Eisenhower Proposes Shakeup In Department Of Defense

63 More GIs To Arrive Home Today

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — Two big military transport planes flew over the Pacific Friday carrying homeward 63 more exchanged U.S. sick or wounded soldiers in the second phase of the freedom airlift.

Included in the tentative list of 63 men were those from Iowa, South Dakota, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Command Refused Names

The Far East command issued a tentative list of 63 men in the second contingent but held up for nearly an hour the news of the departures. The command declined to give the names or numbers of the men aboard each plane. It said the tentative list was subject to revision.

Public information officers said the censorship division considered the flights "a mass movement of troops." It was not apparent immediately whether the censorship rule was applied knowingly by the command's intelligence officers or merely resulted from two offices of the command working at cross-purposes.

Crossing the international dateline and picking up a day, the first plane was due at Honolulu around 10 p.m. (Iowa time) after a 17-hour flight.

Indicating the first plane was making better time than expected, the army said in Hawaii it could be expected as early as 8:15 p.m. Iowa time.

2d Flight Slated

The second plane, which took off from Haneda airport near Tokyo early Friday morning, should reach Honolulu around 4 a.m. today, Iowa time.

After a brief layover in Honolulu, the 63 then will be flown to Travis air force base northeast of San Francisco, ordinarily a nine-hour hop.

On Wednesday, 35 released prisoners arrived by air transport at Travis, the vanguard of the 149 ailing Americans freed by the Reds at Panmunjom.

There still are 51 exchanged sick and wounded U.S. soldiers in army hospitals in Tokyo. It has not been indicated when they will follow the others.

Reds Near Capital of Laos

COMMUNIST-LED VIET MINH REBELS punched to within about a day's march of the royal Laotian seat at Luangprabang Thursday. The evacuated Laotian and French garrison which had defended Samneua retreated to the Jarres plain. The Reds have announced intention of forging southward through Cambodia and joining Laos and Cambodia into a Communist Viet Minh state. Thailand also is believed endangered.

Communist-Led Guerrillas Drive Toward Laotian Capital

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Vietminh spearheads slashed their way from the north and east Thursday through the jungle and banana and coconut groves of Laos to within about a day's march of the royal Laotian seat at Luangprabang.

Two columns of Communist-led guerrilla invaders pressed on the little mountain kingdom's royal residence after the northern spearhead captured another French-Laotian outpost, the third in three days.

Driving down the Namhou river valley, black-clad rebel troops seized Muongsung, only 25 miles from Luangprabang. This force apparently was able then to join up with scout detachments reported Tuesday to have pushed to within 12 miles of Luangprabang.

In the two days previously, the column had taken the valley defense posts of Pakseng and Bannambac, 42 and 40 miles respectively away from that little town of 6,000 on the Mekong river, where aged, bed-ridden King Sisavang Vong has his residence.

The rebels appeared determined to co-ordinate the invasion columns from the north and east before attempting an all-out assault, but the situation may crystalize before the week is out.

Capture of Luangprabang and of the administrative capital at Vientiane to the south would give the rebels immense prestige and pave the way to an invasion of Cambodia, sister state to Laos and Viet Nam in the Associated States of Indochina.

Hawkeye Staff Entertains At Open House Today

Hawkeye will hold its open house today from 3 to 5 p.m. in room 210 of the Communications Center. Applications will be accepted for positions on next year's staff. Anyone interested in working on the 1954 Hawkeye is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served and visitors will be taken on guided tours of the new Center.

Ike Suggests $8½ Billion Slash In Military, Foreign Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower dramatically junked Thursday what he called the Truman "crazy quilt" defense blueprint and announced in its stead a more gradual military-foreign aid program pointing toward an $8.5 billion slash in appropriations for the next fiscal year.

President Truman had asked $72.9 billion in new appropriations. Under the Eisenhower plan this would be cut to $64.4 billion.

Eisenhower told a news conference he doesn't expect his new policy, which he described as a "radical" change, will make possible a completely balanced budget for the year beginning July 1. But he declared his administration is making progress in that direction— and thus toward cutting taxes— every day.

Blasts Truman Policy

Reading from a prepared statement, Eisenhower blasted in emphatic terms the Truman administration's striving for maximum Western defense strength in 1954 or 1955 on the theory that Russians would have the air strength by that time to launch an attack.

This, the President said sharply, is "artificial arithmetic"—part of a "crazy quilt of promises, commitments and contracts" which has put his administration in a straight jacket woven from $81 billion appropriated for military purposes in the past and still unspent.

"It's just as if the late administration had gone to the store and ordered $81 billion worth of goods, which we've got to pay for as they're delivered, in addition to paying the regular household running expenses."

Ike Asks Cut

The President went on to say: "This morning (Thursday) I told the legislative leaders that already we can see our way clear to ask the congress to appropriate at least $8.5 billion less new money for fiscal 1954 than had been asked for by the previous administration.

"This is a preliminary figure based on three months' hard work. The great bulk of it, of course, relates to security programs. More definite figures will become available as appropriation requests are presented to the congress during the next few weeks."

Eisenhower noted that he was talking only about new appropriations for fiscal 1954. "Actual cash savings for 1954," he added, "will be determined only as congress acts on the appropriation requests."

Spending Explained

Appropriations made for any fiscal year and actual spending in that year never jibe exactly and sometimes there is a big difference. For example, congress may appropriate money for a warship one year but the money may not actually be spent for several years because of the length of time it takes to plan and build a ship. Truman had estimated that spending in the coming fiscal year would be $78,600,000,000.

While Eisenhower did not say just how much spending would be cut Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.) said the administration hopes for a reduction of at least $4.4 billion. Short attended a conference of congressional leaders with Eisenhower Thursday morning.

Discuss Tax Cut

Still uncertain was whether the Eisenhower administration would signal for a tax reduction this year, as many members of congress hope. Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass.) said budget cuts so far outlined are "not enough yet to assure a tax reduction" but he has not yet abandoned hope for such a reduction this year.

Chairman Styles Bridges (R-NH) of the senate appropriations committee said the administration would propose a foreign aid appropriation of $5.8 billion for the new fiscal year, $1.8 billion less than in the Truman budget.

Eisenhower asserted his proposed $8.5 billion reduction in appropriations would not reduce the effective military strength this country has planned for itself and its allies in fiscal 1954.

"Deliveries actually will be speeded up through the reduction of lead time," he said, "and the concentration on producing those items which make the most military sense for the immediate future."

Ludwig Calls Retirement Plan An 'Investment, Compromise'

A public employe who participates in the new retirement plan may get back the money he contributed plus two per cent interest if he quits before he is eligible to retire, G. M. Ludwig, Johnson county legislator explained Thursday night.

Ludwig, who arrived in Iowa City Thursday noon from Des Moines following adjournment of the 55th general assembly, spoke before the SUI Young Republicans in a round table discussion.

Prof. Russell Ross, of the SUI political science department; Bill Clabby, A4, Waterloo, editor of The Daily Iowan, and Joe Meyer, Daily Iowan managing editor, participated in the discussion.

