Columnist Tells UWF of Need For Crusade

Harlan Miller told Johnson county and SUI United World Federalists Wednesday night that, "We are back with the early Christians crusading for the greatest cause on earth."

The Iowa journalist, well-known for his "Over the Coffee" column in the Des Moines Register, spoke to the group at the Unitarian church. C. M. Stanley, state president of the UWF also spoke.

Miller said, "If Jesus Christ were alive today, he'd be working elbow to elbow with us. I am convinced that without limited world government, we can have no peace."

"We want a United Nations strong enough to prevent recurrent wars," Miller said. "We must convince people that we are honest and sincere before we can accomplish anything."

Miller emphasized that the UWF must define its goals a little more clearly. To allay fears that the UWF is attempting to undermine the United States Constitution, the group should explain that it supports a world government strong enough to prevent war.

Stanley, who in addition to his state office serves on the national executive committee of UWF, said most groups agree the biggest challenge before civilization today is the end of war.

Explaining the objectives of the world government group, Stanley said war is too costly a way to settle international differences. If we are to end war, he said, there must be enforceable disarmament.

It is inevitable that we are going to have some form of world government, he added. The question is the form it will take. UWF does not wish to abandon the U.S. Constitution, Stanley declared, but would oppose a world government that would intrude in all domestic affairs.

SUI Students Win Scholarship Awards

Four engineering scholarships were awarded to undergraduate students at an engineering college faculty luncheon Wednesday.

Edward L. Levin, E4, Muscatine, received the B. J. Lambert scholarship in civil engineering. This award was subscribed by former students of the late Prof. B. J. Lambert who joined the SUI faculty in 1902.

The second award, the Fred Stebler scholarship, was granted to James T. Brady, E3, Tipton, a student in chemical engineering.

The Westinghouse Educational foundation granted two Westinghouse Achievement scholarships, one to Donald G. Tweed, E3, Ft. Madison, mechanical engineering, the other to John V. Wait, E2, Iowa City, electrical engineering.

This year another award was given to Kenneth Wilson, E3, Cedar Rapids, who received $700 from the American Society of Tool Engineers.

PHYSICAL EXAMS SET

Freshman medical students who have been accepted for admission into the college of medicine in September should pick up appointment cards for their required physical examination now. Appointment cards may be obtained at the office of Prof. Woodrow W. Morris, room 119, in the medical laboratories.

A Condensation of Late Developments

TOKYO (AP)—Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied truce negotiator, and the top United Nations commander in the Far East, Gen. Mark Clark, huddled Wednesday for the fourth straight day on reported modifications in an Allied plan to crack the prisoner exchange deadlock and end the Korean war. There was no indication here on what form the modifications may take when the full Allied and Communist truce delegations meet again Monday at 11 a.m. (6 p.m. Sunday, CST).

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Communists hurled a battalion-sized attack on the western front before daylight Wednesday but were sent reeling back with prohibitive losses after the spearhead smashed into an Allied outpost near T-Bone Hill. The U.S. eighth army said 245 Reds were killed or wounded out of 300 to 350 Chinese who battled their way through an artillery barrage into Outpost Yoke. The rest were ejected. Allied troops attached to a U.S. division used knives, bayonets, hand grenades and clubbed rifles in the bitter 25-minute engagement.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru sat down Wednesday night for their first private talk on Asian and world problems. Authoritative sources said the Korean truce deadlock was topic No. 1. Some 40 guests invited by Nehru to dinner in Dulles' honor discreetly drifted away after the last course and left the two statesmen alone in Nehru's air-conditioned study to begin their discussions. They will meet again today for another private talk in an effort to come to common understandings on the positions of the two nations in a world made tense by East-West differences.

YMCA Workers Inaugurate Book Drive

WORKERS FOR THE YMCA BOOK DRIVE deposited the first book Wednesday for the library at the new Japanese International Christian university in Tokyo. The book drive begins today and will continue through the end of the school year. There will be several places around campus where students may make their book contributions. Contributing the first book in the YMCA offices in the Iowa Memorial Union are (left to right): Jim Setz, A1, Freeport, Ill.; Charles Iles, A2, Des Moines; John Millhone, A3, Clarinda; Glenn Evans, A3, Mason City, and Makoto Saito, G, Tokyo, Japan.

Senator Hits 'Last Minute' Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Williams (R-DeI.) Wednesday accused the Truman administration of promoting "many thousands" of government workers illegally in its last days of power.

He demanded that the workers be demoted by the Eisenhower administration before they gain permanent status in their better jobs.

The Delaware senator said in a statement the promotions were "another last minute attempt by the Truman administration to raid the federal treasury." He said they were on a "wholesale scale."

Status Affected

Many of the employees involved, Williams said, "will, if allowed to serve one year in their advanced positions without challenge, gain permanent status in them."

He stated the promotions were made under a ruling by the civil service commission last Oct. 17 that employees might be assigned higher grade duties although "not eligible for promotion of two grades" in the civil service system.

Some workers who got higher grade duties have also been given increased pay, Williams told reporters.

200 Called Illegal

The senator also asserted he has evidence that more than 200 appointments in the reorganized internal revenue bureau were made illegally.

Congressional intent as to competitive examinations for the posts was violated, Williams charged. He said the appointees were hand-picked by John Snyder, then secretary of the treasury; John Dunlap, Truman's revenue commissioner, and Robert Ramspeck, then chairman of the civil service commission.

Snyder, Dunlap and Ramspeck denied the senator's charges.

YMCA Seeks Books, Money

The YMCA of Iowa City will join other YMCA groups of the north-central states area in sponsoring a book and money donation drive today.

The purpose of the drive is to help provide needed textbooks and funds for the new International Christian university in Tokyo.

The new university was founded this year under the direction of the Federal Council of Churches and the Foreign Missions conference.

All book and money donations may be brought to the YMCA office in the Iowa Memorial Union at any time today.

Other states participating in the drive are Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Chicago Scientist's 'Creation' Termed Journalistic Error

"The statement in Wednesday's Daily Iowan that Stanley Miller, scientist in the University of Chicago laboratory, created organic life, is entirely a journalistic error," Gene Lata, SUI instructor in the biochemistry department, said in an interview Wednesday.

Lata read the Central Press association article published in the Iowan and noted the error.

"Miller has been able to synthesize small molecules which are a component part of proteins. However, his work is very different from creating life. It is impossible now for any scientist to determine whether life can ever be created in a laboratory," Lata said.

