4 More Named To Top Posts By Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower Friday chose four more members of his administration, including Mrs. Oswald B. Lord of New York to succeed Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on the United Nations human rights commission.

He also stamped his approval on the prospective choice of C. Wesley Roberts of Kansas as Republican national chairman.

Mrs. Roosevelt resigned recently as a delegate to the UN. Eisenhower did not immediately name a successor as delegate, as distinguished from the human rights post.

Makes Letter Public

While announcing replacement of Mrs. Roosevelt on the human rights post, Eisenhower's headquarters made public a letter he sent to the widow of the former President, lauding her for fulfilling her UN duties "so long and so well."

Mrs. Lord, a Park avenue resident and a member of the Pillsbury flour family, has been active in social and welfare work.

Chosen also for administration posts were:

Mrs. Alma Kittredge Schneider, of Mt. Morrison, Colo., a Republican national committee member, as superintendent of the mint at Denver.

Robert W. Burgess, 65, of Pelham, N. Y., a statistical expert, as director of the census.

Robert S. Watson, 62, of Silver Springs, Md., a patent attorney, as patent commissioner.

Bids Students Farewell

The President-elect spent but half a day at his office, then drove to Columbia university for a round of farewells with faculty and students. His resignation as Columbia president becomes effective Monday.

Eisenhower's letter to Mrs. Roosevelt was dated Dec. 30 and read:

"Dear Mrs. Roosevelt: I understand that you have thought it best to resign your position as a delegate to the United Nations, and, of course, I respect your expressed desire to leave the post you have filled so long and so well.

Public Services Cited

"Your sincere concern for the less fortunate, your skill in the discharge of unique and important duties and the vital spirit animating all your public services have won world respect and the esteem of the American people.

"To this appreciation of the diligent and devoted service you have rendered, I add my own, together with best wishes for the years ahead.

"Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

A five-man subcommittee of the Republican national committee conferred early Friday and unanimously decided to recommend Roberts to the full committee for the chairmanship.

Subcommittee Makes Report

The subcommittee met Eisenhower to report its decision.

"He seemed to be very happy about it," former Sen. Harry Darby, Kansas national committee member, told newsmen afterward.

He said that Eisenhower, while pleased with the choice, was "very careful to make it understood that he feels selection of a chairman is a responsibility up to the national committee."

With Darby on the subcommittee were C. Mason Owlett of Pennsylvania, C. C. Spades of Florida, Mrs. Wesley Dixon of Illinois and Mrs. Neal Tourteloff of the state of Washington.

Professor Kurtz To Attend Meeting In New York City

Prof. E. B. Kurtz, head of the electrical engineering department, left for New York city Friday to attend a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

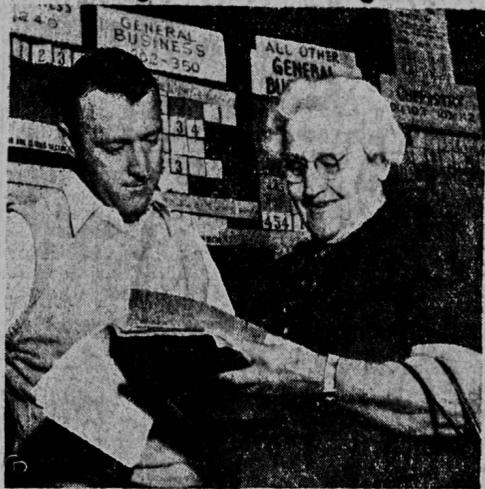

Kurtz is chairman of the committee on student activities for the Great Lakes district.

While in New York city, Kurtz will preside at the annual recognition dinner honoring outstanding young electrical engineers for 1952.

The honor is given by Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honorary fraternity, of which Kurtz is national president.

As national president, Kurtz will also officiate at a ceremony Monday afternoon, in which four engineers will be inducted into eminent membership of Eta Kappa Nu.

College Freshman at Age 72

MRS. AUGUSTA LYNCH, 72-year-old grandmother of 10, enrolls as a student at Michigan State college in East Lansing, with help of her son Harry, a graduate student. After her fifth child was graduated from Michigan State, Mrs. Lynch, of Custer, Mich., said, "I certainly don't intend to be outdone by my children," and enrolled in a course leading to a degree in insurance and real estate.

Truman Hits Back at Critics Demanding Cut in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman hit back Friday at congressional demands for deep slashes in this country's multi-billion dollar foreign aid programs.

In a 4,000-word letter to congress, Truman said the incoming Republican administration of President-elect Eisenhower will review the whole mutual aid program, and he declared that is "appropriate and desirable."

But the President contended, "There is no longer any responsible body of opinion in the United States that questions the rightness of the concept of mutual security in the free world nor of the need for American leadership and the investment of American resources in this common enterprise."

Some congressional critics have talked of slashing Truman's budget request for $7.6 billion in new funds to carry on the economic and military aid programs in the forthcoming fiscal year starting July 1.

In this category, chairman Taber (R-NY) of the house appropriations committee said recently that mutual security has a huge backlog of some 10 billion dollars in unspent funds that is "more than adequate" to pay for next year's aid.

Truman sent his views to congress in a letter accompanying the mutual security agency's semi-annual report.

The President urged the lawmakers to drop the "emergency" label applied to mutual aid programs and turn to long-range planning for the Western world's defense buildup.

"Programs to help build collective strength in the free world can no longer be considered as emergency measures," he wrote, "but as essential to the security of the United States in the cold war struggle which may be with us for a long time."

"For our sake and our partners' sake, it will be desirable to develop a longer range approach," he concluded.

Legislator Opposes House Red-Hunting in U.S. Universities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Scherer (R-Ohio), newly-chosen member of the house un-American activities committee, said Friday he is opposed to a widespread Red-hunt in American universities.

"I feel most universities should be permitted to set their own houses in order," he told a reporter.

Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), slated to be chairman of the committee, has announced plans to investigate Red influences in U. S. institutions of higher learning.

Scherer, a Cincinnati lawyer, also said he feels the committee should take definite steps to clear the innocent whose names may be brought up in committee hearings.

"I personally feel that every measure should be taken to prevent the discrediting of any person, unless there is adequate proof of his guilt," Scherer said.

"If certain individuals are harmed as the result of being mentioned in investigations which necessarily will happen from time to time, the committee should go out of its way to clear such individuals when it determines there is no guilt."

Finletter Predicts Guided Missiles Spanning Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Finletter said Friday the U.S. may have an ocean-spanning guided missile "fairly soon" but will not be fully into the pilotless-airplane phase for 30 years yet.

At the same time Finletter told a farewell news conference that the "human race will blow itself off the globe" unless some means of controlling the use of modern weapons is devised.

"Unless such a system is devised, and whether we win the war or not, civilization cannot survive," Finletter said.

The secretary said the United States must build a defense shield "so powerful that Russia will not attack," he said, and then must work for a system of "foolproof disarmament."

He said this shield could be achieved at present or even at reduced spending levels, but he declared any attempt in Congress to "apply the axe to the defense budget" would increase the danger of war.

Eisenhower Lauds Teachers' Integrity in Farewell Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower said Friday that "the true defense against communism" comes when "we approach communism" comes when "we preach with conviction and teach with integrity."

"No man flying a warplane or with a defensive gun in his hand can possibly be more important than the teacher," he said in a farewell address to some 1,300 Columbia university faculty members.

When he first came to Columbia as president, Eisenhower said, he had heard the "constant rumors that our universities were honey-combed with Communists" with communism "lying behind every brick" of the universities' buildings.

