Atom Strikers To Get New CIO-Labor Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor James Mitchell and CIO leaders agreed late Friday on back-to-work recommendations to be submitted to striking atomic workers at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., Friday night.

Details of the recommendations were not disclosed. Elwood Swisher, president of the striking CIO gas, coke and chemical workers union, planned to reveal them to a mass meeting of strikers at Oak Ridge at 7:30 p.m. (CST).

Joseph R. Joy, union vice-president, similarly arranged to lay the recommendations before a mass meeting of Paducah strikers at 9 p.m.

3-Hour Conference
The proposals were worked out at a three-hour conference here Friday afternoon attended by Mitchell, CIO President Walter Reuther, Swisher, Joy and other CIO officials.

Mitchell told newsmen that Swisher and Joy, who left immediately for the two strikebound plants in special airplanes, were "carrying with them proposals in the hope of inducing their men to return to work tonight."

Swisher said if the workers accepted the proposals the strike would end.

President's Report Held
Meanwhile, a Presidential inquiry board was putting finishing touches on a report on the three-day walk-out of 4,500 production workers employed by a contractor for the atomic energy commission. They produce all the nation's supply of uranium-235 used in making both atomic and hydrogen bombs.

Delivery of the inquiry board's report to the White House was being delayed to give Mitchell time to end the walkout without President Eisenhower having to order the justice department to seek a Taft-Hartley law injunction to stop the strike.

Under the law, Eisenhower cannot move for an injunction until he gets the board report.

Asks 15-Cent Raise
It was clear that if the workers turned down the proposals at the Paducah and Oak Ridge mass meetings Friday night the government would act swiftly to get out the injunction, most likely today.

The dispute involves CIO and AFL union demands for a minimum 15 cent hourly wage increase. Workers' scales now range from $1.58 to $2.40 an hour.

The President's atomic labor panel several weeks ago recommended a six-cent hourly raise for the workers. The contractor, Carbide & Carbon Chemicals Co., accepted but the unions turned it down. CIO union members then went on strike Wednesday at two plants, one at Paducah and one at Oak Ridge, but AFL workers remained on the job at two other Oak Ridge plants.

French Rout Red Troops Near Hanoi

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — French mobile units armed with howitzers routed Vietminh regulars 20 miles south of Hanoi Friday after hours of savage fighting.

But a tightening north-south Communist pincer, menaced three other French strongholds on the shrunken Red River Delta defense perimeter.

The French command said 108 out of 300 Red-led Vietminh soldiers were killed in the clash at Bao Thon, a village 15 miles north of Phu Ly junction on the road to Hanoi. French losses were not disclosed. Only a week ago French troops abandoned Phu Ly in the teeth of a Vietminh attack.

While the battle raged at Bao Thon, Red forces were busy pounding at French posts near Son Tay, 20 miles northwest of Hanoi, and Phuc Yen, 15 miles almost due north. Vietnamese troops suffered appreciable losses at both garrisons.

In the hours before dawn, the Vietminh let loose harassing attacks on the French citadel of Bac Dinh, 15 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's stepped-up assault came less than a day after Gen. Paul Ely, French commander in Indochina, pledged an all-out stand to save the north Vietnam war capital.

Communist propaganda leaflets showered on Hanoi have been warning residents that a major offensive on the city would come within the next week. Some leaflets said D-Day would be Wednesday, French bastille day. Others pointed to July 17.

The Vietminh have massed three divisions southwest of Hanoi and another three along the northern borders of the delta. Military observers here think the rebels are most likely to strike east of Hanoi to cut the road link between Hanoi and the seaport of Haiphong.

Soldier Held in Brother's Death

PVT. DON L. DOMBROWSKY, 19-year-old rookie soldier, sits at police headquarters at Michigan City, Ind., where he was questioned in connection with the death of his three-year-old brother, Paul Dewayne, of knife wounds. Detective Capt. Charles Hanke said Pvt. Dombrowsky made a written statement that he repeatedly stabbed his brother with a paring knife but didn't know why he did it.

Flanders Urges U.S. Move To Win Reds' Minds, Hearts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.), contending the United States has lost face in Asia, called Friday for new strategy in the cold war with the Communists.

"We should go on the offensive for the hearts and minds of the Russian people on the question of disarmament," he said in a major senate speech. As for the threat of Red Chinese entry into the United Nations, Flanders said, congress and the administration should not "use weasel words such as, 'She must not be admitted at the present time' or 'until she has shown a willingness to abide by decisions of the UN.'"

U.S. Should Reconsider
"Let us say," the Vermont continued, "that when Communist China tears away its curtain and resumes intercourse with the Western world... then we should be willing to reconsider our objections." Such a China will not be a Communist China.

For the second day in a row, foreign policy dominated a good part of the senate debate. Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said the administration once secretly consulted congressional leaders, but none from either the senate foreign relations or house foreign affairs committees, on the possibility of asking congress to pass a resolution giving President Eisenhower authority to intervene in Indochina if he thought it necessary.

Secret Consultation Set
He fixed the date of the consultation as April 3. Several leading GOP senators said they had never heard of such a proposition. One was Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee. Mansfield said he wasn't surprised, because Smith wasn't invited to the meeting.

While the debate rolled on, the foreign relations committee met behind closed doors to put the finishing touches on a "wait and see" policy for congress in the event the Chinese Communists succeed in getting a UN seat this fall.

U.S. Sends Russia Atomic Pool Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Friday provided Russia, as requested by the Soviets, with clarification of President Eisenhower's atoms for peace plan.