Calls Bill Compromise

Explaining his reasons for twice voting yes on the controversial mandatory provision of the pension bill, Ludwig said, "It was a compromise. I'd like to see it optional, but I felt it was the only way to save the bill."

It was the only way proponents of the bill could obtain enough support for its passage, he added.

In answer to a question raised by Clabby, Ludwig said that the wife of a student who works for the university receives the money she paid into the fund plus two per cent interest when she moves out of the state.

Employes Get Return

The plan is an investment just like any other annuity plan and employes get their money back, Ludwig explained. "I hope the state employes here understand this," he added.

The Johnson county legislator also discussed many other measures which involve this area, in particular SUI.

In regard to the unsuccessful attempt to obtain a television station for SUI, he said that many legislators are dissatisfied with the administration of WOI-TV in Ames. As a result, SUI has become the victim, Ludwig added.

Pressure Group Cited

He also felt the Iowa Broadcasters association headed by Edward Breen of Ft. Dodge presented successful pressure against the the bill. The IBA objects to educational TV on the grounds that it interferes with private industry.

Asked if Iowa State college and SUI present two factions in the Iowa house, Ludwig said, "Some have their endearments here, some have them there. It is a matter of keeping everything equal to pacify the two."

Ross spoke earlier in the evening to the group about the 55th general assembly. He called it typical except for the overwhelming number of Republicans.

Criticizes Oleo Debate

On the whole, he said it was a hard working legislature. They did handle oleomargarine stupidly, Ross said, but the total amount of debate was actually less than 10 hours.

Referring to the 85 days of hearings on the sale of oleo, Ross said, "I think they would have come out smelling sweeter if they had taken less time."

Receives Honor

DR. EARL S. SMITH, 615 East Court st., professor emeritus of the SUI college of dentistry, was elected a Life Fellow of the Academy of Denture Prosthetics at the group's convention in Los Angeles recently. The academy is represented by only 50 Life Fellows throughout the United States.

Bill Includes Abolishment Of 3 Boards

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sent to congress Thursday a proposed reorganization of the defense department which would strip some military command from the joint chiefs of staff and abolish some top-level Pentagon agencies.

Appointment of six additional defense secretaries was proposed to take over the functions of the abolished agencies.

In the general reorganization, Eisenhower said, the staff of the defense secretary's office would be reduced by about 500 persons.

Emphasizes Responsibility

The chief executive emphasized a strengthening of "civilian responsibility."

If congress accepts the recommendations, it will be the first major shake-up in the defense establishment since unification of all the armed forces in 1947.

Eisenhower said that as a former soldier and as commander-in-chief of the armed forces "I believe our defense establishment is in need of immediate improvement."

To Make Changes

Here are some of the reorganization changes he will carry out or ask congress to make possible.

1. Abolish the munitions board, the research and development board, and the defense supply management agency.

The functions of these abolished boards he would turn over to six new assistant secretaries of defense.

2. Lift from the military "high command" — the joint chiefs of staff — some of the authority and responsibility that has been delegated to those four officers as the unification program developed.

Inspection Trips Planned

The reorganization plan would provide that the new assistant secretaries make frequent inspection trips to installations around the world to make spot checks for the defense secretary.

In order to improve the work of the joint chiefs of staff, the President urged the participation, at early planning stages, of civilian scientists and engineers with Pentagon officials. The President said that only by early use of competent engineering and scientific knowledge could new weapons be brought rapidly into play in future war plans.

11 People Die As Tornado Hits Georgia

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. (AP)—At least 11 persons were killed Thursday and an estimated 108 injured when a tornado leveled several blocks of this central Georgia city of 8,000.

More fatalities were feared. The mayor earlier told State Adj. Gen. Ernest Vandiver that an estimated 15 were killed. National guardsmen were rushed to the stricken city, about 115 miles south of Atlanta.

The vicious twister boiled in from the south and flattened about 30 apartment buildings, reports said. Many were two and three-story structures. Apparently the storm skirted the sprawling air force base northeast of the city.

The deadly wind funnel ripped roofs from houses and tossed automobiles like matchsticks into houses and atop piles of debris.

Communications between Macon, 17 miles to the north and the nearest large city, and Warner Robins were almost totally smashed.

Hard-pressed hospitals were not able to make an estimate of the number of injured, but Deputy Sheriff Bill Adams of Houston county said the toll was certain to run "into the hundreds."

1 Killed, 25 Hurt In Chemical Blast At Small Factory

PEABODY, Mass. (AP)— A series of earth-trembling chemical explosions blasted a small factory to fragments Thursday killing at least one man, injuring 25 persons and causing an estimated hundreds of thousands of dollars damage.

The blasts rocked the north shore industrial city, 20 miles from Boston. Fred Lawson of Salem, one of the workers, died in a hospital.

So severe was the concussion that windows were shattered for a half-mile around. Chimneys on shoe and leather factories were swayed. Church windows 200 yards from the factory were blown in.

The explosions occurred in the American Polymer Corp., a small factory on the property of the American Resinous Chemicals Corp., of which it is a subsidiary.

The firm is believed to be engaged in government contracts.

Symington Thinks Cutting of Defenses Isn't Justified Now

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)— Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said Thursday night he hasn't seen any evidence to justify cutting down or stretching out the U.S. defense program.

"So long as the survival of the country is endangered, no one at any level has the right to place solvency above security," said Symington, who was formerly secretary of the air force.

If the nation had faced its national defense problem realistically five years ago, he contended, "there probably would have been no Korean War."

Symington said he has seen no evidence that Soviet military capability is now lower than the estimates upon which the program of the Truman administration was based.

Student Council OK's Absentee Ballots

The Student Council voted to provide absentee ballots for the campus elections next Wednesday at a meeting in Old Capitol Thursday night.

Absentee ballots may be obtained in the office of student affairs and in the office of the dean of the college of dentistry. Identification cards will be required in order to vote, Dale Razee, A4, Harlan, elections committee chairman, said.

A letter from the Board of Publications requesting a representative on the council was discussed, but no action could be taken until next week because it would require a constitutional amendment. A suggestion was offered to grant membership on a non-voting basis.

An amendment to the election code ruled fraternity and sorority students living in town ineligible to vote or run for office from the Town Men and women electorate. The code formerly allowed persons in that situation to make a choice between the electorates.

U.S., Canadian Hospital Educators Visiting SUI

Thirty-two hospital educators from the United States and Canada are meeting at the SUI hospitals today and Saturday.

Attending the meeting are hospital leaders from as far west as the University of California and as far east as Yale university and the University of Toronto, Canada.

Senate Stops Ocean Riches Control Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate voted 59 to 22 Thursday against a proposal that the federal government retain control of all mineral riches in the ocean beds three miles or more offshore and devote any revenue to reduction of the national debt.

Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) advanced the idea as an amendment to an administration-backed bill for state ownership of the submerged coastal lands within historic state boundaries.

Majority leader Robert Taft of Ohio called the Monroney amendment "half-baked" before it was defeated on a roll call vote. He said a comprehensive bill dealing with administration of the continental shelf beyond the proposed state limits would be introduced soon after the present bill is passed.

But Monroney argued that congress would establish a dangerous precedent if it recognized any boundaries beyond the three-mile limit it has stood on in international negotiations.

