Engineering Lounge To Be Ready Monday

By JOHN SEAY

When a 1935 graduate of the SUI college of engineering walked into the engineering library several weeks ago, Miss Norma Englert, library assistant, grabbed him by the arm.

"Come here," she said, "I want to show you something."

She took him across the hall to room 103.

"Well, I'll be . . ." the graduate said, "We were trying to get this when I was in school."

He was referring to a dream the engineers have had for a long time. A dream of a lounge for engineering students and faculty.

Dream Come True

Now that dream has come true, said Don Young, E2, Waterloo, chairman of the lounge committee, and we hope to officially open the lounge Monday.

But behind the lounge lies a great deal of work done by the engineering students themselves.

In 1953, a lounge committee with Young as chairman began to work on plans for the proposed lounge. The committee decided to finance the venture by private student funds, and a drive was started for pledges among the engineering students, faculty, and friends. Within a week a total of $565 had been pledged.

Impressed With List

This list was shown to the SUI finance committee, Young said, and they were so impressed that they voted to appropriate $3,000 for remodeling room 103 of the Engineering building, and $2,600 for furnishings.

Combined with the pledges, this was a total of $6,165 the lounge committee could spend.

Construction began March 15, 1954, and all work has been done by SUI physical plant personnel. Construction is expected to be completed Saturday and if so, a grand opening will be held Monday.

Use Redwood Panel

The walls of the lounge will be of Redwood panel in driftwood color, Young said. Vinyl tile of a cocoa brown color will be on the floor, he continued, and the ceiling will have an off-white acoustic tile.

Sofas of natural birch with cantilever construction (that is, no front legs) will be built along the walls, he said. They will be from six to eight feet long.

The interior decorating, Young said, was done by the McKenzie company, Cedar Rapids.

Ex-Student Designs Plans

A great deal of credit, Young said, should go to Nick Zographos, A4, who designed the plans for the lounge. Zographos is a former engineering student who changed to architectural design, but he was so interested in the lounge, Young said, that he still had an active part in it.

The lounge will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Young said, and will be used by students, faculty, and organizations. There will be a radio and magazines available, he added, and before too long, a TV set.

The lounge committee is made up of Young, Jack Kilbey, E4, Dubuque; Richard Hoover, E4, Robins; James Beverlin, E4, Iowa City; Francis Wallace E4, Iowa City; Jack Detrick, E4, Vinton; Richard Dickson, E4, Ottumwa; and Marvin Sedlacek, E4, Fairfax.

Among the newly-built installations which will be shown to visitors is a radio recording studio.

Local Group To Submit Tax Revision

Recommendations for revisions in the tax bill now before the senate finance committee will be sent to Iowa's congressmen by the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, according to chamber manager Keith Kafer.

The recommendations were made Wednesday morning by the chamber's legislative committee, headed by Norman Shaffer.

The committee, designed to analyze and criticize current legislation by congress, requested that no further increase in personal income tax exemptions be made. The group is also opposed to any increase in the national debt limit, now set at $275 billion. President Eisenhower recently asked congress to raise the ceiling to $290 billion.

3 Bills Considered

The committee also considered three other bills, housing, social security and farm commodity price supports, but did not make recommendations.

The housing bill, which is now in senate committee, is agreeable to the legislative committee, Kafer said, if it is passed with flexible mortgage interest rates determined by the President.

The bill originated in the house with a mortgage interest to be set by law at 4 1/2 per cent. The senate struck this out and put in flexible rates which the legislative committee believes essential to stimulate building. It now goes back to the house for approval.

Discusses Bill

The chamber of Commerce committee also discussed the Curtis social security bill, now in the house ways and means committee, which calls for universal coverage and increased benefits from $25 to $45 monthly.

The committee favors these changes, but with retention of the $85 maximum monthly payment and the current 1 1/2 per cent contribution.

Journalism School Visitors To See Prize Book Display

Prize winning books designed, printed and published by Prof. Carroll Coleman, SUI typographer, will be featured at the new Communication Center's open house today.

Open house visitors will be able to view the Coleman display, and exhibits and displays of the school of journalism activities and student work from 3 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. today. Guided tours are scheduled to start every 10 minutes.

Dulles Remarks to Geneva

The state department cabled to the American delegation at Geneva and the U.S. embassy in Paris the full text of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' news conference remarks Tuesday about Indochina. The unusual action was taken in an effort to reassure the French government that the U.S. has not written off Indochina to the Reds.

