AFROTC Cadets Gain Flight Experience

(Daily Iowan Photo)

Truman, Taft Boost Favorites In 'Hot' Shenandoah Speeches

SHENANDOAH, Ia. (AP) — On a sun-drenched football field rimmed by hot dog stands, the President of the United States fought an old-fashioned battle of words Wednesday with the top campaigner for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Truman pictured Eisenhower and his backers as opposed to federal aid to education at a time when the money crisis in the schools is approaching the "catastrophic."

He charged the Republicans with taking their stand "on the side of ignorance," which he called "freedom's worst enemy."

Blasted Ike's Farm Views
He also blasted the Republican presidential candidate's farm views as "generalities, platitudes, half truths and plain misrepresentation."

"This just goes to show," Truman told the Shenandoah Harvest Jubilee rally, "that in the field of agriculture as in so many other fields, the general doesn't know much about what's been going on in the United States during the 49 years he's been in the army."

Truman paused at Shenandoah to deliver his major farm speech of his coast-to-coast whistle stop campaign accusing Eisenhower, among other things of "cheap name calling."

His visit to the Shenandoah county fair and Harvest Jubilee wasn't all politics. Before speaking at Mustang field, Truman stopped at the local armory for a pancake feed put on by farmers.

Taft Follows Truman

It was at Shenandoah that his path crossed that of Sen. Robert A. Taft, who spoke two hours after the President. They rode in the same parade, watched by a crowd estimated by Lt. David Herrick of the Iowa highway patrol, at 25,000 to 30,000.

In his speech Truman said Taft, campaigning for Eisenhower, has shifted his speech plans from morning until afternoon "so he could have a crowd."

Speaking from the platform which the President had occupied only two hours earlier, Taft charged that Mr. Truman "brings forward such a succession of misrepresentations that when you're answering one, three others have been made."

Taft termed Mr. Truman's campaign strategy a "technique of lying," and said the President "drags in bogey men like Wall Street lobbyists."

The speech, much of it "off the cuff," was a rapid fire answer to the farm address of the President.

Foreign Students Discuss Activities For Coming Year

Nearly 200 students from more than 50 foreign countries met at the Iowa Memorial Union Wednesday night to plan International Foreign Student's club activities.

Discussed at the meeting was the election of executive officers, scheduled to take place at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 17, in Wesley foundation. All former officers have left campus, with the exception of Cernarut Wolff, C4, a native of Germany. Wolff, previous secretary of the club, is this year's temporary chairman.

Also discussed were plans for the club's first Homecoming float, the formal opening of the foreign students house and the 4-day Thanksgiving holiday. Foreign students have again been invited to spend the holiday as guests of Otago, Ia. residents.

Immediately following the meeting, members of the club adjourned to the newly redecorated and refurbished student house where they will hold group activities and entertainment during the coming year.

Reds Toss Fresh Men Into Drive; Allied Bayonets Retrieve Lost Hill

Allied Decision Calls Indefinite Halt to Talks

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The long and frustrating Korean armistice negotiations Thursday appeared to be nearer collapse than at any time since they began on July 10, 1951.

The Allied decision Wednesday to call an indefinite recess was made on "higher authority" and came at a time when fighting in Korea reached its fiercest pitch in a year.

A special North Korean broadcast heard in Tokyo referred to "the failure" of the negotiations, charged that the Allies ignored a new Red offer, and declared responsibility "lies on the U.S."

Says Allies Walked Out

It complained that the Allied delegation walked out while the new Red plan was being explained. Text of the broadcast showed, however, the Communists had not budged from their position that all prisoners of war must be repatriated, the last major issue remaining.

Officials in Washington said the "higher authority" was the U.S. government, which presumably acted after consulting other United Nations with troops in Korea.

The six men who made the trip to Chanute were Bill Jenner, A4, Wilton Junction; Ed Johnson, A3, Decatur; Charles Arndt, A4, Des Moines; Maurice Rosen, A4, Davenport; James Marcovis, A4, Des Moines; and Dean Roudabush, A3, Brooklyn, Ia.

The men participating in the local flights were: Roy Dreibeibis, A3, Martelle; Norman Smalley, A2, Mt. Auburn; Charles Fada, E2, Red Oak; Henry Ullrich, A4, Charter Oak; John F. Adams, A4, Ames and Phil Luff, A3, Iowa City.

Dean Roudabush, A3, Brooklyn; Roger McLain, A3, Brooklyn; Alan Noonan, Iowa City; Henry Chalupnik, Long Beach, Calif.; Donald Rochau, A2, Iowa City, and James Sweeney.

Robert Stack, A2, Iowa City; Ronald Crawford, A2, Ainsworth; Ronald Cochran, Iowa City; Lloyd Duffee, A2, Ely; Robert Jenner, A4, Wilton Junction, and Craig Penney, A2, Iowa City.

Student Council Chooses 9 Committee Members

The SUI student council discussed possible re-affiliation with the National Student association at their first meeting of the year Wednesday night.

A committee was appointed to investigate a proposed Big Ten student government association. Members of the committee include: David Stanley, L4, Iowa City; chairman; Jim Turk, A4, Waukegan, Ill.; Dale Haworth, A3, Champaign, Ill.; and Jo Ellen Lane, A4, Boone.

Also on the agenda was a report from the book exchange committee. Chairman Bill Isenberger, A2, Sioux City, reported that the exchange handled a total of $4,300 this fall and showed a profit of $123. A total of $346 remains to be picked up by students who sold books.

An amendment to the constitution providing for methods of removing members from the council was proposed by George Feiwel, L4, Iowa City, chairman of a committee appointed to study this problem.

The amendment provides for removal of a student council member by a two-thirds vote of the council membership. A council member can also be removed by a two-thirds vote of the entire membership of the organization which the member represents, or a two-thirds vote of the entire membership of the governing body of the organization which the member represents.

This proposed amendment will be voted on at the next meeting.

New committee members chosen were: public relations, Bill Isenberger; pep rally, Bill Skalte, A4, Dubuque; Panacea, Dale Razez, C4, Harlan; library, Barbara Gibson, A4, Iowa City; and social, Joe Warnell, G, Des Moines.

Bomber Crashes, Killing at Least 6

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An air force bomber, possibly a B-50, crashed near Wilsonville, south of Portland, late Wednesday, killing at least six men.

The huge ship, observed flying low, struck a 57,000-volt power line. The tail disintegrated and it crashed into a timbered farming area, scattering small debris over a square mile.

U.S. Secretary Asks UN For More Help

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Trygve Lie Wednesday called on more United Nations members to contribute to the UN fight against the Reds in Korea and also advocated an armistice on the present battle line.

His views were made known in a preamble to his annual report to the 1952 General Assembly which opens here next Tuesday.

"Until there is an armistice," Lie said, "it is the part of wisdom and of duty under the charter for members to carry on the fight for the attainment of these objectives and to do so with a more equitable sharing of the burdens."

Lies comment on spreading the burden is in line with the United States' views that the 60-nation General Assembly should urge UN members not taking a direct part in the fight to contribute troops.

Sixteen non-Communist UN countries have armed forces in Korea and the United States and Lie have appealed before for more help.

Municipal Building May Get Overhaul, City Manager Says

Iowa City's 71-year-old municipal building may get a face lifting as the result of a survey being conducted by Henry L. Fisk, local architect.

