U.S. Machine Guns Cut Down 2 Red Assaults

Barbed-Wire Barricades Halt Chinese Force

SEOUL (AP) — U.S. machine gunners cut down Chinese Reds at barbed-wire barricades during two battalion assaults by the Communists up Triangle Hill Wednesday night.

Nearby, South Koreans were knocked off the key height of honeycombed Sniper Ridge but won it back today.

Deadly infantry fighting raged into its third straight day north of Kumhwa in central Korea, where American and South Korean soldiers battled to hold newly won hills.

On Triangle Hill, the 31st regiment of the U. S. 7th division threw up barbed wire then poured devastating machine-gun fire as the Reds twice hurled forces of 1,000 men at the position. Front-line reports estimated at least 300 were killed.

Forced off Pinpoint Hill
Two miles to the east, a Red battalion forced soldiers of the Republic of Korea 2d division off Pinpoint Hill, the key position on Sniper Ridge, Wednesday night.

Six times the Reds attacked before forcing the defenders back at 5:40 a.m. An ROK counterattack recaptured the rocky peak four hours later.

Throughout the night, the South Koreans battled Communist counterattacks in strength up to 1,000 men. Chinese mortars and artillery raked the South Korean positions.

Fight Hand-to-Hand
Some 17 miles to the west, shouting Chinese and others sounding weird notes on flutes, won a hill early today from South Koreans in savage hand-to-hand fighting. The attack was preceded by heavy Red artillery and mortar fire. At last reports, the South Koreans were counterattacking.

The Red-White hill is just east of White Horse mountain, firmly controlled by the South Korean ninth division after more than a week of bloody combat.

U. S. seventh division winners of Triangle Hill turned their efforts toward Papa-San mountain just to the north.

Allies Win 3 Hills
Allied blows pounded the Reds back on White Horse, Triangle Hill, which is 17 miles farther east, and on Sniper Ridge. The three hills are strung along the base of the iron triangle, the odd Communist massing area.

The last Red foothold on White Horse was smashed and an estimated Red battalion cut to pieces when Korean engineers tunneled beneath the Red positions and set off heavy demolition charges.

A frontline officer reported the Chinese holding the principal hill of Sniper Ridge — Pinpoint Hill — fought like fanatics until the South Koreans beat them back with flame throwers. Many Chinese committed suicide in their caves rather than surrender.

Bulletin

HANOI, Indo-China (AP) — Vietnam rebels based near the Upper Red river jumped off at dawn Wednesday in an offensive apparently aimed at driving French Union forces from the mountainous northwest Indo-China area adjoining Communist China.

The fighting was described as heavy. A French communique reported the Communist-led troops exerted marked pressure against defense fortifications, manned principally by pro-French Thai tribesmen.

On the program were the Overture to Libussa, by Smetana; Concerto in D minor for Violin and orchestra by Lalo and Symphonic Poem Number 9, "Hungaria." State, National Gerontology Men To Hold Fall Conference at SUI

Leaders of representative Iowa groups will meet at SUI Nov. 18 and 19 for a conference on gerontology, or the study of the problems of aging and old age, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Wednesday.

Gerontology experts from state and national organizations will join members of the education, medical, nursing, social work and other faculties of the university to discuss the problems of elder citizens. The group will discuss how the problems may be met to the satisfaction of the older people themselves, their families, their communities and the state as a whole.

Iowa business, labor, education, financial and other interest groups will be represented at the conference, and a number of older Iowans themselves may attend, President Hancher said.

Aged Have Been Neglected

"In part our society has been guilty of wholly neglecting its older members, but at the same time it has failed to observe the effect of changes in nutrition, medicine and other fields which have lengthened the life span of us all," Hancher continued.

"These factors," he observed, "have set away our ideas and plans for early retirement, for providing a measure of personal financial security, for helping to assure our elders of a pleasant afternoon in life."

The average age of the American population, Hancher said, is increasing all the time. Whereas there were three million persons over 65 in the U. S. in 1900, today there are 13 million whose presence poses many social, political, health and financial problems for American society. Iowa's population over 65 years of age, on the basis of the last census, totals about 275,000 persons.

Problems Not Defined
"The problems aren't clearly defined, and the solutions have not yet been sought out and applied," Hancher said.

SUI Military Men To Fly to Chanute

Capt. Kenneth S. McEwen and M. Sgt. Jack C. Lansinger, SUI air force ROTC instructors, and 60 junior air force cadets will fly to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill. Tuesday to observe operations of the base.

The cadets are junior students in an air force administration course. The group will ride in three C-47's which will arrive here Monday afternoon.

The 60 cadets will leave at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday and return in the evening.

Hancher stated. He promised, however, that "the university hopes to turn its resources to these extremely important questions just as it has contributed for years to our knowledge of children and to improved general welfare of Iowa children."

In speaking of the planning for the coming conference on gerontology, SUI Provost Harvey H. Davis further outlined the nature of the aging problem.

"In far too many cases life is not very happy for our older citizens," Provost Davis noted. He continued, "Retired from their life-long occupations, their children grown and in homes of their own, with considerable leisure time on their hands, Iowa's elders often feel useless and unwanted. We owe so much to this generation, and there must be many ways in which they can be helped to retain, and in many cases regain, their joy in living."

Valid Information Sought

The Iowa conference on gerontology is an attempt to obtain first-hand information on the problems of Iowa's elders, Davis said. A panel of visiting experts will discuss current problems in this area from a national standpoint, followed by a symposium of Iowa business, labor and government leaders who will define Iowa's problem areas.

Panel discussions at next month's conference will include a session on "Adding Life to Years," followed by a report by faculty members on what SUI has done and hopes to do in helping Iowa's older people in their personal, social and economic adjustments. Names of conference speakers have not been announced.

Democrats Lead By Slim Count In Alaska Vote

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans apparently voted Wednesday to return their Democratic delegate to congress by a narrow margin, but first day returns indicated the probability of a sharp turn toward a Republican legislature.

The voting for the legislature is viewed by many Alaska political leaders as a national "political weathervane" because of the close parallel in recent years between the trend in the territory and the November swing in the states.

E. L. Bartlet, Alaska's non-voting delegate to congress, who won by a 2 to 1 margin in 1950, was leading Republican Robert C. Reeve on Wednesday night's tally, 7,462 to 6,024.

