Charges Against Hensel, Carr Thrown Out

GOP Subcommittee Majority Overrules Demos' Objections

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans on the McCarthy army investigating subcommittee threw out all charges against Francis P. Carr and H. Struve Hensel Wednesday in the face of heated cries of "whitewash" from the Democrats.

The charges against Carr were dismissed over the objections, also, of Joseph N. Welch, counsel for the army.

The 4-3 vote on Carr and Hensel came after army officials rested their case in the 21st day of the televised public hearings and Roy M. Cohn, chief aide to Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.), was sworn in to lead off his side's testimony today.

'Whitewash' Charge Made
Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), one of the three Democrats opposing the dismissal of charges against Carr and Hensel, declared: "I think this is a whitewash and I do not think we will get the truth."

Symington announced he would appeal the action to the full senate and would move for a further investigation by the senate armed services committee.

The GOP majority, however, held there had been no proof of "pressure" charges against Carr, staff director of McCarthy's permanent investigations subcommittee, or of "blackmail" charges against Hensel, an assistant secretary of defense.

Inquiry Nears End
Thus the inquiry, now likely to end next week, narrowed to McCarthy and Cohn on one side of the fence and to Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams on the other.

The vote absolved Carr, who hasn't said a word in public since the hearings began, of army charges that he, Cohn and McCarthy tried by improper means to get preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine. Likewise the vote cleared Hensel of McCarthy's countercharge that he masterminded the army allegations in the hope of warding off an investigation of his World War II activities in connection with a shipbuilding firm.

McCarthy Makes Charge
McCarthy has charged that the army used Pvt. Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to kill the senator's investigation of alleged subversives at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

Both Carr and Hensel also were dismissed as witnesses in the inquiry likewise over vehement protests of the Democrats and of army counsel, Welch, who pleaded for a chance to cross-examine that "strong, silent man," as he called him—Carr.

McCarthy agreed to the dismissal of the charges against

Board Appoints Ebbs As SUI Band Head

The appointment of Frederick C. Ebbs as professor of music and director of SUI bands has been approved by the state board of education. Announcement of the appointment was made Wednesday by the office of President Virgil M. Hancher.

Presently serving as director of bands at Baldwin-Wallace college at Berea, Ohio, Ebbs will assume his Iowa duties July 1. He succeeds C. B. Righter, who will retire as director of the SUI concert and marching bands at the end of the current school year after serving in that capacity since 1937.

With 17 years of experience in high school and college band work, Ebbs is widely recommended as "one of the most outstanding young college bandmasters in America," according to Earl E. Harper, director of the SUI school of fine arts. Harper headed the faculty committee which has been seeking a successor to Righter since he announced his resignation last March.

Has Studied Privately
Ebbs was director of bands for the Hobart, Ind., schools for eight years before taking his present post at Baldwin-Wallace in 1948. Ebbs' bands—both junior and senior high school—were first division winners in both district and state contests during all eight years.

Committee To Study License Plate Plan

DES MOINES (AP)—A subcommittee of the Iowa Legislative Interim committee was appointed Wednesday to make a study of the feasibility of Iowa issuing "permanent" motor vehicle registration plates, and staggering the time of license renewals.

The committee set up the study group after discussing the matters with Missouri, California and Manitoba motor vehicle administrators. The administrators were here for a regional meeting of those officials.

Missouri issues five-year plates and re-registers vehicles throughout the year. California and Manitoba issue five-year plates. These are generally termed "permanent" plates.

Committee members reported the Missouri official said he did not like his state's system. The reason given was that it is more costly than re-registering all vehicles at the same time, as it is done in Iowa.

The subcommittee is to report its findings to the full committee, which then will make a recommendation to the 1955 legislature. The committee members declined to express their views at present.

11 Puerto Ricans Arrested, Charged With Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Wednesday announced a sweeping roundup of 11 leaders of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party on charges of seditious conspiracy to overthrow the United States government.

It was not immediately disclosed whether the arrests were aimed at nipping a new outburst of terrorism and violence by Puerto Rican extremists, such as the bloody shooting affray in the house of representatives last March 1.

Conviction Sentences
Conviction on the seditious conspiracy charge would involve possible maximum sentences of six years in prison or $5,000 fine, or both.

Six of the suspects were seized in Chicago, four in New York city, and one in San Juan, the capital of Puerto Rico.

Indictments Returned
The other detainees were placed against two Puerto Ricans now imprisoned in the Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, Conn.

Following Brownell's announcement here, U.S. attorney J. Edward Lumbard said in New York a federal grand jury Wednesday returned indictments against the 17 arrested or detained Puerto Ricans.

The four arrested in New York were held in $25,000 bail each pending arraignment on June 1.

Previous Violence
Hoover noted in connection with Wednesday's roundup that members of the Nationalist party were responsible for a bloody revolutionary outbreak in Puerto Rico in 1950, the attempted assassination of former President Truman at Blair House in November, 1950, and the recent fusillade of gunfire in the house of representatives.

Officials said the roundup capped a lengthy FBI probe into the party's activities extending back to 1936.

Hawkeye Claiming To Continue Today

Distribution of the 1954 Hawkeye will begin today at 8:30 a.m. and will end at 4 p.m., Gordon Campbell, business manager, said Wednesday night. This is the final day of distribution.

Students may obtain their copy by presenting their identification cards in the publications business office, southwest corner of East hall.

Campbell said that 2,260 books, including 650 to seniors, were distributed Wednesday and added that there are no more Hawkeyes available for purchase now.

The 1954 edition of SUI's yearbook, edited by Marilyn Maywald, A4, Cambridge, contains a report on the state of the university by SUI President Virgil M. Hancher; unique division pages, characterized by outline figures on black backgrounds; and many special features, including plans for the addition to the Iowa Memorial Union.

French Freighter Being Searched For Arms Shipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department said Wednesday night the French freighter Wyoming is being searched by U.S. customs inspectors at Cristobal, Atlantic entrance to the Panama Canal, to determine whether customs regulations have been violated—presumably by carrying arms not shown in the cargo list.

A statement issued by the department did not say specifically that arms were believed to be on board—possibly destined for Guatemala—but officials said that was the reason for the search.

The French Line office at Cristobal said the 8,693-ton Wyoming carried a general cargo and that "no arms are aboard."

The agent said the Wyoming is expected to pass through the canal today en route to El Salvador, Guatemala, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Vancouver, B.C.

The state department's announcement said, "The ship's manifest reflects a miscellaneous cargo comprised principally of machinery. Included are five boxes of sporting arms but it is understood that no question is being raised about these."

Officials said no suspicion had arisen with respect to the conduct of the French Line itself and that the line and the French government were cooperating. That left open the question of suspicion as to whether and how the manifest might have been falsified—if it was.

