Ike Appoints 2 More To Cabinet

Humphrey to Head Treasury, Brownell Is Attorney General

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower filled the posts of secretary of the treasury and attorney general Friday, putting a supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft in his cabinet for the first time.

He also tapped Harold E. Stassen to direct the multi-billion dollar Mutual Security agency.

The Taft supporter is George E. Humphrey, 62, a Cleveland iron, steel and coal industrialist whom Eisenhower selected as his secretary of the treasury.

Humphrey Supported Taft
"It was a great surprise to me," said Humphrey. "I have been a supporter of Taft and on his committees from the first time he ever ran for office."

Herbert Brownell Jr., 48, a key adviser to the Dewey administration in New York and a mastermind of the Eisenhower presidential campaign, was chosen as attorney general.

Brownell's first order of business was to ask J. Edgar Hoover to stay on as FBI director.

The two appointments Friday plus three Thursday, filled five of the nine gaps in the Eisenhower cabinet.

Brownell Advised Dewey
A New York lawyer, Brownell was a brain-truster in Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's vain bids for the presidency in 1944 and 1948. Between campaigns he was a trusted Dewey adviser in Albany.

Brownell joined the Eisenhower campaign team, along with other Dewey advisers, in an all-out effort by the governor to put the general over.

Since the election Nov. 4, Brownell has acted as head of a job-clearing office for Eisenhower.

Humphrey, the new treasury department chief, said "this thing came up suddenly." He talked with Eisenhower in New York for three hours Wednesday.

Humphrey is president of the M. A. Hanna company in Cleveland, a big iron ore and coal outfit.

He also is chairman of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, world's largest producer of soft coal. He sits as a director on several other big organizations.

McNaughton Addresses Journalists

SPEAKING ON THE SUBJECT, "What We Face in Washington in 1953," Frank McNaughton, special correspondent for Time and Life magazines, gives a summary of what to expect from Eisenhower when he takes office. McNaughton spoke to journalism students, faculty and guests at the annual Wayzgoose banquet Friday night at the First Methodist church. On McNaughton's left is Prof. Walter Steigleman, school of journalism, who was toastmaster for the program and introduced McNaughton.

McNaughton Sees Early Cut In Excess Profits, Income Tax

Abolishment of the excess profits tax and a reduction in personal income tax looms as an early legislative action of the new Republican administration, Frank McNaughton, special correspondent for Time and Life magazines, told journalism students and faculty attending the annual Wayzgoose banquet Friday night at the First Methodist church.

McNaughton said that one of the first things that Eisenhower plans to do when he takes office is set up a record system for presidential directives. At the present time no record is kept of the hundreds of orders signed each day by the President and as a result they are not necessarily followed through. McNaughton said the establishment of such a record system would be one of the greatest steps taken in making an administration more efficient.

Slash in Budget
A five per cent slash in the national defense budget is anticipated along with a 10 per cent cut in the domestic budget. This would mean approximately $8 billion could be cut from the overall budget. The cut in the defense budget would not mean the lessening of the defense efficiency, but merely cutting out the waste, McNaughton said.

Describing the mental attitude of the president-elect, McNaughton said that Eisenhower was determined to be his own president, and feels that he owes nothing to any special group, interest or individual. He said that Eisenhower is willing to take full responsibility for his actions and that he intends to be a constitutional president.

Commenting on the president-elect's trip to Korea, McNaughton said that Eisenhower will leave with all serious intentions. He said that Eisenhower believes we are bleeding ourselves over the wrong enemy. Our true enemy is Russia, the next president believes.

Students Present Skit
SUI journalism students presented a skit, "The Time Capsule" as their part of the program. Dr. Norman Meier, psychology department was presented the "Unseen Friend of Journalism" award by Dr. Walter Steigleman, journalism department, who was toastmaster for the banquet.

Mrs. Ellis Newsome received the "Most Enthusiastic Backer of Advertising" award, presented by Ed Hunting Jr., A4, Council Bluffs.

The Wayzgoose banquet was presented by the Associated Students of Journalism.

Educator Says Colleges Reducing Discrimination

CHICAGO (AP) — An educator told his colleagues Friday "we have been making progress in reducing discrimination" in colleges.

The statement was made by Algo D. Henderson of the University of Michigan. He is chairman of the committee on discriminations in higher education of the American Council on Education.

He spoke at the Midwest Educators conference on discrimination in colleges and universities.

AFL President William Green Dies in Ohio of Heart Ailment

COSHOCTON, O. (AP) — William Green, who led and spoke for 13 million American workers in the American Federation of Labor over nearly three decades, died Friday.

The AFL president, only the second leader the AFL has had, was 81.

Green's death followed by only 12 days that of Philip Murray, president of the rival CIO. Murray died Nov. 9 in San Francisco. Came from Ohio

Death came to Green in a red brick home nearly in the center of the eastern Ohio town from which he rose to labor fame from his job as a coal miner.

The family said a heart ailment caused the aged labor leader's death.

Coshocton generally was not surprised. Its citizens knew "Bill" Green came home an ill man early in October, although the family tried to minimize the seriousness of his physical decline.

Confined to House
But word leaked out. Green went to Coshocton Memorial Hospital for two weeks, then returned home. Two weeks ago the family installed a small elevator to enable him to come downstairs. He spent most of his time in bed and he didn't emerge from the house to take a walk through the streets in which he grew up.

Green's career followed the time-hallowed American tradition. A coal miner, Green was born in Coshocton March 3, 1873. By the time he was 18 he was a full-fledged miner.

Led AFL 28 Years
W. Harold Brenton of Des Moines, president of the American Bankers association, said Friday that the death of Green, was a tragedy.

"He gave stability to the labor movement that will be hard to replace," said Brenton.

Snowfall Blankets Eastern Tennessee; Communications Hit

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A heavy snowfall — up to 11 inches in some areas — blanketed east Tennessee Friday, snarling transportation and communications.

Nine inches of snow had fallen in the Knoxville area by 6:30 p.m. EST. It was still snowing at dusk.

The white flakes drifted down the Tennessee-North Carolina highway across the Clingman's Dome peak.

Tri-Cities Hit
In upper east Tennessee, eight inches of snow blanketed out communications in the tri-cities area, virtually isolating Kingsport, Johnson City and Bristol.

Power lines were out throughout Knoxville, leaving some sections without heat. Two radio stations were off the air because of the power failures.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company also reported that "damage throughout east Tennessee is extensive — it's one of the most severe communications situations we've ever had."

3 More States Lashed
It was part of a storm that lashed parts of three other southern states. Southwest Virginia got 8-10 inches of snow and rain and overflowing streams blocked highways in Virginia's north-central section.

Southeast Kentucky and the western section of North Carolina also felt the effects of shrieking wind and heavy snow. Harlan and Hazard, Ky., were reported without communications.

Attorney Testifies Heirens Admitted Killing 3 in 1946

CHICAGO (AP) — A witness testified Friday that William G. Heirens once orally admitted, then later signed a statement that he killed a girl and two women in 1946.

The witness was John P. Coghlan, an attorney who defended the former University of Chicago student after his arrest in June, 1946.