As to using any revenues from oil and gas production for reduction of the 264½ million dollar public debt, Monroney said it was possibly the only way the huge obligation could be cut down.

"We all know," he said, "it will be difficult to keep taxes high enough to pay a thin dime on the debt."

The senate is forging ahead to anticipated passage of the state ownership bill when a final vote is taken next Tuesday.

81-Piece Concert Band To Present Show Wednesday

The 81-piece SUI concert band will present its annual spring program Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union main lounge. It is to be conducted by Prof. C. B. Righter, director of bands, and John B. Whitlock, assistant director.

The first local performance of Morton Gould's descriptive rhapsody for band, "Jericho", will be featured, and will be directed by Whitlock.

Maurice W. Fahrney, A4, Deep River, and William C. Snustad, G, Hendrum, Minn., will be soloists. Fahrney will play excerpts from the "Second Concerto for Clarinet," by Weber. Snustad will sing the bass aria "La Calunnia' 'from Rossini's "Barber of Seville," and "La Serenata" by Tosti.

Free tickets for this final concert of the band's 72d season are available at the Union desk, Whetstones and the band office.

560 Businessmen, Farmers Hear Talks At Union Banquet

Approximately 560 Iowa City businessmen and their farmer guests heard SUI football coach Forest Evashevski preview Iowa football ,and an Iowa State college swine expert report on hog research, at the farmer-businessmen's banquet in the Iowa Memorial Union, Thursday evening.

Evashevski told the group, "that they will like what they see" in the 1953 Iowa grid team which will be two-deep in every line position, but will have no better a backfield than last year under the two-platoon system. He expected, however, a better team under the one-platoon system and urged support.

In the evening's main address, Damon Catron, assistant professor of animal husbandry at ISC, stressed the gains in the past few years in the hog producing business.

Catron, who is the top swine nutritionalist in the U.S., pointed out two major mistakes in the hog feeding field: (1) too much fat is being produced; and (2) feed is not being used efficiently.

Allin W. Dakin, SUI administrative dean, greeted the farmers on behalf of President Virgil M. Hancher, who was away on business. Prof. Clarence M. Updegraff, SUI college of law, led a round of group singing. Charles Keily was toastmaster.

Two groups of SUI students provided the entertainment for the program. A quartet of SUI Scottish Highlanders presented a few of the singing commercials they are using in their Iowa savings bond drive appearances.

They were: Jane Condon, A3, Iowa City; Mary Sahs, A4, Earlville; Juanita Bethke, A4, Cherokee, and Marcia Raffensperger, A3, Iowa City.

BEARDSLEY SIGNS BILL

Gov. William S. Beardsley said Thursday that he signed the bill providing for a $900,000 medical research center at SUI.

A Condensation of Late Developments

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Intense radiation from last Saturday's atomic test at Yucca Flat Thursday forced postponement of another nuclear experiment scheduled for Saturday. The test will now be held May 16, the Atomic Energy commission announced in shuffling dates for the next three tests in the spring series. Last Saturday's big explosion left residual radiation so strong on the ground that it was unsafe for workers and scientists to set up equipment for the scheduled test. The dates now set are May 7, 16 and 23, with the atomic cannon slated to be tested on the final date.

He and Bradley, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, have been making a three-week tour of Europe to inspect NATO defenses. They are to leave Rome today for a visit to North Africa.

This organization has been critical of Benson's advocacy of flexible price supports.

"We called on the Communists to nominate their candidate for a neutral state. They again failed to do so and apparently are trying to refrain from that until they get us to accept the principle that all of the POWs who will not be repatriated directly shall be physically transported to the neutral state."

POW's Arrival Home Described by Newsman

The following story is a detailed account of the homecoming of one of the first Americans repatriated from a Red prison camp in Korea.

BOSTON (AP)— It was a time to look away.

Cpl. Donald Legay had just stepped off the plane which returned him Thursday night from 29 months of captivity in North Korea.

His mother, Mrs. Walter Legay, moved toward the ramp, crying "Donald, O Donald."

Weary, confused and fighting back his own tears, the liberated prisoner finally fell into his mother's arms.

And it was a time to look away.

Embraces Mother

And when you looked back, the handsome, hazel-eyed GI was still locked in his mother's embrace.

His father had an arm around him. His younger sister, Gloria, and brothers James and Joseph touched his shoulder.

Behind them stood a bright new convertible — a gift from his townsfolk to the liberated prisoner.

While the plane was still rolling slowly, Donald waved from the window. Catching their first glimpse of their son in the more than three years since he went overseas, his mother and father began to move forward prematurely. But the strong propeller backwash of the four-motored plane stopped them.

Press Moves In

The ship finally halted. The Legays and the press moved toward the ramp. First to come down were some civilians carrying brief cases. Then women with hat boxes, obviously wondering what all the fuss was about.

Another pause. Then the plane's crew. Another, long pause.

Finally the 23-year-old soldier appeared. Somebody shouted "Here he comes."

His mother trembled murmuring his name. Her son started down the ramp. Half way down photographers made him pause. Finally there were no other delays and Donald literally plunged over the last few steps into his mother's arms.

Mother Holds Hand

The cameras and microphones moved in while Mrs. Legay held tightly to her son's right hand. His left hand was crooked. The arm had suffered shrinkage and stiffness from wounds which Communist doctors didn't treat until the last four months of his imprisonment.

Answering reporters, Donald said he felt "fine—tired, confused but fine."

Somebody asked about home cooking. "Oh, that strawberry shortcake," the GI yelled. His mother assured him it was waiting. And they hugged again.

SCHRODER APPOINTED

DES MOINES (AP) — The appointment of Allen R. Schroder of Des Moines as full time executive secretary of the Iowa association of Soil Conservation district commissioners was announced Wednesday. R. E. Bauer, Van Meter, association president said the appointment is effective May 1.

Union Head Hits Cudahy Strike Action

CHICAGO (AP)— The president of the Omaha, Neb. local union of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) Wednesday claimed the Cudahy Packing Co. has embarked on a "deliberate attempt to smash" the union.

Ole Johnson, president of the local and one of seven union local officers suspended by Cudahy Monday, issued a statement in Chicago saying the "company refused to permit the employes to return to work and reinforced the lookout by suspending seven union leaders."

Cudahy's Omaha plant has been having labor trouble since April 15 and has been closed down since April 22.

The union members offered to return to work Monday but rejected company proposals on conditions for the return to work and claimed its members have been locked out.

Cudahy said the seven officers were suspended pending investigation of what the company charged "were illegal violations of the master agreement which led to the strike."

Johnson said full page advertisements which Cudahy ran in the Omaha World Herald Sunday and Tuesday "could only be taken as a further incitement in an already tense local situation."

"The Cudahy Co. has embarked upon a campaign that has all the earmarks of a deliberate attempt to smash the UPWA in the Cudahy chain," Johnson said.

Johnson said the Omaha local would hold an emergency membership meeting at 10 a.m. Thursday.

27 Tons of Unfit Food Seized Daily, CCH Says

Governmental seizure of almost 27 tons of food every day as unfit for consumption is reported by Food, Drug, Cosmetic Law Journal, published by Commerce Clearing House, national reporting authority on tax and business law.

