Bezanson's Concerto To Be Played Tonight

PROF. JOHN SIMMS OF THE SUI MUSIC DEPARTMENT, left, and Prof. Philip Bezanson, former SUI student and now a member of the SUI music faculty, right, check a score of music. Bezanson wrote a concerto which will be played tonight in a premier performance by the New York Philharmonic orchestra conducted as Dimitri Mitropoulos with Simms as soloist.

An original composition, "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra," by Prof. Phillip Bezanson of the SUI music department will have its premier performance tonight in New York city when Dimitri Mitropoulos will conduct the New York Philharmonic orchestra at Carnegie hall.

Bezanson's friend and colleague, Prof. John Simms, also of the university music department, will appear as soloist for the concerto. Simm's rendition of an earlier Bezanson composition, "Sonata," caused Mitropoulos to request Bezanson to write the concerto. Bezanson had sent the piece to the well-known conductor prior to his visit here in January 1952.

The Bezanson concerto was written over a period of approximately 10 months. The first two movements were mailed to Mitropoulos as soon as each was completed, with the third and final movement dispatched by special messenger.

Simms met the conductor in Kansas City, Mo., last October and went over the newly composed music with him. Contracts were signed at that time.

In tonight's program, which will be repeated Friday night, Simms will also play "Fantasie," a composition for piano and orchestra, by Louis Aubert.

A performance of a symphony by Prof. Phillip Greely Clapp, head of the SUI music department and Benzanson's composition teacher, was given in Carnegie hall last year.

Gov. Byrnes Disobeys Summons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina refused to obey the summons of the house un-American activities committee for an appearance today.

In a telegram from Columbia, S.C., Byrnes said he could not "admit your right to command a governor to leave his state and remain in the city of Washington until granted leave by your committee to return." He proposed that a subcommittee come to Columbia.

Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) wired back that the suggestion undoubtedly would be adopted by the committee and a date would be fixed as soon as possible.

It was on Velde's sayso that the subpoenas for Truman and Byrnes were issued in the first place. A subpoena for Friday was served, too, on supreme court Justice Tom C. Clark, who was Truman's attorney general in 1946. That also was something Eisenhower said he personally wouldn't have done.

Walter Speaks

The senior Democrat on the un-American activities committee, Representative Walter of Pennsylvania, told a news conference Velde was "getting his instructions" from the Republican national committee. Committee officials quickly denied it.

Even at GOP headquarters, party spokesmen said they weren't unduly happy that the house committee leadership had rushed out subpoenas without consulting all members.

And in the light of this word from Republican leaders and Eisenhower's position, it wasn't beyond possibility that Washington's biggest controversy in months might enter something of a cooling off period, without any immediate hearings featuring a former President of the United States.

Ike Supports Truman

President Eisenhower said Truman would never have done anything to damage the U.S. Eisenhower said he personally would never have subpoenaed Truman to answer Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell's charge that Truman promoted White to high office despite FBI warnings he was a spy.

Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) of the house un-American activities committee, who had subpoenaed Truman for Friday, said he would consult the full committee as soon as possible. This left uncertain when Truman would be questioned, if at all.

Velde's committee is warring internally over the whole Brownell-White-Truman affair—over where it goes from here and whether the chairman broke committee rules in acting without consent of the full membership.

Democrats Applaud Ike

Some Republicans were all for going right ahead with hearings, regardless of Eisenhower's personal views. Democrats roundly applauded the President's stand. They have been protesting right along that Brownell's charges were a low form of politics.

Both the un-American activities committee and the senate internal security subcommittee have summoned Truman's former military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, for appearance today. Brownell has said copies of the FBI reports on White were sent to Truman through Vaughan.

Velde declined to comment on the possibility of postponement of any hearings for Truman and Clark.

Hearing To Be Televised

Meantime the senate internal security subcommittee scheduled a public, televised hearing today at 1:30 p.m. (CST) to look into the matter and called Vaughan as one of its witnesses.

Brownell said he was not impugning Truman's loyalty. But he made public a state department memo which, he said, was further evidence that Truman got ample warnings before White, former assistant secretary of the treasury was elevated to U.S. director of the International Monetary fund. Brownell said this showed laxity.

GOV. BYRNES—

'I'll Answer Subpoena,' Truman Tells Visitor

NEW YORK (AP)— A visitor reported Wednesday that Harry S. Truman remarked in a light vein that he'll answer his historic subpoena from the house un-American activities committee.

"They better be there on time because I will," the former President was quoted by Harry Hershfield, a humorist, who had talked with Truman during the day.

However, Truman kept mum on whether he'll submit to congressional questions about the Harry Dexter White case. So far as records show, the summons for Friday is the first of its kind ever served on an ex-President of the United States.

Calls Critics "Snollygosters"

At one point during the day, Truman made an apparent reference to his Republican critics as "snollygosters" — which he defined as men "born out of wedlock."

Hershfield said he and Truman exchanged banter about the subpoena when he visited the former President's hotel suite. Truman's remark that he'll be there on time was tossed off lightly, Hershfield emphasized.

Receives 1,000 Telegrams

The humorist said Truman received "over 1,000 telegrams urging him to go down there and fight."

In the light of Hershfield's statement, reporters asked Truman's press aide, Matthew Connelly, if it could be assumed the ex-President really intends to go to Washington Friday in answer to the subpoena.

"I'm afraid there will still be no comment on that," Connelly replied.

Talks With Reporters

Earlier, Truman listened to a barrage of questions from newsmen as to whether he'll appear before the house investigators. He told the reporters:

"I'm not in a position to answer now. You'll know in due time."

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., charged in a speech last week that Truman as President promoted the late treasury aide, White, despite two FBI reports that he was a Russian spy.

Denies Charges Earlier

In a prompt denial from Kansas City at the time, Truman snapped:

"I don't recall that such a thing happened. As soon as we found out White was wrong we fired him. There's no use making any comment. I don't know what they're talking about. No such thing happened."

Tuesday, the un-American activities committee subpoenaed Truman at the height of a partisan furore over Brownell's charges.

Takes Early Morning Walk

The ex-President has been in New York city three days for a round of speeches before various organizations.

Truman told reporters who met him as he left the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for his regular early morning walk that as an ex-President he had hoped to take the walks unnoticed.

"But the snollygosters ruined me this time," he added, in apparent reference to his Republican critics.

His definition of a snollygoster was at odds with Funk & Wagnalls New Standard dictionary which defines the word as meaning a "pretentious, swaggering, prattling fellow."

Democratic Victories Stopped By California Republican

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The series of Democratic victories in odd-year congressional elections has been stopped by a Californian who asked for support of Eisenhower policies.

Glenard P. Lipscomb, 38, a public accountant and state legislator, Tuesday won the nation's final congressional district election of 1953.

Lipscomb had the backing of the Republican party organization. He outdistanced three opponents in the 24th district special election.

