SUI Theatre's 'Jane' Has Finesse, Laughs

By DRAKE MABRY

The university players swept through S. N. Behrman's "Jane" Tuesday night at the SUI theatre with refreshing enthusiasm and welcome finesse.

The play moved along with few dull moments and an abundance of laughs, mainly through the work of Pat Clift (Jane), Eugene Whiteman (Willie Tower), Louise Knox (Millie Tower), and Jim Wehr (Lord Frohisher).

Jane is a stuffy English widow who marries an ambitious young architect (Bruce Owen) who reupholsters her in such a pleasant manner that she becomes a kingpin in London society, while he rides her wake picking up lucrative jobs.

Jane Seeks Publisher
During this process Jane sets her eye on a blustering, bubbling newspaper publisher (Frohisher) who spends most of his time with his nose stuck in a glass of whisky or proudly pursuing a variety of women.

And she gets him with the help of Willie Tower, a quietly undermining facility for telling the truth, and the helplessness of Frohisher to combat her attack.

Pat Clift did an outstanding job as Jane. She carried the character of the re-vitalized widow over to the audience in a subtle, gracious manner.

Eugene Whiteman and Jim Wehr turned in performances that can best be classed as more than adequate.

Plays Part to Hill

Louise Knox as Millicent Tower, a screaming, overbearing dumb-bell, played the part to the hilt. We're sure nothing else could be asked from her performance.

Henderson Forsythe, director, and Robert Proper, who designed the settings, deserve a pat on the back for their part in the production.

This presentation of "Jane" was thoroughly enjoyable. With the situation comedy, some good punch lines, and the overall ability of the players to act their part, the play came through in great style—a style we'd like to become accustomed to in future university productions.

The play will continue through July 9.

Government Shows $3 1/2 Billion Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government went somewhat less than 3 1/2 billion dollars in the red during the fiscal year which ended June 30, according to a preliminary accounting made Tuesday.

Final figures for the government's finances in fiscal 1954, just ended, will not be available until all accounts are in, about July 20.

However, the figures released by the treasury pointed to a deficit perhaps closer to three billion dollars than to the $3,273,000,000 predicted by President Eisenhower in his January budget message. The preliminary figures also indicated a big drop in spending and a slight increase in receipts during fiscal 1954.

The interim figures released were deposits to the government's credit, accounted for through June 30 and withdrawals against the government's credit, accounted for through June 30.

A Condensation of Late Developments

Senate Passes New Re-Enlistment Bonus Scale

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate Tuesday passed and sent to the house a bill setting up a new scale of re-enlistment bonuses paid to servicemen and women who re-enlist upon expiration of their term of service. As now computed, these bonuses make no distinction between the re-enlistment of a private first class, for instance, and a master sergeant. The bonus depends entirely on the length of the re-enlistment period. The senate bill would offer a more attractive re-enlistment proposition for "highly skilled and highly trained" service personnel who have advanced in grades.

Power Company, Union Fail To Agree

DES MOINES (AP)—After an all-day session, representatives of the Iowa Power & Light Co. and Local 499 of the AFL Electrical Workers union recessed Tuesday night without reaching an agreement. Company and union representatives refused to comment on the stage of the wage negotiations other than "They're still in progress."

Senator Kerr in Oklahoma Primary

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Sen. Robert S. Kerr fought the political battle of his career Tuesday night as first scattered returns were tabulated in Oklahoma's primary election. He and former Gov. Roy J. Turner, like Kerr, an oil millionaire—ran neck and neck. Unofficial returns from 136 of the state's 3,155 precincts gave Kerr 8,254 votes to 6,314 for Turner in the race for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. senate.

Youngster Lowered from Pier

(AP Wirephoto)

TIRED, COLD, HUNGRY AND BAREFOOT, 8-year-old Ronald Hughes sits in a boatman's chair ready to be lowered to safety Tuesday after he and his brother, William, 6, spent Monday night atop a 100-foot bridge pier in Pittsburgh, Pa. Two bridge painters climbed a foot-wide catwalk to reach the boys. Mrs. Sarah Hughes, the boys' mother, said she had locked them in a room as punishment for disobeying her but did not know why they climbed the bridge.

McCarthy Offers Aid To New Probe of CIA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Tuesday he may turn over to a Hoover commission "task force" the evidence on which he has based his charge of Communist infiltration in the super-secret central intelligence agency.

McCarthy's statement, following his return from an 18-day vacation trip, sounded like a move to let the commission, headed by Gen. Mark Clark, handle the whole inquiry, although McCarthy carefully refrained from committing himself. The senator's recent threats to investigate the CIA, clearing house for American espionage investigation, have become a sore point in relations between McCarthy and the Eisenhower administration.

Calls Report Unjustified

In interviews, one of them recorded for television, McCarthy said:

1. Declared that an FBI report on two sides to the senate investigations subcommittee discloses "nothing that in any way would justify, even remotely" the Pentagon's refusal to grant them security clearance.

2. Announced he intends to go ahead with plans the subcommittee investigate charges of Communist infiltration of U.S. defense plants.