Other figures taken from the annual report of the Food and Drug administration show 2,674 import shipments of food were denied entry to prevent contamination of human food channels here.

In removing these products from the market, the watchful eyes of the FDA continue to protect the American consumer's dinner tables and prevent economic losses. Charles W. Crawford, commissioner of food and drugs, whose report appears in the CCH journal says:

"Of even greater importance, however, is the long-run effect of the programs the food and drug administration conducts in cooperation with industry leaders on available food supplies."

Spoiled Food Recalled

Among the more important seizures in fiscal 1952 was 17 million pounds of food spoiled or contaminated with filth. Almost two million pounds contained dangerous substances, and two million more were deceptively misbranded.

The largest single seizure of the year removed more than two million pounds of rodent-defiled sugar. It had been stored eight months in a warf shed with no barrier to rats, which tunneled through the bags. The inspectors reported its condition just as it was being loaded for final shipment.

Seizures like these bring spectacular results in consumer protection, says the report in the CCH journal. One factory closed down for three weeks for a clean-up. Other manufacturers in the same line started installing laboratories, calling on pest control operators and sanitation services for more comprehensive protection against filth.

Bone Meal Imports Controlled

An outbreak of anthrax in swine was traced to bone meal from Belgium prepared from bones originating in India and Pakistan. This brought about controls over the importation of bone meal and other products of animal origin.

Half of the domestic seizures of foods were in three classifications, namely, vegetables, cereals and seafoods. Half of the import shipments denied entry were in spices, fruits and oleomargarine.

Drug manufacturers recalled 20 products from the market during the year. Incorrect labeling, dangerous excess of potency, lack of sterility, or contamination with dangerous chemicals were among the main causes for these actions, the report says.

In general, prosecution against manufacturers of proprietary medicines are decreasing in number. Court actions against adulterated drugs were fewer in 1952.

4 Shampoos Seized

Four brands of shampoo were seized because they contained an irritant which could cause serious injury to the eye. One eyewash was recalled because it was contaminated with bacteria which could result in serious eye infection.

During the year, jail sentences which ranged from one day to five years were imposed on 31 individuals. Probation was granted 20 of these defendants. The heaviest fine of the year in a single case was $7,500, and the total fines amounted to $143,447.

"All right, all right, all right! Now get out of here with that 'man cannot live by bread alone' stuff."

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

The time is rapidly approaching when both the objectives and the possibilities of the new Communist war in Laos will become clearer.

At first it appeared that the chief Red aim was to overrun an area in the north and east of the Indochinese country as a platform from which to proclaim a Communist government as they did in northern Vietnam.

As more troops were thrown in, especially from the east at the waist of Vietnam, however, the Reds seemed to be striking in one all-out blow for the whole country and for the Thai border.

Position Depends on Reds

The position of the French and Laotion defending forces thus came to depend heavily on whether the Red objectives were primarily territorial or political.

If the capture of the capital at Luangprabang is considered vital to the political front of the proclaimed government, then the defenders would seem to be in fair position. The French claim they can whip the invaders in a pitched battle before the city. The entire defense, with withdrawal of French forces from their outpost to the north and east, has been planned along this line.

No Real Front

There is no front across the country, the Communists having chosen the old Patton tactic of driving directly into the country with three columns of troops.

This leaves the possibility that, rather than face a pitched battle before the capital, they could divert most of their forces, hold the city under siege, and strike on toward Thailand.

They could, by this means, present the world with a far more serious problem than even the occupation of the most important parts of Laos. But some of their columns are already 200 miles from their bases, and while Red forces are accustomed to guerrilla warfare, a movement of this size still depends heavily on supplies, particularly ammunition.

Traditional Scuttling Forsaken—

U.S. Navy Tops Combined World Fleets

By CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON — The United States navy today is following a new and startingly different pattern, scuttling a "tradition" that has persisted since the Revolutionary war.

This was the "tradition" which seemed to call for scuttling of a large portion of the nation's floatilla after each major war in which the U. S. participated, to the point where in the years immediately following its greatest strength, the country often was rendered largely impotent on the high seas.

After World War II it has been different. U. S. naval power today tops the combined fleets of the world, and the margin of its supremacy never has been greater.

400 Major Ships in Commission

It has approximately 400 major ships in commission, and a total of 1,500 ships of all types in active service, including 1,200 auxilliaries. At latest count there were 16 battleships, 27 large aircraft carriers, 78 other carriers, 69 cruisers, 579 destroyers, and 175 submarines.

Britain, once undisputed ruler of the waves, still is second strongest with five battleships, six large carriers, seven other carriers, 25 cruisers, 278 destroyers, and 68 submarines.

This is a far cry from the summer of 1775, when Silas Deane, John Adams and John Langdon earned the distinction of being "Fathers of the Navy" by outfitting two Continental warships in Boston harbor. The youthful nation quickly demonstrated its aptitude for sea fighting, however, when by the end of the Revolutionary war it had 64 warships.

All Sold or Scrapped

Incomprehensibly, all immediately were sold or scrapped, so that when the nation adopted the Constitution it had no navy at all. Washington's scratch of the pen launched a building program of six famous frigates, one of them the Constitution which became "Old Ironsides."

The traditional scuttling of the navy after each triumphant era was continued after the War of 1812, which had been marked by a series of brilliant American naval victories.

The federal navy was completely inadequate at the start of the Civil war, but the building of the Monitor, the ironclad "Yankee cheesebox on a raft," turned the tide. After fighting ceased, however, the navy again was cut adrift.

Building Plan Underway

Not so today, because a big building program is under way to lengthen the already overwhelming lead of the U. S. fleet through starting construction on a mammoth 60,000-ton aircraft carrier in each of the next 10 years, as well as the current building of two atomic-powered submarines.

The A-submarines, representing the unfolding of "the Navy of the Future," are compared by navy men with other milestones of Uncle Sam's advancement as a sea power, including the building in 1884 of the Princeton, the first screw steam war vessel ever constructed, and the launching in 1884 of the Dolphin, the first ship of the new steel fleet that lived up to expectations in the Spanish-American war.

The atom subs also are a dynamic answer to the most persistent challenge existing today—the 360 submarines believed to be the core of the third-place Russian navy. That is five times the number of Hitler's U-boats at the start of World War II.

France Ranks Fourth

Fourth and fifth ranking naval powers are France and Italy, who trail the leaders by a wide margin. Most of the world's 40 navies are relatively puny forces, although Australia cuts a figure in the South Pacific with its one carrier and three cruisers, and Sweden makes a cheeky challenge to Russia's naval might in the Baltic.

Missing from the roster of ranking naval powers, of course, are the Germans and Japanese who have made ambitious but abortive bids in the last half century.

Return last year of Helgoland to West Germany revived some hopes for Reich naval development.

Japan's naval comeback ironically is tied to the 68 warships lent to her last November by an Uncle Sam who has so many ships he can afford to be generous with them. France, with a gift of 44 dredges and 118 sub-chasers, also has benefitted from extra American ships.