Viet Nam Demands Peace in Indochina Without Partition

GENEVA (P)—The state of Viet Nam, torn by war for nearly eight years, demanded peace Wednesday — but without a Korea-like partition of the country.

The Vietnamese proposals had the sympathy if not the 100 per cent approval of the non-Communist states represented at the nine-nation Indonesian conference. But they appeared to fall on deaf ears in the Communist bloc.

Red China's Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, principal speaker Wednesday for the east, devoted most of his talk to an attack on the United States. He ignored any armistice proposals except those advanced by the Communist Vietnam delegation. They are unacceptable to the west.

Nguyen Quoc Dinh, Vietnamese foreign minister, in presenting his plan for a military settlement, said "they must not lead to a direct or indirect, definite or provisional, partition of the national territory de facto or de jure."

The thousands of words exchanged in the session brought peace in Indochina no closer.

Adams Claims White House Backing For Army's Challenge To McCarthy

Won't Modify Security Plan, Ike Declares

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday he had some sleepless nights over wartime leaks and there is nothing that ever would get him to agree to releasing some government information.

Yet, the President told a news conference, more often than not he is on the side of giving out more information.

What it seemed to add up to was that Eisenhower apparently has no intention of modifying further the restrictions clamped on release of security information during the Truman administration.

Newsmen Mentions McCarthy.

Douglass Cater, of The Reporter magazine, noted at the news conference that Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) "has attacked your executive order maintaining the secrecy of security files or the files dealing with security matters, as well as the members of the board."

Cater did not specify what board he had in mind, but presumably he referred to McCarthy's charges that some members of an army loyalty review board had Communist connections.

Cater asked the President to "give us your thinking behind that order as to why that information should be kept from members of the congress."

Eisenhower replied that certain secrets should be given only to those who absolutely need them in making their decisions.

Don't Write Off Indochina

Eisenhower also said Wednesday that the free world should not write off Indochina to the Communists and he warned against long faces and defeatism in dealing with the conflict.

At the news conference the President also declared that he most certainly hopes that the three Indochinese states of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam will voluntarily join with the United States and other interested nations in forming a southeast Asian defense alliance.

There was this other development bearing on administration efforts to carry forward its policies for handling the Indochina war and the Red threat to southeast Asia generally:

Chosen on Applications

The five winners of the $750 scholarships for the 1954-55 school year were selected on the basis of their applications, their high school records, and personal interviews and tests given at the university campus to 16 high school seniors chosen as finalists from the original field of candidates nominated early this spring.

To qualify for renewal of the award during their university careers, winners must maintain at least a "B" average scholastically and continue athletic participation.

Bloomquist has been a regular on football, basketball and track teams at East high, Waterloo, for the past two years, was named on the Big Six all-conference football team both years, and last year was chosen on the Iowa Daily Press association and Des Moines Register all-state football teams. He was also named to the Scholastic Press High School all-American football squad.

Transferred to Fairfield

Jenkinson attended West high

Cedar Rapids Man Charged in Beating

An 81-year-old Cedar Rapids man, Fred Wentz, was charged with assault with intent to commit murder Wednesday. He is accused of the brutal beating of four-year-old Roger White also of Cedar Rapids.

The boy was reported in "good condition" Wednesday night after undergoing a two hour operation in University hospital.

Hospital officials said the boy suffered a fracture from the top of his head to the base of his skull as well as five serious cuts.

Wentz is accused of attacking the boy with a two and a half foot steel pipe when he found him playing in his garden.

There is no evidence of any brain damage or physical impairment the hospital officials reported.

Adams Testifies at Hearing

ARMY COUNSELOR JOHN ADAMS testified Wednesday as the opening witness on the 15th day of the McCarthy-army hearing. Adams said Senator McCarthy once told him G. David Schine was "not much use" to the McCarthy subcommittee and McCarthy hoped Schine would be drafted.

5 Prep Seniors Get Kinnick Scholarships

Nile Kinnick memorial scholarships to SUI for the 1954-55 school year have been awarded to five Iowa high school seniors, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Wednesday.

The scholarship winners are Frank Bloomquist, East high school, Waterloo; Jerry Jenkinson, Fairfield high school; Delmar Kloefer, Manilla high school; Eugene Veit, Lyons high school, Clinton, and Jim Young, West high school, Waterloo.

