Fired-Up Hawks To Battle Buckeyes

SUI Dolphin Queen

ANN KENSINGER, AS, TAMA, is reigning as queen of the Dolphin club's 1952 water production, "Davey Jones' Locker." The final performance of the show will be given tonight at 7 and 9 in the field house.

Dolphins to Give Final Show

Three national swimming champions will highlight the 30th annual Dolphin show tonight at the SUI field house.

Tickets are $1 and may be purchased at Whetstone's drugstore or at the SUI athletic ticket office.

The final two performances, at 7 and 9 p.m., will feature Beulah Gundling, Cedar Rapids, national champion ballet swimmer, and Marilyn and Marilyn Adams, A4, Des Moines twins, who are making their fourth annual appearance with their water ballet duets.

A specialist in underwater grace with costumes and Oriental music, Mrs. Gundling gave a swimming performance at the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki, Finland. Her act in tonight's show is the "Thunderbird."

With "Davey Jones' Locker" as the theme, the show is composed of 16 acts which include swimming, diving, water acrobatics, and comedy skits.

Larry Barrett and his orchestra will provide the music for the event.

SUI is the national chapter of the Dolphin club. It originated 35 years ago as a combination of the Eels of Iowa and the Dolphin club of Illinois.

A portion of the show's proceeds are used to send the Dolphins to Florida each Christmas where they take part in the annual East-West swimming meet. They also attend a clinic there.

The remainder of the proceeds are used for the maintenance of the Dolphin show and to benefit the swimming club.

Homecoming Message — Hancher Welcomes Graduates, Points to Building Program

"I would like to take this opportunity to welcome the graduates and friends of the State University of Iowa who have returned for this 41st Homecoming celebration. My only regret is that I will not be able to greet all of you personally. I do hope to see as many of you as possible.

"We are proud of the University and its development, a development in which you have played an important role. I would urge you to take particular note of our new buildings as you revisit the campus.

"Under construction is the Danforth Chapel, non-sectarian building for private meditation; the Communications Center which will eventually house all of the elements of mass communications found at the University; and the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children, now located in the basement of Westlawn dormitory.

"A much-needed addition to the Women's Gymnasium was recently completed and is now in use, and many of you have already visited the new library.

"We are proud of these exterior signs of the University's development, but our greatest pleasure is in seeing the more subtle indications of the worth of our institution. And you, the alumni, are primarily responsible for the pride which we feel.

"A university's graduates carry with them the mark of their school. Its traditions, its philosophy, its faculty leave impressions on a student which cannot be erased and which become a part of him.

"The graduates of the State University of Iowa have proved themselves worthy of our pride. Whatever their chosen field—science, business, teaching, government—they bring recognition to themselves and to their communities through the distinguished practice of their professions, and their commendable conduct as citizens.

"We believe that a portion of this distinction redounds to the credit of the University. We hope that in return you take pride in your alma mater, and will continue to play an active role in her development."

Virgil M. Hancher Welcomes Homecomers

Martin Sends Greeting From Class of '27

Dear Friends: First of all I commend you very highly on your great interest in drawing the student body and alumni close together at this Homecoming time.

"This year is an important milestone for the Class of 1927. University experiences and associations continue brightly in our memories, and early struggles of our close friends following graduation are the chief items of interest. The Silver Anniversary banquet at Commencement time was an event never to be forgotten, and Homecoming twenty-five years after graduation likewise gives us great joy in meeting together. The present location of our classmates and associates of 25 years ago is of interest to all. Educational and cultural progress is written on every face, but the passage of twenty-five years has indeed placed us in the role of alumni observers of new generations preparing for responsibilities and for leadership.

Till we meet again at another twenty-five year milestone, let us resolve to return to every Homecoming it is possible for us to attend.

We extend the greetings of the Class of '27 to our Alma Mater at this grand Homecoming celebration of 1952.

Sincerely yours, Thomas E. Martin

Today's Schedule

After the Game — Open Houses at fraternities, sororities, dormitories and other housing units.
5:30 p.m. — Buffet supper, planned at many fraternities and sororities.
7 and 9 p.m. — Dolphin Show, "Davey Jones' Locker," in Fieldhouse pool.
8 p.m. — Homecoming dance, "Hawkeye Hangout," in Iowa Union.

"The alumni association is inviting you to an 'after game' party — if we lose, bring your own refreshments!"

Variety Keynotes Weekend Program

SUI's 41st annual Homecoming weekend will be highlighted by the 1:30 p.m. football clash between Iowa and Ohio State, but a host of other events are planned to keep homecomers busy today.

More than 50,000 people are expected to take part in this year's Homecoming festivities. Attendance at the Hawkeye-Buckeye football game will be around 45,000.

Among the honored guests are members of the Iowa State Board of Education, which will end a three-day session of meetings in Old Capitol this noon, and many state legislators.

The "Indian summer" weather, ideal for Friday night's parade and pep rally, was expected to continue today for the game.

Some of the departments whose late-morning receptions will include refreshments, are journalism, nursing, law, engineering and women's physical education.

Most faculty members will be on hand in their offices this morning to greet old friends.

Almost all fraternities and sororities are planning special homecoming open houses. These are listed on page three of today's Daily Iowan.

Two performances of the Dolphin water show, "Davey Jones' Locker," are scheduled for tonight, at 7 and 9.

Bill Meardon's orchestra will play for "Hawkeye Hangout," the Homecoming dance at the Iowa Union, from 8 p.m. to midnight. In addition to Meardon, Cy Christianson's Combo will play downstairs in the River room.

Intermission entertainment will be presented by Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Kappa Sigma and Currier hall.

During the intermission, there will be a special tea for alumni, chaperones and faculty in one of the Union's small lounges.

Three special trains will arrive in Iowa City for the Homecoming celebration today, although one of them — the Ohio State football special — won't be carrying Hawkeye fans.

The other two are from Moline and Des Moines. The Tri-Cities special is expected to arrive at 1 p.m., while the Des Moines train should arrive about noon.

Education Board Approves Faculty Changes

Eight appointments, two resignations and two leaves of absence have been approved by the state board of education for SUI faculty members, SUI President Virgil M. Hancher announced Friday.

Meeting in Iowa City, the board approved the appointment of Judson S. Brown as acting head of the department of psychology for the 1952-53 academic year during the absence of Prof. Kenneth Spence.

Earl D. Schubert was appointed associate professor in the department of speech pathology, effective Sept. 1, 1952 through next June 30, for work on a research grant.

William W. Pratt was appointed research associate in physics, effective Sept. 20, to work on an atomic energy contract research.

Chester J. Atkinson was appointed research associate in the department of speech pathology, effective Oct. 1.

Pearl Zemlicka was appointed associate in the college of nursing effective Sept. 1.

Madge Margaret Ellis was appointed assistant director of nursing service in University hospitals, effective Oct. 1.

Dr. Gerald P. Ivancic was appointed instructor in the college of dentistry.

Resignations were approved for Dr. F. D. Francis, professor and head of the department of periodontology in the college of dentistry effective Sept. 10, and for Helen Price, assistant professor in the college of medicine.

Prof. J. C. McGalliard, department of English, was granted a leave of absence for the current semester to serve as a visiting teacher at the University of Virginia.

Prof. Charles Gibson, department of history, was granted a one-semester leave of absence.

'Wide-awake Cat' Takes Float Honors

THIS BIG PUSSY CAT took top honors at Friday night's annual Homecoming parade. "We'll not be caught napping" was the theme of the float, entered by the Theta Xi fraternity and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. The float was sponsored by The Daily Iowan. (More float pictures and story on page 6).

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEOUL (Saturday) (AP) — Chinese Communist assault troops in close hand to hand fighting today drove South Korean defenders off the crest of Sniper Ridge. About 800 to 900 Reds, surging out of a haze of underground fortifications, launched the attack early today but were fought to a standstill for hours before battling to the summit. A heavy Communist artillery and mortar barrage preceded the attack.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — UN Secretary Gen. Trygve Lie Friday announced what he called an unbridled attack by Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) on the United Nations and said "lynch laws" would never spread to the UN. Lie said he was "shocked" at Eastland's statement in New York Friday and did not believe he spoke for the government or even for the senate.

HAVANA, CUBA (AP) — A lightweight hurricane with a heavy-weight's punch battered ranches and sugar cane plantations of west central Cuba Friday along a darkening path that pointed toward Miami. Torrential rains were whipped by winds up to 165 miles an hour. Hundreds of banana trees were flattened. Tremendous seas pounded the coast.