Breaks 7 Democratic Victories

Lipscomb broke a string of seven Democratic victories in congressional district elections since last November's regular elections, including the recent upsets in Wisconsin and New Jersey.

He prevented the Democrats from making a further cut in the slim Republican majority in the house of representatives. With the Lipscomb victory the GOP now holds 219 house seats and the Democrats 215. The remaining seat is held by an Independent.

Lipscomb Gets 42,880 Votes

In the congressional district in Los Angeles county Lipscomb got more votes than the total of his three opponents. Complete semi-official returns from the 221 precincts gave Lipscomb 42,880 votes.

His principal opponent was George L. Arnold, a Democrat, who had the strong backing of Democratic organizations and several labor groups. Arnold's vote totaled 34,545.

The other Republican in the race, state Assemblyman John L. E. Collier, received 3,616 votes and the other Democrat, Irving Markheim, a veterans' service officer, trailed the field with 1,158.

Eisenhower Heartened

Republicans everywhere—from President Eisenhower on down — were heartened by the victory. The Republican National committee issued a statement in Washington over the name of Chairman Leonard Hall.

"The results in California are most heartening," said the committee. "When you consider that two Republicans were running against one leading Democrat the results are even more remarkable. The outcome is an endorsement of the Eisenhower administration and a tribute to the power of enthusiastic organization."

Doctor Uninjured in Crash

DR. HARRY HARPER of Ft. Madison escaped without injury Wednesday night when his car, pictured here, left the road, skidded 50 feet, turned over and crashed into a tree 4 miles north of Iowa City. His black, Labrador bird dog suffered a broken leg. Harper was heading toward Iowa City after an afternoon of pheasant hunting. Highway patrolman J. A. Bertramson attended the accident. The roof of the car was almost completely caved in.

Upholds Ex-President's Patriotism

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower upheld Harry S. Truman's patriotism Wednesday and said he, personally, would not have subpoenaed the former President in the Harry Dexter White case.

The chief executive told a news conference it was inconceivable that a man in Truman's position knowingly damaged the United States.

Eisenhower put it up to Brownell to support the charges with essential evidence. He said he wouldn't be a party to what looks like rank injustice to anybody.

Ike Was Grave

Eisenhower looked grave and perhaps a little strained, in contrast to his usual bouncy manner, when he met with 175 newsmen who—as he well knew from a staff briefing beforehand—were bursting with questions about the White case.

And about that case the President volunteered no comments.

He began his news conference by noting it was Armistice day—a day that always has meant a lot to Americans, he said, and he asked correspondents to mention this in their stories.

Sights Navy Report

Then the President called attention to a navy report saying race segregation has been virtually abolished at all installations in the south. "Most encouraging," he called this, in a prepared statement.

As for the Republican victory in Tuesday's California congressional election, Eisenhower said he was pleased—adding with a grin that he had to qualify his pleasure somewhat last week, in the wake of GOP setbacks in New Jersey and elsewhere. The President joined in the rumble of laughter from newsmen.

Then he invited questions. And they bombarded him from all sides.

Answered Slowly

Eisenhower answered slowly, with evident caution, for the most part—though he sometimes spoke out with emphasis and his one-word negative was delivered almost explosively when a newsman asked, with reference to the White case, if he thought Truman ever knowingly appointed a spy to high office.

The President said the full FBI reports on White should not be made public, as they contain material that must be protected, but certainly that essentials of the evidence must be.

Eisenhower said he believes it is reckless, to say nothing of un-American, to make accusations from any kind of favored position where you are unprepared to show what has happened and to make available the essentials of the evidence.

Must Fight Communist Doctrine

Yet, thumping a desk with fingertips, the chief executive said he wasn't going to give his cabinet officer orders on methods of handling his responsibilities or prejudice his case in advance. He said he doesn't think Brownell intends to conceal anything other than the particular form of a document.

Every real American, the President said, must fight Communist ideologies and doctrines, but not in an un-American way that will destroy what we are trying to defend.

Twice Eisenhower folded his arms across his chest, bristled and glared at his questioners. And it was with a show of irritation that he finally cut off inquiries on the White case after they ran on for 18 minutes and the greater part of the news conference.

President Engages In Tilt

The President engaged in a slight tilt with Raymond P. Brandt of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who has engaged him in pointed question-and-answer exchanges before.

At the outset, Eisenhower waved Brandt down and gave the floor to another reporter.

Brandt's turn came soon afterward, however, and he said his office had asked him to bring up "this whole series of questions."

Just a minute, said the President—maybe some of the other reporters would like a chance, too.

Truman's Record Defended by Gillette In Luncheon Talk

DES MOINES (AP)—Democratic speakers defended former President Truman's anti-Communistic record in speeches to the statewide Democratic women's meeting here Wednesday.

U.S. Sen. Guy M. Gillette, Cherokee, and Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas, Chicago, former congresswoman and wife of Sen. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, commented on the Harry Dexter White case at the luncheon meeting.

The luncheon was attended by 250 women. The day's workshop sessions which led up to organization of an Iowa Democratic Women's club were attended by 200.

Senator Gillette said that if White was guilty of any criminal action, or if former President Truman was guilty of any dereliction, they "ought to be called to account."

"But White is dead," he added, "and Presdent Truman is out of office, with a distinguished record of fighting communism. So far as I know, there is no proof of dereliction. If there is, it is proper to show it."

Mrs. Douglas said that "if a spy was promoted to high place it was tragic and no one condones it."

"But the story is not all told," she added, "and Republicans are playing with fire.

"The other man involved is the former president whose anti-Communist record includes a halt to world-wide Communist aggression.

"It's wrong to try a former president before a luncheon club. President Eisenhower is a fine and good man. But the Republican leadership is adopting the tactics of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.)"

Season's Last Rally To Be Friday Night

SUI students will cheer their football team to victory at the last pep rally of the season Friday night around a bonfire on the parking lot south of the Iowa Memorial Union.

The rally will begin at 7:30 p.m. Senior football players who will play their last home game Saturday against Minnesota will be introduced. Andy Houg, D2, St. Ansgar, captain of the team, and one of the football coaches will speak. Robert Binkert, C4, Lake City, will be master of ceremonies.

The University band, directed by Prof. Charles B. Righter of the music department will provide pep rally music.

The "Jazz SUI" concert also to be held Friday night will begin immediately following the pep rally.

Currier and Hillcrest dormitories are sponsors of the event. Rennett Domack, A3, Oshkosh, Wis.; Mamie Warnock, A4, Mitchellville, and Jerry Doss, A2, Leon, are associate chairmen.

SUI First To Reach Chest Quota

The SUI division of the Iowa City Community Chest campaign is the first unit to reach and surpass its quota in the 1954 drive.

Latest figures show SUI has raised $7,597 which is $247 more than their $7,350 goal.

Total funds for the drive totaled nearly $19,500 which is well past the half way mark of the $32,681 goal.

Although the drive formally closed Tuesday officials expected additional contributions to be made in the next few days.

