French-Vietminh Armistice Ends Indochina War

Agreement Provides For Viet Nam Split

BULLETIN
GENEVA (Wednesday) (AP) — French and Vietminh officers, enemies for eight years of bitter warfare in Indochina, signed an armistice early today.

The agreement to halt the fighting on the jungled mountain and rice paddy battlefields of Viet Nam and Laos was signed by representatives of the two commands at 3:50 a.m., 8:50 p.m. (CST), Tuesday.

GENEVA (Wednesday) (AP) — Communist and Western negotiators agreed early today on cease-fire orders to stop the Indochina war. The conflict had lasted nearly eight years.

Two of the accords—covering the states of Viet Nam and Laos—were expected to be signed shortly at an overnight session.

The negotiators finally thrashed out an agreement on the state of Cambodia in a last-minute meeting that stretched past French Premier Pierre Mendes-France's self-imposed midnight deadline.

Rebels Blocked Agreement
French sources said the Communist-led Vietminh rebels blocked an immediate agreement on a cease-fire for Cambodia by demanding a troop assembly zone for the so-called "Khmer Cambodian government" forces. The Cambodians say these are really Vietminh troops who must be withdrawn.

To Be Signed Today
The Cambodia accord is scheduled to be initiated some time this afternoon.

The British delegation announced the conference would convene in plenary session at 3 p.m. (8 a.m., CST) to issue a declaration "taking note" of the cease-fire agreements.

The Palace of Nations here still was thronged at 2:30 a.m. with officials, civil servants and newsmen waiting for the ceremony marking the signing of the Laos and Viet Nam pacts and for the sending of actual cease-fire orders to the field commanders.

Commanders Must Sign
The agreements also must be signed by the field commanders for both sides before they can become effective.

A Vietnamese official said the cease-fire would become effective July 28 for regular units and anywhere from two or three weeks later for guerrilla forces scattered in the mountains and rice paddy villages of the three French-associated states.

Laotian and British sources, meanwhile, disclosed that chiefs of all the delegations at the nine-party conference had been invited to witness the signing.

Provides Military Partition
The settlement for Viet Nam provides a military partition of the big coastal state, which both sides tacitly agree would become a political division as well.

French sources said the accord for Laos includes a provision for two Communist troop assembly zones. The sources insist, however, the settlement will maintain the state's integrity.

A cease-fire order for Cambodia, however, was snagged on the Cambodians, who said the last minute objection raised by wording of the agreement implied an infringement on the state's sovereignty. This was expected to be ironed out either later Tuesday night or some time today.

Western sources were confident, however, that the Communists would be forced to drop this demand by a united stand.

Meanwhile, preparations were rushed at the Palace of Nations for a signature ceremony and a plenary session which would follow such a signing. Scores of typewriters and piles of documents were being carried into the palace before the curious eyes of hundreds of international civil servants and Geneva citizens who thronged the grounds.

An air of excitement hung over the palace, once home of the League of Nations. Extra police were on duty and the inner courtyard blazed with unaccustomed spotlights.

The United States, which refuses to endorse any extension of Communist-held areas, was standing aside from the budding settlement and the pro-Western Vietnamese regime was attaching reservations to it.

Deadline Comes, Goes
Mendes-France was still in session with Eden, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and the Vietminh's Pham Van Dong as the midnight hour approached. They had called in Foreign Minister Tep Phan of Cambodia for the closing stages of their discussion on the status of the Khmer rebels.

Their third session began shortly after 9:30 p.m. (2:30 CST) in Eden's villa. The ministers were to decide if there was at last an agreement on cease-fire terms and, if so, when the conference could be convened in plenary session.

Cohn Quits; McCarthy Transfers Other Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) Tuesday reluctantly accepted the resignation of Roy Cohn as chief counsel of the senate investigating subcommittee and transferred Donald A. Surine, another aide who has been under fire.

The moves came in advance of a showdown session of the subcommittee, a majority of whose members had demanded a staff "housecleaning." Surine, a former FBI agent, was one of two McCarthy subcommittee assistants who have been refused clearance by the defense department to handle secret matters. The other, Thomas Lavenia, was kept in his post, at least temporarily.

McCarthy Transfers Surine
McCarthy announced that Surine was being transferred from the post of assistant subcommittee counsel to McCarthy's senate office payroll.

This maneuvering beat to the punch members of McCarthy's subcommittee bent on a staff shakeup. The upset was that when six of the seven subcommittee members lunched together there was nothing that could be done about firing Cohn or Surine.

A decision on Lavenia was put off until a report comes in from the defense department regarding his refusal to grant him security clearance for handling secret correspondence.

Confirms Clearance Removal
McCarthy confirmed to reporters that both Surine and Lavenia have been refused such clearance. He said he has asked Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson for the reasons the two men were not cleared. He added that he plans to seek Surine's return to the subcommittee staff when a reply comes in.

However, a spokesman at the Pentagon said the defense department would not give McCarthy any reasons for denying the clearances. The spokesman said Wilson has written McCarthy a letter explaining that the defense department's stand is based on confidential information.

