House Passes Eisenhower's Tax Revision Program

Ike Says Strength, Security Aims of Legislative Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would be bitterly disappointed if congress fails to enact six major parts of his legislative program — tax, farm, anti-Communist, housing, social security and foreign aid bills.

Their purpose, Eisenhower told a news conference, is to strengthen America at home and increase her security abroad.

He said he also can see no escape from a boost in the $275 billion limit on the public debt. The increase is a necessity, he said, but plans to meet the problem aren't yet ready for announcement.

The conference swept over a wide range of current foreign and domestic issues. On the domestic side it covered:

Ike Discusses Election

Politics — The chief executive said he didn't think he should support anyone in the congressional election campaigns who doesn't believe in his principles, and he makes a bit of a check on records of those candidates who want their picture taken with him for campaign purposes. But he said different ideas about different things make democracy, and support of the administration or his own personal views needn't be 100 per cent.

Watch Tariff — Eisenhower defended the decision he made Tuesday to hike duties on some imported watches as a specialized case to help an industry and preserve skills needed for defense purposes. With one other partial exception — alkali chloride — he said he has turned down all other federal tariff commission recommendations for duty increases because we must have a freer, bigger, better flow on international trade.

Living Index Stable

Food prices — Asked whether he has evidence of a consumer later date.

revolt against them, Eisenhower said he had heard here and there about the high price of food and cost of living. But he said the cost of living index has been about as stable as could possibly be expected the last 18 months. His flexible farm price support program, now before congress, he said, should bring about a stabilization of food prices at the very least.

Atomic Power — He said he would have to avoid too specific comment, since he hadn't discussed the matter with his chief advisers, on whether he would object to letting federal agencies use atomic power to make electricity. The senate has voted to authorize such activity; the house has rejected it.

City Council OK's Franchise Period

City council members and Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company representatives, meeting informally in the council chamber Wednesday night, agreed that the length of time for which franchises, if given to the utility, should run would be 15 years.

The franchises, one for gas and another for electricity, have already had two readings before the council. Three are required. Another reading will be given at an open session at the council's next regular meeting, August 9.

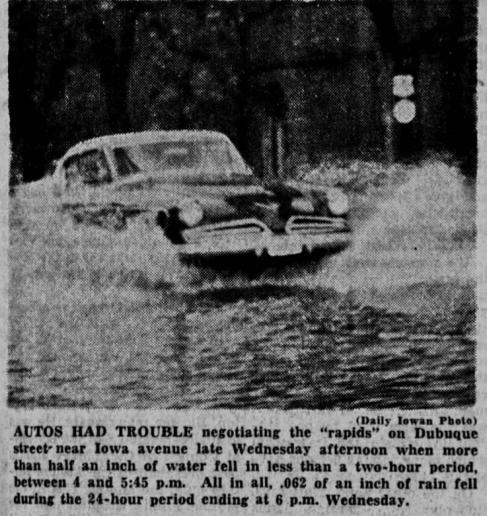

The company's present franchises expire in September.

It is expected that the council will vote upon the franchises at the August 9 open hearing. Whether the franchises will be given to the company will be decided at a public election to be held at a later date.

Mayor Leroy S. Mercer said Wednesday that the city council will face a difficult decision tonight.

The council will decide whether Iowa City will retain daylight saving time until the scheduled Sept. 19 date or drop it earlier. In case it is dropped, standard

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

Navy Diver Serious After Mysterious Collapse

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy doctors, working steadily hour after hour brought a seriously disabled young navy diver back to near normal pressure after he mysteriously collapsed inside a depression chamber Wednesday. The victim, Arthur L. Appleton, 24, machinist's mate from Carbondale, Ill., was at 100-foot pressure when he was stricken. The mishap was described as the first of its kind in the 27-year-old history of the navy deep sea diving school. Appleton's condition was described as "serious."

Flanders Calls McCarthy a 'Desperate Man'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) said Wednesday Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) is a "desperate man" who is likely to lash out at any senator who supports the censure motion Flanders proposes to raise against McCarthy in the senate Friday. The Wisconsin senator is "facing his day of judgment," Flanders said in a senate speech. "It's a showdown he would like to avoid, and he is likely to lash out in any direction with irrational attacks to divert attention from himself." The 73-year-old Vermont added that he is facing the prospect of a McCarthy counter-attack confidently. Both he and Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-Lib-N.Y.) said the senate should face up to the McCarthy issue no matter in what form it is voted on. In another speech to the senate, Lehman accused McCarthy of having "tragically abused and perverted" power given him by the senate. Both senators spoke without interruption. McCarthy is chairman of the Red-hunting senate investigations subcommittee.

President Denies Red China's Claims, Defends U.S. Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, denying that U.S. warplanes provoked the recent clash with Red China craft, declared Wednesday this country will defend its rights but won't be truculent.

His remarks at a news conference evidently had the two-fold purpose of cautioning the Peiping regime against further attacks and reassuring this country's allies, some of whom reportedly feel the U.S. has been too belligerent in the Far East.

The President said the American planes which shot it out with Chinese Red aircraft, and downed two off Red-ruled Hainan, had a right to be where they were. He added that they will be withdrawn now that their mission of searching for survivors of a British airliner destroyer earlier by Red fighters is drawing to a close.

The President also told his news conference — a leisurely question-answer affair — that he would be bitterly disappointed should Congress fail to enact six major parts of his legislative program. He listed them as the tax, farm, anti-Communist, housing, social security and foreign aid bills.

City Council To Vote On Time Issue Today

Mayor Leroy S. Mercer said Wednesday that the city council will face a difficult decision tonight.

