Oak Ridge Strikers Ignore Ike Directive

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—CIO chemical workers ignored a presidential order Wednesday and a strike was called at two uranium-235 plants. They failed, however, to halt production of the vital atomic weapons material.

Despite President Eisenhower's order to stay on the job until a fact-finding board could look into their wage dispute, about 3,500 workers at the U235 plant here and 1,000 more at a similar Paducah, Ky., plant struck.

The two plants produce the nation's entire supply of U235 used in making atomic bombs and nuclear weapons.

Post Pickets

The union posted pickets to back up demands for a 15-cent hourly wage increase. Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co., operator of the plants for the Atomic Energy commission, offered the union a six-cent wage boost retroactive to April 15.

The rival AFL Atomic Trades and Labor council, representing 4,500 workers in two other atomic plants here, crossed the picket lines with thousands of other construction workers.

Police said the picketing was orderly. Joseph Joy, international representative of the striking CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, said the union would make no attempt to keep other workers from their jobs.

Strike Serious

The President, who issued his fact-finding board order Tuesday as the walkout became imminent, told his news conference in Washington the strike is a serious thing. He added that it put the United States in a most embarrassing and difficult position.

The union maintained Carbide never made an offer during protracted negotiations last spring. Bargaining broke off in mid-April and the President's Atomic Energy Labor Relations panel stepped in and conducted hearings in the dispute.

The panel on June 15 recommended a six-cent hourly hike for both AFL and CIO workers. Both unions rejected the proposed boost and issued strike calls. Carbide accepted the proposal "reluctantly" and offered six-cent increases to the unions.

The scale for hourly paid workers at the four plants now ranges from $1.58 to $2.40.

British, Egyptians To Confer on Suez

LONDON (AP)—Britain is ready to approach Egypt with a new American-backed plan to end the dispute over defense of the vital Suez Canal zone, Western diplomats said Wednesday night.

Prospects are good for a settlement that will clear the way for the West to set up a new Middle East defense system.

The proposals provide for withdrawal of the 80,000-man British garrison from the strategic link between the Mediterranean and Indian Ocean.

Prime Minister Churchill is expected to forward the proposals to Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's government soon.

The British ambassador to Cairo, Sir Ralph Stevenson, has found the Egyptians eager to reopen negotiations.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden broke off the Cairo talks last March after a flare-up in the canal zone in which British soldiers and Egyptian nationalists were killed.

Employment Slightly Up During June

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly a million more Americans held jobs in June than the month earlier, the government reported Wednesday. Unemployment held virtually stable instead of taking its usual sharp June rise.

Total employment climbed to 62,098,000, the highest level since last October but still about a million below the record for June achieved a year ago, Secretary of Labor James Mitchell and Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks announced.

The cheering news on the unemployment side was that joblessness, at 3,347,000 persons, increased only 42,000 from May, despite the release of large numbers of students into the job market. This was the smallest increase for June in the last 15 years. Even in 1944, at the height of war production activity, unemployment increased 150,000 in June.

On the government's books, an unemployed person is defined as a person out of a job and looking for a job. A student in school is not classified as unemployed, but when summer vacation comes and he starts looking for a job, he is added to the unemployment total until he finds work. Thus the totals for unemployment and employment can both increase at the same time.

The cabinet officers, in a joint statement carrying findings of the census bureau and the bureau of labor statistics, reported "an upswing of employment" in agriculture, and to a lesser extent on non-farm payrolls.

In the nation's factories, where the 11-month-old business slump hit hardest, employment remained unchanged from May to June at 15,800,000. In the plants making autos, home appliances and other durables, there was a further decline of 64,000 workers, but this was offset by the seasonal rise in soft goods employment—textiles, clothing, shoes, leather and similar industries.

Farm hiring accounted for the bulk of the substantial gain from May's total of 61,119,000 employees. Nearly 800,000 more workers held farming jobs than in the previous month.

Hancher Stresses Goal of Replacing Temporary Buildings

A main SUI goal during the 1955-57 budget period is to get the university out of temporary structures and into permanent buildings, President Virgil Hancher said Wednesday afternoon.

He added that he will submit a copy of a 10-year building plan together with a report of current capital needs to the state board of education. He said current needs will be stressed upon the board.

The announcement came in the wake of a Tuesday meeting of the University-City committee at the Chamber of Commerce, during which SUI building needs were discussed by Hancher and other committee members.

He will present the report and the building plan at the board of education meeting in Cedar Falls today and Friday. The board will then prepare a budget for submission to the state legislature in January.