Aside from Cohn, Surine and Lavenia, all the other 22 men and women on the staff were confirmed in their jobs by the subcommittee, including Chief of Staff Francis P. Carr. There had been reports Carr also was on the way out.

McCarthy said all the votes were unanimous.

4-3 in Favor
As for Surine and Lavenia, several members didn't like the idea of having men on the staff who had been denied defense department clearance.

In advance of Tuesday's meeting, the subcommittee apparently was aligned 4-3 in favor of a staff shakeup, with Sen. Charles Potter (R-Mich.) on the side of the three Democrats—Senators John L. McClellan (Ark.), Stuart Symington (Mo.) and Henry Jackson (Wash.). McClellan, campaigning for renomination back home, was absent.

The 27-year-old Cohn, chief attorney for the Communist-hunting subcommittee since 1952, took note of the split in his letter of resignation to McCarthy, dated Monday. He said he was quitting because "there appears to be lack of unanimity among the members" about keeping him on the job.

Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) said of Cohn: "I don't think he was forced out. He wanted to resign."

Social Security Bill OK'd by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to bring nearly seven million more Americans under social security, at the same time increasing benefits and taxes to pay for it all, was approved by the Senate Finance committee Tuesday.

Chairman Eugene Millikin (R-Colo.) said the measure would be ready for the senate floor early next week. The house has already passed its version of the legislation.

As the bill came out of the senate committee, it was only a partial victory for President Dwight Eisenhower. It gave him almost exactly what he asked for in higher benefits and social security taxes. But it eliminated coverage for about 3½ million persons, chiefly farm operators and professional persons, whom the President wanted brought in.

The bill provides for a minimum increase in benefits of $5 a month for all five million aged now on the social security rolls and the same minimum raise for all those retiring in the future.

However, the formulas for future benefits would be revised so that the increases could amount to as much as $35 a month.

Ex-Senator Moody Dies Unexpectedly

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Former U.S. Sen. Blair Moody died at 3:55 p.m. Tuesday at the University of Michigan hospital. He was 52. The sudden death of the former Washington political writer shocked followers who believed he was recovering from an attack of virus pneumonia and would soon resume his campaign to win the Democratic senatorial nomination in the August primary.

Only a few hours before his death Moody's campaign headquarters issued a statement reporting he was recuperating from his illness.

Moody's death left Patrick V. McNamara of Detroit unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Dr. Cyrus C. Sturgis, head of the department of internal medicine at the hospital, said Moody "had extensive involvement of the lungs. He had been doing very satisfactorily. Then suddenly he suffered a reversal and died."

Moody, former Washington correspondent for the Detroit News, was appointed to the senate by Gov. G. Mennen Williams in 1951 to succeed the late Republican Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. He was defeated in 1952 in his first attempt at election by Charles W. Potter, then a Republican congressman from Michigan.

Moody was born in New Haven, Conn., Feb. 13, 1902. He graduated from Brown university where he was a nine-letter athlete and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He came to Detroit in 1923.

Chou En-lai Urges Asian Security Pact

LONDON (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China called Tuesday night for a pan-Asian security bloc "to safeguard the collective peace of Asia."

Chou said in an interview with Morgan Phillips, British Labor party secretary, recorded in Geneva, that Asian nations should consult among themselves and assume "obligations mutually and respectively."

Chou aimed plainly at the grandstand in India with references to an "area of peace," a term often used by Prime Minister Nehru. Chou advocated a five-point Asian peace plan paralleling exactly the five points in the India-China pact on Tibet signed April 29.

BBC Aims Chou's Talks
Chou's statement was aired by the British Broadcasting Corp. as the Geneva conference neared its midnight deadline for an agreement on peace in Indochina.

"I am of the opinion that the countries of Asia should consult among themselves to safeguard the collective peace of Asia by assuming obligation mutually and respectively," Chou said, adding,

"It is my firm belief, that once collective peace is established in certain areas of Asia, gradual expansion of such areas of peace will be possible, thereby leading to the consolidation of the peace and security of the whole world."

Invite British to China
The Chou statements on the Geneva conference and Asian problems followed remarks on Chinese-British relations. Phillips is a member of an official Labor party delegation from Britain which has been invited to tour Red China next month.

The section of the interview dealing with Asia follows:
Phillips: What do you expect of the Geneva conference?

Chou: The Geneva conference will soon reach agreement on the restoration of peace throughout the territory of Indochina, provided no fresh obstruction is made.

Pleads for Cooperation
All participating states of the Geneva conference should jointly assume obligations to provide collective guarantees for the peace of the three Indochinese states so as to free these states from any threat of force or outside intervention.

We welcome the Asian countries concerned to give their support to the agreements that may be reached at the Geneva conference.

'Point of No Return' University Players Present Marquand Story With Humor, Feeling for Situation

By DRAKE MABRY

job with their roles. Paul Osborn, who adapted Marquand's story for the stage, inserted numerous punch lines and situation comedy settings into the play. The players made the most of these situations, and all were properly appreciated by the audience.