Reports reached the government here late last week that two more shiploads of Communist arms were en route to the Central American nation of Guatemala which earlier had received a 10 million dollar, 2,000-ton arms shipment from the Communist Polish port of Stettin. Officials said Wednesday night that they could not state whether the ship being searched was one of the two about which reports had been received.

Navy Wife Comforted

THE YOUNG WIFE OF a crewman aboard the carrier Bennington is comforted in Quonset Pt., R.I., by a friend as she weeps while waiting to learn the fate of her husband. There are 91 known dead and 201 injured in a fire and explosion at sea.

Alumni Heads' Blast Political Control of Board of Education

DES MOINES (AP)—A lengthening controversy over the authority of the state board of education broke out anew Wednesday.

A letter from presidents of the three state-supported educational institutions to candidates for the legislature and governor brought it up. Some members of the Iowa legislative interim committee commented on it at their meeting.

The letter, which asked the candidates to state publicly their positions on future appropriations for the institutions, said also:

Sees Schools Hampered
"Unless we are to see our great institutions hampered and their educational quality soon damaged seriously, the present movement toward political control of the administrative decisions of the Iowa state board of education must be stopped."

Sen. George E. O'Malley of Des Moines told fellow members of the committee about the letter. He said he didn't exactly care for what it said about controls over the board and thought perhaps it was aimed at the committee.

Arose from 1951 Act
The controversy arose over provisions of the state budget and financial control act of the 1951 legislature. It requires pre-auditing of expenditures by state educational institutions, with the possibility of denial. The act makes it possible for the state comptroller to deny any institution its appropriation money until it has used its income from other sources.

Also, the act required that the committee approve expenditures of appropriations for buildings at the institutions. The committee has insisted that the institutions turn back to the state general fund any operations appropriations unused at the end of each fiscal year, as other state agencies do.

The letter was signed by J. D. Armstrong, Ames, president of the Iowa State college Alumni association; L. C. Bagley, Audubon, president of the SUI alumni association, and Bert L. Woodcock, Cedar Falls, president of the Iowa State Teachers college alumni association.

Explosions, Fire Rip Bennington; 201 Hurt

QUONSET POINT, R.I. (AP)—A devastating explosion followed by searing flames took a toll of at least 91 dead and 201 injured aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington Wednesday in one of the worst peacetime disasters in U.S. navy history.

The navy announced the high casualty figure some 17 hours after disaster struck the Bennington as she cruised calmly some 75 miles at sea.

Scores of men were trapped by the tremendous blast below the flight deck. Hatches and bulkheads were sealed, blocking off escape for many. Some suffocated, others perished in flames.

The 32,000-ton Bennington was northbound in calm seas under a clear sky when the big ship was shaken by a loud explosion. "We had just completed our first successful launching of the first of our air groups," said the Bennington's new skipper, Capt. W. F. Raborn Jr. of Oklahoma City, "when suddenly an explosion shook the forward part of the ship down on the second or third deck.

"Realizing a catastrophe had occurred we launched the rest of the air group to free the decks for casualty control."

Investigation Ordered
Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas flew in from Washington and after conferring with Raborn said he had ordered an investigation of the tragedy.

Adm. John Hoskins, who lost his right leg in the Pacific, directed the helicopter rescue operations.

He said the exact location of the explosion was not known but that it probably was in the general vicinity of the wardroom. In naval parlance the wardroom is "officers' country." If this proved true casualties among the officers might be high.

Hoskins said he didn't believe there was any possibility of sabotage but that such an angle will be investigated along with every other.

Tales of heroism unfolded after the carrier docked here about 12:30 p.m.

Crewmen Line Deck
Grim faces of crewmen, their faces smoke-grimed and oxygen masks hung over their shoulders, lined the deck of the carrier when she docked. Scores of ambulances and stretchers waited to spring into instant action in getting the injured to hospital.

Helicopters had taken off some of the more seriously wounded as the Bennington moved slowly toward shore. They were landed in a field near the Newport naval hospital.

Ens. Robert Grant of Brooklyn, N. Y., unmindful of raw bleeding ankles, directed the evacuation of the injured.

"This was worse than war," he said with a tight-lipped, strained expression.

Blows in Hatch
He told of the explosion blowing in a hatch and of "five guys" vanishing in the terrific blast.

He said some men formed a chain by holding hands and the lead man groped his way to the starboard side forward. Grant said he apparently became unconscious and when he came to he gasped:

"Thank god, I had my clothes on." His hair and eyebrows were singed.

Proud of Crew
Raborn, who took command of the ship on May 5, said he is "mighty proud" of the way the crew handled things.

The cause of the explosion was undetermined, Raborn said. He placed the general location as in one of three or four "major items of equipment."

"The best information," he told newsmen, "is that it occurred possibly at the 5-inch fuse magazine." But he added: "This is completely unconfirmed and until we do get information I can only say it was a serious explosion at the third level on the port side."

Casualties Averted
Possible further casualties were avoided by the fact that many crewmen of the carrier, which normally carries 2,800 men, were having breakfast in the stern.

Aboard the Bennington was Air Task Group 181, made up of four squadrons based at the Oceana Naval Air Station, near Norfolk, Va. They are fighter squadrons VF41, VF24 and VF21 and attack squadron VA42.

A spokesman for VF41 estimated that about 130 men from each squadron were aboard the Bennington. The vessel left Norfolk Monday morning for New-

A Condensation of Late Developments

Vietminh Preparing for All-Out Assault
HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh Wednesday night were reported building up fast for an all-out assault on the town of Phuly, 30 miles south of Hanoi. French soldiers used bayonets to drive infiltrating rebels out of half a dozen villages within 10 miles of Hanoi. French military sources estimated that the rebels now had a fighting force equal to nearly two divisions in the sectors of Phuly, Nam Dinh and Thai Binh.

Railroad Control Battle Reaches Climax
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The bitter war for control of the new New York Central railroad was climaxed Wednesday as 2,000 stockholders assembled in a meeting marred by disorder and confusion—but the result of the fight may not be known for days. The meeting in an armory recessed, after a noisy 4 hours and 40 minutes, until noon Tuesday when election inspectors will report on the tabulation of stock voted.

3 Killed, 4 Injured in Iowa Car Crash
CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Three Indianans were killed and four others were injured, three seriously, in the head-on crash of two cars 14 miles west of here on highway 30 Wednesday night. Authorities identified the dead as Otto Leforge, 73, of Bainbridge, Ind.; his wife, about 70; and Hobart Weaver, 57, of Oaklandon, Ind., a suburb of Indianapolis. The injured were the Rev. and Mrs. John D. Buthman of Cedar Rapids; Mrs. Weaver and her grandson, Robert Wakefield, about 8 years old. All were hospitalized at St. Luke's hospital here, where attendants said all except the Rev. Mr. Buthman were in serious condition.

