Early Arrivals on Campus Begin 'Operation Clean-Up'

RUSH WEEK AT SUI STARTS SUNDAY and most of this week fraternity and sorority members have been arriving on the SUI campus. Most of the houses have been vacant since the summer session ended so the active members have been busy getting the houses in shape for the coming week. In the picture on the left two members of Alpha Chi Omega are hanging curtains in one of the rooms. Standing on the chair is Marlene Killing, A3, Henderson, and Shirley Smith, C4, Whitten, is helping her. Action is gaining momentum at the Phi Delta Theta house. Two members of that house are shown putting their clothes away in preparation for going to work. They are (left to right) Don Hoye, P2, Estherville, and Bob Linder, A3, Oelwein.

Greek Houses Buzzing As Rush Week Nears

Many of the SUI fraternity men and sorority women returned to the campus this week to prepare their chapter houses for rush week which starts Sunday.

Rush week will bring a host of prospective pledges to the campus and old members will want to have their houses ready for the rounds of parties, dances and teas that will be staged during the next week.

Most of the new freshmen and transfer students from other colleges will be participating in rush week.

Most of the rest who are not interested in joining a fraternity or sorority will be living in the various SUI dormitories.

Dormitories More Crowded

From the basis of advance dormitory assignments, both from new students and from former residents, the dormitories will be more crowded this year than in 1951-52.

On the same basis it is likely that total SUI enrollment will also be greater than it was a year ago.

Already Currier hall women's dormitory is filled and Currier annex is to be used to accommodate the overflow. Its annex was not needed last year.

Hillcrest, men's boarding dormitory, also has more reservations made in it than it did at the same time last year.

Quad To Be Filled

On the basis of reservations in the other men's dormitories, the Quadrangle and the South Quadrangle, will also be filled this fall.

SUI officials point out that while there may be a greater number of dormitory reservations this fall, it is no sign that the total university enrollment will be larger or even an indication of what the total may be.

One of the big enrollment factors which cannot now be determined is how many of last year's students have entered the armed forces, the officials indicated.

The number of Korean war veterans who may enroll at SUI may affect the total number of students, but this is also an unknown factor.

Officials Expect Drop

University officials expect that enrollment this fall may be less than the 1951 figure of 7,362. They say that the loss through the armed forces could offset the apparent gain indicated by the increased number of dormitory reservations.

SUI dormitories will go back to a seven-day board week rather than the five-day week operated on last year.

The Law Commons is being reopened and will be used to house fraternity rushes. Its later use has not yet been determined.

SUI to Sponsor Plumbing Course

A unique three-day short course in plumbing and heating will be offered Iowa plumbers, Oct. 9-11, Dean F. M. Dawson of the SUI college of engineering announced Thursday.

Purpose of the new course will be to provide registrants a better understanding of the technical and social considerations involved in plumbing.

Acheson did not refer specifically to Eisenhower in this connection.

"We believe, as anyone must who shares the democratic faith, that free societies can and will be more durable, and that ultimately they must exercise a strong attraction that will shift the balance in our favor," Acheson said.

Troubles End as In-Law Moves

CHICAGO (AP) — Lawyers reported Thursday that a problem in matrimonial mathematics prescribed by a divorce court judge has worked out well for 27-year-old Roger Hathorn.

Roger subtracted his mother-in-law from his household and removed his appetite, his bedroom and the affections of his wife.

Roger, a radio time salesman, had been sued for divorce by his 22-year-old wife, Kathryn, who charged cruelty.

Told Circuit Judge Leonard C. Reid at a hearing Aug. 26 that his trouble started when his wife's mother, Mrs. Katherine McElroy, from Milwaukee, arrived for an extended visit and forced him to sleep on a couch. He said he started staying out late.

Judge Reid advised him to "be nice to your mother-in-law and she might move out voluntarily and then maybe you can win her back again."

Circuit Judge Julius H. Miner dismissed the divorce suit Thursday when lawyers advised that the couple had become reconciled and that Mrs. McElroy had agreed to return to Milwaukee.