An article written by Miller in the May 15 issue of Science, put out by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, concerned the production of amino acids under possible earth conditions, and indicated he had not claimed to create organic life.

The article, published in The Daily Iowan with a photograph of Miller, stated his experiment was "elementary" — or possibly identical to the first step from which all life on earth evolved. Dr. Harold Urey, instructor in the University of Chicago laboratory, had described Miller's experiment as a creation of "conditions believed to have existed 3.5 billion years ago."

Rock Island Lines Plans Scholarships

CHICAGO (AP)—The Rock Island Lines Wednesday announced plans for university scholarships for employees of the railroad or their sons.

J. D. Farrington, president, said certain universities are being contacted regarding the program, which will provide tuition and books for a four-year course in engineering.

Two scholarships will be arranged for this fall, and next year two additional scholarships will be provided to make four on a continuing basis, Farrington said. The students also will be given summer jobs on the railroad, he added. On completion of their courses, they will be offered appointments to the railroad training program.

Ike Forces Gain Strength In Tax Feud

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eisenhower forces took a long stride forward Wednesday in their battle for a six-month extension of the excess profits tax.

Chairman Daniel Reed (R-N.Y.) of the powerful house ways and means committee agreed to hold hearings on President Eisenhower's proposal to keep the tax on the books for another six months. It is scheduled to die June 30 unless extended by congress.

While Reed stood his ground in staunch opposition to the plan, other members of the committee were reported weakening in their opposition. Earlier this year the 15 GOP members of the committee had voted unanimously against an extension of the tax.

Reed called the plan "unwise" and said in a statement: "We must keep faith with the people. I do not believe we should proceed to impose oppressive taxes when our party has pledged itself to reduce them."

The decision to begin hearings June 1 came after house speaker Martin, carrying the ball for the Eisenhower tax program, met for two hours with the 15 GOP members of the committee, which is charged with starting all tax legislation through congress.

Martin himself was cautious in discussing the tax matter with newsmen after the meeting. He said only that he was "prayerfully hopeful" the committee would agree to send the bill to the floor and predicted the tax extender would be voted "if it comes out of the committee."

One high-ranking Republican congressman who asked not to be identified by name predicted flatly the proposal will be approved with the help of Democratic votes. Others were more cautious, but agreed that inroads had been made in the once-solid GOP front on the committee.

Oatis Denies Spying for U.S., Seeks Temporary Seclusion

NEW YORK (AP)—Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis said Wednesday night he never spied for the American embassy while he was a newspaperman in Czechoslovakia.

He said in a statement that he checked news tips he received with the embassy on occasions and added: "But at no time did I act as an espionage agent of the embassy in the sense that this term is understood in Western countries within the range of my experience."

Oatis' statement followed by two days his return to New York after 25 months in an Iron Curtain prison on conviction of espionage.

At 1st He Refused

At a news conference, on his arrival here Monday, Oatis refused to say whether he served the U.S. government in any capacity while he was Associated Press correspondent in Prague.

A reporter told him that his non-committal stand might prove embarrassing to him. Oatis conceded that, but insisted he would stand on the record of his Prague trial for the time being.

At the trial in 1951, he was convicted of espionage on charges of transmitting Czech economic, military and political data to a foreign government—presumably the U.S.

Group Finds Allies Hiking China Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators heard with indignation Wednesday that Britain and other allies of the U. S. have "tremendously" stepped up trading with Red China. They called on President Eisenhower to state clearly this country's attitude toward such trade.

Chairman Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) and other members of the investigations subcommittee spoke out after hearing a committee staff member testify that: "At least 100 British and 62 other Western-flag ships were trading with the Chinese Communists in the first three months of this year—although many of the countries involved are fighting the Chinese Reds in Korea."

Two British-owned ships were used to transport Communist troops along the Chinese coast and later were hired to transport goods for this country's Mutual Security administration.

Britain's exports to Red China jumped from $345,000 in the first two months of 1952 to $3,750,000 in the first two months of this year—an increase of about 1,700 per cent.

This testimony came from assistant counsel Robert F. Kennedy, a brother of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.). The witness said much of his information came from the U. S. office of naval intelligence.

McCarthy and some of his fellow investigators hit the ceiling. The Wisconsin lawmaker said such "aid to Red China more than offsets any military contribution the British have made" in the Korean war.

"It is unheard of in the history of the world," McCarthy declared, "for a country to be transporting the troops that are killing its own soldiers."

Sen. Stewart Symington (D-Mo.) said he was concerned, too, about an apparent difference of opinion between Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson and the state department over American policy toward Western trade with the Chinese Reds.

Churchill Invites Ike To Visit London Again

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said Wednesday he hopes President Dwight D. Eisenhower will visit London for personal talks while he is chief executive of the United States, though no aspect of British-American relations makes such an invitation urgent now.

Churchill did not mention any date for a visit nor indicate what sort of issues they would discuss. His whole tone indicated he merely would be happy to welcome the American President any time Eisenhower wished to renew old contacts in London.

La Force Poisoned Drinks of Lover's Husband, Jury Finds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard La Force, brilliant young science student, was convicted Wednesday on a charge of putting poison in various drinks of the husband of the girl he loved. But it wasn't attempted murder, the jury said.

The panel of eight women and four men found La Force, 19, an honor student at California Institute of Technology, innocent of two counts of attempted murder. The panel also found him innocent of a count of mingling poison with beverages where his former sweetheart, Joyce Hayden, was concerned.

But the jury ruled La Force was guilty of mingling poison with intent to harm Joyce's husband, Robert Hayden. The Haydens also are 19.

La Force is liable to a sentence of one to 10 years in prison, but he also may apply for probation. Conviction on the murder attempt charges could have carried a 40-year term.

The curly-haired student took the verdict calmly. He said: "I don't feel it was a just verdict. I hope the people who accused me are happy."

Most of the spectators in the courtroom applauded as the jury foreman announced the "not guilty" verdicts first.

The decision came after the jury had deliberated nearly two days. Evidence in the four-week trial was highlighted by 26 provocative letters written to La Force last summer from Alaska by Mrs. Hayden.

Oatis Returns 'Home'

His statement came at the end of a day in which Oatis came home to his old newsroom—the huge, busy headquarters of the AP on the fourth floor of 50 Rockefeller Plaza.