Farm Product Prices Take Biggest Monthly Drop of GOP Reign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm product prices took a 2 per cent tumble between mid-March and mid-April for the biggest monthly downturn since the Eisenhower administration took over.

The agriculture department reported this Wednesday in a market survey which showed cattle prices continued a decline that has been sharp and the cause of much concern in government circles.

The general level of farm prices in mid-April was about 3 per cent below that in effect when the present administration took office in January.

Price Advance Halts Decline

Last month these prices advanced one-third of one per cent to halt a long decline.

During the last year of the Truman administration farm prices dropped 12 per cent.

In addition to cattle prices, other commodities which lost ground during the last month included milk, butter-fat, some grains, potatoes and some vegetables.

Hog, Egg Prices Rise

Commodities which went up a little, but not enough to offset the effect of those which declined, included hogs, lambs, eggs, and rice.

The farm price level in mid-April was 10.5 per cent below that of a year ago and about 17 per cent below the record set in February, 1951.

Prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in family living and in farm production also declined during the month which ended April 15, but only about seven-tenths of one per cent.

These prices were about 3.4 per cent below those of a year ago and about the same percentage below the record set in May, 1952.

Escapee Retrieved In Cedar Rapids, Receives Sentence

CHICAGO (AP)— Harry MacMillan, 36, who escaped from a policeman returning him to Chicago from Central City, Neb., was sentenced Thursday to three to six years in prison in Illinois.

Chief Justice Joseph A. Graber of criminal court imposed the sentence on MacMillan who is also known as McLeod.

MacMillan was accused of robbing a Chicago restaurant owner of $3,700 and $2,000 in checks March 25. MacMillan had been employed at the restaurant as a porter for three months.

Nebraska police arrested MacMillan April 3 at the request of Chicago police. Chicago policeman Daniel Boyle was sent to bring him back.

Allied Troops Await May Day Activity On Korean Front

SEOUL (AP) Allied troops were alerted today for May day fireworks from the Communists on the Korean front, which has been quiet for three days.

There was a slight increase in patrol contacts Thursday, the eighth army noted, but nothing to indicate the enemy would lash out on the traditional festival day of world communism.

Allied planes swarmed over North Korea Thursday, pounding Red targets, and the fifth air force reported three MIGs were shot down in dogfights with U.S. Sabres high over northwest Korea.

Last year May day passed quietly on the front. In 1951 the Reds were between two phases of their great spring offensive.

The muddy battlefront has been unusually quiet this week. Opposing armies have skirmished only with squads and platoons.

The biggest clash reported up to Thursday night involved a South Korean raider patrol and a North Korean platoon on the eastern front. The South Koreans estimated they killed 13.

Capt. Manuel Fernandez Jr. of Miami, Fla., equalled the Korean War record for MIG kills Thursday.

Mantle's Disputed Homer Helps Yankees In 6-1 Win Over Chisox

CHICAGO (AP)— The New York Yankees, feeling grimly "fine," whipped the Chicago White Sox, 6-1, Thursday on an attack launched with two successive homers, one a disputed poke by Mickey Mantle which chased Sox Manager Paul Richards out of the rain-delayed game.

The two bleacher shots came in the fourth inning. The first was Mantle's blast which bounded back into the field.

The other was the first major league homer by rookie Bill Renna, who also tripled and singled in four trips.

Ford's 1st Victory

That alone was enough to salt away the season's first victory for lefty Whitey Ford. Ford scattered eight hits and, after yielding his only run in the fifth, mowed down the Sox one-two-three with a bases-loaded situation in the same inning. Rain halted the game 35 minutes midway in the seventh.

Hank Bauer's double and Renna's single counted another New York run in the sixth. Joe Collins' single following Renna's triple and Phil Rizzuto's two-run single scored three more in the ninth.

Richards and the whole Sox team mobbed Umpire Jim Duffy when he waved Mantle home after his drive in the fourth eluded a youthful fan leaning over the left field wall and rebounded far into the playing field.

Richards 'Thumbed Out'

The Sox claimed the ball rammed the wall a foot or two from the top and should have remained in play. Richards debated two vigorously and was thumbed out by Duffy.

Duffy also chased left fielder Minnie Minoso of the Sox when he complained too strenuously after being picked off second base in the fourth inning.

This initial meeting with the White Sox was the first outing by the Yankees since their melee with the Browns at St. Louis Tuesday night.

15 Hawk Trackmen Leave For Dual Meet At Indiana

Coach Francis Cretzmeyer and a 15-man Iowa track contingent left this morning by bus for a dual track meet with Indiana at Bloomington Saturday.

The meet is scheduled for Saturday morning as one of four sports events to help the Hoosiers celebrate their annual Cream and Crimson day. The Iowa golfers will compete in another section of the program.

Iowa will be weakened in the meet with the Hoosiers because of the loss of hurdler Dick Fowler, who pulled a muscle in his leg at the Drake Relays. Jim Norman, Hawk pole vaulter, will not make the trip either because he will compete in the NAAU gymnastics championships at Chicago Saturday.

Chuck Boylan, who was the lead-off man on Iowa's record breaking 1952 mile relay team, is scheduled to see his first action of the season. Boylan had been bothered by a pulled leg muscle this season, but is slated to compete in the 440-yard run Saturday. om-hg IwiT lboth-petel lo B Db

The meet Saturday has been tabbed as a toss-up since the two squads are quite equally balanced. The Hawks will be favored in several of the individual distance events and the medley and mile relays.

Indiana, however, has the better sprinters, and are favored to cop honors in the shorter distances. Cretzmeyer stated early this week that the team scoring the most second and third place points should win the meet.

Forecast Rainy Day For Kentucky Derby; Dancer Still Choice

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Grey skies and a grey colt named Native Dancer hogged the Kentucky Derby spotlight Thursday as trainers speculated on the possibility of an "off" track for the 79th running of the great American turf classic Saturday.

Actually, many of the trainers are hoping the weatherman will bring rain and a muddy rating strip for the mile and one quarter battle of a dozen of the nation's classiest 3-year-olds.

Scattered showers and possible thundershowers have been forecast for Friday and possibly Derby day.

Although Alfred Vanderbilt's unbeaten Derby favorite has had a fast track for 10 of his 11 victories, trainer Bill Winfrey isn't losing sleep about what kind of a footing Native Dancer and the other 11 or so get in the $100,000 glitter gallop.

Senators Fall, 3-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A three-run homer by Bob Elliott and a superb three-hit pitching performance by Virgil Trucks combined to give the St. Louis Browns a 3-1 victory over the Washington Nationals here Thursday night.

Chuck Stobbs, who had held the Browns to one hit in six innings, was the victim of some ragged support on the infield which set the stage of Elliott's winning blow.

Washington scored in the first inning on a hit batsman, a walk and Clyde Vollmer's single.

Thrilling Duel

Then Trucks and Stobbs carried on a thrilling duel. The only other hits, prior to the seventh were a single by Jim Busby in the third, and a single by Elliott in the fifth.

Opening the home seventh, Johnny Groth hit a sharp grounder at second baseman Wayne Terwilliger. The ball skipped through his legs for a single.

Then Billy Hunter hit a grounder to shortstop Pete Runnels which was made to order for a double play. But the shortstop looked up before he had the ball in his glove and fumbled for an error.