City Manager Peter F. Roan announced Wednesday that the city council had authorized Fisk to study the adequacy and condition of city-owned facilities. He will report on the possibility of remodeling the present city hall.

In announcing the survey, Roan listed defects of the building, constructed in 1881 to fit the needs of a community of 6,000:

Police and fire departments both are jammed into insufficient quarters. City fire fighting equipment has spilled over into a sub-station in a street department garage on S. Gilbert st.

The Iowa fire inspection bureau has reported to Roan that the two stations are not up to par with comparable cities. The floor of the main fire station in the city hall is too weak to hold up large fire trucks with safety.

In the police department, desk space for officers, radio equipment and records are crammed close together, Roan said. There is no room for conferences and no dark room or fingerprint department.

The city manager said that federal money was granted for improvement of city facilities in the 1930's, but the fund went for another purpose. The money helped finance Benton st. bridge.

Noted Jurist 'Amazed' At Iowa City's Growth

Returning to Iowa City after a 30-year absence, Judge Herbert F. Goodrich of the United States court of appeals, Philadelphia, said Wednesday that he was "amazed at the development which has taken place in the city."

The noted jurist, a former dean of the SUI law college and founder of the Iowa Law Review quarterly, arrived in Iowa City to confer with students and faculty members on current legal problems before speaking here tonight.

He will deliver the second public John F. Murray Memorial lecture at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union. His topic: "Law Has Its Growing Pains, Too."

His address will climax the first legal institute conducted by the SUI college of law. More than 100 Iowa lawyers have registered for the institute, Prof. Allan D. Vestal of the law faculty said Wednesday.

The institute will also feature a panel discussion on estate planning and a model pre-trial conference in the afternoon, Vestal said.

ALL EYES CENTERED ON L. DALE FAUNCE, DEAN OF STUDENTS, Wednesday night, as he expressed the hope that the student council would have a successful year. The book exchange committee also gave its report.

Bloody Battles Rage as Troops Seek Positions

SEOUL (AP) — The big Chinese push jared to a halt Wednesday in a carnage of casualties on a peak guarding the road to Seoul, but the Reds threw fresh hundreds into the flaming battle.

South Korean infantry at the point of the bayonet drove the Chinese from the summit of White Horse Hill, about 50 miles north of this Korean capital, and stood firm against a storm of counterattacks, field dispatches said.

Both sides poured thousands of infantrymen and dozens of tanks into the struggle for White Horse and nearby Arrowhead Ridge, where U.S. second division and French troops withstood the shock of human-sea attacks.

3,000 Chinese Casualties

An American officer said one division alone in this western sector had inflicted about 3,000 casualties on the Chinese since the Reds opened their big drive Monday night.

The U.S. eighth army communique reported that two of seven outposts hills overrun Monday when 15,000 Reds struck along two-thirds of the Korean front had been recaptured. Later tactical summaries indicated, however, that the Reds had won the positions.

Heavy fighting also broke out on the central front around Finger Ridge, where the Communists occupied two positions in the first onslaught Monday.

Troops Storm Heights

Eighth army troops stormed back up the heights Tuesday night but lost them again in a battle of small arms and hand grenades Wednesday morning. A later Allied counterattack was stalled.

See-saw fighting also raged farther east for a height west of the Mundung valley. The Communists atop the hill were battling with Allied troops which attacked after artillery and Allied warplanes had worked over the position.

The Republic of Korea's ninth division drove the Chinese from the crest of White Horse shortly before midnight Wednesday. They dug in then and fought back fierce Chinese counterattacks.

Allied fighter-bombers swarmed in and attacked the Reds despite what one officer described as the heaviest anti-aircraft fire the warplanes ever had encountered on close support missions.

Allied artillery fired tens of thousands of rounds. Allied guns caught about 1,000 Reds massing for an attack in a valley behind White Horse and wiped out half of them.

Schmidt Wins $20 Monument Prize On Corn Design

Duane Schmidt, D3, Iowa City, has won the $20 prize for the Homecoming corn monument design, it was announced Wednesday evening.

The Associated Students of Engineering Council judged the six entries on ease of building, use of corn in the monument, proper use of lighting, and originality and suitability.

The council appointed Howard Leslie, E4, Iowa City, as construction chairman and Bob Hay, E4, Iowa City, as design chairman of the project.

'Big Vote' Contest Set for Iowa City

Voters Unlimited, a non-partisan committee organized to stimulate registration and voting in Iowa City, has challenged Bloomington, Ind., to a "Bigger Vote" contest on election day, Nov. 4.

A challenge was issued to the Bloomington chamber of commerce "to see which city shall record the votes of the greatest number of eligible members of the electorate."

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

TOKYO (AP) — Armed U.S. jets Wednesday guarded planes which swept the seas off northern Japan hunting for a Superfort that vanished after being approached by a plane from Russian territory. Only an oil slick off the northeast coast of Hokkaido was found, but the search was pressing despite bad weather. A cautious air force headquarters announcement did not speculate that an unidentified plane which it spotted on radar was Russian. Nor did headquarters say the B-29, missing since Tuesday, was attacked.

MOSCOW (AP) — Delegates to the 19th All-Union Communist party congress, biggest meeting of Communist leaders in history, will take home this official party line: the USSR is so strong the people do not work to build the Soviet economy without worrying about World War III. The congress is repeatedly hearing from Soviet leaders that, while these are dangerous times, the USSR is a bulwark of peace and, with the strength of the Communist world rallied round it, can save off war.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Striking engineering students were told by the government Wednesday they can't take examinations and graduate without further notice, as a penalty for their strike. Eight thousand students are affected. They have been protesting what they called government interference in university affairs.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Powers Europe (AP) — An exercise simulating wartime conditions will be held by SHAPE headquarters within the next two weeks, it was announced Wednesday night. No specific date was disclosed.

Chicago Report Cites Officials In City Graft

CHICAGO (AP) — A crime investigator hired by the city council issued a report Tuesday in which he accused some politicians and city policemen of taking a "cut" of crime and vice profits.

The accused officials were not named in the 39-page statement compiled by Attorney Charles A. Bane as chief counsel of the city council's emergency crime committee.

He said criminal activity is carried on in Chicago on a business-like basis and "solicitation is highly organized with girls moving from tavern to tavern in accordance with a pre-arranged program."

$50,000-a-Month Graft

His statement said that in one south side police district, there is a specific policeman who must be sought out for clearance on policy operations. Graft collections there run as high as $50,000 a month, he said.

The report also stated that narcotics addiction is prevalent and "there have been reports that addicts are subjected to shakedowns when found by police, just as there are reports of similar shakedowns with respect to drunks, traffic violators and the like."

Bane Resigned

Bane resigned as the committee's investigator last July after his demand that he be permitted to ask policemen about their incomes was voted down by the council.

The committee was established after the gang-style slaying Feb. 6 of Charles Gross, Republican ward leader.

Bane said he omitted names from the report so as not to undermine committee investigations still underway.

Red Parade Shows Sample of Power In East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany showed a sample of its potential armed might Tuesday by a beaming Russian, Soviet President Nikolai M. Shvernik.

In cold, drizzly weather, a quarter of a million men, women and youngsters marched past Shvernik with fists clenched in the air and shouting the praises of Red Russia.

Scattered through the legions were units of the new Soviet zone armed forces, including an air corps.

