Angry Ike Rips Truman Rule As Adlai Hits 'Policyless' GOP

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — An angry Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday President Truman has a "scandal-a-day" administration and added: the people "are going to throw it out of office."

Whistle-blowing to tens of thousands through southern New England, the Republican presidential candidate charged his opposition with spreading lies, poison and drive against him.

The general's ire bubbled up to the point where he told a police-estimated crowd of 8,000 at New London, Conn.:

Too Angry to Speak

"I get to the point where I get too angry to speak. You speak for me on Nov. 4."

Eisenhower's speech here was a major one in his tour and he used it for a 15-point restatement of "the beliefs which make this a crusade for me."

"I am still a 'No Deal' man," Eisenhower said as he opened this review of what he regards as his basic political creed. Then he went on to make such points as:

"Anyone who says it is my purpose to cut down social security, unemployment insurance, to leave the ill and the aged destitute, is lying."

His Corruption Again

"I believe that corruption in government is not something to be shrugged off. . . . That is why this scandalous country discredited."

"I believe inflation is a dangerous enemy as we face today."

"I believe that taxes are too high."

"I believe that the federal government should be the partner of state governments, and not their oppressor."

Covering the same ground President Truman whistle-stopped 48 hours earlier, Eisenhower had a quip and a grin for the Connecticut weather.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson Monday night pictured Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a man "with no policy, no program, and no real faith in the future of America."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said that Eisenhower, his GOP opponent, "goes around saying one thing," only to have Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, "assure the country that he (Eisenhower) really meant something else."

Chides Taft

Describing Taft as "the greatest authority on what the general really thinks," the Illinois governor added:

"While the galaxy of political followers ride off in all directions with the general struggling mightily to keep from falling of the thrashing elephant, the expediency of it all is showing through — no policy, no program, and no real faith in the future of America."

Stevenson's address at the Armory in Springfield was primarily in behalf of Illinois Democratic candidate for state and congressional offices.

Wyatt Blasts Ike

A few hours before the rally, Stevenson's campaign manager, Wilson Wyatt, said that what started out to be Eisenhower's great crusade for the presidency appears to be degenerating into "the great smear campaign."

Stevenson's speech was on the eve of a 4,000-mile campaign swing into the midwest and east, the final tour in his bid for the presidency. He leaves Springfield Tuesday on a two-week trip which will take him into 12 states with 208 electoral votes among them.

Wyatt told a news conference that there had been "shocking" distortion of the truth by the Republican opposition.

Advertising May Help Upset Iowa's Downward Voting Trend

"Probably never before has there been so much advertising and persuasion directed at potential voters to urge them to go to the polls," according to Robert Ray, director of the Institute of Public Affairs at SUI.

Many organizations of all kinds are urging people to turn out and vote, and political experts say there seems to be an unusual interest in the candidates and issues this year, Ray observed.

According to voting statistics compiled by the Institute of Public Affairs, the largest turnout of voters in Iowa in any previous election was in 1940 when 1,215,430 Iowans cast votes for president. Three-fourths of all persons of voting age in the state voted in that election.

Been Downward Trend

But since 1940 there has been a downward trend in the percentage of potential voters taking part in presidential election. In the 1944 election only 64 per cent voted, and in 1948 only 63 per cent.

However, in the last two statewide elections the turnout of voters was considerably higher than in comparable elections for several years.

Voting statistics show that in the 1950 general election for U. S. senator, 858,523 Iowans cast ballots; this turnout was 51 per cent of all persons of voting age. Yet this was the largest turnout for a non-presidential general election since 1934.

And in the primary election this June, 418,499 Iowans went to the polls, the most voters to take part in a primary since 1940 when 453,955 voted. Even so, only one person in every four of voting age cast ballots in this year's primary.

In order to break the 1940 turnout record on a percentage basis more voters than the 1,215,430 who voted in 1940 will have to go to the polls, because the number of persons of voting age in Iowa has increased by three per cent during the last decade, according to the statistics.

Increase Hampers Percentage

Voters in some Iowa counties will have to turn out in much greater numbers if their county's 1940 record is to be beaten percentage-wise because of the increase in population shown by the 1950 census.

Some Borderline States

A number of the states were borderline cases. For example, the vote indicated that New York would go Democratic. However, a switch there would give Eisenhower enough electoral votes to win.

22 Republican States

States which the students expected to go Republican were: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and California.

Students unanimously agreed that Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, and New Mexico would go Democratic.

World Federalist President to Speak Here

Norman Cousins, president of United World Federalists and editor of Saturday Review of Literature, will speak twice in Iowa City Wednesday.

A noted lecturer and writer, Cousins will give his first talk on the subject "World Government — How Soon?" at a noon luncheon in the main dining room of Hotel Jefferson. His second lecture will be given at 4 p. m. in MacBride auditorium, is "It Modern Man Obsolete?"

Long interested in world government, Cousins is a member of the Writers Board for World Government, a working committee of 20 top-flight American writers who meet regularly to publicize world government. He is also a consultant to the American Broadcasting Co. on international relations.

In 1948, Cousins was a member of a three man committee which went to Germany at the invitation of Gen. Lucius Clay to report on democratic progress in the American zone. He was also with Joint Task Force One at the Bikini atom tests.

As chairman of the Connecticut Fact-Finding Commission on Education in 1949, he received the annual award of the Education Writers of America. In 1948, he received the Thomas Jefferson award for service to democracy, which was presented by the Council on Democracy.

A graduate of Columbia university's teachers college in 1933, he received his L.L.D. from American university in 1948. Cousins at present lives in Norwalk, Conn.

Cousins is being presented here in joint sponsorship by the Johnson county and SUI chapters of the United World Federalists. Tickets for the luncheon at Hotel Jefferson can be obtained at Whetstone's Drugs. The MacBride auditorium talk will be open to the public at no charge.

Hearing Set On $108,753 Street Project

A public hearing was set on a $108,753.27 street improvement project and a request for "no prejudice" by the Amvets was granted at the meeting of the city council Monday night.

Councilmen set 7:30 p. m., Nov. 17, for the public hearing, where seven street paving projects will be considered. Action on the paving — which would be paid for mainly by property owners — was put off until after that meeting.

Paving would vary in thickness between six and seven inches and in width between 24 and 30 feet depending on the amount of traffic over each street.

About 19 Blocks

The seven projects include: Valley ave. from Newton road to highway 6, about two blocks; area at the intersection of Page and Van Buren sts., about two and one-half blocks; College Court place, from College court to Seventh ave., about one block; College court, from Court st. to College st., about two blocks; Marcy st., from Kirkwood ave. to Highland ave., four blocks; Morningside drive, from Court st. to High st., about two blocks, and Franklin st., from Kirkwood ave. to Highland ave., four blocks.

'Turned New Leaf'

Joe J. Robertson, Amvets' contact officer, told city councilmen that his organization had turned over a new leaf in Iowa City. He asked that the city officials "show no prejudice" if his organization were to apply for a beer permit.

Mayor William J. Holland assured him that the council would show no bias so long as the Amvets abided by the law.