His statement on the CIA was in response to questions by reporters who had noted the announcement that General Clark who now heads The Citadel, a military school at Charleston, S.C., will head a Hoover commission unit to study "the structure and administration" of the CIA.

Not Linked to McCarthy

The announcement, released Sunday, indicated no specific relationship between the decision to conduct the study and the charges McCarthy had voiced publicly during McCarthy-army hearings.

"I have great confidence in General Clark," the senator said. "I would be glad to turn over to him all the information we have on the CIA."

Later McCarthy said a study of his evidence by Clark's group "would take a load off our hands."

McCarthy told newsmen he wonders whether "perhaps it was an unusual coincidence" that the defense department rejected applications for security clearance for two subcommittee aides.

Didn't Use Names

He said (but refrained from using their names) that both had been investigating H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, one of the principals in the McCarthy-army hearings. The subcommittee has declined to name the two aides officially, but there have been widely published reports that they are Donald A. Surine, former FBI agent, and Thomas La Venia, former Secret Service agent.

102 in Des Moines; Hottest Since 1947

DES MOINES (AP)—Hot air from the nation's desert in the southwest forced the temperature in Des Moines Tuesday afternoon up to 102 degrees, to make it the hottest day here since Aug. 1947, when it was also 102.

Unofficial temperature at Iowa City Tuesday was 98 degrees, believed to be the highest reading of the year here.

However, Council Bluffs, which has been recording the state's high rather consistently during the recent heat wave, had a reading of 103 at the same time.

Other temperatures at 2:30 p.m. included Lamoni 100, Waterloo and Fort Dodge 98, Sioux City, Burlington and Cedar Rapids 97, Davenport and Mason City 95, Dubuque 90, and Lone Rock 78.

Readings at 3:30 p.m. showed generally lower temperatures.

The Weather Bureau said scattered thundershowers were likely in northeastern Iowa Tuesday night. A cool front was expected to move slowly into the extreme north and northern Iowa Tuesday night and Wednesday, lowering temperatures about 10 degrees.

Boy Tries To Commandeer Plane, Killed by Pilot

CLEVELAND (AP)—Raymond Kuchenmeister, who was only 15 but weighed 260 pounds and wanted to be "treated like a man," was shot to death Tuesday by the pilot of an American Airlines plane he tried to commandeer with an empty gun.

He wanted to go west and get a job. "This is my ticket," the 5-foot-11-inch youth told the man at the gate of the Cleveland airport as he showed a .38-caliber revolver.

He barged out to the loading ladder and brushed past a stewardess, asking where the captain was and telling her to "leave the door open for my brother."

Passengers Unaware

None of the 58 passengers on the flight from New York to Mexico City made any move to interfere as the boy entered the pilot's compartment. Few of them knew anything was amiss while Raymond pointed his weapon at the crew and ordered them to fly him to Mexico.

Capt. William F. Bonnell of Cleveland grabbed a revolver from his flight kit and fired twice, hitting the boy in the left chest and hip.

Raymond died in a Berea com-

Newest Jet Fighter Flown Successfully

WASHINGTON (AP)—The air force announced Tuesday its new daylight jet fighter, the Lockheed XF104, is flying successfully.

The brief announcement did not comment on unofficial but reliable reports that the stripped-down "air superiority" fighter is a truly sensational one—that it weighs only half as much but is twice as fast as today's swiftest operational jets.

One source has indicated that the sleek sliver of aluminum, now being tested at Edwards air force base, in California, has attained speeds in level flight of about 1,500 miles an hour.

Engine Revealed

The air force also disclosed for the first time that the XF-104 is powered by a Curtiss-Wright J65 Sapphire engine rated at more than 7,220 pounds of thrust.

The only previous air force news release on the XF104 was a 52 word announcement 10 months ago that a contract had been signed with Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif., for prototypes of the fighter.

An air superiority fighter is designed to establish local superiority in a given area by sweeping the skies of enemy planes. This implies light weight, great maneuverability and unusual speed.

1st Flight Last February

Tuesday's announcement said the XF104 made its first flight last February.

Lockheed said test pilots call the plane the "Gee Whizzer." Although no specifications or performance figures have been released, the lightweight plane is said to have a straight, very thin wing and a span of only 28 feet.

Faster Than Sound

It is among the air force's so-called century series of fighters, all designed to travel faster than the speed of sound—faster than 760 miles an hour—in level flight.

The others in this series are: the North American F100 Super Sabre, the twin-jet McDonnell F101 long-range fighter, the Convair delta-wing F102 high-altitude interceptor and the delta-wing Republic F105 supersonic fighter-bomber, scheduled for production by late next year or early 1956.

One published report said the Lockheed XF104 would have a downward ejection seat, instead of the type which shoots the pilot out over the top of the plane in an emergency. Downward ejection might be necessary if the XF104 has a very tall tail fin.

Cancer Research Chief Has Wife Smoke Pipe To Obtain Release Soon

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—The Yale scientist who believes his research shows that heavy cigarette smoking contributes to lung cancer and heart disease has converted his wife to a pipe.

"I'm not a confirmed pipe smoker yet," said Mrs. Edward Cuyler Hammond whose husband is professor of biostatistics at Yale and director of statistical research for the American Cancer society.

