Iowa City School Districts Reorganized

New Boundaries Make Room for 2 New Grade Schools

By TOM TOWNSEND
New boundaries for three of seven Iowa City elementary school districts were approved Thursday night at a special school board meeting.

The board also confirmed reports that the position of athletic director in the Iowa City public schools has been abolished, and heard final plans for the Herbert Hoover school dedication Aug. 10.

To incorporate the new Mark Twain and Herbert Hoover schools into the city system, boundary lines were changed for the Longfellow, Horace Mann and Henry Sabin school districts. The Lincoln and Roosevelt school districts remain unchanged.

The following are the boundaries of the revised school districts:

LONGFELLOW school district: Beginning at the intersection of S. Dodge st. to the intersection of S. Dodge and College st. then east in the center of College to the intersection of College and Muscatine ave., then southeast in center of Muscatine to the junction of Muscatine and highway 6, then east in center of highway 6 to city limits, then south to the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific railroad, then northwest in center of railway to the point of intersection of the railroad and Summit st., then south in the center of Summit to the intersection of Summit and Kirkwood to the intersection of Kirkwood and S. Dodge.

MARK TWAIN school district: Beginning at the intersection of Kirkwood and Diana st., east in the center of Kirkwood to the intersection of Kirkwood and Summit, north in center of Summit to intersection of Summit and the railroad then extending in a southeasterly direction in the center of the railroad to a point of intersection with the city limits. The southern city limits line forms the south boundary line of this school district. The eastern boundary line extends directly south from the intersection of Kirkwood and Diana and follows an imaginary extension of Diana to the south city limits.

HERBERT HOOVER school district: Beginning at the intersection of Iowa ave. follow an imaginary line extended eastward from the center line of Woodlawn ave. to a point directly north of an imaginary extension of the center line of College court to a line which is an imaginary extension of the center line of First ave., south on First to the intersection of highway 6 and First, then west in the center of highway 6 to the junction of highway 6 and Muscatine, then in a northwesterly direction in the center of Muscatine to the junction on Muscatine and Iowa.

HORACE MANN school district: The only change is in the south boundary which is to begin at a point at which an imaginary extension of Iowa ave. crosses the Iowa river then east to Gilbert st., then south to College, then east to Muscatine, then northwest in the center of Muscatine.

Colonel Orders Wives To 'Spruce Up'

THESE ARE TWO OF THE STYLES banned from the streets of Frankfurt, Germany, by directive of detachment commander, Col. John H. Dilly. In his orders wives and daughters of U.S. army personnel are to spruce up their dress. Midriff outfits, left, were declared taboo for street wear and shorts were restricted only to authorized bathing areas. (See story page 3).

British Settle Oil Dispute With Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The bitter British-Iranian oil dispute was settled Thursday, more than three years after Mohammed Mossadegh nationalized the Iranian oil industry. Oil was expected to flow again to Western markets from this little nation bordering Soviet Russia within two to four months.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles declared "every member of the community of free nations stands to gain" from the settlement between eight big Western oil companies and the Iranian government.

Western diplomats predicted the Iranian accord — together with the recent British-Egyptian agreement on the Suez Canal zone — will pave the way for a new Middle Eastern defense network.

Agreement Reached
Representatives of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., which had lost installations built up over a century under the nationalization program, five American companies and Dutch and French firms reached a 25-year agreement with Iran for operation of the industry, which has turned out only a trickle of oil since Mossadegh took over the fields in 1951.

The AIOC, controlled by the British government, agreed to accept $70 million and a 40 percent interest in the new oil combine for its vast properties, once valued unofficially at more than a billion dollars.

Sign in Tehran
Western oilmen and Finance Minister Ali Amini signed the compensation agreement in Tehran. It provides for payments beginning Jan. 1, 1957, running 10 years without interest. The company originally demanded a half billion dollars compensation.

The announcement of the overall settlement came in a joint statement here by Amini and Howard Page of Standard Oil of New Jersey, chairman of the negotiators for the companies. The statement said the eight firms will operate the vast Abadan refinery and surrounding oil fields buying the oil output from Iran and selling the production abroad.

Iran Retains Title
Iran will retain title to the fields and the refining facilities. The statement did not cite the rate of payment to Iran, but informed sources said it was virtually the same 50-50 split that prevails elsewhere in the Middle East.

Teacup Terrier Weighs In

PEEWEE, THOUGH A BIT SURPRISED, feels not the least bit inferior despite his weighing a mere nine ounces. The seven-week-old fox terrier feels as at home in a teacup as the average dog feels in his master's favorite chair. The pup resides in his teacup in Yakima, Wash.

Nolan, Swisher, Ludwig Favor Iowa Toll Road

Two candidates for the state house of representatives from Johnson county and State Senator D. C. Nolan are all backers of the toll road proposed Wednesday by the state highway commission.

Senator Nolan pointed out Thursday that the 1953 senate passed legislation he had helped to draft authorizing a toll road commission similar to that proposed. However this bill was killed in the house.

Nolan said he feels that legislative authority for the toll road will pass without too much controversy when the next general assembly meets in January.

Ludwig Favors Plan
G. M. Ludwig of Tiffin, Republican candidate for re-election in November also was recorded as favoring the plan. However he feels that Iowa should not rush in "pell-mell", but should be ready to put in the turpentine.

Ludwig feared many farmers would be unhappy when the actual construction starts. "It might even go through my own place!" he said, "but if it does—let 'er come! I want Iowa to be ready for the toll road when it comes!"

Ludwig was the co-sponsor of one of two bills to set up a special toll road commission at the last session of the legislature.

Swisher Votes Opinion
Iowa City attorney and Democratic legislature candidate, Scott Swisher said that he was in favor of it. He said that he would back "any fair proposal" to set up and finance the toll road proposed in the commission's plan. "I feel it is the only answer."

