U.S., Pakistan Sign Defense Pact

Soviet Union, India, Egypt Blast Move

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan and the United States Wednesday signed a one-year mutual defense pact under which America will help equip and train the armed forces of this strategic nation of more than 75 million at the eastern gateway to the Middle East.

The Soviet Union, India, and Egypt have denounced the pact. But both Washington and Karachi officially proclaimed it another step to consolidate the strength of the free world. This was an obvious reference to the menace of Communist aggression.

Both the U.S. and Pakistan have mutual aid arrangements with Turkey, western bastion of the oil-rich Middle East.

Commonwealth Member

Pakistan has been a member of the British Commonwealth since it gained independence in 1947. It has a common border with India, and the northern area of West Pakistan is within a short distance of both Russia and Red China.

Under the new pact, Karachi agreed to cooperate with Washington in controlling trade with nations threatening the maintenance of world peace. This is aimed at preventing the shipment of strategic goods to the Communist bloc.

The pact provides for a U.S. military advisory group in Pakistan, plus assurances from the Karachi government it will not use the arms aid for aggressive purposes or against the U.S. There is no provision for U.S. bases in Pakistan.

Executive Agreement

Like other mutual aid pacts negotiated by Washington, it was an executive agreement not requiring confirmation by the U.S. senate.

India and the Soviet bloc have criticized the pact bitterly throughout its negotiation, extending over several months. Indian Prime Minister Nehru claimed it would tip the military balance between India and Pakistan — still at odds over Kashmir — while Communist spokesmen asserted it would create a U.S.-backed "military bloc in the Near and Middle East against the U.S.S.R."

There was no estimate of the value of the aid to be extended to Pakistan. Military assistance would be adapted to this country's needs, determined through further consultations.

Asian Defense Pact Excluding Britain Possible, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday it might be possible for free nations to forge a collective defense of Red-threatened southeast Asia without British cooperation.

His words clearly foreshadowed a drive by the United States to organize a limited "united front," if Britain continues to delay joining until after the Geneva Far East peace conference ends.

The President spoke out about this possibility a few minutes after reviewing Indochina developments with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the White House.

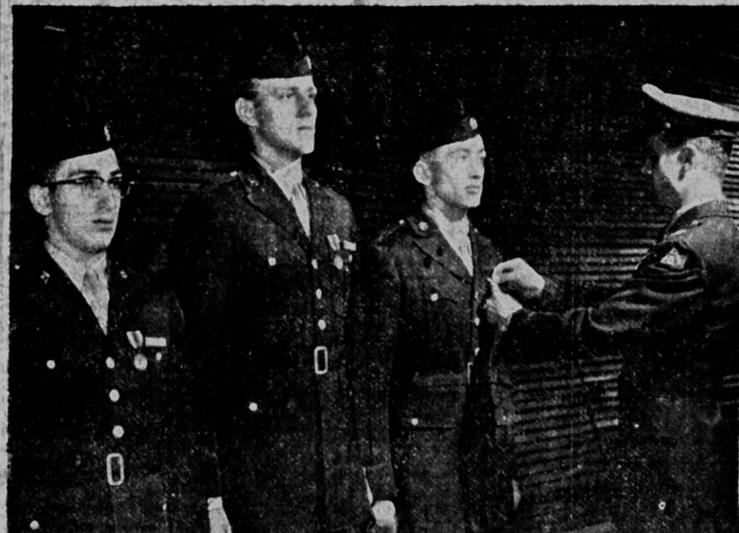

Eisenhower said, in answering questions, that any southeast Asia alliance of free countries which does not include Britain would be less satisfactory than that originally envisioned.

Dulles has proposed that nine countries, including Britain, line up with the U.S. in an alliance aimed at blocking Red aggression in Indochina from spilling out into other southeast Asian nations.

The Asiatic nations are reported to be Thailand and the Philippines, both of which have indicated they would join, and possibly Burma, which is also reportedly interested.

Meantime, Western diplomats here said military representatives of the U.S., Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand would meet here within the next few days to discuss Indochina and southeast Asia.

Red Arms Shipments Disturb Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday an arms shipment from Red Poland to Guatemala is "disturbing" and it would be a "terrible thing" to have Communist dictatorship establish an outpost on this continent.

Asked at a news conference for his reaction to a state department announcement Monday that Communist-dominated Poland has shipped arms to the Latin American nation, Eisenhower paused, reached for a word, and replied:

"Well, it is disturbing. I think that, above all, it highlights the circumstances, the background that led to the adoption of the resolution at the Caracas conference of the American republics regarding communism in this country."

Would Be Detriment
"To have the Communist dictatorship establish an outpost on this continent to the detriment of all the American nations, of course, would be a terrible thing, and that was the reason for the Caracas resolution."

In addition, the President told the conference — direct quotation was authorized later on parts of it — that he has no intention of relaxing or canceling his secrecy order that resulted in suspension of the McCarthy-army hearings.

He said he wants the hearings to go on, expeditiously but conclusively, with the principals testifying "openly and fully" and extraneous matters that "roam up and down the alleys of government" kept out.

"Get The Facts Out"
"... Let the chips fall where they may," Eisenhower proposed. "Let's get the facts out and then let's go on about the important business of this government."

Drumming a desk for emphasis, the President said that "nothing, nothing, can be so important as a domestic and foreign program to keep up strong, and that nothing deserves to distract attention from that."

Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens followed up with a statement saying the army acted on its own in its feud with Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.), not on instructions from higher up.

Ike Says No Change
With Eisenhower saying "no" on changing his secrecy order, McCarthy said he doesn't know what course he will take, but he didn't want to "play with a stacked deck."

The Eisenhower secrecy order barred testimony from administration officials on a Jan. 21 conference at which army, White House and other officials discussed the row between McCarthy and the army.

The President said he was "astonished" to see in the papers that the order could be used as a reason or excuse for calling off the senate hearings.