"I still sneak a few cigarettes a day," she added Tuesday at La Jolla Beach club, where she and Hammond are vacationing, "but the pipe has helped me get down to about half a pack each day." She said she previously had smoked three packs a day.

Mrs. Hammond, quiet and unobtrusive, toyed with the small pipe—similar in shape to her husband's larger one—and said: "I wish I had the nerve to smoke it in public. It might start a whole new trend."

Hammond switched from cigarettes to pipe abruptly some time ago and bought the small pipe for his wife in Los Angeles on their way here from the east.

The Hammonds said they wouldn't be surprised if women pipe smokers became quite common before long. "But there will have to be others leading the campaign," Mrs. Hammond said.

Steindler Returns from Tour Abroad; Honored in England

Dr. Arthur C. Steindler, SUI distinguished service professor emeritus in orthopedic surgery, returned from Europe last week, where he was received into the royal college of surgeons of England.

The royal college of surgeons is an honorary society whose membership is limited to 50 persons. Membership is awarded to men who have distinguished themselves in medicine and have won international recognition.

The college was chartered by King George III back in the 14th century. During his tour—which took him to England, Scotland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France—Steindler also was received into England's royal college of medicine and the French society of orthopedic traumatology.

Lectured in London

In England, Steindler visited clinics, hospitals and medical societies of London and Liverpool. He addressed students at St. Thomas hospital in London, and also lectured at the royal college of medicine.

Steindler journeyed to Buxton, England, to attend a meeting of the British orthopedic society, of which he is a member. He also attended a meeting of the royal college of surgeons of Scotland in Edinburgh.

In Brussels and Paris, Steindler gave lectures on the kinetics of orthopedic surgery, or "Physical Properties of Bones."

The tour of Europe was concluded with visits to Zurich, Switzerland, and Cologne and Munich, Germany.

Found Germany Interesting
West Germany proved especially interesting to the famous surgeon. "The country is making a rapid comeback in medicine and in hospital service," Steindler said. "In fact, the country is making great social as well as medical gains."

Steindler was accompanied on the two-month trip by his wife, Louise, and her sister, Mrs. Verma Hicks, of Menlo Park, Calif. The three sailed for Europe on the Queen Mary 20, and returned to Iowa City June 30.

Steindler retired from the SUI college of medicine in 1949, after 34 years of service. He still is active at Mercy hospital.

Ringling Bros. Circus Out of Receivership

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—The long receivership of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows in Connecticut came to a virtual end here Tuesday on the 10th anniversary of the 1944 holocaust which took 169 lives and injured close to 600 persons.

BAERNAU, Germany (AP)—West German border police said Tuesday night they received and rejected a Czech bid to trade seven U.S. army men seized Sunday for three Czech political refugees. U.S. army headquarters in Heidelberg said it had nothing to do with the Czech-German negotiations.

The army added it hoped to obtain the release of the Americans "soon and without difficulty" by other means.

The Americans, a captain and six enlisted men from the medical detachment of an artillery battalion, apparently were grabbed by Czech border guards when the soldiers strayed across the border while on a liberty sightseeing trip. Their names have not been disclosed pending their release.

Insisted on Trade

Emil Preiss, West German border police commander, said the Czechs had insisted on trading the men for the three Czechs who fled to the West recently.

He added the Germans had rejected the barter proposal at "the last meeting with the Czechs."

"There is nothing we border police can do any more, Preiss said. We have tried everything possible, but we were unsuccessful. The next step is up to the Americans."

An American army spokesman disclaimed any army ties with the negotiations between the border police, saying:

"The three Czech escapees are a separate issue. We are not involved in it. Anyway, how can the border police negotiate for the return of U.S. soldiers?"

Regulations Forbid Visits
The spokesman pointed out that military regulations forbid soldiers' making unauthorized visits to the border.

The Americans drove to the border area Sunday in a weapons carrier. The German border police quoted a West German farmer as saying the group asked him where the border was because they wanted to look at it.

The farmer told them the border was near but urged them to be careful, but they got out of their vehicle and walked toward the frontier, the police said. The empty weapons carrier was found later near Weiden, Germany, about 15 miles from the border.

Jenner Committee Probes Red Activity In Army Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two men whose World War II assignment was to help indoctrinate American soldiers refused Tuesday to say whether they were Communist party members at that time.

A third said he was a party member for about a year and a half before the war, but told the senate internal subcommittee he was not a Communist at the time he helped prepare "army talks" used in the orientation of World War II GI's.

All three served in the army's information and education division, which among other things helped explain to the soldiers why they were fighting.

Stephen M. Fischer, New York City, now on the advertising promotion staff of the Scientific American magazine, said he was a party member from the spring of 1940 until the fall of 1941.

Richard L. Criley, onetime army captain, now a Chicago hod carrier, and Luke W. Wilson of Wellfleet, Mass., who served as an enlisted man, invoked the fifth amendment against self-incrimination when asked about their Communist activities.

Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), presiding at the hearings, said the two-day sessions are expected "to sketch the pattern of Communist activity in seeking to mold the minds of our fighting men through Communist propaganda."

