U.S. Steel Ups Price To Offset Wage Hike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The nation's biggest steel producer, U.S. Steel corporation, boosted the price of steel $3 a ton Thursday to offset a wage increase in its new labor contract.

Just what effects the increase will have on the average American is still unanswered. Most manufacturers of products made of steel are inclined to think the price boost will not be passed on to the consumer.

Hard days have fallen on some manufacturers of automobiles, home appliances, farm equipment and many other industries using steel. Their sales already are off.

Decline To Comment
Most manufacturers, however, declined to comment immediately on the effect of increased steel prices.

Clifford F. Hood, U.S. Steel president, said the price hike will be put into effect as soon as cost production lists can be prepared. That is expected to take only a few days.

Expect More Increases
Most of the nation's big steel producers are expected to fall in line quickly and announce price increases similar to U.S. Steel's.

Last year the industry boosted the price of steel $4 a ton after signing an agreement with the CIO United Steel Workers giving workers an 8 1/2 cents an hour pay hike. That boost was passed on to consumers.

Roy W. Johnson, executive vice-president of General Electric company's appliance and electronics division, said the new steel rates may force higher price tags on a few consumer products manufactured by his company.

Will Absorb Hike
A spokesman for the Hotpoint company appliance manufacturer, said the firm probably will absorb the hike.

Peter V. Moulder, executive vice-president of International Harvester corporation, said: "Under present market conditions for farm equipment there's no chance of our attempting to pass along to consumers the increase in the cost of steel."

Auto manufacturers declined to comment, but trade circles in the industry feel stiff retail competitive conditions will cause the car builders to absorb the cost.

Some auto sources, however, feel the steel price hike may be reflected in costs of 1955 models. Gibson Refrigerator company, Greenville, Mich., says the $3 a ton increase will amount to only about 30 cents more a box. The firm said it will not increase prices.

Announcement Orders Due from August Grads

Graduation announcement orders for students graduating in August are now being accepted at the Alumni house, 130 N. Madison st.

Orders must be placed before noon July 12, because of the printer's deadline. Students will then receive their announcements about two weeks before commencement.

The Alumni house is across the street from the Iowa Memorial Union.

Senator Hits UN Proposal To Seat Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Cal.) said Thursday that if the United Nations admits Red China he will quit his post as the Senate Republican leader and devote all his energy to take the United States out of the U. N.

The deadly serious, deep-voiced Knowland declared in a Senate speech that France, "in a thinly disguised surrender," is letting much of the Indochina slip into Red hands while "the free nations of the world seem to be faced with inertia."

Following this Communist victory, he predicted, there will spring up a concerted effort to bring Communist China into the U. N. through action of the General Assembly.

"On the day that Communist China is voted into membership," he said, "I shall resign my majority leadership in the senate so that without embarrassment to any of my colleagues or to the administration, I can devote my full efforts in the senate and throughout the country to terminate United States membership in that organization and our financial support of it."

Knowland has been majority leader, succeeding the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, since Jan. 5.

Before and since that date, he has been crying for action to stem communism, especially in Asia.

So far, 17 of the 60 member nations of the U. N. have recognized Red China. It is expected that Russia and India will make a call in the General Assembly convening Sept. 21 for the admission of Communist delegates to replace the Nationalist Chinese. Some key diplomats at the U. N. say, however, they do not expect any hard fight then for Red China's admission, but only the formality of a call for it.

Texas Floodlands Declared Disaster Area; 55 Dead

EAGLE PASS, Tex. (AP)—The south Texas borderland where 55 are known dead and 90 are missing in the greatest Rio Grande flood in history Thursday was declared a major disaster area.

The count of the dead and missing continued in the crumbled desolation that once was Piedras Negras, Mexico, a city of 35,000 across the river, while the historic crest of the Rio Grande rolled on 150 miles downstream.

The Mexican army surgeon general, L. Col. Salvador Hernandez Vela, said the death count at Piedras Negras alone still stood officially at 38, and 90 were known to be missing—and still there was no way of knowing how many bodies floated down the river into the anonymity from which they had come.