Scholar-athletes are named for the awards each year as a memorial to the late Nile Kinnick, Adel, and other SUI men who died in World War II. Established by the Iowa State Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1945, the scholarships were made possible through contributions of alumni and friends of the university and of Kinnick.

Won All-State Honors

This year the Lyons football quarterback won all-state honors on the Iowa Daily Press association and Des Moines Register football teams, was named to the WMT Collegiate Honor roll, and was chosen a first-team back of the all-conference team.

The valedictorian of the senior class at West high school, Waterloo, Jim Young, completes the roster of 1954-55 Kinnick scholars. Young has achieved a straight A average to date in his high school years, is president of the student body this year, was elected governor of Hawkeye Boys State in 1953 and attended Boys Nation in Washington, D.C. as a delegate.

Wednesday's testimony went to the heart of the army's charge that McCarthy and aides sought by improper means to get favored treatment for Schine. The McCarthy camp counter-charged that army officials used Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to block an investigation of alleged Communist infiltration.

Applications Due Monday for Iowan Business Manager

The business manager of The Daily Iowan for the period from June 7 to October 1, 1954, will be named at a meeting of the Board of Trustees, Student Publications, Inc., to be held Thursday, May 20, at 3:10 p.m. in room 205 Communications Center.

Applications in writing are to be turned in to the school of journalism office, 205 Communications Center, on or before 5 p.m. Monday, May 17.

Applicants should be in good standing in the university. The successful applicant will be limited to four hours academic work during the summer session.

Blasts Cohn's Fiery Tactics Aiding Schine

WASHINGTON (P)—John G. Adams, army counselor, testified Wednesday the army took the fateful first step toward its challenge to Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) at the suggestion of President Eisenhower's chief assistant.

Adams, counsel to the army, said Sherman Adams of the White House staff advised him last Jan. 21, to prepare a written record of the army's troubles with McCarthy's office over draftee G. David Schine.

As the army lawyer described it, this record—proposed at a meeting of top-level administration officials in the office of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell—grew into a published report which triggered the flaming controversy now being aired before TV cameras.

Rattles Off Names, Dates

Testifying all day and rattling off names and dates at a sometimes dizzying rate, Adams named McCarthy Chief Counsel Roy M. Cohn as the villain of the piece—as a man so powerful he could and did spout abuse and "obscene language" at Adams, and even at McCarthy himself.

Besides claiming White House backing at the start of this row with McCarthy, Adams made these other main contentions:

1. Cohn subjected him to more pressure and "abuse" to get favored treatment for Schine than all of Capitol Hill together ever put on him on all other matters in five years at the Pentagon.

Carr Spoke for Cohn

2. McCarthy aide Francis P. Carr told him time and again—speaking for Cohn, not on his own behalf—the army would bring two years of investigations and other trouble on itself if it failed to knuckle under to Cohn and give Schine a New York assignment.

3. McCarthy was glad to get rid of Schine, a subcommittee consultant, when the rich young New Yorker was drafted—but was goaded by Cohn into seeking special assignments for Schine once the youth was in uniform.

4. Columnist George Sokolsky repeatedly promised he'd have McCarthy's investigation of the army stopped if Cohn got his way on Schine's assignment.

Adams said he was referred to Sokolsky by McCarthy aide Carr and, on one occasion, by Cohn himself. Sokolsky could not be reached for comment.

Tells of Luncheon

Adams gave, among a host of other things, an eyewitness report of a luncheon meeting at which Cohn, he said, vowed that if Schine got an overseas assignment it would "wreck the army" and Stevens would be "through as secretary of the army."

Wednesday's testimony went to the heart of the army's charge that McCarthy and aides sought by improper means to get favored treatment for Schine. The McCarthy camp counter-charged that army officials used Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to block an investigation of alleged Communist infiltration.

Adams said the Jan. 21 meeting with Brownell, Sherman Adams and others was held because the McCarthy committee was demanding the army produce members of its loyalty-security screening board for questioning.

Violates Presidential Orders

The army counsel said he was sure this would violate presidential directives, and he said he wanted Justice department backing for his stand.

At the meeting, Adams testified, were Brownell and Sherman Adams; presidential aide Gerald Morgan; Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., head of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations; and Deputy Atty. Gen. William Rogers.

Adams said he told the group that the demand for production of the board members "seemed to be related to Cohn's anger over Schine." And he said he gave a long history of "pressure" by Cohn on behalf of the ex-committee aide.

Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to express opinions in letters to the Editor. All letters must include handwritten signatures and addresses — typewritten signatures are not acceptable. Letters become the property of The Daily Iowan. The Iowan reserves the right to shorten, select representative letters when many on the same subject are received, or withhold letters. Contributors are limited to not more than two letters in any 30-day period, and should limit their letters to 300 words or less. Opinions expressed do not necessarily represent those of The Daily Iowan.

TO THE EDITOR:
Unfortunately my attention was called to a letter written by Darold Powers, A2, printed in Tuesday's Iowan. It is unfortunate for both of us, as I will have to waste my time attempting to bridge a fissure that exists even after two years of "education," as evidenced by the distorted and tainted garble of this clogged sophomore. It is unfortunate for Mr. Powers in that this time will not be devoted to the amassing of pecuniary assets to enable me to aid him on his vacillating journey through A3 and 4.

I should first say in answer to the question that was posed to Mr. Lyles (who is the perpetrator of this diabolic scheme to destroy humanity) that I agree after reading Mr. Powers' letter, the $156 price tag that is placed upon man's cultural evaluation is, in Mr. Powers' instance, definitely out of proportion to the benefits received.

My point is this Mr. Powers. Throughout your letter you failed to make any identification between the taxpayer and the student. Imagine Mr. Powers, a tax-paying student! I surmise that this was a normal misconception for you to labor under, for after reading your letter, it is evident that experience was your only teacher. Unfortunately for me however, this is not an extinct animal, for I was given the "opportunity" to pay a healthy glob of both tuition and taxes this year. Now theoretically it should not matter much to me where the old stuff goes, to a raise in tuition, or a raise in the tax rate. But what would happen if they raised the tuition? I'll have to pay more for my education and you, of necessity will also pay more tuition. Who receives the benefits? You and I, Mr. Powers; just you and I. If you "inwardly feel" that "humanity" is the recipient, you are in possession of a much higher opinion of yourself than I have of you.

What happens if the tax rate is raised to support educational institutions? Then I start paying for your education too. And one of these days, if perchance the books don't balance because my taxes are too high, I'm forced to quit school. So I go out, start working, and become the guy who has a job and gets his education via television. My taxes stay the same Mr. Powers, cause you're still here in school getting your education from the horses' mouth and I just don't like that at all.

Pay your own way Mr. Powers. I'll be darned if I owe you an education and I don't believe the rest of the taxpayers do either. Your ideas are infected with a principle that has been prevalent in our country for the past 20-odd years.

Longshoremens' Unio Faces Fines, Jail

NEW YORK (AP) — Fines totaling $92,500 have been added to the woes of the old International Longshoremen's association, now locked in a life struggle for control of dock workers in the Port of New York.

The fines, plus jail sentences for three ILA local officials, stem from March 5 to April 2. They were imposed Tuesday night by Federal Judge Harold P. Burke shortly after a jury decided the union had violated a no-strike injunction and was guilty of criminal contempt.

The penalties were far less than those asked by the national labor relations board, which brought court action against the union. The board asked a $25,000 fine for the parent ILA for each day of the month-long strike and $100,000 fines against eight of its locals.

Defense attorneys announced they would appeal the case today. The strike flared up in the midst of tense rivalry between the old union, which had long held firm control over dock workers, and a new ILA set up by the AFL. Overthrow of the old ILA was sought by the AFL after it kicked out the union and revoked its AFL charter last September on grounds that it was dominated by racketeers.

Conditions of Jews Told by Bargebuhr

By WES PIPPERT
The Jewish student in this country, as well as the typical American student, enjoys a highly varied campus life which offers him broad opportunities to satisfy his intellectual and social needs. He may scarcely realize the hardships and wants of students in other countries.

These were the observations this week of Prof. Frederick Bargebuhr, of the school of religion on the eve of the Jewish student welfare campaign at SUI from May 16 to 22.

Bargebuhr described Jewish communities in the underdeveloped parts of North Africa where a hostile majority forces them to live in the squalid "mellah" quarters. Parents are forced to send their three and four-year-old children into the streets as peddlars of shoelaces or shoeblacks. No day, no hour, no cent can be spared for schooling, and the children will live their lives as unskilled laborers.

Camps Remain
There are still tents in camps in Germany and Israel where the survivors of the Hitler regime expect to spend their remaining days. Among them are young people of college age with the intellectual capacity to be trained for the professions. More than half of the Jewish people were wiped out by the Nazis, Bargebuhr said.