On other major matters, Eisenhower told reporters:
1. It might be possible to develop a workable alliance, without British participation for protecting southeast Asia against Communist aggression.

2. There is nothing he can say about talks with the French on the Indochinese crisis beyond the fact that they are against a background of a basic U.S. policy that there should be "collective agreements for assuring the security of southeast Asia."

3. He hasn't the "slightest" advice for the south on how to react to Monday's supreme court decision that separate public schools for Negro and white children are unconstitutional. He said he thought Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina had made a "very fine statement" in urging calm and reason.

Does Not Favor Raise in Tuition, Hoegh Says
DAVENPORT (AP)—Atty. Gen. Leo A. Hoegh, a Republican candidate for governor, said Wednesday he does not favor any increase in tuition rates at state-supported educational institutions for Iowa residents.

His position was stated in remarks prepared for an address before a Republican group. It is essential, he said, that education be kept within the reach of every Iowa boy and girl.

Righter Admires Gifts from Band Members

Stage Appreciation Party

Musicians Honor Righter

By DRAKE MABRY
Members of the SUI concert and varsity bands performed for their own amusement Wednesday night.

The occasion was an appreciation party for Prof. C. B. Righter, director of SUI bands for 17 years. Righter retired from active leadership this year to devote full time to teaching duties.

The varsity band played a half-hour program of light music, individual members cut loose with a variety of highly humorous skits and musical parodies, and Righter was presented with a complete outfit to project his many color photographs.

Gives $20 to Fund
In addition, the band presented $20 to the Clapp scholarship fund. The late Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp was head of the SUI school of music.

Mary Lou Hatter, A1, Marengo, impersonated the "Nightingale from the Gay Nineties." Singing with the record by the same name, she came across with some amusing pantomime, especially when the record stuck for a few seconds.

Mrs. Pat Ritter, band secretary, contributed the script used in an imaginative reading, with pantomime actors, of the love life of a lighthouse keeper's daughter. The skit was complete with villain and happy ending.

Plays Polka Music
The SUI River Rats, a musical group of unknown origin, came out with some lively polka music.

Jeanette Williams, A1, New

Sharon, and Maurie Fahrney, G, Deep River, presented a new twist to a clarinet duet.

Miss Williams played the keys of the clarinet that Fahrney was blowing, and Fahrney played the clarinet that Miss Williams was blowing.

Cart Carries Gifts
It required the bass drum cart to bring in the gifts to Righter. He received a 35 MM slide projector, screen, metal slide binder, and carrying case for the slides.

Righter, who has been teaching music since 1919, was profoundly humbled by the gifts from the band members. He said, "My thanks to you must extend to the thousands of musicians who have been associated with my bands since 1937."

"The time always comes," Righter continued, "where the hair gets a little grey but you maintain a black hair attitude. This young feeling is brought about by continuous association with young people."

Reviewed Experiences
Righter reviewed his past musical experiences. He told of the World War I days (I helped make the world safe for the Democrats with my clarinet) and his dance band experiences (They played so loud it didn't make any difference what I played on my fiddle).

In a more somber mood, Righter said, "It's a treasure for a person to quit a job like this with the knowledge that he has helped to form better citizens through music. Music is a convenient tool for making good citizens, and I'm proud to have had a part in this process."

Ford Fellowships Granted to 4 SUI Faculty Members

Four members of the SUI faculty have been granted faculty fellowships for 1954-1955 by the Ford foundation's fund for the advancement of education.

Prof. Alexander Kern of the English department, Stow Persons, of the history department; Prof. Malcolm Smiley of mathematics, and Prof. John Faefner of education, will spend their year's leave of absence from the university in independent study and research, on problems of improving instruction in their fields.

Kern plans to read American intellectual history in the Harvard university library, with his emphasis upon the teaching of American literature against a background of American thought and civilization. He is the author of "Trends of Research in American Literature."

Research upon the role of influential ideas in American history will take Persons to Boston. He is the author of "Free Religion: An American Faith" and co-author of three other books concerned with the force of ideas in the nation's history.

Smiley will spend the year studying reactions in American colleges and universities on the problem: How can we present elementary mathematics to undergraduates in such a way that they become aware of its importance in our culture, its everyday usefulness, its intrinsic beauty and other contributions?

Central problem of Faefner's year of study will be seeking answers to questions on the balancing of subject matter and teaching technique knowledge.

City Hall Plans To Be Discussed At Public Meeting

A public meeting will be held tonight to discuss a new city hall for Iowa City, voting machines for Johnson county, the by-pass highway possibility and a proposed increase in electric rates.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Community building lounge and is sponsored by the council-manager association.

The proposals for the city hall and purchasing voting machines will be presented to Johnson county residents on the June 7 primary election ballots.

Henry Fisk, local architect, has drawn up plans for a $300,000 city hall.

If the proposal for voting machines is approved, 54 will be put in for future elections. Estimated cost of the machines is $80,000, each machine costing $1,400.

Speakers for the meeting will be Mayor LeRoy Mercer, City Manager Peter F. Roan, assistant county auditor William Kanak, Prof. Alan Tester of the geology department and Norman Meier, of the psychology department.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

McCarthy, Stassen Clash on Trade Control
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Harold E. Stassen, the administration's foreign aid chief, clashed angrily Wednesday over the effectiveness of America's efforts to control strategic trade with the Communists. McCarthy, in a senate speech, said that with the possibility of American intervention in Indochina, "It is criminal folly to give money to 'allies' who... are shipping the sinews of military and economic strength to our enemies." The Wisconsin senator called on congress to "bring honor out of dishonor" by acting to halt trade in war goods between America's allies and Red China. He criticized Stassen's actions in the trade control field. McCarthy had hardly finished speaking before Stassen fired back with a statement asserting that what McCarthy said was "fantastic, unbelievable and untrue."