The council will decide whether Iowa City will retain daylight saving time until the scheduled Sept. 19 date or drop it earlier. In case it is dropped, standard

Colonel Kirk Heads SUI Air Science

Col. Charles G. Kirk took over as professor and head of air science at SUI Monday. He replaces Col. George Bosch who has been transferred to a post in Germany.

Kirk arrived in Iowa City Saturday upon completing a two-year tour of duty in the office of commander in chief of forces in Alaska.

He entered the service shortly after his graduation from the University of Washington in 1931 where he received his B.A. in history.

The colonel, who was 48 Wednesday, is originally from Eugene, Ore. In addition to celebrating his birthday Wednesday, Kirk was also entering his 24th year in the air force.

During World War II he served with the eighth bomber command in Great Britain and with the second air force in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Following the war, in 1946 he became a regular officer in the air force.

At present Kirk and his wife, Evelyn, are trying to locate a place to live in Iowa City. The colonel has two sons ages 20 and 14.

Kirk said that he expects to be in Iowa City for three years which is the tour of duty at ROTC installations prescribed by the air force.

Baldwin Youth Breaks Leg in Auto Accident

Donn Blake, 16, Baldwin, was taken to Mercy hospital after suffering a broken leg, lacerations of the head, and bruises on other parts of the body about 11 p.m. Wednesday in an automobile accident.

The accident occurred, Iowa City police said, about 6 miles south of highway 6 on the Johnson county-Muscatine county line.

Egypt To Receive U.S. Aid When British Evacuate Suez

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — American military and economic aid will soon begin flowing into Egypt in quantity as a result of Britain's agreement to evacuate the Suez Canal Zone, informed sources said Wednesday.

An unwritten U.S. commitment to help build up Egypt's economy and military establishment was a big factor in persuading Egypt to accept terms agreeable to London whereby the British will pull their 83,000 troops out of the zone, the informants said.

The U.S. is expected to put chief emphasis on economic aid to this country, since problems of irrigation and industrialization have a high priority with Egypt's governing revolutionary council. Anwar El Sadat, a member of the council, said Tuesday night Egypt also expects U.S. aid to double the stretch of the Egyptian army within five years. But other informed sources discounted talk of such a buildup.

Spent $4 Million

The U.S. already has spent about $4 million on Point Four aid in Egypt and last spring earmarked $10 million more for rural improvements programs, including irrigation.

In London, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told a crowded house of commons that Britain's historic decision preserves "essential requirements" of the British in the Middle East.

Eden said the new British-Egyptian pact also signals a renewed British-American-French guarantee to all Middle Eastern states, including Israel, against aggression from any quarter.

He declared the U.S., Britain and France are determined to help guard the restless peace between the Arab countries and Israel.

There also will be a new Allied effort to build up a security system in the seething Arab world, from Asia Minor to Morocco, in which 80 million people live, Eden added.

Later Prime Minister Churchill moved to bring the Suez issue to a head today in a crucial vote of approval on the pact in commons. He thereby staked the life of his government on a formal vote, knowing that a group of 40 of his own party bitterly oppose withdrawal from the canal zone. This leaves the Conservative government's fate in the hands of the Labor opposition, which generally favors withdrawal.

Under terms of the pact, British troops will reoccupy the Suez bases of Egypt, Yemen, Iraq, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Libya or Turkey if attacked.

Foreign Aid Bill Passed by House; Totals $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill appropriating $5,208,419,979 to finance the foreign aid program through June 30, 1955, was passed by the house Wednesday on a 266-128 roll call vote.

The house approved $2,895,944,000 in new cash and $2,312,475,979 to be drawn from carry-over funds appropriated in previous years. This is $812,213,554 less than President Eisenhower requested for the current 12 months.

Now the measure goes to the senate, where it will join a bill authorizing the expenditure of $3,100,000,000 in new money for foreign aid during the current fiscal year.

Foreign aid is designed to strengthen allies of the United States against the threat of Communist aggression. Most of it goes for direct military assistance, aircraft, tanks and other weapons, but a portion is invested in building up the economies of friendly nations.

Democrats gave the greatest support to the bill on final house passage, 144 voting for it, together with 121 Republicans and 1 Independent. Opposing it were 85 Republicans and 43 Democrats.

The bill allots $712 million in new cash for defense aid in Southeast Asia, a reduction of 88 million from Eisenhower's figures.

For special economic assistance, it provides 115 million of the 130 million requested for the Near East and Africa, 60% of the 85 million asked for India, and the entire 9 million requested for American republics.

IKE PRAISES KNOWLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday praised Sen. William F. Knowland of California for his part in getting the administration's atomic legislation through congress. Defending the GOP leader against critics, the President said at a news conference he thinks Knowland gave a pretty good account of himself.

Reds Building for Attack: Rhee

(AP Wirephoto) KOREAN PRESIDENT SYNGMAN RHEE told a joint session of congress Wednesday the Soviet strategy for world conquest is to lull Americans to a "sleep of death" by talking peace until the Soviet Union has enough might to pulverize the airfields and productive centers of the U.S. in a sneak attack.

Rhee Proposes War Against Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, in a fighting speech to congress, proposed Wednesday that the U.S. navy and air force join in an attack by a two-million-man Asian army against Red China.

Silence was the main reaction to this proposal, voiced to a joint session of the senate and house.

Otherwise, the lawmakers broke into applause six times for Rhee, indomitable still in his old age.

Will Fight for Freedom

"A million and a half young Koreans ask for nothing better than to fight for the cause of human freedom, their honor and their nation."

"The government of the Republic of China also has offered you 630,000 men of its armed forces and additional reserves."

"The Communist regime on the mainland of China is a monster with feet of clay. It is hated by the masses. Red China's army numbers 2,500,000, but its loyalty is not reliable."

