in our national defense organizations into a political campaign in which they have no part."

Demos Won't Change Policies

"In the second place, the meeting impresses upon the American people the obvious fact that the Democratic party, if given another four years to control our destinies, would not change its policies even though a few faces would change. "The President and his cabinet obviously want the people to know that the nominee of the Democratic convention is subservient to the political forces which have too long been in power in our country."

Nixon Talked about Stevenson at a news conference at Eisenhower's campaign headquarters.

Thursday Wedding Planned by Eden, Niece of Churchill

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, 55, and Clarissa Churchill, 32, orphaned niece of the prime minister, will marry in a registrar's office Thursday after a three-day engagement.

The once-divorced Eden, who described himself as the "happiest man in London," got an extravagant special marriage license Tuesday to speed things up. Ordinarily, a three-week waiting period is required.

Registrar James Doodsday Holiday will unite the couple at his Caxton Hall office.

Later the couple will fly to Portugal for a brief honeymoon.

Eden's divorce two years ago from the former Beatrice Helen Beckett after 27 years of marriage rules out a church wedding under rules of the Church of England. The divorce was granted on the grounds of Mrs. Eden's desertion.

HOW—Are You Going to Vote?

GOP PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE Dwight D. Eisenhower is greeted by Navajo Indians in Gallup, N.M., on his visit to witness their annual inter-tribal ceremonial council. Indians can vote for the first time in the coming November election. Sam Akeah, head of the council, which represents 60,000 Navajos, is at left. At the same time Eisenhower was visiting the Indians' community, he took time off to criticize the Truman-Stevenson strategy conference being held in Washington.

Farmer Says Craft Disintegrated in Air

GARFIELD, ARK. (AP) — Two persons were killed near here Tuesday when a light plane began disintegrating in the air and crashed into a farmer's field.

Coroner W. F. Burns identified the dead as William I. Martin, 32, of Davenport, Iowa, and his 6-year-old daughter, Melodee Ann.

The pilot's body was jammed in the cabin and his daughter's broken body was nearby. The little girl's blue coat was found hanging on a tree limb.

Cause of the crash was not established.

Flying to Corpus Christi

A log found in the wreckage indicated that Martin was flying from Davenport to Corpus Christi, Tex. Martin, district manager at Davenport for the State Farmers Insurance company, was the son of Dr. and Mrs. John J. Martin of Des Moines. Dr. Martin is a retired dentist.

The civil aeronautics commission at Fayetteville said the plane radioed earlier this morning for permission to land at Fayetteville.

That permission was given but the low visibility apparently prevented the plane from coming in. It was not heard from again.

Farmer Sees Crash

Milt Dye, the farmer on whose ground the plane crashed, said the plane began to disintegrate in the air before hitting the earth.

Garfield is in northwest Arkansas, about 30 miles northeast of Fayetteville.

Martin and his daughter left Davenport Tuesday morning to fly to Corpus Christi where they were to have joined Mrs. Martin in a visit with her parents.

Mrs. Martin came to Des Moines Monday for a brief visit with her husband's parents and was to have left Tuesday night by train for Corpus Christi. She did not fly because the light plane seats only two persons.

Graduated from Drake

Martin was born in Des Moines and was graduated from Drake university's liberal arts and law colleges.

He was a marine veteran of World War II and after his discharge became a claims agent for the State Farm Insurance company, working out of the Waterloo district office.

He later became assistant manager in that district and in January 1950, was appointed manager of the company's Davenport district.

Surviving besides his widow, Lillian, and parents is a brother John J. Martin Jr., of Pontiac, Mich.

City School Board OK's Record Budget Giving Salary Raises

The Iowa City school board Tuesday night gave approval to a record-high budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1952.

The budget of $803,943.09 was unanimously accepted after a public hearing held during the regular meeting Tuesday night.

The budget is $88,873.96 more than the budget of the 1951-52 fiscal year.

The actual budget figure for the coming year is $132,748.66 higher than the total expenditures for the past year, since $43,874.70 of last year's budget remained unspent.

