UN Infantrymen Grab Bloody Sniper Ridge

2 Chinese Battalions Smashed from Crest

SEOUL (Wednesday) (AP)—Allied infantrymen smashed two Chinese battalions off the crest of bloody Sniper Ridge in close-quarter fighting today on the blazing central Korean front.

The United Nations forces regained the height at 10 a.m. after five hours of bitter battle against two Chinese battalions—some 1,500 men. It was the seventh time the UN troops had taken the hill in 16 days of vicious battle.

Allied troops—after losing most of the ridge to a moonlight Chinese assault—stormed back in an eerie fog early Wednesday.

Sun Disperses Murk
A bright sun dispelled the murk this morning and Allied troops blasted their way to the crest, Pinpoint hill, before noon. They were supported by a thunderous artillery barrage.

The Allied infantrymen used hand grenades to blast the Communist defenders from the steep slopes, after yielding Pinpoint hill to the Chinese less than 12 hours before.

The surprise, moonlight assault by an estimated 875 Reds Tuesday night was the sixth time in 16 days the Chinese had driven Allied forces off Pinpoint—and the Allies' early morning counterattack was the seventh drive to regain the height.

Quiet Reported Elsewhere
Comparative quiet was reported elsewhere along the Korean battle front Tuesday night.

One division sector was visited by Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, and Robert Murphy, U.S. Ambassador to Japan. They arrived in Korea Tuesday. Clark visits the front periodically but it was Murphy's first trip.

While the struggle for the hills north of Kumhwa set the pace, smaller fights flared Tuesday at other points along 100 miles of the 155-mile front.

In the west, U. S. marines mopped up the last die-hard Reds from "The Hook"—a curving ridge line guarding main Allied defenses 10 to 12 miles northeast of Panmunjom, scene of the now recessed armistice talks. At least one-third of 1,500 Chinese who struck The Hook Sunday night were wiped out, the marines said.

English Educators To Be SUI Visitors

Two English educators, guests of the United States government, will visit SUI this weekend, Dean E. C. Peterson of the college of education, said Tuesday.

They are Alice H. Skillcorn, principle of Homerton college at Cambridge, England, and Tobias B. Weaver, public relations officer and head of the information and general branch in the Ministry of Education, at London, England.

Weaver will speak on "National and Local Responsibility for Public Education" at 3:10 p.m. Thursday, in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Weaver is visiting the U. S. to learn and discuss how educational problems common to the U. S. and England are being coped with there, Peterson said.

Miss Skillcorn will observe teaching methods at the University grade school and address the education classes, Peterson said. She will speak Nov. 1 at 12:15 p.m. at an American Association of University Women's luncheon in the Iowa Memorial Union.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

PARIS (AP)—France, Italy and Britain got the biggest shares of a $729 million melon the United States has split up among European nations this year for defense weapons under its off-shore procurement program. The program is aimed to bolster Europe's economy, build its productive capacity and furnish arms for the North Atlantic Treaty nations. Italy got the second largest share, with $140 million and Britain was third with $75 million.

TOKYO (AP)—A prominent Japanese newspaper executive and author Tuesday said the American people were becoming so wrought up over a possible third world war that they were "driving themselves into a state of mind in which they feel the sooner it is started the sooner it will be over." Dr. Ryuzaburo Shikiba, president of the Tokyo Times, told a news conference that fear of a third world conflict soon may reach a stage where it would justify, in the minds of the American people, that the initial step be taken by the United States.

VIENNA, AUSTRIA (AP)—An American court in Salzburg Tuesday sentenced an Austrian woman to 18 months imprisonment for obtaining U.S. military information and passing it on to the Czechoslovak espionage service. Mariann Seda, 38, of Mauterdorf, confessed she had supplied a Czechoslovak agent with military information, U.S. army magazines, and other army publications from 1949 until 1951, for a total of about 25,000 schillings—$961. She said she had received the publications from an Austrian contact man.

Lewis Orders Miners to Work

UNITED MINE WORKERS PRESIDENT John L. Lewis (left) and Harry Moses, bituminous coal operators association head, stop for a private talk outside the White House in Washington, D.C. last Sunday following a conference called by President Truman. Following the conference, Lewis ordered his 375,000 mine workers to the pits until a final decision on the pay raise is reached. Lewis, a bitter enemy of Truman in the 1948 campaign, was taken on a personal White House tour by the President.

The Campaign Parade

Thousands of New Yorkers Hear Adlai, Ike Speeches

NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower paraded through 65 miles of crowded Long Island Tuesday, telling people they have been let down by an administration that has "robbed" them of their pride in government.

The Republican presidential nominee kept on repeating that he intends to go to Korea. He wooed independent voters with a declaration that he hasn't changed a bit. For the most part, he just kept his hands waving and his smile going through more than two dozen towns in Queens and Nassau counties. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York rode with him.

Ike in Republican Land

Eisenhower was campaigning in Republican territory. Queens, on Long Island but part of New York city, is the only large county in New York city that has wound up in the GOP column in presidential elections. Eisenhower obviously hoped to swell the Republican vote there to reduce the city's over-all Democratic margin.

Eisenhower's speeches were much the same as those he made across Pennsylvania Monday. They gave a sort of capsule review of the campaign.

With the election only a week away, Eisenhower reverted to the theme with which he opened it on Sept. 2 in the deep South, the theme of "mess in Washington."

Estimated 10,000 People
To an estimated 8,000 to 10,000 people swarming over the Old Court House lawn at Mineola, Eisenhower spelled it out this way:

"Part of that mess, my friends, has been subversion, disloyalty in government. Part of it has been waste and extravagance in the expenditure of your tax money. Part of it has been fumbling and stumbling in the foreign field.

NEW YORK (AP)—New Yorkers by the tens of thousands turned out Tuesday to give Gov. Adlai Stevenson a thunderous ovation and the Democratic nominee promised, if elected, to devote his whole "heart, mind and soul" to attempt to end the Korean war.

Speaking in the ballroom of the hotel where Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his GOP rival, maintains headquarters, the Illinois governor said neither he nor anyone else can promise that there will be peace.

Continuing the criticism he has voiced previously of what he has called Republican pledges of a "quick and easy" end to the Korean war, Stevenson said:

"I can't promise you any of these things and no one can and no one should."

Introduced by Mrs. Roosevelt
Stevenson was introduced by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at the luncheon, at which more than 2,000 members of the women's division of the Volunteers for Stevenson gathered.

Previously, the Illinois governor had promised at a rally in New York's garment district to make revision of the Taft-Hartley act the "first order of business" on the domestic front, if he is elected.

As contrasted to the Eisenhower "crusade" Stevenson said his is "the peoples' cause."

