Secret Precautions Set For Ike's Korean Trip

More Information Due This Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Thursday that he will send notices about the trip of his able daughter, Yasmin, to Korea to the State Department for action. The trip, which had been set up for Thanksgiving day in Korea and had been delayed by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers until the publication of a report on atomic tests, will now be made. The trip will be announced at the end of the week.

Iowan Experts Little Atomic Policy Change

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., who has been leading the Senate's investigation into the United States' atomic energy policies, is scheduled to resume his hearings Monday night after a break over the weekend.

Kefauver, who is expected to announce his final report on the atomic energy policies this week, is reported to have been criticized by his colleagues for his handling of the hearings.

The Senate Intelligence Committee, which has been investigating the atomic energy policies, is expected to vote on a bill that would restrict the use of atomic energy for military purposes.

The bill, which was introduced by Sen. John Kennedy, D-Mass., is expected to be taken up by the Senate this week.

Kefauver, who is a member of the committee, is expected to vote against the bill.

On a related matter, the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee is expected to vote on a resolution that would oppose the use of atomic energy for military purposes.

The resolution, which was introduced by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., is expected to be taken up by the Senate this week.

Fulbright, who is a member of the committee, is expected to vote in favor of the resolution.

Stresses Need for More Nursing Schools

Hilda M. Tororp, executive director of the National American League for Nursing, declared the great need for more nurses and urged parliamentarians to look after the nurse educational and organization of Iowa. Director of New York hospital, she said that there are identific medical schools in the U.S.
but many more are needed to accommodate the growing national needs. Many hospitals are overwhelmed with the special needs because 95 per cent of nurses are afraid to erect new schools. She urged that problems of nursing should be common in getting the program.

Gerontology Meeting To Hear Michigan University Speaker

To Discuss Education in Aging Process

Gerontology, the study of the aged, is being emphasized at Michigan University. Prof. Richard C. Minde, of the Department of Psychology, will address the university's institute for gerontology at 12:30 today in the Life Sciences Building in Macro A. The meeting will be open to the public. The audience will be limited to persons over 60 years of age.

The institute has as its ultimate goal the establishment of a workable retirement plan for physically able and mentally active individuals. Its first step will be to educate the general public about the potentialities of the aged.
Massacre Evidence Not Given, Nuremberg Prosecutors Replied

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The prosecutor at the Nuremberg war trials made it clear that the reason why he did not bring any further evidence on the massacre of Polish civilians at Katyn was because there was no evidence available to him.

Bellamy, special prosecutor for the British, said that the general prosecutor, Sir Robert Vansittart, had made it plain that there was no further evidence to add.

"The case is a case of overwhelming evidence," he said. "We have no further evidence to offer.

Charlton, the British special prosecutor, said he was faced with the same difficulty. "We have no further evidence to offer," he said.

U.S. special prosecutor, Mr. Justice Robert C. Jackson, was asked if he would add any evidence. "We have no further evidence to offer," he said.

LONDON, England - The Nuremberg war trials continued today with the British special prosecutor, Mr. Justice Robert C. Jackson, making it clear that there was no further evidence to offer.