Swisher said Iowa needs such a superhighway and probably the only way for the state to get it is to have the people using it pay for it. The biggest advantage of the road would be to relieve the heavy truck and through-passenger traffic.

Senator Nolan emphasized that approval and construction of the road will not solve Iowa's primary highway problem. It will also be necessary to expand the schedule of construction and maintenance to meet increasing traffic.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME
Another neighboring community has decided to return to central standard time with Iowa City at 3 a.m. Aug. 15. The town is Hills. The action puts Hills in line with Swisher, North Liberty and West Liberty which dropped "fast" time earlier this week.

Iowa City-Coralville Speed Limit Is Illegal

A 45 m.p.h. speed limit on highway 6 between Iowa City and Coralville, recommended at a meeting of county magistrates in Iowa City last Friday, is legally impossible, according to a letter received by Judge Emil G. Trott from the state highway commission.

The letter, signed by W. O. Price, commission traffic and safety engineer, states: "Under present law there is no legal provision for establishment of speed zones on highways outside of (municipal) corporations. The highway commission did establish a number of such speed zones when it was thought the law provided for them, but legal advice to the contrary has seemed to make it useless to do so."

Trott had communicated with the state highway commission regarding traffic recommendations made by the county magistrates at the meeting.

Trott had invited all Johnson county magistrates who handle misdemeanor cases to the conference to discuss common problems.

The officials also recommended that three overhead flashing light signals be placed on highway 6 at Loghry's restaurant, the Melody Mill and the Coral fruit market, points of particular heavy traffic.

Price indicated in his letter to Trott that the commission will approve a signal at the intersection of the Coralville road and highway 6, where Loghry's restaurant is located, if local authorities will place and operate the signal.

The letter also stated that the commission is changing over to painting no-passing lines on the center of the highway, instead of on the center of the traffic lanes. The information was given in answer to the assembled magistrates' recommendation that the commission take such action.

Red China Refuses To Accept 2d U.S. Note of Protest

LONDON (AP)—Red China has blandly shipped back an American note protesting against a death-dealing attack on a British airliner off Hainan July 23, it was officially disclosed Thursday night. For the second time, the Chinese Communists refused even to consider such a protest.

The United States had demanded compensation for three Americans killed and three injured and had called for "appropriate punishment" of those responsible. It has also denounced the attack on two American rescue planes which led to the destruction of two Chinese fighter planes three days after the airliner fell.

Peiping radio, quoting a New China news agency dispatch, said Deputy Foreign Minister Chang Han Fu Wednesday had "categorically rejected a U.S. government document designed to entangle the case of the British airliner unwarrantedly."

"It is known that the British airliner accident is being solved through diplomatic channels between the Chinese and British governments and has nothing to do with the U.S. government."

Red China apologized officially to Britain soon after the Hainan incident, which she said was an unfortunate accident. The Chinese offered to consider British claims for compensation.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said last week the Chinese were wrong to refuse the American protests. It was accepted in international law, he added, that governments have the right to claim compensation on behalf of their citizens involved in such disasters.

City Receives Check for Students' Children's Schooling

A CHECK FOR NEARLY $30,000 is presented by business manager Fred Ambrose (right) of SUI to Attorney Robert Osmondson, president of the Iowa City school board, to cover tuition payments for children attending the Iowa City public schools whose parents live in married student housing areas and other university property. According to terms of an act passed by Iowa's 55th general assembly, "The State Board of Education shall pay to the local school boards the tuition payments for the elementary or high school education of students residing on land owned by the state and under the control of the State Board of Education. Such payments shall be made from funds of the respective institutions other than state appropriations." Ambrose explained that the $29,594 payment to the Iowa City schools came from rentals collected from tenants in married student housing and other university properties.

Hopes To Have Preliminary Report Before Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Republicans and three Democratic members of the senate, extolled by party leaders as high caliber men with open minds, were drafted Thursday to sit in judgment on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The heavy chore, loaded with political dynamite, was turned over to Republican Senators Arthur V. Watkins (Utah), Frank Carlson (Kan.), and Francis Case (S. D.), and Democratic Senators Edwin C. Johnson (Colo.), John C. Stennis (Miss.), and Sam J. Ervin Jr. (N. C.).

Ike Issues Order To Keep Close Tab On Security Risks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower issued an order Thursday designed to keep closer tabs on what happens in the case of a government official or employee suspected of being a security risk.

Under the order, each department and the agency head must report to the Civil Service commission "as soon as possible" what action has been taken in those cases.

In no event may these reports be made later than 90 days "after receipt of the final investigative report on a civilian officer or employee subject to a full field investigation."

To Check Delays
A full field investigation is one which is made of an employee after preliminary investigation develops there is derogatory information filed against him.

The Civil Service commission was directed to report to the National Security council what taken by the government agencies, and to take special note of any delay "in taking timely action under this order."

The National Security council, the top government agency for coordinating measures for the security of the country, is made up of the president, vice-president, secretaries of state and defense, and heads of the Foreign Operations administration and the Office of Defense Mobilization.

McCarthy Complained
A continuing complaint of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), has been that in a number of cases federal agency heads have not acted on security risk information supplied them by the FBI after field investigations.

McCarthy brought this up at the recent McCarthy-army hearings but White House Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Thursday in response to a question, he was unable to say whether Thursday's order was prompted by his hearings.

Hagerty also said he had no information to indicate that armed services personnel were covered by the order.

New Supersonic Jet Announced by Navy

HICKSVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—A speck that whisked through the sky over Long Island during the past week was disclosed Thursday to be a new navy jet fighter capable of supersonic speeds in level flight.

The wasp-waisted craft, the Grumman F9F Tiger, is described by the Grumman Aircraft Engineering corporation as one of the few combat airplanes in the world capable of such speed on a level course.

