Prefers Cigarettes to Freedom

SUSIE, AN OLD SMOKER who apparently hasn't heard of lung cancer, smokes her first cigarette after surrendering to Birmingham, Ala., zoo authorities. One of six monkeys who escaped from the zoo, Susie came back when she found that cigarettes don't grow on trees.

Ike To Be Asked To Run Again: GOP Committeemen

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Eisenhower is going to face almost unanimous demands from Republican party organization leaders that he run again in 1956 despite any reluctance he may display on that score.

Although none of the delegates to the workshop conference of the Republican national committee, which wound up sessions here Wednesday, professed to know anything about the President's future plans, they left no doubt they want another "I-Like-Ike" campaign two years from now.

There still are some sore spots in the Republican organization about patronage. Some Republicans are grumbling Eisenhower is too "liberal" — a complaint of Vice-President Richard L. Nixon took public notice.

McCarthy Issue Cited
A few supporters and a few critics of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) don't like the way the President has handled the party problems presented by the senator.

But the 1952 preconvention cleavage between the backers of Eisenhower and of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft appears largely to have been closed. Former Taft men are just as enthusiastic in their talk about an Eisenhower candidacy in 1956 as are the leaders who urged Eisenhower into making the 1952 race.

One of these, national committeeman Harry Darby of Kansas, said in an interview that so far as he is concerned there just isn't any other Republican candidate on the horizon for the next presidential race.

Ike Hasn't Said

Eisenhower hasn't said publicly whether he has made up his mind but recently he handed his White House chief of staff, Sherman Adams, a backhanded rebuff by saying neither Adams nor anybody else had any sound basis for speculation on the matter.

National committeemen Mason Owlett of Pennsylvania and Ralph Gates of Indiana, one-time members of the Taft wing, said in separate interviews they believe the party is going to demand Eisenhower seek reelection.

From McCarthy's home state, John H. House, executive director of the Wisconsin Republican organization, said he thinks Eisenhower "must run again in 1956."

Peking Won't Stay Second to Soviets: Bevan

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — British Labor party leader Aneurin Bevan said Thursday in a signed article that Communist China "will not be content to play second fiddle to the Soviet Union. We can rest assured there will be no public disagreement between them — at least not for some time to come," he said. "But there can be no doubt that the new China will exert her influence in private as an equal partner." Bevan said this was his major conclusion after his visit through Soviet Russia and China and long talks with the highest Communist leaders in both countries.

At Least 82 Killed in Philippine Rail Crash

MANILA (Friday) (AP) — At least 82 persons were killed Thursday when a logging train went out of control on a downgrade, the Philippine News Service reported today. The agency said rescue crews still were dragging bodies out from underneath huge logs that crushed and mangled them. Men, women and children were smashed by the huge logs, or sent tumbling 100 feet over a bridge into a rocky gorge below. They were passengers on empty flatcars, riding ahead of the train's freight.

Japanese H-Bomb Victim Remains Unconscious

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — Doctors said today the Japanese fisherman caught in a radiation shower near Bikini last March remained unconscious and in dangerous condition here. Akiichi Kuboyama, one of 23 fishermen aboard the Japanese boat Lucky Dragon at the time of a U.S. hydrogen explosion, is suffering from jaundice which doctors said was brought on by radiation. His case has brought renewed criticism of the United States by Japanese newspapers and some government officials.

Mao To Attlee: 'Sway U.S. Policy'

'Stress Constitution,' Gillette Tells Teachers

Sen. Guy M. Gillette Thursday afternoon criticized the "lack of fundamental knowledge" of the U.S. constitution, and urged teachers to emphasize the importance of this country's "basic organic law."

Addressing the midwest regional Workshop in Practical Politics at SUI, the Iowa Democrat told political science instructors that, although the constitution has been labeled a "straightjacket" by some people, it is actually very elastic.

But, he warned the group, "it is one thing to apply a basic principle through a new set of conditions, and another thing to abandon the principle itself."

Gillette's talk was in conjunction with Democratic party day at the workshop. Wednesday was Republican party day.