The President-elect said he had found, however, that the vast majority of teachers in American universities are devoted to developing "fine citizens."

Former SUI Editor Joins California Agency

A former editor of the Daily Iowan, William O. Merritt, has been employed as an account executive of Dozier Eastman and Co., Los Angeles, Calif., industrial advertising agency, the firm announced this week.

Before going to California in 1950, Merritt did public relations and sales promotion work. He also worked as a staff writer on the Rock Island Argus and other mid-western newspapers.

During the war Merritt served as a lieutenant in the naval combat intelligence. He graduated from SUI in 1935.

25th Annual Play Festival Set for SUI

SUI will be host to community players and high school casts from all parts of the state when the 25th annual Iowa Play Production festival is held here March 23-28.

Bulletins announcing the festival were sent out early this week, and several entries have already been received, Carol Beals, assistant festival secretary, has announced.

Williamsburg was the first to enter the community players' section of the festival, while Louanna consolidated school was the first to enter the high school section.

The first five days of the festival — March 23-27 — will feature performances by casts representing the high school division. The community players will make their appearance on March 28, and will perform only one day.

The festival is held annually to develop a widespread interest in the theater by encouraging the organization of amateur players in communities and schools, Prof. Edward C. Mable, director of the university theater and chairman of the festival committee, said.

It is sponsored jointly by the university's extension division, department of speech and dramatic art, and the community drama committee of the Iowa Federation of Women's clubs.

All Iowa community drama groups and high schools wishing to participate should enroll with the university extension division before Mar. 1, festival officials stress.

Lie Avoids Answer On Hiring Americans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Trygve Lie Friday evaded a direct commitment to the U.S. not to hire new Americans for the UN until they are tested by Washington for loyalty to the U.S.

It was disclosed at the same time that the UN has hired a Russian, Constantin P. Ekimov, to replace an American, Alexander S. Venchansky, who was fired in December for refusing to testify about Red connections.

Lie wrote Warren R. Austin, retiring U.S. chief delegate, who on Jan. 9 had relayed to Lie a U.S. request that the UN not employ more Americans until they have been screened.

Birth Date Affects Brains?

REIGATE, Eng. (AP) — Were you born between June and December? Then the odds are you're a dimwit, according to school teacher Norah Hines — who has been checking up on her students' birth-dates.

She discovered nearly all the bright kids were born in the first half of the year, the dunces in the second.

Her facts and figures so impressed Frederick de Havas, principal of Salmon's Cross school here, that he is carrying out a national survey to test the theory that brains and birthdays are connected.

Some of the famous who would find themselves among the bone-heads if Miss Hines' theory became accepted — President-elect Eisenhower, Winston Churchill, Stalin.

Among the brainy — President Truman, Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Albert Einstein.

Bail of $50,000 Set For Pair Held as Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two men trained by the U.S. army in the art of interrogation were held in $50,000 bail each Friday on charges of probing into American military secrets for the Russian embassy.

U.S. agents in Vienna, where the two former army intelligence men were seized on espionage charges, pressed their roundup with the arrest of at least two more American citizens for questioning.

American embassy officials in Vienna have predicted a substantial number of other arrests will be made in the spy plot investigation — the first ever to be linked directly with the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

Red Aide Ordered Expelled Yuri V. Novikov, second secretary at the Russian embassy and alleged director of the spy ring, has been ordered expelled from this country, but there was no indication Friday as to how soon he will leave.

Diplomatic officials said it is customary to allow a "reasonable" time for an ousted embassy aide to get his personal affairs in order before leaving, but they predicted the state department will start prodding the Soviets if Novikov is not on his way home within a few days.

Novikov, a 30-year-old career diplomat who served with the Red army during World War II, was described by special Asst. Atty. Gen. Oran H. Waterman as a "co-conspirator" with the two ex-GIs who were whisked back to Washington early Friday from Vienna.

The two, Otto Verber, 31, and Kurt Pongor, 39, who served with U.S. army intelligence during the last war and won American citizenship on the basis of their army records, appeared briefly before federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

Their formal arraignment on an indictment accusing them of delivering U.S. military information to Russian agents was deferred until Monday to give them an opportunity to engage lawyers.

Verber and Pongor, Vienna-born brothers-in-law, were attending the University of Vienna under the GI bill of rights when U.S. agents took them into custody Wednesday.

Military Plane Provided They were placed immediately aboard a special military air transport plane and flown to Washington, where they arrived early Friday morning, shackled to FBI agents.

At least three other Americans are being questioned in Vienna, including Walter Lauber, a student whose Austrian-born wife was reported to have fled to Russian controlled territory, and Ernest Tislowitz, 40, a German-born veteran of the U.S. army intelligence service.

The third was not identified.

Warmer Weather Predicted for Iowa During Next 4 Days

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowans shivering in bone-chilling cold weather Friday received cheering news that today will bring warmer temperatures and that will be the rule for the next four days.

A frigid air mass which moved into Iowa Thursday drove the mercury down to 26 below zero at Arnold's Park, 24 below at Sibley and 23 below at Sioux City and Spencer. Schools were closed at Sioux City because of the cold.

Sub-zero temperatures were the rule over Iowa early Friday morning and the warmest it got at Sioux City all day long was a frigid 2 degrees. The state high Friday afternoon was 19 at Dubuque, Davenport and Iowa City.

The weather bureau forecast considerably warmer weather for Saturday and said that despite Friday's cold, temperatures for the period from Friday to Tuesday would average 2 to 6 degrees above normal.

Meanwhile, highways in all but the southeastern part of the state remained icy and snow packed.

Ex-SUI Instructor To Head Hamline

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Paul Giddens, who studied at two Iowa colleges, has been elected president of Hamline university of St. Paul, the selection committee announced Thursday.

Now head of the history and political science department at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., Giddens received his bachelor's degree from Simpson college at Indianola in 1924 and his doctorate from SUI in 1930. He took his master's degree at Harvard university, Cambridge, Mass.

Giddens, a native of Bellflower, Mo., also was instructor of history and government at Iowa State college, Ames, from 1926 to 1928, and taught in several summer sessions at SUI and at Simpson. In 1928, Giddens was a fellow in history at SUI.

Vast Holdings Of G.M. Stock Stop Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate armed services committee balked Friday at giving immediate approval to Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense in the Eisenhower administration.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said the committee had decided it could not act on the cabinet appointment until it had clarification of laws limiting the private business holdings of government officials.

Wilson has just retired as president of General Motors, but he still holds about $2 1/2 million worth of stock in the giant automobile corporation. General Motors is one of the country's biggest defense contractors.

Action Delayed The committee's decision will delay action on Wilson's nomination at least until Monday, senators said. It will also hold up a vote on President-elect Eisenhower's choices for four other key posts in the defense establishment.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the senate majority leader, said congress may have to think about changing the law to clear the way for some of Eisenhower's cabinet choices.

Saltonstall said he would probably take the problem to Eisenhower's top advisors, including Herbert Brownell, attorney general-designate, and former Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, assistant to the President-elect.

Gore Opposes Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) announced Friday evening that he will vote against confirming Wilson as defense chief unless he divests himself of his General Motors holdings.

"I hold Mr. Wilson in high esteem," Gore said in a statement. "I raise no question about his ability, his sincerity, his integrity or his patriotism.

"But I do not see how the senate can confirm him in this position until and unless he divests himself of his holdings . . ."

Gore said a vote for Wilson's confirmation "would be tantamount to sanctioning the violation of the law of the land."

