

Bacteriologists From 4 States To Meet Here

Bacteriologists from Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota and Iowa will bring together this weekend at SUU the results of their recent studies in the microbial world, according to Albert McKee, professor of bacteriology and secretary of the four-state organization.

The approximately 80 representatives of the northcentral regional branch of the Society of American Bacteriologists Nov. 14 and 15 will be the third group this year to use the new Iowa Center for Continuation Study.

Housed Hardware Dealers

Formerly Law Commons dormitory, the three-story center overlooking the Iowa river lodged a group of hardware retailers early in October and a mental health workshop for community leaders last week.

John R. Porter, chairman of the university bacteriology department will speak to the assembled scientists of one-celled organisms and viruses Friday evening on the topic, "The Past, Present, and Future of the Journal of Bacteriology."

Engle Denies Legion Charge Of Red Ties

Prof. Paul C. Engle, head of the SUU creative arts department and now on a year's leave from the university, has denied any connection with Communist front groups.

Engle's denial of any Red affiliations followed a charge last Saturday by the Huntington, W. Va. American Legion post that he and two others had been identified with alleged subversive organizations.

The others involved were Max Lerner, professor of American civilization at Brandeis university, Waltham, Mass., and Margaret Bourke-White, noted photographer, now on assignment in the Far East for Life magazine.

As a result of the charges Marshall college at Huntington Saturday canceled its forum series at which Engle and the other two were scheduled to speak.

Engle said that he has not yet been notified of the Marshall college cancellation.

"This is the first time my name has appeared in any such connection," he said. "To my knowledge my name has never appeared in the Un-American activities committee records."

Engle is now in Harriman, N. Y., on a Ford foundation creative writing fellowship.

In a telephone conversation Monday night with The Daily Iowan, the Huntington Legion post said it protested the appearance of the three speakers to Marshall college officials following an investigation in which it was found that the names of Lerner, Miss Bourke-White, and Engle were listed by the house un-American activities committee as being connected with alleged subversive groups.

Edits Journal

Porter is editor of the journal, which since 1916 has been the monthly publication of the American Society of Bacteriologists. On the SUU faculty since 1938, he is the author of several published articles and a 1,063 page-text, "Bacterial Chemistry and Physiology."

Iowans who will preside over sessions include Oliver H. Peterson of the Salsbury Laboratory, Charles City; A. H. Killinger of the Fort Dodge Laboratory; and F. E. Nelson, professor of bacteriology at Iowa State college, Ames.

Non-Iowa institutions to be represented include the universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin and the Mayo foundation, Rochester, Minn.

UN Forces Repel Communist Attacks On Rain-Swept Line

SEOUL, Korea (Tuesday) (AP)—United Nations forces threw back communist attacks at points all along the rain-swept war front this Armistice day in a land where there is no armistice.

Allied troops, in less than an hour of fighting, early Tuesday beat off 300 North Korean attacking three hill south of Anchor hill near the eastern end of the battle line.

The allies Monday repelled North Korean attacks on Anchor Hill and another crest to the south in 14 hours of bloody fighting.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth army commander announced that two new South Korean divisions and six more infantry regiments had been activated and would be ready for combat soon. This brings the number of ROK divisions to 12, with nine in the battle line.

Ground fighting flared anew on the western front when Chinese launched their second 350-man attack on Porkchop hill in four hours.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEQUEL (AP)—The U.S. eighth army is preparing to receive President-elect Eisenhower and probably will black out news on all his movements until he leaves. This means the outside world would not even know the President-elect had arrived in Korea until he had departed the country.

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA (AP)—Search planes sighted wreckage on an Alaskan mountain Monday which may be the C-119 that vanished Friday with 19 aboard. In announcing that 10th air rescue fliers had sighted the wreckage, an Alaska air command spokesman emphasized that it had not been identified as the missing plane. However, there is no known wreckage of any other plane in the area.

HANOI, INDO-CHINA (AP)—French fighter planes and bombers continued Monday to hit hard the Communist-led Vietnam's supply bases along the upper Red river, destroying munitions plants and starting big fires.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The UN General assembly observed a moment of silence Monday in memory of Israel's late President, Dr. Chaim Weizmann.

PERTH, AUSTRALIA (AP)—A strong box containing gold bullion worth about 13,000 Australian pounds ($38,400) disappeared Monday from the Kalgoorlie railway station. It was one of three boxes consigned to Perth by the Teonora Branch National bank.

SEOUL, KOREA (AP)—U.S. eighth army commander Gen. James A. Van Fleet said Monday more than two additional divisions of South Korean troops had been activated and would soon be ready for combat. Van Fleet said the increase should enable the Republic of Korea to take over more of the fighting front than it now guards.

SUI Orchestra To Play Wednesday

The SUI symphony orchestra will present its second concert of the 1952-53 season Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of the Memorial Union.

Included in the program will be the "Faust" overture by Richard Wagner, "Suite in D," Opus 39, by Antonin Dvorak, and Symphony No. 2, "Romantic," Opus 30, by Howard Hanson, a midwestern composer who has achieved international fame.

Admission to the concert is free to both the public and the student body.

Tickets may be picked up at the information desk of the Union any time before the performance.

Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the university department of music, will conduct. University station WSUI will carry a direct broadcast.

Recruits Get 1-Day Christmas Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christmas and New Year leaves for more than 171,000 army recruits will be limited to one-day passes under a holiday vacation schedule announced Monday. Other army personnel will be eligible for longer leaves.

The army said the "critical requirement" of an interrupted flow of trained replacements to the forces overseas makes it impossible to suspend any basic training schedules this year. Training was suspended for 10 days last year.

Soldiers who have completed their 16-weeks basic training program will be eligible for leaves beginning Dec. 20 and ending Jan. 5.

A navy spokesman said these are its plans:

Men who reported to boot camps on or after Nov. 7 will be ineligible for holiday leaves but may be granted one-day passes.

Granting of holiday leaves for men who have completed their boot camp basic training will be left up to commanders.

Recruits who have completed six weeks of training will get up to 14 days between Dec. 20 and Jan. 4 but men taking leave at that time will have a proportionate period subtracted from the leave normally granted after completion of boot training.

Quad Elects Nicholson, Garry to Student Council

Pat Garry, A3, Bancroft and Howard Nicholson, L3, Newton, were elected Quadrangle representatives to the SUI student council at a regular meeting of the Quad council Monday night.