Released with it was a statement from Frank J. Starzel, general manager of the AP, who said Oatis and his wife, Laurabelle, now "earnestly desire to withdraw into seclusion temporarily."

Later, Starzel said, Oatis will write the story of his experiences, making advance copies available generally to news media.

Starzel said the entire American press fought the long battle for Oatis' freedom and therefore his story is not the exclusive property of the AP but belongs to the press as a whole.

Waves Hamper Water Skier

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Frank Beddor Jr., who is en route down the Mississippi river on water skis, slid ashore here Wednesday night after a rough day on the river.

High winds and waves gave Beddor trouble on the 123 river miles from Hannibal to St. Louis and cut the speed of the skier, usually about 28 miles an hour, nearly in half.

Beddor, who left Minneapolis Saturday, said he will attempt to break the 196-mile non-stop water ski distance record after leaving here today. He expects to complete the 1,800 mile trip to New Orleans next Wednesday.

He is towed behind a 16-foot aluminum boat powered by two out-board motors.

The stunt is being staged as part of the observance of the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase. Beddor is carrying a message from Gov. C. Elmer Anderson of Minnesota to Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana.

Chester Bowles To Speak In Summer Lecture Series

Chester Bowles, recent ambassador to India and former governor of Connecticut, has accepted an invitation to speak July 16 in the 1953 summer session lecture series at SUI. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion and summer lecture chairman, announced Bowles' appearance Wednesday.

A founder of the Benton and Bowles advertising firm, the lecturer has been a well-known public figure since his 1943 appointment by President Roosevelt to head the office of price administration. President Truman chose Bowles as director of economic stabilization in 1946.

To Feature Dancer

Other speakers and entertainers on the series which will be a highlight of the Fine Arts festival

during the university summer session include a Latin-American dancer, a New England educator and a magician.

Teresita Osta with her brother Emilio at the piano, will present Latin-American and Spanish dances in authentic costumes June 23. Both Miss Osta and her brother have taught at Iowa summer sessions and recently the small, slender and dark dancer, who is a native Californian of Spanish descent, appeared on the Kate Smith television hour and on the "Show of Shows."

Biographer To Speak

Claude B. Fuess, long-time headmaster of Phillips academy in Massachusetts and biographer of Daniel Webster, Carl Schurz and Calvin Coolidge, will speak July 7. Editor of "Unseen Harvests: A Treasury for Teachers," Fuess has chosen "Satisfactions of Teaching" as his topic.

An exhibition of magic and sleight of hand by a man who is Paul Fleming the magician in the summertime and Paul Fleming Gemmill, economics professor at the University of Pennsylvania during the school year, is scheduled for July 22.

Lampe, who also serves as chairman of university vesper services, said that Bernard Iddings Bell, author, lecturer and consultant on education in the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, Ill., will be vesper speaker Sunday, June 21. His topic will be "Sin, Fear and Salvation."

Rev. Bell is the author of more than 20 books including "The Altar and the World," "Crisis in Education" and "Crowd Culture." An outspoken critic of many aspects of contemporary education, he stresses the centrality of religion in the whole of human life, Lampe said.

Dirksen Move Fails

Earlier Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) tried and failed to get a 5 per cent cut right across the board. His amendment, which would have saved about $22 million, was defeated 43 to 35.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) proposed the first two cuts which were approved. Contending that flat percentage cuts on money bills represented a "meat ax approach," he invited the senate to undertake "scalpel cuts" instead.

Douglas said the claim by the GOP of a reduction of more than 500 millions in the bill below last year's appropriations was "entirely phony."

He said he could show that this year's measure actually carried more money than last year's bill by exposing "the bookkeeping legerdemain."

Court Classes Training Costs As Deductible

In a recent decision on federal income taxes, the federal court of appeals for the second circuit awarded a tax practitioner the right to deduct the $305 he spent in tuition and travel while attending a tax institute, according to a report by Commerce Clearing House, national reporting authority on tax and business law.

The appeals court broadened the term "business expenses" to include the cost of attending a tax institute when it is incurred as a moral or contractual obligation, and not for personal educational gains alone. In this case, the taxpayer was a lawyer, who was "expected" by his partners to keep abreast of changes in tax law.

Decision Is Quoted
The CCH report quotes from the decision as follows: "The immediate over-all professional need to incur the expenses in order to perform his work . . . so overshadowed the personal aspect that it is the decisive feature."

Just how far the bureau of internal revenue or other courts will follow this decision is not clear, the CCH report states. If interpreted liberally, all business and professional men — accountants, architects, attorneys, chiropractors, engineers, corporation executives, optometrists, physicians, hairdressers, to mention a few — might be entitled to deduct on their federal income tax returns the expenses for attending refresher courses, provided there is a demonstrable tie-in with their official duties.

Benefits Weighed
Taxpayers will probably have to show that the general educational benefits do not overshadow the business purposes for which they attended the course.

Lawyers, accountants, trustees and corporation executives who attended tax institutes during the past few years may want to consider the possibilities of filing refund claims in the light of this decision, CCH suggests.

It is doubtful that the bureau will accept the decision on its face. It is more likely to adopt the view that costs of education, including even refresher courses which enable a taxpayer to obtain a job, or a better job, will be considered non-deductible capital expenditures, the CCH report concludes.

Army Postpones Remodeling Plans

DES MOINES (AP) — Plans to remodel two government-owned buildings at Ft. Des Moines to serve as a joint examining and induction station for the armed forces have been postponed indefinitely "for economy reasons."

Col. W. R. Irish, chief of the Iowa military district, said 5th army headquarters in Chicago has informed him that such new building projects have been halted to await a reappraisal. As a result no money has been appropriated for the $200,000 project here.

Military district officials had estimated the project would save about $90,000 a year by elimination of rent for the basement of KRNT theater, where the induction station now is located; elimination of hotel bills for inductees; and reduction in feeding costs and medical services.

17-Year-Olds Admit River Bank Robberies

DES MOINES (AP) — Three 17-year-old youths Wednesday told detectives they had robbed "at least" four men during the last seven days on the river bank near the public library.

Detective Chief Robert E. O'Brien said the youths used "strong arm" methods and threatened their victims with a knife.

Only two of the robberies had been reported to police. The youths told detectives they took $2.50 from Theodore Corbin, 18, Sandus, and a wrist watch from Joe Mooney, Waukee, last Friday. Both men reported the robberies.

