Red Publication Levels Attack At U.S. Envoy

MOSCOW (AP) — A blistering attack by Pravda Friday raised a question as to the future status of Ambassador George Kennan as the American envoy to Russia.

Pravda, organ of the Communist party and the highest journalistic authority in the Soviet Union, charged Kennan with conduct improper to an ambassador and said he was a "slanderer disguised as a diplomat."

The assault on the 48-year-old expert on Russian affairs, who took up his post here less than five months ago, was the result of an interview he gave reporters at Berlin Sept. 19 while en route to a London meeting of U.S. diplomatic chiefs.

Kennan Quoted
He was quoted as saying that Soviet-American relations had sunk to an "icy cold" level, and compared the situation of American diplomats in Moscow now with that of interned U.S. Americans in Berlin in 1941-42 during the war.

"Had the Nazis permitted us to walk the streets without having any right to talk to any Germans, that would be precisely how we have to live today in Moscow," he was quoted.

Kennan refused in London Friday to comment on the Pravda attack. In Washington, U.S. Secretary of State Acheson said the Pravda attack was wholly unjustified. He said Kennan had given a calm and accurate description of what life is like in Moscow.

Has Prominent Spot
Pravda's attack, signed by "observed" had been given a prominent place on the third page, and said Kennan was:

An "ecstatic liar."

A violator of elementary rules obligatory for diplomats.

Seeking to worsen Soviet-American relations rather than improve them.

Recommending himself as an enemy of peace, and thus of the Soviet Union.

Guilty of slanderous fabrications, crude anti-Soviet attacks, malicious hostility and obvious nonsense.

Old Capitol Gets Waterproof Coat

Old Capitol of the University campus is now being repaired with a waterproof mastic coat applied to its dome, pillars, and corners all the way around the building.

Work on the famous SUI landmark is being done by five employees of a Rock Island, Ill. waterproofing firm, and is expected to be completed in four to six weeks from last Monday's starting date.

Warming Up to Boost Hawkeyes

HELPING OUT A NEW CHERLEADER CANDIDATE is what Reed Hartsook (left) C4, Des Moines, and Marilyn Gilchrist (right) A3, Laurens, are doing. Hartsook and Miss Gilchrist are two holdovers from last year's cheerleading squad which is now in the process of recruiting male members for the coming year's activities. Chris Hertz, A2, Des Moines (center) was one of several men reporting for instruction by the present cheerleading team which will also be given to any interested candidates each afternoon at 4 p.m. outside the field house in preparation for final tryouts the latter part of the week.

Mountaineers Announce New Travelogue Series

The Iowa Mountaineers have announced a schedule of 18 natural-color motion picture films for the 1952-53 Adventure Travelogue series.

According to Mountaineers president John Ebert, the programs will be divided into two series of nine travelogues. Eight travelogues in each series will be Sunday evening presentations, the other program being held on Sunday afternoon, Ebert says.

The programs are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 5, with a film and commentary by W. Emerson Scott on "To the Arctic by Canoe."

Changes Bring Popularity
"The popularity of the travelogue is largely the result of our rapidly changing world," Ebert points out. "Today," he says, "we need to know the peoples of the earth and the lands they live in, so as to interpret the news and talk intelligently about distant places. Through travelogues we can explore these places without personal hardship or danger."

All of the travelogues will be shown in natural color and will be narrated in person by distinguished explorers and famous travelers, according to Ebert. Many of the programs will consist of original films.

Memberships on Sale
Travelogue memberships are now on sale for $5 per adult membership for each series, Ebert says, and a membership for attendance at both series is on sale for $8.

Junior travelogue memberships may be purchased for children under 12 years of age for $3 per series or for $5 for both series. Children, however, must be accompanied by responsible adults.

Application for Travelogue Memberships can be made to the Iowa Mountaineers, P.O. Box 163, in Iowa City, according to Ebert.

New History Course Added to Curriculum

A new course is being offered this fall by the SUI history department, Professor W. O. Aydelotte, chairman of the history department announced Friday.

This new course will be called American Colonial history and will be offered Tuesday and Thursday at 1:10 p.m. in 221A Schaeffer hall for two or three semester hours credit. The instructor will be Prof. Charles Gibson.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEOUL (SATURDAY) (AP) — Sharp-shooting Sabre jets destroyed four Communist MIGs and damaged four more Friday, boosting the number of Red jet planes shot down this month to a new high of 56 the air force announced. Clearing autumn skies brought out the first MIGs in four days, but the Sabres had to fly high to engage them. Snarling dogfights raged almost seven miles high east of Sinuiju or the Yalu river frontier of Manchuria. The aerial battles overshadowed the ground war Friday. Scattered patrol skirmishes were reported along the front but there was none of the heavy fighting for hill outposts such as flared earlier this month. In other air action, U.S. marine pilots bombed two Communist troop concentrations on the Haeji Peninsula above the western front. Pilots claimed 31 buildings destroyed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy Friday unveiled a powerful hit-and-run radiation device and said it would help speed research towards finding better defenses against atomic bomb rays. It's a mechanical, remote-control robot in which a relatively-cheap substitute for radium can be shot through pneumatic tubes, like a cash carrier in a department store. These "cartridges" of radio-active material can bring powerful atomic rays to bear uniformly on the entire body of a test animal for any desired length of time—and then be automatically withdrawn.

LONDON (AP) — People who favor a world government were urged Friday to adopt an arresting kind of a lodge uniform: a black and white striped gown and a biretta, the kind of hat worn by ecclesiastics. Roland Berrill, British astronomer and barrister, told newsmen at the closing session of a 25-nation Parliamentary Conference on World Government: "I believe this to be the only way of focusing public attention on our movement."

Scientist Says Military Needs Reorganization

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — A top atomic scientist Friday called for a reorganization of this country's military planning and command functions at the highest levels to eliminate what he considers confusion and dangerous weaknesses.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution, Washington, and a key figure in the development of the atomic bomb, urged legislation which would:

1. Make it clear the Joint Chiefs of Staff is a planning agency only, so as to interpret the news and talk intelligently about distant places.

2. Make it clear that military command and control rest with the President and his secretary of defense.

3. Encourage the unhampered work of military men of flexible thinking, capable of keeping abreast of new development and research in weapons.

Dedicates New Building

Dr. Bush's remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery at the dedication of the new Medical Sciences building of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester.

During World War II Dr. Bush was chairman of the National Defense Research committee, an agency which helped the military develop new weapons, and later was head of a group which organized the nation's scientific effort for war.

The scientist said his criticism was not of the "military mind," or of any political party or group, but of the framework under which his military leadership functions under the unification act.

Cites Imperfect Law
"Operating under an imperfect law," said Dr. Bush, "it is a wonder that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have accomplished anything whatsoever."

There is feeling in congress, Bush said, that it must interfere in plans of the Joint Chiefs of Staff because those plans are "not being well-formulated and executed."

Films, TV to Show Strato-Rocket Ride

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsreel and television viewers this week end will be able to see how two mice and a monkey lived through a rocket ride 40 miles above earth.

The air force told the story of this experiment last spring, but motion picture film taken by the camera installed in the rocket was not made available publicly until Friday by the defense department.

Iowa Legislative Group Blasted By Board Of Education President

Ike Narrowly Escapes Injury

Wooden Ramp Folds At Iowa State

FT. DODGE (AP) — Dwight G. Rider of Ft. Dodge, president of the state board of education, Friday blasted some members of the Iowa legislative interim committee as "drunk with power and the desire for publicity."

He accused the legislative committee of "trying to take away the administrative functions which the law granted to the state board of education."

Rider's scorching statement came as the climax of a long smoldering feud which broke into the open this week at a committee meeting. It was touched off by State Rep. Dewey E. Goode (R-Bloomfield), a committee member.

Matter Opens at Meeting
The matter came up in a committee session with board representatives who wanted to build a new million dollar science building at Iowa State college.

Goode accused the board of making illegal transfers from the college administrative fund to its building account.