Robertson said that two previous posts of his organization in Iowa City had "not a happy record." He said that the present newly-organized post was a continuation of the old organization but that "not the same people" are involved.

State of Emergency Declared in Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The British sent a battalion of troops and a cruiser to Kenya and declared a state of emergency Monday night in this east African colony in an effort to control the fanatic, anti-white society known as Mau Mau.

The Mau Maus, who take a blood oath to drive the British out of Kenya, have murdered at least 43 persons, set buildings and crops on fire and slaughtered cattle in the last few weeks. The organization is said to number 200,000 of the Kikuyu tribe.

Advertising May Help Upset Iowa's Downward Voting Trend

Counties whose number of potential voters has increased more than 10 per cent since the 1940 census was taken are: Black Hawk, 22 per cent; Des Moines, 13 per cent; Dubuque, 11 per cent; Johnson, 35 per cent; Linn, 15 per cent; Polk, 14 per cent; Scott, 14 per cent and Story, 30 per cent.

Students' Poll Shows Victory For Stevenson

Donald Johnson, instructor in the political science department, has taken a poll among students enrolled in the course "The Presidency" to determine which presidential candidate they think will win the election in each of the respective states. It was not a preference poll.

Results of the poll gave Eisenhower 225 electoral votes and Stevenson 306. A total of 266 votes is necessary to win.

It was decided by a vote of 17 to 7 that Iowa would probably go Republican.

Members of the class declared themselves as follows: 9 Republicans, 10 Democrats and 5 independents.

Some Borderline States

A number of the states were borderline cases. For example, the vote indicated that New York would go Democratic. However, a switch there would give Eisenhower enough electoral votes to win.

The students thought that Michigan, Illinois, and Texas will go Democratic. Two of these states going Republican would give Eisenhower a victory.

22 Republican States

States which the students expected to go Republican were: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and California.

Students unanimously agreed that Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, and New Mexico would go Democratic.

Magazine X to Feature Pin-up of Campus Coed

Magazine X will hit the campus Wednesday with a pin-up picture of a campus beauty, a new feature which will run with each of this year's issues.

Frank Interlandi, A3, Elmhurst, Ill., Daily Iowan cartoonist, has drawn the cover for Wednesday's 16-page edition. Interlandi has drawn the cover for the humor magazine since its inception last March.

In addition to Interlandi, the magazine boasts the work of cartoonists Dean Norman, A4, Cedar Rapids; "Red" Watson, and Ron Butler, A4, Newton.

Feature stories in the 10-cent tabloid size edition were written by Clarence Andrews, A4, Sheldon, and Jack Bender, A4, Water-loo.

Humorous advertising which has brought favorable comment for college humor magazines across the country has been used throughout the issue.

Monday a group promoted the magazine by dropping 100 balloons from rooftops of Schaeffer, MacBride and University halls.

Times to Write Up SUI's Homecoming

Sam Falk, photographer for the New York Times, will be on the SUI campus this weekend to cover Homecoming activities for the Times' Sunday magazine.

Falk will arrive Thursday afternoon to photograph preparations for Friday night's parade, and will do a pictorial feature on the other new and traditional Homecoming events which will bring thousands of Iowa friends and alumni to the campus over the weekend.

305,000 Men Voice Protest To WSB Ruling

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Stung by a government order reducing a pay increase, 305,000 of the country's 375,000 soft coal miners refused to work Monday.

The protest walkout hit hardest in the number one producing state — West Virginia — where all the 115,000 members of the United Mine Workers stayed away from the pits.

Pennsylvania counted 86,500 idle diggers. All of Illinois' 17,000 UMW members are out, as well as 33,000 of 50,000 miners in Kentucky, 8,500 in Indiana, all of Alabama's 15,000 plus 12,000 in Ohio, 9,000 in Virginia and 2,000 in Tennessee. Other coal states reported smaller numbers.

The familiar "no contract, no work" chant went up from miners. One UMW leader said the men felt their new contract was nullified when the wage stabilization board reduced their $1.90 a day pay boost to $1.50.

Daily Wage $17.85

The cut made the basic minimum daily wage $17.85. It formerly was $18.35 and would have been $18.25 under the new contract.

UMW President John L. Lewis maintained an unbroken silence in Washington. No publicized, official orders for a work stoppage have come from him or any other UMW leader.

Possibility of an extended strike is seen by President George J. Titler of UMW District 18 in Beckley, W. Va. Titler declared: "The mine shutdown might be a long one, maybe as much as six months."

Stoppage 1 Week Old

The work stoppage began last week when restless miners first stayed away from the pits to show dissatisfaction with the government's failure to act immediately on the contract negotiated by Lewis and the coal industry Sept. 18. By the end of the week, 160,000 miners were staying at home.

No one is likely to suffer from lack of coal for at least two months. The walkout's start found about 85 million tons of coal piled above ground — a near record amount.

Coalmen say some areas might feel a pinch if they aren't near supplies of mined coal but by and large they say there's plenty of coal for everyone for weeks to come.

Some miners say they'll stay out until the $1.90 is restored. Others are willing to leave the next step up to Lewis.

Hawaiian Reds Must Stand Trial, Supreme Court Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven persons described by the FBI as Hawaiian Communist leaders, including Harry Bridges' top lieutenant there, must stand trial on charges of plotting to overthrow the government by force and violence. The supreme court so ruled Monday.

In the case, the high court refused to issue an order sought by the seven defendants to prohibit U.S. District Judge Jon Wiig from going ahead with the trial.

Jack W. Hall, regional director of Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, and the six others contended an indictment returned against the men in Honolulu Aug. 9, 1951, was defective. They argued the indictment was drawn by a federal grand jury which was not racially, economically, or geographically representative of Hawaii.

In a brief order, the high court refused to intervene. The order noted that Justice Black favored calling upon Judge Wiig for an explanation.

The court agreed to review two appeals involving the Taft-Hartley act. In one of these Willard Christian said the AFL Radio Officers' union caused the Bull Steamship company to refuse him employment.

Chorale Concert To Be Wednesday; Tickets Available

Students may obtain free tickets for the Robert Shaw Chorale concert Wednesday night by presenting their identification cards at the front desk in the Iowa Memorial Union today and Wednesday.

Faculty tickets go on sale today, and tickets may be purchased by the public Wednesday. The price is $1.50.

The concert will be at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Union main lounge, and will consist of three moods by Heinrich Schutz, "Mass in G Major" by Schubert, "Sacred Service" by Ernest Bloch, songs by Brahms and Debussy, and Spanish carols.

The mixed chorus has 32 members and is directed by Robert Shaw. A concert orchestra of 19 instrumentalists will accompany the group.

The chorus was started by Shaw in 1941 as a spare time project while he was director of the Fred Waring glee club. It was temporarily disbanded while Shaw served in the navy during the war but was revived afterward.

This is the group's second cross-country tour.

Since 1946 Shaw has been director of choral activities at the Julliard School of Music in New York.