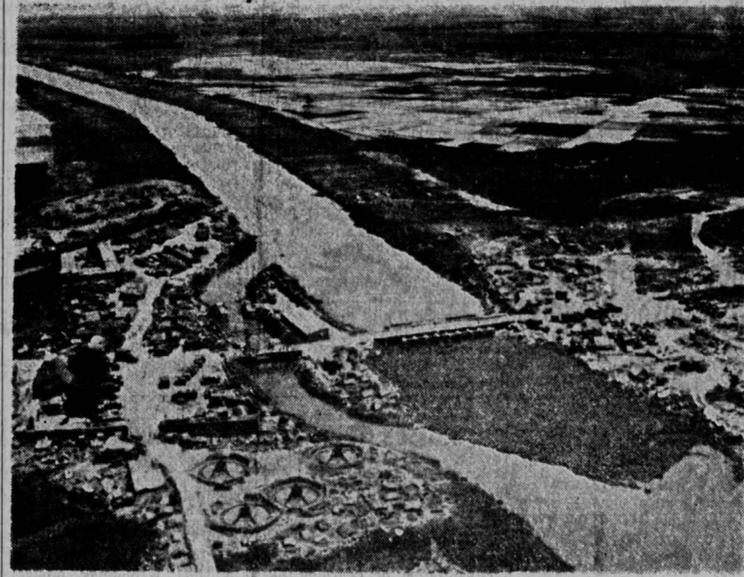

The 10-year building program which Hancher will submit to the board was first recommended by him in 1944.

Hancher termed it "a fairly tragic document," in the light of increased construction costs. When first presented, the 10-year building program called for an expenditure of $9,600,000. Today, the cost of an equivalent plan would be around $25 million, Hancher said.

Dale Welt, Iowa City real estate man, suggested at Tuesday's meeting that local businessmen should seek to acquaint state legislators with SUI budget needs.

The University-City committee was formed in June to discuss problems of common interest. Eight university representatives, and eight Chamber of Commerce representatives sit on the committee.

Fort Is Key to Hanoi Perimeter Defense

THIS IS AN AIRVIEW of the Indochina fortress of Nhai Tuu which blocks the road from the rich Red river delta area, recently abandoned by the French, to Hanoi, some 30 miles north. Recently strengthened, the fort is expected to become a major blocking point should the cease-fire talks fail and the Vietnam attack.

Third World War Threat Disclosed; Danger Lessened

TOKYO (AP)—Informed military sources disclosed Wednesday that the Indochina crisis had thrown American forces on the alert in the Pacific against an explosive outbreak of World War III but they said the danger point was passed three weeks ago.

Since then, tensions have eased markedly, the sources said. But they pictured Russia, with 35 army divisions and 700 jet bombers poised in the Far East, as capable of mounting a massive attack on Japan. The advent of summer, with its thaws and mud, probably has cut down Russian mobility in Siberia, they said.

The military tension obviously was tied in with diplomatic problems under debate in Washington and other world capitals concerning the French crisis in Indochina.

Shooting War?

A decision to intervene, the source said, could have reopened the shooting war in Korea and possibly touched off Russian attack on Japan, cornerstone to control of the Pacific.

With the threat of war eased, the sources reported allied military commanders were studying redeployment of ground forces in the Pacific area.

There was speculation that the six U.S. divisions would be pulled out of Korea in time, leaving 20 South Korean divisions to guard the truce line. U.S. commanders long have shown concern over tying down so much American ground strength in Korea.

Plans also are under consideration to pull the U.S. 1st cavalry division out of Hokkaido, leaving Japanese forces to guard the main island closest to Russia.

Japan is building her ground forces to six divisions under an accelerated defense program.

4 Persons Killed In Kansas City Jet Plane Crash

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—An air force jet plane crashed Wednesday and cut a fiery swath through a residential district killing four persons. Several others had hair-raising escapes.

The plane, an F84F which had just been accepted by the air force, plunged to earth at high speed near 9th st. and Nebraska ave., on the edge of the city's business district.

Killed in the crash was the pilot, identified by the central air defense force as 2nd Lt. John H. Kapeles, Casper, Wyo.

The other three victims were residents of two of the three homes set afire by the plane.

They were Miss Gertrude Lankford, and Miss Edna Hoffman, both schoolteachers, and Ural Redwine, 54, an invalid who was trapped in his home.

U.S. Note Demands Release Of 7 GI's by Red Czechs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States accused Czech border guards Wednesday night of the "abduction" of seven American soldiers. Communist Czechoslovakia contended the Americans were nabbed on a spying mission.

The Americans—a captain and six enlisted men—disappeared Sunday night near the west German border town of Baernau. Officials have declined to identify them, pending notification of next of kin.

A strongly worded U.S. note, delivered to the Czech foreign office in Prague Wednesday protested the Czech border patrol's action. It rejected a Czech claim that the seven were spies and demanded their release.

The soldiers were on leave, the U.S. army in Germany said, and may have crossed the border by mistake on a sightseeing tour.

The Czechoslovak government said in a note to the United States that films found in possession of the Americans revealed they had taken photographs of objects on Czechoslovak territory. The note said the soldiers

New Dental Drill May End Pain In Tooth Repair

NEW YORK (AP)—A new ultrasonic dental device may someday spell the end of the painful old burr-type tooth drill.

The new drilling instrument was demonstrated Wednesday by Dr. Carl R. Oman, professor of dentistry at Columbia university.