Her builders said she is capable of supersonic speed whether at sea level or any altitudes ranging up to around 50,000 feet. The speed of sound at sea level is about 760 miles an hour.

The new craft completed her fourth successful flight Thursday from the corporation's Peconic river plant on Long Island.

The Tiger made her first flight Friday. That was four days before a British jet fighter, the English Electric P1, also capable of supersonic speed in level flight, made her maiden test hop in England.

The new American plane is the first of an undisclosed number Grumman will produce for the navy under a $40 million contract.

Grumman said it designed the Tiger to meet the navy's concept of a powerful carrier striking force equipped with fast, hard-hitting aircraft with retaliation ability to take the fight to any enemy's home ground.

Felt 'Duty' To Serve

Watkins said all the senators chosen for the task felt it was their duty to serve, but he added:

"I think I can speak positively that there were no volunteers."

Vice-President Richard M. Nixon announced the members of the committee to the senate Thursday morning, but the actual selections were made by party leaders in the senate.

Under the terms agreed upon by the senate Monday night, the committee is to make a report before congress adjourns this month.

Some senators, including McCarthy himself, believe the whole controversy should be settled before the senate adjourns. Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.), who presided at the McCarthy-army hearings, thinks however, the job will take three or four months.

1 Up For Election
Of the committee membership, only one, Ervin, will go before the voters this fall. Ervin was appointed to the senate June 5 to fill the vacancy created by the death of Sen. Slyde R. Hoey.

He is expected to be selected by the North Carolina state executive committee next week as the Democratic nominee to serve out the remaining two years of Hoey's term. In North Carolina, Democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

Johnson has announced his intention of retiring from the senate at the end of the year and is running for his old job as governor of Colorado.

The terms of Carlson and Case don't expire until 1957, and those of Watkins and Stennis until 1958.

Free From Pressure
Thus it would appear that the six senators will be free of any immediate political pressure during their deliberations.

McCarthy declined to comment on the appointments. The movement for a senate censure of McCarthy was started by Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.). Senators J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.) added specific charges to Flanders' general resolution of condemnation.

Most of the charges revolve around the Wisconsin senator's investigative tactics and his clashes with the Eisenhower administration as a result of them.

Painter Reported In Good Condition

Everett Hyde, 39, Iowa City, painter who fell 30 feet to a cement sidewalk Wednesday noon was reported in "good" condition at Mercy hospital Thursday. But he will have to remain there "several weeks," the attending physician said.

Hyde suffered two broken ankles and a fractured vertebra when he fell from the third-story cornice of the Odd Fellows hall at College and Dubuque streets. The hospital listed his address as 1221 Keokuk st.

A rope slipped from a pulley Wednesday to send Hyde crashing to the concrete in a sitting position in his boatswain's chair. The attending physician said it would be "hard to say" whether or not the boatswain's chair lessened Hyde's injuries.

A Condensation of Late Developments

Oratory Over Farm Price Supports Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—Warnings that the multi-billion dollar farm price support program may collapse came from opposing camps in the senate Thursday. Republican leader William Knowland (R-Calif.) was pressing for a showdown vote on the hot issue of flexible vs. rigid supports. But campaign year oratory by farm state senators indicated that was hours and possibly days away. No less than 20 senators sent their names to the vice-president's desk to reserve time for speeches. In the face of administration opposition, Senator Young (R-N.D.) directed a bi-partisan drive to extend present rigid supports on wheat, cotton, corn, rice and peanuts.

Kefauver Takes Big Lead in Primaries

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver took an early lead of more than 2 to 1 Thursday night in his Democratic primary bid for renomination, the first test of his vote-getting prowess since he tried for the presidency two years ago. Returns from 773 of Tennessee's 2,591 precincts gave the lanky senator 63,477 votes to 29,433 for his opponent, Rep. Pat Sutton.

3,550 Attended SUI Summer Lecture Series, Hitchcock Says

An estimated 3,550 people attended the SUI summer lecture series this summer, Director Orville Hitchcock, professor in the department of speech and dramatic art, said Wednesday.

Hitchcock said he felt that the series was very well attended. "In planning the series," he said, "we like to have a balance of speakers. This entails acquiring people who are authorities on different subject matters."

The different subject matters which he listed were the political, social, and economic; religious, ethical, and moral; and the artistic or cultural groups. He said that Norman Thomas and Herbert Philbrick fell into the first class, Toyohiko Kagawa into the second, and Helen Jepson into the third.

Helen Jepson, Metropolitan opera star, gave the first program of the series, "Backstage at the Met." Herbert Philbrick, author of "I Led Three Lives," spoke on "Techniques for Combatting Communism."

Hitchcock said that he attempted to get speakers who would be of interest to all students, and especially to teachers, of whom there are a great number in the summer.

Prof. E. T. Peterson, Dean of the college of education and director of the summer session echoed Hitchcock's views. He said that "the reaction of the summer lecture series audience as a whole was excellent."

"We had some very distinguished people who are very much in the current news," he stressed the importance of making the series current and listed that as one of the main reasons why SUI does not make any commitments for the lecture series until early in the spring.

Hitchcock said that there have been no plans made for next summer since he does not know who is available. The lecture bureaus do not release their lists for the next season until fall and early winter.

Peterson said that "in some form or another SUI has always had lectures." He estimated that the formal series had been in existence about 25 years.

The Rev. Willard Lampe, professor emeritus of the school of religion, preceded Prof. Hitchcock as director of the series. He had the position from 1936 until this year.

