Governor Opposes Fee Hike

By PHIL O'CONNOR

Gov. William S. Beardsley said Tuesday that he is opposed to any increase in the tuition rates at state colleges.

Beardsley, who reviewed air force and army ROTC cadets at SUI earlier, said: "If the present tuition rates were doubled, it still wouldn't help the budget much."

The governor, who says he has no political plans, continued: "The (tuition) adjustments were made two years ago. I don't think there have been enough changes to warrant it (an increase)."

Increase 2 Years Ago

Ted McCarrell, SUI registrar, said Tuesday that tuition was increased from $72 to the present fee of $78 a semester two years ago.

Commenting on competition between state and private colleges in the state, the governor said: "I like to regard the state schools as the 'big brothers' of the private schools. I don't like to think of the two competing. Both serve an important part in advanced education."

Beardsley, who will step down next January after three two-year terms as Republican governor, said education should be made as easily attainable as possible.

Didn't Discuss Politics

He declined to discuss political problems and wouldn't say which of the six GOP gubernatorial candidates he would like to see receive the nomination.

Beardsley was accompanied by Major General Fred Tandy, adjutant general of Iowa. They traveled to and from Iowa City in a C-47 plane.

The governor shook hands with each of the senior ROTC students before a noon dinner in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Discusses Future Plans

"I've never quit farming," the 53-year-old pharmacist said as he discussed future plans. "My farm is only an hour's drive (from Des Moines)."

The governor's opposition to an increase in student costs echoed that of two SUI officials.

President Virgil M. Hancher in a speech before the National association of state universities in Salt Lake City, Utah, May 4 said:

Comments on Tuition

"State universities and land-grant colleges were established to provide an opportunity for all those possessing the requisite ability to obtain a college or university education at minimum cost. Accordingly, in such institutions, tuitions have always been kept low, and in some they cannot be charged by law.

"Studies indicate that this unique characteristic of the publicly supported institutions is being undermined. Indeed the purpose for which the state universities were established seems to have been forgotten, and it is being said openly and unashamedly that the tuitions of these institutions should be increased in order to put them on a parity with private institutions."

Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism, told a Des Moines journalism alumni group Thursday that only one third of the qualified high school graduates attend college. He said a $100 per year student cost increase would result in an enrollment drop of about three

A Condensation of Late Developments

Dien Bien Phu Wounded To Be Evacuated

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap announced Tuesday night he had "decided to authorize" the French to remove their seriously wounded from Dien Bien Phu. Giap made his announcement over the Vietminh radio a few hours after Gen. Henri Navarre had asked Giap to arrange evacuation of the approximately 1,300 wounded stranded at the fortress when it fell to the Communist-led rebels Friday. Both the appeal and the response followed agreement Monday by French and Vietminh representatives at the Geneva conference for the opposing commanders to arrange for removing the French Union battle casualties.

Pullman Co. To Hire Negro Conductors

BOSTON (AP)—The Pullman Co. has agreed to hire Negroes as conductors and whites as porters, the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination announced Tuesday. Commissioner Elwood S. McKennedy in announcing the terms of a conciliation agreement with the nationwide sleeping car service corporation said they "may change the 90-year-old employment policies of the Pullman Co."

Foreign Minister Rules Out U.S. Air Bases

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Minister Hans Christian Hansen Tuesday ruled out any chance that Allied air forces will be based in Denmark in peacetime "despite the risks we are facing." The Danish Socialist told a luncheon of the Foreign Press association that public opinion in his country would turn against the Atlantic alliance if foreign forces were brought there at this time.

School Board Clarifies View on Gas Station

The Iowa City school board clarified its position on the construction of a gas station across from the Horace Mann school at Dodge and Church sts. Tuesday night.

Robert Osmundson board president, said that after the school board had fully discussed the situation with the city board of adjustment, the school board had given neither its approval nor disapproval to the proposed gas station.

Mrs. John Shaeffer, retiring president of the Horace Mann Parent Teachers association, said the public seemed to believe that the school board had actually approved of the construction of the gas station.

Osmundson pointed out that although it would be desirable to have all schools in a class A zone (a residential zone), unfortunately some situations exist about which nothing can be done.

Asked if the school board would support the PTA in its efforts to get highway 261 rerouted to take traffic away from the Horace Mann school area, Osmundson stated that it was a traditional policy of the board to try to eliminate hazards and avoid increasing hazards in school areas and the board, therefore, would probably favor any action which would follow such a policy.

The resignation of 19 teachers and one school secretary was announced by Mrs. Irvin Irwin and Mrs. Ruth Jordan of the faculty employment committee. The board approved the appointment of 10 new teachers to the Iowa City school system with salaries ranging from $3,150 to $3,950.

Expenditures totaling $18,400 for buildings and grounds improvements for 1954 were approved.

Construction on the Lincoln and Henry Sabin schools was reported delayed because of the shortage of several types of needed material.

Stevens' Veto Defeats Cut Of Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens telephoned a veto Tuesday, while at home watching the proceedings on television, and so a last-ditch Republican move to cut short the McCarthy-army public hearings was defeated 4 to 3.

In the aftermath of a stormy day devoted entirely to argument over cut-it-short proposals, senate investigators agreed to vote Wednesday on a strongly backed new move to hold night as well as day sessions.

The decisive vote on a proposal by Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) to shorten the public phase of the inquiry came after Joseph N. Welch, counsel to the army side, twice left the hearing room and telephoned the virus-stricken Stevens.

With TV cameras recording the remarkable and probably unprecedented scene Welch finally reported the army secretary felt the Dirksen proposal "would not result in fairness."

Acting Chairman Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) had announced beforehand he'd vote against the proposal, even though he favored it, if either side thought it would result in unfairness or injustice. Mundt proceeded to vote with the three Democrats against the Dirksen proposal, and it was defeated.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) protested angrily that he'd been misled. He said he'd been given to understand during the noon hour that Welch would accept the proposal, that Welch, in fact, had suggested some changes so as to make it acceptable.

Board Postpones Musician Decision

SUI's Union board voted Tuesday night to postpone for one week their decision to endorse the previous board's stand on the local musicians premium wage scale or to adopt a new policy toward the wage controversy.

Members of the board requested that they be given additional time to study the wage situation.

Paul Bartlett, C3, Bedford, said that the next meeting of the board will be held May 18.

The Union board, in conjunction with the Central Party committee, is asking the local musicians union to abolish their current premium wage rate. Such a rate has been termed as discriminatory by the two student groups.

The Central Party committee will discuss the issue during a meeting next Friday afternoon.

Chamber Singers, Chorus To Give Concert Tonight

A concert will be presented by the university chorus and chamber singers today at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union.

The program will be free of charge and the public is invited.

Prof. Herald Stark and Stephen Hobson, instructor, of the music department will conduct the concert.

Numbers on the program will be "Command Thine Angel That He Come," by Dietrich Buxtehude; "I Leave Thee, Love, with Grieving," by Jans Hassler; "I Am the Rose of Sharon," by William Billings and "O, Clap Your Hands," by R. Vaughan. Four university chamber singers will present "Rejoice in the Lamb," by Benjamin Britten.

Following the intermission "Waltz Barcarolle," by Giuseppe Verdi; "Tree of Sorrow," by Carlos Chavez and "Who Can Revolve," by Wellington Rieger will be presented. Robert Sambler, A4, Orange City, will present a solo entitled, "Tee Rooo."