The vacancies were caused when Joe Venaglia, Missouri Valley did not return to school and Kemp Forney, A3, Sibley, resigned.

South African Race Rioting Flares Again

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Violence erupted again Monday night in the east coast port of East London, where police fired on Negro demonstrators. The church was burned out.

Across the Buffalo river from Sunday's and Monday's clashes in a native settlement in East London, natives Monday night set fire to a Roman Catholic church. The church was burned out.

The new violence followed a strike by thousands of Negroes in another Cape Province city, Port Elizabeth, more than 150 miles southwest of East London.

South Koreans Await Medical Aid

SOUTH KOREAN SOLDIERS, WOUNDED in bitter Armistice day attacks in Korea, await further aid in a central front aid station after receiving first aid. It was reported two new South Korean divisions will be ready for combat soon.

Opposition to White Rule

Racial violence has been flaring up at various places in South Africa as a result of non-white opposition to the government's policies of white supremacy and racial segregation.

Thirteen persons were killed over the weekend in riots at the diamond city of Kimberley, also in Cape Province.

In the last 48 hours about a dozen buildings have been fired in East London, including government, educational, and church institutions.

Total of 46 Killed

In all, 46 persons have been killed and 139 injured in recent riots in scattered cities, including the first outbreak at Port Elizabeth on Oct. 18.

The industrial center and chief port of East Cape Province lies 450 miles east of Capetown.

Russell to Support Johnson For Senate Minority Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) announced Monday he is supporting Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for Democratic leader of the senate in the new congress.

Russell himself has figured prominently in speculation as to whom would get the assignment, but he predicted it would go to the Texan.

In the house, meanwhile, a prospective fight over the Republican leader's post was reported brewing.

And a key Democrat seeking to avoid a similar dispute over the minority leadership predicted that Speaker of the House Rayburn will accept it.

Senate Leader Defeated

The senate Democratic leader's spot is vacant because of the defeat for re-election of Sen. McCarran of Arizona.

Questioned by reporters as to whether he was a candidate for the senate minority leadership, Johnson declined a specific answer but made it apparent he would accept.

In the house, friends of Representative Halleck of Indiana were talking of booming him for house speaker, the No. 1 spot of the Republican majority.

Martin May Return

It had been presumed that Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who held the job in the GOP-controlled 80th congress of 1947-48, would return to his old post.

Halleck, away on a hunting trip, was not available to say whether he would seek the speakership or try to regain the role of majority leader, which he held in the 80th congress.

Martin, in Boston, said he had heard no word of any opposition to his regaining the speakership. "I am a candidate for speaker," he told a reporter, "and I shall be elected."

Caucus Fills Posts

The two top house posts are filled by a majority party caucus. Those who talk of pushing Halleck for the speakership claim the support of Eisenhower forces on the ground that Halleck supported the President-elect before the GOP convention while Martin's choice was Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Former Nazis Elected By West German Voters

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A surge toward the right swept several former Nazis back into local offices in three West German state elections.

Returns from Sunday's voting indicated that the federal government, already controlled by a conservative-rightwing coalition, may even farther right in next year's parliamentary election.

As a definite gauge of prospects for the 1953 national election, the voting was hard to interpret because only town and county offices were at stake and there were a variety of different party coalitions in various regions.

But two things were clear:

1. The vote for rightwing parties increased — especially for radical rightist groups which may hold the key to next year's outcome.
2. Nazis are beginning to make a political comeback in this country which only seven years ago was shattered by a losing Nazi war.

Outstanding among the old Nazis voted into office was Wilhelm Schepman, last chief of staff of Hitler's storm troopers, who won a seat on both the town and county councils of Gifhorn, near Brunswick. He ran on the Refugee party (BHE) ticket.

Returns counted so far indicate about 10 million of 15 million eligible voters cast ballots.

Silent Observance For Armistice Day

No organized demonstration or celebration will be held today in Iowa City to observe Armistice day.

Graham Marshall, spokesman for the Iowa City American Legion Post 17, said that the legion observed Armistice day by conducting a ceremony at its regular meeting Monday night.

The Korean incident and the termination of World War II have overshadowed the observance of the end of World War I, Graham said.

Army Doctor Warns—Too Comfortable Car Windows Break Elbows

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An army doctor suggested Monday that automobile windows be made "less comfortable" so as to help prevent drivers from breaking their elbows.

Saying that doctors throughout the country are concerned "at the increasing number of fractures resulting from car windows," Col. Milton S. Thompson of Brooke army hospital, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., told the 46th meeting of the Southern Medical association:

"An item which contributes to car window accidents is the convenient location of the window sill.

"If the sills were either lower or higher, they would not be so conducive to elbow-resting.

"Some models do have sills 17 and 18 inches from the seat, but the average height is 15 to 16 inches, a most comfortable height for an elbow."

Col. Thompson made a report co-jointly with Maj. George H. Chambers on 80 men who had suffered protruding elbow fractures.

He said sideswiping trucks were involved in a majority of the cases.

Saying that he had sent questionnaires to the various states to investigate the problem, Col. Thompson said:

"Drivers license examinees in 14 states are penalized for resting the elbow on the car window.

"Seven more states warn the examinee against the practice and Colorado fails an examinee for doing it.

"The army drivers manual forbids it."

Committee Hears Views on Pensions

DES MOINES (AP)—A special committee studying the advisability of changes in the Iowa public employ pension system spent Monday hearing about a dozen organizations re-state their positions on the situation.

State Sen. Herman B. Lord (R-Miscatine), committee chairman, said the group would conclude its work this week. But, he added, the committee report would not be released until about Jan. 1.

The 1951 legislature established the committee, and asked it to make recommendations to the next legislature, which convenes in January.

The committee is expected to make three recommendations: repeal of the present system, bringing the covered employes under Federal Social Security, and enacting a supplemental state system.

The principal objection against the present state system is that it gives no refund to those employes who do not remain in public employment long enough to qualify for benefits. Also, actuaries had said the present system is financially unsound.

WSUI to Present Armistice Program

In memoriam to Armistice day WSUI will present at 8 tonight a special program called "Miracles of Faith."

Featured on the program will be the cantata "Miracles of Faith," written especially for the Coe college centennial held last spring by Darius Milhaud.

The cantata is performed by the Coe college orchestra and chorus. The accompanying script was written by an SUI senior, Larry Tiggs, Chicago, Ill.