Defense of Dien Bien Phu Explained
LONDON (AP)—Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries was quoted in a Peiping broadcast Wednesday saying his officers had elected to defend Dien Bien Phu to the end rather than heed French high command instructions to try to cut their way out and flee to Laos. "The way of retreat had long been sealed," the captive French commander was quoted. "Death would await them if they tried to flee." Radio Peiping, mouthpiece of Red China, quoted the Communist Vietnam news agency on a long statement attributed to de Castries, whose garrison was engulfed by a human sea attack May 7. It did not detail where or under what circumstances the statement was made.

House Committee Approves Social Security Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house ways and means committee voted Wednesday to bring farm operators, doctors and other professional groups, and state and local government employees under the federal social security system.

The action, affecting more than seven million persons, was in line with a request from President Eisenhower, who has made expansion of social security coverage a prime goal of his administration.

The committee approved all of Eisenhower's requests for extension of coverage except one and in some cases went even further than the President had suggested.

It deferred action on the question of coverage for an estimated 2,600,000 farm laborers.

Wednesday's decisions, if finally enacted, would bring in about 500,000 doctors, lawyers, dentists, architects, professional engineers, public accountants and other professional people under compulsory coverage.

The American Medical Assn. had strongly opposed the move for doctors. They were included by a closed-door committee vote of 12-8.

Committee members said the vote to include farmers was not unanimous but was surprisingly heavy.

The present law permits coverage under the federal system of retirement or death benefits for state and local employees only if they are not covered by local retirement systems.

To come under the federal system, however, a majority of the employees would have to participate in a referendum, and two thirds of those voting would have to approve.

The plan approved Wednesday would make about 3,200,000 more state and local employees who have some sort of local retirement system—also eligible for the federal coverage.

Creative Writing Professor Experience in Many Fields

By NANCY ELLIS

Wide experience in other fields may sometimes lead to the teaching of creative writing. Prof. Thomas Mabry, of the English department, who conducts the undergraduate writers' workshop and is a co-instructor in the graduate workshop, is a man who brings a broad background of experience to his work at SUI.

Mabry has worked in such diverse places as a tobacco factory, a farm, art museums, the U.S. soil conservation service,

Fisk university, the office of war information, and Time and Life magazines before coming to SUI to teach writing. His experience with the magazines, Mabry says, led him to prefer Life to Time, because, "Life is so full of cheese that there is less room for the editorial slanting that seems to go on in Time." One of the things he likes about the workshop is the honesty with which it is conducted, he says.

Cites Help

He agrees with the opinion that "Nobody can really teach anybody else to write," but is sure that "sympathetic instructors of critical perception and motivated by good will can at least help the young writer develop his art.

Teaching at SUI is Mabry's second experience with midwest colleges. His first was at Beloit college, Wisconsin. Mabry left Beloit at the end of his freshman year and went to Harvard. After taking his B.A. in English literature there in 1925, Mabry worked in his father's tobacco factory for a couple of years, then went to Europe.

There, he remembers, his greatest shock was looking at a so-called "art" movie in Nice along with Jean Cocteau, now a famous film director in France, and Lincoln Kirstein, present director of the New York City

Ballet company.

Started Gallery In 1929, he started an art gallery in New York with a friend and held exhibitions of such artists as Picasso and Klee.

After receiving an M.A. degree at Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., Mabry taught literature for two years at Fisk university. Another trip to Europe was followed in 1934 by four years as director of the museum of modern art, New York city, where he describes his duties as those of a "general funky to the whims and vanities of the museum trustees."

Gives Experience

He then worked for a year with the soil conservation service. And during World War II, he was chief of graphics for the OWI in Washington, D.C.

In 1943 he went to Time, Inc. as assistant to the vice-president in charge of public relations. He worked three months each on Time, Life and Fortune.

Mabry originated the idea of Life filmstrips and developed them into a "big business" before he left. They are now distributed to museums and schools all over the country.

Directed Exhibitions

He was also director of the Life picture exhibitions which went to South America, Japan, Germany and England as well as to institutions in this country.

For these film strips and exhibitions, Mabry engaged experts who spent months of research on the material. One of these was John Knowlton, now professor of art history at SUI.

In 1950, he resigned from Time, Inc., came to SUI in 1952, has been here ever since, "and that's all," he says.

Enjoys Workshop

He enjoys working with the creative writing workshops here, he says, because "it may save young writers the many years I feel I wasted trying to learn to write."

Two of Mabry's stories, "The Vault," and "The Indian Feather" appeared in best short story collections of 1949 and 1954. The latter won first prize in the O. Henry collection.

In Iowa City, Mabry lives at 621 Holt ave. with his wife and two daughters. Their summers are spent in Stockbridge, Mass.

English Physical Education Teacher To Lecture Here

Physical education as it is taught in the elementary schools of England will be the subject of a lecture May 31 at SUI by Ruth Foster, London, England.

Miss Foster is chairman of the English Ministry of Education's panel of inspectors of physical education for both men and women and has been one of Her Majesty's Inspectors with the ministry since 1940.

Sponsored by the SUI college of education and the graduate college, the lecture will be open to the public. It will be given at 8 p.m. in the Shambaugh lecture hall of University library.

Miss Foster will illustrate her talk with films showing English children in the program of free, self-directed activities which has attracted wide attention among physical education authorities in this country.

Workshop To Stress School-Public Relations

A two-week workshop to enable school leaders to analyze their own school-community relations and obtain counsel from specialists will be held at SUI May 31-June 11.

Under the leadership of Prof. John Leonard Davies, of the education department and 1953-54 president of the Iowa State Education association, the schoolmen will work on practical programs of school-public relations in the morning in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study, meet with various specialists in the early afternoon, and engage in recreational activities in the late afternoon.

Politics Should End at Water's Edge

Iowa Prison Chaplains Start Work on Formal Job Guide

DES MOINES (P)—Chaplains of Iowa prisons and mental hospitals Tuesday started working out a guide describing just what their job is.

The Iowa Chaplains' association at its third annual meeting here named a three-man committee to develop a formal policy setting out duties and responsibilities of chaplains in the state institutions.