Noted Speakers
Some of the noted speakers who have appeared at SUI in the past years are: John Erskine, author, '37; Frank Lloyd Wright, architect, '39; Carl Sandburg, poet, '40; Fulton Lewis, Jr., radio commentator, '41; Arthur Compton, physics nobel prize winner, '36 and '46; George Denney, Jr former moderator of "America's Town Meeting of the Air," '46; Henry Wallace, former vice-president of the United States; Howard Thurman, Negro educator, '45 and '47; Norman Cousins, editor of Saturday Evening Review of Literature, '48; Karl Mundt, senator, '48; and Max Lerner, liberal leader, '50.

Looking over the list of former lecturers Hitchcock said that it did not appear that musical talent was introduced to the series until 1949 when LaMeri, an oriental dancer performed.

Week of Activities In County 4-H Fair Set for Aug. 9-14

Boys and girls in Johnson county 4-H clubs will have a full week of activities August 9 to 14 at the 29th annual Johnson county 4-H Fair.

Registration on Monday morning will be followed by junior and senior 4-H demonstrations. Tuesday will be livestock entry day with judging of the entries on Wednesday and Thursday.

Thursday night, 4-H club members will participate in a home talent show, an added attraction of this year's fair. Chuck Wocester, farm editor at radio station WMT in Cedar Rapids, will be master of ceremonies.

The fair is sponsored by members of Johnson county's agricultural association who comprise the Fair association. Joe Miltner, RFD 5, president of the association and Eldon Moss, county 4-H boys chairman, are general chairmen. Also supervising the event are H. J. Montgomery, county extension director, and John Rydel, youth assistant.

Dutch Minister To Give Sermon For Church Group

A Dutch minister who has counseled factory workers in Holland and served as a chaplain in Indonesia will preach for the first union summer service in the Presbyterian church at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The services are sponsored by the Baptist, Christian, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The cooperative worship services will be held at the Presbyterian church, 26 East Market st., through the first Sunday in September.

The Rev. Gerrit-Jan Guertsen, pastor of a Dutch Reformed church in Utrecht, Holland, will speak on the topic, "A Hopeless Case." A graduate of Holland's Leiden university, he has been in the ministry 18 years.

From 1948 to 1950 the Rev. Mr. Guertsen was an air force chaplain in Indonesia. In addition to his special work with factory employes, he has served as an assistant district commissioner for mental health in the Boy Scout movement. He is also a member of Rotary International.

The Rev. Mr. Guertsen will arrive in Iowa City today and visit the Rev. Nancy E. Forsberg, minister for students at the Congregational church. The two met last summer at a workshop in Holland associated with the World Council of Churches.

He will leave Sunday to attend the second meeting of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Ill. He has been in the United States since July 6.

Farewell to Arms

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Foreign Staff
Associated Press

Iran very nearly fell into the hands of Soviet Russia three years ago and now comes back to a place in the free world because both Britain and Russia were afraid to press their interests too far lest they start a general war.

When the extreme nationalists of Iran revolted against British control of the oil fields, Britain moved up her warships and for a time considered protection of her contract rights by force. The British government owns control of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., which had the contract.

But Britain feared Russia might invoke an old treaty giving her the right to intervene against foreign forces in Iran. The British got out.

Russia Stood Off
From that time on, Communists played an important role in the ability of former Premier Mossadeth, now in jail, to defy the British in the face of a crumbling economy.

U. S. Maneuvering Pays Off
The final settlement of the Iranian dispute is a victory for everybody. The consortium idea originated here, and Herbert Hoover Jr., representing the state department, was a prime mover in getting it going.

There are tremendous complications that are all outweighed by the saving of Iran for the free world, and the enhancement of the chances of an eventual Middle East defense arrangement.

Karston Gets Death Sentence For Killing Iowa Farmer

BLOOMFIELD (AP) — William G. Karston, 29, of Hamilton, Ill., one of the confessed slayers of a Pulaski farmer, must pay with his life by hanging for the crime.

His half-brother, Almer Anderson, 22, South St. Paul, Minn., faces life in prison for his part in the slaying.

Karston in Death Cell
Sheriff James Yates of Davis county took the prisoners to the Iowa penitentiary at Fort Madison Thursday afternoon. Karston was lodged in the death cell. Anderson was booked as a life-terminer.

The hanging of Karston will not take place until about a year from now — on Aug. 15, 1955, Judge Taylor decreed.

Take Sentences Calmly
Karston was moist-eyed but he and Anderson otherwise took the sentences calmly.

Apparently resigned to his fate, Karston, who fired the shot that killed Jones, said in a statement: "I don't have any feeling of sorrow for myself whatever — just for those people who have been hurt. If a man can't find

30 To Study Role Of TV in Cancer Education Here

Thirty state and local leaders of the Iowa division of the American Cancer society will study what television techniques can add to cancer education today and Saturday at SUI.

In addition to an analysis of TV education and program planning, the two-day workshop will stress ways to tell the cancer story besides using a speaker directly in front of the camera, Sam Becker, SUI instructor of television and speech, points out.

Television education and journalism faculty members will also analyze advantages and disadvantages of using film and slides, and the workshop participants will view a demonstration newscast both from the TV studio floor and from the control room.

18-Foot Painting of the Madonna To Be Shown at Catholic Rally

A painting of the Madonna, the height of a two-story house, will be exhibited at the Catholic Holy Name rally in the field house, Sunday, Sept. 5.

Richard J. Reddick, president of the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick's Catholic church, commissioned Miss Celentano to do the painting for St. Patrick's church. It will be officially presented in front of an expected 15,000 people the first Sunday in September.

A Holy Name rally is held each year, honoring the name of Jesus. Pope Pius XII has set this year aside as Marian year, in honor of the Mother of Christ. Therefore the Most Rev. Bishop Hayes, D. D., of the Davenport Diocese has said that the diocesan Holy Name rally, will have Mary as its theme this year.