Double Play

Jim Dyck then bunted safely toward third to fill the bases. A line drive by Vic Wertz to third baseman Eddie Yost was turned into a double play when Yost threw to Mickey Vernon.

But Elliott followed with his blast into the center field stands for his second home run of the season.

His three runs batted in give him the American league RBI leadership with 13.

ISC GAME POSTPONED

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)— A scheduled baseball game here today between Nebraska and Iowa State has been moved up to Saturday because of wet grounds. The teams will play two seven-inning games Saturday, starting at 10 a.m. CST.

League Head Fines 4 Yanks For Brawling

CHICAGO (AP) — President Will Harridge of the American league Thursday fined four New York Yankee and two St. Louis Browns' players a total of $850 for Tuesday night's player brawl in St. Louis.

The players involved in Harridge's decision undoubtedly were disgruntled, but only one would comment. None of them would pose for pictures, or comment on the fines.

Catcher Clint Courtney of the Browns was held mainly responsible for the 10th inning melee and was assessed the biggest fine, $250.

The New Yorkers fined were second baseman Billy Martin, $150; first baseman Joe Collins, pitcher Allie Reynolds, and third baseman Gil McDougald, $100 each.

The free-for-all followed when Courtney singled and tried to stretch the hit to a double. He slid into second base, trampling Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto.

Players from both teams rushed to midfield and fans showered the diamond with soda pop bottles and other debris.

Of the six players hit by Harridge's penalty, only Martin would comment. He told a newsman: "I'm getting paid to play baseball and not to fight."

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, behind the strong relief pitching of Ben Wade and a pair of two-run homers by Duke Snider and Peewee Reese, conquered the Cincinnati Redlegs, 7-4, Thursday to climb into second place in the National league.

Wade took over in the first inning after Cincinnati had shellacked starter Johnny Podres for two quick runs and held the Redlegs at bay the rest of the way.

He yielded seven hits and two runs as he fanned nine while walking only one. It was the Dodgers' fourth straight victory, but only the first for Wade.

The Dodgers collected 10 hits, six of them coming in the first three innings when they did all their scoring. Most of the damage was done to pitcher Herman Wehmeier, who started and lost for Cincinnati.

After the Reds had picked up two runs off Podres. the rookie southpaw, on a pair of walks followed by singles by Ted Kluszewski and Jim Greengrass, Brooklyn came back with two tallies of its own on Duke Snider's fourth homer of the season behind a pass to Reese.

The Dodgers chased Wehmeier to the showers in the second and continued their assault on Eddie Erautt as they counted four times, aided by Reese's homer.

Pirates Top Cubs

PITTSBURGH (AP) —Outfielder Frank Thomas blasted a two-run homer over the leftfield scoreboard in the ninth inning to break up a tie ball game and give the Pitsburgh Pirates a 4-2 victory Thursday over the Chicago Cubs.

Southpaw Paul Minner was charged with the loss. Elroy Face gained the victory after relieving starter Bob Friend in the ninth.

Minner mowed down the Pirates until he weakened in the eighth. Johnny Lindell's pinch double followed by another two-base blow by Carlos Bernier knotted the contest at 2-all.

Until that time, the Pirates had collected only two hits.

The 29-year-old lefthander helped move the Cubs in front by two runs in the second inning by belting a triple to right center to score Toby Atwell, who singled across Bill Serena.

Giants Win, 1-0

NEW YORK (AP)— A weak version of the Bobby Thomson special — a home run into the left field stands — gave the puny-hitting New York Giants a 1-0 ninth-inning decision over the Milwaukee Braves Thursday after three straight losses.

Thomson's homer came with one out in the ninth to end a pitching duel between Sal Maglie and Milwaukee's Vern Bickford.

It wasn't much of a wallop compared to Bobby's famous playoff homer into the same area. Fair by only a few feet, it hit the top of the wall, bounced high in the air and dropped into the stands.

In the first eight innings, the Giants made only four hits off Bickford. Milwaukee collected six, half of them by rookie Bill Bruton, who was the only Brave to reach third base.

The Braves filled the bases in the eighth when Bruton singled and was sacrificed to second. Ed Mathews was intentionally passed and Sid Gordon beat out an infield single.

Rain Halts Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals played to a rain-ended, five-inning 1-1 stalemate Thursday night which will have to be replayed as a complete new contest at a later date.

Under National league rules, the pitching, fielding and batting figures for the game will be entered in the records.

Off To Good Start

Gymnasts in AAU Meet

Bob Hazlett and Jim Norman, Iowa gymnastics performers, will compete in the national AAU championships in Chicago this weekend in quest of trampoline honors. Hazlett was first and Norman second in the NCAA championships.

The two Hawkeye contestants will compete in the AAU meet unattached because the event is classed as post-season competition.

Hazlett scored 275 points in the NCAA meet and Norman was a close second with 272 points.

In the forthcoming AAU meet, the Iowa duo will attempt to duplicate the performance of the Hawks' Frank LaDue and Bill Sorenson, who finished first and second in 1952. That was the first time two representatives from the same school had accomplished the feat.

Legislature Formally Ends, 9 Days Late

DES MOINES (AP) — The 1953 Iowa legislature formally and finally adjourned at 5:26 p.m. Thursday, 109 days after it began.

Most of the lawmakers went home late Wednesday after the close of the lawmaking process. It required an additional day for clerical work before sine die adjournment.

Only seven of the 108 members of the house and five of the 50 members of the senate were present to witness the final gavel fall.

The house members were Reps. Earl C. Ryan, Des Moines; Joe Watson, Indianola; Paul M. Walter, Union; Conway E. Morris, Dallas Center; Robert Carlson, Sioux City; John Brownlie, Winterset, and Harold (Lum) Nelson, Sioux City.

Members of the senate present at the close were: Thomas J. Dailey, Burlington; Herman B. Lord, Muscatine; George E. O'Malley, Des Moines; G. D. Bellman, Indianola, and Lorin B. Sayre, Winterset.

The clocks in the house and senate chambers had been stopped at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday but were advanced to nearly 5 p.m. just before the final adjournment. The reason for that was that the house and senate had agreed Wednesday on final adjournment at 5 p.m. Wednesday. The clock-stopping process means that everything done between the time the clocks were stopped and the actual close of the session was recorded as having taken place Wednesday.

The formalities of final adjournment took only a few minutes. Gov. William S. Beardsley sent up a message of congratulations and best wishes. The doors of the two chambers were opened wide so that house speaker William S. Lynes and Lt. Gov. Leo Elthon, presiding officer of the senate, could look across and see each other so as to bring down their gavels simultaneously, as the very last act of the 1953 Legislature.

JayCees To Compete For Service Awards

The Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce will enter nine applications for activity awards at the state convention in Cedar Rapids today through Sunday, Charles A. Barker, president of the Jaycees announced. The Montrose hotel will be convention headquarters.

Applications for awards are submitted in book form including pictures of the year's activities. The books to be entered are in the following fields: Christmas activities, youth activities, sports, traffic safety, all-around activities, publications, public affairs, community welfare funds and agriculture.