Stevenson rode triumphantly through almost unruly crowds in a blizzard of home-made confetti tossed out of the skyscrapers. It was New York's version of the full treatment and by far the biggest welcoming show of the Stevenson campaign.

Spectators Applaud Vigorously
There was no doubt the massed crowds came to see and applaud Stevenson and were not just caught in a traffic jam. Spectators applauded vigorously as his caravan wound its way through the heart of the garment district.

Introduced there by David Dubinsky, Stevenson drew a big hand from the crowd when he attributed present American prosperity to the policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

The Illinois governor said the Democrats are "not just sitting back, counting our blessings." He said the party is moving forward.

Marine Recruiters To Visit SUI Today
Representatives of the U. S. marine corps for both men and women will be in the board room of Old Capitol today from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. They will interview students who may be interested in the officer candidate program of the corps. All SUI students are invited to consult with the representatives, Registrar Ted McCarrel announced Tuesday.

Rebelling Illinois Prisoners Agree To Release 3 Of 10 Hostages

Police Accused By Grand Jury Of Beating GIs

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A federal grand jury, in a blistering report on vice and law enforcement in Hopkinsville, declared Tuesday that soldiers from Ft. Campbell had been "brutally beaten or killed" by city policemen.

The jury recommended that all 25,000 personnel of Ft. Campbell be barred from Hopkinsville until the commissioner of safety and six policemen are removed.

Ft. Campbell, home of the 11th Airborne division, is 16 miles south of this community of 16,000 population.

Deny Jury Report
Safety Commissioner Joe Davis said, "I deny everything in the grand jury report." He added that he would not resign.

The grand jury report, issued at Paducah, Ky., said, "It is apparent that the Hopkinsville police department and the commissioner of safety have accepted bribes and payoffs."

It added that "the treatment by the local police in Hopkinsville of military personnel from Ft. Campbell, Ky., has in many instances been brutal and inhuman." The report continued:

Some Soldiers Killed
"There have been at least four instances where soldiers were without provocation brutally beaten or killed by members of the Hopkinsville police department."

The grand jury did not identify any soldiers who had been beaten or killed.

The report followed a 14-month investigation conducted in cooperation with the U.S. district attorney's office.

The grand jury said that the safety commissioner and police department had knowledge of widespread prostitution and had done little to stop it; that they knew of bootlegging, gambling and illegal traffic in narcotics.

Ask Nominations For Alumni Dad
Ralph Frety, A4, Des Moines, chairman of the student Dad's Day committee, Tuesday again urged students to submit nominations for the Alumni Dad of 1952.

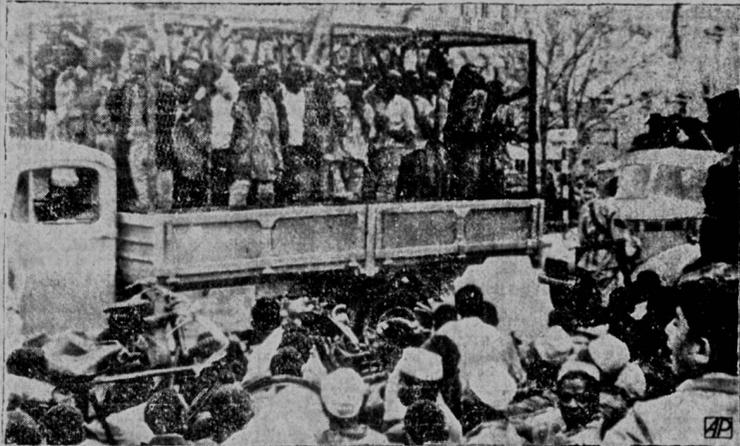

Nominations must be turned in to the office of student affairs by 5 p.m. Friday.

Any SUI student may nominate his, her, or someone else's dad, Frety said.

The written applications must include the following: name and address of nominee; year of graduation from SUI; names of children, if any, now attending SUI, and the reasons the student who makes the nomination thinks the nominee should be selected.

Frety suggested civic service, service to SUI, or accomplishments as reasons.

South African Terrorists Rounded Up

SOME OF THE MAU MAU TERRORIST SUSPECTS rounded up at Nairobi, South Africa, were taken away in a police cage for questioning last Tuesday. The Mau Mau is a secret society whose members are sworn to do everything possible to drive the white man out of Kenya, British crown colony. In the last few months 45 persons have been murdered and the British have proclaimed a state of emergency in the colony.

State Employees Favor Joining Social Security

More than 90 per cent of the near 700 persons attending the Old Age Survivor's Insurance meeting in Macbride hall Tuesday night voted in favor of junking the present Iowa OASI and going under the federal social security program.

Another 50 per cent indicated preference for a state supplemental plan in addition to the adoption of the federal social security plan.

The OASI meeting Tuesday night was the twelfth held throughout Iowa and the second held in Iowa City.

Several Proposals Presented
Several proposals were presented to the Iowa study committee of the OASI system, seated on the stage of Macbride auditorium.

Paul Scannel, president, local No. 12, of SUI non-academic employees, presented eight recommendations in behalf of non-academic employees who are members of local 12, state, county and municipal employees.

One of the proposals stated: "In case of terminated employment prior to retirement age, the employee should be granted a refund of contribution including interest, or if the employee has at least 15 years coverage he may allow his contribution to remain in the system and draw at retirement age, a retirement benefit based on covered time."

Zopf Proposes Principles
L. C. Zopf, chairman of the SUI committee on refunded retirement plans and dean of the college of pharmacy, proposed six basic principles, endorsed by the SUI chapter of American Association

Physic Building To Be Enlarged

Construction designed to allow more room for an atom smasher located in the physics building began Monday.

The room, in which the smasher has been in operation for several years, is being extended more than 30 feet in the direction of Schaeffer hall to provide more space around the target end of the smasher.

A larger room will reduce the back scattering of the nuclear radiation which is given off from the target.

The smasher is being used for nuclear physics research.

More than half of the money for this research is appropriated to the physics department by SUI. The remainder of the money comes from the atomic energy commission.

Completion of the expanded facilities is expected in a month. The new area will not be used until winter, Prof. James Jacobs, director of nuclear research at SUI, said Tuesday.

Glockler to Receive Chemistry Award At November Dinner

For the second time in three years an SUI professor has been chosen to receive the Iowa Award of the Iowa section of the American Chemical Society.

Prof. George Glockler, head of the chemistry department, will be presented the 1952 award for outstanding achievement in chemical education and research at a dinner here Nov. 7.

The 1950 Iowa award was presented to Prof. Henry A. Mattill, retired head of the department of biochemistry.

To Give Talk
Glockler will deliver an address on "Bond and Resonance Energies" following the presentation of the award at the dinner. Head of the chemistry department since 1940, he is currently on a year's leave of absence as director of the science division for the army's office of ordnance research at Durham, N.C.

