THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'S NEW PROMOTION POSTER for Oct. 1st's College Night Open House for SUI students is shown to Peter F. Roan, city manager, by Leonard Hippchen, business manager of The Daily Iowan. About 60 Iowa City stores are expected to participate in the affair which will officially welcome students from 7 to 9 p.m. as a gesture of friendliness. Many valuable prizes will be given to those registering for them in the stores, and students may register at as many stores as they wish. Merchandise will be sold, though the stores will be open primarily for display and welcoming.

Nixon Places Fate Before Party As Eisenhower Delays Decision

Stevenson Sees Tighter Price, Wage Controls

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said Tuesday night tighter price and wage controls may be required because "we just can't be pulled or pushed any further into the twisting cyclone of inflation."

Addressing a wildly applauding crowd of 8,500 in Baltimore's 5th Regiment Armory, the Democratic presidential nominee declared in an event presided over by price and rent controls must be continued "until prices stop going up."

Outlining a four-point program to combat inflation, the Illinois governor also called for a trimming of federal spending with "a sharp knife and miserly eye."

Stevenson revised his prepared text to touch briefly on the recent steel industry strike which resulted in both wage and price increases.

He said there are many "pock-marked loopholes" in the present control laws and added if price increases are not halted before January, "tighter wage controls, as well as tighter price controls," will be needed.

Then he said: "I don't know whether the wage and price increases which came out of the steel case this year were required by what had happened elsewhere in the economy or not."

The Democratic presidential nominee set forth as "temporary pontoon bridges between abnormal and normal times" this four-point anti-inflation program:

1. Cutting non-essential federal expenditures "to the bare bones of safety."
2. Retention of price, rent and wage controls until the upward price spiral stops, and if it doesn't stop before the end of the year, further congressional action to stop it.
3. Curbs on "excessive private credit" to keep the "money market on an even, non-inflationary keel."
4. Taxes "as close as possible to a pay-as-we-go standard."

Tea Is Served at President's Reception

Nation's Voters Hear Defense Via Radio, TV

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Richard M. Nixon, pleading his case in a furor over an $18,000 expense fund, declared Tuesday night he is not a quitter and that he is submitting his political fate to the Republican national committee.

The Republican candidate for vice president said in an unprecedented radio-television report to the people that he will abide by the committee's decision, whatever it may be.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, speaking in Cleveland, called his running mate a "brave man" — indicating that the head of the ticket hoped that Nixon would stay on the ticket. And Eisenhower added:

Wants to Meet Nixon
"I shall make up my mind about what will be done as soon as I have had a chance again to meet Senator Nixon face to face."

Eisenhower said he did not mean to imply that "there will not be some who find new items to charge against him (Nixon)."

"But I do say this: That when a man, in furtherance of what he believes to be correct and right, stands up in front of all the American people — with his family beside him — and gives every evidence he can get hold of and bares the secret of his economic and financial life, he is a courageous man."

Set Meeting Wednesday
Eisenhower said he wants Nixon to fly to West Virginia to meet him Wednesday.

Nixon referred to Eisenhower as a "great man."

He denied any wrongdoing in accepting money he said was used entirely for political expenses.

And then, turning on the Democrats who have demanded his resignation, he demanded an accounting by Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama on the Democratic ticket.

Claimed Smear Tactics
The California senator, in a desperate fight for his political life, claimed he was the victim of a smear and of misunderstanding.

He came very close to saying he would not, at his own volition, quit as Eisenhower's running mate — that he would have to be fired off the ticket.

There have been growing signs in recent days that Eisenhower himself would be willing to retain Nixon. But there has been no expression by the party-steering committee itself.

"Let them decide," Nixon said dramatically, "whether my position on the ticket will help or hurt; and I am going to ask you to help them decide."

"Wire and write the Republican National Committee whether you think I should stay or whether I should get off; and whatever their decision is, I will abide by it."

Favorable Messages Swamp GOP Quarters

By The Associated Press
Telegrams poured into Washington early Wednesday in response to Sen. Richard M. Nixon's TV-radio appeal that people help the Republican National committee decide whether to keep him as the GOP vice-presidential candidate.

Some Western Union offices reported it was the biggest message deluge they ever handled.

The party's headquarters said the messages were overwhelmingly favorable toward Nixon.

Republican headquarters outside of Washington reported they too were receiving large numbers of telegrams.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential candidate and the man considered to hold the key to Nixon's fate, indicated to a Cleveland audience he favored keeping his running mate.

Caudle Claims Truman Regrets Ouster Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — T. Lamar Caudle testified Tuesday he has information right out of the White House that President Truman now believes he did "a grave injustice" in firing Caudle from an assistant attorney generalship last November.

But the White House came right back with a flat denial.

Roger Tubby, assistant press secretary, told newsmen there was "no truth in the assertion" that the President has had such a change of view.

No Comment on Testimony
At the same time he said there was no comment on another part of Caudle's testimony—that White House Secretary Matthew Connolly once made a successful call to Caudle to get a two-month delay in action on a St. Louis tax fraud case.

Caudle told congressional investigators his sources on the presidential reversal were Donald Dawson, a White House aide, and Rep. Boykin (D-Ala.). He said the lawmaker relayed the information to him after a White House call last March.

But he added that Boykin said he asked what Truman was going to do about it and got a question from the Chief Executive in reply: "What can I do?"

Caudle Fired Earlier
Caudle, formerly head of the justice department's criminal division and later in charge of tax fraud cases, testified before the house judiciary subcommittee which is investigating the department. He was let out in the midst of an earlier congressional inquiry into tax cases.

Truman said he acted because of "outside activities" which he said were incompatible with Caudle's post. He never gave details.

Caudle himself Tuesday insisted, as he has done all along, that he had done nothing wrong.

31st Induction Ceremony To Open School Year

Students and faculty members will gather on the west approach to Old Capitol Thursday morning for the 31st SUI induction ceremony.

The ceremony, to begin at 8:20 a.m., will formally open the 1952-53 school year at SUI.

All 7:30 classes will be dismissed at 8:10 a.m. so university students may attend the traditional opening exercises. Classes are expected to resume by 8:50 a.m.

All students were urged to attend the ceremony Thursday by Peter Van Metre, L4, Waterloo, student council president. He pointed out that "the induction ceremony affords an opportunity, especially for new students, to meet the administrative heads of their university."

"The induction day program provides, too, a serious note to the important task that lies ahead."

Professor Thornton Funeral Services Set for Thursday
Funeral services for Prof. H. J. Thornton of the SUI history department will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian church in Iowa City. The Rev. P. Hewison Pollock will officiate.

Professor Thornton died Monday evening at University hospitals after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage at registration that morning.

The family requests no flowers. Those who wish to express their sympathy may contribute to the Thornton fund which has been established at the First National bank. Contributions to the fund will be used to finance the publication of "Chataqua—Adventure in Popular Education," a book recently completed by Professor Thornton after 10 years of research and study.

The book is ready for publication but since it is a non-commercial type, financial assistance will be used for its initial publication.

in each school year," Van Metre said.

The SUI band will open the ceremony and the flag and the Old Gold pennant will be raised above Old Capitol.

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher and the deans and directors of SUI schools and colleges will assemble in the building and at 8:20 will march through the west doors two by two, then separate, forming a straight line at the railing of Old Capitol.

Hancher will deliver a brief address and administer the oath of allegiance to launch the 98th consecutive year of instruction at SUI.

M. Willard Lampe, director of the SUI school of religion, will offer the invocation, while William D. Coder, coordinator of veterans service, will introduce Hancher.

The ceremony, which lasts about 12 minutes, is presented as an induction into the seriousness of a college education. It offers a challenge as well as inspiration to the students.

According to Hancher, "The induction ceremony marks that moment at the beginning of our joint task at which each of us rededicates himself to the simple principles which govern our search for knowledge and truth."

Lower Selling Price
He said that the average selling price of a book at the exchange was about one-half the cost of a new one. A student desiring to purchase a book is shown several copies of the book he wants and selects the one he prefers.

The exchange is already ahead of last year's book receiving total. A year ago, only 1,761 books were received in the three days allotted for receiving, while this year over 1,800 books have been accepted in two days with a full day of receiving ahead today.

Receiving of used books from SUI students will officially end today, but if students are unable to bring their used books to the exchange by the 4:30 p.m. closing time, Isenberger said they will be accepted while sales are going on throughout the week.

Pick Up Books
Exchange hours are from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 to 4:30 p.m. through Saturday noon. Money and unsold books may be picked up Monday through Wednesday of next week.

The book exchange committee is expecting a busy day and has hopes of exceeding last year's first day sale of 305 books for $625.

Book Exchange Ready To Begin Sales Today

Used books go on sale at 9 a.m. today at the Student Council operated book exchange in the reading room on the first floor of Schaeffer hall.

Bill Isenberger, A2, Sioux City, chairman of the book exchange committee, said Tuesday evening that the exchange has received about 1,800 used books from SUI students to sell and has books from nearly all university study areas.

