Officials Ponder What To Do After Reuther Witness Balks

DETROIT (AP)—Authorities moved Wednesday night to find whether Donald Ritchie has the key to a solution of the Walter Reuther shooting or is the perpetrator of a spectacular hoax.

A question remained, however, whether the questioning will be done in Detroit or across the international boundary in Windsor, Ont. Ritchie balked at crossing into the United States and wanted to see a lawyer.

Earlier, however, he had waived extradition to Preston, Ont., where he surrendered early Wednesday after a five-day flight from protective police custody. Ontario authorities at the border said the Preston magistrate didn't have power to accept the waiver. Then Ritchie asked for a lawyer.

Fights Extradition

The lawyer, Donald Morand, of Windsor, said he had clear and definite instructions from Ritchie to oppose extradition.

Bruce MacDonald, crown attorney, asked that Ritchie be remanded to the Essex county jail for eight days.

Judge Albert J. Gordon granted the remand until Jan. 21. Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien, in Detroit, said he has not made up his mind on seeking a continuance of an examination, scheduled Thursday, for one of the four men named by Ritchie as participants in the Reuther assassination attempt.

Ritchie Is Defendant

Ritchie is now a defendant to an assault to kill warrant in the April 20, 1948, attempted assassination of the CIO president, then newly elected chief of the CIO United Automobile Workers.

Ritchie volunteered information that led a week ago to a warrant charging four men with conspiracy and assault with intent to murder.

Friday, however, Ritchie escaped two police guards in a downtown hotel suite and skipped to his native Canada.

Ritchie Paid $5,000

The United Auto Workers revealed Monday they had advanced Ritchie $5,000 for the story that led to the warrant against the four others and that it had been paid his common-law wife, Betty, 28, an hour after his escape.

It was with the union's payment that the 33-year-old Canadian and Betty, financed their five-day flight.

Betty was picked up by a constable who recognized the car they'd bought Monday in Chatham, Ont., for $1,400. She said Ritchie was proceeding to Windsor by train. Police captured him a few hours later.

Man Shoots, Kills Judge in Court

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—A 26-year-old construction worker cited for nonsupport payments to his wife shot to death the president judge of Warren county Wednesday before the horrified eyes of six courtroom witnesses.

State police chased Norman Moon of Connelville, Pa., for six miles before a hail of bullets brought Moon's car to a halt west of Warren.

Moon shot himself in the throat as officers approached him with drawn guns. He is in serious condition at Warren hospital.

Killed was 51-year-old Judge Allison D. Wade. Two of the five bullets Moon fired struck Wade in the chest. He staggered from the bench towards his chambers, holding his chest and moaning: "He shot me, he shot me."

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy, fitting its fleet to the military new look and to economy, said Wednesday it will pull 50 fighting ships out of service in the next 18 months. The announcement, even before the scheduled submission of the new defense budget to congress Jan. 21, caught many congress members by surprise, but two top members of the house armed services committee said the plan would not impair national security.

PANMUNJOM (Thursday) (AP)—Allied and Communist secretaries met today to discuss renewal of planning talks for a Korean peace conference and apparently ran head-on into a deadlock. A Communist source said the Allies had sent a note to the Reds this morning insisting that the secretaries must discuss conditions for resuming the preliminary talks.

MOSCOW (Thursday) (AP)—Pravda said today the Soviet Union rejects the Western proposals for internationally supervised, free all-German elections. The Communist party newspaper said the Western plan was a "notorious fake" which would not only interfere with the internal affairs of the German people, but would hand them over to the control of "militarist-Fascist elements like the Bonn government."

CHICAGO (AP)—The Switchmen's union of North America Wednesday rejected a five cents an hour wage increase offered by the nation's railroads, but negotiations for a pay boost will continue. The union seeks a boost of 40 cents an hour in negotiations with the carriers. A railroad spokesman said interstate commerce commission records show the switchmen's average wages are $426 monthly.

DONALD RITCHIE (left) self-confessed witness to the 1948 shooting of CIO President Walter Reuther, is escorted by an unidentified Detroit, Mich. detective to a car that was to take him from Preston, Ont., where he was arrested, to Detroit. Hours later though, in Windsor, Ont., Ritchie changed his mind and refused to cross the international boundary into Detroit.

Truck Drivers Fined For Leaving Highway

Three drivers of the explosive-laden trucks which stalled in an Iowa City residential district Tuesday night were fined $27.50 each Wednesday in police court.

Judge Emil G. Troit levied three fines of $102.50 on charges which make it illegal in Iowa City for a vehicle of more than three tons to leave a marked highway, but all but $27.50 of each fine was suspended.

It was the second incident involving explosive trucks since Dec. 1, and came on the heels of a letter from chief engineer E. F. Koch of the state highway commission.

The Iowa City school board wrote to the highway commission, asking that major highways be relocated around the city.

Koch answered to solve Iowa City's traffic problem would "entail the expenditure of a large amount of money and for this reason cannot be effected immediately."

Groups OK Plan

Other local organizations voicing approval of a city by-pass are the city Parent-Teachers association, Chamber of Commerce board of directors, the Iowa City Woman's club and the League of Women Voters.