Heirens, now 24, is seeking his freedom on a petition filed under the Illinois post-conviction law. He claims his constitutional rights were violated in obtaining his conviction for slaying Suzanne Degnan, 6; Frances Brown, 33; and Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43.

Coghlan testified at the hearing before superior court Judge Harold G. Ward that Heirens signed a statement in the presence of his parents that he killed the girl and two women.

In his petition, Heirens has charged Coghlan with "incompetency" and with collusion with the state.

and was held incommunicado.

Communist Purge Trial Attacks World Jewery

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Former Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis confessed in the usual pattern in Prague Friday to a long series of sins against Stalin.

The Czechoslovak Communist purge trial of 14 alleged renegades from Stalinism turned into a violent attack on world Jewery.

The Communist prosecution suddenly produced a long-missing Israeli leftist, held in Prague for a year, as a witness against one of the chief defendants, former vice premier and party secretary Rudolf Slansky. Slansky recited his own crimes Thursday for more than 3 1/2 hours in what one Western observer here called a "push-button confession."

Links Dulles' Name
Details of the Czech government's indictment, broadcast by Prague, quoted Clementis as linking Slansky to John Foster Dulles, just named the next U.S. secretary of state by President-elect Eisenhower. Clementis was said to have reported a conspiracy involving Slansky, Dulles and world Jewery against the interests of Red Czechoslovakia.

One of the highlights of the day's proceedings was the sudden appearance on the witness stand of Mordecai Oren, long - missing member of the extreme leftist Mapam party of Israel. He had gone to Czechoslovakia in 1951 at the invitation of the Communists and was held incommunicado.

Star Witness Coached
Evidently he had been coached as a star witness against the 14 defendants, 11 of whom are Jews. Much of the confessions of Geminer, Clementis and Slansky has concerned alleged plotting with Jews and "Titoists."

The 14,000-word list of charges against Slansky, once a Moscow favorite, and the other defendants called Dulles a "notorious spy" and said he plotted to help wealthy Jewish families smuggle property out of Czechoslovakia.

Throughout the indictment it was plain that every attempt was being made to discredit world Jewery in the eyes of the Czechoslovak people, by linking Americans such as Dulles — who is a Presbyterian — with a "Zionist conspiracy."

Judge Announces Week for Execution Of A-Bomb Spies

NEW YORK (AP) — The week of Jan. 12 was set Friday for the execution of a husband and wife atom spy team—the first traitors in American history doomed to death by a civil court.

The pair, Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, were convicted and sentenced to death April 5, 1951, for ferreting out American A-bomb secrets for a Russian-bossed international spy ring.

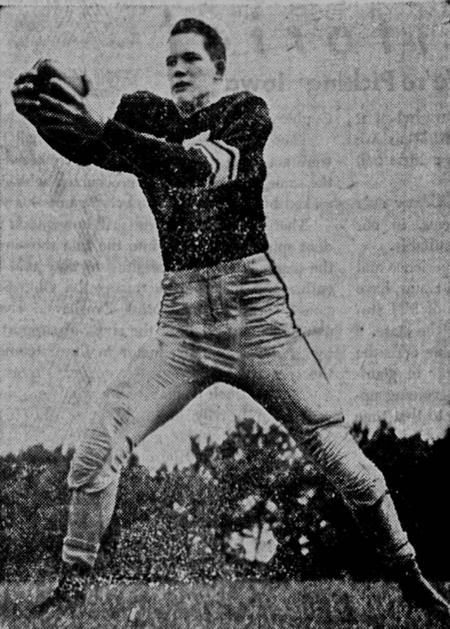

The execution date was set by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman, who doomed them originally with the personal opinion that their treason led to the war in Korea. They will probably die Jan. 15—Thursday.

Appeals Fail
Since they were sentenced, the Rosenbergs carried an appeal doggedly from one court to another. Finally, last week, the U.S. supreme court gave them a final turndown.

Their attorney, Emanuel H. Bloch, said he'll try once again Monday for a new trial. But his was plainly a move of last-minute desperation, with little chance of success.

Unless President Truman pardons the couple, they almost certainly will leave their separate death house cells the third week in January to walk the grim "last mile" to the electric chair.

NEW SPEED RECORD INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — An official timer reported Friday that air force Capt. J. Slade Nash exceeded 700 miles an hour in establishing a new and as yet unofficial world speed record in an F-86D Sabre jet plane at Salton Sea last Wednesday.

A GOOD MAN TO WATCH today in the Notre Dame-Iowa game will be Hawkeye end Dan McBride (above). The sticky-fingered end broke the Iowa record for number of pass catches in one season when he hiked his total to 24 against Northwestern last Saturday. He'll be out to set another mark today when he goes after the yardage record of 439 yards set by Jack Dittmer in 1949. He is shy only 81 yards.

Notre Dame Power Woos Oddsmakers

About 1,500 seats at the ends of the permanent stands and in the north and south bleachers are still available for today's Iowa-Notre Dame tilt, Francis Graham, Hawk business manager, announced late Friday. Tickets are expected to remain on sale up to game time.

Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Iowa's spirited Hawkeyes, set to give their usual best for the anticipated season's top crowd of over 50,000, take on the Notre Dame powerhouse today at 1:30 in the Iowa stadium.

Odds-makers have made Conch Forest Evashevski's crew a definite underdog, but the campus has high hopes for an upset win of the Ohio State stature.

The general feeling is that, since Notre Dame shouldn't be at a mental peak for the game after facing Michigan State and Oklahoma on successive weekends and looking forward to Southern California next week, Iowa may be able to turn the trick.

Need Repeat Performance
To do it Iowa will have to play the heads up ball that characterized its play against Northwestern last week. Fans here feel that it can do it again.

Iowa radio stations scheduled to carry the broadcast include WSUI, KXIC, WHO, KRNT, KSO, WMT and KCRG.

This is the last chance of the year for Evashevski, whose offensive surprises have bothered many superior opponents, to come up with some more formations. So far he has used four different systems.

Used Split T
Iowa tormented Ohio State, 8-0, with an unexpected split T. Northwestern could not cope with the split T plus flanker and the unorthodox charges of a quick-reacting line. The Hawkeyes have shown a talent for exploiting the opponent's weakness.

Sophomores Bobby Stearnes and Binkey Broeder, who ran for more than 200 yards against Northwestern and now rank one-two in Iowa rushing figures, will get their shots at the Notre Dame defense. And Iowa figures to unlimber the Burt Britzmann to Dan McBride forward pass combination for the last time. Both seniors hold Iowa passing and receiving records.

A Condensation of Late Developments

SEOUL (Saturday) (AP)—U.S. warplanes smashed a big military center near the Manchurian border Friday in another of a daring, week-long series of fire raids under the noses of the Red air force. A few MIG jets sallied out from their Manchurian haven in a futile attempt to save the center, and screening Sabre jet pilots reported they destroyed one of them. Ground fighting tapered off after flaring up all along the front late Thursday and early Friday. Sniper Ridge on the central front, where South Koreans crushed an attack by 750 Chinese early in the day, was quiet Friday night. The relentless fire raids, which opened Monday, seemed designed to drive Communist troop reserves out into the bitter cold. Most of the raids were aimed at military headquarters and barracks.