16 Youngsters Attend SUI Remedial School

For 16 Johnson county children, 10 to 12-years-old, summer's arrival does not mean carefree days filled with 24 hours of spare time. They will spend every morning Monday through Friday in school until the middle of August.

SUI although a similar program for mentally retarded children was tried for one summer four years ago.

The new school was instituted because, as Stroud put it, "The demand today for remedial teachers and specialized teachers is so great that we had to provide special training facilities."

Has Been Successful

Stroud described the innovation as successful thus far, and said it will be held again next summer.

The pupils who attend the school are selected by teachers; the superintendent of county schools, Frank J. Snider, and Harry Stover, specialized education supervisor for Johnson county.

Not for Retarded

"This special school is not for mentally retarded children," Stroud emphasized. "It is for children who have difficulty with school work for reasons other than mental incapacities."

Reading is stressed in the school, but writing and arithmetic are also taught, Stroud commented. The children attend the sessions from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. A recreation period is included each day, featuring swimming in the women's gymnasium pool twice a week.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press
Foreign Staff

People frequently think of the United Nations as something engineered by the United States which would fall apart if she withdrew her support.

That might be true. Certainly the United Nations would lose its present character without the presence of the United States.

As a threat, and as an expression of deep-seated American determination not to sit with Red China in the U. N. before she has expiated her role of aggressor, Sen. William F. Knowland's campaign carries some weight. It is a warning to the other nations not to impose something on the U. S. which would be very disruptive.

There is a question, however, whether such threats, like the one to substitute Western Germany for France as an ally unless France goes ahead with the European Defense community, are not even more disruptive. The U. S. is in a position to impose, far more than to be imposed upon.

The Russians would like few things better than to see the U. S. out of the U. N.

If Red China were admitted to the U. N. and the United States pulled out, Russia would be riding high. She could practically take over.

Of course, there seems to be little danger that Knowland's fear will come true. As long as the United States holds out with determination—and there is no indication from the State Department that it will not—the other members will not ride over her.

Lacking the peace which U. N. was originally designed to enforce, its chief job is to thresh over the things which keep the world divided. To do that properly, it will eventually have to have all of the principals there, and Red China is one of them for the foreseeable future.

Physiograph Performs Many Jobs in Aiding Polio Patients

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The young man lay critically ill with polio. Any new hardship or complication might cost him his life.

And a new threat was in the making. His throat was becoming affected, not closing properly. Soon any food or drink would spill over into his windpipe and choke him.

But this danger was spotted in advance, before the doctor's eye could detect it, by a new machine at work here. The machine is a gentle, fast-talking detective which can tell nearly a dozen things simultaneously about a patient's condition.

Looks Into Throat
In one of its jobs, it looked into the patient's throat with a fluoroscope and showed that his throat was not closing fully when he swallowed.

The young man was fed by tube, and thereby kept from choking. The machine, with its fluoroscope eye, showed when it was safe to resume feeding him normally.

The machine, the physiograph, is one new aid for polio patients here at the southwest Polio Respiratory center, supported by a grant-in-aid from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It is staffed by Baylor university college of medicine at Jefferson Davis hospital.

Causes No Discomfort
It does all its work without use of needles, catheters or tubes, with no stress or discomfort for even the most seriously ill patient.

It keeps a continuous record of blood pressure and pulse beat. It measures the amount of oxygen in the circulating blood. It analyzes the amount of oxygen, nitrogen and carbon dioxide in each breath of air. It measures the velocity of air taken into and blown out of the lungs. It records the electrical impulses from the heart.

On an oscilloscope, or TV-like screen, it shows the pattern of air flow, telling how free or clogged air passages of the throat or lungs may be.

Checks Respirator
If the patient is in a respirator, it keeps check on the air pressure in the iron lung.

Its fluoroscopic eye can help spell out how involved muscles may be with paralysis. It can examine a patient in or out of a respirator, show how much of his lungs are receiving fresh air.

The physiograph was developed by Leslie A. Geddes, biophysicist at the center and director of the biophysical laboratory at Baylor; Dr. William A. Spencer, director of the center, and Dr. H. E. Hoff, professor of physiology at Baylor. Funds to build it came from the Harris county polio association and civil groups.

Conductor Confers with Soloists

GUEST CONDUCTOR of the SUI symphony orchestra, Arthur C. Berdahl, center, holds the score of Mozart's "Concertante Symphonie" for the two soloists who will perform the work at the orchestra's summer concert today at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union. Prof. Stuart Canin, left, and Claude Carlson, instructor, both of the music department, will present solos on the violin and viola respectively. Berdahl is chairman of the music department at Fresno State college, Fresno, Calif.

School of Religion Trades Professor; Lampe to Hawaii

To give the University of Hawaii school of religion opportunity to profit from the SUI interfaith experiment Prof. Harley H. Zeigler, director of the Hawaiian school since 1946, and M. Willard Lampe, professor-emeritus and director of the SUI school of religion from 1926 to 1953, will exchange classrooms next semester.

The Hawaiian school of religion, an off-campus affiliated institution, is supported entirely by private funds. Hawaiian officials are interested in having Lampe available to help transfer the school to an actual university division.