"This is one of the most forward steps the institutional chaplains in Iowa have taken in a long time," said Henry W. Burma, state board of control member.

Feels Sorry

"I have felt sorry for new chaplains coming in," he told the group. "If we have something like this, you'll know what your job is; you won't be stumbling around."

The Rev. Walter Wigger, chaplain at the Men's Reformatory at Anamosa, said chaplains have been used as library clerks, mail clerks, personnel consultants and to do other odd jobs around the institution.

Some of these odd jobs have been given to other persons now, he said. The major change has been in use of chaplains in counseling inmates or patients and developing mental health programs, he said.

Chaplains Named

Named to the chaplain's standards committee were the Rev. B. E. Brugman, Catholic chaplain, and the Rev. Lester Peter, Protestant chaplain, both at the Ft. Madison penitentiary, and the Rev. Norman L. Davidson, director of pastoral psychiatry, Mt. Pleasant Mental Health Institute.

The Rev. Mr. Brugman said standards used for chaplains in the armed services, and federal institutions would probably be used as a model for the Iowa standards.

Earlier, the Rev. Charles W. Phillips, president of the Iowa Society for Mental Health and pastor of First Unitarian church here, told the group a chaplain at

2-BRAINED BABY BORN

NAPLES, Italy (P)—A baby girl with two joined skulls and two brains was born Wednesday to Mrs. Marcia Faichio, 23, in the nearby village of Marigliano. Doctors who brought the baby to a clinic for X-ray examination said the two skulls were joined so that the baby has "a rather large head, but only a single, normal face."

Surviving Siamese Lives Normal Life Despite Operation

FERRIS, Ill. (P)—"He's having the time of his life here at home," said Mrs. Royt Brodie, mother of Rodney Dee, surviving half of Siamese twins born in Rock Island nearly three years ago.

Rodney has been with his parents and brothers and sister nearly two weeks now in this west central Illinois community where he "eats, sleeps and plays just like other children."

Rodney, who has undergone extensive surgery since his separation from his brother, Roger, about 18 months ago, is growing up like any other child with the exception that he has an incompletable skull.

"Rodney requires no special care, or special food or treatment," Mrs. Brodie said Wednesday. "We let him play and romp as he pleases with his brothers and sisters."

"He hasn't had any chance to play with children outside our home, for there are none around here his age," she added.

Except for a few short visits with his parents, Rodney has spent his life at the University of Illinois education and research hospital in Chicago. Doctors there hope to eventually build a new cranium for the boy, who, in their terms, "is developing like a normal youngster."

"The doctors haven't said we can keep him with us," Mrs. Brodie said, "but it's wonderful to have him here and he is overjoyed to be with other children—our own family."

Professor Nominated For Science Board

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower Wednesday asked Congress to approve new six-year terms for three members of the National Science Board. He also picked five new members.

The nominations of all eight are subject to senate confirmation.

Among new members nominated was Roger Adams of Urbana, Ill., head of the chemistry department at the University of Illinois.

All told, the National Science Board has 24 members, with the terms of one-third of the total expiring every two years.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Foreign Staff

The Communists at Geneva, having heard the plain statements of the British and the earlier ones of the French that collective action to save Indochina must await results at the conference, now intend to confer at length while they see what they can do with intensified military action.

Red delegates are reported digging in for a long stay at Geneva, while building up their attack on the Red River Valley. If they can keep the settlement ball up in the air long enough, they may extend the conference beyond the rainy season to attack with major forces built up during the interval.

Against this background, France has stiffened her attitude from that of the earliest conference days, and is now earnestly conferring with the United States on what can be done immediately about the defense of southeast Asia. The estimate of some French leaders that the fall of Dien Bien Phu might produce this attitude, rather than resignation to defeat, has been proved at least partially true.

Britain, however, still sticking to the premise that nothing should be done about collective defense until the Geneva conference has been given every last opportunity to produce a settlement, was not invited to join the new Franco-American discussions. That makes her mad, added as it is to the fact that she is also excluded from Anzus, the American-New Zealand-Australia defense pact for the Pacific, which Washington is also calling into play in connection with Indochina.

This was the background of President Eisenhower's statement Wednesday that it was possible some form of defense pact might be worked out without Britain, without waiting for the end of the Geneva conference.

It would depend, of course, upon the attitude of the Asiatic nations which have been asked to participate, and on America's other allies. There is as yet no formal consideration of the idea that if all else fails, the U.S. will have to move in alone to help France and the Indochinese states.

But even to contemplate a collective action without Britain, with her great interests in southeast Asia and in Hong Kong, is a tremendous development. There is very grave doubt that it could or would be done, actually.

Hawkeye Nine Will Try To Salvage Last 3 Home Games This Weekend

A salvage operation, designed to end the season on a cheerful note, will be conducted by Iowa's baseball team here Friday and Saturday.

It won't be an easy one, however, for the Friday foe at 3:30 p.m. is Wisconsin, 7-3 in the conference and possessor of a chance for some title honors.

Northwestern, with its best team in years, comes Saturday for a double-header, beginning at 1:30 p.m. The Wildcats have a 6-4 mark and fifth place in the league. They play at Minnesota Friday.

Meanwhile, Iowa is in an unaccustomed eighth place, having won four and lost eight in the league. A six-game losing streak which extended from May 1 to May 15 was broken by the win over Indiana in the first game of last Saturday's doubleheader.

Good Badger Hurlers
Any one of three very good Badger pitchers may take the mound. Bill Robichaud has a 3-0 mark in the conference, allowing 51 hits and 14 runs in 34 innings and Sheldon Rusch has 2-0, with 14 hits and 7 runs in 18 innings. Hal Baether, the other regular hurler, has 2-3 in the conference. All are right-handers.

The Badgers rank second in team batting, with .267, as compared with Iowa's .218 for ninth. In fielding, Wisconsin is sixth with .949 and Iowa is eighth with .943. Top Wisconsin batters are Carlyle Wagner, .350; Gust Vergetis, .321; and Mel Gaestel, .311. Mele Jensen, who has 1-3 in the conference, is the probable Iowa pitcher. Jensen has allowed 32 hits and 18 earned runs in 32 innings.