MODENA, ITALY (AP)—University students burned Communist leaflets Friday accusing the government of responsibility for current floods in north central Italy and Tuscany. The Communists said the government is responsible because of failure to carry out an effective soil conservation and reforestation program in the Po Valley. High water of the past four days began to recede following several days of rain. The swollen Panaro river, which smashed through its dikes in four places yesterday, appeared to be under control as its level dropped. The flood covered more than a half million acres around Camposanto, San Felice and Finale Emilia north of here.

Saar Problem Holding Up Defense Pact

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst
All sorts of reasons are being offered for the German parliament's refusal to go ahead with the European defense and Allied-German peace treaties.

The state department listed three. Supporters were absent when the vote was taken. Committee procedure was incomplete. The court which is to pass on the constitutionality of the measures had asked delay.

French Afraid
Members of the French parliament have displayed even more reluctance than the Germans over the treaties. Recent failure of the two governments to agree over the Saar puts a severe strain on politicians on both sides.

The treaties, you remember, end the Allied occupation of Germany, though the guise of a separate peace treaty was avoided, and provide for limited rearmament of Germany within the new unified European army.

Germany Adamant
German Chancellor Adenauer said a government produced under such circumstances would not be recognized by his regime.

Some observers think the whole European community idea now depends on a Saar solution. Others think the treaties will go through pretty soon, regardless. They point out the similarity of the U. S. congress, groaning but eventually passing appropriation bills. The money has to come.

And Gen. Ridgway has to have those troops if Europe is to be safe.

Hickenlooper, Gillette Approve Of Ike's 1st Cabinet Choices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iowa's two senators have agreed that President-elect Eisenhower has made a wise choice in naming John Foster Dulles as his secretary of state.

Republican Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper went further and applauded Eisenhower's choice of Charles E. Wilson of General Motors for defense secretary and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon for interior secretary.

Hickenlooper, member of the foreign relations committee which will handle the Dulles nomination, described all three as "very able men" and said he did not think any of them would have difficulty winning senate confirmation.

Points to Experience
Pointing to Dulles' varied experience in foreign policy, Hickenlooper said:

"I think his handling of foreign affairs has been widely acclaimed, especially in connection with the Japanese peace treaty."

Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette greeted the selection of Dulles as meaning the Eisenhower administration will have "a sound and efficient secretary."

Wanted Lodge
Gillette said he had hoped the President-elect would name Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. (R-Mass.) as defense secretary but added that Wilson can "fill the post with judgement and ability."

Here are brief thumbnail sketches of the three new secretaries named Thursday by President-elect Eisenhower.

Dulles—son of a Presbyterian minister. His grandfather, John Watson Foster, was secretary of state under President Benjamin Harrison. He got his first diplomatic appointment from President Wilson at the age of 29—to negotiate with Latin American countries over the wartime safety of the Panama Canal.

Named by Roosevelt
He was named by President Roosevelt as an advisor in the 1945 San Francisco Conference that adopted the United Nations charter. He also served as Republican advisor to the three Democratic secretaries of state, was the architect of the Japanese Peace Treaty, and advised Eisenhower on foreign policy during his campaign.

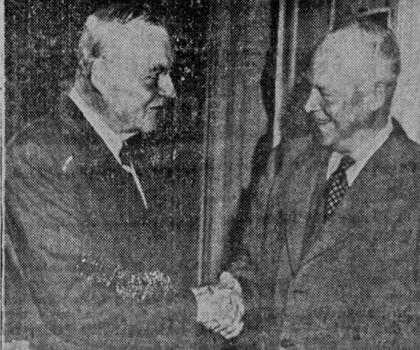

Wilson—he is not to be confused with the Charles E. Wilson of General Electric who was government war mobilizer and who split with President Truman over the administration's handling of the steel strike during the past year. Wilson took over the presidency of the vast General Motors organization in 1941 after having been a vice-president for 10 years. Some years ago he had difficulties with labor unions.

But in recent years, GM's Wilson had become recognized as a leader in obtaining agreements on long-term working contracts, cost-of-living pay arrangements and wage boosts based on increased production.

McKay is a veteran of the first world war. He ran an automobile agency in Salem, Ore., for many years where he was mayor. He served as a state senator and became governor of his state four years ago.

He was elected to serve the unexpired term of Earl Snell who was killed in a plane crash. McKay has been active in the study of resources development in the northwest as a member of the Columbia Basin Inter-Agency Committee.

He insisted during the campaign that a Republican administration would not call a halt to construction of multi-purpose dams and resources development. The three appointees are expected to go to Washington soon and begin familiarizing themselves with the duties they are to assume.

News Blackout Set on Ike's Korean Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The defense department announced Thursday an official news blackout will be clamped around President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's forthcoming trip to the Korean war zone.

The announcement said that for security reasons no news of the general's presence or activities in the far Pacific will be cleared until after he leaves Korea.

In addition, the department said there will be no published schedule of the date of Eisenhower's departure from this country, his arrival in Korea or his departure en route back to the United States.

Attack Feared
Fears have been expressed by some that Eisenhower might be come a target of enemy attack if details of his projected trip were disclosed in advance.

Secretary of Defense Lovett said Eisenhower had approved the black-out arrangements.

Lovett appealed to the nation's press, radio, television and newsreels to co-operate in carrying out the restrictions.

The department gave no inkling of when Eisenhower might depart, but reports from the general's headquarters in New York said plans for the trip were apparently moving ahead.

Announced Trip
Eisenhower announced during the election campaign that he planned to visit the Korean battlefield in the hope of finding some means to end honorably the two-year-old struggle.

He said he had no easy or sure-fire solution, but said he was convinced it would be helpful to make an on-the-spot survey of the situation.

He also proposed using greater numbers of American-trained Republic of Korea troops to man the fighting front so that American GIs could be drawn back into reserve position.

3 Newsmen Included
James C. Hagerty, press secretary for Eisenhower, announced that only three representatives of news media will travel with the general.

Hagerty said that he recommended one correspondent, a still photographer and a newsreel man. He said there were only three places left on the general's plane.

Hagerty said he recommended that various services providing news and picture coverage arrange to choose the three individual representatives.

Polish Boy Seeks Father in England After Fleeing Reds

LONDON (AP) — A wide-eyed Polish boy who bluffed his way through the Iron Curtain arrived Thursday night on the last leg of his long journey to find the father he cannot even remember.

Mieczyslaw Tomkiewicz, 13, fair-haired and undersized, managed a thin smile as he stepped out of a plane from Berlin.

The father, Ludwig Tomkiewicz, a former officer in the anti-Soviet army of Poland's wartime Gen. Anders, now works at a textile mill in northern England. Father and son had been apart since the boy was a few months old.

The father was so overcome by emotion over the prospective meeting that he was unable to come to London.

Rushed Though Customs
The boy was rushed through customs and placed in care of a woman who will take him to his father.

When war separated the family, the boy, his mother and grandmother were sent to a collective farm in Soviet Siberia for six years. This was punishment for the father's wartime career with the anti-Soviet Poles.

The grandmother died there in 1944. Later the boy and his mother were returned to a farm in Poland.