"Vanity of Vanities" by James Niblock, theory and composition instructor at Michigan State college, Lansing, Mich., will be the closing presentation.

Hospital Escape Made By Anamosa Prisoner

Iowa City and state police were searching Tuesday night for Arvey Entsminger, 21, inmate at Anamosa reformatory, who escaped from an attendant at SUI hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Entsminger and several other prisoners were brought to the SUI hospital Tuesday for treatment.

The escapee was serving a seven-year term for issuing bad checks and had been in the reformatory since May, 1953. He is blind in one eye, and was brought here for treatment.

Panel Discusses Summer Job Opportunities

Dulles Wants Alliance To Hold Indochina

9 Charged in Tax Evasion Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine men were indicted Tuesday on charges involving evasion of $17.4 million in income taxes on profits from liquor deals in World War II and postwar years when whisky was scarce.

Government officials described it as possibly the largest income tax evasion case in history.

One of those indicted was Hyman Harvey Klein, who told a house committee in 1952 that he parlayed $1,000 in cash into a five million dollar profit.

The government had slapped $7 million in jeopardy tax assessments against him in 1948.

Indicted with Klein were his brother, Isidore J. Klein; Albert McLennan and George Norgan of Vancouver, N.C.; Ellis Rosenberg, Washington, D.C., an attorney; Maurice Haas, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., an attorney and certified public accountant; Morris O. Alprin, Brooklyn, N.Y., an attorney; Irving A. Koerner, Great Neck, N.Y., and Albert Roer, Brooklyn.

81-Year-Old Man Beats Child For Tramping New Garden

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—An 81-year-old man who police say admitted severely beating a small boy with an iron bar because he tracked up a newly planted garden was being held without charge here Tuesday night.

Fred Wentz, victim of a heart ailment for which he had been undergoing treatment, was detained under guard at Mercy hospital while authorities awaited the outcome of injuries suffered by the boy, 4½-year-old Roger Allen White.

The lad was given emergency treatment and blood transfusions at St. Luke's hospital here and then rushed to University hospitals at Iowa City for treatment of a skull fracture. After the boy came out of surgery attendants said he now is expected to live, and his condition was "fair."

Detective Inspector John Hanna said Wentz admitted striking boy with an iron bar. The child at first was reported near death.

Live In Neighborhood
Roger Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald White who live in the same neighborhood in southwest Cedar Rapids as Wentz. The father is a truck driver for the Bos Transportation Co.

Other neighbors described Wentz as a "nice, quiet old guy" who seemed to have no troubles but a statement made to police showed Wentz had been disturbed by children getting into the garden he planted recently.

The attack on the White boy occurred about 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Hanna quoted the elderly man as saying in the statement:

Got Iron Bar
"The damn kids were bothering me again so I went down to the basement and got an iron bar and came back upstairs and knocked the kid in the head. I don't know whether I hit him more than once or not.

"I then went back into the house and lay down on my bed and I was there when this guy came in. I could tell he was a policeman by his clothes.

Hanna said Wentz concluded by saying:

'Should End Things'
"I have thought about doing something to stop these children from bothering me for a day or so but I didn't know what. This should end things now."

County Attorney Willis Glassgow said he had not made any decision about filing charges against Wentz.

The elderly man's physician asked that because of his heart ailment Wentz be placed under guard at a hospital.

Professor, Student Become Citizens In Court Ceremony

Prof. Chia-Shun Yih of hydraulics and mechanics at SUI, and Emil Steinberger, an SUI junior medical student became United States citizens in a special ceremony held Tuesday at Johnson county district court.

The two men, with Mrs. John J. Canott, Wellman, were told by Judge Harold D. Evans, who presided at the naturalization hearing, that the United States is "proud to have you as citizens."

Yih, 25, entered the U.S. at Blaine, Wash., and now lives with his wife and one child at 1855 Muscatine ave. He was born in southwest China, an area now behind the iron curtain.

Steinberger, although a native of Germany, entered the country in 1948 as a stateless person. His birth place was East Berlin, also now a Communist-dominated part of the world. He lives at 219 Finkbine park with his wife and two children.

Mrs. Canott, a war bride, was married to her husband in England in 1945, and came to this country April 19, 1946.

Representatives of Iowa City patriotic, veterans, service and civic organizations, as well as others who attended the ceremony, joined Judge Evans in welcoming the new citizens.

The three were presented for citizenship by Fred White of the U.S. immigration service.

Schwable Ordered To Pentagon Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pentagon desk job with no command authority lies ahead for Col. Frank H. Schwable, the Marine flier who signed a false germ warfare confession while he was a prisoner of war in Korea.

The marine corps Tuesday assigned Schwable to a routine flight refresher course at the Cherry Point, N. C., marine base as a preliminary to his becoming marine representative in the navy flight safety program here.

In the post he will help with study of accident reports and flight procedures as part of the continuing effort to make service flying safer.

Schwable, a marine career officer, was a combat pilot in World War II and was chief of staff of the 1st marine air wing in Korea when he was shot down on an observation flight behind enemy lines.

Says Nations Would Fight If Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said Tuesday he favors a southeast Asia alliance which would authorize member countries to put down the attacks by Communist forces in Indochina.

At the same time, he said that even if all Indochina falls to Red aggression he believes it would still be possible for an anti-Communist coalition to hold the rest of southeast Asia, an area he said is of transcendent importance to U.S. security.

Dulles frankly acknowledged that loss of Red-threatened Indochina would make the task of saving the remainder of southeast Asia far more difficult. But he said the West would never give up in despair.

Considering 'United Action'
His remarks at a news conference constituted the first official disclosure he was considering a "united action" formula which would permit the United States and allied countries to intervene in the Indochina war.

Dulles added, however, he did not know whether Britain and other key Allies would agree to any such plan. No specific proposal has been developed yet in secret diplomatic talks, he said.

Ever since Dulles publicly called for a united front last March 29, Britain, New Zealand, Australia and other eligible partners have balked at sweeping commitments which would involve swift action to help French Union defenders in Indochina.

Must Fight If Necessary
The secretary said any pledges made by governments participating in the southeast Asia alliance should make it evident they would be prepared to fight if the Reds openly challenged the alliance.

Later Dulles said he specifically favors including the three Indochinese states of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam in the pact—and that if they were members it would be appropriate to use force to put down Red rebel attacks such as are now going on there.

Dulles Comments
In commenting on other world developments, Dulles also:

1. Sharply disagreed with former President Truman's Monday speech, which suggested the Eisenhower administration was either neglecting or abandoning a bipartisan foreign policy.

Dulles said he has nothing but satisfaction for the cooperation which has been extended to him by both Republicans and Democrats in developing his foreign policy.

2. Denounced Communist China anew as an aggressor which has fought, killed or wounded more than 100,000 Americans.

Denies Defeat
3. Denied he has suffered a diplomatic defeat at the current Geneva Far East peace conference. He never believed there was a good chance of winning Red agreement at this parley either on Korean or Indochina problems, he stated.

4. Said he saw no reason whatever to change his basic foreign policies, including his oft-repeated reliance on "capacity for instant retaliation" against any foe. He added these policies are sound, working well and there is no reason to modify them.