Held in Hillcrest

The workshop, which was held in Hillcrest dormitory, ended Thursday night with speeches by Polk County Atty. Clyde E.

West Branch Boy 1st Polio Fatality In '54 from Area

Polio took the life of Albert Wayne Albin, 14-year-old son of Ted Albin, Route 2, West Branch, Thursday at University hospitals.

The boy was the fourth victim to die of polio at University hospitals this year, and the first from the Iowa City area. He had been in serious condition since entering the hospital July 21.

The total number of polio patients admitted to University hospitals this year reached 140 Wednesday, with the admission of one new case. Two polio patients were released, leaving 50 undergoing treatment. Eighteen were reported as active cases.

Asked what political issue would be uppermost in the fall elections, Gillette said that in Iowa it would be the farm support program, followed by the possibilities of another war.

Following the speech, Gillette replied that the "issue hasn't been presented." He said that he had made a "rather strong" attack on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) from the senate floor, and added that he had charged the senate with responsibility for making McCarthy chairman of the senate investigations subcommittee.

Alabama School Bans 23 Negro Children

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A group of 23 Negro children sought unsuccessfully to enroll in an all-white elementary school Thursday in an action that may set the stage for a lawsuit.

Nesbitt Elmore, a white Montgomery attorney representing the group, said, "We definitely plan to take the issue into court."

The Rev. Horace G. Bell, a Negro Congregationalist minister who accompanied the children and their parents to the school as an observer for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said:

Won't Drop Matter

"We are going to get together soon to decide what our next step will be. It is quite certain that we are not going to let the matter drop now."

W. C. Patton of Birmingham, president of the Alabama NAACP chapter, said other attempts are planned to enroll Negro children in white schools. He declined to say where or when.

This was the first attempt by Negroes to seek admission into Alabama public schools since the U.S. supreme court ruled against segregation in public schools.

Mixed Schools Forbidden

Alabama's constitution, which forbids mixed schools, was not under attack and the state school system hasn't been affected so far.

The Negro group showed up at the William R. Harrison school which opened its doors to students for the first time Thursday. The school is located near the city limits.

The Abraham's Vineyard Negro school, which is much smaller than the new school, is little more than a block away. A number of Negro families live in that section.

Robert Anderson, principal of the new Harrison school, advised the Negroes that they were not eligible to enroll as students there because they lived in another school district.

County Residents Donated $12,009 To Cancer Drive

Among the top ten Iowa counties participating in the 1954 Iowa Cancer crusade, which closed Wednesday, Johnson county raised $12,009 of the state's $631,860 for the American cancer society.

The local chapter raised 159 per cent of its declared goal.

Last year Johnson county gave $7,029.

Nationally, contributions for the society's advanced cancer research program amounted to $22,000,000. Iowa was second in the nation in its percentage of quota contributions.

John J. Williams, Red Oak, said it was the eighth consecutive year that Iowa has gone over its assigned goal. Ninety-three of Iowa's 102 chapters exceeded their financial goals.

Johnson county (population 15,000) contributed an average of 26 cents per capita.

Change in GI Bill Asked by Students

AMES (AP) — The executive committee of the U.S. National Student association voted 17-2 Thursday for a proposal asking the government to pay one-half the college tuition costs of Korean veterans.

Committee members said fixed payments of the present Korean War GI bill "tend to place an undue influence upon the veteran to attend a lower tuition college."

The committee also voted to establish a military manpower study commission. Student leaders and deans in the student personnel field would be members of the commission. It would cooperate with the Office of Defense Mobilization, with other appropriate government agencies and with private educational bodies.

Fall Training Table

Collins Elected Legion Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Legion wound up its 36th annual convention Thursday with demands for a strong hand against communism at home and abroad, and elected a new national commander who pledged to keep up the fight.

Seaborn P. Collins Jr., of Las Cruces, N.M., the unanimous choice for commander, declared in his acceptance speech:

"The American Legion is the object of bitter Communist hatred and in a sense this hatred is a measure of our success."

Legion Fights Reds

An unrelenting fight against Communists infiltration and subversion in the United States, Collins said, is one of the Legion's vitally important activities.