Painting is 8 Feet
Miss Celentano is doing the 8 by 18 foot mural in oil on masonite. "The madonna's robes will be the traditional colors, blue and white," she said, "with a variety of blue greens."

The madonna will be portrayed holding a lily and bearing a crown. The child has been eliminated since the painting is to honor the Marian year.

The SUI graduate has been working on the painting for two weeks. She said that it is so big "it has to be shifted frequently." In fact when she was sketching it she stood it up against the wall and tied a brush to a long piece of molding. In this way she determined the correct proportions. Now in the later stages she stands on a stepladder and looks down on the picture to see that the "folds fall right."

Staged Alternately
The Right Rev. Monsignor Conway, pastor of the SUI Catholic student center, and Father John Morrissey of Holbrook parish are co-chairmen in charge of the annual rally.

The rally is staged alternately in the five deaneries of the diocese each year. The last rally in Iowa City was in 1949 with a record-breaking crowd of 13,000. A "living rosary" of approximately 330 youths of the Diocesan Youth organization will be another feature of this year's rally.

German Workers Riot in Protest Over Army Housing Plan
BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP) — German dockworkers fought with police Thursday during a German reviewing team's inspection of a residential area the U.S. army intends to requisition for a $7 million housing project. German officials blamed Communist agitators.

A man and a woman, described as "known Red agitators" were jailed as the ringleaders of the brawl which broke out when the team tried to visit the 25 homes that are to be razed.

Some of the 80 Germans living in the area complained and about 1,000 dock workers left their jobs to join the melee. Fists and clubs flew until police reinforcements quelled the rioters. Several persons were injured.

City officials said a Communist party leader had been seen inciting the people to riot and shouting anti-American epithets. They said most of the Germans in the area have said they were willing to move to other homes found for them.

The construction project will enable the army to turn back 741 homes to the Germans, the city said. Authorities added that plans have been made to take care of the dispossessed without hardships.

War-damaged Bremerhaven is the main German port supplying a quarter-million U.S. troops stationed throughout Germany. Most of the troops stationed here are connected with these supply operations.

LOCKS WORK OVERTIME
PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The locks on county jail cells have been sticking, Fred W. Smith told his fellow supervisors. "We got some people in jail and could not get them out." The board voted $10,000 for new locks and repairs.

SUI Student's Wife To Sing in Chicago
Mrs. Beverly Warner, mezzo-soprano, 221 Stadium Park, has entered the semi-finals of the vocal solo competition of the 25th annual Chicagoland Music festival.

The festival, sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., will be held Saturday, August 21.

The winner of the semi-finals, to be held Saturday morning, will perform at the Festival Concert in Chicago's Soldier's Field, Saturday evening. About 80,000 persons are expected to attend this event which will celebrate the festival's 25th anniversary.

Mrs. Warner's husband is Sheldon K. Warner, a graduate student in commerce at SUI. They have three children.

A graduate of Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., Mrs. Warner is from Moline, Ill. She also attended Julliard School of Music in New York city for two summers.

Wright To Speak To City Teachers
J. C. Wright, superintendent of school at Keokuk and the first state superintendent of public instruction to be chosen under new legislation, will speak to Iowa City teachers Sept. 3.

He will be the speaker at the concluding session of the annual teachers workshop to be held here Aug. 30 to Sept. 3.

Wright, who will take the state office in January, was chosen by the new board of public instruction under a 1953 law which removes the state superintendency from the political ballot.

New teachers also will attend a two-day orientation session Aug. 26-27.

Business-Education day, Sept. 2, will be another high point of the workshop week. At this time, local businessmen will be host to teachers.

2 Australian Students Praise SUI Speech Pathology Clinic, Instruction

"YOU'VE GOT TO UPEND the globe to get a good view of Tasmania, it's so far 'down under'". Elizabeth Parker, speech pathology graduate student from the island south of Australia, tells director Wendell Johnson (left) of the SUI speech clinic. Helping her reverse hemispheres to make a geographical point is Ralph F. Jones, Australian student who also traveled 10,000 miles to benefit from the university's stuttering research through taking treatment of his speech handicap. Miss Parker will be awarded a master of arts degree Wednesday at Summer Commencement exercises.

"I'm going to talk all over Australia," vows Ralph F. Jones, 29, who is studying to overcome his stuttering at SUI and is elated at the progress he has made in seven months.

A second Australian student in the SUI speech clinic headed by Wendell Johnson, internationally known speech pathologist, has a smaller goal, geographically speaking.

Elizabeth Parker, 28, looks forward to a speech therapy career in the public schools of Tasmania, the island 150 miles "down under" the continent. Attending SUI on a King George VI scholarship for outstanding British and dominion students in technical fields, she will be awarded her master of arts degree Wednesday at summer commencement exercises.

Both Jones and Miss Parker say that they chose Iowa—the one for treatment, the other for graduate study—because of their conviction that the SUI speech clinic was closest to having the last word in research to help the speech-handicapped.

"Hard To Stop Him Now"

"It's hard to stop him from talking now," Miss Parker says of her fellow Australian. When Jones came to Iowa last February he was averaging only 15 minutes of speech each day, punctuated by long stuttering blockages. Now he talks about 100 minutes per day, as compared with the 45 of the average person, she explains.

A civil engineer by vocation, Jones took treatment in Australia for six years before traveling 10,000 miles to Iowa last February to "change doctors." He had been counseled to relax and avoid embarrassment. He had never tried to speak publicly. He carried pencil and paper to tie him over his speech blocks and had others make all his telephone calls.

But the 10,000-mile journey made a big difference in the manner of treatment. "Talk as much as you can. Stutter on purpose, learn to control it, and enjoy speaking all you can," Johnson told Jones.

Education Society Initiates Members

Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary society for women in education, initiated 13 new members at a banquet Wednesday evening in the river room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, character, and professional promise.