The occasion was the third anniversary of the Communist regime, known as the German Democratic Republic, which rules the 18 million Germans living in the area from the Elbe to the Oder.

Shvernik is the highest ranking Russian to visit Berlin since Prime Minister Stalin came here for the Potsdam Pact in 1945.

Canada Girds for Peace or War

Aluminum Smelter To Double Canada's Capacity

Editor's note: This is the third in a series of six articles.

OTTAWA (CP) — Aluminum is one of the world's vital metals. Especially is this true in our age when national destinies balance precariously between peace and war. The nation best able to defend itself may be the one possessing the most powerful and versatile air force. And aircraft require large quantities of aluminum.

Canada already produces one-quarter of the world's aluminum ingots. Gigantic efforts are being exerted to increase this production. One of North America's most dramatic industrial developments now taking place is the Aluminum company of Canada's mountain-moving, river-turning project in British Columbia named after the abandoned Indian village of Kitimat.

Production Seen in 1954

Near British Columbia's northwest coast, about 80 miles southeast of Prince Rupert, Kitimat is expected to start producing aluminum ingots in 1954. Its ultimate installed capacity will be 500,000 metric tons a year. This is one and a half times the capacity of Alcan's Arvida smelter near Saguenay river in Quebec, now the world's largest. Kitimat is expected to double Canada's production of aluminum.

Low-cost hydro-electric power is essential for economical smelting of aluminum. Proximity to the sea is likewise necessary, because bauxite from which aluminum is made must all be imported and shipment of aluminum ingots must be as inexpensive as possible.

Selected After 3 Years

Kitimat was selected as the ideal location after three years of intensive surveys. Hydro-electric potentials are enormous, and year-around shipping of raw materials and aluminum ingots is assured—

Bugs in Your Beer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A justice department attorney told House investigators Wednesday that he overrode a recommendation by the Food and Drug administration that the government seize a carload of contaminated grain from the Pabst Brewing Co.

John T. Grigsby testified that he permitted the grain to be burned by the brewers. As a result, a civil case against the Milwaukee firm was dismissed for lack of evidence. Food and drug inspectors had reported the grain was infested with rodents and insects.

Real Estaters Ask for Federal Amendment

DES MOINES (AP) — Delegates to the Iowa Real Estate association convention Wednesday called for an amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would limit taxing, spending and borrowing by the federal government.

They unanimously endorsed a resolution asking that the 1953 Iowa legislature petition congress where specific limits on money policies could be worked out.

The resolution specified that the realtors favor limits on operational expenditures, exclusive of military equipment.

"Unlimited taxation by the federal government," the resolution stated, "is an inflationary cause which results in uneconomic spending and borrowing."

The 1951 legislature approved a

Mitchell Says GOP Has Unfair Balance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic national chairman said Tuesday that lack of money by his party and an apparent plentiful supply by Republicans has given the GOP "an unfair balance" for buying radio and TV time.

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell made the statement in a National Press club address on the eve of an eight-day nation-wide drive by the Democrats for $5 campaign contributions.

"The Republicans seem to have all that they can find ways to spend," Mitchell said.

Presbyterian Officials Meet in Des Moines

DES MOINES (AP) — Some 90 ministers and lay representatives were in Des Moines Tuesday for the 93rd annual meeting of the Synod of Iowa, United Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Ray Davis, of College Springs, Ia. was elevated to the post of moderator and the Rev. Harold E. Scott, of Westminster United Presbyterian church, Des Moines, was chosen vice-moderator.

Interpreting the News — Red's Strategy Shifts Swiftly, But Not Policy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Foreign News Analyst

Secretary of State Acheson says "there are indications of a change in the Kremlin method of undermining our friends in the free world." He says the evidence is by no means clear that such a change already is under way.

The secretary goes on, in his Monday speech to the CIO Electrical union workers, that there are things we must keep in mind "if subsequent events make it clear that the Kremlin is in fact silencing the rattling of the saber and beginning to talk soothingly of stabilization, of 'broad fronts,' of 'peaceful co-existence.'"

Not Much If

There doesn't seem to be much "if" about the Kremlin program, nor it any recent change in Moscow tactics. We should have been fully aware of this trend almost two years ago if we were to be ready for its flowering today.

As far back as early 1949 the first signs of Kremlin experimentation with a combination of economic-peace offensive tactics began to emerge. By the fall of 1950, with the Communist "discussion" of economic affairs, the pattern was becoming clear.

On Oct. 15, 1950, about the time of the beginning of that "discussion," this column noted:

Evidence Mounts

"There is mounting evidence today that Russia, balked in Europe by recovery and in Korea and Formosa by American action, has revised her campaign toward the Communist goal of world domination. The program in Europe appears to be: lay low, wait opportunities to test soft spots, harass governments, and carry on persistent sabotage, but do nothing which might provoke world war."

"Asia, on the other hand, is politically and economically unstable. Chaotic conditions provide the ideal climate for Communist adventures."

This was written two weeks before Chinese Communists entered the Korean war. Since then, events—right up to the Stalin-Malenkov predictions this week of the economic collapse of capitalism—seem to have borne this out.

Policy Doesn't Change

Communist tactics and strategy can shift swiftly, but Kremlin policy does not change. The goal remains the same.

Frequently when Moscow's rulers come out with thundering pronouncements, both the British foreign office and the state department dismiss them—at least so far as public expressions go—as meaningless propaganda.

Such statements as the Stalin-Malenkov pronouncements are meaningless only if taken at face value.

Kitimat Aluminum project begins to take shape against background of British Columbia mountains.

as long as enemy submarines do not pounce.

Kitimat's completion is expected to cost $550 million. Its construction involves a combination of gigantic engineering feats.

One mountain's peak is being scalped and dumped into the eastward-flowing Nechako river to form a 310-foot-high dam 1,350 feet long. This will form a 140-mile reservoir covering 350 square miles and force the river to reverse and flow westward.

Tunnel Through Rock

A 10-mile tunnel will be blast-

45-Mile Lines

High-voltage wires will carry the current 48 miles across glaciers and rugged mountains to the Kitimat smelter.

When Alcan's first load of construction equipment arrived in the spring of 1951, the only shelter at Kitimat was one single abandoned Indian cabin. This summer the Kitimat and Nechako river areas were crowded with several thousand workmen, and tractors, bulldozers, and other heavy machinery, getting the huge project underway.

"Where, only yesterday, a cluster of Indian cabins huddled in the forest," according to a recent External Affairs release, "a modern city of 50,000 people will one day take its place, and another chapter will be written in Canada's northern development."

Long Aluminum Capital

Arvida has long been Canada's aluminum capital. There too, Alcan has recently made enormous expansions of its hydro-electric power. Arvida and Shawinigan Falls, both in Quebec, were selected as smelter-sites because of their low-cost and abundant hydro power potentials. Quebec and British Columbia possess the greatest hydro possibilities of all Canadian provinces.

Will Raise Status

Arvida and Kitimat will raise Canada's status even higher as a world producer of aluminum. Part of the capital for developing Kitimat has come from the British ministry of supply. An agreement between the Aluminum company of Canada and the United Kingdom provides a priority of 250,000 metric tons annually of Kitimat's production of aluminum ingots for Britain.

Considering that the largest aluminum smelter in the United States has a capacity of only 145,000 tons, the world's largest smelter at Kitimat will undoubtedly become a valuable future source of ingots for aircraft and other aluminum product manufacturers in America. It might even provide the sinews of victory if there is another world war.