The main part of the increase is to go for teachers' and other employees' salary raises. The board voted last spring to give teachers an average $150 wage raise during the coming year.

Of the record budget, $622,063 will have to be raised by taxes. This will result in an estimated millage rate of 34.3 needed to support the schools.

The remainder will come from balances and incomes from state funds allotted to the local schools. The school board also approved the hiring of three teachers, and a grade school co-ordinator.

Those hired were Mrs. Jean Derby Kilby, Clayton G. Henry and Bette Helen Teal.

The school board voted to hire David K. Stewart as grade school co-ordinator, a new position created by the board.

New Polish Constitution Copies Russian Pattern

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

A new constitution for Communist Poland has been drawn. It does not have the "new look," since it is taken strictly from the Soviet copy book.

The constitution of the United States spends a great deal of effort to protect first the rights of individuals, then the rights of states against federal encroachment. In particular it sets up a system by which minorities can live and prosper.

One of the first items of the Polish constitution states the duty of the government to limit, oust and abolish those classes of society which live by exploiting the workers and farmers.

Some Exceptions Made

That means the capitalist, whether he is a stockholder, storekeeper or anyone who does not produce through personal sweat. Some exceptions will be made, of course, for "cultural" workers, who will be turned into tools of state propaganda.

But the point is not the regulation of non-laboring classes, but their abolition. Abolition, like liquidation, is a tough word in Communist jargon.

Contrary to widespread public belief, Communism does not abolish property rights. Both the Soviet and Polish constitutions contain guarantees of ownership and the right to inherit. But there is a hitch. Everything that is part of the economic life of the state comes under the special care of the state.

Guarantees Full Protection

So the constitution says, "the Polish People's Republic guarantees to citizens full protection of personal property and the right to inherit it," adding a little later on, "property may be confiscated only in cases determined by law, by virtue of a final judgment of the court." Communist law and Communist court, that is. And without that little gimmick of the American basic law, "just compensation."

There are, of course, many high sounding phrases in the Polish constitution, as in the Soviet about governmental duties to the people.

Freedom of speech, assembly and the like are protected—except when the government decides they are taking an improper course.

Naval Court Decides 'Left Turn' Caused Disastrous Collision

WASHINGTON (AP)—A naval court of inquiry announced Tuesday that the "sole cause" of the disastrous mid-Atlantic collision between the carrier Wasp and the destroyer Hobson on April 26 was an "unexplained left turn" made by the smaller vessel.

A total of 176 crewmen died in the sinking of the Hobson, but 61 were saved.

The court said Lt. Comdr. W. J. Tierney, skipper of the Hobson, "committed a grave error in judgment" making the turn. The Hobson was run down by the 32,000-ton carrier. Tierney died in the collision.

The court, which began its hearings immediately after the badly-damaged Wasp reached New York last May, absolved all other officers on both ships of any responsibility for the accident—one of the worst peacetime disasters in U.S. naval history.

The three-admiral court made no recommendations for either disciplinary or corrective action regarding personnel or equipment of either vessel.

The collision occurred just before midnight April 26 while the two vessels were on maneuvers about 700 miles west of the Azores Islands.

Popcorn Box Supplier Plans Political Poll

NASHVILLE, TENN. (AP)—A new idea in political polls popped up here Monday.

Jim Blevins of Nashville's Popcorn Village—supplier of popcorn to about 5,000 of the nation's 21,000 movie theaters—originated the idea.

He has ordered 20 million popcorn containers bearing pictures of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, and Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate.

The idea is that the popcorn patron will choose the package suiting his political leanings.

Blevins hopes to have the popcorn poll packages in most of the nation's amusement places.

Iowa Boards Won't Draft 19-Year-Olds, State Director Says

DES MOINES (AP)—With 47,000 men on call nationally for October the Iowa selective service board doesn't anticipate any trouble filling its quota, though at this time it doesn't know what it is, Col. R. A. Lancaster, state selective service director said Monday.