Dubuque Man Killed In Carrier Tragedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy Wednesday night issued a partial and incomplete list of casualties in the explosion-fire aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington.

At least one Iowan was among the 91 men known dead. He is Chief Boatswain Leo Francis Fix, Dubuque. He was to have been relieved of duty Sunday.

Navy headquarters said the normal procedure which requires a delay between the sending of notification telegrams and a release of the names to the press had been waived upon the orders of Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas.

A navy spokesman here said the task of assembling the complete casualty list will be enormous for several reasons.

Two of the carrier's personnel officers were killed in the explosion, many of the ship's records were scattered or possibly destroyed and some of the bodies were burned so badly that positive identification will take time.

Hats Off to the Hawkeye Staff

We take our hats off to Marilyn Maywald and her staff for the job they did on the 1954 Hawkeye.

Work on this year's book began last spring and continued through long winter hours until the book was finally ready this week.

The total hours spent by Miss Maywald and her staff could never be accurately tabulated. But all who will treasure the book for years to come will truly consider it time well spent.

The art work in this year's Hawkeye is outstanding. By the use of color and refreshing ideas, each division is set off. We are impressed too by the photographs which introduced subdivisions.

The informal pictures scattered among those of the seniors are an effective addition, capturing sidelights of the year.

When the first reading is over, the book may get put on the shelf, but it won't stay there long. As a permanent record of college friendships and activities, its value will grow with the years.

Governor Candidates Reply on Big Issues

Four of the seven Iowa gubernatorial candidates maintain that educational problems top the list or are of equal importance with other major issues to come before the 1955 legislators, the Action Committee for Education Legislation disclosed Wednesday.

The finding was based on responses to a nine-query questionnaire submitted to the seven men by the committee which is comprised of representatives of 13 state educational, labor and service organizations.

Lee A. Hoegh, Chariton; W. H. Nicholas, Mason City, and Ernest Palmer Jr., Ft. Madison, think that education is the most important problem which will confront the state law-makers next year. Clyde L. Herring, Des Moines, feels that "problems of education are of equal importance with other matters facing the state."

Places Schools Second

A. B. Chambers, Des Moines, places schools second with highways in first place, while William S. Lynes, Waverly, ranks education third, after balancing the budget and roads.

Benjamin Ellsworth, Ottumwa, indicates that the Republican party platform represents his view on all of the nine questions submitted by the committee, therefore answering none of the questions personally.

Chambers and Lynes feel that tuition should be raised at SUI, Iowa State college and Iowa State Teachers college whereas Herring, Hoegh and Palmer believe that appropriations for the three state schools of higher education should be increased as necessary expansion of facilities requires.

Favor Higher Teaching Standards

Four of the men running for governor are in favor of raising certification standards for teachers; those being Chambers, Herring, Hoegh and Palmer. Lynes is undecided and Nicholas did not reply to the question.

In response to the inquiry, "How do you propose to improve the present law on school district reorganization?" the candidates replied:

Chambers—"Should rely on the recommendations of the Iowa department of public instruction."

Would Change Law

Herring—"I believe the present law should be changed so that it would be possible to esablish and over-all school district plan. . . would change the present law so that no one school district could remain out of the proposed plan."

Hoegh—"By re-writing or clarification. . . in practical application, the present laws sometimes bring a result which defeats the purpose of reorganization."

Lynes—"I have no plan. Would suggest an interim study committee for recommending legislation."

Nicholas—"Did not state any proposal, but stated emphatically that he was in favor of 'home rule for schools.'"

Palmer—"No proposal until present law tested."

Favors School Aid Increase

The four candidates in favor of increasing the present state aid to schools include Chambers, Herring, Hoegh and Nicholas; the latter three feel that state aid should be increased $35 million or about 25 per cent of current school expenditures, exclusive of building costs.

"More than 100 districts in our state pay no tax to support schools. What solution can you offer for this situation?" the questionnaire asked. Herring and Hoegh suggest a uniform county levy; Lynes feels the situation is satisfactory if no school children and no schools are in the district; Palmer suggests no state aid to such districts. Chambers and Nicholas did not reply to the question.

To provide funds for new school buildings, Herring would suggest larger districts and higher debt limitations; Hoegh favors federal and state aid, a raising of debt limitations and reorganization to broaden the tax base.

Wants Indebtedness Raise

Lynes reply was "Raise indebtedness limits" and Palmer indicates "The solution must be found locally," as is also Chamber's feeling. Nicholas did not reply.

Three of the candidates, Chambers, Lynes and Palmer, feel that the increased federal appropriation for roads will not stop the diversion of general fund revenue to roads in Iowa and thus release some of the money for education.

Herring does not feel able to predict; Hoegh hopes that the federal appropriation will release additional funds for education. Nicholas did not reply.

Reply on Tax Issue

Candidates replied as follows to the question, "How can the total tax structure be improved to relieve the local burden? Of the total tax dollar in Iowa, as of 1952, approximately 58 per cent was federal tax, 19 per cent state tax and 23 per cent local tax."

Chambers—" . . . I cannot see a reduction in state and local taxes."

Herring—"The local tax burden can be relieved when the state again assumes its duty in caring for the old age recipients and dependent children . . ."

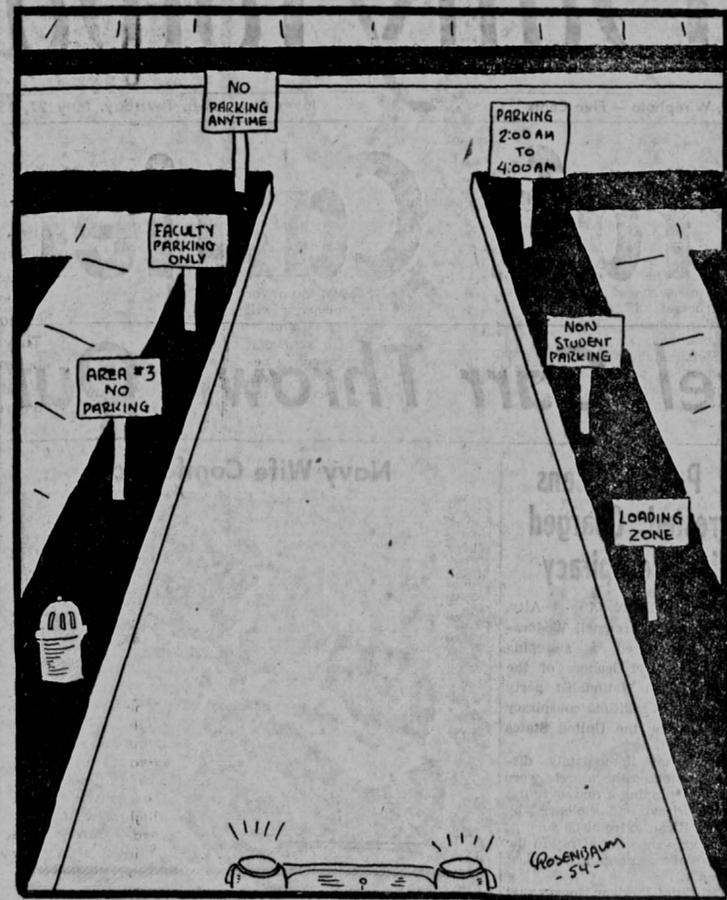

Hoegh—"By school district reorganization, by state aid and by a uniform county levy."