Wants Naval Blockade

"A blockade of the China coast by the American navy would produce chaos in China's communications."

"The American air force as well as the navy would be needed to insure the success of the counterattack against the Red Chinese regime. But, let me repeat, no American foot soldier."

"The return of the Chinese mainland to the side of the free world would automatically produce a victorious end to the wars in Korea and Indochina, and would swing the balance of power so strongly against the Soviet Union that it would not dare to risk war with the United States."

Perhaps, Rhee said, Russia would throw in its own ground and air forces. He reasoned on that score, however:

"That would be excellent for the free world, since it would justify the destruction of the Soviet centers of production by the American air force before the Soviet hydrogen bombs had been produced in quantity."

"I am aware that this is a hard doctrine. But the Communists have made this a hard world, a horrible world, in which to be soft is to become a slave."

Cabinet Shakeup Indicates Churchill Not Ready To Quit

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill replaced two of his cabinet ministers Wednesday in a government shakeup that indicated he intends to stay on as Prime Minister. A third minister offered his resignation Wednesday night but there was no indication it had been accepted.

Churchill filled two Cabinet jobs vacated by resignations and reshuffled his junior aides in an obvious ministerial patch-up effort.

Changes Announced

Alan Lennox-Boyd, 49, minister of transport and civil aviation, was moved up to cabinet rank and appointed colonial secretary. He replaces Oliver Lyttelton, who resigned Wednesday night for personal reasons.

Derek Heathcoat Amory, 54, minister of state at the Board of Trade, was named to replace Sir Thomas Dugdale as agriculture minister. This post also is of cabinet rank.

John Boy Carpenter, financial secretary to the treasury, replaces Lennox-Boyd as minister of transport, a non-cabinet job.

Shortly after these changes were made, Atty. Gen. Sir Lionel Heald said that he, too, had placed his resignation in Churchill's hands. There was no hint, however, as to what might happen in his case.

U.S. Attitude Cited

Political experts said the changes bear out Churchill's obvious intention to stay on in office — at least until September. One of the main reasons for his stand, they added, is the U.S. attitude toward Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Churchill's chosen successor.

Churchill had intended to hand over the reins to Eden after the Geneva conference. Although Eden came back to Britain in a blaze of glory, his share in the Geneva parley was not too popular in American circles.

Bill Would Cut Revenue By a Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's big tax revision program, slicing revenues about $1,363,000,000 in the fiscal year which began July 1, rolled through final house passage Wednesday 315 to 77.

Senate approval — scheduled today — is needed now to send to the White House the biggest tax overhaul in history.

The house defeated 227-169 a last-ditch Democratic move to strip from the program a disputed tax cut on dividends. A similar fight over the dividend issue is expected in the senate.

On final passage, 201 Republicans and 114 Democrats voted for the bill. Three Republicans, 73 Democrats and one Independent voted against it.

Bill Revamps Taxes

The compromise bill, running about 1,000 pages, revamps the entire national tax structure. It does not change major rates but it gives individuals and business firms scores of new or bigger tax deductions.

For individuals, the deductions would go principally to families with large medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Business firms and individuals alike would benefit from the dividend tax cut. Business firms also would be given much more rapid tax deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment, more liberal treatment of research expenses, greater freedom to set aside surpluses, more power to offset losses in bad years against profits in good years, and less stringent accounting requirements.

Tax Cuts Retroactive

Most of the tax cuts would take effect as of last Jan. 1 and would show up in returns filed next spring. The revenue reductions would mount in future years.

President Eisenhower has called the bill the cornerstone of his domestic program, declaring it would provide more and better jobs for workers and remove scores of unfair tax provisions.

The bill permits taxpayers to deduct from their income, on tax returns, the first $50 of dividends received. In addition, taxpayers could subtract 4 per cent of their remaining dividends, received after next Saturday, directly from the tax payment they otherwise would make.

Deductions Increased

Medical expenses—Tax payers could deduct above 3 per cent of their income, instead of 5 per cent as now; maximum deductions doubled up to $10,000 for a family.

Child-care expenses—Couples with less than $4,500 income, and all single heads of households, could deduct up to $600 of expenses of caring for children under 12 or other dependents while they work.

Retired persons — Could deduct up to $1,200 of retirement income; applies to all persons over 65 and to retired government workers under 65, such as school teachers or policemen.

Students Count as Dependents

Dependents — Parents could count as dependents children under 19, or older children in college, even if children make more than $600 which is forbidden now.

Soil conservation — Farmers could deduct conservation outlays up to 25 per cent of their gross income.

Chunk of Niagara Falls Collapses Into Gorge

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — A big chunk of Prospect Point, a favorite spot of honeymooners, collapsed into the yawning Niagara River gorge Wednesday.

A huge, pie-shaped bite of the American falls went with it. Thousands saw the estimated 185,000 tons of rock, dirt and rubble plunge, in a cloud of dust, into the 170-foot-deep chasm. No one was injured.

The rock fall from the lip of the gorge was 200 feet deep, officials of the Niagara Frontier State Parks Commission estimated.

Judge Trott To Meet County Law Officers

Police Court Judge Emil G. Trott has invited all magistrates handling misdemeanor cases in Johnson county to meet in the Iowa City council chamber at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss common problems informally.

Trott said such questions as hunting pheasants out of season, fishing violations, overloaded trucks and possibly other traffic violations will be taken up.

Last week Trott inaugurated a "crack-down" policy on traffic offenders in Iowa City, in line with similar measures being taken in other Iowa cities, such as Cedar Rapids. Moving vehicle violations are now subject to drivers license suspension.

Trott said he is quite certain that the new policy has resulted in fewer traffic violations in Iowa City.