Prof. Robert S. Michaelsen, director of the SUI school, notes that University of Hawaii President Gregg Sinclair became interested in SUI through reading "Of Faith and Learning," a history of the first 25 years of the Iowa school, by Prof. Marcus Bach.

As a Protestant professor at SUI for the first semester of 1954-55, Zeigler will be teaching New Testament and living religions of mankind. The living religions course, one which Zeigler developed at Hawaii, deals largely with present trends in Oriental faiths.

"Since Hawaii is the world's best melting pot of the religions of the world, with numerous Shinto and Buddhist shrines as well as Christian churches, Prof. Zeigler is remarkably well qualified to guide students through the world's living faiths," Lampe pointed out.

Zeigler received his B. A. from Southwestern college, Winfield, Kan., and his M. A., S.T.B. (bachelor of sacred theology) and Ph. D. degrees from Boston university.

Digest Shows Employment Keeping Pace

Iowa employment, excluding farm help, has just about kept pace in 1954 with that of the first four months of 1953—down only 0.8 per cent. Construction jobs gain have offset this year's downward trend in manufacturing employment.

So reports the new issue of the Iowa business digest, which adds that the total value of the state's construction contracts in May, 1954, was 17.7 per cent above that of May, 1953, and that the five months of 1954 exceeded in this respect those of 1953 by 21.8 per cent.

The monthly publication of SUI bureau of business and economic research points out that business construction contracts rose 54.2 per cent over the first five months of last year, while residential building advanced 10.3 per cent.

Department store sales climbed 20 per cent from March to April this year. Although spring advances normally occur, this April was 7.4 per cent above such sales of April, 1953. Figures for a four-month period, however, show 1954 department store sales to be two per cent below those of January-April, 1953.

In other comparisons for the first four months of the two years, the editors report that Iowa farm income ran 4.5 per cent higher than in 1953. In the nation as a whole it has averaged one per cent less for the January-April, 1954 period.

Local Pool To Feature 'Swim Fest' Friday

A "swim fest" Friday at 6:30 p.m. at the City swimming pool will be the feature of "Get in the Swim" week being held now at the six Iowa City playgrounds.

A greased watermelon scramble, a bathing beauty contest for girls six and under and a best suntan contest are some of the events scheduled to be held. All children who are registered with a city playground and who are not members of the Iowa City swim team are eligible for Friday's events.

Prof. Mosse Presents Views Of Puritan Political Tactics

Prof. George L. Mosse, of the SUI history department, offers some historical insight into Puritan political action in the new issue of the magazine, Church History.

"We are still inclined to think of the Puritan in sombre dress, his intellectual equipment symbolized by the sword in one hand and the Bible in the other," Professor Mosse observes in his article on Puritan political thought.

But there is evidence of "effective political action" among the leaders of this religious group. "During the reign of Elizabeth, the skill of the Puritans on the floor of the house of Commons seemed to be a match for the not inconsiderable talents of the queen herself," the SUI historian says.

He adds that "the Puritans in the commons opposed the queen while loving her; they used the tactics of pressure and influence rather than those of outright attack on the queen's person."

Though "it can be argued that the Puritans were ill-prepared for power when the opportunity finally came their way, at least in one stage of their road to power" they showed themselves to be effective political strategists, especially in their campaign for the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots, in 1587, Mosse observes.

His essay is one of three of the magazine's panel study of Puritanism, with Professors Jerold C. Brauer and Alan Simpson of the University of Chicago contributing the other two articles.

Mosse serves SUI as chairman of the core course program in western civilization and is the author of two books, "The Struggle for Sovereignty in England" and "The Reformation." This summer he is lecturing in three German universities as a visiting expert for the United States High commission.

Historical Society Prints 'Arnewood,' Saga of Dairyman

Prof. William J. Peterson of the SUI history department and superintendent of the Iowa State Historical society, announced Tuesday that a new book published by the Iowa State Historical society would be ready for distribution the latter part of July.

"Arnewood, The Story of an Iowa Dairyman," is the autobiography of Melvin Scholl, an Iowa dairyman. Arnewood is the name of Scholl's first farm near Mason City.

"This book will be of interest to every Iowan, especially dairymen, farmers, bankers, and lawyers. It is an exceptionally fine piece of work and is probably the most readable publication that has been printed by the State Historical society," Peterson said.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The rosters for the 1954 major league All-Star game were completed Tuesday as Walter Alston of Brooklyn, the only "freshman" manager ever to pilot a team in such competition, filled out the National league squad by selecting seven pitchers, two catchers, four outfielders and four infielders.

The game will be played at Cleveland July 13. The American league has won 12 of 20 previous games but the National league has won the last 4.

Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees will be managing the American league All-Stars for the fifth straight year.

Alston named righthanders Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Gene Conley of Milwaukee and Marvin Grissom of New York and southpaws Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, Harvey Haddix of St. Louis and Johnny Antonelli of New York.

Stengel first named seven righthanders and only one southpaw, but later he added lefty Dean Stone of Washington to the hurlers as one of the replacements for two injured players.

Mickey Vernon, Washington first baseman, was picked as the other replacement after Stengel received word that first baseman Ferris Fain and third baseman George Kell of the Chicago White Sox would be unable to play because of injuries.