Forceful Freeing of Satellites Called 'Disastrous' by Acheson

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Thursday night any attempt to free Communist-enslaved countries by force would be "a positive prescription for disaster."

Acheson's statement, made in a speech prepared for the convention of the AFL International Association of Machinists obviously was prompted by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's recent declaration that the United States should not rest until the Communist-dominated countries of Eastern Europe are liberated.

Advocates Peaceful Means

Eisenhower followed up this declaration—made to the American Legion convention in New York—with assurances that he was advocating only peaceful measure to help captive peoples throw off Red rule.

Acheson did not refer specifically to Eisenhower in this connection.

"We believe, as anyone must who shares the democratic faith, that free societies can and will be more durable, and that ultimately they must exercise a strong attraction that will shift the balance in our favor," Acheson said.

SAN SABA, Tex. (AP) — Central Texas rivers, fed by near-record torrential rains and broken dams, went on record rampages Thursday, taking at least four lives and sending 100 or more families fleeing from their homes.

Helicopters rescued some persons from rooftops and trees.

Bridges were washed out and highways inundated. Schools closed. Highway patrol and military units sought desperately to reach isolated towns and local national guard units were mobilized.

McGranery To Release Vote Fraud Files

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators disclosed Thursday that Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery has agreed to throw open the justice department's files on 1946 Kansas City vote fraud scandals involving possible political dynamite and actual murder.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) said he understands McGranery has agreed to permit examination of the complete files, including documents on one case which he said former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath refused to give up.

Keating's Request Denied

Keating told a reporter McGranery balked when a house judiciary subcommittee first requested the files several months ago, on the ground that the whole episode had been thoroughly investigated by congressional com-

Highlander Says Scots Are Wonderful

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) — Tearfully, Marilyn Peterson, said Thursday she thinks Scotland is wonderful, the people there are wonderful, and the scenery is about the best ever.

Miss Peterson, who returned this week from a tour of Europe with the SUI Highlanders, was roundly criticized at Iowa City Wednesday for having told a reporter that Scot lasses "never cut their hair" and that she drank so much tea that it "started discoloring my teeth."

Speaking before an Iowa City Lions club luncheon, six other members of the Highlander bagpipe troop defended the Scots.

Reading reports of the Iowa City interviews "just broke Marilyn's heart," according to Mrs. Raymond G. Peterson, her mother.

Marilyn added that she "about died" when she heard of the Iowa City incident.

Acheson defended administration policy as one which is steadily building up the strength of the free world, and challenged its critics to get down to cases.

Taft to Confer with Ike In GOP Harmony Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft will confer here today with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in a harmony talk to cement Republican party ranks.

The Republican presidential nominee's headquarters announced the conference as Taft arrived by plane from Cincinnati.

The 5:30 a.m. (Iowa time) breakfast conference will be the first political conference of the two since Eisenhower defeated Taft for the nomination.

Good Humor

Taft was in smiling good humor as he stepped from his plane at LeGuardia field late Thursday. He told reporters, however, "I am not going to say anything about the meeting."

Earlier Taft's Ohio headquarters said he will "speak for the whole party ticket" in a speech at Springfield, O., Sept. 17.

Wednesday Taft told reporters he would not announce his policy of campaigning this fall until he conferred with Eisenhower.

The note of harmony was sounded by Republican Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey — a staunch supporter of Eisenhower and an old friend of Taft's.

Emerging smiling from a luncheon conference with Eisenhower, Smith told newsmen:

Ex-Revenue Official Indicted on Charge Of Evading Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former No. 2 man of the federal internal revenue bureau was indicted Thursday on charges of evading his own income taxes.

He is Daniel A. Bolich, 52, a veteran of 29 years on the public payroll.

If convicted, he faces a maximum penalty of 25 years in prison plus a $50,000 fine. The indictment lodges five separate counts against him.