The move broke a 2½ month lull in negotiations on the Eisenhower formula for peaceful use of atomic energy through a pooled program under United Nations supervision.

But American officials were far from optimistic that it would spur the Reds into accepting the proposal. The growing American view has been that the Russians are more interested in treating the Eisenhower idea as one more opportunity to make propaganda.

The state department would say only that it was making a reply to the Russians' April 27 request "dealing with atomic energy matters."

Knowland Presents Plan

The plan, to be written into the pending foreign aid authorization bill, was offered by majority leader William Knowland of California as a substitute for a more drastic course of action he himself had proposed.

The plan would express again the opposition of congress to UN membership for the Peiping regime.

'Miss Playgrounds,' 5-Year-Old Queen, Wins by a Dimple

A new queen reigns over Iowa City's young people and she's only five years old.

Miss Linda Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Myers, 1103 S. Linn st., was chosen over five other contestants, ages four to six, as "Miss Playground of 1954," Friday night at the city pool in connection with the playground and recreation commission's third annual "Swim Fest."

Miss Myers who represented Elm Grove playground, is 3 ft. 6 in. tall and weighs 40 lbs. The chubby kindergarten student has curly brown hair and devilish eyes to match. Spectators at the event speculated that the two big dimples in both of her cheeks won the contest for her.

Linda faced some stiff competition and the four judges, pool manager Bob Rossie, lifeguards Buddy Lucas and Lincoln Herling and pool maintenance helper Clinton Brown, deliberated for several minutes before making their decision.

Miss Playground's attendants were Miss Barbara Sands, 5, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. Wayne Sands, 1307 Ash st., representing Kirkwood; Miss Susan Schilling, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Schilling, 25 N. Van Buren st., representing junior high; Miss Bebe Kadgih, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kadgih, 411 S. Summit st., of Longfellow; Miss Patty Juvan, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Juvan, 1903 F st., of Creekside and Miss Judy Melton, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Melton, 500 Kimball rd., representing Happy Hollow.

When questioned on how it felt to be a beauty contest winner Miss Myers exclaimed, "It's fine!" She added that she thought this might be the start of a new career for her and signified that she would wear the silver crown given to her by program director Bob Lee with great humility. Linda agreed that her daily attendance in the playground program had paid off with dividends.

The young ladies were presented to the hundreds of youngsters and guests by Lee and they were escorted to the microphones amid loud cheers and applause from rooting sections formed by their playground playmates.

Senate Committee Votes 13-2 For Rigid Farm Price Supports

Japan-China Trade Advanced as Best Plan for Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three state governors just back from a mission to the Far East said in a report to President Eisenhower Friday that Japan should engage in "limited and controlled" trade with Communist China.

They said this did not imply recognizing the Red China regime but "does recognize the fact that Japan's largest neighbor, situated closest to her shores and one of her best prospects for trade, is the 500 million Chinese."

The report was presented at the White House by Govs. Dan Thornton of Colorado and John S. Fine of Pennsylvania. Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, the third member of the mission which surveyed conditions in Japan and Korea at the President's request, could not be present here Friday but the other two said he joined in the conclusions. The report said:

"By establishing a foothold for trade at this time, as soon as communism has been kicked out of China and it has been returned to its rightful leaders, trade can be stepped-up immeasurably."

The governors also called for fast action on a "vastly expanded" attack warning system, using radar and other devices, not only in this country but in Okinawa, Japan, Korea, Guam, and other military outposts.

As for Japan, the governors said, that country must have access to resources and markets throughout southeast Asia in order to live.

Government Predicts Another Crop Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The agriculture department predicted Friday that crop production this year may be the second largest on record, creating new headaches for a government already struggling with giant surpluses.

Farmers have shifted land from such surplus products as cotton and wheat to other cash crops instead of taking it out of cultivation as urged by federal officials.

As a consequence, the harvest could well create surpluses of some crops not now plagued with oversupplies and add more products to government stocks now totaling more than $6 billion under price support programs.

Weather Is Factor

The department said that the overall crop volume as of July 1 was indicated to be over 102 per cent of the 1947-49 base average, compared with 103 per cent last year and the record 105 per cent in 1948. Favorable weather during the rest of the growing season could well boost the harvest to the record level.

By contrast, farm officials had urged, but had not required, a reduction of at least 5 per cent in crop volume. It appears, the department said, that 34½ million acres of crops will be harvested this year, which would be 1 million more than last year. Officials had urged a reduction of about 30 million acres.

Farmers have complied with rigid production control programs for cotton and wheat, but as a whole they ignored a less restrictive planting program for corn. This called for about 70 million acres of this livestock feed grain instead of the 80 million actually planted.

Planted Other Crops

A department survey showed that most of the land taken out of cotton and wheat had been planted to other cash crops, such as soybeans, oats, barley, flaxseed, sorghums, rice, dry beans, peas and sugar beets.

Smaller acreages than last year were indicated only for wheat, cotton, potatoes, sweet potatoes, sugar cane and hops. The tobacco acreage was virtually the same as last year.

The corn crop was forecast at 3,311,000,000 bushels, which would be the second largest of record and more than 300 million above the government's goal. Last year's crop was 3,176,000,000 and the 10-year average (1943-52) was 3,057,000,000.

Wheat Crop Smaller

The wheat crop was estimated at 988 million bushels, down 11 million from last month's official forecast and 180 million below last year. But it is larger than indicated market needs for the year ahead.

Record or near record productions were forecast for soybeans, rice, flaxseed, dry beans and sugar beets.

The department said weather in June was almost ideal for harvesting grains in the early harvest zone and also favorable for development of corn, soybeans and most other crops.