House Votes Crop Support Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house Thursday refused to accept the administration's flexible system of farm price supports but voted 179-164 for a compromise which would support basic commodities at from 82 1/2 to 90 per cent parity.

Both actions in the big farm fight were tentative and subject to reconsideration when the house takes final action on its general agriculture bill today.

President Eisenhower's program for supporting the main crops on a sliding scale ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity was shouted down on a voice vote.

Last-Minute Compromise
But GOP leaders succeeded in putting across their last-minute compromise after intimating it was an alternative to a presidential veto of farm legislation this year.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the Republican house leader, appealed to members to go along with the middle-of-the-road approach "as the first step to get away from high, rigid price supports put on in wartime."

Many farm state legislators want another year of 90 per cent supports for the nation's six basic crops.

Want Flexible Program
The administration, already loaded down with $6 1/2 billion worth of surplus farm products acquired under price support programs, wants a flexible program. The idea is to try to discourage production in times of plenty by lowering supports and encourage it with high supports when things are scarce.

The standing vote on the compromise, which was not recorded, went surprisingly along party lines, with only about 20 Republicans opposing in and about the same number of Democrats favoring it. Rep. Robert D. Harrison (R-Neb.) was the sponsor of the amendment.

Before the vote was taken, Halleck warned advocates of high price props that they would have to take the responsibility for public indignation if farm surpluses continued to pile up in unmanageable quantities.

Hope Voices Surprise
Chairman Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan.) of the house agriculture committee, who spearheaded the fight for a continuation of 90 per cent supports, said he was surprised by the outcome. "I thought we were making some headway," he commented.

Parity is a standard for fixing farm prices, declared by law to be fair to the farmer in relation to the cost of basic things he buys.

Hope told reporters he thought there was "a good chance" of reversing the decision on the compromise when the house begins a series of rollcall votes today. He said he expected to pick up some support from the 92 members who were not voting Thursday.

Martin Confirms Result
But Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts said the result would remain as it is.

Harrison's amendment, Martin said, "will permit us to say we've done the right thing—the right thing for the farmer, the right thing for the consumer, the right thing for the country."

Martin apparently had in mind the congressional elections next November, in which farm policy will be a big issue.

Chemistry Grad Burned In Laboratory Accident

Francis B. Stute, G. Elma, was reported in good condition late Thursday night at University hospitals.

Stute, who is doing graduate work in chemistry, received second and third degree burns of the face and neck Thursday afternoon in an explosion while working in a chemistry building laboratory.

Helen Jepson Arrives in Iowa City

HELEN JEPSON, FORMER METROPOLITAN opera star currently on a lecture tour, steps from a United Airlines convair at the Iowa City airport Thursday afternoon. The soprano gave a combination lecture-recital entitled "Backstage at the Met" Thursday night in SUI's Macbride hall. The program is the first of the summer session lecture series, part of the 16th annual Fine Arts Festival. Prof. Orville Hitchcock of the SUI speech department is director of the lecture series.

Busy Singer Enjoys Lecture Tour, Recalls Opera Debut

By DRAKE MABRY
Helen Jepson, former Metropolitan opera star, is one lecturer who gets a kick out of looking across a different set of footlights two or three nights each week.

Obviously enthused about her current tour, even though her lecture-recital Thursday night is the last before she returns to New York and a month's vacation, Miss Jepson said, "Lecturing is new to me, but I thoroughly enjoy the close contact with people that such programs afford. They give a performer a new slant."

In addition to the six week tour each year, Miss Jepson teaches a special class at Fairleigh Dickinson Junior college in Teaneck, N. J., where she has 35 private pupils.

Student Singing on Broadway
One of her students, Edith Adams, is currently playing opposite Rosalind Russell in the Broadway musical "Wonderful Town."

Miss Jepson considers her Metropolitan debut opposite Lawrence Tibbett the most memorable event in her entire career. "Of course, all the roles I have played were wonderful and exciting, but that opening night I received 200 telegrams and 50 baskets of flowers. It took three cabs to get everything home. Things like that just don't happen to a person after every performance."