PARIS (AP) — Leon Martinaud-Deplat, minister of justice, told the French National assembly Friday 1,295 men and 275 women remain in prison on charges of collaboration with the enemy during the last war. In March, 1946, prisons held 29,401 persons accused of collaboration. The assembly is debating a general amnesty bill.

'Coach's Wife Is a Job—But Fun' — Mrs. Evashevski

Mrs. Forest Evashevski, wife of the head coach of Iowa's football team, leads quite a busy life, and the center of interest is the dual role of a coach's wife and mother of four children.

Filling the bill of a coach's wife is in itself a job, but Mrs. Evashevski manages to do a good job of it. She is kept busy with social functions which must be attended as a part of her role. Then there is always the fact that a mother has some very definite things to attend to each day. Preparing three children for school every day and following one around the house can be quite a full-time job in itself. However, this vivacious young woman has done and is doing her part each day as "the coach's wife."

Things are no different in the Evashevski household than they would be in the house next door. The eating habits of the family remain the same as every other day of the year. There is always some previously prepared food in the kitchen on game days for anyone who may drop in before the game. The same quick lunch is served to the children that the rest of Iowa City eats the day of a big game.

The evening meal usually manages to provide something a little different. The post-game dinner is often spent with friends, out-of-town guests, other coaches and their families or just the Evashevski family themselves.

"I don't like to come home after a game and have to cook a big meal," said the young wife, "and I usually don't have to because there is always someone here and we usually end up going out to eat."

The children, four of them, Forest, 10, Jimmy, 8, Marian, 6, and Johnny, 2, are pretty good about being quiet the night before a game, because they know that their daddy has a lot to do before the next morning. Frostie, the oldest of the Evashevski children, is an avid fan of the Iowa football team and professes a good knowledge of football for his age. The only time the going gets a little tough is when Dad starts discussing the fine points of the game. For their reward, the children are allowed to go to the home games with Mrs. Evashevski. The only one remaining at home is Johnny, the littlest of the crew.

This entertaining young wife of Iowa's head football coach has her time well occupied with housework, social activities, children and her husband's affairs. All this keeps her on the go.

"I usually have to give my house a lick and a promise and spread all the activities a little thin to get them all in," she continued, "but I like every bit of it. And I love being a coach's wife."

However, Mrs. Evashevski manages to keep her house very neat and clean, even though she has so many things that take up her time. Being a coach's wife is no small job, but Mrs. Evashevski more than fills the bill.

French Exhibit Moves to Library

An exhibit of French children's books and drawings on display this week at University high school will be moved to the sunporch of the Iowa Memorial Union today for Homecoming visitors to view.

Following the showing today the display will be moved to the main lobby of the University library, where it will be open to the public until Nov. 3.

The display, which features books and drawings of French children of elementary school age, has toured Iowa and has been quite popular with viewers.

Frank Wachowiak, head of the art department of the University high school and Mrs. Pauline Aspel of the French department are in charge of the exhibit.

Currier Open House To Follow the Game

A tea and open house for parents and alumnae sponsored by the Currier new student council will be held from 4-5 p.m. following the game.

Tea will be served in the south foyer and the north recreation room will be open for dancing.

Rooms will be open for inspection of visitors.

Chicago Guests

Mr. and Mrs. G. Gill Freyder, graduates of SUL, class of 1925, and their daughter JoAnn, now of Chicago, Ill., will be the Homecoming guests of the R. B. Freyders, 313 River st. and G. L. Freyders, 320 E. Davenport.

Coach's Wife Plans Time to Be with Children

T." The coach's wife finds her role a full-time job of attending social functions, doing housework and caring for the children; but she always manages to do a good job. She is busier than usual this weekend because of Homecoming and there will be many friends, guests and visitors at the Evashevski household. Despite all the pressure, Mrs. Evashevski says, "I love being a coach's wife."

Annual Mum Sale Begins Today for SUL Homecoming

The annual mum sale, sponsored by the YWCA will begin today with sales on the east side of the river from 8 to 12:30 p.m. and on the west side from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Salesgirls may be identified by their Y arm bands and blue and white aprons. They will be around the corn monument, on the steps by Westlawn, along Burlington st. bridge, on the corner by Whetstone's, Currier, Quadrangle, the Union, the reserve library, the field house entrance, and on the golf course.

The mum sale is a project of freshmen Y members who have done all the planning but the entire organization is taking part in selling mums.

The project is the main money source of the Y. Funds are used to promote hospital work, foreign student parties, vesper services on holidays, conferences, and welfare work at home and abroad.

Co-chairmen of the work are Jo Beth Shoeman, A3, Atlantic and Adele Cockshoot, A3, Atlantic. Mrs. J. A. Van Allen is the adviser.

Student Council to Help at Hanchers' Open House Today

This year the Student Council will assist President and Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher with the traditional open house at the president's home following the football game.

Governor and Mrs. William S. Beardsley are expected to be present along with many of the members of the state general assembly, the members of the Iowa state board of education and finance committee and other out of town guests.

Pouring will be Mrs. Roland T. Williams, Mrs. Paul Blommers, Mrs. Forest Evashevski, and Student Council representatives.

Members of the Student Council will act as parlor host and hostesses.

Fraternities-Sororities Plan Post Game Parties

The social fraternities and sororities will be holding open houses, buffet suppers and coffee hours today. All alumni, parents and dates are being invited to attend these functions to be held after the game at the various chapter houses.

Alpha, open house all day and chili supper.

The following fraternities will be entertaining: Acacia, buffet supper; Alpha Epsilon Pi, open house; Alpha Tau Omega, buffet luncheon prior to game; Beta Theta Pi, open house; Delta Chi, open house and chili supper; Delta Tau Delta, open house; Phi Epsilon Pi, buffet supper; Phi Gamma Delta, buffet supper; Phi Kappa Psi, open house and buffet supper; Phi Kappa Sigma, buffet supper; Pi Kappa Alpha, buffet supper; Sigma Chi, buffet supper; Sigma Phi Epsilon, buffet supper; Theta Xi, buffet supper.

The following sororities will be entertaining: Alpha Chi Omega, chili supper; Alpha Delta Pi, coffee hour; Alpha Xi Delta, open house; Chi Omega, open house; Delta Delta Delta, open house; Delta Gamma, open house; Gamma Phi Beta, coffee hour; Kappa Kappa Gamma, open house; Kappa Alpha Theta, open house; Pi Beta Phi, open house; Zeta Tau

For 26 of the 41 homecomings...

For 26 of the 41 Homecoming celebrations held at Iowa the Domby Boot Shop has welcomed returning friends. As time passed year by year, the area served by the Domby Boot Shop increased until now, after more than a quarter of a century of service to fashion-wise women, customers can be found from east to west, from north to south across these United States. A glance at the above map will show that in every state of the forty-eight we can pin-point towns where our customers live . . . We are now serving the daughters of many of our early customers . . . keeping up the "Domby Tradition." The Domby Boot Shop welcomes you to Iowa City today and hopes your visit here will be enjoyable — and that you will find time to stop by and say "Hello."

Communication Center to Have Time Capsule

A sealed time capsule to be opened in 100 years will be placed in the new SUI Communications Center, Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the SUI school of journalism has announced.

A copper box 18 inches square and 14 inches deep, the capsule will be put under the lobby floor of the first unit of the new center. A framed placard will mark the spot.

The capsule will contain newspapers, publications, recordings of radio programs, television scripts and messages from persons in the mass media field. Items used in present-day printing, slugs, mats, and pieces of type, also will be placed in the copper box.

Messages will be requested from such organizations as the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the Iowa Press Association, the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters and the Iowa Broadcasters Association, he added.

Arrangements for the time capsule placing are still indefinite pending construction progress, but Moeller said the ceremony probably would be scheduled for an afternoon followed by a dinner and address in the evening. State and university officials and alumni will be invited to attend, he said.

The first unit of the new Communications Center is going up at Madison and College streets in Iowa City. Upon completion, it will house nearly all journalism facilities. In addition to most of the school of journalism classrooms and faculty offices, the first unit will house the editorial and advertising offices of the Daily Iowan, Magazine X, and Hawkeye.

The Daily Iowan mechanical department, the SUI printing service and the news activities of radio station WSUI will remain in their present locations, Moeller said.