"Point of No Return," John Marquand's story of man's modern economic struggle, was presented with zeal and humor by the university players Tuesday night at the University theatre.

A combination of outstanding acting and a feeling for the situation at hand, resulted in an evening of enjoyable entertainment for the audience.

George Touliatos, appearing on the SUI stage for the first time, portrayed the independent but confused Charles Gray, the man involved in the economic struggle.

Carries On Battle
Through the efforts of his wife, Nancy (Dorothy Buehler), he is alternately confused and strong as he carries on a personal battle with himself over a promotion to a vice-presidency of a New York bank.

His troubles really start when he goes to his home town on business and is plagued by old memories of an early love, a love that started him seeking a financial reward regardless of the consequences.

But it is obvious that his strong and independent mind, aptly displayed by Touliatos, will overcome his wife's and his own misconceptions about living.

High Points of Play
One of the high points of the play was the pleasing job turned in by several of the university players. Shirley Gillespie was a human, yet proper Jessica Lovell, rich girl and Gray's early love.

Fred Rhoads played an outspoken but amusing anthropologist, Malcolm Bryant, who always seemed to pop into the plot at the right time. Bill Bywater, a 15-year-old Iowa City youngster, was a natural for the role of Gray's son, Bill. Sam Smiley as Gray's boss, Tony Burton, and Paul Richer as boyhood chum Jackie Mason did an outstanding

FORMER COACH'S SON DIES
EMMETSBURG (AP)—Word has been received here of the death by drowning of Dennis Lynch, 16, son of the late Eddie Lynch, former State University of Iowa football end coach.

Young Lynch drowned in Lake Minnetonka near Minneapolis when he fell from the prow of a motor boat and his head was struck by the propeller.

House Passes Bill On Public Housing
WASHINGTON (AP)—The house Tuesday passed a compromise general housing bill after defeating a final Democratic effort to restore President Eisenhower's proposal to build 140,000 public housing units in four years.

The bill would permit a much more restricted public housing program—a maximum of 68,000 of the low-rent units over the next two years.

It would lower down payments on FHA loans and try to prevent further "windfall" profits such as disclosed in the recent housing investigation.

Census Bureau To Count U.S. Farmers
WASHINGTON (AP)—The census bureau is getting ready to ask every farmer in the United States this fall 100 questions concerning his farm. It will be the 16th time since 1840 that the census bureau has taken a census of agriculture in the U.S. The bureau has kept separate farm statistics, however, only since 1850. But the job this year will be many times as big as it was in 1850. In 1950, the census bureau counted 5,382,000 farms, more than three times as many as a century before. Acreage had increased in a century by about four times to 1,158,600,000 acres. And each farm in 1950 fed 3½ times as many people as a century before.

House OK's $22 Million To Build Airports
WASHINGTON (AP)—Under last-minute prodding from the White House, the house Tuesday tentatively approved federal spending of $22 million to help build community airports. The vote was 157 to 61, despite a warning from Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) that the money would average only $10,000 to each of the 1,910 airports qualified for aid. Allocations to states and territories after a "discretionary fund," for use on airports the commerce department considers of particular national importance, had been set aside, would include $266,776 to Iowa.

East-West Agree on Indochina

AGREEMENT TO END the eight-year war in Indochina was reached at Geneva Tuesday, with partitioning of Viet Nam along a line running about 12 miles north of highway No. 9, from Quang Tri on the coastal road to Savannakhet in Laos. The cease-fire gives north Viet Nam to Vietminh. The French will control Laos and Cambodia.

Hoover School To Feature Utility Room

A utility room two stories high in the center of the new one-story Herbert Hoover elementary school is the main feature of the modern structure slated to be dedicated by former president Hoover Aug. 10.

The utility room is equipped to be used as a combination gymnasium and auditorium. A folding stage is kept in a specific storeroom pending auditorium utilization.

A convenient window between the all-purpose room and kitchen enables the room to be used as the dining hall also. Asphalt tile with feature strips outline the floor.

Magnus Christensen, supervisor of construction on the building, estimates that the school should be completed by Aug. 1. He said another outstanding feature the school boasts is the convenience of three skylights in each classroom. The kindergarten room will accommodate two sessions.

An administration office will be supplied for the principal, Sterling Copleerud, former Iowa City junior high school teacher, school nurses, and teachers.

Folding partitions will divide the offices or can open the room as one large conference room.

A brick face on the school identifies it with other modern structures of this type. Aluminum framed windows with glass blocks above add a streamlined appearance to the building.

Christensen said the building will be heated by a steam heat system with a conversion gas boiler. Then "in case of emergency the furnace can be switched over to oil."

David Stewart, director of elementary education, praised the ample unilateral lighting and abundant playground space. He explained that the playground area "will fill present needs and also future expansion requirements which will be necessary soon if the school follows the expansion path which an edge of town map indicates."