The engineer's letter, read at a school board meeting Tuesday night, said, in part: "We have recently completed traffic studies in the Iowa City area and have submitted these studies to the city authorities for their study. It is intended to discuss alternate plans with the city to establish a long-range program after they have had an opportunity to review the report."

"A by-pass of the city will be one of the items given consideration. However, the traffic studies indicate that a surprisingly large percentage of the traffic on high-

REDS IMPROVE RAIL SERVICE

LONDON (AP)—Peiping capital of Red China, will get direct passenger and freight rail links with Moscow and the capitals of other East European Communist countries later this month, Peiping radio said Wednesday.

The authority rejected the television entertainer's statement that a strong crosswind caused his twin-engine plane to veer dangerously close to the Teterboro control tower.

Instead, Godfrey was accused of endangering life and property by disregarding Teterboro's takeoff regulations.

The Port authority asked the civil aeronautics administration to make a thorough investigation and, if facts warrant, to discipline Godfrey "to demonstrate vigorously and unmistakably that reckless flying will not be tolerated in this area."

Maximum disciplinary action would be to revoke Godfrey's pilot license.

However, the CAA's first reaction was to regard the incident as a minor one and probably not deliberate. A spokesman said it would be difficult to prove it was deliberate when Godfrey states it wasn't.

Godfrey, a veteran pilot, came close to the control tower during a takeoff in his private DC3. In Miami Beach Wednesday Godfrey stood on his statement but apologized for any scare he gave airport personnel.

BARKLEY BUST APPROVED WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate rules committee Wednesday approved a resolution authorizing the architect of the capitol to have a bust made of former Vice-President Alben Barkley. The bust, like those of all other former vice presidents, will be placed in the senate wing of the capitol.

... and the Judge Took Pity

DAVENPORT (AP)—Desk sergeants at the Davenport station hear hundreds of excuses from motorists who receive overtime parking tickets but it takes an unusual one, combined with evidences, before the ticket can be excused.

Wednesday a motorist approached the desk with a swollen jaw and explained he had overparked because he had been delayed in a dentist's chair for a tooth extraction.

To prove his point he carefully unwrapped a handkerchief which contained the extracted tooth as evidence. The ticket was excused.

Ike Pledges Fight For U. S. Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday he is going to fight for legislation that is important for the American people.

The President told a news conference he isn't making recommendations to congress just to pass the time away or to look good. He said he believes all of them are for the good of the country and that he is going to work for their enactment.

But he wouldn't say what measures he considers most important or what percentage he expects congress to push through at its present session.

Will Let Congress Decide

As for changes in the Taft-Hartley law, the President asserted he is leaving it to congress to determine whether government-supervised polls of workers should take place before or after a strike begins. All he was doing on the election proposal, he said, was to set forth a principle.

While Eisenhower was willing to say it is encouraging that Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin has begun preliminary talks with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the President's pool-the-atom-for-peace plan, he said he didn't think a conclusion is justified yet that Russia is acting in good faith.

In North Korea, Eisenhower said he has no information of a Communist military buildup in violation of armistice terms.

Tells of Evidence

In general, he said, there is evidence the Reds are reducing ground forces, doing a lot of digging in for defense, and engaging in a surprising amount of economic rebuilding almost as if North Korea were an adjunct of the land across the Yalu river.

The President said he thinks a better balance of defense is being achieved every day — but that doesn't mean an equal division of the money and manpower between the army, navy and air force. To the professional, he said, it means that forces are adjusted to the needs of the time.

This was the first White House news conference in four weeks and the first in 1954 — a good-natured affair.

Didn't Give News

For the first time he had nothing to volunteer in the way of news. But questions and answers spread over a wide field of subjects.

There was a burst of laughter from newsmen when a woman reporter recalled that former President Truman had said he thought a woman some day might be chief executive and asked if Eisenhower thought it possible a woman might handle the arduous duties of the White House.

The President grinned, spoke of his deep respect for women's intelligence and expressed a deep admiration for their other qualities.

House Committee OK's Huge Slice In Income Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house ways and means committee Wednesday approved a 50 million dollar cut in income taxes for about 700,000 single heads of families as the first major step in a vast tax revision project.

The committee is undertaking to write almost all tax laws to simplify and clarify the tax structure and remove alleged inequities. Its decisions, of course, are subject to approval of congress and the President.

Altogether, the revision program is expected to provide about $1,300,000,000 in annual tax reductions through more liberal allowances for medical expenses, child-care expenses of working mothers and other things.

The first move came as the committee took up the section taxing single heads of households—those widowed, divorced, separated or single persons with dependents.

TO RECEIVE AWARDS

DES MOINES (AP)—Representatives of rural schools in eight Iowa counties will be awarded $220 and other prizes at the 11th annual rural school fire prevention banquet in Des Moines Saturday night. The awards program climaxes work done in 1953 by several hundred rural students and teachers in several schools.