The exchange operates on a not-profit basis, taking 10 per cent for operating expenses. Under the financial plan used last year, two per cent went to the SUI treasurer's office for handling the financial end, two per cent to the state for sales tax and six per cent to the exchange itself for expenses.

The possibility of educational television at SUI received a shot in the arm early this week with the announcement that a new joint planning committee was appointed to study the problem.

The group will consist of members of the state department of public instruction, the state board of education, and representatives of state-owned colleges and universities.

The announcement of the committee's appointment was made jointly by Miss Jessie Parker, state superintendent of public instruction, and David Dancer, secretary of the board of education.

Cudahy Plants Halt Operations Awaiting Agreement with CIO

OMAHA (AP) — The Cudahy Packing company Tuesday ordered killing operations halted at its Omaha and Wichita plants until it has "full assurance" from the CIO United Packinghouse Workers union that "strike activity" and "slow down tactics" will cease.

Killing already has been suspended at the Sioux City plant and a company spokesman said a similar order affecting the Albany, Ga., plant will go out today. The Wichita plant, was idled Tuesday as about 1,200 workers joined in a walkout in protest against lack of a new contract.

The telegram announcing the suspension was sent by W. A. Lloyd, general manager of the Omaha plant, to Ole Johnson, president of the Omaha CIO local. A similar telegram was sent to the head of the Wichita local.

A copy of the telegram also went to Ralph Hellstein of Chicago, international president of the union, over the signature of A. B. Cudahy, general superintendent.

The telegram to the Omaha union head said workers in several departments left their jobs "without permission" Monday and Tuesday.

Ex-SUI Student Takes Stand in $108,000 Suit

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) — Lyman H. Elefson, 25, former SUI student, took the stand Tuesday in Federal court to describe some of his experiences during the 77 days he was held in connection with the poison death of his grandfather.

Elefson was the first witness called in his $108,000 damage suit against his uncle, Wayne A. Rhode of Tabor, Ia. Elefson alleges his uncle "falsely and maliciously" caused his arrest Nov. 30, 1949.

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEOUL, KOREA (AP) — Fighting slackened both on the ground and in the air Tuesday as the Korean war neared the end of its 27th month. The situation was relatively quiet after numerous small Communist units probed advance United Nations positions. All the thrusts were repulsed.

OSLO, NORWAY (AP) — Exercise Mainbrace came to an end Tuesday night and officers and men of the eight-nation NATO force, tired of fighting each other and the stormy North sea in a simulated war, prepared for a well-earned rest. The largest air and sea training operation ever held by the North Atlantic Treaty organization, the two-week exercise tested NATO's ability to come to the aid of Norway and Denmark in case of aggression.

CHICAGO (AP) — A 17-day-old Iowa baby, born with an unusual heart condition, arrived here by plane Tuesday for examination at Children's Memorial hospital. Janice Sue Breder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Breder who farm near Mediapolis, Ia., arrived by chartered plane from Burlington, Ia. He parents and a nurse, Mrs. Herbert Renninger of Mercy hospital at Burlington, accompanied the child. Physicians at Children's Memorial hospital said the infant will be examined Wednesday. Preliminary examination disclosed the little girl is suffering from a congenital heart condition. The Breders have three other children.

Cold War Getting Warmer

Allies Doubt Sincerity Of Soviet Unity Move

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst West German officials, discussing with East German Communists about "unity," have given them the answer which Russia herself will have to answer before there can be an end to the world's east-west struggle.

Many West Germans had expressed opposition to even receiving the five-man Communist delegation in Bonn. But Bundestag President Ehlers thought they should be permitted to make their move. He accepted delivery of a letter suggesting the establishment of committees to look into the possibilities of re-uniting the country. Then he said, in effect: "We can't do business with kidnapers referring numerous snatches across the dividing line in Berlin and operators of concentration camps."

Tried To Get Support The East Germans tried to get in touch with parliament members in an attempt to stir up some support for the program, but were hustled off through inimical crowds without being able to do so.

The whole business was a demonstration of West Germany's feeling that, no matter how desirable reunion may be, nothing satisfactory can be worked out with the Soviet puppets. As for the Soviet motive, it becomes ever clearer that it is merely an effort to make the West Germans hesitate before confirming the division by joining the European defense community, which they are expected to do within a few weeks.

Italian Quotes Stalin The Italian community leader Nenni was quoted in London after a visit to Moscow as being under the impression that Stalin himself no longer considers German reunification a possibility under present conditions.

This impression had already been built up by Communist actions in East Germany. The zone is being more and more isolated from contact with West Germany. Military preparations go forward just as in other Soviet satellites. Nobody would be surprised if Russia eventually recognized the division publicly and set up a government in East Germany similar to the one sponsored by the Allies.

at Bonn four years ago.

Ehlers Raises Issue Beyond all this, however, is the moral issue raised by Ehlers in his reply to the Communist delegation. Behind all the talk of negotiations with Russia when the Allies are sufficiently strong militarily to give their diplomats some standing, lies this issue.

What sort of a settlement can be arranged with totalitarians who have formally condemned all the moralities upon which the rest of the world bases its thinking? Fundamentally, isn't a basic change in Russia the real first step before there can be any peace?

1st Woman Driver Honored at Meeting Of Auto Association

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Walter M. Bush, 73, believed to be the nation's first woman licensed driver fulfilled a childhood dream Monday and reported it made her "just breathless."

She rode a bright red fire engine on a one-hour tour of the city. They even let her steer it for two whole blocks.

"The siren thrilled me," she told newsmen. The American Automobile association (AAA), celebrating its 50th annual convention, presented Mrs. Bush as one woman driver who has never gotten a parking ticket, had no bent fenders and never been bawled out by a traffic cop.

Mrs. Bush concedes there may be special circumstances. Until Monday, she said, she hadn't driven since 1903.

Mrs. Bush, the former Anne Rainsford French, was a belle of Washington society when she received her driver's license in March, 1900. It was a permit as a steam engineer, allowing her to operate her father's Locomobile Steamer. She now lives in Concord, Mass.

She recalled that she enjoyed speed in those days — "I drove 25 miles an hour one day."

8TH OPERATION

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Thommes, 36, underwent Caesarean section for the eighth time Monday to give birth to a 5-pound 15-ounce girl. Officials of Mercy hospital reported the mother and baby are in good condition. The father, Peter, is a press foreman.

Foundation's Non-Partisan Drive Stresses Importance of Family Vote

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series on the 1952 drive by private and business organizations to awaken Americans to the need of voting on Nov. 4.)

By Central Press The family vote—not the farm, labor, big-city or party vote—will elect the next president of the United States. Such is the platform of the National Non-Partisan Register and Vote Campaign co-ordinated by the American Heritage foundation.

Along with their elders, the youngsters of America have been mobilized to help correct the shameful record of only 44 per cent of eligible voters going to the polls in 1950.

A million and a half Girl Scouts are being alerted to serve as baby sitters on the Nov. 4 election day. Boy Scouts have already swung into action distributing tens of thousands of "get-out-and-vote" posters.

Volunteers Willing These young Americans are willing and intelligent volunteers in a crusade to impress upon their elders that the hard-won heritage of the franchise can be tossed away to the advantage of an unscrupulous minority through failure to vote.

Communist Czechoslovakia offers a sad example of what our Boy and Girl Scouts do not want here. After the Red minority seized control, a "single-ticket" election was held in 1948.

That election, according to observers of the National Committee for a Free Europe, was "controlled by trustees of the Communist party and the Communist Youth league."

Czechs 'Help' Voters Unlike the 1952 crusading American Boy and Girl Scouts, the young Czechoslovakians, serving as "trustees," helped to "invite the voters most emphatically not to cast their votes in secret but to do so openly. Very few electors resisted this invitation," according to the National Committee for a Free Europe.

To dramatize the necessity of voting, as a safeguard in maintaining the secret ballot, and to make our voters familiar with voting machines, many firms are installing sample voting booths in their plants.

Pointing up the role of industry in combatting the inescapable fact that the right to vote is being waived by millions of Americans, the president of one large industrial concern announced that they were doing everything possible in a non-partisan way to get out the vote.

Employees Urged "We are urging each of our 93,000 employees to register and vote and to take it upon themselves to see that every member of their family does likewise."

Contrastrad with such non-partisan and unselfish exhortation is a report on Hungary since it went behind the Iron Curtain.

"Every manifestation of political life is actuated by the party (Communist)," according to the Committee for a Free Europe, "or rather by the Political Committee of the party, consisting of eight to 10 men."

"The Communist constitution is based on the will and decisions of this group. At mandatory elections, this National Unity Front runs on a single ticket and the voter endorses the nominees of the party's central committee."

Groups Cooperate So that this will not happen in the United States, scores of national organizations, civic, veterans, fraternal, lay religions, educational, women's and youth groups — are co-operating with thousands of companies for the success of this first non-partisan rally to induce all Americans to register and vote.

State GOP Chairman Thinks Iowans to Stand Behind Nixon

DES MOINES (AP)—Republican State Chairman James S. Schramm said Monday he believes most Iowa Republicans will stand behind Sen. Richard Nixon "so long as no unethical practice is involved."