"The Herbert Hoover school will not be on the edge of town for long," he predicts. Stewart feels the manner of construction was as economical a plan as could have been selected in addition to being completely adequate.

GLASS BLOCKS ABOVE ALUMINUM framed windows decorate the front of the Herbert Hoover elementary school, east end of Court st. The school should be completed Aug. 1 and will be dedicated by former president Herbert Hoover Aug. 10. The two-story room rising above the rest of the school in the center is the utility room which is to be used as a combination gymnasium and auditorium.

Improved City Park Offers Fun, Relaxation for All Ages

By DRAKE MABRY

A $135,000 swimming pool, six-ride amusement park, "kiddieland" play ground, additional benches, fireplaces, picnic tables, and picnic areas, all add up to the new look in the Iowa City municipal park.

This new look is no accident. It is designed to give Iowa City residents and residents of near-by communities the best park possible with a minimum budget and maximum work.

Judging from the thousands of people who visit the park during the summer months, it more than fulfills this purpose.

One of the main reasons for the park's popularity is the availability of well-balanced attractions.

A free wading pool is used by children 10 years old and under, while the older children can swim in the new pool.

Playground equipment is spread throughout the park, but larger and faster rides are desired, the amusement park can fulfill these wants.

A "Kiddieland" playground, installed this year, is entirely enclosed by fencing. This helps the parents keep a constant eye on the children without chasing them all over the park's 80 acres.

Kiddieland Is Handy

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Welte, 1003 E. Burlington, put it this way: "Our grandchildren visit us almost every year. It used to be an awful job to keep track of them, but now we can put them in the "kiddieland" and all we have to do is watch the gate to see that they don't leave."

The playground, open only to youngsters under 12 years of age, contains chair swings, hobby horse swings, teeter-totters, and a slide.

The amusement park, managed by Lyle Drollinger, is operating in the park on a full time basis for the first time this year.

Many Children's Rides
The park contains a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, miniature train, and other children's rides.

Duck and geese make their home on the two ponds in the park. "They live there the year around," said park superintendent George Turesek. "We chop a hole in the ice for them during cold weather so they'll have water all the time."

The state game commission stocks the ponds, usually every other year, with bullheads and catfish. In 1951, one Iowa City boy caught 44 bullheads in four hours during a fishing contest sponsored by the park board.

Youngsters Like Bears
Daisy and Sinner, two brown bears, are favorites with Iowa City youngsters. More than one parent has gone to the library to look up the answer to questions about the bears asked by curious offspring.

The animals live in the park all year. Only the two monkeys, Hank and Suzie, require heat in the cold weather.

Four shelter houses, 93 picnic tables, and 15 fireplaces are scattered throughout the park. The swimming pool is probably the most popular single attraction in the park. Built in 1949, the pool has had as many as 2000 swimmers in one day. In 1953, when the pool was open 90 days, the average daily attendance was 770.

Board Plans Improvements
Francis Suetpel, secretary of the three man park board, said, "We've been buying and building every year, and we still have more to do."

Suetpel explained that upon completion of the Coralville dam as a flood control measure on the Iowa river, the park board plans to develop the bottom land next to the river as a picnic area. An all weather road would provide easy access to what Suetpel called "one of our most promising areas for new picnic grounds."

Depending upon the budget, Suetpel added that they hope to add additional shelter houses and flower displays in the future.

Non-residents Use Park

Iowa City residents aren't the only people who utilize the park. One group from West Branch often brings 20 children to the park for a day.

"We have had family reunions in the park when the people weren't even from Iowa City," Suetpel said. "It seems that Iowa City is in a central location between Chicago and Omaha or Minneapolis and St. Louis. Families meet here because it is handy."

Little Michella Pitre, Baton Rouge, La., visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Welte, summed up this new look in the city park as she said, "I really like to come here. It's fun, and there is so much to do."

Senate To Vote Today On Atomic Energy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate virtually agreed Tuesday night to a showdown test today on a hotly fought provision in President Eisenhower's bill to revamp the nation's atomic energy law.

At issue was a provision in the bill sanctioning President Eisenhower's order to the atomic energy commission to contract for a private utility to supply electric power in the Tennessee valley.

Learning To Drive

College of Medicine Receives $32,343

SUI's college of medicine has been awarded a grant of $32,343 by the national fund for medical education, Prof. Norman B. Nelson, dean of the college, announced Tuesday.

"The funds will be used primarily to aid teaching assistants in the college of medicine," Nelson explained, "but the school is allowed to use the grant in any way it sees fit."

The school received $15,000 and a $25 allotment per undergraduate student. Added to these grants are the gifts of individual doctors, Nelson said.

SUI was one of eighty medical schools receiving such grants. The nation's 74 four-year medical schools and six two-year basic science schools received funds totaling $2,176,904.71.

The national fund for medical education was formed in 1949 under the leadership of President Eisenhower, then president of Columbia University; former president Herbert Hoover; Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, and other educators and business leaders.