Lynes—"The only way is to reduce spending."

Nicholas—no reply

Palmer—"This cannot be done without raising state sales or income taxes, which raises I oppose."

Consulting Engineer For Iowa Highways To Retire May 31

DES MOINES (AP) — Fred R. White who has an eternal memorial in the primary roads of his native state, announced Tuesday that he is retiring May 31 as consulting engineer for the Iowa Highway commission.

White, who was 70 last Friday, was chief engineer for 33 years until he resigned Sept. 1, 1952, and has been consulting engineer since then.

"If I can be of further service to the highway commission, I shall be available to the best of my ability," White said.

White first went to work for what became the highway commission in 1908, when it was a part of Iowa State college, as an employe of the counties before there were any county road systems.

He left for a year to do drainage surveys in the south, and returned to the commission as a field engineer in 1911.

The highway commission wasn't established as a separate entity until 1913, and the primary road system wasn't created until 1919. Thomas H. MacDonald, the first chief engineer, became chief of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in 1919. White succeeded MacDonald as chief engineer.

He has approved expenditures of million dollars and has become one of Iowa's best known men and the recognized leading state highway engineer.

2 Students Win Government Jobs

Richard L. Podol, G. Chicago, Ill., is among 200 people from a field of 2,100, accepted for government service through the junior management assistant tests conducted since December. Podol will begin a 60 to 90 day training program in the treasury department in Washington, D.C., July 12. He plans to serve with the internal revenue service upon completion of his training.

Another SUI student, Georgeanne Halverson, A4, Ft. Dodge, has passed civil service tests qualifying her for a junior professional assistant post. She will be a claims examiner for the social security administration's Des Moines region after completing nine months of training which begins June 14.

Students Must Decide If Eligible To Vote Here

Whether or not SUI students who call Iowa City their permanent home are eligible to vote in Iowa City elections will have to be decided on an individual basis.

This was the opinion of Robert Meyer, city clerk, and Edward Lucas, city attorney.

Lucas said, "If somebody came up to you and asked, 'where is your home town?' and you answered 'Iowa City' then you would be eligible to vote in Iowa City. In other words, you vote in your home town."

Intent Should Decide

The student's eligibility to vote in Iowa City should be decided by intent. If a student calls Iowa City his home, and intends to stay here for several years, then he would be considered a permanent resident.

Meyer said a person is not considered a permanent resident if he or she spends summer and other vacations at home, if they are not financially independent, if the "home ties" are maintained to a strict degree, or if they consider their home town as a permanent address.

Married students may be considered as permanent residents. Many have severed connections with their home town. Most are self-supporting and there is a feeling of permanency about their Iowa City residence.

Decide Cases Individually "Most cases will be decided individually," Lucas said. "There is no way a clear cut line can be drawn on who is eligible to vote in Iowa City. But generally speaking, a person can ask himself the questions I quoted earlier and discover if he is a permanent resident. If so, he is eligible to vote here."

The Attorney General's office of Iowa has sent out opinions on the student voting question in past years. In 1938 the office said that a person who becomes a resident of a county for the purpose of attending college and who has formed no intention of remaining in the county except during completion of the college course, is not entitled to vote in that county.

In an opinion handed down in 1911-12, the Attorney General's office stated that a student who is 21 years of age or over and has left home on coming to school, intending to make the city his home until school is finished and then locate in some other place besides his former residence—can call his residence the city in which the school is located.

Opinions Not Binding

Lucas again commented that these opinions are not binding, and were generally handed down in answer to specific inquiries.

Students who do not consider themselves permanent residents of Iowa City may obtain an absentee ballot by writing the county clerk in their home county.

Permanent residents of Iowa City are urged by Meyer to register at the local office of the city clerk if they have not voted in Iowa City during the last four years. Friday is the last day that eligible voters may register.

3 Boys To Face Colorado Charges

Three 16-year-old Colorado youths who were found guilty on a purse-snatching charge in Iowa City, were returned to their home state to face charges in connection with three safe burglaries there.

They were sentenced to the Iowa Training School for Boys after pleading guilty to a charge of robbery in the case of the Iowa City theft. Judge Harold D. Evans, who heard their case, suspended the Iowa sentence which was imposed after the youths were transferred from district to juvenile court.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

The administration decision to drop its over-all tariff revision program for this session of congress has less effect on America's international relations now than it would have only a few months ago.

You will recall that the program presented to congress was the result of a study by a presidential commission initiated at a time when Britain, Europe and Latin America were calling for recognition of the fact that the United States still maintained a tariff policy, though greatly modified in application, which stemmed from the time she was a debtor nation instead of the world's largest creditor.

Overhaul Announced

Congress passed a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade laws in order to give the commission time to do its work, and the administration announced there was going to be a complete overhaul.

The commission came up with a report which pleased neither the free traders nor the protectionists. But still the program would have greatly relieved other countries which needed America as a customer but were still suffering from unfavorable trade balances.

They still are. Latin America, especially, is still clamoring for freer trade.

Things Are Better

In Europe, however, with the possible exception of France, things are a great deal better than they were a few months ago. Europe has gone right ahead with the production gains made under the Marshall plan.

This expansion can be continued if the American tariff will do not go up in increased foreign sales here. It will be greatly accelerated by any reductions which congress feels it safe to make without too great a threat to American employment.

Hensel. But he said he was not withdrawing a word of his charges. He said he would accept their dismissal in the light of President Eisenhower's directive last week ruling out testimony about the role of executive department officials in the row with McCarthy.

Motion Made

The motion to drop the charges was made by Sen. Henry C. Dworshak (R-Idaho) and seconded by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.). Acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) and Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) joined them in supporting it.