Schramm said he so advised Republican National Chairman Arthur Summerfield, on request from Summerfield through Pat Cleary of Michigan, who heads the Midwest GOP state chairmen's organization.

Cleary was polling midwest state chairmen, who now are members of the Republican national committee. He sought reaction to the fact Senator Nixon, Republican vice presidential nominee, has accepted more than $18,000 from a group of fellow Californians since becoming senator.

"There have been a good many Iowans give their reaction," Schramm said. "The difference of opinion among Iowans ranges the whole gamut of reaction."

"In fact, the net total of reaction as we are able to get it, is that most Iowa Republicans stand behind Nixon so long as no unethical practice is involved."

"If the contributors were asked or if the contributors received favors, then Iowa sentiment might be different and might not support Nixon. Until and unless it is shown that the contributors asked and received favors, we are quite certain that Iowa opinion is 100 per cent behind Nixon."

"We, like everybody else, are waiting for Senator's Nixon's report tomorrow (Tuesday) night."

5-Year-Old Killed When Hit by Car Near Des Moines

DES MOINES (AP)—Steven Sonnenschein, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Sonnenschein, was killed Monday night when struck by a car on Highway 163 near his home about 10 miles east of Des Moines.

Highway Patrolmen Glen McDole and Harold Trimble said the boy and his sister were attempting to cross the highway to a nearby store when the accident occurred. The girl, Barbara, 7, suffered a bruised left leg.

The westbound driver was identified as Edwin T. Randall, 56, of Media, Pa. He said he first saw the two children standing along the road and then didn't see them after another car had passed.

CARRIER ARRIVES SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Fleet Air Command Monday announced the U.S. aircraft carrier Boxer would arrive at San Francisco Thursday from Korea combat service.

editorials An Immeasurable Loss

The SUI community and Iowa City has lost a great friend and leader with the death of Prof. Harrison J. Thornton.

Though he led a comparatively short life, being only 58, it was nevertheless a full one. He was a devoted churchman, a community leader, and a beloved and respected instructor.

He was admired by students and faculty alike.

During his 23 years in the history department at SUI he was far more than a teacher. His students and works are a living testimony to this.

Professor Thornton's interests and influence, however, were not limited to the field of history.

He was widely known for his lively, and authoritative commentary on each succeeding SUI graduation — a task he handled so well for the past nine years.

For several years, too, he gave weekly lectures on American history over the university's radio station WSUI.

As a teacher Professor Thornton was highly successful in accepting the challenge of instructing the youth of America.

In the words of one of his closest associates, Prof. William O. Adeyette, "he has brought glory to both the university and the history department."

"To those who knew him personally he was a man of unusual charm and exquisite courtesy. His death will be lamented by a wide circle of devoted friends," Adeyette said.

SUI President Virgil Hancher also praised Professor Thornton. "Kindliness was the key to his character, and persistence and devotion were the keys to his scholarship," he said.

"Perhaps no one knew as much as he about the university and few loved it so much," Hancher went on.

Those who worked and studied with Professor Thornton know that his accomplishments will live in the multitude of writings that he left behind.

More Information Needed

The city council once again will take up the problem of rent control when it meets in a special session tonight at the city hall. This time the council is expected to give its final decision on whether or not the controls will remain in Iowa City.

The council's decision, needless to say, will have an important effect upon the economic life of many of its citizens, including SUI married students.

With this in mind, the Iowan urges the city council to act tonight to continue rent controls until April 1. We call for this action for two reasons.

The first is the woeful inadequacy of the surveys and statistics now available to the council.

The second is the prospect during the next few months of a rising, rather than falling, demand for rental housing units here.

The public meeting of the city council on Monday night, while providing many conflicting views and colorful speakers, completely failed to disclose an adequate factual basis upon which the council could reach any decision at this time.

Two "surveys" were offered, one by the owners of rental property, the other by the local rent control office. They were obviously, and admittedly, fragmentary, and arrived at far different totals of available apartments.

In addition, both surveys were made during the SUI vacation between summer school and the beginning of the fall term — the ebb tide in the Iowa City renting season.

But principally, there is no evaluation of the "survey results." The statement that Iowa City's slack season vacancies amount to 50, or 100, or 200 units is virtually meaningless until other facts are considered.

Among these essential facts are the total number of rental units in Iowa City, the normal number of apartment vacancies, the quality of the empty units, and the probable demand in the future.

As things stand today, however, such information is unavailable.

What we do know, concretely, indicates a rising demand for existing housing. SUI married student enrollment is on the rise, temporary housing is rapidly approaching its demise, Korean veterans will soon be returning to our campus in force, and the Veterans hospital is continuing its program of expansion.

These facts — the lack of any accurate basis for judgment of the existing situation and the prospect of an even greater demand for housing in the near future — indicate clearly the only fair course for all parties. This is an extension of rent controls until next April. Then in the interim evaluation of Iowa City housing could be made.

Letters to the Editor

(Readers are invited to express opinions in letters to the Editor. All letters must include handwritten signatures and addresses — typewritten signatures are not acceptable. Opinions expressed do not necessarily represent those of The Daily Iowan.)

TO THE EDITOR: The Progressive Party of Iowa City was the only organization which stood up for the tenants at the City Council hearing Monday evening and demanded the retention of rent controls. One group cannot win the fight alone. Individuals who gathered signatures on petitions for rent control indicated that they had almost 100% favorable response. If that many people in Iowa City and their organizations want and need rent controls, today (Wednesday) is the time to speak up.

The landlords at the hearing indicated that there are many vacant places for rent or sale in Iowa City. Their figures were made last week, before university registration and the return of most students and faculty. The landlords also indicated that they cannot be responsible for the financial difficulties of students, staff and faculty who cannot afford the high rentals already being charged, much less the 15 to 60 per cent raises that government figures show can be expected in the event of decontrol.

Then we must be responsible for ourselves! If you want rent controls to stay, this is your last chance. Telephone Mayor William Holland at 9607 or wire him at the City Hall immediately. The City Council will decide tonight. Make sure they decide for continued rent controls.

Mrs. Mary D. Springer 414 Finkbine Park (Ed. Note: Technically Mrs. Springer's claim that the Progressive party was the only "organized group" supporting rent control may be true. Hundreds of other unorganized supporters, however, including numerous members of the SUI faculty and student body, were present at the meeting Monday night.)

Researcher Tells Reporters of Belief Women Inferior

NEW YORK (AP)—A brave man, Dr. Joseph J. Markey, who flew in Monday from Paris. One of the bravest.

He thinks women are inferior to men—and says so right out loud. He does research on the potential of the female mind.

Dr. Markey, an Oceanside, Calif., anthropologist, told reporters at Idlewild Airport that the "accomplishment potential of women is staggeringly low."

Shouldn't even be allowed to vote, he plunged on, because women can't think "in sociological areas beyond the narrow horizons of their own small lives." "A melancholy picture," Dr. Markey calls it. He has even said all this in front of his wife — and he's still married. "She nods incuriously," Dr. Markey said, "but she is not offended."

Low Priced Hats with High Style

Deep cloche of gold beaver-type felt.

Turban of pink "windblown" hackle.

Beret of alternating sections of navy, royal and gray velours.

This fall, American millinery manufacturers have done an outstanding job in bringing high fashions to the young girls and college and career women who count their pennies.

The beret is back in the forefront of fashion, a hat the fashion experts say "goes with everything."

net becomes everyone from the school girl to the sophisticate. Worn with casual suits, the cloche has great chic.

How To Get Rid Of Summer's Fading Tan

Women are perverse. Most of us work madly all summer trying to get a lovely tan, and then spend the early fall trying desperately to hide our muddy complexions.

There are always some who overdo their sun soaking. These are the girls who get the real tan tan, unattractive to most women. They have a more difficult time than most in trying to turn their dark epidermis to lily-white.

Real sun lovers can choose the alternative of trying to keep their tan intact. This can be done with a sun lamp, employing regular treatments. A winter tan can look very flattering indeed, particularly if white dominates the wardrobe in blouses, evening dresses and lingerie.

If you prefer the pink and white look, backs and shoulders can be whipped into smooth beauty by daily baths and scrubbing which help sluff off old, tired, dead skin.

Cream should be slathered on face and neck for a good oiling which is a wonderful pick-up for dry skin.

Many manufacturers make special oils and creams, richly nourishing and ideal for summer-dry skins.

Oil should be applied especially around the eyes and mouth, areas where the tendency to wrinkle and sag are evident when the skin is dry.

If evening gowns are to be worn early in the fall when you are in the twilight stage of skin tone, avoid those with strapless or plunging necklines.

For really bad instances of sun scorch, there are good commercial bleaches and masks on the market.

Bleaches can be made at home, too, lemon and cucumbers being preferred for this purpose.

If skin is not too tender, lemon juice can be patted on the skin, left to dry for a few minutes, rinsed off and followed by cream.