Former Iowa Newspaper Publisher To Speak to Meeting of Newsmen

Former Iowa newspaper publisher who is now president of the National Editorial Association will be the principal speaker at the newspaper conference at SUUI on Saturday, Oct. 17 and 18.

He is C. W. Brown, publisher of Oconomowoc, Wis., Enterprise, 1931-34. Brown was a co-owner of the Decorah Journal.

Brown will speak on "Don't or in Minors" at the conference dinner Friday evening, Oct. 17.

125 to Attend
Prof. Wilbur Peterson, head of the bureau of newspaper service at the SUUI school of journalism, announced that approximately 125 persons are expected to attend the annual two-day conference.

Arrangements for the newspaper conference will be in Law Commons on the SUUI campus. Space is still available and reservations are accepted at the university military office.

Brown has headed the Wisconsin Press association and the Oconomowoc Rotary club, among others. He was secretary of the National Advertising Service, is NEA representative on the weekly Newspaper Representatives board and has been a director of the NEA for several years.

Brown began as newsboy. The Wisconsin publisher's first connection with a newspaper was while he was in grade school; he carried the Fargo, S.D., Sun. Before he left that city he advanced to the editorial staff and eventually to the advertising manager's position.

Next he went to the advertising department of the St. Paul Daily News; later became business manager of the Fargo Tribune and in 1931 went to Decorah.

Finally he took over the Brown Printing company in Oconomowoc, where he conducts both the Enterprise and an extensive commercial printing business. A new building there, completed in 1949, is a printing plant show place. A modernistic exterior surrounds 10,000 feet of floor space, including departmentalized offices and a library.

5 Scholarships Sponsored
A favorite project which Mr. Brown advances is a community scholarship plan sponsored by the Enterprise. The plan is in its fifth year at Oconomowoc. This year, for $1,000 scholarships and a fifth-year, $250 grant, were presented to local graduates. In all, students have received help in attending college from the community of less than 6,000 persons. Brown is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and the Milwaukee Press club. He recently completed term as a member of the Newspaper Industry advisory committee of the War Production Authority.

Plumber Short Course To Begin Wednesday; Expect 50 to Attend

A short course in plumbing and heating, conducted by the staff of the mechanical engineering department of SUUI, is expected to be attended by approximately 50 persons Wednesday through Saturday. The course will be augmented by guest lectures. The program, designed for men directly engaged in the installation and repair of plumbing systems, will give the registrant a better understanding of the technical and social considerations in its work. Lectures, laboratory demonstrations and motion pictures will be used for instruction. Guest lecturers will include: Vincent Manas, department of commerce, Washington, D.C.; W. M. Dillon, Watts Regulator Co., Lawrence, Mass.; R. T. Morrill, R. F. Morrill Co., Beloit, Wis.; S. R. Weibel, federal security agency, Cincinnati, O.; Gelder Lewis, president of the National Association of Master Plumbers, Kansas City, Mo.; and Carl Lapp, A. C. Eynon Co., Canton, O.

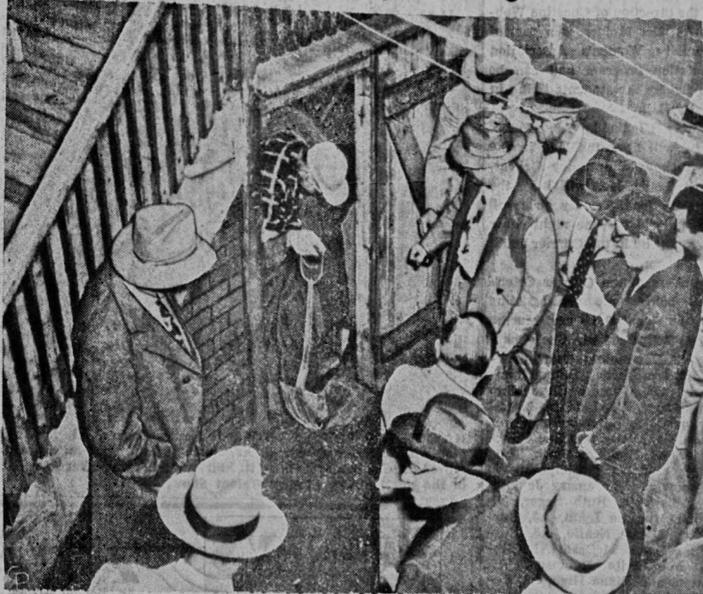

The course is under the joint sponsorship of SUUI, the Iowa Association of Master Plumbers, the scholarship and research committees of the National Association of Master Plumbers.

French Police Raid Communist Newspaper

PARIS (AP) — Police swooped down on Communist newspapers and offices throughout France Wednesday, nabbing about a dozen small fry Reds and seizing documents.

The national defense ministry said the raids were ordered by a Paris military tribunal looking for evidence on which to bring charges against Communists for trying to demoralize the army, the nation, and threaten the security of France.

Bigamist Digs Up Body of Strangled Wife

ROBERT JAMES, 43, AN ADMITTED bigamist, emerges from a porch in Chicago after spading up the body of his wife No. 3, Harriet Rose James, 40, after telling police he strangled her Sept. 19 "because she drank and ran around with other men." He said he has a wife in Memphis, Tenn., and another in Phoenix, Ariz. James' activities came to light when Harriet's parents became suspicious on receiving a letter purportedly mailed by her from Oklahoma City, Okla. James admitted he wrote the letter, sent it to the Oklahoma City postmaster in another envelope for remailing back to Chicago.

Panacea to Offer $50 For Best Musical Play

A prize of $50 will be awarded for the best musical comedy script submitted to the Panacea committee before Dec. 1, the committee announced Wednesday.

Panacea, the only organization of its kind at SUUI, was set up in December, 1946, by Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa and student council to provide an original all-student musical comedy.

March Schedule for Show
The 1953 Panacea show, scheduled for March 25 through 28, will be the sixth annual production. No show was presented in 1950.

"Shy Guy," by Robert Randolph, G. Centerville, was the 1952 spring production. It featured the chorus of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and Larry Barrett's orchestra.

Preliminary plans for the new Panacea show were made by the committee at a meeting early this week.

15 Red Police Flee To Allied Sector

BERLIN (AP) — Fifteen people's policemen fled West Berlin while the Communist East German force was parading Unter Den Linden in new Soviet-style uniforms, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The Volkspolizei's army, navy and air units marched Tuesday before Nikolai Shvernik, the Soviet Union's president, on the third birthday of the East Germany Republic.

The 15 "vopos" who escaped into Allied sectors in the excitement said they feared being transferred from police to military duty. Since Sept. 1, a record total of 477 have deserted.

GOP Opposed REA Increase, Democrats Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee said Wednesday Republicans have been "the kerosene lamp party" from the first vote on rural electrification until today.

The committee, in a statement aimed at answering a Republican team of campaigning senators, lashed at this comment it quoted from Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, Iowa Republican.

"The Republicans in the 80th Congress appropriated more money for rural electrification — I think — than all other congresses put together."

Hickenlooper Follows

Hickenlooper is one of a group of Republican senators tracking, or foreshadowing, President Truman's give-em-hell campaign swing. The Republicans call their team the "truth squad."

The Democratic committee, labeling its statement "the truth-ayer," said Hickenlooper made his comment on rural electrification (REA) during a television program in September.