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEOUL (Tuesday) (AP)—A United Nations front line officer reported today that more than 7,500 Chinese Reds have been killed or wounded in ground action since Oct. 14 in the vicious central Korea fighting for Triangle hill and Sniper Ridge. He said air strikes probably accounted for many more during the limited Allied offensive which has largely achieved the two objectives. Monday night artillery of both sides duelled across the valleys around Sniper and Triangle. The Allied troops dug in for the next Red blow.

HANOI, INDO-CHINA (AP)—Communist-led Vietminh troops Monday captured a second French outpost in northwestern Indo-China in their stepped up offensive aimed at Thai territory near the Chinese border. The Vietminh overran Gia Hoi, eight miles northwest of Nghia Lo, the French garrison that fell on Saturday. Capture of the two outposts represented the first major victory for the rebels in eight months.

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND (AP)—The Intergovernmental committee for European Migration (ICEM) cautiously committed itself Monday to a program for encouraging and helping to plan colonization projects designed to reduce Europe's surplus population. It also set a goal for moving 120,000 Europeans to new homes overseas in 1953.

PORT ELIZABETH, SOUTH AFRICA (AP)—Dr. James Moroka, leader of South Africa's non-white passive resistance movement Monday strongly condemned Saturday's rioting in which seven Negroes and four Whites were killed. Moroka, president of the African National congress, said: "Actions like this can do no good to the already strained relations between the Europeans and non-European sections."

Red Officials Defraud Satellite Nations

VIENNA (AP) — In Romania more than two million dollars have been defrauded from the government treasury by 24 highly placed officials.

Thirteen other government officials have used their positions to divert thousands of tons of first-class textiles to the black market, making themselves a tidy profit.

Hunting and fishing rights and even diapers have been given away for services rendered.

Red troubles reported. Newspaper reports from Romania and other lands in the Russian sphere indicate that Communist governments all over are having no end of trouble with corruption.

Even the controlled newspapers behind the curtain indicate official malfeasance exceeds anything seen in the west. Only the newspapers don't call it corruption; they call it "sabotage."

But what it adds up to is that the Communist governments of eastern Europe are shot through with dishonesty, irresponsibility and bribery.

Incompetents in Power Partly this is due to the transfer of state power to incompetents. Communist street laborers who find themselves running state factories, apparently find the temptations of office too strong.

Partly it is the past. All the nations of East Europe, including Russia, have centuries-old histories of bureaucratic corruption. From the lowest officials up to the top, it has always been accepted.

Little officials are as bad as the big. In Communist Estonia, for instance, the Tallinn newspaper Rahva Haal reported that Director Kruglov, manager of a state industry, not only took off most of the day for hunting, but forced all employees to contribute 25 rubles for gifts for his birthday.

Birthday "Gifts" Brought On his birthday, the newspaper said, his office was "full of flowers, cakes and liquor." The next day, he dismissed all employees who had refused to cough up.

Newspapers complain that officials who administer the red tape regard small-time bribery as a "legitimate" source of additional income. Police make a point of finding "irregularities" in papers in order to have their palms greased.

Higher state officials are not

Iowa's 1952 Polio Epidemic Is Past Peak

DES MOINES (AP) — The peak in Iowa's polio epidemic of 1952 is definitely past, the state health department said Saturday.

"The number of cases is down far enough to suggest a definite downward trend," reported Dr. Ralph Heeren, director of the department's division of preventable diseases. He added: "We will continue to get some cases through December, but how fast the drop will be we wouldn't want to guess. The disease has spread throughout the state, and with some cases delayed in being reported, you can see that if each county had one or more cases each week we would still be getting quite a little."

Less Than 200 Cases Last week was the first week in the last eight in which fewer than 200 cases were reported. The last week total was 140, but there also were 18 delayed cases. The previous week's total was 216, plus 39 delayed cases.

That brought the 1952 total to 2,851 cases as of Oct. 11. This is more than double the full-year previous-record total of 1,349 cases in 1950. On Oct. 11, 1950, the number of cases reported by then that year was 1,119. The full-year total for 1951 was 465, with the Oct. 11 total 413.

This year there had been 139 polio deaths by early this week. The previous record was 90 for all of 1949.

Polk County Led Others Polk county was leading all others in numbers of cases reported this year, up to Oct. 11, with a total of 376. Next was Woodbury county with 346. Pottawattamie and Cherokee counties tied for third with 118 each, and in fifth place was Monona county with 93 cases.

Dr. Heeren saw a bright side to the over-all picture. Asked whether this year's experience would be helpful in fighting the disease in the future, he replied: "We have more hospitals caring for polio cases now. A patient does not have to travel as far now to get hospitalization. Each year we are improving the medical care. Even if we can't prevent the disease, we can do more for the patients than used to be possible."

Highway Patrol May Launch State Check Of Driver's Licenses 235 Lack of Licenses

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa highway patrol may launch a statewide campaign against motorists who are driving without proper licenses.

Patrol Chief S. N. Jespersen said Saturday that results of a "test" drive which has been going on in central Iowa for more than a month indicate the need of a statewide check.

All patrolmen in district No. 1 have been spending an hour each week stopping cars at unannounced places. The district includes Polk, Jasper, Marion, Warren, Madison, Dallas, Boone, Story and Marshall counties.

Jaspersen said that a report submitted by district Sgt. Ted Faber showed that of 7,000 drivers stopped during the first two weeks of the campaign, 235 were not carrying driver's licenses. All of the 235 were summoned into court.

Only 80 of them, Jespersen said, were able to produce valid licenses, and nine of those were violating license restrictions. Of the remaining 155, the report showed that 83 were driving on licenses that had expired, some as long ago as 1946; 64 never had licenses, and eight were under suspension or revocation.

$100 Fine or Jail Driving without a valid license may draw a fine up to $100 or a sentence of up to 30 days in jail. Driving while under suspension results in a mandatory jail term of 2 to 30 days. Persons driving while suspended under the state financial responsibility law may be fined $500 and jailed for 90 days.

Jaspersen said the campaign in central Iowa may soon be extended to all parts of the state. "Drivers who avoid examination by failure to renew or apply for licenses, drivers who violate license restrictions and those who drive while suspended or revoked threaten our chances for a good reduction in traffic deaths this year," the patrol chief said.

State Officials Approve Armory Site Purchase DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Executive council approved Monday the purchase of $2 of a tract in Bonebright park, Webster City, in which to locate a new Iowa National Guard armory.

National Grange Chief Says Vital Farm Vote Undecided

WASHINGTON — The nation's farmers—either rightly or wrongly credited with pulling one of the surprise rabbits out of the political hat that elected President Truman in 1948 — are still the campaign question marks.

The question of which way farmism will go this time brings out the rural residents want explained more in detail.

About the only way to find out what the farmer is thinking is to pin down one of their national spokesmen who have their hands on the pulse of the rural world.

No Predictions One such spokesman, Herschel Newsom, master of the National Grange, is doing no predicting or opinion sampling. But, making some cross-country tours and "whistle stops" of his own for the sake of closer integration of the grange, he has picked up a few "pointers."