5. Rejected as unacceptable a Red-sponsored plan for an armistice in Indochina on the ground it would lead to Communist domination of all three Indochinese states.

$500,000 in Jewels Stolen from Drawer

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Sheriff's officers and customs agents searched Tuesday for an estimated $500,000 in jewels, many of which the owner said he obtained in bombed-out Germany for "cigarettes, food rations and candy bars."

Sheriff Bryan Clemmons said the huge cache of gems was reported taken from a bureau drawer in a Baton Rouge home. He identified Woodrow W. Lewis, an industrial plant employe, as owner of the jewels.

Motorists' Aid Urged In Survey of Traffic

Motorists are urged to cooperate in a traffic and parking survey being conducted in Iowa City today and Thursday.

The studies, which began Tuesday, will indicate the amount of north-south traffic passing through Iowa City as well as the time of the most concentrated parking in the downtown area.

Barricades will be set up today from 2 to 5:30 p.m. south of Jefferson st. on Madison, Clinton, Dubuque, Gilbert and Van Buren streets. Each passing motorist will be asked to report on a furnished post card his starting point, destination and itinerary enroute.

Vehicle Count

A count of vehicles parked in the downtown area was made hourly Tuesday to determine the time when the maximum amount of parking occurs.

On the basis of this count, a study of all cars parked in the downtown area will be made Thursday at the peak hour. Motorists will be asked to report why they parked their car where they did, the amount of time they were parked and their destination upon parking.

The survey, first since 1947, is being conducted by Allied Consultants, Evanston, Ill., under the supervision of J. M. Keneipp, traffic engineer. They were hired by the city.

About 100 Iowa Citizens are being employed in the survey.

2 Months Required

Keneipp said in Iowa City Tuesday that up to two months will be required to analyze the results of the study. He said that Allied Consultants hope to recommend to the city a program of through streets and parking and recommend further whether the through highways should go straight through the city or go straight through the city.

Only the north-south traffic is being measured at this time. The east-west traffic through Iowa City was studied by the state highway commission in 1947.

to five to seven per cent.

George Mills, Des Moines Register staff writer who is close to affairs of the state board of education and the state legislature, said in a story Monday:

"There is some expectation that the state board of education soon will vote a tuition increase for students attending state-supported colleges.

"Board members for the most part would rather not do it. The schools are cool to the idea also. But substantial appropriations are needed from the 1955 legislature. The hope is that the legislators will feel more kindly toward the budget increases if tuition first is boosted."

Gubernatorial Candidates Speak

Three candidates for governor have voiced their opinions on tuition and it has become a political football.

Two Republicans, William S. Lynes and Ernest Palmer Jr. have said they favor a tuition boost. Clyde Herring, a Democrat, said he opposes an increase.

Lynes, speaker of the Iowa house of representatives, said in a speech May 4: "The present extremely low tuition rates are unfair to Iowa taxpayers and particularly unfair to our many fine private colleges here in Iowa."

Palmer gives views

Palmer, a representative in the state legislature, said in a speech at Drake university about three weeks ago that if fees in private schools are increased, they should be at state schools too.

Herring told about 150 students and Iowa Citizens Monday night that he is opposed to a tuition boost. He also commented: "State schools don't compete with private educational institutions."

West Appointed Library Adviser

Prof. Ray B. West Jr., of the SUU creative writing department has been appointed a consultant to the Newberry library in Chicago for the period from June 15 to Aug. 15, 1954.

He will advise the library on acquisitions of western European and American literature and fiction.

The appointments are usually made, West says, to writers and educators who are doing research work on projects of their own and who can use the facilities of the library for this work.

His research will be for a biography of Brigham Young, leader of the Mormons in their 1847 trek to Utah. West was born in Logan, Utah, and is of Mormon parentage. The biography is to be published by Viking press next year.

Defense Department Reveals New Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—The defense department announced Tuesday night the existence in "advanced status" of the supersonic Sperry "Sparrow I" guided missile system.

The weapon is meant to be used from airplanes against airplanes. Since aerial targets are much more evasive than surface targets this implies a high degree of maneuverability and control.

The navy disclosed it is currently training ship and shore personnel for use of the Sparrow by carrier-based jet aircraft both in the Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press Foreign Staff

The Eisenhower administration has now plopped for direct intervention — under certain conditions — in the Indochina War.

After weeks of conference and consideration, accompanied by all sorts of arguments and suggestions Secretary Dulles has placed the issue squarely before congress, the people, and America's allies.

First the secretary said at his regular news conference that the U.S. had in mind a security pact for Southeast Asia which would commit its members to fight if challenged openly by aggression, and referred specifically to the fighting clauses in the North Atlantic and Western Hemisphere treaties.

Use of Force

He said that if the three states of Indochina were members, it would be appropriate to use force to put down the fight now going on there.

Without referring to the possibility that this would bring direct Chinese Red intervention, he said nothing had happened in Indochina to change the "massive retaliation" policy announced some time ago.

That should not be taken to mean that the U.S. actually contemplates a general war in Asia. On the contrary, it is designed to keep the Chinese Reds out of Indochina even if there is direct "united front" intervention. And it makes clear that the administration is still not considering intervention except through such a united front.

Congress Decision

This puts the ultimate decision on intervention up to the congress, the people, and countries approached about the pact.

In this respect, the situation is vastly different from consideration of other military alliances into which the U.S. has recently entered for the first time in her history. They were designed solely as deterrents against aggression, in the hope that their mere existence would give pause to anyone about to start a war.

There is a specific contemplation of action as soon as the pact could become effective. In effect, the U.S. is asking other countries to join here in a war, not merely a mutual defense pact, unless in the meantime there is a break in the Geneva stalemate and some settlement of the Indochina fighting can be reached.

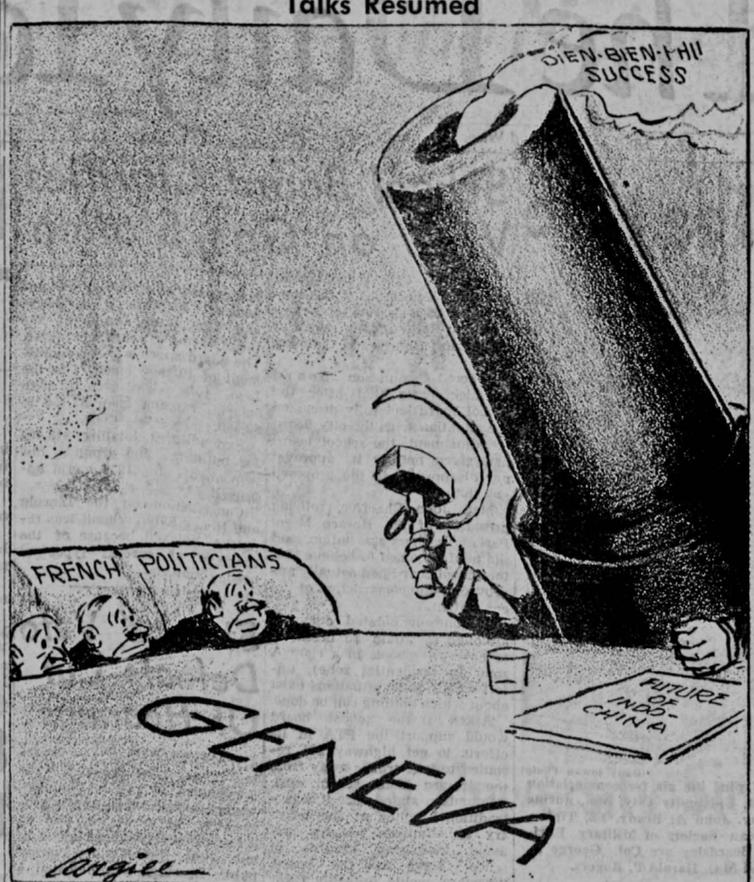

What Dulles is aiming for, of course, is creation of a situation where the communists could be pressured into a settlement, thus obviating the need for intervention. This possibility will depend almost entirely on how firmly the U.S. and the other nations face the eventualities if the pressure doesn't work.