There are Jewish organizations like the ORT (Organization of Rehabilitation and Training) which have offered technical training to students during the last quarter-century.

Israel, the only place of refuge for the large, homeless numbers of European Jews, is a country that had been neglected for centuries and had no technological tradition whatsoever until modern reconstruction began about 30 years ago.

Educating Young
The two main colleges in Israel, the Haifa Technological Institute and the Hebrew university in Jerusalem, have educated the first generation of young Israelis to make Palestine of old an outpost of modern Western civilization.

However, owing to the tremendous influx of displaced persons—every second person has come to Israel within the last year or two—the facilities of these schools have been strained and taxed beyond capacity.

Ports, irrigation and drainage projects, a textile and a metal industry and electric plants have been built from practically nothing by young people trained in the new Israel who are recovering slowly from memories of persecution.

Funds collected on this campus during the welfare campaign will be used to aid schools and organizations to further the education and resettlement of the Jewish state.

Group Honors SUI Teacher

Prof. Carrie E. Stanley, who has helped SUI students with their writing problems since 1920, is cited as an outstanding English teacher in the May issue of the Iowa English Bulletin, official publication of the Iowa association of teachers of English.

Miss Stanley taught in an Adams county one-room school and in Lamoni and Marshalltown high schools before joining the SUI English department, where she is credited with developing its widely "studied and imitated" writing clinic, the Bulletin reports below its heading of a mimeographed orchid. The Bulletin points out that "Miss Stanley's outstanding quality has been her ability to make students want to do better work than they have ever thought possible."

A major part of the new issue of the Iowa English Bulletin is devoted to brief descriptions of freshman English programs in Iowa colleges and universities.

PICKETING STARTS
Picketing started Wednesday at three Iowa City transfer companies, in the strike of 15 employees of the firms, and will continue until the strike is settled, according to Melvin Smith, business agent for Local 238 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers, A.F. of L. Iowa City Transfer and Storage Co., Maher Bros., and Thompson Transfer and Storage Co., are the three firms affected by the strike.

State Police Administer Car Check

STATE HIGHWAY PATROLMAN Richard Reddick checks equipment on a car which he stopped on Riverside drive Wednesday afternoon. This checking is part of a state-wide check on faulty car equipment and out of date drivers licenses and registrations. The same type inspection is to be held four times this month at unannounced places and dates. If minor repairs are needed, a ticket is given which must be mailed to the state police when the car is repaired. Court summons are issued in the case of more serious repairs and violations.

Works by four SUI composers will be performed Saturday and Sunday in the 1954 midwest student composers symposium at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Student composers from SUI, Michigan, the University of Illinois and Indiana university will be represented at the symposium, to which SUI was host last year. The University of Michigan symphony orchestra will perform two movements of William T. Gower's, G. Iowa City, "Suite for Brass Choir" during a public concert Sunday as one of four orchestral works representative of each participating institution.

Other student composers who will have works performed at the symposium, Saturday include Charles Hoag, A4, Davenport, Abram Plum, G, Oskaloosa, and James Waery Jr., A3, Iowa City.

Hoag's composition, "Sonatina for String Bass and Piano," will be performed by Hoag and pianist Alan Rea, A4, Iowa City. Rea will also perform Hoag's "Piano Sonata."

"Trio for Flute, Violin and Viola," by composer Plum, will be played by Gower as flutist; Evangelia Thomas, A4, Cedar Rapids, violinist; and violist Claude Carlson, an instructor in the music department.

Local Naval Reserve Division Offers Electronics Training

By IRA KAPENSTEIN
Every Monday night at 7:30 the navy blues invade the attic of the SUI engineering building. Under the direction of Prof. Robert L. Van Horne, pharmacy department, lieutenant and commanding officer, the United States naval reserve, electronics division 9-3, meets for its weekly training session.

The local electronics division was established as a pay unit in the naval reserve in November, 1953, and has existed in Iowa City since 1948. According to Van Horne its main object is "to train naval reservists for better specialization in their training field."

Either Navy veterans or men between the ages of 17 and 18½ are eligible to join the reserve and of the 36 enlisted men and seven officers attached to the local unit, over 60 per cent are connected with the university as faculty members or students.

All navy veterans are automatically in the reserve and are required to serve a total of eight years. The electronics division is one way of discharging this service while gaining credit towards promotion and retirement.