The vote had been collected from 90 of the sprawling territory's more than 230 precincts.

If the first day trend in the legislative vote counting should hold up, it could develop into one of Alaska's major political reversals in many years. Reports were very incomplete, however, from the populous Anchorage area, which has been strongly Democratic in past elections.

But on the basis of first day tabulations, Republicans were ahead for 22 of the 27 seats in the lower house and for seven out of nine in the senate. Some of the margins were slim, however, and subject to change. If the early trend should continue, it would be a sharp reversal of the 14 to 10 Democratic edge in the present house and the 6 to 4 Democratic edge on the senate seats at stake.

Educators Frown On Military Visits To High Schools

DES MOINES (AP)—The Association of College Admissions Counselors Wednesday said by resolution it considered it "unethical" to permit military personnel or students from college ROTC units to meet with high school students, either to promote the general ROTC or local college programs.

Paul Napier, chairman of admissions at Muskingum college, New Concord, O., was elected president.

Other officers include John Hafer, Syracuse university, Syracuse, N.Y., vice-president; Dayton Grafman, Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., secretary-treasurer, and Orville Notherdt, Illinois Wesleyan, Bloomington, Ill., new board member.

State Administration Hit by Demo Chiefs In Speeches at SUI

Four Iowa Democratic leaders took turns at hitting corruption in government at a Democratic party rally at the Shambaugh lecture room of the SUI library Wednesday night.

"Corruption should be ferreted out and the offenders punished," exclaimed Rex Wedle, candidate for state auditor from Knoxville, featured speaker at the rally. He said that "white-wash" has become synonymous with government in Iowa and that the "Republican national committee is not proud of the record in Iowa."

Should Be Interested

George C. Claassen, candidate for attorney general, from Cedar Rapids, said that students should be interested in the arts of government. He added that Stevenson is the "best Democratic candidate for president since Woodrow Wilson" and that he will be able to relieve "world wide pressures."

Thomas W. Mullaney, from Waukon, candidate for congress from the second district said that the young people of Iowa and the nation will have to do serious thinking for themselves. He added that there is a lot of room for thought and the job for them is to do their part to inform the rest of their generation.

SUI Situation Bad

Scott Swisher of Iowa City, candidate for Johnson county state representative, said that the situation at SUI is as bad as ever because of low wages due to the fact that there is not enough money in the budget.

John O'Connell, vice-chairman of the committee for agricultural progress, claimed that non-farmers do not understand the debate between the parties on the farm platform.

There was a reception in the smoker after the rally.

Surprise Move Beats Acheson With U.S. Note

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's Andrei Gromyko Wednesday demanded first priority consideration of the Korean war issue by the United Nations. His surprise move came as Secretary of State Acheson worked on a policy speech said to contain a watered-down section on Korea.

Gromyko proposed in the assembly's steering committee that the Korean item be put first on the list of subjects to be considered by the 60-nation political committee, where Acheson himself is expected to handle the Korean debate for the United States.

Lester B. Pearson of Canada, assembly president and chairman of the steering committee, said each committee would decide the order of its own business, and Gromyko let it go at that.

Said No More

The Russian delegate did not tip Moscow's hand further than to show that the Russians want the politically-charged Korean question debated immediately—before the Nov. 4 presidential election in the United States. Gromyko did not mention the elections but the schedule he advocated means Korea would come up in a few days.

High diplomatic sources said Acheson was urged by several delegations associated with the United States to hold his main fire until the United Nations hears from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. Acheson may speak today.

2 Tickle Questions

Two other ticklish questions, Tunisia and Morocco, were assured Wednesday of a full airing before the UN, but French Delegate Henri Hoppenot declared France would boycott the discussions. The French contend affairs of the North African protectorates, which seek increased independence, are internal problems.

The Asian-Arab block asked for the discussions.

There had been indications Acheson would blast at the Communists for holding up a truce agreement at Panmunjom and file a resolution demanding that the Reds agree to a truce on UN terms.

Caution Course Advised

However, many of the American allies plus the Asian-African group had advised against taking a strong course at the start on the theory that a tough policy would be met by a tough Russian answer and there would be no hope of agreement on anything.

In view of the evident reluctance of some of the countries to join in sponsoring a resolution until they see what Vishinsky has to say, the diplomatic informants said Acheson was revising the Korean passages in his speech.

Once Vishinsky has spoken, it was said, Acheson and delegations sponsoring a Korean resolution with him would formally file their proposal.

The resolution is expected to be based on an appeal for an armistice.

Soviet Official Says Red Industry Flexible

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet deputy prime minister asserted Wednesday the USSR can convert its peacetime industry to a war basis in a short time and turn out everything needed for the Soviet army and navy.

In one of the closing speeches of the 19th All-Union Communist Party congress, Deputy Prime Minister V. A. Malyshev, a colonel-general of engineers who is minister of the shipbuilding industry, told the 1,200 delegates:

"If the imperialists foist war upon us, then the engineering workers will be ready at the first appeal of Comrade Stalin and the Soviet government to reorganize their peaceful production and launch, on short schedules, mass production of all types of first class armaments and materiel in quantities sufficient for complete equipping of the Soviet army and navy."

A Condensation of Late Developments

PORTO ALEGRE, BRAZIL (AP)—A Brazilian airliner crash Tuesday killed 14 of 18 persons aboard, Aerovias Brasil announced Wednesday night, and split a touring Argentine orchestra among the living and the dead. Five orchestra members were found dead in the flaming wreckage. The three other musicians and a Porto Alegre student, apparently thrown clear, were not even seriously injured. The DC3 crashed in dense woods near Sao Francisco De Paula, about 54 miles northeast of Porto Alegre. The plane was en route to Buenos Aires from Rio De Janeiro via Sao Paulo. Search planes located the wreck Wednesday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob Malik, retiring Soviet delegate to the United Nations, sailed for home Wednesday, refusing to make "any political statement." He told newsmen "Mr. Andrei Vishinsky will do all the speaking." Foreign Minister Vishinsky recently arrived to attend the UN general assembly session.

VIENNA (AP)—Austria's two government coalition parties decided Wednesday to call for new parliamentary elections next April 26. The decision of the conservative People's party and the left-of-center Social Democrats must be approved by parliament, which opened its fall session Wednesday. The last elections were held in October, 1949.