Des Moines Makes Large Bond Sale

DES MOINES (AP) — A group headed by the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago and including the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank of Des Moines were low bidders Monday on the sale of $4 million in Veterans Memorial auditorium bonds by the city.

The bid on which the sale was to be awarded will mean that the city will be borrowing the money at a net interest rate of about 1.95 per cent.

It was one of the largest sales of municipal bonds in many years in Iowa, bond men said.

The group behind the winning bid included the White-Phillips Co. Inc., of Davenport.

Model Applications For Profile Preview Are Available Now

Model's applications for Profile Preview, an annual new-student fashion show, sponsored by the University Women's association, are available at the UWA desk in the Office of Student Affairs.

All new women students, whether freshman or transfer, are eligible to apply.

Applications are due this Friday. Profile Preview will be Oct. 16 in the River room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Housewife Gets Helping Hand

Time was when the housewife hired a decorator to plan her home or did a hit-and-miss job of it herself.

Nowadays, however, she gets a helping hand. Just in time for fall decorating, for instance, comes Home Fashion Time organized by the Home Fashions League in cooperation with stores, manufacturers and designers.

This year emphasis is on space savers, lighter woods, black and white as a color trend, Italian influences and multi-purpose furnishings.

The light, airy look that modern design has introduced into the decorating scheme also has helped point up the tailored look in floors.

Floor coverings have grown smaller and the well-polished floor is a thing of beauty.

Sharp decorative contrasts, such as white walls with black or brown as the dominant color, are smart and in harmony with the streamlined, uncluttered look of today's interiors.

SALMON SHOES

After 300 years of experimentation, salmon skin is said to be tanning, successfully. It was shown recently in a group of women's shoes and handbags made of salmon leather. It is expected to be in mass production soon.

WORKERS RETURN

WATERLOO (AP) — Foundry workers and key personnel in other departments of the big Deere Tractor Works here returned to work Monday to begin preliminary operations toward full resumption of production Sept. 29.

Banquet to Be Held Thursday Night

The annual Trinity Episcopal church student-faculty banquet will be Thursday at 6 p.m. at the parish house, 310 E. College st.

SUI president Virgil M. Hancher will be the main speaker. Also making an address will be Bishop Gordon V. Smith of Des Moines.

Mesdames William Bean, A. Craig Baird and Joseph Wayne are in charge of the dinner.

President of the group is Virgil Hancher Jr.

Free Lecture To Be Given Thursday Night

"Christian Science: The Living Light of Christ, Truth" is the title of the free lecture to be given in the Christian Science Church, 722 E. College, Thursday at 8 p.m.

Jean M. Snyder, the lecturer, is from Buffalo, New York, and a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

A welcome is extended to the public to attend. The lecture is free of charge.

Triple Threat

THIS SWEATER SET, according to fashion forecasters, will make headlines from now on. Imported from France, it shows the new trend toward sweaters trimmed with jewels, beads of fur. More than that, this one is a triple threat, with matching gloves and earrings.

RELIGIOUS FABRIC

A new dignified motif in a glistening silk depicts the 23d Psalm. The Good Shepherd is shown leading his sheep, with the quotation "The Lord is my Shepherd."

State Institutions Improving

Extensive improvements in dining and kitchen facilities at 13 of the 14 state institutions have been made in the last two years, the state board of control reported this week.

L. Beata Reager, head dietitian for the board of control, said innovations range from new electric food mixers to complete remodeling.

They have resulted in more pleasant dining rooms for residents and employees, in more sanitary and efficient kitchens, and in better methods of delivering hot meals to bedfast patients and other persons who cannot use regular dining rooms, she said.

The position of head dietitian was created by the board of control four years ago. Miss Reager's duties include supervision of menus, kitchens and dining rooms at the 14 institutions, which serve 42,000 meals every day.

Two years ago, the board of control set aside from its construction funds $300,000 for dietary improvements. Most of the changes have been financed from that amount.

Two large projects were given special allocations totaling $166,000 by the budget and financial control committee.

These two projects are a new employees' cafeteria and staff dining room at Clarinda mental health institute, and a complete remodeling of the kitchen and dining rooms for children and staff at the Annie Wittenmyer children's home at Davenport.

At many of the institutions, new stainless steel sinks and worktables, steam kettles and pressure steam cookers have been installed, and appliances such as large food mixers and toasters have been purchased.

NEW APPLIANCE

A new kitchen appliance can be used either for deep-fat frying or for roasting. Exclusive features include a cook-guide on the front of the electrical appliance which gives the user the recommended temperature and time range for cooking and frying. It has an automatic heat basket with an easy to clean saucapan-like construction. It can be used also as a chafing dish, bun warmer and corn-popper.

Health Educator Advises Teaching Children Cleanliness

Miss Sally Lucas Jean, internationally known health educator, has decided that the really important people to bother about are children.

After teaching the principles of good health in many countries for over 50 years, she's concluded it's a waste of time to try to teach adults anything.

But if you start teaching a child, you've a fair chance of raising a healthy citizen.

Health education, she believes, boils down to this simple formula: soap and water, enough sleep, and a balanced diet.

Miss Jean stresses that rule number one in fighting polio is frequent handwashing. It's the hands that carry germs to the nose and mouth. But it's soap that helps to wash away these germs before they can do any damage.

So take Miss Jean's advice and don't wait till your youngsters are grown up before teaching them the virtues of soap and water.

Start while they're young — before the feel they already know everything.

Struggle To Win Congress Nears Showdown

Demos Hold Edge By Narrow Margins

WASHINGTON (CP) — While neither presidential hopeful so far has said as much, many a past standard-bearer has bemoaned a hostile Congress as a fate worse than defeat in his own race. A great battle is shaping up in that quarter.

GOP leaders credited Dewey's 1948 defeat in large measure to losses in gubernatorial, senatorial and House races in the individual states, and Illinois' Senator Ever-campaign fame, is mobilizing the et Dirksen of Taft convention GOP senatorial campaign he heads.

With Republicans, the challengers, the spotlight is on their prospects of capturing the Senate, where they trail 49-46, and the House, which the Democrats dominate 231-200.

Shift of 3 Needed
Needing only a shift of three senatorial seats among the 34 at stake, or an estimated realignment of five per cent in the overall popular vote to reverse the situation in the 435 House contests, the GOP seems tantalizingly close — yet, oh so far!

Democrats seem to hold the edge in the Senate, unless a huge GOP landslide develops. Of their 20 incumbents, five are beyond reach in the deep south. Six others look all but impregnable. On the other hand, the 14 GOP incumbents include five on the danger list themselves.

"Marginal" Democratic seats include both of Connecticut, the vacancy left by the death of Brien McMahon and that of William Benton, who squeaked through in 1950 to fill a vacancy by a 1,100-vote whisker; Michigan's Blair Moody, who is trying to nail down the late Arthur H. Vandenberg's seat he fills upon an interim appointment, and Maryland's Herbert R. O'Connor who has retired.

GOP Has Battle
Republicans who have battles on their hands include Missouri's James P. Kem, with a strong Democratic organization, and candidate Stuart Symington in hot pursuit; Montana's Zalas N. Ecton who, in 1946, took the only Republican victory in the state's last 10 senatorial contests; Nevada's George W. Malone, opposed by the aggressive Democratic machine of Senator Pat McCarran; Utah's Arthur V. Watkins, in a state that has gone Democratic in seven of the last 10 senatorial elections, and Washington's Harry D. Cain, who bucks a trend of Democratic victories in eight of the last 10 state elections.

General Eisenhower / Congress—what party will win control in November?

The House situation, as usual, is almost hopelessly obscure. Campaign committees in the two parties use an unofficial "rule of thumb" to spot the fluid areas as those districts which either party has won by less than five per cent in the last election, and making minor corrections here and there to allow for personalities and special situations. Within this crucial zone are 49 Republicans and 36 Democrats.

Major Issues Same
The "overhead artillery" heaving shells at the embattlements of the two major parties on the local scene are the major issues and the announced views of the platforms and presidential standard-bearers. An unofficial canvass reveals four top issues at the moment, aside from preliminary sparring over need for a change and alleged Truman "domination": Foreign policy, civil rights; government spending or government services, the nomenclature de-termining on who refers to it, and anti-corruption.

Local politicians throughout the nation indicate that the platforms and candidates have virtually taken the foreign policy issue out of the campaign, barring last-minute controversies over details.

Everybody 'Agin' Corruption
Corruption finds everybody "agin it," the verdict apparently depending on strength of statement and which party succeeds in convincing the most voters that it means business.

Civil rights finds the GOP platform saying, that the states are to take primary responsibility, and the Democrats' advocating federal legislation to outlaw discrimination in employment, politics and personal activities.

Dwight D. Eisenhower is on record in his Abilene press conference with, "I really believe we can do more by leadership in getting states to do it," while Stevenson's only statement has been his reiterated requests of the Illinois legislature to give "sympathetic consideration" to fair employment practices legislation.