Lindsey Top Slugger
Iowa's Ed Lindsey, left fielder, is the top slugger in the league, with 31 bases on 14 hits, including four homers and two triples. His conference batting average is .350 and for all games he leads the Iowans with .337. The only other Hawks over .300 are Don Waldron, .309 and Sharm Scheurman, .302.

Northwestern, the opponent in the Saturday double-header, has beaten Michigan, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Purdue twice and Illinois, while losing to Michigan State, Michigan and two to Wisconsin.

Ziggle Niepokoj has a 3-2 record, permitting 28 hits and 11 runs in 38 innings. He has a two-hit win over Ohio State and a four-hitter over Illinois to his credit. Don Zitek has 1-0 and George Barvnichak 2-1. Zitek and Barvnichak are the usual Saturday hurlers, which means that Niepokoj may pitch Friday against Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Northwestern's Don Blaha, first baseman, is the top batter with .306 in conference games. The Wildcats rank eighth in batting, with .227 and fifth in fielding with .954.

21 WINS, 17 LOSSES, 2 TIES
Iowa spring sports teams now have won 21 contests, lost 17 and tied 2. Ten more events are on the schedule.

Chicago's 9-Run 8th Inning Drops Dodgers to 2d Place

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Chicago Cubs scored nine runs on three hits and three errors in a wild eighth inning outburst Wednesday to knock the Brooklyn Dodgers out of a tie for the National league lead, 9-3. One of the hits was a three-run homer by Dee Fondy.

Even the fans became restless during the nightmarish inning. In the midst of the rally Brooklyn catcher, Al Walker,

Lemons Wins 6th Straight Contest, Whips Bosox, 5-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—Scoring a pair of unearned runs in the eighth inning on two errors by shortstop Milt Bolling, the Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox 5-3 Wednesday for their seventh consecutive victory. It is their longest winning streak of the season.

Right-hander Bob Lemon, who allowed only four hits, registered his sixth win of the season, without a loss, and Al Rosen hit his sixth homer in five straight games.

Lemon was engaged in a pitching duel with Willard Nixon, 3-3, in the eighth when Bolling's two errors, a fumble and a wild throw, led to the Indians' winning runs.

The first two Cleveland runs were knocked in by Rosen, who clouted his homer in the second inning, his ninth of the season. He singled a run across in the third inning, boosting his runs batted in total to 38.

The Red Sox scored all their runs off Lemon in the second inning, one unearned. Ted Williams, hitting safely only once in four times at bat, led off the inning with a double.

Boston 030 000 000—3 4 3
Cleveland 012 000 02x—5 7 1

was hit on the mask by an apple core thrown from the stands.

The Cubs started their barrage at the expense of Carl Erskine, the World Series strikeout king, but toyed with two other Brooklyn pitchers, Jim Hughes and Don Newcombe, before the damage was completed.

Russ Meyer finished the game for the Dodgers. Bob Rush started for Chicago before being relieved in the eighth by Jim Willis, himself rescued by Hal Jeffcoat in the same inning.

Rush was credited with his third victory against two defeats. Erskine's defeat ended his winning streak of four games.

Erskine walked Bill Serena, batting for Rush, and Frank Baumholtz before Fondy homered. Then the roof fell in on the Dodgers.

Before the inning was over, Peeewe Reese had fumbled Hank Sauer's double play grounder, pitcher Hughes had thrown the ball into rightfield to let in a run and Newcombe had made a bad throw to first, enabling another run to score.

Cards Lead National After Blanking Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—Vic Raschi pitched the St. Louis Cardinals into first place in the National league race Wednesday, blanking the New York Giants, 3-0, for his first National league shutout. The former New York Yankee righthander permitted only five hits in recording his fifth triumph without a defeat.

The Cardinals collected eight hits off starter and loser Sal Maglie, including home runs by Red Schoendienst and Rip Repulski. Raschi batted in the other run with a single. The loss was Maglie's second of the season against five victories.

Raschi exhibited perfect control as he hurled his third complete game in eight starts this season. He walked no one, struck out two and retired the last 15 batters he faced.

Only one Giant reached second. That was Wes Westrum, who led off the third with a single and was sacrificed to second. But Raschi then disposed of Whitey Lockman on a foul and Alvin Dark on a fly to get out of his only uneasy moment.

It's Illegal—Al Rosen Using Bat With Nails in It

CLEVELAND (AP)—Umpire Charley Berry ruled Al Rosen's favorite bat was illegal Wednesday after finding that it contained several small nails.

The 35-ounce bat became an issue as the Cleveland Indians' first baseman stepped to the plate in the fifth inning of Wednesday's game with the Boston Red Sox.

At the urging of Boston catcher Sammy White, umpire Berry took Rosen's bat, found the nails in a checked section at the heavy end, and tossed it to the Tribe dugout.

"I knew someone was going to catch up with this sooner or later, but I was going to keep it as long as possible," grinned Rosen later. "I've used this one practically all season."

Rosen's 38 runs-batted-in and his nine homers are reasons enough for his affection for the old bat.

"The bat started to check a short while back, and I put the nails in it," Rosen explained. Umpire Berry agreed that this was "common practice," but not legal, all the same.

Spahn Wins, 6-2 Over Phillies; Mathews Homers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Warren Spahn contributed three hits and nine innings of steady pitching as the Milwaukee Braves beat the sliding Philadelphia Phillies 6-2 Wednesday night. Ed Mathews accounted for two of the Milwaukee runs with his seventh homer of the year.

Spahn, who had a pair of singles and a double for the night, chalked up his fourth win against three losses. He held the Phillies to seven hits, three of them bounced in the eighth.

The game was tight for just exactly three innings. But in the Braves' fourth Mathews drew a walk and moved to third on Andy Pafko's double. Then Joe Adcock came through with a two-run single. Hank Aaron's triple brought in a third run before the rally was fended.