According to earlier figures released Wednesday afternoon, the business division has raised $9,329 of its $15,631 quota.

The Veterans hospital alone has raised $1,118 under the public service division. The professional division which includes ministers, doctors, dentists and lawyers, has raised $853 of a $3,000 goal.

Sewell States Need For Strong Defense

Speaking before the Iowa City Lions club assembled for their weekly luncheon at Reich's cafe, Wednesday, Col. Walter Sewell, head of SUI's military science department, stressed the importance of maintaining a strong military force in today's world.

In his speech, "The Meaning of Peace to Us Today," Sewell stated that as a world leader the United States cannot expect tranquility in the future, but must be satisfied with compromises, truces and cease fires.

As long as the U.S. has the responsibility of a world leader it must remain militarily strong and must expect intermittent campaigns, he said.

Concluding his talk he said that this will mean many men will be in uniform all of the time and that young men should be educated to accept military service as an obligation of their citizenship.

Chem Building Is Smoked Up Again

Iowa City firemen Wednesday night investigated a smoke-filled west portion of the Chemistry building only to discover that the cause of the smoke had already been carried from the building.

The department received a call to the Chemistry building at 6:25 p.m. Wednesday to investigate the third floor west part of the building which had filled with smoke.

The firemen soon discovered that the cause of the smoke was a burning barrel into which phosphorus had been dumped. The phosphorus apparently ignited. The burning barrel had been carried from the building around 6 p.m.

The firemen completed their investigation in about 30 minutes.

The Harry Dexter White Case—

Although we are thoroughly in favor of rooting out all proven Communists from the federal government, we find it impossible to weigh objectively the charge bordering on treason hurled at former President Truman by Attorney General Brownell Friday.

We agree with President Eisenhower that it is "inconceivable" that Truman would knowingly appoint a Communist spy to office.

Although Truman had his weaknesses and made mistakes, we can't believe that the man who ordered troops into Korea to fight the Communists, aided Greece and Turkey against the Reds and supported projects such as the Marshall plan and NATO is a traitor.

It seems unfortunate to us that the Truman-Harry Dexter White case, if it has merit, was presented in an after-dinner speech rather than to a grand jury.

In addition, the charge was presented in a political atmosphere, three days after Republican defeats in the November 3d elections and four days prior to California's 24th district congressional election.

Furthermore, we are told that in 1947 a federal grand jury refused to indict White on charges of being a Communist spy.

In exceptional cases, it may be necessary to remove persons from federal office for security reasons without adequate evidence for conviction in the courts. However, we still like the traditional American concept that a man is innocent until proven guilty.

Joe McCarthy says, much too eagerly, "It is completely dishonest to say that unless you can send them to jail they are innocent."

We would prefer to see our Attorney Generals take their cases to court first, and prefer their after-dinner charges later.

Iowa Mountaineers To Sponsor Travelogues

Two travelogues by Australian adventurer, Captain Alan Villiers, will be presented Sunday in MacBride auditorium under the sponsorship of the Iowa Mountaineers.

The first of the film presentations, "The Quest of the Schooner Argus," will be shown at 2:30 p.m., and "The Glory of Sail" at 8 p.m.

Villiers, who has been described as "the most incorrigible sailorman alive," will be here in person to add his comments to the color travelogues.

In "The Quest of the Schooner Argus," Villiers depicts his moving adventures while accompanying Portugese fishing fleets on their annual voyage to the Grand Banks and Greenland.

A combination of Villier's many sea adventures comprise the second film, "The Glory of Sail." On film he has captured sailing adventures around Cape Horn, through the Persian Gulf, the Red Sea and other distant places.

Villiers, the last of the "Cape Horn skippers," is the author of some 20 major books and an unrecorded number of articles. His most recent best sellers are "The Set of the Sails" and "The Coral Sea."

Admission to the presentations will be by membership to the Mountaineers or 80 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

City Manager To Talk To Local Engineers' Club

City Manager Peter F. Roan will speak to the Iowa City Engineers' club at a meeting Monday at 6:15 p.m. in the Jefferson hotel.

Roan's topic will be "Fire" in which he will deal with the problems of Iowa City and SUI on fire protection.

He will discuss whether Iowa City is adequately protected, whether Iowa City needs more men and equipment and what special need the university places on local equipment.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Correspondents at the United Nations are now waiting to see whether the Eisenhower administration's efforts to improve the handling of information for the press will have a counterpart in New York.

The American delegation to the UN has been getting a "bad press." American actions have been poorly explained or not explained at all. The reporters say it's because they can't find out anything.

Too Busy for Newsmen

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the chief delegate, early adopted the attitude that he would do all the talking for the delegation — and then got too busy to see correspondents.

Under the Truman administration, there were daily press briefings by the delegation press officers to keep correspondents abreast of the meaning of delegation actions. These briefings have deteriorated this year to a mere means of distributing a few handouts from Lodge.

Correspondents are convinced that part of this is due to Lodge's inexperience and part to the fact that he is often unaware of how things are developing at the state department.

Trouble in Washington

This latter has caused trouble in Washington, too. Just recently department press officers denied knowledge of impending decisions on Trieste only to have them blow up in their faces at top levels.

Wednesday Lodge was a guest at a luncheon of the UN Correspondents' association. It was one of those off-the-record affairs. But Lodge heard some of the complaints, despite his position as guest. He left the impression that he had been unaware of some of the trouble his press policies had been causing. Reporters came away wondering if things might get a little better.

Iowans' Names Given to Schools

In naming Iowa City's two new elementary schools, still in the construction stage, school board members selected two men well known to Iowans—Herbert Hoover and Mark Twain.

The new First st. structure was named "The Herbert Hoover" school. Hoover, the only native Iowan to become president of the U.S., was born in West Branch, Aug. 10, 1874.

He has received more than 60 honorary degrees from universities. Hoover has worked on the reorganization of government during recent years.

Mark Twain, who wrote "Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer," lived in Iowa during his early life under his real name Sam Clemens.

His brother, Orion, published the Muscatine Journal from 1853-55 and historians believe that Twain's first printed articles appeared in this paper.

TO THE EDITOR:

Any person with any sense of fairness views with "disdain" not only the present stand of Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina on the issue of segregation in public schools, but all that he so brazenly represents. Governor Byrnes is a racist. He is a member of a racist group in the United States which has a vested interest in racial disharmony and therefore a concerted interest in keeping it that way. To attack Byrnes for what he stands for is to assault all racial bigots who thrive on such antagonisms.

Byrnes' "gloriously democratic" record is worth examining. As representative to the U.S. congress (1911-1925) Byrnes consistently spoke and voted against anti-lynching bills as well as appropriations for Howard university, an institution built for the express purpose of providing higher education to southern Negroes, an education they were denied throughout the south at that time.

In 1919 Byrnes asked the attorney general to prosecute the editors of two newspapers, "The Crisis" and "The Messenger," because they demanded equal rights for Negroes. At that time he further remarked that any Negro who "does not care to live in this land without political and social equality can depart for any country that he wishes," because "90,000,000 white people are determined not to extend political and social equality to the 10,000,000 Negroes." These are words of an avowed race-hater.