Later the committee approved the construction of the science building but only after receiving a written promise from the board's building committee that it would stop shifting the college's moneys from general to building uses.

Asked 3 Questions
Rider's statement said he had asked the committee, in view of "the publicity adverse to the board which has been given to the press and radio," to answer three questions and make public the answers.

Rider said the committee declined to answer the questions because the "adverse publicity" did not result by action of the committee but by one of its members.

"And this member has not been man enough to answer them," Rider commented.

The questions Rider asked were whether there has been any dishonesty on the part of the board or any member, whether any moneys were spent for any purpose which was not absolutely necessary, and whether there was an honest dollar's worth of return to the people of the state for every dollar spent.

Goode Assumes Reference
At Bloomfield, Goode said he assumed that he was the member to whom Rider referred.

"At no time did I ever question the integrity or honesty of any member of the Board of Education," Goode said.

Gov. William S. Beardsley said at Cherokee he wanted to review the whole situation before commenting.

3 SUI Scientists Return to Campus From Arctic Journey

Three SUI scientists are back on campus after a summer expedition to the far north termed "most successful." The three worked within 500 miles of the north pole.

They are Prof. James A. Van Allen, head of the department of physics, and Lee Blodgett and L. H. Meredith, graduate students from Iowa City. The expedition party left Iowa City July 25 and returned to the United States Sept. 7.

The scientists studied the intensity of cosmic rays at heights of from 25 to 50 miles above the arctic tundra north of Greenland. Information was obtained by use of rockets lifted to an altitude of 55,000 feet by large balloons, then released into the upper atmosphere.

The expedition was part of a study headed by Van Allen and Melvin B. Gottlieb, assistant professor of physics. Financial aid came from the Research Corporation of New York, the Office of Naval Research, and the Atomic Energy commission.

38 Days Until Election—Voting Procedure for SUI Students Outlined

Eligible SUI students who plan to vote in the Nov. 4 presidential election and are not self-supporting or married must apply for an absentee ballot in time to vote and get it back to their home town city clerk or auditor the day before election.

If a student's home town is a city of over 10,000 population, he should write to the city clerk for his absentee ballot. In cities and villages under 10,000 population, the student should write to the county auditor in his home county.

Max Kane, acting city clerk, said Friday evening that his office had registered 709 new voters, including many married or self-supporting SUI students, since Sept. 1.

Married or self-supporting SUI students who make Iowa City their home may vote here if they can fulfill the following requirements: are 21 years old, a U.S. citizen, a resident of Iowa for six months, of Johnson county for 60 days and of the same precinct 10 days.

The city clerk's office is located on the ground floor of City hall, Washington and Linn sts., and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Iowa City is the only city or town in Johnson county where residents are required to pre-register in order to vote. But once a citizen is registered, he is not required to register again unless he moves to a different ward. Voters in Iowa City are being urged to vote and register by Voters Unlimited, a non-partisan committee of civic and service organizations.

This year, Voters Unlimited is going to present a citizenship citation to the Iowa City ward showing the greatest percentage of increase in voters over the 1948 November election. It was estimated in 1948 that there were 30,312 eligible voters in Johnson county, but only 16,303 persons voted.

Controversial Fund Defended By Stevenson

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, defending the fund he set up to augment Illinois state officials' pay declared Friday "if it's a crime to help good people in government, then I'm guilty."

The Democratic presidential nominee mentioned the controversial fund briefly at the outset of a campaign address in which he accused Indiana's GOP Sen. William E. Jenner of slandering "one of our greatest patriots," Gen. George C. Marshall.

Attacks Jenner
Stevenson also said Jenner has deprecated "in ugly words" the fight for peace.

The Illinois governor slapped at Jenner in a speech calling for a "bare bone" economy in government with safeguards against jeopardizing national security.

Stevenson told the largest indoor crowd of his campaign to date—a cheering overflow audience in the 12,000-seat coliseum at the Indiana state fairgrounds—that the Republicans are resorting to "irresponsible demagoguery" in talking about cutting the federal budget.

Mentions Fund
As for the controversial pay-supplementing fund he set up for Illinois officials, Stevenson departed from his prepared text to say he had heard there is a "lot of curiosity" about some help he had given to state employees.

"If it is a crime to help some good people in government, then I'm guilty," he declared.

And he got a hearty round of applause.

RITA ENTERTAINS

PARIS (AP) — Rita Hayworth, who has a divorce suit pending in the U.S. against Prince Aly Kahn, was staying Friday night at the prince's home in suburban Neuilly. So was Aly.

SUI's Humor Magazine X Staff Named

The initial staff for SUI's humor magazine, Magazine X has been announced. This list is not a permanent one, since most positions do not remain constant for the whole year. The practice of alternating positions is for the advantage of the student, giving each individual the opportunity for experience in each phase of work.

Serving as beginning editor on this year's staff will be Mary Donnan, A3, Des Moines, with Dean Norman, A4, Cedar Rapids as assistant editor, and Connie Hastings, A3, Iowa City handling the managing editor position.

Circulation manager will be Candy Kane, A4, Des Moines with assistant manager, Pat Pomeroy, A1, Des Moines, and production manager stated as Ray Graham, A4, Dysart.

The magazine's advertising manager will be Don Boyle, A2, Perry, assistant advertising manager.

Former Instructor Wounded in Korea

Only 26 days after he left Iowa City, Capt. William B. Southwick was wounded in action, his wife learned Friday by telegram.

Captain Southwick, 532 Kimball road, had been for two years a member of the faculty of the military science department of SUI.

In action on Pork Chop hill Sept. 18 near Old Baldy, the Iowa City officer was hit by a piece of artillery shrapnel and received a flesh wound in the left leg, while his position was being attacked.

Dirty Politics

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson made a 13-word unscheduled talk Friday night—and touched off a howl of laughter.

In advance of a formal campaign address, the Democratic presidential nominee drove from a downtown hotel to the home of Indiana's governor, Henry F. Schrieker, for dinner.

A crowd of 100 or so people was on hand to greet him there and followed the Illinois governor onto the porch of the mansion.

After Stevenson had disappeared into Schrieker's home, the crowd began to call for Stevenson to make an appearance. Finally he appeared at an upstairs window and stepped out onto a small balcony.

Poking his head around the awning, Stevenson told the crowd: "My statement for tonight is that I am going to take a bath."

With that he ducked back inside while the crowd laughed heartily.

Acheson Accuses Ike Of Misquoting Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson accused Dwight D. Eisenhower Friday of misquoting him and "torturing the facts" about administration policy toward the defense of Korea.

In a speech at Cincinnati Sept. 22, Eisenhower said that five months before the Reds attacked in Korea Acheson had "declared that America's so-called defensive perimeter excluded areas on the Asiatic mainland such as Korea."

Eisenhower suggested that this invited the 1950 Communist onslaught on Korea. Eisenhower held that the decision to defend Korea when the attack occurred was inescapable but he said it was "the incompetence of political leaders which made military action necessary."

Denies Statement
Acheson declared in a statement that he used no language excluding Korea. He said the position he took in a speech to the National Press Club here Jan. 12, 1950, was this:

1. The American defensive perimeter included the Aleutian Islands, Japan, the Ryukyus and the Philippines and if this line were attacked the United States would defend it alone if necessary — just as it would the nation's continental area.

2. Should an attack ever occur outside the defensive perimeter, the initial defense must come from the people on the scene and reliance then would have to be made on the United Nations to repel aggression.

Disbelief Expressed
"I cannot believe," Acheson said, "Gen. Eisenhower now means to imply that Korea should have been included by me within the defense perimeter and that it should have been manned by American troops."

"Certainly, as chief of staff of the Army, his opinion was quite to the contrary and wholly in accordance with the statement I made."

Truman Says UN Being Undermined

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said Friday there is an increasing attempt by "old isolationists" to undermine the United Nations "and to turn back on our onward march toward peace."

Naming no names, he said attacks on the UN have grown bolder since the death of former Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan Republican who often worked closely with the administration on foreign policy.