He said "only one moving vehicle violation has come up in police court" in the last 10 days. Local speeding violations and violations of stop sign warnings have diminished to nearly zero, he said.

Justice of the Peace C. J. Hutchinson Wednesday agreed with Justice J. Newman Toomey's Tuesday statement that he would continue to treat traffic cases as he has in the past — on an individual basis.

Toomey said Tuesday he is not sure that automatic suspension of drivers licenses is a deterrent in all traffic cases. Both Toomey and Hutchinson have recommended suspension of drivers licenses in the past in certain cases.

Since Trott's policy became effective a week ago last Monday, three persons have obtained changes of venue to Toomey's court, on traffic charges. None of these has yet been heard before the justice of the peace.

Actually, magistrates cannot suspend drivers licenses. They can only recommend suspension to the state department of public safety, which usually follows their recommendations.

Iowa City's current policy of cracking down on traffic offenders received mixed notices from local civic groups this week.

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors announced Wednesday through President Dean Jones that they were "generally in favor" of Judge Emil G. Trott's policy of recommending drivers license suspension for traffic offenses.

Kiwanis club members Tuesday had gone on record — 25 to 16 — as being opposed to the crack down.

A Lions' club statement approved the policy in a rather general way, saying: "One of the principles of the Lions club is strict obedience to all existing laws, the interpretation and enforcement of which belongs to regularly constituted law enforcement agencies."

Six members of the chamber of commerce board said they definitely favored the new policy, while one expressed opposition to it. The other eight members were generally in favor of the crack down, although they expressed doubts as to whether the licenses of first offenders should be suspended, Jones said.

No Increase In Precincts Now: Mercer

Iowa Citizens apparently will vote Nov. 2 in their present precincts — precincts which a special committee has described as unable "to handle elections with even minimum regard for the voter's time, convenience and patience."

Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer said Wednesday he doubted whether the City council will be able to set up by Nov. 2 the new precincts recommended by the committee. The committee has asked for an increase in the number of city precincts from nine to 17 in order to relieve the voter load in each precinct. Growth in population has caused the overcrowding.

Merger said that three factors would probably prevent creation of the new precincts by the fall election:

1. Prof. Norman Meier, chairman of the committee which surveyed precinct needs, is out of town. Meier is teaching this summer at the University of British Columbia. Mercer said Wednesday the council wants to meet with Chairman Meier and his committee and use the data which the committee collected.

2. The process of drawing boundaries for precincts which are about equal in voting population and which have convenient polling places will take some time.

3. A change in number and boundaries of precincts may result in extra bookwork concerning voters' registrations.

The committee recommended that Johnson county buy voting machines to increase voting convenience and speed up tabulation, Mercer said. This proposal was rejected by voters at the June primary election.

An alternate committee recommendation, Mayor Mercer said, called for Iowa City to increase the number of precincts.

Civic Groups Show Mixed Reactions To Crack Down

Iowa City's current policy of cracking down on traffic offenders received mixed notices from local civic groups this week.

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors announced Wednesday through President Dean Jones that they were "generally in favor" of Judge Emil G. Trott's policy of recommending drivers license suspension for traffic offenses.

Kiwanis club members Tuesday had gone on record — 25 to 16 — as being opposed to the crack down.

A Lions' club statement approved the policy in a rather general way, saying: "One of the principles of the Lions club is strict obedience to all existing laws, the interpretation and enforcement of which belongs to regularly constituted law enforcement agencies."

Six members of the chamber of commerce board said they definitely favored the new policy, while one expressed opposition to it. The other eight members were generally in favor of the crack down, although they expressed doubts as to whether the licenses of first offenders should be suspended, Jones said.

30 Iowa Cancer Society Members To Meet at SUI

Approximately 30 members of the Iowa division of the American Cancer Society will participate in a television workshop at SUI Aug. 6 and 7.

Meetings will be held in the SUI television laboratories and the Iowa Center for Continuation Studies. Group discussions on television problems and techniques will be held.

Lectures by heads of various SUI departments related to television, such as journalism, audio-visual, dramatics, public relations and social problems will be presented.

Objectives of the workshop are threefold: (1) to enable the participants to gain ideas and background information for a broad comprehensive Iowa cancer education program through television, during the next few months; (2) to provide practical instruction; and (3) to find ways to supplement the educational television material produced by the national society.

Shirtsleeves OK For SUI Opera, Harper, Stark Say

Men, if you'll show up in your shirtsleeves and leave that necktie on the rack, you'll be in the height of fashion for your summer opera at SUI. And you'll be much more comfortable.

So says Director Earl E. Harper of the SUI school of fine arts. And the thought is echoed by Prof. Herald Stark, who himself directs the opera in a short-sleeved sport shirt. Macbride auditorium, where "The Love for Three Oranges" will have its third performance tonight at 8 p.m. DST, was built in the days before air-conditioning and has a reputation for being at its warmest during the university's "opera season" in late July.

The ladies, both Harper and Stark note, may always be depended upon to dress comfortably for the two-hour opera.

Reserved seat tickets are still available for tonight's performance, according to John Whitlock, business manager. They may be purchased at $1.50 and $2 each at the Iowa Memorial Union until 5 p.m. and after that at the door of Macbride auditorium.

Nelson Appointed To Cancer Post

Prof. Warren O. Nelson, of the SUI college of medicine, has been appointed to membership on the American Cancer Society's national committee on growth.

The committee makes recommendations and approves applications for grants made by the society for cancer research.

Have the recent claims concerning cigarettes and lung cancer affected your smoking habits?

Jake Schoenben, G. Iowa City, "Not in the least. If I gotta go, I might as well go now." Evie Minard, A3, Truro, "I don't smoke much, so I haven't paid any attention to the research."