As a senator between 1931-1943 he opposed minimum wage laws (90 per cent of Negro labor had been restricted to lower wage-scale jobs), and participated in filibusters against anti-lynch legislation in 1935 and 1938. As secretary of state, Byrnes continued the policy of restricting job opportunities for Negroes in the department of state and boasted of the fact.

The colored people in the U.S. and around the world are demanding equality. As their voices have become louder and more insistent the foundations of racial discrimination have begun to shake and crumble. One indication of the effect of these demands in our country is the issue finally brought before the supreme court after years of agitation and pressure, that is the question of the constitutionality of separation of Negro and white children in public schools.

People like Byrnes are fervently resisting these demands. They have become frantic because they know that the only solution is equality. This torments them; and out of despair and desperation Byrnes cries out "We'll abolish the public school system if segregation is found unconstitutional." This is another move by Byrnes, and those like him, to keep the colored and white children separate. They fully realize how difficult it is to instill race hatred in a child, especially one who has colored playmates.

The notion is untrue that colored and white people cannot socially intreact without friction or restriction. This is a fiction, developed by the racists and maintained for them. They know that this fiction must be repeatedly reinforced, or else it will be forgotten. Once it is forgotten, Negro and white people will work together for what they want, and Byrnes and his kind will have to face the possibility of political and economic defeat. They can't afford this. They will do anything to stop it.

Commissions Carry Out NSA National Program

(EDITORS' NOTE: This is the third in a series of articles on the National Student association to which the SUI Student Council belongs. This article deals with the NSA's national program.)

By JOAN RIDGEWAY and BILL ISENBERGER

The activities of the National Student association (NSA) are grouped into three levels: national, regional and campus.

NSA's nationwide program is conducted through its national commissions. These are administrative agencies designed to carry out programs in four major areas of student interest. The four commissions are student affairs, educational affairs, international affairs and student government.

On the regional level the commissions implement inter-collegiate programs. The student governing group is the instrument of NSA activity on each campus. Subcommissions are also established on member campuses to carry out projects of the national commissions.

Supplies Information

One important task of the student government commission is to supply information that is essential to the operation and improvement of student government administration. Files containing resource material are available to member schools on request to the student government information service. Material has been prepared on student elections, handbooks, fund raising programs and campus chests.

Another valuable function of this commission is the conference which it sponsors annually of student body presidents. Approximately 150 presidents attended the conference held last summer at Columbus, O. This group convenes prior to the annual Summer congress.

Presidents Discuss Problems

The presidents' conference deals with problems that are peculiar to the college campuses. Past discussions have centered around such topics as honor systems, means of improving communication between the student and his government, orientation programs for new students and the almost universal problem of student apathy in the area of intermural athletics.

In addition to its broad programs, the student government commission is also responsible for publishing NSA NEWS. It exchanges with more than 125 student newspapers and all the major student and educational periodicals. This is the only intercollegiate newspaper in the country.

Has Discount Plan

A nation-wide Student Discount System has been established with nearly 200 merchants in New York city, Chicago, Ill., Boston, Mass., Detroit, Mich., and other cities. Any student may purchase an NSA discount card which entitles the holder to list price discounts from 10 to 30 per cent at the store of the merchants co-operating in this plan.

NSA has no organizational tie with any religious, political, social or professional student group. Through its student government commission, however, it does consult with these groups informally on projects of mutual concern.

The student government commission performs many functions which are vital if the NSA is to assume the role as leader on the national student scene.

German Book Display Set For Library

A collection of recent German books, sponsored by Stechert-Hafner, Inc., one of the largest book importers and wholesalers in the world, will soon be on display at the University library.

This exhibit is designed to give a picture of the German book trade since the war, said Clyde C. Walton, curator of rare books and university archivist. It is a wide sampling of German books and periodicals in various fields, such as literature, art, history, etc.

The exhibit is being shown at libraries throughout the country during 1953. It was at Idaho State college before it came to SUI.

Walton said that some of the forthcoming displays for the library are even more interesting than this exhibit of German books. In February there will be a display of modern German hand bindings of books which is very interesting.

A particularly good exhibit of original letters and manuscripts on American history, primarily during the Revolutionary war period, will be in May.

Walton said that he welcomes suggestions for library displays and that university groups wishing to put up a display and having their own materials will be welcome to do so.

35 Years Change Public's Concept Of Armistice Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strange how completely times change.

Thirty-five years ago Wednesday, 2:48 a.m., an AP bulletin out of Washington proclaimed the glad tydings:

"The armistice between Germany, on the one hand, and the Allied governments and the United States, on the other has been signed.

"The World War will end this morning at 6 o'clock, Washington time, 11 o'clock Paris time."

Barely has any announcement set off a wilder international spree.

What happened here was typical of what went on in most U.S. cities and towns, as well as in cities throughout the world. Bonfires, snake dances, horns blowing, whistles tooting—300,000 persons in the nation's capital seemingly with but one ambition: To make more and more noise.

Optimism rode high.

Who could have bothered to think about a little Austrian corporal sulking in the beaten enemy's lines? Or of a revolutionary who called himself Stalin?

The U.S. feeling seemed to be unanimous: The war to make the world safe for democracy, the war to end all wars, had ended at last.

And what of Wednesday.

The President went to Arlington to the tomb of the unknown soldier. Speeches were made.

But it's ironic, in view of the high hopes of 35 years ago, that most people in the nation's capital were reminded of the day by the newspaper ads. Since government workers have the day off, stores are open and eager for business. It's a great day. The ads say, to pick up bargains.

Bellson Jazz Concert Planned

Drummer Tony Bellson and his cast of musicians will perform in Iowa City Friday at 8 p.m., Joe Tamok, promoter, announced Wednesday.

The Friday evening performance, called "A Great Musical Extravaganza," is being presented in the Amvet's clubrooms, 112 S. Capital st. The star of the show, Tony Bellson, will be playing his famous drums that have helped him find his way to "stardom." According to the nation's top jazz critics, "Bellson has the greatest 'power-percussion' in America today and what's more the fans love it!"

Beside Bellson in the company, are such jazz greats as Smokey Stover, for many years with the Charlie Spivak band, Bill Sanier, formerly with the Woody Herman "Stars," Jim Plunkett of Les Brown's Band of Renown, Rich "Long Horn" Matheson, a feature performer with the Woody Herman orchestra and who will be presented in several special numbers in the incomparable Al Daniels, pianist-arranger for Oscar Pettiford.

Tamok said that there has been a growing interest in this area for the Bellson organization and made the suggestion that persons attending should be aware that seating will be on a first-come, first-serve basis as there will be many who will be coming from out-of-town.