Mission Speaker Unable to Attend

Dr. Gabriel Nahas, former French officer who was to make several appearances at the University Christian Mission this week, will not be able to participate due to illness in his family, it was announced Monday.

His scheduled speeches will be replaced by Dr. C. U. Wolf and other guest speakers at the mission.

The eight out-of-state speakers will be available for personal conferences with students during their stay here. Students who are interested in conferences should call university X2022 for more information.

editorial A Deplorable Display

Two weeks ago SUI received nationwide acclaim for its excellent show of school spirit before the Ohio State game here. The students were especially praised for crowding onto the field before the contest and forming a lane from the Hawkeye dressing room to the bench. They then shouted encouragement to the players as they passed through.

In fact, the students were given a lot of the credit, both by coaches and the press, for the Hawks upset win over the Buckeyes.

But last Saturday — against Illinois — it was a different story. The students, along with Iowa fans, made the headlines once again — but this time for their unsportsman-like conduct over a decision by a referee. The decision, a clipping penalty against Iowa, led to his being pelted by a barrage of apples from the student sections of the stands.

Some newspapers even went so far as to employ that over-used word "riot" in describing the incident.

Regardless of the description, however, the net effect of the affair was to give the SUI student body and the school a black eye as far as sports fans throughout the nation are concerned. Such an incident can go far in destroying the good will created by SUI in recent years during its campaign to promote good sportsmanship among Iowa fans and players alike.

And what is so disturbing is the fact that the demonstration, and the unfavorable publicity following it, was due to a small minority in the student body. We believe that most of the students, like the Iowan, deplored the display.

We therefore appeal to that more mature majority to take the situation in hand should such a demonstration occur again at some future Hawkeye athletic event. A few caustic comments to "rabble-rousers" can go a long way in stopping a similar incident which next time may lead to serious consequences.

Cabinet Posts, Budget Face Eisenhower

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON — One of the first and biggest jobs to face President-elect Eisenhower will be to pick his cabinet.

One name that has figured prominently in unofficial speculation is that of Henry Cabot Lodge, campaign manager for the general even before there was a campaign to manage.

Defeated for re-election to the senate from Massachusetts, Lodge is being talked of most generally for secretary of defense. Lodge has said that he would not accept an appointment from Eisenhower and has indicated he might enter the newspaper business.

2 Names Foremost
Two names dominate speculation about secretary of state: Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and John Foster Dulles, former GOP adviser to the state department.

Among other unofficial cabinet candidates:

Treasury — Several New York bankers, including Winthrop Aldrich.

Justice — Gov. Earl Warren of California if he wants the job.

Agriculture — Rep. Clifford Hope and Sen. Frank Carlson, both of Kansas.

Western Representation
Interior — "Somebody from a western state."

Postoffice — If Eisenhower follows custom, his postmaster general will be Arthur Summerfield Jr., GOP national chairman.

Commerce and Labor — No strong guesses.

Eisenhower will be faced with an unprecedented budget situation when he takes office.

His new congress will already have received President Truman's budget estimate for the fiscal year beginning July 1. It will necessarily reflect the policies of the outgoing administration, but of course can be changed in any way Eisenhower and the new congress wish.

Recal F. D. R. Budget
When Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated March 4, 1933, the budget had been in the hands of a "lame duck" congress since Dec. 5. Law now sets Jan. 3 for the new congress to convene and Jan. 20 for the inauguration of the President, and requires the budget to be submitted within 15 days after congress opens.

The budget has been in preparation since Sept. 15. Truman has suggested to the President-elect that he send a representative for consultation. Eisenhower has agreed.

Ike's Wide Margin Outshines GOP's Thin Edge, Votes Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — The still incomplete returns from Tuesday's Republican election sweep etched some interesting vote patterns for political historians.

Written indelibly in the record was the fact that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower proved himself stronger than his party in his first try for public office.

This was established especially by the fact that while the hero of World War II ran up a smashing record vote and a plurality of more than six million over his opponent, his party barely squeaked through with thin margins of control in senate and house.

Warning About Future
Thus, the former soldier's great personal victory could also be a warning to his party about the future. That is, unless it breaks tradition it might very well lose control of congress two years hence when Eisenhower's name will not be on the ballot and senate and house candidates will be on their own.

Almost always the party which sours out of power gains strength in congress in the off-year elections between presidential voting. There has been only one exception to that rule in the past 94 years. That was in 1934 after Franklin D. Roosevelt's first election in 1932.

It looks as if the Republicans this time will wind up with 221 house and 49 senate seats if Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who personally switched his label from Republican to independent before the election, is still counted among the Republicans. A house majority is 218, a senate 49.

Much Personal Strength
Further evidence of General Eisenhower's personal vote strength was seen in the fact that while he won all the following 12 states outside the south, the Democrats retained their present strength in the house in those states.

Colorado one district in doubt but leaning Democratic; Illinois Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Jersey, New Mexico, Ohio, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

The winning candidate rakes ahead of his party's state tickets in all states outside the south except four—five if Republican Sen. William F. Knowland's big margin over the Eisenhower vote in California is counted. The latter is not a good comparison because Knowland had both major party nominations.

Easily Outdistanced Others
Eisenhower easily outdistanced the few Republican state candidates in the south. The GOP never offers strong opposition there and this time was no exception. It had candidates for governor in only three states and no candidates for the senate.

And the Republican senate gubernatorial candidates who ran ahead of Eisenhower elsewhere did so only by the slimmest of margins, except in Wisconsin.

GOP Leaders Express View Truman Tour Hurt Stevenson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft and four other Republican leaders were on record Monday as saying President Truman's give-'em-hell tactics hurt Gov. Adlai Stevenson's bid for the presidency.

Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's campaign manager, commented that some of the things Truman said in attacking Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower "seemed very blunt" and were "disturbing" to many people.

But Wyatt said he thinks Truman's whistle-stop speeches were a "plus contribution" to the Democratic campaign.

Leaders Agree with Taft
Joining Taft in declaring Truman lost votes for Stevenson were Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, house Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, chairman Arthur E. Summerfield of the Republican National committee, and Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts.

Their views were expressed in telephone interviews published in a copyrighted series by U. S. News and World Report, a weekly news magazine.

Taft said he thought Truman "gave spirit to the Democratic campaign," but contended the President "alienated a lot more voters than he acquired" and stirred up antagonisms in people who might otherwise have been friendly to Stevenson.