Deals Blow To Ike's Plan For Flexibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower lost a round Friday in his fight for flexible farm price supports. The senate agriculture committee voted 13-2 to send to the senate floor a bill calling for another year of rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity.

The measure also varies sharply from the President's ideas in other respects, and his supporters are counting on the senate to alter it.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman of the agriculture committee, said he voted to send the bill on to the senate "with firm intentions of knocking out several provisions on the senate floor."

President May Use Veto

"Unless we can work out a bill acceptable to President Eisenhower then there will be no farm legislation," Aiken said, expressing confidence that the President would use a veto if necessary.

Because of the numerous split-decision within the committee on key provisions, Aiken said the bill probably would not be ready for the senate until early next week.

Aiken said he expects administration supporters in the senate to duplicate the victory scored in the house on flexible farm supports over the opposition of a majority of the house agriculture committee.

Battle Over Committee Vote

Center of the battle will be an 8-7 senate committee vote for rigid 90 per cent of parity price supports on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts. Parity is a formula designed by law to give farmers a fair return in relation to their costs.

The house approved a sliding scale of supports ranging from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity although Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson had asked for a 75-90 range on these basic crops.

Aiken said he will propose an 80-90 flexible scale on the senate floor, or a 2½ per cent greater range than that approved by the house.

Only Wheat Involved

"Actually the only crop involved in this is wheat," Aiken said. "Even with a 75 per cent minimum, none of the others would have gone below 85 to 90."

Aiken said he also will fight to hold down supports for butter, cheese, milk and other dairy products at a 75 per cent level. Secretary Benson fixed that level April 1 after mountains of butter, cheese and dried milk had piled up under 90 per cent supports.

The house voted for an 80 per cent support level on dairy products, effective Sept. 1, and the senate committee by another 8-7 vote asked that they be raised to 85 per cent.

Additional Provisions

Two other provisions approved by the senate committee also headed for floor battles.

One by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) would require mandatory supports for four feed grain crops — oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums — near the level of price supports for corn, the chief feed grain.

Aiken said the secretary of agriculture has been supporting all these feed grains under flexible authority and he contended this system must continue to avoid adding them to other surpluses.

Provides for Relief

Also in dispute is a provision setting aside $2½ billion worth of surplus cotton, cottonseed oil, wheat and dairy products and making them available for relief, foreign aid and other non-competitive uses.

Aiken said the set aside was proposed by the administration only as part of the flexible support plan, in an effort to cushion any price declines. Under the flexible support program, price floors would drop when surpluses were large. But the set aside commodities would not be counted as surplus, and thus the price supports would not drop so far, officials say.

House Group Votes Postal Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation calling for a 5 per cent pay raise for postal workers, with a minimum increase of $200 a year, was approved by the house post office committee Friday.

The action opened the way for a possible pay boost for a million other government employees and a general increase in postal rates.

The measure broke a deadlock that threatened to hold up wage increases for all classified federal workers, numbering about one million. It was advanced as an administration-backed compromise Thursday.

Affecting about a half million postal employees directly, it provides authority for the postmaster general to overhaul job and salary schedules in the department and send a reclassification plan to congress by next March 15.

Approval of the compromise measure clears the way for action on a bill raising postal rates $245 million a year, including a penny increase in the cost of mailing letters. This had been caught up in the dispute over wage increases.

13 Killed, 20,000 Rescued in Austrian Flood

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The rampaging Danube flooded thousands of homes Friday in 100 or more villages in Austria and southern Germany. Thirteen persons were known dead in the floods. Many others were perilously marooned. More than 20,000 were rescued from rooftops and other perches by local and American armed forces disaster teams. Between Regensburg, in Germany, and this Austrian capital, the Danube was still rising, threatening ever greater damage. The flood was the worst in more than 50 years.

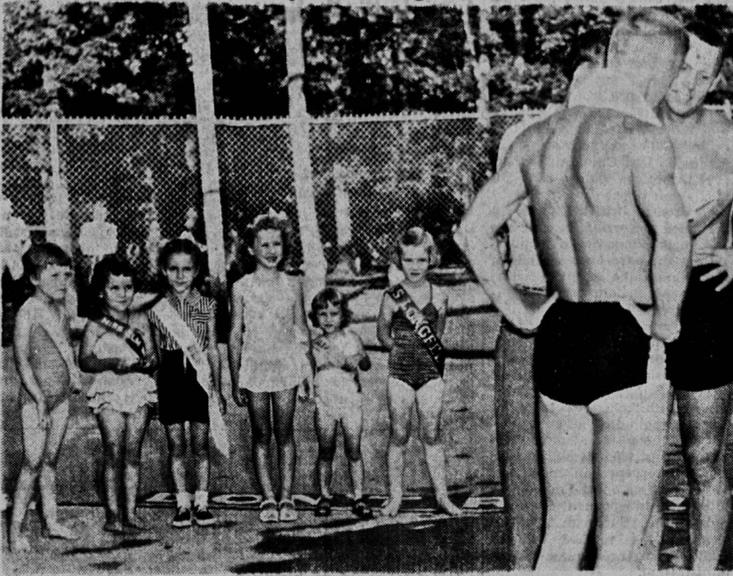

Invasion Rumors Cause Costa Rican Blackout

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The Costa Rican government ordered a blackout Thursday night following rumors that Costa Rican exiles were plotting an invasion, similar to that of Guatemala, for the purpose of overthrowing President Jose Figueres. The blackout, effective from 2 a.m. to 5 a.m., was accompanied by a doubling of the guards at San Jose airport. The airport was closed to traffic. Strategic points in the capital also were placed under close guard.