Fresh Signs Appear— Fall Business Pick-up in U.S. Reaches Stride

NEW YORK (AP) — Fresh signs appear Friday that the fall pick-up in business is getting into its stride.

They help to sweeten up an over-all situation that makes many observers uneasy: A production slowdown in some other parts of the world; a falling-off in world trade; a splatter of dividend rate cutting by some U. S. firms; a trickle of earnings reports that show profits still sliding from their year-ago level.

But the immediate future near at home looks a little brighter.

Retail Sales Increase
Retail trade in most cities is running slightly ahead of a year ago. The Federal Reserve Bank reports department store sales edging up by 1 per cent over last September.

Dun & Bradstreet estimates total retail trade in the nation this week to be from 1 to 5 per cent higher than a year ago, and order volume higher in most wholesale markets.

Chain stores and mail order houses report August sales higher than last year, increases ranging from 1 to 31 per cent.

Television set sales, production — and in some cases prices — are reported climbing.

TV Sales Climb
Christmas retail sales in the nation's stores should top last year's total, according to Howard P. Abrahams, manager of the sales promotion division of the National Retail Dry Goods association.

Jobs are more plentiful, the Labor Department reports. Since July a number of cities have reported unemployment sharply lower.

Business loans by the nation's banks are rising as industry gets ready for the fall activity, the Federal Reserve Board reports. It says last week saw the biggest weekly increase since December, 1950.

And the department of commerce, looking at business in general, sums it up as "continuing its gentle increase." It thinks this should last through the rest of the year at least.

Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans have a monopoly on corruption," Sparkman told 400 persons at the Des Moines Dinner club Thursday night.

Trouble at the Crossroads

Union Offers 7-Point Settlement In International Harvester Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — The independent United Electrical-Farm Equipment Workers union Thursday night offered a seven-point "settlement package" aimed at ending its six weeks strike against the International Harvester company.

The move, the union said in a statement, "paved the way for Harvester to take the next step toward settling the strike."

The offer was made to the company through Jay Oliver, U.S. conciliator, commissioner, who has been meeting with both sides since the strike started last month.

Earlier in the day, John P. McCaffrey, president of Harvester, said company negotiators will meet with the union whenever UEFWE made a strike-ending agreement acceptable to the company.

The statement followed a union offer to use the wage contract in effect before the strike began as a basis for negotiations.

In addition to the union's principal demand for a 15 cents an hour wage raise, the seven-point package included:

"Incorporate past cost-of-living raises into the permanent rate structure; eliminate plant wage inequities; guarantee against pay cuts; salary administration plan for office workers; improved health and welfare plan; settlement of local issues, including jobs for displaced twine mill plant workers, and withdrawal of reprisal actions against workers."

Harvester officials could not be reached for comment on the new union offer.

McCaffrey said earlier in a statement relating to the union offer to use the previous contract as a basis for new negotiations that the company "is represented at the bargaining table by men who are thoroughly familiar with our position on all issues."

"They have full authority to act. Whenever the Farm Equipment Workers union is ready to make an agreement which would be acceptable to the company, they can make it with our officials who are present."

Some 30,000 production workers are involved in the strike at eight plants in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

Interpreting the News — U.S., Russian Friendship Ties On False Basis

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Why do diplomats say so many things they don't mean?

When the new Russian ambassador arrives in Washington he says his country is striving to maintain friendly relations with the United States. He flatly denies that his government is waging a "hate campaign" against America.

Coldly unbending, but applying the technique which is common to foreign offices and sewing circles, President Truman replies that the people of the United States have only the friendliest feelings for the peoples of the Soviet Union.

The President, of course, can defend his statement better than can Mr. Zarubin. Americans frequently express a certain sympathy for the Russian people, trying to make a distinction between them and the hated Soviet government.

Actually, unless this sentiment is expressed by the well-traveled or better educated, it usually has a hollow sound. The people, as politicians think of them en masse, usually display suspicion of all foreign people except maybe Canadians, Australians and a few other of the smaller nationalities.

And they certainly think today that what they conceive to be the general Russian "character" is largely responsible for the excesses of the Soviet government both at home and abroad.

Ask them formally and they will say what Truman said, but it's not what they mutter into their beer mugs or tea cups.

But when two representatives of disputing nations are placed face to face in a situation short of war, they remain "correct." If three get together, there's likely to be a little ruckus. But it's only when they are apart that they really start telling the truth on each other.

Even as you and I.

Farm Loan Group Told Interest Rates To Remain Stable

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — No increase in interest rates on Federal Land Bank loans is anticipated, delegates attending the four-state federation of Farm Loan Association were told Thursday.

E. N. van Horne, Omaha, president of the Federal Land Bank of Omaha spoke at a meeting attended by representatives of farmer-owned loan groups in South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa and Wyoming. The meeting was preliminary to the 35th anniversary Federal Land Bank and National Farm Loan association conference which opened Thursday.

"I do not see any reason why we should have to increase our interest rate," Van Horne said. "The honeymoon is over so far as large dividends are concerned — especially if we are successful in continuing our present low interest rate on loans."

O. H. Olseth, Huron, S.D., was elected president of the four state group. Named to the executive committee were V. M. Boshart, Mt. Pleasant, Ia.; H. P. Lindburg, Shenandoah, Ia.; W. A. Refshauge, York, Neb.; Glenn H. Bernstein, Brookings, S.D., and W. Max Bellis, Lingle, Wyo.

Youth Tells Police Of Stealing 2 Cars

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — A 16-year-old Lincoln, Neb., boy asked authorities in Cheyenne Thursday what he should do about stealing two autos.

The boy, a tall, slender blonde, told police he took a car in Lincoln last Sunday and drove it to a point near Hamburg, Ia. There he abandoned the car and walked into Hamburg where he took another, entered a house and obtained $12 in cash.

Police Chief Bill Lane said the boy landed in Cheyenne Wednesday evening and apparently spent the night in the car.

Thursday morning the boy went to Laramie County welfare authorities who called police.

Teen-Age Wife Testifies At Manslaughter Trial

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Teen-age Martha Wage wept in court Thursday as she told of shooting her U. S. air force husband after he capped months of unfaithfulness and abuse by bringing his German girl friend "into our own house."

"He told me he was going to take her out, and I thought he was going to go home with her," sobbed the 19-year-old blonde from Red Wing, Minn., as she testified in her own defense against a charge of manslaughter.

Became Angry
"I got real mad and told him he was not going out with her. Then I went and got the gun. I thought if he saw me with a gun he'd not go out with her."

Mrs. Wage broke down completely when she came to the shooting scene, and her defense attorney led her gently over that moment without asking her to describe the fatal shot.

Wants Scene Re-enacted
But the prosecution on cross-examination announced its intentions of having her re-enact the entire scene. The same bed in which Wage died was ordered brought into court Friday morning for what may be the last day of the dramatic trial.

The three-judge court already has reduced the charge against Mrs. Wage from murder to manslaughter because under German law a killing motivated by jealousy is not legally murder.

Conviction still could carry a maximum punishment of life imprisonment.

Describes Misery
Mrs. Wage described in detail her growing misery with Sgt. Dan P. Wage, 26, of Baldwin, Wis.

When Wage was transferred to Fuerstenfeldbruck, Germany, Mrs. Wage, pregnant for the second time, followed him hopefully. But he soon began staying out late at night and grew abusive to her, she related.

Existence of 'Funds' Claimed by Congressman
MERCED, Calif. (AP) — Rep. Alan Oakley Hunter (R-Calif.) says his list the members of both houses of congress have funds similar to that of Sen. Richard Nixon.

He told a meeting here Wednesday he had $4,000 in contributions in the past two years; that there was nothing legally nor morally wrong with it, and that 50 per cent of his colleagues in congress did the same.

Federal Aid Used For Flood Damage Caused Last April

DES MOINES (AP) — Three more federal checks to pay for restoration of flood damaged facilities of western Iowa governmental subdivisions reached the state adjutant general's office Thursday.