The youths also told of taking a watch from a man Tuesday night and a wrist watch from another man Saturday night. Both watches were recovered by the detectives. Further, the youths told of taking bed clothing Monday night from the home of Grace Cummings.

Iowa Voting Listed For Agriculture Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is the way Iowa's Republican congressmen voted Wednesday when the house, by a vote of 201 to 196, defeated a move to cut the 1954 agricultural conservation program $55 million below the amount its appropriations committee recommended, and in effect added that amount to President Eisenhower's recommendations.

Representative Dooliver voted for the cut and Representatives Cunningham, Gross, Hoeven, Jensen, LeCompte and Talle voted against it. Representative Martin was not listed as voting.

Army Holds Atomic School In Germany

OBERRAMMERGAU, Germany (AP) — Uncle Sam is teaching some of the secrets of atomic warfare to his NATO allies here in one of the world's most peaceful spots.

Sheep and cows graze in the green foothills of the Bavarian Alps, a stone's throw from the U. S. army's hush-hush school. Squawking geese waddle through the sunny cobblestone streets past tourists drinking beer or coffee at the neat little sidewalk cafes.

Opening of the atomic warfare school in picturesque Oberammergau, scene of the famous passion play every 10th year, didn't cause even a ripple among the townsfolk.

Natives Are Disinterested
A sun-bronzed mountain climber wearing traditional leather knee britches twisted the ends of his handlebar mustache and said in his deep-throated Bavarian dialect that he wasn't interested in the school one way or the other.

A blonde, buxom German fraulein carrying a basket of flowers said she had never heard of it. Neither had the pipe-smoking owner of a novelty shop in the heart of the village.

The school is located in a closely guarded military compound overlooking the town, which was used by Hitler's 54th Mountain Signal battalion during the war. It is surrounded by a high rock wall and barbed wire fences. Armed guards maintain 24-hour vigilance in prison-type watch towers.

Opened by Ridgway
The school was opened by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, retired NATO supreme commandant, to acquaint Allied staff officers with the use of atomic weapons.

The army stamped "top secret" on the school in advance and barred all visitors and newspapermen. Its courses, taught by American army, navy and air force instructors, will be given for several months to officers of NATO nations, including the United States. General and flag officers take a four-day course.

GOP Guarantees Postal Employees Work Security

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa postmasters at their annual convention here received official notice this week that the new administration in Washington intends to respect the postmasters' civil service status.

The group's re-elected president, Harry J. Gleason, of Sioux City, read a letter handed to him by Albert J. Robertson, assistant U.S. postmaster general, here to address the convention.

Signed by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, the letter guaranteed security for postal employees "doing their jobs properly." The letter in effect means the postmasters won't be fired because of the change in administration.

Others re-elected in the final business session included: Estelle M. Burroughs, Albion, secretary-treasurer; T. J. McManus, Keokuk, first vice-president; Harold Lofgreen, Montezuma, second vice-president, and Mrs. Lillian Carson, Essex, third vice-president.

Newly-elected was Mrs. Margaret Hawkins, Cotter, fourth vice-president. The vice-presidents represent the four classes of post offices.

Court Clears Stiver Of Robbery Count

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Charges of bank robbery against Dewey D. Stiver, 20, Hooper, were dismissed Wednesday by assistant U.S. commissioner John E. Deming.

Stiver had been charged in connection with the $14,000 robbery of the Citizens State bank at Decatur on April 29.

Hearing on a lesser charge of being an accessory after the fact was waived by Stiver and his bond of $15,000 was reduced to $10,000.

Gareth Robinson, 22, Wahoo, waived hearing on charges of bank robbery and his bond remained at $15,000. Robinson is also charged in connection with the Decatur robbery.

Missouri Basin Power Needs To Be Tripled, Less Costly

HURON, S. D. (AP) — "Power needs for the 10-state Missouri basin area will nearly triple by 1970 but that doesn't mean electricity will cost three times as much," the Missouri Basin Interagency report Wednesday saying the electric power production facilities will need to be increased 170 per cent in the next 17 years.

The needs and supply were established by a two-year study and research by a subcommittee of the agency.

Submits Report
Kenneth G. Tower of the Federal Power commission submitted the report as chairman of the subcommittee which made the study.

His group included representatives of the 10 basin states and various federal agencies which make up the MBIAC policy-forming setup for river development.

Tower said electric power requirements for normal residential, commercial and industrial use in the Missouri river region will grow from about 5,750,000 kilowatts in 1952 to 15,500,000 kilowatts in 1970, an increase of 170 per cent.

The demands will nearly triple but not necessarily the users' bill because it is hoped to reduce production costs with hydroelectric dams and more economical steam generation. The report indicated there would be about 70 hydroelectric plants operating in the basin by 1970.

Supply Varies
The committee found that power from federal hydroelectric plants and from thermo-electric steam plants either existing or proposed for construction by non-federal suppliers "will be adequate to meet estimated future power requirements of the region."

The federal government is expected to provide 18 per cent of the estimated demands for the basin by 1970. The supply will vary from nothing in Kansas and 1.6 per cent in Missouri to more than 90 per cent of the total power requirements in Wyoming.

The power requirements by states in 1,000 kilowatts and the percentages to be supplied by federal plants in 1970 include:

Church Board Gets Vote of Confidence
CHICAGO (AP) — The general board of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. Wednesday voted confidence in the loyalty of the leaders of its member churches.

The board, policy-making body for an organization that embraces 30 Christian denominations in the U.S., approved a resolution to that effect.

The resolution, drafted by a special committee, stated that the patriotism and integrity of some of the council's leaders has been questioned. The document contained no names.

'54 Styles Finalized — Few Car Changes Seen

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT (AP) — With possibly one or two exceptions the nation's auto makers will introduce few major styling and engineering changes in 1954 model cars.

All companies already have finalized their next year's models and have their stylists and engineers working on 1955 cars. The producers, obviously, are not disclosing the changes planned for next year, but information obtained from among the tool makers indicates most of next year's cars will rely on minor changes for customer appeal.

More Changes Before War
Before World War II major styling changes were made about every other year. However, the cost of making such changes has doubled and in some instances tripled since the late '30s. Now the broader changes come about once every three years.

Styling and design changes can not be implemented on the spur of the moment to meet changing competitive conditions. They have to be planned many months in advance.

Most car makers have had experience with designs that didn't win 100 per cent public approval. In more than a few instances these were designs far ahead of their time.