Both Against Waste
As to spending or government services, both platforms inveigh against extravagance. At Detroit in June, Eisenhower said that "even $75 billion (in the budget) terrifies me and we must aim for a $30 to $40 billion cut," while Gov. Adlai Stevenson, in a magazine article, wrote: "Spending in non-essential areas must be held to the minimum, and, if need be, defer social improvements until we can afford to pay for them."

So the stage is set in the main arena between Ike and Adlai, and in the congressional sideshows between formidable arrays of Democrats and Republicans, and the 60-day "biggest political show on earth" is set to begin.

CLUB TO MEET
Manville Heights club will meet at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Margaret Robson, 215 Lexington ave. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. J. K. Hemphill and Mrs. J. H. Randall. All newcomers are urged to attend.

'52 State Tax Collections Reaches $9.8 Billion Peak

Soaring tax collections reached another all-time high of $9.8 billion in fiscal 1952, according to government figures analyzed by Commerce Clearing House, authoritative law reporting agency.

The increase was more than 10 per cent above 1951 when the collections were $8.9 billion.

The 48-state average cost per person was $4 more, the per-capita tax rising from $60 to $64 during the year.

Louisiana Tax Highest
The annual state tax report compiled from U. S. bureau of census figures shows that citizens of Louisiana and Washington shared the highest per-capita state tax burden in the nation — $103.

In 1951, these two states also were at the top. The average Louisiana resident paid $98, the average Washington citizen $95 in that year.

New Jersey retained its distinction of collecting the lowest per-capita tax — $36. Nebraska collected an average of $42, Alabama $43, Missouri $46 and Virginia $49.

Among the largest states in population, California collected $97 per-capita, New York $68, Ohio $56, Illinois and Texas $52 and Pennsylvania $51.

2 Pass Billion Mark
Two states passed the billion dollar mark in yearly collections, the report says. California had the highest of the nation, $1.06 billion, and New York $1.04 billion. Increases in these states were approximately $100 million higher this year.

Georgia, Maine and South Carolina, the three states with the newest sales and use taxes, had the largest increases in collections on a percentage basis, according to the report. Georgia took in 50 per cent more to lead the nation in percentage gain. South Carolina's total was up 42 per cent and Maine's 30 per cent.

All but two states reported higher collection in 1952. Delaware was down 15.5 per cent and South Dakota 7.3 per cent. In Delaware, a temporary personal income tax law expired at the end of 1950, and in South Dakota a group of taxes was reduced last fall upon completion of veterans' bonus financing.

Every major tax except those on alcoholic beverages contributed to the increases, the survey found. At the federal level receipts from alcoholic beverages also were off slightly.

The figures are based on state imposed taxes, some of which may be later distributed in whole or in part to local governments. Taxes collected locally are not included.

Elderly Man Injured While Hunting Firewood

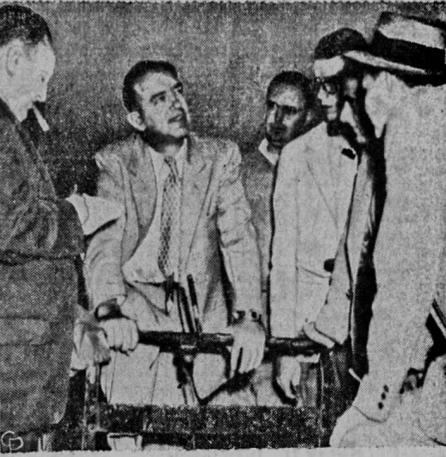

MASON CITY (AP) — An old age pensioner was hospitalized here Monday with a broken leg he suffered three days ago while gathering sticks for a fire at the city dump.

Authorities said they found the man, James Caldwell, 68, of Ames, hobbling around the dump on a pair of crutches he made himself. He had applied hot packs to the leg and it was badly blistered as well as broken, doctors at the hospital said.

Caldwell told doctors he had an old age pension at Ames, but "I didn't want to live on a pension so I hit the road."

University Graduates Comb Earth In Search for New Wonder Drugs

PEARL RIVER, N. Y. (CP) — Thousands of samples of long-dormant soil, mailed in from all parts of America and remote areas of the globe, are under continual test at laboratories here by scientists searching for the next wonder drug.

Gathering the samples are undergraduates in a score of universities, scientists, and uncounted other volunteers—among them such colorful figures as an Indian princess and professional mountaineer guide.

When it was revealed by Lederle Laboratories that the golden mold, aureomycin was developed from soil samples collected in Missouri, two graduate student biologists at Kansas State Teachers college, Emporia, promptly mailed in earth samples from Eisenhower park in Abilene.

Anemic Soil
"If the anemic soil of Missouri can produce so great a benefit as aureomycin," said Elizabeth Koch, one of the graduate biologists, "imagine what wonders may come from the land that produced an Eisenhower!"

In a churchyard on Indian island, reservation of the Penobscots in Maine, Princess Little Bird and a University of Maine agronomist, Hall Carpenter, last week gathered samples of soil which probably had laid undisturbed since the Ice Age. These are now undergoing tests.

A score of samples of rich Louisiana soil which has yielded a wealth of agricultural crops and oil, were gathered and sent to the laboratories by two young research assistants, Elizabeth Holbrook and Sally Olivier, at Tulane university, New Orleans.

Samples From Cemetery
On a recent field trip to the legendary country of the Pirate Jean LaFitte, the pair brought back soil samples from the banks of the Barataria bayou, from an old cemetery, and from a grassy knoll shaded by moss-draped oaks.

Among the spots which the scientists describe as "favorable areas" for sampling are old cemeteries with grass sod, old lawns, native grasslands along older roads, and certain types of pastures, woodlands, and loam soils.

When the Louisiana samples are assayed, they may prove more valuable to humanity than all the pirate treasure around the seven seas.

At elevations of 6,700 feet and 13,780 feet in the Teton mountains of Wyoming, soil samples were collected by Glenn Exum, famed mountain guide, and Miss Nancy Crandall, both of Jenny Lake.

Veteran Offers Help
From Korea, Marine Cpl. Joseph W. Antonacci wrote to Pearl River from Korea, offering to send in samples of earth from his area, near the Imjum river. His letter was inspired by newspaper and magazine articles describing how aureomycin was developed.

It would be no trouble at all, he said. "We are forever digging bunkers, trenches, foxholes, etc. If you will let me know how much soil to send, and how to wrap it, I'll be glad to be of service."

A Florida Southern college coed, Annabel Rodgers of Tampa, reports she is sending a soil sample gathered in Phillippe Park, Pinellas county, where in 1840 Count Odet Phillippe planted the world's first cultivated grapefruit grove.

Graduate Students Contribute
Graduate biology students Betty Martin and William Ward submitted soil samples taken near Duke university's unique Marine laboratory on Piver's island at Beaufort, N. C.

Other samples arrive daily from colleges coast-to-coast. Even high school students are participating. Among the early samples to arrive was one from Judy Bell and Mary Alice Rustin, students at the Columbus, S. C. high school.

Aureomycin, the golden wonder drug, appeared in 1948 as the result of similar widespread search. Tens of thousands of soil samples were tested before test tubes revealed the golden mold which so effectively has prevented growth of staphylococci, streptococci, and a variety of germs called bacilli.

Hormones, and Not Cigarettes, May Be Reason for Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe cigarettes aren't the cause of lung cancer — maybe it's the hormones that drive people to be chain-smokers.

The suggestion came from Dr. Brian B. Blades of George Washington university, in an address to the American College of Surgeons.

He said some doctors studying lung cancer "have furnished frightening testimony against the cigarette."

But many people who get lung cancer have never used tobacco, in any form, Dr. Blades said.

"One wonders if the endocrine hormonal drive which makes for chain-smoking, might be the ex-

Liquor Laws Assailed In Speech by Loveless

WAVERLY (AP)—Herschel Loveless, Democratic nominee for governor of Iowa, speaking at an Alcoholism Forum here Monday night, assailed the present Iowa liquor laws as being "unrealistic, unworkable and unenforceable."

"The assumption that less liquor is being consumed in Iowa because state liquor store sales are less is to some extent wishful thinking," Loveless said.

"Actually, our present Iowa liquor laws greatly encourage bootlegging and many other kinds of violation. We have observed a sharp increase in arrests and convictions for various types of liquor control violation.

"In one year, for example, the arrests for illegal sales of liquor increased by 143 per cent and the convictions by 84 per cent. Arrests for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated increased by 34 per cent and convictions on this charge by 29 per cent.

"The only possible way to correct the situation is to ask our lawmakers to provide us with some intelligent, sane and enforceable liquor laws which the people will respect and cherish. Then we can expect enforcement."

The Ottumwa mayor said his arguments in the past for a "workable liquor law" had "smoked out" Attorney General Robert L. Larson.

"I believe my beliefs and principles as stated at various times over the state of Iowa have made a believer of Attorney General Larson. His recent comments on this subject indicate that he agrees that these unrealistic, unworkable and unenforceable liquor laws of Iowa are not worth enforcing now."

Experimental Jet Engine Delivered by Auto Firm

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Buick motors announced Monday it has delivered its first Wright J-65 Saphire jet engine to the United States air force.