The three totaled $13,303. The distribution was Mills county $9,543, for repairs on roads; the village of Blenoe, $1,888, purpose not designated, and Bartlett consolidated school, $1,872 for renovation and repairs. The checks will be forwarded through the state treasurer's office.

Previously $29,253 had been paid to seven governmental subdivisions, mostly in western Iowa but some in eastern Iowa. The damage was caused by April floods in the Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

Division of OPS Forbids Release Of News to Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employees of one of the office of price stabilization's main divisions were barred Thursday from giving "any information whatever" to newspapermen until it is officially released by higher-ups.

The OPS office of public information said the order was issued without its prior knowledge or approval. It said action on the matter will be considered Friday.

An order issued by E. E. Fogle, the division director, said all proposed action price regulations "must be considered confidential" until formally released by OPS to the press.

The formal releases are made available to newsmen in "handouts" prepared by the agency's information staff.

The division which Fogle heads deals with prices of rubber, chemicals, drugs, and fuel.

Fogle was not immediately available for comment.

Shakespeare's Personality Told In U. of North Carolina Study

CHAPPEL HILL, N. C. (CP) — Facts about Shakespeare's little-known personality are coming to light in a new kind of study of his plays at the University of North Carolina.

A mellowing of his personality in later life is revealed by a study of the play characters, made by Dr. Harold G. McCurdy, associate professor of psychology. This study is quantitative. It measures the numbers of each kind of play character, and how they changed.

The first measurement is how much space each character gets. The second character gets only three-fifths as much as the lead. This is the largest gap between characters. Below the second the gaps in space percentage are much smaller.

Analyzes Characters
Next he notes what kind of characters Shakespeare favors, and whether they tend to repeat from play to play. In this part of the study, in 32 plays, one-sixth of the lead characters are gentle, loyal women. Five-sixths are proud, dependable and aggressive men. These male characters repeat.

But toward the close of Shakespeare's life the lead men become less violent. This change appears at the time of the plays, "Henry IV" and "Hamlet." It is interpreted as showing a change in Shakespeare's attitude toward his father. At the time of "Henry IV," Shakespeare was trying to obtain a coat

Truman's Tour Cost Will Reach $21,250

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's 15-day, 24-state stop campaign tour will cost the Democratic National Committee about $21,250, spokesmen said Thursday.

Committee officials said that was a White House estimate based on an average cost of about $2.50 per mile for the 8,500 mile trip. Truman leaves Saturday night to campaign for Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson.

These figures cover only the estimated costs for the President's own party, expected to number about 20.

A committee spokesman said it is normal for the committee to pay for the President's political expenses.

Everyone Doesn't Yearn for Broadway

SUI DRAMA STUDENTS, who are currently trying out for the University theater scheduled production of "Harvey," are Rosemary Wayland, A1, Tipton; Jayne Stewart, A2, Fairfield; Jerry Broudy, G, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Lily Jose, G, Philippine islands. All four students, along with many other amateur "thespians" in the SUI dramatic arts department, agree that stage-fame is not the only reward offered by study in the theater. The greater percentage of drama students agree that the real pleasure in theater work is making the theater a recognized institution through work in the community theater and teaching fields.

A popular conception which has been strengthened in novels and motion pictures is that all young persons interested in the theater are going to leave their homes at the first opportunity and flock to Broadway to rent cold-water flats in Greenwich Village.

This elaborated portrait of striving fame-seekers is largely untrue, for statistics in the SUI dramatic arts department prove that a much greater percentage of the graduating dramatic arts seniors find employment in the schools and community theaters of this country's 20,000 small towns.

There are some students of the drama who are interested only in being able to express themselves on the stage, but they are a definite minority.

The undergraduate students in the SUI drama department agree upon several things: that the acting field is overcrowded, that there are few chances for real advancement on the stage and that the theater should not be centralized in New York.

As Mary Patterson, A3, LaGrange, Ill., in the department expresses it: "Too many plays are being written only for Broadway audiences, while the beautiful plays of the past are not being produced any more. The theater is people and therefore belongs to the people, not to New York."

Modern Viewpoint

Typical of this modern viewpoint are Rosemary Wayland, A1, Tipton, and Jayne Stewart, A2, Fairfield. Miss Wayland, who appeared in the leading roles of last year's productions of "Stage Door" and the Panacea musical and who worked in summer stock with the Cedar Rapids' "Foot Lighters" company, agrees that the last place she would go is the "big city."

She is more interested in the community theater field, directing and working on the technical staffs in lighting, stageract, sets, and designing. Miss Stewart, who was also in "Stage Door," shares this theory.

Interested in teaching dramatics to students of high school level is Howard Sible, A4, Clinton. Sible is of the opinion that high school speech and dramatic courses are usually nothing more than a disliked chore for the students.

His primary reason for wanting to teach is to develop a genuine interest within his students in the literature and plays of the past and to thus be able to share this interest with them.

Among the students who have as their goal a career on Broadway or in Hollywood are Elizabeth Engrav, A4, Iowa City, Jerry Silberman, A2, Milwaukee, Wis., and Jerry Broudy, G, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Engrav appeared with a professional summer stock theater this year and played five leading roles, while Broudy, who traveled from his "native-land" of Brooklyn to attend the drama workshop at SUI, has written mystery programs which have been produced on television.

Many Plays

Broudy, who has appeared in several "off-Broadway" theaters in such plays as "Othello," "He Who Gets Slapped" and "Each In His Own Way" will attempt to find a future as director, actor, and playwright for television, while Miss Engrav hopes to act for the media.

Both agree, however, that if their hopes are not substantiated they will use their experience to help others develop an interest in the theater.

Another ambitious amateur thespian is Lily Jose, G, Philippine Islands, who has acted in school plays at Stofolo Tomas university in the Philippines. Miss Jose, newly-acquainted with American culture and drama, will return to the Philippines to direct plays for the legitimate stage upon completion of her graduate degree in the department.

Not one of these students, who are currently attending "try-outs" for "Harvey," the University theater's first scheduled production for this season, would be inclined to turn their back on stage fame if an exceptional opportunity presented itself. Many find this opportunity in the new field of television.

But most are able to develop a new interest and pleasure in their career choice through the prospect of making the theater a recognized institution throughout the country.

Landladies Are Important Part of SUI Family

By MARY JO GARVEY

Probably the most forgotten and inconspicuous members of the SUI family are the housekeepers in the private homes throughout Iowa City.

These women have opened their homes year after year to university students wishing to live off campus. They act as combined housemothers, and proctors, working in cooperation with SUI officials.

It is their duty to see that the students renting rooms in their homes act in accordance with set university regulations.

But the duties of these women don't end here. More than often, they have taken in student boarders because they genuinely like young people and have a keen understanding of their problems.

Combined Roles

Some of them play the combined roles of housekeeper, proctor, disciplinarian and mother to as many as eight or nine students a year.

They share the letdown of a poor exam mark and the elation of a good one. When students get disgusted with life in general, they often sit down and talk over their problems with the landlady.

All in all housekeepers have to be pretty special people with the equivalent of a major in psychology. If they find cigarette butts in the sink and animals dissected in biology class under the beds, they usually manage to hold their tempers long enough to explain to their young boards why such things aren't accepted policy.

Mrs. Edna Diehl, 419 E. Bloomington street, has been renting rooms to college boys for ten years and does more than necessary to keep up her end of the deal.

Pressed Properly

She inspects the boys before they venture out on dates to see that white bucks are polished and pants pressed.

She lets them raid the kitchen when she's baking and throws gala Christmas parties before the boarders leave for vacation.

She even fills the radiators when their hot-tubs boil over. In addition to her duties as landlady, she is employed as a maid at Currier Hall.

Some students may scoff at the thought of a landlady being motherly but if they look closely at the gal who collects the rent each month, they might find that she is a pretty swell person after all.

GLARING BULBS

Diffused lighting is flattering to every woman, so if you're faced with the awful problem of glaring ceiling bulbs, try clipping on a lamp diffuser. They're made of fiberglass in a natural color, and a brass snap-on clip quickly enables you to attach one to an electric bulb in one quick motion.