Newsom said the main thing in the farmer's mind is a more detailed elaboration of just what the parties are proposing for an agriculture program.

The one-time Indiana farmer, of course, has an idea of the prevailing political sentiment among the nation's farmers but concedes that it is still hard to tell if the GOP's General Eisenhower or the Democrats' Adlai Stevenson will get the vital farm vote.

Conferences Planned Newsom said he has talked to both political candidates and plans to have more conferences with them or their associates. The principal bone of contention, Newsom said, is the failure of the candidates to make a clearer stand on an agriculture program.

The National Grange master said his organization does not intend officially to endorse either candidate but will urge both nominees to back a plan to study and "remedy" the price support program.

The grange, as an organization, has for some time backed a plan to set up a federal farm commission to go over the whole agriculture program and make recommendations for putting the farmer "on his own two feet" without the aid of price supports which originally were set up as emergency measures.

Newsom said it is the grange's contention that the U. S. "has never corrected the basic causes of agriculture's failure" in 1921.

Grange Attitude Cited He said the grange, representing some 900,000 farmers in the nation, believes that agriculture "should be running on its own by now" without price support programs as they are today.

The one major factor in this, Newsom said, "is that America's trade policies, tariffs, immigration restrictions and other programs, are designed to protect industrial investors and laborers from foreign competition and have operated at the farmer's expense."

Backing up this charge, Newsom pointed out that raw products of agriculture come into the U. S. duty-free but once any processing occurs, it invites a tariff or protective mechanism.

Says Farmer Wants Parity The whole idea, Newsom said, is that the American farmer wants an "equal parity" and cannot have it if the nation's agriculture program is operated exclusively on a world price level.

Herschel Newsom
Makes No Predictions

He said, "Farmers must be protected the same as watch-makers and the like."

Newsom said he has been "much encouraged" with both candidates' reception of "help and suggestions" from farmer organizations.

And, too he said that although he has been "encouraged by what both candidates have said" along the agriculture line, they should perhaps expand their plans to the public.

Newsom said both candidates "recognize that agriculture is suffering without increasing prices."

He concluded that although price supports "are not the answer" to the agriculture's problems, they must not be discarded until a new "remedy" is worked out—preferably by a federal farm commission.

TO THE EDITOR: Was it here in Iowa City that the football game I saw Saturday was played? I feel certain that, so far as the encouragement our team heard down on the field is concerned, they could have imagined themselves playing in Madison.

The Hawks started off in high gear, hoping to upset Wisconsin, and their hopes seemed justified for more than 10 minutes. But then the Badgers scored, and something just snapped.

I, for one, feel that psychology has a lot to do with a team's performance, but our student body does pitifully little to try to bolster the Hawks' spirits, especially when they need it most. Of course, we all cheered when we made our touchdowns, but how about when the breaks went against us? Our rule has been: "Cheer only when the team is terrific, shut up and make them the more gloomy if something goes wrong." Doesn't anyone think the shouts of encouragement are a good part of what our team needs in order to become terrific in the face of tough going? SUJ students seem to be fairweather friends by that standard.

How could anyone have failed to have noticed the fire with which the Badgers lined up? The Wisconsin cheers and cheerleaders, and their band, were always in there. In contrast, our cheerleaders seemed inane. Not only didn't they have megaphones, which are essential, but they started half their cheers in competition with announcements being made over the P.A. system. Why isn't there some coordination?

Although the band plays the Iowa Fight Song at concerts, they don't go in for it much at games (if Iowa is behind). They could do lots to pep up our students and, through them, our team. How about some of our talented students thinking up some effective cheers, or maybe even a good fight-song?

You students who come hours before game time to get good seats for the games, please, may we try just this once for Homecoming: Cheer like mad when the chips are down. Try to rattle the opposition — maybe then they'll mumble more than we do. Shout your encouragement to the team when they need it. Let's have some cheers like: "We want a fumble." "Get that ball." etc. It might just put a little more spirit into the Hawks, and result in a victory for Iowa.

Maine Seaport Hit By Water Shortage

CASTINE, Me. (AP) — This drought-stricken seaport closed its two public schools Monday because of a serious water shortage and the U. S. navy said it would come to the rescue for a second time in less than a month.

First Selectman Fred Wardell said reservoirs contain only about 60,000 gallons — enough for one day's normal consumption.

The same navy water barge which pumped 2,000,000 gallons into Castine mains last month is due Wednesday from Newport, R. I.

Interpreting the News —

Acheson Fools Many Officials In UN Speech

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst Secretary Acheson fooled a lot of delegates at the United Nations with his opening address to the general assembly.

Some of them had been going around hoping out loud that he would moderate what they anticipated might be a "tough" speech as the one he made last year, which they didn't think had done anything to ease world tensions.

They feared he would threaten the Communists with direct action perhaps a blockade of China, unless they agreed to a Korean armistice on the terms already elaborated by UN negotiators at Panmunjom.

Appeals for Solidarity Instead, the secretary made his primary appeal for solidarity among the non-Communist countries. Not because of preliminary pressure from the Allies, but because he planned it that way. In fact, American sources reported, the original text had been "beefed up" somewhat to avoid any appearance of appeasement of communism, rather than being toned down.

The Americans have long since given up most of their hope that anything which is said will have much effect on Russian policy. That the Acheson speech did not is evidenced by the fact that Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky will speak immediately, instead of applying to the Kremlin for reaction to Acheson. The line which he brought from Moscow obviously remains unaffected, although he was assiduously underlining various points in the Acheson speech as the secretary proceeded.

Attains Intended Affect The speech, however, obviously attained an important part of its intended affect on other delegations. Faces lighted up as Acheson described the hope of the world for peace through collective security, as he solemnly promised American abstention from aggressive intent of any sort, as he reiterated the nation's inherent interest in the advancement of colonial peoples toward independence.

The applause was far from perfunctory — though by no means unanimous. The Communist bloc was silent, of course, and so were some Latin-Americans and middle Easterners who frequently withhold their approval on Western actions in the UN in a sort of silent bargaining for the things they want themselves.

Speech Sets Keynote The assembly had convened in an atmosphere of approaching storm. The secretary had tried to set the keynote for keeping the coming discussions on a high plane. For that the foreign delegates were grateful.

But they knew the storms were coming, nevertheless. The secretary's moderation on Korea and other delicate subjects did not mean that the U. S. would not come up later with concrete proposals regarding the Korean situation which would set off a great battle. And that would not be the only one, by any means.

Iowa Liquor Sales Show Leveling Trend After Early Reduction DES MOINES (AP) — Sales by the Iowa liquor control commission declined only slightly in the last three months, compared with a 12 per cent reduction for the first six months of this year.

"We had been running about 12 per cent under last year," Commission chairman Harold E. Wolfe commented Saturday. "But in the last three months the decline has been considerably less. It was due largely to a gain in July over the same month last year."

"We are much better off than surrounding states. In Ohio, a monopoly state like Iowa, and in Pennsylvania, an open state, sales have been off terribly. We are not in bad shape."