The engine is a pilot model for testing purposes only, but Ivan L. Wild, Buick general manager, said the company expects to meet its scheduled delivery date on the first production unit.

The J-65 is designed for use in the F-84-F Thunderjet fighter plane and the B-57 bomber.

Truckload of Beer Taken by Thieves

MUSCATINE (AP) — Police were still searching Tuesday for thieves who stole a truck loaded with 150 cases of beer from a warehouse here sometime Sunday.

The truckload of beer was taken from the J. P. Manjoine company, police said. The truck was found Monday in Rock Island, Ill., but the beer was missing, police said.

Thieves also broke into the Reliable Coal company office, near the Manjoine company warehouse, cracked a safe and escaped with $217, police said.

The Muscatine Journal also was broken into Sunday. A candy machine was smashed and an estimated three dollars taken.

42 Catholic Officials To Attend Enthronement

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Five Roman Catholic archbishops and 37 bishops are expected to attend the twin enthronement Wednesday of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Leo R. Smith as auxiliary bishop of Buffalo and the Very Rev. Msgr. James J. Navagh as auxiliary bishop of Raleigh, N.C.

The Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, CSC, archbishop of Philadelphia and former bishop of Buffalo, will preach the sermon of consecration in St. Joseph's Cathedral here.

Marciano New Champ; Flattens Walcott In 13th

Down in First, Right to Jaw Wins for Rock

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Young Rocky Marciano knocked out old Jersey Joe Walcott with a spectacular right hand shot to the jaw in 43 seconds of the 13th round Tuesday night to win the heavyweight championship in a bloody brawl.

The unbeaten Brockton, Mass., blockbuster got off the deck from the first knockdown of his 43-bout career in the first round to touch off a wild ringside scene.

Marciano supporters vaulted the working press section to crush into the ring in a frantic demonstration for the first heavyweight fighter ever to win the heavyweight title with a perfect record.

At least 150 wild-eyed Marciano fans resisted attempts of the police to clear the ring for several minutes after the savage bout ended.

Rock Storms Back

Just when it seemed that the title dreams of the 28-year-old kid from the shoe mills was due to disappear before the boxing skill and sturdy heart of the 38-year-old champion, he let loose his right hand bomb that changed night to day.

It was like New Year's Eve in Times Square as the good natured Marciano partisans tried to hoist the new champ to their shoulders.

Bleeding from a cut between the eyes and a cut between the eyes and a gash atop his head, Marciano threw everything he had in one desperation right that crowned a new king to follow in the line of John L. Sullivan, Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis.

Champ Stunned

The Rock's blockbuster crushed Walcott with stunning sadness. Jersey Joe's eyes went blank as he sank slowly to the canvas from the delayed action effect of the punch.

Down went the old pappy guy from Camden, N. J., sinking slowly to the deck, down with one knee twisted under him.

Any doubt about Marciano's ability to take it was removed by this exhibition. Old Jersey Joe, often trading punches freely with his challenger, gave his all in a dramatic bid to save the crown.

Walcott Outboxes

When he resorted to boxing in the eighth, ninth and tenth, he made Marciano look like a novice who winged wild punches that cut only the cool Municipal Stadium air.

All three officials had Walcott out front on their score cards at the end of the 12th round.

Walcott Leads

Referee Daggert had it 7-4-1, Judge Pete Tomasco 7-5 and Judge Zack Clayton, who refereed Walcott's successful defense against Charles in June, saw it 8-4, all in favor of Walcott.

With no home television or radio and only a 50-theater TV network, a booming crowd turned out.

Walcott's Legs Betrayed?

Perhaps Walcott's legs betrayed him in the final frantic minutes. More likely it was simply the power of this ex-GI who never has lost a pro fight. It was his 38th knockout in 43 straight wins. For Walcott it was the fifth knockout loss in 66 ring battles.

The oldest heavy champ ever to defend, Walcott did little of his old Jersey shuffle. He boxed a little but usually he slugged it out. Time after time he drove home that hook to the head or body of the scowling Marciano. Still the Rock never stopped coming.

Pittsburgh Finishes Heavy Workouts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh's Panthers went through their last hard workout Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's football opener at Pitt Stadium with the University of Iowa.

Coach Red Dawson pitted his freshman squad, instructed in both offensive and defensive maneuvers of the Hawkeyes, against the varsity. Pitt's starting offensive backfield showed Rudy Mattiola at quarterback, Bill Reynolds and Bill Hoffman at the halves, and Bobby Epps at fullback.

Greatest Shantz Season Ends Abruptly—

Bobby Suffers Broken Wrist

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tiny Bobby Shantz suffered a broken bone in his pitching wrist Tuesday ending prematurely the south-paw's greatest major league season.

Shantz, smallest pitcher in the major leagues at 5 feet 6, was injured while batting in the second inning against Walter Masterson of the Washington Senators. A Masterson pitch sailed on the Senator righthander and caught Shantz fifth on the wrist before he could jump back from the plate.

Masterson knew the pitch was bad and shouted, "Look out" as the ball headed for the plate. But Shantz couldn't get away and stood white faced, wringing his left hand as teammates rushed from the dugout to check the damage to their brilliant hurler.

Continues Play

Trainer Jim Tadley worked feverishly for about 10 minutes on the little lefthander as the game was delayed. Shantz finally trotted to first base and apparently everything was okay. He ran to second a moment later as Eddie Joost singled off Masterson.

But after the A's were retired it was evident that Shantz couldn't continue. He was unable to bend his fingers and manager Jimmy Dykes immediately ordered him to the hospital for X-rays. Bobo Newsom relieved on the mound and became the winning pitcher in a 4-3 Philadelphia victory.

Shantz had allowed two hits in his two inning trick and was leading 3-0 when he left the game.

X-Rays Show Injury

Dr. Illarion Gopadze, team physician, announced the bad news from the Graduate hospital after looking at X-ray pictures. He said the 24 game winner had a broken ulna bone in the left wrist. The loss of the little lefty is a blow to the A's who are battling for a first division berth in the American league. The A's are 1½ games behind third and hold fourth by one game.

Shantz, who has lost only seven games this year, was scheduled to work Sunday against the New York Yankees in the final game of the season. The injury to the 139-pound pitcher thus could play a big part in deciding the American league pennant. It is possible that New York and Cleveland could go down to the last day with the American league flag hanging in the balance. Dykes now probably will have to turn to at least one second line pitcher for the three game Yankee series.

Dodgers Cinch Pennant with 5-4 Win; Cleveland Hopes Fade

Bums Capture Flag Then Fall to Phils

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers won their first National League pennant since 1949 Tuesday night as they came from behind to edge the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4, in the first game of a two-night doubleheader. The Phils captured the anti-climatic game, 1-0, in 12 innings before 23,408 fans.

The honor of clinching Brooklyn's ninth National League pennant since 1890 went to rookie righthander Johnny Rutherford. The triumph was the 26-year-old hurler's seventh of the season compared to the same number of setbacks.

He was in trouble in the early innings but weathered the storm as the Brooklyn bats boomed and sent the Dodgers ahead in the fifth. Duke Snider's two-run double climaxed the Dodgers game winning three-run fifth inning rally.

The Dodgers nicked Karl Drews, who had beaten them four times this season, for a run in the first. Rutherford protected that slender margin until the third when Gran Hamner accounted for all of Philadelphia's runs with a grand slam homer.

First baseman Gil Hodges singled to ignite the Dodgers' pennant clinching rally in the fifth. Rutherford sacrificed and the pitcher was safe on Ed Waitkus' error at first. Pee Wee Reese singled Rutherford home and Snider followed with his $100,000 two-run double to right.

A's over Senators

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics tightened their grip on fourth place in the American league standings Tuesday with a 4-3 win over the Washington Senators, but lost the services of their 24-game winner, little Bobby Shantz for the remainder of the waning season.

Shantz, well on his way to his 25th victory with the A's leading 3-0 in the second inning, was clipped on the pitching wrist by one of Walt Masterson's pitches.

Masterson was the eventual loser while aging Bob Newsom, who took over for Shantz, received credit for the victory.

Browns 3, Tigers 1

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers squeezed into baseball's record books Tuesday night by becoming the first cellar team in the history of the American league to draw more than a million fans at home. But the 7,888 fans who pushed the Tigers over the million mark saw the St. Louis Browns win, 3-1, behind Bob Cain's eight-hit pitching.

Walcott Decides to Quit Ring

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A heart-broken Jersey Joe Walcott said Tuesday night he was taking his manager's advice and quitting the ring.

Surrounded by photographers, reporters and well-wishers, the 38-year-old veteran of the prize fight ring sat dejectedly on a dressing room table following his knockout by Rocky Marciano.

"I don't remember anything," said Walcott, as he was asked where the knockout punch landed. "He caught me open and that was it. I don't know if it was a right or left. I just don't remember anything."

Before the press was allowed into the Walcott dressing room — about a half-hour after the fight — Jersey Joe's manager, Felix Bocchicchio, made a statement in the hall-way outside the room.