Voting with Symington against the motion, and endorsing his "whitewash" charges, were Democratic Senators John L. McClellan (Ark.) and Henry M. Jackson (Wash.).

Army Puts In Evidence

The army, as the last piece of evidence in its case, put in to the record a list of more than 250 telephone calls Schine allegedly made in his eight weeks at Ft. Dix. The names of the people Schine called were not made public.

All the monitored telephone calls between Stevens' office and the various principals in the McCarthy-army controversy were delivered at last to Ray H. Jenkins, the subcommittee's special counsel, who was directed to decide Wednesday night which ones might be admitted into evidence. Everybody but McCarthy, Cohn and Carr signed an agreement their calls could be made public without further permission.

QUESTION:
What makes a
Lucky taste better?

ANSWER:

"IT'S TOASTED"
to taste better!

No question about it, Luckies taste better to thousands of college smokers.

No question about the reasons why Luckies taste better, either. Today, nearly everybody knows L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And that fine tobacco is toasted to taste better.

"It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—brings Luckies' tobacco to its peak of flavor... tones up this light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better.

So enjoy better taste in your cigarette. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

3 Iowa Teams Seek Conference Crown

Solid positions in the first division are the prospects for Iowa track, tennis and golf teams in Big Ten championship meets of this weekend.

However, coaches point out that the uncertainties of the close competition easily can wreck hopes for high finishes. The track team is at Lafayette, Ind., the golfers at Minneapolis, Minn., and the tennis players at Champaign, Ill.

Thirteen athletes will compete at Lafayette in the track meet. Best prospects for first places are Rich Ferguson, two mile; and Earl Smith, broad jump.

Others are Les Stevens, hurdles and high jump; Dick Fowler, hurdles; LeRoy Ebert, Ira Dunswoth and Stan Levinson, 440 and relay; Glen Hesselstine, 100 and 220; Bill Burton and Phil Leahy, broad jump; Nick Piper, pole vault; Clyde Gardner, discus; and Bruce Nolf, 880 and relay.

The tennis team, with a dual meet record of 9-4, is led by Norman Barnes, No. 1 singles champion of 1952; and James Andrews. Others are Howard Hill, Eugene Nadig, Jim Norman, Bob Fletcher and Bob Ogden. The tournament starts today.

Coach Bucky O'Connor will take six golfers to Minneapolis. They are John Barton, Ed McCardell, Don Kneeter, Tom Washburn, Carl Johnson and one man to be picked from Bob Rasley, Jim Davis and George Welsh.

Big Ten Tennis Competition Starts Today at Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Jack Vincent of Wisconsin, undefeated for the season, and Northwestern's Al Kuhn, are expected to battle it out for the No. 1 singles crown in the Big Ten tennis meet starting today.

Indiana's well balanced squad, unbeaten in two seasons of conference dual meets, is heavily favored to win its third straight team title in the three-day meet. Michigan and Michigan State also rank high while outside chances for a first-division finish go to Illinois, Northwestern and Wisconsin.

Kuhn's only loss was a three-set defeat by Vincent in a dual match. Other No. 1 singles players in contention are Duane Gomer of Indiana, Norman Barnes of Iowa and Conrad Woods of Illinois.

Northwestern's No. 1 doubles combo of Kuhn and Paul Bennett are topseded but expect stiff opposition from three other tandems: Illinois' Woods and Roger Bielefeld; Wisconsin's Vincent and Jack Schmidtman and Indiana's Gomer and John Hironimus.

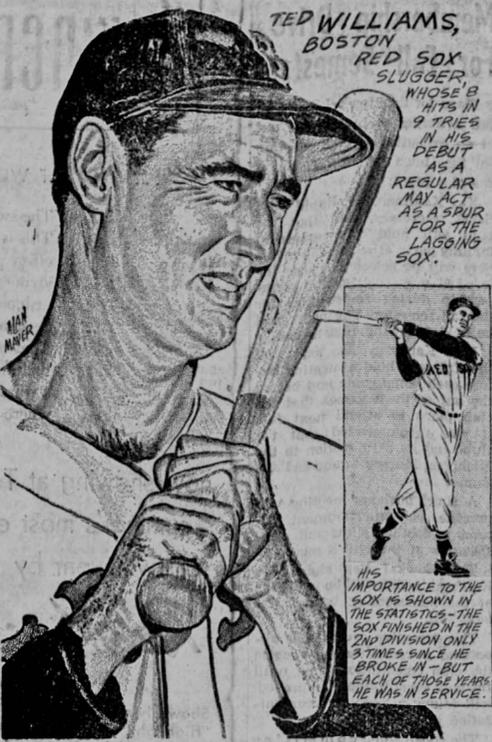

Earl Smith Has Best Jump in Conference; Other Iowans Rank

Earl Smith, who has been heralded as one of the best broad jumpers ever to compete for Iowa, leads the Big Ten in broad jumping with a recorded leap of 24-3/4, according to statistics released today by the Western Conference Service bureau.

Other Iowa performances and their ranking in the conference are as follows: Glen Hesselstine, 100-yard dash, sixth with 9.9 seconds; Leroy Ebert, 880, fourth with 1:54.3; Rich Ferguson, mile, third with 4:13.4; Ferguson, two-mile, third with 9:31.2; and Nick Piper, pole vault, fifth with 13-3/4. Iowa's mile relay team did second best in conference competition this season with a timing of 3:14.1.

White Sox Beat Indians In 9th, 5-4; Detroit, Giants, Phillies, Senators Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Cass Michaels' long bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth gave Chicago a 5-4 victory over the jittery Cleveland Indians Wednesday to move the White Sox to within a half a game of the first-place Tribe.

Michaels smashed a 3-1 pitch by the fifth Indian pitcher, Hal Newhouser, far over the center-fielder's head to score Nellie Fox from third with the winning run.

The winner was Sandy Consuegra, who took over for the Sox after one was out in the ninth as starter Bob Keegan faltered in pursuit of his seventh victory against one loss.

The White Sox had exploited five stolen bases and a pitching error for a 4-2 lead going into the sixth when Al Rosen smashed his 12th homer of the season.

The Indians tied the game at 4-4 in the top of the ninth as pinchhitter Joe Ginsberg tripled to deep center after George Strickland had singled with one out.

DETROIT (AP)—George Zuverink, a tall, 27-year-old right hander, made his first major league start a winning one Wednesday, pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 6-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Zuverink, who had pitched for Cleveland and Cincinnati, was troubled by base runners in every inning but was steady enough to send the Orioles down to their sixth straight defeat. He allowed

Martinez Pounds Davey, Stops Him In 7th on TKO

CHICAGO (AP)—Ex-collegian Chuck Davey again found the Chicago Stadium a school of hard knocks when vicious-punching Vince Martinez floored him four times and won by a technical knockout in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round bout Wednesday night.