Robert Timpler, G. Excelsior, Minn., "But slightly — I tried to cut down a little." Nita Olson, A3, Sac City, "No, as I never smoke that frequently."

Chi, Lu, G. Taipei, Formosa, "Oh not in the least!" Joyce Hankins, A4, Mt. Pleasant, "I have cut down on smoking somewhat, but only partly because of the recent claims concerning cigarettes and lung cancer."

Academy Alumni Hold 7th Reunion In Iowa City Park

A reading or the history of the former Iowa City academy and a special tribute to the late Prof. William H. Willis, last president of the academy, were highlights of the 7th annual reunion Sunday at City park.

R. J. Miller, 435 Oakland ave., read the history at the potluck picnic dinner. The preparatory school was organized in the early 1870's and first occupied buildings on the corner of Dubuque street and Iowa avenue. It was later moved to Clinton and Jefferson streets. In 1905 the academy was set up on Washington street and remained there until 1916 when it closed.

Willis was owner and president from 1892 to the time that it closed. He was superintendent of Iowa City schools for eight years and was a well known educator. Attorney H. H. Moiser, Waterloo, gave the talk praising Willis.

New officers of the alumni association include: Omar Yoder, president; Hayes Fry, vice-president; Mary Sunier, secretary; and Mrs. Cora R. Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. Bertha Bigsby, West Liberty, was honored as a representative of the oldest class (1892.) Moiser received a prize for coming the longest distance.

Yoder led a memorial service for those who died during the past year. Mrs. Carrie Worley led the song service.

Bert V. Bridenstine presided at the business session in the absence of President Sam Hunter. Next year's reunion will be held the fourth Sunday in June at the same place.

GENERAL NOTICES

GENERAL NOTICES should be deposited with the city editor of The Daily Iowan in the newsroom in the Communications Center. # SUI Alumnus Proposes Peace Plan

Exchanging more students among the nations of the world could be an important key to attaining world peace, concludes a research study recently completed by an Illinois industrial-graduate student at SUI.

He is Merle C. Nutt, president of the Moline Iron Works since 1941, who received his master of arts degree in education from SUI in June commencement exercises. A "lifelong interest" in education and human relations led Nutt to complete the requirements for his M.A. degree at Iowa some 30 years after earning the bachelor of science degree from Armour Institute in Chicago.

For his master's thesis Nutt surveyed 300 of the 506 students throughout the world who have studied under Rotary international fellowships. A Rotarian for more than 25 years, Nutt wanted to find out if such fellowships aided international understanding.

140 Answer Survey One hundred and forty students returned questionnaires to Nutt. All but one of these felt that their year of study in a foreign land had given them a more favorable impression of that country than they had held prior to visiting it.

Visiting the homes of "ordinary families" within the various countries was the biggest factor influencing the students in their understanding of a foreign people, Nutt's study found.

Almost without exception, the students who have studied under the Rotary international fellowships have returned to their homelands and have spread enlightenment to their fellow countrymen about the lands in which they studied. Many are teachers and tell their classes of the foreign land, while others travel to various clubs and organizations and give informative lectures about the country where they studied, Nutt's thesis reveals.

Students List Complaints The students were asked to list the important problems and criticisms which arose during their year of study abroad. Americans studying in Europe and Asia complained to Nutt that many foreigners believe everyone in the United States is a millionaire, culturally lacking and strictly materialistic. "Social barbarians" was the term used by one student to explain the impression which many foreign persons have of U.S. citizens.

On the other hand, Nutt says, students from foreign lands studying in the U.S. included among their chief complaints the American tendency to belittle foreign countries because of their size, culture or economic condition. "One foreign student said, 'Americans seem to like to throw their weight around too much.'"

One American student studying abroad had a complaint which carried an air of universality about it when he reported that his "main difficulty was getting along with the landlady."

Had Desire to Teach The 54-year-old iron works president says he "always had a desire to be a teacher." However, he entered his father's business as a graduate engineer and has been actively engaged in the Moline Iron Works for the past 31 years.

But during his years as a business executive, Nutt has always managed to find time to be active in several educational and civic programs. He has served on the board of trustees for Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, Ill., for many years. He was also vice-president of the National Council of the YMCA and is past president of the Moline Rotary club, the Moline YMCA, the Moline Public Hospital and the Moline After Dinner club board of directors.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR. Foreign Staff Associated Press

The Anglo-Egyptian agreement on Suez represents an important victory for American diplomacy.

The details of American Ambassador Jefferson Caffrey's work in Cairo may not be known for a long time. To reveal them might be embarrassing to both the British and Egyptian governments.

The very fact that the U.S. already has set the stage for an important military and economic aid program to Egypt, so that she will be in position to take up the British role of defending the famous canal, testifies to work that has been going on behind the scenes.

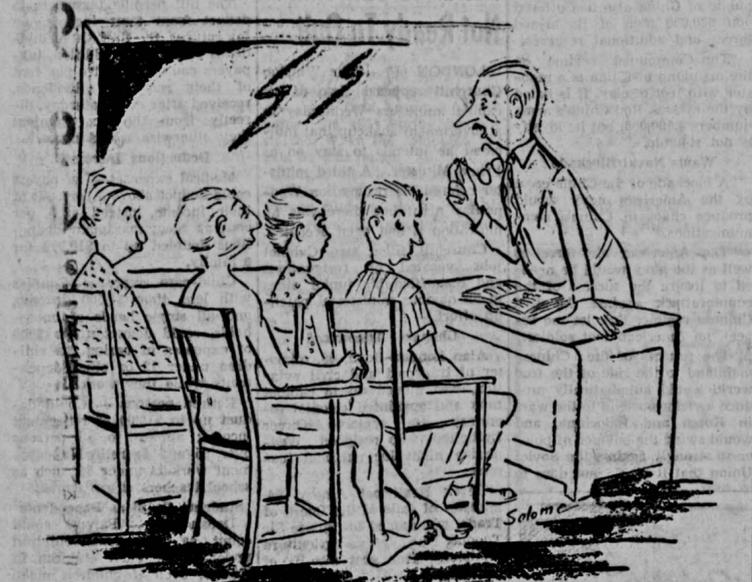

Proved of Small Use Defense of the canal, which proved of small use during the latest war and presumably would be completely closed by atomic war, is, however, of far less importance than is the adoption by Egypt of a role in a broad Middle East defense system.