A magnetic arrangement causes high speed vibration of a blunt blade. This in turn vibrates at 20,000 times a second a special cutting solution applied to the tooth itself. It is this vibrating liquid that actually does the drilling. The new device makes no sound as it cuts.

Commercial production of the new device is at least a year away.

SUI Symphony Presents Summer Concert

By DRAKE MABRY

An Iowa alumnus conducted the SUI symphony orchestra as it presented the first summer concert of the season Wednesday night in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Arthur C. Berdahl, who received his Ph. D. from Iowa in 1936, served as guest conductor. Berdahl is head of the music department at Fresno State college, Fresno, Cal.

The program was varied, ranging from Samuel Barber's contemporary "Adagio for Strings, Opus 11," to Mozart's wonderful "Concertante Symphonie."

Brahms' fourth symphony, played superbly by the 86 piece orchestra, was one of the better numbers on the program. The symphony is a rhythmic number, at times mellow, at times powerful.

But the overall quality is one of beauty. Putting it simply, the work is good listening no matter what taste one has in music.

Prof. Stuart Canin, head of violin instruction at SUI, and Claude Strain, viola instructor, were featured soloists as the orchestra played "Concertante Symphonie."

In this work, the two soloists shared the spotlight, at times alternating with the orchestra, then entering into some friendly competition with each other.

Asked whether the Czech espionage accusation against the ment was false, Suidam replied quickly: "Of course, it's false."

Earlier Suidam had said "a preliminary report from army sources" indicates the Americans disappeared while on a sight-seeing trip near the border.

West German border police at Baernau had said they received and rejected a Czech bid to trade the soldiers for three Czech political refugees who fled to the West recently.

State department press officer Henry Suidam declined comment when asked what steps the U.S. was prepared to take if the Czech government refuses to free the soldiers.

Suidam commented, however, that for a diplomatic note the language used was strong and "peremptory."

The note identified the missing Americans by name and rank but Suidam declined to reveal them because, he said, the defense department has not yet notified the next of kin.

Reds Pierce New French Defense Line

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Regular Communist-led Vietnam units pushed inside the new French Red river delta defense line Wednesday from positions in the southern sector which the French abandoned last week.

A high French army source disclosed that elements of the Vietminh division, one of those which crushed Dien Bien Phu, have spread through much of the area north of Thai Binh, 55 miles southeast of Hanoi, and are infiltrating across the Bamboo canal. The canal, about 40 miles southeast of Hanoi, is part of the new southern defense line.

Rebels Penetrate Area

So far only small groups of the rebel division have penetrated the area, according to best available information here, but the territory long has been infiltrated with thousands of guerrillas and Vietminh sympathizers.

At the same time, a Vietminh division was reported occupying the evacuated area south of Phu Ly and around Nam Dinh and Ninh Binh. A rebel division also was reported grouped west of Ninh Binh, 60 miles south of Hanoi.

Divisions Poised

Three other regular Vietminh divisions are poised at the edges of the delta along the western tier and along the western half of the northern sector. Those three and the three in the south could smash directly at Hanoi or could close a pincer east of Hanoi, thereby cutting off this focal point of the fighting from the port of Haiphong.

But French high command sources said there has been no indication so far of an imminent attack. Many officers here do not expect an all-out attack against Hanoi or the remaining delta area as long as the French are discussing possibility of a cease-fire with the Vietminh.

The French command disclosed Tuesday night 150 of its bombers and fighters had attacked Vietminh concentrations north of Hung Yen, 31 miles southeast of Hanoi, destroying several rebel trucks.

Events Indicate Showdown

Events occurring at a half dozen points around the globe that could lead either to a negotiated truce or intensified fighting seemed to indicate a quick showdown in the nearly eight-year-old war. Here were the main developments:

1. In Paris, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France served notice on parliament he will ask permission to send French conscripts to Indochina for the first time if negotiations between the French Union and Vietminh in Geneva fail to bring peace.

2. Talks between French Union and Vietminh military experts on technical details for a cease-fire continued at Trung Gia.

'Matador' Missile Group Reassigned to Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—The air force will send a second pilotless bomber squadron to Germany this fall, it was announced Wednesday.

The squadron, numbering about 600 officers and men, is now at Patrick air force base, Fla., being trained to handle the B61 "Matador" missile.

The rocket-launched, jet-driven Matador has a range of between 500 and 1,000 miles.

Warns Against Hasty Action By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday that he is "completely and unalterably opposed" to admitting Red China to the United Nations as matters now stand. At the same time he counseled congress to go slow on proposals to pull America out if the Reds are let in.

He discussed the situation at his news conference and authorized direct quotation of many of his words to underscore his denunciation of the Communist Chinese government. He branded it an aggressor and an enslaver of peoples.

As for withdrawing from the UN, he took the position that this country's membership in that organization involves "solemn treaty obligations" and any move to repudiate them must be taken only after "the most careful deliberation."