TUNIS, TUNISIA (AP)—Attacks on police developed Wednesday in Tunisia, the North African protectorate bidding through the United Nations for increased independence from France. Arabs used rifles and grenades against two jeep-loads of police in Gafsa, in southern Tunisia. One officer was injured seriously.

Truman Starts Wind-Up Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman set out Wednesday night to visit, in the three weeks before election, states with enough votes to put Adlai Stevenson in the White House by a wide victory margin.

The back-breaking schedule, its first leg carrying him into pivotal New York and New England, will keep the 68-year-old President on the road with only the briefest let-ups almost until election eve. He plans to close out the drive with a major speech Saturday night, Nov. 1, in St. Louis where he would up his own successful campaign four years ago.

Democratic Changes Helped

If there was any doubt that the Democrats believe Truman's efforts — and his personal give 'em hell platform style — are good for their cause, the plans apparently set that doubt at rest.

Stephen Mitchell, Stevenson's personal choice as Democratic national chairman, spelled out that conclusion after a visit to the President.

He told White House reporters that Truman's campaign trips have been "enormously helpful." Mitchell conceded that "the election is still to be won" because so many voters have yet to make up their minds, implying that is why Truman is going out to see so many of them. But he said there are signs indicating a strong groundswell toward Stevenson.

GOP Concedes South

Actually the three-phase drive on which the President is setting out takes him, as it is laid out so far, into states with only 237 electoral votes. That is 29 short of the 266 required for election. But in spite of defections in Dixie, even the most optimistic Republicans concede enough of the south to wipe that margin out with votes to spare.

At stake in the presidential trip are 77 electoral votes. Of that number New York's 45, Massachusetts' 16 and Connecticut's 8 are regarded by most politicians as critical ones that could go either way. New Hampshire with four is traditionally Republican and Rhode Island with another four has leaned Democratic.

The President winds up that tour with a major speech Saturday night in Brooklyn, returning then to Washington.

To Visit Industrial Areas

Most of his appearances are set in industrial areas, leading to the assumption that he will bear down on labor issues.

Back in Washington, the President expects to stay only a few days, then make a three-day swing through Pennsylvania (32 electoral votes), Delaware (3) and New Jersey (16).

The final drive, set to start after another brief stopover here, will take in Ohio (25 votes), Indiana (13), Illinois (27), Missouri (13), and probably Michigan (20) and Minnesota (11).

Woman Joins Marine Husband, To Get Unemployment Benefits

DES MOINES (AP) — A state agency's ruling that a marriage contract is superior to an employment contract was challenged in District Court here Wednesday in a jobless benefits case.

The Cudahy Packing company of Sioux City appealed a state employment security commission finding that Mrs. Shirley Weinreich is entitled to unemployment compensation because she quit her job last Feb. 16 to join her husband who is in the marine corps.

Under Iowa law, persons out of a job through no fault of their own may draw jobless benefits up to $26 a week for as long as 20 weeks. Benefit payments are financed by taxes on employers' payrolls.

Marriage, Higher Contract

The Iowa commission, in the Weinreich case, held that "the contract of employment yields to the higher contract of marriage" and said the wife "had the legal and moral obligation to go and remain with her husband."

In taking the case to court, the Cudahy firm said Mrs. Weinreich voluntarily left her job without good cause attributable to the employer and said:

"The decision indicates that the wife must not refuse to follow her husband and even goes so far as to indicate that if her moral obligations call for her to keep house rather than work, then the em-

Manager of Bank Admits $73,000 Embezzlement Job

DES MOINES (AP) — Francis Beauchamp, 52-year-old manager of the Grimes branch of the Des Moines Bank and Trust Co., was held late Wednesday on charges of embezzling $73,000 of the bank's funds.

His arrest was announced by James L. Dalton, special agent in charge of the federal bureau of investigation (FBI) office at Omaha.

Dalton said Beauchamp had admitted taking $73,000 of the bank's money since 1935. He had been manager of the Grimes branch for 18 years.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Clold Level said Beauchamp had been arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Vernon U. Sigler in Des Moines on charges of violating the federal banking laws and was bound over to the next term of the federal grand jury.

Beauchamp's bond was fixed at $5,000 and he was unable to supply it immediately. He was held at the Polk county jail.

Dalton said Beauchamp walked into the Des Moines office of the FBI and told agents he had been embezzling the bank's funds. He explained he kept a double set of ledgers to cover up his thefts, Dalton said.

Mrs. Beauchamp expressed surprise at the news. She said she didn't know anything was wrong.

Iowa City Woman Reports Meteorite Seen over Area

A meteorite was seen Tuesday night by Mrs. William S. Stickford, of the Ball addition, Prof. C. D. Wylie, department of astronomy, reported Wednesday.

Mrs. Stickford saw the meteorite as she arrived home at 10:35 p.m. She established the location as slightly south of due east, traveling south as it fell at approximately a 45 degree angle, Wylie said.

The bluish-green meteorite measured about half the diameter of the moon and lighted the sky like a lightning flash, Mrs. Stickford told Wylie.

Woman Joins Marine Husband, To Get Unemployment Benefits

DES MOINES (AP) — A state agency's ruling that a marriage contract is superior to an employment contract was challenged in District Court here Wednesday in a jobless benefits case.

The Cudahy Packing company of Sioux City appealed a state employment security commission finding that Mrs. Shirley Weinreich is entitled to unemployment compensation because she quit her job last Feb. 16 to join her husband who is in the marine corps.

Under Iowa law, persons out of a job through no fault of their own may draw jobless benefits up to $26 a week for as long as 20 weeks. Benefit payments are financed by taxes on employers' payrolls.

Marriage, Higher Contract

The Iowa commission, in the Weinreich case, held that "the contract of employment yields to the higher contract of marriage" and said the wife "had the legal and moral obligation to go and remain with her husband."

Army Claims Gun Capable of Shooting Atomic Artillery

Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., (AP) — The army proudly displayed Wednesday the super-size gun which it claims will shoot atomic artillery shells, but let it be known it wants an even better weapon.

At the same time, it indicated it is getting ready to make the first true test of the new 280 millimeter gun — an actual shot with a shell having a nuclear fission charge.

For visiting military officials, congress members and other observers, the army put the world's first "atomic artillery battery" through demonstrations of maneuverability, speed in getting into position and firing, singly and in two-gun salvo.

Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins, in a brief address after the demonstration, said the big, new guns is "neither an interim nor an ultimate weapon. We're not through in development in the field of artillery or in the field of guided missiles."

Chicago Postmaster and 10 Others Are Indicted For Accepting Bribes in Job Selling Racket

CHICAGO (AP)—A former Chicago postmaster and 10 other persons were indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on charges of operating a job-selling racket among postal employees.

John Haderlein, 56, who resigned Aug. 22 as Chicago postmaster — four days before the grand jury sessions began — was accused in a 10-count indictment of accepting $2,475 in bribes from postal clerks who wanted to become foremen.

In all, nine indictments were returned before Judge John P. Barnes in district court.

Other Defendants

Besides Haderlein, the defendants named are Frederick P. Wall, 37, former secretary of Rep. William L. Dawson (D-Ill.); Raymond W. Regan, 43, an auditor in the office of the Cook county superior court clerk; Julius L. Echles, 37, Chicago lawyer; Paul Echles, 47, a post office clerk; Max Lewis, a postal clerk; William M. Zipperman, 49, a Chicago lawyer; Harry S. Jacobs, 46, a Chicago lawyer; Charles P. Conrad, 38, a bartender and part owner of a Chicago tavern; Arthur Reda, 43, not otherwise identified, and Rudolph C. Brosius, 45, a truck driver.

The Echles brothers and Lewis were named with Haderlein in one conspiracy count charging that Haderlein was paid $1,075 of $5,450 collected by the other three from postal clerks on promises that they would be promoted.

Street Collected Bribes

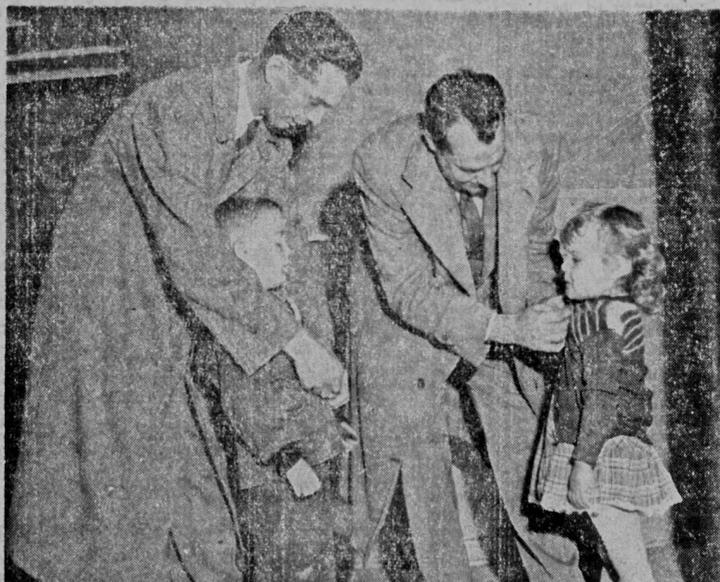

Another conspiracy count charged that Haderlein was kept informed by John C. Streit, head of the second class permit division, of the names of men who paid for promotions, and that Streit collected money from clerks or their representatives and turned it over to the postmaster. Streit was not named a defendant in the indictment.

Wall, who has not been on congressman Dawson's payroll since Aug. 31, was charged with receiving $400 apiece from two clerks while serving as secretary to the Chicago Negro congressman. The others were charged with accepting varying amounts from postal clerks after procuring them promotions, except Regan, who was charged with soliciting $500 from a clerk. It was not stated that they received any money.

The Amounts Collected

The amounts each is charged with collecting: Zipperman, $1,300 from three clerks; Brosius, $600 from two clerks; Reda, $1,000 from one clerk; Conrad, $1,300 from one clerk; Jacobs, $200 from one clerk. The grand jury investigation was a result of a check made by justice department investigators on orders of Attorney General McGranery after reports of job sales were made by the postal inspection service. McGranery confirmed reports on Aug. 8 that evidence of a promotion sales racket had been obtained.

Fathers Call for Pre-School Children

TWO IOWA CITY FATHERS HELP their children with their wraps after an afternoon session at pre-school. Robert Lee, 12½ W. Court st. zips the jacket of his four-year-old son David, while Stuart Briggs, 812 3rd ave., buttons the sweater of his daughter Teresa Kay, four. Pre-school sessions began Oct. 1, in renovated Dean House, formerly a women's co-operative dormitory. Classes have been interrupted several times since then for remodeling. A formal opening and open house will be held at a date to be announced later.

Pre-school Classes Begin In Remodeled Dean House

Pre-school classes are in session in remodeled Dean house, 7 E. Bloomington, but some finishing touches must still be made before the formal opening in about two weeks, Herbert Greenberg, assistant professor of pre-school education, said Wednesday.

The school opened Oct. 1 with a series of coffee hours for parents and their children to acquaint them with the school. Classes have been interrupted several times since then because of remodeling work, Greenberg said.

Total enrollment in the school is kept at about 66. Ruth Updegraff is head of the organization. Teachers are Margarida Torchiana, Mary Jane Schwerdtfeger, and Rita Bedford, he said.

The building at 10 E. Market st., used by the group last year, will remain in use even after work on Dean house is completed but the building at 9 E. Market st., will be used only until the end of a current six week experimental session for 2 to 2½ year olds, Greenberg said.

A morning class of children between about 2½ and 3½ and an afternoon group for those between about 3½ and 4½ now meets in Dean house. The 4 to 5 year olds' group meets in the building at 10 E. Market st.

The date of the formal opening and open house for the remodeled school building will be announced later.

Sheriff Arrested For Drunk Driving

ESTHERVILLE (AP) — Preliminary hearing in the case in which Emmet County Sheriff Emlet Twito is charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated has been set for 10 a.m. Friday in justice court here.

Twito Wednesday described his Tuesday night arrest by two Estherville police officers as "all politics" and said he would "fight this to the end."

"I was not intoxicated," Twito said. "They have tried to get something on me before and now they think they have."

Twito, a Republican, is a candidate for re-election. Policemen Clarence Hackett and Delbert Hockett said they arrested Twito after they saw him driving his car "in an erratic manner."