SPENCER'S HARMONY HALL

The Student's Music Home for 40 Years!

15 S. Dubuque St. Dial 3550

Pitt Slight Favorite Over Hawks Today

PITTSBURGH — Oddsmakers rate Iowa a six-point underdog for its opener here today, yet most crystal ball "experts"—local and national—give the Hawks the nod. So take your pick, only time can tell how the hustling Hawks are going to shape up in their first year under Coach Forest Evashevski.

Game time is noon, central standard time.

The conflict in predictions is due mainly to Pitt's reluctance to give out much information on their team as against Iowa's playing under a new system with question mark material plus injuries to key players.

Pitt apparently gets the official edge because its new head coach, Red Dawson, has inherited a veteran squad from last year while Evey's outfit lost 26 lettermen by graduation or injury.

The forecast is clear and moderately warm for the battle which is expected to attract about 25,000 fans. Pitt will be out to continue a three-game winning streak from last season. If the Panthers do win, it will be the first time they have taken an opener since 1949.

Pitt came fast at the end of last season, dropping West Virginia, Penn State and Miami in order. The game ends a two-game home and home series. Last year Iowa beat Pitt, 34-17, with quarterback Burt Britzmann leading the attack.

3 TD Passes

He completed 12 passes for three touchdowns and 205 yards. Rice caught two of the scoring tosses.

Pitt has lost its great passing combination of Bob Westwick and Chris Warriner which gave the Hawks headaches in last year's game.

An untested but highly regarded sophomore, Rudy Mattioli, is now in the key quarterback spot.

Pitt Backs Big

The Panther backs are big—they average almost 180 pounds—and have good speed. Standout in the line is end Dick Deitrick, who caught 24 passes for 231 yards last year.

Forty men made the trip to Pittsburgh with Pete Spanjers and Andy Houg the only notable absentees. Both are on the injured list, of course, but probably will be ready for action next week against Indiana.

Dusty Rice made the trip, but indications are that he will be used little, if at all.

Four Sophs Start

Iowa's probable offensive lineup includes only four seniors. Five starters, four of them sophomores, will be playing in their first college game.

The Hawks are inexperienced and lack depth, but the coaches are hoping that spirit and determination will make up for this.

It shapes up as a wide-open battle with Dawson's T formation against Evey's newly innovated Michigan-type single wing.

Stearnes at Halfback

Iowa's starters are about as expected from indications in recent practices with only a couple of exceptions. Senior Jerry Hilgenberg, a letterwinner, is slated to open at offensive center ahead of Warren Lawson and Bobby Stearnes has bounced back from oblivion to take over the right halfback slot ahead of Bob Phillips and Don Inman.

Neither Pitt nor the Hawks will use a complete two-platoon system. For the Hawks end Bill Fenton guard John Hall and back Binkey Broeder, to name a few, will be playing both ways. For Pitt tackles Lqu Palatella and El-dred Kraemer and guard Merle DeLuca will play nearly full time.

The Pittsburgh invasion will be the first eastern trip since the final game of the 1948 season, when the Hawkeyes defeated Boston university, 34-14.

In their only meeting besides last year's Iowa win, Pitt blanked the Hawks, 21-0.

Michigan State At Michigan In Top Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 college football team in the eyes of pre-season pollsters today sees its third straight triumph over its favorite victim, Michigan.

California, already picked by those same pollsters as one of the Rose Bowl contestants, runs up against Missouri, an opponent which came within minutes of scoring a major upset last week.

Princeton, possessor of the longest current winning streak in football, goes on television with Columbia to show the sit-at-homes how it was done.

Michigan State, which isn't yet eligible to compete for the Big Ten football title, has walloped once-mighty Michigan the past two years and would like to make it three straight.

Princeton on TV

The meeting between Princeton, which has won its last 22 games, and thinly-manned but often-dangerous Columbia was selected for a nationwide telecast under the NCAA television program.

Intersectional struggles highlight the entire program Saturday with the west coast offering some of the best. In addition to Missouri-California, there are Texas Christian against highly regarded UCLA and Nebraska at Oregon.

The Big Ten opener at Columbus, Ohio, marks the Big Ten coaching debut of Indiana's Bernie Crimmons, former Notre Dame playing star and coaching aide.

Split T for Bucks

The Buckeyes will unveil a new split-T attack and a sophomore quarterback, John Borton, who succeeds a two-year veteran, Tony Curcillo, now a line-backer and offensive fullback.

Wisconsin and Purdue, strong favorites to dethrone Illinois, or at least win Big Ten representation in the Rose Bowl, are expected to subdue Marquette and Penn State without too much difficulty.

Illinois, with Tommy O'Connell back for what should be an exceptional season at quarterback, should keep pass-minded Iowa State in check.

Gophers Could Surprise

Minnesota has its work cut out for it against Washington. The Gophers could be a Big Ten surprise if last year's youthful squad rallies around versatile Paul Giel.

The Midwest's perennial power, independent, Notre Dame, opens against Pennsylvania at Philadelphia with the Irish quarterback job still to be claimed.

In the east, there's Santa Clara at Kansas, Texas at North Carolina, Villanova at Clemson and South Carolina at Army.

Along strictly sectional conference lines are such standout tussles as Holy Cross-Dartmouth, Colgate-Cornell and Yale-Navy in the east; Florida-Georgia Tech, Georgia-Tulane, Alabama-Louisiana State, Maryland-Auburn, Mississippi-Kentucky, Mississippi State-Tennessee and Wake Forest-William and Mary in the south.

City High Drops Blue Devils, 28-12

By DICK MAU
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

City high fought back Friday night from a 12-7 halftime deficit to score three times in the second half and hand Davenport its third straight setback, 28-12, on the Iowa City field Friday night.

Coach Frank Bates made give his first team a shot of adrenalin at halftime. The Little Hawk line which has previously shown great defensive abilities, was literally torn apart by the Davenport offense in the first half.

Davenport's loss buried the Blue Devils at the bottom of the Mississippi Valley conference, a position which they have avoided for many years. In fact, the Imps haven't lost three games in one season since 1946, let alone three in a row.

City High Undeclared

On the other hand City high has an unblemished record. It has won two and tied one, the latter a non conference conflict. Bates' crew is at the reins of the conference, and from here on out will, along with Clinton, be favored to stay in this heralded position.

The Hawklets, who came out of their first half coma, with 3 minutes remaining in the third quarter were sparked in their second half surge by the play of left halfback, Bobby Frantz.

IOWANS HARVARD STARTERS

Henry A. Rate of Iowa City and John Culver of Cedar Rapids will be in the starting lineup for Harvard as the Crimson meet Springfield in their opener today at Harvard Stadium. Rate, a senior, will start at right end. He became a first-string end with the varsity as a sophomore. He is a graduate of City high, where he played football, basketball and baseball and for two years was a member of the state championship tennis doubles team.

Frantz scored two of the three Little Hawk tallies in the third and fourth periods and also carried the ball for good yardage through those periods. One of Frantz' scoring plays was a 62-yard run from a punt formation.

Davenport Not Weak

Davenport, by no means, is a weak team. The Imps fairly trampled the Hawklets in the first half behind the brilliant running of fullback, Tom Lynch, and the passing combination of Carroll Howlett, quarterback, to Lee Jensen, right halfback.

Coach Butch Solfa's boys had their fun in the second quarter when two Howlett to Jensen passes gave the Blue Devils their 12-7 halftime lead. Coupled with these two scoring plays Lynch, who carried the ball 75 per cent of the time in the first half for Davenport, ran through the Little Hawk line like it was nothing more than the hole in the proverbial Holland Dam.

First quarter play took place almost completely in Davenport territory. Finally with only 40 seconds remaining in that first period Paul Davis, speedy Hawklet half back, sped over for the initial score from the Davenport 2 yard line. Bob Shain made his first of four conversions, and the tally at the end of quarter No. 1 was City high 7, Davenport 0.