His chief research interests have been in the field of physical chemistry, while his work has been on the precise determination of molecular structure of simple compounds.

He has measured the distance between atoms with an accuracy closer than one ten-billionth of an inch. He has also measured the strength of the forces holding them together.

Makes Chemistry Easy
Despite the complicated nature of his research work, Glockler is very much the "layman's chemist," being known for his ability of making chemistry understandable to all, according to his colleagues.

He helped lay the ground work for a series of popular lectures on atomic and molecular subjects sponsored by the college of liberal arts in 1949. The lectures were so successful that they were repeated at Marengo, Davenport, and Cedar Rapids, and were highly praised by the atomic energy commission as a successful experiment in adult education.

Convicts Make Threat
The convicts answered by making threatening motions with kitchen knives, Mueller said, and shouting: "We'll release nobody."

Unlike the 300 convicts bottled up in the east cell block, just opposite the psychiatric division, the 37 men barricaded in the kitchen have plenty of food.

In the east cell block the prisoners have been without food since the original outbreak yesterday. Frank Trapp Jr., superintendent of Illinois prisons, said: "We're just going to let them sweat it out."

If the hoped for riot-ending conference with the psychiatric division inmates is successful, Munie said, Farrin is to threaten the east cell block holdouts with prosecution under the Lindbergh kidnaping act unless they surrender their hostages.

SUI Invited to Join — Council Sets Hearing on NSA

A public hearing will be held at 7 p.m. tonight in the house chamber of Old Capitol to determine the possibility of SUI joining a student government organization, David Stanley, LA, Muscatine, student council member, announced Tuesday.

The feasibility of joining either the National Student association or the Big Ten Student Government association will be discussed.

The NSA is a nationwide organization of colleges throughout the country. The advantages or disadvantages of joining a student association will be discussed by four students who attended an NSA meeting last August in Bloomington, Ind.

Make Promise After Speaking With Newsmen

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Rebelling prisoners at riot-torn Menard state prison Tuesday night agreed to release three of their hostages and meet with prison and state officials.

Agreement between 37 prisoners in the psychiatric division and the prison officials was negotiated by an unidentified press representative. He said the inmates agreed to release the three hostages prior to the conference sometime tomorrow.

This was the first break in the day-old riot, but some 300 inmates still held seven other hostages behind barricades thrown up within the east cell block, which stands across the courtyard from the psychopaths' stronghold.

Psychopaths Storm Kitchen

Three hundred inmates in an exercise yard of psychiatric division stormed their cell block's combination kitchen-dining room shortly after 1 p.m. Tuesday. Most of the inmates were subdued after a brief, hard struggle with guards and police, but 37—many armed with butcher knives—managed to overpower three guards and barricade themselves in the kitchen.

The first outbreak of the riot occurred Monday when 300 inmates seized control of the east cell block and captured six guards and a prison lieutenant.

The press representative, who talked through a small opening in the barricade while standing inside the darkened kitchen, carried three pages of convict demands back to prison officials. Warden Jerome E. Munie is to set the time of tomorrow's conference, which is to include the newsmen.

State Officials Expected
Expected to take part in the conference are Frank Trapp Jr., superintendent of state prisons, and Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon, who was reported to be en route to the prison.

In an earlier attempt to deal with the psychopaths, State Sen. Milton Mueller and Michael Farrin, administrative assistant to Gov. Adlai Stevenson, were unsuccessful during their talk with the two inmate representatives.

At that time the inmates demanded a conference with newsmen during which they would state their grievances. The prisoners originally said they would not release their hostages until after the conference.

Nixon Property Valuation Set At $250,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic national committee said Tuesday that Sen. Richard Nixon and his relatives own real estate "conservatively valued at more than a quarter of a million dollars."

It related the figure to a statement it said was made by the senator's wife in a magazine article, that when Nixon got out of the navy in 1946 he couple "were too poor to buy stamps for political campaigning."

A press release issued by the committee announced that the party organ, "The Democrat," is carrying an article which says:

"The senator mentioned two of the six properties held by the Nixon family, in his emotional speech delivered after disclosures of the $18,000 subsidy fund paid him by Southern California businessmen.

Cost $14,000, Not $13,000. "He said that he bought a $41,000 home in fashionable Spring Valley in Washington in 1951, and that he had purchased for his parents, in Whittier, Calif., a home for which he paid $13,000. Court records show that this home cost $14,000 not $13,000.

"In his tell-all speech, Sen. Nixon did not mention that shortly after he got out of the navy, he bought a Whittier, Calif., house for $12,500, and sold it a year later for $16,500 — thus gaining a profit of $4,000.

Relatives Own Land "Nor did the senator mention real estate holdings of his family — of his brother, F. Donald Nixon, and his parents, Francis A. and Hannah Nixon.

"The senator did not speak of his father's new grocery store in Whittier, a 4-year-old edifice on the site of the family grocery store which his parents and Donald operated until four years ago and which Donald owns now.

"The senator did not mention that his parents bought a 59-acre farm in York county, Pa., in May, 1947, paid $6,000 down and a year later — two days after the senator's election — paid off the $6,000 mortgage in full.

"The senator did not mention that in December, 1949, his parents bought a three bedroom home with detached garage in Lakeland, Fla., for $7,500, on which they paid down $2,500 — nor that the Lakeland house is now appraised at $12,000.

Supreme Court To Review Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The supreme court agreed Monday to decide whether it was all right to have a union truck driver for refusing to cross another union's picket line to make deliveries for his employer.

The case reached the supreme court following refusal of the U.S. circuit court in New York to enforce an order of the national labor relations board for reinstatement of the truck driver with back pay.

The truck driver, Charles Waugh, worked for the Rockaway News Supply Company, Inc., which distributes newspapers and magazines on Long Island.

He was a member of the independent Deliverers Union of New York and vicinity when he was fired in March, 1950 for refusing to cross a picket line at the Nassau Daily Review-Star in Rockville Centre, N.Y.

Last Demo Governor Of Illinois Switches To Back Eisenhower

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — John Stelle, the last Democratic governor of Illinois prior to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, Monday night called for rejection of Stevenson and election of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower as president.

Stelle said he was not departing from his belief in the principles of the Democratic party, but he said the threat of communism has made the election decision "a family affair," and he believes Eisenhower is the best choice to preserve the American family from war and destruction.

The 61-year-old former national commander of the American Legion said Stevenson "admits he does not know the road to peace," and Stelle therefore will vote for Eisenhower — "A leader in whose hands I can trust the future of my six grandsons and of millions of grandsons and granddaughters throughout the free world."

Stelle's formal endorsement of Eisenhower was made in a speech prepared for "Democrats for Eisenhower" dinner meeting at Terre Haute.