Bolich was an unwilling and silent witness earlier this year before a congressional subcommittee inquiring into tax scandals. The committee claimed information that Bolich "received considerable sums of money under . . . suspicious circumstances."

Bolich quit last November in the midst of the house ways and means subcommittee inquiry. He gave his health as his reason. He then was assistant revenue commissioner, second-ranking official of the internal revenue bureau.

Last April, Bolich refused to answer questions of the House subcommittee as to how he could afford to buy $30 shirts and spend twice his government salary.

In fact, he refused to answer any questions.

Bolich said any answers he might make might tend to incriminate him.

Reporter Forces Issue

A reporter said that during his flying trip here Wednesday Eisenhowe had said that the people are more interested in a change than in peace. What did the President know about that?

Truman said he doesn't think that is true. He said he thinks the great thing every country in the world is interested in is peace.

Letter Shows President Wilson Had Income Tax Troubles Too

SALISBURY, Md. — The 27th President of the United States — just like you and I — had trouble with his income tax, too.

Once, in a personal letter, Woodrow Wilson apologized to the collector of internal revenue for a mistake in filling out his income tax return. The polite, presidential letter was dated April 5, 1918 — just at the height of World War I.

On another occasion, the First Executive took time out from his harassed life during the Paris Peace Conference in 1919 to send another note to the collector. It was personally typed by the President himself. Inside, was enclosed a good sized ($897.08) tax check from the President for Uncle Sam.

These facts are revealed in some letters of the President which turned up in some trash in the former home of the late Joshua Miles in Princess Anne, Md. During the Wilson administration, Miles was tax collector for the district of Maryland and Columbia. He was also a one-time member of the 54th congress.

The discoverer of the letters, J. Tolman Gilder of Princess Anne, plans to make a gift of one to Wilson's birthplace at Staunton, Va. The President's early home is now a museum.

At the museum this spring, by chance, Gilder met Mrs. Wilson, the President's widow who lives in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Wilson agreed to accept Mr. Gilder's offer of the letter referring to the tax error for the museum.

Interpreting the News —

U.S.-European Relations Reach Straining Period

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States is definitely heading into a period of strained relations with its European partners.

All hands will begin on the basis of trying to meet mutual problems, but as the custodian of policy on Korea, and holder of the key to the world treasury, the U. S. will be the one to be argued at and perhaps against.

First among the issues to be taken up formally will be United Nations Korean policy. It will come up at the general assembly meeting just as the U. S. is preparing to change national administrations. Nobody is happy about it. Some want to try to shift from true negotiations in the military area to political negotiations in the UN. There's going to be quite a wrangle.

Europe Having Troubles

The Europeans, caught in economic troubles, have forced the calling of a North Atlantic Treaty organization meeting in December, also during the American political twilight, for a reappraisal of their roles in the general defense program.

This, however, is only an offshoot of the general Allied economic situation about which no formal general conference has been arranged, but which is the subject of constant negotiations and will come to a head early next year.

It revolves around the imbalance between European exports and imports from the dollar area.

All sorts of measures are being proposed. William H. Draper, Jr., special ambassador to Europe in charge of military and economic aid programs, reports that unless a balance can be restored there is real danger of "a deep and perhaps disastrous fissure."

Draper Approves Policy

Draper, a Republican, agrees with Democratic administration policy that the answer should be increased American purchases of foreign products, produced by lower tariffs and removal of other trade hindrances.

U. S. exports are now running from five to six billion dollars a year ahead of imports. A year or so ago it was four billions. The gap is increasing, requiring continued U. S. government expenditures for foreign aid.

Brings on Campaigns

This has brought on campaigns among the foreign customers to cut their purchases to bare essentials. That hasn't worked.

Now France is proposing that ground rules for government by Sen. Conrad H. Goldwater, president of the Senate, prepare a formal proposal.

"We will not let them out of our society," he said. "They must stay here. They are part of us."