Lewis Urges Idleness Until Operators Pay

CINCINNATI (AP) — John L. Lewis Wednesday told his United Mine Workers union members to refuse to go to work Nov. 18 unless mine operators have made their increased royalty payments to the union welfare fund by that date.

A recent contract between the union and operators calls for an increase in the royalty payments from 40 to 50 cents a ton. The contracts, also calling for a wage increase of $1.90 a day, now is before the wage stabilization board.

Lewis pointed out that the contract calls for each operator to certify by Nov. 18 that he has paid the royalty covering production for the previous month.

"I don't want any union to go to work on the 18th," he told the 2,800 cheering delegates at the closing of the UMW convention, "unless it is found that the welfare is paid. There are no ifs, ands and buts about it. The morning of the 18th is the deadline."

The union's 41st convention ended in an apparent determination to stage a coal industry strike unless the government approves the wage boost.

Never once during the convention did Lewis refer directly to the consideration by the WSB of the wage increase.

More than 4,000 miners have quit their jobs in scattered mines in West Virginia, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky because paychecks failed to include the raise.

Koelbel Makes Hit —

Opening Concert Big Success

By JIM GOLTZ

This season's initial concert of the University symphony orchestra, performed Wednesday night in the main lounge of the Iowa Union, easily proved the oft-voiced declaration that SUI can boast one of the finest university orchestras in the country.

The opening selection, the Overture to Smetana's opera "Libussa," displayed the orchestra's adeptness at simulating an air of ceremonial pomp and trumpeting dignity.

Lalo's Concerto in d minor was the second selection. Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp conducted the orchestra along flowing, melodic lines. Sighing passages by the violins were followed by a light-hearted, rollicking melody. The strings were superb throughout.

Spanish Influence

Although French by birth and education, Lalo's music often shows the influence of Spanish folk tunes and dance rhythms. The composer's family was of Spanish extraction and Lalo made many long visits to Spain and thoroughly studied Spanish music and folk-life.

The composition is divided into three sections — the "lento," the "andantino," and the "andante." The first two movements were played brilliantly, the musicians demonstrating a unity and coherence which are not always observable.

The Andante movement of the concerto was the weakest, with the orchestra's horn section sounding overly strident and occasional traces of disharmony evidenced when the cello soloist and the violin section played counter-melodies.

Receives Applause

The fast-paced, resounding climax, however, held the large audience spellbound, and the number closed with a roar of applause.

Hans Koelbel, the cello soloist, proved himself a master of his instrument with superlative musicianship. The audience demanded that he play three encores, the most outstanding of which was a lonely and tranquil Chopin nocturne.

The concluding number, Liszt's Symphonic poem, "Hungaria," was based largely upon Hungarian folk-melodies. The composition expresses a typical Hungarian psychology — a tragic response to affliction, a stubborn resistance to oppression, and heroic confidence in triumph through intense love of country.

The composition was opened with a hearty rhythm, moving on to thundering passages followed by a chivalrous, aroused theme.

As an encore, Prof. Clapp conducted the orchestra in Wagner's "Imperial March."

Columbia Group Backs Stevenson

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest phase in the political strife at Columbia University emerged Wednesday night in a full-page newspaper advertisement backing Gov. Adlai Stevenson and signed by 300 faculty and staff members.

The advertisements in the New York Times declared that "the high level of his (Stevenson's) campaign is a landmark in the history of American politics."

The advertisement said it was paid for by "the Volunteers for Stevenson on the Columbia University faculties and staff, and their families and friends."

Earlier in the day, 30 Columbia faculty members announced their support of Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

The 30 professors and administrators — including football Coach Lou Little — signed a statement calling the Republican nominee "the best qualified candidate for the office."

Stengel Voted Top Manager; Eddie Stanky 2d In AP Poll

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel, the grizzled pilot of the world champion Yankees, Wednesday was named manager of the year for the second time by baseball writers in an Associated Press poll.

The No. 1 citizen of Glendale, Calif., was named on 37 ballots of the 72 voting members of the baseball writers association of America. He netted more votes than the combined total of the 15 other managers.

Stengel first won the poll in 1949. Eddie Stanky, a big success in his freshman year as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was second with ten votes. This gave Stanky the title of National League Manager of the Year. His total doubled that of Leo Durocher, his former boss who brought the Giants into second place after being voted Manager of the Year last year. The Cards wound up a strong third under Stanky.

Jimmy Dykes received eight votes for steering his Philadelphia Athletics into fourth place. Tied with four votes were Chuck Dressen of Brooklyn and Bucky Harris of Washington.

In all, nine pilots received backing for the "Manager-of-the-Year" award. Two votes went to Phil Cavaretta of the Chicago Cubs and one each went to Steve O'Neill of the Philadelphia Phillies and Al Lopez of Cleveland.

World Series Cuts Range from $6,000 To $63.13 Each

NEW YORK (AP)—The $500,000.28 World Series player pool yielded checks ranging from $6,026.32 for each full Yankee share to $66.13 for some Philadelphia Phillies club house help.

Commissioner Ford Frick announced the official breakdown of series receipts Wednesday. The net receipts for the seven games were $1,622,753.01 including the player pool, commissioner's share of $243,412.96 and $219,834.20 each for the Yankee club owners, Dodger club owners, National League office and American League office.

The Yanks whacked up 38 full shares and took care of a total of 46 men with full and partial shares and cash payments. Brooklyn included 44 men with 29 full shares amounting to $4,000.64 each.

Cleveland also took care of 46 men, 27 of them on full shares of $1,066.35 for their second-place finish. The New York Giants had 11 full shares of $1,071.44 and nine partial shares.

Third place brought $872.98 to each of 36 Chicago White Sox with our part shares. The St. Louis Cardinals had 29 full shares of $755.01 each and nine other portions.

The Philadelphia Phillies took care of both their old manager, Eddie Sawyer, and their new boss, Steve O'Neill, with 31 full shares of $378.79 and six smaller awards. The Athletics, fourth in the American, each got $337.84 for 35 full shares. Seven others received lesser amounts.

Broeder 2d in Big Ten Punting

CHICAGO (AP)—Binkey Broeder of Iowa ranks second among Big Ten punters with a 42.1 average for two games. He has punted 12 times for a 505-yard total. Purdue's Norm Montgomery leads the punters with a 43.5 average.

Howard Cassidy, Ohio State brilliant freshman halfback, has averaged 74.5 yards in the 22 times he has carried the ball to lead all conference runners. He has appeared in three Big Ten games.