"Incidentally, some of my pupils are going through the same sort of excitement now," she added.

Although Miss Jepson has retired from the Metropolitan she is kept as busy, "or busier," than she was while singing with them.

She Keeps Busy
She is active in civic affairs in Teaneck, leading such charity drives as the tuberculosis fund campaign, the Christmas seal fund, and civic and community music groups.

The current tour has taken her through the New England states and as far south as Louisiana. Tentative plans call for a visit to the west coast next year.

Miss Jepson's July vacation is eagerly awaited by her husband, Walter Dalleria, an engineer, and her 10-year-old son.

"We'll just go down to the sea shore and live in a shack," she said. "No electricity, no TV, just some surf fishing and complete relaxation."

City School Board Annexes 4 Areas

The Iowa City board of education Thursday night unanimously agreed to the annexation of four bordering portions of the West Lucas Township school system into the Iowa City Independent school district.

The merger was approved in a general election held March 9 by the residents of both communities. Financial arrangements between the two districts will be outlined at the next board meeting.

The annual secretary's report read Thursday night showed a cash balance in the general school fund of $161,822.52 as of July 1. In the school house fund there is a cash balance of $39,122.55 and in the special courses fund there is a cash balance of $3,705.22, according to Charles Barker, board secretary.

Opera Star Songs, Talk Delight Audience

Soprano Helen Jepson gave approximately 400 people a privileged glimpse into the backstage life of a Metropolitan opera star Thursday night in Macbride hall auditorium. And she did it with such charm and poise that the audience sat through the hour and one-half lecture-recital completely engrossed in her commentary.

Starting with her early life ("my high school principal substituted glee club credits for chemistry so I could graduate") Miss Jepson told of her first job after school selling records in an Akron, Ohio department store. ("I practically wore out the latest records by Paul Whiteman, Isham Jones, and Rudy Vallee.")

She carried on with her school days at Philadelphia's Curtis Institute, where her standard of living was slightly less than expensive ("we depended on boxes from home for most of our meals") but sounded like fun.

One of Miss Jepson's most notable characteristics is her facility for projecting her personality to the audience. She speaks as well as sings, with a sense of warmth that is easily grasped by the people out front.

The audience particularly enjoyed Miss Jepson's anecdotes about life with the opera company.

"We're sure that Miss Jepson's dispelled many false notions concerning opera singers. With her youthful exuberance, a fine sense of humor, and full knowledge of operatic personalities, she showed that famous stars are so often just simple, human people like you and I."

Shaggy Stubble Causes Poet Trouble

Carl Margulis has found out that a growth of stubble may lead to trouble—and it might even lead to an audition for a job with a centennial celebration.

Margulis, 22, from Yonkers, N. Y., an unclassified student, at SUI last semester, began his saga of woe and surprise in April when he decided it was time to grow a beard—a red beard to match the color of his hair.

Since then he's found out that a matty growth can cause serious consequences, including trouble in finding a job and a place to live.

Margulis, a poetry major, explained, "Employers and landlords turned against me. I couldn't get a job and had trouble finding a room."

But the red-bearded bard found out Thursday that the lengthy stubble may bet him a job with the Omaha Centennial celebration, the week of Aug. 23.

In a wire from the centennial's director, Margulis was offered an opportunity to audition for a part in the celebration.

Senate Kills Proposal To Cut Taxes, 50-33

Local Man Kills Self As Father Looks On

By JOE MORAN
An Iowa Citian watched his only son commit suicide Thursday afternoon.

Edmund L. Kelley, 38, local rendering plant worker, took a dose of deadly strychnine, while his father, who believed it was only harmless table salt, looked on.

The police found Kelley lying on the floor of an upstairs room rented by his father at 646 S. Dodge st., when they arrived at the scene about 2:30 p.m. An empty, 9 1/2 ounce bottle of strychnine lay on a nearby table. A drinking glass containing a few of the poisonous crystals was beside it.