Bernard Kozik, R.R. 4, Iowa City, will receive the award for the outstanding young farmer in Iowa. Kozik was originally selected by the farm organizations in this area. The Jaycees named him Iowa City's outstanding young farmer and submitted his name for the state award.

The Jaycees' Christmas program received first place at the national convention in Dallas, Tex., in 1952. They won four first place awards in state competition in 1952.

New state officers will be elected at the convention. Dwight Havens, manager of Chamber of Commerce service for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the awards banquet.

Iowa City members plan to encourage all state Jaycees to participate in the teen-age Road-E-O, a driving safety contest sponsored by the Jaycees. The state finals will be held in Iowa City, early in July.

Iowa City Rifle Team To Receive Awards

A trophy, plaque and individual medals will be presented next Wednesday evening to members of the rifle team of Iowa City's headquarters and headquarters company of the 410th infantry regiment. The 410th regiment won first place in organized reserve corps rifle competition.

Members of the team are Maj. Richard T. Feddersen, Maj. Ben E. Summerwill, Lt. Kenneth F. Campbell, Cpl. Robert V. Blosser, all of Iowa City; Sgt. Ray N. Oehl, Sgt. William F. Ackerman, both of Amana, and Lt. Robert H. Aiken, of Hills.

Feddersen finished third in individual state competition and Summerwill was fourth.

The highest four individual scores were used to compete the team score in all the matches. The local team fired during regular Wednesday evening reserve meetings.

State offices of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Reserve Officers association provided the awards.

Dean Zopf To Speak At Pharmacy Meeting

Dean Louis Zopf of the SUI pharmacy college will speak Sunday at the fifth district meeting of American Boards of Pharmacy and American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy in Lincoln, Neb.

"Educational Problems in Hospital Pharmacy" will be Zopf's topic. Prof. James Jones and Prof. Gail Wiese of the SUI college of pharmacy will also attend the Saturday through Tuesday meeting.

Group Studies Use Of Voting Machines

At a meeting of the precinct advisory committee, which has been studying the problem of voting precinct boundaries and voting procedures in Iowa City and Johnson county, Prof. Norman C. Meier, of the psychology department, announced that the committee has investigated the use of voting machines in other counties.

Plans for a factual report to be submitted to the board of supervisors were completed Wednesday night. Meier said that figures showing the comparative costs of elections by use of voting machines as against paper ballots, have been compiled.

The special committee, appointed by City Manager Peter F. Roan last year, has been studying ways of improving the service to voters at elections and to speed up the count of votes.

In the November election, voters in some precincts were forced to stand in line for long periods before voting, causing confusion in many places. In one Iowa City precinct, the final tally was not completed until 26 hours after the polls had closed.

3 Trucks, 10 Men To Begin Collection Of City Trash Today

Three garbage collection trucks, nine men and a foreman will initiate municipal garbage and trash collection service in Iowa City today.

Within a few weeks city manager Peter F. Roan expects to have the pickups on a twice per week or every four days basis. Residents will be notified in about two weeks which days collection will be regularly made in their neighborhood. Collections will be made only in residential areas, under the city system.

Previously, garbage has been collected by a private hauler, under contract with the city. Under that system trash was not collected.

The city-operated system will be financed by taxation and will come at no additional cost to the resident.

The city will pick up tin cans, waste paper and other items which can be placed in the garbage can in addition to garbage. Garbage must be drained of liquids and wrapped in paper.

The garbage can should be placed at the edge of the lot next to the alley or at the immediate rear of the house.

Under the new plan, the city will not collect ashes or waste materials from new buildings and remodeling projects.

Material picked up will be disposed of at the sanitary landfill where it is packed and then buried under a layer of dirt. A demonstration of the new system is planned for Sunday afternoon at the landfill.

City Parking Survey To Begin Next Week

City Manager Peter F. Roan has asked that all motorists give their full co-operation to people conducting the parking survey that will begin Monday or Tuesday of next week.

The survey is expected to determine which sections of the downtown area are most in demand for parking, the area of the city that most motorists come from, and facts relating to future plans for parking lots and routing of traffic.

About 10,000 interviews are expected to be taken during the month of May, Roan said.

Every motorist who parks in a downtown block will be asked the following questions: His home address, destination, and purpose of the trip — shopping, business, work or other.

Local business employes, furnished by firms through the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce retail trade division, will do the actual questioning.

One square block will be checked each day by approximately 10 or 12 persons. The surverying will be betweeh 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Patrolman Emmet Evans of the Iowa City police department is in charge of the administrative phase of the survey.

Allies 'Get Tough' with Reds May Release 32,000 POW's

PANMUNJOM, Korea (Friday) (AP) — Allied negotiators, taking a tougher stand at the truce talks, headed back to Panmunjom today after threatening possible release of 32,000 North Korean prisoners who don't want to go back to Red rule.

The threat was voiced Thursday in the face of an unflinching stand by the Reds on the key issue of what to do about the 32,000 North Koreans plus 16,000 Chinese Reds also unwilling to be returned.

Friday's session is scheduled for 11 a.m. (8 p.m. Thursday CST).

The Allies demanded the Reds name their choice for a neutral nation to handle the 48,000. Until the Reds speak up on this, the reborn truce talks are at a standstill.

An hour before today's scheduled truce session, Allied and Red liaison officers scheduled a meeting to discuss the sick and wounded exchange. Although the Reds have completed exchange of 648, including 149 Americans, reports persisted that they hold still more.

The Allies planned to turn over 250 Chinese and 250 North Koreans today, bringing the total of ailing Reds returned to about 6,000. Five hundred other Reds were turned over Thursday after they had staged a short-lived escape attempt on the hospital train carrying them to Panmunjom.

Red and Allied top truce delegates swapped talk in Panmunjom Thursday for 51 minutes but got nowhere. Later Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied negotiator, told newsmen that the Reds have claimed they had made much about concessions but on vital points "there have been no concessions of any kind."

Eisenhower Signs Rent Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower Thursday signed a bill extending federal rent controls on an estimated 5½ million housing units in 32 states until July 31.

The President affixed his signature only a few hours before all rent controls were due to expire at midnight Thursday.

After July 31, under the new law approved by congress last week, only a shadow will remain of the government rent control program which was imposed during World War II.

Ceilings will expire automatically July 31 on 4,300,000 units in 1,400 cities which have not been designated as critical defense areas. The 1,400 cities include Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Authority for federal price and wage controls also expired at midnight Thursday. The administration has already removed wage-price curbs by executive order and has announced it will not seek to extend them.

Minister To Speak At Weekend Rally

The Rev. C. Chako Thomas, G, Kolar, Mysore S., India, will be the special speaker at a youth rally today at 7:30 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias hall, 432 S. Clinton st.

There will be an inspirational service at 9 a.m. Saturday, followed by a picnic at Lake Macbride state park and a 7:30 p.m. missionary service at the church.

Sunday events will include Bible class and sermon at 9:45 a.m., an afternoon service at 2:30 p.m., a fellowship supper at 6 p.m., and the evening service at 7:30.

The rally is co-sponsored by the Grace Missionary church of Iowa City, and the United Missionary church of Trenton.