VA Tips Vets About Delays In GI Training

The Veterans Administration Thursday told veterans how they can prevent unnecessary delay in applying for education and training under the new Korean GI bill.

First, the VA said, veterans should send their completed applications for training to the nearest regional office, and not to the VA's headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Hundreds of applications have been coming into Washington. This merely delays things, since the central office must then forward the papers to the correct regional office for action.

All sorts of measures are being proposed. William H. Draper, Jr., special ambassador to Europe in charge of military and economic aid programs, reports that unless a balance can be restored there is real danger of "a deep and perhaps disastrous fissure."

The Second Way

Veterans can prevent unnecessary delay is to make certain they include photostatic or certified copies of both sides of their discharge or separation papers, along with their application for GI training.

The VA must have the information contained on both sides, in order to process the applications. A photostat of one side alone does not contain all the necessary data. The VA then would have to write to the veteran for the additional information, and such an exchange of letters would take up much additional time.

A third way veterans can help the VA to help them is by completely filling out their application forms for educational training. The form has five sections which veterans must complete:

- (1) Identification of the veteran.
- (2) Program of education and training applied for.
- (3) Education and training received while on active duty.
- (4) Civilian education.
- (5) Employment experience.

Unless all the necessary information is included on the form the VA can't take action on the veteran's applications.

Tavern Operator Held in Shooting

SIOUX CITY (AP) — The County Attorney's office filed a charge of assault with intent to commit murder against Peter Karras, 58-year-old Sioux City tavern operator, in the district court Wednesday.

Karras is accused of shooting his partner, George Hefner, 62, as a result of an argument Tuesday over business affairs. They jointly operated the downtown Embassy Tap.

Preliminary hearing on the charge against Karras was scheduled for Sept. 25. He was released under $5,000 bond.

Meanwhile, Hefner still was in critical condition at a hospital. He was suffering from a bullet wound in the abdomen. Karras was an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination for city superintendent of public safety in 1946.

ITALIAN SINGERS AVOID MET

NEW YORK (AP) — Italian opera singers have become reluctant about taking jobs with the Metropolitan Opera because the pay here is lower, Rudolph Bing, general manager, said Thursday.

Fifty of the organizations have put 200 volunteer workers on assignment to supplement the work of hospital personnel in personal services, occupational therapy, recreation and other activities.

Welfare Groups Praised By VA Hospital Official

Jack Hunn, chief of special services at the Iowa City Veterans hospital, praised the response of the Iowa City service and welfare organizations in the hospitals voluntary service program.

The mission of the welfare groups is to help the VA to help them by completely filling out their application forms for educational training. The form has five sections which veterans must complete:

The Iowa quota in this year's appeal is $100,000. South Dakota's goal is $50,000. Dinner at the Nicoll hotel at 6:30 p.m. will conclude the day's sessions.

3 Widows Share Dead Man's Will

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three women named Carrie Belle claimed a $3,000 insurance policy left by Benny I. Martin, 49, of Donora, Pa.

Here's the decision reached Wednesday by Federal District Judge Rabe Marsh after he learned Martin had three wives with the same name:

Jessie Mae Carrie Belle Martin of Dawson, Ga., didn't show up in court — and got nothing. Alice Carrie Belle Allen of Donora got $2,000 and Carrie Belle Ward Gardner of Atlanta, Ga., got $1,000.

Martin died Feb. 9, 1951, leaving his insurance "to my wife, Carrie Belle."

Stevenson Claims Party Ousted Reds

Counters Charges Made by McCarthy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said Thursday night "we have driven Communists out of any places of responsibility they may have gained in our society," and "we will not permit them to return."

Speaking against the background of GOP "Communists-in-government" charges as set forth by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, the Democratic presidential nominee said in a prepared address at the Shrine auditorium:

"We have driven Communists out of any places of responsibility they may have gained in our society. We will expose and identify them at every step along the way. We will not permit them to return."

Follows Another Speech

The Illinois governor's Shrine auditorium address came after another speech here, on the corruption in government issue, in which he declared:

"Sound government ends when the special interests call the tune."