One of the chief American hopes has been that an end to bitterness between Egypt and Britain would vastly improve the possibilities of such a development.

Britain, France and the U.S. are now expected to issue a new notice of intent to preserve assurance to Israel that military development of Egypt will not represent a threat.

Represented Retreat There was no question that the agreement represented a retreat for Britain, but whether, as the British feared, it represented a heavy loss of prestige in the Middle East, is debatable.

There remained a strong consideration that it might actually produce a reaction of greater confidence in British intent to reduce her colonial relationships with underdeveloped areas. It's worked that way for her in India. It's something the U.S. has told all of her colonial-power allies she would like to see done.

"Possibly you've taken my lecture on inhibitions a bit too seriously..."

Preparing Meals at Currier Proves Large Scale Operation

By TOM DUNK

On a recent Sunday morning 700 chicken legs and an equal number of thighs marched across Currier hall stoves on their way to the dormitory's dining rooms. While the chicken was being fried, 123 pounds of lima beans were cooking in a large steam kettle, 300 pounds of potatoes were mashed, several gallons of gravy were prepared and the final touches were added to over 700 salads and desserts.

Preparing a meal of these proportions requires a lot of time and "manpower." And when the process must be repeated three times daily — except Sunday, when only two meals are served — the elements of quantity production with quality control take on special importance.

173 Work on Meals
To prepare the large-scale meals, the Currier dining service employs 4 dietitians, 28 women and 7 men on a full-time basis. In addition, 80 coed waitresses and 54 male students are employed part time.

There are fewer to feed in the summer — 224 summer residents as compared with 738 during the 1954 academic year. This means less food to prepare, but it does not cut down the number of steps involved in planning a meal.

"We still have to plan our menu orders three weeks in advance," says Miss Helen A. Goodenow, manager of the dining service.

And what a menu! A typical month's order lists 21 varieties and cuts of meat, including 1,335 pounds of ground beef; 3,003 pork chops; 2,416 Swiss steaks, 30 five-pound hens for escalloped chicken, and 1,400 chicken legs and thighs.

Use 300 Pounds of Vegetables
Vegetables — fresh, frozen and canned — also are ordered in large quantities. An average dinner will take 100 pounds of prepared vegetables and about 300 pounds of potatoes. If it's breakfast, and eggs are on the menu, 60 dozen eggs must be broken and fried.

Over 2,000 half-pint bottles of whole and skim milk, about 1,000 slices of bread and at least 20 pounds of butter are consumed daily.

Most staples and meats are requisitioned through the university purchasing department, with orders generally filled by the university general stores. Other items are bought from wholesale and retail outlets in the Iowa City area.

A look at the preparation and serving of one meal will illustrate the amount of work involved in feeding a large group. For example, the menu for Sunday dinner listed: "T-bone steaks, mashed potatoes, cauliflower, sliced tomato and cucumber salad with mayonnaise, lemon chiffon cake with frosting, hot buttered rolls, jelly, coffee, milk and tea."

Begin At 5 a.m.
Since Sunday dinner was served at one o'clock, preparations began at 5 a.m. — before breakfast had been served.

Potatoes were peeled at 7 a.m., steamed at noon and mashed at 12:45 p.m. The cauliflower was taken from a freezer early in the morning to thaw, and was cooked in steam kettles shortly before serving.

The "steak fry" began at 11 a.m. and continued until shortly before dinner. Steaks were first cooked and browned on open grills and then placed in ovens to await serving.

The dining service bakery spent the morning making the lemon chiffon cakes.

Make Crushed Ice
In addition to preparing the major items on the menu, a score of minor details had to be considered. Rolls were placed in ovens to be heated before serving. Crushed ice, made in a special machine at Currier, was placed in large containers for use in water and tea.

Meanwhile, waitresses were busy setting tables in the three dining halls. The north and south dining halls each have 30 eight-place tables, and the west dining room has another 21 tables.

Employees ate at noon and were back on the job at 12:30 p.m., making final food preparations and setting up two serving lines.

As dinner time neared, waitresses filed past the serving lines, picked up salads and took them to the tables. The main course and dessert followed in order.

(Daily Iowan Photo) A LARGE STEAM KETTLE of carrots, which will be served to employees, is stirred by Currier cook Mrs. Helen Darbins. Another steam kettle will be used to cook carrots before meal time for the dormitory residents. The kitchen has three steam kettles, each with a capacity of over 25 gallons.

Within an hour another meal had been served.

Clean Up Job Necessary
"Unfortunately, the work does not end there," Miss Goodenow points out. "In fact, it's only about half done; the job of cleaning up still remains."

In an average three-meal day, 10,000 pieces of chinaware, 6,000 pieces of silverware, about 1,000 glasses and several hundred pots and pans must be washed. In addition, the dining halls, kitchen and bakery must be cleaned.

Cleaning chores are done largely by student employees, who work "board jobs" for their meals.

Dishes Sterilized
Soiled dishes and silverware are placed in two "dumb waiter" elevators, which carry them to a basement room for washing in a machine. Students put the dishes in special racks and "feed" them into the machine.