Iowa Union's Music Room Has Large Record Collection

By JO MURRAY

A commerce student nods sleepily in the corner. A girl in a nurse's uniform studies on the couch. Across the room a music major diligently follows a score—the place is brimming with silent activity—silent, that is, except for the record which is currently spinning on the phonograph.

The Union music room, contrary to popular opinion, is not the gathering place for "long hairs." Average SUI students just interested in plain good music—like the commerce major or the nursing student—use the Union's unique music facilities every day.

Prof. Earl Harper, director of the Union, has insisted that scores be purchased for most of the major works included in the Union's collection of approximately 2,000 records. The score collection has grown each year and gives the music room a unique feature which is unmatched by any Union music room in the U.S.

Carnegie Donation

The Union music collection is chiefly a donation from Andrew Carnegie. Although many of the original records have been replaced by long playing records (and these in turn replaced by more long playing records as they wear out) a few of the Carnegie 78 rpm's are still on file in the music room.

Those which do remain and have not been re-issued by recording companies are growing in value as collector's items each year. Original cuts of Caruso and Chaliapin are among the prized possessions of the music room staff and users.

Although the Union buys from $100 to $400 worth of records per year the collection is growing at even a faster rate due to the many record donations the music room receives.

Harper said that every year a graduating senior comes into his office and offers the music room additional records in appreciation of the music room and its staff. Many university staff members also contribute to the collection.

"In order to arrive at an accurate figure as to the total value of the record collection it would be necessary to go back over books for the past 20 years," said Harper. "It is obviously impossible to do this, but I would estimate the actual cash value somewhere around $5,000. That includes all of the records bought over a period of 20 years plus the value of the collector's items," he added.

Special Collections

The music room's collection includes special collections such as Chinese, Indian and Hindu music. To return to the original scene, observe the drowsy commerce student as the hostess, who plays only records requested by students, casually places the needle on a Hindu classic. The effect is startling, especially if it is preceded by a restful work by Brahms.

Also included among the Union's special collections are dialogues such as T. S. Eliot's "Cocktail Party" and many of Shakespeare's works. Complete operas such as "Carmen," "La Boheme," "Tales of Hoffman," and many others can be found on the shelves of classical records.

Besides offering SUI students a restful spot, away from the wilds of hectic campus life, the Union music room presents two radio programs a week over WSUI. Three hostesses, whose duty is to serve the music room and the union browsing room, take turns presenting a half hour show of classical music every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. The programs, which are planned by hostesses, Mrs. William Meardon, Mrs. Thomas Henrehan, and Mrs. C. J. LeVois, originated 21 years ago.

New Music Room

Harper beamed as he discussed plans for the music room in the new union addition. He said the room will have one central speaker which will broadcast music from any of the three types of players which will be available: 1. the regulation disc record player, 2. a selective automatic player containing about 100 records and operating much as a jukebox, but without charge, 3. an instrument to play music which has been recorded on tape.

Hostesses, he said, will be on hand to operate the disc and the tape machines, but the selective player will always be available for operation by the students.

In addition to the three methods of record playing, Harper said that several soundproof booths will line the main music room. Each will be equipped with a record player for students who wish to bring their own records to the room for listening purposes.

The commerce student jumps and glances frantically at his watch as the first strains of Beethoven's Fifth symphony jolt him into reality. He grabs his books and dashes to class—just one of the many varied SUI students who spend their free time relaxing or studying, using the music facilities of the Iowa Memorial Union.

STRIKE BREAK SEEN

DES MOINES (AP)—A major break in the nine-day-old building trades strike here was seen Tuesday when the AFL laborers and carpenters unions signed new wage contracts with the Des Moines Masters Builders association.

MRS. WILLIAM MEARDON, Union hostess, prepares to play 1 of the 2,000 records in the Union music room collection while Eugene Wheeler, A2, Brooklyn, studies and waits to hear his selection. (Daily Iowan Photo)

1954 Economic Index Interpreted By Business Digest

It's on the downgrade so far—the line which Iowa Business Digest editors have sketched one-sixth of the way across their 1954 chart of Iowa's economic index, which is a composite measure of six "weighted" indicators of economic activity with seasonal adjustments.

Noting that "two months is too short a period to give a reliable indication of 1954 trends," the editor of the SUI monthly publication point out that, although the January, 1954 index was substantially the same as that for January, 1953, this February's index was slightly lower than that of a year ago.

Between January and February of this year three of the six indicators used in the index—manufacturing payrolls, bank debits (check transactions), and department store sales—showed gains while the other three series—cash farm income, power production and value of construction contracts—showed losses. The raw data was corrected for seasonal influences, the Digest reports.

The "Iowa Trends" weighs cash farm income as the most important single indicator in the economic index for the state, with bank debits, department store sales, manufacturing payrolls, power production and construction contracts following in that order, the editors explain.

But with the state's construction contracts more than doubling in March over February—up 118 per cent according to the raw data—and 61 per cent above the figure for March, 1953, the Digest editors assume that this indicator of business conditions should be one of the "up" factors when the economic index for March is computed.

Journalism Class Officer Primaries Set for Monday

Ballot nominations for sophomore, junior and senior journalism class officers will be conducted Monday, May 17 on the second floor of the communications center.

Under a revised system of electing class officers, ballot nominations will be held to narrow the field to four persons per class.

Post cards will be sent to members of the classes with names of the four persons nominated. The returns from the post cards will be tabulated to determine the class officers who will take office at the start of the 1954-55 school year.

Persons elected president of their journalism class automatically become officers of the Associated Students of Journalism. The president of the senior class becomes president of ASJ.

A ballot box will be set up in the main lobby on the second floor of the Communications Center.

'Coaches' Prime For Grid Tilt

Seek To Solve Age-Old Riddle

Iowa's golden-voiced radio men and the typewriter pounding giants of the newspapers will get an opportunity to answer one of their own long-debated questions here Saturday when they take over the coaching reins of the Iowa football team in the final intrasquad scrimmage.

For years the men of the mass media have battled over whether it's the line or the backfield which makes a team. Saturday they'll get their answer to some degree when they match signals as opposing coaches of the White and Black teams.

For when coach Forest Evashevski turned over his 1954 Hawkeyes to the journalists last Saturday for a player draft, the writers, coaching the White squad, quickly grabbed up Evy's tentative first team backfield and the radio men, heading the Blacks, selected five of seven starting linemen.

Both sides are confident as they get set to enter the battle between the writers' speedy backfield of Jerry Reichow, Eldon Matheson, Eddie Vincent and Binkey Broeder and the radio broadcasters' lumbering but savage line headed by all-American Calvin Jones, 235-pounder George Kress and Jim Freeman and others.