He said the declines this year follow a national trend, and that it is attributed to an increase in the federal tax on all spirits, made effective last November. The levy was increased $1.50 per gallon to a total of $10.50 a gallon.

The gallonage, as well as the sales volume, was off slightly in the last three months. In this instance also, there was a gain in July.

July sales this year totaled $2,827,951, compared with $2,426,373 in the same month last year. Gallons purchased by patrons last July totaled 173,925, as against 159,513 in the same month last year.

Sales of purchase permits show totals of 183,011 for the last three months and 194,311 for the same time last year. The permits are valid from July to July, showing that there were 11,300 fewer eligible purchasers at the end of the last three months than at the same time last year.

Film With All-Colored Cast Latest Hollywood Experiment

For the first time in movie history an all-colored cast is being used to make a dramatic film, "See How They Run."

Several musicals have been produced which featured Negro players. This is, however, the initial effort in a "straight" story.

The story is a simple one—the plight of a backward student in an elementary school, and how his teacher and principle help save the youth from a complicated and neurotic adolescence.

No "Problem" Story

It is not a "problem" story. There is no reference to prejudices of any kind. As a matter of fact, there is no reason why the film could not be made with a white cast. However, the story was written by Mary Elizabeth Vroman, a colored school teacher, about colored children.

Gerald Mayer, the director explained why the film is being made. Primarily it can be made inexpensively since production and cast costs for the movie are small.

"The film shows colored people just as they are and how they adjust to their problems," says Mayer. "It should have a pretty good market."

Expect Large Audience

"There are over 10 million Negroes who should want to see it, and there should be quite a few million whites who will at least be curious." With that kind of box office the film could be a smash hit!

The producers have made excellent selections for the leading roles. Dorothy Dandridge plays the school teacher.

Miss Dandridge has been in films since she was 14 when she had a bit role in Bahama Passage. Later films include Jeppers Creepers, a musical, Sundown, Pillar to Post, a native girl in Tarzan's Peril, and The Harlem Globe Trotters.

Harry Belafonte, 26, the school principal, is making his film debut. He is a top folk tune artist.

DOROTHY DANDRIDGE HELPS PHILLIP HEPBURN with his lessons in the new Hollywood production, "See How They Run," a dramatic film portrayed by an all Negro cast, and the first of its kind in the field of motion pictures. The picture does not deal with the race problem, only with the plight of a small Negro boy who is having troubles in adjusting himself to adolescence.

HARRY BELAFONTE

However, he doesn't sing in the movie.

Both agreed colored people will be happy to see the movie, mainly because it is not a "message" film and does not, as most previous Hollywood films, always present a white-colored problem.

Handsome Cast

The studio could not have chosen two more handsome Negroes. Both Miss Dandridge and Belafonte are particularly light-skinned. Miss Dandridge is so fair, dark make-up was applied to assure audiences of her race!

The majority of the cast are the elementary school pupils, 24 of them, most of whom are making their movie debuts.

Mayer says: "These kids are wonderful, no trouble and they take direction like veterans."

The director has had assurance from exhibitors that no trouble should be experienced selling the film in the South. Does this mean more all-colored films will be made?

"It's very simple," Mayer laughs, "if it makes money we will. We're in business to make money."

'Years Ago' Comedy To Be First City High Production of Year

City high's first dramatic production of the year will be Ruth Gordon's comedy "Years Ago," to be held in the Iver Opstad auditorium at 8 p.m. on the evenings of Oct. 29 and 30.

The drama, based on Miss Gordon's teen-age days, will be presented by the junior class under the direction of Miss Lola Hughes.

The leading members of the cast are: David Beams, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Beams, 110 Lusk ave.; Leland Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, 900 E. Davenport; Virginia Coder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Coder, 329 River st.; Veronica Connors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Connors, 1210 March st., and Louise Welter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Welter of 421 Bayard st.

Other members of the cast are June Putnam, Roberta Munn, Dawn Bauserman, Virginia Sedleck, Robert Emmanuel, Kenneth Weller, Alton Braley, John Sunner, Roger Stroughton, Lyle Ware and Mary Poulton.

Mrs. Edith Frey and Miss Donna Mooney are faculty assistants, with Carolyn Slager as senior class assistant.

Pledged during informal rushing last week were: Richard Webb, A1, Des Moines; Clark Looney, A1, Mt. Vernon; Ralph Reichs, A1, Iowa Falls, and Jack Rous, A1, Peoria, Ill.

Three Pi Kappa Alpha transfer students have recently joined the chapter here. They are Bill Quiet, A3, Santiago State college; Thomas Segnitz, A3, Arkansas State college, and Bill Westburg, A2, Drake university.

University High Sponsors French Children's Exhibit

An exhibit of French children's books and drawings will be shown at the University high school, Oct. 21-28, through the courtesy of the cultural services of the French embassy in New York.

Frank Wachowiak, head of the art department of the University high school and Mrs. Pauline Aspel of the French department are in charge of the exhibit.

Those viewing the exhibit will find that the French children's books are similar to those of American children but differ in only one respect, that of subject matter. All books included in the exhibit were printed during the post war period of 1945-50.

The drawings of the French children are mainly of farm scenes and done on a small scale, due to the lack of materials available during this period. The drawings are done by children of elementary school age. The medium they have used is crayon and the drawings are very good.

This is the first exhibit of its kind and plans are being made for a larger exhibit. Wachowiak has toured the state of Iowa with this exhibit and believes that the drawings of the children are very interesting because they show "a sense of careful detail."

A similar exhibit was shown by Wachowiak at the meeting of the art teachers of the state, in Burlington last week.

The exhibit is open to the public and all those wishing to view these drawings and books are welcome to come during the showing.

Staffer Johnny Meyer turned in a 13-2 record for the weekend while Dick Mau had 12-9.

This writer isn't one to pull his punches concerning athletic teams around this or any other school. When a team looks bad, I see no other way out except to say that it looked bad.

However, I couldn't quite see eye-to-eye with the many "as usual" writeups about Iowa's 42-13 loss to Wisconsin last Saturday.

In one breath sportswriters admit that Iowa doesn't have much material and can't be expected to win. Then in the next breath, they criticize the team up and down for losing by such a deciding margin.

Frankly the game was fairly pleasing. It held one's interest throughout as shown by the number of fans who stayed almost to the end.

The Hawks fought their hearts out. True, on offense, they weren't effective. Fumbles and pass interceptions set up five Badger touchdowns.

But on defense the players made their tackles count. Times were few that a tackler failed to down his man crisply. The Wisconsin yardage was around the ends, not through the line that had been quite vulnerable in the first three games.

Don Chelf, among others, played an inspired ball game. Despite the fact that he had a bruised heel, he leaped and shuffled to get to the right spot at the right time. He is a fine ball player, but a senior, and he'll never get to play on a winning Iowa team.

The way the Hawks held Alan Ameche, a strong candidate for all-America, to only 54 yards, not an astounding total considering the way he ground Iowa into the turf last year was a tribute to the Iowa fight.