Knowland Wants Withdrawal

The idea of arranging now to pull out of the UN if the Chinese Reds get a seat has been advanced in various forms by several senators. One of these, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), said shortly after the President's news conference that he thought congress would go along with the chief executive, to see what the UN decides before taking action in Washington. Eisenhower expressed the view that it was unlikely the other UN members would override the wishes of the U.S.

In expressing strong opposition to seating the Communists, "under the present situation," Eisenhower said, "I personally think that 95 per cent of the population of the United States would take the same stand."

The President was asked about the suggestions that if Red China is admitted over U.S. protests, then the U.S. would withdraw.

Recommend Careful Study

He replied that, "If the U.S. ever reaches the point that it wants to repudiate solemn treaty obligations, it must do so after the most careful deliberation and study of all the consequences that could be involved."

Eisenhower viewed the question that would arise as being "whether we would accomplish more good in the world, whether we could advance the cause of peace and decency better by going out than by staying in."

He said he would fight "to the last minute" to prove that the UN could not override America on the principle involved.

Eisenhower talked seriously but freely about Red China in a 24-minute conference which also brought out presidential statements that he is pleased with the way congress has been acting, delighted about the house farm bill, fully confident that the central intelligence agency is in good hands, and concerned but hopeful about strikes in atomic plants.

He told his news conference also he expects retired Gen. Mark W. Clark will do a grand job of checking into the agency's organization and operation as head of a Hoover commission task force.

Eisenhower Defends CIA's Allen Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indicated Wednesday the administration is making a constant routine check of the Central Intelligence Agency, and said he has the utmost confidence in its director, Allen W. Dulles.

He told his news conference also he expects retired Gen. Mark W. Clark will do a grand job of checking into the agency's organization and operation as head of a Hoover commission task force.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has hinted that his senate investigations subcommittee might launch its own probe of alleged Communist infiltration into the CIA, and has spoken of "what looks like a very, very dangerous situation" within it.

But McCarthy, expressing confidence in Clark, said Tuesday he "would be glad" to turn over to the general the information he has, although "we are not going to forget about the situation."

The President made no mention of McCarthy's charges of Communists within the CIA. Dulles has called those charges "false."

Philbrick To Lecture Here

Herbert Philbrick, FBI counterespionage, author and lecturer who will speak at SUI this evening, successfully played a very difficult triple role for nine years.

"I Led Three Lives" will be the topic of his SUI summer series lecture at 8:30 p.m. (DST) on the west approach to Old Capitol. Following Philbrick's lecture a public forum will convene in the Senate chamber at 9:30 p.m. (DST).

Only the FBI and his wife knew about all three lives. The Communist party knew him as an "inner circle" member and as a Boston advertising executive, while Philbrick's friends and neighbors were aware only of his life as a Massachusetts businessman and citizen.

Now contributor of a syndicated column "Red Underground," to the New York Herald-Tribune and affiliated newspapers, Philbrick stresses how to distinguish between Communist-front organizations and worthy groups which may appear to some to be tainted by Soviet influences. He emphasizes a "careful, non-hysterical" approach to problems of Red infiltration. "I Led Three Lives" is now being serialized over the ABC television network. Recently this program based on Philbrick's life was honored by an award from Freedom Foundation, Inc.

A Condensation of Late Developments

Electrical Workers Vote on 3d Offer

DES MOINES (AP)—Negotiations were in abeyance Wednesday as AFL electrical workers in districts outside Des Moines voted on the third offer by the Iowa Power & Light Co. in the current dispute over wages. Des Moines union men voted Wednesday night shortly after the latest company offer was made but the result was not announced pending secret vote by members in 10 other so-called "districts" of the local. C. E. Nordstrom, business agent, local 499, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, indicated Wednesday that results of the vote on the wage proposal might be announced today.

Kerr Forced into Runoff in Oklahoma Primary

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A repeat battle of the millionaires was in prospect for Oklahoma voters July 27 as Wednesday's tabulations of Tuesday's primary balloting showed rival Roy J. Turner has forced Sen. Robert S. Kerr into a runoff for the Democratic nomination as U.S. senator. Both are wealthy oilmen, former governors and bitter political foes. The latest count from 3,072 of 3,155 precincts gave Kerr a 29,887 vote lead. The vote stood Kerr 228,211, Turner 198,824 with nearly 38,000 votes spread among seven other candidates.

Minnesota Site Offers Wylie 'Excellent View' of Eclipse

By WILLARD ROTH
"We had an excellent view and it was a lot of fun," Prof. C. C. Wylie remarked Wednesday after returning from his Minnesota trip to observe the total sun eclipse June 30.

Equipped with two cameras, a pair of binoculars, chronometer, and short wave receiving set, the SUI astronomy professor set up observation headquarters at Forest Lake, Minn., about 25 miles north of St. Paul.

"I chose this site," he said, "because it was about in the center of the 70-mile-wide path of totality and away from crowds of observers." Wylie first visited Forest Lake while vacationing in the summer of 1951.