Cassidy also is tied for the lead in scoring. He and fullback Max Schmalling of Purdue have counted 24 points apiece.

The figures, which include only conference games, were released by Big Ten headquarters Wednesday.

Indiana has won only one Big Ten game of three played but has two of the individual statistical leaders.

Fullback Pat Gedman leads the conference in yards gained rushing. He has a net of 307 yards in his three games. Quarterback Lou D'Achille leads in total offense with 399 yards, earned mainly on his passing.

Quarterback John Borton of Ohio State has been the most effective passer. He has completed 24 of 40 attempts for a .600 average and a yardage gain of 359.

In pass receiving, end Earl Fisher of Indiana and halfback Jerry Witt of Wisconsin are in the lead. Each has caught 10.

Members of the winning team were Arno Jensen, 79; Charles Brummitt, 81; Edmund Brown, 84; and Chuck Hintz, 88. For the Phi Psi's, Heinie Taylor had 77, Jim Lichty had 82, Chuck Danjelson had 85 and Jim Weber had 93.

In recent professional fraternity games, Phi Beta Pi downed Phi Rho Sigma, 12-0, and AKK beat Alpha Sigma Delta, 21-0, to maintain their co-leadership of Section I. Psi Omega edged Nu Sigma Nu, 13-6, in another game.

Phi Delta Phi beat Delta Sigma Pi, 19-6, and Phi Alpha Delta won by forfeit, to remain in a first place tie in Section II.

East Tower took North Tower, 20-6, in a Quadrangle league game and Hillcrest D overpowered Hillcrest E, 25-6, in a Hillcrest league contest.

Hawks Concentrate On Wisconsin Plays

Coach Forest Evashevski ran the Iowa football squad through a lengthy secret session behind the confines of the Iowa stadium Wednesday afternoon with emphasis being placed on defense against Wisconsin plays.

The Hawkeyes' top defensive unit worked most of the time Wednesday against a team of freshmen which was running plays from the Badgers' formations. Most of the defensive work was centered around stopping the running attack of the Hawks' formidable foes.

Evy's top defensive end and team captain, Bill Fenton, has been seeing more action this week and is expected to play the better part of the Wisconsin game. He sprained his ankle in the Indiana contest two weeks ago and missed the game at Purdue last weekend.

The potent Wisconsin offense boasts three of the best backs in the country. The Badger fullback, Al Ameche, is being boomed for an all-American berth this year, and at the Wisconsin halfback slots are two of the fastest grid-ers in the Big Ten. They are Harland Carl, left halfback and the leading scorer on the team, and Jerry Witt, right halfback who was the loop's leading pass receiver last season.

The Hawkeye offensive platoon was also given a thorough working over Wednesday. Jack Hess was inserted in the first unit's quarterback position, replacing Burt Britzmann who was working with the defensive group.

Iowa's squad will be in near top condition. This game is not only the Hawkeyes' initial home game of this campaign, but is their first home encounter in the six contests.

Wisconsin has been rated a pregame three touchdown favorite in the conference battle here this Saturday. The Badgers, who dropped their game at Ohio State last week, 23-14, are expected to rebound victoriously against the Hawks in their battle to stay at the top of the conference and in contention for the Rose Bowl trip.

Wisconsin Drills Against Freshmen; Work on Defense

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The emphasis shifted from defensive to offense Wednesday as Wisconsin's football team drilled for its invasion of Iowa Saturday.

Coach Ivy Williamson experimented with backfield changes as his offensive platoon scrimmaged against a freshman team.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Coach Stu Holcomb sent Tom Roggenan, letter-winning senior reserve, to the offensive right guard berth Wednesday as Purdue's football squad drilled for Saturday's clash with Notre Dame.

Jack Houston, who normally plays offensive right guard, has been unable to practice because of a side injury.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Coach Wes Fesler took the Minnesota Gophers inside for practice Wednesday—not for security reasons but because of the cold, windy weather. The Minnesota squad is getting ready for its second Big 10 tilt. The Gophers meet Illinois at Memorial Stadium Saturday.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Seven Northwestern players were erased from the casualty list Wednesday and okayed for action against Michigan Saturday.

Coach Bob Voigts said he will continue to scrimmage his defensive squad against freshmen but will have no heavy contact work on offense for fear of new injuries.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The Notre Dame football squad reviewed all plays at length Wednesday with particular emphasis being placed by Coach Frank Leahy on blocking assignments.

The Irish, who meet unbeaten Purdue Saturday, devoted some time to punt and pass protection work.

Champ Salas Loses Decision To Jim Carter

CHICAGO (AP)—Jimmy Carter of New York recovered the World lightweight title Wednesday night by carving Mexican Lauro Salas into a gory, outclassed 15-round victim before one of the smallest championship crowds in modern boxing, 5,283, at the Chicago Stadium.

The unanimous decision for the frozen-faced viciously-efficient Negro scrapper reclaimed the title the 29-year-old Carter had lost to Salas in Los Angeles May 14.

Salas, from Monterrey, Mexico, by way of Los Angeles, was a gamecock all the way as he sought desperately to remain the only Mexican ever to hold an undisputed title.

1st To Regain Title
But in becoming the first lightweight to regain his title since Lou Ambers turned the trick in 1939, Carter was in charge most of the way with razor-sharp combinations that brushed aside the peek-a-boo crouch of the persistent Salas.

Carter, who first had won the title by knocking out Ike Williams in May, 1951, won 10 rounds on The Associated Press score card with the 11th and 12th going to Salas and the second and sixth and 14th even.

Jimmy broke open cuts on the beetle-browed Salas and had him also bleeding profusely from the nose at the close of the lively bout.

No Knockdowns
There were no knockdowns, although Carter turned loose all his guns in the 15th round trying to be the first man to floor the Mexican.

Referee Frank Gilmer voted for Carter 81-69 under the Illinois scoring system which usually gives a round winner a 6-4 edge. Judge Frank McAdams gave it to Jimmy by the widest margin, 84-66, while the other judge, James McManus voted for the new champion, 82-68.