Senate OK's Military Construction Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate Friday night passed and sent to conference with the house an $837 million military construction bill after turning down a proposed $44,840,000 cut. Final passage was by voice vote. The bill would authorize spending for more than 300 projects throughout the nation and abroad. Included are 229 million for the army, 209 million for the navy, and 399 million for the air force. A large part of the money is for secret projects.

Before-Anxiously Awaiting Judges' Decision

After-Miss Playground and Her Court

Charity Fund Raising Laws 'Inadequate,' Synhorst Says

Should fund-raising organizations in Iowa be regulated more strictly to protect the public from "charity rackets?" Many Iowans are apparently taking a closer look these days at the state law which regulates such organizations, according to Director Robert F. Ray of the SUI institute of public affairs. The institute recently completed a research report on this and has distributed copies throughout the state, Ray says.

Prepared at the request of State Senator Jacob Grimstead of Lake Mills, the report indicates that 16 states, including Iowa, have laws designed to regulate fund raising groups in various ways. It also discusses changes made in the New York state law by that state's legislature this year.

A widely publicized investigation by a New York legislature committee brought to light several questionable practices and "charity rackets" operating in New York state. As a result of the investigation, the legislature put more teeth in the law regarding solicitations for charitable purposes.

Under the Iowa law before an organization can solicit donations, it must obtain a permit from the Iowa secretary of state and file a $1,000 bond as a guarantee that all funds donated will go directly for the purposes stated.

Such organizations must file detailed annual reports with the state secretary and he is given some general powers for carrying out provisions of the law.

Apparently, organizations incorporated under Iowa laws or those authorized to do business in Iowa do not come under this law. Also, local organizations, school and church groups that solicit funds within their county, or outside the county but within six miles of where the organization is located, do not come under the provisions of this law.

Iowa Secretary of State Melvin D. Synhorst has described the present Iowa law as "inadequate" and said he would be happy to cooperate with a legislative committee to revise the Iowa law.

According to the report prepared for Grimstead, in six other states any person who solicits funds for an organization must show that the organization is

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press
Foreign Staff

The United States is one of the world's greatest arenas for the hypothetical hassle.

After nine days of intense debate, the decision seems to be that the United States doesn't want Red China in the United Nations, which has been an outstanding fact for some time.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles finally cooled the whole thing off by asking in effect, why worry about what to do if the Reds did get in when there was no prospect they could get the votes.

In that he had the agreement of practically all observers at the UN.

Report Spread

The whole business boiled up when a report got around that Churchill had told Eisenhower the British would vote for Peiping if the question came up.

Sen. William F. Knowland of California popped up with an announcement that if the Red regime was recognized as representing China, he would resign as Republican leader of the senate to conduct a campaign for American withdrawal from the UN.

He got a lot of support from Democratic and Republican congressional colleagues.

The President said he was against membership, but objected to such advance threats. Wait and see, he and Dulles counseled, and that's just about where the matter rests.

'Rule or Ruin'

But there are lasting repercussions.

Foreigners are again saying that the United States too often pursues a policy of rule or ruin.

The U.S. has always opposed use of the security council veto in matters of admission to UN membership, but now Dulles promises to use it if necessary. Other countries ask if this means that morals, cited by Eisenhower and Dulles as the basis of objection to Red China, are whatever American policy calls for at a given time.

French, British Views

France is worried, because she had hoped admission to membership might have been a quid for the Chinese quo in an Indochina settlement. Britain thinks a Peiping agreement to act from here on out according to the principles of the UN should be enough to wipe out the aggressor label and American objections.

The U.S. has been threatening Russia with "massive retaliation" under hypothetical circumstances, has been threatening Red China about what would happen if she intervened in Indochina, has been threatening France with a rearméd independent Germany unless the European Defense Community is ratified, and the senate keeps threatening the administration.

Somehow, the hypothetical threat system doesn't seem to be returning many profits.

Troops' Sun-Stand Causes C.O.'s Relief

FT. DIX, N. J. (AP)—An officer and a first sergeant were relieved from duty Friday while the army probed reports their company of 225 soldier trainees was offered to stand at attention for about an hour in 90-degree heat June 21.

The announcement was made by Capt. Harry Lapham, post public information officer, after completion of a preliminary investigation.

It indicated "there was sufficient basis to the allegations to recommend disciplinary action against the company commander and the administrative first sergeant," Lapham said.

He identified the two men involved as Lt. Robert S. Morgan, 28, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Sgt. IC. Richard J. Witbeck of Wilmington, Ohio.

Regimental Commander Col. Earl Ringer now has the case under review and will decide a course of action in a few days.

Hershey, Dawson Gain 2d Election To Resource Post

Two Iowa City residents have been re-elected to positions on the Iowa Natural Resources council, the council announced Thursday.

H. Garland Hershey, state geologist and director of the Iowa Geological Survey, was re-named chairman of the council. Prof. Francis M. Dawson, dean of engineering, is again vice-chairman. The terms of both men expire June 30, 1955.

The council was created by the Iowa legislature to supervise the conservation and use of water in Iowa.

Corn Production Ups Despite Allotment Plan

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa's estimated corn production for 1954 was placed Friday at 581,229,999 bushels, a slight increase over last year despite the corn acreage allotment program.

But, the number of acres actually planted and thus, the extent of compliance with acreage allotments remained a matter of conjecture.