Navy to Interview Students for Careers in Electronics Work

Scientific and engineering representatives of the U.S. Naval Ordnance Test Station and the Naval Air Missile Test Center will be on the SUI campus Nov. 5, 6, and 7 to interview and select seniors and graduate students for employment in engineering and research development work in California.

These laboratories offer excellent career opportunities in almost all scientific and engineering fields relating to the research and development of guided missiles, rockets, radar, electronic equipment, and many other areas of weapon development and basic scientific research.

Interviews will be scheduled for seniors and graduate students in the fields of mechanical, electrical, electronic, chemical, and aeronautical engineering and in physics. Students who are employed will work with outstanding scientists and engineers in the finest and best equipped research laboratories in the country.

Appointments for an interview may be made by contacting Miss Norma Englert, room 105, Engineering building, or by phoning x2597.

SUI To Have Top Educational TV Program

SUI will have the largest television facilities of any educational institution in the United States when the $30,000 remodeling project now under way is completed, Prof. John R. Winnie, administrative assistant in charge of television production, said Friday.

Two large television studios and two 50-seat theaters for the instruction of students in the television field are included in the current construction.

Administrative offices for the radio and television department are also included in the remodeling plans.

The project is being carried out in the north wing of the old reserve library, where the thick walls provide excellent soundproofing for the studios. All facilities except the offices will be completely soundproofed and air-conditioned.

Winnie said that the 12 and 14 inch thick walls helped considerably in holding down the cost of setting up the new studios.

The production of television shows has been going on at SUI for some time. Last year about 20 programs were produced by the dramatic arts department here and telecast over WOC-TV, Davenport.

Plans now call for the televising of 70 SUI programs this year over stations at Davenport and Ames.

Eventually all of SUI's transmission will be done over its own station here in Iowa City.

In the recent revision of the television organization, Dr. H. Clay Harshbarger was named professor in charge of radio, television and films. This area in turn is under the direction of the speech and dramatic arts department.

Named as assistants to Dr. Harshbarger were Winnie, Prof. John Mercer, Lawrence McKune and John H. Ulrich, instructors and television production directors. At present four courses are offered to students in the television field.

Most Humorous Float

(Daily Iowan Photo)

"I DREAMED I SAW IOWA BEAT OHIO STATE in my Maiden Form bra" was judged the "most humorous" float in Friday night's annual Homecoming parade. The float, sponsored by Iowa City service clubs, was entered by the Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity and Sigma Delta Tau sorority.

Winking Cat Float Wins Top Honors in Parade

A large yellow cat that winked at the crowd and judges took the honors at SUI's annual Homecoming parade Friday night. The grand prize winner was entered by Theta Xi fraternity, Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and sponsored by The Daily Iowan. Its theme was, "We'll not be caught cat napping." Another crowd-pleasing entry, "I Go Pogo-Pogo Goes Iowa," won the Aecia fraternity and Iowa-Illinois Gas company honors as the best fraternity float and second most humorous entry. Judged most humorous was the entry of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity, Sigma Delta Tau sorority and Iowa City service clubs. "I dreamed I saw Iowa beat Ohio State in my Maiden-Form bra." Cooperative dormitories and Iowa City hardware stores won first in the most beautiful float class with an entry titled "Ohio Swan Song," depicting mermaids and a white swan. Best sorority entry was the float of Delta Zeta sorority and the Iowa City farm implement dealers, a houseboat with the theme, "Put the steam on Ohio." Judged second most beautiful float with a revolving devil's head, with the theme, "Send 'em down under," entered by Phi Kappa fraternity, Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and the Iowa City dairy products association. Third most beautiful was the float of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, sponsored by Penny's and Alden's with a large green tortoise captioned "Fast as the finish."

Time Staff Man To Be Wayzgoose Speaker

Frank McNaughton, special political correspondent at Washington D.C., for Time magazine, will be principal speaker at the annual Wayzgoose banquet, sponsored by Associated Students of Journalism, at 6 p.m., Friday, Nov. 21, in the First Methodist church. The banquet commemorates an ancient printers' feast, but recent observances of it have included persons in all fields of journalism. McNaughton has written 39 "cover stories" for Time and is the author of two books on President Truman: "This Man Truman" and "Harry Truman, President." Staff members from Iowa radio stations, newspapers and magazines will be invited to attend the dinner. Tickets soon will go on sale for $1.35, and may be purchased in the journalism offices in East hall.

Homecoming Badges On Sale Now in Both Regular, 'King' Sizes

Homecoming badges, in two sizes, are on sale and will be sold up until game time today. The badges are being sold on campus by volunteers from various organizations. A giant sized badge, selling for five dollars, is being offered for the first time in the 28 year history of the pin on the SUI campus. William D. Coder, head of Veterans service and chairman of the Homecoming committee, said the king sized badges are an experiment. The returns from this badge will aid in financing the special Homecoming weekend activities. The largest sale of the badge was in 1949 when 33,000 of them were purchased by students, faculty, alumni of SUI and visiting fans. The proceeds of the regular sized badge are not covering the activities because of the enlarged scope of the operations and the higher costs of today, Coder said. This year the regular sized badge is an inch and three-quarters in diameter. On a background of white, Herky Hawk in black and gold with football in hand, is pictured running as if for a touchdown. The words Iowa Homecoming in black complete the identification. The king-sized badge is a copy. These badges can be bought on every corner of the campus from SUI students supporting the project. This year the salesmen are the Baptist, Hillel, Canterbury, and Bethany student religious organizations, YMCA and WRA.

Coal Industry Asks Raise OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A major portion of the soft coal industry Friday formally asked Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam to upset the Wage Stabilization board and approve the full $1.90 daily wage increase won by John L. Lewis. Putnam immediately started examining the industry petition which was signed by Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators association. A spokesman for Putnam said the economic stabilizer would have no comment on the petition today. Lewis' soft coal miners are on a nation-wide strike as a result of the wage board's decision to slice 40 cents off the $1.90 pay rate the industry agreed to grant. The board said the full amount would be inflationary.

Moses Represents Midwest

Moses represents northern and midwestern mine owners. He bargains for an estimated 240 million tons of annual soft coal production, the largest single combination of operators in the nation. It was understood that Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, did not take part in the petition at this time. Moody's bargaining group represents an estimated 100 million tons a year. The government worked quietly behind the scenes Friday seeking some solution that would end the nation-wide strike.

Cole Holding Meeting

David L. Cole, federal mediation director, was reported meeting with Lewis and Moses. Any reversal of the wage board decision would be bound to anger board members and might lead to mass resignations, at least of the industry members. A reversal of the WSB to accommodate Lewis likely would furnish Republican party campaigners with powerful ammunition, if it came before the Nov. 4 election.

Hall Sees Strike End

Hiram S. Hall, a WSB industry member, said in a question period following a speech at Syracuse, New York, Thursday night that the "nation-wide coal strike will be ended shortly after the election."

Meetings Planned To Discuss Jobs, Pay for Teachers

Students in education who are interested in positions for 1953 will meet in 221A Schaeffer hall Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at 4:10 p.m. The meeting Tuesday afternoon will be for undergraduate students and the meeting Wednesday afternoon will be for graduate students. Both meetings will pertain to job opportunities for persons interested in regular teaching, administrative, college and supervisory positions. The meetings also will include a discussion of job opportunities in foreign countries, Miss Frances Camp, director of the educational placement office, has announced. Miss Camp will discuss salary trends and the supply and demand for teaching positions. "Employers are filling positions early, so it is important for students to start thinking and registering now for the type of job they will want to be employed in," she said.

Truman Meets Czech Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Friday received Dr. Karel Petzelka, the new Czech ambassador, but there was no word whether they had any direct exchange on a major point of friction between the two governments—the imprisonment of AP correspondent William N. Oatis. Petzelka called at the White House to present his credentials. Their formal remarks, as released by the state department, disclosed that Truman told him the American people are deeply interested in creating and maintaining peace, and added: "They will judge the character of your mission here by the extent to which it may serve this end through concrete acts to facilitate settlement of the outstanding issues disturbing the relations of the two governments."

John Mason Brown, associate editor of the Saturday Review, will speak on "Seeing Things" at 8 p.m., Monday in the Union main lounge. Brown, the author of 15 books, writes a column in the Saturday Review. A recent Brown best-seller is Morning Faces, perceptive stories about his two young sons. He studied at the Baker Workshop at Harvard and after graduation became associate editor of Theatre Arts Monthly, later becoming drama critic of the New York Post. As one of his fellow critics said, "John Mason Brown is the only one really trained for the job. The rest of us are just interested in the theatre." Free tickets are available for students, faculty and staff at the Union main desk. Any tickets remaining on Monday will be available to the general public.