Van Horne pointed out that the unit may be of particular interest to freshman and sophomore college students within the age group. If the student is called for the draft he has the option of choosing naval service and while at school he may be excused from ROTC if he has not registered for military training.

High school students and high school graduates within the age limit are also eligible to join the group.

The Reserve Officers corps, a part of the unit, was begun two years ago. Since then there have been four graduates and at present there are six students participating in the program. Students joining the corps take two summer cruises, two months each summer with pay, in addition to the weekly training sessions and upon graduation from the university receive an ensign rating in the navy.

"The navy trains by doing," Van Horne stated, and pointed out that the student has an opportunity to learn a vocation or avocation through this program in the radio electronics, radar and television.

The training program includes lectures, illustrated movies, group participation and some military instruction.

Uniforms are furnished and are worn at drill periods. In terms of preparation, Van Hone commented that it usually will not take the trainee more than two hours a week. For two hours of work a full day's pay

Hobson Conducts—

Choral Groups Perform

By DRAKE MABRY

The SUI mixed chorus and chamber singers, performing in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union Wednesday night, presented a concert of vocal music that ranged from the light and happy to the more serious religious music.

It is difficult to pick any one number that was performed better than any other number on the program. But our vote goes to the chamber singer's version of Benjamin Britten's "Rejoice in the Lamb," and James Niblock's "Vanity of Vanities."

"Rejoice in the Lamb" is a difficult number that demanded the best of performers. Judy Templeman did an outstanding job on her contralto solo. She has a pleasing voice. Rolando Ringo, soprano, Robert Borg, tenor, and Harry Morrison, baritone, also had solo spots in the number.

Hobson Conducts

Stephen Hobson conducted the chamber singers in the place of Prof. Herald Stark, regular conductor of the mixed chorus.

Malcolm Westly accompanied the chamber group on the organ. Some interesting and enjoyable sounds resulted from this combination.

"Vanity of Vanities" was written by James Niblock, who is working on a Ph.D. in composition in the SUI school of music. His work is a stately sort of thing, making full use of the brass ensemble to bring out the power of the mixed chorus.

Gall Kubik's "Tee Roo" ran a close second for top honors in the concert. This is another difficult number, but none the less capably performed by the chorus. Conductor Herald Stark was the guiding hand through the tune.

Other Numbers Outstanding
Other outstanding numbers were "I Am the Rose of Sharon" by William Billings and "Tree of Sorrow" by Carlos Chavez. In its entirety, the concert was an enjoyable experience for the audience of approximately 500 people, which is the usual reaction to SUI's many and varied musical groups.

is given, he added.
If a navy veteran remains active in the reserve for 20 years, attends meetings and goes on the required cruises he may retire at 60 on regular retirement pay.
The station is equipped with various types of training aids and electronic equipment including sending and receiving sets that are sufficient to transmit and receive messages from other naval reserve units and district headquarters at Great Lakes, Ill.

Vogel Elected To Helms Hall Of Fame

Otto H. Vogel, coach of the Iowa baseball team for 27 years, has been elected to the Helms Hall College Baseball Hall of Fame.

He is one of twenty college coaches named to the Hall of Fame by the Helms Athletic Foundation of Los Angeles, Calif. The Hall of Fame was instituted this spring by the organization.

Coach Vogel has directed the sport since 1925 at Iowa, except for three seasons during World War II when he was a naval officer. His career mark to 1954 is 357 won, 234 lost and 7 tied for .602. The Big Ten record is 140 wins, 114 defeats and 1 tie for .564.

Vogel-coached Iowa teams tied for the conference championship in 1927, 1938, 1942 and 1949 and won a clear title in 1939. Hawkeyes were second in 1941 and 1929 and third four times.

Since he came to Iowa, the teams hold third place in a composite Big Ten standing, behind Michigan and Illinois. The best Iowa complete seasons were 1940, 20-3; 1939, 19-5, and 1941, 22-6.

The Iowa coach is the author of a book, "The Ins and Outs of Baseball," published in 1951. He is the past president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches.

Vogel is one of three men now coaching Big Ten baseball picked for the Hall of Fame. Others are John Kobs, 29 years at Michigan State, and Ray Fisher, 34 years at Michigan.

Selection was made by a board of six Los Angeles newspaper men and two officials of Helms Athletic Foundation, after recommendation by sports writers and radio-TV men around the nation.