Fairly Even Split
Actually the 2 p.m. meeting in the stadium is as even a split of Hawkeye regulars as possible.

Forest Evashevski To Take Back Seat

The White team will boast six tentative starters and the Black five. The game will be open to the public with a $1 admission charged with all proceeds going to the scholarship and student aid fund. Students will be admitted upon presentation of the I.D. card but all other persons will pay $1. It is possible the crowd may exceed 7,000.

On paper, the Black team will hold a decided edge in the size department with its seasoned line with veterans at every position except left and averaging 209 pounds to the man. The Whites average 194 1/2.

Heading the giant Blacks are George Kress, guard, and Jim Freeman, end, who both tip the scales at 235 each. Rog Swedberg at 215 and Calvin Jones, 210, are the other big men in the Black line. The rest of that forward will include Bud Lawson, 200, at center; Jim Dick, freshman pass-catcher and 170-pounder at end; and George Assleson, 200-pounder at guard.

Meanwhile the biggest men the White line will boast are 210-pound sophomore Ken Meek and 205-pound Don Suchy, the rugged transfer center.

Gilliam, Cummins Back
The only regulars in that group will be the Hawks' top-pass-catcher of a year ago, Frank Gilliam, and tackle Cameron Cummins.

In the backfield the shoe is on the other foot as the Whites list Broeder and Vincent, No. 1 and 2 men in the yard-gaining department last fall; and Reichow, the Hawks' best pass-thrower.

The Black offensive power probably will center around Roger Wiegmann, the plunging fullback from Waverly who shared starting duties with Broeder last season.

Bannister Leaves England, Heads For New York City

LONDON (AP)—Roger Bannister, the medical student who broke the four-minute mile barrier, left for New York by plane Tuesday night where he will tell America's millions about the race on television and radio.

Bannister is making the trip at the request of the British Foreign Office. The 25-year old athlete said he would be back home Saturday "for the royal homecoming."

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh return Saturday with their two children after a round-the-world journey.

A spokesman for the British Information Office in New York said the runner would make his first scheduled TV appearance Wednesday night on CBS' "I've Got a Secret" program.

Two Foreign Office men, who accompanied Bannister to his plane, said U.S. television interests were paying for the trip's costs. They added that "Bannister has accepted an invitation at the request of the Foreign Office to appear in American television and radio programs."

"We thought it a good idea and a good publicity undertaking. He will talk on how he ran the 3:59.4 mile," Bannister will do no running while in the U.S.

Melbourne Cleared As Site for 1956 Olympic Contests

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The last obstacle was cleared Tuesday for holding the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia, when the International Olympic committee voted 30-13 to select a new site for equestrian events.

Australia has a six-month quarantine on imported horses which was seized by opponents of the Melbourne games as a lever to agitate for a new location for the entire sports program.

By agreeing to a new location for equestrian sports outside Australia, the International Olympic committee gave the green light to Melbourne to go ahead full blast with preparations for the games, which will be held in the Australian summer, Nov. 22-Dec. 8, 1956.

The International Equestrian federation has urged that the Olympic equestrian events be staged in a European city, and it appeared Stockholm and Brussels have the inside track.

The decision to let Melbourne go ahead with the 1956 games presumably puts an end to a long and vigorous argument that first started in 1951 when the Australian city was given the games because of inability of U.S. cities to agree among themselves.

Never before have the great games, which were revived in Athens in 1896, been held in the southern hemisphere.

Santee Vows Try At 4-Minute Mark

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Wes Santee, America's premier mile runner, says he is going to do his damndest to make his high school prophet look like a real seer.

And if he succeeds, he will have run the fastest mile ever, even though Roger Bannister of England beat him to the four-minute barrier.

The ever-confident University of Kansas senior recalled that it was at the 1950 Ashland, Kan., high school commencement, the class prophet said some day Wes would run the mile in 3:58.3.

That is 1.1 second faster than Bannister's amazing 3:59.4 mark made at Oxford, England, last Thursday.

At a meeting of the B'nai Brith lodge here Monday night, Santee told of the prophecy when he accepted a trophy designating him as "the greatest athlete of the year."

Santee praised Bannister's great mile race.

"Bannister is a great runner and I would like to challenge him and a couple of other great runners from Sweden to a first class foot race in California June 10 or 11," Santee said.

The Swedish runners, Ingvar Eriksson and Sune Karlsson, will run in the Compton, Calif., Relays June 4. It was at the Compton event last year that Santee ran his record American mile—4:02.4.

He Knows How To Handle Them

Don Waldron, One of Iowa's Top Hitters

Waldron Becomes Top Batter for Hawkeyes

By JOHN MEYER
After two years of mediocrity as a third baseman, Iowa's Don Waldron has blossomed into one of the Big Ten's top shortstops.

Forced to confine his activities to the Hawkeye diamond to sharing the hot corner duties during his freshman and sophomore years with veterans like Tom Stenger and Jack Hess at short, the former West Union high school star never reached his top effectiveness.

But now as a junior Waldron is back at his first love, shortstop, where he starred for West Union for two seasons and it's paying off for Coach Otto Vogel with healthy dividends.

Not only has the 21-year-old veteran been more at ease in the field where he played a part in four Iowa double plays in Big Ten games, but he also has developed into one of the Hawkeyes' top hitting regulars.

Now Hitting .317
After 18 games of the 1954 card Waldron is slapping opponent pitching at a healthy .317 clip—a figure he never approached in two previous seasons.

Possibly more surprising is the fact that Waldron, nicknamed "Bullet," has developed into a top slugger, surpassed at present by only one teammate, Ed Lindsey, hard-hitting left fielder, in the total base department. To date "Bullet" has rapped out seven of 20 of his hits for extra bases. That's three more extra base clouts than he tallied in his two previous seasons for Iowa.

In 18 games Waldron has slashed three homers, his first in college; one triple and three doubles. He made two homers in the first Purdue game.

The startling thing in his sudden burst of long range hitting is the fact that Waldron stands only 5-10 and weighs a mere 165 pounds. On the field "Bullet" has handled 82 chances with seven errors for a .913 fielding average.

Prior to this season, Waldron hit .278 in 1952 and .200 in 1953 after a miserable start that saw him stagger near the .100 mark. In extra base blows he netted only four doubles for both seasons.

Hopes for Pro Career
Waldron, who now lives in Washington, Ia., hopes to enter professional ball following graduation and a service hitch through the ROTC program. And if background means anything, he should be a cinch for the pro game as he already has two years of high school ball, three of college, and one season of summer play with the West Union town team, the Mason City team of the Iowa State league and Mitchell, S.D. of the Basin league.

The Iowa star, along with Lindsey, is slated to play with Mitchell again this season.

Rossie Kayoes Alvarez In 30 Seconds of 1st

Bob Rossie, Iowa graduate student in physical education who is making a professional fight comeback after a several-year layoff, flattened Ralph Alvarez in 30 seconds of the opening round of a preliminary bout in St. Paul, Minn. The fight was scheduled to go six rounds, and was Rossie's first since 1951.

Alvarez threw two left jabs, and Rossie countered with a left, then knocked out Alvarez with the next right he threw.

The two fighters fought to a draw in 1951. Rossie, former Golden Gloves champ and Iowa middleweight titleholder, will step into the ring again in the next few weeks against Billy Pinkus of Canada.