Because of these experiences the auto manufacturers are extremely cautious in introducing radically different designs in new wer from federal hydroelectric plants and from thermo-electric steam plants either existing or proposed for construction by non-federal suppliers "will be adequate to meet estimated future power requirements of the region."

The federal government is expected to provide 18 per cent of the estimated demands for the basin by 1970. The supply will vary from nothing in Kansas and 1.6 per cent in Missouri to more than 90 per cent of the total power requirements in Wyoming.

The school was opened by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, retired NATO supreme commandant, to acquaint Allied staff officers with the use of atomic weapons.

The army stamped "top secret" on the school in advance and barred all visitors and newspapermen. Its courses, taught by American army, navy and air force instructors, will be given for several months to officers of NATO nations, including the United States. General and flag officers take a four-day course.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press
News Analyst

The Allied request for a further six-day recess in the Panmunjom truce talks means that the Western Allies have not yet fully agreed on their new approach to a Korean armistice.

Reports among delegates to the United Nations in New York, that the United States would revise its proposals to bring them more into line with last fall's UN assembly resolution, seemed to have some basis in fact, although indications at the state department were that things were by no means "set."

The report was that the U.S. might agree to a political conference to take up the disposition of prisoners unwilling to accept repatriation to Communist-held territory, provided some sort of limit was set for the conference to reach agreement.

U.S. Accepted Proposal
The Americans at Panmunjom had accepted a Communist proposal for re-screening of prisoners under the supervision of a five-power neutral commission, but demanded definite time limits.

Prime Minister Nehru of India, whose country would be a member of the neutral commission, brought the Allied dispute into the open last week with an announcement that he considered the Communist proposals nearer to what the UN had intended than were the counter-proposals of the American negotiators at Panmunjom. Canada, France and Great Britain were inclined to agree, with the Canadians the most active in expressing British Commonwealth sentiments.

Disposition Is Problem
The tendency seems to be that after re-screening, the disposition of prisoners who still refuse to go home should become a problem not for the neutral supervisors, nor for the Americans or Communists, but for the United Nations itself.

Reports that the U.S. had agreed were classified in Washington as premature. There were still gaps between the U.S. and her allies, and conferences to be held in an effort to close them.

There was no assurance that, regardless of how the U.S. might amend its proposals, the Communists would agree to a truce. They had roundly denounced the UN resolution at the time of its adoption. Even successful conferences at Washington among the Allies might produce no more than better agreement among themselves.

A's Top White Sox Again, 2-1 Redlegs Blast Simmons, 14-5

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joe Astroth singled home Cass Michaels with two out in the ninth Wednesday night to give the Philadelphia Athletics their second straight 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox in a pitching duel between southpaws Morris Martin of the A's and Billy Pierce.

Astroth's game-winning single came after Pierce dug his own grave by issuing walks to Gus Zernial, Michaels and Ed McGhee. Zernial was doubled off first when Dave Philley popped up to Bob Wilson while attempting a bunt, but after passes to Michaels and McGhee, Pierce wild-pitched Michaels to third and then Astroth delivered.

Martin's win was his second against three defeats. Pierce was seeking his sixth victory, and had handcuffed the A's without a hit from the fourth inning until the ninth. He fanned seven while Martin whiffed three.

The Athletics nicked Pierce for a tally in the second on a free pass to Dave Philley, a single by Michaels and McGhee's single scoring Philley.

Chicago had a shot in their half of the dramatic ninth when Rivera opened with a hit, but Martin tightened up and got out of the inning on a double play ball by Bob Wilson.

So disgusted with the outcome of the game, Minoza retrieved the ball Astroth had rapped to left and hurled it against the score board far out in right-center.

Feller Loses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mickey Vernon led a 16-hit Washington attack with a double and three singles Wednesday night as the Senators defeated Cleveland, 8-3. Spec Shea, who left the game after seven innings because of a stiff shoulder, held the Indians to two of their seven hits to post his third win without a loss.

The Senators clipped Bob Feller, the loser, for two runs in the second inning on Pete Runnel's single, Jim Busby's double and singles by Ed Fitzgerald and Shea.

Washington splurged for six runs in the seventh inning against Bob Hooper and Steve Gromek on two walks, four singles and doubles by Jackie Jensen and Busby.

The Indians got all their runs off Johnny Schmitz in the ninth inning on five singles.

Yanks Win, 9-8

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Woodling's ninth inning single with the bases loaded and scored tied climaxed Casey Stengel's lineup juggling with a 9-8 New York Yankee victory Wednesday over the Detroit Tigers.

Stengel used 21 men, finally using Allie Reynolds to pull the game out in a relief job. Reynolds earned his fourth win.

Woodling's winning hit followed an error by Jerry Priddy, a sacrifice bunt and two walks. There was one out when the Yankee left fielder lined a Ray Herbert pitch over short to score Billy Martin with the tie-breaker. Martin was safe on Priddy's wild throw and Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer had walked.

Reynolds, sixth Yankee pitcher, pitched a scoreless ninth. The veteran righthander has not been scored on in a relief chore since Aug. 26, 1951. He now has hurled 16 scoreless innings in his last 10 relief appearances.

Hal Newhouser started for the Tigers and was given a 7-2 bulge as Detroit tallied twice in the first and kayoed Eddie Lopat with five runs in the fifth.

BoSox Tip Browns

BOSTON (AP)—Second-string catcher Del Wilber's third homer in five pinch-hitting tries, against relief pitcher Don Larsen Wednesday enabled the Boston Red Sox to sweep a two-game series from the St. Louis Browns, 3-2.

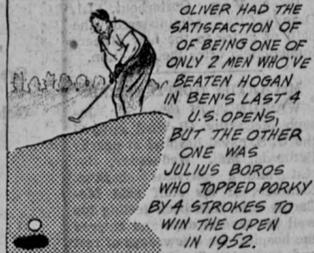

Larsen took over for Virgil Trucks at the start of the seventh and gave up three hits before Wilber belted a 3-1 pitch into the left field screen to end the league's longest 1953 game.

The Red Sox scored twice in the third inning when Virgil Trucks, the St. Louis starter, committed two throwing errors. During that frame Milt Bolling doubled, Mavy Grissom, first of the three Boston flingers, sacrificed and Dick Ger-

Gray Replaces Porterfield

Winless Southpaw Moves Into New Role As Hard Luck Pitcher in American League

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Gray, Detroit's talented but winless southpaw, has taken over Bob Porterfield's role as the American league's tough luck pitcher.