Donald Lowe, an SUI graduate in astronomy, drove on to Cumberland, about 40 miles east of Forest Lake, to observe the eclipse. Cumberland had advertised that the town would be a good place to see the eclipse and as a result about 250 persons watched the phenomenon there.

Only Prof. and Mrs. Wylie, Loren Lloyd, amateur astronomer from West Branch, a couple from Peru, Ind., and the owners of the Forest Lake cabins observed the eclipse at the lake.

Wylie erected a 50-foot aerial so that Bureau of Standards time signals could be received from Washington, D. C. The signals enabled the professor to make precise timings with the chronometer.

Gets Picture Series
For about 90 minutes before the actual eclipse, which occurred at 5:07 a.m., Wylie took photographs at regular intervals to show the progression of the eclipse. With the chronometer he was able to register the exact time each picture was taken.

"Of course I only got one picture of the actual eclipse and then I had to act fast because it lasted only 76 seconds," Wylie commented.

He will use his photographs and data for classroom lectures and to calculate time tables for future eclipses.

Wylie indicated that he did not see as much of the corona (luminous outer rim) this time as he had seen June 8, 1918, when he observed his first sun eclipse. At that time Wylie saw the eclipse from Baker, Ore., as a member of the U.S. naval eclipse expedition.

Can't See Planets
"I could see Capella, one of the brighter stars, shining brightly a short distance above the sun," Wylie said. "None of the planets, however, was visible. Jupiter was behind the sun and the other planets were below the horizon."

About 70 total sun eclipses occur every century, Wylie reported, but the eclipse path is so narrow that probably an eclipse can be seen at a given location only about once every 300 years.

"But it seems that even when they can, people don't always take advantage of the opportunity," the professor observed. "For example, Mrs. Wylie could hardly understand how 16 high school girls and their chaperone, who were camping at Forest Lake the morning of the eclipse, could sleep through such an occurrence."

The next chance for U.S. residents to view a total eclipse of the sun in their own country will be in Maine on the afternoon of July 20, 1963.

Employe Checks To Change Form Beginning Aug. 1

The SUI business office will change the type of checks issued to all university employees, office manager Leonard Brcka announced Wednesday.

Beginning August 1, the business office will use a gray punched card check similar to government and GI Bill checks. They are about two-thirds the size of present yellow paper checks.

The office will also issue a statement of earnings with each check to be used for individual record filing. It will include the total wages earned for that pay period, a break down of all deductions, and the amount of the check.

"One of the important features of the new checks as far as employees are concerned is that they can be folded," Brcka said. He stressed they should not be folded unless absolutely necessary.

Efficiency of machine operation over hand operation is the chief reason for the change. The university issues over 8,000 checks monthly. The new system automatically sorts, stamps and files the punched checks in a fraction of the time required under the old system.

WSUI To Feature Jefferson, South
The first episode of "Document: Deep South," a series of 18 documentary broadcasts depicting the economic rebirth of the south, will be heard tonight over WSUI at 7:30. The program entitled "Domes of Destiny," concerns the sulphur and oil deposits that are sometimes found beneath salt deposits in the South.

One hour later, at 8:30, "Jeffersonian Heritage," featuring Claude Rains as Thomas Jefferson may be heard. Jefferson's political views concerning state and individual rights, were expressly opposed to the political theories of James Madison.

Improving instruction of today's youth is a much more involved undertaking than those who "view with alarm" or "point with pride" would lead us to believe, a roundtable on teaching stressed Wednesday at SUI.

Participating schoolmen and students agreed that a key factor in improving instruction is genuine understanding between the parties concerned — teachers and parents, teachers and pupils, and, in general, between the school and the community.

"What the parent thinks important for a child to be taught may not be what the teacher thinks important. Perhaps one mark of a superior teacher and of a superior parent is ability to exchange friendly talk and information toward reaching an understanding," suggested Prof. Harold Crain, of SUI's department of dramatic art.

Stresses Obligation
Further stressing the teacher's obligation to interpret what may be new to the community she serves, Marguerite Blough, East Waterloo high school teacher, suggested that schoolmen might add interpretative tools of modern sales promotion to their public relations programs.

Prof. Hugh Seabury, of the SUI speech department and roundtable moderator, proposed that more stress be placed on the instructor and student seeing the same goal and on the teachers' making clear the pathway toward that goal. This would prevent most of the discipline problems which arise in the classroom, Seabury said.

"If students are not chasing the subject matter, they'll chase something else," W. Norwood Brigrance, prominent American speech educator added to the discussion of classroom discipline.

Miss Camp Discusses Failure
Frances Camp, coordinator of SUI placement services, observed that the two principal reasons given for the failure of young teachers in their first jobs are their lack of ability to control a classroom and their lack of effort to become part of a community.

Brigrance observed that many citizens seem to expect the teacher to combine the best qualities of Billy Graham, Lionel Barrymore and Winston Churchill. He said the teaching profession is expected to assume a major responsibility for the progress of the human species, yet start at about the same salary as young people without college training.