Business corporations contribute through the fund's committee of American industry. Doctors give through the American Medical Education foundation.

From 1951 to 1954 a total of $6,941,056.71 has been granted by the fund. SUI has received $100,927, Nelson said.

Chamber of Commerce To Outline Program

Robert Sweeney, U.S. Chamber of Commerce representative, will be in Iowa City Thursday to head a program that will help to explain the importance of a Chamber of Commerce.

Sweeney will meet with the local group at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Chamber office to discuss the problems and activities of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce and to outline a program for the organization.

"The session will be basic but necessary to the organization," Chamber secretary Keith Kafer said.

2d Pharmacy Seminar To Be Held Oct. 29, 30

The second in a series of pharmacy seminars will be conducted Oct. 29 and 30 at the Iowa Center for Continuation Study.

One session will be devoted to the legal aspects of pharmacy, another to new drug products and the third session to new methods of treating diseases.

Anyone connected with and interested in the profession may enroll in the seminar, and it is expected to attract retailers, wholesalers, professional service representatives, hospital pharmacists and pharmacy clerks. Final feature of the seminar will be attendance at the Iowa-Wisconsin football game Oct. 30.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Foreign Staff
Associated Press

The decision at Geneva to partition Vietnam has many parallels with the decision at Munich which gave Czechoslovakia to Hitler.

Overwhelming in the long run was the hard fact that the free world was not in position to wage an all-out defense of Indochina without running the very grave risk of a general war, and a general war in Asia which was the last thing it was in a position to undertake.

When the Russians were found to have mobilized a powerful expeditionary force to near Japan, choices had to be made which were just as bitter as the choices given France and Britain in 1938.

There is, however, one vital difference between the Allied position then and now — that is, there is a difference if the Allies go ahead with their plans for Southeast Asia.

When Chamberlain returned to London in 1938 he spoke publicly of "peace in our time." But his "umbrella salute" was to become the symbol of retreat, and an invitation to new Hitler aggression.

In those days, Britain and France clung to the hope that Hitler would keep a bargain. No False Security

Now the Allies are dealing with an enemy which has demonstrated time after time and almost without exception that it will not keep a bargain, and there is less chance of retreat into false security.

Britain, France and the United States are reported agreed that they must now go ahead in Southeast Asia with a twin for the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

The object is to avoid, as Europe has avoided since 1948, being faced with another decision such as that regarding Indochina. So far, the Communists have not challenged real strength and determination, nor moved in the face of such an ultimatum as is represented by NATO.

The Communists are, however, establishing another festering sore similar to those of Germany, Austria and Korea. If an end to the last postwar shooting produces any complacency among the Allies, if they do not go through with SATO, then more and greater trouble will be long in coming.

Funeral Rites Set For Dr. Robinson

Funeral services will be held Thursday in Meridian for Dr. Brewster C. Robinson, 31, 318 Finkbine park, a resident physician in otolaryngology at University hospitals.

Brewster, who had lived in Iowa City the past two years, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at University hospitals following a hemorrhage.

He was born February 23, 1923. He was a member of the Methodist church and served in the army in 1951-52.

Survivors include his widow, two sons, Rodney Bruce and Terrence Bernard, and one daughter Katherine Anne.

Charges Against Novak Dropped in J.P. Court

Following a preliminary hearing in justice of the peace court Tuesday, charges of operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner against Frank Novak, Iowa City, were dropped.

Novak had been held in the county jail since June 29 accused of illegally operating a car owned by Weller service station.

At the request of Johnson county attorney William L. Meardon and the complaining witness, Justice of the Peace C. J. Hutchinson dismissed the charges.

Electricity Output Booms in Austria

By PAUL SHINKMAN

WASHINGTON — The smallest country and only government in the world that is still split between East and West will this year demonstrate that, despite this grueling handicap, it has become one of the greatest sources of power in Europe. However, its power is not measured in H-bombs, army divisions or air force wings. It is measured in kilowatt hours.

For nine years, the little country of Austria — less than one-fourth the size of Korea — has been waiting patiently for the state treaty that was promised just after the war.

This treaty, recognizing her post-war status as a "liberated" rather than a "conquered" country, was to restore her full sovereignty. After more than 250 foreign meetings of the deputy foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States on one side, and the Soviet Union on the other, Austria still remains an "occupied" country.

Country Not Discouraged
Disappointed but not discouraged, the people have turned resolutely to the economic rehabilitation of their country.

One of the very first steps was to tap the rushing streams of their beloved Alpine peaks in the western provinces of Tyrol and Vorarlberg for a gigantic increase of hydro-electric power that now is supplying not only all of their own needs but vast reserves for exports as well.

make possible the increasing of hydro-electric power production to 10 billion kw annually.