The new commander, a businessman who flew the "Hump" of the Himalaya mountains in World War II, also said his administration would push programs for medical and hospital care for veterans, child welfare services and a universal military training system.

In one of its resolutions, the Legion convention called for a U.S. warning that any further Communist aggression in southeast Asia "will bring forth immediate military retaliation with or without the cooperation of the other free nations."

Makes Anti-Red Resolutions

Right down to the end, the convention ground out anti-Communist resolutions. Among the late ones:

That Congress should enlarge the definition of treason so as to include peacetime conspiracy to overthrow the government and make it punishable by penalties up to execution.

That the Justice department be given authority to use wire-tapping evidence in disloyalty and treason cases, and that it expedite the deportation of criminal aliens.

Suggests Diplomatic Break-Off

In another major resolution, the Legion suggested that America seriously consider breaking off diplomatic relations with Russia.

"The American Legion," it said, "will never accept the principle of coexistence with gangsters, atheists, ruffians and murderers."

On the domestic scene, the Legionnaires called by resolution for full support and unlimited investigative power for congressional committees investigating

No Choice Between Joe, Mitchell: Nixon

WASHINGTON (P)—A Republican national committee official Thursday quoted Vice President Nixon as saying in effect that there is not much to choose between "the blasts" of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and "the drawing room innuendoes" of Stephen Mitchell, Democratic national chairman.

Nixon was said to have made the remarks to a closed session of the Republican national committee in Cincinnati Wednesday night.

Another version of Nixon's remarks was given in a dispatch from Cincinnati to the Cleveland News. The dispatch, written by Thomas Vail, Cleveland News staff writer, said Nixon stated to the committee:

Mitchell Compared to McCarthy

"I can't see much difference between the bellows of Sen. McCarthy and the bleats of Mitchell. In fact, Mitchell is using the McCarthy techniques."

In another part of the speech, Nixon was said to have remarked: "If they (the voters) ask you about McCarthy, ask them about Mitchell."

Sen. McCarthy, asked for comment in Washington, said:

McCarthy Doesn't Like It

"I'm sure I don't like the comparison any better than Mitchell probably will."

At Taos, N.M., where he is vacationing, Mitchell told a reporter:

"I thought when you mentioned Nixon's name you were going to tell me the Republicans were announcing another Nixon TV extravaganza to claim the Dixon-Yates deal for private exploitation of atomic power was

Woman, 34, Slain By Mother, Who Feared 'Losing' Her

CHICAGO (P)—A gray-haired mother bashed and slashed her only daughter to death early Thursday because, police said she told them, she was afraid of losing her.

Detective Paul Heeney said Mrs. Katherine Kirby, 66, telephoned police and said, "I killed my daughter."

They found the pajama-clad body of the 34-year-old mail order firm clerk, Mary Jane, in the bed she shared with her mother. The attractive blonde had been hit on the head with a flat iron and her throat slashed with a razor.

"I was afraid of losing my daughter," Mrs. Kirby told police.

She said Mary Jane recently had gone to Burbank, Calif., to visit a man with whom she had been corresponding. The mother and daughter quarreled on her return, Heeney said Mrs. Kirby related.

Neighbors described Mary Jane as a "very devoted girl who sacrificed for her mother and father."

The father, Joseph, a mill worker, died in December 1953. He had been an invalid and police were told the daughter had supported her parents for at least six years.

Mrs. Kirby was being held without formal charge until a written statement is made before the state's attorney.

white as snow."

Nixon Not Reached

Nixon could not be reached for comment immediately. His office in Washington referred inquiring reporters to James Bassett, public relations director of the Republican national committee.

A Republican national committee source, who said he had heard a playback of a transcription of Nixon's remarks but who declined to be quoted by name, said Nixon spoke of "the blasts of McCarthy and the drawing room innuendoes" of Mitchell.

The source declined to give a reporter the full text of the sentence in which these words appeared. He quoted Nixon as saying that Mitchell was indulging in the tactics that Mitchell accuses McCarthy of using.