Japan's Top Official Retains Political Post

TOKYO, Saturday (AP)—Pro-American Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida retained Japan's top political job at the opening session of the Diet Friday and began assembling a new Cabinet Saturday. It was the first time in more than 50 years that a Premier was named four times. However, political observers felt that unless the 74-year-old diplomat can iron out troubles in his dominant Liberal, Conservative party, the new Cabinet may tumble soon after it is named.

Friday's opening session of the House of Representatives was delayed more than seven hours by a fierce factional squabble within Liberal party ranks. Representatives finally confirmed Yoshida after he had partly patched up his feud with Ichiro Hatoyama, a fellow Liberal. Hatoyama withdrew from the race for prime minister, but his followers contended for Cabinet posts and a voice in party policy.

LADD ELECTED CHAIRMAN

Dean Mason Ladd of the SUI law school has been elected chairman of the Iowa section of the National Safety council, the council has announced. Ladd will play an active part in leading the organized effort to prevent accidents which claim more than 90,000 American lives annually.

Honor Is Not Price of Peace, Acheson Says

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson served firm notice to cheering delegates Friday that the UN "cannot buy peace at the price of honor." He accused the Russians of organizing and continuing the Korean conflict and said the Allies must fight on in Korea until the Reds accept an armistice on UN terms.

At the end of a two hour and 42 minute speech to the 60-nation assembly political committee, Acheson introduced his resolution asking the UN to endorse the UN stand in the Panmunjom talks—especially its adamant position against forced repatriation of prisoners.

Urge Acceptance of Armistice

The resolution also called on the assembly to urge the Communists to accept an armistice on the terms laid down by the UN and asked the president of the assembly to inform the Reds of this decision. In what British Delegate Selwyn Lloyd called a "magnificent" speech, Acheson declared the UN must find out whether the Communists really want an armistice. He then read the resolution, in which 20 other nations joined as sponsors, and said: "This session of the general assembly has the great responsibility of peace in Korea. We must not and cannot buy peace at the price of honor."

Acheson Cites UN Sacrifices

Acheson called attention to the sacrifices of the UN nations fighting in Korea and soberly said: "Let no act of ours weaken or destroy the noble purpose of their sacrifice." Cheers and noisy applause broke out as Acheson leaned back in his chair and the committee chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil, adjourned the meeting until 2 p.m. CST Monday. There was an indication that the Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky may reply at length Monday but no definite word was forthcoming Friday night.

Upside-Down Entry Wins

EVER SEE AN ELEPHANT UPSIDE DOWN, rear view? This entry took third for humor in Friday evening's Homecoming parade. "Out to Bag a Game" was the theme. The float was built by Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Sponsors were John Nash and Logomarcino wholesalers.

Medical Group to Hold Meeting

Some 100 past and present residents, all members of the Medical Alumni club, will gather at the SUI college of medicine today for a social and scientific session in conjunction with Homecoming activities. According to Dr. Walter M. Kirkendall, chief of the medical service in the Iowa City Veterans hospital and secretary of the club, all the physicians have received or are now receiving residency training in the college's department of internal medicine. He said the Medical Alumni club meeting has now become an annual affair at Homecoming time. Scientific sessions Saturday morning will feature papers by Drs. Paul Seeborn and Lewis E. January, both of internal medicine. A joint scientific discussion will be conducted, by several members of the group who are now in private practice as well as two departmental staff members. ## O'Connor's '53 Cagers Speedy, Lack Height

By JOHNNY MEYER
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Hawkeye basketball coach Frank (Bucky) O'Connor normally is anything but pessimistic. However, the Iowa master of the hardwood isn't particularly impressed by the Hawkeye hopes for the 1952-53 campaign.

And who would be on the gay side after losing more starters by graduation last spring than any other coach in Big Ten circles. On top of that O'Connor also lost the services of All-American center Chuck Darling, who virtually broke every mark in the Iowa and conference record book.

2 Others Gone

A third disappointing factor undoubtedly was the loss of two traveling squad members off the 1951-52 Big Ten runner-up aggregation that marched through a 22-game schedule with only three setbacks.

This setback came when Bill Stenger, former Davenport star and member of the state high school Blue Devil championship team, dropped out of school early this fall, and Harlan Fritz, sophomore from Freeport, Ill., where he teamed with Deacon Davis and company to win that state's prep title, failed to return to school and is presumably in the armed forces.

On the brighter side of the ledger O'Connor has four returning major letterwinners. Two of that sophomore Davis, both forwards, were starters a year ago.

Jarnigan, Buckles Back

Supporting that pair are monogram winners Chuck Jarnigan, Newton, and Kenny Buckles, Davenport, both juniors who saw limited duty a year ago.

That quartet will carry the brunt of the Hawkeye attack in which O'Connor hopes to run a little more than a year ago to offset the decided loss of height."

To aid the comparative coaching youngsters are five men who won minor letter awards last season, Gene Hettrick, Bob (Whitey) Diehl, Jerry Ridley, Bob Mau, and Paul Stark.

Others Highly Regarded

Also highly regarded off the junior varsity club are Arnie Davidson, Des Moines; Dick Roeder, Waterloo; and Bob Miller, Waterloo.

Iowa hopes lie in the hands of the younger group for, as O'Connor puts it, "If these youngsters fellows come through along with Thompson and Davis we should be in fair shape."

"Well certainly have kids who want to play. We've got the desire and team spirit that has always been present here," he said.

'Lack Big Man'

"Our worst deficit at the present time is undoubtedly the lack of a big man like Darling," he added. "The tallest men on the squad are Hettrick and Miller, both 6-6."

"Without the height and experience of Darling, Pinky Clifton, Ev Cochrane, and Skip Greene, we'll have to rely on cleverness and speed."

Bucky cited Illinois and Indiana to be the powers of the Big Ten again with Minnesota strong in the running and Northwestern vastly improved over a year ago.

Diehl III

To add to the Hawkeye menters problems Whitey Diehl will be way off his peak because of an attack of glandular fever a month ago. Just how long it will take him to round into shape is unknown. O'Connor stated that practice will begin in earnest about Nov. 1 as the squad starts preparations for its opener Dec. 1 against Butler in the Iowa field house.

Other outstanding varsity candidates are Tom Nugent, McGregor, A2; Tom Pott, A1, Centerville; John Adams, A3, Ottumwa, and Gene Brawner, A2, Iowa City.

Chuck Taylor To Hold Clinic Here December 1

Chuck Taylor, the famed basketball authority and clinic hand, will be the feature of a high school basketball clinic slated for the Iowa field house Dec. 1.

In one of his 65 clinics scheduled all over the United States, Taylor will use the Iowa freshmen squad for demonstrations, before prep coaches and squads from all over the eastern half of the state.

The visiting groups will be guests of the Iowa Athletic department at the 4:30 p.m. clinic and the Iowa-Butler game in the evening.

'50 Raff Team Made Holcomb Eat His Words

Nile Kinnick, Tom Farmer, Al DiMarco—these are names of just a few of the great passers who have led Iowa. Add receiver Em Tunnell, now a star with the professional New York Giants football team, and a Hawkeye follower has plenty to stir memories of the great upset Homecoming games over the years.

The basic Homecoming story doesn't change from year to year, but the tales grow mellow as the alumni gather to recall some of the Iowa wins.

And there is much to recall since that first Homecoming game with Wisconsin on Nov. 23, 1912.

In reverse order, here are some of the finest triumphs:

In 1950, Purdue's coach, Stu Holcomb had boasted, "We'll beat Iowa if it's the last thing we do." However, coach Leonard Raffensperger's inspired Hawkeyes arose for a 33-21 win in the second half to make Holcomb eat his words.

DiMarco Baffled Hoosiers

The tiny DiMarco completed 10 of 14 passes, three of them for touchdowns to Tunnell, in the 1947 game to defeat a highly-favored Indiana team, 27-14.

Wisconsin was ranked the No. 2 team in the nation the week the mediocre Hawks took them on in 1942, but Iowa rose to great heights to win, 6-0. Iowa's score came on a 23-yard pass from Tom Farmer to Bill Burkett. The Hawk line completely bottled up the Badgers' two all-Americans, Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch and Pat Harder.

No one can ever forget the inspired play of the Iron Men in 1939. Minnesota led 9-0 midway through the last period, but the fighting Hawks—borne aloft on the magic arm of all-America Nile Kinnick, scored twice in the closing minutes to win, 13-9, for Dr. Eddie Anderson.