Milwaukee made it 4-0 in the sixth.

Spahn joined in the Milwaukee offense in the seventh with a lead-off double. He was forced by Jack Dittmer, who scored ahead of Mathews as Ed hit his seventh homer of the season.

The Phillies scored their two runs in the eighth.

Detroit Wins, 4-3; Kaline Drives In Winning Marker

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers filled the bases with none out in the bottom of the ninth inning Wednesday and rookie Al Kaline chased across the winning run with a single to left for a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Tigers, who won their fifth game in six starts, filled the bases against Philadelphia starter Alex Kellner in the ninth without a hit. Ray Boone walked to open the inning. Wilbur Shantz, A's catcher, made a two-base throwing error on Walt Dropto's sacrifice bunt and Boone went around to third and Dropto took second.

After Kellner intentionally walked Don Lund to fill the bases, he was replaced by Ed Bertschy. Kaline hit Bertschy's first serve between short and third to win the game.

The A's had taken a 3-2 lead in the top of the eighth on first baseman Don Bollweg's homer. Detroit tied the score in the eighth.

Dick Marlowe, third Detroit pitcher, hurled only the ninth inning and retired the A's in order to pick up his second victory against no defeats.

Flore Wins Decision Over Black at Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Carmine Fiore, a savage left-hander from Brooklyn, scored two knock-downs and won his eighth straight fight Wednesday night with a unanimous 10-round decision over Jed Black of Janesville, Wis. Fiore weighed 146½, Black 144½.

Flore floored Black for eight-counts in the third and seventh rounds with surprising but solid left hooks to end Black's unbeaten string at 27 fights.

PLEASE . . .
Hawkeye business manager Francis Graham says people are still sending in requests for tickets for the Iowa-Notre Dame football game to be played Nov. 24 in Iowa stadium. Graham has emphatically stated absolutely no tickets will be on sale until July 1.

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS SHORTSTOP Solly Hemus is forced to take to the air to clear the sliding Giants' outfielder Don Mueller and fire the ball to first to complete a double play in the fourth inning of the two teams' game at the Polo Grounds Wednesday. The play started when the Giants' Hank Thompson grounded to Red Schoendienst, Card second baseman, who tossed to Hemus to force Mueller. The Cards moved into first place in the National league by blanking the Giants, 3-0.

Ferguson, Smith Record Top Efforts In Big Ten Track

CHICAGO, Ill.—Best performances of the Big Ten outdoor track season have been spread among seven schools, promising some of the tightest competition in recent years for the conference track championships at Purdue May 28-29.

Illinois, featuring Willie Thompson in the hurdles and Willie Williams who ran the hundred in :09.4 with a wind last week has four bests. Michigan with captain Fritz Nilsson in the shot and discus, has three.

Iowa has two—Earl Smith in the broad jump at 23' 10½" and Rich Ferguson in the mile at 4:13.4.

Michigan State also has two and Indiana, Northwestern and Purdue one each.

One of last week's outstanding performances saw Northwestern's Bob Ehrhart hit 14 feet in the pole vault.

Surkont, Hall Team Up To Beat Cincinnati, 3-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dick Hall's timely two-run single in the fifth and Max Surkont's steady eight-hit pitching carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs Wednesday night.

The triumph was Pittsburgh's first over the Redlegs in four games this season and gave Surkont, chunky righthander, his third win against four losses.

Corky Valentine started for Cincinnati and yielded to Joe Nuxhall in the seventh after being taken out for a pinch hitter. Valentine's record now is 3-4.

Pittsburgh sewed up the contest in the fifth. Sid Gordon singled, Toby Atwell was struck by a pitched ball and Gair Allie singled to load the bases and set the stage for Hall's two-run blow.

Cincinnati 010 010 000—2 8 0
Pittsburgh 000 030 00x—3 6 0

Yanks Whip White Sox Again, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Yankees whipped the Chicago White Sox 3-2 Wednesday to make a clean sweep of their two-game series at Comiskey park. Bob Grim, who replaced Ed Lopat as the Yankee pitcher in the eighth, was credited with the win. Billy Pierce went all the way for Chicago.

It was the second straight day the Yankees beat the Sox in the ninth inning. Tuesday night the world champions scored in the final inning for a 4-3 victory. Wednesday's win, on two unearned runs in the eighth and a slightly tainted tally in the ninth, kept the Yanks in second place, a full game behind Cleveland.

It was a tough one for Pierce to lose, his fourth defeat against two triumphs, as he saw the Yanks score the deciding run as shortstop Chico Carrasquel juggled a potential inning-ending double-play ball.

Fire Roars Through Refinery

A VAST CHURNING MASS OF flame boils sky ward from a petroleum tank at the Rothschild Oil Co. refinery, Sante Fe Springs, Calif., Tuesday which was swept by a half-million dollar fire. Firemen believe the fire started with an explosion of butane vapors in the refinery's storage section after a natural gas line broke.

Police Learn To Deal With Mental Patients

"Don't ignore someone you hear saying 'Life's not worth living' or similar statements. You may be listening to a suicide-to-be," an SUI hospital psychiatrist urged young Iowa police officers Wednesday.

"Don't be overly sympathetic with a such an individual, and above all don't challenge him by taunting him, saying that he hasn't the nerve to kill himself," Dr. A. S. Norris advised the 31 members of the annual Police Recruit school now in session at SUI.

ceiving, he said. Frequently check forgers and confidence men act with such poise and good manners that observers may not realize that many of these people are psychopaths. On the other hand, many who commit minor sexual offenses may be only slightly disturbed mentally, far from being dangerous and perhaps incurable psychopaths, the psychiatrist pointed out.

Sentility is Weakness

Norris said that one of the most common mental weaknesses policemen encounter is sentility, the behavior of advancing years sometimes called "second childhood." Usually such persons are not dangerous, but there are exceptions to the rule, Norris observed.