Stengel's other pitching choices were southpaw Whitey Ford of the Yankees and righthanders Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of Cleveland, Bob Keegan and Virgil Trucks of the White Sox, Bob Porterfield of Washington, Alie Reynolds of the Yankees and Bob Turley of Baltimore.

Hogan 65, Klontz 70!

Professional Beats Freshman Iowa Golfer In Exhibition Match at Sioux City

SIoux CITY (AP)—Ben Hogan, playing down the middle and leaving no difficult shots, stroked out a 7-under-par 65 Tuesday in an exhibition golf match here.

Hogan gave a golfing demonstration before about 1,500 persons in addition to the 18-hole exhibition with Bill Adams, Dick Knight and Herb Klontz.

Klontz, former Iowa amateur champion from Cedar Rapids, finished with a 2-under-par 70 after shooting a 34 on the first nine. Hogan had a 31 and 34.

Knight, Omaha field club professional, finished with a 71, one under and Adams, host Elmwood course pro, shot a 76.

However, in an unofficial best ball Adams and Hogan won 1 up.

Hogan had 11 pars and 7 birdies. Klontz put together 12 pars, 4 birdies and 2 bogeys.

The cards:

Aussie Leads Qualifying in Britain

SOUTHPORT, England—Australia's Norman Von Nida set the pace Tuesday in qualifying for the British Open golf championship that saw three of the nine-man American delegation eliminated.

But the Americans, hardly expected to make much of a showing in this tournament, stuck right with the little Australian as veteran Gene Sarazen and amateur Frank Stranahan tied for second place in the 36-hole qualifying test for the main event opening Wednesday.

Von Nida shot 70-67-137. The 52-year-old Sarazen shot 67-64-141. And Stranahan, the Toledo amateur tied him with 69-72-141.

Von Nida, who shot a recordequaling 70 over the Birkdale course in Monday's first round, played the easier Hillside layout for his 67 Tuesday. The two Americans both had to finish on the 6,837-yard, par 36-73 Birkdale course, where the 72-hole championship will be played.

Except for those two, the Americans had a bit of a struggle and two of them made it only by a tight squeeze.

Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., and Toney Penna of Cincinnati finished with 151 qualified for the championship proper. Those with 152 and higher were eliminated. The 151 qualifying requirement was the lowest in the history of the tournament.

NO EARNED RUNS
 In four appearances in All-Star competition, Mel Harder of the Cleveland Indians pitched 13 innings without giving up an earned run.

Trucks Hurls 1-Hitter At Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Virgil Trucks, burly 35-year-old Alabamian, allowed just one hit—a third-inning single by Harvey Kuenn—as he pitched the injury-riddled Chicago White Sox to a 4-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Tuesday.

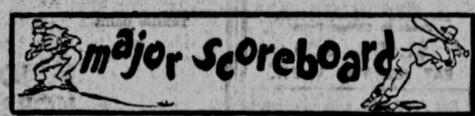

It was the second one-hitter of the season for the hard-throwing righthander who posted his eleventh victory against five losses.

Trucks, who pitched a one-hitter against Boston May 1, fanned six.

The desperate Sox, hobbled by injuries and fighting to stay in the pennant race, supported Trucks with a 12-hit attack against loser Al Aber and reliever Bob Miller. Aber gave up seven hits and all of Chicago's runs in the first five innings.

It was a vital victory for the Sox, who lost third baseman Cass Michaels in the fourth inning when he was hit on the finger by a pitched ball. He was taken to a hospital for x-rays.

Michaels was the 19th Sox player forced from the lineup this season because of injury.

Braves Defeat Cubs, 14-3; Kiner Homers

CHICAGO (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves scored 11 runs in the first three innings and breezed to a 14-3 rout of the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

In handing the Bruins their fourth straight licking, the Braves blended 11 hits with 10 walks to saddle former teammate Dave Cole with his first loss in his first start for Chicago.

Gene Conley coasted to his seventh win on a yield of nine hits, one of them Ralph Kiner's No. 14 homer. Joe Adcock and Del Crandall also homered for Milwaukee.

Simmons racked up his eighth win of the year against six defeats after pitching himself out of a first inning jam.

Giants Beat Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Powered by home runs off the bats of Al Dark, Willie Mays and Monte Irvin, the New York Giants extended their National league lead to 4 1/2 games by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2 Tuesday night.

Sal Maglie, who never has lost a game in the 10 he's pitched in the Dodgers' lair, kept his record intact, although he had to weather a two-run first inning, and had to be rescued by ace reliever Marv Grissom with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth.

Preacher Roe started for the Dodgers, but he lasted only until the fourth inning when he was shelled. Whitey Lockman opened with a single and Dark followed with a home run.

Roe struck out Hank Thompson, but Willie Mays homered the first pitch—his 27th of the year.

Don Mueller and Irvin followed with singles and Roe went to the showers. Bob Milliken came on and put out the fire, but that was all the Giants needed.

Baltimore 000 000 012-3 5 2

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees whipped the Boston Red Sox, 4-1, Tuesday night with Joe Collins and Andy Carey hitting home runs and Whitey Ford hanging up his seventh victory of the year although he wasn't around at the end.