The committee said Hickenlooper "was not thinking very hard or very accurately." It said REA would have perished during the Republican 1947-48 Congress except for Democrats and "a few enlightened Republicans." It said these are the facts:

GOP Defeats Increase

1. In May, 1947, the House defeated a motion to restore 25 million dollars in REA funds and other items, 180 to 114. All 180 votes were Republican.

2. In July, 1947, there was another House vote on an attempt to increase REA funds by 25 million. The attempt was defeated, with 205 Republicans voting against it.

3. In February, 1948, the House killed an amendment which would have increased REA loan funds by 300 million dollars. The vote was 181 to 151, with 152 Republicans opposing the increase.

Defeat Increase Again

4. In April, 1948, 151 Republicans joined in defeating a 100 million dollar increase in REA loan funds.

5. In June, 1948, 201 Republicans voted against an increase of 450 thousand dollars in REA administrative funds.

The Democratic committee continued: "If the Republicans want to debate the real issue on the Republican record, then Senator Hickenlooper had better start telling the farmer that he is better off with a kerosene lamp than with electric lights, for the Republican party has been the kerosene lamp party from the first vote on REA to the present time."

Police Using Detector In Hunt For Thief

A lie detector is being used by the Iowa City police in their efforts to solve a $255 theft which occurred last week, they said Wednesday.

The tests are being administered by Prof. Richard L. Holcomb, chief of the bureau of police science at SUUI.

Detective Harland Sprinkle said that the theft from the Avenue Grocery, 615 Iowa ave., occurred Tuesday of last week, but was not reported to police until Saturday.

Stolen were two $100 bills, one $50 bill, and a $5 bill, Sprinkle said. The money was taken from a drawer under the grocery store counter, he said.

Boy Confesses Blaze — $25,000 Lumber Yard Burns

DE WITT (AP) — A 6-year-old boy started a fire which destroyed $25,000 worth of property in the De Witt Supply company's lumber yard here Sunday, Leo Moore, De Witt chief of police, reported Wednesday.

Investigators, including Edward Stebbins, deputy state fire marshal, were instrumental in obtaining the confession from the boy when he appeared before them with his parents for questioning.

A. Klitzke, co-owner with Merton Anderson, of the De Witt firm, said he believed the fire must have been started by children playing with matches.

When questioned, the child said he left home to go to the grocery store for a loaf of bread. While in the store, he picked up some matches, went to the lumber yard, got hold of some newspapers, put sawdust and shavings on them and set fire to the material repeating the operation a second time, Moore reported.

He then went to the home of Ada Young in De Witt, where he started a grass fire, which did no damage, the report said.

In the lumber yard fire, however, considerable damage was done to the residence of Miss Polly Spellits, about 20 feet east of a lumber shed.

After a preliminary conference with the parents, authorities announced that the boy would not be prosecuted. No one saw the child go in or out of the lumber yard, it was reported.

Missouri Dam Costs Increased To Estimated 11 Billion Dollars

OMAHA (AP)—The price tag on the giant job—now in progress—of developing land and water resources of the Missouri River Basin has climbed to $11 billion.

This is an increase of nearly 1% billion over the estimates made just a year ago.

The increase results largely from the general increase in prices. But there are also some changes and modifications in the development plan since last year because of the unprecedented floods last April.

The new estimates were disclosed Wednesday in a tentative report, subject to revisions, prepared for the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency committee and released in connection with the committee's meeting in Bismarck, N. D.

Increase of $1.7 Billion

The report estimates the total cost of the basin program at $11,087,153,000, an increase of $1,715,256,000 over the previous report.

A total of $1,318,195,000 had been spent up to last July 1, and $366,914,000 is available for spending in the current fiscal year ending July 1.

In the six years following next July 1, a little more than $3-billion will be needed, the report estimates. The heaviest needs under the program will come in fiscal year 1956 when $571,087,000 will be required, or more than 50 per cent of the money available this current fiscal year.

Half Finished by 1959

From an expenditure standpoint, the program will be less than half finished by the end of the fiscal year 1959 — nearly seven years from now. As presently mapped

Truman Little Help, Kefauver Asserts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, arriving here to speak in behalf of the Democratic presidential ticket, said Wednesday he thought President Truman's whistle stop tour has had a "negative effect" for Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Asked by a newsmen if he thought the Truman appearances had any effect on Stevenson's prestige, the Tennessee Democrat said:

"I definitely think that his (Truman's) appearance has had a negative effect. Personally, if I had been the candidate I would not have wanted that type of program."

"However," Kefauver added, "I would say that in my own observations that in Montana and Washington the President's remarks probably helped the campaign."

In those two states, President Truman concentrated his criticism on the Republican position on public power.

Iran Still Asking Big Royalty Fees

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh still wants 49 million pounds ($137,200,000) in disputed royalties from Britain, though he suggests payments could be sandwiched around a three-week conference here on oil claims and counter-claims.

He reiterated the demand in notes to London and Washington made public Wednesday. These implied the British must accept other terms he laid down in counter-proposals Sept. 25 to a joint settlement offer from Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman.

Mossadegh completely ignored proposals made by Churchill and Truman Aug. 30.

Students Observe Birthday of APA

Although separated by more than a thousand miles, student pharmacists at SUI Tuesday evening celebrated the 100th birthday of the American Pharmaceutical association jointly with the nation's drug leaders assembled in Washington, D. C.

Closed circuit telephone installations coupled with a public address amplifier connected the students group with APA members gathered in the nation's capital.

Iowa students heard Dr. Melvin A. Casberg, chairman of the armed forces medical policy council, discuss the role of pharmacy in national defense. They also heard Dr. Theodore Klumpp, past-president of the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' association, emphasize the fact that 50 per cent of the drugs now in common use were unknown 25 years ago.

Royce Chambers, Oakland, is president of the student group.

5 Art Majors Join Ingenuity For Art Gallery

Take five uninhibited art majors, add a lot of talent and ingenuity, provide these five with a suitable spot to display their talent, and you have the ingredients for a highly enterprising and successful art gallery.

The five art majors are Peter Witwer, Rachael Chester, Jack Roth, Kris Sheldon, and Dominick Dimes, all of Iowa City and all graduates of or students in the SUI art department.

Although plans for a private art gallery in Iowa City had been discussed previously by members of the art department, these five were the first to open such an institution. The opening took place last July when the five moved a large group of their paintings into a studio on the main floor of the Burkley hotel.

The painters celebrated the fall opening of the gallery last Monday. Their main objective is to offer courses in painting and drawing to Iowa City residents who cannot take advantage of art instruction in the university. They hope to offer city residents a chance to share in the university's cultural life through exhibits in every media of art.

which has been drawn up calls for "one-man" shows by all of the five founders. Plans are being made for a three-week Christmas art exhibit, which will display art work contributed by Iowa City residents, and a student art display in February.

In April, the five hope to engage a guest artist who will lecture and display his work in their gallery.

TV Sports Blackout Problem

The growing tendency toward blacking out telecasts of many major sports events is making plenty of fans unhappy — especially since most don't realize that the blackouts are the result of plain economic necessity.

E. F. McDonald, Jr., president of the Zenith Radio Corporation, gave a talk last weekend explaining this phase of TV's economic problem. Since this problem seriously came to light here concerning the blacking out of the recent Marciano-Walcott heavyweight championship fight, we felt that much of McDonald's material was worth airing.