The police officer should keep close watch on those he meets who are suffering from delirium tremens—commonly called the DT's. He said that 25 per cent of persons suffering from this illness which often accompanies chronic alcoholism die because they do not receive medical attention in time. Such persons will frequently inflict serious injuries upon themselves, he added.

In an earlier discussion of alcoholism as it affects the policeman in his duties, Richard Holcomb, chief of police science in the SUI institute of public affairs, called the officers' attention to a recent report on the relationship of alcohol to crime in Columbus, Ohio.

Alcohol, Crime Related

"Of those apprehended by Columbus police soon or immediately after a crime was committed, 64 per cent were under the influence of alcohol to such an extent that their inhibitions were reduced," Holcomb reported. The Ohio police chemists discovered from urine analyses.

Eleven out of 12 of those charged with cutting or stabbing were described as having enough alcohol in their systems to be "under its influence." Eight out of nine accused of carrying concealed weapons were in this condition, as were three out of four alleged murderers, Holcomb pointed out.

Chances Were 50-50

But the chances were 50-50 that those charged with rape or forgery had not used any alcohol, Holcomb said, noting that the police chemist did not have any evidence on those who were not apprehended until long after the crime was committed or on those who escaped capture.

In the Police Recruit school, which will close Saturday afternoon with graduation exercises, the officers have yet to attend sessions on arrest tactics, interviews and interrogations of suspects, testifying in court, and a discussion of state law enforcement agencies led by Chief R. W. Nebergal of the Iowa bureau of criminal investigation.

County Grand Jury Returns Indictments

The Johnson county grand jury Wednesday returned four indictments, three open charges and one sealed, to District Judge Harold D. Evans.

Openly indicted were Glen H. Graper, 29, 624 S. Lucas st., third offense of driving while intoxicated; Prentice Von Conrad, 29, 219 1/2 S. Capitol st., driving while intoxicated, and Robert Petrehn, Clinton, larceny. Graper was arrested by highway patrolmen May 6 on highway 6 west of Iowa City, Iowa City police arrested Von Conrad on Capitol st. May 3. Indictment of Petrehn followed his confession with the theft of a typewriter, record player, radio and wristwatch from the apartment of Lee Stokely, 215 N. Dubuque st., April 6.

Von Conrad and Petrehn are free on bond; Graper is being held in Johnson county jail in lieu of bond. Evans fixed bond for Petrehn and Graper at $1,000 and for Von Conrad at $500.

The jury also reported that the county jail and the county home had been found in good condition following an investigation. Evans excused the jury subject to call.

10 Cadets Receive Minute Man Awards For ROTC Work

Ten ROTC cadets were awarded Minute Man awards Wednesday. The awards are presented by the national society of the sons of the American revolution through the courtesy of Col. J. B. Ladd, United States army reserve.

Cadets receiving the awards Wednesday were, Edward Beckman, A1, Bennett; Richard Blumenburg, A1, Gloensville, N. Y.; John Cahill, A1, Iowa City; John Currell, A1, Cedar Rapids; Donald Fitzgerald, A1, Mason City; William Hammer, A1, Sheldon; Robert Murdock, A1, Cedar Rapids; Frederick Thiede, A1, Oelwein; John Whalen, A1, Iowa City; John Zaverntnik, A1, Clarendon, Ill.

To be eligible for this award a cadet must be in his first year in army ROTC. He must also be able to recite verbatim the regulations governing the hand salute, regulations for the position of the soldier at attention, general orders for a sentinel on post, the American's Creed, and the preamble to the Constitution.

He also must have a working knowledge of the "Bill of Rights." Final selection is made by a board who evaluates those cadets who best qualify under the "Ten Commandments of Good Citizenship."

Named outstanding basic cadet of the army ROTC was cadet Wayne M. Mead, A2, Cedar Rapids. The award is given annually by the Johnson county reserve officers association.

Company A rifle team was awarded silver medals for winning the ROTC inter-corps rifle competition. E company was given runner-up awards.

Local Man Okay Following Tumble

Paul Bock, 45, 930 E. Jefferson st., who spent most of Tuesday night lying beside Ralston creek under the College st. viaduct, was released from University hospital shortly before noon Wednesday, reportedly in good condition.

Bock was admitted to the hospital about 6 a.m. Wednesday, after M. J. McGovern, 506 E. College st., informed police that a man was calling for help.

According to police, Bock fell down the bank near the viaduct into the creek. Bock told police he had pulled himself out of the creek, but was unable to move further.

When admitted to the hospital, Bock was suffering from a lacerated scalp and complained of back injury.

Koop Greeted Upon Arrival

THEODORE F. KOOP, director of CBS radio news and public affairs in Washington, D.C., is greeted in Old Capitol by Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of SU's school of journalism, as Koop arrives to deliver a Wednesday night address on "News: Prime Washington Commodity."

Army Hearings Hard To Cover, Koop Says

The army-McCarthy hearings "have been the most difficult in recent years" for newsmen to report on, Theodore F. Koop, director of CBS radio news and public affairs in Washington, D. C., said Wednesday night.

Speaking in the senate chamber of Old Capitol Koop said that the constitutional issues involved in the case may well be the greatest problems Eisenhower's administration will have to face.

He said that news media must throw all possible light and information on the questions of legislative and executive authority bound up in the dispute.

Notes Criticism

Speaking of Senator McCarthy's prominence, he noted that the press and other news media have been criticized for giving him so much space. Koop said that such an attitude amounts to an "if we pretend he isn't there, maybe he'll go away" philosophy.

Koop, a 1928 alumnus of SU and a former editor of The Daily Iowan, expressed disapproval of peacetime curtailment of freedom of the press. He said that past presidential orders have not always carefully defined security information or made provision for appeal against the restrictions.

He added that neither Truman's nor Eisenhower's restraining orders have had substantial effects in preventing important news from reaching the public.

Mentions Feelings

He mentioned, however, that some editors feel that the government still "withholds a tremendous amount of news" from the public.