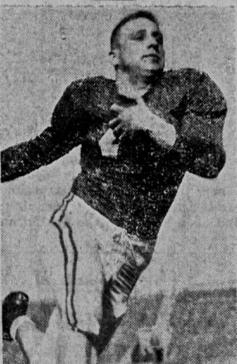

All three judges agreed that Salas, rallying furiously and tearing after Carter like a terrier after a rat, won the 11th and 12th rounds. Gilmer called the second, 13th and 15th even, while McManus saw the eighth and 10th even and McAdams called the second and 13th a draw.

Toe-To-Toe Early
Salas, wearing orange topped red socks and cheered by a small but loud Mexican rooting section, went toe-to-toe with Carter several times during the early rounds.

He fought back after Carter had pinned him to the ropes in the seventh, but his right eye and nose were bleeding. Action slowed until the 11th, when Salas decided he had to take drastic action to win.

He came out of his corner punching in the 11th, swarming all over Carter, who retreated fast and gracefully. In the 12th, Salas threw every punch in his book, hurting Carter with a terrific left.

But that was the Mexican's wad and Carter only had to pace himself through the final three rounds.

Harland Carl Leads Badger Scorers

Hawks to Race Badger Harriers Here Saturday

The only cross-country meet of the fall on the home course matches Iowa against Wisconsin over the four-mile course here Saturday.

The meet, scheduled for 10:30 a.m., is the second of the season for the Hawkeyes, who lost to Marquette there last week, 27-28. Wisconsin beat Michigan State by the same score.

Rich Ferguson, Canadian Olympic team member and winner of the Big Ten outdoor two mile last spring; and Ted Wheeler, seventh in the NCAA harrier race in 1951, are top Iowans. Ferguson won the Marquette race, but Wheeler was a surprise fourth.

Other Iowans include Virgil Von Ahsen and Herb Morph. Best of the Wisconsin runners are Tom Monfore, Bill Inda and Don McLaughlin.

Food Didn't Help Salas

EATING THIS WEIGHT-PRODUCING food didn't help former lightweight champion Lauro Salas (above) of Mexico Wednesday night as he lost his crown to Jimmy Carter by unanimous decision in Chicago. Salas is shown eating bananas and pie, topped off by a malted milk, as he tried to gain weight for the fight. Salas, actually a natural featherweight, weighed in at 131 and Carter came in at the lightweight limit of 135 pounds.

GOP Harping On 4 Fears, Nominee Says

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Sen. John Sparkman said Wednesday night the Republicans are riding "the four horsemen of fear — fear of depression, fear of inflation, fear of corruption, communism and Korea."

"But Americans are not fearful people," declared the Democratic vice presidential candidate, "and they will not choose as their leaders those who seek simply to harp on the unknown fears of our time. They will choose as their leaders those who offer sound and continuing programs to get at the roots of fear."

Then the Alabama senator related in a prepared address for a Uniontown radio audience that "the Democrats have pushed through programs to insure stability and continuing prosperity for our economy . . . offered sound measures to control inflation . . . attacked corruption. . ."

"Finally," he said, "the Republicans talk about Korea. Here they are guilty of the most vicious effort to play on the American heartstrings in a selfish drive for power."

"Gen. Eisenhower has been a leading member of the tremendous program since World War II to build a solid system of collective security in the free world."

"Therefore, I can not understand how he can reverse himself, for the purpose of what seems to be rank political expediency."

Former Red Found Among UN Employes

NEW YORK (AP) — The Senate subcommittee probing American United Nations employes, after questioning 12 witnesses, Wednesday found one who admitted she had been a Communist.

Ruth Elizabeth Crawford, who has a $9,000-a-year job as publications officer of the UN Children's fund, said she joined the party in 1935, was a member for more than a year, and still was sympathetic with the party "in some respects."

She added that she was "not apologetic" about having once joined the party, but had not disclosed it when hired at the UN because "no one asked me."

A spokesman for UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie said recently that applicants for UN jobs were asked for references and complete records of past employment and "any other activities considered pertinent."

He said employes could be summarily fired for omitting pertinent information but the UN did not have the facilities for screening applicants such as the U.S. Civil Service or FBI does.

Police Methods Rapped In Baltimore Murder

BALTIMORE (AP) — Norman Grammer testified in sharp, abrupt tones Wednesday that Baltimore county police refused to let him see or contact his brother, George Edward Grammer, during the two days his brother was held before being charged with murder.

Edward Grammer, 35-year-old manager of a New York metals firm, is accused by the state of killing his wife, Dorothy May, and making her death appear an accident so he could marry another woman.

Mrs. Grammer's body was removed from her overturned car shortly after midnight on Aug. 20 after it careened down a sloping street in North Baltimore, narrowly missing a police cruiser which had just turned into the street.

On her head were several severe deep gashes. Dr. Russell S. Fisher, state medical examiner, said she was fatally beaten with a blunt instrument before the car was sent on its wild ride. He said the car's overturning could not have caused those injuries.

DEATH RATE STABLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The public health service estimated Wednesday that the nation's death rate in 1951 was about 9.7 per thousand population, virtually the same as in 1950. The service said 1951 was the fourth consecutive year in which less than 10 Americans died out of every thousand.

Truman Lax on Reds In UN, Nixon Says

MUSKOGON, Mich. (AP) — The Truman administration permitted Americans of doubtful loyalty to infiltrate key United Nations jobs, Sen. Richard M. Nixon charged in an address prepared for delivery here Wednesday night.

He said this constituted "the latest, greatest threat" to winning the battle against Communist danger at home and abroad and he blamed it on "tragically inept handling."

Nixon's blast at the Truman administration was coupled with a renewed attack on Gov. Adlai Stevenson for his character declaration on behalf of Alger Hiss, whom Nixon termed the "arch spy of our generation."

SLOVAK GAINS FREEDOM

ANZBERG, Germany (AP) — Workers unloading coal shipped from Czechoslovakia Wednesday found a half-starved Czech buried alive in a black metal box. Bavarian border police said the man was identified as a 21-year-old Czech laborer who had chosen that way to flee his Communist-ruled country.

The Campaign Parade—

Adlai Ridicules GOP Team; Ike Ends Southern Campaign

Governor Rips Taft In California Speech

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson said Wednesday night that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has rounded up a team of "isolationists and cut-throat reactionaries" quarterbacked by GOP Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Heaping ridicule and scorn on his Republican opposition, the Democratic presidential nominee swatted hard at a favorite target — what he calls the Old Guard around Eisenhower, his rival for the White House.