In that earlier speech, to a Town Hall luncheon audience, Stevenson also declared he has not and will not condone wrongdoing or moral obliquity in public office.

He also told that audience the Democrats have taken the lead in voting to wipe out any rascality in government. And he denounced what he called "irresponsible with hunting" of federal employees.

Uses Same Theme

Showing that same theme in his address Thursday night, Stevenson declared:

"The real fears — of war, of depression, of communism — have stirred up a fantasy of fear, in which those who live by fear of others have had a field day."

"I don't need to tell this audience anything about smog. And today our vision has been clouded by political smog — deliberately manufactured and deliberately spread by those who have lost faith in the creed of liberty."

The Democratic nominee's two speeches here came after he had attended a warm homecoming ceremony Thursday morning at the place of his birth.

Looks to Future

The governor's address Thursday night was built around the theme of America's future, which he said will be much brighter under a continued Democratic regime than it would be if the Republicans are voted into power in November.

Stevenson said the GOP leadership "sometimes talks big but it acts small" when it comes to meeting the nation's needs.

Stevenson called the Republicans the party of the past and the party of fear, and said "they have always been afraid of tomorrow."

On the other hand, he credited the Democrats with being the party of vision and faith in America's future.

Commerce Agency Continues Hearing On Crandic Request

The Iowa state commerce commission took no action on the application of the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway Co. to operate buses in this area at the hearing conducted Wednesday in Cedar Rapids.

The commission, however, did continue the hearing until Oct. 9.

The commission also heard complaints from the residents of Corvallis, Cou Falls, Oakdale, and North Liberty on the service offered since it was reduced in July.

It suggested that the proposed schedule of interurban and bus service between here and Cedar Rapids be revised before the October hearing.

The Crandic had submitted an application to the commission to operate buses to supplement its present interurban service in this area.

The commission is to conduct a hearing on an application of American Buslines Inc., to expand the company's bus service in this area at 9:45 a.m. Sept. 23 in the county auditor's office.

The hearing in Cedar Rapids was held at the Linn county court house. It started at 9:30 a.m. and lasted until about 5 p.m. with a recess for lunch.

University High Classes Slated to Start Tuesday

Classes at University high school will begin Tuesday following the completion of registration today.

Registration began Thursday and will end today. The University elementary school will start its school year the following Monday, Sept. 22, latest of any school in Johnson county.

Sophomores, juniors and seniors will register today at the school. Seventh, eighth and ninth graders registered Thursday.

The high school faculty will hold a meeting Monday.

POLICEMEN WERE OBLIGED TO USE FORCE to clear a way through a picket line in escorting a lone woman worker (hidden behind officers) at the main plant of the Lockheed Aircraft corporation in Burbank, Calif., Tuesday. The unidentified woman struggling with police is a picket. The plant is now in its sixth day of a strike called by the AFL International Association of Machinists.

Too Much Noise

NEW YORK (AP) — It was to be the biggest noise yet in noisy New York. Civil Defense Chief Arthur Wallander had issued urgent warnings to prevent panic and to inform the public that the mighty blast would only be a test of the city's mightiest air raid siren.

So the big machine, powered by an eight-cylinder engine, Thursday was ferried to the middle of New York harbor, from where its scream was expected to carry for miles. Promptly on schedule, it was turned on full blast.

Observers in Brooklyn and Manhattan who were supposed to be able to hear it, heard nothing, but the usual traffic bedlam. Said a disappointed civil defense spokesman: "There's just too much other noise in this town."

2 Farmers Killed In Freak Accidents

OSKALOOSA (AP) — Two farmers in the Oskaloosa area were killed in separate tractor accidents Thursday. The victims were Dallas J. Threlkeld, 54, who lived just southeast of Oskaloosa, and Grover L. Musgrave, 59, of the nearby Evans community. No one saw either mishap.

County Attorney General Robert L. Larson has ruled that under a Supreme Court decision bingo games operated without charge to the players do not constitute gambling.