Ike Retains Farm Ideas Despite Election Issue

Students Waltz While Cabin Burns

MARY E. LEINFELDER, A4, Iowa City, and Jerry Mealy, A4, Mason City, enjoy one of winter's sports—skating. The couple attended a party Wednesday evening at Melrose lake arranged by SUI's Skating Club. While the students skated, a small shelter house near-by caught fire and burned. The fire started around 7:30 p.m. from an over-heated stove. The West Lucas Township fire department from Coralville was called and extinguished the blaze. The owner of the building said that apparently a spark from the stove in the shelter house ignited the back side of the building. The chimney pipes collapsed and the back wall was destroyed. The shelter house, which is used for private parties, was the older of two at Melrose lake.

Congressional Highlights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate approved realignment of its committees Wednesday to leave its Republican minority in control, and rejected once again the efforts of Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.) to get back the assignments he had held as a Republican.

Elsewhere, except for President Eisenhower's weekly news conference, it was the committees themselves that made the congressional news.

TAXES—The house ways and means committee approved extending to single heads of households the split-income advantage a married couple now has — an estimated 50 million dollar tax cut for some 700,000 widows, widowers and others who qualify.

AIR ACADEMY — Chairman Dewey Short (R-Mo.) predicted his house armed services committee would approve creation of an air force academy, for which Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott said there is "urgent" need.

KOREA — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, seeking approval of a mutual defense treaty with South Korea, told the senate foreign relations committee Communist China is "virtually incorporating" North Korea as a Chinese province, but said he thinks Korea eventually can be unified.

EISENHOWER — The President insisted that his disputed farm program is right, but whether it can be enacted by congress in this election year is something that congress itself will have to decide. He left it to the house and senate, also, to work out details based on his recommendations for amending the Taft-Hartley law.

McCarthy Has Views, Too McCarthy said that if a flexible support program is approved, it "should not go as low as 75 per cent, and it ought to go higher than 90 per cent, perhaps even above 100 per cent of parity. It should allow supports just as high above 100 per cent as it would allow supports below 100 per cent." For instance, he said, if they could drop to 80 per cent, they also should be allowed to go to 110 per cent.

Parity is a price formula defined by law as giving farmers a fair return for their products in relation to the prices of things they buy. The government provides supports through loans and other devices.

Ike's Humor, Ease Lauded by Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower took his place among the masters of the press conference Wednesday.

Bubbling over with good humor—and giving out nothing he didn't mean to give out—the President who once stood stiff and uneasy before questioning newsmen put on a one-man performance judged by veteran correspondents to rank with Franklin D. Roosevelt's and the best of Harry Truman's.

In a rambling, 34-minute session that covered a host of subjects, Eisenhower showed a full measure of the confidence which has been developing in the past several months of his first year as President.

POWER TALKS STALLED BERLIN (Thursday) (AP)—Four-power talks on the selection of a site for the foreign ministers' conference scheduled for Jan. 25 broke down in complete disagreement early today. The issue was referred back to the governments in Washington, London, Paris, and Moscow.

Letters to the Editor
The Daily Iowan has not received a letter to the editor for several weeks, and only a few since the beginning of the fall term. This is an undesirable situation as far as we're concerned. We would like to see the Letters to the Editor column become one of the most interesting and stimulating features in the paper. This can only come about through the receipt and publication of diverse views on a large variety of subjects. Looking back, it seems that the Iowa-Notre Dame game was the only subject which provoked a sizeable volume of letters. While we're avid sports fans, we would also like to see different points of view expressed on a great many other subjects. So, please consider this a personal invitation to submit letters to the editor on any subject in which you may be interested. We will be particularly pleased to receive letters which differ with any editorial position taken in The Daily Iowan.

Congress Must Make Decision On Holding of Strike Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday congress must decide whether the government-conducted strike votes he has proposed should be conducted before or after strikes begin.

Eisenhower told his news conference he recommended the idea as a principle and, as was the case with nearly all his other proposals for changing the Taft-Hartley law, left it to congress to work out details.

The President proposed Monday that workers be given a chance in secret, government-held elections to say whether they favor a strike.

Unions Criticize Polls
Eisenhower declined to state whether he intended the polling to be held before or after a walk-out starts. Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) has introduced legislation, understood to have been prepared at the White House, providing for such elections after strikes begin.

Union leaders and some members of congress have sharply criticized any such polls, before or after a strike. But they aimed particular fire at elections after strikes are in effect, saying they would serve as "strike-breaking devices."

Intends To Fight
The President declined Wednesday to say whether he regarded the strike poll idea as "must" legislation. But he said he was not making recommendations to congress idly, and intended to fight for his legislative program.

He had carefully avoided spelling out the details of the strike poll proposal, Eisenhower explained, because that is up to congress.

Actually, union leaders are far more afraid of such a poll after a strike is started than a pre-strike vote.

Workers Lose Pay
They say privately that workers can be expected generally to endorse a strike proposal in advance of a walkout to bolster the hand of union negotiators. That was the experience in the pre-strike voting held by the government under the

Columnist Misinterprets British-Chinese Trade

(Des Moines Register Editorial)

Columnist David Lawrence had to back down on one of his outbursts against British trade with Communist China. He found out that the British were not defying the U.S. as he had supposed at first, but trading in hitherto forbidden goods under a new ruling of the U.S. foreign operations administration, based on a study by the U.S. national security council.

