

Major Changes Seen in Future Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major changes in the dominant political philosophy as well as the complexion of Capitol Hill appear certain when the new 83d congress meets next Jan. 3.

It will be the result of a switch from Democratic to Republican leadership on the strength of paper-thin GOP numerical majorities—now consisting of no more than one in the senate and possibly only two in the house.

The major effect of Tuesday's balloting on congress, therefore, would appear to center on GOP capture of vital committee chairmanships and the legislative machinery on both sides of the Capitol.

Take Over Committees
In addition to a Republican speaker of the house and president of the senate, arch GOP foes of "New Deal-Fair Deal" programs in almost every case are in line for committee posts with their vast powers over the shape of the nation's laws.

Late Thursday, with six districts still undecided, the GOP held control of the new house by a whisker. The Republican count stood at 220—just two more than a 218—majority of the 435 members.

The Democrats had elected 208, and were ahead in all but one of the undecided contests. One Democratic member, Rep. Adolph J. Sabath, died early Thursday. A special election will be held in his Chicago district.

Final results from districts still in doubt may not be known for days, possibly weeks—in Illinois absentee ballots are counted or an official canvass of the vote is completed.

SABATH In the senate, Republicans held a 48-47 edge—49-47, if Sen. Wayne Morse is counted with the Republicans.

Morse Poses Question
Morse posed a big question over GOP control of the senate. The Oregon senator split with the Republican party in disagreement with Dwight D. Eisenhower's conduct of the campaign, and said he would call himself an independent.

If Morse should go along with the Democrats on organization of the senate, the resulting 48-48 tie could be broken by the Republicans through exercise of the vote of Republican Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, who becomes the senate's presiding officer Jan. 20. Until then, any tie could be broken in behalf of the Democrats by Vice-President Barkley.

The new philosophy of congress—and possibly a forecast of its activities—may be judged from the lawmakers who step to the helm of the major committees.

New Fiscal Leaders
Rep. John Taber of New York, critic of Democratic spending, takes over from Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri as chairman of the house appropriations committee.

On the other house fiscal front, Rep. Dan Reed of New York succeeds to chairmanship of the tax-writing ways and means committee.

Rep. Jesse Wolcott of Michigan is slated to take over the house "business" committee, rounding out a Republican trio likely to shape house economic policy around lower taxes, less spending and fewer controls.

Rep. Robert B. Chipfield of Illinois succeeds Rep. James P. Richards of South Carolina as chairman of the foreign affairs committee.

Draft Opposer Up
Rep. Dewey Short of Missouri, who has opposed the draft and universal military training, succeeds

Ike Plans Truman Huddle Before Korean Trip

2 Will Meet For 1st Time Since June

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower agreed Thursday to confer with President Truman on vital problems of world peace before flying to Korea to see what can be done about ending the Far East conflict.

It will make their first face-to-face meeting since last June 1, before the outset of the political campaign in which Truman bitterly attacked Eisenhower's bid for the presidency.

Resting on a 10-day vacation in Augusta, Ga., after his landslide victory in Tuesday's election, Eisenhower sent a message to Truman suggesting they meet early in the week beginning Nov. 17.

There was still no indication from Eisenhower's vacation headquarters when the general might fly to Korea.

Ike's Margin Widens

Late figures showed that with only 4,202 voting units missing out of the nation's 146,370, Eisenhower had rolled up a margin of more than six million votes over Stevenson.

Eisenhower had 32,991,586 compared to Stevenson's 26,547,704. The total vote — about 10 million more than the previous record — was 59,539,290.

In electoral votes Eisenhower had a count of 442 against 89 for Stevenson. Hoover won 444 votes against Al Smith's 87 in 1928.

1-Vote Congress Edge

Despite Eisenhower's overwhelming popular vote majority, the Republicans held only a razor-thin edge in the race for control of the new 83d congress which meets Jan. 3.

GOP control of the senate hung by a tricky one-vote margin — 48 to 47 — with a possibly crucial vote held by Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who read himself out of the Republican party and stumped for the Democrats during the campaign. Morse now styles himself an independent.

In the house, still incomplete returns showed the Republicans with 220 seats—two more than required for control — against 208 for the Democrats. Six house seats were undecided, with Democrats leading in five of them.

Dewey 'Expects to Finish'

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declared again Thursday that "I expect and intend to serve out my term as governor" of New York. His term ends Dec. 31, 1954.

Dewey was asked in a news conference whether he would accept a cabinet post from Eisenhower if one were offered.

"I expect and intend to serve out my term as governor," Dewey replied.

Stevenson Eyed for '56

Meanwhile, talk persisted in the gloom-mantled Democratic camp of a movement to draft Gov. Adlai Stevenson again for the 1956 presidential campaign.

Immediately following his defeat, Stevenson himself had discounted any such intention, quipping that a newsman who suggested he might run again should have his head examined.

Nevertheless, with the first shock of defeat beginning to wear off, Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's 1952 campaign manager, told newsmen:

"Our feeling is definitely that it will be Adlai Stevenson in 1956."

Asked what happened to his prediction Stevenson would win the presidency by at least 400 electoral votes, Wyatt grinned and said he had been right in two of his three predictions:

"I predicted it would be a landslide. And it was," he said.

"I predicted the electoral vote would be at least 400. And it was. The only error I made was — which one would be the winner."

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said Thursday he is considering taking a place on the senate's powerful foreign relations committee.

"I have not decided," Taft said. "but may do it."

His seniority would enable him to take one if he wishes.

Election Sidelights — GOPs Get 5 Governorships

WASHINGTON (AP) — With all but one race decided, Republicans have wrested five governor's seats from the Democrats.

Michigan Thursday night was the only state where the issue was in doubt. There Democrat Gov. G. Mennen Williams had an advantage of only 3,848 votes over Republican Fred M. Alger Jr.

The Republicans' latest governorship overturn was in Montana, where J. Hugo Aronson, a GOP state senator, defeated Democrat Gov. John W. Bonner by some 4,900 votes.

Other states where Republicans managed to replace Democrats were Delaware, where Rep. J. Cales Boggs upset Gov. Elbert N. Carvel; Indiana, where George N. Craig beat John A. Watkins; Illinois, where William G. Stratton prevailed over Sherwood P. Dixon; and Massachusetts, where Rep. Christian A. Herter defeated Gov. Paul A. Dever.

Could Have Won With Taft Running, Summerfield Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Arthur Summerfield said Thursday he believed the party could have won Tuesday's presidential election even without General Eisenhower as its candidate.

Specifically, he told newsmen in answer to a question that he believed Robert A. Taft of Ohio would have been a winner in the balloting.

He added, however, that he did not think the GOP could have won with just any one at the head of the ticket.

Taft was Eisenhower's chief rival for the GOP presidential nomination at the party convention last July. Summerfield had maintained a position of neutrality regarding the two aspirants.