The Yank triumph, combined with the Cleveland Indians' victory over the Baltimore Orioles, left the World Champions three-and-a-half games behind the Tribe in the race for the American league pennant.

Indians, Yankees Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored 11 runs in the first inning Tuesday night—a new one-inning high for the American league this season—and beat the Baltimore Orioles 11-3.

The Indians sent 16 batters to the plate against Joe Coleman and Miek Blyzka in the big rally which started with a homer by Bill Glynn and included a three-run triple by Wally Westlake.

Earlyn Wynn, pitching his 10th victory against six losses for Cleveland, held the Orioles hitless through seven innings, but they scored against him in the eighth on a walk and Jim Bredweser's triple.

The 11-run outburst by the Indians in the first inning matched a National league 1954 high the New York Giants set on May 25 against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia's Joey Giardello hopes to give himself a premature birthday gift and at the same time enhance his chances for a middleweight title shot when he fights Miami's Billy Kilgore in a nationally televised 10-rounder at the Philadelphia arena tonight.

Giardello, who will be 24 July 16, is reasonably certain of being the next challenger for the 160-pound crown should Bobo Olson defend it successfully in his coming fight with Rocky Castellani. But a defeat would certainly chill Giardello as a challenger.

Kilgore, a 28-year-old native of Birmingham, Ala., recently stopped tough Ernie Durando in nine rounds.

The CBS televised bout will be judged on a round basis. There is no point system in Pennsylvania.

Staley Wins, 6-0; Schoendienst Hits In 25th Straight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, bunching their runs in two innings, backed up Gerry Staley's nine-hit shutout pitching Tuesday night for a 6-0 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs in which Red Schoendienst hit safely in his 25th straight contest.

The St. Louisians had just seven hits but coupled them with three Cincinnati errors and snappy base running for the damage.

Three of the Cardinal runs came in the fourth and they repeated the feat again an inning later.

Staley scattered the Redleg hits and never was in trouble as he gained his fifth triumph against seven losses. Ted Kluzewski was the most successful against Staley, pounding out two doubles and a single, but his mates couldn't get him past second.

Giardello To Meet Kilgore Tonight In TV 10-Rounder

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia's Joey Giardello hopes to give himself a premature birthday gift and at the same time enhance his chances for a middleweight title shot when he fights Miami's Billy Kilgore in a nationally televised 10-rounder at the Philadelphia arena tonight.

Giardello, who will be 24 July 16, is reasonably certain of being the next challenger for the 160-pound crown should Bobo Olson defend it successfully in his coming fight with Rocky Castellani. But a defeat would certainly chill Giardello as a challenger.

Kilgore, a 28-year-old native of Birmingham, Ala., recently stopped tough Ernie Durando in nine rounds.

The CBS televised bout will be judged on a round basis. There is no point system in Pennsylvania.

New 'Mule' Takes Over

(AP Wirephoto)

THE ARMY'S MECHANICAL MULE weighs 750 pounds and is the first military vehicle to carry a load greater than its own weight. It can carry half a ton at speeds from one to 25 miles an hour, can be driven, led like a mule, or guided by one hand, and can ford water up to 18 inches in depth. A soldier guides it with one hand, above, and climbs a grade of 36 per cent, below.

Stay Order Issued In Utility Firm Suit

A ruling by State Supreme Court Justice G. K. Thompson, Cedar Rapids, has stayed further proceedings in a $77,500 damage suit against the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Co.

Educators Discuss Causal Approach In Training Young

To get along with each other, parents, teachers and children must first develop some basic understanding of the "whys" behind the other person's behavior—only then can better ways of dealing with life's conflicts be learned.

This was the viewpoint characterizing discussions at the final sessions of the workshop on education in human relations and mental health which ended last weekend at SUI.

Some 25 educators, social workers and other community leaders took part in the two-week workshop. Emphasis was on individual projects, with each enrollee developing specific plans for the use of the "causal approach" to human behavior in his own teaching, leadership or research situation.

The causal approach, which emphasizes understanding of the forces that lie behind the everyday actions of ourselves and those we live with, was studied from many viewpoints, with special attention given to its use in education. Charles Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities" provided the opportunity for a 12th-grade English teacher to use the causal viewpoint, for instance, when she summarized for her pupils the social climate in which the story took place. They learned more from the novel, she said, than they would have learned without some understanding of the emotional forces that drove the French people to revolt.

Prevention rather than punishment of unruly behavior in the classroom was also discussed by participants. The workshop was sponsored by the Preventive Psychiatry Research project and the Iowa child welfare research station, both at the university, with the cooperation of the Iowa mental health authority. Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann, of the research station, was workshop coordinator.

an appeal from the defendant utility company.

The plaintiffs in the case are L. D. Litchford and Ronald T. Schaefer. Their objections to certain legal queries by the defendant had been upheld by Judge Harold D. Evans. The stay order overrides Evans' ruling.

Oral arguments in the matter will be heard July 22 in Des Moines.

Litchford is alleging permanent disability from injuries received last July when he contacted a power line near Solon.

SUI Roundtable To Discuss Teaching Profession Today

What makes a superior teacher? How can such a person be encouraged to enter and remain in the profession?