"As far as I am concerned, Jersey Joe has retired. He looked pathetic against the ropes and I don't want him hurt. He still has his faculties and has money in the bank. He's retiring. Joe has been a great champ, and that's the way we want people to remember him."

Houg Returns; Pittsburgh 1st Big Problem

Andy Houg will be ready for the Indiana game!

That announced expectation brightened the Iowa football scene at least temporarily Tuesday after a burst of 14 injuries had hobbled a host of key performers during the past two weeks and darkened press releases from the Hawkeye camp.

Coach Forest Evashevski said Monday that Houg, a 1951 letter-winner at end, should be fully recovered for the Big Ten opener a week away.

For Houg, who broke his collar bone over two weeks ago, it was the second day in full battle dress.

He's slated for a starting offensive guard role and a defensive end post.

However, the announcement had little bearing on the more current problem of finding a suitable combination to defeat Pittsburgh, Saturday.

Pointing towards the issue at hand, "Evy" sent his charges through more routine drills Tuesday afternoon as he continued tapering off for Friday's trip east.

Heavy defensive scrimmages against Pitt plays highlighted the day's work as both the number one and two defensive platoon were used extensively.

Pass defense and signal drills occupied the remainder of the practice.

The hour long signal calling session gave hint of more possible first team position shifts as Evashevski ran Jerry Hilgenberg at center in place of sophomore Warren Lawson with the number one unit.

Dick Wilke, a second year man from Charles City, also was worked into the line at a tackle spot, alternating with Emmett Sawyer.

With the exception of those two changes the line was the same with Captain Bill Fenton and Dan McBride at the wings, Dick Frymire at tackle, and John Hall and Phil Hayman at the guards.

In the backfield Bobby Stearns was back in his right half spot, splitting duty with Bobby Phillips, Cedar Rapids, who took over first team duties Saturday.

The rest of the backfield remained the same with Burt Britzmann at quarter, Bernie Bennett at full and Jim Milani holding left half.

Joe Dobson Pushes Indians 1½ Behind

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chicago's White Sox swatted the pennant-dreaming Cleveland Indians with a staggering 10-1 defeat Tuesday, making first place for Cleveland a long shot indeed.

Only 5,377 fans showed up in cavernous Municipal Stadium to watch the high-flying Indians take their first defeat in seven games.

Pitcher Joe Dobson had them almost completely fooled, allowing only six hits, three singles in the third producing the only Indian run. The White Sox got 14 hits off four Indian pitchers, including Sherman Lollar's 13th homer.

The pennant picture now sizes up this way:

Even if Cleveland wins its three remaining games, the New York Yankees now would need to win only three of their remaining six games for a tie and four for the pennant.

The Indians have one more game with Chicago here Wednesday, rest two days and wind up with two at Detroit Saturday and Sunday. The Yankees, rained out Tuesday, have three in Boston—a doubleheader Wednesday and a single game Thursday—and a final three-game series in Philadelphia Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mike Garcia, trying for his 23rd win, suffered his 11th loss as the Tribe's six-game winning streak was snapped.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Musial, closing in on his sixth National league batting title, Tuesday night smashed out three hits, including a triple and a game-winning double in the 10th inning, as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3.

The final blow boosted Musial's batting average to .336—a full six points ahead of Chicago's Fran Baumholtz. It came off righthander Frank Smith and brought home Red Schoendienst, who had singled.

Rookie Jim Greengrass drove in two of the Reds' runs in the fifth with a home run, his fifth in 13 major league games.

Predictions—

Taking the customary liberty at this time of the year, The Daily Iowan's sport staff is going to do its share of predicting football results, too.

Below are our picks for the 15 big games of the weekend. The staff—Johnny Meyer, Dick Mau and myself—agree with three exceptions. The consensus sticks with the Big 10 all the way.

We're going to pick Iowa for the opener, although it shapes up as a close game. Not even Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski knows much about Pitt, since the school has been uncooperative in sending its staff any team information—not even a roster, in fact.

However, from the releases we've received, Pitt doesn't shape up as powerful as we first expected. Gone is the passing combination of Bestwick to Warriner which gave the Hawks such pains last year. So we've picked the injury-hampered, green Iowa team to bust its way to a win for Evy in his first game as head coach. But we'd hate to give over three points.

In the other game concerning a state team, there's no one else to pick but Illinois over Iowa State. However, Iowa State has plenty of material, a good passing and running attack and a sound defense in a Big Seven team. Besides, Illinois will be looking ahead to the Wisconsin game.

We're picking Illinois, of course, but look for a good game with the Illini emerging as winners by about two touchdowns.

Here are the selections:

BENDER	MEYER	MAU
Iowa over Pitt by 3	Iowa	Pitt
Illinois over Iowa State by 14	Illinois	Illinois
Michigan State over Michigan by 7	Mich. State	Mich. State
Northwestern over USC by 3	USC	N'western
Minnesota over Washington by 3	Minnesota	Minnesota
Purdue over Penn State by 14	Purdue	Purdue
Ohio State over Indiana by 7	Ohio State	Ohio State
Wisconsin over Marquette by 21	Wisconsin	Wisconsin
Washington State over Stanford by 1	Stanford	Wash. State
UCLA over TCU by 7	UCLA	UCLA
Holy Cross over Dartmouth by 14	Holy Cross	Holy Cross
Georgia Tech over Florida by 14	Georgia Tech	Georgia Tech
Notre Dame over Penn by 7	Notre Dame	Notre Dame
Maryland over Auburn by 21	Maryland	Maryland
Oklahoma over Colorado by 7	Oklahoma	Oklahoma

Iowa's goal against Pitt is its 51st victory in an opening football game. The Hawkeyes now have a record of 50 wins, 12 losses and tie. It's the fourth time in the past 10 seasons that Iowa has opened away from home. In 1950, Iowa whipped USC at Los Angeles.

Practice will open Thursday for Iowa varsity cross country runners, under the direction of Coach Francis Cretzmeyer, and for freshman football squad, coached by Wally Schwank.

2d Rate Reds Win Acquittal Of Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP) — Two second string Communist leaders won acquittal Tuesday in the midst of their conspiracy trial. Thirteen others were continued on trial.

The freeing of Simon W. Gerson and Isidore Begun brought smiles to the faces of all the defendants and led to a flurry of backslapping at the defense table.

It was the first setback to the government in three years of prosecuting Red leaders under the Smith act. The act outlaws any conspiracy to teach or advocate violent overthrow of the United States government. Maximum penalty is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock did not specify his reasons. The defense, however, had argued that there was insufficient evidence to prove a violation of the Smith act.

The trial began last March 31 and the government rested its case only a few days ago. The defense of the remaining 13 Reds is scheduled to open Wednesday before a jury of six women and six men.

Eleven top leaders of the Communist party were convicted in 1949 under the Smith act and sentenced to prison. Three vanished and still are at large.

With the top layer out of the way, the government indicted 21 second stringers in 1951, alleging they were taking over the reins of the party from convicted top brass. Four were never arrested. Two others were dropped out of the case because of illness.

Hershey's Son Hurt In Korean Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine Capt. Gilbert R. Hershey, son of Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the director of selective service, has been seriously wounded in Korea. Gen. Hershey said Tuesday he and his wife were officially notified Tuesday morning that Capt. Hershey was wounded in the chest, neck and upper legs and had been moved to the hospital ship USS Repose for further treatment.

The captain's condition was reported as "good." Capt. Hershey's wife and daughter live in San Clemente, Calif.

Recreation Group To Present Show

The Iowa City playground and recreation commission will hold its first annual hobby show Oct. 2 and 3 in the ballroom of the Community building.

Entries to date show a wide variety of hobby interests, said Mrs. Margaret Harrison, arts and crafts director for the recreation commission.

Everyone, regardless of age, is invited to exhibit a hobby. Registration blanks may be obtained at the recreation office in the community center. They must be completed and returned by 5 p.m. Monday, Sept. 29.

Sioux City Union Ends Long Strike

SIOUX CITY (AP) — More than 400 union employees of the Sioux City Battery company voted Tuesday to accept terms of a tentative agreement which would end their 41-day-old strike at the plant.

The union employees are members of the CIO United Auto Workers, Local 1204, who struck Aug. 14 after contract negotiations broke down.

Terms of the settlement agreement, thus far not made public, were reached by union negotiators and company officials.

Coast-to-Coast Run

Motorists Try for Record

Three southern California auto enthusiasts will pass through Iowa City Thursday in their endeavor to establish a record for the first non-stop, round-trip, coast-to-coast automobile run.

The three are Louie Mattar and Joe Mitchell, of San Diego; and Ernie Bashari, of Anaheim. They left National City, Calif., Saturday morning, Sept. 20, hope to reach New York city Wednesday, Sept. 24th and be back in Los Angeles, Saturday morning, Sept. 27th.

Their time schedule calls for them to pass through Iowa City at 1:30 p.m.

The trip is being made in Mattar's 1947 Cadillac, known as the "fabulous car." A San Diego garage owner, he has spent some $20,000 and four years preparing for the trip. To eliminate potential sources of trouble, he has now installed dual coils, condensers, carburetors, a special high voltage producing generator, extra fuel pumps and tanks.