When the dishes come out the

Parents Announce Chadwick-Rogers Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chadwick of Andover, Mass., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruthanne, to Mr. William I. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Rogers of Ridgewood, N.J.

Miss Chadwick is a graduate student in physiology at SUU. She was graduated from Mount Holyoke college, South Hadley, Mass., in 1953.

Mr. Rogers was graduated from Adelphi college, Garden City, N.Y., in 1949. He received an M.S. degree from the University of Vermont, Burlington, Vt., and is a candidate for a Ph.D. degree in biochemistry at SUU.

An early fall wedding is planned. After their marriage, the couple will reside in Iowa City.

Playground Judges To Select Neptune During Swim Fest

Freckled faces will be popular at 6:30 tonight at the City park swimming pool when an Iowa City boy between 4 and 16 will be crowned "King Neptune."

The king will be determined by the most freckles per square inch on the face, Robert Lee, superintendent of recreation said Wednesday. One square inch removed from the center of a piece of cardboard will be used by three judges to isolate the freckles. A magnifying glass will be used to facilitate counting the small brown dots.

Sponsored by the playground and recreation commission, the crowning of "King Neptune" will be the feature event of the Aqua Day swim fest.

Lee estimated 150 to 200 candidates from each of the six playgrounds will be entered. The event is open only to children registered on a city playground and who do not belong to the Iowa City swimming team.

The pool will be closed to the public at 5:30 p.m., and will be open free to everyone following the swimming event, which include an old clothes relay, crawl, diving, floating, tug of war, free style race and an open relay.

Judges for the "King Neptune" contest are Bob Rosse, swimming pool manager; Holly Tracy, director of special activities for the recreation department and Lee.

By Gene Ingle—Daily Iowan Sports Editor

From Dave Condon of the Chicago Sun-Times staff comes this humorous anecdote about Bill Fenton, ex-Hawkeye grid captain and twice voted most valuable player.

It seems one autumn afternoon Evy asked Big Bill to lead the team in the Lord's prayer before the game.

Well, it wasn't because Bill didn't know the prayer, but anyway, he responded with silence.

It is reported that nervousness caused Fenton's jaws to lock. As things turned out, Evy led the prayer.

Said Evashevski later: "It probably was the only time Fenton failed in a football assignment." Evy, who is a member of the coaching staff of the College All-Stars who play the Detroit Lions in Chicago Aug. 13, then said, "Bill's a real All-Star."

Of course, Evy was right. If there is a typical 1954 All-Star, it's Fenton.

Fenton grew up a brown-eyed kid here in Iowa City, delivered newspapers and chased rabbits in the cornfield. He was a kid who sneaked into Hawkeye practice sessions; a youngster who considered Stan Musial and Nile Kinnick as important as any folks in his history book.

He was a fellow who liked a crew cut and still wears one; a young man who washed down walls and worked on a railroad section gang to help pay college expenses in medical school, and who dreamed of playing in the All-Star game.

That's Bill Fenton, who was an almost whiskerless 19-year-old captain of the Iowa eleven. And he plans to wind up his football career with a victory as an All-Star Aug. 13.

Fenton and Jerry Hilgenberg, Iowa's other representative on the 1954 All-Star squad, made the trip to Lafayette, Ind. and the Purdue stadium together.

Hilgenberg took along his wife and she was given a room at the Purdue Union. Hilky and Fenton are staying at N.W. Cary hall with the other All-Stars.

Some people just can't wait! By way of the grapevine, I heard that some Ft. Madison football fans have lined up a special train to the Rose Bowl next year. I guess there's nothing like being optimistic.

The more you look over the records, the more you think that this may be the year of broken attendance marks at Iowa football games.

For example, the record which now stands is one set back in 1949—218,021—for the complete season of five home games. That's an average of 43,604.

Iowa's five home games next fall may draw 245,000, surpassing both the total and the average season's marks!

The Notre Dame game of Nov. 20, already a sell-out, will have at least 53,000 spectators and it's expected that the opener with Michigan State and the Purdue and Wisconsin tilts will run between 50,000 and 53,000. Montana, a newcomer on the Hawkeye schedule, may draw from 35,000 to 40,000.

However, the road game record is not in peril. The mark—299,998 in five games in 1947—probably won't be broken this year because Iowa plays only four games on the road. The road record was set when the Hawkeyes played UCLA in Los Angeles coliseum and drew a crowd of 90,910. That same year, the Hawks played Ohio State in Columbus and drew 72,998 fans.

But the road game average mark, which was set in 1947—59,981—could be broken this year. This fall, Iowa plays in both the Michigan State and Ohio State stadiums and both games will probably draw from 70,000 to 80,000.

Meanwhile, business manager Buzz Graham stresses that tickets are still on sale for all of Iowa's games with the exception of the Notre Dame tilt. Tickets for the four road games may be ordered through the Iowa athletic department.

When you get your first copy of an Iowa football program this fall and look at the Hawkeye roster, you'll find four sets of brothers—one of which is twins.

And two of them play the same position. Cameron Cummins and his brother Phil both play tackle. Three-letter winner Jerry Reichow will have competition from his brother Bill at quarterback. Bill re-entered school last spring after a hitch in the army.

Jim Hatch, a senior candidate for fullback, may be able to team up with his sophomore brother, Toni, who plays halfback. Both are from Lancaster, Wis.

The twins are Jerry and Mitch Ogiego from Gary, Ind. Jerry plays end and Mitch is a quarterback. Both are soph.