New initiates include: Mrs. Mildred M. Brown, G. Tuskegee Institute, Alabama; Effie M. Buss, G. Charleston; Dorothy M. Hart, G. Murphysboro, Ill.; Viola E. Hartkemeyer, G. Belle Plaine; Donna J. Long, G. Rock Island, Ill.; Esther C. Luthi, G. Melbourne.

Margaret R. Morris, G. LaGrande, Ore.; Helen M. Opsahl, G. Golden Valley, N.D.; Esther C. Smith, G. Sueda City; Lois M. Stanley, G. University Park; Mrs. Faye H. Strayer, G. Garnaville; Gertrude J. Sywassink, G. Muscatine; and Helen M. Wieckhorst, G. Moline, Ill.

Midwest Polio Cases Drop Below Last Year

CHICAGO (AP).—The number of polio cases in 10 midwest states is running ahead of the five-year average but behind last year's rate, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported Thursday.

The foundation said U. S. public health service figures of Aug. 1 showed 1,576 cases, a gain of 371 over a week earlier.

The young Australian estimates that he has made some 20 public speeches in Iowa City. He has thrown away his pad and pencil and tries to make at least 10 telephone calls a day.

Training New to Australia

Comparing stuttering treatment in the two countries, Miss Parker notes that speech pathology training in Australia is only 10 years old, perhaps the continent's youngest profession.

Australia relies mostly upon English research, much of it outmoded. In contrast 150 research studies in stuttering have been produced at SUI, she says.

While Jones describes part of his treatment at Iowa as watching himself stutter in a mirror, Miss Parker observes ruefully that she was once criticized as "unprofessional" for using a mirror with a stuttering child in Australia. She was a practicing speech therapist there for two and one-half years before coming to Iowa.

Another difference between the therapies of Australia and Iowa, Miss Parker says is, that

Frankfurt Colonel Tells Army Ladies To Improve Attire

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP).—U. S. army headquarters Thursday night backed up the brave colonel who bluntly told Frankfurt's army wives and daughters to dress better in public.

European headquarters at Heidelberg issued a statement pointing out that local commanders have a duty to see that army dependents uphold the command's dignity.

Without mentioning Col. John H. Dille's edict the USAREUR—U. S. army Europe—declaration said:

"It is desired and expected that dependents and civilian employees clothe themselves appropriately at all times. It is further emphasized that standards considered appropriate in the United States are not necessarily appropriate in foreign countries."

Dille's order to the Frankfurt community specifically warned against bareback halter type sunsuits in public, blue jeans on "mature women," pin curlers unless neatly covered by scarf or other headress, and shorts on teenagers or women. He said some attire seen in the community simply was not in good taste.

Since he issued the warning last week, Dille said he "already had noted some improvement."

"Somebody just had to tip them off how they looked," the combat veteran commented.

Australian therapists insist that the stutterer should never hear himself on a tape recorder, while such self-listening is a standard practice at the SUI clinic.

The Australians try to keep the relationships of stutterers and speech therapists strictly on a client and professional basis. Over here the stutterers and students of speech pathology sit side by side in the same classes.

Australian therapists urge the stutterer to relax and wait until speech comes easily. "But it's hard to talk at a football game with that limp, relaxed feeling recommended by English and Australian speech pathologists," Miss Parker observed.

Iowa Farmers Want Corn Acreage Cut, Higher Loan Rates

DES MOINES (AP).—If Iowa farmers could vote on what should be done about corn crop controls in 1955, about half of them would favor an acreage reduction of 10 per cent or more and a loan rate of 80 per cent or more, Wallace's Farmer and Iowa Homestead said Thursday night.

The publication polled farmers after the suggestion arose in congress — but was not adopted — that farmers themselves be given the opportunity to decide the question of acreage allotments.

The magazine found that sentiment among Iowa farmers was pretty much the same as last year before controls on the 1954 crop were ordered. The major change, it said, was on increase in the number of farmers who are undecided. It added that drought probably has much to do with that.

The publication's poll said that 28 per cent of the farmers favored a 20 per cent reduction in acreage and a loan rate of 90 per cent of parity, or $2.56 a bushel. Eight per cent favored a 15 per cent cut in acreage and an 85 per cent loan rate. Sixteen per cent favored a 10 per cent drop in acreage and an 80 per cent loan rate.

Five per cent wanted smaller acreage cuts and 22 per cent favored no acreage reduction and a 70 per cent loan rate.

Position Dropped

After commenting on "rumors" concerning an athletic director, Board President Robert Osmundson reiterated that the position has been dropped. He then released the following statement:

"The individual coaches will handle the details of their particular sport themselves as they have in the past. The policies of the board will be carried out through existing administrative channels and the personnel of the physical education department working as a committee."

Seventy-six members of the Iowa City high school band will play for the Hoover school dedication, Mrs. Ruth Jordan announced. Howard Robertson will direct the band.

Board members will be hosts at the open house following the ceremony. Individual teachers will be stationed in each room of the school. Three PTA groups will operate a pop and ice cream stand north of the school.

catine to the intersection of Muscatine and Iowa, then east in the center of Woodlawn to the intersection of an imaginary extension of College ct., then north to an intersection with an imaginary extension of Jefferson st., then east to Fort ave. The other Horace Mann boundaries remain.

HENRY SABIN school district: The only change is in the eastern boundary which is to begin at the intersection of College and S. Dodge extending southward to the intersection of S. Dodge and Kirkwood, then west in the center of Kirkwood to the intersection of Kirkwood and Diana, then south in the center of Diana to the city limits. The other boundaries remain the same.

The new boundaries "provide the best obtainable enrollment balance" for 1954-55, said the report submitted by Mrs. Irvin Irwin, restricting committee chairman. Otis Walker was the other members of the committee.