Additional safeguards include an automatic system for refilling the oil in the crankcase, water in the radiator and fuel in the gas tank. Mattar also devised a spray system for cooling the tires when the temperature of the rubber reaches a certain point.

The vehicle will pull a special gas trailer with ample fuel, oil and water to reach Kansas City, Mo.

Lone Tree Raises New Polio Fund

LONE TREE (AP) — A polio relief fund to aid victims of the disease in this community has passed the $1,100 mark, Frank Hoskins, chairman of the collection campaign, said Tuesday.

Five persons from this area have been treated for the disease this year. The fund pays $50 a week to any family whose main supporter becomes ill with polio. The payments continue until the doctor gives permission for the patient to return to work or until the fund is exhausted.

The fund was started when Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Heitzman were stricken with the disease. Both are reported in serious condition at Iowa City.

Agriculture Agency Charged With 'Laxity' by Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senate committee reported Tuesday the agriculture department had been lax in some of its vast grain storage operations.

These "administrative deficiencies," it said, were a contributory factor in the "embezzlement" by private warehousemen of 10 million dollars worth of stored government grain over a five-year period.

However, there was no evidence of personal profit to government workers, the senate agriculture committee added in its report.

Follows Investigation

The 43-page report summarized a six-month investigation of the government's grain storage program. The commodity credit corporation, an agency of the agriculture department, buys up and stores grain to support the price paid to farmers. The senators received evidence that some private warehousemen who got the job of storing the grain diverted it to their own purposes, hoping to replace it before the government called for it.

The report was unanimously approved at a morning session attended by eight committee members, five Democrats and three Republicans — before it was made public. Five members were absent.

Brannan Mentioned

The senators aimed only one shaft directly at Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan. He appeared before the committee several times to defend his agency vigorously.

The report said Brannan could have moved more quickly for an investigation of Jack Cowart, an agriculture department employe, after receiving a tip about him in 1950.

A Washington attorney sent word to the secretary that Cowart had approached a Texas firm, for which the lawyer was acting, and hinted that he could help it out of some legal difficulties.

Terms It Unimportant

Brannan said that at the time he satisfied himself the prosecution against the company was proceeding and did not consider the tip of enough importance to have Cowart checked.

In 1951, the department fired Cowart after learning of his activities in another case. He was convicted in April of this year of taking money from a Texas grain bin manufacturer who collected a claim against the department.

Brannan Issues Statement

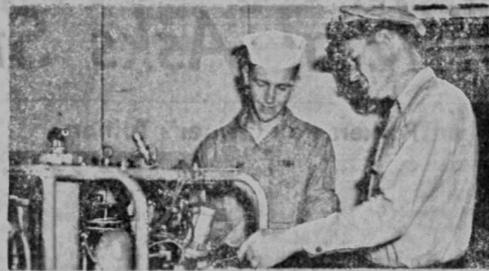

In a statement on the committee report, Brannan said: "I appreciate the committee making public the fact that 'no evidence was presented to the committee that any CCC personnel profited personally or was criminally involved' in these grain conversions.

"The report constitutes a complete answer and refutation to all the vicious and false innuendoes of Sen. John Williams, Sen. James Kem and others."

Williams (R-Del) and Kem (R-Mo.) have been critical of the handling of stored grain.

Repercussions in Nixon Case—

GOP Official Asks Stevenson's Resignation

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's withdrawal from the presidential campaign was demanded Tuesday because of his using a special cash fund to augment state salaries of some of his aides.

The demand was made by C. Wayland Brooks, Illinois Republican national committeeman and former U.S. senator from Illinois, in a letter to the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Stephen Mitchell.

Brooks also called for a congressional committee investigation of the fund collections to bring out who put up the money and how it was spent.

Cites Nixon Case
The former senator, now a Chicago attorney, reminded Mitchell that the Democratic chairman had demanded the retirement from the campaign of Sen. Richard M. Nixon after it was disclosed that a group of California business men set up an $18,235 expense account to supplement his government income and expense funds.

In Washington Tuesday, reporters asked Mitchell whether, in view of his demand that Nixon resign as the Republican vice presidential nominee, he would similarly demand that Stevenson get out of the race.

"I think that's ridiculous," Mitchell replied.

Refuses To Comment
He added that Stevenson had made a statement about the Illinois fund and he, Mitchell, was not going to talk about it.

Stevenson Monday night acknowledged that he had collected a fund to supplement state salaries of some of his appointive officers, and contended it was no secret.

None of the recipients, he declared, was an elected office holder or an office seeker. He added that the fund was aimed at relieving the financial strain of men who had given up high salaries in business and industry to go into state service at much less.

Melvin brought along 80 head of registered Durocs from his home in St. Charles, Mo., rented a farm and is in business.

Ike Summoned as Witness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower was summoned Tuesday as a character witness in a case which police have charged was murder that looked like an accident.

A defense attorney said the Republican presidential candidate was needed as a character witness and for other reasons.

G. Edward Grammer, 35-year-old office manager for the Climax Molybdenum company in New York is charged with beating his pretty wife to death here on Aug. 20, and setting their car to go down a steep hill with her body inside.

Grammer's attorney, Anthony S. Federico, said Eisenhower knows Grammer, who was a spy hunting sergeant during the war and served under the general.

The trial presently is set for Oct. 6. Federico asked that a summons be served on Eisenhower both at his residence at Columbia university in New York and when Eisenhower comes here Thursday for a major campaign speech.

State Commission Postpones Decision On Bus Application

Final results of an application by the American Buslines, Inc., Lincoln, Neb., to remove restrictions on service between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids will not be announced until Oct. 9, when a final hearing of the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway company opposition to the application will be heard in Cedar Rapids.

At the American Buslines hearing Tuesday in the Johnson county courthouse, D. A. Scott, general traffic manager of the firm, testified before the state commerce commission that his busline proposed an optional ticket honoring arrangement with the Grandic lines on July 3. Tickets between the two cities and common points would thereby be honored by either carrier.

The bus line official said that his firm sought the right to serve the cities and points between to provide service to the public and to increase revenues on existing rates.

New Radio Series Scheduled

A 13-week series of radio programs on "the dramatized ideas which are the enduring possessions of all Americans and other free peoples" will be broadcast by university radio station WSUI as a highlight of its election year schedule, program director Richard Setterberg has announced.

Entitled "The Jeffersonian Heritage" and starring Claude Rains, stage and motion picture actor, the programs will be presented every Wednesday beginning Oct. 1 at 7:30 p.m. They are a feature of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters tape-recorded network and were made possible by a grant from the Ford foundation.

WSUI will be one of 100 educational stations across the nation carrying the programs, which are based on the research, writing and advice of Prof. Dumas Malone of the department of history, Columbia university.

Historical Letters, Documents To Go on Display October 3

It was in 1814 that Francis Scott Key wrote the poem which was later to become the national anthem of the United States.

And late next week Iowans will have an opportunity to see the first magazine printing of the "Star Spangled Banner" — composed during the heat of the bombardment of Ft. McHenry in 1814 — when a collection of historical letters and documents goes on display at SUU.

The documents, which are from the private collection of Foreman Lebold, a Chicago industrialist, will be on display in the lobby of the new $1,700,000 SUU library Oct. 3 through 13. Tours of the collection will be conducted under the direction of Clyde C. Walker, curator of rare books in the university libraries.

Gov. William S. Beardsley will attend the opening of the exhibit as will many other prominent Iowans from all parts of the state. The collection, which includes 121 major documents from the bold, ranges from the humorous writings of Mark Twain and W. Rogers to the religious works of the founder of the Methodist church, John Wesley, and to the stirring messages and documents penned by such great leaders as Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson.

White House Retracts Report Truman Urged Nixon Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice department Tuesday was reported investigating the whole matter of public officials supplementing their government pay with outside funds.

But a White House aide took back a statement he had made earlier that President Truman had personally asked Atty. Gen. McGranery to study the legality of the $18,000 political fund of Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the Republican vice-presidential nominee.

Roger Tubby, assistant White House press secretary, told reporters he had been "absolutely wrong" in saying that the President told McGranery at last Friday's cabinet meeting to look into the situation.

The first statement was made two hours before its retraction.

Meanwhile the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, in a copyrighted story, said "the Eisenhower forces" had hired a Los Angeles law firm to study the legality of Nixon's expense fund, contributed by private citizens in California.

There still was no public statement from Truman on the matter. The Justice department would not admit that its own investigation was set off by the Nixon uproar or that it was actually making such a study.

Woman Appointed As Truman Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Tuesday appointed Mrs. Beth Campbell Short, widow of his late press secretary as one of his three $18,000-a-year secretaries.

She became the first woman to hold such a high White House position.

Mrs. Short, 44, will fill the post held for many years by William D. Hassett, chief correspondence secretary to President Roosevelt and President Truman. Hassett resigned recently.

Mrs. Short is the widow of Joseph Short, Truman's press secretary, who died last week. Truman has not named a new press chief.