Although Summerfield said he did not think Eisenhower was the only candidate who could have led the Republicans to victory, he said the people felt they had "one of the outstanding statesmen and leaders of all time" in the former five-star general.

MacArthur Drive Fizzled at Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hopeless last-ditch effort to elect Gen. Douglas MacArthur president fizzled in the boom of the Eisenhower victory.

He got fewer than 10,000 votes in three states which had tabulated MacArthur ballots Thursday. A few others still are to be heard from, but it was clear that his bitter-end supporters couldn't influence the final results.

MacArthur received 169 votes in Arkansas, 3,502 in Texas and 5,479 in Washington.

There was no indication that the former far east commander gave either consent or approval to the campaign in his behalf.

Council Group to Plan Basketball Seat Proposal

The SUI Student Council seating committee will meet early next week to formulate a plan for student seating at basketball games, Dale Razez, C4, Harlan, said Thursday night.

At a later meeting the committee will present the plan to the SUI athletic department for approval.

The committee was organized this fall following a student protest over the sale to the public of 1,800 seats in the traditional student section of the football stadium.

Razez said that the committee hopes to "give the students the feeling that they are one of the primary interests of the athletic department and that they do have a voice in some of the decisions affecting them."

The committee met with athletic officials and a section on the east side of the stadium was reserved for students.

A somewhat similar situation could result during the basketball season because of general admission tickets being sold from the student section on the same basis in the past, tickets have also been

5 Women Chide Advertisers In SUI Conference Discussion

Five Iowa City women served notice on advertisers Thursday night that they didn't think like 12-year-olds and didn't have unlimited budgets.

The women sat as a panel in the Shambaugh lecture room of the library at a session of the advertising conference being held here this weekend and told how "Advertising Could Sell Me More If—"

An audience of 40, many of them Iowa advertisers, heard Mrs. Ivan L. Hedges, 212 W. Park rd., object to the tone of most advertising. "First they talk down to me," she explained, "and then they butter me up and tell me I'm bright enough to own a new limousine — on time payments."

Educates Public
Most of the panel agreed that advertising was helping to educate the public, but all thought it could do a much better job.

Mrs. Norman L. Kilpatrick, 536 S. Dodge st., felt the general situation would be improved if door-to-door salesmen disappeared and direct mail campaigns were given up. "Then too, ads glorify things too much," she said. "Some of the bright and shiny rooms shown in ads look as though they were designed for some other world."

She told how her own furniture is not French Provincial or Early American, but "American Livable," and was suited for housing two boys, an old cat and a young dog.

Cites Exaggeration
Mrs. Lloyd A. Knowler, 207 Golfview ave., hit at the gross exaggeration seen in chlorophyll and anti-histamine advertising. "Personally," she said, "I do not listen to the radio. I've trained myself not to hear the commercials."

Mrs. Allyn Lemme, 603 S. Capitol st., cited some advertising as "an insult to my intelligence. I would never buy some products after listening to their commercials, even though I know the product is good."

Miss Arlene Schlegel, 615 N. Dubuque st., pointed out that advertising is very important to the working woman because office hours coincide with shopping hours. "We don't have much time — when we do go to shop we have to know just what we want," she explained.

2d Concert Set For SUI Symphony

Admission is free, and tickets may be picked up at the desk of the union from Saturday through Wednesday afternoon. The entire concert will be broadcast by university station WSUI.

Conductor for the symphony is Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department. William Gower is assistant conductor.

Republicans Win Nearly All Of Legislature

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa Republicans will have almost solid control of the 1953 state legislature as a result of their landslide victory in Tuesday's election.

The GOP gave the Democrats the worst beating in the state's history and grabbed control of all but seven of the 158 seats in the house and senate.

They now number:
Senate — 46 Republicans and 4 Democrats.
House — 105 Republicans and 3 Democrats.

In the 1951 legislature there were 41 Republicans and nine Democrats in the senate; 93 Republicans and 15 Democrats in the house.

Most Complete Control
Records show that there never has been a time in Iowa history when one political party held such complete control as the GOP will exercise next year.

Of the four Democrats who will serve in the next senate, three of them were holdovers and thus were not up for re-election. The only Democratic winner in the 30 senate places open to contest was Leon Miller of Knoxville who won in the Marion-Monroe district.

Two veteran Democratic lawmakers went down to defeat. "They were A. E. Augustine of Oskaloosa, party floor leader in the senate and member of the legislature since 1935, and Leroy Mercer of Iowa City who had served since 1933.

Veterans Lose
Mercer was beaten for re-election to the senate by Cliff Nolan, Iowa City Republican, Augustinian lost to C. Emory Stewart, Rose Hill Republican. He is a member of the present legislative interim committee.

Also defeated was John Hansen of Dedham, who was the Democratic floor leader in the house at the last session and, like Augustine, a member of the interim committee.

The Democrats did not have contest in all legislative districts, but most of their candidates lost, including the following who sought re-election:

Republican Speakers In
Senators Sherman West, Moulton; Raymond Gillespie, Dexter and Burl Rideout, Estherville; Reps. Casey Loss, Algona; C. J. Burris, Maquoketa; George Fiene, Nashua; Harry Nielson, Blencoe; Dean Aubrey, Ottumwa and Francis Tierney, Ft. Dodge.

Republican leaders who were re-elected included Rep. W. S. Lynes of Waterloo, speaker of the house in 1951; former speaker Gus T. Kuester, Griswold and Rep. Arch McFarlane, Waterloo, who was named to his 18th term in the legislature.

George L. Scott, West Union Republican and former member of the Iowa liquor control commission, was elected to the senate.

Morse Retains 'Independence'

SEN. WAYNE MORSE OF OREGON, still terming himself an Independent-Republican, poses for photographers at his Capitol Hill office with a newspaper announcing General Eisenhower's sweeping presidential victory. Morse said Ike won the presidency by fooling the people and that he would vote only for such legislation as he deemed good for the country under the new administration.

Civil Liberties Director Tells of America's 'Job'

The American people have done a "pretty good" job of maintaining their civil liberties during the last fifty years, Patrick M. Malin, executive director of the American Civil Liberties union told his audience in the senate chamber of Old Capitol Thursday night.

Malin supported his statement by citing experiences from his own background in civil liberties. He told of supporting Roman Catholic priests in New Mexico in their struggle for permission to teach in the state's public schools.

Describes New Jersey Case
He described a case in New Jersey when a storekeeper was killed and six Negro youths were convicted for the killing, almost wholly on their own confessions. Malin told the audience that the Civil Liberties union recently spent $38,000 in making sure that the trial was conducted according to the principles of due process of law and that the confessions of the defendants were sued in a fair manner.

Malin went on to break down the term civil liberties into three parts, freedom of religion and speech, due process and fair trial, and the equality of each individual before the law. These rights have come about as America's experimental answer to the fundamental questions that any society must determine.