The 581,229,000 bushel production figure was an estimate given in the first corn crop report of the year by the U.S. department of agriculture and the Iowa crop and livestock reporting service. That is 84,000 bushels over the 1953 crop.

Floods Cut Acreage

The reporting service estimated that 10,448,000 acres had been planted to corn before the recent floods in northern Iowa and along the Des Moines river valley. It cut this figure down to 10,197,000 as the estimated acreage to be harvested.

In 1953 Iowa farmers planted 10,998,000 acres of corn. This year the government asked them to cut their plantings back to 9,063,929 acres in order to curtail further buildup of the country's huge corn reserves.

The department of agriculture figures released Friday indicated that only about 500,000 acres had been taken out of production under the allotment program before estimates fairly accurate. "Our survey of compliance with county acreage allotments should be completed before Aug. 1," Meyer said. "When these figures are in hand I feel certain they will show a much greater degree of compliance than the crop report estimates show."

Meyer said, however, the crop estimates on total corn production were close to the mark and added:

"It looks like we're going to have a big corn crop this year."

The government estimates as of July 1 would place the harvest at 57 bushels an acre, compared with a yield of 53 bushels in 1953. Last year's crop suffered heavily from the long drought that began in July.

This year many farmers, especially those who reduced their acreage, used fertilizer and other methods, to obtain maximum production.

Crop Gains Listed

The preliminary estimates for 1954 on other crops indicate a big gain in the output of oats and soybeans but a smaller hay production. Here are the figures:

Soybeans: Acreage planted 2,187,000, the largest of record, 5 per cent above the previous high in 1942 and 34 per cent above the 1,617,000 acres planted in 1953. The first estimate of soybean production will be as of Aug. 1. The 1954 crop was planted the earliest of record and is making excellent vegetative growth.

Oats: Production is estimated at 238,914,000 bushels compared with 154,648,000 bushels harvested in 1953 and the 10-year average of 208,234,000 bushels. Estimated acreage planted 6,126,000, compared with 5,948,000 acres harvested last year; yield per acre 39 bushels compared with 26 last year and a 10-year average of 36.

Hay and Pasture: Production estimated at 6,298,000 tons from 3,887,000 acres and 1.62 acres per ton, compared with 6,474,000 tons harvested last year.

C of C Plans New Auto Exam System

A proposal to begin a permanent system of automobile inspection in Iowa City was discussed Friday at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Norman Shaffer, Glen Eves, and Robert Stevenson were appointed by the board to meet with City Manager Peter F. Roman to consider the establishment of a system that would grant windshield stickers to all cars that pass the inspection.

On August 13, the next board meeting, the three-man committee will report the opinions of various city officials on the matter.

American Legion Organizes Auxiliary County Police Unit

Organization of an auxiliary police unit is underway in Johnson county. This unit will assist regular law enforcement agencies in any civil emergency which may arise.

Dale Vorbrich, salesman at Model dairy, is county chairman of the project and assisting him is Highway patrolman J. L. Smith.

The unit is being organized by the county's American Legion posts. It is believed to be the first organization of its kind in Iowa. Local officials hope it will be the first of a statewide organization of such groups.

The group is planning a "dry-run" operation soon — probably at Solon.

Local units are located in Solon, Oxford, Lone Tree, Swisher, and Coralville as well as Iowa City.

Auxiliary police are on 24-hour call. In case of emergency they will be notified by local telephone exchanges which have the names of organization members. Members will have arm-bands and cards identifying them.

First aid classes and educational films dealing with controlling panic in emergencies are planned for unit members. Films will cover identification procedure and measures necessary in dealing with atomic attacks.

Organization members include former military police, physicians, drivers and others whose qualifications enable them to give assistance in a disaster situation.

TRIBESMEN HANGED

Iowa City in a Book — That's '55 Directory

The 1955 city directory, featuring more photographs, will contain more information than ever before, J. D. Sorenson of the R. L. Polk Company, Omaha, Neb., said Thursday.

Sorenson, of Clear Lake, and other employees of the company will be in Iowa City for the next four months working on the new publication. It will be completed early in 1955.

"I think most people think of city directories as lists of names; actually this will be Iowa City in book form," said Sorenson.

Each new directory is started from "scratch," reported Sorenson. No information is ever obtained from the old book. Each Iowa City family will be contacted; then their information will be checked.

Four sections will be included in the new directory. The alphabetical section will contain an alphabetical list of the name and address of each Iowa City citizen over 18, his marital status, his occupation, and his place of employment. Names, addresses, and the nature of all businesses will also be a part of this section.

The second section will contain a list of streets, their locations, and a list of householders.

The preface will contain a history of Iowa City.

Campus Poll

Do you think Red China should be admitted into the UN?

CLARK MEEKER, A3, Ft. Dodge, Ia. — Yes. Red China is a nation which can not be denied for any moral reason.

Merna Spoon, N1, Ocoola, Ia. — No, I don't think so. I feel that way because they would block all the other nations' attempts for peace.

C. L. WOLD, G, Rice Lake, Wis. — No, as far as I know they are still Communist. They're not the legal government of China — nationalists are still the legal government.

Lee Spahn, G, Storm Lake, Ia. — I don't think it should be. There's too much wrangling going on. They never seem to get along with them.

ROD PEARSON, C4, Radcliff, Ia. — I'm not in favor of it. I don't see what we'd gain. It'll just mean another veto.

Molly Kerr, G, Campbellsville, Ken. — Students don't really have time to think about such things. But no, I don't think so. The U. N. is a union of democratic countries and there is nothing democratic about Red China.