Pape Ran 67 Yards

Nanny Pape ran 67 yards for the touchdown and Irv Nelson drop-kicked the winning point as Iowa broke Minnesota's hearts, 7-6, in 1928. Fred Hovde, incidentally now Purdue university president, had returned a punt 80 yards for the Gopher score.

The 1925 game against Illinois was another that can never be forgotten by older Iowa fans. The Galloping Ghost, Red Grange, returned the opening kickoff 80 yards for a touchdown, but the fighting Iowans—sparked by great line play and the running of Cowboy Kutsch—came on to a 12-10 win late in the contest.

A rugged line and the running of Aubrey Devine and Gordon Locke gave Iowa a one-sided, 28-7, win over Minnesota in 1920. This still ranks as the worst defeat suffered by Minnesota in Iowa City.

Two drop kicks by Waddy Davison, now an assistant on the athletic staff, gave the Hawks a 6-3 victory margin over Iowa State in 1917.

'Doc' in His 14th and Toughest Year with Iowa Team—Trainer Allsup Keeps Football Squad in Good Shape

By JACK STERN

Doyle Allsup is in his 14th and toughest year as head trainer of Iowa's Hawkeyes. "Doc," as the players call him, has his hands full this season keeping the thin front line of the Hawk gridiron forces in their best physical condition.

However, the tall, likeable trainer thinks his boys are in "pretty good shape" for today's Homecoming clash with Ohio State.

Doyle recalls his first year as "patch-up boss" with a slight smile. It was 1939 when Nile Kinnick and the "ironmen" were the toast of the nation. "My biggest thrill was being trainer for that '39 bunch," Allsup proudly remembers.

"Doc" first learned about the duties of a trainer from Doctor Haynes, then a member of the SUI faculty. In addition he also studied orthopedic mechanics and physical therapy, two studies which come in plenty handy these days.

One of the toughest injuries to remedy, related the grey-haired trainer, is a twisted knee. "It just takes too long for a knee twist to heal properly, and even then you can't be sure of the strength of the thing," Doyle continued.

"Doc" and his three graduate assistants, Arnie Buntrock, "Ode" Odegaard and Joe Simpson, spend a busy Saturday every week when the Hawkeyes take the field. After the team has eaten, the 10 a.m. pre-game training meal, Allsup and his helpers take over. "Doc" estimates 1,100 feet of tape are used on the average game day. When the boys are prepared to take the field, the most important part of Doyle's job is just beginning. It takes fast work to get that star halfback or end back in the game after he has suffered a charley-horse or jammed his finger or had the wind knocked out of him.

It's part of "Doc's" business, too, to see that all the equipment is giving the proper protection, to take care of the expensive whirlpool baths and diathermy machines and to keep the proper medical supplies on hand.

Doyle believes that in two or three years Coach Forest Evashevski's Hawkeyes will really be a good football team. "The spirit on this year's squad is quite good and the boys aren't doing bad when you consider everything. Just give Evy and the fellows some time, they'll be all right," is the way

"Doc" states it.

Doyle, whose 130 pounds are spread over a six foot frame, can't quite figure out why he can't gain some weight. In "Doc's" case it really is an oddity since he takes his meals with the team, and more often than not, can eat with the best of them.

"Doc's" job doesn't end with the football season. In almost every major sporting event Doyle Allsup trains the Hawkeyes with utmost care.

The condition of the Hawks is a point of pride with "Doc" and he does his best to see that the players are doing their best for their team.

DOYLE ALLSUP, IN HIS 14TH YEAR as trainer for Iowa's Hawkeyes, is shown doing one of his frequent ankle-taping jobs. Being worked on is Bob Keefe, a Cleveland, O., fullback. Keefe, incidentally, recently recovered from a ruptured spleen and will probably see his first action of the year in today's battle with Ohio State.

Iowa Managers Quinby, Steele Work Hard, Get Little Glory

By JERRY CUNNINGHAM

Two young men go out to football practice every night, appear at every game, and make the trips with the football team, yet gain no glory, make no headlines, and are not pointed out around the campus as 'football stars.'

They are the student managers, Bill Quinby and Bill Steele, both of Cedar Rapids, who help make it possible for the Hawkeyes to play a game every Saturday and hold practices on weekdays.

During the week, they help the trainers and equipment men in the equipment room get out various assortments of pads, shoes, jerseys, sweat socks, pants, and everything else that makes a well dressed and well protected football player. This all happens before practice starts in the afternoon.

While practice is in session, they take squad attendance, see that footballs are always where they are needed, pumped up and in condition for the rough use which they get.

And when they are not running around attending to practice jerseys, various individual needs of the players, or seeing that no one sneaks in to watch secret practice sessions, one can usually find them filling in at a center position if no one else is around.

On Saturdays where there is a home game the managers really have to work. They arrive at the stadium around 8 a.m. and begin their days duties by arranging for the pop the players drink after the game to be cooled. Then they slice oranges, also used by the players.

They also lay out enough wet and dry towels for use during and after the game. The job of seeing to it that the game uniforms are placed in each player's locker also falls to the student managers.

Quinby and Steele put the game equipment in each man's locker plus raincoats, if needed. On top of this they help the visiting team if such help is needed.

After the game they pick up all jerseys, pants, capes, shoes, sweaters and check the equipment. Their duties on a trip are basically the same with the additional job of helping to pack the uniforms for the trip home.

Quinby is a graduate of Franklin high in Cedar Rapids where he played football as a center until he injured his knee in his senior year. He is now a junior and a physical education major.

Steele, a sophomore in general business, also graduated from Franklin and lettered in football as a guard during his junior and senior years.

This is Quinby's second year in connection with the student manager job. Last year he was an assistant manager. This spring when Quinby went to Florida, Steele was asked to fill in and Bill then became a regular co-manager.

Scottish Highlanders to Present Special Program at Half-Time

A slow march and a special drum beat are on the SUI Scottish Highlanders' program for today's Homecoming game with Ohio State.

At half-time the Highlanders will enter the playing field from the north end of the stadium and play the slow march, "Over the Sea to Sky." The technique of the slow march was incorporated after the Highlanders' tour of Europe this summer.

It is a traditional Scottish folk-song. The girls learned it from the London Scottish bagpipe band and the British Legion pipeband in Iverness, Scotland.

To Exhibit Drum Beat

Also at half-time a special drum beat will be exhibited for the first time. The girls were taught the drum beat by Duncan Loades, who has played in pipe bands most of his life, and whom they met in London. He joined them in Edinburgh to teach them the drum beat.

Loades composed the drum beat especially for the Highlanders.

The traditional drum dance will be performed by Gwenn Scales,

A4, Iowa City, at half-time. In addition all the girls will drop their instruments and scatter on the field to dance the Highland fling to the accompaniment of the university band.

To Salute Governor

The traditional university salute to the governor will be made before the game by the Highlanders and the band.

Twelve minutes are allotted for half-time activities and the visiting band always gets six minutes. The university band divides the remaining six with the Highlanders. Ohio State won't bring its band so the Highlanders will have five minutes, 43 seconds for their half-time performance.

While on their tour of Europe the bagpipers learned a different way of handling the sticks and the drum major, Mary Lou Mortensen, A4, Des Moines, picked up several pointers on baton twirling.

Twirling Drum Majors

Drum majors in Scotland twirl their batons which they didn't do in former years. Even to the extent of throwing them up in the air and catching them.

The girls talked a great deal to the Scottish pipe bands and felt they showed them an entirely different concept in pipe band marching as well as receiving new ideas.

Fancy marching routines and excerpts from classical music were some of the ideas the Highlanders introduced in Scotland.

Might Copy Highlanders

One pipe major told William Adamson, director of the Highlanders, that he would be a bit surprised to see bagpipe bands copying some of the Highlanders' ideas.

Adamson said movies on the Highlander trip should be completed in time for Dad's day, Nov. 8.

The place where the films will be shown to the public will be announced later, Adamson added.

Civilians Advised On Entertainment Of British Soldiers

SINGAPORE (P) — Civilians here who usually fight shy of servicemen have been asked to join in a scheme to entertain British soldiers on leave from the jungles of Malaya and the Korea war front.

Miss Adrian Gibson, Women's Voluntary Service administrator in the Far East, making an appeal for volunteers willing to join the civilian hospitality scheme, gave them this advice.