Thought Father Dead
At first the boy thought his father was dead. Then one day he heard he was in England, and Mieczyslaw started trying to come home.

He sold his pet rabbits and collected eight pounds of bread and a map. Then, by riding trains and walking, he got from southwestern Poland to Berlin in five days.

Mieczyslaw said he had slipped through the Russian-German-Polish controls chiefly by answering in Russian the questions and guards asked him.

The British consulate in Berlin found the boy in a children's home and arranged for him to come to England.

Tax Export Firm Official Chared With Conspiracy
BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Henry Lloyd Knight, a top official in a Bethesda firm that exports airplane parts, Thursday was arrested on a charge of conspiring to ship aircraft parts behind the Iron Curtain.

He was released in $10,000 bail after a hearing before Commissioner F. Archie Mayard Jr. on the specific charge of violating the Neutrality act of the United States.

We're putting our chips on Iowa when it meets Notre Dame this afternoon — as we suspect that the Hawkeyes will do a little bell ringing before the game is over.

Last Saturday's thumping 39-14 victory over a favored Northwestern team seems, in our opinion, to make such a rating justifiable.

The Hawks, despite a lack of experience and depth as compared to other Big Ten teams, have risen to great heights in the hearts of SUI students and football fans throughout the state.

In the face of almost overwhelming odds the fighting Iowa team grabbed the role of giant-killer to turn in a hard-fought homecoming upset against mighty Ohio State — up to that time a top contender for the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Then the following Saturday afternoon the Black and Gold proceeded to push a tough and game Minnesota team all over the field until a few of those all-important "breaks" helped the Gophers squeeze by, 17-7. These superb showings on the football field were accomplished, it must be remembered, by the same team and the same coaches who were picked by "experts" to lose every game this year.

There is no measuring just how much student spirit has entered into the fine showing of the team. But it is interesting to note that this enthusiasm hit its peak during the Ohio State game. Head Coach Forest Evashevski recognized this and credited the show of support by the students as a big factor in the outcome of the contest.

Another such display today would no doubt contribute heavily to an upset of the highly favored Irish.

Regardless of the outcome, however, the season has been far from a sour one. The Hawk upset wins are a tribute to a hardworking team and also serve as a hint of what can be expected of Hawkeye football fortunes in the future.

Stassen Is 'Thrilled' For Assisting Ike To Top Objective
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, who will direct operations of the mutual security agency in the new Republican administration, said Friday he was "thrilled" to assist President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower in achieving "his top objective of peace with prosperity."

Stassen, 45, three times GOP governor of Minnesota, twice an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, was one of Eisenhower's earliest supporters until he decided to seek the White House job himself. He entered the race before the general announced he would accept the nomination.

It was Stassen, too, who made Eisenhower's nomination on the first ballot possible at the GOP national convention last July. He released enough Minnesota delegates to give Ike victory in the fight with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Britain Begins Hunt For Near Relatives Of U.S. War Dead
NEW YORK (AP) — A nation-wide hunt began Thursday to locate the next-of-kin of American military personnel killed in World War II operations launched from the British Isles.

Col. John Jacob Astor, chairman of The Times, London, came to this country to do the job. His objective is to learn the present addresses of the closest relatives of 28,000 American dead in order to include them in gestures of British homage.

The project is connected with the building of an American memorial chapel in London's massive St. Paul's Cathedral.

Approximately two million Britons contributed to a fund for the chapel in tribute to "American service and sacrifice in common defense of the world's liberty," and in memory of the 28,000.

In addition to the chapel, still under construction The Times (London) and British Lord Dufferin have financed the publication of a book, "Britain's Homage to 28,000 American Dead," for distribution to kin of these war casualties.

Astor asked that nearest kin of those who died in operations from Britain send the name of the deceased, his unit, and their own name, address and relationship to him at this address:

Illinois Legislator Pledges Red Drive

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The House un-American activities committee will do its utmost to keep Communists out of the new Republican administration, Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) said Thursday.

The committee also will continue weeding out "pinks and fellow travelers already established in some executive departments," he said. "We plan to work closely with the attorney general and the FBI."

"That will take up much of our time when we resume operations in January," he explained to the Associated Press when reached by telephone at the Miami Beach hotel where he is vacationing.

Velde is the ranking Republican on the committee and is expected to become chairman after the Republicans take over.

SUI's Peppy Cheerleaders Set for Irish

The 'Beat Notre Dame' will be the battle cry of the SUI cheerleaders today. When the Hawkeyes meet the fighting Irish on the gridiron this afternoon seven enthusiastic SUI cheerleaders will be out in front of the crowd leading the yells.

Marge Hoffman, A4, Monticello, is captain of the squad. It is she who decides which yells and at what time they will be given. The cheerleaders try to make the yells simple, as the time limit and crowd participation enters in. "The best yells are slow and graceful, rather than snappy and long," said captain Hoffman.

3-Year Veteran
The cheerleaders include Reed Hartsook, C3, Des Moines, who has been on the team three years; Phyllis Schultz, N4, Council Bluffs, who has been on two years and Ann Kensing, A3, Tama and Marilyn Gilerest, A3, Laurens, both who have been on one year. Marge has been with the team for two years.

Two new boys have been added this year. They are Cris Hertz, A2, Des Moines; and Al Waxenburg, A1, Davenport.

At the beginning of second semester, a new system of picking cheerleaders is going to be used. Tryouts will be held at which students will be taught the SUI yells.

Practices Will Be Held
Three or four practices will be held depending upon the time it takes to learn the cheers. Then a night will be picked at which time students will be judged and selected on the basis of ability, form and enthusiasm.

The old system of holding spring tryouts was discontinued because they felt that new members would have a better chance for cheerleading experience at the last few basketball games, and not come in so green in the fall.

Meetings are called anytime by the captain to practice yells or to talk over and plan pep rallies.

2 Cheers Added
Two new cheers have been added to the collection this semester because of student request. They are "Iowa Hawkeye" yell and the "Big Ten" yell. At one time a contest was held to enlist more new cheers, but since the response was so slim, the group now makes up their own.

Some of the yells used include "Iowa Locomotive," "Rah, Yea Iowa," "E-O-Wawa," clap yell and the band yell.

Dick Holzaepfel, SUI gymnastics coach, is the faculty sponsor for the group.

The Notre Dame game this afternoon at the Iowa stadium will be the last game for the football team, but for the SUI cheerleaders this is only the start of many games at which they will participate.

The basketball season starts Dec. 1 with Butler university of Indiana, and the seven SUI cheerleaders are set.

Champion Shows Trophies

LEONARD HIPPCHEN, G, IOWA CITY, is shown with some of the trophies he has won playing table tennis. Hippchen will defend his SUI men's singles championship at a tournament sponsored by the Iowa Union board this weekend. He started playing table tennis 15 years ago and has won more than 15 awards. Hippchen is business manager of The Daily Iowan.

Table Tennis Champion To Defend 1951 Title

The title of "champion" will be defended by Leonard J. Hippchen, G, Iowa City, when he plays in the SUI men's table tennis singles tournament to be held in the Iowa Memorial Union this weekend.