Discusses Each Phase
He discussed each phase of civil liberty in regard to the amount of progress that has occurred in the last half-century.

He told his listeners that "tremendous strides" have been taken in making "equality before law" a vital part of civil rights. However, there is still danger from the reactionaries who are against the progress that has been made. There is also the question of what must be accomplished by voluntary effort, state law, and federal law.

Pep Rally to Officially Open 1952 Dad's Day Festivities

A pep rally scheduled to get underway at 7:15 tonight at the Iowa Union bandshell will officially open the 1952 Dad's Day weekend.

The university band and cheerleaders as well as tailfeathers, sponsors of the rally, will be on hand.

Peter Van Metre, L4, Waterloo, Student Council president, will speak on behalf of the students expressing their support of the team.

Following the pep rally, the 1952 "Alumni Dad" will be named at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Union by Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership society.

Many Nominations
This year's number of "Alumni Dad" nominations was greater than any other year, Ralph Fretry, A4, Des Moines, "Dad's Day" program chairman, said Thursday.

"Experience in Modern Jazz," a concert by Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity, will take place immediately after the "Alumni Dad" is presented. Tickets for the concert are on sale today at $1 per person at the Union and at a booth near Old Capitol.

Arrangements similar to those used by the bands of Stan Kenton, Woody Herman, Les Brown, and Ray Anthony will be featured at the jazz concert.

Also at 8 p.m. Friday the season's first play, "Harvey," will be presented at University theatre.

Saturday Open Houses
Saturday morning open houses will be held in most housing units, colleges, schools and departments of the university, and the Iowa Memorial Union.

Registration for dads and families will be from 9 to 12 a.m. and from 5 to 10 p.m. Saturday in the main lounge of the Iowa Union. Several pairs of hand inscribed SUI bookends will be given as registration prizes.

Illinois and Iowa will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the third home football game of the season. A half-time exhibition will be made by the SUI band and the Scottish Highlanders. The 1952 "Alumni Dad" will be introduced with the football players' fathers.

At 8 p.m. the University play, "Harvey," will again be presented at University theatre.

Union Party Planned

A Union open house party will be held Saturday from 8:30 until 11:30 p.m. for students, parents and alumni. Omicron Delta Kappa and Union board are sponsoring the party.

World News Briefs

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said Thursday night Britain counts on President-elect Eisenhower's "continuing help and co-operation" in coping with the problems confronting the free world. He declared there had been an improvement in the position of the West and added: "There is no reason why we should not reach forward to that wider unity which should bring lasting peace."

DUNMOW, ENG. (AP) — A U.S. air force B-50 jet bomber crashed and burned in a field near here Thursday night. Firemen recovered five of the 10 crew members from the blazing plane. Unconfirmed reports said two other crew members had bailed out. The crash scene is in southeastern England. The plane belonged to the 14th U.S. air division. It was on a routine flight from its base at Upper Heyford, about 40 miles from where it crashed. A U.S. air force spokesman said it was returning to its base when it crashed.

SEOUL, KOREA (AP) — The battle in the skies over Korea broke out Thursday after a relative calm and U.S. Sabre pilots claimed one Red MIG jet destroyed and 11 shot up in furious dogfights. An unusual quiet on the front was disturbed only by a futile charge up Sniper ridge in central Korea by 150 to 176 Chinese Communists. They were cut to pieces in a storm of artillery fire.

12,000 Iowa Teachers Meet In Des Moines

DES MOINES (AP)—About 12,000 Iowa school teachers headed for Des Moines Thursday for their annual three-day convention.

Early arrivals visited the Des Moines schools Thursday morning. The schools closed at noon for the remainder of the week.

Many of the visitors will drive back and forth daily. A majority of the others have reservations at hotels while others are housed in private homes. The Chamber of Commerce convention bureau reported Wednesday its list of available rooms was adequate to supply all possible demands.

Convention registration was handled at the Iowa exhibit building at the state fairgrounds. More than 160 exhibits of school equipment and text and reference books—a record number—have been arranged there too.

Free bus transportation between the fairgrounds and hotels Fort Des Moines and Kirkwood is provided. Free supervised parking is also available at the fairgrounds.

A special general session opened at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the Iowa exhibit building with John C. Caldwell, Nashville, Tenn., as speaker. He is a former director of the Voice of America in China and deputy director of the United States information service in Korea.

First regular general session was Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in KRNT theater. W. F. Johnson, Spencer school superintendent who is president of the Iowa State Education association, and Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of George Peabody college for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., spoke.

A major share of the department, section and area meetings will be today at hotels, schools and churches. The convention ends Saturday noon.

Change Theme Beat Adlai Wyatt Asserts

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager said Wednesday the Republican theme of "time for a change" had snowballed to such proportions that Stevenson or his cause could have stopped it.

The statement came from Wyatt, who told reporters that the major factor in the Democratic defeat was "a matter of cycle and time for a change."

"I don't think any single issue could have changed the election, or that anyone could have led the campaign as ably, and with such high purpose, as Stevenson did," Wyatt said.

Began 12 Years Ago He said "the time for a change" thing was a cumulative thing and that "the argument about change started 12 years ago" when President Roosevelt was running for a third term.

Referring to the Democratic presidential nominee as a "great leader of this country," Wyatt added: "His greatness will grow, and I think his leadership will grow too."

Wyatt said that the issues drawn by Stevenson in the campaign "are the issues for the Democratic party during the next four years."

Questioned About 1956 To a newsman's question, "What about 1956?" Wyatt replied: "Only the future can tell. But I think Governor Stevenson and others told him too, that our feeling was 'Adlai Stevenson in 1956.'"

A reporter asked Wyatt if he felt that President Truman's campaigning in behalf of Stevenson and the Democratic party pointed up the change issue. Wyatt replied that he believed Truman's participation "was good, and it was effective."

Republican Victory Shatters Influence Of Union Leaders WASHINGTON (AP)—Union leaders mourned the Republican landslide victory Wednesday as probably a sign of the abrupt waning of organized labor's special influence in government.

They have held high place in the councils during the 20-year Democratic regime. There is ever expectation that some of them will still be invited in, but none of them really expects to speak with anything like the authority they had before the votes were counted.

Union bosses conceded privately Wednesday that their hopes for repealing the Taft-Hartley labor law and achieving other union aims had been practically buried under the GOP's avalanche of votes.

Virtually all the labor organization leaders had backed Democrats but both the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations came out Wednesday with pledges of support for the Republican President-elect, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Both big groups had all-out supporters of Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The vote count in many industrial centers suggested that millions of union members disapproved their leaders again, just as apparently happened in 1950 when the unions' all-out fight to defeat Sen. Robert A. Taft in his bid for a new Senate term in Ohio failed completely.