Opera Star

Songs, Talk Delight Audience

The older man added that it was almost an hour after his son had swallowed the poison that he became alarmed and called the police station.

When the police arrived a few minutes later, the drug, which attacks the central nervous system, had stopped both heart and lung action. County Coroner George D. Callahan pronounced Kelley dead. Iowa City police reported the death as suicide.

Kelley said that his son had been living with him for the past week. The younger man and his wife, Mrs. Viola Fern Kelley, 1027 Friendly ave., were separated.

Mrs. Kelley began divorce proceedings June 21 after charging Kelley with assault and battery three days before. She has been living with her parents since then.

5 Children
The Kelleys have five children: Donna Mae, 13, Merle Lloyd, 10, Robert Edmond, 8, Edmond Leslie, 5, Linda Darleen, 3, who live with their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley had formerly lived at 4106 S. Linn st. Kelley said his son had been despondent since separating from his wife and feared that "they would take the children away" from him during the divorce.

He said his son had been taken to the McGovern funeral home, 506 E. College st. He was later removed to the Cook's-Lunning funeral home in Mt. Pleasant.

$500 DAMAGE IN FIRE

City firemen were called out at about 11:30 p.m. Thursday night to extinguish a fire at the Melody Mill inn on highway 6, west of Iowa City. Firemen reported that the fire was started by a faulty wire in the dining room wall. Mr. and Mrs. John Kobes, the inn's owners, estimated that at least $500 damage was done.

First Major Overhaul

The bill provides the first major overhaul of the tax structure in many years and, while changing no major rates, provides a variety of tax cuts on individuals and corporations amounting to about $1,400,000,000 a year.

In addition, the bill would avoid a loss to the government of $1,200,000,000 in revenue in the next year by extending the corporation income tax rate at 52 per cent to April 1, 1955. Without the extension, the rate would drop to 47 per cent.

Revenue Need Cited

Here, again, the government's need for revenue was cited. Another argument was summed up by Sen. Henry Dworshak (R-Ia.), a candidate for reelection:

"This is not the time for it, when we cannot do anything for the wage earner."

Those voting on the amendment to whittle down the benefit for dividend income included 30 senators whose terms expire at the end of this year. Of these, 27 voted for the amendment and 3 against it.

This amendment was offered by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) who, is not a candidate for re-election. It would eliminate a section under which taxpayers could deduct five per cent of their dividend income from their tax bill. It would leave a section by which they could figure the first $50 of dividends as tax-free.

Dividend Treatment Assailed
Democrats assailed the proposed dividend as special treatment for the wealthy. Republicans said it was a proper device to encourage the flow of money into stocks so the economy would be strengthened by job-creating industrial and commercial expansion.

The house bill would exempt from taxation the first $50 of dividend income and permit the taxpayer to deduct from his tax bill 5 per cent of the dividend income above $50 in the first year of the bill. In subsequent years, the exemption would apply to the first $100 and the deduction would increase to 12 per cent.

With the Johnson amendment out of the way, the senate took up a proposal by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) to give every taxpayer a $20 credit—$40 for the man and his wife.

Objects to Cost
Sen. Eugene Millikin (R-Colo.) argued this would cost the treasury $1,400,000,000 a year and put it under "a harsh, oppressive burden."

Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.) said that $958 million of the proposed cut would go to taxpayers making $5,000 a year or less and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) chimed in that this money would go immediately into the nation's spending stream and stimulate business.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) asked Long to modify his amendment to give $20 credit only to those taxpayers making $10,000 or less.

In the end, there was an almost solid Republican vote against Long's amendment, with only two GOP senators, William Langer and Milton Young of North Dakota, voting for it along with 30 Democrats and Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.).

The bill provides the first major overhaul of the tax structure in many years and, while changing no major rates, provides a variety of tax cuts on individuals and corporations amounting to about $1,400,000,000 a year.

In addition, the bill would avoid a loss to the government of $1,200,000,000 in revenue in the next year by extending the corporation income tax rate at 52 per cent to April 1, 1955. Without the extension, the rate would drop to 47 per cent.