Stelle has considerable political influence in downstate Illinois but he has been at odds politically with Stevenson and other Illinois Democrats who control the state party organization.

EGYPT'S PREMIER Gen Mohammed Naguib (right) welcomes Sudanese leader Al-Sayed Abdel Rahman Al-Mahdi on the latter's arrival in Cairo from a trip to London, where Britain gave approval of a new constitution providing for self-government in the internal affairs of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. The new constitution is scheduled to be put into effect in about three weeks.

A Joker in the Crowd

DES MOINES (AP) — The oral blasts of Sen. Joe McCarthy (R-Wis.) over a national television hookup took an unexpected twist — or accent — for central Iowa viewers Monday night.

McCarthy's expose of Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for president, was scheduled for 8:30 p.m. over WOI-TV, Ames.

The picture of an animated McCarthy came to view on the sets tuned to WOI-TV, but the voice accompanying McCarthy's moving lips was that of the principal character in a drama called "Life with Luigi."

"Deesa great country," was one of the misguided quotes. Then came a commercial for a well-known coffee with McCarthy's lips moving on the picture — but an entirely different voice coming over. After seven minutes, the McCarthy picture was finally synchronized with the sound and the senator from Wisconsin began his talk about Stevenson and his aides.

An official at WOI-TV could not explain the unexpected development. "The picture was all right, but that's the sound we got," he said. "An investigation is underway."

Iowa Real Estate Dealer Pays $14,000 for Tax Penalties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tracy North, a Vail, Ia., real estate and cattle dealer, agreed in tax court here Sept. 30 to pay the government $14,314 civil tax fraud penalties.

In the same stipulated settlement the bureau of internal revenue dropped fraud claims against North for 1945 and 1946.

North had previously paid the government additional tax assessments of nearly $44,000 for the years 1945 through 1949. He appealed to the tax court against fraud assessment of $12,555 for 1945, $2,565 for 1946 and $14,314 for 1947. North said in his petition to the tax court that he had underpaid his taxes but had not intended fraud. He said he kept no books on his real estate, cattle feeding and selling and grain elevator operations, and relied on memory in making out his tax returns.

North reported no net income for 1945 and for 1947. The government asserted he had a net income in 1945 of $15,381 and in 1947 of $55,321.

The revenue bureau said it computed North's net income on the basis of evidence it could gather from changes in his net worth from year to year and by disallowing items North deducted from his income tax returns. North said this was an arbitrary and inaccurate determination.

The stipulation closes the government's case against North and clears him of fraud charges by the revenue bureau for the years 1945, 1946, 1948 and 1949. North agreed that he was liable for the fraud penalty for the year 1947.

The stipulation included fraud penalties and bureau said North owed for 1948 and 1949. These years were not included in North's petition to the tax court because they had not been included in the letter of deficiency sent him Oct. 19, 1951. This letter mentioned fraud penalties only for the years 1945, 1946 and 1947.

The agreement, is expected to provide a pattern for settlement of contract talks between the UPW and other major packers. It replaces a contract that expired Aug. 11.

A union spokesman said the pay raise and other benefits amount to a 14 1/2-cents-an-hour "package" increase.

Terms provide a company-financed pension plan, an additional 4-cent hourly increase for women employees, an additional 1 1/2 to 3 1/2-cent increase to workers in southern plants, increased night differentials, improvements in seniority, vacation, and insurance programs and other benefits.

The UPW said the average hourly wage rate under the old contract was $1.68.

In negotiations with Armour and other major packers, the UPW had sought a wage boost of about 30 cents an hour, a guaranteed annual wage, and other benefits.

The new contract was signed after 10 days of negotiations directed by federal mediator Charles A. Alsip.

Former Facists Leading Revolts In Middle East

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

The Communist infiltration campaign in North Africa and the Middle East is being co-ordinated directly from Moscow, according to a three-year survey just released by the Moral Re-Armament Movement.

Much of the planning and real work, however, is being done in North Africa by French and Italian agitators and by their supporters in France and Italy. In Egypt, however, as elsewhere in the Middle East, it is almost entirely a Moscow show, with much use being made of former German field officers, captured during the war and indoctrinated in Russia.

It was these officers, the report says, who really engineered the recent Cairo riots, and who are trying to force the present military leader, Gen. Naguib, into dictatorial practices in order to create greater cleavages within the country.

Russia also operates directly in Abyssinia, where the Soviet Embassy employs some 2,000 part-time and volunteer workers in addition to its own staff, and where a Russian hospital indoctrinates some 400 attaches each year for work among the people of the Sudan, Somaliland, Uganda and Kenya. The report describes Abyssinia as the main training ground for Communists in East Africa.

West Coast Communist leaders are mostly trained in Britain, whose Communists also provide the inspiration and direction for the movement in Central Africa, France, Belgium and Portugal, says the report.

The broad strategy is "Africa for Africans," "Back to your tribal gods," and "Out with the white man." Tactics and immediate objectives vary according to location.

Reds Encourage Nationalists In the Middle East, it is to get the British away from the Suez. In North Africa, to oust the French. Elsewhere, to encourage nationalist extremists and play up racial difficulties for "der tag" of communism, when coups may be led by American Negro proselytized from the ranks of the United States army.

Infiltration of consular, police, communication and all other public services already has begun on a major scale, along with the familiar activity in trade unions.

"Against this united force," says the MRA report, "there is the unorganized materialism of the West, which aims to use the economic resources of Africa to bolster the strength of the western democracies."

To offset this situation, MRA has sent teams into many of the countries, seeking an answer to local conditions through the application of moral principles.

It is the MRA's belief that the result of this work will be the "Ones. Tran"

Action Deferred on State House Hours

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa executive council took no action Monday on a proposal to change the winter closing hour at the state house from 5 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Grant Cunningham, council secretary, said no petition by employees to shorten the lunch hour to a half hour was presented. The petition, in circulation in state offices, will be submitted later.

The state house opens at 8 a.m. and closes at 5 p.m.

TO THE EDITOR: Let's hope that the wonderful victory over Ohio State delivered last Saturday by our University of Iowa football team will quiet the crow hangers for a while, preferably forever.

The beating, both physical and mental, that our team has taken this season (up to last Saturday afternoon at 1:30) needs no reviewing. The press, and even more of the student body, seldom credited it with a ghost of a chance to stand up to the competition it faced.

Al Grady, in his column on the sports page of the Iowa City Press-Citizen Wednesday, October 22, struck the right note when he wrote: "Maybe Iowa can't beat Ohio State. Maybe Iowa hasn't got a chance. But if there is postmortems, let's have them on Monday, not on Saturday. On Saturday, let's beat Ohio State!"