On offense, Paul Kemp, who engineered the Hawks' late touchdown drive, was a bright spot. Wisconsin didn't have all of its regulars in there by the time he made his appearance, but the way he hustled the Hawks in and out of the huddle and got the plays rolling quickly tabs him as a leader worth looking over again.

Paul completed four passes in eight tries for 41 yards. Two records fell during the game. Iowa end Dan McBride set a school record by snagging nine passes.

Wisconsin captain George O'Brien broke the old modern era (since 1939) record for a single boot with one that carried 96 yards. Dike Edleman punted one for Illinois for 88 yards in 1948 against—you guessed it—Iowa.

However, Dick Crayne of Iowa in 1934 was credited with a 102-yard kick that doesn't show up in the modern era records.

Bernie Bennett, the Iowa man who let the new record punt bounce past him and who watched it roll dead on the three, had only this to say: "I was confused. I thought I heard someone say let it roll and so I did."

Iowa's cross country team handed Wisconsin its first loss in 20 meets Saturday. Rich Ferguson led the Hawks to their first win of the season in two meets, 23-33.

Ferguson, whose time was 14:48.2, was followed by his teammate, Ted Wheeler, and Tom Monfore of Wisconsin.

Allen Hits Athletic Recruiting

CHICAGO (AP) — Phog Allen charged Monday that "there still is a lot of folding money being passed under the counter" by major conferences in recruiting athletes.

The University of Kansas' veteran basketball coach made his blast during a guest-speaker's role at the weekly Herald-American Quarterback luncheon.

Allen is in Chicago drilling the College All-Star basketball squad for its game with the Minneapolis Lakers Friday night.

Long a sharp critic of commercialism in college athletics, Allen renewed a plea for the appointment of a national commissioner to keep major schools in line.

"Such a man must be prominent and respected, like J. Edgar Hoover," Allen said. "He must rule college sports like Lándis ruled baseball. Give such a man two years to study the situation thoroughly and then let him go to work with an iron hand. Instead of the college presidents being responsible, we have the head coaches held responsible for keeping sports free of commercialism."

AMES (AP)—Iowa State college Coach Abe Stuber indicated Monday that Saturday's Big Seven contest at Missouri may be a battle of spread formations.

Stuber drilled his defensive unit intensively against the Tiger spread while the Cyclone offensive unit concentrated on a spread formation of their own.

Defensive end Roger Cunningham, lost for the season with a shoulder dislocation, was the only major injury suffered by the Cyclones in their game against Colorado last Saturday.

Spartans Cling To Top Of AP Poll

Maryland Close 2d While Sooners Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State clung to first place but Maryland made a strong fight of it Monday in the Associated Press' fourth weekly college football poll.

At the same time Oklahoma, rallying after a shaky start, moved into a position of contention by jumping from sixth to third on the strength of a 42-20 victory over Kansas.

The Spartans of Michigan State, who routed Syracuse 48-7 Saturday for their 19th consecutive triumph, received 49 of the No. 1 votes cast by 138 sports writers and broadcasters. They held a slim 50-point advantage over Maryland.

Points are awarded on the basis of ten for first place vote, nine for second, etc.

Maryland Smashes Navy
Maryland, in retaining the No. 2 position, also continued to influence observers by smashing hitherto unbeaten Navy, 38-7, Saturday in a row. Maryland received 36 first place votes and had 1,141 points compared to Michigan State's 1,191.

Completing the top 10 in order were: California, No. 4; Georgia Tech, No. 5; Duke, No. 6; Southern California, No. 7; UCLA, No. 8; Virginia, No. 9 and Wisconsin, No. 10.

California, Georgia Tech and Duke each dropped a notch to make room for climbing Oklahoma. Southern Cal held No. 7, a post it has occupied for four straight weeks. UCLA climbed from 10th while Virginia and Wisconsin ebbed in from the outskirts to oust Kansas and Purdue, both beaten last week-end.

Purdue Tumbles
Purdue, upset 26-14 by Notre Dame, tumbled completely out of the first 20 while Kansas managed to hang to the No. 15 rung.

Virginia, meanwhile, continued its high-scoring unbeaten march by humbling VMI, 33-14, and Wisconsin, loser only to Ohio State, gained new friends by smashing Iowa, 42-13.

Oklahoma, tied by Colorado in the first game of the season but victor over Pitt, Texas and Kansas, was liked enough to rate 23 first place votes and 913 points.

California, which received 21 No. 1 votes a week ago, dropped to nine this week.

Bears Roll On
The Golden Bears continued unbeaten by thrashing Santa Clara, 27-7. Georgia Tech won its fifth of the season by downing Auburn, 33-0. Duke belted North Carolina State, 57-0.

Southern California and UCLA, reflecting the upsurge of power on the Pacific coast, maintained all-winning records. Southern Cal won over Oregon State, 28-6, while UCLA thumped Stanford, 24-14.

The top 10 is in for a reshuffling this week with three games involving members of the select group. California plays Southern Cal at Los Angeles. Duke meets Virginia at Charlottesville, Va. UCLA travels to Wisconsin.

Drake Grid Stars Dropped from Squad

DES MOINES (AP) — Veteran backs Gene Macomber and Joe Bevere were dropped from the Drake university football squad Monday by Coach Warren Gaer.

Gaer said because of their attitude regarding disciplinary action he took against them in Detroit last weekend and for the good of the squad he had no recourse but to dismiss them.

Al Elder, junior center from Marshalltown who also was disciplined in Detroit, was permitted to rejoin the squad, Gaer said.

The three were sent back from Detroit Saturday morning when Gaer learned they missed the Bulldog Friday night curfew by almost two hours.

The absence of Bevere and Macomber was costly to the Bulldogs who lost to Detroit Saturday night, 57-0. Bevere ranked second in the nation in total offense with 748 yards in four games.

Hampton Tops Group — 15 Freshmen Boost Hopes Of Hawks' Gymnastic Future

By ED HUNTING

Iowa's freshman gymnastic team hopefuls are presently working out in the field house under the direction of Freshman Coach Claire Jennett. This year Jennett is diligently making use of the efforts of 15 freshman hopefuls and two sophomore transfers, making one of the largest freshman squads in the past years.

Presently, Don Hampton of Glenview, Ill., stands out as one of the top frosh. Jennett said. Hampton is an all-around man on the high bar, side horse, parallel bars and rings. Toby Stigall of Fort Madison specializes on the high bar, tumbling and the trampoline and Iowa City's Ed Huber looks good on the side horse, Jennett went on.

However, Tom Christensen of Fargo, N. D., is providing strong competition for Huber, he pointed out.

Fred Berger of Davenport has honor of being the smallest man on this year's freshman squad. Berger's father was an outstanding gymnastics man at Iowa a few decades ago.

Paul Stone of Waterloo shows plenty of promise and his size and weight give him title to the strongest man presently on the squad, Jennett said.