With such questions as discussion springboards the SUI college of education will conduct a roundtable on teaching today. The first session will begin in Old Capitol at 10 a.m. (CDT) and continue in the University theatre at 2 p.m. under the general chairmanship of Dean E. T. Peterson of SUI's college of education.

A prominent visiting educator who will participate in the roundtable is Prof. W. Norwood Brigrance, author of "A History and Criticism of American Public Address" and past president of the Speech Association of America. Widely known as a lecturer on education, travel and the American scene, Brigrance is professor of speech at Wabash college.

Speaker Listed
Prof. L. A. Van Dyke of the SUI college of education will keynote the roundtable on teaching, with Prof. Hugh F. Seabury, of speech education, serving as moderator. Prof. E. C. Mable, SUI speech and dramatic arts head, will act with Brigrance and Van Dyke as consultants in the discussion.

Freak Wave Upsets Lake Michigan Boats

CHICAGO (AP)—A freak rise and fall in Lake Michigan—apparently similar to the seiche or tidal wave which drowned at least eight persons June 26—overturned scores of boats along the Chicago waterfront late Tuesday.

The weather bureau said water spouts were reported by unofficial observers just before the lake waters rose rapidly along the front from Wilmette in the north and south to South Chicago, Ill.

There were no immediate reports of casualties. Thirty fishermen fled from the pier at the entrance to Montrose harbor, on Chicago's North Side, just before the wave struck.

A coast guardsman at the South Chicago station reported that the lake level there first fell to its lowest level in his 31 years experience. Then it rose to two feet above its previous all-time high.

It was not immediately known how much the lake level rose and fell.

A special roundtable on the teaching of speech communication will be held Thursday morning in Old Capitol with Professor Brigrance featured on the topic "Crises in Speech Communication in a Free Society." An Iowa teacher contributing to the panel following Brigrance's address will be Meredith Moyer, Ottumwa high school.

Films To Be Shown
At 3:30 p.m. today a new film "Freedom to Learn" will have its premier showing in Iowa at the University theatre, in connection with the workshop. The film was produced by the national education association and had its first showing before the NEA convention in Madison Square Garden last Thursday.

This 28 minute color, sound film, is a story about a teacher who was called before the school board for teaching about communism. The teacher explains to the board the difference in teaching communism and teaching about communism, and the dangers of limiting the "freedom to learn."

Free Book on Arthritis And Rheumatism
How To Avoid Crippling Deformities

An amazingly newly enlarged 44-page book entitled "Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it. It reveals why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains a specialized non-surgical, non-medical treatment which has proven successful for the past 35 years.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Write today to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 1428, Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

Congressmen Attend Nebraska Funeral Of Senator Butler

OMAHA (AP)—A delegation of senators and representatives flew to Omaha Tuesday to attend funeral services for Sen. Hugh A. Butler (R-Neb.) who died last Thursday.

The group was to return to Washington immediately after the services, which were held at 3 p.m. (DST).

Republican senators in the party included George D. Aiken of Vermont, Homer E. Capeheart of Indiana, Edward D. Crippa of Wyoming, Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, George W. Malone of Nevada, Milton R. Young of North Dakota, Francis Case of South Dakota, Andrew F. Schoepel of Kansas, Henry C. Dworshak of Idaho and Eva Bowring of Nebraska.

All but Dworshak and Mrs. Bowring were on the plane which arrived from Washington Tuesday. Democrats included Earle C. Clements of Kentucky, John J. Sparkman of Alabama and Albert Gore of Tennessee.

House members, all Republicans included Carl T. Curtis, A. L. Miller, Robert D. Harrison and Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City and Cliff Clevenger of Ohio.

Officers Praise Local Safe Driving

Few injuries marked the long and relatively cool holiday weekend in Iowa City.

Police Chief Oliver A. White and Patrolman J. L. Smith praised local motorists for their safe driving during the three-day weekend. Smith said he saw some of the most careful driving over the July 4 holiday that he has ever experienced.

Parking problems were comparatively few Sunday at City park, where more than 8,000 citizens enjoyed the ball tournament and a $1,000 fireworks display in the evening.

James M. Meeks, 19, Riverside, received minor facial, arm and leg cuts, Sunday when he ran his motorcycle into a ditch on highway 218, about five miles south of Iowa City. He was reported in good condition Tuesday in University hospitals.

William Lehmkuhl, 17, West Gate, was admitted to University hospitals Sunday night for treatment of a fractured right elbow and a dislocated collarbone. He incurred the injuries while driving his pick-up truck, which skidded on a gravel road near Iowa City.

At Lake MacBride state park, a total of 10,000 holiday fun-seekers fished, swam, picnicked and enjoyed the boating over the weekend.

Illegal fireworks apparently were held to a minimum at the state park during the holiday. Roy Reed, park superintendent, said the crowds were very orderly and that only half a dozen firecrackers were heard during the 72-hour period.

DRIVER KILLS TOT

DES MOINES (AP)—Stanley Anderson, 17, of Des Moines whose car went out of control Tuesday and killed a 3-year-old boy who was playing in his driveway, was charged with manslaughter a few hours later. The victim was Paul Loren Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Smith. The child was riding a tricycle. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.