In spite of that, the lead line of the lead story on the front page of the student newspaper's Saturday morning "Homecoming Special" joined the pall-bearers and stated that Iowa didn't have enough "to even be an outside bet to top the invading Ohio State team in Iowa stadium at 1:30 p.m."

We all know and believe that Coach Evashevski is going to do the job right in building up a great team for Iowa. Now is the time for the rest of us — students, faculty, school newspaper, and home folks — to start building up the school spirit. It is impossible to measure the effect of that student "cheering lane" that greeted the team before the game last Saturday, but it certainly must have contributed tremendously.

If we want to be forecasters about any other games played in the country, all well and good. But when Iowa plays, let's put our chips on Iowa.

We're all behind you, fellows. BEAT MINNESOTA!

The observance of Halloween, full of costumes and tricks, is a recent importation from Ireland, along with the ancient custom of "trick or treat."

In the hands of the generations of mischievous American boys, however, Halloween "trick" and "treat" have become a factor and "trick" has become a "frick."

This is not to say that the junior school boys at the same time and the adult world have superseded the "trick" and "treat" of the past.

Halloween Time Means Trick or Treat Time

The observance of that gay festival, Halloween, seems to have come full circle in these United States.

When this happy holiday was first imported to our shores from Ireland, along with it, naturally, came the ancient custom of its observance, the business of "Trick or Treat."

In the hands of succeeding generations of inventive and mischievous American boys, however, Halloween became mostly "trick" and very little "treat." Today Halloween vandalism has shrunk to an almost negligible factor and "treat" far overshadows "trick."

This is not necessarily due to Junior possibly being a better behaved boy than Grandpappy was at the same age. Chief reasons may be that houses have changed and the automobile has completely superseded the old one-hoss shay.

A couple of generations ago, house shutters really worked as such and almost every home was surrounded with a picket fence and, of course, a gate. Gramps and his pals just couldn't resist removing a neighbor's shutter or two and his fence gate and hanging them in trees or high from a telegraph pole.

Hauling the family buggy up onto a barn roof was the task for older boys with more muscle, but this too was accomplished. Oddly enough, it never seemed to occur to Grandpappy that he worked a lot harder getting a surry atop a stable roof than the owner would need to in getting it down again.

Today the picket fence and its gate are gone from the urban scene and any house shutters you may see are just part of the trim and fastened securely to the wall. And did you ever try to hoist a 2,000-pound or so eight-cylinder 1952 model atop a garage?

Soaping windows continues to be a Halloween stunt but this, too, is disappearing as more and more communities embrace the custom of offering prizes to school children for "artistically" decorating shop windows. Most shopkeepers heartily cooperate and let the kids smear away to their hearts content.

So it's back to "Trick and Treat" again and lots of parties at which apple-bobbing and costume wearing are the features.

Halloween as we know it originated in Ireland (give Scotland an assist, too) and it is only natural that its element of witches and goblins form such a major part, for these are really modern counterparts of the elf or Little Folk of the Emerald Isle.

The superstitious among the old Irish believed that any mischief that occurred at Halloween was the result of pranks by the Wee Ones. Transplanted to the New

The Iowa City Volunteers-for-Stevenson have been organized and have opened their headquarters at 116 S. Linn st., with the aim of "helping elect Stevenson to the presidency of the United States."

Attorney Hamilton has invited all voters, regardless of their party affiliation, to join in and to vote in the coming election.

The funds raised by the local organization will go directly to the Democratic headquarters for the Stevenson campaign with the exception of the local expenses for the Iowa City organization.

The organizing committee includes: Attorney Hamilton, chairman; George P. Dvorsky, treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Halsey, Miss Myrtle E. Kitchell, the Rev. Alfred J. N. Hendriksen, Mrs. Don Lewis, Dr. R. T. Tidrick, Wayne Vasey and Clyde C. Walton.

World the joke-playing sprites became witches, black-clad with peaked hat, and complete with broomstick and ebony-hued cat.

It didn't take the inventive American mind long to find a suitable substitute for the goblins of old. Pumpkins are ripened at this time of year and almost anyone can easily convert one with a few deft knife strokes into a first-class jack 'o' lantern.

Today the pumpkin head, grinning into the night from many a window as his candle flickers within, is the accepted symbol of Halloween.

Unknown is the name of that first American who turned a prosaic pumpkin into a cheerful jack o'lantern, but you can bet to children he must rank a cut or two above Robert Fulton and Thomas A. Edison as a truly great inventor!

SUI Student Presents Exhibit

Jack Roth, G, Iowa City, a student in the SUI art department, presented an exhibit of his own paintings Sunday night in the art gallery "5," located in the Burkley hotel.

Roth, one of the founders of the art gallery, also owns and operates his own photography studio in Iowa City. He has studied under several leading contemporary artists in San Francisco, and has presented "one-man" shows in several San Francisco galleries.

The paintings viewed by guests at the exhibit Sunday were of the non-objective type.

California Designers Exhibit Materials

THROUGH THE COURTESY OF THE San Francisco Museum, the home economics department of SUI is able to exhibit to all interested, the designs of two top fabric designers from California, Maxwell Hawber and Trudy Gomoprez. Miss Keyes, (left) instructor in the home ec. department, and Miss Smith, (right) assistant professor of the home ec. department, are shown examining some of the materials which are in the San Francisco exhibit. The display will run until the 31st of this month.

San Francisco Museum Presents Fabric Display

The State University of Iowa, through the courtesy of the San Francisco Museum of Fine Arts, has on display in room 2 of Macbride hall, a collection of woven fabrics from the patterns of Maxwell Hawber, a foremost California weaver, and Trudy Germonprez, director of the Pond Farm Workshop, near Los Angeles.

Included in the display are fabrics of casement cloths, drapery materials, and some for panels, upholstery and also some types of yard goods for wearing apparel. The types shown by the Museum are of wool, rayon, linen, and metallic fibers.

The purpose of the exhibit is to show a selection of designs for general usage and to point out just what a successful weaver combines in the process of making a good design. The basis of a good design depends largely upon the designers knowledge of color, technique, research, and the weaving of a design.

The display is arranged by the Professional Weavers association of San Francisco at the request of the San Francisco Museum and shown here at the university through Miss Lula E. Smith, assistant professor in the Home Economics department.

Samples woven by the students in the Home Economics department is also being shown with the Museum exhibit.

Up to the Ohio State game there is plenty of mention of defensive frustrations concerning Iowa. The team had yielded an average of 424 yards of territory in three conference games.

Now defense is talked about in glowing terms around Hawkeye headquarters because, in beating Ohio State last Saturday, 8-0, Iowa displayed one of the most amazing defensive improvements in its history.