Taft Expresses Self-Confidence
Taft also declared he thinks he would have won the election if he had been nominated, that the Republicans would have won against any Democratic candidate.

House GOP leader Martin took a different view. Asked if he thought the Republicans could have won without Eisenhower Martin replied: "No, I'm afraid not. I am inclined to think that Eisenhower is the only man we could have won with this year."

8-Man Survey Team To Scale Highest Peak

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — An eight-man Indian survey team is tackling the job of taking another measurement of Mt. Everest, the world's highest peak. Present estimates vary from 29,002 to 29,610. The most commonly used figure is 29,141. India's team is already in Nepal, where a Swiss expedition is trying to actually climb the peak—a hitherto unaccomplished feat.

Art Exhibit Coming to Iowa

THIS PAINTING BY BYRON BURFORD of the SUI art faculty is included in a traveling exhibit of work by staff artists of the "Big Ten" universities which opened at the University of Illinois in October and is currently on view at the University of Wisconsin, through Nov. 25. The exhibit is scheduled to reach the Iowa campus Dec. 31, and will remain open to the public till Jan. 20.

'Big Ten' to Present Staff Art Exhibit Soon

All colleges in the Big Ten are to be represented in an event taking place this fall and winter, but instead of an athletic contest, this will be an exhibition of 40 selected paintings by staff members of the Big Ten art departments. The exhibition started its tour at the University of Illinois in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Midwestern Art conference which was held there on Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1. From the University of Illinois the show will be circulated during the coming months to the other participating institutions.

The idea of such an exhibition originated at Michigan State college, where it was felt that it would be of interest not only to the staffs of all the art departments concerned, but also to the students and the various communities connected with the schools. Furthermore, it would provide a means of enlarging the audience for a number of artists of outstanding ability whose opportunities for exhibition in the west are frequently limited because of the demand of teaching schedules.

The list of artists represented includes many names of established national reputation: Walter Quirt (Minnesota), Stuart Edie (Iowa), Nicolas Ziroli (Illinois), James Lechay (Iowa), Eugene Ladins (Iowa), Cameron Booth (Minnesota), Seong Moy (Indiana), and others.

Delta Sigma Pi Honors Founders

Delta Sigma Pi, professional commerce fraternity, held a Founders Day Nov. 4 at Colony Inn at Amana.

Guests were faculty members in commerce: Prof. Chester Morgan, Prof. Louis Irwin, Prof. Elmer Hills, Prof. Walter Daykin, Prof. Arthur Alee and Prof. George T. Harris.

Prof. Hills gave an address, "The History of Delta Sigma Pi at SUI," to the 40 pledges and actives who were present.

Delta Sigma Pi, largest professional commerce fraternity in the world, was established here on the SUI campus on Nov. 7, 1907.

Witschi Addresses Science Conference

Prof. Emil Witschi of the SUI zoology department presented a paper Monday morning at the autumn meeting of the National Academy of Sciences at Washington university, St. Louis, Mo.

The meeting is being held in St. Louis from Nov. 10 to 12 as part of the university's 100th anniversary observance.

Former SUI Graduate Becomes WAC Officer

Lt. Dorothy Ann Mayhall, Omaha, Neb., who received her B.A. degree in art from SUI in 1947 and her M.A. degree in 1949, was graduated Saturday from the Associate WAC company officers' course at the Women's Army Corps training center in Ft. Lee, Va.

Applicants accepted for this course receive direct reserve commissions in the U. S. army, and upon successful completion of officer training, are assigned as troop or staff officers.

Lt. Mayhall, whose sculpture is well-known to art gallery visitors in the west, is the daughter of N. H. Mayhall of Omaha, Neb. She has exhibited some of her work in the Walker Art gallery, Minneapolis, where she was a prize-winner; in the Des Moines Art center; the Joslyn Art galleries, Omaha, and here at SUI.

Recently she entered two pieces of sculpture in the Tiffany Foundation competition.

She taught design, drawing, painting, sculpture and history of art at the University of Omaha from 1950 until this past summer when she applied for a reserve commission in the army.

Lt. Mayhall joined the army, she said, since she was "partial to it because my brother, M. L. Mayhall, served in the infantry during World War II." He served 14 months of combat duty in the European theater from Normandy beach to Czechoslovakia.

She believes that besides serving her country as a Wac officer at a time when the army is appealing for both more men and women soldiers, she will find military life "stimulating creatively."

She is a member of the Associated Artists of Omaha, the Omaha country club, the American Association of University Women, and Kappa Kappa Gamma, social sorority, here on the Iowa campus.

Miss Torrence to Be Installed President of Iowa Dietitians

Miss Mildred Torrence, newly elected president of the Iowa Dietetics association, will be installed at the group's meeting Thursday beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the Iowa Union.

There will be a business meeting followed by a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. at the Union.

Guest speakers are Mrs. Stuart Cullen, Iowa City; Miss Anne Reimer, head therapeutic dietitian at University hospitals; Dr. W. W. Tuttle, professor in the physiology department, and Dr. Leland Stilwell, director of Veterans hospital.

A tour of the Veterans hospital is planned and Stilwell is scheduled to speak there.

Miss McKinley, on the home economics staff of Iowa State college, is the retiring president of the organization. All Iowa Dietetic association members are invited.

Kathryn M. Curry, Leslie E. Thayer Betrothal Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis I. Curry of Massena, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Marie, 1103 Muscatine ave., to Leslie E. Thayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thayer of Storm Lake.

Miss Curry is a junior in the college of commerce and Mr. Thayer is a junior in the liberal arts college at SUI.

The wedding will take place Saturday, Nov. 15, at St. Mary's Catholic church, in Iowa City.

Lt. Weart Stationed At Key West, Fla.

Lt. Bruce F. Weart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Weart, 413 Iowa ave., and a former SUI student, is now stationed with air development squadron one, based at Boca Chica Field, Naval Air Station, Key West, Fla.

Lt. Weart, who has completed 10½ years active duty in the naval service, is in a unit developing improved defensive measures against submarines.

Mansfield Heights Group to Meet

Mrs. Sonia Sands will be hostess to a meeting of the Mansfield Heights club at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 13, at her home, 332 Ellis ave. Assistant hostesses are, Mrs. Maude Reynolds and Miss Jane Weigel.