The other games closed Wednesday were ones in which patrons threw balls at stuffed cloth cats and a "Supermarket," in which a vertical roulette-type wheel was operated.

A truck driver who was passing by the Musgrave place saw Musgrave pinned under an overturned tractor. The truck driver went to Musgrave's aid but found him to be dead. Musgrave was the father of Jimmy Musgrave, killed last year in a stock car race in Oskaloosa.

PILFERERS POCKETS

ROME (AP) — Police arrested a three-armed pickpocket Monday. They said Francesco Pilleggi, 32, wore an artificial right arm in a sling to divert attention while his good right hand pilfered victims in a crowded street car.

Tax Officials Reduce Receipts Of Bum Checks

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa tax commission's more vigorous policy against bum checks and delinquencies in sales tax payments has largely removed one of the agency's biggest headaches, a commission spokesman said Thursday.

"The situation has improved very much since we warned retailers last spring that we would no longer tolerate bum checks and delinquencies," Ray Johnson, a member of the commission, related. He added:

Situation Not Perfect

"Of course, the situation is not 100 per cent perfect. We don't expect that it ever will be. But we're not having the trouble we used to over that business."

The commission warned that the chronic delinquents thereafter would wake up one day to find their sales tax permits revoked. It said also that bad checks would be turned over to the proper sheriff for collection.

"When we notify a retailer now that his permit will be revoked in 10 days for delinquency in sending in his sales tax collections, why, we get the money pronto," Johnson commented. "This has turned out to be a most effective club."

Bad Checks Still Received

"We haven't stopped the bum checks. But our system results in catching up with this type of fellow before a second bad one. It used to be the second quarter before we caught up with this practice. We try now to catch them in the quarter for which they gave the bum check."

A retailer collects the sales tax at the time purchases are made, then relays the total to the commission at the end of a quarter. A 5 per cent penalty is imposed on both delinquents and those who give bad checks.

SUI Union President Accepts New AFL Post

George Parks, former president of the SUI Employees' Union No. 12, will become business representative of the Iowa Council of State, County and Municipal Employees affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

He resigned his local union post at the regular business meeting Wednesday night.

Ike Is Choice of Most Editors, Poll Shows

Results of a grassroots poll of United States publishers show that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the man they believe their readers want for president.

The poll shows opinions of 3,062 weekly papers and 449 dailies throughout the U.S.

Eisenhower also is the overwhelming personal choice of 70 per cent of the daily publishers made the same choice. Twenty-five per cent of the weekly publishers personally favored Stevenson and 23 per cent of the daily publishers favored the Illinois governor. Eight per cent of the weekly and 7 per cent of the daily publishers were undecided.

To the question: "My personal choice at this time is whom?"

Ike Again Is Choice

Sixty-four per cent of the weekly publishers responding named Eisenhower and 70 per cent of the daily publishers made the same choice. Twenty-five per cent of the weekly publishers personally favored Stevenson and 23 per cent of the daily publishers favored the Illinois governor. Eight per cent of the weekly and 7 per cent of the daily publishers were undecided.

To the question: "I think the people of my community favor whom?"

Two-Thirds Favor Ike

Sixty-four per cent of the weeklies and 65 per cent of the dailies named the general.

Twenty-six per cent of the weeklies and 23 per cent of the dailies indicated Gov. Adlai Stevenson, while 10 per cent of the weeklies and 12 per cent of the dailies were undecided.

To the question: "My paper will support editorially?"

Majority Support Ike

Forty-eight per cent of the weeklies and 56 per cent of the dailies said they would support Eisenhower, while 14 per cent of the weeklies and 13 per cent of the dailies responded.

the dailies showed up in the Steverson column.

Twenty-eight per cent of the weeklies and 20 per cent of the dailies indicated they would back neither candidate while 10 per cent of the weeklies and 11 per cent of the dailies were "undecided."