Jewish Students Plan Fund Drive

The united Jewish student appeal campaign will be launched on the SUI campus starting Sunday.

The purpose of the 1953 nationwide campaign is to raise nearly $145 million in order to save as many lives as possible in Communist controlled countries in eastern Europe and to strengthen the state of Israel.

Don Petersen, G, Oconomowoc, Wis., has been appointed chairman of the drive.

Boy's Skull Fractured, Hip Bruised, In Accident

Raymond Funk, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Funk, 1122 Keokuk st., suffered a fractured skull and a bruised hip when he ran into the side of a pick-up truck driven by Robert O'Donnell 910 Highland ave., Thursday. The accident occurred near the boy's home.

Raymond was taken to Mercy hospital where his condition was reported good.

Federal Government Imprisons Examiner Of RFC for Perjury

WASHINGTON (AP)— E. Merl Young drew a prison sentence of four months to two years Thursday for perjury during an investigation of alleged influence peddling in the reconstruction finance corporation.

Young and his attorney, James F. Reilly, vainly asked probation for Young, who was linked to "a web of influence" in the RFC by a senate banking subcommittee. U. S. district judge Matthew F. McGuire rejected the pleas.

The judge expressed the hope that parole authorities will feel "the interests of justice have been served" after four months.

The maximum possible penalty for perjury under the District of Columbia code is two to 10 years.

The story of Young's rise from a $25-a-week government messenger before World War II to a $7,500-a-year RFC examiner and his wife's $9,450 pastel mink coat were among highlights of the RFC investigation.

Young and his wife, Lauretta, a White House stenographer during the Truman administration, now operate a tourist court at Homestead, Fla.

Federal Offenders Get 3-Year Sentence

DES MOINES (AP) — Arthur N. Matthes, 35, North Liberty, and Arthur M. Day, 42, Iowa City, were sentenced to three years in prison Thursday by Federal Judge William F. Riley after both men pleaded guilty to stealing from interstate shipments.

Cloid I. Level, assistant U.S. district attorney, read statements by Matthes and Day in which they admitted stealing clothing from a truck belonging to an Iowa City transfer firm where Matthes was employed.

Level said federal authorities recovered $3,600 in merchandise after the men were arrested last month.

Ira Keefer, Iowa City grocer, has been indicted in the case. Keefer, now free on $3,000 bond, is accused of having in his possession goods stolen from a truck of the firm where Matthes worked.

Polio Patients Move into University Hospitals

3 POLIO PATIENTS AND THEIR FAMILIES were happy when the move from Sioux City to Iowa City was finally completed and everyone was established in the isolation ward of University hospitals. A principal reason for their transfer was the more extensive program of physical therapy available at University hospitals. The three patients are in the lungs above (left).

3 Patients In 'Good Condition' After 19-Hour Trip In Lungs

Three Iowa victims of bulbar and spinal forms of polio arrived in good condition early Thursday morning at the University hospitals after a 19 hour trip in their iron lungs.

The patients are: Mrs. Donald Silkman, Battle Creek; Merle Vesgaard, Linn Grove, and Walter Greving, Sheldon. They are former patients of St. Joseph's hospital in Sioux City.

Hospital authorities say the three victims of polio are in good condition and will soon begin rehabilitation through physical therapy.

Three Red Cross nurses who accompanied the patients will remain with them indefinitely. Dr. Vernon Weikel, an intern at St. Joseph's, who also accompanied the patients, will return to Sioux City today. Weikel received his M.D. and B.A. degrees from SUI last June.

Weikel sustained the only injury of the journey during a quick change of power sources when he burned his hand on the exhaust pipe of one of the three gasoline-electric generators used to supply power for the iron lungs.

The patients traveled in an express car converted to their needs.

The patients were unloaded at the University hospitals where the portable generators were cut off and the iron lungs were immediately connected to hospital power lines.

Charles Newcomer Seeks Council Post

Charles Newcomer, N2, Newburg, was omited from the list of students applying for the delegate-at-large seats on the Student Council, announced in The Daily Iowan council story Thursday.

The deadline for applications was 5 p.m. Wednesday. New elections will be held on May 6.

Students eligible to run for the three delegate-at-large seats on the council are those students who intend to move into a new housing unit by next semester.

Ike's Lunches Succeed

President 'Feeds and Meets' Congressmen To Establish Inter-Party Good Will

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rarely does anyone agree on anything in this politicking town, so it's a pleasure to report a feeling which appears to be unanimous.

Those get-acquainted breakfasts and luncheons President Eisenhower has had for congressmen have been a real success.

All but around 30 congressmen have been met and fed, and a surprisingly large number from both parties have announced they enjoyed it.

Those who have wondered — as I have — what goes on at one of these affairs can get a full report from Rep. Howard S. Miller of Hiawatha, Kan.

Last November Miller became the first Democrat ever to be elected from his district. Even though he is a Democrat, he was so impressed with his White House visit that he made it the subject to two letters home to his constitutents.

Miller was one of 20 congressmen and one congresswoman, Mrs. John B. Sullivan (D-Mo), who attended the luncheon.

"The President — I always want to call him Ike — came briskly to meet us, shaking the hand of each and getting his name," Miller wrote.

"When I told him I was from Kansas, he gave my hand an extra shake and said, 'Good, I'm very glad to see you.' "

After some chitchat about "people and the things and conditions" in Kansas:

"The President gallantly led the congresswoman, Mrs. Sullivan, to one end of the long table and we men readily found our placards. The President seated himself on one side.

The luncheon ended with a story by Rep. Edmundson (D-Okla). During the campaign he decided to let his 4-year-old boy say something into the mike. Democrat Edmundson was startled when sonny said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, vote for Ike!"

Everyone laughed, Miller wrote, and the President said, "after a story like that we would better rise and take a look through the house."

So they rose and took a look through the house.

Police To Conduct Lie Detector Tests In $300 Theft Hunt

Iowa City police said Thursday they are trying to contact Prof. Richard L. Holcomb, of the SUI bureau of police science, for aid in giving lie detector tests to 110 members of the Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity.

Members of the fraternity are to be subjected to the test to determine if any of them have information concerning a $300 theft at the fraternity during the Easter vacation.

The money was taken from the president's room.

Detective Harland Sprinkle said that attempts had been made to reach Holcomb but that he has been out of town.

Once a Smart Sophomore named Herman trekked to a Big City for a Big Weekend. So did thousands of other People. (Big convention in town.) Thus, arriving at the hotel of his Choice, Herman found a Line stretching from here to There up to the Room Clerk. He was dismayed to hear the clerk bellow to Number One Man in Line: "only ten rooms left." Herman counted the Heads in line. Thirty heads.

Grey cells seething, our Hero detached himself from the Group and scurried to the Western Union desk across the lobby. "I want to send a Fast Telegram to the room clerk," he said. "Where?" queried the Girl. "That one, right there," said he, pointing. The Girl nodded . . .

Two hours later, refreshed by a Lavish Dinner, Herman again ambled into the Lobby. No crowd. Confidently he confronted the Man Behind the Register. "You have a room for me," he said, "I wired ahead for a reservation . . ."

A very Nice Room it was, too.