Ike Accepts Truman Bid For Meeting

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The results of the presidential election were hard to swallow for Carolyn Howard.

The vivacious brunette had to pay off an election bet by eating the front page of the pro-Eisenhower Montgomery Advertiser at high noon Wednesday.

Mrs. Howard had her chips on Gov. Adlai Stevenson in a friendly wager with one of the newspaper's reporters.

She tackled the problem shrewdly, though. She burned the page first, crumpled the ashes in a cup of coffee and followed it with apple pie.

Severely Handicapped Tots Enjoy New Therapy, Art Rooms

Two new features have been added to the Iowa Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children, a functional room for group work in physical therapy and an art area.

The functional room, a converted classroom, is staffed by a full-time registered physical therapist, Philip Abood. Working with four or five children for about an hour at a time, he helps them with exercises to improve their overall locomotion.

The art area, part of one of the bedrooms, is a supplement to the classroom. The children may read, hear stories, play games, listen to records or work with crayons, clay or other art materials.

The group work in physical therapy is an addition to work done by registered physical therapist Charlotte Vasey, but Miss Vasey works with a single child at a time for shorter periods with emphasis on coordination of mind and muscle, one joint at a time.

Abood uses parallel bars, saw horse crutches, and stairs in helping the children toward their ultimate goal, independent locomotion.

Much of the equipment he improvises or designs himself. Whenever possible, the exercises are made into games.

If several children of different levels or progress are working at the same time, he may introduce

United Airlines Hit By 'Quickie' Walkout In U.S. and Hawaii

NEW YORK (AP)—Three hundred United Airlines flight engineers struck late Wednesday in the United States and Hawaii.

The AFL flight engineers association said some Pacific flights were affected, but not its air lift to Korea. Union President William D. Kent added that domestic flights also were hampered.

Ten months of contract negotiations preceded the strike.

The union said engineers on United's big four-engine liners now wmade $420 to $825 a month. "The unsettled issues," Kent went on, "include several vital working rules and an adequate pay scale. The strike will not affect the Korean air lift or any other military flight. Only DC-6 and Boeing Stratocruisers will be affected."

The engineers asked a wage scale based partly on the speed and weight of the plane—a formula generally accepted for airline pilots as early as 1934. Kent did not break down actual wage demands.

United Airlines called the walkout "a quickie strike... without any formal notice to the company."

Its smaller DC-4 and DC-3 planes were not affected, since they do not carry engineers.

Interpreting the News — Ike's Future to Depend On Long-Working Forces

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst You'd almost think the campaign was still on.

Stevenson curbstone supporters, hardly believing the election tote board, are taking it hard. Some even predict dire results. Eisenhower supporters are just as confident of the arrival of a millennium.

Well, the more elections you see, the more it makes you feel that they seldom make things much better or much worse. If things go to pot in this country under Eisenhower, the odds are that it will be as a result of forces which have been at work for a long time, and that the potting process would have taken place willy nilly.

Applies Either Way The same usually applies, if things get better. Adlai Stevenson recognized weeks ago that his biggest drawback was popular feeling that it

Severely Handicapped Tots Enjoy New Therapy, Art Rooms

Two new features have been added to the Iowa Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children, a functional room for group work in physical therapy and an art area.

The functional room, a converted classroom, is staffed by a full-time registered physical therapist, Philip Abood. Working with four or five children for about an hour at a time, he helps them with exercises to improve their overall locomotion.

The art area, part of one of the bedrooms, is a supplement to the classroom. The children may read, hear stories, play games, listen to records or work with crayons, clay or other art materials.

The group work in physical therapy is an addition to work done by registered physical therapist Charlotte Vasey, but Miss Vasey works with a single child at a time for shorter periods with emphasis on coordination of mind and muscle, one joint at a time.

Abood uses parallel bars, saw horse crutches, and stairs in helping the children toward their ultimate goal, independent locomotion.

Much of the equipment he improvises or designs himself. Whenever possible, the exercises are made into games.

If several children of different levels or progress are working at the same time, he may introduce

Interpreting the News — Ike's Future to Depend On Long-Working Forces

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst You'd almost think the campaign was still on.

Stevenson curbstone supporters, hardly believing the election tote board, are taking it hard. Some even predict dire results. Eisenhower supporters are just as confident of the arrival of a millennium.

Well, the more elections you see, the more it makes you feel that they seldom make things much better or much worse. If things go to pot in this country under Eisenhower, the odds are that it will be as a result of forces which have been at work for a long time, and that the potting process would have taken place willy nilly.

Applies Either Way The same usually applies, if things get better. Adlai Stevenson recognized weeks ago that his biggest drawback was popular feeling that it

Republican Victory Shatters Influence Of Union Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Union leaders mourned the Republican landslide victory Wednesday as probably a sign of the abrupt waning of organized labor's special influence in government.

They have held high place in the councils during the 20-year Democratic regime. There is ever expectation that some of them will still be invited in, but none of them really expects to speak with anything like the authority they had before the votes were counted.

Union bosses conceded privately Wednesday that their hopes for repealing the Taft-Hartley labor law and achieving other union aims had been practically buried under the GOP's avalanche of votes.

Virtually all the labor organization leaders had backed Democrats but both the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations came out Wednesday with pledges of support for the Republican President-elect, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Both big groups had all-out supporters of Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The vote count in many industrial centers suggested that millions of union members disapproved their leaders again, just as apparently happened in 1950 when the unions' all-out fight to defeat Sen. Robert A. Taft in his bid for a new Senate term in Ohio failed completely.

Modern Jazz Concert Presented Here

(Daily Iowan Photo)

EXAMINING A POSTER ADVERTISING "An Experience in Jazz," is Carole Brainerd, A2, Des Moines, and Reed Hartsook, C3, Des Moines. The concert, presented by the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia of Iowa State Teachers college, is sponsored by the central party committee of SUI. Tickets are on sale at the Union desk and a special booth in front of the Old Capitol building, today.

Modern Jazz Concert To Be Presented at Union

The fourth edition of a series of modern jazz concerts originating from the campus of Iowa State Teachers college will be presented by the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia at the Iowa Memorial Union tonight at 8 p.m.

Previous concerts have played to over-capacity crowds and have been acclaimed very successful. These concerts are unique in that very few colleges in the country can boast of having such a unit performing the music of our time — modern jazz.

This is a group of young, ever-progressing musicians, with one eye on the present and the other on the future. Here is music of today — our music — played with a freshness and enthusiasm hard to match in many bands.

Included in this year's show are: Drummer Glen Schreiner of Waterloo, Glen once filled Buddy Rich's shoes with Norman Grant; Jazz at the Philharmonic when Rich became ill while on tour. He played with such jazz immortals as Flip Phillips, Howard McGhee, Hank Jones, Ray Brown, and Lester Young. Young Schreiner won prizes from this select jazz group.