An additional roundtable on the teaching of speech communication will be held this morning in Old Capitol at 10 a.m. Brigrance will be the keynote speaker for the discussion.

Iowa Morning Milers in Campus Jaunt, Hazardous Race Against Time

By RALPH LATHAM

SUI boasts a beautiful campus—a campus worthy of pride and admiration. But is it necessary that students admire all of it between 8:50 and 9 each morning? In the cases of many unfortunate students, it is. This great opportunity to drink in the beauty of the campus is offered to every student at registration. All the student needs to do is plan his schedule carefully, arranging to have an eight o'clock class in East hall, a nine o'clock class in the Communications Center, ten o'clock, University theatre, and eleven o'clock in the field house.

It isn't easy to work out such a schedule, and many students will find they can do better than a short hike from East hall to the Communications Center. This will do, particularly for freshmen, who are not yet in condition for the rigors of longer jaunts, and for graduate students, for whom greater distances present the danger of over-exertion.

The distance from East hall to the Communications Center is approximately 1,347 strides of average male length. In reverse the figure becomes 1,429, since steps are shorter, or distances longer, going uphill.

This run can be accomplished by a robust youth in somewhat under the world record for the two-mile run. Those who are less than robust must resort to certain tricks and devices. It is helpful to stay off the sidewalks; it permits one to move right along without trampling any small children. One rather serious hazard will be encountered in the form of the traffic signals found along the way. After a few weeks, the alert student learns to estimate the exact moment of his arrival at the crossing so accurately that the light turns green as he bounds off the curb. Failing in this, the only recourse is a pretense of study. The courageous student may appear to center his attention on a book or newspaper and step blithely across the intersection ignoring vehicular traffic.

Once this obstacle has been overcome, Schaeffer hall looms up ahead, and from there it's all downhill.

Thought it is a strenuous ordeal, the daily adventure adds spice to the life of the student. Those who find the trip "just too much" may find consolation in the plight of one student who was overheard at eight-fifty one morning in East hall saying to a friend, "See you later, I have to rush to a nine o'clock class in the field house."

Nurses Hold Work Conference Here

Nurses from eight states and seven foreign countries are attending a college of nursing work conference on curriculum planning at SUI.

The conference, devoted to "Organization of Learning Experiences," is the second of its kind conducted by the college this year. An earlier one in May dealt with the "Selection of Learning Experiences."

States represented at the meeting are Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, California and Mississippi. Also present are nurses from Thailand, Honduras, Indonesia, El Salvador, Mexico, the Philippines and Free China.

Members of the SUI staff participating in the program are Dean Myrtle E. Kitchell and Professors Amy Frances Brown, Faye Kubicek and Louise Schmitt.

A panel Wednesday brought three SUI faculty members into the program from other fields. Participants in the panel included Professors Joseph I. Routh, department of biochemistry; John C. Gerber, English; and Manfred H. Kuhn, sociology.

Ruth Becker and Marjorie Lyford, nursing associates, also were members of the panel, with Prof. Kubicek serving as moderator.

The work conference ends Friday.

Interpreting the News
By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Now word comes from Tokyo that for weeks Russia has been poised for an attack on Japan should the United States become tied up in Indochina.

That explains why, three weeks ago, experienced observers felt world tension rising to a screaming pitch without knowing exactly why.

At that time, the United States was in the throes of decision, with France demanding direct intervention as the alternative to a virtual surrender of part of the Southeast Asia area which President Eisenhower had said must not be taken by the Communists.

No announcement has ever been made as to what was decided, but the decision for the time being is contained in the fact that nothing has been done, with diplomatic efforts now centering on arrangement for a fall-back line in case part or all of Indochina falls.

The danger that intervention in Indochina would eventually produce a full-scale war in Asia was a prime consideration when Britain and the United States were discussing the problem, and was overpowering in British minds at least.

Military authorities had information that Russia was, and still is, poised for a renewal of the Korean war and an attack on Japan with 35 divisions and 700 jet bombers.

Was Russia putting up a bluff to influence the American decision on intervention in Indochina? Or was she deliberately preparing to take advantage of the situation if the United States transferred her Far Eastern forces from Japan and Korea to Indochina?

The former seems more likely, for there is a pretty general feeling among the most experienced observers that Russia is not deliberately looking for a general war right now.

Iowa City Minister Deplores 'Flagrant' Sabbath Violations

The Rev. Ira J. Hoover, pastor of the First Nazarene church, voiced concern Wednesday with violations of the Sabbath in Iowa City, typified by the recent Sunday Fourth of July celebration sponsored by the Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"I am concerned, not only about last Sunday's celebration,"

Hoover indicated, "but also about the other flagrant violations of the Sabbath which occur here."

He was referring to athletic "chalk talks," film previews, and staff meetings on Sundays which take place in both city schools and the university.

Pollock Voices Disapproval
The Rev. Mr. Hoover's comments to The Daily Iowan followed a letter, written earlier in the week by the Rev. P. Hewison Pollock to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which voiced disapproval of the Fourth of July celebration sponsored by the Chamber.