But Lawrence went back to the attack even hotter under the collar. He starts from the assumption that any trade by any country with Communist China weakens the U.S. militarily and strengthens Red China militarily — so whoever authorizes it is doing the U.S. a disservice.

We are convinced Lawrence is wrong on this — and so is the president, the secretary of state, the U.S. foreign operations administration, the U.S. national security council — both government agencies — the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and most of the outside world.

Trade is a two-way street, and any embargo hurts both embargoer and embargoed. Each trade or trade ban must be judged on its highly specific merits.

The U.S. law ("Battle Act") is clear: It bans U.S. aid to any country that knowingly permits shipment to the Soviet bloc of certain items listed as strategic by the administrator of the act, who is now Harold Stassen.

But what is "strategic"? There is room for plenty of difference of opinion here, and for changes of mind as conditions change.

In the early phases of the cold war, it was the U.S. and the West which wanted trade with Eastern Europe, and Moscow which wanted to cut it off, each for its own good reasons. Later the West began banning trade in strategic materials, each country making its own list. By 1949, they got together to agree on lists.

For trade with Communist China, the situation is somewhat different. The U.S. (which had little China trade) cut it off completely after Red China's intervention in

Interpreting the News

Russia and Red China are now on notice from the United States that they can no longer promote wars abroad without expecting to suffer war at home.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles expressed it as an intent to offer swift and massive retaliation at the will of the U.S.

The American military organization already is being planned that way. He was clarifying the manner in which it may be used.

He already had warned that direct Chinese intervention in Indochina would be met by direct American attack on China, as would a resumption of the Korean war.

No Specific Commitments
Now the implication is clear that the U.S. will launch atomic war at the base of the aggressor in any situation where an attack represents a sufficient threat to the free world. No specific commitment is made, but neither are there any specific exceptions which might encourage the Reds to miscalculate American intent as they did in Korea.

This is a momentous statement. It marks an estimate by the administration that the situation has reached a turning point toward which the free world has been working for years. It says America now has, or will have in the immediate future, the ability which it once so sadly lacked to back its diplomacy with real power.

Will Affect Policy
This statement of position is bound to have a powerful effect on Russian policy from now on. She will have to calculate any move she desires to make with regard to the seriousness with which it will be taken by the U.S. She will have to realize that a miscalculation will make her the target for fearful retaliation.

The obvious hope of the administration is that this will deter Russia from dangerous gambles, just as swift retaliation on a local basis in Korea has deterred her from further adventures of that type for three years.

On rubber, David Lawrence goes to town: "Evidently rubber for the tires of the MIGs and the bombers that constitute the Communist air force is not to be considered 'strategic' any more," Lawrence complains, "just because there's money to be made in it among the British colonial possessions."

This is most unfair. The British have loyally observed the embargo for their colonial possessions at very substantial cost to themselves, and used their world wide network of bunkering stations to spread the ban to others.

The rubber embargo was not broken by hard pressed British Malaya, which has its own war with the Communists, still in a shooting phase and older than the Korean war. Instead, it was broken by Ceylon, a completely self-governing member of the Commonwealth and like India, a neutral in the Cold War.

Once an embargo is broken, why should a futile effort to enforce it in a few scattered places be continued?

SUI Purchasing Department Procures All University Needs

By JERRY HESS

Obscured in the basement of University hall is the busy department which controls the buying operation for the university.

Purchasing department of SUI's business office handles purchases ranging from Homecoming badges to cafeteria foodstuffs.

The badges — 12,000 of them — were ordered for Homecoming this fall to defray expenses for the event.

Before the new addition to the Iowa Memorial Union is ready for student use in early 1955, the purchasing department will buy equipment including billiard tables and bowling supplies.

Buy for New Buildings
Buying equipment and furnishings for new SUI buildings is part of the huge task that the purchasing department performs as the university's buying agent.

The purchasing department last year filled 30,000 purchase orders and made out 50,000 invoices.

Head of this gigantic buying operation is Ainslie Burks, who sees to it that university departments get the supplies they want.

In line with furnishing new buildings, purchasing department recently bought new beds, physical therapy equipment and supplies for the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children which was utilized early in January.

Buildings Included
Previous to that the department provided equipment for the new Communications Center, library, women's gym and addition to Hillcrest dormitory.

The purchasing department maintains its own carpentry shop turning out special orders which would be difficult to fill with manufacturers. When the order for a swing-top desk for the Communications Center was made, carpenters undertook the task of building the specified desk.

The department also acts in an advisory capacity for student organizations who want to buy an article for all-university use.

Aid Students
Students are given catalogues to help them select the desired item. They also benefit from the university's credit in dealing with out-of-town firms and receive an

2 SUI Polio Projects Supported by Fund

Two Iowa Citizens are among the seven Iowans awarded fellowships or scholarships for study under the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis program for the education and training of professional medical personnel and social workers.

Dr. Wallace T. Dooley, 606 E. Jefferson st., is in his second year of a postdoctoral fellowship for study in orthopedics at the SUI Children's hospital.