Basically, he approves of theatre television and hopes for an expansion to thousands of theatres.

"We need theatre TV on a truly national basis," he said, "so that great events of national interest can be seen by the millions of people who either can't afford, or for some other reason do not own TV sets, and by others who are traveling or away from their homes at any given moment."

"However," he added, "theatre TV should not have a monopoly on great events. The Marciano-Walcott fight was theatre-televized in 39 cities, and was a sell-out with theatre admission prices ranging from $2.50 to $5.00. But theatre capacity was so limited that fewer than 150,000 people were able to see telecasts of the fight, in contrast to the many millions who watch major events when they are shown on home TV.

"Even if every movie theatre in America, in every city, town, and hamlet, were equipped with TV, the theatres alone could not serve the public adequately when great national events are televised. After some 40 years of building, there are still only twelve million movie seats in the United States, with a population exceeding one hundred fifty million. In contrast, after only five years there are already more than eighteen million TV sets in homes, and the estimated home audience for some of our major telecasts has approached sixty million people. This is 400 times as many people as saw the Marciano fight on theatre TV."

It is unfair, McDonald said, that these millions of TV set owners should be unable to witness great events in their homes.

"That it would be even more unfair," he asserted, "and legally impossible, to force sports or other producers to put their important spectacles on home TV at a financial disadvantage to themselves."

Home television is a world's champion wrecker of box office attendance, he said. In many cases even the largest advertisers simply can't afford to pay enough for broadcast rights to make up for box office losses and match the sums promoters can or will realize from theatre TV and film rights. The Marciano fight, although shown in only 50 theatres, grossed nearly $400,000 for theatre TV.

"Consequently," he said, "more and more major events are going to disappear from home TV and be televised exclusively in theatres. Home television cannot reverse this trend until it can compete with theatres on a pay-per-viewer basis with subscription TV."

With subscription TV to provide a home box office, McDonald stated, world championship fights, grand opera, legitimate stage shows and other great events will no longer be the exclusive monopoly of the big cities, and promoters and producers will find it advantageous to put great events on both home and theatre TV so that practically everybody will have an opportunity to view them.

Numerous public opinion surveys have overwhelmingly indicated that the American public is willing and eager to pay for home TV showing of major sports events and other features that cannot be seen on regular TV because their costs are too great for advertising sponsorship.

Maybe this McDonald has something at that.

Hodges 1st Hitless Regular — Grimsley Picks Mantle Best Player in Series

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — High and low spots of the 1952 World Series:

Outstanding Individual Player: Mickey Mantle, Yankees' center-fielder, whose home run and run-scoring single were decisive blows of the final game. Joe DiMaggio's successor batted .345, ran bases like Ty Cobb and fielded sensationally.

Biggest Disappointment: Gil Hodges, power-hitting Brooklyn first baseman, who went hitless in 21 times at bat, the first regular in history not to get a safety in a seven-game World Series.

Snider Makes Comeback

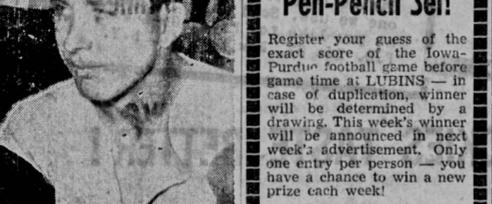

Greatest Comeback: Duke Snider, Dodger centerfielder who tied the record of eight strikeouts in the 1949 series against the Yankees but hit four home runs, batted in eight runs, hit .345 and made several fine catches this year. His home runs tied the series record held by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

Costliest Miscue: Yogi Berra's passed ball in the ninth inning of the third game, permitting Pee-Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson to score with what proved the winning runs.

Best Pitching Performance: Alie Reynolds, Yankees, who started two games, relieved in two others, gained two victories and turned in top single performance in three-hit 2-0 shutout in fourth game.

Kuzava Tabbed Top

Best Clutch Pitching: Bob Kuzava, who came into the final game in the seventh inning with one out, New York leading 4-2, and the bases loaded. He faced

Hawkeyes Work On Defense

Iowa's defense, which has given away to seven touchdowns in the first two games, received special attention in Wednesday's closed practice.

Coach Forest Evashevski worked the defensive units against possible Purdue plays as run by the freshmen. The Hawks meet Purdue at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday.

Iowa received another setback Wednesday when Louis Matykievicz, first team linebacker, suffered a twisted ankle during the drills. He is expected to see some service Saturday, however.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Bus Stevens, an end, joined Illinois Coach Ray Eliot's injured list Wednesday when he twisted a knee in practice.

Stevens and three others probably will see little service against Washington Saturday. The others are fullback Ken Miller, linebacker Joe Hall, and tackle Dick Miller.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame linemen went through a brief scrimmage Wednesday as the team prepared for its first home game Saturday with the University of Pittsburgh.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Texas A & M is expected to put on display here Saturday. Michigan State's football team worked again Wednesday on display here Saturday.

State had its pass defenders working against every type of pass pattern the Texas Aggies have shown so far.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Coach Bennie Oosterbaan gave his Michigan squad a thorough test Wednesday on the Indiana style of play. Michigan reserves simulated Hoosier passing and running plays in an hour-long drill against the varsity.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Fullback Charles McCann ran his best and hardest in Northwestern's drills Wednesday since breaking an ankle bone prior to the football season.

Beebe Announces Intramural Leaders For 2 Divisions

Intramural proctors for the Town Men and the Married Students leagues have been appointed for the first time in intramural history, Dr. Fred Beebe, director of intramurals at SU, announced Wednesday.

Gerald Graham is the appointee in the Town Men league, while Jim McMahon got the nod to supervise the Married students. These appointments were made by the dean of students, L. Dale Faunce.

Graham has scheduled a meeting for all men living in private homes to plan their intramural sports program tonight at 7 in Room 191A Schaeffer hall.

The all-university golf tournament is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Beebe also announced.

Beginning of Bedlam

AS GENE WOODLING snatched PeeWee Reese's fly to make the last put-out of the seventh game of the World Series, bedlam broke out in the Yankee dug-out and merry mayhem invaded the playing field as Gil McDougald (left) and Joe Collins join the merriment. Kuzava stopped the Brooks cold in the ninth to give the Yankees a 4-2 win and their fourth straight World's championship.

Ez Charles KO's Reynolds in 2d

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion, Wednesday night knocked out Bernie Reynolds of Cliffside, N. J., in one minute and 40 seconds of the second round of a scheduled 12-round bout.

Charles, weighing 189, felt his opponent out carefully in the first round, sized him up, and put the finisher with a series of lefts and rights to the chin in the second. Reynolds weighed 187.

At the beginning of the second round, Charles came out of his corner punching. Reynolds tried to exchange punches, but three quick lefts to the chin, a couple of rights, and another left sent him sprawling on his back, where he was counted out.

Grid Trainers Keep Hawks Functioning

No matter how hard you searched, you never could find the names of Cliff Rittenmeyer, Doyle Allsup, or L. W. (Red) Welch in an Iowa football record book.

They are the behind-the-scenes men who keep the Hawkeyes in football's "house and home." They are the men who take care of the shoulder, hip and thigh pads, jerseys, pants, hoods, helmets and all other equipment which make the Hawks a well-dressed and safely dressed squad.