Mitchell and the GOP have been exchanging pot shots, notably over an Eisenhower administration plan for a private power plant in Tennessee valley territory. Mitchell has spoken of "corruption" and favoritism toward big business, while Republicans have accused him of smear tactics.

Fishing Trip Ended, Ike Vetoes Bill To Label Foreign Trout

DENVER, Colo. (P)—President Eisenhower and former President Hoover—one tanned, the other sunburned—returned late Thursday from three days of trout fishing across the continental divide in the Rocky mountains.

The presidential party made the two-hour, 70-mile drive by auto from Fraser, Colo.

On the way through Denver's downtown area, Eisenhower dropped Hoover at the Brown Palace Hotel, then went on to join his family at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud.

At the hotel, Eisenhower got out of the car and shook hands with Hoover. The President's face was deeply tanned from trout fishing and a lot of golf before he went to Fraser. Hoover's face was pink with sunburn.

There was no word on whether Eisenhower or Hoover caught the larger number of trout, or on which man hooked the biggest fish as of Wednesday afternoon.

Packing up at the camp got started Thursday morning shortly after Eisenhower—sitting about a hundred yards from a trout stream—killed by pocket veto the so-called "un-American trout" bill.

The bill would have imposed a penalty of up to three years in jail and $1,000 fine on violators of a provision requiring the labeling of foreign-produced trout served in public places, or sold elsewhere.

Fisherman Eisenhower said in a statement he was disapproving the measure because it isn't needed to prevent fraud and deception.

REA LOAN APPROVED

WASHINGTON (P)—The rural electrification administration Wednesday approved a loan for the Hardin county rural electric cooperative of Iowa Falls, Iowa, for $11,000.

Bank Official's House, Car

THIS RAMBLING OLD HOUSE has been the home of the James Hunt family of Greeley for the last 10 years. Hunt has admitted taking about $18,000 in funds from the Greeley bank. The new Buick sedan in the foreground was Hunt's personal property until Thursday when its ownership was transferred to the bank. (See story and picture, page 1).

U.S. Spent $5½ Billion For Personal Services

government figures that Americans spent nearly $5½ billion last year to get their clothes cleaned, their hair cut or set, have the family car tuned up and for other personal services.

A report from the census bureau Thursday, giving that total, said it was 21 per cent more than the public spent six years earlier for a group of 12 services covered by the survey.

Some 40 per cent of the spending accounted for in the study went into automobile maintenance.

Men Spend More on Hair

And—the census bureau indicated—men now spend more in barber shops than women do in beauty parlors.

Last year, the census bureau said, barber shops took in $499,722,000, while beauty parlors took in $497,046,000. That was a reversal of the picture in 1948 when barber shops received $404,441,000 while beauty parlors took in $417,500. Spending in barber shops had increased by 24 per cent since 1948, while the ladies upped their spending in beauty parlors by only 19 per cent.

2 Show Decline

Among the 12 services studied by the census bureau for the first time since 1948, only two showed declines. Both were for the care or repair of clothing. Spending for shoe repairs last year, at approximately $193 million.

TAVERNS OWNERS INDICTED

Creston (P)—James King and Eugene Freemeyer, managers of two veterans' clubs here which were raided last July 2, were indicted Thursday by a grand jury. They pleaded innocent through their attorneys and were released on bonds of $500 each. Both were charged with possession of gambling devices and maintaining club rooms where liquor is kept for sale, use or distribution.

Hoad Downs Frost in Forest Hills Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Australian Lewis Hoad cut the props from under giant-killer Jack Frost Thursday and stroked into the quarterfinals of the National Tennis Championships along with two seeded Americans — Ham Richardson and Tom Brown Jr.

Uncle Sam's top-ranking nephews, defending champion Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, sat out the sixth day's proceedings at the swank West Side Tennis Club and will make their quarterfinal bids later.

Hoad, playing with a cool confidence, swept aside the 18-year-old Frost, Stanford university student from Monterey, Calif., 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

Richardson is seeded third and Brown, runnerup in 1946 to Jack Kramer, is seeded eighth domestically.