Burdette's 1-Hitter Knocks Brooklyn Out of 1st, 5-1

BROOKLYN (AP)—One pitcher—a home run to Gil Hodges in the fifth inning—prevented Lew Burdette from pitching a no-run, no-hit game Wednesday as the lanky righthander pitched the Milwaukee Braves to a 5-1 victory over Brooklyn to knock the Dodgers out of first place.

Burdette faced only 29 men as he registered his third victory of the season against two defeats. He walked two and struck out two.

The only other Dodgers to reach base besides Hodges were pitcher Don Newcombe and Jackie Robinson, both on yalks.

It was the second one-hitter in the National League this season. The other was pitched by Robin Roberts of the Phils against the Braves.

Eddie Mathews paced the Braves' attack with a home run, double, single and walk in four times at bat.

Joe Adcock made it 2-0 with his fifth home run of the campaign in the second.

Campy To Be Out Until Mid-Summer

BROOKLYN (AP)—Roy Campanella's wrist operation, far more serious than first believed, will keep the slugging Brooklyn catcher sidelined at least another two months.

When the husky Dodger receiver underwent the operation for removal of a bone splinter from his left wrist May 3, it was estimated he would be lost to the club for only three or four weeks.

Wednesday he disclosed he won't be able to play until after the All-Star game July 13.

At that Campy was lucky. If he had delayed the operation any longer, he might have lost the use of his hand altogether through paralysis.

White Sox Blank Red Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—Righthander Don Johnson's second two-hitter of the season bested a brilliant but erratic three-hit effort by rookie Tom Brewer to give the Chicago White Sox a 1-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox Wednesday.

The 22-year-old Brewer walked four of the first six White Soxers to face him to produce the run that handed him his second loss against no victories. He had a no-hitter until he slipped fielding Johnny Groth's dribbler in the seventh, and Groth was credited with a single.

Johnson turned in a similar job against the Philadelphia A's in a 4-0 victory May 2.

Johnson, notching his third triumph against one defeat, hurled hitless ball after the second inning. Charley Maxwell drilled a Boston single to right in the first and Sammy White singled to left in the second. Johnson faced only 30 batters in all.

It appeared for a while that Brewer, with only one season of class D professional baseball behind him, might lose a no-hitter. However, after he slipped and threw wide to first trying to nail Groth in the seventh, he lost his stuff somewhat.

In the eighth, Nellie Fox slashed a single to right and after Fox was wiped out by a double play, Jim Rivera hammered a clean single to right.

Phillies Stumble But Tip Cubs, 5-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Left-hander Curt Simmons survived a ninth inning rally Wednesday night as the Philadelphia Phillies fumbled their way to a 5-4 win over the Chicago Cubs. Simmons chalked up his fourth win against two losses despite four Phillies' fielding miscues.

Ernie Banks' homer in the second provided the Cubs' first run.

Del Ennis ran the Philadelphia run total to five with a bases-empty homer in the fifth. Philadelphia 103 010 00x-5 13 4

Cage Drills To Begin For Hawkeyes Varsity

Head coach Frank (Bucky) O'Connor has announced that spring basketball practice will begin today for all varsity members who are not out for a spring sport.

The drills will continue through next week.

Lopat Edges Indians, 5-4

CLEVELAND (AP)—Behind 5-0, the Cleveland Indians jumped on southpaw Eddie Lopat for four runs in the eighth inning Wednesday, but Johnny Sain halted the rally there and New York won 5-4.

His margin of victory was Andy Carey's third homer of the year, which came off Ray Narleski in the eighth and scored Gil McDougald who had doubled.

Cleveland 000 000 040—4 10 1
New York 000 002 120—5 8 0

Hofman's Homer Clips Redlegs, 2-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Hofman's pinch home run in the ninth gave the New York Giants a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati's Harry Perkowski Wednesday after the Cincy lefthander had pitched two-hit shutout ball for 8½ innings.

The Giants had none left on base, tying a record held by many major league clubs.

Ray Boone's Homer, Ted Gray's Pitching Help Trim Nats, 4-2

DETROIT (AP)—Ted Gray, a losing pitcher for the last three years, protected Detroit's league lead Wednesday by winning his first game of the season—a 4-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

The 29-year-old southpaw, who had lost twice, allowed only five singles and a ninth-inning home run by Jim Busby. It was the first complete game of the season for Gray, who had won only 29 times and lost 46 during the last three disappointing seasons.

Ray Boone slammed a three-run homer in the first inning.