Gray has started five times this year and pitched well in all but one of the games. But all he has to show for his efforts is five straight losses.

Gray Bewildered
"I don't know what it is," the bewildered 28-year-old Gray moaned Wednesday after the 4-2 defeat by the New York Yankees in 11 innings Tuesday night. "It isn't that the boys aren't hitting. They've been getting plenty of runs, but not when I'm pitching."

A check shows the Tigers have scored nine runs for Gray in his five starts. The most runs they've gotten for him in any game was three. His defeats have come by scores of 2-1, 4-1, 12-2, 5-3, and 4-2. The eight hits the Tigers collected off Johnny Sain Tuesday were the most they have gotten for Gray in any game.

Had Sore Shoulder
Gary started the season practically from scratch. A sore left shoulder kept him on the sidelines during the entire spring training grind. Much of the pain disappeared following a tonsilectomy, but Gray said the shoulder still was not completely strong.

Wildness has hurt Gary a great deal this season. At least three of his defeats can be traced to bases on balls. Gray could have had a shutout Tuesday but his own wild throw and a misjudged fly by outfielder Bob Nieman that fell for a double, gave the Yankees two tainted runs in the regulation nine innings.

Gray's record in 1953 is 5-11. He has pitched 100 1/3 innings, allowing 54 runs, 100 hits and 18 home runs.

The Browns bunched four of their 11 hits for two runs that tied the score in the seventh. After Don Lenhardt and Les Moss singled, Roy Sievers doubled, Bob Young walked and Hank Edwards singled, Hershel Freeman replaced Grissom with two out. Kindy took over in the 12th, after Freeman had yielded for pinch-hitter Al Zarilla, who grounded into a rally-killing double play.

Experts Rate Dancer Tops In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—"The Gray Horse" walked on to Pimlico Race Track for the first time Wednesday and the railbird experts unanimously conceded him Saturday's Preakness.

The story was the same as before the Kentucky Derby. Everybody was loudest in their praise of Native Dancer and nobody saw how he could lose. But he did.

"Look at that big horse," drooled trainer Clyde Troutt. "There ought to be a law making such a horse give weight to my little one."

Troutt trains Royal Bay Gem, one of the six colts who will try to hand Native Dancer the second defeat of his career in the 77th Preakness. They'll all carry 126 pounds for the mile and three sixteenths.

Trainer Bill Winfrey had Native Dancer gallop twice around the mile track which was muddy from rain during the night. He planned to give the gray, who won his 12th race Saturday at Belmont, a good breeze Thursday if the strip is dry.

"He looks fitter than at the Derby," commented Troutt as the Alfred Vanderbilt star loped by. "He appeared a little drawn at Louisville."

Milwaukee Loses

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers combined 10 hits with six stolen bases and Billy Loes' six-hit pitching Wednesday to crush the Milwaukee Braves, 7-2, in the windup of their first western road trip.

A stunned crowd of 23,450, which boosted the Braves' home attendance for 13 playing dates to 302,667, watched their favorites drop their first series in the County Stadium this year. The Dodgers won the opener Tuesday night, 4-1.

The attendance gave the Braves 21,389 more fans than watched them perform all last season in Boston.

Jackie Robinson's 340-foot home run into the left field bleachers got the Dodgers underway against Vern Bickford, who was charged with his third loss in as many outings. The blast scored Pee Wee Reese, who had walked.

Eddie Mathews batted in both Braves runs in the fourth with a 380-foot triple to center field after Bruton and Johnny Logan had walked.

Cubs Trounced

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Giants lowered a 21-hit boom, a 39 total base explosion, on the hapless Chicago Cubs for a 16-6 payoff before a Ladies' day turnout of 13,555 persons Wednesday.

In suffering their 14th defeat in 19 games, the Cubs paraded seven pitchers to the mound as Monte Irvin, Capt. Al Dark, and Dave Williams poled home runs. The New Yorkers also had three doubles.

The Giants led in a wild 8-6 marathon when they broke up the party with an eight run eighth inning, getting seven hits and a walk off Dutch Leonard and Bob Kelly before Tookie Gilbert, the 12th New York batter of the spurt, drove a Fred Baczewski pitch to Hank Sauer for the third out.

Stenger Ranks 4th in Loop Batting— Net Team To Open Sports Week

The spring's last series of dual contests for Iowa teams starts today with a tennis match on the road against Michigan State.

But the weekend, of course, is highlighted by the closing drive of the baseball team toward the Big Ten title or a share.

Iowa, now second with seven wins and two losses, will go after two wins over Ohio State here Saturday at 1:30 p.m. and will close the race by meeting Big Ten Illinois on the Hawkeye diamond Monday at 3:30 p.m.

The Hawks also rate second in batting for conference games, .286, and in fielding with .972.

Stenger Hitting .419

Second baseman Bill Stenger is hitting .419 in the Big Ten, good enough for a fourth place tie. Other top hitters include Doh Waldron, .346; Jack Hess, .324, and Jack Lundquist, .314.

The top five hitters in the Big Ten:

inning run off Larry Jansen was unearned. Frankie Baumholtz' leadoff single in the sixth preceded Dee Fondy's No. 2 homer.

Roy Smalley opened the seventh with his No. 2 homer, and before Hoyt Wilhelm could rescue the kayoed Jansen, the Cubs scored another pair to wind up their part of the day's 31-hit offensive show.

Cards 11, Bucs 6

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, with a two-run homer and a three-run double among his four hits, led a 17-hit St. Louis Cardinal attack Wednesday night as the Birds defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6. It was a free-hitting game in which the Bucs got 14 safeties, including a pair of run-scoring doubles by Ralph Kiner.

Schoendienst accounted for six of the first eight Cardinal runs, all scored within the first three innings.

It was Pittsburgh's fourth consecutive defeat. Joe Presko, Cardinal starter, gained his second victory of the season but he lasted only five and a third innings as the Bucs did some hitting of their own.

BOWLING CHAMPS

The Phi Rho Sigma bowling team recently copped the all-university bowling title. It was also professional league champ. Members of the team include Carl Helseth, Carl Lake, Bill Kuhlman, Donn Daine and Wilbur Schefstad.