Mrs. Vera Weller, 336 S. Governor st., has been awarded a scholarship to cover postgraduate study in medical social work at Washington university, St. Louis.

A Plainfield student, Phyllis R. Lane, recently completed a one-year scholarship in which she studied physical therapy at SUI.

As in previous years, part of the funds raised in this month's "March of Dimes" are being used to help high-ranking students initiate or continue studies to increase their abilities in treating or handling cases such as polio.

The National Foundation has granted more than $600,000 for the training of medical social workers alone.

Coeds—Plan June Dress Now

If you make any of your own clothes, January is the best time to buy materials for your June wardrobe, says Merle Ramer, SUI instructor in home economics. You probably will find a good selection of summer fabrics in your favorite stores now as any time during the next few months.

In fact, the new cottons and other warm-weather materials were stocked by many stores before Christmas—earlier than usual—this year, Miss Ramer points out. And since you can already get the fashion picture for next summer from fashion magazines and resort clothes now in the stores, you can finish your sessions with the sewing machine well before spring housecleaning time.

You'll get a lift on the dreariest January day just looking at the new cottons. For 1954 looks definitely like a cotton year, Miss Ramer says, with everything on the counters from denims gone gayer than ever before to silky cotton prints in vivid colors and iridescent shantung and gauzes for wear late in the day.

Linens Popular
Linens promise to be extremely popular, also, being particularly attractive in natural, honey and pastel colors. Many of the new linens have a crease-resistant finish. Crisp sleeveless patterns are among those already featured in readymade linens.

Coolness accounts for cotton's popularity, Miss Ramer tells her students. This season offers more crepe effects, with seersuckers and plisse among key items.

In colors, you'll find bright pastels favored, with spicy pink, sky blue, mossy green and lemon yellow competing with the paler tones. Textured white cottons and linens promise to be popular, too, with embroidery, flocking and cording giving pattern to the materials.

Many spring prints have border or striped designs. Both white and dark backgrounds are being shown. Fruit and vegetable motifs, often in amusing line drawings, will catch your eye.

You'll find that striped and matching solid chambray combine beautifully. There are plenty of stripes available in other materials, too, including shadow striping in gauze and organdy and fancy multicolor and wavy patterns.

Denim will probably be more popular than ever for play and work clothes since it is available in lighter weights which you can wear into the summer and in a variety of pastel colors and multicolor stripes which look like distant cousins indeed of the blue denim of a few years back. You'll like the windowpane plaids in denim, too.

Sailcloth Durable
You can get sailcloth—durable for casual wear—in prints as well as in solid colors this year. Cotton corduroys—good for robes as well as dresses and separates—have gone fancy, too, with tweed designs and more prints on sale now.

Cotton broadcloth promises to be good for beach coats and summer shorts. Terrycloth, popular for everything from brunch coats, bathing suits and casual wear to draperies, is available this year in multicolor and solid color polka dots and star prints as well as tattersall checks and narrow awning stripes.

Byers Orchestra To Play for Military Ball

Verne Byers and his orchestra will play at the 52d annual Military Ball, according to an announcement made Wednesday by the ROTC band committee. The formal dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Feb. 19 at the Iowa Memorial Union.

Prior to forming his own orchestra several years ago, Byers played with several well-known bands including Jan Garber and Tommy Tucker. He also was one of the owners of the Rainbow ballroom in Denver, Colo.

Byers' orchestra features vocal renditions on many numbers in which the entire band participates. In addition to dance tempos and varied selections of both the top hit tunes of today and the all-time favorites of yesterday, the orchestra will present a mixture of novelties. Barbara Kane is the featured vocalist.

Highlighting the ball will be the presentation of the Honorary Cadet Colonel, selected in a secret ballot by junior and senior ROTC students.

Besides sales to advanced corps students, a limited number of tickets will be sold to basic students. The price of tickets has been set at $3.

PLAN DISTRICT MEETING
About 150 delegates of the Iowa Independent Telephone association from eastern Iowa are expected for a district meeting in the Iowa City Community building Wednesday.

Joseph Roisman, first violinist, and Boris Kroyt, the viola player, both are from Odessa, Russia. The violinist, Mischa Schneider, is from Vilna, Russia, and the second violinist, Jac Gorodetzky, is also a native of Odessa.

The quartet has been called the superlative interpreter of chamber music. They made their American debut in 1930, and have played in this country ever since.

NCAA Group Condemns 'Faking,' Stands by One-Platoon Football

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The NCAA football rules committee, after hearing some 40 proposals to liberalize the limited substitution rule on college gridirons, turned them all down Wednesday.

"One-platoon football found increasing favor among the public, the coaches, the players and everybody during the 1953 season," said the committee secretary, E. E. Wieman from the University of Denver.

"We were not willing to make any changes until we have had another year of experience with it."

Condemns Faking

The committee strongly condemned the faking of injuries to stop the clock and the "sucker shift" which is intended to pull the opposition offside.

No rules changes were made but the committee urged the country's football coaches to eliminate "this unethical practice from the great American game for which they have preliminary responsibility."