These are the men who see that when an Iowa player goes on the practice or playing field every minor or major bruise, sore muscle, or other injury is properly cared for. An average day starts at 8 a.m. and ends about half an hour after practice is finished, with activities ranging from taping weak ankles to issuing clean equipment.

On Thursday before the game, clean game pants and jerseys just returned by the cleaner are the first items to receive attention.

All primary game equipment such as pants, jerseys, and shoes is placed in a separate canvas bag for each player. Pads will be put in the bags by players after Thursday practice. All bags are packed in large trunks.

Adhesive tape, 2,520 feet of it, is packed, along with benzoin, rubbing dope, tape remover, cotton, gauze and sponge rubber.

The advance guard leaves by train for a road game. The equipment is taken directly to the stadium dressing rooms and Saturday morning the men unpack and lay out game equipment.

Holmes Signs to Lead Brewers

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn-born Tommy Holmes, who got into his second World Series this year as a result of being fired as manager of the Boston Braves, returned to the Boston organization and to managing Wednesday.

Holmes signed as manager of the Braves' American Association farm club, the Milwaukee Brewers, after General Manager John Quinn of the Braves obtained Brooklyn's permission to negotiate with him.

At Milwaukee, Holmes succeeds Bucky Walters, who asked to return to Boston as coach after finishing the season as manager and piloting the Brewers to the American Association pennant.

Holmes, who spent most of his baseball life with the Boston club, finished out the 1952 season as pinch hitter and utility outfielder with the Dodgers.

U.S. Official Says Oatis Well After 2d Meeting in Prague

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Czechoslovak jailors of William N. Oatis, Associated Press correspondent, have permitted him to have a second meeting with an American Embassy official, Secretary of State Acheson disclosed Wednesday.

The newsmen is held on a "spy" conviction which the American government has denounced as a frameup.

At the meeting, which took place Tuesday at police headquarters in Prague, Oatis was assured that he has "not been forgotten" and that efforts to obtain his release are being pressed, Acheson said.

Health Still Good

The Embassy official, Counselor Nat B. King, reported that Oatis "appeared in about the same physical and mental condition as when he was last seen" by Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs on April 30. Oatis said at that time that his health was good.

These have been the only conferences the Czechs have allowed Oatis to have with American representatives since the newsmen was first imprisoned nearly 18 months ago.

Acheson read a summary of King's report at his news conference. Then, asked whether the new development indicated that Oatis might soon be freed, he said no conclusion should be drawn one way or another about such a prospect.

Czech Officials at Meeting

The talk with King, like the meeting with Ambassador Briggs, was held in the presence of Czech officials, Acheson said.

At his trial last year, Oatis was sentenced to a maximum of 10 years in prison on a verdict that in his work as a news correspondent he engaged in espionage and other activities hostile to the Communist regime.

"Oatis said he had not been in ill health and medical and dental care were available when necessary," Acheson said. "He was permitted to read and write and had adequate exercise. He was benefiting from the funds deposited to his account by the Embassy for cigarettes and articles of comfort. He replied in the negative to the question whether the Embassy could supply any specific items such as cigarettes, clothing, or extra food."

Bank Executive To Head Division Of Local Drive

Clark Houghton, vice-president of the First National bank, will serve as chairman of the business division of the 1953 campaign of the Iowa City Community Chest, general chairman Robert F. Ray announced Wednesday.

The business division has a goal of $16,440 of the total $35,240 set as a goal for the city. This year's Red Feather drive gets underway Oct. 29 and continues through Nov. 8.

Houghton said he will appoint as many solicitors as necessary to get the job done without putting too much burden on just a few men. Every one of Iowa City's 500 businesses must be contacted in person.

"We hope most businessmen will continue to encourage their employees to make their Community Chest pledges where they work," Houghton said Wednesday.

SUI Nurses To Hold Meet At Clarinda

Nurses and nurses' aides employed in Iowa's psychiatric hospitals will attend the second in a series of psychiatric work conferences sponsored by the SUI college of nursing, at the Mental Health Institute in Clarinda, Monday and Tuesday.

Mary Lohr, assistant professor of psychiatric nursing in the college of nursing and director of the conference series, said these conferences are being held to discuss problems of caring for Iowa's psychiatric patients. The first such conference, she said, was held at SUI last June.

Many of the nurses currently working with mental patients have no formal training for this type of work. These institutes are planned to give them "in-service" help in carrying out their nursing tasks, she said.

Under the overall theme, "The Utilization of the Psychiatric Aide," problems to be discussed at the conference include licensing, recruitment and selection, job description, aide training programs and personnel policies.

Members of the committee who have planned this conference are Miss Lohr, Myrtle E. Kitchell, dean of the college of nursing, Florence McAninch, instructor of pathic hospital, Iowa City; Ernestine Lambert, director of nursing service, Mental Health Institute, Clarinda; Gwenn Rarick, supervisor of psychiatric nurses, Iowa City VA hospital and Sister Mary Stella of Bernard's hospital, Council Bluffs.

Off-Campus Group To Hold Meeting For Reorganization

Town Men's association, campus organization for single, independent male students who reside in private homes or rooming houses, will hold a reorganization meeting at 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 10, in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Wally Maner, foreign students adviser, and Ralph S. Holloway, assistant counselor, office of student affairs, have been appointed advisers for the organization, the office of student affairs announced Wednesday.

At the meeting Friday night an organizational committee will be selected and plans for the year be discussed.

Plans are for the group to participate in an intramural program, enter a float in the Homecoming parade, sponsor a service project on campus and maintain a social and recreational program throughout the year, Maner said.

Interested students may contact Mr. Maner or Mr. Holloway by calling extension 2191, or by visiting the office of student affairs.

Big Crowd Attends — Kell Players Are Big Hit

By JIM GOLTZ

The Reginaid Kell Players, who performed at a well-attended concert Wednesday night in Macbride hall, proved themselves exceptional artists. The four musicians performed brilliantly, their selections progressing from the chamber music of Beethoven and Brahms to the weird, and often dissonant, strains of Hindemith and Bartok.

Although the players were formally attired, an air of informality and enjoyment marked their presence on the stage.

The opening selection, Beethoven's "Trio in C minor," was melodic, the music moving from the melancholy to the fanciful and sprightly. The players' dexterity with their instruments was in evidence throughout the many difficult passages contained in this classical work.

Piano, Violin Excellent

Particularly excellent were pianist Joel Rosen, who provided a graceful and delicate flow of music, and violinist Melvin Ritter, who utilized his instrument to weave a subtle melody.

Interpreting the austere type of sensuality contained in Hindemith's "Sonata for Clarinet and Piano," the performers were adept at both the lively and very slow passages. Opening with a plaintive "Allegro," the music progressed from a mood of wistfulness to one of deep sorrow and grieving, and finally to a theme which seemed happily nonchalant and philosophically blasé.

Outstanding in this work were the clear and vibrant tones of the clarinet, played with ease by Reginaid Kell.

Players Display Skill

Most noticeable in Brahms' "Trio in A minor" was the richness of texture displayed by the players, particularly in the skill of cellist Aurora Natola. The dignified composition was ended with an elaborate, yet solemn, close.

Also included on the program for the concert, which was sponsored by Iowa City's Civic Music Association, were Schubert's "Sonatina in D major," and Bartok's lively and spirited "Contrasts for Clarinet, Violin, and Piano."