Safety factors also guided the committee in its recommendations, Mrs. Irwin said. She cited the fact that only 14 children will have to cross Muscatine ave. under the new arrangement.

Additional Teacher Needed

Burford Garner, superintendent of schools, added that a different set of boundaries would require additional expense for at least one more teacher.

David K. Stewart, elementary school coordinator, directed the survey of school population on which the redistricting plan is based. He was aided by Miss Margaret Schindhelm, principal of Sabin school, and Sterling Goplerud, principal of the Hoover school.

Board members termed the redistricting move "flexible" and agreed that it should be re-examined two years from now when another pupil population study is made.

Under the new arrangement, no elementary school class will have more than 32 pupils, the report shows. Most class enrollments will run in the 20's.

Jones Enters Junior Year As All-American Candidate

(Here is No. 2 of a series of personal sketches about prominent Iowa football players.)

The sports writers of national magazines and newspapers have put the finger on Calvin Jones, Iowa junior guard, for pre-season all-American mention.

It started last April and the springboard for the early attention, of course, was the tremendous play of the 210-pound Steubenville, Ohio athlete in Iowa's 1953 games.

Jones, along with his pals Frank Gilliam, left end; and Eddie Vincent Jr., right halfback, was a regular from the first day of practice last September.

Honored As Soph
At season's end, the big-shouldered sophomore was named to the NBC-TV all-American team and won a place on the Chicago Tribune's all-player midwestern and Chicago Daily News all-midwestern teams. And he was a first team choice on the Associated Press Big Ten and all-western honor elevens.

The Big Ten conference had heard of Jones as a freshman and the word got around that here was potentially one of the finest linemen in many years. And genial but serious Cal did nothing to disappoint those who expected greatness even before the youngster had faced a collegiate opponent.

Cal Jones
'Talks It Up'

Agile for a big man, with almost cat-like quickness, Jones is equally efficient on offense and defense. A top blocker both in the line and down field, he helped to pave the way for Iowa's backs to record the 13th best rushing offense average in the nation.

Probably Cal's top show occurred against Minnesota when he led the Iowa linemen in checking all-American Paul Giel with 35 yards (13 rushing and 22 passing in 24 plays), his lowest net yardage in college. Giel later named Jones as the toughest lineman he ever met.

Publicity for football prowess is old stuff to the Hawkeye guard. He became starting end as a 175-pound freshman in high school and never has been anything but a regular. Later he was shifted to guard and in 1951 was named the outstanding prep lineman in Ohio after Steubenville, powered by Jones, Gilliam and Vincent, had won nine of ten games and scored 326 points to opponents' 29.

Prep Basketball Star
Jones, was a fine basketball player in high school, too. He played as a guard on a team which won 28 straight before losing the state title game. He sticks strictly to football at Iowa, however.

Cal loves football and relishes in contact. He has the pep of a scabback and "talks it up" constantly with a line of chatter like a baseball infielder.

He is majoring in physical education and wants to enter physical therapy work after graduation. But first he wants to prove again that some of the glowing adjectives written about him are not just empty words.

Picked For Training

Art Andrews Is 1 of 8 To Receive Instruction From Jack Kramer as Davis Cup Hopeful

Art Andrews of Iowa City has been picked to be trained by professional tennis player Jack Kramer in an effort to help the United States regain its tennis supremacy. He is one of eight youths chosen, according to the Associated Press.

The announcement of Andrews' selection was made by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Andrews is currently playing in the National Junior Chamber of Commerce tourney at Springfield, Ohio. His brother Jamie is on the Iowa tennis team.

'Train 'Em Young'
The eight boys, apparently selected under the Australian plan of "pick 'em and train 'em while they're young," range in age from 13 to 17. They will make the eastern grass court circuit swing under the tutelage of Kramer. They will live, eat and travel together during the eastern swing.

According to Col. James Bishop, president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis association, Kramer has offered his free services as a coach. Expenses of the boys are being underwritten by Holiday magazine.

Iowa tennis coach Don Klotz said he has spoken to several tennis officials who believe Andrews has all the assets of a good tennis player.

Won Many Contests

Andrews recently reached the semifinal round in the national tourney at Kalamazoo, Mich. Last June he won the Iowa high school singles championship at Grinnell. In 1953, he won the junior singles, junior doubles and men's singles titles in the Midwest open tourney at Omaha. In 1952, he won the singles and doubles titles at the national boys' indoor meet at St. Louis.

The seven other youths, chosen with Andrews for training were: Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn; Gerry Moss, Modesto, Calif.; Alben Quay, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mike Franks, Los Angeles; Mike Green, Miami Beach; Jon Douglas, Santa Monica, Calif.; and Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md.

67 by Alabaman In $25,000 Play; Favorites Falter

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (P)—An unheralded pro who took to Tam O'Shanter's course shortly after dawn and posted a five-under-par 67 Thursday captured the first-round lead in the $25,000 American Golf tournament.

Harold Williams, 34, husky, bespectacled golf course operator at Tuscaloosa, Ala., was the surprise leader by a stroke after 130 pro shooters tested Tam's par 36-36-72, 6,900-yard layout all day.

The 72-hole All-American with a $3,420 first prize is something of a tuneup for promoter George S. May's "world" meet next week with a whopping $150,000 men's prize list.

Williams, who used his wife's putter called "Miss Mary," finished one notch ahead of a quartet of 68 shooters, including four foreign stars.

Bracketed in the runnerup spot were two Australians, Peter Thomson of Melbourne and Norman Von Nida of Sydney; Belgian Flory Van Donk of Brussels; Canadian Rudy Horvath of Windsor; and Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif.