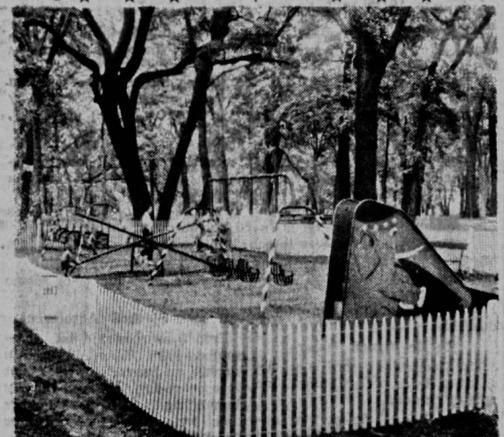

Dr. Karl Gruber, foremost of Austria's younger post-war statesmen, who recently became his country's ambassador to the U.S., puts it this way:

Soviets Want Occupation
"At the recent Berlin conference it was once more made apparent that the Soviets wish to continue occupation of Austria for reasons beyond our control, and that they do not wish to give up their forward strategic position.

"Despite the burden of occupation, we are achieving our political and economic reconstruction. We are proud of the stabilization of our economy and the stability of our coalition government.

"However, most important has been a positive program to capture the imagination of our people. And so we have turned the popular attention to a bold new project; namely, the full development of Austria's economic resources, with the aid of foreign investment and our own vast hydroelectric power potential. We are determined to make Austria the powerhouse of Western Europe."

Have a Question? Ask Reference Service

By JACK PEASE

"Please send me books analyzing The Bear and The Dill Pickle," requested a recent letter received by the SUI library reference and bibliographic service. The writer continues to explain that she wanted books on the short stories of those names, but even if the request were about bears or pickles in general, Miss Arlene Schlegel and her reference staff could locate the information.

"What are the exact dimensions of Franklin D. Roosevelt's tombstone?" "How and where did the game of softball originate?" "Is 'The Progressive' magazine on the attorney general's list of subversive publications?"

Hundreds of Questions
These are only a few of the hundreds of questions which the four reference librarians must with each month. Miss Lillie Cilley, Miss Ada Stoflet, and Mrs. Mary Lee Tsuffis encounter questions ranging from the simple spelling of words to ones such as that of a music student who wanted to know the exact birth and death dates for B. Riethe, a trumpet player in the time of Bach.

The service is available to all and requests are answered by mail and telephone when possible. Most questions are posed in person by SUI students, but inquiries have been answered for former students in all parts of the nation and Canada. "The purpose of the service is to inform persons where reference material may be found," said Miss Schlegel. "One of the biggest troubles is helping students without doing their work for them."

Hancher Uses Service
President Virgil M. Hancher is a steady client. His office requested information on the effect of climate on scholarship when Hancher was serving on the commission to select the site for the U. S. air force academy. Communication problems account for many student difficulties in locating material. Miss Schlegel recalls the worried young man who could not find assigned plays by "Henry Gibson." The librarians soon realized that he wanted the works of

'Love for 3 Oranges' Tickets To Go on Sale

Tickets go on sale Thursday for "The Love for Three Oranges," Prokofiev opera to be presented July 27, 28 and 29 at SUI. They may be bought after 9 a.m. at the Iowa Memorial Union. Saturday is the deadline for mail orders for tickets. Opera Business Manager John Whitlock says that mail orders will be filled in the order they are received.

All seats for the opera will be reserved, with prices at $1.50 and $2 for all performances, Whitlock says. Mail orders should be addressed to Opera, Music Building, SUI, he says, and stamped, self-addressed envelopes should accompany the money order or check, which may be made payable to the university.

Henrik Ibsen. An idea of the variety of questions handled can be gained from the file card for June 1, a representative day.

Big Question Range

1. A request for biographical data on two authors.
2. Phone call about spelling of words "cooperative" and "cooperation."
3. A question on the population of several Dutch towns.
4. "What is the origin of and some information to substantiate the statement, 'McCarthy is right, it's his method that's wrong?'"
5. A phone call on the spelling of "proportional."
6. A request for a list of trade name: for ice cream products.

7. "What was the origin of and the history of the growth in usage of the term, 'The Common Man?'"
8. "Where is the reference in the New Testament concerning Paul and fortune telling?"
9. "Who are the superintendents of schools in Cedar Rapids and Iowa City?"
10. "What is the Spanish translation of 'travel agency?'"

These questions were all answered. Next time you have a similar problem, these experts at scholastic "information please" will be happy to help you.

Quality vs. Speed To Be Discussed By Newsmen

Whether the modern newspaper must sacrifice quality for speed of production will be discussed at the newspaper mechanical workshop to be conducted Friday by SUI at the Lakeside laboratory on West Okoboji lake.

The workshop will take place Friday only instead of extending through Friday and Saturday as originally announced.

Under the direction of Henry Africa, head of the newspaper production laboratory at SUI, the workshop is co-sponsored by the school of journalism and extension division.

Art Schuneman of the Milford Mail will discuss the operation of the new Heidelberg press, while the costs of modernizing a newspaper plant will be the subject of an interview with George Carman of the Buffalo Center Tribune.