An amendment by Sen. Morse to knock out a provision permitting businesses to write off their depreciation costs more rapidly lost 60-20.

Morse attacked the bill provision as "a handout and a subsidy to big business" that was not needed and would provide the wrong kind of economic stimulation.

This is the biggest single revenue-losing item in the bill. It would cost $375 million in the first year.

Senate struck down Thursday, by a 50-33 vote, an 11th hour move to give every taxpayer a $20 reduction on his bill.

It was the third time in two days that the idea of general tax relief was rejected. The prevailing argument was that the government needs the money.

In another roll call vote, the senate cut from the general tax revision bill the most important part of an administration plan to give special relief to taxpayers who get part of their income from dividends. The vote was a lopsided 71-13.

When the police arrived a few minutes later, the drug, which attacks the central nervous system, had stopped both heart and lung action. County Coroner George D. Callahan pronounced Kelley dead. Iowa City police reported the death as suicide.

Kelley said that his son had been living with him for the past week. The younger man and his wife, Mrs. Viola Fern Kelley, 1027 Friendly ave., were separated.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Foreign Staff

The United States and Britain, if they were firm enough, could stop this constant border shooting between Jordan and Israel. It might not be diplomatically polite, but it would be effective. The two big powers, along with France, are supposed to be guarantors of the truce between Israel and the Arab states obtained under United Nations mediation. They have done very little to live up to their obligation. Their influence is not so great, or is completely lacking, among other members of the Arab league. But the situation in Jordan and Israel is clear. The very establishment of the Jewish state in Israel depended upon and resulted from United States aid in the beginning. When Israel was established, the Arabs were driven out of one of the richest areas they occupied, and they took up hatred almost as a religion. Israel is heavily dependent upon money from American Zionists for her existence until she can become self-supporting. Jordan's army is, for many practical purposes, a child of Britain. It is supported by British funds and run by a Britisher. The U. S., like any other nation, has the power to control exports, including money. By exercising the powers they already have, Britain and the U. S. could merely tell the two states to stop the shooting and the odds were very heavy that they would have to do so. But don't expect it to be done.

Swim Lessons Popular; Saturday Classes Set

Large enrollment for the Red Cross swimming classes, which began Monday, has made it necessary to hold classes on Saturday mornings, a Red Cross spokesman said Thursday.

Approximately 1,400 children and adults have enrolled for the classes, according to Prof. Gladys Scott, water safety chairman for the Johnson county Red Cross chapter. During the six-week course, which ends August 7, each swimmer will receive a total of 12 lessons. There are special programs for beginning, intermediate and advance swimming students.

60 Per Cent of Red River Delta Abandoned to Vietminh

SINGAPORE (AP) — French troops have abandoned a major portion of the Red River delta in Indochina. Completion of their withdrawal will leave 60 per cent of the rice-rich delta in the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh and put four million additional Vietnamese under Red control. With abandonment of the southern sectors of the delta, including four major French posts, the end of the almost 8-year-old war appeared not far off. This could come either by military defeat or a negotiated cease fire. A French army spokesman, in Hanoi, key point in the delta's defense, said Thursday the giving up of thousands of square miles of the richest rice lands in Indochina without a fight was directed by defense needs. Troops Needed He said the withdrawing troops were needed in the northern and central delta zones to protect Hanoi and the vital Hanoi-Haiphong rail and highway supply lines from possible attack by "six Vietminh divisions massed on the delta borders." These are in addition to 100,000 Vietminh already infiltrating into the delta. This situation could presage a "Dunkerque" at the northern seaport of Haiphong of the French are unable to hold Hanoi. Vietnamese political leaders assailed the withdrawal as a complete sell-out to the Vietminh. The French denied it. The troop withdrawals began Tuesday after a week of air evacuations of military families, French and some Vietnamese civilians. But it was not until Thursday that the French permitted the news to come through their tight military censorship. French Pulling Out Points from which the French said they were pulling out include such important and heavily populated centers as Phat Diem, Thai Binh, Nam Dinh, and Nin Binh, all 45 to 70 miles south and southeast of Hanoi. Reports from Hanoi Thursday said hundreds of troops and supplies moved northward from Nam Dinh to the French fortress of Phu Ly, 30 miles south of Hanoi. Unless the Geneva conference negotiates a cease fire in Indochina, the Vietminh are expected to hit the supply line quickly with massive human sea attacks that might crush the French Union defenders. That would point to a northern Indochina Dunkerque at the port of Haiphong.