"We won't know for a couple of days what our pro-rata figure will be," Col. Lancaster said.

After serving 24 consecutive months, draftees are eligible for release. The release date will arrive for the first Iowa draftees the end of this month.

That is the reason for the increased October quota, officials explain.

In some states, according to stories emanating from Washington, the draft boards will have to dip into the pool of 19-year-olds to fill the quotas.

This will not happen in Iowa, Col. Lancaster said.

Iowa Corn Crop To Be 2d Largest

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa is on the way toward production of its second largest corn crop.

This was forecast Tuesday by the U.S. department of agriculture in a report based on Aug. 1 growing conditions. It estimated the state's 1952 corn yield at 647,940,000 bushels—the same outlook indicated a month ago.

This figure would be second only to the record crop of 677,056,000 bushels produced in 1948 and 37 per cent more than the 1951 crop which was plagued by wet weather.

This year's harvest is expected to reach 60 bushels per acre. The total acreage—10,799,000—is 3 per cent greater than last year and 2½ per cent above the 1941-50 10-year average.

The Iowa Crop and Livestock Reporting service said most of the corn crop is in silk and promises to mature ahead of normal frost dates.

Distant Thunder

Enthusiastic London Crowd Hails Highlanders

LONDON, ENGLAND—The traditional British reserve broke down when the SUI Scottish Highlanders played their pipes and danced their flings for the people of London.

According to Dr. W. D. Paul of the SUI college of medicine, the coeds from Iowa were almost mobbed by an enthusiastic crowd of 3,500 following their first performance on the Victoria Embankment in London. Dr. Paul recently returned from a trip to Europe.

As the Highlanders played the final notes of "Auld Lang Syne" and marched to their buses, the Londoners left their seats, completely forgetting the military band which was to be the second half of the program, and swirled around the Highlanders.

Crowd Surrounds Buses

Dr. Paul heard shouts of "When are you going to play again?" and "How long will you be in London?" as the crowd surrounded the buses, making it impossible for them to move.

The London bobbies were kept busy trying to unshar the traffic on the embankment, which is one of the city's thoroughfares.

Officials declared that the crowd was the largest ever to attend an event on the embankment.

Prior to their first London appearance, the Scottish Highlanders were guests at a reception and dinner. Their hosts were the London County council, whose parks committee invited the Highlanders to London several months ago and arranged for their performances.

Civic officials who met and dined with the Iowa girls included I. J. Hayward, leader of the Labor majority in the London County council; Alfred J. Kemp, chairman of the council's parks committee, and C. J. Layton, deputy chief officer, parks department.

Morris Attends Reception

William H. Morris, assistant cultural officer of the U.S. embassy in London, attended the reception with several other members of the embassy staff.

As they left the reception to march the mile across Westminster bridge to the Victoria Embankment gardens for the performance, the Highlanders were amazed to find their entire route lined on both sides with people, unable to get into the already-filled gardens, who cheered the Iowa pipers and drummers as they played.

Dr. Paul declared that the first appearance in London made such an impact on the metropolis, that stories and pictures appeared in profusion in the London press. He added that newspapers in the city are forced to choose carefully the material used since the news print shortage has forced them to cut down drastically in size.

The press comment was almost unanimously favorable, Dr. Paul said.

Bell Telephone, CIO Sign Wage Contract

OMAHA (AP)—The Northwestern Bell Telephone company and the CIO Communication Workers of America Tuesday signed a new contract providing for wage increases from $2.50 to $5.50.

The contract covers 18,500 non-supervisory employees of the firm in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The previous contract expired at midnight Aug. 9 and had been extended by agreement on a day-to-day basis since July 2.

A portion of the increase will require wage stabilization board approval. The contract is subject to ratification by the union membership.

The increases raised maximums for non-supervisory employees in the Minneapolis and St. Paul area to $92.50 and those in other metropolitan areas in the company territory to $90.

Omaha, Des Moines, Duluth and Davenport fall in the latter category.