Others now working out include Mike Millinex, Newton; Dick Kuiper, Sibley; Larry Rapoport, Cedar Rapids; Max Ireland, sophomore transfer from Newton; Rod Heetland, Clear Lake; Bill Kieck, Iowa City; Bob Williams, Cedar Rapids; Jack Sweet, Central City; Larry Patterson, sophomore transfer from Newton; Ralph Speas, Delmar; and Larry Bond of Radcliffe.

All in all, Jennett feels that at the present time this year's freshman squad if not showing quality, shows plenty of quantity for the future Iowa Hawkeye gymnastics team.

10 Major Elevens Hold Clean Slates

NEW YORK (AP) — With about half the season to go, only 54 college football teams, including 10 major elevens, could boast unbeaten-untied records Monday.

In the elite group were three powers from California, UCLA, California and Southern California, and some of the top-ranking teams of the country. They included Michigan State, Maryland, Georgia Tech, and Duke.

The other majors with all winning records are Villanova, Holy Cross and Virginia. Virginia had its goal line crossed for the first time Saturday when the Cavaliers whipped Virginia Military, 33-14.

Theta Xi, SAE Touch Gridders Meet Thursday

Theta Xi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon clash Thursday for the Section IV title in the social fraternity division of the intramural touch football league. The two teams have whipped Phi Kappa Sigma and Delta Upsilon, the only other squads in the section. Both the winner and the loser in Thursday's clash will advance to the Social league play-offs which open Nov. 11.

Phi Gamma Delta, co-leader of Section I, tangles with Delta Chi, a loser last week to the Phi Deltas. If Delta Chi knocks off the Phi Gams, Phi Delta Theta will clinch at least a share of the section title.

The other Section I game pits the cellar-dwelling AEPI's against Delta Tau Delta, another team which has yet to record a win.

Section II contests scheduled for Wednesday include front running Sigma Chi against Pi Kappa Alpha while Sigma Nu and Phi Kappa battle it out for the number two position.

Race Still Open
The title race in Section III, still a wide open proposition, finds Beta Theta Pi, who opened last week by clipping the Phi Psi's, 6-1, squaring off against Alpha Tau Omega. The ATO's chalked up victory number one recently at the expense of Acacia, 18-0. Acacia meets the co-leaders, Sigma Phi Epsilon, in the only other fray slated in this section.

Professional fraternity football passed the halfway point last week with Alpha Kappa Kappa, in Section I, and Phi Delta Phi, in Section II both owning three wins, emerging as leaders of their respective divisions. AKK outfigured previously undefeated Phi Beta Pi, 19-13. The loss dropped the Phi Betas into a second place tie with Delta Sigma Delta, who squeezed by Nu Sigma Nu, 6-0.

Phi Alpha Delta, sporting two wins and no losses, clashes with Phi Delta Phi for the top spot in Section II. Theta Tau, who whipped Delta Sigma Pi, 12-7, is also in the title picture with two wins against a single defeat.

Forfeits Mar Tennis
In other intramural activities forfeits are being handed out in every round. Tennis, in the professional, social and dormitory leagues is scheduled to be completed within the next two weeks. In the Social division the last count showed eight forfeitures in 21 scheduled contests, including both doubles and singles matches.

Four volleyball tussles were on tap last week with two forfeits involved. Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu, in Section II of the Social league recorded straight wins as did Nu Sigma Nu and Delta Sigma Delta of Section I in the Professional league.

MISS RAWLS MEDALIST
FT. WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Sharpshooting Betsy Rawls, 22-year-old former National Open champion, shot a 78 Monday, three shots under women's standard, for medalist honors in the Women's Texas Open. Carrying the banner for the amateurs was home town favorite Polly Riley, the stocky Curtis Cup star who carded a 35-39.

Hawks Aim to Stop Costly Gifts to Foes

The opponents are tough enough in their own right, without giving them scoring chances on fumbles and pass interceptions, so SUT's football squad is attempting to cut down on the costly mistakes.

Against Purdue, it was loss of the ball on five fumbles which was fatal and last week Wisconsin scored four touchdowns after recovering Iowa bobbles or intercepting passes between the Iowa 8 and 42-yard lines.

Next comes Ohio State, visiting Iowa City for the first time since 1927, to play at the 41st Hawkeye Homecoming Saturday. The potent Buckeyes have beaten Indiana and Wisconsin and lost to Purdue and last week warmed up for further conference play by batting down Washington State, Forest Evashevsky's old team, 35-7.

Stress Pass Defense
Hawkeye coaches will work overtime on pass defense this week, for the problem is John Borton, who hit 15 of 17 for 312 yards last week and now has a season's total of 25 good ones on 40 attempts. End Bog Grimes is his favorite receiver.

Iowa statistics for the four losses show a total of 1,035 yards as compared with foes' 1,683. Iowa has made 564 and four touchdowns on 42 completed passes in 92 attempts but the running game has gained only 471 yards for a 2.8 average.

The Iowa defense has been pierced for 1,081 yards on the ground, a 4.2 average, and 602 by air, with 40 completions in 73 attempts.

Other Figures
It's almost even on kick returns. 317 for Iowa to 313 for opponents and Iowa has been penalized only 175 yards to opponents' 338. Iowa and opponents each have lost the ball 10 times on fumbles but Iowa has had a dozen passes intercepted to foes' four.

Among Iowa's individual statistics one of the best is the figure for pass-catching of Dan McBride, who has grabbed 17 for 206 yards. McBride caught nine vs. Wisconsin to break the Iowa single game record of six held by Em Tunnell and Fred Rück.

Burt Britzmann, quarterback, has completed 25 of 69 passes for 25 yards and 400 and Binkey Broeder has a 41-yard average on 22 punts. The three leading rushing yard-makers are Jim Milani, 137 for 6-yard average; Broeder, 90 for 4.5, and Bernie Bennett, 71 for 3.1.

No New Injuries
Hawkeyes were lucky in the injury department for no new ailments were contracted. Pete Spanners, who had a bad knee, was bumped again and his condition Monday was doubtful pending doctor's report. Capt. Bill Fenton played about 58 minutes and his ankle gave him no trouble.

Unless injuries are sustained in this week's drill, Iowa should be in good physical shape for the Buckeyes.

Officials Seize 1,544 Bottles In 7 Des Moines Key Clubs

DES MOINES (P) — Mass raids on seven Des Moines "key clubs" early Sunday resulted in the biggest liquor haul in the city's history.

A total of 1,544 bottles of liquor were reported seized by the more than 50 city, county and state officers who took part.

State and local officials, meantime, reported these developments:

1. Carl Smedal, Ames attorney, was appointed special prosecutor to present evidence on the raids to the Polk county grand jury.

2. Some of the bottles of seized liquor bore seals from Minnesota, North Dakota, Missouri, Wisconsin and Illinois.

3. Evidence on illegal liquor sales was allegedly obtained prior to the time of the raids.

Largest 'Within Memory'

Police department officials said the volume of liquor seized was the largest "within memory."

Smedal's role as prosecutor was announced by Atty. Gen. Robert L. Larson. He said that Smedal's appointment as a special assistant attorney general was authorized by the state executive council Oct. 6.