Cites G. M. Contracts "Dollar-wise," Gore added, "General Motors holds about 60 per cent of the government's defense contracts."

During his testimony Thursday Wilson told the senators he could not afford to sell his General Motors stocks because of the huge tax which would be assessed on such a transaction.

Committee members also reported that Wilson told them at the closed session that he would not be influenced in his dealings, as a government official, by General Motors. They quoted him as saying "what is good for General Motors is good for the country and what is good for the country is good for General Motors."

Byrd Undecided Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) told reporters he had not made up his mind about Wilson but that he believed it was "sound public policy" to ask government officials to divest themselves of substantial holdings in any business they would have to deal with as officials.

Martin P. Durkin of Illinois, a Democrat, was approved as secretary of labor by the senate labor committee Friday.

Allied Planes Smash at Red Supply Lines

SEOUL (AP) — Allied fighter-bombers blasted Red supply networks Friday, south of the 16 battered key rail and road bridges in northwest Korea, while Sabre jets, outnumbered 6 to 24, shot down one Communist MIG and damaged another.

Communist labor battalions have started to repair the battered rail network which "heavy week-long Allied raids left 'twisted like pretzels,'" the air force said Friday.

Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, commander of the U.S. fifth air force, said the intense Allied air campaign had made the war "expensive, bloody and unpopular" with the Reds but "we have no illusions" about winning the war through air power alone.

Barcus told AP correspondent George A. McArthur "we would need help" if the Reds should use their full air power now based in Manchuria, just across the Korean frontier. He added, however, that the Reds would lose a lot of their air power if they committed it to battle.

Last fall Gen. Otto P. Weyland, far east air forces commander, estimated the Chinese had 2,500 planes, including 1,100 jet fighters based in China and Manchuria. Last month Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, declared the Red planes outnumber the Allies 3 to 1.

Barcus called the heavily pounded Sianju road and rail bridge system — within 65 miles of Manchuria — one of the Reds' "most vital communications areas."

Fighter bombers roamed far and wide over north Korea Friday, cutting main rail arteries in 15 places.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

PARIS (AP) — The European edition of the New York Herald Tribune Saturday reported American and French police have arrested six men and seized more than three million dollars worth of heroin in France. The paper said the arrests — part of a drive to cut the flow of illicit drugs to the United States — were made this week after a 13-month investigation. Much of the investigation centered on the gaudy night club district in Paris' Montmartre, the paper said. Four illicit drug factories were reported uncovered — two in Paris and the others in Marseille.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Yugoslav Director said Friday an explosion at a military base near Sarajevo killed 21 persons and injured at least 50 others. A government spokesman said an investigating commission has been dispatched to the scene. No cause was given for the blast. Sarajevo is one of Yugoslavia's key bases for resistance against possible resistance from the East.

NEW YORK (AP) — The jury deliberating the case of 13 second string Communist leaders failed again Friday to reach a verdict. It will resume its study of the case Saturday. The jury got the conspiracy case at 1:23 p.m. (CST) Thursday and since has deliberated approximately 14 1/2 hours without reaching a conclusion. The six men and women on the jury panel already have spent as much time studying the case as the jury which convicted the 11 top U.S. Communists three years ago.

Interpreting the News —

New Red Purges May Stem From Disputes Within Party

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Amid all the speculation produced by Russia's latest purge, observers are agreed on two things — that it is anti-Semitic and that the arrest of nine doctors is merely to set the stage for far more widespread developments.

Whether the seeming hysteria about national danger from foreign sources is based on real fear of penetration or is merely a weapon being used by one political faction against another in the Kremlin remains to be seen.

No Basis So Far

There is very little likelihood that it could be based on any successes thus far by American or British cloak and dagger artists, as charged. Western intelligence experts rate the quality of their work in the Soviet sphere as follows: Eastern Germany, good; European satellites, fair; Russia; Nil; China, not much better.

Russia is always nervous about foreign penetration, and would naturally try to tighten her security network in any time of crisis, whether it was internal or in contemplation of war. This serves another purpose, too, by playing on traditional anti-foreignism, an ancient Russian trait, which produces political reactions similar to that of anti-Semitism, it shifts the blame for national ills to others than the government.

Forsee Other Action

Observers also consider it quite likely that this fanfare about security is the forerunner of action against L. P. Beria, who is responsible for the secret police, which is also a danger to other aspirants to Stalin's throne.

There is also speculation that these arrests, following similar actions in the satellites, represent the beginning of a truly big purge such as occurred in the '30s. Certainly, the rate was elevated in order to halt a credit expansion which for the year of 1952 had borne the earmarks of danger.

From January to December 1952 our commercial banks increased their loans from Federal Reserve banks approximately $2 billion. Simultaneously the Federal Reserve banks were buying government obligations in the market on a very substantial scale, pouring payment therefor into the coffers of the commercial banking institutions. Although cooperative program of voluntary loan restraint was operative among the commercial banks, their holdings of governments plus their borrowing customers' promissory notes acquired increased an estimated $1 billion during the twelve month period involved.

Despite the Federal Reserve policy of freely and cheaply making funds available for the use of member, commercial banks only infrequent criticism or protest was heard as wholesale prices were slowly declining during the year in question; the monetary authorities may have been lulled into inattention. Now, an awakening has taken place and the thumbscrew of the rediscunt rate has been turned in order to check further development of a boom of unprecedented proportions.

The results of this gentle adjustment, akin to a mild application of brakes, may be predicted in terms of strong tendencies and, conceivably, stern realities.

The principal results may be stated briefly as, first, a firming of interest rates; second, a dampening of inflationary pressures arising from our swollen bank loans, investments, and deposit liabilities; third, the curbing of further expansion of inventories, particularly in the domain of manufacturing.

Again, real estate operations and real estate prices may be somewhat curtailed and depressed. Security prices may be lifted toward a lower level. Our recent heavy losses of gold to foreigners will tend to be checked.

There is a large measure of agreement among monetary economists that the greater the boom and the accompanying expansion of credit, the more disastrous the ensuing crisis, recession, and depression. The action of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve system in raising the rediscunt rate by 1/4 of one percent seems clearly aimed at controlling the boom in order to outflank a possible crisis and depression.

The very restrained step that has been taken is in the direction of business stability.

U.S. Navy Orders 4 More Rockets Of Viking Type
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said Thursday night it has ordered four more Martin V-170 rockets capable of climbing 200 miles into space.

The new, improved rockets will be designed for speeds which would enable them, if they had sufficient fuel, to make a week-end flight to the moon.

The Navy said the new rockets are designed for a maximum speed of 5,800 miles an hour.

"The moon could be reached in 4 1/4 hours at this speed," a Navy news release said.

6 Iowan Assignments Subject to House O.K.

WASHINGTON (AP)—House committee assignments, subject to house approval next week, were announced Friday by Republican and Democratic committees.

The assignments included those for six of Iowa's eight Republican congressmen.

Charles B. Hoeven, agriculture; Henry O. Talle, banking and District of Columbia; Paul Cunningham, armed services; Karl M. LeCompte, foreign affairs; H. R. Gross, interior and insular affairs; and post office and civil service; James I. Dolliver, commerce.

TITLE CHANGED ASKED OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent told Parliament Thursday he would soon introduce a bill changing the Canadian form of Queen Elizabeth's title. The chief change, it was announced last month, is that Elizabeth will be designated Queen of "Canada and her other realms and territories" instead of "the British dominions beyond the seas."