Iowa City Nurses Association Addressed by Miss Hilda Torrop

Miss Hilda M. Torrop, executive director of the National Association for Practical Nurse Education, visited Iowa City Nov. 10 and 11 to address a meeting of the Licensed Practical Nurse association of Iowa.

The meeting was held at 8 p.m. Nov. 10 in the recreation room of the Mercy hospital school of nursing. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss methods of providing more accredited practical nurse training schools and refresher courses for the more than 1,400 licensed practical nurses.

A talk on "The Doctor Views the Practical Nurse," was given by Dr. Wilbur Miller, director of the Psychopathic hospital. Sister M. Barbara Ann, president of the Iowa State Nurses association also spoke.

Miss Torrop is one of the country's outstanding authorities on the subject of practical nurse education and recently appeared on a nationwide program with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The program stressed the need for more trained practical nurses to alleviate the shortage of professional nurses. The NAPNE approves acceptable schools of practical nursing in states without licensing laws, and assumes responsibility for establishing standards above the minimum for all practical nursing schools.

Community Chest Nets 56% of Goal

The Iowa City Community Chest drive, which officially ended Saturday, had received a total of $19,722.83 or 56 per cent of this season's $35,240 goal by noon Monday.

The public service units division leads the drive with 65 per cent of its quota or $10,647.20.

The university and residential units have contributed 59 per cent of their quota or a total of $7,421.68.

Other divisions have contributed $1,653.95 to the fund. The divisions are: university, faculty and staff members; residential, special contributions, professional people, clubs and organizations; and the county united defense fund.

Iowa Grad Makes Good With CBS in New York

One among many SUI graduates has made good in the big time. She is Aileen Gold, former student here at the university who is now employed by the Columbia Broadcasting company in New York city.

Aileen manages to put in a good morning's work as editorial researcher in the reference library at CBS in New York. Her job may include finding out the precise conditions under which an obscure poison could be lethal, reporting on the background and the home-town problems of a politician from a western state and discovering the origin of the word Hoosier and anecdotes about it.

Aileen's background includes a major in political science at SUI, an M.A. from Columbia university, New York, in public law and government, publicity work for a theater chain and a job as documents assistant with the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

Have to Be a Psychologist—

It's getting so a person has to be an amateur psychologist to pick a winner.

Three games ago, after Iowa upset Ohio State, if anyone had said that the then-cellar-dwelling Illini would beat our fighting Hawks by 20 points, most fans would have given that "What's with him?" glance and shrug the whole thing off.

After Illinois topped league-leading Michigan two Saturdays ago, we figured that the win would give the Illini the confidence they needed. Winning showed them that they could play the ball that the experts said they would before the season began.

In other words, it took that one win to offset all the injuries—and losses—that they had suffered. The team finally felt that it had "jelled."

On the other hand, Iowa had built itself to a mental peak for the Minnesota game after the Ohio State game. The Minneapolis tilt climaxed three weeks of good defensive play and it looked like the Hawks were going to pull through with its second win.

Then the boom was dropped as two costly fumbles gave Minnesota a sudden lead in the final quarter.

After that game the Hawks were mentally beat and we commented then that Evy would have a big task building the team up again mentally for the Illinois encounter.

Several of our fellow writers poo-pooed that train of thought. Yet that's evidently what happened to Iowa last Saturday as it fell, 33-13, to Illinois.

From the beginning the usually fiery defensive line was out-charged and the team generally gave its poorest showing of the year. The offensive backs, hampered by injuries more than at any other time during the 1952 season, just never got going.

Jim Hatch, Binky Broeder and Bobby Stearnes gave brief flashes of brilliance—Hatch breaking away for 78 yards and a touchdown and Stearnes fighting through several Illini defenders to score the first six points on a pass-lateral play.

Since there were no Hawks to point out as individual stars for the game, we'll mention a couple of Illini.

Tommy O'Connell was as great a passer as we've ever seen. His 22 completions out of 34 tries set a Big Ten record for a single game, as did his total yardage for the day.

His accuracy was as good as that of any control pitcher in baseball and he had two fine receivers in Rex Smith and Rocky Ryan, who rank along with Ohio State's Bob Joslin as the best pass catchers in the league—in our opinion.

Halfback Pete Bachourous ran in a dancing fashion which approached Paul Giel's showing here last year. Bachourous just wouldn't quit.

And this Pete Wodziak was as good as anyone at his defensive end spot.

The way we're talking about Illinois, you'd think it was rolling toward another Big Ten title. Actually the win was only Coach Ray Eliot's second in league play this year.

But look out for the Illini, Ohio State!

The general consensus of opinion was that the officiating didn't quite measure up to Big Ten caliber.

Not that some different ruling would have made much difference in the outcome of the game.

The main trouble was that the officials didn't seem to agree among themselves. Referee George Renix twice started to pace off a penalty in the wrong direction only to be turned around by one of his accomplices.

The play near the end of the game that climaxed with Evy coming out on the field in an attempt to find out just what was going on went something like this—Broeder went into the flat for a Paul Kemp pass and he was bumped by an Illinois defender.

An official dropped a red flag on the play but in the meantime, an illegal-use-of-hands penalty was called on Iowa.

Without any hesitation, Renix paced off the 15 yards against Iowa, evidently disregarding the interference penalty.

The usual ruling is to let the penalties nullify each other, and Evy tried to get a first hand explanation of why such was not the case.

And so it goes, just another ball game.

Upsets again prevailed the past weekend, with the Pitt-Ohio State, Notre Dame-Oklahoma, Washington-California and Nebraska-Kansas games heading the list.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Ray Huizinga, Northwestern's 230-pound senior tackle, may miss the remainder of the football season with a recurrence of an old rib injury, trainer Carl Erickson reported Monday.

Huizinga was hurt in the Wisconsin game Saturday.

Coach Bob Voigts plans to start Sanford Sacks, a mid-year freshman from Cleveland Heights, O., in place of Huizinga in Saturday's game with Iowa.

Wilson Seeks Aid to Control Tensions Among Loop Teams

CHICAGO (AP)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, said Monday he will seek aid from coaches, athletic directors and game officials for controlling tensions that have built up this season in conference football.

Wilson mapped this plan after receiving reports from Saturday's Michigan State-Indiana game in which eight players were ejected. The players were banished during the game at Bloomington, Ind. Six of them were Indiana players. Wilson was a spectator at the game.