Hippchen won the 1951 men's singles tournament, an event sponsored yearly by the Iowa Union Board.

Hippchen started playing table tennis 15 years ago at a YMCA and won his first award at a boys' doubles championship at San Antonio, Texas in 1939.

In 1942 he added a men's singles championship and won second place in men's doubles in the Texas open table tennis tournament. The same year he was men's singles champion and mixed doubles champion at San Antonio.

Hippchen has won championships in South Dakota and Chicago. In 1948 and 1949 he was singles champion at the University of Texas.

Earlier this year Hippchen was number one player on the SUI three man team at the mid-western open tournament.

When Hippchen first started playing table tennis he practiced 20 hours a week; now he practices about four hours a week. He attends the SUI table tennis club which meets at the Union.

Hippchen said, "if you learn different styles of playing table tennis it will make you a better player." He learned many different styles while he was in the army and played against people from all parts of the country.

Hippchen likes to play softball, golf and chess.

At the present time Hippchen is business manager of the Daily Iowan.

Iowa Football, This Year and Next—

About this time of the year Iowa football fans begin reminiscing the past season's accomplishments, pitfalls, and so on. They also like to look forward and maybe say "it'll be different next year."

Let's look over the 1952 Hawkeye grid season. We'll try to answer a few questions which might be present in the normal fan's mind as to prospects and returning men from this year's squad.

Anyone passively looking at the Hawks' present record would say that the team has nothing. They have lost six games and won only two with the outcome of the Notre Dame game remaining to be seen. Yet there is much more to that record than appears to the eye.

In the first place a complete turnover took place in the Iowa coaching staff this year. Head coach Forest Evashevski and his aides—Bump Elliott, Bob Flora, Whitey Piro, Wally Schwank and Archie Kodros—had quite an obstacle to overcome. When Evy took the job he realized that Iowa was in desperate need of material.

Material, of course, was the main drawback, but there were several others as time progressed. One was that the Hawks have been using the T-formation for years, and Evashevski advocates the Michigan-style single wing offense. Then the squad had fewer lettermen returning than any other conference team, and very few teams in the Big Ten, if any, had slimmer depth than the Iowans.

Evashevski and his staff have given this 1952 squad more spirit, even in losing, than has been present at Iowa for quite sometime. They have gained the respect of the players. This is a primary factor in enticing football players to work and play up to their abilities. Evy has seen that the players get individual attention and are shown the "what's, how's and why's" of football. He rounded a new offense into shape, and the Hawkeys have used it increasingly well over the season.

Most important of all, and Iowa fans should be thankful for it, the new staff has produced two victories from a team which has been at least two touchdown underdog in every game they played.

The Hawks have come a long way since the Pittsburgh game. The squad is made up mostly of sophomores and juniors, and some seniors who have another year of eligibility remaining. Those boys who entered this season as inexperienced in Big Ten football tactics will form a good veteran nucleus for next year.

All in all Evy and his staff are to be commended on the fine job done this year. The squad which meets mighty Notre Dame today has, over a short period of time, gained confidence in itself.

So much for this season. Let's look at things to come. Optimism seems to be the word for the view of the majority of Iowa fans for the '53 campaign, but just don't expect too much.

One of the main reasons for the optimism is the bumper crop of fresh griders Iowa got this year. On the roster of the freshmen are names of prospects from all over the country. The freshman line is to be rated on an equal par with any yearling squad of linemen in the conference. Also boosting the Iowa hopes are number of returning men from this season's squad.

Some of the names of top fresh prospects (although we hesitate to name any as there are many more who are capable of moving into varsity berths next year) follow—Linemen: Bob Anders, Moline, Ill.; George Asleson, Charles City; Joe Briggs, Minneapolis, Minn.; Bob Cummings, Youngstown, Ohio; Jim Freeman, Iowa City; Frank Gilliam, Steubenville, Ohio; John Glaros, Youngstown, Ohio; Harlan Jenkinson, Waterloo; Calvin Jones, Steubenville, Ohio; Terry Shuck, Des Moines; Stan Davis, Glenwood; Eldan Kanellis, Cedar Rapids; Terry Moran, River Forest, Ill.; Tilly Petrozzi, Mingo Jct., Ohio; John Simms, Mountsville, W. Va.; Phil Surgen, Hadley Mass. and Eddie Vincent, Steubenville, Ohio.

But let's look at the opposition and then formulate opinions from as to how many the squad can win in 1953. Our Hawks play Michigan State here Sept. 26, Washington State here Oct. 3, Michigan there Oct. 10, Wyoming here Oct. 17, Indiana here Oct. 24, Wisconsin there Oct. 31, Purdue there Nov. 7, Minnesota here Nov. 14 and finish with Notre Dame Nov. 21. See what we mean?

Irish Have 5-3 Win Edge In Series

stubbornly. Phil Hayman and Emmett Sawyer, guards who missed the NU game, will be back and their replacements, Chuck Boothe and Tom Ellis, who did so well last week, are set again.

Led by Lattner
The Notre Dame attack is led by John Lattner, who has averaged close to five yards per carry, and Neil Worden, 3.5, augmented by the passing of Ralph Guglielmi and Tom Carey, who have completed nearly 50 per cent of their throws. Halfbacks Joe Heap and Lattner are leading receivers.

It's not an old series, as compared with those involving Iowa and Big Ten rivals, for the game at Iowa City today is only the 11th. Notre Dame leads, 5-3, in victories. But the 1950 and 1951 games were ties.

This is the eighth straight game and Notre Dame is scheduled as Iowa's final opponent in 1953 and 1954, too. Iowa is one of four teams to win three straight games from the Irish, others being Pittsburgh, Southern California and Michigan State.

Highlights of Past
In reverse chronological order, here are some highlights of past games.

In 1951 Iowa led until the final 55 seconds and in the third quarter was ahead, 20-6, on a pass from Burt Britzmann to Binkey Broeder, good for 65 yards, a Britzmann to Dusty Rice pass for 45, and a Broeder TD on an 8-yard run. Irish passes and a pass interference penalty to the Iowa one-yard line led to Notre Dame's third touch down which tied the game at 20-20.

Iowa scored two touchdowns in the first quarter in 1950 on Don Commack's 13-yard run and a Glenn Drahn to Bob Wilson 26-yard pass. Notre Dame scored on marches of 75 and 80 yards, sparked by Bob Williams' passing to tie the Hawks, 14-14.

Passes Stop Hawks
Air power stymied Iowans in 1949 as Bob Williams completed 11 of 20 for 197 yards. Jerry Faska of Iowa gained 82 yards by rushing, but the Hawks led, 28-7. Fifty-three thousand people at Iowa City saw Al DiMarco's pass-

Little Hawks, Bluehawks Lose

By DICK MAU
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Muscatine employed an effective fast break to breeze past City high 66-58 in a basketball game Friday night in the Iowa City gym. The Muskies jumped off to a 14-11 first quarter lead behind the scoring of forward Dick Barry and guard Don Huff. City high led only twice during the contest, and these were one point margins in the early part of the inaugural period.

Both teams were playing unimpressive ball during the first quarter, but at the outset of the second period the Muscatine team's fast break and play sequences began clicking.