James Selland, who plays lead trumpet and hails from Des Moines. Now teaching, Jim played in Claude Thornhill's famous band during the last war.

Vocalist is Ellen Stettler of Belle Plaine, Iowa. This young, vivacious vocalist performed with Ralph Flanagan's orchestra last spring and has turned in top-flight performance's in previous jazz concerts.

Special arranger Richard Maltby of New York city. Maltby is a well-known conductor-arranger for the American Broadcasting Company. He has written for such notables as Paul Whiteman, Buddy DeFranco, Benny Goodman, and Artie Shaw, plus shows such as that of Ozzie and Harriet Nelson. With his permission, Phi Mu is proud to present his original "Nuclear Suite," "Opus Pocus," and "Ballad for Two Altos" — all

Comedy 'Harvey' Opens 1952-53 Dramatic Season

The University theater's opening production for this season, Mary Chase's three-act comedy "Harvey," will hold its opening performance tonight at 8 in the dramatic arts building auditorium.

Featured in the cast for the production, which is under the direction of Dr. Paul W. Davee, are Dorothy Colonius, G. Alton, III; Harold Marston, G. Ames; Hilah Cherry, A3, Paris, Ill.; Sam Smiley, G. Iowa City; Jack Harkins, A3, St. Louis, Mo.; James Hall, G. Tipton; Carmen Bonacci, G. Pittsburgh, Penn.; Shirley Highland, A4, Pasco, Wash.; Ellen Goen, A3, Manchester; Dorothy Kraft, A1, Mason City; Jerry Silberman, A2, Milwaukee, Wis., and Louise Knox, A3, Sioux City.

"Harvey" is a comedy which concerns a kindly middle-aged bachelor, Elwood P. Dowd, who imagines that he sees a "pooka" (the word being adapted from the Irish language and meaning fairy or spirit).

This "pooka" takes the form of a six-foot rabbit named "Harvey," who befriends Dowd and becomes his constant companion. Various complicated situations develop when Dowd introduces his rabbit-friend to members of his family, all of whom are convinced that Dowd is suffering from an alcoholic delusion.

Dowd's sister, a matronly society-spinster, decides that he should be committed before the family name is ruined, so she attempts to describe Dowd's "delusion" to a psychiatrist, the psychiatrist becoming immediately convinced that it is the sister, and not Dowd, who is really insane. An hilarious situation ensues which, as in all comedies, eventually turns out well.

The play, a theatrical sensation on Broadway, was awarded the Pulitzer prize in 1945. Such famed as Frank Ray, Joe E. Brown, Brock Pemberton, and James Dunn have acted in the leading role, while James Stewart portrayed "Elwood P. Dowd" in the film version of the play.

Student tickets for "Harvey" are now available at room 8A Schaeffer hall. Students may secure their reserved seat by presentation of their identification card.

City High Ends Season At Ft. Dodge

A revised City high football team closes its 1952 season tonight, traveling to Ft. Dodge for a non-conference game.

Coach Frank Bates is planning to shuffle his squad in order to get more offensive and defensive strength and perhaps get a line on next year's team.

The Hawklets, of course, are still minus the four regulars who were dropped from the squad.

2 Juniors, 1 Soph

Two juniors and one sophomore are almost certain to break into the starting lineup for the first time as the Little Hawks try for their seventh victory against a single loss and a tie in what has been a highly successful season including a Mississippi Valley championship.

Charlie Neuchter is due to start at left guard and Jeff Langston and Jon Grandrath will probably start in the backfield. Langston may open at quarterback replacing Benny Hedges. The lanky red-haired sophomore has seen very limited action thus far this season but has looked good in most practice sessions.

Grandrath, another quarterback throughout the season, may open at left halfback in place of Paul Davis, who is out with a side injury and is not expected to see much action, if any, against the Dodgers. This leads to speculation that Grandrath may do some passing from the left half spot.

Maybe Coulter

Bates says there is also a possibility that Dwight Coulter may be used in the backfield, probably at right half with Ken Mellicker going to left half, especially when the Hawklets prefer to run.

Two other juniors may also break into the starting line. Ron Frack may open in place of Bob Shain at right tackle and Jim Frederick might get his first starting opportunity in place of Chuck Warren at right end.

If all these tentative changes take place, it will mean that City high will be starting eight underclassmen with only John Oakes, Gordon Chalk and Graham Crow as seniors in the starting lineup. Shain and Warren are also seniors and will be playing their final game as Little Hawks.

Oakes Captain

Oakes, who missed last week's game against Roosevelt, has been designated as game captain for this state inter-school tilt.

In Ft. Dodge, City high will be meeting an in-and-out team which has been rated as one of the best in the state of Iowa.

Last week the Dodgers were bumped by Mason City, a team which lost to East Waterloo, which, in turn, was beaten by Iowa City. But the figures prove nothing, for Ft. Dodge beat East by a three-touchdown margin, the same as the Hawklets.

Ft. Dodge runs from the T, using mostly power plays, utilizing the speed and drive of backs Hiram Walker, Gary King and Larry Gilpin.

Quarterback Frank Johnston is a fine passer and the top receiver is end John Marrs. Marrs also does the punting for the Dodgers and dropkicks extra points.

Iowa Harriers Top Missouri; 2 Break Mark

Rich Ferguson of Iowa set a new course record of 17:27.8 here Thursday as the Hawkeye cross-country team defeated Missouri, 18-41. The old record of 18:02, set by Iowan Earle Duggan in 1949, was also topped by Iowa's Ted Wheeler, who was second in 17:50.5.

The Hawks placed five runners in the meet's top six to take their third straight win of the year. Missouri's Jerry Piper placed third, but Hawkeyes Herb Morsch, Virgil Von Ahsen and LeRoy Ebert finished in the next three places over the three and one-half mile course.

Bert McVay of Missouri was seventh, Art Fudge of Iowa was eighth, Bob Lindquist and Bud Bradshaw of Missouri were ninth and 10th, Iowa's Bruce Nolf was 11th and Ken Hirshey of Missouri was 12th.

9 Lettermen Back As Swimming Begins; 24 Working Out

Nine returning lettermen will strengthen Iowa's swimming team as practice opens for the nine-month schedule. Coach David Armbruster said. Twenty-four men are working out.

The notable absentee is Bowen Stassforth, runner-up for the Iowa breaststroke title and holder of 11 American records.

Among the returning lettermen are: Bunny Broeder, St. Louis, Mo.; Albert Higgins, Clinton; Ron Johnson, St. Louis, Mo.; Don Labahn, Evanston, Ill.; Buddy Lucas, Auckland, New Zealand; Kéo Mana, Honolulu, Hawaii; Ed Mulahay, Des Moines; Dick Pennington, Phoenix, Ariz.; and Willis Weber, Iowa City.