Truman Sees Victory Over Red Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman told the American people Thursday night they are on the way to victory in the cold war with Soviet Russia without an atomic conflict that might "dig the grave of the free world and communism alike."

"We have set the course that can win," he said. In an emotional farewell address, broadcast from the White House by coast-to-coast radio and TV networks, the President declared his belief that American intervention in Korea has dashed Russia's hope of easy conquest and may have averted a third world war "as far ahead as man can see."

And to those impatient with the world-wide struggle against communism — to those who ask, "Why don't we get it over with? Why don't we issue an ultimatum, make an all-out war, drop the atomic bomb?" — Truman declared:

"Not Made That Way" "For most Americans, the answer is quite simple: we are not made that way. We are a moral people. Peace is our goal, and justice and freedom. We cannot, of our own free will, violate the very principles that we are striving to defend."

"The whole purpose of what we are doing is to prevent World War III. Starting a war is no way to make peace. "But if anyone still thinks that just this once, bad means can bring good ends, then let me remind you of this: we are living in the eighth year of the atomic age. We are not the only nation that is learning to unleash the power of the atom. A third world war might dig the grave not only of our Communist opponents but also of our own society, our world as well as theirs."

Will Ride With Ike Truman will leave the White House for the last time as President shortly before noon next Tuesday to ride with President-elect Eisenhower to the oath-taking ceremonies on Capitol Hill. Then he will depart by train for his home in Missouri.

In his prepared speech, Truman once again pledged his support to Eisenhower and strongly urged the support of all other Americans.

Court Defends Newspapers' Decisions

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Georgia Supreme court Thursday held that a judge does not have the right to order a newspaper to print a specific story or photograph.

The unanimous ruling grew out of the court's dismissal of contempt of court charges against two Atlanta Constitution editors.

Floyd County Superior court Judge H. E. Nichols had sentenced Editor Ralph McGill and Managing Editor W. H. Fields to 20 days in jail and fined each $200.

The case stemmed from a highway safety campaign of the Constitution. Nichols objected to one of the articles and demanded that the newspaper publish photographs of certain records.

When the editors refused, Nichols cited them for contempt. Chief Justice W. H. Duckworth, in the decision Thursday commented:

"If a worthy judge may employ the contempt of court process to silence unjust criticism of his official conduct . . . this same rule would enable an unworthy judge to silence the press in just criticism of his official conduct."

Police Chief Ruppert Explains Iowa City Meter Violations

Most SUI students find pink violation tickets on their cars because they have violated one of three city ordinances: overtime parking, improper parking or parking in a prohibited zone, according to police chief Ed Ruppert. "Violations seem to be pretty evenly distributed between the three," he said.

Overtime parking includes not only letting the meter expire, but parking in one space longer than the time allotted on the meter. Iowa City police check the zones where one hour meters are being used once every hour and zones where there are two and three hour meters accordingly, he said. Cars are marked on the tires and if they have more than one mark, an overtime parking ticket is given, even though the meter has been refilled. Fine has been set at 25 cents if the ticket is brought to city hall within an hour, $1 if it is paid within a week and $2 after a week.

Improper Parking Fines Ruppert said improper parking, which usually carries a fine of $2, includes such things as parking too far out on the street and parking astraddle the white line. Parking in a prohibited zone refers to parking in such places as end-zones and in front of fire plugs. The fine for this violation is also usually $2, although under city ordinances any amount between $1 and $100 may be the fine for parking violations.

Police tow cars to a fenced-in lot back of the Community building when they are in front of fire plugs, blocking alleys or constitute a traffic hazard. A car parked in violation of the overtime parking ordinance is not towed away except when it has been parked for longer than a week or the owner cannot be found. Cars which are towed away cannot be reclaimed until the fine plus towing charges are paid, Ruppert said.

No Increase in Meters

The city does not plan to increase the number of parking meters in operation in the near future, the traffic office in city hall said. On November 15 a total of 100 new meters were installed on Iowa ave., S. Clinton st. and Linn st. The ones on Iowa ave. are three hour meters and the others are two hour ones.

Last year $59,455.20 was collected from the meters. Fines paid on meter violations and other parking violations total between $60 and $100 per day, Ruppert explained.

FOOD SHORTAGE

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Czech newspaper said this week the food shortage has become so critical some housewives have to walk 12 miles to buy a loaf of bread.

Rescue Party Finds Wreckage of C-46

3 Foreign Students Describe Life in Pre-Communist China

(This is the ninth in a series of interviews with foreign students attending SUI.)

By SHIRLEE DAVIS

Just two weeks before the Iron Curtain closed over China in 1949, Kuo Chung Chen took a "slow boat from China" — and Chun-Juan Kao decided she preferred the climate in Formosa.

"I was on the last ship out of Shanghai before the Communists took over China and I'm quite glad I didn't miss it," Chen remarked.

"I was aware, of course, that the Communists would be taking over soon, but I didn't realize how soon," she continued.

Chen, who is studying for a Ph.D. degree in industrial management at SUI, is able to correspond freely with his family in China.

Chen said that "they have written that prices are more stable, education has increased and the Communists have said they will install a five-year economic plan in China next year."

Seeks Botany Degree

Miss Kao came to the United States in 1950, received an M.A. degree from Vassar college, New York, and is now studying for a Ph.D. degree in botany at SUI.

A third student, Bernard Ma, El, became a Chinese citizen by choice. Ma's father was Chinese, his mother French. They met in France, married in China; at this point, the authorities plead "confused" and tell the children to tell the authorities what they are.

So at 21, Ma said "Chinese."

The three discussed pre-Communist China, which may be history to some, but certainly not to the students who discussed it.

New Year in February

They spoke of the Chinese New Year, which this year comes on Feb. 14, according to the lunar calendar used in China.

"New Years is the most celebrated holiday in China, with two weeks of family reunions, food, parades . . . however, we cheer our parades by lighting firecrackers . . . so it's not only the biggest celebration but probably the noisiest," Ma remarked.

The lunar calendar became history when the Communists brought in the international calendar but some Chinese refused to let their New Year become history. They still celebrate the holiday according to the lunar calendar but have agreeably dubbed it "Spring Festival."

Rather Holiday-Happy

The Chinese seem to be rather holiday-happy as Chen remarked. "They're always hunting for an excuse to celebrate something."

The Chinese people still adhere to the Confucian philosophy of life which they partially quoted as "superior people blames himself and inferior people blames others."

They conceded that they could not explain in five minutes a doctrine that has been followed for 2,500 years but they did clarify Confucian teaching as the relationship between man and man and not between man and God.

Miss Kao spoke of the closest family system as being old-fashioned since the war when many of the younger generation went south to work for the war effort.

Respect Wisdom, Experience

"Although the old people are no longer the heads of our families, they are still deeply respected for their wisdom and experience," she said.

Chen agreed that the days are gone when a great-great-grandson, wishing to date a certain girl, first consulted his great-great-grandfather. American movies are always popular in China but the Chinese have devised their own method of enjoying them. If the Chinese don't follow the plot by the sub-headings, they don earphones and listen to it in Chinese.

"The Chinese interpreter not only translates the dialogue but tells us who's coming in the picture, and what's going to happen, and, in general, interprets the movie for us," Miss Kao explained.

More Complex Symbols

Because of the complexity of Chinese writing symbols compared to our own alphabet, a secretary in China is blessed with nothing as simple as our typewriter.

A Chinese secretary types from a tray of 4,000 zinc characters, each representing a word, in comparison to the 42 keys on an American typewriter. Consequently, a good typist in China has a rate of 26 words a minute, again compared to our rate of 60 or more words a minute.