Iowa actually was gradually improving its defense against running plays and opponents were finding fewer carries as these figures compiled by Sports Information service show—

Plays	Yards
Indiana	74 306
Purdue	62 256
Wisconsin	51 239

However, now look at the Ohio State total—

Plays	Yards
Ohio State	33 42

The Big Ten opponents haveward passed more each game, from Indiana's 10 to Ohio State's 36 but their gains through the air have not been startling—an average of only 161 per game. The Hawkeyes connected on 19 passes but the average gain was only 9.9 yards and the Hawkeyes broke up just to the long ones.

SAXTON WINS TKO
MILWAUKEE (P)—Johnny Saxton of Brooklyn, N. Y., won his 33rd straight victory Tuesday night with a fourth-round TKO over Mario Trigo of Mexico City. Trigo was saved by the bell in the second round and was felled by a right to the chin just as the third round ended.

Chelf Gets 'Top Lineman' Honor

Don Chelf's great defensive play against Ohio State Saturday has earned him the title "Midwest Lineman of the Week," as selected by the United Press, a national press service.

The 215-pounder from West Liberty spent much of his time filtering into the Ohio State backfield to lead the Hawks' stunning 8-0 up of the Bucks.

The UP said his performance typified Iowa's "steady brand of line work that spelled out 'FIGHT'."

Stopped Borton
Don was a major factor in Iowa's stopping of the Buckeye's heralded quarterback, John Borton. More than once he broke through the Ohio State blockers to smother Borton before he could get a pass away.

Chelf became a defensive regular in mid-season of last year and since then he has established himself as a smashing tackler and smart, all-around lineman.

Tuesday Coach Forest Evashevski put his Iowa football squad through a long hard practice behind closed gates.

Defense Against Gophers
The defensive team worked against a freshman group using Minnesota plays. The offensive team ran through its plays, also against freshmen.

Evashevski used four reserves in the offensive backfield. They were Don Inman at right half; Paul Kemp and Jack Hess alternating at quarterback, and Jim Milani at left half.

Evy hopes that Burt Britzmann, the senior quarterback, will be ready Saturday. He has a bruised hip and shoulder. Jim Hatch, who hurt a leg, is okay now but the condition of left halfback Milani, is uncertain. He has missed the last two games with an ailing knee.

Drill Thursday
The Hawkeyes will get in a Thursday drill this week because the squad does not leave for Minneapolis until that evening. The plane takes off from Cedar Rapids at 9 p.m. and arrives in Minneapolis at 10:42.

A workout is scheduled for the Gopher stadium Friday at 3 p.m. The return trip will start Saturday at 10:15 p.m. and the party will be home about 12:10 a.m. Sunday.

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—Minnesota's Gophers appeared to be in high spirits and hopeful for a victory as they prepared Tuesday for their Big Ten clash with Iowa Saturday. The contest will be Minnesota's homecoming.

The defense spent the practice session working on Iowa rushing and pass defense. The offensive lineup concentrated largely on Minnesota scoring plays.

Expectations were that Ron Wallin, Valley City, N. D., may get a lion's share of fullback duty Saturday. He turned in a good performance against Michigan last week, making 13 yards in four tries. Sophomore Phil McElroy, a reserve up to now, likely will start at defensive right end, a post Wallin has held.

The crowd Saturday may exceed 60,000. When Iowa played at the Gopher homecoming in 1950, the crowd was 61,212 and in 1949 the figure was 63,517, largest to see a Gopher-Hawkeye game.

Team statistics show 1,247 net yards to opponents' 1,989 and kick returns of 462 to 335. Iowa has bled 18 times and lost the ball to rivals' 17 and 12 and have done well in the penalty department with 24 for 215 as compared to 44 for 373.

HERE'S DON CHELF, named "Midwest Lineman of the Week" by the United Press Tuesday for his great defensive play in Iowa's 8-0 upset of Ohio State last Saturday. Chelf is the first Hawkeye to gain the honor since end Bob Hoff in 1950.

4 Touch Football Teams Clinch Spots in Playoffs

Phi Delta Theta nipped Phi Gamma Delta, 8-6, Tuesday, to clinch a share of the Section I championship of the social fraternity touch football league.

The Phi Deltas now need only a win over Delta Tau Delta to take first place outright.

The Deltas lost an 18-6 game to Delta Chi in another Tuesday game.

Sigma Chi, already assured a place in the all-university playoffs, stepped out of its own section to defeat Alpha Epsilon Pi, 40-0, in the third game Tuesday.

Should Phi Kappa and Sigma Nu lose their games to Phi Epsilon Pi and Pi Kappa Alpha, respectively, the Sigs would clinch the Section II crown with their 3-0 record. Phi Kappa and Sigma Nu have lost one game apiece.

Theta Xi surprised Sigma Alpha Epsilon in an overtime tilt in Section IV action. The game was knotted 6-6 at the end of regulation playing time, the Theta Xi made the most yardage in the overtime and was awarded the win.

Phi Kappa Sigma won by forfeit over Delta Upsilon.

Only one contest was played in Section III last week. Sigma Phi Epsilon drubbed Acacia, 19-0, but the loser's protest that the Sig Eps were using an ineligible player was upheld and the game went into the books as a 1-0 Acacia win.

The other teams in the section, Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Tau Omega, have rescheduled their game for later in the season.

Michigan State Still Leads AP Football Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State still leads but Maryland is a fast-closing second in the battle for No. 1 football rating in the nation.

The 121 ballots of sportswriters and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll were well split between Coach Biggie Munn's Michigan State powerhouse and the brilliant Maryland team that has racked up six straight wins.

Michigan State clung to the No. 1 spot for the third successive week by knocking off previously unbeaten Penn State, 34-7, Saturday for its fifth straight. That performance won 38 first place votes for the Spartans.

Maryland drew 32 firsts after bombing Louisiana State, 34-6.

The point race, based on 10 for a first place vote, nine for second and so on, is real tight with only 26 points separating the first two clubs. Michigan State has 1,042 points, Maryland 1,016.

Baseball Executive Committee Sets Bonus Limit at $6,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's major-league executive council drew up a new bonus rule Tuesday which would put a $6,000 limit on bonuses given to promising young ballplayers and make it hard for clubs to retain all players given a bonus.

In a hush-hush meeting in Commissioner Ford Frick's office, a special committee which had been wrestling for several months with the problem of tremendous bonuses for untried players recommended a new bonus rule much stronger than any of its predecessors.

Under the rule, which will be presented to the 16 major league club owners for ratification at the annual winter meetings in Phoenix, Ariz., next December, all owners would promise — in a sort of "gentlemen's agreement" — not to offer more than $6,000 to a player. The controversial bonus rule was repealed by the same owners two years ago, and baseball has operated without any

Iowa Schedules Missouri Harriers

A cross country meet with the University of Missouri to be run over the Iowa course has been scheduled by the Hawkeyes for Nov. 6.