At one time during the second quarter the Muskies gained a 23-13 advantage mostly behind the play of forwards John Robinson and Gregg Schroeder who accounted for five and six points respectively.

John Englert, forward, sparked (11 of 26 for 201 yards) keep Iowa in the game in 1948. But the Irish ground game was too good, 375 to Iowa's 41. Two long runs helped to boost the score to 27-12. Notre Dame, late in the game.

In 1947, Iowa missed three touchdowns by scant margins but the Irish hit for three and the ball game, 21-0. Johnny Lujack's passes were too sharp for Iowa. Em Tunnell's 65-yard dash to the Notre Dame 10 was the afternoon's best run.

First Win of Series
The first Irish win of the series was in 1945 when undermanned Iowa yielded 8 touchdowns and 352 yards at South Bend, 56-0. Fullback Bill Green gained 80 yards in 29 carries for all of Iowa's rushing yards in 1940. He scored from the two with five minutes left and Iowa won, 7-0. Nile Kinnick inspired Iowa with running and punting to a 7-6 win in 1939. Iowa recovered a fumble on the Notre Dame four and Kinnick scored on the first shot, then drop-kicked the point. Kinnick booted a 68-yard punt to the Notre Dame seven in the closing moments.

The first game, at Iowa City was in 1921 when the Iowa win wrecked the 20-game Irish winning string, 10-7. Iowa scored all its points in the first quarter by Gordon Locke on the two and Aubrey Devine's 35-yard drop kick.

the losers to a 14-point scoring spurt before the half ended. The Muskies led at halftime 31-25.

Muscatine came back in the second half with a third period spurge of 22 points while the Little Hawks could muster only 14. Trailing 53-39 as the final quarter opened the Hawklets began using a pressing defense which upset the Muscatine attack. Don Hedges' presence in the Hawkle lineup gave the hosts a scoring punch as he pushed in four field goals and free throw.

City high narrowed the Musky margin in the final period, but could not operate their pressing defense without fouling. The new two shot free throw rule gave the Muscatine team the necessary lead to maintain a good enough margin to insure victory.

Forward Dick Barry was high for the game with 17 points, and he was followed by mates Robinson and Schroeder with 16 and 15 respectively.

Blues Rally, But Lose To Anamosa Five, 44-40

By STAFF WRITER

Although it never held a lead, U-high gave Anamosa a good battle before succumbing, 44-40, here Friday night. The Blues pulled to within a single point early in the fourth quarter.

Gardner Van Dyke, although playing with a bad shoulder that had to be heavily taped, scored 22 points in the loss. Arnie Ditch topped the winners with 18 points, 12 in the first half.

Neither team got off to a fast start but Anamosa held an 1-6 lead at the end of the first quarter. The eventual winners increased that margin to 20-12 at halftime.

U-high then pulled the score to a four-point deficit at the end of the third period, 27-23.

Center Ike Riggie closed it to 27-25 as the fourth quarter began. Arnie Ditch made a free toss but Larry Smith's bucket brought the Blues to only one-point behind, 28-27.

Two quick buckets by Fay Orman and a free toss by Ditch gave Anamosa a more commanding, 35-27, lead.

U-high stayed in the fight, however and Riggie's tip after a missed free throw closed the score to 42-40 with 10 seconds left. Two free tosses by A. Ditch closed the scoring.

In the reserve game, U-high won a close one, 38-37.

Foreign Cultures to Be Televised

Foreign students at SUI will take to the television airwaves Sunday at 1 p.m. over WOC-TV, Davenport, to present actual pictures of their native lands.

A product of the television laboratory at the university, the program will consist of episodes on foreign life.

An "armchair traveler", senior Jack Ritchel, will "travel around" in his capacity as moderator, visiting these countries to learn something of their culture.

A Hindu wedding will be enacted during the Indian part of the show, with Dr. P. L. Deshmukh, Poon, India, playing the part of the priest. O. P. Pipiani, Meerut, India, an engineering student, will portray the part of the groom. A Texas girl, Sylvia Levinson, sophomore, will play the role of the bride.

Dr. D. R. Mahajan, a resident surgeon at the university hospitals, will narrate the wedding scene and will explain Hindu philosophy and customs regarding marriage.

Hollywood of Egypt
The Egyptian section of the program will be introduced by Aziz Sherbini, Ciza, Egypt, and will feature a film about the Hollywood of Egypt.

The "armchair traveler" will go into a Turkish home to learn its customs and actually see the home. Students from Turkey will present many examples of embroidery, pictures and other handicrafts which they brought with them from home.

The skit on Turkey will have Bilan Ozyigit as the mother, and Rasim Etiman will portray the father. Both are graduate students from Istanbul, Turkey.

Turkish Dance
A Turkish dance will conclude the program, with Halit Cakir and Iya Kirali playing dancing roles. Both are freshmen engineering students. Buket Uluzqurt, a daughter of a student from Ankara, will play the part of the little girl.

This program will be entirely different from foreign student telecasts of the past," said John Ulrich, television instructor and director of the show, "in that it presents international understanding through visual evidence."

Script and program development will be handled by James Wehr, A3, Iowa City, also assistant director, Richard Sanderson, G, Mount Vernon, floor manager, and Ronald Petersen, A4, Clear Lake. They are handling the program as a part of their television classwork.

Junior Panhellenic To Hold Song Fest

The Junior Panhellenic council will have a meeting Nov. 24 at 4:10 p.m. in the Shambaugh Heritage auditorium at the library.

The program will be a "song fest" in which a song will be sung by each sorority pledge class.

Bank Being Remodeled

(Daily Iowan Photo)
THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IOWA CITY is undergoing extensive interior remodeling designed to increase lobby space by one-third and generally to improve working conditions. Workmen from the M. D. McCreedy Construction Co. shown here are Leon Cooper, left, and Charles McCreedy. Improvements planned include increasing the number of tellers' windows from 7 to 10, installing a modern lighting system and an acoustical tile ceiling and constructing a new vestibule. New quarters for the trust department have been provided by removal of an old storage vault. Bank officials expect the work to be completed by Jan. 1.

'Course of Action' To Be Televised On Ames Station

An SUI television production, "Course of Action," will be presented Tuesday at 10 a.m. over WOI-TV in Ames, according to Prof. John R. Winnie, chief of television production at SUI.

Included in the cast will be Robert Oesterling, G, Zelenople, Pa.; Dean Kenny, A4, Ridgewood, N. J.; and Stanley Almflo, G, Des Moines. Oesterling and Almflo will be program assistant and unit manager, respectively. Robert Irwin, G, Iowa City, is the floor manager.

The program, written and directed by Lawrence McKune, television instructor, involves three high school students who get in a heated discussion over the necessity for a general education, while setting up an assembly stage for a visiting lecturer.

Prof. C. d'A. Gerken, of the psychology department, is technical consultant.

Brookhaven Scientist To Speak at SUI

Dr. Lee E. Farr of the Brookhaven National Laboratory will speak at the topic, "The Impact of Nuclear Science on Medicine."

The address is being sponsored by the Iowa chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society.

Farr will deliver the address in the Shambaugh lecture hall of the main library at 8 p.m. Anyone interested is invited.