The contract for the first time provides for discharges of employees with three years service or more may be taken to arbitration, a union spokesman said. Also, about 80 towns in the five state area were classified upward.

E. J. McNeely, Northwestern Bell president, said: "In a public service business, such as ours, there are no profit margins that permit absorbing such increased wage payments or other higher costs brought on by inflation and our prices will inevitably be affected."

Hunters Can Expect Larger Duck Flights To South This Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Fish and Wildlife service Monday said hunters can expect larger flights of wild ducks southward this fall than last year.

Hunting regulations on ducks and other migratory waterfowl and woodcock are expected to be issued the last week of this month. But the service made public part of the report by Director Albert M. Day to the new waterfowl advisory committee.

"With increased breeding population and production, it seems definite that there will be a major increase in the number of ducks moving southward through the central flyway this year."

"The fall flight of ducks in the Mississippi flyway will undoubtedly show a moderate improvement over last year," he said.

Day said the forecast was based on an analysis of cooperative surveys made on the waterfowl breeding grounds this spring and summer.

Russian-Built Car Smuggled into U.S.

SAN PEDRO, CALIF. (AP)—The American legation in Helsinki told him it wasn't possible. So did everyone else in Helsinki. But Stanley F. S. Slotkin did it anyhow.

The Los Angeles businessman smuggled a Russian-built automobile out of Finland.

While Slotkin isn't saying how he switched the English make car he took to Helsinki for the Russian job, the crated Russian car arrived Monday aboard the motorship Seattle.

The four-door sedan cost him $1,500 plus tax, Slotkin said.

The automobile, called a Pobeza, looks like a 1939 Ford with an Oldsmobile grill. The color of the car? Red, of course.

Coast Guard Cutter Makes Lonely Trip

WASHINGTON (CP)—If you have ever had the yen to get away from it all, a cruise aboard the United States coast guard cutter, Kukui, might be the answer to your problem.

The Kukui regularly makes what is probably the world's loneliest voyage—a year-long cruise covering more than 20,000 miles in the vastness of the south Pacific. It's a long, long trip.

The Kukui is a cargo vessel—a floating storehouse carrying everything from a toothpick to a radio antenna pole, including even a Quonset hut.

No Beauty

Though a cutter, she's no sleek beauty. She's big, the coast guard's largest vessel. There is 339 feet of her with a full load displacement of 6,802 tons and her deck covers nearly half an acre.

The Kukui has to be big. Her cargo consists of just about everything. It's a case of "you name it—we got it."

The cruise of the Kukui is unique and dramatic. She serves the world's loneliest men—the coast guardsmen who man our isolated Loran duty stations in the farflung atolls of the Pacific, providing their only link with civilization.

How important her mission is can be appreciated by a statement by Capt. Leon M. Morine, formerly the chief of coast guard morale, who says, "the average man can take it on an isolated duty station away from his family and friends for, perhaps, 12 months. Continuation beyond that point may break his spirit."

The Kukui helps break up this lonely duty. Many of the islands are uninhabited except for the coast guardsmen.

She calls at the Marshall islands, southernmost in the Loran chain, at Palau, the Marianas, and the Philippines to mention only a few. The Loran stations dot the Pacific and provide modern electrical aid to navigation.

Positions Plotted

Planes and ships receiving the Loran signals can plot their exact positions, instantly, day or night, in almost any weather.

To the average lonely "Loran-er" the arrival of the Kukui marks a date definition. Events are "BK" and "AK." (Before and after Kukui.) Probably the most desolate spot is French Frigate Shoals, 465 miles from Honolulu. The "island" at low tide is about 300 yards wide and about 500 yards long! It's flat, treeless and lonely. Every visitor gets a royal welcome.

The crew of the Kukui do almost everything. They build new buildings and roads, repair existing structures and equipment from a Diesel engine to a refrigerator. They dig wells, ditches, erect radio stations. Anything that the visited station needs.