Other sessions will be devoted to proofreading policies, a problem-solving panel, instructional motion pictures and a talk by Africa explaining the aims, methods and subject matter of the newspaper production course he teaches at SUI. Director Leslie G. Moeller of the school of journalism will give the opening address.

The registrants will complete their day's work with a motor boat tour around West Okoboji lake and a banquet at 6 p.m.

SUI Hospitals List 13 Polio Victims

Thirteen current polio cases were listed in the University hospitals records as of Tuesday. Eight active cases and five inactive cases have been hospitalized.

A total of 36 infantile paralysis patients have been admitted to the hospital thus far this year. By July 19, 1953, 16 polio cases had been listed.

No polio fatalities have been recorded for 1954. There was one death resulting from infantile paralysis last year.

A hospital official said that the number of cases listed each day averages about the same with an almost equal number of admittances and discharges. He said that it is not until about the middle of July that an annual rise in polio cases occurs.

Giles Suspends, Fines Stanky

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eddie Stanky, fiery manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Tuesday drew a five-day suspension for his stalling tactics in a game Sunday against the Philadelphia Phils which erupted into a general free-for-all.

The Cardinals manager also was fined $100 after a special hearing in St. Louis by Warren Giles, president of the National League.

Manager Terry Moore of the Phils, who was in the midst of the fighting, came off scot free in Giles' ruling. During the hearing, it was brought out, Moore said he raced onto the field in an effort to restore peace.

Giles also upheld forfeiture to the Phils by Umpire Babe Pinelli of the riotous second game of the doubleheader here because of stalling by Stanky.

"We will not condone unreasonable delays in games," Giles said in a statement.

Blows Exchanged
Catcher Sal Yvars of the Cardinals and first baseman Earl Torgeson, the first to exchange blows Sunday in an uprising that involved Stanky and Moore as well as most of the players, also drew suspensions.

Yvars was suspended for three days and Torgeson for two.

Stanky later publicly apologized for his actions Sunday. "I know I have embarrassed and hurt St. Louis people, baseball nationally, my reputation as a baseball man . . . and owe them all a public apology," he said.

Stanky said his and friends had been telling him there was a difference between being a player and a manager.

President Giles said both

Yvars and Torgeson were guilty "but Yvars, by dropping his glove and mask, ready to fight, contributed to a delay of the game which already had been delayed too much."

All of the suspensions were effective Tuesday.

The Cardinals announced that Coach John Riddle will be in charge of the club during Stanky's suspension, which continues through Sunday.

Pitcher Ellis Deal of the Cardinals, who had been suspended temporarily with Stanky, Yvars and Torgeson pending the hearing Tuesday, escaped further action.

Stanky Downed Moore
The Sunday brawl broke out in the first half of the fifth inning of the second game. Stanky downed Moore, whom he fired as a Cardinal coach in 1952, with a tackle around the neck as players of the two clubs pummeled and wrestled each other.

Giles said a misunderstanding of league rules by the Cardinals was a factor in the forfeit of the game. The Cardinals understood the lights could not be turned on because the game had started after 6 p.m. Giles said that under a new league rule the lights could have been turned on.

Darkness was fast approaching shortly after peace was restored and Stanky was calling in a third pitcher in the fifth when Pinelli declared the 9-0 forfeit. The Cardinals were behind 8-1 and Stanky apparently was hoping darkness would force the game to be called before five innings were completed and the game counted.

Braves Give Faithful Fans 2 New Autos

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Two baseball fans were driving new cars Tuesday because the Milwaukee Braves are grateful that they bought tickets to see a game.

The Braves' front office isn't at the moment grateful, though, than the rest of the National League that fans still are beating on the gates at County stadium. The attendance here is holding up the rest of the league — as the rest of the league is well aware.

The two cars were given away after Sunday's doubleheader with Pittsburgh in an unexpected move. Announcement that lucky seat holders would receive a surprise was made frequently over the public address system during the two games but there had been no advance notice. Still 29,371 persons turned out to watch the last-place Pirates.

"That was more people than watched us play in Boston during the entire 1952 season," said Bob Rice, Pittsburgh traveling secretary.

"Our share of the gate that year in Boston was just about $5,200 — and last year alone we carried nearly 10 times that much away from here.

Brooklyn closed a five-game, four-day series here last Saturday which drew 160,131 fans and netted the Dodgers $44,036 under the new scale by which a visiting team gets 27 1/2 cents on each paid admission, an increase of 5 cents over last year.

The Braves set a league attendance record of 1,826,397 last season, their first in Milwaukee, with a team in pennant contention most of the way.

This year's club currently is battling to stay in the first division, but the first million fans came in one date earlier than a year ago.

Bosox, Indians Tie, 5-5, in Contest Halted by Curfew

BOSTON Wednesday (AP) — The Boston Red Sox dropped Cleveland into a tie for the American league lead by tying the Indians, 5-5, in a pulsating 4 hour, 26 minute, 16-inning battle called at 12:57 a.m. (EDT) Wednesday due to the league curfew law.