Promising swimmers up from last year's freshman squad include John Bogert, Oelwein; Tom Christensen, Fargo, N. D.; Don Katyna, Chicago; Don Macha, Marion; Dennis Roberson, Clinton; Al Rowe, Dubuque; Tom Tucker, Ft. Madison; and Dick Weis, Davenport.

Squadmen who did not compete last year include Ben Goo, Honolulu, Hawaii; Dave Holleran, Clinton; Dennis Lynch, Des Moines; Ralph Speas, Delmar; Bob Steier, Minneapolis, Minn.; David Van de Water, Omaha, Neb.; and Bob Young, Waterloo.

The schedule includes dual meets with Wisconsin, Michigan, Northwestern, Minnesota, Purdue and Illinois and the Big Ten, NCAA and AAU championship affairs. Iowa will be host to the Big Ten title meet in March, 1953.

Inman New 'Find' But Injury May Stop Him Against Illinois

Iowa's football coach, Forest Evashevski, is no magician, yet for the sixth time this season he has reached into his hat and pulled out, not the traditional rabbit, but a halfback with some of the bunny's running features.

His latest find — Don Inman, Tama sophomore, who was the sixth different Hawkeye to lead the running attack in six different games.

Inman followed the sophomore pattern well. This pattern was first set by Jim Milani, who was the rushing leader vs. Pittsburgh. Bobby Stearnes, another sophomore, was tops against Indiana and Jim Hatch was high vs. Ohio State.

8 Yards in Other Tilts

The husky Inman, a 190-pounder, had carried the ball only twice for eight yards in other games and had not been in much action because of bothersome injuries.

But he ran for 120 yards in 21 trials vs. Minnesota, including a 33-yard sprint to the Minnesota 11-yard line. Two plays later, he punched to a first down on the Gopher one-yard line, from which point Binkey Broeder scored a TD.

However, this week, Don, like most of the halfbacks, is bothered by a knee injury suffered in that Minnesota game, and it is doubtful if he can see much action against Illinois.

Inman No Surprise

That Inman came through should be no special surprise, because he was a three-time all-stater on Tama's single wing team. He was a fullback as a freshman on Iowa's 1951 JV team and in 1952 spring drills looked good as a halfback, especially in the spring game when he ran and passed well.

Speed and drive are his best assets. He keeps his feet well and last week picked up most of his yardage simply by outrunning or caroming off Gopher tacklers.

Besides his ability to sprint for the open spaces, Inman is a threat as a passer. He hurls left-handed, one of four southpaws on the Iowa squad, and he can pass on the run. It is likely that he will be used more in this role in remaining games. Although he has completed one of three to date, his good one hit for a TD.

Iowa's gridders went through final play-polishing and checking of assignments in Thursday's workout.

Evy said that Bob Keefe would probably start at right halfback. Keefe had an operation for ruptured spleen in September but his recovery was so rapid that he rejoined the squad in mid-October. He has not played in any games yet.

Burt Britzmann's shoulder has shown some improvement and he may be able to play some.

Jim Milani Thursday was declared through for the season. His loss was the fourth suffered by the Iowa squad because of injuries. The others are Bob Phillips, halfback; Pete Spanjers, guard; and Joe Paulson, tackle, each of whom also is lost for the remainder of the season.

Irish Face Tough Battle To Avert Worst Defeat

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's fighting Irish, in a strange champion-maker role, may have to battle to avert their worst defeat under Frank Leahy when Oklahoma's splendid Sooners roll against them Saturday.

With the eyes of the nation on them via TV, the once-unbeatable Irish will find Oklahoma; the country's top rushing and scoring team, trying to give them a harder belting than may Michigan State a week later.

Oklahoma, a two-touchdown favorite over the Irish, is ranked fourth in the AP's national poll, while Michigan State is king of the hill. Oklahoma's only chance to shake a fist at proud Michigan State is through Notre Dame.

It was Michigan State that last season handed a Leahy-coached Notre Dame Team its worst defeat, 35-0. In six games this season, unbeaten but once-tied Oklahoma has averaged 42 points per contest.

Notre Dame with a 4-1-1 record has averaged 19.5 points, but in Oklahoma faces a team that has yielded an average of only 100 yards rushing per game to rank ninth nationally in that department.

Pittsburgh, the only team to beat Notre Dame, 22-19, was whopped by Oklahoma, 49-20. Also by a 49-20 score, the Sooners trimmed Texas which was upset by Notre Dame, 14-3. Notre Dame partisans have held without a touchdown on its own field.

Notre Dame spirit cannot be discounted, but if Leahy points his lads too high for the Sooners the roof may cave in on them against Michigan State.

Coach Bud Wilkinson, on the other hand, doesn't have to charge up his Sooners. They know this is the big one as far as national honors go. If the Sooners can manhandle the Irish and Michigan State sputters or stumbles against them, Oklahoma might well claim the national title.

Ex-Kentucky Stars Barred from Sports 3 Years by Judge

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge ruled Thursday that three former University of Kentucky and Olympic basketball stars convicted of conspiring with gamblers must not engage in any amateur or professional sports for three years.

The players are Ralph Beard and Alex Groza, all-Americans, and Dale Barnstable, all of whom were placed on probation for three years after being given suspended sentences.

General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit told Beard and Groza in his chambers that their sports ban would apply through the probationary period. The same notification was sent to Barnstable, who was not present.

Groza and Beard had become members of the Jersey City team in the American Basketball league. The league folded up last week after a majority of club presidents voted against allowing any team to use players involved in the college "point shaving" scandal.

The three former Kentucky players were indicted on charges of conspiring with gamblers and accepting a bribe in connection with a Madison Square Garden game with Loyola of Chicago, played March 14, 1949.

U.S. Spurns Russian Protest Of Korean Sea Defense Zone

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States firmly supported Thursday, Gen. Mark Clark's creation of a sea defense zone in Korean waters and spurned a Russian protest of it.

The state department will send a note to Moscow formally rejecting the Soviet protest. For the moment the American attitude was disclosed informally by department press officer Michael McDermott.

The Kremlin objection was set forth in a note received in Washington Tuesday and translated and studied by officials Wednesday. It followed announcement by Gen. Clark, the United Nations commander in Korea, on Sept. 27 about the establishment of the sea defense zone.

Complaint Called Maneuver
Whether the Russians thought the UN patrol operations within the zone might hamper maritime activities of their own or whether they were merely registering propaganda protests was not indicated by their note. But the state department asserted that the complaint was essentially a propaganda maneuver.

McDermott described it as one of a "seemingly endless series of messages maliciously designed to deceive people into believing that legitimate counter measures to acts of aggression are themselves 'new acts of aggression.'"

McDermott recalled that on Sept. 27 Gen. Clark in announcing the new defense zone "set forth the reasons for his action." He described Clark's reasons as being to prevent attacks on the South Korean coast, to secure his lines of communication and to prevent the smuggling of contraband and enemy agents into South Korean territory.