He said the group is made up of "stubborn, obstinate men . . . who have had to be dragged, screaming and kicking, into the 20th century."

Stevenson Digs Nixon

And he chose California, the home state of Eisenhower's running mate—Sen. Richard M. Nixon, as the place for a sharp dig at the vice presidential candidate.

Stevenson said "We would take his (Nixon's) enthusiasm for investigation and disclosure more seriously if he would do a more complete job on himself."

Stevenson flew into San Francisco late in the day after making campaign speeches in Spokane, Wash., and Pendleton, Ore.

In Spokane the governor deplored what he termed Eisenhower's suggestion that American troops can be brought home from Korea sooner than national safety permits.

Stevenson to Economize

In Pendleton the Democratic nominee said that as president he would run a clean and honest government, with much attention to economy.

In San Francisco, Stevenson was making his second in-the-state bid of the campaign for California's big prize—32 electoral votes. He made his first swing through the state last month.

Stevenson told his San Francisco audience that in July, Eisenhower backers were saying the general's nomination had saved the nation from Taft, who bid unsuccessfully for top places on the GOP ticket.

'Ike Gives In'

"But in September," said Stevenson, "the general handed over his sword to the man from whom he had just saved the nation."

"The general tells us not to worry. Government, he says, is just a matter of teamwork. But that doesn't encourage us, for we know the names and we have the numbers of the players on the general's team."

Controls Lifted on Pay Below $1 Per Hour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam Wednesday exempted from wage controls all wages of less than one dollar an hour.

Now any employe whose average straight-time hourly earnings are less than one dollar may be raised to one dollar without board approval, subject to certain technical considerations.

'He's My Boy,' Says Stevenson

"HE'S MY BOY." Adlai Stevenson exclaims as he looks at tall W. Stuart Symington, Democratic senatorial nominee, in Kansas City, Mo., where an estimated 150,000—largest Stevenson throng up to then—turned out to cheer him. Stevenson told an auditorium audience that the role of government is "to remove the roadblocks put in the way of people by nature and by greedy men . . ."

Ike Cuts Texas Birthday Cake

GEN. DWIGHT EISENHOWER, Republican presidential nominee, cuts a large cake presented to him on his 62d birthday in Houston, Tex. Tuesday as Mrs. Eisenhower watches. The general made several speeches on his birthday in the Lone Star state where he was born. The general, on a campaign swing through the south, made a major speech in Memphis, Tenn. Wednesday.

Tax Bureau Seeking Grafters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The internal revenue bureau disclosed Wednesday it is seeking to collect $1,645,828 from 266 persons alleged to have taken graft and payoffs and then neglected to report the income in their tax returns.

James Guthrie, head of the revenue bureau's special tax fraud division, said virtually all of the cases concerned public officials of some sort, from policemen on up. Names could not be disclosed, he said, because of a law making tax returns secret unless made public by the President, and also because some of the officials are being prosecuted for criminal tax fraud.

A report for the 12 months ended June 30, 1952, said revenue investigators recommended that 25 cases be prosecuted for criminal tax fraud, that in 241 cases the bureau tried to collect but without criminal prosecution, and that in 148 cases no additional assessment should be made.

Eisenhower Warns Of Economic Collapse

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower closed a blazing campaign drive through the South Wednesday with a warning and a pledge, both concerned with the dollars-and-cents position of the country if he is elected president.

The warning: "If we were suddenly cut off from the rest of the world our entire agriculture and industrial economy would collapse."

The pledge: "We are not going to see the breadlines again. We have pledged the full power of government to prevent a depression."

Ike Praises TVA

At the same time, speaking at Memphis in the heart of the Tennessee Valley, Eisenhower praised the results of the Tennessee Valley Authority but he said the TVA should not be described as the answer for all such developments throughout the country.

"TVA has served rural areas well," Eisenhower said, "and has created many new industries in this section. It has helped conserve natural resources, control floods and promote national defense. It is a great experiment in resource development and flood control for this particular area."

TVA Shouldn't Set Pattern

"We should not, however, look upon the TVA as a rigid pattern for such developments in other regions."

In Memphis, Eisenhower addressed a crowd estimated at between 22,000 and 25,000 people from a rostrum on Chickasaw Bluff. The audience was one of the largest he has received on this section of his campaign tour.

As he passed through the city streets admirers filled the air with confetti. His motorcade passed between solid walls of cheering spectators.

General Receives Salute

When it reached the banks of the Mississippi river, boats and barges tied up nearby blew their whistles. A small field gun on the banks gave the general a 21-gun salute.

As he left the south his top lieutenants were talking with an air of complete confidence of potential victory in Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Texas.

In Memphis Eisenhower covered not only the TVA but reviewed at length his position on a farm program.

"This includes the amendment to the Basic Farm Act, approved by both parties in Congress, to continue through 1954 the price supports on basic commodities at 90 per cent of parity."

Bludgeon Used to Kill 4

SHERIFF'S DEPUTY ED SPELLMEYER holds the length of pipe believed to have been the weapon with which Gard Young, supermarket operator, and two of his children and a neighbor's child were bludgeoned to death near Chester, Calif. Another child, 3-year-old Sondra Gard, survived bludgeoning. Tuesday, police picked up Young's next-door neighbor, Louis Edmond Blair, 45, owner of Chester's only movie theater, as a suspect in the slayings.

Realtor Bound Over to Jury In 'Coffee Cup' Killing of Wife

SIoux CITY (AP) — Philip M. Hegstrom, 48, Sioux City real estate operator, was bound over to the Woodbury County grand jury late Wednesday on a charge of first degree murder in the coffee-cup slaying of his wife, Ruth, 53.

Municipal Judge George M. Paradise, at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing, overruled the request of Hegstrom's attorneys that he be permitted to post bond.

The defendant was returned to the county jail to await action of the grand jury in November. Judge Paradise said the question of allowing Hegstrom's release on bond would have to be settled in district court.

Mrs. Hegstrom was found beaten to death in the kitchen of their suburban home here the night of Sept. 29.

Police Capt. Joe Davidchik testified at Wednesday's hearing that Hegstrom admitted hitting his wife on the head with a coffee cup until she crumpled to the floor.

He said he had been drinking with a friend at a restaurant and returned home at 11:22 p.m. He said he found his wife lying on the floor.