Davey, who was stopped cold by Kid Gavilan in his last stadium appearance 15 months ago, was battered so severely in the sixth round by the sixth-ranked Martinez, that the former Michigan State college student was not allowed to come out for the seventh round.

Martinez, Paterson, N.J., weighed 148 1/2 and Davey 149.

The Tigers backed Zuverink with an 11-hit attack against Don Larsen, who suffered his fifth defeat against a single victory.

NEW YORK (AP)—Davey Williams, hitting a paltry .173, belted one of Vernon Law's pitches into the upper deck of the Polo Grounds Wednesday for the decisive run as the New York Giants defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 on four hits for the fifth straight triumph.

Two errors and Williams' single to right in the third gave the Giants their first run.

BROOKLYN (AP)—Del Ennis and Willie Jones drove in seven runs Wednesday night as the Philadelphia Phillies dumped the Brooklyn Dodgers out of second place in the National league with an 8-6 victory, their second in seven starts against the league champions.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bill Renna hit a pinch 10th inning single Wednesday night to enable the Philadelphia Athletics to edge the Boston Red Sox 6-5 at Connie Mack Stadium. Gus Zernial accounted for four of the Philadelphia runs with a grand slam homer in the third and Don Lenhardt hit a two-run homer for Boston in the eighth.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jim Lemon's pinch single with two out in the ninth inning scored Pete Runnels from second base to give Washington a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday night. It marked Washington's first win over Ed Lopat since June 26, 1951, the previously undefeated lefthander having defeated the Senators 12 straight times.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hank Sauer belted his 13th homer and drove in four runs and Dee Fondy collected four hits, one of them a home run, as the Chicago Cubs crushed the St. Louis Cardinals tonight, 15-5.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves pulled out of a near collapse in the eighth inning tonight to squeeze out a 7-6 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs and tighten their hold on first place in the National league.

Notre Dame, NCAA Tangle over Merits Of Grid Broadcasts

CHICAGO (AP)—Notre Dame, bitter foe of controlled football telecasts, and the NCAA clashed headon Wednesday at a broadcast convention.

Both gave their opposite views on the NCAA's "game-of-the-week" program for college football before the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters convention.

Walter Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA, said the televising of games involving such nationally known schools as Notre Dame "tremendously hurt" game attendance at many of the NCAA's 425 member schools.

But the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice-president of Notre Dame, said the NCAA's present control policy is "reactionary, socialist, artificial and of doubtful legality."

The NCAA plan provides for telecasting what it feels is the top game of the week selected by its television committee, originating from different sections of the country each week.

Byers said, however, that the NCAA is "not wedded" to the principle of controlled television and the policy could even be changed for 1955.

Pennington Selected As 1955 Captain For Swimming Team

Dick Pennington, Phoenix, Ariz., will captain Iowa's 1955 swimming team, Coach David Armbruster has announced.

It is the second time that Pennington has been honored, for he was co-captain of the 1954 team with Ross Lucas. The new leader holds the Iowa record with a time of :22.9 for the 50-yard freestyle.

Hampered last season by a knee injury, Pennington had trouble getting in shape after an operation. He finished strong, however, with a sixth place in the 50-yard freestyle of the NCAA meet.

The westerner was Iowa's best scorer in 1953, with 64 points. Armbruster expects him to be in shape for his greatest season next winter with his knee in normal condition.

Ed Lindsey Bats Most Home Runs In Big Ten Ball

Iowa's Ed Lindsey, captain and big gun at the plate for the erratic Hawkeye nine this season, wrapped up the Big Ten home run title with four to his credit.

He also led in total bases—33—though his batting average of .333 ranked only 15th among Big Ten players who batted 30 times or more during the season.

Iowa as a team batted eighth best in the conference with a .207 average at the plate in 455 times at bat. Michigan State, which won its first Big Ten baseball crown, also won the batting title with a .317 average in 492 times at bat. MSC had three of the league's top seven pitchers.

In individual fielding, Bob Miller of Iowa placed seventh among the first basemen with a .991 average; Ron Capps placed sixth among second sackers with .993; Ken Kurtz placed 10th among third basemen with an .882; Don Waldron placed third among shortstops with a .905 average, and Bob Heppenstahl tied for the lead with four other catchers with a perfect fielding average. Backstop Jerry Leber was eighth with .978.

5 Americans, 3 Servicemen Remain in British Golf Meet

MURFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., missed an easy three-foot putt on the 25th green Wednesday to lose a heartbreaking overtime match in the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf tournament.

The defeat of the swarthy New Yorker at the hands of Australia's Peter Toogood overshadowed the advance of five Americans—the two prime U.S. favorites, Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell, and a trio of servicemen.

The surviving U.S. servicemen were Harold Ridgley, a 40-year-old master sergeant of Haverstown, Pa.; Dick Davies, the 23-year-old golfing sailor from Annapolis, Calif.; and Maj. W. D. Henderson of San Francisco.

Fans even deserted their own champions, Irish Joe Carr, to watch the marathon battle between Strafaci and Toogood that carried seven holes and almost two hours beyond schedule. Carr kept pace with the favorites.

At the end of the day's wearying double round of eliminations, the field had been reduced to 32, and 8 Americans had been sent to the sidelines—4 in the third round and as many in the fourth.

The most disconsolate was Strafaci, the veteran tournament player from the eastern U.S.

Four down after the first eight holes, Strafaci rallied to knot the match at the 18th. Then the two went at it, hole after hole, until the 25th when Toogood sank a tough putt on the 157-yard payoff hole and Sartfaci missed from three feet.

Hawk Teams Tie for 3d In Big Ten Contests

A tie for third place in the Big Ten composite standing for football, basketball and baseball is Iowa's position for 1953-54.

The Hawkeyes won 19 and lost 16 to share the spot with Illinois. The basketball team had 11-3; football, 3-3, and baseball, 5-10.

Wisconsin is the leader, with 20-12-2 for .618; and Michigan State is second with 20-13-1 for .603. Others are Minnesota 19-16-1, .542; Ohio State, 19-17, .528; Indiana, 17-16, .515; Michigan, 16-19, .457; Northwestern, 13-20, .394, and Purdue, 9-26, .257.

ARRANGING SCHEDULES

Schedules for 1955 in swimming, wrestling, gymnastics and fencing will be arranged by Iowa coaches at the spring conference meetings in Lafayette, Ind. this week. In addition, football coaches and athletic directors will draft the football schedules for 1957 and 1958. The grid cards are complete through 1956.