SUI Mountaineers To Present Film

"Egypt's Paget on the Nile," directed by Deane Dickason, noted film lecturer, will be the subject for the Iowa Mountaineers' travelogue Sunday night at 8 p.m. in MacBride auditorium.

Dickason recently directed two films released by Warner Brothers studio. These color films were "Down Singapore Way" and "Beautiful Ball."

Admission will be by travelogue Series A membership or by single admission tickets at the door. Adult tickets are 80 cents each and children under 12 will be admitted for 50 cents each.

Johnson Completes Air-Ground Course

Maj. W. W. Johnston, USAF, assistant professor of air science and tactics at SUI recently returned from Southern Pines, N. C. where he attended a seven-day course in air force air-ground operations.

The officers were indoctrinated in the tactical air-ground operations system as established jointly by the air force and army.

The case of the Unapproachable Alumnus

How Do You Get That Gift Horse to Open His Mouth?

Once there was a Wealthy Alumnus who was also a Soft Touch. Tie around your neck and he'll give you his shirt to go with it.

One day he realized that this habit of always saying "Yes" to the Big Question was costing him a Pretty Penny. So he became a Hard Man to Get To. Letters, phone calls and personal visits all encountered a secretary with a face like a flint and a 4-word vocabulary. ("He's out of town.")

This was Rough on the Old School, but nobody had a solution—until the football coach, Brain in his own right, came up with a Magnificent but Simple Idea. He dashed down to the Western Union office and dispatched a Telegram saturated with Old School spirit and dedicated to the theme that unless some Noble Soul came through pronto, the eleven would be playing barefoot and jersey-less.

The ice jam was broken. A Fat Check arrived the next day. Today things are back on a Normal Financial Basis.

There's nothing more practical than using Telegrams to Hurdle Barriers and get to the Guy (or the Gal) you want to talk to. When you want something... Cash from Home, a Date with a Dreamboat, an Interview with the Man who does the Hiring... it pays to Make your Bid via Western Union.

Report Indicates Reds to Block India's Korean Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States and its major allies seemed ready Friday to accept with amendments India's compromise plan for Korea—but Moscow reaction raised doubt whether the U. N. was moving toward actually stopping the war.

Moscow newspapers indicated the resolution put up by India's V. K. Krishna Menon is not satisfactory to the Soviet Union. Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky may give the official stand next week.

If Russians reject the plan Western diplomats will have to shelve it and take up other proposals in an effort to find a way out.

Outlook Gloomy
Menon received the first Moscow reaction with apparent gloom. He also said he would have to examine the conditions being laid down by the Western allies to see if they "poison the roots" of his proposal before he could say whether he would accept them.

Word of the Moscow reaction, the first hint of what Russia might say about the Menon proposal, spread rapidly through the U. N. Diplomats came to the Associated Press office to read a Moscow dispatch.

Soviet newspapers made it plain the Russians do not regard the Indian resolution as a correct way to settle the deadlock over repatriation of Korean prisoners of war, which both East and West assert is the final obstacle to an armistice.

Red Agency Comments
The official news agency Tass pointed out the Indian resolution maintains the stand of the U. S. on "forced repatriation."

The U. S. says it will not agree on any plan for forced repatriation of prisoners. The United States has insisted on a clear-cut statement on that point. Menon proposed that a repatriation commission of four members be established to effect the release and repatriation of 122,000 prisoners held by both sides. The commission would include Czechoslovakia, Poland, Sweden and Switzerland. Menon also suggested that these four name an umpire.

British Want Change
Here is where the British want a change, reportedly with the reluctant concurrence of the United States. They favor an amendment providing this: if the repatriation commission did not agree on an umpire within three weeks the choice of an umpire would be referred to the general assembly.

The talk in U. N. corridors is that India might be the umpire.

Ivy Reports Mystery Drug Merits Study

CHICAGO (AP)—Backers of the mystery cancer drug, Krebiozen, Friday made public a technical report on tests of the substance which, they said, eased symptoms of cancer victims.

The report, compiled by Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice-president of the University of Illinois in charge of the school's professional colleges, had been studied by a committee of experts from the university before they reported Sept. 24 they could find no proof the drug was effective.

A few days ago, Ivy's superior at the university, President George D. Stoddard, announced that the school's medical staff would spend no more time and money in research with Krebiozen. Stoddard gave as the reason for his action the failure of the drug's inventor, Dr. Steven Durovic, to supply quantities asked for research, or to reveal the process for making Krebiozen.

He pointed out that the American Medical Association and other investigative groups have reported that their tests of Krebiozen showed no "beneficial effects" in treatment of cancer.

The Ivy report released Friday by the Krebiozen Research foundation was based upon clinical studies of 500 patients made between June 1949 and February 1952.

In the report, compiled several months ago, Ivy said that, "following the administration of Krebiozen, symptoms were ameliorated in approximately 70 per cent of the patients observed."

The report said "it cannot be stated that Krebiozen is a cure for cancer in the sense that it will eradicate the disease from a patient." But, the report concluded, "Krebiozen is biographically active in the management of a significant number of patients with cancer and deserves a further, more detailed and controlled study."

A few of the patients treated, the report said, appeared to be free from malignancy after they had been studied from 12 to 20 months.

Harper Elected By Methodists At Annual Meeting

Dr. Earl E. Harper, head of the SUI school of fine arts and director of the Iowa Union, has been elected to serve as a representative on the newly created general conference commission of worship and the fine arts.

Harper was chosen by the board of bishops of Methodist churches at their annual meeting in Atlantic City.

During the past three years, Harper has been chairman of the department of worship and arts of the national council of churches. In that capacity, he will take an active part in the council's general assembly meeting in Denver, Dec. 8 to 12.

As a representative of the general conference commission of Methodist churches, Harper's additional duties will include directing liturgy ritual, church music, architecture, drama, painting, and sculpture in Methodist churches throughout the world.

Panacea Board To Plan Annual Spring Musical
The Panacea board will meet at 3:15 p.m. Monday to discuss plans for the annual spring all-campus musical. The board will select a script and the necessary administrative positions to be filled.

Panacea is the only show of its kind on campus written and produced by student talent. The show is scheduled for the middle of February.

"Doug" got his start in the restaurant business in Iowa City 23 years ago. Fifteen years ago he opened the D & L Grill which featured both booth and counter service. Ten years later he opened Doug's Coffee Shop with counter service. The counter service increased serving speed and proved successful, which led to the introduction of counter service into the D & L Grill.

There are now 70 full-time employees and nine cooks working in Doug's establishments. All meals are prepared at the D & L and delivered hot to the coffee shop and the diner where they are immediately put into steam cabinets to be kept hot.

All meat served is bought directly from the packer and is cut and ground here. Doug's home-baked pies have been served at the rate of 100 per day. Coffee is ground just before serving.

The daily menu is the same at all three places. The D & L has private dining rooms for parties of from 10 to 100 persons. The Blue room has a capacity of 20 and the Spanish room can seat over a hundred people.

Doug's Coffee Shop is open 24 hours daily and is managed by Harrell Wright, who has been with Doug for the past 16 years.