In a resolution on the faked injury problem, the committee declared that "feigning injuries for the purpose of gaining additional, undeserved time is dishonest, unsportsmanlike and contrary to the rules."

Rely on Integrity

It decided to "rely on the integrity of the coaches and players rather than upon further legislation," but declared that if these practices are not stopped voluntarily, the rule book will be rewritten next year to take care of them.

In the past two football seasons, Notre Dame has figured prominently in debate on both the faked injury and "sucker shift" problems. In 1952, the Irish were often accused of using false starts to pull the opposition linemen offside.

Last season, Irish players were accused of faking injuries to stop the clock and gain time for touchdowns against Iowa in the closing seconds of each half. Notre Dame escaped with a 14-14 tie, but lost the race for the mythical college championship to Maryland.

Among the proposals for liberalizing the substitution rule was one from the American College Football Coaches association asking that players be allowed to re-enter a game once in each period.

"We did not look upon this recommendation with disfavor," said the committee chairman, H. O. Fritz, Crisler of the University of Michigan. "The general feeling was just that the rule ought to be left alone until the coaches and players catch up with it."

Under the present rules, a player taken out in the first and third periods may not be returned during those periods. A player removed in the second and fourth quarters may go back only in the last four minutes before the half and the end of the game.

Evvy Opposes Rule Change for Injuries

DES MOINES (AP)—Forest Evashevski, SUI football coach, said Tuesday night he is opposed to changing the rules governing times out for injuries, despite the famous injury feigning incident which helped Notre Dame tie Iowa last November.

Speaking at a Central Iowa Purchasing Agents' banquet here, Evashevski expressed belief the national football rules committee would not, and should not, alter the rules governing such times out.

However, Evashevski said he believes players should be allowed to leave and re-enter the game once each quarter. He also predicted a continued trend toward "power football" next season.

Warning against too much optimism over Iowa's football fortunes next fall, Evashevski said: "A few of our kids may not get by scholastically—they need more intellectual curiosity than they have displayed so far."

"I hope our Iowa fans can keep their heads on straight. We're not ready to go to the Rose Bowl next year. That's at least two or three years away. The more pressure we put on those kids the less chance we have of being proud of them when the season is over next fall."

American League Umpires Get Refresher

Globetrotters, College Stars To Play Here

Iowa field house will be one of the 20 sites of a game in the fifth annual "world series of basketball," the Harlem Globetrotters against a select group of 1954 college all-Americans.

The 12th game of the tour will be played here April 8, it was announced from the department of athletics. It is the first time that Iowa City has been included on the tour schedule.

Teams will open the coast-to-coast tour March 28 in Madison Square Garden in New York city and will end April 17 in Milwaukee Arena. There is only one open date on the trip, April 10.

Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the Trotters, will pool the top talent from his eastern and western squads. The western Globetrotters currently are playing in Australia as part of a far eastern tour.

Identity of the all-American squad will not be known until late March. Nominations of outstanding senior players have been made and final selection will be based on their accomplishments throughout the full season.

A total of 907,840 persons watched with 73 previous games. The Globetrotters won the four series: 11-7, 14-4, 11-5 and 14-7. A total of 51 colleges was represented on the all-American squads.

Glassford, Officials Discuss Ending Of Husker Contract

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Agitation for a football coaching change at the University of Nebraska Wednesday reached the stage where university officials and coach Bill Glassford were discussing contract termination.

No decision was reached. Glassford, under fire of late for his coaching methods and an unimpressive victory record last fall, met for an hour with acting chancellor John Selleck and athletic board chairman Walter Beggs.

When no agreement was reached, Selleck called for a joint meeting of the board of regents and the athletic board for either tonight or Friday night.

The 40-year-old coach has two years remaining of a five-year contract described as "iron-clad." He also has an option to renew for five years.

Ironically, the pressure against Glassford was reaching its climax just about exactly three years after the coach was being begged to remain at Nebraska. At that time he was being eyed by his old school, Pitt.

Logan's 32 Earns 6th Spot In Iowa All-Time Scoring

A deadly shooting eye and almost magic tip-in touch have moved Bill Logan, versatile sophomore, into Iowa's basketball hall of fame.

When the 6-7 forward or center pumped home 32 points in Iowa's 93-78 win over Michigan, he earned a tie for sixth in the all-time Iowa individual scoring. Only three men, all-Americans Dick Wier, ever have topped the 32-point total. Ives set the Big Ten and Iowa record with 43 points against Chicago in 1944 and also holds second high of 37 against Western Illinois.

Darling, Wier Make 34

Darling and Wier both made 34 points in single game displays on their roads to Big Ten season's scoring records. The only other men to match Logan's production were Frank Calsbeek in 1950 against Indiana and Dave Danner in the same Chicago game in which Ives established the all-time high.

All-Around Scorer

Logan's scoring prowess has not been limited just to one evening, either. Nearing the season's halfway mark, the former Keokuk all-stater has poured in 156 points for a 15.6 average and the top of the Iowa scoring column. He has led or tied for high point honors in five games with totals of 11, 21, 20, 18 and 32.