BLOCKED AT THE PLATE, Dick Kryhoski of the Baltimore Orioles is tagged out by Detroit Tiger catcher Frank House as he tries to score on Sam Mele's single to right field in the first inning of the game. Al Kalline, Tiger outfielder, made the throw to the plate. Umpire Nestor Chylak calls the play.

HAWKS LEAD IRISH Because of the prominence of the football series—and especially the 14-14 tie game last fall—it is generally overlooked that Iowa teams met Notre Dame in four other sports during 1953-54.

It was an even break in baseball, 18-1 and 1-4; the Hawkeye tennis team won, 5-4; gymnastics, 71-25, and the fencers lost, 16-11.

Physical Education To Be Discussed By English Woman

Ruth Foster, her majesty's inspector in the British ministry of education, will speak Monday at 8 p.m. at SUI under sponsorship of the college of education and the graduate college. Her address will be given in the Shambaugh lecture room of the library.

The British educator will discuss the program of physical education in the elementary schools of England, which emphasizes free, self-directed activities for children. Her talk will be illustrated with films showing English children in these activities.

Open to the public, the lecture is expected to have particular interest for teachers of elementary school children, physical education instructors, and students of child development and those preparing to teach.

Spoke at Colleges
 Miss Foster's appearance at the university is one of three speaking engagements she is filling in the U.S. between lectures on a speaking tour of Canada. She spoke in April at an international conference on physical education for youth, held at the Connecticut Valley colleges, and at the annual meeting of the national association for physical education of college women at Bryn Mawr college.

The English speaker is a graduate of Dartford college of physical education, the first college of its type established in England, and took a post-graduate diploma in psychology at university college, London university.

Miss Foster served as an organizer of physical education for several local education authorities, which are similar to American school boards, and in 1940 became one of her majesty's inspectors, civil servants who work for the British ministry of education. She has played on the all-England hockey team, chosen from hockey players throughout England to play in international matches.

Position Told
 For the past three years Miss Foster has been chairman of the ministry's panel of inspectors concerned with physical education for both men and women. She is interested in the dance and drama as a means of development for the whole personality, as well as in gymnastic and athletic techniques.

Miss Foster was primarily responsible for two recent ministry of education publications on physical education in the primary school (elementary level): "Moving and Growing" and "Planning the Program."

WSUI's 35th Year Starts Friday

Anniversary Show Planned by Station To Mark Occasion

By BOB BLITZ

"This is Radio Iowa. Serving the public since 1919, WSUI, Iowa City."

This familiar station break tells a story. It means that WSUI, the university's educational radio station, has been serving Iowans since its inception 35 years ago.

WSUI is celebrating its 35th anniversary Friday with various programs in honor of the occasion. The "Anniversary Show" will be presented at 8:30 p.m. will discuss the growth of the station during its 35 year history.

Started in 1919

Radio is generally acknowledged to have begun in 1921 with KDKA, Pittsburgh, the first commercial station to go on the air. But two years previous to this, during the period of experimentation, Carl Menzer set up facilities for a radio station and began broadcasting from the SU campus.

MENZER

The station 9YA, the first west of the Mississippi, soon had listeners writing in from every state in the Union, Canada, the Canal Zone and even on board ship. Today, this area is confined to five states because of the existence of other stations on the same frequency in other sections of the country.

University officials tried for several years after the birth of the station to get the call letters WSUI. Their efforts finally succeeded when on Jan. 29, 1925, a ship bearing these letters went out of commission and its call letters were turned over to the university.

For the first 10 years, Menzer, presently in his 36th year with the station, was a "one-man station." He acted in the capacity of director, engineer, announcer, publicity agent, writer and secretary.

Engineer Hired

The staff was doubled in the year 1931 with the addition of John Ebert as chief engineer. He has remained in that position ever since. In keeping with the trend of the times, the station boosted its power to 500 watts and expanded to include studios in the Iowa Memorial Union and the Engineering building.

Another notable year for WSUI was 1934. It became one of the first educational stations to have the power of a kilo-watt, which is 1,000 watts. Plans were made for 27 weekly educational series, including a dramatic program in which the talent was chosen from among Iowa City residents. This is believed to have been one of the first experiments of its kind.

In 1936, one of WSUI's most popular noontime programs, "Rhythm Rambles," was initiated. That same year, a program director and a master control engineer were added to the full time staff of the station.

With the assistance of the works project administration, WSUI built a four floor annex to house its rapidly growing station in 1939. The result was one of the largest and finest equipped stations in the country.

Now Has 6 Studios

WSUI now has six studios and four control rooms. It has offices and work rooms housing fulltime staff members, continuity writers, drama directors, sports feature writers, music directors, both popular and classical, promotion personnel, newsmen, and chief announcer.

For all of this, the Iowa taxpayer pays less than the tax on a pint of gasoline per year.

In 1940 a three tower transmitting station was erected and the Federal Communications commission authorized an increase in power to its present 5,000 watts.

Today, WSUI is received in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri. It operates under the FCC on 910 kilocycles, and broadcasts Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

That is the history of "Radio Iowa," serving the public since 1919, WSUI, Iowa City."

School Repair Bids To Be Opened June 8

Bids on a new roof for the Henry Sabin school will be received by the Iowa City board of education June 8, at its regular monthly meeting.

Bid forms and specifications for the coal tar pitch and tarred felt and gravel finish roof can be obtained in the office of the superintendent of schools. Bids are to be in the superintendent's office by 7:30 p.m. June 8.

Approximately $2,000 has been budgeted for this routine maintenance project.

Friendship 2-Year-Old Learns Hard Lesson

Derf and Michael were friends—that is until Tuesday when Derf, part St. Bernard and part German police, bit Michael Zenishek, who is not quite two and all boy.

The two have been friends since Derf was added to the Willard Zenishek family about a year ago. They live about six miles northeast of Solon.

Now Michael is in Mercy hospital with 20 stitches in his head and 20 in his ear. Derf is tied up at the Zenishek home being watched closely for signs of rabies.

Tuesday afternoon a temporary end came to the friendship—due to a case of misunderstanding. Derf, who is usually quite gentle with the Zenishek children, according to their mother, was eating some bones and table scraps when Michael approached him. Derf, interested in his meal, apparently forgot that Michael was his friend as he suddenly bit the boy on the face and ear.

Mrs. Zenishek said that Michael didn't know that when a dog is eating he shouldn't be disturbed. It was a hard lesson for a little boy to learn.

Children Need Skills In Living, Group Told

Learning experiences which develop the skills and background needed in a democratic society must be provided for students as well as technical skills, speakers at opening sessions of a conference for nursing educators said Wednesday at SU.

Students need preparation for work in group activities, problem-solving projects and other cooperative experiences, Prof. Loretta Heidergerken, of nursing education at Catholic university of America, told the faculty members from schools of nursing in the Midwest.