The Daily Iowan SPORTS

Jim Philbee, the Bradley athlete who won the 440-yard hurdles at Drake, is capable of breaking the track mark for the 120-yard high hurdles set at 1:4.6 in 1940 by Smith of Wisconsin. He made 1:4.7 in the rain against Indiana. Philbee also has run faster than the low hurdle record of 23.3 by Russ Merkel of Iowa in 1950.

If Busse does not compete, Iowa will be favored to win about eight first places to Bradley's six. It could be nine to five in first places for Bradley if the sprinter and jumper is back in shape.

The strong team from Notre Dame, already winner of seven of eight meets, plays the Iowa Hawkeyes on the Iowa course Saturday.

Final Dual Meet

This is the final dual meet of the season for Iowa. The Hawkeyes showed improvement in downing Illinois last Saturday, after dropping five straight to conference teams.

John Barton, who shot a 66, is the standout Iowan. Others who have improved are Ed McCordell, Don Kneeter and Dale Kniss.

Notre Dame is led by Tom Mathey, semi-finalist in the NCAA tournament of 1951. The IRCA have five other lettermen. Since

Dancer Held In Kidnaping Of 2 Washington D.C. Tots

Turns 1 Child Over To Zoo Attendant

NEW YORK (AP)—A wayward carnival hula dancer with a former mother complex was held Wednesday in the bizarre kidnaping of two Washington tots. Neither child was harmed.

Mrs. Barbara Lee Grimm, 24, who lost her unborn child recently, said she took the two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bradford last Friday. She asserted she pitied them, their dirty, unkempt surroundings in a one-room Washington, D.C., apartment. Mrs. Grimm said she was in a drunken haze at the time.

"I thought I could take care of the children better than the parents themselves," sobbed Mrs. Grimm to reporters. She was baby-sitting the children after a chance beer parlor acquaintance with their father.

Gives Child Away

However, Mrs. Grimm turned over two-year-old Clifton Bradford Jr., to a Central Park Zoo attendant here Sunday for lack of funds, passing him off as a lost child. In pitiful search of a haven she kept one-year-old Diane Bradford, an appealing button-nosed blonde.

"I intended to keep the baby and raise her in a good environment," wept Mrs. Grimm.

Mrs. Grimm sagged and almost fainted as she was booked under the New York state kidnaping laws. She faces from 20 years to life in prison if convicted. There also remained the possibility of a federal kidnaping charge, which carries the maximum penalty of death. Her bail was set at $5,000 and a hearing is scheduled for Wednesday.

Denounces Parents

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan angrily denounced the Bradfords for walking out and leaving the children in the care of a woman they did not know. He suggested they weren't fit parents for the children.

John Smalls, a merchant marine chef, took pity on Mrs. Grimm and Diane and took them home to his mother. But he later learned their identity and turned them over to police.

Bradford is a Virginia farmer newly turned auto mechanic in Washington.

Mrs. Grimm quit a carnival last week in Richmond, Va. She has a criminal record of waywardness and has served time for auto theft.

ESCAPES WITH LOOT

DES MOINES (AP)—A gunman pretending to buy a watch walked out of a Daniels jewelry store here Wednesday with two trays of mounted diamond rings, about $400 in cash and disappeared in a rush-hour throng.

Ross Discusses Labor, City Manager Plan

Labor's views on city manager government in Iowa are discussed by Prof. Russell M. Ross of the SUI department of political science and James E. Liek, research director of the Iowa Federation of Labor, in the current issue of the League of Iowa Municipalities magazine.

New Envoy

NEW U.S. AMBASSADOR TO Cuba, Arthur Gardner of Grosse Pointe, Mich., is shown at his desk in Washington following his nomination by President Eisenhower. Gardner, a banker and manufacturer, is first vice-president and chief of the Washington office of Bundy Tubing company and a partner in Anderson and Gardner, an investment banking house.

Groom Is 91, Bride 46

91-YEAR-OLD Henry D. Sedgwick, author and essayist on "The Art of Happiness," and 46-year-old Gabriell May Ladd, a Vassar graduate, are shown in Philadelphia following their marriage in St. Albans church, Newton Square, Pa. A widower for 34 years, Sedgwick has written more than 25 books. He is from Dedham, Mass., and she is a native of Philadelphia.

3 Open, 6 Sealed Indictments Handed Down by Grand Jury

The grand jury of Johnson county district court Tuesday returned nine indictments for May term, three of them open and six sealed.

The three open indictments were for false drawing or uttering a check. Charged were Norman W. and Leslie Ann Dickerson, a California couple, and Leonard Prizler.

The Dickersons are being held in Johnson county jail in lieu of $2,000 bond. Each is charged with passing bad checks at a local store May 12.

Arrested in Muscatine

The couple was arrested later the same day in Muscatine and turned over to Johnson county authorities. Police here said they knew of 10 checks the Dickersons passed in Iowa City.

Prizler—now being held in jail in lieu of $500 bond—is accused of passing a $10 check at a local grocery Feb. 3.

Names of persons in the six sealed indictments have not been released because they have not yet been apprehended.

The county jail was inspected by the investigating group and found in good condition. The group found the county home to be clean, orderly and "under excellent management."

Inspects Cemetery

The grand jury also found that the Big Grove cemetery, near the Linn county line, was not being properly cared for. It recommended that the matter be called to the official attention of the township trustees and be continued for investigation.

Livestock had apparently been in the cemetery, upsetting tombstones. Judge Harold D. Evans received and approved the grand jury report.

Successful Sometimes

In labor's viewpoint, the plan has been most successful in cities where the manager has been able to keep his hands unsoiled by politics and controversial actions. According to the writers, three fundamental rights for their members must be assured labor leaders before they will accept the plan. These are: job security, proper recognition of unions and freedom to participate in governmental activities.

In Iowa City, which recently installed the plan, and in Dubuque, which has had it for 32 years, the writers said that labor approves the plan.

Reverse at Council Bluffs

The reverse is true, however, at Council Bluffs, where labor leaders felt that interest in local government had been set back. In attacking the plan, labor declared it "ineffective" and charged it tended to destroy the two-party system.

Mason City holds the only distinction of being the only Iowa city to have the plan and then discard it, said Ross and Liek. They reported that labor sentiment there seems to be based on opposition to centralization of power in one man, which labor calls a "dictator." The system itself was not as responsible for its overthrow as was the personality factor, they concluded.