Larson's announcement said Smedal will present the evidence obtained in the raids along with someone from Polk county Attorney Clyde Herring's office. Fifteen persons have been charged with violation of the Iowa Liquor Control act as a result of the raids.

Vice bureau officers said that the club members whose names appeared on bottles bearing out-of-state stamps, would probably be called in for questioning.

Should Be Warning

Attorney General Larson said that the mass raids should serve as another warning that illegal liquor operations will not be tolerated anywhere in the state.

"We haven't had any complaints of illegal key clubs from out in the state," Larson said. "But we have found from past experience that the pattern — good or bad — is usually set in Des Moines."

"If the operations are good in Des Moines, it seeps into the state. The same is true with something bad. If they get away with it in Des Moines they follow suit out in the state."

Larson denied that the raids had any political implications.

"We've been watching those clubs the last several months," he said, "and decided, with the help of the police department, that early Sunday morning was a good time for a show down."

No Political Backing

"No politics whatsoever behind them. It just shows where law enforcement is concerned we don't care one way or another about the election."

Larson repeated that key clubs as such are not illegal and that many throughout the state are run legally.

"But if they're not run in a legitimate manner we'll crack down on 'em," he said. "Fortunately the illegal ones haven't had a good start anywhere else in the state. Guess they were waiting to see what happened in Des Moines."

Smedal was appointed, Larson said, because he had helped in the gambling conspiracy prosecution at Sioux City two years ago with great success.

Historical Society Publishes Guide Edited by Petersen

The State Historical society has received the first copy of its latest publication, an Iowa Historical Reference Guide, Prof. William J. Petersen, superintendent of the society and editor of the publication, said Monday.

The guide provides a list of nearly 300 topics on various subjects including natural phenomena, wildlife, Indians, discovery and exploration, settlement and pioneers, immigration, territorial and state government, cities and towns, and education and health.

About 6,000 copies of the guide have been printed, 4,500 of which will be distributed to members of the State Historical society, libraries, depositories and exchanges. The rest will be available on order for $3 a copy.

Petersen said that Iowa is the only state in which such a reference guide is published.

Petersen to Attend Meeting in Texas

Prof. William J. Petersen of the SUI history department will leave today to attend the annual convention of the American Association for State and Local Historical Societies in Houston, Texas.

Petersen will act as midwestern regional director on the awards committee at the convention. Recently he finished editing and compiling material for the "Iowa Historical Reference Guide," a publication of the State Historical Society. Petersen is head of the Iowa State Historical society.

Four and One-Half Days Left For Iowa Voters to Register

Four and a half days remain in which to register to vote in the coming general election. Saturday noon marks the registration deadline for the Nov. 4 election.

If you are a new resident, if you have not voted in the last four years, or if you have just reached 21 years of age you must register in order to vote.

To be eligible to vote you must have lived in the state six months, in the county 60 days and in the precinct 10 days before election day. To avoid standing in line the prospective voter should register at the city clerk's office today or Wednesday.

Women should remember to write their own first names, not their husbands', on the registration forms.

The Bloomington Voters Unlimited of Bloomington, Ind., have accepted the challenge of the Voters Unlimited of Iowa City to determine which city can get out the biggest vote Nov. 4.

Iowa City and Bloomington, both college communities, have a comparable population.

The Bloomington group, in accepting the challenge, said, "Although the contest is an excellent idea, and although the phraseology of the challenge is wonderful to contemplate, we can not but feel that you of Iowa City definitely have placed your necks in a vulnerable position."

Property Owners To Pay Mill Tax Levy of 70.986

Property owners in Iowa City will pay a 70.986 mill tax levy in 1953, an increase of about 12 1/2 mills over this year's rate, Asst. County Auditor William L. Kanak announced this weekend.

The 21 per cent increase means that property owners will pay about $70.99 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation of both real estate and personal property.

The greatest proportion of levy increases comes at the city level because of the change in the city's fiscal year.

City Manager Peter F. Roan explained that the 1952 fiscal year began Jan. 1, rather than April 1 as before, as a result of state legislative action, and that a three month cash balance thus carried over from the 1951 budget.

Farmers Help Firemen Stop County Blaze

One of the largest ground fires in the history of Johnson county swept through 125 acres of woodland and meadow on two farms five miles north of Iowa City Sunday.

Two hundred farmers and 25 volunteer firemen worked for more than six hours to bring the fire under control.

The ground fire, on the farms of Roy Walker and Charles Grolmus, raged unchecked until it was slowed by men with plows, spades and damp burlap sacks.

More than 200 spectators observed the farmers plowing furrows around the fire area. The fire did not touch the tree tops.

There was only a mild-to-strong breeze, instead of a strong wind, which might have caused the fire to spread to the trees.

No crop loss was involved, although nearby bean and corn acreage was touched slightly.

A farm trash fire was believed to have caused the blaze.

The Solon fire truck was stationed on the south side of the fire on the bank of the Iowa river, near the Coralville dam. But the hose lines could not extend very far into the fire area, Leonard Reyhons, Solon fire chief said.

The North Liberty department, under Fire Chief James Hudson, worked on the north side of the fire.

Iowa City firemen were called Sunday to extinguish grassfires at the end of E. Washington st. and at the end of Kirkwood ave.

Care should be taken in burning trash and grass, Iowa City Fire Chief Al Dolezal said.

Chief Dolezal said that because of the dryness, residents should not burn anything, except only in cases of absolute necessity.

Someone should be on hand to watch a trash fire at all times, he continued. Residents should have a garden hose nearby to check any spread of flames. Abandoning a burning trash pile, particularly in a wire basket, is a hazard, Dolezal said.

Revised Edition of Bible Soon To Be Available to Students

The new revised edition of the Bible will soon be available for student use, Clyde Walton, SUI curator of rare books, announced Monday.

The library has at present three copies of the new Bible. One is a copy received from the Iowa City Ministerial association.

Of the two purchased copies, one will be put in the general stacks.

The other copy will be placed in the Shambaugh Heritage room and will be put on the reference shelves with various other editions of the Bible, for use in the library.

The third copy will be kept for general reference use for the present.

Library Displays Work Of James Norman Hall

Writings by the late James Norman Hall, author of many adventure stories and a native of Colfax, Ia., are now on display in the lobby of the University library.

The display, which includes books, letters and manuscripts, was arranged by Grace van Wormer, assistant director for special collections at the library.

Hall was the author of many well known books. He co-authored "Mutiny on the Bounty," "Men Against the Sea," and "Pitcairn Islands," as well as "The High Barbaree," and "Men Without Country." The first draft of the latter is included in the display.

His autobiography, "My Island Home," was published Monday.

The display includes books taken from the private collection of Carroll Coleman of the school of journalism, a life-long friend of

Hall and one of his first publishers. The other books in the display were gathered from the university library collection.

After Hall graduated from college at Grinnell he traveled to England. He joined the British army before the United States entered World War I. Later he transferred to the famous Escadrille squadron of the French air force and later to the U.S. air force. He taught Eddie Rickenbacker to fly.

NOSE, THROAT, and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