Play Reverses

Second quarter play was a veritable contrast from that of the first. Davenport controlled the ball on their own 41-yard line at the beginning of the second period, and drove to the Iowa City one-foot line on 14 consecutive running plays only to be stopped by the Hawklet defense.

City high received the kickoff downs and the Imps proceeded to grind out their first score. The Devils moved from the Iowa City 40 to the 20 on two running plays. Then Howlett, running to his right, jump-passed to his favorite receiver, Jensen, for a 20-yard scoring play. This score was made with only two minutes remaining in the half.

Davenport then kicked off to Iowa City. On the Little Hawks' second play from scrimmage, a pass from Don Hedges was intercepted by Lynch on the City high 45-yard line from where he drove back to the Iowa City 10. Howlett then connected with another aerial to Jensen and City high trailed 12-7 at halftime.

Fumble on 1st Play

City high received the kickoff in the second half but lost the ball on a fumble on their first play. Davenport then ran three plays only to pull a turnaround.

City high was now on their own 21 yard line. It took 12 Iowa City plays to turn the trick, but the Hawklets drove 79 yards to score. Two important stage setting plays in this drive were a pass from Davis to end Charlie Sample from the Iowa City 40 to the Blue Devil 22 yard line, and Graham Crow's end run to the seven yard marker. Crow then two plays later scored from the two on an off-tackle slant. Coach Bates' crew led 14-12 as the final period opened.

After stopping Davenport's initial fourth quarter drive the eventual victors took over. With third down and 11 yards to go Frantz stepped back into punt formation from where he ran 62 yards for another Hawklet score. Shain converted, and the score stood at 21-12.

The final score of the contest came when Charlie Sample intercepted a desperate pass attempt by Howlett and carried the ball to the Davenport 39. From this point Chuck Warren carried an end around play which clicked to the five. Then Frantz drove over for the winner's fourth score, and Shain completed his perfect night with a good extra point try.

Bluehawks Lose Again, 26-12; Bears Score in Each Period

By FRANK BAKER
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

West Branch handed University high its second straight Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference loss, 26-12, on the university practice field Friday afternoon.

Neither team was sharp. U-high fumbled four times and lost it four times while West Branch was able to recover all of its many fumbles.

West Branch won the toss and elected to receive. The Bears kept the ball until they had scored a touchdown, giving an indication of the power they were later to display. The big plays in this first drive were a pass from Dick Swails to Jack Hoffman and a 20-yard dash to paydirt by Jim Little.

During this opening drive the West Branch club showed what was going to happen the rest of the game. They ripped apart the U-high line and had good downfield blocking. But the fumbling in their own backfield hampered them all afternoon.

The second quarter was only about three minutes old when the visitors scored again. They started on their own 40-yard line after a Van Dyke punt. The first play saw Jack Hoffman reel off an 11-yard gain for a first down then Gary Meeks followed with 11 more yards and another first down. Jim Little ran two plays around left end for 12 yards and a first down on the U-high 22-yard line.

Meeks got one and Little made eight yards on two plays before a fourth down pass from Jack Hoffman to Red Eggers accounted for the second West Branch touchdown.

Tom Bryson recovered a Van Dyke fumble on the first play after the kickoff and West Branch started another march from the U-high 15.

Bluehawk Ike Riggie threw Gale Gates for a four-yard loss on the first down. Then an end-around gained one yard and Jack Hoffman got eight for fourth down and five on the 10. Gates tried the left end but he was stopped and U-high took over on the 13 before the half ended.

University high received his second half kickoff but barely missed making a first down on the initial series of plays. Gardner Van Dyke kicked the ball into the end zone and the Bears took over on the 20. Jack Hoffman lost no time in putting the Blues further in the hole. He raced 80-yards around his own left end to bring the score to 19-0. Jim Little punched over right guard for the extra point.

The rest of the third quarter was spent fumbling and kicking—neither team making a first down. Sid Winter fumbled for the Blues as the fourth quarter began and West Branch's Tom Bryson recovered on the U-high 33. Jack Hoffman got 15 for a first down on the U-high 15. Gary Meeks took over and scored after two plays.

With this 26-0 lead West Branch Coach Bud Andrus sent in a complete team of reserves. Van Dyke returned the kick to mid-field. On the first play he took a John Price pass and raced to the goal on the first play. Andrus immediately put his first team back in for the rest of the game.

After the Bears were held for downs, Van Dyke returned Hoffman's punt to the 24. Bruce Miller threw an incomplete jump pass, then Van Dyke threw to Ike Riggie for a 38-yard gain. Riggie plucked the ball away from a West Branch man who thought he had intercepted the ball.

John Price took to the air again this time hitting Van Dyke for five. Van Dyke ran for seven and a first down on the 27. Then he faded back and threw a bloop pass to Sid Winter for 17 yards. Van Dyke put the ball over from the 10 on two running plays, making the final 26-12 score.

Martin's Single in 11th Clinches Yankee Flag

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The New York Yankees clinched their fourth consecutive American League pennant Friday when Billy Martin cracked a two-out bases loaded single in the top of the 11th inning to drive in two mates and pave the way for a 5-2 triumph over the fighting Philadelphia Athletics.

Johnny Sain, 34-year-old righthander, who pitched the Boston Braves to a National League pennant in 1948, was the winning pitcher, hurling two and one third innings of scoreless relief after squelching a Philadelphia threat in the bottom of the ninth. Harry Byrd, brilliant rookie righthander, who went all the way for the A's was charged with the defeat.

The victory gave Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees the distinction of leading a team to four straight pennants, previously accomplished only by Joe McCarthy and John McGraw.

It was the Yanks' sixth victory in a row and their 20th in the last 24 games. The Yankees now lead second place Cleveland by three full games. Each team has two games left to play. Should the Indians win their two and the Yankees lose their two, the Yanks would still lead by one game at the close of the campaign.

Until Martin wrapped up the Yankee victory with his decisive single, all runs for both sides resulted from home runs.

Sox Take 3d

CHICAGO (AP)—Saul Rogovin hurled a two hitter Friday night to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 6-2 victory over the St. Louis Browns. The triumph, coupled with the Philadelphia Athletics loss to New York, assured the White Sox of at least a tie for third place.

Rogovin, who contributed a pair of doubles to Chicago's nine hit volley off Satchel Paige and Gene Bearden, gained his 14th win against nine defeats.

The big righthander yielded a pair of runs to the Browns in the first inning on a single by Gordon Goldsberry, walks to Jim Dyck and Vic Wertz and a wild throw past first by Nellie Fox.

The only other hit off Rogovin was a wasted single by Del Courtney in the seventh.

BoSox 3, Nats 1

BOSTON (AP)—Hershel Freeman, making his first major league pitching start, moved the Boston Red Sox into a fifth-place tie with Washington Friday by defeating the Senators, 3-1, with a four-hit performance.

Fenway park's smallest crowd of the season—81,183—took in the opener of the three-game battle for the top-rung in the American league's second division.

Rookie Faye Throneberry drove in two of the Boston runs with a double and a single and Eddie Yost homered for the lone Washington marker in the third inning.

Giants Trip Phils

NEW YORK (AP)—Sal Maglie and Hoyt Wilhelm collaborated to shut out the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-0, on six hits before 1,684 fans at the Polo Grounds Friday.

Maglie, in winning his 18th game against eight losses, gave up all seven of the Phillies' hits in the seven innings he worked. Wilhelm retired six men in the last two frames. It was the rookie reliever's 70th appearance, tying a giant record set by Ace Adams in 1943.

The Giants pounded starter Russ Meyer and two other Philly pitchers for nine hits, including three homers. Alvin Dark walloped number 14; Don Mueller smacked number 12, and Whitey Lockman connected for his 13th of the year.

The defeat ruined any chances the Phils had of taking third place. The best they can do is to tie the Cardinals.

Bums 8, Braves 4

BROOKLYN (AP)—Carl Erskine enjoyed a five-inning warmup for the World Series Friday as the Dodgers beat the Braves, 8-4, before a crowd of 1,440, the smallest to see a game here in many years.