Bulging Refrigerator

If you mess soiling, the Kukui will mend them. The ship's refrigerators bulge with fresh fruits and vegetables. If it's fresh eggs for breakfast, the Kukui has them. Chickens are housed in yards upon arrival, after being brought to the islands in crates. When they stop laying, it's off with their heads and chicken for dinner!

The ship's doctor and dentist work around the clock, and not only on station personnel, either. The islanders and their pets get attention too. Ueg, King of the Palau, got his royal heart checked and a royal molar (aching variety) pulled on a recent trip.

The native kids get their "shots," physicals, and the usual piece of candy from the medicos just as they do here in the family physician's office.

Movies Shown

Sometimes the islands are entertained by movies and other programs performed aboard the ship.

The Kukui is a floating library, chapel, theater and gymnasium. Equipment and supplies to make the Loran duty as enjoyable as possible are provided. The coast guard makes an effort to "pamper" the whims of men located on these far away stations.

The Kukui means that supply line and, in so doing, has become one of the most popular ships afloat.

Japan's National Treasure Looted; Hint of Corruption Shakes Country

TOKYO (AP) — A scandal of missing national treasure — including Empress Nagako's diamond-studded crown — shook Japan Wednesday with overtones of corruption involving wartime Japanese and American occupation officials.

A special committee of parliament investigating the long-remembered disappearance of millions of dollars of jewels, gold and platinum released a partial report Tuesday.

Most of the treasure was bought by the government for wartime use or was donated by citizens in patriotic drives, as was the case with the empress's crown. At the surrender, occupation authorities took custody.

Implications Clear

The report did not specify just where the loot went, but two implications were clear:

1. Japanese government officials had apparently embezzled some of the treasure during, or immediately after, the war.
2. Some American army officers may have walked off with part of it on the pretext of confiscating it for occupation purposes.

The Japanese press, increasingly critical of foreign misdeeds in Japan, leaped on the implications in the committee report.

The part of the report seized by the press as indicating the American occupation came at the end of the document — traditionally the place of prominence in a Japanese report.

To Determine Misconduct

It said in part: "This committee is going to determine whether there was any misconduct.

"Regarding this affair high-ranking occupation officers were convicted.

"The committee will continue careful investigations.

And it added it would clarify "how this affair stands under international law."

The last was possibly a tip-off that Japan may seek restitution of the missing gems and trial of any American offenders.

The reference to "high ranking occupation officers" was to the court-martial of Col. Edward J. Murray, former U. S. custodian of the Bank of Japan, who was convicted of stealing nearly $85,000 in diamonds.

Exact Amount Unknown

The exact amount of missing treasure is not known. One Japanese lawmaker said the government appropriated more than 400 million dollars for gems during the war, but the committee implied this was much too high. The committee could not agree on an estimate of the total missing.

The report merely cited a number of separate cases in which gem and bullion transfers were made with imperfect accounting.

DEVALUATION CONSIDERED

VIENNA, AUSTRIA (AP) — Informed sources reported Tuesday that Austria may soon devalue the exchange rate of the schilling. Import-export trade is presently carried on 21.36 schillings to the dollar. The new rate, these sources said, would be 26 to the dollar.

Edinburgh Welcomes Highlanders

Ten members of the championship Edinburgh police bagpipe band piped the SUI Scottish Highlanders into the station in the Scottish city Monday.

The Highlanders were arriving in Scotland after ten days of performances and sightseeing in England.

City councilman Douglas Wimberley assured the young Iowans of a warm welcome to the city of Edinburgh and to Scotland. The coeds were surprised and pleased by the reception they received in the first Scottish city on their two-week visit in the land of the pipes.

Edinburgh will be headquarters for the members of the bagpipe band during their stay in Scotland. They will present performances in Aberdeen, Iverness, Dundee and Glasgow in addition to Edinburgh.

French Girl to Study at SUI

Will Do Graduate Work in Physical Education On Iowa Clubwoman's Scholarship

A 22-year-old French girl will begin her graduate studies in physical education at SUI this fall as a result of the achievements and interest of Iowa's most prominent clubwoman.