Coach Francis Cretzmeyer said it is the first meet between Tigers and Hawkeyes in several years. The Missouri team is one of the strongest in the Big Seven conference.

Iowa beat Wisconsin Oct. 18 and next Saturday runs against Minnesota at Minneapolis.

restrictions on the size of bonuses since then.

All items discussed at the parley were held strictly "hush-hush." None of the committee members would even hint as to the details of their business, let alone the extent of bonus restrictions recommended by the committee, headed by Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox.

"The major-league executive council met to consider recommendations for the agenda at the winter meetings in Phoenix next December," was the terse statement issued from the commissioners office.

Injured Miami Player Files Suit

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—A Miami football player who was permanently injured in a scrimmage and had his scholarship canceled by the University of Florida filed suit Tuesday for $35,000 damages.

The circuit court suit was filed in behalf of Peter Schultz, an all-city tackle at Miami high school in 1950, against the state board of control.

It asked $10,000 for "breach of scholarship agreement" and $25,000 as the result of the University of Florida's alleged failure to provide proper physical examination or medical attention after the accident that injured his back.

Applied in 1950

Schultz said he signed an application to enter Florida in November, 1950, after he and his mother had been entertained by Hobart Hooser, assistant coach at Florida.

Later, Schultz said, a letter from George R. Woodruff, head coach, notified him that his application for a four-year scholarship from Sept. 1, 1951 through May 31, 1955, had been approved by the committee on scholarships.

During a practice scrimmage on Nov. 5, 1951, according to the suit, other players "pushed and threw him to the ground with such force that his back was injured."

Mishap Crippled Him
This mishap, together with the alleged failure of the university to provide proper medical treatment, aggravated an old injury and left him with a "fused spine" that permanently cripples him, Schultz said.

On April 20, 1952, Schultz continued, he was notified his scholarship had been canceled "contrary to a provision in the agreement that the scholarship would remain valid in the event of any injury during competition or practice."

Attorneys Harold Freedman and Edward B. Johnson Jr., representing Schultz, said the suit "is the first of its kind ever to be filed."

State Requests Hunters' Help In Combating Fire Outbreaks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Iowa officials called upon the state's hunters Tuesday to serve as a volunteer army of fire wardens to guard against the outbreak of fires in the drought-stricken countryside.

The appeal went out from the state conservation commission and the state fire marshal's office as a weary group of men battled a dangerous blaze along the Missouri river bluffs near Thurman in Fremont county.

Schoolboy Blamed

This fire, believed to have been caused by a schoolboy playing with matches and dry leaves, burned over some 2,500 acres in the area north of Sidney before it was brought under control at noon Tuesday. More than 100 volunteers using bulldozers fought an all-night battle against the flames.

The U.S. Weather bureau in Des Moines reported that Iowa's moisture deficiency in September and October, during which there was no appreciable rain, amounted to 4.10 inches. And no rain is immediately in prospect, the forecasters said.

Hunters' Assistance Asked
The conservation commission urged each of the state's 350,000 hunters who takes to the fields to keep a sharp lookout for fires and put them out, or summon help where necessary. The agency asked hunters to carry wet sacks or blankets, and spades in their automobiles.

State officials said the two-month drought has not yet caused any acute water shortage in Iowa. But farmers with shallow wells and those who depend on small streams to water their stock are having trouble. Most small streams are drying up and there have been reports of some shallow wells in central and south-west Iowa starting to go dry.

WSUI Plans Weekly News Commentary

Beginning this week, WSUI will feature a weekly news commentary program each Friday evening at 7:45. The commentator will be Arnold Rogow of the political science department.

The new program will present the highlights of the week's news, interpreting two or three of the most important events. This Friday the show will feature a preview to the coming national elections. On November 7, Rogow will review the Nov. 4 election.

Rogow came to SUI this year. He was an undergraduate at the University of Wisconsin and did graduate work at Princeton. He has traveled in Europe and also studied there.

2 Army Engineers To Confer at SUI

Col. Walter E. Sewell, professor of SUI ROTC military science and tactics, announced Tuesday that Lt. Col. Haggard of the department of army corps of engineers, Washington, D.C., and Maj. M. R. Poir, of the fifth army corps of engineers, Chicago, Ill., will visit SUI Friday.

They will discuss engineering problems with Lt. Col. Robert W. Fritz senior engineer ROTC instructor, and with Dean Francis M. Dawson, of the college of engineering.

PAPER OUTPUT INCREASES
Production of coated stock paper increased in the United States from 334,000 short tons in 1945 to 1,020,000 short tons in 1952.

Airport Building to Be Completed by 1953

THE NEW AIRPORT ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, located at Iowa City municipal airport on highway 218 south, and valued at approximately $100,030, is scheduled for completion by the first of the year. Plastering has been completed and work has begun on the acoustical tile ceiling. The 32 by 110 foot structure is one story high except for the main lobby which will have a meeting room on the second floor. The outside work such as the sidewalk is near completion. The building, begun in May, is a part of the airport improvement program.

Initial Experiment — Play Gets Capacity Crowd

The University theater's initial experimental play of the season, Sherwood Collins' "G. Dwight, Kan., "Where There's Smoke," opened Tuesday night to a capacity crowd of 500 "first nighters."

The play will hold its final performance tonight at 8 p.m. in the University theater.

As the first attempt of the drama department to produce a play written by a student, the comedy was a success. It presents a middle western housewife who is determined to run for mayor, her chief aims being to buy the town a new fire engine and to add two men to the town's water department.

Involvement in her scheme to revolutionize the town are her biology professor husband, her cheerleader daughter, her reticent son, and her aging, but sprightly, mother.

Her campaign gets off to a start when the present mayor, infuriated by his opposition's move, issues a statement denouncing her as "a pathetic little thing following the call of the siren."
Sonya Goerling, A.S., Walcott, in the leading role of the aspirant to the mayoralty, is competent and charming, receiving the aid of an experienced actor, Robert Paulus, A.4, Iowa City, as her battle-fatigued husband, Joyce Stevens, A.1, Delmar, N. Y., a newcomer to the theater, is fresh and amusing as the daughter.

5 Boys Involved In Morals Charge

Five members of the Iowa City high school football squad were charged Tuesday morning with conspiracy involving an immoral act.

The charge was filed in Johnson county district court on a county attorney's information.

The five are accused of conspiring "to abuse and carnally know" a 13-year-old girl. The girl was baby sitting in a southeast Iowa City home on October 8, when the alleged incident occurred.

Penalty for the crime is not more than three years in the penitentiary.

Earlier charges against the five brought in juvenile court were dismissed because the court held it did not have jurisdiction at this time.