Koop said that "no major action should be taken in star chamber (closed) sessions" of government officials.

He assured his audience that "the average reporter, with pride in his work, conscientiously tries to present all facets of a story." He said that reporters try to make their stories "as impartial and accurate as human beings can make them."

The area in which the reporter most frequently fails, he said.

Survey Consultants Tell Card Return

Approximately 38 per cent of the traffic survey cards handed out in Iowa City last week have been returned, J. M. Keneipp, who is conducting the survey, said Wednesday.

The survey is being conducted, at a cost of $6,800, by Associated Consultants, Evanston, Ill., as an aid in solving city traffic and parking problems.

The return represents a good sample for determining the desired information, Keneipp said.

The cards, which motorists were asked to fill out and send in, were placed on parked cars and handed to motorists in order to obtain information on traffic flow and parking habits.

This week, the survey group is re-checking one location where last week's count was not valid.

Wednesday, a 24-hour count was begun at Burlington and Dubuque streets. Additional 24-hour counts may also be required.

Ike Calls for Resumption Of McCarthy-Army Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration threw the switches Wednesday to start the McCarthy-army hearings rolling again Monday.

President Eisenhower personally called for a resumption of the televised inquiry—"Let the chips fall where they may," he declared.

Next, with the President's endorsement, Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens took sole responsibility on behalf of the army for the actions that led to its head-on collision with Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.)

Mundt Makes Statement
In the wake of this one-two team play, acting chairman Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) said the temporarily side-tracked inquiry will resume Monday. He told newsmen the hearings should not last more than another week or 10 days.

Mundt said he expected Stevens would be asked to repeat under oath Wednesday's denial that the army's moves were masterminded by White House or other top officials.

The hearings still did not have a clear track, however.

Refused to Lift Order
Eisenhower flatly refused to lift his secrecy order which—to his astonishment, he told a news conference—stalled the inquiry last Monday.

And McCarthy, who has blasted this order as an "iron curtain" barring him from presenting his full case against his Pentagon antagonists, shifted figures of speech and said the order makes him play against a "stacked deck."

Stevens came up, and Eisenhower registered full agreement, with a firm answer to one hitherto unanswered question.

Question Stopped Inquiry
That was the big question which bogged down the inquiry last Monday: Were army officials acting on their own, or were the White House and justice department calling the signals, when Pentagon charged McCarthy and aides with improper pressure to get favors for Pvt. G. David Schine?

Eisenhower's secrecy order forbade army witnesses to talk about conversation with the White House and other officials. McCarthy and some of the investigating senators took the position this made it impossible to fix responsibility for the army's acts.

So the probes took a recess, until next Monday, to see if Eisenhower would withdraw or modify his order.

The president said Wednesday he had "no intention whatsoever" of doing either of these things.

Civil Functions Bill Includes Flood Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations committee Wednesday approved an army civil functions appropriations bill calling for $484,095,500—more than four per cent above the budget recommendations of President Eisenhower.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate for consideration probably next Tuesday, is some $18,935,500 over the President's suggestions and $53,111,800 above the measure as it passed the House last March.

Most of the funds in the bill go to the army engineers for planning, building and operating flood control and navigation projects.

The committee allowed these amounts for Iowa projects—house approved figures in parentheses.

Navigation:
Lock No. 19, Keokuk, $3,200,000 ($3,200,000), Missouri River, Kansas City to Omaha, $3,300,000 ($3,300,000); Missouri river, Omaha to Sioux City, $3,000,000 ($2,000,000).

Flood control:
Coralville reservoir, $1,750,000 ($1,750,000); agricultural levees in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska, $400,000 ($400,000); Missouri river, Kensler's Bend, Neb., to Sioux City, $600,000 ($1,000,000).

Major Elected To Head Iowa City Engineers

Prof. Coleman J. Major, department of chemical engineering, has been elected president of the Engineer's club of Iowa City.

Major was chosen at the group's annual meeting at Amana Monday night to succeed Robert H. Lind.

Also elected were Prof. Robert L. Sutherland, mechanical engineering department, vice president, and Neil B. Fisher, department of preventative medicine, as secretary-treasurer.

Jones To Head Pharmacy Boards' District Meeting

Prof. James Jones of the college of pharmacy, will preside as chairman for the colleges, at the fifth district meeting of the national association of pharmacy boards and the American association of pharmacy colleges in Des Moines Sunday through Thursday.

Others attending from SUI are Dean Louis C. Zopf, of the college of pharmacy; Profs. Gail Wiese and Robert Van Horne, and instructors Henry Baumann, Wendle Kerr, and William Tester. Zopf will lead a discussion on the value of the associations' brochure, "Shall I Study Pharmacy?"

R. A. Deno, secretary of the American association of pharmacy colleges and professor in the pharmacy college at Michigan university will also attend. P. H. Costello, Chicago, will represent the national association of boards. Other representatives will attend from Nebraska, South and North Dakota and Minnesota.

Jury Drops Charges on Beer Sale Case

The Johnson county grand jury Wednesday returned no indictments in cases involving 22 youths and operators of two taverns. It had been reported that the youths had been buying and drinking beer during the state boys basketball tournament.

The grand jury took testimony from approximately 20 persons in connection with the reports. High school students and residents of Des Moines, Fertile and Independence were among the witnesses, the county attorney said.

Meardon said that he had no comment to make on the grand jury action, "either for or against."

is that of "backgrounding, getting depth and perspective," and noted that time and space limitations are the newsmen's chief "bugaboo."

Emphasizes Need
He emphasized the ever growing need for reporting that provides interpretation. The "why" as well as the "what" must be made plain, he said.

Koop affirmed that the most important ingredient of good news is "clarity." He insisted that background information is necessary for significant news stories, and said that personalities must be considered when writing the news.

A great fault that he found with today's news media, all over the country, is that they do not provide their audience with enough information on world affairs.

"In this hydrogen age," he concluded, "our problems are global and our interests must be global."