85 Killed In English Train Collision

170 More Injured As 3 Trains Pile Up

HARROW, England (AP)—Two speeding express trains crashed into a crowded commuters' train within a few seconds at Harrow station Wednesday killing at least 85 persons in a great cauldron of wreckage and hissing steam. Forty more may be found under the mass of debris.

The known toll of injured taken to hospitals was 170.

Sixteen hours after the wreck rescuers still were digging into a 55-foot high mound of wreckage toward a coach buried at the bottom of the heap. Searchers figured probably 40 were entombed in the coach.

Error Made
Scotland Yard at one time Wednesday night announced the death figure at 116, but later said this was an error.

Under the glare of arc lights, workmen pumped oxygen into the mangled debris in Harrow station while searchers with acetylene torches burned away entombing steel beams.

Policeman John McIntyre turned himself into a human jack to rescue three trapped women. He crawled into the debris and heaved up the broken side of a coach with his shoulders while others pulled out the women one by one.

Resembled Blitz
Harrow station looked as though it had been blitzed.

Officials said the death toll might climb above 120 in this worst British railway disaster since 227 persons were killed and 246 injured in a collision of two passenger trains and a troop train at Granta, Scotland, May 15, 1915.

The tremendous impact hurled two big locomotives across the jam-packed station platform, mowing down scores of waiting passengers.

The wreckage erupted into a mound 55 feet high which tore away large sections of an overhead footpath and spilled pedestrians into the cauldron below.

Rescuers Still Digging
Rescue workers, many of them veterans of wartime air raids were still digging in the wreckage for survivors and dead eight hours after the crash. Some tore at the twisted, telescoped coaches with their bare hands.

The wreck came at the height of the morning rush hour. A local train from Tring to London, 11 miles from Harrow, was waiting on platform 4. Crowds of commuters steadily boarded it. Nearby, men and women waited, chatting or reading newspapers.

Suddenly there was a shriek of the Peth-London express train, running 95 minutes late.

The speeding express trashed into the rear of the waiting local with a grinding, crunching roar, spilling wreckage across an adjoining track.

24 Train Hits
Moments later, the express from London to Manchester, coming from the opposite direction, barreled into the wreckage.

Coaches smashed into other coaches, slivers of wood and metal sprayed over a wide area. Flying glass sang through the air like shrapnel.

Within seconds the station looked as if it had been hit in an air raid. Flying debris stopped the station clock at 8:19 a.m.

Pitiful reminders of what had started as routine commuting trips and holiday journeys lay scattered hundreds of yards from the torn and ripped tracks.

A U. S. serviceman was on the first death list issued by the state-owned British railways. His name was given as Donald G. Woodvale of the U. S. air force. His rank and home town were not stated.

Soviet Fighters Shoot At U.S. Hospital Plane

BERLIN (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters made several passes at a Berlin-bound U.S. air force hospital plane over the Russian zone of Germany Wednesday and one fired machinegun bursts, but the plane escaped undamaged into cloud cover and landed here safely.

The jets were MIG15s, used by the Communists in Korea. The American ship, which does not carry hospital markings, was a C-47.

Maj. Gen. Lemuel B. Mathewson, U.S. commandant of Berlin, protested hotly to the Soviet command in Berlin, declaring "I demand that this unwarranted and uncivilized behavior of Soviet aircraft cease at once."

Mathewson told reporters the plane, bound from Frankfurt to Berlin to pick up nine army patients and take them back to military base hospitals in Frankfurt, was on course and at a proper 7,000-foot altitude in the Allied flight corridor to Berlin when the challenge came over Koennern, Saxony.

In his protest, Matthews acknowledged that unexpected winds might have forced the plane unintentionally off course.

Pilot Capt. James P. Peterson, 33, Madison, Wis., told reporters in Frankfurt after the plane returned there later in the day: "They could have shot us down if they had wanted to."

The return flight was without incident.

It was believed in Frankfurt to be the first time since the war that Russian planes have opened fire on an American plane flying the Berlin corridor.

The Campaign Parade — Stevenson Ike Exchange Blows On Foreign Policy Programs

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson rapped Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Wednesday night as grasping for votes with an about face on European policy — and displaying lack of backbone with a nameless endorsement of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin.

"My opponent," Stevenson said, "has been worrying about my fun-bone. I'm worrying about his backbone."

The raking attack on the general and senator closed out the Democratic presidential nominee's campaign for Wisconsin and 12 electoral votes.

In an address prepared for delivery at the Milwaukee Arena, Stevenson went after Eisenhower's way on American policy in Europe.

"No other issue reveals more strikingly the tactics in this election of the Republican leadership — the use of one man's good name to camouflage a bad record, and that man's willingness to compromise his own views in opportunistic grasping for support in this election."

Stevenson said his GOP rival actively backed every development in U.S. policy toward Europe from 1945 to 1952, then became a presidential candidate and "overnight he changed his mind about what he stood for."

Col. Sewell to Attend Regional ROTC Meeting

Col. Walter E. Sewell, professor of military science and tactics at SUI, will attend a regional meeting of military instructors Saturday in St. Louis, Mo.

The meeting has been called by the fifth army headquarters at Chicago for the purpose of discussing current problems of ROTC units at campuses in the Midwest, Col. Sewell said.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower blistered the Truman administration's foreign policy Wednesday night, and declared that the true talks in Korea were a "Soviet trap."

The Republican candidate for president said the negotiations in Panmunjon were designed to gain time for the Communists, that they have repaired their military positions, and today are half again as strong as they were when the talks started.

"The Soviet trap was perfectly conceived, perfectly timed, perfectly sprung," he said.

"The Communist military position has been repaired. Beyond that, it has probably been made half again as strong. We came to realize that we have been swindled."

One of Key Speeches
The San Francisco speech was one of the key addresses in Eisenhower's whole campaign for the presidency. His political advisers were attaching heavy significance to it.

Eisenhower spoke in a tense hour, when it appeared the biggest Communist military action in more than a year had been launched in Korea.

Eisenhower pointed heavy guns at three major objectives in his San Francisco address.

1. He bitterly criticized and ridiculed the courses the administration has been following since the end of World War II, pouring particular scorn on Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Defended Own Role
2. He explained, and defended, his own part in the making of these policies, and his role as Army chief of staff, at the time the "defense perimeter" in Asia was drawn.

3. He laid down his ideas for meeting the menace of the cold war, and turning it to the advantage of the free world.

Shenandoah Welcomes Truman

AN ESTIMATED CROWD OF 25,000 jammed the streets of Shenandoah Wednesday where President Truman and Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft both journeyed to deliver political speeches at the western Iowa town's Harvest Jubilee. The two men, each voicing praise for the presidential nominees of their respective parties, did not meet.

Rodin Defends Self On Death Charge

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Wesley Rodin, 24, charged with manslaughter in the auto death of a 2½-year-old girl, took the stand in his own defense here Wednesday.

The one time chief of police at Eldora testified he had been drinking previously to the fatal accident but denied he was drunk. He said he had three drinks and a bottle of beer.

After the state rested its case Wednesday, District Judge M. C. Hamel overruled a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

John Chehak, Cedar Rapids, testified for the state that he made a urinalysis of Rodin several hours after the accident and the test used showed he was intoxicated.

The accident occurred early the morning of Aug. 9 in Cedar Rapids. With Rodin in the car were the baby girl and her mother, Mrs. Virgil Schmickle, 18. Mrs. Schmickle is estranged from her husband.