Girl Motorcycles 1,200 Miles to SUI

Today's young men may think of a 1,200-mile cross-country motorcycle trip as something of great adventure. Most young women probably consider this kind of adventure as something strictly for the boys.

But Helen Millar, a student enrolled in an orthoptic technician's course at SUI, sees nothing adventurous in such a trip and she scoffs at the idea that motorcycleing should be left to the men.

To attend the short course at SUI, she rode her motorcycle from her home in Montreal, Canada, to Iowa City, and in her own words, "It isn't adventurous—it's tiring."

Miss Millar began each day's drive in the afternoon to avoid much of the heat and she stopped each night about 9 or 10 p.m. Her speed seldom exceeded 60 miles per hour.

She halted every two or three hours during the four-day drive to rest and to check her motorcycle, and after a stop in Windsor, Ontario, members of a local motorcycle club escorted her through the city and saw her off on the next lap of her journey.

Throughout the trip, the young cyclist says, she found nothing but friendliness and helpfulness among persons she met at roadside stops and resting points.

Upon successful completion of the short course at SUI, Miss Millar will fulfill one of the requirements for certification as an orthoptic technician by the American Orthoptic Council. These technicians work under the direction of doctors in aiding persons with sight difficulties.

(SUI Photo by George Black) A 1,200-MILE RIDE on a motorcycle is "tiring, not adventurous," says Helen Millar, 19. Miss Millar traveled from Montreal, Canada, to SUI on her motorcycle to attend a course for orthoptic technicians. She will return home this weekend — the same way she arrived.

8 Local Telephone Installers Join Strike

At noon Thursday, eight Iowa City Western Electric telephone equipment installers joined a strike which affects 43 states and the District of Columbia. The manager of the local Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., Roy A. Williams, said the eight men worked Thursday morning but did not return in the afternoon. The national walkout began at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Although the eight men operate out of the Iowa City Bell office, they do not work directly under local telephone company management. The Bell and Western Electric companies are both associated with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. system.

Local union officials have no definite word as to when Iowa picket lines will be set up. Robert E. Madison, Ankeny, said Thursday afternoon. Madison, a member of Local 7290, is chief steward for the Iowa Communications Worker union.

Picket lines will be established on a national basis, Madison indicated.

Klontz Pulls From Behind, Enters Semifinals

Leahy, Kneeter, Rule Triumph; Barton Ousted

DAVENPORT (AP)—Defending Champion Herb Klontz of Cedar Rapids had to come from behind on the last three holes Thursday afternoon to advance into the semi-finals of the Iowa Amateur golf tournament here.

He was 2 down with three holes to go in his match with Al Howard of Davenport. He finally defeated Howard 1 up by shooting a one under par 70.

Klontz slammed his drive on the 16th into the creek, but remarkable recovery shots enabled him to win the hole with a par 4. On the 17th his drive landed next to the pin, and he had a birdie 2. Klontz won the match on the next hole with a par 4.

Young Don Kneeter of Des Moines edged fellow townsman Luti Fontanini 1 up, in a match marked by a conceded hole. Fontanini unintentionally moved the ball with his club on the 16th hole, and conceded the hole. The match ended 1 up.

Jack Rule, the 15-year-old medalist from Waterloo, beat John Miller of Davenport 1 up in 20 holes. He will meet Kneeter in the semi-finals.

Bob Leahy, Denison, had a fairly easy match Thursday afternoon. He defeated John Barton of Davenport 4 and 3. All Davenport entries in the tourney now have been eliminated. Leahy will meet Klontz in a 36-hole semi-final match today.