Convention Plans Local Federation Of U.S. Moslems

CHICAGO (AP)—A plan to unify Moslems of America through an overall organization of individual members of the creed was modified Friday into a proposal for a federation of Islamic local groups.

The decision to provide for federation membership of local organizations was made at a third conference of the International Moslem Society of the United States and Canada.

Abdallah Igram of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, president of the society, said the society's aim is to create a union of all Islamic groups in North America with the object of spreading the Islamic religion and strengthening ties with Moslems of the old world.

Marks Appointed To Editorial Post

Arlyn C. Marks, director of personnel at SUI has been named to membership on the editorial advisory board of "College and Business," a national magazine.

Marks will join a group of 40 men and women who assist the magazine's editorial staff in formulating long-range editorial policy and advising on the timeliness, general interest and technical accuracy of articles submitted for publication.

The advisory board is composed of persons active in special phases of business management in institutions of higher learning.

Specialists Register For SUI Workshop On Cerebral Palsy

Specialists in the instruction and care of cerebral palsied children are registered from six midwestern states to attend a three-week cerebral palsy workshop beginning Monday at the SUI hospital-school for severely handicapped children.

A childhood disease, cerebral palsy has been estimated by the journal of the American Medical Association to have affected some 285,000 American children through 1952.

Dr. R. R. Rembolt, director of Iowa hospital-school, says the workshop will cover five phases of cerebral palsy work, including an understanding of the defects which accompany the condition and the methods used to determine the extent to which cerebral palsy affects the child physically and emotionally.

The procedure for establishing habilitation programs within communities will also be explained, while other sessions will be devoted to learning the effects of parents' attitudes on habilitation programs and how those attitudes may be organized for maximum benefits.

The Iowa hospital-school program for the care and education of cerebral palsied children will be discussed during the workshop. Hospital-school and other SUI staff members will serve as instructors during the course.

Ex-President Fine; Home from Hospital

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman, came home Friday from the hospital where he spent 20 days as a surgical patient.

The former President left the Research hospital in Kansas City at 5:30 a.m. He was driven here, accompanied by Mrs. Truman and Mike Westwood, an Independence policeman.

Mrs. Truman said he had breakfast at home and then went to bed. His only comment was, "It's good to be home. I'm feeling fine."

Truman underwent an emergency operation for removal of his gall bladder and appendix June 20. His hospital stay was prolonged by hypersensitivity to certain post-operative drugs.

There was no indication when Mr. Truman would resume his normal activities.

'3 Oranges' Cast Named

The cast and chorus for "The Love for Three Oranges," summer opera to be produced July 27, 28 and 29 at SUI was announced this week by Prof. Herold Stark, musical director.

A fantasy, the opera was written in the U.S. by the Russian composer Serge Prokofieff. Best-known in this country for his "Peter and the Wolf," Prokofieff wrote both musical score and libretto for the opera. The university group will be the fourth American company, college or professional, to perform the opera in its entirety. Last performance of the work, composed in 1920, was by the City Center opera company in New York city in 1949.

An ambitious work, the opera requires a cast of 18 and a set so large it will be built up onto the balconies on each side of the Macbride auditorium stage where it will be performed. The first five rows of seats on the main floor of the auditorium are being removed to make room for the orchestra.

Wade Radison, A3, Carroll, sings the role of a prince under a curse compelling him to seek three magic oranges. In the last of them he finds his prince, Niretta, played by Rosemary Jenkins, A2, Ainsworth. Other leading roles are sung by Harry Morrison Jr., G, Douds, and Malcolm Westly, G, Manly. Morrison plays the part of Leandro, the prime minister, and Westly plays Pantalon, adviser to the king.

A 38-voice chorus, divided into several small groups, will assist the cast in the production. Stage direction is by Harold Shiffler, instructor in the dramatic arts department.

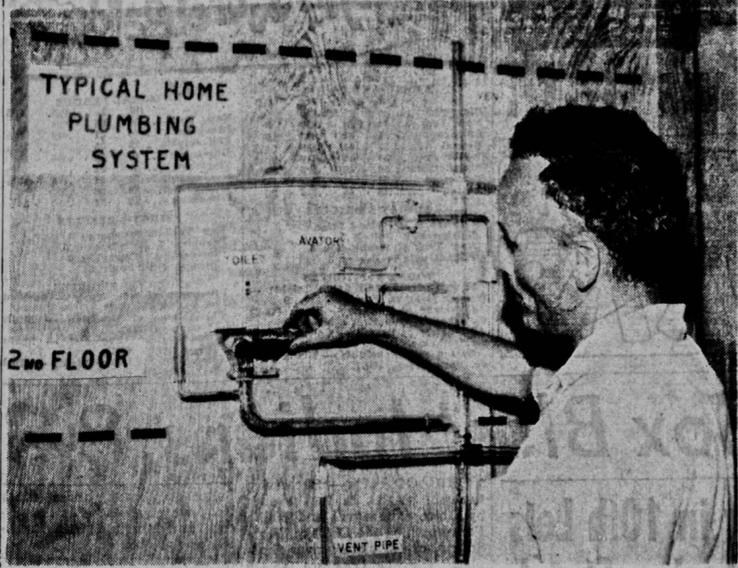

Sets for the production have been designed by Prof. Arnold S. Gillette, of the dramatic art department. Costumes are being done by a visiting staff member, Prof. Helen Lauterbach, of the University of Oklahoma.

Prof. Walter Dewey, of dramatic art, is responsible for lighting in the production. Choreographer is Caroline Morgan, Iowa City. Assistant conductors of the opera chorus are Marvin Thostenson and Stephen Hobson, both instructors in the music department.