"I am still receiving reports on Saturday's games from officials, coaches and observers and studying them," said Wilson. "This has been a remarkable season of upsets and consequent tensions. I plan to communicate with conference coaches, athletic directors and officials this week so that each will do his part to control the tensions that exist and thereby eliminate incidents both on and off the field which have no place in intercollegiate football."

Wilson did not reveal the contents of a report submitted by Biggie Munn, Michigan State coach.

"It was the first time in my six years at Michigan State that I had a boy thrown out of a game," said Biggie at East Lansing. Wilson also would not comment on a remark by Bernie Crimmins, Indiana coach, who was quoted as saying: "The officials should have had a quicker whistle or should have been more liberal in our tackling tactics."

Officials of the Illinois-Iowa contest at Iowa City were barraged by apples and oranges in protest of a penalty ruling. Also an Iowa student, Richard Wolfe, A2, Donnellson, Ia., reportedly was struck by an Illinois player.

An eyewitness said Wolfe heckled the Illinois players as they trotted off the field and was hit by one of them. Wolfe was reported to have suffered a fractured jaw.

During the last quarter of the game, guard Phil Hayman of Iowa and center Paul Luhrs of Illinois were sent from the field after officials had called unsportsman-like conduct on both teams.

Illinois' Mills Says League Race 'Screwiest Ever'

CHICAGO (AP)—"In all my career as player, coach and athletic director, I've never seen a football season as screwy as this one in the Big Ten."

That's how Doug Mills of Illinois looks at the Big Ten title race that has piled up football debris in a series of unprecedented upsets.

Mills was asked which team he thought was best among Wisconsin, Michigan, Purdue and Minnesota.

"On the day I saw them play, I think Purdue is the best," he replied. "But I wouldn't want to try to pick the Purdue-Michigan winner Saturday."

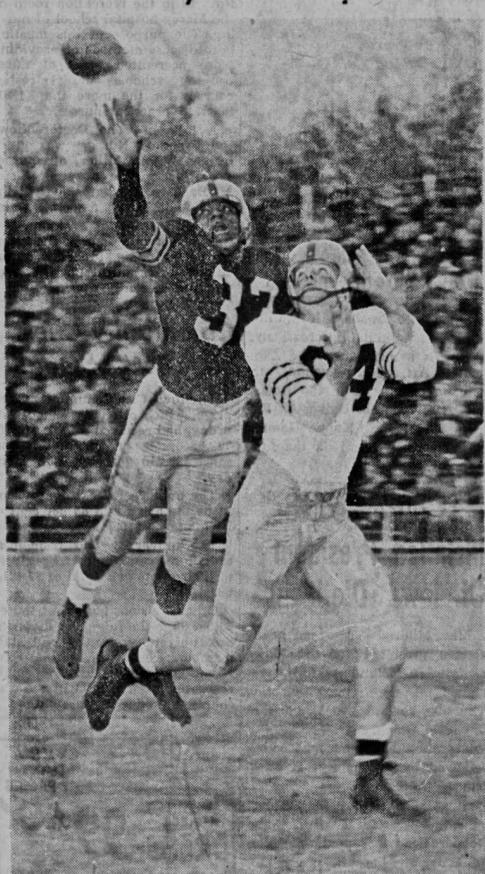

Red Mackey, Purdue's athletic director, said the Boilermakers "were fortunate to tie Minnesota 14-14 last Saturday."

"If there is any better back in the conference than Minnesota's Paul Giel, I would like to see him," added Mackey.

Mackey said he would rate Saturday's Michigan State-Notre Dame game a toss-up. Each has beaten Purdue.

One They Didn't Complete

HERE'S ONE PASS the record-smashing Illini didn't complete. Iowa's Bernie Bennett (33) bats down this one intended for Rex Smith (84), who caught 11 others. This play by Bennett in the end zone during the first half of last Saturday's game prevented an Illinois score but the 1952 Rose Bowl champs still whipped the Hawkeyes, 33-13.

Fluetsch, Davis Win Net Titles

Dave Fluetsch of Sigma Chi social fraternity and Dick Davis of Phi Beta Pi professional fraternity, took the singles tennis titles in their respective intramural divisions in the playoffs just completed.

Fluetsch dropped Bill Brauer of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 8-6, 6-0, while Davis won his match over his teammate, Don Schumaker, 6-1, 6-3.

In the Hillcrest touch football play-offs "T" battles with "F" while "D" tangles with "A". The winners are scheduled to meet for the championship.

Finalists in the Quad league include Lower "C", Lower "D", Upper "A", Upper "B", East Tower and South Tower. These six clubs will battle for that divisions' laurels.

10 on Hawkeye Injured List After 33-13 Loss to Illinois

With 10 regulars on the injured squad, Coach Forest Evashevski indicated Monday there would be little heavy work this week for his Iowa football team.

Of the 10 injured—the largest number at one time this season—only two will definitely be out of the Northwestern game at Evanston Saturday, coaches said.

The two are Dick Frymire, an offensive tackle, and Don Inman, a left halfback. Those players who went against Illinois last Saturday merely took limbering up exercises.

Evashevski indicated that there would be concentration on pass defenses this week after Illinois' Tommy O'Connell set three new league passing records against the Hawkeyes in the 33-13 Illini win here Saturday.

Illinois, in whipping Iowa for the 11th straight time, did all its scoring in the first 31½ minutes, going scoreless the final 29½ while Iowa was picking up two touchdowns.

O'Connell's passes helped Illinois score five of the first eight times it had the ball. He passed off the Illini spread which sent a halfback and one end wide.

Iowa's first touchdown came on a 31-yard pass-lateral play, Paul Kemp to Dan McBride to Bob Stearnes. The second Hawk score was on a spectacular 78-yard run by Jim Hatch.

Pete Bachourous was Illinois' only running threat, but he made 137 yards in 24 carries for a 5.8 average.

2 Men Seen As Choices To Head CIO

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Walter P. Reuther and James B. Carey stood out Monday as the two men with the best chance to be called upon to fill labor leader Philip Murray's job as president of the CIO.

Reuther is the head of the CIO-United Auto workers, which boasts 1 1/2 million members. He has a sharp wit and a capacity for hard work, and has few peers in the ranks of labor as a public speaker.

Carey is head of the smaller CIO-International Union of Electrical workers. It was Carey who spearheaded Murray's fight against communism in labor unions.

When Murray kicked the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers out of the CIO, Carey set up the rival IUE and wooed away about half IUE's membership.