Erskine, seemingly bearing down only when pressed, allowed seven hits and walked a batter while giving up to runs. One was unearned.

However, Ken Lehman, the rookie southpaw from St. Paul who is also a series possibility, was the winning pitcher. Lehman gave up two runs on three hits and a walk in the sixth, permitting the Braves to tie the score, but allowed only one single in the last three in-

Hennings Gets Committee Post Held by Gillette

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) took over from Sen. Gillette (D-Ia.) Friday the job of directing investigation of the Benton-McCarthy charges and complaints arising from senatorial election campaigns.

Gillette resigned from the senate elections subcommittee after serving as its chairman for about 2 1/2 years. He spoke of "abuse" he had taken in connection with the group's probe of the charges. Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) have leveled at each other.

He denied, however, that he had resigned just to get out of the cross-fire of criticism.

Cites Time on Job

He said he felt he had served his time in a job which, he asserted, no one seeks "as a matter of enjoyment."

Hennings, in taking over the chairmanship of the subcommittee, all but ruled out any public hearings in connection with the group's investigations prior to the Nov. 4 elections. He also indicated that no reports were likely to be issued before that time.

Gillette in a letter of resignation to Chairman Hayden (D-Ia.) of the senate rules committee, said he had concluded that the best interests of the elections subcommittee would be served by selecting a new chairman to conduct its work.

2d Resignation

Gillette's letter, submitting his resignation as of Friday was dated Sept. 10, just two days after Senator Welker (R-Ia.) resigned from the subcommittee with a charge that it was being used as "a political vehicle by the Democratic party."

Welker's resignation coincided with the resignation of a staff investigator, Jack Poorbaugh, who accused the subcommittee of favoring Benton over McCarthy.

Michigan University Pays High Tribute to AP Auto Editor

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—David Wilkie, automotive editor of The Associated Press, was honored Friday by the University Press club of Michigan and the University of Michigan department of journalism.

More than 200 newspaper editors and guests joined in paying tribute to Wilkie for his 50 years of service with The AP. He was guest of honor at a luncheon.

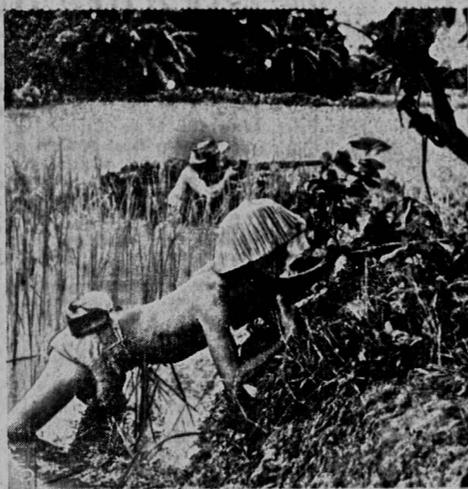

Glenn MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times, presented Wilkie a "M" blanket, making him an honorary member of the University of Michigan's M club.

Vice-President Marvin Niehus of the university presented Wilkie a scroll containing a citation saying in part:

"For 50 years he has been in the employ of The Associated Press, beginning as an office boy and rising through merit to one of the highest posts in this great news agency."

His extraordinary competence, his accuracy and integrity, his great store of accumulated knowledge, and the undiminished enthusiasm with which he fulfills his duties of his position mark him as one who exemplifies in full measure the highest standards of journalism and entitle him to the admiration and respect of his colleagues in the profession."

Priest Organizes 'Minute Men'

Former Big-Time Gambler Faces Deportation to Greece

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—William G. (Big Bill) Lias, 400-pound race track owner and former gambling and bootleg czar in the upper Ohio River Valley, Friday was arrested by immigration authorities for deportation.

Lias was picked up at his home here. He was freed quickly on $2,000 bail pending a hearing on the charge. An immigration official said the hearing would be held in Pittsburgh in "two or three weeks."

Lias, millionaire owner of Wheeling Downs, a half-mile race track here, is a native of Greece and came here as an alien with his mother on Aug. 24, 1909, on the S.S. Patris under the name of Vassilios Liacacos, the government said.

Agent Brad Mullen of the Immigration and Naturalization Service said, however, that the deportation action would be based on a charge of illegal entry back into the United States in 1935 without a passport after a trip to Europe.

The 52-year-old sportsman has carried on a running court fight for years with the government over an income tax charge. The government contends Lias owes

Harper Aids Group To Make Selection Of Prize Hymn

"The Divine Gift," a hymn to be introduced Sunday in churches throughout the country, was selected for national recognition by a committee headed by Prof. Earl E. Harper, head of the SUI fine arts school and director of the Iowa Memorial Union.

The text of the hymn will be included in a nationwide service, celebrating the completion of the new translation of the Bible known as "The Revised Standard Version."

The hymn was written by Miss Sara E. Taylor, an instructor of English, Latin and history. Miss Taylor's prize hymn begins with the lines "O God of Light, Thy Word, A Lamp Unfailing."

Two years ago, the committee began its job of selecting one hymn out of 500 being considered. The prize hymn and 11 of the final hymns considered will be published later in a brochure.

Japanese Vessel Believed to Have Met Disaster in Volcano

TOKYO (Saturday) (AP)—A party of nine Japanese scientists and a crew of 22 aboard an observation boat, missing since Tuesday, apparently met disaster in or near the boiling maw of an undersea volcano 200 miles south-east of Tokyo.

A violent eruption two weeks ago pushed a new volcanic island above the surface of the Pacific near the Miyojin reef. The scientists went to investigate.

A boat lamp found floating in the water 30 miles north of the reef Friday was the only remnant of a clue to the vanished 210-ton Kaiyou Maru. It may have been ripped from the missing vessel.

The director of Japan's maritime safety board, Yonekichi Yagisawa, said it was "highly probable" the Kaiyou was engulfed by a tidal wave kicked up Wednesday by another eruption.

The search was ordered to continue by sea and air Friday but there was little hope the 31 persons would be found.

The patrol ship Muroto reported smoke from the volcano soared 15,000 feet Friday. Sulphur ash floating on the ocean surface may have obscured debris from the missing ship, Kyodo news service said.

Dealers to Offer Rides to Voters

CENTERVILLE (AP)—The Iowa Automobile Dealers association announced Friday its members will offer free transportation to the polls if needed on election day Nov. 4.

C. C. Carmer, association president, said auto dealers throughout Iowa are planning an extensive get out the vote campaign. He said people may obtain free transportation to the polls by contacting a local auto dealer who is a member of the association. Most of the dealers in new cars and trucks in Iowa are members, he said.

$2,850,000 in back income taxes, interest and penalties.

Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins earlier this year ordered the track and other Lias holdings into receivership until the claim was settled.

Last June Lias offered to settle the claim for $1,600,000. The government turned it down.

Lias was acquitted in a million dollar federal tax evasion case, involving criminal tax fraud charges, in 1949. At that trial Lias' attorneys claimed the money he was charged with earning actually was an accumulation of wealth during lush years as a big-time prohibition bootlegger.

Economy Plan Is Laid Down By Stevenson

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson laid down a five-point program for economy in government Friday night — and he called Indiana's GOP Sen. William E. Jenner a man who "deprecates in ugly words" the fight for peace.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum, the Democratic presidential nominee also rapped again at his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, for endorsing Jenner for re-election.

Before traveling to Indiana by plane, Stevenson reversed his previous position and said he plans to make public the names of both the recipients and the donors to his pay-supplementing fund for Illinois state officials.

Stevenson Under Fire
The Illinois governor, under fire from Republicans insisting that he name names in connection with the fund, said he would do so as soon as the information has been assembled. He gave no indication when a statement would be released.

In his Indianapolis speech, Stevenson called for "bare bones" economy in government and outlined a program which he said "seeks results, not headlines."