U.S. Brands Former Sergeant 'Traitor'

Welcomed Japanese Invading Philippines In World War II

NEW YORK (AP) — The government Tuesday branded a former American Army sergeant a traitor, who welcomed the Japanese enemy to Corregidor with the words, "I am at your service."

However, the defense described the veteran, John David Provo, as a patriotic American prisoner of war, forced by pain of death to do the bidding of the Japanese.

Charged With Treason
Provo, American-born, but apparently possessed of a weird mental twist of mind, is on trial for his life on 12 counts of treason growing out of his world war II imprisonment by the Japanese.

After welcoming the Japanese, the government said, Provo shaved his head, donned the robes of a Buddhist priest and set about betraying his American fellow-captives. He caused one of them, Capt. Burton C. Thomson, to be put to death.

Strange Picture Drawn
The strange picture of a western mind in the grip of oriental mysticism was drawn as the government opened its case against the 36-year-old Provo, a tall, erect man with a long, thin face.

The defense admitted Provo broadcast propaganda for the Japanese but Defense Attorney Murray E. Gottesman told a federal court jury:

"He had no choice in the matter."

As for Capt. Thomson's death, the defense called Provo a mere messenger boy for Japanese officers who demanded special tidbits from Thomson's prison hospital kitchen.

Attorney Defends Provo
Gottesman said the captain sealed his own doom when he told Provo:

"I don't want to give them anything."

A short time later, Gottesman went on, the Japanese sent for Thomson, repeated their demands and put him to death when he again refused.

Japanese-speaking, Buddhist trained, Provo was described by Asst. U.S. Atty. Moses Kove as the first American soldier to greet the Mikado's troops when they took the Philippine fortress in 1942.

"He told them, among other things," Kove said, "I speak Japanese. I am a Buddhist. And I am at your service."

Studied Buddhism
Buddhism is an ancient, stoic religion of the East. It rarely attracts the western mind.

However, Provo reportedly had studied it during a prewar trip to Japan before he went into the army in 1941.

A jury of seven women and five men was selected Monday to hear the treason case — one of the strangest in the annals of American courts.

Witnesses are on call from all over the world — including a Japanese war criminal, Sgt. Seitaro Fujita.

Fujita led a squad which executed Capt. Thomson, an American captive in the same prisoner of war camp with Provo.

Mental Health Groups To Hold Workshops Here November 3 to 7

To increase effectiveness of community leaders in improving mental health, a second annual workshop will be held at SUI Nov. 3 to 7.

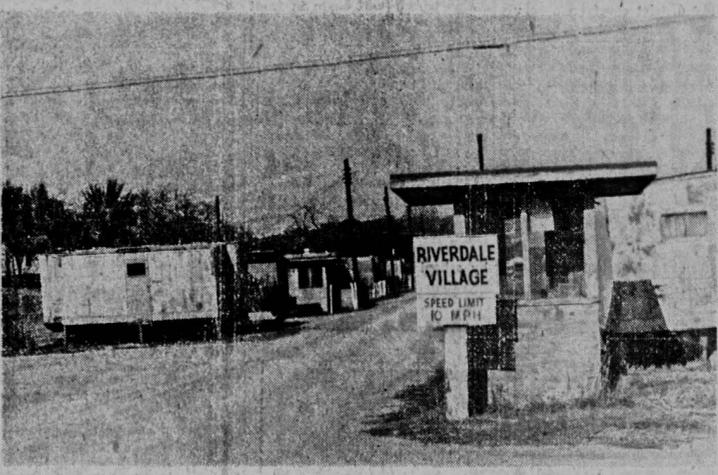

Mental health societies of the state of Iowa and of Johnson county are sponsoring the five days of intensive training under the direction of Ralph Ojemann, associate professor who heads the university's current preventive psychiatry project.

Topics the group will discuss include "New Developments in Rehabilitation," "Media of Publicity" and "Mental Health Problems Young People Face."

Psychiatrists from state institutions and faculty of the university will join with lay leaders to present information, according to Clarice York, Iowa City, president of the Johnson County Mental Health society.

"Anyone who is concerned and interested is welcome to apply for the conference," says Mrs. York, who continues, "Preference must necessarily be given those who have demonstrated their capacity to assume leadership or who are in positions which would enable them to be particularly effective in their communities."

Riverdale Village Is Now Deserted

QUIET AND DESERTED, RIVERDALE VILLAGE has the appearance of a ghost town after being closed by university officials last week. The housing area had 71 trailer units at its peak after World War II. Badly deteriorated trailers have been moved out by the university during the past two years. The area is located on the west bank of the Iowa river between Riverside and Quonset park. Closing of the area leaves the university with one trailer area, Hawkeye village. It has about 125 units.

Christian Mission Brings Frenchman For Speech at SUI

Dr. Gabriel Georges Nahas, citizen of France and former medical officer in the French army, will be the second in a series of speakers at the University Christian Mission, Nov. 9 to 13.

Nahas will address the faculty Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 8 p.m. in the medical amphitheater, general hospital, room E331, on the topic of "World Relatedness." He also has several other speeches scheduled here.

An agent of the French underground forces from 1941 to 1944, Nahas received his M.D. at Toulouse, France, and his M.S. at Rochester, N.Y. in 1949. He also has been the recipient of several war decorations and citations.

Positions he has held are research fellow of the Rockefeller foundation, 1947-48; research fellow of the Mayo foundation, 1949-50, and physiology instructor at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

Among his publications are 12 technical papers in the "American Journal of Physiology" federation proceedings.

Highlanders Boost U.S. Good Will, Strayer Says

"Good travelers" was the way Gordon Strayer, news editor of the SUI information service, described the Highlanders at a Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday.

They created good will for the U.S. and changed the idea many people in Europe had about the typical American girl, he told them.

"It was good for the Highlanders to have a chance to stay in the homes," he said. "They were able to get mutually acquainted and get rid of mistaken ideas on both sides."

Strayer said some of the Aberdeen citizens followed the Highlanders to Dundee to see the performance there. One of the women said, "Aberdeen looked forward to their coming for so long. The girls brought gaiety and light. Something precious will be gone from our lives forever when they leave."

The Scots and the British were impressed by the healthy and happy appearance of the students, Strayer said.

He accompanied the group as a public relations representative.

Salesmen Needed For '53 Hawkeye

Students are needed to sell 1953 Hawkeyes during the last sales campaign which will begin Tuesday, Nov. 4, and extend until Thanksgiving vacation, Jim Vickery, A4, Des Moines, announced Tuesday. Vickery is business manager of Hawkeye.

Commissions amounting to as much as 40 cents per book will be paid to those interested in selling, he said.

The '53 Hawkeye will feature all campus activities with more color and pictures than in the '52 book. Those interested in buying or selling the books should go to the Hawkeye office, behind the Clinton street temporaries, or phone X2238.