Students themselves should have a chance to express opinions on content and teaching methods in their courses, Miss Heidergerken said, and should have some opportunity to select their own learning experiences under guidance.

Two kinds of surveys used in determining what materials to teach in preparing students for professions were outlined for the nurses by Provost Harvey H. Davis of SU. Surveying what is taught in other schools is a method which has been widely used but holds several pitfalls, Davis pointed out.

He explained that since the needs of students in various areas may not coincide, the same preparation may not meet the needs of all groups. Following this methods also makes for a static educational system, Davis said, since it does not encourage new developments.

The second type of survey—studying public demands or needs—helps the administrator actually to meet society's needs, the SU provost explained. The educator must also meet the student's needs, helping him to understand people, to become an independent and self-sufficient person able to manage his own resources.

Davis pointed out that any survey of present needs will not predict accurately the needs of society at any future time. Trends can be studied by the administrator and he can predict from these to some extent, but he must use wisdom in interpreting social developments of all sorts to meet future needs.

The nurses will hear talks today by Louise Schmitt, director of the SU graduate program in nursing service administration, and Emily Holmquist, research assistant in a special curriculum project at the University of Washington.

600 Applaud Clapp's Music At Concert

By DRAKE MABRY

A concert of compositions by the late Philip Greeley Clapp, former head of the SU school of music, was presented Wednesday night by the university symphony and chorus in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

"The Pioneers" was the outstanding work on the program. Originally composed for the Chicago centenary celebration in 1933, the number is beautifully written.

This composition is an attempt on the part of Clapp to portray the adventurous spirit of the pioneers. It is thoughtful and reflective in spots, yet maintains a feeling of vigor and buoyancy that our early settlers must have felt.

'Rousing, Riotous'

The second movement, done in a march theme, is a rousing and riotous toast to the successful pioneers for conquering an entire continent.

The crowd of approximately 600 greeted "The Pioneers" with a sound round of applause at the conclusion of the number.

"Summer" is a gentle sort of thing that rolls along with only occasional sessions of storminess. But it is a descriptive work that seems to capture the flavor of a free and easy midwestern summer.

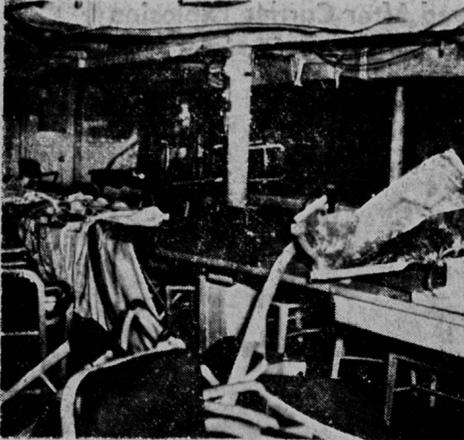

Music from Poem

Helen Keller's stirring poem, "A Chant of Darkness," so impressed the late Professor Clapp that he wrote music to accompany the poem. And he came up with a pleasing work.

We believe the university chorus turned in one of its better jobs of the year on this number. The words were understandable, the emphasis was placed on exactly the right thoughts, and they sounded like a professional group.

ATLEE TO VISIT CHINA LONDON (AP)—The British Labor party decided Wednesday to send former Prime Minister Clement Atlee and seven other top leaders to Communist China to promote British-Chinese friendship.

Debris Remains After Carrier Blast

THE WRECKED READY ROOM of the aircraft carrier Bennington shows the aftermath of the explosion and fire, Wednesday morning, that left 91 known dead crewmen.

Carrier Brings Dead, Injured into Quiet Port

QUONSET POINT, R.I. (AP)—

Showing no outward mark of disaster, the long, grey carrier Bennington came in from the sea Wednesday with a burden of about 91 dead and scores injured from explosions and fire.

It was quiet on the pier under the bright noon sun, with perhaps 150 persons waiting: Navy medical crews, a few officers, members of the shore patrol, a few photographers taking pictures.

Lined up were 15 or more ambulances. And in stacks of 10 or so were the basket stretchers piled at intervals on the long pier with its few, low buildings.

Tugs Dock Carrier

It was quiet, except for the panting tugs pushing and hauling the big carrier along the length of the pier. Quiet, except for the carrier's loudspeakers barking docking orders.

Cheerless, silent crewmen lined the rails, hands in their blue dungaree pockets. Up near the bow, something that looked like melted tar had dribbled down the ship's side.

A crane clanked and jockeyed long narrow gangplanks into level position. Narrow stairways were set up on the pier to the ends of the gangways.

Men Remain Quiet

Now the medical crews began moving—slowly over the narrow gangplanks—carrying in the basket-stretchers, the quiet men wrapped in four or five white navy blankets, a peajacket thrown on top.

They were not the worst cases. Overhead, even at the dock, whirling helicopters descended to the big ship's flight deck and then took off with men being hurried to the naval hospital in Newport.

These men being taken off—some of their faces looked darkened and dirty but didn't show burns. Their hair didn't seem singed. But some grimaced, as with pain.

The watchers on the dock—those who had no special immediate duties—waited, as one by one the ambulances carried their loads away, as the piles of basket stretchers went down—waited for the story to come of death at sea.

United Fund Invitations Distributed

Letters were sent out Wednesday by the Iowa City Community Chest inviting participation in a United Fund drive by the 16 agencies which have conducted community-wide fund drives in Iowa City during the past year.

The letters ask the agencies if the policies of their groups permit participation in a United Fund drive, and if they are interested in joining. Applications to join must be submitted by June 5. Budget forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The 50 community organizations and agencies belonging to the Community Chest voted in April to institute a united fund drive in Iowa City.

One Inclusive Drive

Under the plan only one community solicitation is made. Funds for all member groups are raised at that time, eliminating the need for several separate drives.

Letters were sent to the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, children's milk fund, Salvation Army, United Defense fund, Traveler's Aid, Visiting Nurse association, Iowa Children's Home, Red Cross, polio, cancer, muscular dystrophy, YMCA, YWCA, Crippled Children and Adults (Easter seals) and the Tuberculosis-Heart fund.

Agencies not receiving letters, but wishing to join the united fund drive, may apply for inclusion at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Questions concerning the incorporation may be directed to M. C. Boyer, Chest chairman, or the vice-chairman, Robert F. Ray.

BRUSH FIRE REPORTED

Iowa City firemen were called to extinguish a brush fire in the 600 block on N. Dubuque st. at 9:45 p.m. Wednesday. Piles of discarded wood near the bank of the Iowa river caught fire and sent flames into the air that attracted a crowd of several hundred. No damage was reported by residents of the area.