A third possibility for the CIO presidency is aging Allan Haywood, vice-president of the CIO in charge of organization and now acting as interim president.

Michael J. Quill, head of the CIO Transport Workers union and himself a CIO vice-president, declared Monday he considers Haywood a "logical choice" for the job.

Meeting This Week
It is likely these candidates, and possibly others, will be considered when the nine CIO vice-presidents meet, maybe later this week, to study the situation created by Murray's death Sunday morning in San Francisco.

While the actual choice would be made by the delegates, it is probable that endorsements of the vice-presidents would be the deciding factor.

Murray's death also leaves open the presidency of the United Steelworkers.

McDonald Likely Choice
One man stands out in discussions as having the best chance for this job, David J. McDonald, secretary-treasurer of the USW and secretary of the CIO's Political Action committee.

Another candidate is James G. Thimmes, vice-president of the USW. Several district directors are mentioned also, especially James Thomas who heads the union's in the Homestead and McKeesport, Pa., areas.

While speculation as to his successors went on, Murray's body moved back by plane and train to Pittsburgh, the scene of his greatest triumphs.

Gambler Costello's Appeal Refused by Supreme Court

Rubinoff Plays at Methodist Church

DAVID RUBINOFF, RUSSIAN-BORN violinist, played two selections for the congregation of the First Methodist church Sunday, and presented the Rev. L. L. Dunnington, the minister, a gold money clip that was an award he had received.

Violinist's Impromptu Recital Honors Local Methodist Pastor

David Rubinoff, Russian-born violinist, was so inspired by Dr. L. L. Dunnington's 9:30 a.m. Sunday radio service on communist Russia's failure, that he presented him with a gold money clip and played an unexpected recital for the First Methodist church congregation.

Traveling from South Dakota to Peoria, Ill. for a concert engagement, Rubinoff heard Dunnington's sermon, "America, Russia and the Future," on his car radio. He had his chauffeur drive immediately to Dunnington's house and upon request agreed to play for the 11 a.m. service.

Rubinoff, who has been playing his Stradivarius for 50 years, played "Souvenir" by Arda and dedicated a new arrangement of "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" by Victor Herbert to Dunnington and the congregation of 1,200.

Faculty Parking Lot Will Be Enlarged

An SUU faculty parking lot will be enlarged to twice its present size with the completion of the razing of the residence at 24 E. Jefferson st.

The enlarged lot will be ready for use in about a month, George Horner, university planning and construction superintendent announced Monday.

The enlarged lot will reach an eventual size of 60 by 150 feet.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The supreme court Monday turned down big-time gambler Frank Costello's plea for a review of his contempt-of-congress conviction.

The 61-year-old Italian-born racketeer is serving an 18-month sentence in Atlanta penitentiary for walking out on the old senate crime investigating committee after refusing to answer a number of questions about his finances.

Barring a supreme court reversal of its position—a step the court rarely takes—he has no further recourse.

Deportation Intended
Costello went to prison last August. Since then Atty. Gen. James McGranery has started court action to strip him of his American citizenship, as a preliminary to a proceeding to deport him.

In other actions Monday the supreme court:
1. Granted the Times-Picayune publishing company of New Orleans, a review of a lower court decision that it violated the Sherman anti-trust act in its advertising sales policy.

U. S. District Judge Herbert Christenberry held in a decision in New Orleans that the company violated the anti-trust act by requiring advertisers to buy space in both the morning Times-Picayune and the afternoon States.

Both papers are published by the company from one plant. The lower court decisions came in a civil suit brought by the government against the company.

Michigan Communists
2. Agreed to pass upon the constitutionality of Michigan's anti-Communist law. A special three-judge U. S. district court in Michigan divided 2 to 1 in upholding constitutionality of the law. This is the decision the high court will review.

The Michigan law requires Communists and Communist sympathizers to register with state police. It also bars Communists from being listed as candidates on all primary and general election ballots in the state. The law fixes a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine for Communists who fail to register.

Texas City Disaster
3. Decided to hear arguments on the claims, for some $240 million filed against the United States as a result of the Texas City, Tex., ship explosion disaster in 1947.

The question to be decided is whether such claim suits may be filed against the United States. The U. S. Circuit Court in New Orleans held they could not. Some 500 persons were killed when a nitrate-laden freighter exploded. About 3,000 were injured and property damage was estimated at about $500 million.

Doctor Ranked Pvt.
4. Decided to pass on whether a doctor was illegally classified as a private after being taken into the army under the doctor draft law.

Dr. Stanley J. Orloff, formerly a psychiatrist for the New York department of mental health, is seeking discharge from the army.

During arguments before the U. S. circuit court in San Francisco, which ruled against the doctor, his attorney said he was denied a commission because he refused to answer a loyalty questionnaire although, the attorney said, he signed a loyalty oath.

Opportunities in Optometry
Optometry is a profession offering special advantages to ambitious young men and women. Its scope is constantly expanding. Eighty per cent of the Nation's millions depend upon the Doctor of Optometry and his professional skill in conserving vision. There is a shortage of optometrists in many States.

The Doctor of Optometry possesses the dignity of being a professional man. He renders an essential service to the health and well-being of his community. Substantial financial rewards are obtainable almost from the beginning of his practice.

U.S. Department of Defense and Selective Service grant optometry students the same consideration accorded medical students.

The Doctor of Optometry degree can be earned in three college years by a student having sixty or more semester hours of Liberal Arts credits. Such students will be admitted at mid-year by Chicago College of Optometry.

Chicago College of Optometry is centrally located in the heart of the world's greatest center for teaching in the healing arts. It is nationally accredited and is splendidly equipped. Clinical facilities are unsurpassed.

Maybank Says Ike Counts Heavily On Democrat Support In 83d Congress

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower, counting heavily on winning support of Democrats in congress, is likely to get it, Sen. Burnet R. Maybank of South Carolina said Monday.

Burnet R. Maybank Has Confidence in Ike

"While he was in the army," Maybank told reporters, "Eisenhower repeatedly demonstrated ability to get along with the members of both parties in congress. The situation isn't quite the same now, but I believe he will make out all right."

Maybank was in town for a housing convention being held near Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at the Augusta national golf club. The senator, influential in the councils of southern Democrats said he had no plans to confer here with the President-elect.

Ike Still Golfing
Eisenhower spent the morning answering accumulated mail and then set out for a round of golf when the rain which had kept him indoors let up.