The big names faltered badly over a course on which a stiff wind played havoc the day long. U.S. Open champion Ed Furgal needed 73. Defending champion Lloyd Mangrum was three strokes back with 70. Lew Worsham, whose "miracle" wedge shot won Tam's "world" last year, came in with 72. Newly crowned PGA champion Chick Harbert straggled in with 75.

Cubs Snap Giants' Win Streak, 6-4; Cardinals Batter Inept Dodgers, 13-4

NEW YORK (P)—Home runs by Ernie Banks, Eddie Miksis and Frankie Baumholtz powered the Chicago Cubs to a 6-4 victory over New York Thursday, ending the Giants' six-game winning streak.

Banks and Miksis got their homers in successive times at bat in the eighth inning, breaking a 4-4 tie.

Banks accounted for three runs, singling home Dee Fondy and Ralph Kiner in a three-run Chicago uprising in the fourth.

Baumholtz homered as the first man at bat in the fifth.

The Cubs' reliever, Jim Davis, put down a New York rally in the eighth, forcing Willie Mays to fly out with the tying runs on base.

Pinch hitter Bill Taylor and Al Dark hit home runs for the Giants in the fifth inning, in which the Giants packaged all their runs.

Jim Hearn was losing pitcher, replaced by Marv Grissom in the eighth. The winner was Hal Jeffcoat, who went in for Warren Hacker in the sixth and who in turn was relieved in the eighth by Davis after Al Dark had singled and Hank Thompson had drawn a walk.

Chisox Win 7th Straight, 5-1; Gain on Indians

CHICAGO (P)—The Chicago White Sox won their seventh straight game Thursday, defeating the Boston Red Sox 5 to 1 and moving to within five games of league-leading Cleveland.

The White Sox made only five hits off five Boston pitchers but concentrated their fire into two productive innings.

First baseman Phil Cavarretta again was the key figure in the offense with a two-run, first-inning double off loser Tom Brewer.

Bob Keegan was credited with his 14th victory, although he needed help from Morrie Martin in the seventh when Boston scored its only run.

Brewer walked Nellie Fox and hit Minnie Minoso in the first and both scored on Cavarretta's line double.

The Chicago Sox made it 5-0 in the third after Chico Carrasquel opened the inning with a home run.

BROOKLYN (P)—Stan Musial hammered two home runs, his 29th and 30th of the season, and batted in seven runs Thursday as the St. Louis Cardinals stalled Brooklyn's bid to overtake the league leading New York Giants with a 13-4 victory.

Beaten 18 times in their last 19 games at Ebbets field, the aroused Redbirds ganged up on starter Preacher Roe and other hapless hurlers for 21 hits that totaled 38 bases.

Benefited by the Cards' big-time batting display of the year, rookie Brooks Lawrence coasted to his seventh victory in 12 decisions.

The stocky righthander doled out six hits. He was scored on only in the first and sixth innings. Duke Snider's 27th homer following a walk to Pee Wee Reese accounted for the first two Dodger runs.

Preacher Roe, who hadn't bowed to the Cards at Ebbets field in four years, took the defeat, his fourth against three wins this season. He managed to keep the Cards from scoring during the first two innings but the roof fell in an him in the third when singles by Alex Grammas, Rip Repulski and Wally Moon followed by Musial's three-run homer produced four runs.

Musial's second homer came in the fourth off Erv Palica. This also came with two mates aboard.

Time Adjustment Made for Grid Game with MSC

Kick-off time of Iowa's 1954 football opener with Michigan State here Sept. 25 has been set back to 2:30 p.m. (CST).

The change was necessary because of arrangements for the telecast of the game by the American Broadcasting company. Conflict with a scheduled major league baseball telecast forced adjustments of starting time of both the football and the baseball game, according to athletic director Paul Brechler.

Original starting time was 1:30 p.m., the same as that of other Iowa home games. There will be no change in the time of the later games with Montana, Wisconsin, Purdue and Notre Dame. Brechler explained that the shift was made Wednesday at the request of ABC officials. He pointed out that it is not possible now to alter the time as printed on the tickets.

Iowa's Ferguson Beats Bannister

By The Associated Press
Rich Ferguson, Iowa runner, ran the mile in 4:07.8 Thursday in the British Empire games at Vancouver, B. C., finishing second but beating Roger Bannister of England who appeared to be saving himself for the finals Saturday.

Winner of the event was Murray Halberg of New Zealand with a time of 4:07.4. Bannister was clocked at 4:08.4.

John Landy of Australia had the second heat in the palm of his hand but eased off at the finish and went across third. Bill Baillie of New Zealand won in 4:11.4.

Landy had said before the race he hoped he could earn one of the four qualifying berths granted in each heat without running faster than 4:08.

Yankees Whip Indians, 5-2

CLEVELAND (P)—Micky Mantle rapped two home runs Thursday as the New York Yankees beat Cleveland, 5-2, and trimmed the Indians' league lead to a scanty 1 1/2 games.

Mantle's 23d homer, in the eighth, tied him momentarily with Cleveland's Larry Doby as the top slugger in the league. Doby regained his lead by belting his 24th round trip with one man on in the eighth.

Mantle's 22d home run opened the game's scoring in the fourth. Joe Collins, Yankee first baseman, homered in the eighth.

The pitching victory went to Bob Grim, although he got help from Johnny Sain in the seventh when the Indians filled the bases with two out. Sain got Al Smith to foul out, ending that threat.

Both the other Yankee runs were scored by Irv Noren. He doubled in the seventh and scored on Phil Rizzuto's single. In the eighth, he singled, moved to second on a walk and went across the plate as Andy Carey singled.

For Grim it was the 14th victory against four losses.

Early Wynn was charged with the loss, his eighth against 15 victories.

The victory gave the Yankees a 2-1 edge in the three-game series and a 9-8 lead over the Tribe in games this season.