Madeline Durand of Paris, France, will attend SUI on the Dorothy Houghton scholarship, established by the board of directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Houghton, a resident of Red Oak, recently completed a two-year term as president of the international women's organization.

The Dorothy Houghton scholarship, the only "named" educational grant ever to be made by the federation, is a tribute to Mrs. Houghton's leadership.

Mrs. Houghton Honored

The scholarship was designated in recognition of Mrs. Houghton's "executive ability, her active concern for the peoples of the world, and for her unremitting efforts in channeling the resources of the federation toward the promotion of world peace."

Under Mrs. Houghton's leadership, the General Federation of Women's Clubs raised $335,000 for CARE packages, $98,000 for foreign and local scholarships, wrote thousands of "good will" letters to families abroad, and shipped quantities of yard goods, sewing materials, clothing, school supplies, books and medical supplies to war-torn nations.

Also during her presidency, the federation sponsored four good will tours to foreign countries and five broadcasts over the Voice of

5 Million Cars-a-Year Rate Seen by Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The auto industry may be able to start 1953 at a production rate of five million cars a year, national production authority officials said Tuesday.

Anticipating fairly early recovery from effects of the steel strike, NPA is studying a proposal to provide steel, copper and aluminum for 1,250,000 cars and 300,000 trucks in the first quarter of next year.

This would be a significant boost from the present ceiling of 1,150,000 cars and 275,000 trucks each quarter—a rate which is expected to prevail until the end of this year.

5 SUI AFROTC Men Attend Texas Camp

Five officers and non-commissioned officers of the SUI AFROTC staff attended the 1952 summer camp at Reese air force base at Lubbock, Tex.

They are Maj. Gen. G. Saxton Jr., Maj. Glenn H. Kieffer, Lt. Col. Roy W. Arrowood, M. Sgt. Jack C. Lansinger and M. Sgt. Ned F. Wilbur.

In addition one other officer, Capt. Howard Q. Dawson, attended camp at Clovis air force base in Clovis, N.M.

All of the officers and NCO's are on the teaching staff of the SUI AFROTC detachment.

Name Change Means Fortune for Canadian

KINGSTON, ONT. (AP) — A home and $250,000 awaits Lt. Col. Edward Murray McNaughton on condition that he change his last name "legally and publicly" to Leslie.

Lt. Col. McNaughton, now serving with the Canadian forces in Korea, is the son of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission.

The unusual request is the main provision in the will of Mrs. James Norman Stuart Leslie, who died here May 19. Her husband, Col. Leslie, died a year ago. Col. McNaughton was described in the will as Mrs. Leslie's nephew. It calls for a $250,000 "Leslie trust."

The will says that if Col. McNaughton, who is unmarried, refuses to change his last name, children of any future marriage are to be given a similar opportunity.

If he accepts the conditions, he will receive the income from the trust fund and have the privilege of living in the Leslie house here.

2 Damage Suits Filed After Crash Kills Baby

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — Two damage suits for more than $20,000 were filed in District Court here Tuesday as an aftermath of an auto accident in which a 2½ month-old baby girl was killed last Saturday.

The suits were filed by Virgil Schmiekle, 22, father of the child and estranged husband of the mother, Mrs. Shirley Schmiekle.

Named as defendants were Wesley Rodin, 28, of Cedar Rapids, who is being held on a manslaughter charge, and the owners of the car involved. They are William Gustoff of Jefferson and Ed Gustoff of Cedar Rapids.

Mrs. Schmiekle told police Rodin wanted to marry her and she refused. She said they quarreled while riding with the baby and that he speeded up the car, crashing into a pole.

YOUTH LEADERS FIRED

VIENNA (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia purged more of its youth leaders Tuesday and there were hints Hungary may be planning to follow suit. The Prague newspaper Rude Pravo revealed that at least seven leaders of Czech Youth Federation have either been fired or "resigned" in the wake of the dismissal of Chairman Zdenek Jezlar Aug. 9.