"If you invite one or two to your homes for tea or supper, let it be a simple menu, simply served with tea or beer only for drinks. No fancy dishes or elaborately set tables with confusing numbers of knives and forks, and no 'patronizing,' she stressed.

Above all no spiritous liquor, she warned. It "brought out the worst in the best soldiers," she said.

150 Expected to Attend Advertising Meeting

Approximately 150 advertising men from newspapers, radio stations, agencies, industry and retail business are expected to attend a three-day conference on advertising problems to be held on the SUI campus Nov. 6, 7, and 8.

The conference is sponsored by the school of journalism and the department of marketing in the college of commerce. Prof. Ellis H. Newsome of the school of journalism and department of marketing is in charge of arrangements.

Headline speakers for conference sessions include Clyde Bedell of Park Ridge, Ill., advertising consultant and former advertising manager for Marshall Field and Company, Chicago; Robert J. Keith, vice-president in charge of advertising for Pillsbury Mills, Inc., at Minneapolis; Bert Stolpe, director of promotion and public relations for the Des Moines Register-Tribune, and Eduard Breen, president of the Iowa Broadcasters' Association.

Bedell to Speak

Bedell will address a general session of the convention at 1:30 p.m. Friday, November 7, on "The Four Creative Weaknesses that Blight Most Advertising." He has been rated by Printers' Ink, advertising trade publication, as high among the 10 best copywriters of the country. He is a national leader in research on what makes advertising sell, and he has lectured on and taught methods of creating selling copy. He is the author of "How To Write Advertising that Sells," best selling textbook in the field for a decade, and of several other textbooks on retailing and merchandising.

Conference Dinner Set

Keith, who will speak at a conference dinner, to be held at 7 p.m.

Friday, Nov. 7, in the Rose room of the Jefferson hotel, was advertising manager for Pillsbury Mills from 1943 until 1950, when he was elected to his present position, in which he directs all advertising and merchandising activities. He participated in the director of the advertising campaign which launched Pillsbury's sale of baking mixes for housewives.

Breen will speak on "Radio: New Fields, New Revenue, New Responsibilities" at a sectional meeting at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 7. He is owner of stations KVFD and KFMY at Ft. Dodge and has been active in the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters. He is a member of the Council on Radio Television Journalism which is sponsored by the NARTE and the Accredited Schools of Journalism.

Stolpe will address the general session which will open the Friday program at 8:30 a.m. He has been active in programs to explain the newspaper to the public and has done much research on newspaper promotion. He is a past president of the National Newspaper Promotion Association.

Panel Scheduled

Saturday morning, Nov. 8, at 9 a panel of four Iowa advertising men with Prof. James Moyer of the SUI department of marketing as moderator, will discuss, "How Can We Manage Our Advertising Sales Program to Get Better Results."

Panel participants will be R. B. Faxon, sales training director of the Rath Packing Company; David K. Gottlieb, business manager of the Davenport Newspapers; W. D.

Lyon, president of the W. D. Lyon advertising Agency, Cedar Rapids, and Herbert O. Tschudy, advertising manager of the Marshalltown Times-Republican.

Prof. Wilbur Peterson of the SUI school of journalism will speak on Classified advertising at a section meeting at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 7.

Registration for the conference will open at 3 p.m. Thursday in Old Capitol, where most conference sessions will be held. A coffee hour will be held at 3:30 p.m. for conference guests and their wives in the second floor lounge of the main library. Movies on advertising will be shown during the afternoon in the Shambaugh Lecture Room of the library. At 7:30 Thursday evening a clinic on advertising will be held in the Shambaugh Lecture Room.

"Interlude" Author Says Cartooning Just 'Hobby'

Frank Interlandi, Daily Iowan cartoonist and author of "Interlude with Interlandi," a collection of his cartoons, still maintains that cartooning is a pastime or hobby and that oil painting is his true love.

Interlandi's book appeared on the bookstands last spring and 2,000 copies at $1 a copy have already been sold. Publication was financed jointly by Interlandi and James MacNair, former Daily Iowan editor. Through advertising, they sold 300 advance copies which gave them working capital.

Interlandi began drawing cartoons on the side "just for the bang of it." When they first appeared in the Daily Iowan they drew an enthusiastic response.

Wins $100

One of them won a $100 first-prize in a national collegiate safety cartoon contest. Another won first prize in an Iowa Cancer Crusade contest, and a third was chosen for nationwide distribution during the 1951 National Newspaper week.

Interlandi is now attempting to make enough money from cartooning to give him the freedom to do more serious painting. He has no desire to become a salaried newspaper cartoonist, he says, although he wouldn't mind a syndicated cartooning job.

Interlandi is a native of Chicago. He went into the army after graduation from high school. The army sent him to Louisiana State College before he went overseas for a year and a half. He received no formal training in art until after the war, when he entered the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts in 1946.

Transferred to Iowa

From there he transferred to the night school division of Northwestern university and from there to SUI.

He received his BA degree in

Frank Interlandi

August and plans to remain at SUI for more than two more years to earn a master's degree.

THESE HANDS ARE PRICELESS!

They protect the American way of life... our homes, our freedoms, our future.

These Hands, sensitively trained to respond acutely to the commands of an alert mind and courageous heart, are the hands of a United States Air Force Pilot.

The skillful touch of these hands attunes the blasting speed of modern jet aircraft to effective missions in discouraging any enemy. These hands are supremely capable of flying and fighting these machines with devastating effect.

These Hands belong to young, spirited American men (not supermen) who desire to live unmolested in a free America... who want to enjoy the same rights and opportunities open to all real American people.

These Hands belong to our sons—yours and mine. Youths who must decide today how they can share in defense of our nation and also better themselves. To insure greater chances of their success, today's college men should be encouraged to complete their education and then serve their country best by enlisting as Aviation Cadets in the U. S. Air Force.

These is the choice of becoming either a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After graduation as Second Lieutenants in the U. S. Air Force, they wear the silver wings of flying executives and begin earning nearly $5300 a year.

These Hands represent a man ready to qualify for this tremendous task because he is between the ages of 19 and 28½ years, unmarried, and in excellent physical condition, especially eyes, ears, heart and teeth. He possesses at least two years of college and the inherent urge to fly.

These Hands shape the destiny of America... the difference between our survival and oblivion. The U. S. Air Force needs the hands, the minds and the hearts of young Americans who desire to make the American way a greater way of peace and happiness for all.

Engineering Students Construct Traditional SUI Corn Monument

The Homecoming corn monument is celebrating its 39th anniversary this year as the traditional Homecoming project of the SUI college of engineering.

Thirty-nine years ago, Prof. Floyd Nagler of the hydraulics department, inaugurated the corn monument as the engineers' share in the Homecoming festivities.

Originally, the graduate class in hydraulics built the monument but later, three distinct divisions participated in the task. Civil engineering students built the arch of victory, mechanical engineering students were in charge of the corn monument and electrical engineering students constructed the illuminated signs.

Engineers Collaborate
In 1934, the monument became the project of the entire engineering department.

In subsequent years, the monument has remained a credit to the entire engineering department.

A unique characteristic of the monument has been the incorporation of corn in the design. The corn has been split and nailed or shelled and glued to form words or designs.

Multi-Colored Corn
From 1919 until World War II, corn of several different colors was incorporated in the monument. One farmer is said to have devoted much energy toward raising different colors of corn for the sole purpose of building the corn monument.

Probably the record amount of corn used in the monument was the 60 bushels used in 1922. Less corn has been used since 1947 because of the high cost of corn and because the winning designs have not always called for it.

In 1928, the tradition of having a Homecoming monument was in jeopardy because of the practice of burning the monument after the game. The cost of the monument was $235, which was considered an expensive bonfire.

Located on Street
The monument was located at the intersection of Clinton st. and Iowa Ave. before the islands were removed and traffic was permitted to go down the center of the street.

At that time, the Iowa City Police department granted protection and directed traffic while the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Co. donated electric power.

A tradition was upset in 1950 when Gladys Booth, A4, Clinton, became the first woman designer of a corn monument. She submitted a "large hawk's head, mounted atop a 28-foot pillar which rose from a corn-bedecked base. The base had three tiers with "IOWA" "Homecoming" and "1950" in lighted letters along them.

Monument Mounted
Another tradition was upset last year when the corn monument was mounted on wheels to head the Homecoming parade for the first time in its history.

Last year's monument was an inverted trylon, surrounded by a spiral. Darrel J. Croot, Sioux City, was the designer.