Furillo Caught Off First In Double Play

(AP Wirephoto)

BROOKLYN DODGERS' RIGHT FIELDER Carl Furillo, still on the ground after his late return to the bar, is out as umpire Lon Warneke signals. He was victim of a double play when New York Giants' shortstop Al Dark took a line drive by Billy Cox and tossed it to first baseman Whitey Lockman (left) for the second out. The play came in the third inning of the Giants' third win in a row over the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday.

Giants Take 3d From Bums

Yanks Top Bosox, 8-7, with 5-Run 3d

BOSTON (AP)—Yankee home runs by Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Andy Carey produced five runs in the third inning Thursday and the New Yorkers hung on to win an 8-7 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Veteran righthander Allie Reynolds, seeking his 10th straight victory, failed to get by the three-run Red Sox' fourth inning but another veteran, Johnny Sain, came on in the seventh to receive credit for the victory.

After Reynolds and Bob Grim had been treated roughly by the over-threatening Red Sox for the first six frames, Sain stifled Boston with only a single hit to gain his fourth decision against two losses.

The Yankees teed off on Boston's starter Frank Sullivan in the first inning with two runs.

In the clinching third-inning rally, Collins walked and Mantle homered.

Berra flied out but Bauer homered. Gene Woodling followed with a walk and came in on Carey's homer.

The Yankees tallied what proved to be the winning run in the fourth when Collins walked and Yogi Berra singled and Sox outfielder Karl Olson's throw to third hit Collins on the head for a run-scoring error.

RECORD BY RASCHI

Pitcher Vic Raschi of the St. Louis Cardinals holds the major league record for most balks in one game (4) made May 3, 1950 while pitching for the New York Yankees.

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes, pinch hitter extraordinaire, came through in his specialty for the second time in three days, banging a bases-loaded single in the eighth inning to snap a 2-2 tie and give the New York Giants a 5-2 victory Thursday for a sweep of the three-game series with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

It was the seventh straight victory for the Giants and stretched their lead over the second place Dodgers to four games.

It also was the Giants' 25th triumph in their last 29 games.

Same As Tuesday's Rhodes' game-winning hit was practically a carbon copy of the one he made in the 13th inning Tuesday night to beat the Dodgers. That, too, was a sharp ground single into right center field.

Righthander Ruben Gomez was breezing along on a 2-0 lead until two out in the seventh when Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo smashed back-to-back home runs to tie the score at 2-2.

Whitey Lockman opened the Giant eighth with a single. Hank Thompson dropped a sacrifice bunt in front of the plate and when Campanella threw wildly in an attempt to nail Lockman at second, Whitey reached third and Thompson second.

Mueller Walked An intentional base on balls to Don Mueller loaded the bases.

After Billy Cox grabbed Willie Mays' sharp grounder and threw to the plate to nip Lockman, Manager Leo Durocher sent Rhodes up to hit for the slumping Monte Irvin.

Rhodes' safety drove in Thompson and Mueller and sent Mays to third. The Giants added an insurance run when Wes Westrum flied deep to Walt Moryn, allowing Mays to score easily after the catch.

Cardinal Homers Beat Braves, 9-2

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Rookie Joe Cunningham and Stan Musial blasted two home runs apiece Thursday as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Milwaukee Braves, 9-2, but lost the services of ace lefthander Harvey Haddix who was carried from the field on a stretcher in the fourth inning with an injured leg.

Haddix, top winner in the National league with a 12-4 record, was hit just below the kneecap by a line drive off Joe Adcock's bat in the fourth. X-rays showed he suffered abrasions and contusions. He was expected to be out of action about 10 days.

'400,000 Fans Or We Move,' Macks Tell Philadelphians

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The owners of the Philadelphia Athletics have told Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. that unless the American league club can draw 400,000 fans in its remaining 1954 home games, the franchise will be moved or sold.

Roy and Earle Mack were quoted as telling Clark, in an appeal to the city's chief executive for help in boosting the sagging attendance, that several cities, including Minneapolis, Dallas, Kansas City and Houston, were seeking to purchase the franchise or have it moved to their city.