Surprised at Chop Suey

The Chinese students were amazed at the importation of Chop Suey on the American menu.

"In China, after we entertain, we have a little of this and a little of that left over. The next day we mix it all together and serve Chop Suey," Miss Kao revealed.

In their concern over the future of China under Communistic rule, the Chinese spokesmen again leaned toward Confucian teaching when he said "If you don't know a human being, you can't know a spiritual being," and they said "It is an international problem that can only be solved when people try to know each other better."

it's up to YOU . . . TO STOP THE EXECUTION!

For the first time in America the death penalty has been inflicted — not for treason, but the lesser charge of espionage. Ethel and Julius Rosenberg have only one appeal from this "cruel and unusual punishment" against which the Constitution provides. The President can grant them clemency. Thoughtful, deeply patriotic citizens such as Harold Urey, Albert Einstein and Rabbi Hillel Silver have asked him to do this. Has the President received your request along with theirs? Your voice counts — raise it now!

Hear the facts about the Rosenbergs. Come to a public meeting tomorrow, Sunday the 18th, 8 p.m., Community Bldg.

Good Lighting Starts With Good Lamps!

The right lamps and fixtures in the right places — that's the formula for "light conditioning" your home. When buying lamps, the first thing to look for is modern lighting performance. The right combination of bulb, reflector bowl and shade will give you light that is easy on your eyes and flattering to your room and furnishings. Remember, in buying lamps, it always pays to "look under the shade!"

One sure way to get quality construction, efficient lighting and complete electrical safety in your new lamps is to look for the blue and orange Certified Lamp Manufacturers tag when you buy. To merit this tag, the lamp must meet 185 rigid standards, covering every detail from base to shade.

Here's What to Look For When Buying Lamps For Your Home

REFLECTOR BOWL

This scientifically designed reflector bowl distributes the proper balance of light upward, for general room illumination and downward, where it is needed on the ceiling task.

THE INSIDE STORY

Shades should reflect at least 85% of the light on the inside surface, and should be dense enough to conceal the reflector bowl when lamp is lighted. Should fit securely on reflector bowl.

SHADE

Shades should reflect at least 85% of the light on the inside surface, and should be dense enough to conceal the reflector bowl when lamp is lighted. Should fit securely on reflector bowl.

Free Handbook

Developed by America's top lighting experts, this valuable home lighting guide gives 22 easy-to-follow recipes for light conditioning your home, room by room.

AEC Offers Physics Graduate Fellowships To Eligible Seniors

SUI seniors majoring in chemistry, physics or engineering are eligible for Atomic Energy commission graduate fellowships in radiological physics for the 1953-54 school year.

Radiological physics is a new and expanding field of science. It is concerned with health physics, radiation monitoring and control, radioisotope measurements and similar activities, associated with the use of radioisotopes or the release of nuclear energy.

Up to 75 fellowships may be awarded, with fully-accredited graduate study to be carried out in three locations. One program is operated by the University of Rochester and Brookhaven National Laboratory, another by the University of Washington and the Hanford Works of the AEC, and the third by Vanderbilt University and the Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

In each case, nine months of course work at the university is followed by three months of additional study and field training at the cooperating AEC installation. The program is accredited for graduate training leading toward an advanced degree.

Basic stipends for fellows is $1600 per year, with an allowance of $350 if married and $350 for each dependent child. University tuition and required fees will be paid by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, which administers the program for the AEC.

Additional information on the program may be obtained from science department heads or direct from the Institute at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

County Heads Will Receive Salary Boosts

Johnson county employees will receive salary boosts up to $600 annually during 1953 as a result of action taken by the county board of supervisors. Most of the increases will range from $120 to $240 per year.

The salary raises were granted by the board to meet the higher cost of living, and the action took place in making appointments for the new year.

Three clerks in the auditor's office received raises from $2,280 a year to $2,400. Three clerk-secretaries in the office of the clerk of court also received the same increases.

A clerk in the treasurer's office received a boost from $2,280 to $2,400, and the wages of two other clerks, which were set at $2,100, increased from $1,980 and $1,860.

A clerk in the county assessor's office had a pay boost from $2,280 to $2,400. A salary increase from $1,800 to $2,400 was granted to the bailiff.

The engineer's office received increases from $6,240 to $6,480 for the county engineer, from $4,248 to $4,368 for the assistant, and from $2,280 to $2,400 for the clerk.

The salary of the county superintendent of schools was boosted from $6,000 to $6,400 and the elementary supervisor's salary was raised from $4,356 to $4,500. The secretary of the superintendent's office received an increase from $2,340 to $2,580.

The city assessor's office had increases from $4,000 to $4,600 for the assessor, from $3,200 to $3,700 for two assistants and $2,000 to $2,300 for the clerk.

Boy Scouts to Aid Polio Drive Today By Block Collection

The annual Block of Dimes collection will be conducted today by Iowa City Boy Scouts to aid in the fight against polio.

The Scouts will place planks along the north side of Washington st. between Clinton and Dubuque sts. and attempt to line the planks with contributed coins placed side by side. They will start at the corner of Clinton and Washington sts.

If one side of the street is filled, the Scouts will place planks on the other side of the street to receive the donated coins.

All proceeds collected from the Block of Dimes will be applied to the county goal of $10,000 for the March of Dimes, which is scheduled to continue through Jan. 31.

The money collected in the March of Dimes will go for treatment and research of infantile paralysis.

The Iowa City Federation of Labor will hold a dance featuring the music of Lyle Dean and his orchestra in the Community building Jan. 27, with the proceeds to go to the March of Dimes.

Town Men to Choose Queen at Banquet

The Town Men will choose a queen and two attendants at a banquet Tuesday night, Jan. 20.

The queen will be selected from the six candidates who are: Rosemary Cano, A1, Iowa City; Carolyn Crow, A1, Iowa City; Delsena Kahler, A1, Oxford; Emily Penningroth, A4, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Marion Ries, A3, Iowa City; and Larene Stockman, A1, Iowa City. The candidates will attend the banquet.

Yellow Cab Gives Aid In Dimes Drive

Yellow-Checker Cab is helping in the 1953 March of Dimes campaign by donating all proceeds received from one of their fleet. They are helping Johnson county reach the goal of $10,000 set for the March of Dimes. This cab will be for your use from Jan. 19 through Jan. 25 and will be decorated with banners of the March of Dimes campaign.

The drive, under the sponsorship of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will continue until January 31.

The appeal for contributions this year follows the worst polio attack in the history of Johnson county. The crippling disease struck 41 persons resulting in four deaths. This is almost twice those of 1951 when polio struck 22 persons.

Campaign officials emphasize there is no ascertaining what 1953 may bring in the way of a polio epidemic, and that in the past the number of polio cases has nearly doubled. They point to this as evidence of an urgent need for donations to this year's drive.

The 1952 March of Dimes campaign raised $8,085.67 in Johnson county. The state organization for treatment of persons stricken with polio elsewhere received one-half of that total. That left $4,042.83 for use in Johnson county.

The expenditures in Johnson county have so far totaled $4,084.36, leaving a deficit of $41.53. There are still more expenses incurred in 1952 yet to be paid.

The state tabulated a record high of infantile paralysis cases in 1952, with more than 3,000 persons stricken with the disease.

SUI hospitals treated 675 of that total with some of the cases still receiving treatment.

It was reported by national officials that a record high of 56,000 cases in the United States exhausted March of Dimes funds available for patient care in 1952.