The lanky 195-pounder has thrilled crowds, not just with his point production but his methods of doing it. In posting his 32 points against Michigan, Bill used five different shots for eleven baskets.

Three times he cut loose with his favorite jumping-twisting shot. He leaps high above his guard, turns quickly and falls away from his foe before unleashing a right-handed push.

Other Shots, Too

If his pet shot is stopped, Logan counters with others. Against Michigan State he hooked in four free throw perimeter for two more. And then he scored two more from directly under the goal.

Broeder Has Operation On Troublesome Knee

Binkey Broeder, whose knee bothered him during the '53 football season, is recuperating from surgery for a bone spur on his knee.

Phil's Give $80,000, 2 Players for Dickson

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday purchased pitcher Murray Dickson from the Pittsburgh Pirates for infielder Jack Lojke, pitcher Andy Hansen and $80,000 in cash.

The deal was the second big Pirate's transaction in the past few weeks. They recently traded Danny O'Connell to Milwaukee baskets then went to the corner and free throw perimeter for two more. And then he scored two more from directly under the goal.

Succeeds at Center

With Davis' return to duty, O'Connor moved Logan to center to keep his scoring and rebounding punch in the lineup and the result.

6 Witnesses Heard In Cage Fix Charge

DES MOINES (AP)—Six witnesses were heard Wednesday by the Polk county grand jury in its investigation of charges that a Des Moines businessman attempted to "fix" the score of a Dec. 22 Drake university basketball game with Iowa State college.

Ben Bumby, 22, Drake's star forward, one of the first six witnesses to appear before the grand jury, has reported to police that he turned down a $300 to $500 bribe to "shave" points in the Dec. 22 basketball game by saying "no dice."

DiPaglia Accused

Floren DiPaglia, 27, the Des Moines businessman, is accused of attempting to bribe Bumby. He has pleaded innocent to the charge and is free on $3,000 bond.

Appearing before the grand jury Wednesday besides Bumby were Jack McClelland, Drake athletic director and basketball coach; Willie Cerf, Drake basketball team center; Calvin Hicks, a Drake student; Jeanette Wilson, 19, Bumby's girl friend, and her sister, Betty Wilson, 15.

Polk county attorney Clyde Herring said others would be called.

Provides Heavy Fine

A new Iowa law provides a $10,000 fine, a 10-year prison sentence or both for trying to fix an athletic contest.

Before going into the grand jury room, Bumby said he could not add any further details to his earlier story.

McClelland said Wednesday "we realize this kind of thing is a threat to intercollegiate athletics and like everyone in athletics we are anxious that it be eliminated."

Meanwhile, county attorney Herring said the investigation into the case has now reached as far as Omaha, Neb.

He said state, county and city investigators have been in Omaha since early Tuesday talking with "known gamblers" and conferring with county attorney Eugene F. Fitzgerald and the Omaha vice squad.

Charles Knocks Out Satterfield in 2d

CHICAGO (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles exploded a second-round knockout over Chicago's Bob Satterfield Wednesday night at the Chicago Stadium to solidify his claim for a June title bout with champion Rocky Marciano.

Charles lashed out with a ponderous left to send Satterfield flat on his back in 1:00 of the second round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The 32-year-old Charles, 180, was a 7-2 favorite to dispose of Satterfield, 180, and went at his task with vicious vigor at the start of the second round.

It was Charles' 86th victory against 10 defeats and his second in a row since a TKO of Cole Wallace at San Francisco Dec. 10 of the second round.

Farmer Poll Shows New Favor Acreage

DES MOINES (P)—Wallace's farmer and Iowa Homestead said today night a poll it conducted indicates that only 55 per cent of Iowa farmers will go along with government corn acreage allotments in 1954 if the acreage is cut as much as 15 per cent. The decision on whether allotments will be ordered this year rests with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. He has until Feb. 1 to make up his mind. If allotments are put into effect corn producers will not be eligible for 54 corn loans unless they com-

zech Refugees Get U.S. Soap
MUNICH, Germany (P)—R-Free Europe said Wednesday American washing machines and 40 cases of soap powder, need from Communist Czechoslovakia, would be given to Czech refugees now living in West Germany. The machines were sent to Europe last December by an American manufacturer for distribution to Czechoslovakia following news reports that some Czechs had been victims of making washing machines for their wives.

27 More Die; 35 Missing In Austrian Snow Avalanches

VIENNA, Austria (P)—Twenty-seven Alpine villagers were crushed or smothered to death Wednesday under avalanche masses in the hamlet of Blons and hope was almost abandoned for 35 others missing in the snowy depths there.

Forty-four were found injured in Blons and most were brought out to safety during the day. Rescue workers at Elons came upon the greatest single concentration of tragedy in the flood of windblown avalanches that spread death and destruction in three neighbor nations since Sunday.

One-fourth Die
The 44 injured and the 62 dead or missing represent more than a fourth of Blons' 385 population. Although the danger of avalanches generally slowed down during the day with the coming of colder temperatures, a report from Mellau near Bergenz Wednesday said five persons were killed and six injured in an apparently new snowslide there. All through the day U. S. and Swiss air forces sent doctors, medical supplies and food to Austria's "Valley of Death," in the Walser region near the Swiss frontier.