Need to Stop Agents
Clark emphasized particularly the need to prevent enemy agents from reaching prisoner of war camps set up on Korean islands. Various bloody prisoner uprisings are reported to have been traced to instructions delivered to the camps by such agents.

Russia accused the United States of instigating an illegal blockade in Korean waters. It said Clark's order was "a new act of aggression having once again that the United States government is not only unwilling to stop the war in Korea but is following the path of new acts of aggression."

French Book Show Goes on Display in SUI Library

Books currently popular in the French kiddie set are now on display in the lobby of the SUI library.

The collection was sent by the cultural services office of the French embassy in New York, according to Pauline Aspel, who teaches in the French department here.

"The books have been wonderful for teaching purposes," said Mrs. Aspel, who also teaches a special private French class for children. All of the books have been published since the war as children's books for pleasure reading, not as texts.

Mrs. Aspel emphasized the contact that the books have made between French and American children, saying that the experiment has been highly successful.

Before being exhibited at the library the books were on display for a week at the university high school and at Memorial Union during Homecoming.

The display will continue through Saturday.

Geology Group To Show Movie

The geology department will sponsor a sound and color movie today at 4:15 p.m. in the geology lecture room.

The movie will be about the airborne use of the magnetometer, a device used to detect the presence of deposits of petroleum and metallic materials.

The magnetometer detects difference in the magnetic field of the earth which are modified by differences in rocks and minerals. It is carried by a plane several thousand feet above the earth.

The movie, which is 35 minutes long, is not highly technical. The public is invited to attend.

Congressman and Mrs. Martin plan to arrive in Detroit Saturday where they will spend several days visiting their son, Richard Martin, his wife, and two children. Hiding of $750 Million Told in New York Treason Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—How a $750,000,000 silver hoard—265 truckloads of coin from Corregidor—was dumped into the Pacific just before the Philippine stronghold fell to the Japanese was recounted Thursday at the treason trial of former Sgt. John D. Provo.

Defense Attorney George Plotkin introduced the subject during cross examination of retired army Col. Louis J. Bowler of Alameda, Calif. He was chief of staff for Gen. George F. Moore on Corregidor and supervised the dumping operation.

Plotkin apparently was trying to show Provo knew but did not disclose the treasury's watery hiding place to the Japanese.

On Trial for Life
Provo, 35, is on trial for his life. He is accused of going over to the Japanese after his capture, broadcasting propaganda for them and directing their brutalities at American fellow captives, one of whom, Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Ia., was executed by the enemy. Provo also is charged with urging his fellow prisoners to divulge the whereabouts of the silver.

Bowler said the silver was dumped into the ocean on orders from General Moore. He testified that between 75 and 80 men took part in the operation and "quite a number of individuals knew that the contents of the vault were being removed and something was being dumped in the bay."

Asks About Operations
Plotkin wanted to know if the operations were "plainly visible to anyone who cared to watch."

"I would not go that far, sir," Bowler replied.

One of the first acts of the Japanese after they had taken Corregidor, Bowler said, was to take him to the vault, but it was "not only empty, but the marines had swept it out and cleaned it."

Nixon's Return To Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)— Vice-President-elect Nixon, who only seven weeks ago wasn't sure of a place on the Republican ticket, turned in triumph to Washington Thursday.

A crowd of around 200 was at the airport to meet him on his return from his home in California. There was a floral display, in the shape of a "V" for victory, for his wife, and fellow campaigner, Pat.

Nixon waved happily to the crowd, then posed for pictures in front of a large facsimile of a postal card which said, "Hail to the Veep!" and was signed, "Everywhere U.S.A."

Resign Before January
Nixon told reporters he expects to resign his senate seat before the new congress meets on Jan. 3.

This will allow Gov. Earl Warren of California to appoint a man prior to Jan. 3 and the appointee thus will have seniority over the new senators who were elected Tuesday. In the senate, where jobs are decided on the basis of seniority, this is important.

Warren said Wednesday night he would appoint some Southern California Republican.

Hasn't Seen Ike
Nixon said he had talked only briefly with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower since the two of them swept to a landslide victory.

Watching the 38-year-old Nixon confidently talk of the future, it was a little hard to remember that only seven weeks ago the burning political issue was would Nixon be dropped from the ticket?

It had been disclosed that Nixon had accepted $18,000 for political expenses from California friends.

The Dramatic Defense
Then came Nixon's dramatic defense by radio and television, with his wife sitting in the background. Republican headquarters were deluged with telegrams supporting Nixon, and Eisenhower said Nixon was completely vindicated.

While Nixon talked with reporters, his wife circulated about shaking hands with friends.

Cash donations totaling $1,900 have been received by radio station KKIC on behalf of the John P. McNerney family whose home early Wednesday was gutted by a fire in which two of the McNerney children died of suffocation.

Between $700 and $800 has been pledged but not yet received and large quantities of food, clothing and furniture also have been contributed.

Funeral services for the two children, Gary, 7, and Janice, 5, will be held at 9 a.m. today at St. Wenceslaus church and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Many of the donations have been brought in person to the homes of Mrs. George Vacik, 944

E. Davenport st. and Mrs. Mae Walker, 323 N. Lucas st. Others have contributed by calling 8-0120 to have their donations picked up.

In addition to many articles which have now been delivered, many others will be made available to the McNerneys as soon as they can re-establish a home, Mrs. Vacik said. Mr. and Mrs. McNerney and their two surviving children are now staying with Mrs. McNerney's mother, Mrs. May Wombacher of Iowa City.

Ike's Envoy Faces Big Budget Task

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President-elect Eisenhower's representative meets here with budget director Frederick J. Lawton he will find the big budget items still subject to high review and change. Lawton and his top aides, it was learned Thursday, have not yet reviewed and approved departmental estimates for defense, atomic energy and foreign aid for the fiscal year 1954, which starts next July 1.

President Truman must, by law, submit to congress the budget for fiscal 1954 not later than Jan. 18, two days before Eisenhower's inauguration.

Truman's message to Eisenhower inviting him to send a representative to sit in with Lawton did not say Lawton was to be guided by Eisenhower's man. It said Eisenhower should send someone "so that he will be fully informed as to the items in the budget."

In a statement Thursday, Lawton gave no indication as to how much, if at all, he was prepared to be influenced by Eisenhower's representative in preparing the budget estimates Lawton will send to the President for final revision and approval.

The schedule calls for the President to make his final budget decisions by Dec. 15.

After the budget goes to congress, of course, that branch of government can make any changes it desires.

If Lawton were prepared to be influenced by Eisenhower's representative, the fact that the defense, atomic energy and foreign aid estimates have not yet been reviewed leaves a big field to work on.