The general's headquarters said he had received President Truman's telegram saying Eisenhower's choice of pre-inauguration liaison representatives with the government was "eminently satisfactory."

Truman also said he appreciated Eisenhower's promptness in naming GOP Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Detroit banker Joseph M. Dodge to the liaison post.

Lodge, Dodge Envoys
In announcing the appointments Sunday, Eisenhower said Lodge, who was defeated in his bid for re-election, would be his personal representative in all federal departments and agencies except the budget bureau. He named Dodge to that bureau.

In predicting Eisenhower will "make out all right" in congress, Maybank said he wasn't losing sight of the razor-thin margin of control the Republicans will have.

In the 83d congress convening Jan. 3, the Republicans will have only a one vote edge in the senate. The new lineup there is 48 GOP members, 47 Democrats and one independent — Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

In the house, the prospective GOP margin at present is two votes.

Mr. Unash Services To Be Held at 9 a.m. At St. Wenceslaus
Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. today at St. Wenceslaus Catholic church for John Unash, 84, former director of the SUI band.

Mr. Unash died at 11 a.m. Sunday at his home, 410 Ronalds st., after a prolonged illness.

Born in Czechoslovakia on Feb. 14, 1869, Mr. Unash came to Iowa with his parents in 1870. He directed several bands during his life and was a music teacher for many years.

Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The Rosary was recited at 8 p.m. Monday at the Hohen-schuh mortuary.

Survivors include his wife, four daughters, Mrs. Leo Slezak, Mrs. J. P. Soucek, Mrs. John Schintler, and Mrs. John Stika, all of Iowa City; two sons, Clarence Unash and George Unash, both of Iowa City; and 15 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Vishinsky Rejects Compromise Proposals, Demands Return of All Korean Prisoners

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky said flatly Monday the Soviet Union will "not budge" from its demand for repatriation of all prisoners of war in Korea. He rejected two compromise proposals and renewed his appeal for a new commission to settle the Korean conflict.

An American spokesman said immediately that the UN never would consent to driving prisoners of war back to Communist countries against their will. Other delegations gloomily agreed that the Korean stalemate continued unabated and that Vishinsky had done nothing to point the way to a solution.

The red-faced Soviet foreign minister insisted time and again in a two hour and 32 minute speech to the 60-nation UN political committee that a prisoner of war is a soldier and has no choice about repatriation under the Geneva Convention.

He injected a new element in the discussions here by charging that the United States was so insistent against repatriation because the U.S. wanted to use the prisoners to build up a force destined for subversive action against the Soviet Union and countries of the peoples' democracies.

Shortly after Vishinsky spoke, UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie announced in a sudden, dramatic appearance before the full Assembly that he was resigning, effective immediately. Lie said the reason for his move was the hope that the big powers could agree on a secretary-general and thus take a step toward agreement on settling the Korean war. Lie has been on the Soviet blacklist since he urged the Security council to meet the North Korean aggression at the start of the war in June, 1950.

Chemists to Hear Evanston Scientist
Prof. Fred Basolo of the chemistry department at Northwestern university will address a meeting of the Iowa section of the American Chemical society Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in room 300, Chemistry building.

Basolo, who works in the field of inorganic chemistry, will speak on "Reaction Mechanisms of Complex Ions."

A dinner at the Rose room of the Jefferson hotel at 6 p.m. will precede the meeting. An election of officers for the coming year and a coffee hour are also planned.

Following are the unofficial returns, compiled by the Associated Press, from Tuesday's general election in Iowa.

Winter Speaks At U. of Illinois 50th Anniversary

Dean Sidney G. Winter of the SUI college of commerce was among the college deans and outstanding businessmen who spoke Nov. 7 at the celebration of the University of Illinois college of commerce's 50th anniversary.

Winter spoke on "The Place of Business Education in the Institutions of Higher Learning."

He later attended the anniversary dinner at the Illini Union where 15 silver plaques were awarded to distinguished Illinois professors.

Winter heard the vice-president of International Harvester company, C. E. Jarchow, speak Nov. 8. The three-day program also included a dinner in the Palmer House ballroom in Chicago, Monday.

Winter received his M.S. degree from the University of Illinois in 1923 and was a member of the commerce faculty from 1922 to 1924.

He earned his C.P.A. in Illinois in 1923 and in Iowa in 1925.

Iowa City Lags by 55 In Voting Contest

Iowa City appears to have lost the Nov. 4 voting contest with Bloomington, Ind., by 55 votes, according to unofficial tabulations.

Bloomington cast 11,090 votes to Iowa City's 11,035. Official count of the Bloomington votes may not be available for several days, Voters Unlimited, a non-partisan organization which has been promoting registration and voting in Iowa City, announced.

Final tabulations for the five presidential candidates that ran in Johnson county are: Republican, Eisenhower, 11,231; Democratic, Stevenson, 8,067; Progressive, Hallinan, 29; Progressive, Hamblen, 17; Socialist, Friedman, 3; Socialist-Labor, Hass, 2; and Independent, William Douglas, 1.

County auditor G. W. Kanak said about 50 votes were spoiled in the election. This number is about average.

Pogo, the famous comic strip character, failed to get any of the more than 200 write-in votes, Kanak said.

All of the ballots used in the Nov. 4 election must be kept six months, the county auditor said, in case any candidate wishes to contest the official totals.

Iowa Medical Society to Meet Here Nov. 18

The Iowa branch of the society for experimental biology and medicine will hold its 109th meeting Tuesday, Nov. 18, at the SUI college of medicine.

Scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in room 179 of the medical laboratories, the meeting will feature four 15-minute scientific papers by members of the departments of pediatrics and biochemistry of the college of medicine.

Papers will be presented by Drs. M. Dine and R. L. Jackson, pediatrics; J. M. Franz and G. F. Lata, biochemistry; W. L. Niccum, R. L. Jackson and Genevieve Stearns, pediatrics; and D. C. Watland and George Kalnitsky, biochemistry.

The group's next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 27, 1953.

TIME FOR TEA
LONDON (AP)—A Conservative member of parliament shocked the house of commons Monday by declaring that the old British custom of taking time out for a cup of tea was "completely crazy." Brig. Ralph Rayner said hard-working Germans, Belgians and Americans don't do it, and neither should the British.

ical committee that a prisoner of war is a soldier and has no choice about repatriation under the Geneva Convention.