Rescuers Work
Aground, more than 1,000 rescuers began removing the injured from the ruins of seven villages in the valley, the area hardest hit by Alpine snow slides that have killed 117 persons and left 37 missing in Austria, West Germany and Switzerland.

Half the valley homes were smashed to matchwood. A late count showed 39 dead there, 61 missing and 51 injured in the avalanches loosed by a combination of heavy snowfall and gales. That catastrophe, however, was only a part of the dreaded "white death" that left hundreds homeless, communications paralyzed, villages isolated and industry at a standstill in parts of the three nations.

Damage Mounts
The property damage and financial loss suffered by the three nations apparently runs into millions of dollars.

A Swiss helicopter Wednesday began evacuating the critically injured from the Walser Valley hamlet of Blons, Switzerland, where 29 houses and 50 barns were crushed and swept away.

Other Swiss planes flew mercy missions over the Walser valley—and other valleys as well—dropping food, medical supplies, blankets and rescue equipment.

Trained dogs hunted among the masses of snow for both the living and the dead.

DES MOINES (P)—Slight progress was reported Wednesday in the condition of 13-year-old Bernadine Pollock, Davenport, who for 15 months has been in a coma.

Dr. D. W. Hamilton of Wilden Osteopathic hospital here said he was optimistic on a day-to-day basis. The young girl was brought here Jan. 4 to undergo cranial treatments. Hamilton said in the past few days Bernadine has been responding to directed requests. He said that if asked to move an arm or leg, the girl, with help, would respond. He said she smiles, opens her eyes and cries out, but he contributes the acts to reflex action. The girl, constantly attended by her father, Cecil Pollock, has been unconscious since undergoing surgery at Iowa City in September, 1952, for a brain abscess.

School Board Grants $350 Like To Iowa City Teachers

The granting of several pay increases affecting Iowa City instructors and administrators was among the proceedings of the Tuesday night meeting of the Iowa City school board.

Four of the top administrators, superintendent Buford W. Garner, high school principal Robert Sorenson, elementary supervisor David K. Stewart and junior high school principal Carl T. ... received the largest salary raises. All wage hikes were granted after a study of educational salaries in Iowa's 55 largest cities revealed that Iowa City ranked high, about $300 below the average.

Garner Given $500 Increase

Garner was given a $500 increase, raising his annual pay to $9,000; Sorenson was granted $700, raising his salary to $7,000; Stewart received $600, raising his pay to $5,650, and Miles got $450 to bring his salary to $5,550.

Other Hikes To $350

The general wage increase to Iowa City teachers is to be $350. The hike is expected to make teaching in Iowa City more appealing to high calibre instructors. The school board feels the school term will be able to keep, as well as hire, this type of instructor with the salary hikes.

To Use Auditorium

Viola Artist Applauded

World-famous violinist William Primrose "shot the works" for a near capacity audience in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union Wednesday night.

Primrose treated his hearers to a sophisticated program of modern and classical music seldom performed at an average recital. The program was selected especially for the Iowa audience, according to Primrose's accompanist David Stimer, because "we were given such a splendid reception when we played here eight years ago and knew you'd appreciate the more varied program."

Among the seldom-played modern works was the dissonant Hindemith Sonata (1939) for Viola and Piano. Primrose handled the highly-technical composition with apparent ease and complete confidence after warming up on Beethoven's Notturmo, Op. 42.

Dulles Says Red China Consuming North Korea Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told the senate foreign relations committee Wednesday that Communist China is gobbling up North Korea, "virtually incorporating" it as a Chinese province.

This will make it enormously difficult to reunite Korea peacefully, Dulles said. But he expressed confidence that unification would be achieved eventually, just as he said he believes Germany will be whole again someday.

The secretary appeared before the committee to ask for senate ratification of a mutual security pact with South Korea. He declared the treaty would discourage Red aggression and help guard peace in the Pacific.

There were indications that ratification would be approved by the committee in short order, particularly since Dulles said it would be "entirely appropriate" for the senate to emphasize in a statement or interpretive clause that the United States is not bound to back any aggressive moves made by South Korea.

Some other senators expressed interest Wednesday in developing a Pacific alliance similar to that which binds the North Atlantic treaty nations together for defensive purposes.

The secretary said the first major purpose of the South Korean treaty is "to prevent any renewal of the Communist aggression in Korea."

Iowa Schoolmen To View Success, Flops in Teaching

Some 100 Iowa schoolmen will renew their efforts this weekend to gather better evidence on the success and failure of teaching and supervision practices.

Action research, or analysis while doing, will be the theme topic when the Iowa Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development meets Friday and Saturday at SUI.

"What's New in Action Research?" will be presented by Robert S. Fleming of Washington, D.C., research coordinator of the national ASCD. "We Do It With People" will be the topic of an address by Wilbur Yauch, education head at Northern Illinois State Teachers college.

Herbert F. Spitzer, SUI elementary education director, will speak on "Desirable Practices in Use in Elementary Schools."

Dividing into five group sections, the Iowa school leaders will grapple with problems of improving spelling and handwriting.