Iowa editors gave 58 per cent of their votes to Eisenhower and seven per cent to Stevenson in response to the above question.

Ten per cent were undecided and 23 per cent had chosen neither candidate.

Conducted by Auxiliary

This sampling of nation-wide editorial opinion was conducted by The Publishers' Auxiliary, a weekly newspaper published by Western Newspaper Union, and directed to the publishers and editors of the country's small town and weekly newspapers.

Ballots were mailed to 8,570 weekly and 1,406 daily newspapers. Thirty-five per cent, or 3,062 of the weeklies and 449 of the dailies responded.

JACK BENDER'S COLUMN-Sport-log

After four straight practices in which Iowa's grididers seemed to be getting worse instead of better, things are looking up at the Hawk-eye camp.

In the first scrimmage—a surprise one held last Thursday, September 4—Coach Forest Evashevski's squad was full of hustle and did well, especially considering their three-month summer layoff from practice.

Then, as the days grew warmer, the team became sluggish. Blocking fell off and passing was poor.

However, Evy let them off Tuesday with a light drill, and the squad responded Wednesday with a spirited scrimmage. Passing was effective and the blocking was better.

EVASHEVSKI RICE Thursday's practice was light, with an hour-long defensive scrimmage the only tough work of the day but the players again were full of chatter. Evy knocked things off at 4 p.m. instead of the usual 5:30 and showed his squad movies in the dressing room.

The heat has been a slowing factor in the Hawks' progress but says the Hawks' development is about on schedule.

DUSTY RICE'S APPEARANCE in Wednesday's scrimmage was a welcome one. He ran and passed well and didn't favor his injured right knee too noticeably. The trainers have taped him up well and they feel that this method will support better than a conventional brace.

Evy was plenty careful that Rice was not tackled—he blew his whistle any time a defensive player closed in. On defense, though, Rice made a couple of tackles himself without any bad effects. He will play safety as he did toward the end of last season.

Bernie Bennett is giving Binkey Broeder a run for his money in the fullback race. Even though Bernie is a senior and Evy is working on a youth movement to build the Hawks for the future, it's going to be tough to keep him on the bench.

Broeder is bothered by a bruised heel and is not taking part in the scrimmages for a while.

George Palmer, a 205-pound sophomore tackle who had been seeing action with the first team line, returned to practice Thursday after a two-day absence. He told coaches that he had been troubled by sore ankles and feet. Since he left the squad without first discussing it with the staff, Evy was rather reluctant to let him rejoin the squad.

End Marlow Eckhoff was excused from his second and third straight practices Thursday. He is at his Rockwell City home because of illness in the family.

Thursday's afternoon drill, the No. 1 defensive team worked against an offensive team of third and fourth stringers. The defense lined up with Ed Lindsey and Bill Fenton at ends, Don Chelf and Pete Spanjers at tackles, Tom Ellis and Chuck Booth at guards, Louie Matykiewicz and John Hall at linebackers, Jim Milani and Bernie Bennett at halfbacks and Rice at safety.

In the morning the Hawks worked mostly on kicking off and the subsequent blocking assignments.

Dan McBride, Iowa's pass-catching end, will have a sizeable cheering section if all his brothers and sisters attend the games. Dan has six sisters, ranging in age from 32 to 17, and two brothers. He is one ahead of Chuck Daniels, freshman halfback, who has five sisters and two brothers. Emmett Sawyer, guard, and Dick Wilke, tackle, each have three brothers and three sisters.

Married men on the Iowa football squad this year total five. Roy Hutchinson, tackle, has been married since 1948 and the other four were married in 1951—Tom Cory, Jerry Clark, Clyde Gardner and Jack Hess.

Out-state sports writers continue to look over the Iowa football squad on their tour of the Big Ten. Coming soon are Waddy Spoelstra, Detroit News, today and Walter Johns, Central Press, Cleveland, Monday. Bernie Bierman, the former Minnesota coach now writing for the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press, showed up Thursday although he wasn't expected until Saturday.