Duane Schmidt, D3, Iowa City, is the winner of the 1952 corn monument contest.

New Delhi Paper Declares Airplane Invented in India

NEW DELHI (AP)—A Hindu-minded newspaper which frequently declares ancient India outstripped modern Western achievements now says credit for the world's first airplane really belongs to this country.

Eight years before the Wright brothers, inventor S.B. Talpade's electrically controlled aircraft flew over Bombay's Chaupatty Beach before a crowd of distinguished onlookers in 1895, stated The Organizer.

The newspaper cites newly discovered evidence presented by the Bombay journal Vividh Vrit describing the flight and the safe landing. Talpade's wife died shortly after the episode and he lost interest in the project. Then a British commercial firm bought his machinery, says the journal.

Magazine X Makes Initial Fall Appearance

Amidst a flurry of X-marked balloons, slogans printed on fluorescent posters and lovely salesgirls placed at strategic campus points, Magazine X, SUI's college humor magazine, made its first appearance of the year Wednesday.

Behind it lay 32 years of traditional "slick" SUI humor publications and three successful issues of Magazine X, a new type of campus humor magazine.

In the era of raccoon coats, turned down hose and bathtub gin, college humor publications began popping up on campuses all over the nation.

Debut in 1919
SUI was no exception. One of the first magazines of this type appeared here in 1919 under the editorship of Bruce Gould, now co-editor of the Ladies Home Journal. Co-sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalism fraternities for men and women, respectively, the magazine was called Frivol.

During the "Roaring Twenties" Frivol flourished and soon established itself as a leader among college humor magazines. It was also during this time that it came under the direction and ownership of Student Publications, Inc., an independent campus organization which also publishes The Daily Iowan and Hawkeye, the university's yearbook.

Under this arrangement, Frivol's financial burdens were not so great as those of many of its sister publications.

Frivol Thrived
Because of this, Frivol was able to continue to bring joy to the life of the SUI student during depression and war periods when most other collegiate humor magazines were forced to cease publication.

After World War II, however, Frivol's problems increased. Costs of producing such a magazine spiraled. Advertising decreased and student interest lagged. After losing almost $3,000 in the fall of 1951, Frivol was forced to cease publication.

Campus demand for a humor magazine did not die with Frivol, however. No sooner had it passed out of existence than the idea for a new humor publication at SUI began to take shape. Magazine X, as the new publication was called, was the result of the planning. It was something new in the realm of collegiate humor magazines. It was printed on newsprint, closely resembling the Sunday supplement of newspapers in appearance. The price was down from Frivol's 25 cents to a dime.

The staff of Magazine X was put under a different arrangement, too. Instead of being in the category of extra-curricular activity, as work on Frivol was, the publishing of Magazine X became a part of a journalism class called "magazine laboratory."

Most popular with the students are the covers by cartoonist Frank Interlandi, the college-type cartoons and jokes and the satirical articles on life at SUI. Even the name, intended as a temporary moniker, met with student approval.

With such initial success, the new SUI humor magazine has already gained a place on the Iowa campus.

Magazine X will be published monthly for the rest of the school year to poke good-natured fun at SUI from the student's point of view.

Hospital School Nears Completion

CONSTRUCTION ON THE NEW $750,000 Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children will be completed by the first of the year, George Horner, SUI's superintendent of planning and construction announced this week. The three-story building will accommodate 50 to 60 children. Glazed tile walls and acoustical ceilings are being installed. Millwork began this week. The first floor will contain the conference rooms, offices and laboratories and the second floor will hold the library, five classrooms, therapeutical rooms, dining hall, quarters, isolation wards, a speech clinic and an examination room. A sunroom, complete with fireplace will be on the third floor.

ENGINEERING STUDENTS prepare to erect one of the traditional symbols of SUI homecomings, the corn monument. The monument will stand on the east lawn of Old Capitol. As much as 60 bushels of corn have been used in the construction of the giant emblem.

Iowa Union Addition Nears Reality

The 13-year-old dream of a $3.5 million addition to the Iowa Union today is closer than ever to reality, but Union officials won't predict when students will be able to use its bowling alleys and conference rooms.

The project was originally scheduled to get underway in 1951, and later it was predicted that it would be finished "sometime in 1952." Shortages of material and difficulties in financing the project led to the delays.

Preliminary plans for the student service unit have been approved by the Union advisory board, and the architects are now working on the final plans. These plans should be ready for board approval by the first of the year, and then bids on the construction will be accepted and contracts let.

Proposed in 1938

An addition to the Union was first proposed in 1938, and the Union Board and subcommittees worked on details of the planned construction for two years. George Horner, SUI architect, was then called in to draw up tentative sketches.

SUI President Hancher gave the official go ahead to the project in 1942, but the war forced its postponement. Since the war, the problems of financing and obtaining materials have caused the most trouble.

As planned, the addition will eventually include a "guest house" which will have approximately 100 rooms, and be available to alumni, faculty members and university guests.

To Pay Own Way

Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the Union, has said that this part of the addition will be financed and constructed by the University dormitory system and will pay its own way and liquidate its own indebtedness.

Plans now call for the construction of the whole addition to proceed two floors at a time, as funds permit.

THIS IS IOWA MEMORIAL UNION as it looks today. The familiar view, seen from the southwest near the new chapel, shows the center of SUI activities in a setting of broad lawns and shade trees. The new addition will occupy the area in the foreground. Plans call for a guest house, recreation facilities, offices, conference rooms, a library and music rooms.

Cafeteria to Be Moved

When the entire addition is completed, the Union cafeteria will be moved to new quarters and the present 8,000-square-foot cafeteria site will be converted into a student activities center. The center will be able to accommodate over 27 student organizations and 400 students for conferences.

Plans call for 27 or more student activity cubicles, which will be complete with desks, chairs and telephones.

The introduction of television has caused some changes in the planning of the addition. Provisions are being made so that an indefinite number of TV sets can be installed throughout the building as they may be needed.

Quad Tunnel Completed

The completion of a $50,000 steam tunnel has prepared the way for the new addition. This tunnel will carry water and sewer connections, in addition to the steam lines.

It's been a long time since plans for the first addition were first considered. But at some date in the future, the students, faculty and alumni of SUI will be able to point with pride to one of the largest and best equipped student unions in the world.

Quad, Union Offer Visitors Convenient Eating Facilities

Homecoming visitors can take their pick of high quality and convenient eating facilities offered by the University this week-end.

Both sides of the river offer space for handling large crowds in short order.

East of the river, the Iowa Memorial Union's cafeteria opens a "coffee-bar" daily at 7 a.m., serving until 11 a.m. when a noon meal is served. Capable of handling about a thousand diners at a time, the cafeteria closes at 1 p.m. until 4:30, when it reopens for the evening meal. Daily closing hour is 6:30 p.m.

Over on the west side of the river, the University's men's dormitories provide facilities for visitors.

The Quadrangle and Hillcrest both have short order and sandwich grills, while the Quadrangle also has a cafeteria serving the finest food available.

Adaptive Physical Education Offers Aid to Handicapped

For the past five years an average of 100 SUI students have been enrolled in an adaptive physical education program. This is a special phase of the basic skills program operated by the department of physical education under the direction of Dr. Frank D. Sills.

It has been set up to meet the needs of all students who, for any reason, are unable to participate in the basic skills program.

Each year all entering freshmen are given medical examinations under the direction of Dr. C. I. Miller, director of student health service. At the time of the medical examination the students with physical handicaps or defects are screened and referred by student health doctors to the physical education department for special programs of exercise and sports activities.

Special Polio Aid

There are a number of students who have had polio and have not had an opportunity to fully develop the muscle strength and endurance of which they are capable. Some of these students had polio as many as five or ten years prior to the time they enrolled at SUI. Through a program of graded resistance exercises, it has been possible to bring about considerable improvement in their physical condition.

When students report to Dr. Sills for their physical education classes they are carefully examined in terms of their physical capabilities and a program is set up on the basis of each individual's own needs. Dr. Sills, who has spent many years in this field, feels that each case needs special individual attention and sets up his program accordingly.

Rehabilitation Important

An important phase of Dr. Sills' work is in the rehabilitation of students who participate in athletics and have undergone surgery. The majority of these who are rehabilitated are many times capable of returning to active participation in their respective sports after this program. Knee and shoulder operations make up the biggest percentage of cases that are given therapeutic exercises. These exercises are prescribed by the members of the orthopedic staff for rehabilitation of orthopedic patients at SUI Hospitals.