Giants Fight to 5-4 Victory; Washington Cools Detroit, 5-3

NEW YORK (AP)—Monte Irvin's booming triple scored Al Dark in the eighth inning to climax an uphill drive that gave the New York Giants a hard-earned 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday.

The victory was achieved at the expense of southpaw Fred Baczewski.

Baczewski started out well, permitting only one hit in the first four innings. Ted Kluszewski presented him with a 2-0 lead by hitting his 10th homer of the campaign with one on base in the first.

The Giants tied the score in the fifth, but the Reds moved in front again, 3-2 in the sixth and made it 4-2 in the seventh. The Giants tied the game once more in their half of the seventh, in which Willie Mays led off with his sixth homer of the season.

Porterfield Beats Tigers
DETROIT (AP)—Washington's Bob Porterfield cooled the league-leading Detroit Tigers with a strong four-hitter Tuesday and nailed down a 5-3 victory with a home run in the ninth inning.

Holding the Tigers hitless through the last 5 1/2 innings, the 29-year-old righthander posted his third victory of the season against two losses. Al Aber, who replaced starter Ralph Branca in the fifth inning, was the loser.

Washington scored the winning run in the eighth inning, snapping a 3-3 tie with the help of a defensive lapse by Detroit second baseman Frank Bolling.

With the bases loaded and one out, Washington's Ed Fitzgerald hit what appeared to be a simple inning-ending double play ball to Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn. Kuenn slipped the ball to Bolling but the Tiger rookie dropped it, allowing Roy Sievers to score from third with the tie-breaking run.

How they save money on cars

Sure, the prices of cars are up. But they'd probably be higher if it weren't for advertising. Both the dealer and the manufacturer use advertising as their low-cost way to get across news about their products.

Selling more goods this way makes mass production possible which means lower production costs, lower selling costs, lower prices than would otherwise occur.

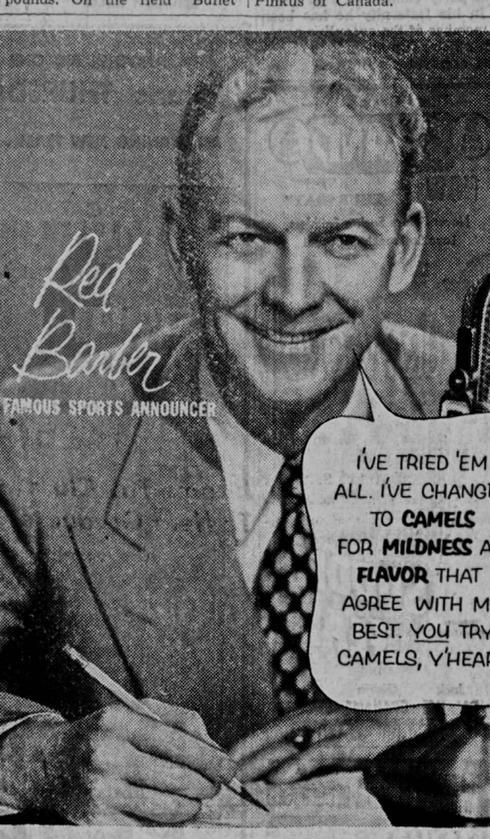

Yes, advertising is a low-cost selling method that helps keep your living costs down.

How the stars got started.

Red Barber says: "I was a student working my way through the University of Florida when I was asked to be substitute announcer on a farm program. That got me a job. In two years, I became chief announcer. My break in sports came in '34 when I broadcast Cincinnati Reds games. Been doing Major League play-by-play ever since!"

Stan Musial Heads Feet First Into Hall of Fame

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial's records possibly will be broken, although there is one which might stand as unique. He'll probably be the only baseball player to go into the Hall of Fame feet first.

That isn't as morbid as it sounds. It just means that "The Man's" shoes in which he became the first athlete in National league history to score 100 or more runs in 10 consecutive seasons have preceded him to Cooperstown.

But Already There
Recently the bat with which he set a mark of five home runs in a doubleheader was forwarded to the museum, and if this strip tease continues the ladies present had better make themselves absent. No telling

U-High To Play Golf Against Franklin Today
University high golfers will seek their third victory today at Finkbine course against Franklin high of Cedar Rapids. The meet starts at 3 p.m.

what will be next. The shoes, a rather battered, nondescript pair of dog kennels such as you might wear around the garden, if you liked spikes and had a garden, are pictured in the revised edition of the National Baseball Hall of Fame booklet.

Sid Keener, who directs the museum and once a first-class baseball writer at St. Louis, has done a fine job of the revision, from the standpoint of both text and pictures.

Booklet Is Historical
The booklet, by word and picture, offers a tabloid history of the national pastime. Naturally it can touch only the high spots of the exhibits at Cooperstown, but the pictures alone tell a vivid story, showing such diversified objects as the enshrined century-old baseball used by Abner Doubleday, and the one pitched by Cy Young in recording his 500th victory; the skintight Doubleday gloves of the 1870's, and the bat used by Babe Ruth to smack his 60th home run in 1927.

If you compile a tremendous record as a player, demonstrate integrity, sportsmanship and character, and are a team man, you might get your foot in the door. Musial, as mentioned, has both feet in.

Purpose of Dummy Rocket Explained

WARREN GERMAN, RIGHT, who is working with a naval rocket project at SUI, explains the purpose of a dummy rocket located on the lawn west of the Physics building to Bob Hornback, E2, Rock Island, Ill. German is on leave from Collins Radio Co. in Cedar Rapids to work on the project.

Senate Views $29 Billion Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) said Tuesday he will push for quick senate approval of more than $29 billion of defense funds to carry out President Eisenhower's "new look" for the nation's armed forces.

Despite Communist gains in Indochina and some protests by Democrats in congress, Ferguson said he expects senate passage of the new long military budget, which involves reductions in ground forces and emphasis on air power.

"We may restore some of the funds cut out by the house," said Ferguson, who is chairman of the senate appropriations subcommittee handling the biggest annual money bill.

Hannah Testifies

Asst. Secretary of Defense John Hannah was initial witness Tuesday as the Ferguson subcommittee began detailed hearings behind closed doors.

In his prepared statement, which was made public, Hannah referred to planned reduction in manpower of the army, navy and marines and expansion of air power in both the air forces and navy as the "security program for the long pull."

He said a cutback of about 280,000 military personnel during the fiscal year that begins July 1 would be met chiefly by ending many non-combat jobs for men in uniform and the elimination of three army divisions.

17 Divisions

This would cut the total divisions to 17 "compared to the 20 divisions we had during the Korean hostilities," he said.

Hannah said about 15,000 airmen and officers will be added during the fiscal year in order to "activate five more wings" by the end of June next year.

Some Democrats, including Sen. Burnet Maybank (SC), have sharply questioned the cut in ground forces.

Hannah said the most serious problem facing the armed forces is a sharp decline in re-enlistments at a time when the services are losing many men by expiration of enlistments.

Re-Enlistments Decrease

There has been a steady decrease in re-enlistments since the start of the Korean war in 1950, he said, with average rates for all services dropping from 59 to 31 per cent.

Hannah and other Pentagon leaders asked the senate to restore more than $371 million of new funds and 275 millions of previous appropriations slashed by the house. If granted most of these restorations would go to the air force.