Bill Would Stabilize Farm Extension Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house agriculture committee Wednesday approved a bill to stabilize annual federal aid to states in providing agricultural information for farmers.

The bill would continue each year the funds given to each of the states this year for agricultural extension service work. Under present law, the amount given to each state may change every decade as a result of population shifts down by the decennial census.

State land grant colleges cooperate with the department of agriculture in extension services and states pay part of the cost. The service keeps farm people posted on new agricultural developments.

Polish MIG-15 Pilot Asks Asylum, Brings Plane To Danish Island

Breaks Formation To Escape Red Rule

ROENNE, Bornholm (AP)—A young Polish jet pilot, following a freedom trail blazed over the Baltic by a fellow officer March 5, dumped another Russian-built MIG-15 into Allied hands Wednesday and asked for asylum.

Police quoted him as saying he broke away from a formation flight over Polish territory for his 60-mile dash from Communist rule.

He crash-landed the craft on a military drilling field of this Danish island, climbed out smiling and identified himself as a friend of Lt. Franciszek Jarecki, whose flight from Poland to Bornholm 76 days ago gave Western technicians their first chance to inspect an undamaged MIG—the fastest fighter in the Communist world.

There was damage this time. Newcomer Not Named

The newcomer, a 22-year-old lieutenant whom police declined to name, passed up the dangerously short runways of Roenne airport, on which Jarecki landed, in favor of the drilling ground north of town. The under carriage crumpled and a wing snapped when he slashed into a thicket after hopping electric wires and rocking perilously across knolls and gulleys at a speed of 150 to 175 miles an hour.

But the engine and interior were undamaged.

Newer Type Plane
The pilot was reported to have told Danish police that his MIG was of a newer type than Jarecki's.

A high military source said, however, it did not look like a prize catch. The general lines appeared the same. Top Danish jet experts worked Wednesday night under a tarpaulin covering the plane to discover whether it contained any secrets not already known to the West. All the information needed on Jarecki's MIG was ferreted out by Danish, British and American experts before it was shipped back to Poland.

MIGs A Fine Catch
Western aviation experts, interested in Russian design, equipment and use of metals, generally consider a MIG-15 a fine catch.

Gen. Mark Clark, the United Nations commander, last month offered $100,000 to any Communist MIG-15 pilot who brought his plane undamaged to the Allied side, but that applied only to the Korean theater. The primary motive there was to disrupt the Red air force. So far, there have been no announcements of any takers.

Day-Old Siamese Twins Die in Nova Scotia
INVERNESS, Nova Scotia (AP)—The Siamese twin boys born here Tuesday died Wednesday night, about 33 hours after birth. Their death came after hospital officials said they had spent a quiet day and were apparently in good health.

The boys, named Frank and Edward, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Max Wyrwas. The 19-year-old mother was reported in good condition.

Labor Topics To Be Explored In 2d Annual Short Course

Labor topics and problems—from an analysis of labor's role in our economic system to wage computation—will be explored in the second annual labor short course at SUI June 1 to 5. The short course will be held in the Iowa center for continuation study.

The university bureau of labor and management has planned 21 lectures and discussions led by university faculty members and visiting specialists, according to Prof. Karl Leib, acting director of the bureau.

Serafino Romualdi, Latin-American representative of the American Federation of Labor, Washington, D.C., will discuss "Iowa Labor and World Affairs."

1st TV Program Planned by Ike
WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced Wednesday that President Eisenhower will make a report to the nation by television between 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. CST Wednesday, June 3.

This will be the first live presidential broadcast from the White House since Eisenhower took office. It was previously announced he was planning it, following up his radio broadcast Tuesday night. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the telecast would be entirely informal—a "program" instead of a "speech." He hinted that others besides the President may be on it.

in union education, collective bargaining, preparation for arbitration, workman's compensation and Iowa labor law.

John E. Cosgrove, director of education and research for the Iowa State Federation of Labor, is in charge of registration for the short course. Bill Houseal, L.A. Washington, assistant in the university bureau of labor and management is arranging program details.

Specimens in the collection were gathered largely by the late C. C. Nutting, former head of the department of zoology, who made more than 15 collecting expeditions to the Pacific. Some of the specimens were gathered and preserved by Nutting before the turn of the century.

A similar collection of invertebrates from the university museum collection was loaned to the Smithsonian institute in 1936, where it still remains as university property. Both collections were loaned with the stipulation that they would be returned upon request.

AFL Head Objects To Ike's Proposal
WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL president George Meany said Wednesday American workers don't want the scheduled January boost in social security taxes postponed as President Eisenhower has proposed.

Many distributed a statement adopted by the AFL's executive council praising Eisenhower's proposal to forego any tax cuts this year but opposing his suggestion that the scheduled social security tax boost be postponed.

Employers and workers are now each taxed 1 1/2 per cent of wages for old age pensions. Under present law the tax is due to go to 2 per cent next January 1.

Wilson Defends Ike's Cutback Of Defense Budget
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of defense Charles Wilson told questioning senators Wednesday the air force will have almost four times as much money to spend on new aircraft and parts during the fiscal year beginning July 1 as is being spent in the current fiscal year.

Defending the cutback defense spending of the Eisenhower administration, Wilson told a senate appropriations subcommittee that even if congress gave him more funds then now asked it could not get more modern combat airpower.

Wilson also upheld the cutback in the air force's long-range goal from 143 wings to 114 wings next year and 120 in two years.

"We could build the planes for 143 wings but they would not be the right planes," he said. "No body in the air force or outside of it is advocating that."

Under a series of questions from Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me), Wilson insisted that the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, top air force officer, had been consulted on the new reduced defense budget.

Smithsonian To Use SUI Fish Collection To Study Atom Blasts

A large collection of Pacific fish specimens belonging to the museum of natural history will soon be loaned to the Smithsonian institute, Washington, D.C. The collection will be used for comparison tests, including a study of the effects of the atomic bomb on Pacific fish life.

The loan was requested by the institute this spring and was approved at a recent meeting of the Iowa board of education.

Only specimens preserved in alcohol will be loaned to the Smithsonian, according to Prof. Walter C. Thieme, curator of the university museum. None of the mounted fish displays which are on exhibit in the museum are to be included.

Specimens in the collection were gathered largely by the late C. C. Nutting, former head of the department of zoology, who made more than 15 collecting expeditions to the Pacific. Some of the specimens were gathered and preserved by Nutting before the turn of the century.