Included in Dr. Sills' program is an advanced course for graduate students in adaptive physical education. These students have opportunity to gain experience in the field by giving orthopedic patients special exercises under the direction of the medical staff, and by directing the recreational and physical activities of the patients in the hospital school for handicapped children.

Research Being Conducted

Considerable research is being conducted in the application of exercise therapy toward the correction of physical disabilities. One of the current projects in this field is the study of the effect of heavy resistance exercise in the treatment of backaches. The study is being conducted jointly by Dr. Carroll B. Larson, head of orthopedic surgery and the University hospitals.

They have done much to improve the overall physical condition of the male students at SUI. The results of this work indicate that exercise therapy will play a major role in determining the future of this nation.

Plane To Help Control Traffic

Thirty-five highway patrol cars, one airplane, and the Iowa City police department will be controlling Homecoming traffic today.

The 35 patrol cars will be directed by an airplane, which will be patrolling the area to watch for traffic-jams and accidents.

The Iowa City police department will have all members on duty to control traffic on the east side of the river. The main cause of traffic-jams here is the fact that there are only two direct bridge routes between the city and the stadium.

Enlisted ROTC men enrolled at SUI will also be directing traffic. If the weather is suitable there will be men parking cars at the golf-course.

All trucks will be stopped from noon until 2 p.m. and between 3 and 5 p.m. in a 30 mile radius. It is requested that cars be parked on the east side of the river.

There has not been a fatal accident in 14 years in the immediate Iowa City area that can be attributed to football traffic.

A special traffic control point will be set up at the Memorial Union this morning while Governor Beardsley is there.

Special parking plates and guest stickers have been issued to the Iowa Board of Education; SUI Financial Committee members of the state legislature; and other state officials.

Sun Porch is Popular Spot

THE SUN PORCH at the Iowa Memorial Union is a popular place on campus to have a Coke or other refreshments. No matter whether stag or with a date, the porch still is a pleasant place to spend some spare time. The fountain is open from 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on week days, Saturday from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 1:00 to 7:00 p.m.

Reds Purge Judges In 'Cleanup' Move

HONG KONG (AP)—There's a cleanup of "reactionary judges" in Red China and judicial heads are rolling. Red propaganda has been vague on the details, but newspaper announcements indicate about 1,700 judges are getting the ax in central and south China.

Most of the victims are judges who held office under Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists. Some stayed in office under the Communists voluntarily. Others were retained because the Reds didn't have enough judges of their own.

The propaganda barrage against them says their ideology has been faulty. They have "failed to distinguish between friend and foe. Communist and non-Communist, and have failed to take the proper class viewpoint."

SUI's Memorial Union Offers Facilities for Social Activities

The Iowa Union is a far cry from grandma's parlor. Grandmother usually dusted off her prim parlor once a week for a tea drinking session. If you wanted entertainment, you could look at stereoscope pictures.

The Iowa Union doesn't have any stereoscope pictures, but it does have chess, checkers, ping pong, cards, juke box dancing, television, classical music, books and food and drink, among other things.

You can't shoot pool or bowl at the Iowa Union but you'll be able to as soon as the first wing of the new addition is built.

Different Designs
Grandmother's parlor was built to be an orderly and impressive room, and it was just that. The Iowa Union was designed to be lived in, and the SUI family of students, faculty, alumni, and friends do just that.

One night 1,500 people may fill the main lounge for a concert attraction. The next evening 1,000 couples may attend a university dance in the same room.

The Union, which was dedicated in 1927, was built as a memorial in honor of those from the university who gave their lives in the first World War.

Union Is Social Center
It is more important, however, as a reminder that a college student's social experiences are important, as well as his classroom work. The Union is SUI's social center, just as Old Capital is the university's administrative center.

The main lounge is the center of the Union, the scene of the bigger dances, lectures and concerts. In addition, art exhibits are regularly displayed here.

Outside the lounge in the main lobby Union staff members are ready to give information about the building's facilities and university activities. A postal station is also maintained at the front desk.

TV Installed
Television sets in the north and south lobby conference rooms, known as the TV lounges, are turned on most of the day. In the past, when some event of unusual interest to students here was being televised, the Union staff has set up large screen sets in the middle of the main lounge.
More than 2,500 students were

Former Publisher Gets Appointment To Journalism Staff

Appointment of Herbert E. Clark as instructor in the SUI school of journalism has been announced by Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism.

Clark will head the community journalism sequence and the high school methods area. He also will have charge of the summer conference for high school journalism students and journalism advisers. Clark, who was publisher of the Toledo Chronicle for four years, also will do field work with weekly newspapers and high schools. He graduated in journalism from SUI in 1940 and has worked for the Iowa City Press Citizen and the Tama News Herald. He also has taught journalism and English in Burlington junior college and Burlington high school.

LAND REFORM EXTENDED
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Communist China has decided to extend land reform to the nomad herdsmen and peasants of remote Sinkiang province on the borders of Russia.
A Peiping radio broadcast, heard here, said the land redistribution program among four million people will take place this winter and next spring.

Boston Exhibit Includes Book By SUI Man

"Third Party Movements," a book written by retired SUI sociology professor Fred Emory Haynes was part of a national exhibition in the Boston public this summer.

Part of a display on publications dealing with past presidential campaigns and issues, the book was published in 1916 by the Iowa State Historical society.

Prof. Paul Olson, head of SUI's department of economics, noticed the book while visiting the exhibit during his summer vacation.

Third Party Formed
Many problems arose at the time of the settlement of the western states and resulted in the forming of third parties. Haynes' book is a study of the social and economical problems of the movement.

The third party movement began in the 1870's and included the Greenbacker, Populist and Progressive parties. There have been no similar parties of importance since 1924. The Socialist party is not considered a true third party because of its European background.

At the time the third parties arose the two major parties, Democrats and Republicans, dealt largely with political problems. The third parties brought many minor issues to the attention of the major parties.

Books and Articles Published
Professor Haynes has published other books and several articles covering the third party movement in the U.S. For the past 25 years, however, Haynes has been working in the field of criminology.

He has authored two books related to this field—Criminology, and The American Prison System.

He received his B.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard university.

Haynes was abroad for a year and in England at the time the Labor party was formed.

Spent 3 Years In West
He was in California for three years and returned to his home state of Massachusetts to spend five years in social work. Haynes said his move from the west to the east revived an interest in third party movements which had originated during his graduate study at Harvard.

In 1900 Haynes went to teach in Morringside college, at Sioux City, Ia., remaining there for 14 years.

He came to Iowa City in 1914. This is his 39th year on the SUI campus.

Better Light Means Better Sight!

CHECK LAMPS AND LIGHTING FIXTURES NOW!

A few minutes' attention to the lighting in your home, office or shop will give you more light for your money, save eyes and make work easier as well!

For instance, clean reflector bowls, clean bulbs and shades provide up to 50 per cent more light than poorly maintained lamps and fixtures.

Using right-size bulbs is another way to save. The reason: a single 100 watt bulb costs about 1/3 less than four 25-watt bulbs. Besides, a single 100 watt bulb will give 50 per cent more light than the four 25's, using the same amount of current.

Set a regular schedule now for checking the lighting in your home, office or shop.

GET YOUR FREE COPY OF THIS USEFUL 32-PAGE BOOKLET OF LIGHTING RECIPES

Developed by the lighting engineers of the General Electric Company, this valuable handbook gives 22 recipes for light conditioning your home. For most of these easy-to-follow recipes, all you'll need is a tape measure and lamps and fixtures from any good electrical store. Stop in for your free copy!

Opportunities in Optometry
Optometry is a profession offering special advantages to ambitious young men and women. Its scope is constantly expanding. Eighty per cent of the Nation's millions depend upon the Doctor of Optometry and his professional skill in conserving vision. There is a shortage of optometrists in many States.

The Doctor of Optometry possesses the dignity of being a professional man. He renders an essential service to the health and well-being of his community. Substantial financial rewards are obtainable almost from the beginning of his practice.

U.S. Department of Defense and Selective Service grant optometry students the same consideration accorded medical students.

The Doctor of Optometry degree can be earned in three college years by a student having sixty or more semester hours of Liberal Arts credits. Such students will be admitted at mid-year by Chicago College of Optometry.
Chicago College of Optometry is centrally located in the heart of the world's greatest center for teaching in the healing arts. It is nationally accredited and is splendidly equipped. Clinical facilities are unsurpassed.