A bizarre foot-fault call at game point in the final set of a marathon two-day match eliminated Bernard Barzien of San Angelo, Tex. The national clay court champion was beaten by Neale Fraser of Australia, 7-9, 6-2, 9-7, 10-12.

Explains Call

A linesman, Eddie Herr of Miami, Fla., explained his call was necessary because Barzien had thrown his left foot over the line before racquet contact with the ball. This rule has been eliminated by the International Federation, but is not effective until next Jan. 1.

The accident happened with the score 3-3 in the third set.

After a doctor taped the injured ankle, Mrs. Fleitz came back to defeat Mrs. Ganzenmuller, of Sea Cliff, N. Y., 5-7, 6-2, 7-5 and then with a third round match from Karol Fageros of Miami 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Evashevski Says Hawkeyes Will Pass 50% More This Season

Aerial Attack
Will Be Main
Weapon in '54

By GENE INGLE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Look for a diversified aerial attack coming from the Hawks this fall.

Head Football Coach Forest Evashevski, chatting with sportswriters who are on the Big Ten's flying tour, Wednesday said, "We're going to throw 50 per cent more this year than we did last. We've got some fine passers in the quarterback slot and (Jerry) Reichow has gained some poise."

Thirteen sportswriters heard Iowa's football coach for the past two seasons give his views on the 1954 season. The men were from Chicago, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Cedar Rapids, Louisville, South Bend and St. Paul. They, along with Big Ten Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson and his assistant Bill Reed, got a brief look at the Hawkeyes practicing before taking off for the fifth stop on their tour—Illinois.

As far as ends go, Evy indicated that the receivers are better than last year. "We figured if we're going to pass this fall, we'll need some speed at the ends." During the first two days of practice, ex-halfback Toni Hatch and last year's first string quarterback, Lou Matykievich have been switched to end.

Many Pass Catchers

He regards Jim Freeman, Jim Meek and Hatch along with Frank Gilliam as the top pass-catchers. John Oakley is probably the fastest end on the squad. "And Jim Dick," Evy went on, "has large hands and can really run." He also plans to get plenty of pass-receiving results from Eddie Vincent, Elden Matheson and Earl Smith in the backfield.

Evy conceded that Iowa is going to have to rely on its offense more this season than last. "I doubt," he said, "whether we can maintain our 10-point defensive average we had last season. We're going to be stronger in the backfield and weaker on the line."

"I definitely feel that George Kress is out for the season. George was probably the most impressive lineman last spring." The changes Evy has made from the backfield to the line might make the difference between a mediocre season and a good one. Matykievich, Hatch, Terry Moran and Bill Reichow, all backfield men last season, are playing in the line now—Maty and Hatch at end, Reichow at tackle and Moran at guard.

Squad More Confident

"I think our squad as a whole has better poise and confidence than it had last year." As far as defense goes, Evy will no doubt miss Jerry Hilgenberg, Jerry Clark, Don Chelf, Andy Houg and Bill Fenton in the line. But, Evy said, "Our secondary ought to be just about the same."

He indicated high regards for Jim Head, a transfer from Washington State, where Evy formerly coached. "Jim was a pretty good fullback at Washington State," Evy assured the sportswriters. "But," he went on, "Jim is handicapped here at Iowa because he's playing behind our two top punters, Binkey Broeder and Rog Wiegmann."

"If we happen to go strictly to a power game this fall," he hinted, "you can look for (Ralph) Knoebel to be in there." Knoebel is a 190-pound sophomore from Chicago.

Sees Many Contenders

As for the conference as a whole, Evy said "I can't see a team that's going to be out of the race from the start. They're all going to be stronger. And I'd hesitate to name any one ball club that is tops. However, I do think," he said, "that one of the sleepers of the conference might be Minnesota."

Leffingwell Back Home
After Stay in Hospital

Hugh Leffingwell, former Iowa basketball player from Marion, is back home again after spending 12 days in University hospitals.

Leffingwell contracted a blood disease, leukemia, last winter during basketball season and was forced to leave school. However, he returned in February and carried a normal load of hours during the spring semester. He plans to enroll again this fall.