A debt of $7 million in unpaid bills is the mortgage on the 1953 polio funds.

The March of Dimes contributions are used to pay for hospital and treatment expenses of patients who are financially unable to stand the cost. These costs may range from a few dollars for patients who contract a mild case of the disease up to $1,000 per month for those who require treatment and care for many months due to a serious attack of polio.

Not all polio patients receive aid from the county chapter, however, as they have insurance and other private means of taking care of their expenses.

Although fossil musk-oxen are found in Siberia, they are today native only to northern North America.

Of the women in Britain who are employed, 43 per cent are married.

Proceeds Given to March of Dimes

ALBERT TAYLOR IS PICTURED ABOVE IN THE Yellow-Checker cab he will be driving during the March of Dimes campaign. All proceeds taken in by this cab during the week, beginning Jan. 19 through Jan. 25, will be donated to the March of Dimes. Mr. Lucky, owner, has provided the car with a small tin box where all fares will be placed. This box will remain locked at all times. Any extra donation will be accepted.

Jewelry Styles Express Personality

Use of interesting new jewelry fashions to express the individual's personality was the theme of a show of jewelry styles last fall. The event raised the curtain on this winter's trends.

Ranging from fabulous diamond pieces to popular-priced jewelry, the accessories were shown against a background of new fall clothes and furs.

Diamond styles emphasized the practical look, with jewelry that can be worn on numerous occasions rather than just at formal affairs.

Using a "convertible" diamond necklace with a change-about evening gown, a model demonstrated the usefulness of the necklace with detachable pieces which became earclips, brooches, a simple necklace or even a bracelet.

The change-about ensemble consisted of a short black lace dinner sheath with separate bolero for theater wear. With this, the model wore twin diamond clips at the high neckline, diamond earrings and a trio of slender diamond bracelets. With the bolero removed, the lace sheath became a short evening gown. Two of the bracelets were then fastened together to become a necklace and the clips were transferred to the low-cut neckline of the sheath.

Big rings were registered as growing in fashion importance, and large pins were also featured. Interesting touches included bright ribbon tucked beneath pins with corresponding colored stones; a large antique cameo pinned at the neck of a demure black dress; long pearl ropes caught high at the back of the neckline with a diamond clip, the pearls forming a collar in front and cascading down the back.

Another outfit, which found special favor with the audience was an Oxford flannel sheath, accessorized with a shocking pink scarf in the neckline and matching satin pumps. With this, mammoth diamond earrings were worn, and a large diamond sunburst pin blazed in the center of the satin ascot.

When you hear the first tone signal, please leave your message, or if you wish a pick up please leave your name and address along with any other information you wish us to have. Do not hang up until after you hear the second tone signal. You have 30 seconds. Thank you!"

When 4161 is dialed the connection automatically starts the record containing Kelley's message of instructions. The first dial tone indicates that this record is completed and the record which records the customer's message will be automatically set. This record plays for thirty seconds and then automatically shuts off. One record will handle one hundred and thirty telephone messages in an evening.

Within the 30 seconds of recording the customer is given enough time to state when he would like his clothing picked up and when it is to be delivered, or any other instructions he wishes to give.

Each morning one of Kelley's employees will play back the record and write down the messages which have been recorded during the night before.

Kelley Cleaners has installed this new automatic telephone answering device to enable it to give customers 24-hour telephone service.

Truman Gives Navy Control of Oil Deposits; Congressional Leaders to Challenge Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Friday brushed aside hot congressional protests and placed the vast offshore oil deposits under the command of the navy.

The President issued an executive order setting aside the much-disputed undersea resources, valued at perhaps $40 billion, as a navy oil reserve.

He said the oil is of "crucial importance" to national defense.

States Challenge Action

Congressional leaders from states affected by the order—namely Texas, California, Louisiana and Florida—have already served notice they will challenge Truman's action. They contended the offshore deposits rightfully belong to the states and predicted the Truman order will be quickly overturned either by presidential-elect Eisenhower, who takes office next Tuesday, or by congress.

During the presidential election campaign, Eisenhower went on record as favoring state ownership of the rich offshore deposits.

Truman's announcement at his news conference Thursday that he planned to issue the oil-seizure order touched off an angry uproar on Capitol Hill. Critics called it "outrageous," "an illegal power grab" and "personal spite."

Truman Defends Act

Defending his action, Truman said in a statement:

"In order that these great reservoirs of oil, which belong to all the people of the United States and are of such crucial importance from the standpoint of national security, may be preserved for the nation, I have set them aside as a naval petroleum reserve.

"It has been, and still is, my firm conviction that it would be the height of folly for the United States to give away vast quantities of oil contained in the continental shelf, and then buy back the same oil at stiff prices for use by the army, the navy and the air force in the defense of the nation."

Shelf is Defined

The continental shelf is the submerged platform between the continental land and the deep ocean. It varies in width, sometimes stretching 250 miles out under shallow coastal waters, at other times appearing only as a narrow ledge before dropping in a cliff-like descent to the bottom of the ocean deep.

States with offshore oil deposits have vigorously contended they own the rights to all resources—gas, oil and minerals—lying under the marginal seas within what they term their state boundaries.

Legislature To Rule On Private Hospital Contract Privileges

The right of publicly-owned hospitals to contract for pre-payment plans covering hospital patients will be one of the measures before the 1953 Iowa legislature.

The attorney general's office, in compliance with a request from Hamilton county, ruled that there is no specific authority under the law giving county hospitals the right to enter into agreements for payment of hospital expenses by such organizations as the Blue Cross.

A proposed change to be brought up for discussion by the legislature is understood to have been approved by the Iowa State Medical association and will cover both non-profit and commercial organizations.

Up to now, publicly-owned hospitals have been operating under existing contracts, since the attorney general's ruling does not have the effect of law.

Another medical measure to come before the lawmakers will deal with physicians who are displaced persons and will concern their right to practice in Iowa.

Until recently, the state board of medical examiners required that such physicians have citizenship before getting a permit to practice. One new proposal is that doctors from foreign countries be required to state their plans to become citizens if they intend to stay in this country.

The plan would also require that the applicants undergo an observation period to assure that the applicants undergo an observation period to assure that they comply with Iowa's medical standards.

Order of Artus Initiates 6 Men

The Order of Artus, an honorary economic fraternity, initiated six men at a banquet Friday night in the dining room of the Hotel Jefferson.

Those initiated were William Omondson, G. Mason City; Clifford Baumbach, G. Norman, Okla.; John Christian, A4, Red Oak; Claude S. George, G. Reidsville, N. C.; Richard Stevens, M1, Wausau, Wis.; and Dick A. Leabo, G. Iowa City.

Prof. Guy Freutel of Washington university, St. Louis, Mo., spoke on "Art and Empiricism in Economics."

Today Monroe will transcribe his weekly radio show from the Union main lounge for re-broadcast later tonight. Approximately 250 couples attended the dance.

Economist Stresses Agriculture's Importance

A visiting economist at SUI Friday stressed the importance of Iowa's agricultural contributions to a national economy on which international tensions exert extreme pressures.

Guy Freutel, Washington university in St. Louis economist who has been conducting regional studies for the Federal Reserve Bank, said the evidence indicates that Iowa is adjusting itself to the demands of the nation by specializing in one source of income.

Questioning whether wholesale industrialization would effectively add to Iowa prosperity, Freutel pointed out that per capita income increased 180 per cent from 1929 to 1951, while such income grew 133 per cent nationally.