Concert To Present Bix Biederbecke's Jazz Compositions

A tribute to former SUI student Bix Biederbecke will be presented at the Dad's Day concert, "Jazz SUI," Friday at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union. A group rendition of the famous jazz musician's improvised chorus of "Sweet Sue," and his own composition, "In a Mist" will be featured.

Biederbecke interrupted his profesional career to enroll at SUI as an unclassified student in February, 1925. He signed up for several music courses and neglected to take required courses such as military training, physical education, and freshman lectures. His counselor suggested Biederbecke register for the courses, however he had other ideas and even tried to drop some of his courses and take more musical courses.

In addition to his studies, Bix managed to play his trumpet professionally one night a week. He was a pledge of Beta Theta Pi social fraternity.

Biederbecke dropped out of the university less than three weeks after he had enrolled. The young musician died on August 6, 1931, at the age of 28.

Research Balloon Stirs Up Reports Of 'Flying Saucers'

An air force research balloon found Tuesday in a field near West Liberty is apparently the "flying saucer" which was reportedly seen at Odebolt in northwest Iowa.

Personnel from the air force and General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn., which conducts research for the air force, retrieved the high altitude equipment from a field five miles southeast of West Liberty.

One of the three technicians who were tailing the balloon in a light plane was David A. Church, Anoka, Minn., who had been with SUI physicists last summer on their trip to the arctic to test balloons and rockets.

Launched at Pierre

The balloon was launched from Pierre, S. D., about 8 a.m. Tuesday and passed over Iowa City about 4 p.m. after traveling in a southeasterly direction.

Four persons in Odebolt observed the balloon. One person said it "looked like a bright star with an oval shape and of silver color that would change to blue, with the bottom half fiery red."

The object was also seen from Cedar Rapids and by Iowa City school children.

Students Saw Balloon

Several pupils at Horace Mann school here saw the object in the sky shortly after 4 p.m.

The technicians who were trailing the balloon allowed it to descend after the balloon had started to drift south. The balloon can be lowered by a mechanism in the plane which releases the balloon and opens a parachute that eases the equipment to the ground.

Plane Stops Here

After placing the location of the equipment, the research crew returned to Iowa City where they lightened the plane to enable them to land and take off in the field.

The balloon itself is plastic and about 80 feet high. It has a round metal sphere underneath which is about four feet in diameter containing the high altitude research equipment, which is classified as secret.

The technicians remained in Iowa City Tuesday night and left Wednesday for Pierre.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Koca Popovic, minister of state for Yugoslav foreign affairs, said Wednesday it is "out of the question" that Yugoslavia may consider entering the North Atlantic Treaty organization as a compensation for possible Western concessions on Trieste.

Baltimore Team Fires Marion, Hires Dykes

Orioles Now Have To Pay 2 Ex-Managers

BALTIMORE(AP)—The Baltimore Orioles Wednesday fired Marty Marion as manager, and called in Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics to manage the city's new team in the American league.

Dykes had been turned out as manager of the A's only last week in favor of shortstop Eddie Joost and was to continue with the Philadelphia club in some advisory capacity. He had managed the team in three seasons, finishing fourth in 1952 for his best year.

General manager Art Ehlers, in replacing Marion with Dykes, is bringing to Baltimore a man with whose work he became familiar while Ehlers headed the Athletics' front office.

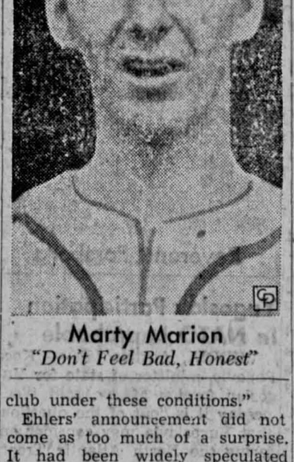
Marion Released Outright

Ehlers said Marion was being released outright with still a year to go on his $30,000 a year contract as manager. That makes two unpaid former St. Louis Browns managers on the Orioles' payroll. Rogers Hornsby, former Browns' manager who was let out by Bill Veeck in favor of Marion, is still drawing a salary. Both Marion and Hornsby will be paid off.

Dykes is being named to the job for one year. Ehlers said the Orioles bought his contract from the Athletics and that it had one year to run. He did not disclose the salary involved.

The general manager, who was named to the top job here only recently himself, said he had always liked Dykes' work as a manager and felt that he has a lot of hustle and energy.

Marion, he said, failed to show much optimism in a recent conversation with him here about prospects of the club improving in its new environment. He added: "I do not feel that Marion is the proper man to take over the club under these conditions."



Marty Marion
"Don't Feel Bad, Honest"

Ehlers' announcement did not come as too much of a surprise. It had been widely speculated since Marion flew here for a meeting Monday that he would be let out. Dykes' name had been prominent among his likely successors.

Alltime Great

Dykes, an alltime great as a third baseman with the A's has been in the managerial end of the business since 1934 when he became pilot of the Chicago White Sox. He managed the Sox for 15 years, until 1946, and the highest he ever finished with them was third in 1936, 1937 and 1941.

He was a key member of Connie Mack's great championship teams of the late 1920's and early 1930's.

Dykes, a native Philadelphian, was 57 Tuesday.

In St. Louis, Marion said:

"I don't feel too bad about it, honest I don't."

"To go into Baltimore with two strikes against you, like I had, would have been a pretty touchy operation," he added, "but I wish 'em a lot of luck."

Given Bad Reputation

Marion said he was convinced someone in the old St. Louis Browns' organization gave him a bad reputation with the new owners.

"It would be silly for a man in my position to put the finger on anyone, though someone did put the finger on me, apparently," he said. "I'd like to know who it was—I honestly don't—but it's not too important."

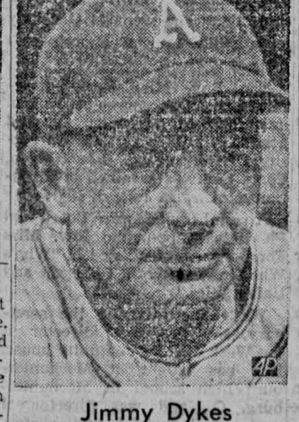
About his future plans, Marion said: "I'm out of a job. I will remain in St. Louis. I'm sure there are no baseball jobs here. There's no use calling guys. If you get a good job, they come after you."

Gophers 14, Iowa 13, 'Swami' Predicts

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The Ol' Swami tilts his turban and confidently picks Saturday's winners. (He hit 100 per cent last week for the third time this season):

Minnesota 14, Iowa 13—It's on the Hawkeyes' home ground and could go either way as Iowa plays its last conference game . . . Paul Giel will be up against one of the Big Ten's finest defenses . . .



Jimmy Dykes
Moves to Orioles

Ohio State 21, Purdue 13—The Boilermakers have been the whipping post most of the season, except for their amazing 6-0 upset of Michigan State . . . The Buckeyes' title hopes have been jarred. . . . There's room for another surprise here. . . .

Wildcats Picked

Northwestern 14, Indiana 13—Neither team has won a Big Ten game yet, but the Wildcats are getting out of the injury rut and could take this tiff of tailenders. . . .