Left-handed reliever Don Mossi of the Indians pitched three-hit shutout ball over the last seven innings to hold the tie after Cleveland's Bobby Avila hit a two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning to deadlock the issue.

The game, which will have to be replayed, was called under a loop ruling which says no inning can begin after 12:50 a.m.

Boston got brilliant relief work from Ellis Kinder and Sid Hudson who gave up but one safety in the extra innings.

The Red Sox appeared to have won the game in the last of the eighth with a two run spurt aided by one of Al Rosen's three errors. After starter Willard Nixon singled he made second on Rosen's overthrow of Jim Piersall's roller.

Giants Down Redlegs, 2-1; Cubs Slip By Dodgers, 3-2

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs defense sagged twice in the 13th inning Tuesday and the New York Giants pushed over the run that gave them a 2-1 victory. A single, two errors and Whitey Lockman's long fly accounted for the winning tally.

Lockman's fly scored Joe Amalfitano from third. Amalfitano had gone in to run for Bobby Hofman after Hofman had singled and gone to second on Jim Greengrass' error. He moved to third when Rocky Bridges booted Johnny Antonelli's bounder.

The victory gave the Giants a seven-game lead over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost Tuesday to the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

Antonelli, pitching all the way for the Giants, racked up his 14th triumph of the season against only two defeats and he struck out 10 Redlegs in the process.

The only run he allowed was a fifth-inning homer by Ted Kluszewski.

The Giants knotted the score in the eighth.

Nats Trounce Orioles, 9-1; Sievers Homers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy Sievers blasted his 15th home run and Eddie Yost slammed a bases-loaded triple as Washington routed Joe Coleman and breezed to a 9-1 victory over Baltimore Tuesday night behind the eight-hit pitching of Johnny Schmitz.

The Senators erupted for four runs in the second inning, when Ed Fitzgerald and Johnny Pesky both singled across two runs.

CHICAGO (AP)—Pitcher Jim Hughes' fumble of a toss at first base for the third out in the 10th inning enabled Gene Baker, who doubled, to score the winning run as the Chicago Cubs defeated Brooklyn 3-2 Tuesday.

The victory gave the Cubs a 2-1 series' edge as Paul Minner, posting his eighth victory, became the third southpaw to beat the Brooks this season.

Pete Wojey, who took over in the seventh after starter Erv Palica was sidelined for a pinch batter, was the victim of Hughes' defensive blunder which cost the 31-year-old rookie his first major league loss.

There was one out in the first extra inning when Baker cashed his second double. After Dee Fondy was purposely passed, Hughes was called in from the bullpen to replace Wojey.

Randy Jackson flied out, then Manager Walter Alston switched outfielder Carl Furillo and Junior Gilliam as Ralph Kiner came to bat.

Kiner dribbled a weak grounder to Gil Hodges, who fielded the ball cleanly and tossed to Hughes, who was covering first base; Hughes, however, fumbled the toss.

Baker scored all three of the Chicago runs in the Cubs' sixth victory in their last eight games. Both teams scored a run in the first.

The Cubs went ahead 2-1 in the third, but Brooklyn fashioned a 2-2 deadlock in the eighth.

'Little Mo' Hurt in Accident; Leg Crushed as Horse Bolts

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Tennis queen Maureen Connolly was crushed against a cement truck while riding her horse here Tuesday and so seriously injured that doctors said she would be unable to defend her U. S. Women's crown at Forest Hills, N. Y., next month.

Surgery and x-rays determined that the small bone in her lower right leg was broken and that muscles and tendons of the calf were damaged by a deep gash.

This definitely ended her hope for winning the U. S. championship for the fourth straight time.

She will hardly be able to get around, doctors said, by the start of the tournament, Aug. 28.

"Little Mo," who will be 20 Sept. 17, was wheeled into surgery within an hour after reaching the hospital.

She was riding her thoroughbred Merrybon on a road near Mission Valley polo grounds when the mix-in-transit cement truck came along and her horse became frightened and reared, pinning her leg against the truck.

Miss Connolly returned home Monday after defending her European and English titles. She holds most of the world's championships.

Favorites Win In Women's Golf

WATERLOO (AP)—Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, medalist and a tournament favorite, disposed of Grace Schukel of Waterloo, 8 and 7, in first round play Tuesday in the Iowa Women's Golf tourney.

Another standout of this year's field, Lois Penn of Des Moines eliminated Calista Weidner of Waterloo, 7 and 6, in first round lower bracket play.

Mrs. Johnstone, who fired a record medal score of 74 over the Sunnyside Country club course Monday, led her opponent 6 up at the end of nine holes Tuesday. Miss Penn, runner-up for medalist honors, had a 5 up advantage over Miss Weidner at the turn.

Jean Ruffcorn of Independence defeated Jean Ganske of New Hampton, 1 up in 19, in the only match to go the distance. Miss Ruffcorn tied the match on the 17th. After halving the 18th she took a bogey 5 to Miss Ganske's 6 on the extra hole.