- The program calls for:
1. Tight-fisted executives.
  2. Executives with authority to run their organizations efficiently.
  3. Scrutiny of appropriation requests "with a cold and penetrating eye."
  4. Spending of appropriations frugally.
  5. "Don't do in Washington what can be done in Indianapolis" or in other local communities.

Makes Jenner Allusion

Without mentioning Jenner by name but in obvious allusion to him, Stevenson urged his audience not to send back to the senate "a man who slanders one of our greatest patriots and deprecates in ugly words the gallantry and sacrifice of Korea and the fight for freedom and peace."

Jenner has called Gen. George C. Marshall a "living lie" and a "front for traitors."

On Sept. 9 Eisenhower spoke in Indianapolis and urged Indiana voters to spare no effort to elect the entire Republican ticket, including Jenner.

Stevenson, in his speech Thursday night, asked Hoosiers to elect Jenner's Democratic opponent, Gov. Henry F. Schrickler, to the Senate.

Doesn't Mention Fund

In his prepared text, Stevenson made no mention of the controversial salary-supplementing fund which he has set up in Illinois for key state officials. He has said he set up the Illinois fund to make it possible for competent men to enter public service without undue financial sacrifice.

Again and again, in his fairgrounds speech, Stevenson emphasized that cuts can and must be made in military spending, without jeopardizing national security.

"In Washington," he said "civilian leadership is most important in relation to the military, because that is where the big bulk of our tax dollars are spent. We must make sure that wastage of our silver is not a privilege of our brass."

Jabs at Ike

Then jabbing at Eisenhower, the governor said: "In this connection, I am obliged to say that the Republican suggestion that a general can best cut down on military waste at least deserves examination."

"I call as witness the bipartisan senate committee now investigating our preparedness program. . . . These senators, both Democrats and Republicans, have concluded it is not an easy task to change the deeply ingrained attitude of military men who, for centuries, have operated on the theory that cost is not a compelling consideration."

The governor said there should be no deception about the difficulties of cutting the federal budget.

"Pinch Every Penny"

"Pinch every penny as best we can," he added, "our budget is still going to be large — much larger than we would like."

"I will leave deception to the Republican orators. They have been practicing it day and night. They promise one day they will cut your federal budget by 10 billion, or 20 billion, or 40 billion, depending upon which one is talking and to whom. And the next day they say they are going to increase America's armed might."

"This is nonsense. It is worse than that — it is the oldest and cheapest of political tricks."

The only way to cut tens of billions of dollars from the budget, Stevenson said, would be "to disband our armies, renounce our friends abroad, quit buying airplanes and guns, cancel our present defense orders, and presumably crawl into a cave to await destruction."

Telegrams Jam GOP Headquarters

THE LARGEST NUMBER of telegrams ever sent in response to an appeal by radio and television, 175,000, pile up at Republican headquarters in Washington following a plea by Sen. Richard Nixon, GOP vice presidential candidate. Wading through the pile of telegrams are Rose Lynch (left) and Marian Hope, two workers at the National Committee headquarters.

Nixon Rejects Quiz On Financial Affairs

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Sen. Richard M. Nixon flatly refused Friday to hold a press conference to discuss further his financial affairs.

Reporters asked the Republican vice presidential nominee if he would meet with them to answer additional questions about the $18,000 fund raised for his use by wealthy California residents.

"No, no, definitely not," Nixon answered.

One point raised at the brief exchange was where Nixon got the $20,000 for a down payment on a Washington house. Referring to this, the Republican nominee said:

"It's obvious from the financial statement. If they will just read the statement and add up the figures, that's it. My statement answers everything."

Condemnation Suit Testimony Finished

Testimony and oral arguments ended Friday in six cases seeking to force the state highway commission and the city of Iowa City to begin condemnation proceedings on land on the north side of highway 6 and west of Iowa City.

The designated portion of land lies between Melody Mill and Loghry's restaurant. Plaintiffs claim that widening the highway and raising its grade has interfered with their access and drainage in that area.

Plaintiffs in the cases are Robert O. Schmitt, John W. and Ethel W. Kobes, Samuel Markovitz and Samuel Robinson doing business as the Capitol Oil and Fuel Co., Louis Shulman, trustee, Meryl J. Heltbride, and Charles Morgenthaler and C. B. Oldaker.

Demo Chief Says Senators Should Live on Salaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was quoted Friday as saying that no one should run for the U. S. senate unless he is willing to live within the salaries and expenses allowed him by the government.

The question came up when the committee was asked whether Mitchell had ever said a man should not run for the senate unless he can afford it.

The party chairman was quoted in newspaper reports from Des Moines, last Friday as having made such a statement.

Mitchell himself could not be reached, but Tom Yarbrough, assistant press chief to Mitchell, said the chairman had discussed the subject earlier this week.

Yarbrough said that Mitchell could not remember the exact language he had used in replying to a reporter's question at Des Moines, but he said that what Mitchell meant was this:

"Everybody knows salaries and expense allowances a senator receives. And so if a man is not willing to live within that income, he shouldn't seek the office."

Yarbrough said Mitchell had no intention of leaving anyone with the impression that he believed a man should not seek a seat in the senate unless he can afford it.

GE Maintains Defiant Answer Given Union

NEW YORK (AP) — General Electric company claimed Friday it turned down a strike ultimatum from CIO Electrical Workers and told them to go ahead and strike. The union said there was no such ultimatum.

The company stuck to its statement, even though James B. Carey, president of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, called it "a lie."

Carey said he told the company only that any action would be left up to a union conference Monday.

A strike deadline, if there is one, was not revealed. The union claims 71,000 employees in 60 General Electric plants.

GE said the IUE presented three conditions. These called for a 5.75 per cent wage increase retroactive to Sept. 15, seven paid holidays and reopening of contract clauses on pensions and insurance next March 15.

Replied Lemuel R. Boulware, a GE vice president: "If that's the demand, the company will have to take the strike."

Boulware added that GE is standing pat on its offer of Aug. 13 of wage increases which it estimated would be worth from 7 1/2 to 13 cents an hour per worker — 4.2 to 7.4 per cent of the present average wage of about $17.5 an hour.

75 Unions Accept
The company said this offer has been accepted by 75 other unions which represent nearly 140,000 GE employees not in the IUE.

Carey told a press conference during the day that he and other negotiators would resign their union offices rather than accept the company offer.

Such acceptance, he maintained, would be "shameful surrender."

Carey devoted part of his press conference to an attack on his bitter rival, the United Electrical Workers of Ind., which was kicked out of the CIO because of alleged Communist sympathies.

DR. F. JOHN LEWIS, 36, of the University of Minnesota, saved a girl's life and possibly made medical history through a "deep freeze" technique.

Dr. F. John Lewis, 36, of the University of Minnesota, saved a girl's life and possibly made medical history through a "deep freeze" technique. He successfully employed refrigeration to shut off blood circulation at the 5-year-old girl's heart during an operation to repair a small hole in the inside wall separating two sections of the vital organ. The child's temperature was lowered to 81 degrees.

The presentation will be made by Leslie at the 1952 Fall Newspaper conference in Iowa City, Oct. 17 and 18.

Included in the library is an Oxford Lectern Bible, one of only 200 existing copies of the book, which has been called the supreme example of fine printing in our age, perhaps any age, by Beatrice Ward, printing authority.

Many of the books were designed by Bruce Rogers, foremost American book designer.

Most of the volumes are from printings that totaled less than 500 copies. This is the fourth such presentation that Leslie, president of the John Leslie Paper company, has made to schools of journalism. The other three have been given to Minnesota, South Dakota and Montana.

Predict Reduction In Defense Budget

LONDON (AP) — U. S. Navy Secretary Dan Kimball Friday predicted a 10 to 15 per cent drop in the American defense budget in 1954.

Kimball said the reduction won't be substantial but will make the 1954 budget below that for 1953.

U. S. defense spending has reached its peak, he added, "because we've had certain building that was needed." The spending figure is already going down and is expected to level off, he added.

Kimball estimated present Russian submarine strength at 300 ships, more than the number with which the Germans started World War II.