A.F.L. Wants T-H Amendment Plus New Labor Law

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Leaders of the American Federation of Labor Tuesday decided their drive to get a new labor law should include a united effort to get the Taft-Hartley law amended.

AFL President William Green said the executive council for the eight-million-member union had assigned to its Taft-Hartley committee the job of unifying attempts to get amendments through congress.

Daily Iowan Want Ads

Walcott, Paige et al —

If you or your dad (depending on your respective ages) were once a sandlot pitcher, but secretly aspired to be a major league pitcher, don't give up hope.

You still have a chance.

Or maybe you want to be a boxer or a jockey or a college football player.

Look at Satchel Paige of the Browns. It's a good bet that he's well over 50, yet just last week he pitched a 12-inning shutout win. And he's appeared in innumerable relief roles.

Ol' Satch is not alone, either.

Bobo Newsome, a good 45 years

PAIGE LEONARD
Aged but Effective

old, started in the big leagues in 1929 with Brooklyn and was enticed back to the majors this season by the Washington Senators.

Recently he was picked up by the Philadelphia Athletics as a reliever.

Emil "Dutch" Leonard, who I understand is 43, appeared for the Chicago Cubs in both ends of Sunday's doubleheader with Pittsburgh, his 39th and 31st relief tasks this year. His 32nd appearance was Tuesday.

Dutch, he has played for both the American and National leagues in the all-star game, has probably warmed up in the bullpen during 30 or 40 more of the Cubs' run-filled games but wasn't called upon.

Forty-one-year-old Al Benton is getting a new lease on his baseball life with the Boston Red Sox. He spent nine full seasons with Detroit before being declared "washed up" in 1949.

After a few months in the coast league he came up with Cleveland and then faded again.

These clubs are probably mulling to themselves now for ever releasing him — he picked up two wins in relief just last week for the BoSox.

In boxing, of course, there's the World's Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott — who still insists that he's under 40.

Jersey Joe has the rather unusual distinction of beating both Harold Johnson, a light heavyweight who fights out of Philadelphia, and Johnson's father!

And this should make clear just how old Walcott is. Johnson's father, who is now 47, has made the statement that "Walcott at the time we fought was either a year younger or a year older than I was. I don't remember which."

That makes Walcott either 46 or 48, both ages well along for the rugged fight game.

Jockey Johnny Longden, who breaks a record every time he's up on a winner, is in his forties. Only one jockey in the world — England's Gordon Richards — tops Johnny's number of victories.

Johnny has averaged 180 winners annually to make him one of the richest guys in horseracing.

Another aging jockey is 45-year-old Nick Wall who recently rode a triple and led the Saratoga-at-Jamaica riders with 13 victories during the 12-day meeting.

Michigan's Al Wistert was 33 when he made all-America. It's too bad Iowa's Forest Evashevski used up his eligibility at Michigan before turning to the professional field of coaching.

He might have to suit up and lead the blocking for Dusty Rice on some end sweep attempts this fall.

If you're under retirement age, better dig out that old glove from the attic and get in trim — you never know when the scouts will be pounding at your door.

Atlanta, Ga., is known for its Atlanta Crackers professional baseball club and also for its state penitentiary.

A Cracker manager of a few years back received a job application letter from an aging hurler — evidently not the caliber of Paige or Leonard, though — who said that he wanted to end his career in Atlanta.

The manager reportedly sent back this answer, "Why don't you just hold up a post office!"

IOWA MAN ELECTED

MURRAY, UTAH (AP) — Louis Dean, Pomona, Calif., was elected president of the national horse-shoe association which concluded its 1952 world championships Monday night at Murray Park. Other officers included Dale Dixon, Des Moines, Ia., third vice-president.

Red Sox Fall To A's In 13

BOSTON (AP) — Billy Hitchcock singled in Gus Zernial with the winning run Tuesday night to give the Philadelphia Athletics' right-handed Carl Scheib a 13-innings 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Clyde Vollmer belted a two-run homer in the eighth to put the Red Sox into a 3-3 deadlock.