He cited three principal ways in which a region may increase its economic productivity: (1) by increases in technical efficiency through research and new machinery, (2) by changes in the pattern of national demand affecting the consumption of state products, and (3) by an increase in the share of income through such political means as bargaining and cartels.

The evidence indicates that Iowa is using farm machinery progressively and effectively, that the nation demands the state's

Cause Behind Train Crash Still Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—In spite of all modern safety devices, a 16-car passenger train couldn't be stopped and crashed into Union Station Thursday.

How could it happen? What went wrong?

Although both the senate interstate commerce committee and the interstate commerce commission are seeking the answers to those questions, it may be months before they reach a conclusion.

But, in answer to a reporter's questions, Shirley N. Mills, director of safety for the ICC, agreed today to speculate on what might have happened to "cause this unique accident.

Mills said it is possible, although he has had no chance to verify it yet, some obstruction in the air brake pipe may have prevented the release of air for the rest of the train, leaving the engineer with only around a fourth of his braking power.

One railroad has figured it takes 3,000 feet to stop a passenger train going 60 miles an hour and 1,333 feet to stop a train making 40 miles an hour.

Some witnesses said they thought the train here, the Pennsylvania's Federal Express from Boston, was going 50 miles an hour.

At any rate, Mills said, every piece of equipment would be studied in an effort to find out what caused the crash.

Much of the wreckage had been removed by early Friday. The battered coaches had been pulled out, and the gaping hole left in the concourse had been boarded over.

The huge electric locomotive was left in the basement into which it had plunged. It will be dismantled and taken out later.

products, and that income to Iowa farmers through parity prices shows that the country as a whole values our agricultural more than the markets often do, Freutel pointed out.

While every area is inclined to

Greek Comedy —

'Bird' Chorus Featured

When SUI theatre goes see the current production, "The Birds" by Aristophanes, they will discover what happened when humans invaded the realm of the birds.

This Greek comedy of the fourth century B.C. has everything from a tiny live lamb to Prometheus with a blue, three-cornered umbrella.

In keeping with the title of the play, there is a colorfully costumed chorus of "birds," a feature no doubt new to many of the audience. The birds speak in unison and perform weird maneuvers to music to add variety to the performance.

The bird headresses and costumes are a result of the research and work of Prof. Margaret Hall's costume class.

The unusual stage settings are in keeping with the atmosphere of the play, and combined with modern sound effects produce a definitely different effect.

The story concerns two humans who travel to birdland in an effort to find a happier place to live than Athens. After they investigate the building of a heavenly paradise "Cloudeuckopolis," a series of visitors both human and

Social Workers Seek National Affiliation

The eastern Iowa chapter of the American Association of Social Workers, now on a provisional status, petitioned Friday night at a meeting in the Iowa Memorial Union.

The year old chapter reviewed last year's program and planned a program for the next year.

The organization is for professional social workers, who set the standards and guarantee to a community and clients a high professional performance.

The officers are Prof. Frank Itzin, school of social work, chairman; Prof. Richard Seaman, school of social work, vice chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Howath, Iowa City, secretary and treasurer.

The chapter has between 50 and 60 members from Iowa City, Waterloo, Davenport and other cities in eastern Iowa.

RAINY INAUGURAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau said Friday it may be cold and rainy here on inauguration day next Tuesday. The bureau's five-day forecast said up to an inch of rain may fall during the early part of the week. Temperatures are expected to run between 28 and 44.

ask itself the question, "Is it possible to recombine our resources for more income through industrialization?" Freutel said he doubted whether Iowa had much to gain from competitive bidding for industries.

Immortal Causes No Little Confusion

Three Greek gods descend onto the stage from Olympus and Iris enters from the heavens in a swing in an effort to resolve the struggle which centers around the question of who will be supreme—the birds or the gods.

Prof. Harold Crain of the dramatic arts department is directing the play.

Inaugural Parade Lacks Stilt Walkers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The inaugural parade ran into a bottleneck Friday—a shortage of professional stilt walkers.

The lack of four of them threatened the success of a tableau to be staged by the Augusta, Ga., Chamber of Commerce, called "The Little White House."

Gen. Eisenhower golfed at Augusta after last November's elections.

E. C. Hargrove, float builder, said he wanted to show a portion of the golf course, where Eisenhower played golf, on a parade float. There is to be a golfer driving from a tee, on the float.

Hargrove plans to have four men on stilts walk on the far side of the float as it passes Eisenhower's reviewing stand in front of the White House Tuesday.

They will be dressed in golfing costumes, carrying clubs, and from where President Eisenhower sits they will be hidden by the float. "I thought it would be easy to find four professional stilt walkers," Hargrove said.

"We started last week to find them. I've called shows and booking agents in New York and elsewhere and I've called the winter quarters of circuses in Florida. So far I've come up with the name of only one stilt walker. He's wintering up in Connecticut and I can't get him on the telephone."

Living Costs Drop Off Two-Tenths Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living as measured by the government eased off two-tenths of 1 per cent during the month ended in mid-December.

Reporting the drop, the bureau of labor statistics said Friday that a 1 per cent decline in the retail price of food was chiefly responsible.

Rises in some other items held the drop in over-all living costs to two-tenths of 1 per cent.

BLS said that on Dec. 15 its index of the retail price of food, clothing, rent and a score of other items bought by moderate income city families stood at 190.7 per cent of the 1935-1939 base period.

Hawks' Lineup Shuffled For Gopher Game

MINNEAPOLIS — Iowa arrived here late Friday afternoon by streamliner from East Moline, Ill., after leaving by bus from Iowa City in the morning, and got set for its rough conference test with the University of Minnesota.

The game starts at 8 p.m. and until that time the Hawk starting lineup will remain in doubt. Chuck Jarnagin missed practice all week because of a severe blister on the ball of his foot and Coach Bucky O'Connor didn't take him on the trip.

Stations broadcasting the game tonight include WSUI, KCRG, KPIG, and KRNT.

up in the backcourt, hoping to get better rebounding strength and perhaps better shooting than the Hawks got last week in their losses to Michigan State and Michigan in which they folded in the fourth quarter to lose.

That shuffling is certain to take place now.

Iowa's starting guards may be Bob Mau and Jerry Ridley. Mau's presence in the backcourt would help offset the loss of Jarnagin's rebounding against a Minnesota team which is one of the huskiest in the nation and one of the Big Ten's top rebounding teams.

Buckles Slumped

Buckles, who had been Iowa's leading marksman on a percentage basis, slumped badly on the trip to Michigan and O'Connor may insert Ridley in his place.

Whitey Diehl will be making his first trip of the season, and O'Connor said he may get a chance to see some action although saying that Diehl is not yet strong enough to stand the pace for a full game.

Bob Miller will start at center and Deacon Davis and Capt. Herb Thompson will round out the starting five for the Hawkeyes.

Gophers Beat Illini

The Minnesota five, which began the season with five straight victories including a 77-73 triumph over Illinois, has lost four of its last five games, including two during the last week-end which were even more frustrating than Iowa's losses.

The Gophers, leading Indiana with less than a minute to play, fell to the Hoosiers, 68-63, at Bloomington, then were nipped by Wisconsin 76-74, at Madison when the Badgers set a conference record by making 40 free throws.

Despite these losses, however, Coach Ozzie Cowls says he'll stick with his usual starting lineup of Capt. Bob Gelle and Earl Johnson, forwards; Ed Kalafat, center; and Chuck Mencil and Buzz Bennett, guards.