Holy Cross 21, Marquette 14—A snappy encounter of two well-coached outfits in the same class. .

Illinois 20, Wisconsin 13—Could be the unbeaten Illini's hardest job, but overall team speed and a diffused attack hubbed by J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates should pay off. . . . Those Badgers have the material to make Illinois go all out—fine backfield speed, nifty quarterbacking by run-passer Jim Miller and the power-thrusts of Alan Ameche. . . In a hard-fought series, Wisconsin has won 13 and Illinois 12, with four ties. . . .

Chooses Spartans

Michigan State 21, Michigan 7—Figures this much on paper, but could be closer when based on the high stakes of a traditional state rivalry . . . With a great clutch player, Leroy Bolden, to unleash, the Spartans can break a game wide open and likely will do it in their Big Ten finale to remain in title contention. . . .

Notre Dame 33, North Carolina 7—The nation's No. 1 team should be able to sharpen up its sophomores. . . This looks like the nearest thing to a breather the Irish have had. . . .

(Associated Press sports writer Jerry Liska predicted the Hawks will win in the afternoon papers. He said:

"Iowa 18, Minnesota 14—Paul Giel has been a whiz at home all season, but Saturday the Gophers play at Iowa City.")

Clinic To Draw 70 Wrestling Coaches Here

An estimated 70 wrestling coaches from Iowa high schools and colleges will gather here Friday for a two-day clinic conducted by Hawkeye coach Dave McCuskey.

The clinic, first of its kind scheduled by the Iowa department of athletics, will open at 7:30 p.m. Friday with seven prominent figures in Iowa wrestling on the program. The second session will begin at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Two former Olympic team members who wrestled under McCuskey at Iowa State Teachers college are among the figures leading demonstrations and discussions. They are Bill Koll, now State Teachers coach, who was a 145-pound U.S. team member in 1948, and Bill Smith, the 1952 Olympic king at 160 pounds. Both won national titles.

Others who will appear on the program are: Harold Nickels, Iowa State coach; Charles Bryant, Cornell college coach, and Finn Ericksen, director of athletics, health and physical education in the Waterloo school system.

High school coaches leading demonstrations and discussions are: LeRoy Alitz, Osage; Roger Isaacson, New Hampton; Earl Chism, Newton; Jim Fox, Davenport; Dave Natvig, East Waterloo, and Howard Baker, Mason City.

Iowa varsity and freshman wrestlers will be used in the demonstrations.

Following the clinic the visiting coaches will be guests of the university at the Minnesota-Iowa football game.

Hawks Slip in National Statistics

You just can't win in football.

The Hawks lose and they move up in the national football statistics; they win and down they go.

After trouncing Purdue 26-0, Iowa fell from second to eighth in rushing defense and from second to third in punting, according to statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic bureau.

Slip From First Place

The Hawkeyes now have held opponents to an average of 109 yards on the ground in seven games. Two weeks ago, the team was No. 1 with 83.2 but Wisconsin ran for 163 yards and Purdue for 184 which accounted for the drop.

However, Iowa is the first Big Ten team in the national figures, the ones above it being Maryland, 88; Holy Cross, 90.7; Wichita, 94; Syracuse, 97.3; Notre Dame, 103; West Virginia, 103.3; and Southern Methodist, 105.3.

Iowa's punting average of 40.9 is good for third place behind North Carolina, 41.7; and Georgia, 41.3. The Hawks now rank 15th in rushing offense for an average of 244.1 per game and Illinois, the national leader, is the only conference team above the Iowans.

Broeder Ranks 9th

The sole Hawk in the individual statistics is "Binkey" Broeder, who is ninth in punting with an average of 40.8 on 24 kicks. No other Big Ten punter ranks above him. He moved up from 12th place in a week.

However, Hawkeyes dot the Big Ten statistics released Wednesday. Right halfback Eddie Vincent stands eighth in rushing while Broeder is 11th. Vincent has 217 yards and a 2.7 average and Broeder 189 for 3.6. Vincent is 15th in total offense.

Quarterback Lou Matykiewicz continues to lead the conference in interceptions. Maty has picked off five passes, two more than Minnesota's Paul Giel who ranks second.

Gingrass Heads Punters

Broeder's 40.3 punting average is second only to Wisconsin's Ralph Gingrass who tops the Big Ten with a 40.4 mark. The chunky fullback also holds second in punt returns. His 105 yards and 10.2 average is second to Giel's 16.4.

The practice gates again were closed Wednesday and Iowa coach Forest Evashevski had no comment on preparations for Minnesota.

Giel May Set Record Against Iowa Saturday

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Barring injury, Minnesota all-America Paul Giel is almost certain to establish a new three-year ball handling record Saturday when the Gophers face Iowa at Iowa City.

Giel to date has handled the ball 932 times during his career, seven less than the mark set in the late 1940's by Lindy Berry of Texas Christian. The all-purpose back this year has been averaging about 38 ball handling chores a game.

Coach Wes Fesler ordered the Minnesotans through another long workout Wednesday.

NCAA Votes To Initiate More Grid, Cage Season Limitations

KANSAS CITY(AP)—The NCAA council Wednesday voted to initiate amendments to its national convention next January that would put further limitations on playing and practice seasons for football and basketball.

The policy making group of the National Collegiate Athletic association would limit its member football teams to a maximum of 10 games, excluding the approved post-season bowl games. Pre-season practice could not begin prior to Sept. 1.

The council will recommend that basketball practice not be permitted before Nov. 1 and the first scheduled game before Dec. 1.

A maximum of 26 games would be allowed for the basketball season under the council's recommendations. This limit would not include the NCAA post-season tournament, but would include preseason tournaments and those held in mid-season, such as the Big Seven conference tournament at Kansas City.

Executive director Walter Byers said the action on limitations of the two big sports resulted from a survey of practice and playing seasons made by a comittee including Paul Blommers, Iowa, chairman.

Carter KO's Savoie To Retain Crown

MONTREAL(AP)—Sturdy Jimmy Carter wrecked a home town challenger for his lightweight title Wednesday night when he knocked out Montreal's Armand Savoie in 59 seconds of the fifth round with one whistling right to the jaw.

Dropped flat on his back from the force of Carter's payoff wallop, the 32-year-old Savoie gamely tried to beat the count. He was able to scramble to his hands and knees as referee Tom Sullivan counted 9 and 10.

Both fighters were cut around their left eyes in the fourth round when Carter started to press his attack after letting Savoie take the lead in the early rounds.

Bombing to the body with both hands, the 29-year-old champ from New York set up the knockout.

45-Second Football Game To Be Played

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Bellevue and Vermontville high school football players will take the field next Monday for 45 seconds to determine which school won their game Saturday.

The State High School Athletic association Wednesday ordered the 45-second replay in upholding a protest by Vermontville.