The Eisenhower budget asked nearly 30 billions of new defense funds but the house cut this more than $1,200,000,000. It also rescinded authority to spend another $1,050,000,000 voted by congress, chiefly to meet Korean war costs.

Venus, Jupiter To Be Visible In Western Sky

Persons driving west on Iowa highways these spring evenings may be aware of a distant light moving along the road ahead of them. The light will be especially visible this week about 9:15 p.m. and again at 10:45 p.m.

The mysterious light, according to astronomy Prof. C. C. Wylie, will not be the result of a passing auto, but will be caused by the setting of the planets Venus and Jupiter respectively.

"Both Venus and Jupiter are so bright that when they are near the horizon they are sometimes mistaken for distant lights," Wylie explained. "A person driving west when either of the planets is near setting will see it as a light apparently keeping ahead of him."

Wylie said that drivers occasionally get excited when they see the mysterious lights, and one motorist even reported seeing a "flying saucer" which turned out to be Jupiter.

Norris Addresses Police Recruits

Thirty-one "rookie" policemen are taking part in a two-week police recruit school which started Monday at SUI and continues until May 22.

Tuesday, Dr. Albert S. Norris of the SUI Psychopathic hospital discussed the causes of mental illness and how persons afflicted with such illness might be expected to act.

Practical methods for the patrolman to follow in dealing with such cases were advanced by Norris and he pointed out methods by which the policeman could help such persons. He also warned the officers of the dangers involved in handling the different types of cases.

Spending 10 hours in class each day, the officers are learning the various aspects of police work, from methods of unarmed defense to the theory of criminal law.

Iowa City officers attending the course are Marvin Etheredge and James Guritz.

Besides the SUI faculty members, instructors in the course include representatives from municipal, state and federal law enforcement agencies.

Income Tax Class To Hear Graduate

Loyal E. Keir, a member of the law firm of Dickinson, Throckmorton, Keir, Parker and Mannheim, Des Moines, will appear before the Advanced Income Tax class in the SUI college of law this afternoon.

A 1938 graduate of the Iowa college of law, Keir will take part in a mock tax conference, one of the steps in attempting to settle a tax case. Such a conference is held between a representative of the internal revenue service and the taxpayer's attorney to see if they can settle their differences and avoid taking the case to the tax court.

In the class presentation Keir will take the part of the internal revenue representative and senior students R. T. McCarthy, Cedar Rapids, and L. G. Klein, Keota, will act as attorneys for the taxpayer.

Physics Department Prepares 'Dummy' Experimental Rocket

The rocket-looking affair on the west lawn of the Physics building is a dummy rocket used for experimental purposes, Prof. Melvin B. Gottlieb of the physics department, said Tuesday.

In the far north sometime this summer, Gottlieb said, rockets similar to this one will be fired into the atmosphere to gather data on cosmic rays.

On such an expedition last summer, he said, it was found that in the area of the Aurora Borealis there are rays which give reactions greater than any heretofore received.

The equipment now being prepared, Gottlieb continued, will deal specifically with those rays in the Aurora Borealis region.

After the rockets have been fired into the air, ground contact is maintained by radio equipment. The dummy on the Physics building lawn is used to synchronize senders and receivers which will be used in the experiment.

Gottlieb stated that the project is being conducted in conjunction with a department of the U.S. government, and that he was not allowed to give any specific details.

Teamsters Union Continues Strike

Fifteen teamsters union employees of three Iowa City transfer companies are continuing their strike for wage increases today. No new developments have been reported.

The firms involved in the strike are the Iowa City Transfer and Storage Co., Thompson Transfer Co., and Maher Bros.

The strikers began their walk-out Monday with their issues revolving around higher wages, a guaranteed 44-hour work week, and a controversial clause in a new contract which states that the union would not handle goods shipped by another company on strike.

According to Newton Margulies, attorney for the operators, this clause violates federal and state laws.

The union members want a 25 cent an hour raise in wages while the operators were only willing to offer 10 cents an hour increase.

SUI Nurse Invited To Speak, Consult

Prof. Amy Brown of medical nursing at SUI will be a lecturer and consultant next month at a nursing education workshop conducted by the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of the workshop, which is scheduled for June 11-22, will be to assist in the development of sound programs of clinical instruction in nursing education, Miss Brown said.

The course is intended to help head nurses, supervisors, clinical instructors, nursing educational directors, nursing instructors and other nursing personnel who participate in clinical education programs.

Miss Brown will direct a seminar on "The Improvement of Clinical Instruction Design and Plan." She also will present a paper on "Evaluation in Clinical Instruction Programs."

LABOR GROUP MEETS

DAVENPORT (AP)—Some 350 delegates to the 59th convention of the Iowa State Federation of Labor meeting here for their first full session Tuesday heard a call for increased political activity. Open Houses of City Hospitals To Be Today

University General and Children's hospitals and Mercy hospital will hold open house from 1 to 4 p.m. today in observance of National Hospital Day.

Visitors to University hospitals will be met by receptionists and guides at the tower lobby entrance, and tour will leave from there at intervals during the open-house hours.

Two newly designed and equipped areas, the pediatrics department and the rehabilitation center, will be shown to visitors.

Other areas included in the tour will be the X-ray department, nursery, cardiovascular laboratory, medical and surgical out-clinics, surgical offices; hospital pharmacy and the admissions area.

Visitors to Mercy hospital may witness a demonstration of the hospital's new baby-incubator in the hospital lobby. A 17-minute film, "House of Mercy," will be shown in the main dining room, where coffee and doughnuts will be served to visitors and employees.

Rita Burney Wins Short Story Contest

The winner of the Octave Thanet short story contest is Rita Burney, A3, Mt. Kisco, N. Y., it was announced Tuesday by Prof. Thomas Mabry, of the English department, who was one of the contest judges.

A prize of $50 will be given to Mrs. Burney for her story, "The Walrus Comes Ashore," a humorous treatment of the problems of self-identification in a society with false and superficial values.

The prize is given annually to an undergraduate writer at SUI by the Colonial Dames of America in the state of Iowa. It is administered by Miss Harriet Lake, Mt. Pleasant, and Mrs. Thomas Stampfer, Dubuque, in collaboration with the Writers' Workshop here.

Judges for the contest this year were Mabry and Prof. Hansford Martin of the English department and Prof. William Porter of the school of journalism.

8 Senior Cadets To Teach Classes In Air Science

Eight air force reserve officer seniors will conduct freshman classes this week, Col. George A. Bosch, professor and head of air science, has announced.

The eight seniors, speaking on "Strategic Role of the USAF," will take complete charge of the instruction for the day.

"We do this to give these selected men a chance to address a group and help further develop their leadership characteristics for the air force," Bosch explained.

This is the third time this year that the senior cadets have taken over the freshman classes. Approximately 30 men have participated in this leadership development program.

The following senior cadets will take part: David O. Wright, Onawa; Thomas E. Stanton, Greene; Robert W. Fisher, Cedar Rapids; Allan W. Matthias, Sac City; John H. Sanner, Anamosa; Richard G. Graalman, Ft. Dodge; James M. Kelly, Iowa City, and Donald A. Gyorog, Marysville, Wash.

Molotov Hammers Proposed Southeast Asia Security Pact

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov hammered at the proposed U.S. security pact in Southeast Asia Tuesday. The deadlocked Indochina peace talks were temporarily recessed.