Hoosiers Have 6-0 to Illini's 5-1 Record

CHICAGO (AP)—Unbeaten Indiana collides with once-defeated Illinois, the defending champion, in a key battle of the Big Ten basketball campaign at Bloomington, Ind., tonight.

It's the first of two seasonal meetings between the Hoosiers, who have won six straight league starts, and the Illini, whose only loss in six games was at Minnesota last month.

Three other Big Ten contests are on tap.

Michigan State, still very much in the running with a second-spot 3-2 record, appears at Michigan (2-6); Wisconsin (3-4) plays at Northwestern (2-3); and Iowa (2-4) visits Minnesota (3-3).

Indiana may face the Illini without Bob Leonard, star guard, who takes over whenever Don Schlundt, 6-9 league-leading scorer, slows up. Leonard is reported to have a serious cold.

Between them, Schlundt and Leonard have furnished the Hoosiers with a combined average scoring punch of 42.6 per game.

Cross-Roads for Illini

Coach Harry Combes regards the Bloomington encounter and Monday night's game at Michigan State as the cross-roads for the Illini.

"Either we have a potentially great team which can rise to the heights, or we don't," Combes observed. "We have to deliver the goods against Indiana and Michigan State to stay in the race and it will take our best effort thus far to win either game."

Johnny Kerr, 6-10 center, will be Illinois' chief answer to Indiana's Schlundt. Kerr has averaged 16.2 points per game.

In other midwestern activity, a Chicago Stadium doubleheader is highlighted by De Paul's joust with La Salle, ranked No. 3 nationally, and beaten only by De Paul to date. Loyola faces Bradley in the other stadium feature.

Other games include Notre Dame, victorious in 10 of 11 starts, at St. Louis, and Valparaiso at Marquette.

Loop Grid Coaches Reportedly in Chicago To Discuss Action

CHICAGO (AP)—A number of Big Ten football coaches were in Chicago Friday night and a highly reliable source said their purpose was to discuss the new substitution rule.

The source, while declining to be named, said several conference coaches apparently objected strongly to this week's action by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The committee scrapped the free substitution rule that had spurred so-called two platoon football.

It was not known whether the coaches planned any formal action, such as a resolution asking revocation. Presumably, the source said, the coaches wanted to get together mostly to discuss the new regulation.

The meeting apparently was called quietly. Big Ten officials did not announce it was taking place, which is unusual, nor were they available for immediate comment.

Bob Voigts, Northwestern mentor who serves as chairman of Big Ten football coaches, said earlier Friday he didn't know of any such meeting.

However, Biggie Munn, coach of Michigan State's undefeated 1952 national champions, told a reporter in Chicago:

"I hope Big Ten coaches will vote real strong against the new rule going into effect immediately. My idea is that there should be a one-year waiver because immediate application of the rule isn't fair to next year's senior players."

"These men with only a year left are going to find adjustment to the rule very difficult. There should be a longer period of preparation."

BEVO HAS RECORD

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bevo Francis now holds the national collegiate basketball record for the most points in a single season, 1,072. He has 18 more games to go. The Rio Grande college freshman tallied 51 points Thursday night against Bliss college, two less than the whole Bliss team as it went down to a 102-53 defeat.

U-High Drubs Durant, 54-42, For 7-2 Mark in Conference

U-High won its seventh Eastern Iowa conference game here Friday night when the Blue Hawks downed Durant 54-42.

Ike Riggie, rangy Blue Hawk center, led the winners scoring efforts with 18 points, 10 of which came from the charity line. Gardner Van Dyke, forward, was next in scoring with 15 points.

The victors grabbed the lead early in the first quarter, and as the second period opened had established a 19-11 lead. Durant's lack of height kept it from stopping U-High's rangy front court trio of Price, Van Dyke and Riggie, who monopolized the rebounds.

Durant came back in the second period behind the scoring of center, Bob Reimers, to narrow the margin, but the Hawks staved off the attack to lead 26-20 at half time.

Again in the third period U-High stretched its margin to eight points, mostly through Riggie's effectiveness at the free throw line. After leading 41-33 as the final period began the Blue Hawks' scoring ventures began to

April Deadline Set For Rocky's Title Go

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano must defend his heavyweight title by April 10 under a unanimous ruling made Friday by a joint review board of the National Boxing Association and the New York State Athletic Commission.

The decision probably cost New York a $1,500,000 June rematch between Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott.

Only a few hours before the hearing at the New York commission offices, Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, had been taken to the Polyclinic Hospital after suffering a heart attack in his hotel room. His condition was listed as "critical." He is 46.

As Marciano already is under contract with the IBC for an April 10 defense at Chicago Stadium against Walcott, the heat now definitely is on 39-year-old Jersey Joe who has not signed. Jim Norris, IBC president, immediately resumed negotiations with the Walcott camp for the indoor date.

Walcott doesn't intend to sign according to the way he talked Friday. In a highly emotional talk before the board, the ex-champ from Camden, N.J. reaffirmed his loyalty to his manager.

"As far as Jersey Joe Walcott is concerned," said Walcott, "there will be no fight as long as Felix Bocchicchio is not well. I don't care whether it's six weeks or six months."

Angelo Malandra, Bocchicchio's attorney, said he had been told by physicians that Bocchicchio would not be able to return to active work for at least six weeks. Calling the ruling "ambiguous" he hinted he might take the case to the courts.

'Will Fight in June'
Malandra again stated Bocchic-chio's objections to Chicago as a site for the bout. In a surprise move, he added, "I am authorized to say that it will be all right with us to hold the fight in New York in June."

Bob Christenberry, chairman of the review board and chairman of the New York commission, first ignored this suggestion as he said: "The situation resolves itself to one thing. There is a contract for a return match. Norris wants it in Chicago. Bocchicchio wants it in Miami. Isn't there any possibility of your getting your heads together?"

A hurried corridor conference among Al Weill (Marciano's manager), Norris and Malandra produced this statement from Norris: "After a discussion with Weill and Malandra, with your permission that Marciano can wait until June, we would like to stage the bout next June at Yankee Stadium. I am advised that Bocchicchio will apply for a license in New York state."

Balks at Action
Christenberry balked at such action. He said the rule is positive in requiring a defense by a champion at least every six months.

"It would be immoral for us to require a welterweight to defend in six months and make special exceptions for a heavyweight," he said.

Same Teams Lead Prep Poll

DES MOINES (AP)—Davenport, Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln, Oelwein and Ames held their district leads but there were three changes in runner-up spots in the Associated Press Iowa high school basketball poll this week.

Only in the Northwest district were the first five places unchanged in the second poll of the state's sports editors. Ames' Little Cyclones paced the Northwest parade with 139 points in heavy balloting in that area.

Roosevelt of Des Moines, which took over the City series lead with a 56-46 victory over East, shot into second place in the Southwest district with 111 points.

Unconquered A-L of Council Bluffs retained its lead role with 119 points. Red Oak, second a week ago, fell to third with 78. Next came Villisca at 54 and East Des Moines 35.

Oskaloosa, whose Carter Crookham is one of Iowa's best, took over the challenging spot in the Southeast district. The Oskies attracted 89 points as Davenport's defending state champs were a unanimous first place choice. The Blue Devils got 12 votes good for 120 points.

Clinton, second in the southeast last week, slipped to a third place tie with Keokuk, the Little Six leader, at 79 points. Ottumwa again was fifth, this time with 68.

East Waterloo's Trojans traded spots with Dubuque to land behind pace-setter Oelwein in the Northwest district. East drew 101 points and Dubuque 94. Oelwein's Huskies were first with 111.