Pollock's letter characterized the Sunday celebration as poor business.

Citing the $20,000 budget of his own congregation and its membership of some 400 families as an example of the local churches, the Rev. Mr. Pollock wrote:

Churches Not Pleased
"It would seem to me to be hardly good business to slap customers in the face as directly as was done in this instance." It must have been plain to anyone who would think of it that the Junior Chamber could not please the people of these churches by taking the whole of the holy day for this celebration.

"Iowa City is a city of churches," the Rev. Mr. Pollock wrote, "These churches are frequently ignored by the business community, as in this instance."

The Rev. Mr. Hoover indicated to The Daily Iowan that he was in full agreement with the spirit of the Rev. Mr. Pollock's letter.

The Rev. Mr. Hoover also serves as president of the Iowa City Ministerial association, but said he was not speaking for that organization.

Low Bids Accepted For New Golf Course
A low bid of $28,871.70 by the Maddox Construction company of Rankin, Ill., was opened Tuesday for work on one part—Area B—of the new SUI golf course.

For grading and seeding another part—Area C—of the course, the low and only bid was $9,300 by the Barker Construction company, Iowa City, according to George L. Horner, SUI superintendent of planning and construction.

The university's board in control of athletics conducted the bidding in Old Capitol and recommended the two firms to the state board of education for the approval of contracts. The new course southwest of the old Newkirk course is being financed wholly from athletic receipts of the university, Horner pointed out.

The Maddox company's bid includes construction of practice greens and driving areas, grading and seeding, concrete curbs, drainage and water systems. The SUI athletic board rejected at this hearing bids made for electrical work on the course, Horner said.

1st In Injuries, 3d In League, Chisox Dig Deep For Talent

NEW YORK (AP)—Woe the poor White Sox—third in the American league and first in the arnica loop.

Over the past few days, the Chicago club has seen four players—Ferris Fain, George Kell, Phil Cavaretta and Cass Michaels—knocked out of action. When Michaels was put out Tuesday with a bruised finger, it marked the 19th time this season one of Paul Richards' crew was forced out of the lineup.

The White Sox aren't the only ones suffering. Right now about 30 major leaguers are treating aches and breaks.

In the recent rash of injuries, casualties included the Chicago Cubs' Dee Fondy and Joe Garagiola; Wilmer Shantz of the Philadelphia A's; Andy Pafko, Charley White and Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves; Harvey Hadix of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Braves may not be up there with the White Sox, numerically, but they were wounded in a vulnerable spot when outfielder Bobby Thompson fractured an ankle in spring training. He hasn't played yet while pitcher Johnny Antonelli, one of the players involved in the big Giants-Braves deal, has a 12-2 record for New York.

It's remarkable Cleveland still leads the American league when you consider Manager Al Lopez lost infielders Al Rosen and Bobby Avila for a spell when both were sizzling. At the moment star pitcher Bob Lemon is out with a torn rib cartilage. Al Smith has missed some action with a charley horse, and catcher Mickey Grasso is on the disabled list with a broken bone in his foot suffered in spring training. Rosen and Avila suffered finger fractures.

Brooklyn went through a tough siege when catcher Roy

Campanella missed almost the whole month of May to have a bone chip removed from his left hand. The Red Sox have had Ted Williams for only 35 of their 74 games. First the great hitter was out with a broken collar bone and then with a virus infection.

Snider is back in the Brooklyn lineup and Reese is ready to go but pitcher Johnny Podres, who had his appendix removed, won't be back until about August.

The Yanks have outfielder Country Slaughter and pitcher Jim McDonald on the disabled list. Slaughter, who suffered a broken bone in his left hand, is expected back soon. McDonald is out for another 20 days or so.

Of the leading clubs, only the Giants are 100 per cent healthy. Leo Durocher's squad did lose third baseman Henry Thompson for 10 days with a cracked knee cap, but he's back in the lineup.

White Sox Trim Tigers 9-0; Yank Homers Swamp Bosox

DETROIT (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, struggling to stay in the pennant picture, trounced the Detroit Tigers 9-0 Wednesday for their fifth straight win as Don Johnson hurled a four-hitter.

Led by Nellie Fox, who had a double and a pair of singles, and bonus rookie Ron Jackson, who collected a single and his second major league homer, the Sox punched out a 16-hit attack against four pitchers. Johnson, winning his fifth against four losses, allowed only one runner to reach third.

Billy Hoelt, Tiger starter, failed for the ninth straight time to win a game at home. He was batted out in a three-run third inning, suffering his fifth setback, after making his over-all record 4-9.

The Tigers dropped their 30th game in 43 starts.

Fred Marsh knocked in Chicago's first two runs with a double in the second inning. Three more crossed in the third on a bases-loaded single by Jim Rivera and a run-scoring single by Johnny Groth.

Fox knocked in his second run with an eighth-inning single and Jackson, a 6-foot-7, 20-year-old first baseman, hit a home run in the ninth.