Tickets at $1.50 and $2 will be sold July 22-29 at the Iowa Memorial Union and at the door, or may be ordered by mail before July 24 by writing to Opera, room 15, Music Building, State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

"The Love for Three Oranges" is being presented as part of the 16th annual SUI Festival of Fine Arts. Last year's summer opera was Puccini's "La Boheme."

Home Plumbing Problems Depicted on Panel

PROF. ELMER C. LUNDQUIST, of the SUI college of engineering, examines an elaborate panel which demonstrates how waste materials get into fresh water systems in the home. The panel will be included in a public information film produced by the SUI pictorial service for the National Association of Plumbing Contractors. Another panel depicts plumbing problems encountered in factories.

Wide Agreement on Issues At Policy Meeting: Whitesel

Prof. Russell G. Whitesel of the SUI political science department, who returned late last week from the annual midwest conference on U.S. foreign policy, said Friday "I was very much impressed that there was such wide agreement on what the problems were and what were the desirable courses of action."

The exact nature of the problems discussed at the conference will not be made known until the recommendations of the group are made public.

The conference on foreign policy which was sponsored by four Big Ten universities was held at Robert Allerton Park, Ill. June 27 to July 3. The schools which sponsor the yearly meeting are Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, and Illinois. The University of Illinois acted as host for this year's conference.

Whitesel stated that the outstanding thing about the conference was the agreement on the ference was the wide representation. The diverse group consisted of representatives from labor, agriculture, civic organizations and educational institutions.

The conference met in seminars and full discussion groups at round table sessions. No formal papers were read.

The purpose of the meeting was to develop fully the issues involved in each topic or problem and to determine alternative courses of action.

The group did not propose to arrive at conclusions regarding policies that the U.S. should adopt but merely to recognize the problems facing the country and discuss them from that vantage point.

According to Whitesel, there were a lot of "ifs" involved in the discussions. For instance, what would this country do if certain policies were put in force by foreign countries?

The formal recommendations of the conference when completed will probably be given to the Ford and Carnegie foundations.

Commission Plans 'Treasure Island' Playground Events

Pirates and buccaners will take over Iowa City's six playgrounds next week, in response to the playground and recreation commission's invitation to "Come to Treasure Island."

Plans for the week's feature event include short skits of mutinies and capturing ships, a dramatization of a scene from Treasure Island and dancing the "sailor's hornpipe." Contests for rope climbing, plank walking and best costumes also will be among the activities.

"Come to Treasure Island" is one of a series of weekly features being held this summer, Robert A. Lee, superintendent of recreation said.

"Daily attendance at the six playgrounds has averaged about 850 children," Lee said. He added that over 900 children have enrolled at the playgrounds. The playgrounds are: Creekside playground at Fifth and Muscatine aves., Elm Grove playground at Benton and Clinton sts., Junior high school playground at Van Buren and Jefferson sts., Kirkwood school playground at Kirkwood and Dodge sts., Longfellow school playground on Seymour ave., and Happy Hollow playground at Brown and Lucas sts.

Eleven supervisors are on hand, one at the Kirkwood playground and two at each of the others, to direct the recreation programs.

Rampaging Giants Slam 3 More Home Runs To Down Pirates, 6-3; Antonelli Wins 13th

Irvin, Westrum Antonelli Connect For NL Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—Three New York Giant home runs helped Johnny Antonelli win his 13th game Friday as the league-leader downed Pittsburgh, 6-3, for their sixth straight victory.

The Giants' victory enabled them to hold their 6½-game lead over Brooklyn, which nipped Philadelphia Friday night, 7-5. Paul LaPalme held a 2-1 lead until the Giants started slugging home runs in the sixth inning. Before LaPalme left the scene, Monte Irvin had hit his 15th with a man on, Wes Westrum had smashed his sixth, also with a man on, and Antonelli had slammed his second of the season. That was enough to bring in Johnny Hetki who escaped damage the rest of the way.

Antonelli and LaPalme were matching pitches in a scoreless battle until Al Dark homered in the fifth.

Redlegs Pound Milwaukee, 5-3

CINCINNATI (AP)—The whole Cincinnati Redleg batting order was at the plate in the first inning and produced enough runs to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 5-3 Friday night. The big blows of the frame were Jim Greengrass' homer and Gus Bell's double.

It was the first triumph over the Braves in Crosley Field since opening day.

The Reds scored four tallies in the initial frame with the aid of a pair of walks and a single off Ernie Johnson, who could only get lead-off man Chuck Harmon out.

Dave Jolly was called to the mound and after allowing a harmless single in that frame permitted the Cincinnatians no hits for six innings. He was pulled for a pinch-batter. His replacement, Lew Burdette, gave the Red run on a double by Roy McMillan and a single by Greengrass.

Wilson Replaces Haddix On NL All-Star Team

BROOKLYN (AP)—Walter Alton Friday night selected Jim "No Hit" Wilson, Milwaukee righthander, to replace Harvey Haddix, St. Louis southpaw, on the National league All-Star pitching staff.

Alton made the switch after the St. Louis club notified him that Haddix, who was hit by a line drive during a game at Milwaukee last week, would be unable to pitch.

Campy's Homer in 10th Lets Dodgers Snap Losing Streak

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers rebounded from three straight reversals at the hands of the New York Giants, defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 Friday night on Roy Campanella's home run with a mate aboard in the 10th inning.

Pee Wee Reese's Texas league double with two out and the bases full in the ninth drove in three runs and tied the score at 5-5.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to stay within 6½ games of the league-leading Giants who had beaten Pittsburgh 6-3 earlier in the day.