Vermontville, on third down, passed from the Bellevue 10-yard line into the end zone. Bellevue was penalized for pass interference and the ball was placed on the 1-yard line with 45 seconds left in the game.

Officials said it was fourth down instead of giving Vermontville a first down under high school rules.

Vermontville failed to score on one play and Bellevue won the game, 12-6.

Monday, Vermontville will get the ball on the 1-yard line with a first down in the 45-second replay.

Methods of Better Nurses' Training Told at Conference

One hundred administrators and instructors from schools and departments of nursing heard summaries of group studies concerning improvement of nursing instruction Wednesday afternoon at closing sessions of a conference sponsored by the SUI college of nursing.

Sister Mary Barbara Ann, director of the department of nursing of Mount Mercy college, Cedar Rapids, emphasized the value of sharing ideas in a report of the discussion group made up of administrators.

The need to teach the student nurse to observe closely and enter on the patient's chart any indications of changes in his condition was pointed out in group discussion in which nursing supervisors took part. Sister Mary Bernard, pediatrics supervisor and clinical instructor at Mercy hospital, Iowa City, reported for the group.

Skills which the nursing instructor should observe in her students were discussed by a third group and reported by Mary Stearns, of Mercy hospital, Cedar Rapids. Mrs. Stearns explained that the instructors listed the attitude of the student, her skill in nursing techniques and her understanding of the principles of nursing care as points to be watched by the instructor in reporting student progress.

Mildred P. Adams, instructor in nursing education at Indiana university, reported to the group on the program of conferences and institutes to improve clinical instruction sponsored by the Indiana State League for Nursing. Amy Frances Brown, associate professor of nursing at SUI, served as coordinator of the SUI conference.

Fire Demonstrations To Be Presented By Mining Engineer

Explosions will once again rock the Chemistry building but under control of Joseph B. Stepan, mining engineer for the U.S. bureau of mines, during his "Magic of Fire" demonstration Tuesday.

Two demonstrations will be given in the Chemistry auditorium at 8:30 and 7 p.m. Tuesday. A film of the Chemistry building fire, taken by the SUI staff, will be shown at each of the demonstrations.

Stepan, working under the auspices of the U.S. department of interior, has been sent out by the government in the interest of fire prevention and control. He will attempt to show through magical tricks how fire behaves; the precautions which must be taken with fire; the unusual ways in which fire can occur; and the safe way to handle fire.

A spokesman for the physical plant indicated that contact had been made with Stepan in May and that he was not here as a direct result of the Chemistry building fire. However, the chemistry staff is cooperating with the physical plant in bringing him to SUI.

Both demonstrations are open to the public.

Majority of Farmers Stand Behind Benson

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Farm Journal magazine said Wednesday "a heavy majority of farmers" are still behind Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "despite the cattleman's caravan and other spectacular maneuvers of his opposition.

Farm Journal said "The things farmers liked best about Benson were his reorganization of the U.S. department of agriculture, his requesting farmers' opinion on the next farm program, his emergency aid to drought areas, his purchase of a half million lower-grade beef animals, and his unwillingness to be stampeded by politicians and pressure groups."

Moscow Declares Subpoena Stupid

LONDON(AP)—Moscow radio declared Wednesday night the United States had established a new "record of stupidity and political cynicism" by subpoenaeing former President Truman.

"Why has the U.S. administration staged this ridiculous comedy?" demanded commentator V. Zorith in commenting on the house un-American activities committee's action in summoning the former President to appear Friday.

Zorin declared: "The U.S. press gives a straightforward answer to the above question. The bosses of the Republican party, anxious about the dissatisfaction provoked in the country by the policy of the present ruling circles, decided to make the leader of the Democratic party responsible for the perilous consequences of Republican policy."

Senator To Urge Long Range Credit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) said Wednesday a federal agency is following the "silly policy" of telling some cattlemen "to sell out and go broke, and then we can help you."

The South Dakota senator, here after a month spent talking with farmers and people in his state, said he would urge agriculture department officials to extend long-range credit to these cattlemen to avoid "liquidating their stock before they can get a loan."

Case said the agency is the farmers home administration, agriculture department credit agency, which can grant special emergency or disaster loans to cattlemen or others unable to get credit elsewhere. But he contended restrictions on such loans are too stringent.

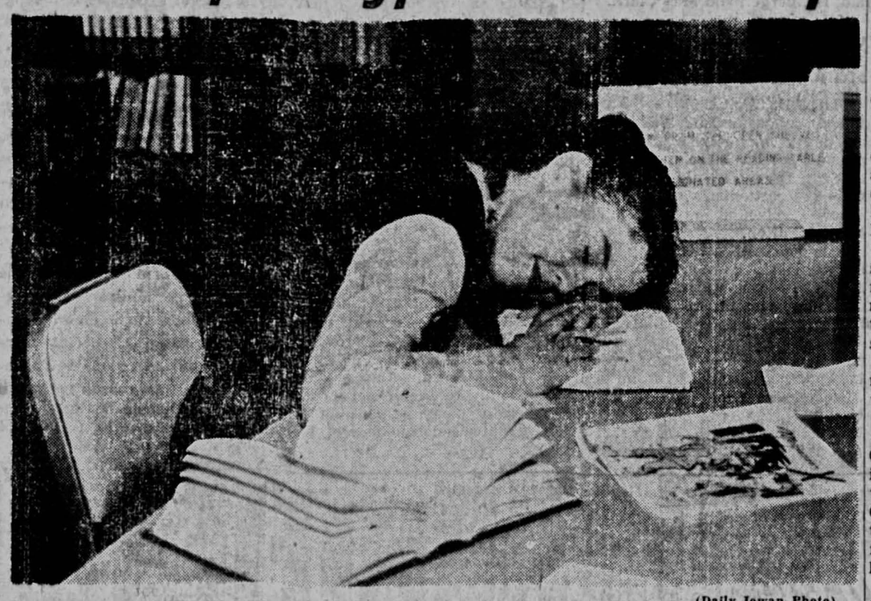
Sleep May Be Man's Natural State SUI Physiology Professor Says



(Daily Iowan Photo)

OCCASIONAL CATNAPS DURING THE DAY cuts down the need for sleep at night, according to the Iowa state department of health. Donna Scarlow, A1, Ames, finds the University library convenient for this purpose.

By DICK SOLOWAY

Sleep may be our natural state of being and we awake only to fill our needs to keep alive, according to Prof. Harry M. Hines, head of SUI's physiology department.

This biological view of the age-old question of sleep means that while we are awake it is only to seek the means to obtain the necessities of life so as to remain alive when we return to our natural state, sleep.

According to this theory, Hines pointed out, the section of the brain that supposedly causes us to sleep may instead wake us up.

Insomniasts who for years have worried about the necessity of sleeping to maintain good health have less to worry about than they imagine. The notion of eight hours sleep every night does not hold true for everyone.

Worry Causes Sleeplessness

The Iowa state department of health says that some people need less sleep than others at night because of occasional "catnaps" during the day.