These items account for 58 of the estimated 79 billion government expenditures in the current fiscal year.

83d Congress . . .

ceeds veteran Carl Vinson of Georgia on the house armed services committee.

The house un-American activities committee goes to Rep. Harold Velde of Illinois, former G-man and spy hunter, succeeding John S. Wood of Georgia, who retired from congress.

The house rules committee, with its control over all bills, falls to Rep. Leo Allen of Illinois.

Organization of the senate probably will find Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana, both Democratic targets in the campaign, holding down committee chairmanships.

McCarthy a Chairman
McCarthy is in line to take over control of the committee on government operations, the senate's most important investigating group. The committee has overall authority to investigate anyone and any agency in the executive branch of the government.

Jenner succeeds to the chairmanship of the senate rules committee. Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts was in line for the rules post, but he was defeated for re-election.

The senate banking committee is due to fall to Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana, long standing foe of economic controls and a special target of Truman in the legislative battles over controls.

Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio is in line for chairmanship of the senate labor committee, while Sen. Alexander Wilcox of Wisconsin can take over the senate foreign relations committee if he chooses. Wiley also is senior Republican on the judiciary committee.

Hilton Named President Of Iowa State College

DES MOINES (AP) — The state board of education announced Thursday that Dr. James Harold Hilton, a graduate of Iowa State college and presently dean of agriculture at North Carolina State college, will become president of Iowa State July 1, 1953.

Hilton will succeed Dr. Charles E. Friley, who has been president of the college the last 17 years. Dr. Friley will retire July 1, 1953 under the automatic age-retirement rule of the board.

Dr. Friley's salary is $16,000 a year. The board did not announce what the salary of his successor would be. The announcement said the board has had the important appointment under consideration for nearly a year.

Chosen from 350
The names of more than 350 persons had been submitted to the board by college faculty members for consideration for the appointment. Among them were two Iowa State deans and several graduates of the college.

The graduates included Dr. Hilton and Allan Kline of Vinton, president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

The deans are Harold V. Gaskill, head of the college's science department and Floyd Andre, dean of the division of agriculture. Andre said he was not interested in the appointment.

"That Dr. Hilton best fitted the qualifications was indicated by the unanimous decision of the entire board," board president Dwight G. Rider of Ft. Dodge said in announcing the appointment.

Jury Acquits Wife Charged With Murder

REIMS, France (AP)—Traditional French gallantry toward a woman accused of a crime of passion came to the rescue Thursday of Yvonne Chevallier, 40, charged with the murder of her politician husband.

A jury of four farmers, a traveling salesman and a mason acquitted her, after 40 minutes deliberation, of the murder of Pierre Chevallier, 42.

She was accused of firing five shots into him at Orleans, Aug. 12, 1951, the day after he had been named minister of youth and sports in Premier Rene Pleven's cabinet.

Wan and haggard, Yvonne received the verdict with a smile, her first of the two-day trial.

A crowd of several hundred in the courtroom applauded the mother of two.

A plain farmer's daughter who had failed to keep up with her husband's political and social career, Yvonne made no attempt to deny the shooting.

Her defense was that she committed the crime in a moment of passion after her husband declared he was going to divorce her and marry his more glamorous mistress, pretty blonde Jeanne Perreau, 34, owner of an Orleans candy store.

He had returned home to pick up a change of clothing before visiting his mistress.

'Campus Prayers' Pamphlet Published as Tribute to Lampe

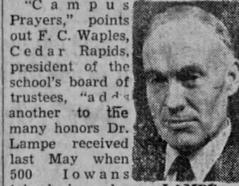

As a tribute to M. Willard Lampe's 25 years of leadership, the board of trustees of the SUI school of religion has published a booklet of prayers delivered at various public occasions by Lampe, director of the school.

"Campus Prayers," points out F. C. Waples, Cedar Rapids, president of the school's board of trustees, "is another tribute to the many honors Dr. Lampe received last May when 500 Iowans joined in celebrating the silver anniversary of the Iowa experiment in inter-faith study."

Many people, Waples said, felt that these classic prayers should be preserved and made available to Lampe's many friends.

In the forward to the 36-page collection, trustee O. D. Foster writes that the prayers "revolve in thought and spirit" around the Iowa school of religion, which Waples has described as an "antidote to many of the prejudices and tensions of our times."

"We expect and we respect differences," Lampe has often said in explaining how Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant professors, paid by their own church groups, work together in adjoining offices to achieve the objectives of the school, whose director and administrative expenses are paid by SUI. Lampe's lifetime job, his associates say, has been to strive for greater cooperation among all faiths by stressing what different churches have in common.

At the time of his Iowa appointment his credentials and recommendations so impressed the board members, wrote Marcus Bach in "Of Faith and Learning," the school of religion's story which was published last summer, that "one of the board members said with a smile, 'It seems to me that we have not only to decide whether we want Dr. Lampe, but whether Dr. Lampe wants us.'"

That Lampe did want SUI is revealed throughout the pages of "Campus Prayers," says Sam T. Morrison, Iowa City, trustee directed by the board last spring to gather and publish a representative selection from the hundreds of prayers which Lampe has given.

J. A. Swisher, retired researcher for the Iowa historical society, and Carroll Coleman, associate professor of journalism and university typographer, worked with Morrison in selecting two dozen prayers which would best represent the many kinds of prayers Lampe has been called upon to give.

October Fire Calls Set New Record

Fire calls reached a record number during the month of October in Iowa City, fire chief Al Dolezal reported Thursday. He said that most of them were caused by carelessness.

The local fire department answered a total of 95 calls during the month. The majority were grass and leaf fire alarms. They could have been avoided if persons had been more cautious, Dolezal said.

FACTS YOU WILL WANT TO KNOW ABOUT "IVANHOE"

M-G-M's production of Sir Walter Scott's famous novel of romantic adventure is the first time this story has ever been brought to the screen as a full-length feature.

"Ivanhoe" was two years in production. Many months of research at the British Museum preceded actual filming. Every detail of costumes and settings was painstakingly checked for authenticity.

M-G-M transported stars and technicians thousands of miles to the actual locales of the story in England. "Ivanhoe" was filmed in its entirety amid ancient castles, famous battlefields and other historic sites.

Among the scenes recreated was the storming of Torquilstone Castle with thousands of archers hurling themselves over the moats and against the battlements.

The fabulous Ashby Tourney which tested the courage and skill of knights in battle is shown in all its fury and splendor. The armor worn by the knights was hand-wrought as in the medieval days.

The gallant crusaders of Richard the Lion-Hearted and the Norman legions of Prince John were trained in the use of their lances and broadswords by military experts for many months prior to the big battle scenes.

"Ivanhoe" comes to the screen enriched by Technicolor and with thousands in the cast, including such great stars as Robert Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, Joan Fontaine, George Sanders and Emyln Williams.