The Phillies, trailing 2-0 and held to two hits through seven innings by Bob Milliken, erupted for four runs in the eighth.

They moved in front 5-2 when Del Ennis cracked his 13th home run in the top of the ninth.

Steve Ridzik, who had taken over the pitching after Robin Roberts bowed out for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, had two out in the ninth but he walked Junior Gilliam to fill the bases. Then Reese hit his double. Murry Dickson, third Philly pitcher, walked Carl Furillo with one out in the 10th before Campanella's wallop.

Philadelphia Athletics belted Boston Red Sox pitching for four home runs—including two by Joe DeMaestri—for a 9-3 victory over the Red Sox Friday night.

Alex Kellner settled down after a rocky first two innings and picked up his fifth win of the year against eight losses.

Baker Leads Cubs Over Cards, 6-4

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gene Baker drove in his fourth run of the game with an 11th inning double Friday night to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals after Redbird catcher Bill Sarni sent the game into overtime with a ninth inning home run.

It was Chicago's 10th victory in 13 games with the Cardinals. Baker poked a two-run homer off starter Royce Lint in the first inning, broke a 3-3 tie with a seventh-inning single off Joe Presko and then decided the contest in the second overtime frame.

Al Brazle, who had taken over in the ninth for St. Louis, retired two men in the 11th before Bob Talbot singled and Baker followed with his fourth hit to score the base runner. Baker took third on the throw to the plate and then tallied himself on Dee Fondy's third safety, a drag bunt.

St. Louis was out, 13 to 10, with Red Schoendienst keeping alive a hitting streak that has reached 28 consecutive games as he singled and doubled.

CHICAGO (AP)—Successful two-run singles in the seventh by Chico Carrasquel and Nellie Fox propelled the Chicago White Sox to an 8-3 victory over first-place Cleveland before 43,470 Friday night, and shaved the Tribe's lead over second-place New York to three games.

The big crowd saw the third place White Sox snap a string of four straight one-run losses to Cleveland as Jim Rivera provided early fireworks with two successive home runs and Bob Keegan became the first American league hurler to win 12 games.

Keegan, beaten three times, left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and Morrie Martin finished for the Sox.

It was Rivera's second and fourth inning homers that kept the Sox in the game until a four-run seventh fueled by the timely singles by Carrasquel and Fox which erased a 3-2 Cleveland lead.

The loser was Hal Newhouser who replaced starter Art Houtteman in the seventh and walked the only two men to face him filling the bases in a prelude to the Sox four-run spree. Newhouser was followed by Bob Houser and Don Mossi.

The Sox picked up two insurance runs in the eighth on a double by Cass Michaels after Sherm Lollar singled and Rivera walked.

Nebraska 'Sweeps Clean'

Squabble Started over Glassford; Now He's Only One Left

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska in six months has virtually swept its athletic department clean so far as head coaches go, although the chap who was hit hardest when the full force of the fust broke is still holding his job.

The Nebraska department—troubled by tremors for several years—began to really shake when athletic director George (Potsy) Clark voluntarily walked out as the new year started.

Then came a squabble between football Coach Bill Glassford and his players that led to trouble between Glassford and the athletic board. Glassford had a tough contract and he held to it. The fussing and fuming got so hot that the board of regents stepped in.

Things began to change then. The regents got into the job of finding a successor to Clark and they made it plain that Glassford—the chap first in the "hot grease" could be assured the school would honor his contract.

They settled on Bill Orwig, end coach and assistant to director Fritz Crisler at Michigan university, as Clark's successor and gave him assurance he was to be a director in fact as well as name.

To make that assurance stick, the regents abolished the athletic board composed of alumni, faculty men and a letterman's club representative. The alumni organization agreed on the move.

As Orwig came in he found that while the Glassford growling had died down for the time at least there was loud grumbling about Basketball Coach Harry Good and Track Coach Ed Weir.

Now those matters have been handled by Orwig with the cooperation of both Good and Weir. Good stepped out first, and Orwig brought in Jerry Bush from Toledo university. Weir followed with a voluntary withdrawal and Orwig brought in Jerry Lee from Grand Island, Neb., high school.

Neither Good nor Weir left the school. Good moved into the physical education department. Weir, an all-time Nebraska great in football and track, became an administrative assistant to Orwig.

The regents also gave approval to an expanded athletic scholarship plan. It boosted the number of grants-in-aid from 85 to 109 and the cost from $73,000 to around $90,000 yearly with the alumni called on to raise $40,000.

Yanks Squeak By, 6-5, Now Sport 7-Game Win Streak

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Yankees rallied in the final two innings Friday night to defeat the Washington Senators, 6-5 and run their winning streak to seven straight, longest of the season for the world champions.

Rookie Dean Stone seemed to have a handy victory within his grasp when he held a 5-1 lead after seven innings, but in the eighth the Senators' defenses crumbled and the Yankees cut the margin to 5-4. Two of these runs were unearned.

In the ninth Stone tired and the Yankees pushed across the tying and winning runs.

Washington chased a former nemesis in Eddie Lopat with an 11-hit barrage in five and one-third innings. Lopat was followed by Tom Gorman, Bob Kuzava and Johnny Sain, with Kuzava getting the decision. It marked the 28th time Sain has appeared this season. The Yankees won 22, including the last 12.

Pilette, a native Detroit, spaced nine hits to record his sixth victory against 10 losses. The 30-year-old righthander featured a five-man rally in the sixth when his two-run single to left broke a 2-2 tie.