The victory was at the expense of veteran Al Benton, who relieved Dizzy Trout as the 12th inning got underway. Benton set the first three Athletics down in order and then ran into trouble when Zernial opened the 13th with a single to left.

Elmer Valo followed with a sacrifice and, after Cass Michaels fled to center, Hitchcock came through with his game-winning blow.

The Athletics bunched four of their 12 hits for three runs in the top of the fourth inning.

Scheib's seventh win against four losses enabled the Chicago White Sox to climb over the Chicago White Sox into fifth place.

ChiSox Edged, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jim Dyck's two home runs, one in the eighth and the other in the 11th, gave the St. Louis Browns a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday. They were his 12th and 13th homers of the season.

Gene Bearden, in going all the way for the Browns, limited the Sox to five hits. He found a worthy pitching foe in Chuck Stobbs who held the Browns to five hits before he was relieved in the 10th inning.

Luis Aloma came in to strike out Bob Nieman with Freddie Marsh on second and two outs in that inning. He gave way to a pinch hitter in the Sox 11th and Dyck hit his game winning homer off reliever Harry Dorish's first pitch.

Chicago scored in the sixth after Bearden had held them hitless for five rounds. Minnie Minoso's single, Ed Robinson's double and an intentional pass to Sam Mele filled the bases. Minoso was forced at the plate on Jim Rivera's grounder to Bobby Young, but Robinson scored on Sherm Lollar's long fly and Mele followed across the plate on Willie Miranda's single.

Rookie Stops Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Stuart Miller, a 24-year-old righthander from Northampton, Mass., broke into the major leagues Tuesday by pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Hal Rice's first inning single scored Red Schoendienst with the game's only run as Miller blanked the Cubs on six hits — half of them credited to Chicago's Hank Sauer, who belted a double and two singles.

It was a tense, drama — packed battle right to the finish—Miller getting Bill Schoendienst Serena, the Cubs' second baseman, with a called third strike on a 3 and 2 pitch for the last out with Chicago runners on first and third base.

Miller recently was recalled from the Cardinals' American association farm club at Columbus with a 11-5 record.

Bob Rush, the ace of the Chicago staff, was the victim of Miller's brilliant success. He was trying for his twelfth win.

Dutch Leonard hurled the last round after Rush was lifted for a pinch batter in the Chicago eighth.

BEARS WIN, 14-9

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Chicago Bears edged the Pittsburgh Steelers, 14-9, in a National league professional football exhibition game Tuesday night.

Face 'Toughest' All-Star Team — Rams Look Ragged in Drills

REDLAND, CALIF. (AP) — There is anything but overconfidence in the camp of the Los Angeles Rams as they prepare to leave today for their Friday football date in Chicago with the College All-Stars.

Not only did the Rams look ragged in a practice outing with a face field that Stydhar has stepped up his ground game for the engagement with the All-Stars.

The squad breaks camp Tuesday night and leaves from Los Angeles by plane Wednesday morning.

Here's what the Ram coach says of the All-Stars: "In all sincerity and frankness I am convinced that we are about to meet the strongest All-Star team in the history of the annual game. It is a team without a weakness simply because the coaches were first selected and then told to pick their own players."

Then he added: "The collegians may be amateurs, but they certainly aren't boys."

KLONTZ QUALIFIES

EUGENE, ORE. (AP) — Ottumwa's Herb Klontz qualified for the opening round of the annual Jaycee National Junior Golf tournament, adding another 75 Tuesday to the 75 he carded Monday for a total of 150 strokes. This tied him with two others for third place in the qualifying rounds. Tom Jacobs of Montebello, Calif., had 142 to take medalist honors.

Joe has even called some secret drills this week in final preparation for his 45-man squad which includes 25 members of the 1951 pro champions.

The top offensive weapon for the Rams is expected to be the passing of quarterbacks Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin in the receiving of ends Tom Fears and Elroy Hirsch. But there have been reports from the praccouple of navy aggregations last week, but Coach Joe Stydhar claims they'll face the toughest All-Star team ever.