He took up golf this season and after being released from the hospital, felt well enough to shoot 12 holes of golf last Friday.

Richards Faces Decision

White Sox Manager Must Decide Between Chicago and Last Place Orioles

CHICAGO (AP)—In addition to meeting the league-leading Cleveland Indians in a three-game series starting Friday night, the Chicago White Sox also are scheduled for a meeting of minds in the front office.

Victory may be difficult in each case.

Manager Paul Richards leads his third-place Sox back into town after a long eastern swing with rumors accompanying him about a showdown on a new contract.

Signed for 1 Year

Richards signed with the Comiskey's for one year in 1951. Late in the 1952 season, he was given a two-year contract, which expires after the close of the present season.

No one knows what Richards has in mind when the scheduled talks with General Manager Frank Lane and other board members are held within the next few days.

One report is that Richards' price for remaining with the White Sox is a three-year contract and that the Comiskey's do not favor a pact of more than two years.

Lane has admitted that he gave Clarence W. Miles, president of the Baltimore Orioles, permission to talk to Richards concerning the job of general manager, but not field manager.

1954 Grid Season

Records 1st Fatality

At Florida School

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Jarvis Midgett Jr., 21, died Thursday 18 hours after being taken unconscious from the first football workout by the University of Tampa, but a brain surgeon said he did not think a practice field injury was the direct cause of death.

Midgett's death was the first of the 1954 collegiate football season.

Dr. Mason Trupp, a neurosurgeon, said after studying an autopsy report the injury aggravated a condition that already existed.

Midgett, a 220-pound tackle candidate from Gloucester, N. J., was hurt while going through a half-speed tackle drill at the workout Wednesday. He fell to the ground after coming in contact with a teammate.

Dr. Trupp explained there were no evidences of bruises or other injuries caused by practice. He added apparently a hemorrhage developed before the 6 feet 2 tackle candidate went to practice.

High on the list are the Harum brothers, Al and Dave, both undergraduates at the University of Miami. Al is a strapping 19-year-old youth with the build of a football player. He did play tackle in high school but in the last two years he decided tennis was his game.

Al is a free-swinging player with a tremendous serve, a smashing overhead stroke and a decisive volley. Last March in the Miami championships he accounted for a big upset. He beat the crack Danish Davis cup star and 1953 Wimbledon finalist, Kurt Nielsen, in straight sets.

Probably the prize package, however, is his younger brother, Dave, 18. He is considered by tennis experts as one of the finest doubles prospects in years. A smart, aggressive net player, Dave shines in doubles and has been described by coach Mercer Beazler as "playing Davis cup tennis right now."

In the Good Neighbor tournament Dave paired with Buddy Behrens of Fort Lauderdale and they beat the Scandinavian team of Sven Davidson and Art Nielsen. In June in Chicago, Dave and Seymour Greenberg, as a last minute scratch team, reached the semi-finals of the National Clay Court championship where they bowed to Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas. They were the only ones to take a set from the winners.

Buyers of Grid Tickets Can Expect Them Soon

Tickets ordered for Iowa's home football games are being mailed this week.

These games are Michigan State, Montana, Wisconsin, Purdue and Notre Dame. The opener is with Michigan State Sept. 25.

Persons who ordered tickets in the Iowa section for the four road games will receive them later in September. These tickets have not yet been received from the respective universities.

Philips Tip Cards,
5-4, as Roberts
Takes 19th Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Lopata's

three-run homer in the third inning led the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-4 victory Thursday over the St. Louis Cardinals as Robin Roberts posted his 19th triumph.

The defeat gave the Phillies a sweep of a two-game series and kept them in fifth place, two full games ahead of the Cardinals.

Roberts allowed 13 hits, but hurled effectively in the pinches to hand the Cardinals their fifth straight setback.

The Phillies bunched six of their nine hits in the third inning, scoring four times with two out following singles by Willie Jones and Earl Torgeson.

Danny Schell's pop safety accounted for one run, Lopata's homer blasted in three more and two additional hits sent loser Harvey Haddix to the showers.