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra drove in five runs with a triple and homer, and Irv Noren clouted two triples and two singles Wednesday to lead the New York Yankees to a 17-9 victory over the Boston Red Sox in a game called in the top of the eighth by rain.

Behind them in closest contention came Norman Sutton, an Englishman, with 70, and a trio of 71's by Antonio Gerda of Argentina and Britain's George Howard and J. R. M. Jacobs. Nearly a dozen others shot 72.

The 72 shooters included Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., low man among the six Americans who are trying to pick up the title Ben Hogan let lapse when he declined to defend.

Other American scores were 73's for Jimmy DeMaret of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., and Frank Strahan, the amateur from Toledo; 75 for Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., and 76's for Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., and Toney Penna of Cincinnati.

2 English Golfers Lead with 69's In British Open

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Two battered putters—one of them a 45-year-old blade that sold for 28 cents and the other a short shaft kid's putter—carried two little-known English golfers into the lead Wednesday in the British open championship.

Sam King and Bill Spence shot record-equaling 69's in the first round on the Birkdale course to tie for the lead with a one-stroke margin over their closest rival.

Behind them in closest contention came Norman Sutton, an Englishman, with 70, and a trio of 71's by Antonio Gerda of Argentina and Britain's George Howard and J. R. M. Jacobs. Nearly a dozen others shot 72.

The 72 shooters included Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., low man among the six Americans who are trying to pick up the title Ben Hogan let lapse when he declined to defend.

Other American scores were 73's for Jimmy DeMaret of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., and Frank Strahan, the amateur from Toledo; 75 for Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., and 76's for Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., and Toney Penna of Cincinnati.

Unanimous Decision To Joey Giardello In Rough Battle

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joey Giardello, protecting a severely cut cheek from the second round on, combined a sharp left hook with a long overhand right to pound out a unanimous 10-round decision over Billy Kilgore of Miami at the arena Wednesday night.

Giardello, who weighed 158 pounds, had no picnic with the rough and ready Kilgore, despite his heavy advantage in scoring. Kilgore butted, hit on the break, and generally fought a roughhouse battle in his vain effort to bring about an upset.

In the official count, Judge Jimmy Mina gave the third-ranking middleweight contender a 7-2-1 victory. Judge Nat Lpenson carded it an 8-2 Giardello win, while referee Willie Clark scored it 9-1. The Associated Press gave Giardello 8 rounds, Kilgore 1, and carded 1 even.

Pendleton's Double Produces Only Run; Milwaukee Wins, 1-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Danny O'Connell's seventh inning single preceded Jim Pendleton's double for the game's only run as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs, 1-0 Wednesday.

Howie Pollet suffered his fifth loss as he allowed all of the winners' six hits before rookie Bill Tremel pitched the last two innings and handled the Braves in order in both rounds.

Pollet had retired 11 straight Braves when O'Connell and Pendleton ganged up on him.

The Cubs, who settled for just one hit and three of Nichols' four walks during the first six innings, threatened in the Chicago half of the seventh.

After Hank Sauer was called out on strikes, Steve Bilko and Ernie Banks each singled, and Walker Cooper walked to load the bases.

Bill Serena batted for Pollet, and grounded into an inning-end double play started by Nichols by way of the plate.

Cleveland Keeps Pace, Beats Baltimore, 6-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Turley walked four of the first five Cleveland batters in the second inning Wednesday night, and the Tribe pushed across all its runs in that frame for a 6-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The triumph was the 10th for the Indians in their last 11 games and maintained their 3 1/2-game lead over the second-place New York Yankees.

Mike Garcia, who ruptured a blood vessel in the middle finger of his pitching hand Sunday against the White Sox, limited the Orioles to six hits. His finger gave him trouble in the late innings, and Ray Narleski relieved him to hurl a hitless ninth.

Four of the hits off Garcia were singles by rightfielder Cal Abrams. It was a single by Abrams, followed by Dick Kryhoski's single and Chuck Diering's fly that scored Baltimore's run in the eighth, robbing Garcia of his fifth shutout. He now has won 11 and lost 5.

Youthful Pitcher Signed By Chicago White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox Wednesday announced the signing of a hometown boy who pitched six no-hitters in his high school baseball career.

He is 18-year-old, 6-foot-2 Chuck Bauer, a righthander with a 35-5 record at Chicago's Taft High school.

The Sox assigned the youth to their farm at Dubuque, Ia., in the class D Mississippi-Ohio Valley league.

Unbeaten As Amateur

Former world's heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles had 42 fights as an amateur and won them all.

The hot New Yorkers whaled Skinny Brown for five more in the sixth and three in the eighth.

Reynolds was relieved in the fourth by Marlin Stuart after he had been reached for seven hits and six runs, including a homer by Harry Agganis.

The Red Sox scored three runs in the eighth.

Rain halted the slugging bee for 30 minutes in the sixth, 35 minutes in the seventh, and 19 minutes in the eighth before the umpires finally decided to end the wild affair. Since the home team, Yankees were ahead, all of the plays and hits in the top half of the eighth go into the records.