And in a statement issued Thursday, Roy Mack, the club's executive vice-president, said "much pressure is being brought on us to move to one of them."

The situation developed after a routine release from the city hall publicity office which said the mayor was calling an emergency meeting on July 8 in his office of 75 top leaders of the community to discuss way and means of attempting to bolster the attendance.

Mack, in a statement issued along with the release, said: "It is gratifying to learn that the mayor is organizing a committee to keep the Athletics here. We desire and intend to remain in Philadelphia, but to do so we must draw more people."

In the home games to date, the Athletics have drawn about 125,000 paid admissions. The Macks figure that a half million fans for the season would enable them to keep the franchise here.

Mack's statement Thursday said in addition that "we have a good young ball club and if we can get over the hump to the end of the season we can keep the franchise."

Douglas Leading In Motor City Golf

DETROIT (AP)—Shrugging off a 2-stroke penalty, confident Dave Douglas, a stringbean son of a Scotch professional, fired a 3-under-par 68 on the slick greens of the Meadowbrook country club Thursday to take the first round lead in the Motor City Open.

The lean, 36-year-old slugger from Grossinger, N. Y., shot a 33-35-68 as most of the players in the field of 157 had trouble with the fast greens and tricky pin placements.

Rosewall, Hoad Fall To American Team In British Tennis

WIMBLETON, England (AP)—America's erratic Davis Cup doubles team of Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas had one of its good days Thursday and whipped the Australians, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, in the semifinals of the Wimbledon Tennis championships.

The Americans won 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 4-6, 8-6 and took virtually all the attention from the Women's singles semifinal victories by Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Little Maureen beat Mrs. Betty Pratt of South Orange, N.J., 6-1, 6-1.

Fourth-seeded Miss Brough, entered the final, scheduled for Saturday, by surprising last year's runnerup and 1950 champion, Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Zaharias, Doran Fire Even 72's, Take Open Lead

PEABODY, Mass. (AP)—The incomparable Babe Didrickson Zaharias and amateur Claire Doran, a seventh grade history teacher from Cleveland, fired even 72's Thursday to share the first round lead in the Women's National Open golf championship.

Of the 21 pros and 32 amateurs who tackled the Salem Country club's long, wind-whipped course, only these two were able to match the card. Par for the 6,393-yard layout is 36-36-72.

Miss Doran, winner of the 1953 Women's western amateur, posted a steady 37-35 in the early afternoon.

Then the Babe, rallying all her fierce competitive spirit, went out to beat it, falling by an inch-margin by which she missed a 25-foot birdie putt on the 18th. But it was a fine round for the Texas athlete who conquered cancer last year.

Rev. Bob Richards Favored in AAU; Champion Injured

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—With defending champion Milt Campbell out with an arm injury, the Rev. Bob Richards was rated an outstanding favorite to beat 25 other versatile competitors in the two-day National AAU Decathlon championship starting tonight at Bader field.

The flying parson from the Los Angeles A. C. won this 10-event grind in 1951 and finished second to Campbell last year at Plainfield, N. J.

Chief competition for the 28-year-old Olympic pole vaulting champion is expected from Jim Podoley of Central Michigan college, the 1954 Kansas Relays decathlon winner; Joel Shankle, Duke's one-arm track team and fourth last year; Aubrey Lewis, the 19-year-old Montclair, N. J. schoolboy who was sixth last year; Meredith Gouridine, the Olympic broad jumper and crack hurdler who used to compete for Cornell, and Bill Miller, the Olympic javelin thrower who now is in the marines.

A possible sleeper is 18-year-old Rafer Johnson of Kingburg, Calif.

Richards was hampered by a leg injury during the winter meets but he has recovered fully.

The first five events will be held tonight starting at 5 p.m. CST. The order of events for the evening is the 100-meter dash, the broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400-meter run.

The second half begins at noon Saturday. Then the athletes will try their skill at 110-meter hurdles, discus throw, pole vault, javelin throw and the 1,500 meter run. Points are awarded according to the calibre of performance in each event. The one with the highest point total wins.