Two-sport lettermen are becoming comparatively scarce in Iowa athletics. In 1953-54, there were only seven of them. They were Jim Freeman, Earl Smith and Rodger Swedberg, football and track; Ed Lindsey, football and baseball; Rich Ferguson, track and cross country, and Sharm Scheuerman and Bill Schoof, basketball and baseball.

Dave Armbruster, Iowa swimming coach, will referee the army championship swimming meet at Camp Crowder, Mo., Aug. 11-14. He also will conduct a swimming clinic there Aug. 11.

Word has just been received that Rich Ferguson, Iowa track star, is a member of the Canadian distance team in the British Empire games opening Saturday in Vancouver, B.C.

Ferguson, a champion distance runner from Toronto, ran the fastest half mile of his career in the trials earlier in the month. His time was 1:55.3—good enough for third place in the qualifying. He was also third in the mile in about 4:19. He has a best time for the mile of 4:13.4.

Ross Lucas and Lincoln Hurring, two Hawk tankers, also are competing in the British "Olympics"—but for New Zealand.

Lucas will swim the 440-yard and 1,500-meter freestyle races—events in which he has placed in the NCAA meet.

Hurring, Iowa record-holder in the backstroke as a freshman last season, will compete in the 100-yard backstroke. With Lucas and another man, he also will swim in the 300-yard medley relay. Hurring was an Olympic semi-finalist in the backstroke at Helsinki in 1952.

Hurring has three years of competition left at Iowa, Lucas and Ferguson one each.

JOHN LANDY, who recently cracked the 4-minute barrier in the mile run, trots by two girl members of the Australian team at Vancouver, B.C., as he keeps trim for the British Empire games there, which begin Saturday. Ross Lucas and Lincoln Hurring, Hawkeye swimmers, and Rich Ferguson, Iowa track star, are also competing in the games.

Mantle Hits 3-Run Homer In 9th To Give Yanks 7-5 Win Over White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—Mickey Mantle smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning, after the game had been delayed 1 hour 8 minutes by rain, giving the New York Yankees a 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday.

Mantle's blast into the center field stands, his 21st of the season, was the finishing touch to a game of strategic shenanigans by rival managers who used a total of 39 players—only three starters of a major league record.

Most of the fans in a crowd of 38,056—largest week day count in Comiskey park history—sat through the contest that was finished under the lights and lasted 4 hours 45 minutes, including two rain enforced delays.

Mantle homered off Jack Harshman, sixth of seven Sox pitchers, after Irv Noren had started the ninth with a walk and Joe Collins had singled him to third. Collins took second on the throw-in by rightfielder Jim Rivera that nearly nipped Noren at third.

In the eighth, the Sox had stifled a three-run Yankee uprising behind time relief hurling of Harry Dorish who retired the side with the tying run on second to preserve a 5-4 Chicago lead.

Rhodes' 3 Home Runs Lead Giants' 10-0 Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Dusty Rhodes smashed three home runs and Willie Mays clouted his 36th of the season as the New York Giants broke out of their six-game losing streak with a resounding 10-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday.

Johnny Antonelli pitched the shutout, his fifth of the season, spacing 10 hits for his 15th triumph against only two defeats.

Rhodes, in the lineup only because Manager Leo Durocher had decided to bench Monte Irvin, drove in four runs with his trio of homers.

The slugging outfielder's first homer came off starter and loser Tom Poholsky in the second inning. His second came in the sixth, off Alpha Brazle and came on the heels of Mays' tremendous 450-foot smash. Rhodes' third homer came in the eighth off Royce Lint.

The Giants rolled up 13 hits which also included a home run by Ray Katt. The rookie catcher climaxed a five run Giant eighth with a homer, scoring two mates ahead of him.

Meyer Wins 15th Straight Against Cubs

BROOKLYN (AP)—Russ Meyer of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched his 15th consecutive victory over his one-time teammates, the Chicago Cubs, Wednesday night, winning 3-1, but he needed help in the ninth when the Cubs put the tying runs on base.

The triumph kept the Dodgers within two games of the league-leading New York Giants.

Dave Cole and Hal Jeffcoat held Brooklyn to four hits, the last one coming in the fourth as Roy Campanella smashed a home run into the lower left field stands.

Campanella's blast matched one by Ralph Kiner in the top of the fourth that produced the only Chicago run.

Andrews Rolls On At Kalamazoo Tips For 6-4, 6-2

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Arthur Andrews, Iowa City defeated Shaw Emmond, Dayton, Ohio, 6-4, 6-2 Wednesday in third round play of the junior singles of the National Boys' tennis tournament.

Johnson Gets Unanimous Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Busy George Johnson used a stinging jab and a chopping right Wednesday night to win a unanimous decision over slugging Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., the 8 to 5 favorite, in a 10-rounder at Madison Square garden. Jones weighed 157, Johnson 154.

It was a dull bout, most of the way, with Jones waiting too long to start any effective attack. When he did, Johnson had too much for him, beating him off with a jarring jab and a right uppercut.

Tribe Wins with 5 Hits, 2-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Making the most of five hits off Boston's rookie Russ Kemmerer, Cleveland pounded the Red Sox Wednesday night for the second straight time in a 2-1 game that kept the Indians in the American league's first place by 2 1/2 games.

Righthander Early Wynn yielded 11 hits to Boston as he posted his 14th victory.

The Tribe's winning runs came in the sixth inning. Bob Avila singled to left and scored on Al Rosen's two-base clout to center field. Then Vic Wertz singled to right, scoring Rosen.

The Red Sox tallied their lone run in the fifth inning on singles by Bill Consolo, Jim Piersall and Ted Williams.

The Cleveland righthander has now allowed 25 hits in his last 18 innings pitched, but has allowed only three runs.

He held the Yankees to two runs on 14 hits in New York last Friday night.