Worrying about not getting enough sleep and fear that sleep won't come once you're in bed are the chief causes of sleeplessness.

Experiments made in World War II showed that the harmful effects of insomnia are from the causes of the insomnia and not the lack of sleep itself.

Sleep can be split into four distinct levels ranging from drowsiness to deep sleep, Prof. John R. Knott of the medical psychology department explained.

Student Holds Sleep Record

A person remains in each of the levels for only a short period of time, and there is a continuing changing of the levels of sleep.

A university student holds the longest record for sleeping in one level according to Knott's experiments. After remaining awake for two days while studying for exams, the student was tested following his final exam.

He fell into the deepest level of sleep within one minute and remained there for about two hours. The student then slipped into a lighter level of slumber.

Why sleep is necessary is unknown, but experiments show that it is indispensible for life. It varies with individuals and people can adjust themselves to getting along with less sleep.

Night Sleep Is Habit

In a large measure nocturnal sleep is a habit. Babies traditional awakening of parents during odd hours of the night shows that the diurnal cycle of sleep must be learned by the infant.

Contrary to popular belief, recuperative powers are not most prominent immediately after awakening or even in the first few hours of the day.

The ability to perform acts requiring skill is generally no better upon awakening then just before retiring.

Body temperature lowers in sleep as much as two degrees. The lowest point is reached in the early morning hours between 2 to 5 a.m. and the highest in the mid-afternoon.

Learn To Relax

Very little is known about dreams, Knott added, but there is a definite lightening of the sleep level around the time of the dream.

Tedious mental work during the day often causes lack of sleep. Exciting movies, heated arguments or a weighty problem won't leave your mind, you must learn to push these disturbing thought away before retiring, the department of health points out.

After you're in bed try to relax your muscles one at a time, and when they are all relaxed you will probably be asleep.

If the muscle relaxing technique fails then check that bedroom. Shiny objects that catch light from passing cars or streetlights can keep you awake.

Check The Mattress

If you're still awake at this point then check the mattress to make sure it's not sagging like a hammock. Be sure the mattress is long enough for your full length with individual springs that allow you to lie in a straight line.

After eliminating all of the preceeding methods and sleep still won't come, try this final resort. Set a regular time for sleep each night because long periods of sleeplessness sometimes are the result of not being accustomed to sleeping at a particular time.

Of course if this fails and insomnia is not helped, consult a doctor. He can first give temporary relief and then help the fundamental causes.

There is one encouraging factor in this lack of sleep. Knott explained that certain mental disorders appear more clearly in deep slumber.

Tax Report Shows Retail Sales Jump

Retail sales in Iowa City jumped $333,000 over those for the second quarter of 1952 on the basis of sales tax collections, a report showed Tuesday.

The state tax commission reported collections of the two per cent sales tax totaled $167,244.39 for the quarter ending June 30. Multiplying that figure by 50 gives the approximate total sales.

Using this formula, sales in the March-June quarter of 1953 totaled $8,362,219.50, as compared with $8,029,322.50 on collections of $160,586.45 in the same quarter last year. This year, 582 returns were made compared to 576 a year ago.

Johnson county sales amounted to $9,641,594 in the 1953 period on sales tax collections of $192,831.88 as against sales of $9,295,929.50 on collections of $185,918.59 the previous year.

Sales of $1,279,374.50 were reported in county rural areas during the second quarter of 1953, with collections of $25,587.49 as compared with last year's totals of $1,266,607 and $25,332.14.

During 1953's second quarter, 434 new cars were registered in Johnson county with a use tax collection of $20.360.48 as compared with the same period in 1952 when 310 new autos were registered, and $14,264.08 in use taxes was paid.

Brandt said he thought his questions would be pertinent in everybody's viewpoint.

Well, said the President, that was something he himself would have to decide.

Answers All Questions

He responded to all of Brandt's questions, as it turned out, though with extreme terseness at times.

"Do you think," was one of the questions, "the administration's action in virtually putting a label of traitor on a former President is likely to damage our foreign relations?"

Eisenhower fixed Brandt with a steely glance and told him (A) he rejected the premise that the administration had done any such thing, and (B) he would not answer the questions.

Often as many as half-a-dozen reporters at a time stood up and waved for recognition.

Taps Table

Eisenhower reddened at times. Once he sharply tapped the table in front of him as he emphasized that he's not going to tell Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, who touched off the Truman-White affair in a Chicago speech last week, how to run his department.

In response to another question, the president said Brownell never told him that Truman ever saw the FBI papers while president. He said Brownell told him the papers went to the White House and that was all.

Eisenhower broke off the questioning on the White case after Robert Riggs of the Louisville Courier-Journal said there was some question as to whether the FBI report said White was a spy or merely associated with Communists.

Meeting Lasts 18 Minutes

"Did Mr. Brownell say to you that the FBI report called him a spy?" Riggs asked.

Eisenhower repeated something of what he had said before to the effect that Brownell had conferred with him in advance of making his charges in a speech in Chicago last Friday. He said Brownell reported there was evidence there had been subversive action of which high government officials were aware. Brownell mentioned White's name, and said the evidence was so clear he considered it his duty to lay it out and not be a party to conceal it.

After 18 minutes, the President had enough.

Presentation Canceled On A Bomb Eye Injury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reading of a scientific paper on treatment of eye injuries to those who look at atomic explosions has been cancelled after parts of it were ruled out by defense department officials on military security grounds.

The paper was to have been read to the annual meeting here of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States.

Vaughan, who was military aide in the presidency of Harry Truman, is scheduled to testify before two congressional committees today in the Harry Dexter White case.

Gov. Byrnes—

has sent him a copy of a memorandum dated Feb. 5, 1946. He quoted it:

"Memorandum for the President:

"The enclosed letter addressed to Mr. Frederick Lyon of this department by Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, and the enclosures referring to Harry Dexter White, I deem of such importance that I think you should read them.

"J. F. B."

Appointment Went Through

There was nothing to indicate whether the memo reached the White House Feb. 5 or actually was delivered to Truman. But Byrnes has said he conferred with Truman the day the senate approved White's promotion. He said he suggested steps for blocking the appointment, but it went through anyway.

Byrnes, in a statement Monday night, didn't say anything about the FBI reporting on "espionage activities" by White. He said a representative of FBI Director Hoover had delivered to his secretary a copy of a report about White and "his affiliations with Communists."

11 Polio Patients Included in Move

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Excited but weary after two days of travel, 11 polio patients from Louisville, Ky., arrived Wednesday and were rushed by ambulance to the Southwest Respiratory center.

The trip through six states was made without incident. It was the largest mass transfer of respirator patients in medical history.

Special crews from the Harris county emergency corps met the train at the Union station.

Eight of the patients were transferred to the respiratory center in iron lungs, three with portable chest respirators.

The patients — seven children and four adults — were brought here because the Louisville Respiratory center is being closed during an extensive remodeling program at the Louisville general hospital.

They were attended on the trip by a staff of 10.