Moon, Schoendienst Spark 13-5 Card Win

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Wally Moon slammed out five hits, and Red Schoendienst got four, sparking the St. Louis Cardinals to a 13-5 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday.

It was a batsmen's field day, with the Cards racking up 21 hits and the Bucs 14.

Naval, Air Force Planes To Fly Over City Saturday

Navy and air force planes will fly over Iowa City Saturday as part of the local observance of the fourth annual Armed Forces day. Lt. Col. R. W. Joiner, associate professor of air science and tactics, announced Wednesday.

Three C-46's from the O'Hare air force base, Chicago, are scheduled to arrive at 10 a.m. At 2 p.m. eight F4U's from the naval air station, Glenview, Ill., will appear, and at 4:30 p.m. three B-25's will fly in from Scott, Ill., air force base, Joiner said.

"Power for Peace" is the motto for the 1954 Armed Forces day which was proclaimed by President Eisenhower.

A static display of military equipment on the SUI campus at the corners of Clinton and Washington sts. will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Included in the exhibit will be training and communications equipment, airplane engines, vehicles and models of engineering projects from both the army and air force SUI reserve officers training corps units.

Members of the Billy Mitchell squadron of the SUI Arnold Air society and Pershing rifles will assist Joiner and Capt. Earl C. Sturm, military science and tactics associate, with the display.

Each service — army, navy and air force — will have a tent near the exhibit and will show movies throughout the day.

In addition to the university ROTC departments, the Iowa City national guard unit and local naval reservists will participate in the Saturday observance.

WAXENBERG RE-ELECTED
Al Waxenberg, A2, Moline, Ill., was elected captain of the 1954-1955 cheerleaders squad at a recent meeting.

Waxenberg, who was also captain of the squad this school year, was elected by the old and new members.

ROTC Students Get Summer Camp Clothing

TWO SUI STUDENTS, Thomas McKay, C3, Dubuque, left, and William Linihan, A3, Davenport, try on clothing for ROTC summer camp. Assigning the students their clothing is T/Sgt. Merlin Diekvoos. ROTC cadets are being fitted this week through Monday for the additional equipment. Twenty persons per day are being fitted in the supply room of the Armory, according to regular posted schedules. The cadets will be issued caps, insignia, raincoat, khaki shirt and trousers, service shoes and a working suit.

Display Features Leather Articles By Craft Students

"Roll Back to Horse and Buggy Days. . . Do It Yourself" is the theme for the annual crafts display now being shown in the pharmacy showcase of the Chemistry building through Monday.

The leather articles are made for the course, recreational crafts 28:84 which is taught by Miriam Taylor, professor in the department of physical education.

The students, most of whom are occupational therapy majors, do all the work by hand. They design all their own decor and cut their own patterns on brown wrapping paper before beginning the actual leather craft.

The crafts class obtains various products from the drug service which are essential prerequisites to successfully done projects. They use wax to strengthen their thread, oxalic acid to bleach their leathers, saddle soap to clean leather, dyes to color and liquid wax to protect the leathers.

Traffic Control Biggest Part Of Police Job, Rookies Told

"Regardless of your thoughts or wishes, traffic control and its related problems are the biggest part of a police officer's job," Capt. W. J. Andresen of the Dubuque police department told 31 "rookie" police officers Wednesday. The men are attending the Police Recruit school being held at SUI May 10-22.

Describing the techniques that a police officer should follow in making arrests for traffic violations, Andresen said, "The police officer should treat each violation in an impartial and impersonal manner."

Pointing out that arguments with a motorist have little constructive effect, Andresen said, "explain the violation to the motorist and the accidents that such a violation could cause. Also explain the approved methods of settling the summons." To avoid the possibility of an argument, Andresen recommended that the police officer write the summons at the rear of the automobile to curtail any unnecessary conversation between himself and the motorist.

Continuing his lectures in the afternoon, the veteran police officer said that many fallacies of a few old-time policemen must be overcome by the new men on the force. For example, he said "it used to be a theory that the investigation of the cause of a traffic accident was purely a civil or business matter which organizations such as insurance companies should investigate. But if traffic accidents are to be prevented, we must first know what causes them," the police captain said.

"Law violations cause most accidents," Andresen said, and "although the public may not be aware of it, many apparently minor violations are the cause of serious accidents." Andresen pointed out such violations as pulling away from the curb without looking and following too closely the car in front as frequently causing accidents which lead to serious injury.