Molotov described the proposed pact as "a new military bloc against the peoples of Southeast Asia" and said it was "in contradiction with the interests of peace."

Raised Question

The Soviet minister raised the question in a 19-nation meeting on the problem of unifying Korea. No signs of progress in settling the Korean question were discernible in Tuesday's session.

The discussion of an armistice for Indochina will be resumed Wednesday in a session of the Big Four, Red China, the three Associated States of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam and Vietnam representatives.

French Oppose Points

Earlier a French spokesman said his government was opposed to major points in the Communist-led Vietnam armistice plan for Indochina. But he said the French consider the Vietnam proposals, along with France's, as a basis for discussion.

The spokesman made clear the French had not rejected the Vietnam proposals, which the U.S. says are designed to hand over Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia to eventual Communist control.

Comment on Speech

British and American spokesmen, commenting on Molotov's speech to the conference on Korea Tuesday, saw nothing which would help move the Korean talks out of the almost hopeless stage to which they have descended.

The Communists from the outset have rejected any supervised elections in North Korea and insisted on Soviet-style voting. Molotov supported this position again Tuesday.

The official American spokesman said the speech was "right out of the archives. It has been delivered on innumerable occasions by Mr. Molotov himself, and also by Mr. Chou En-lai, Red Chinese foreign minister. It is full of tired adjectives."

U.S. Business Elite To Be Discussed By Anthropologist

"The American Business Elite" will be the subject of anthropologist W. Lloyd Warner's lecture Thursday evening at SUU.

The University of Chicago pioneer in exploring how Americans move from one social status to another will bring to the Shambaugh lecture room at 8 p.m. his findings from a three-year study of 8,000 business leaders.

Author of "Social Class in America," "Democracy in Jonesville" and "American Life: Dream and Reality" Professor Wagner began his study of mankind with three years among the Stone Age people of remote parts of north Australia. Then he began to apply anthropological methods of research to analyze social mobility and social class in American cities.

"From the beginning of the research on America I was struck with the basic similarities between the meanings and functions of American myth and ceremony and those of aboriginal Australia," Warner writes in his preface to "American Life: Dream and Reality."

A few pages in the same book give some preview as to the nature of his lecture in the SUU sociology colloquium series. Warner says that the successful executive gets his satisfaction from a series of immediate accomplishments rather than from hope of glory or increased social status.

500 Men 'Riot' At U. of Nebraska

LINCOLN, Nebr. (AP)—University of Nebraska men students, estimated to number 500, shouted down and watered down Chancellor John Selleck and Student Affairs Dean J. P. Colbert Monday night in a "spring riot."

Using ladders and water hoses and with some throwing stones, the students attempted a mass storming of women's dormitories and lit bonfires in the streets. A few managed to get into the dormitories and make off with feminine underwear before being ousted by campus police.

When Selleck and Colbert, with Assistant Dean Frank Hallgren, attempted to quiet the boisterous throng they were shouted down, doused with water and festooned with toilet paper.

Selleck, located later in the midst of the milling students, passed off the dousing with the comment, "I see nothing wrong has happened. As long as the students behave themselves they can have a good time."

Beardsley, Tandy Welcomed to Iowa City

GOV. WILLIAM S. BEARDSLEY is interviewed by reporter Ben Silver, G. Riverdale, N.Y., as officials greet him on his arrival at the Iowa City airport Tuesday morning. Beardsley, accompanied by Maj. Gen. Fred Tandy, left, adjutant-general of the Iowa national guard, inspected SUI army and air force training corps at the annual Governor's day celebration. Welcoming the governor were, second from left to right, Col. Walter E. Sewell, professor and head of military science and tactics; Provost Harvey Davis, and Col. George A. Bosch, professor and head of the air science department.

2 Charged in Attempt To Extort $200,000

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Two brothers were arrested and charged Tuesday in a bizarre extortion plot to collect $200,000 from 20 of Dallas' top Jewish families.

The plot backfired Monday night when FBI agents swarmed upon one of the brothers as he skidded down a muddy railroad embankment toward a package supposedly containing the $200,000.

Those charged are James Hollis Jones, 49, former oil driller and lease broker of Dallas, and Ralph Franklin Jones, 42, former oil field worker of Houston.

Shot Fired

The Dallas man, the FBI said, tried to shoot his way out of the trap, firing one shot, which went wild.

The younger brother later surrendered voluntarily, officers said.

They were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner W. Madden Hill on charges of using the mails to extort a "sum of money" and threatening harm to those addressed. Their bond was set at $25,000 each.

$25,000 Bond Set

James Hollis Jones also was charged with assaulting a federal officer, and his bond on that charge was set at another $25,000.

The arrest capped a two-week-long vigil of terror for the 20 families which had been threatened with death or injury by dynamite, gunfire and acid unless they paid off the extortionist.

Principal target of the fantastic plot was Julius Schepps, wealthy liquor wholesaler and Dallas civic leader.

Short Course Opens For Laundry Workers

Warm, friendly understanding in their work with the emotionally disturbed was asked Tuesday of 20 representatives of Iowa institutional laundries by Prof. W. W. Morris of medical psychology at SUU.

"You supervisors should keep in mind that you work longer hours and frequently more closely with these patients than even the doctors and nurses do in the hospital situation," Morris told the laundry personnel, participants in Tuesday's sessions of the two-day laundry short course on the university campus.

Individual peculiarities of mental patients express themselves in extreme forms of behavior which "most of us find difficult to understand in working with such patients in a work situation," he said. "If I were to pick out the single set of factors which most emotionally disturbed patients need more than anything else, I would select warm, friendly, sympathetic, kindly understanding."

Petroleum Company To Give SUI $750 Geology Scholarship

SUI has been selected as one of 17 universities and colleges over the nation at which a $750 Magnolia Petroleum company geology scholarship for the school year 1954-1955 will be placed, according to an announcement made by J. L. Latimer, company president.

This will be the third year that the University has participated in the Magnolia scholarships. Any student of geology entering his senior year next fall is eligible for this grant, and the recipient will be selected jointly by the university and the company.

The award will be paid to the student in accordance with the university's established scholarship policies. Acceptance of the scholarship does not obligate the student to work for Magnolia or for the company to employ him after graduation. The grants are achievement awards to reward outstanding students and encourage them to complete their undergraduate work.

Political Scientists Elect SUI Graduate

Herman H. Trachsel, who received his M.A. and Ph.D. in political science at Iowa in 1925 and 1926, and served on the staff here is the new president of the Western association of Political Scientists.

The association recently held its annual convention at Oregon State college.

Trachsel was graduated from Iowa State Teachers college in 1924. After receiving his advanced degrees at SUI he was an instructor and later an associate professor in the political science department.

He is presently head of the political science department at the University of Wyoming. He was a professor and head of the political science department at the University of South Dakota from the time he left SUI until he went to Wyoming in 1948.

Money Approval Asked By Power Companies

WASHINGTON (AP) A senate appropriations subcommittee was asked Tuesday to approve money to build a federal transmission line to carry Missouri river power into western Minnesota.

Representatives of 20 Minnesota rural electric co-operatives and three private power companies urged that the committee approve house action allowing $3 million towards construction of a 230,000 volt line from Big Bend, S. D., to Granite Falls, Minn.