New Diner Opens in Iowa City

DOUG'S DINER opened Oct. 21 under the management of Genevieve Conklin. Doug's Diner is complete in modern equipment and decoration, and is located at the corners of Dodge St. and Iowa Ave. Above is a partial view of the interior of the new diner.

Laundromat Offers Two Fast Services

Students find it costs less to have their clothes washed at the Laundromat than by mailing them home to Mother. The mailing cost of the laundry bundle, approximately seventy-five cents, is higher than the cost of having the Laundromat do it.

Not only is the Laundromat inexpensive, but it is convenient. You can drop your laundry off on your way to class, and pick it up after class. There's no need to wait a week for your clothes to return from home, while your remaining white shirt gets dirtier and dirtier and your supply of socks drops to zero!

Also the drudgery of doing an extra wash is removed from your mother's long list of duties when you let the Laundromat handle that chore.

The Laundromat stresses two kinds of convenient services. One allows you to run your own laundry through the machines, if you have the time to spare. The other allows you to merely leave your laundry, and you can pick it up later after it has been completely serviced by the Laundromat attendants. After you place your clothes in the Westinghouse washing machines, the attendants will take care of the entire operation for ten cents a tub, and you can pick them up at your convenience.

Laundromat hours are designed for the customer: first wash, 7:30 a.m.; last wash, 7:30 p.m.; close at 9:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Friday and Saturday, first wash, 7:30 a.m., last wash, 3:30 p.m., close at 5 p.m. To assure the quickest service, call for an appointment before bringing your laundry.

Darzes Brings 46 Years of Candy Making Experience to Iowa City

Quality butter and cream are the right ingredients to put into quality candy, according to Mr. Darzes, and this is just what Darzes Candies do for you to bring you better candies.

Mr. Darzes has been making candy for 46 years, and most of his recipes come from Europe, where he previously was in the candy-making business.

Mr. Darzes has made a thousand pounds of candy a week for the past three weeks, which indicates the volume of sweets with which he is involved. Fifteen different flavored creams, a feature of the store, are dipped in dark and light chocolate. Different designs on the top of each candy help identify the flavors. Among the nut candy favorites made by Darzes are roasted pecans, filberts, cashews, almonds, Brazils, and peanut clusters.

Recently Darzes imported candy from Europe for the Christmas holidays — lollypops from France; Swiss chocolates from Switzerland; crystal ginger from China. He also has candied fruit and white chocolate, which are only available through the New York markets.

As for unusual requests, Darzes has received orders for party mints colored to match napkins, candles, or a piece of cloth. Mints can be tinted to match any color you desire. Darzes also packages all of his candies in special gift boxes.

Mr. Darzes is celebrating his first anniversary of business in Iowa City this month. He previously was located in Elmora, Iowa. Darzes daily features 60 to 70 different candies in his showcases at 123 S. Dubuque.

Jewelers Offer Seasonal Hints For 'Natural Ornamentation'

The average American male remembers his wife with a present at Christmas and on her birthday, but the model husband is the one who surprises his wife when she doesn't expect it!

Your Jewelers fashion list for men and women includes:
1. The very wide ring in 14k yellow gold is a natural ornamentation in a year when sleeves are primarily three-quarters in length or do not come below the shoulder line at all.
2. The platinum diamond clip and drop earrings are in the news this winter. Interest at the skirt flange and in the lowered waistline calls for design that carries the eye down!

3. Collarless cardigan necklines, wide-cut collared for day and décolleté for evening, as well as a resurgence for black as the top color invite a bright, white cultured pearl necklace—big enough to create the flash, and matched with the promises to be a prime favorite in earrings, the drop style.

4. With more single-breasted, three-button and two-button styles on the production agenda for Fall more of the medium width tie will be a showing Dress up for any occasion—that means more ornamentation, and the Tie Tack group in 14k gold gives the necessary accessorizing.

5. Whether the neckline for evening is the new portrait or boat-shave, or cover up, the bib will either do the required fill-in or lend it the jeweled ornamentation. Black alone, or brushed with color, also invites bright white or colored stone brilliance, and the bib of pearls or colored beads is the suitable accessory to dramatize this color or silhouette trend.

Hall's Known World-Wide

Hall's novelty and gift shop has been widely known since 1946. The Hall's name has appeared along with advertisements of their many unusual gifts in a large number of nationally-circulated magazines. These mail order advertisements have attracted customers from countries throughout the world.

H. L. Lundquist purchased Hall's Novelty and Gift Shop from Charles W. Hall in 1950. He then moved the shop from the outskirts of Iowa City to its present location at 127 S. Dubuque.

Mr. Lundquist has both a retail and wholesale branch to his novelty business. He has recently limited mail orders to the United States, although he still maintains regular customer service in more than 13 areas outside the United States.

Requests for unusual articles are frequent at Hall's, and Mr. Lundquist makes every effort to fill these requests and keep the customer satisfied.

Hall's is currently featuring numerous novelty gifts for Christmas, and they are moderately priced in spite of their uniqueness.

Thief Makes Mysterious Appearance at Capitol

A thief made a mysterious appearance at the Capitol theater Thursday night and held his audience captive for over an hour. Not a word was spoken by either the thief or his victims. The terror of the drama left them speechless.

The thief, who thrilled the audience with his breath-taking escapades, was described as wearing a gray hat, pulled slightly over his eyes, and a gray topcoat over a blue serge suit.

The audience wore expressions of astonishment, surprise, terror and disbelief.

Ray Milland, playing in his greatest role since Lost Weekend, is starred in "The Thief," the film currently being shown at the Capitol theater.

The picture may start a new movie-making trend if it isn't accused of reviving an old one—that of the silent picture. Not one word is spoken throughout the movie.

Keokuk Police Probe Death of Woman, 52, Found in School Yard

KEOKUK (AP)—An autopsy was being performed Friday afternoon to determine if a woman whose body was found on the grounds of a public school here met death by foul play.

The body of Mrs. Harvey Gipe, 52, of Keokuk, was found in the yard of Lincoln elementary school early Friday morning by Assistant Police Chief Virgil Covert and two patrolmen.

Police were directed to the school yard by an anonymous telephone tip.

Source of Tip Unknown
Chief of Police E. C. Alberts said late Friday afternoon it had not been definitely determined who provided the tip, but "we're questioning a man about it now."

There were no bruises on the woman's body when she was found, Alberts said. He added that he was awaiting a report from coroner George C. McGinnis as to the cause of death.

Covert said Mrs. Gipe's clothing was in disarray and her purse was open when police arrived at the school. One shoe was missing from the body, he said.

Lived Close to School
Alberts said Mrs. Gipe lived about a block and a half from the school, but had been visiting her son's home Thursday evening. She left there about 8:30 p.m., he said.

Shortly after 2 a.m. she took a taxicab from a downtown restaurant and the driver let her out on a street intersection in South Keokuk, about a mile and a half from her home, Alberts said.

The police chief said it had not been determined exactly where Mrs. Gipe was from the time she left her son's home until she called the taxicab.

"And we don't know yet why she took a cab to a point so far from home," he said.

Alberts said police believed she was taken to the Lincoln school grounds by car, rather than walking that distance.
